Lost, strayed, or stolen: a skull used as prop for the production of "You Can't Take It With You." Anyone knowing anything about this, please call Mary Henderson—Swarthmore College.

The Swarthmore Phoenix

If it is found on the campus, please return it, for they can't find $25 for another one.

Let's Get together

PHILIP MORRIS is so much better to smoke!

"It's always fair weather when good fellows get together" . . . with PHILIP MORRIS!

It's true . . . if every smoker knew what PHILIP MORRIS smokers know . . . they'd ALL change to PHILIP MORRIS.

Yes, the PHILIP MORRIS smoker really gets what other smokers only hope to get . . . PERFECT SMOKING PLEASURE.

So for perfect smoking pleasure . . . try a pack today!

CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS

ALWAYS BETTER—BETTER ALL WAYS

George Guida Wins Jack Dempsey Trophy

VILLANOVAN SPORTS

Tuesday, May 13, 1947 Page Five

ucky Coleman umps 13 Ft. For ew School Mark

Elliotmen Down Seton Hall in Dual Meet Hree on Saturday

illanova's track team, performing hout the services of its ace, George ida, piled up enough points in events side of George's to win handily r Seton Hall, 174 to 57, last Satday in Goodreau Stadium.

he Wildcats, paced by Tony illet" Minyon's double in the hurs, won all running events; the the 440 and the mile relay.

n the field, Coach Jim Elliot's ncladS were able to show a 29 to edge in scoring largely through merits of a sweep in the pole lt and Bill Lilenthal's work in the cus and shotput events.

Coleman Breaks Record

ne record fell in the meet when orge "Buck" Coleman once again ied superstition with a 13-foot leap t won the pole vault event. This a new stadium shattering the 12 t, 9 inch standard that was eslished by Carl Hickey of Villanova May, 1936.

oe McCreary continued up the ladof improvement with a win in the second in the broadjump and rd, in the 220 to add nine points the Main Liners' total. This made second to Minyon in scoring for day, the Catter's two firsts giving the points.

Ross Wins Half Mile

Browning Ross, Villanova's new one e record holder, switched his tal- to the half mile Saturday, but esult was the usual same — Ross victory. Browning jumped into lead at the halfway mark and Seton Hall's Frank Fox to the e by 12 yards in 1:59.5. Roy Camn helped the Wildcat cause with third place.

George Thompson and Dave Wilms led the one and two mile fields spectively, to complete the Villa- victory parade in the track nts. Thompson waited until the mile mark to wrest command m teammate Jim Kennedy and ut on to win by 15 yards over better in 4:31.2.

Williams literally ran away from rest of the field in registering easy two-mile run in 10:02.9. Bob n Bethyson, of Seton Hall, trailed illiams in the runner-up spot while arke McKee unleashed a blazing k to squeeze out a third for the ldcats.

Jim McAnulty, ex-Palmyra High ber topper, was a heavy contribun to the Villanova total by virtue two seconds in the hurdle events. Anulty trailed Minyon to the tape both the highs and lows to give lanova a 16-2 edge in the two nts.

'Cats Take Shotput

n the shotput, two footballers pped to track shorts and gave formances which netted them sec- and third place behind Seton ll's star weight man, Leonard Watb. This pair, Bill Lilienthal and Sheahan, didn't stop at this, wever, because the former tossed discus 134 feet to win and the made a 5 foot 6 inch jump to the Pirate's George Stafnuck for in the high jump.

Other events in the field went to e vaulters Bill Allen and Joe Mcity, who completed Villanova's ep in this event behind Coleman. identally, "Buck" was hampered his efforts to further his new ord by an arm injury that kept participation in the meet in the

LACK Continued on Page Six

Jack Dempsey, former world's heavyweight champ, presents award to Villanovan Editor. Collins accepted the trophy in absence of George Guida.

Casey, Litwa and O'Neill Pound Bucknell Bisons

Donohue and McDonnell Give Up 4 Hits in Eighth, 7-2

Banging out 13 hits, to score seven runs Coach Weinart's nine went on to win its eighth game of the season by downing Bucknell 7 to 2. Donohue and McDonnell, who worked the nine innings, gave up only four hits and three runs.

Dan Casey was the big man behind the plate for the day. He had four hits for five times at bat and drove in two runs. Litwa and O'Neill were also potent factors with their hitting; Litwa having three for five times at bat and O'Neill had two doubles.

The Bisons scored their runs in the first and fifth innings. Hackburn, the first man up, drew a walk and then stole second. Swanson, the next man to bat, punched out a single driving in Hackburn. In the fifth inning, Holters made a single to drive in Doebler, who had walked and took second on an infield out. Holter scored the third run on a fielders choice.

Villanova had two big rallies In the sixth inning, McDonnel was safe on a fielders choice. Casey singled; then Litwa singled, driving in McDonnel. Norm Kline drove in the second run with a single center field.

In the eighth inning, John Blong, batting for D'Ambrosio, knocked a hard ball passed the shortstop. It was good for a single. Dan Casey, who had himself a field day,

BUCKNELL Continued on Page Seven

Chojnacki Wins Fourth Straight Against Mariners

O'Neill Smacks Homer as Wildcats Down Kings Point, 7-2

Giving up only five hits and one earned run, Stan Chojnacki went the route against the Kings Point Mariners for his fourth straight victory by a score of 7-2. He had plenty of help from the healthy bats of first baseman Comerford and catcher Frank O'Neill, who blasted his second homer of the year.

O'Neill Scores First

The condition of the field and a strong wind kept the batters under wraps for several innings. The "Cats" were the first to draw blood in the fifth when Frank O'Neill singled to left. Bill Smith, playing left field for the first time this season, promptly sacrificed the burly catcher to the halfway station. The big bat of Charley Comerford came to life and blasted a double to the left field screen scoring O'Neill.

The Mariners weren't to be denied at this point and came back tallying a run on no hits and two walks. This was the only time that Chojnacki lost his stuff but Comerford came through with a long stretch tnat saved the inning. Villanova pounced right back with one hit and a walk to take the lead by one small run. This looked like the end of the scoring until the big eighth.

'Cats Score 5 More

The eighth saw ten men come

KINGS POINT Continued on Page Seven

Former World Heavyweight Champ Honors Track Star

Villanovan Editor Accepts Award From "Manassa Mauler" in Absence of "Outstanding Athlete"

George Guida, Villanova's ace trackman, added another victory to his long list of wins last week. This time he was chosen by his own schoolmates to win the Jack Dempsey "Outstanding Athlete" Trophy. As winner of this award, George's name will be entered in the national finals to pick the 'Outstanding Athlete" of 1947 in the United States.

Last Thursday, the former Heavyweight Champion of the World, Jack Dempsey, was on the campus to make the award personally. Don Collins, Editor of the VILLANOVAN, accepted the award in the absence of Guida, who was in the hospital at the time.

The sophomore athlete, already picked as the outstanding ex-serviceman by the New York Legion Athletic Club in an indoor meet held last winter in Madison Square Garden, polled 73.8% of all the ballots cast. George won out over Al Litwa, Joe Lord and Billy Sullivan, who were nominated earlier in the year to represent their respective sports.

Commenting on his selection, Guida said, "I would like to thank all of the student body for choosing me to represent the school. I would also like to thank Mr. Dempsey, and the firm he represents, Adam Hats, for making this award possible. I just hope I can live up to all that is expected of me."

The old "Manassa Mauler," who has launched a nation-wide campaign for promotion of sportsmanship and good-will in the name of crime prevention, was on hand last Thursday to sign a contract for The Adams Hat Co., granting an exclusive agency to the Manly Store in Bryn Mawr. When he heard that George Guida had been selected to receive the Dempsey Trophy, he insisted upon deviating from his closely timed schedule to make the award in person.

Escorted to the campus by Hugh Johnson, Sports Editor of the VILLANOVAN and Nick Marziani, a representative of the Manly Store, Mr. Dempsey arrived at the baseball field during the later part of the Seton Hall game. He was greeted by a round of applause and cheers from the crowd at the game, who haven't forgotten the old days when he was the talk of the na-

GUIDA Continued on Page Six

Seton Hall Drops First Game of Season, 7-5

Playing on one of the coldest days in history for the month of May, Villanova turned in its seventh victory of the season in downing Seton Hall, 7-5. It was the Pirates first loss.

Taking advantage of the climatic conditions of the day, the Wildcats pounced upon Seton Hall's Sweeney to score four runs in a big first inning. Al Litwa was the first man to get on. He scored on Norm Kline's double. Continuing the rally, Frank O'Neill singled to drive in Kline. Bill Smith filed out, but Charlie Comerford singled and came home on Joe Lord's double.

Pirates Score

A two bagger by Walt Singer and a single by Dave Dineen drove in two runs for the Pirates in the third and went on to tie up the game in the fifth when Jim Deery and Singer scored on an error by Villanova catcher.

But the 'Cats weren't to be held down to a tie. In the fifth inning, on a walk and a double by Charlie Comerford, Weinart's nine made the score read 5-4. Norm Kline scored his third run of the day by smacking out a single, moving around to third on two infield plays, and sneaking home on an error. Comerford, who had reached base on the other Seton Hall error of the day, managed to fool Earl, the catcher and chalk up a stolen run for the final tally.

Green Wins Second

Green, who went the route for his second win of the season, pitched a brilliant game in spite of the cold weather. He held the undefeated Pirates to seven hits and five runs.

BROWNING ROSS, Villanova ace miler, breaks college record for mile in 4:19 at Annapolis.

Browning Ross Breaks School Mile Record

Last week, in a triangular meet with Navy and Manhattan at Annapolis, Browning Ross crossed the finish line in the college mile to complete one of the greatest races he has ever run. He made track history for the Blue and White by establishing a new school record of 4.19 for the mile.

Lagging behind in fourth position for the first half mile, Ross then piled his way into the lead only to be overtaken by Navy's Smusyn at the start of the final quarter. Smusyn, who was undefeated prior to this race, held the lead going down the back stretch. But Ross proved to be too much for Navy's prize miler and in the last 100 yards turned on a sudden burst of speed to win.

It was learned last week that the mile turned in by the former Interscholastic cross country champ was the fastest on Villanova records. A thorough investigation through Wildcat cinder history was made and nowhere in the records could a better time be found.

Warriors Down Iron Men In Intramural Bowling

Menghini, Kramer and Smith Turn in Best Scores for 21 Games

Meeting the Iron Men, winners of the first half of league play, the Warriors climaxed a successful season by taking three out of four points to come out victorious in the Intramural Bowling League's championship playoff. The squad which is composed of Keller, Spina, Keehn, Menghini and Kramer had a team total pin score for three games of 2470 to the Iron Men's 2331. Carl Kramer set the pace for the victors as he rolled a three game average of 216.

Alumni Hall Second

Second place honors were won by Alumni Hall as they gained three points from Fedigan. Peterson rolled a high 205 score for Alumni while Bruyette was the high scorer for Fedigan with a 181 three game average.

The individual league high average award was won by Pete Menghini, who rolled a 181 average for 24 games. Carl Kramer had the high three game total pin score of 649, as he rolled games of 198, 203, and 239. Kramer also acquired the high single game honors with the 239 score. Alumni Hall had the high three game team total pin score as they had games of 949, 930 and 846.

Ten High Averages

(21 games or over)

	Ave.
1—Menghini	181
2—Kramer	180
3—Smith	173
4—Bruyette	168
5—Toth	167
6—Foley	165
7—McCluskey	161
7—Flannelly	161
7—Pallitto	161
8—Spina	159
9—Donoghue	158
10—Berninger	157

High Five Three Game Total Pins

	Tot. Pins	Ave.
1—Kramer	649	216
2—Donoghue	615	205
3—Menghini	608	203
4—Toth	597	199
5—McCluskey	579	193

Five High Singles

	Ave.
1—Kramer	239
2—Menghini	236
3—Pallitto	235
4—Toth	235
4—Donoghue	221
5—Flannelly	217

'Cats Play Four Games This Week

Fordham Here on Thursday; Penn, Georgetown and Navy Games Will Be Played Away

Villanova goes into the toughest section of its 1947 baseball schedule this week in meeting Penn, Fordham, Georgetown and Navy.

Tomorrow, the Blue and White meets the Red and Blue on Penn's home ground, River Field. The Quakers have had a good season so far, mainly due to the excellent hitting of Jerry McCarthy, an outfielder, Ed Gnup, the shortstop and Ben Gula, the second bagger. Most important, however, are the Penn victories over La Salle, St. Josephs, and West Chester. This could make Spruce St. boys the unofficial Philadelphia champs to date.

On Thursday, Coach Weinart's nine plays host to the Rams of Fordham, who were one of the first teams in collegiate ranks to play baseball. Coach Jack Coffey hopes to start his ace pitcher, Jim Arbucho.

Heading south on Friday, the ball team will play the first of two games on a home-home basis with Georgetown. The Hoya's so far this season are just about the hottest thing in the Capital City. They have a well balanced team sparked by Ray Corley of basketball fame and Elmer Rayba, who quarterbacked the football team last year.

Winding up the last out of state road trip of the year, the Wildcats move over to Annapolis on Saturday to take on the Middies. Navy has been a jinx to Villanova all of this scholastic year, beating the 'Cats in football, basketball, and in the Triangular Track Meet of two weeks ago.

Winning all but two games in one of their best seasons in its history, Navy has a formidable array of talent. "Army" Armstrong, the third man in the batting order, has had two perfect days at the plate this year.

NEW CENTER puts extra liveliness in the Spalding and Wright & Ditson tennis balls. In recent tests, both bounced consistently to the upper limits of USLTA rebound standards — another reason why these Spalding-made tennis balls are first choice of most tournament players. Sharpen up your game with one of the Twins of Championship Tennis.

TWINS OF CHAMPIONSHIP TENNIS!

SPALDING-MADE TENNIS BALLS ARE OFFICIAL IN MOST OF THE BIG TOURNAMENTS

SPALDING SETS THE PACE IN SPORTS

Both Made by Spalding

John McKenna Named New Line Coach For 'Cats

New Coach Was Teammate of Olivar and Raimo

The appointment of John McKenna to the coaching staff of the football team was announced last week by Rev. Edward B. McKee, O.S.A., Moderator of Athletics. The former Villanova center will serve in the capacity of head line coach.

Born in Lawrence, Mass., Mr. McKenna first showed signs of his ability in football at Lawrence High School where he was a member of the varsity team for three years.

In 1935, he matriculated in the Arts School of Villanova College. The following year, under the tutelage of the new head coach, Clipper Smith, he was named starting center on the Wildcat's eleven. Along with Art Raimo and Jordan Olivar, he sparked the Wildcats to their undefeated season in 1938.

Played on Undefeated Team

The combination of Olivar and Johnny Mellus at tackles and McKenna at center form the nucleus of the greatest line in Wildcat history. This team, which ranks among the best in the long history of sports at Villanova, not only were undefeated but they also had only one touchdown scored against them when, in the Marquette game, a desperation heave clicked for a score.

This was the year that Villanova played Auburn University in their first and only post season bowl game. The site of the game was the Bacardi Bowl in Havana, Cuba.

Following his graduation in 1939, Mr. McKenna married and settled in Chester, Pa.

In 1945, he again became active in football circles when he was named head coach at Malvern Prep. After adapting the players to his style of playing, his teaching paid dividends when in 1946, Malvern had their first undefeated season in the school's history.

Track

Continued from Page Five

doubtful stage right up to last Friday.

John White Takes Second

Newcomer John White, erstwhile Roman Catholic star, checked in with a javelin toss good enough for second place in that event while another husky, Dan Robinson, got off a third place heave in the discus.

Back to the running events, the Main Liners ran into a tartar in the 220 and 440 yard spectacles. In both George Staturick chalked up Seton Hall's first victory when he outdistanced Ed Fitzgerald and teammate Jack Tulp in the 440. Fitz off to a poor start, recovered on the backstretch only to have the lanky Pirate outsprint him to the tape in 50.2 seconds.

Coach Johnny Gibson, of the Pirates had a tough field entered and with Guida out for the day Villanova's chances were cut considerably.

Tulp Wins

Tulp returned to the cinders a short time later to win a close 220 yard dash. Second place went to Reggie Marshall, of the Jersey school, followed by Joe McCreary.

Staturick, Tulp and Watson were Seton Hall's heaviest point contributors with 9, 9 and 8 points, respectfully. Stafufick in addition to running the quarter and tying for first in the high jump, anchored the Pirates winning mile relay team to a 3:27.0 time. Tulp tacked a second in the century and third in the quarter to his win in the furlong, to garner his nine points, while Watson picked up a second in the discus besides his win in the shot.

Gene Kelly got Villanova off to a good start in the relay but Seton Hall's Chet Lipski, who was credited with a 1:51 half mile before the war, overhauled Villanova's second man Bob Kelly to give Johnny Gibson's team a lead which Dick Muscelli and Ed. Fitzgerald could not overcome.

Baseball Averages

	AB	R	H	E	Ave.
O'Malley, c	8	1	6	0	.750
O'Neill, c	32	8	12	3	.375
Comerf'd, 1b	15	1	5	2	.333
Litwa, cf	38	8	11	0	.289
Poildor, rf	11	1	3	0	.272
Blong, cf	19	6	5	0	.263
Lord, 2b	23	3	6	0	.260
Kline, 3b	39	4	9	4	.231
Smith, p	18	1	4	0	.222
Casey, lf	33	7	6	0	.182
Aigeldinger	22	3	4	6	.181

(Not including this weeks games.)

SPORTORIAL

By HUGH JOHNSON
Sports Editor

Now that spring football practice is officially over the footh players have a chance to once again live a normal life. But also, with the end of spring practice, comes the time for speculation as to what things look like for next season.

To say the least, spring practice was a huge success — if the last two scrimmages meant anything. The blocking was clean and cri the timing was prercise, and the front wall was as immovable as t Rock of Gibraltar.

But above all, there were four observations that I made that ag to stand out above the rest.

First of all, the line. It seemed that every co bination of linemen that Coach Oliver used in two scrimmages played just as good a game or b as any other. This, to me, is most important beca I don't believe in 60 minute ball players. True, y might have an All-American tackle, but you're lot better off than the other team if you can send another fresh tackle just as good as the first one.

Example? All right. Take the Villanova-Arm game in 1943. Army, with their All-American back field plus Tex Coulter and Johnny Green on t line could only score seven points on the Wildca in the first half. But in the third quarter, they we able to push two more TD's over and a fourth the last frame. Anybody that saw that game w back me up, I'm sure, when I say that if Coach, O ver had a few more reserves instead of eleven 60 minute men, t score would have been less favorable to the Mules.

The second point to note was the wealth of reserve backs. Th backfield combination of Jack Tulskie, Tom Calvin and Al Schmit looked as good as any backfield in the country. Neither NYU or Lafa ette could catch up to Tulskie on the end, nor could they slow Clay over center and Schmidt looked as though he had a free pass over an tackle he chose.

Andy Gordon's passing was the third feature. Last year, Villano picked up the reputation of being a running combination, thanks Rogers, Capriotti and Poildor. With this in mind, I don't do that most of the coaches of the teams we play next season will try build up their lines to prevent an avalanche of the same thing. Ther fore, if we can cross the opposition up every now and then with a go passing attack we'll win games. And believe me, I have that combination. I don't have the actual statistics on passi from the two scrimmages but I can safely say that every time needed long yardage, the ends and the backs were "johnny-on-the-spo to pull in anything that Andy threw.

The last observation is not only far from being the least but really, in my estimation, the most important. Last year, Villanova "ha some of the highest scoring clubs in the nation to two and three touc downs. Although Army, the second best team in the country accordi to the Associated Press, did score 35 points, four of those could almo be considered gratis by virtue of the fact that they were scored on t quick fumbles. Hence, they really only scored on us three times. Nav which ran up high scores against all of their opponents even thou they lost all their games, were held to seven points. B. C. and Ho Cross were held to two tallies apiece.

While these four teams scored a total of 67 points, Villanova cou only score 27. This would indicate that much of the stress was plac upon the defense.

However, as a result of the two scrimmages, I think it can be sa that this situation has changed. Without sacrificing any of that d fensive stress, Villanova, this year, is all offensive. You can look f plenty of long runs, lots of passes, and a whole bookfull of tric "T" plays that might give us the first perfect season since 1938.

Austin, Fedigan Win Openers

Intramural Baseball Makes Belated Debut

The Intramural Softball campaign got off to a belated start on Thursday evening with Austin trouncing the Barracks 16 to 7, and Fedigan taking the measure of Alumni by a 7 to 5 score. Four games, scheduled for Monday and Tuesday, were rained out and will be played later on in the season if possible.

Austin Scores 16 Runs

In the first game, played on Mendel Field, Austin Hall pounded out 16 hits, including four home runs, for 16 runs in defeating the Barracks. The Austins, who scored in every inning, took advantage of "Doc" Watson's early wildness in getting three truns in the first inning on four walks and a single by Barry. In the second frame, Austin capitalized on three singles, a triple by Liebner and a home run by Bi'a Nealon in scoring six times. The other runs were scored as a result of timely round-trippers knocked out by Doris, Savage and Whitaker.

The Barracks garnered three runs in their half of the first when they got three of their total of six hits, Daley's triple bringing in Tonetti and McNulty. Two homers knocked out by O'Brien and Berzansky, and a single by Tonetti were the only other hits the Barracks were able to muster in the game.

Fedigan Wins, 7-5

The second game, which was played on the Austin diamond, was featured by a last inning rally of four runs which enabled Fedigan to win their first game of the season by edging out Alumni 7 to 5. With three runs in the first frame and another addedd in the fifth, Alumni held the lead until two walks and singles by Petit and Steinke forced four runs over the plate for Fedigan in the first half of the seventh. In a futile attempt to come back in the last half of the inning, Lizak and Flanelly beat out singles after there were two outs but pitcher Strobel struck out Berzansky to check the rally and end the game. Michalak hit the only home run of the game for Fedigan with no one on in the third.

Guida

Continued from Page Five

tion. Also on hand was Fr. O'Donnell who had served in the Na with Mr. Dempsey.

However, because of the, i promptu nature of the ceremon George Guida, who had gone the hospital earlier in the day have his leg worked on, could n be reached. Waiting as long as could, (He had to catch a pla to Chicago) Mr. Dempsey fina made the presentation to Don C lins who accepted in Georg name.

Before leaving, the "Cham promised to make every effort return to the campus next fall referee Villanova's Intramural B ing Tournament.

The Jack Dempsey Trophy co test was based on six points: E thusiasm, Sportsmanship, Te Spirit, Co-operation, Athletic Ab ity, and Accomplishments. Geor Guida met every one of these p requisites.

His athletic ability is know throughout the nation. During t indoor season this year, the Navy Signalman won, among oth thing, the IC4A's "600," the Bu meyer "500," the "600" yd. run Cleveland, ad infinitum. Not o a great runner, George also c claim football as an accompli ment. Last year, although he never played with an organized o fit before, the barrel-chested Sou Philadelphian went out for made a halfback spot on Co Oliver's eleven.

His Enthusiasm, Sportsmanli Team Spirit and Co-operation almost as widely known as are Athletic Abilities. George is a m est, retiring sportsman who is ways trying to dodge publicity favor of his teammates, such Browny Ross and Bucky Colem

His Accomplishments are least known but in many respe are really his most important set. He is a very active member the school's Interracial Club, organization devoted to promot of racial tolerance. George has livered many speeches based racial tolerance, sportsmans and good-will. He is also co-auth of the column "Pride and Pre dice" which has been appearing a weekly feature in the VILL NOVAN.

The 23-year-old stalwart of Wildcat track squad has one hope for the future, to particip in the 1948 World Olympics. past record and his constant tra ing should go a long way tow his being selected as one of American representatives.

onight or Never for NSO . . .

Tonight at 8 P. M., in Room 216 Mendel Hall, at the meeting of the dent Council, nominations for delegates to the Constitutional Con tion of the National Students Organization will be accepted.

This meeting is of vital importance to every student at Villanova. efly this is what must be done: Villanova has been allotted two vot delegates to the Second National Convention which will convene he University of Wisconsin for several day in mid-September. Before hool closes in June these two delegates must be picked by a general ction. The purpose of the nominations tonight is to make a slate m which the students can pick their representatives.

In recent editions of this paper articles and editorials have appear explaining what the NSO is, what it intends to do, and why it is important that the students of Villanova take an interest in it. re are many students, however, who never even heard of the NSO! rest resumes is therefore in order.

Last December, Villanova received an invitation to attend a con tion in Chicago during Christmas recess. This convention was called certain college students of America who, after attending a conven n in Prague of the International Union of Students, perceived the d for an organization representative of all American students. To the NSO is the only organization in the country that can make boast!

The college authorities, therefore, wished to investigate this asso tion and therefore two student delegates were assigned this task. ey returned to Villanova with a full report saying, in part, that over ee hundred colleges were represented and that it was agreed to petuate the society. Further, a committee was elected at the con tion to draft a tentative constitution that would incorporate the gestions agreed upon by the delegates. The committee recently com ted the constitution and has mailed copies to all the schools who ended the December conferences in Chicago. Villanova College has raft of this constitution.

At the September conference this constitution will be accepted, re ted, or amended, and the NSO will be formally inaugurated.

There are two very pertinent questions concerning the NSO that st be answered: "What good will the NSO do me?", and "Why should llanova join it?"

The answer to the first depends upon the student's interests and ition. The tentative aims of the NSO are too numerous to mention full. Some of the more important are:

1. "Work for increase in pay on student university jobs wherever sible, and work for an increase in student employment."

2. "Distribute to its members and to the faculties, especially of ools not having student governments, information on the histories principles of organization as they function in student governments other colleges throughout the U. S."

3. Concerning facilitating foreign study—"Should provide a bureau t will disseminate and publicize information about courses; opportunities for specialization in foreign universities and colleges for erican students, and perform the same service for foreign students."

4. "To encourage student-faculty cooperation on student problems, d the extension of democratic student-controlled student governments, d to establish the independence and freedom from censorship of dent organizations and publications."

5. "To assure that all activity funds are controlled by the students mselves."

6. "To assure for all students an extensive system of governmental d private aid in obtaining scholarships, family allowances, the proion of textbooks and supplies and all other means to assure their dependence wherever necessary."

As for the second question — if Villanova students intend to par te of the benefits that may be derived from this association they must ively support the NSO. This is why Villanova should join. In addi n, a nationwide organization representing several hundred thousand lege students is a tempting breeding ground for parasitic radicals. ars, unfounded or founded, have already been raised that this element e permeated into the NSO. If so, Villanova must send men to combat s menace with all their might in order to make the NSO an organtion of which we can be proud.

A large number of students must be present at the nominations ight. Now is the time to take positive action. Support the NSO and pport that for which it stands.

ings Point

Continued from Page Five

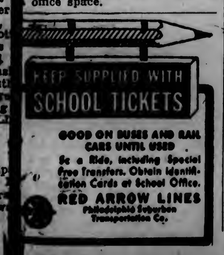
the plate and five men score. er one out, Chojnacki and Casey ited around for walks from ter Martin. Litwa popped to pitcher and it looked as though were all over for the Mainliners. t Norm Kline doubled to left ring Chojnacki and Casey. Smith fied. Then the brutal bat of ank O'Neill swung into action h a 350 foot home run over the t field fence to put the Weinert- on the long end of a seven- score.

Kings Point rallied in the ninth, t fell short by producing only run on two hits; a two bagger Shuholt and a single by second- eman McKie.

n winning, Chojnacki pitched the tire win (against 3 losses) of current season. Stan allowed y five hits all day while striking four and giving up two free ses.

Bucknell

Continued from Page Five



doubled to drive in Blong. Continuing the rally, Al Litwa patiently waited and drew a base on balls. Kline was safe on another fielders Choice. O'Neill hit a long ball that was deep enough in center field to score Casey.

NFCCS ELECTIONS

Herman Diesel '49 was elected ce-President of the Regional uncil of the National Federation Catholic College Students in an ction at La Salle College. Other cers elected were Thomas Rogs of La Salle as President and lian McBride of Chestnut Hill Treasurer.

Mr. Diesel was a Senior Delegate the recent National Convention the N.F.C.C.S.

If you have noticed workmen rrying materials into Mendel ll you might be interested to ow that the business office is undergoing repairs. The walls adming that office are now being oved several feet to provide exoffice space.

For Expert Convenient Attention

The Campus Barber Shop

First Class Work
Popular Prices

College Tailor

Coladonato Tailor Shop, Inc.

2 ARTHUR ROAD
Rosemont, Penna.
Bryn Mawr 1266

We do adjustments the way you want them.

Work and Service—Good Prices Reasonable

Why Walk? Clothes Picked Up at Pie Shop Daily!

Toenail Description: "Her eyes started at the bridge of her nose—then they crossed."
The Tomahawk

Phone Bryn Mawr 2422

THE BOUQUET SHOP

Roberts Rd. & Lane Ave.

BRYN MAWR, PA.

-:- FLOWERS BY WIRE -:-

The blade with the MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE!

GUARANTEED BY THE MARLIN FIREARMS COMPANY
Fine Guns Since 1870

- McGregor Sportswear
- Van Heusen Shirts
- Hickok Belts
- Holeproof Socks
- Botany Ties
- Arthur Allen Clothes
- Douglas Shoes

You can buy them all — and many other famous brands at the Main Line's most modern store for Men and Boys.

SPRITZLER'S

47 W. Lancaster Ave
Ardmore

Open Fri. & Sat. Eve's

PARKING IN REAR

JEANETT'S FLOWER SHOP
Floral Ideas for All Occasions
SPECIALIZING IN CORSAGES
Member Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association
823 LANCASTER AVE.
BRYN MAWR
BRYN MAWR 570

FULL DRESS - TUXEDOS
Cutaways and Shaes For Hire
Summer Formal outfits a specialty
Outfit your entire group for Weddings, Parochial Graduations Etc.
IRVIN STERN
24 W. STATE ST. - MEDIA 6310
Established 1900

BLUEMONT
LAUNDERERS and DRY CLEANERS
COLLECTIONS and DELIVERIES
MONDAY, WEDNESDAY, FRIDAY
INQUIRE AT THE PIE SHOP

An invitation to all Villanovans
FAMOUS ITALIAN TOMATO PIES
Baked Before Your Eyes
JOHNNY & DINGERS
Prepared to serve you Steak Sandwiches Hogies
County Line and Chestnut Ave.
Ardmore, Pa. Ard 9430

ICE Aristocrat CREAM
PHILA. DAIRY PRODUCTS CO.
4th & Poplar Sts., Phila., Pa.

ATLANTIC STEEL PRODUCTS CO.
1330 N. 30th ST.
PHILA., PA.
"Steel of every description from stock"
PO 5-4100 PO 5-4101

QUALITY CLOTHES FOR MEN AT LOW COST
YOU NAME IT, MEN!
...and Lord & Lord's Got It!
When you get a suit, a pair of slacks or a sport coat here, they're not just items of apparel but clothes you'll take pride in wearing. They're styled right . . . and priced right.
100% ALL-WOOL
Gabardine Suits ..39.50
Doeskin Suits 41.50
Worsteds 41.50
Sport Coats 16.75 to 26.75
Slacks ....11.75 to 16.75

RITTENHOUSE 6-8430
OPEN DAILY 10 A. M. to 5:30 P. M.
Lord and Lord
"The Upstairs Store for Men"
1211 CHESTNUT ST.
For Your Convenience
Open Monday, Wednesday and Friday Till 9 P. M. Until Easter.
ELEVATOR TO SECOND FLOOR

CAMPUS CONSTRUCTION CONTINUES

Excavation for the new classroom building was begun last week, and as soon as this is completed the foundation will be laid. The building was formerly used by the Navy at Ft. Covington, Maryland, as headquarters for all the Naval shipping in the Baltimore area.

It was intended to be a permanent building and the Prendergast Company had their crews dissemble it in Maryland. The greater part of the sections have arrived and are being placed near the site of the new building in the temporary building area at the East end of the campus.

Sixteen Additional Classrooms

When the structure is completed, it will have sixteen classrooms. These will add considerable floor space to the present classroom area. This additional space will be ready for the '47 Fall semester; will facilitate schedule making and result in smaller sectioning of students. This also means that since there will be an increase in sections, the college will procure additional instructors. Several offices for the faculty will be included in the building.

Pie Shop Delay Continues

Until the labor dispute between the carpenters' and sheetmetal workers' union is settled, construction will be delayed on the Pie Shop. The material for the Pie Shop arrived from California several months ago and has been stored on the campus.

It originally had a seven foot ceiling and before purchasing it the college secured an agreement with the War Assets Administration to supply a three foot cinder block extension. This will make the ceiling ten feet high and will be more appropriate for a cafeteria. When the new Pie Shop is completed it will have approximately six thousand square feet of floor space which is almost double the area of the present pie shop.

Student

Continued From Page One

Organization, the following was decided after the committee recommendations were read:

1. That the committee's suggestions be accepted.
2. That the nominations be held tonight.
3. That the date of elections be decided upon at tonight's meeting.

The committee recommended, in part, that the nominations be unlimited, that they be accepted at an open meeting of the Student Council and that the man nominating give the qualifications of his nominee.

At this point, the Council voted to suspend the rules to allow John Kucha to address it. Kucha asked the Student Council to make arrangements for a student trip to West Point for next year's Army game. The Council voted in favor of Kucha's plan and a committee was chosen to make the necessary plans.

Arts Frat Represented

Jack Stanley was then formally accepted on the Student Council as representative of the Arts Fraternity.

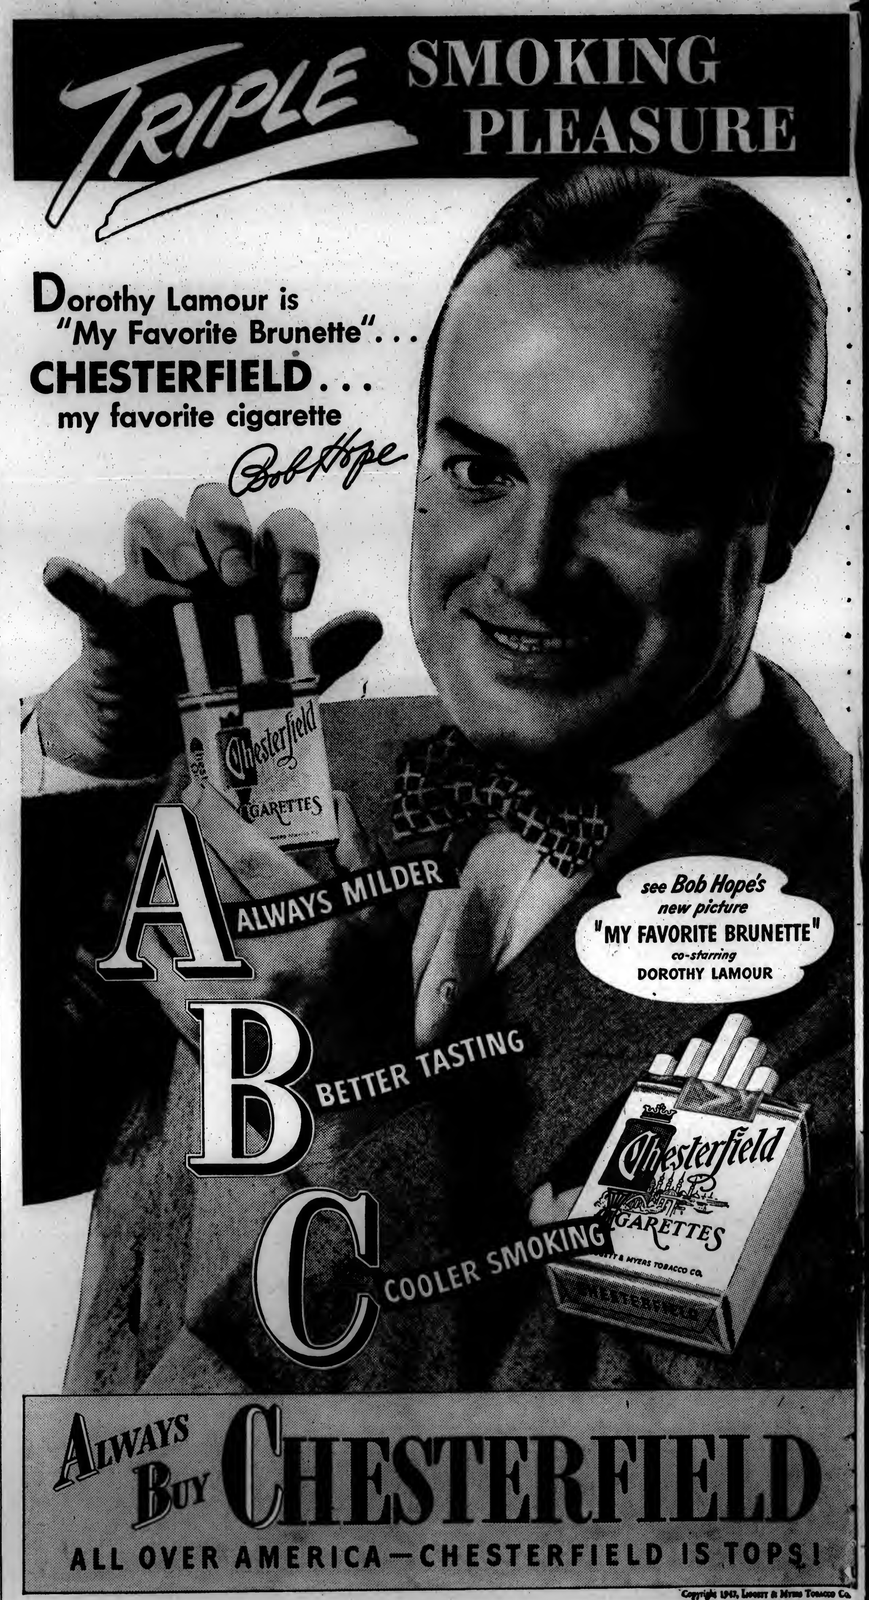
The last detail on the agenda concerning elections was decided as follows:

A. Student Council Officers:

1. That the officers for next year's Student Council be elected by members of this year's Council at tonight's meeting.

B. Student Council Representatives:

1. That only men who are Freshmen 11, Sophomore 11, and Junior 11 this year be allowed to hold positions on next year's Council.



C. Class Officers:

1. That nomination for next year's Sophomore and Senior Class officers be held by May 21.
2. A committee was chosen to decide on the date for the election of next year's Sophomore and Senior Class officers to arrange for the necessary details with which to conduct all the elections.
3. That the elections for next year's Junior Class be held on next Wednesday, May 21.

Cuban

Continued From Page One

on chemistry. He arrived in Washington on April 9th, accompanied by his wife. Following his attendance at the annual meeting of the American Chemical Society, held in Atlantic City, Dr. de la Carrera plans to visit educational institutions in Pennsylvania, New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Ohio, Michigan, California, Texas and Louisiana.

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 22—No. 21 N. A. S. X-660 VILLANOVA, PA. TUESDAY, MAY 20, 1947

VILLANOVA COLLEGE LIBRARY VILLANOVA, PA.

Commencement Set for Monday June 16th

Student Council Expands Class Representation

Stormy Session Marked by Protests; Elections Held For Next Year

Due to a misunderstanding between the Student Council and the Administration, the members of the Council temporarily dissolved themselves as such at their last meeting held in room 215 Mendel Tuesday, May 13 at 6:00 P. M.

Difficulties were soon straightened out, however, and the Council withdrew its motion of dissolution.

The Council then proceeded to take nominations for representatives to the NSO convention to be held at Univ. of Wisconsin in the Fall. Two men will be chosen to represent Villanova at this convention by means of a campus-wide election. The names of John McDermott, Donald Collins and Phil Barrett and John Stanley were placed in nomination.

Amendment Considered

An amendment to the constitution was then considered which would enlarge the membership of the council and insure adequate representation for all schools on the campus.

The amendment provides for: two representatives from the Freshman Class to be elected at the completion of the first semester who will hold office until the completion of their sophomore year; one sophomore representative; four Junior to serve until the end of their senior year, and four Senior representatives, one from each of the four schools—Engineering, Arts & Science, Education, and Commerce and Finance.

This amendment was passed with more than the necessary two-thirds vote after a heated debate in which members of the audience participated.

Elections Held

Spectators were then asked to leave the room while the Council held its annual election of officers at a closed meeting. Donald Collins, chairman pro tem, was elected to the chairmanship; Matt Kearney, present Secretary-Treasurer, was elected to the vice-chairmanship; and Gerald Connors succeeded Kearney as Secretary-Treasurer.

Henry O'Neill Visits Campus As Guest of Arts Fraternity

—Staff Photo by Kane

Henry O'Neill, the noted movie actor and star in "State Of The Union" is shown here as he appeared last Tuesday when he visited Villanova at the invitation of the D.P.M. fraternity.

Henry O'Neill, stage and screen star, was the guest speaker of the DPM at a special meeting of that fraternity last Tuesday afternoon. Rev. John J. McShea, O.S.A., Moderator of the Fraternity, introduced Mr. O'Neill to the large gathering.

The general theme of Mr. O'Neill's informal talk was that in Hollywood many Catholic actors and actresses are exemplary in the practice of their faith. He disagreed with the general belief that all Hollywood is morally corrupt and pointed to the lives of Pat O'Brien, Spencer Tracy, Bing Crosby, Don Ameche and others as evidence.

To the students interested in the stage and theatre as careers, Mr. O'Neill warned that it was not an easy job and that acting requires constant and exacting effort.

Mr. O'Neill concluded his talk with humorous anecdotes after relating his early days in acting.

Following the talk, questions were asked by the student body. Rev. John Touhy, O.S.A., then addressed the group and commended Mr. O'Neill on being one of the most outstanding and respected Catholic actors in Hollywood.

Mr. O'Neill was born in Orange, New Jersey and attended parochial school there. He matriculated at Orange High School and upon graduation attended the Coleman Institute where he studied business.

His first full time job was with a lumber concern in New Jersey but his spare time was spent with the Lyceum Players where he was a director, actor and manager. During his vacation time he joined a stock company in Newark, where he remained until 1917 when he entered the Navy.

After his return from the Navy he went on to Broadway where he stayed from 1919 until 1933. Some of his best performances were in "The Hairy Ape," "The Squaw," "Seventh Heaven," "The Great God Brown," "The Foundation," "Trick for Trick," "The Last Mile" and numerous others.

In 1933 Mr. O'Neill went into pictures and excelled in such favorites as "Knute Rockne," "Boys Town," "Beginning of the End," "Three Wise Fools," "Men of Boys Town," "Anchors Aweigh," "Billy the Kid," "The Virginian," "Two Sisters and a Sailor" and others.

During the last war Mr. O'Neill travelled all over the United States entertaining in the different camps and hospitals throughout the west and middle west.

At the present time Mr. O'Neill is engaged in the leading role in the show, "State of the Union," now playing at the Forrest Theatre in Philadelphia.

Better Than Three Hundred Students Make Honor Roll

Five Students Have Straight "A" Average for Fall Semester

Last week the scholastic averages and college Honor Roll were released by the Registrar's Office. They represent the student scholastic attainments of last semester.

The following five men merited a 4.00 or straight "A" average: Philip E. Jakeway, Chemical Engineering; Edward V. Murray, Chemical Engineering; Donald M. Collins, Arts; Frank Dituri, Science; and Emanuel Rubin, Science.

Three hundred and sixty-six students made the Honor Roll. The C&F school led the tabulation with 128; the Engineering School followed closely with 114. In order then: Science, 52 students; Arts, 44 students, and Education, 28 students.

Seniors

Fifty-two seniors are listed. They are as follows: Arts: Harry C. Kiefer, James P. Connelly, Peter W. Adams, Francis J. Hanssens, John A. McDermott, David L. English, Peter B. Turney. Biology: Anthony V. Caruso, Vincent J. McPeak, Robert M. Horowitz. Commerce and Finance: George J. McFadden, William R. Sullivan, Robert Young, Thomas Gowen, John McCarthy, John O'Brien, Joseph Donnelly, Francis Bagot, Manus O'Donnell, William Ford, Walter Brannigan, Donald G. Boos, Thomas Holyday, Charles Quindlen, Edward Reardon, James Baumgardner, William Butler, Peter Hin, Samuel Canning, Charles Gallagher, Herbert Sentner, Joseph Mihalek, Richard Breen, Peter McManus, James Finegan, William Nealon, Robert McDonnell, Edward Tostanoski. Chemistry: Richard Hubbard. Engineering: Vincent Maloney, James O'Brien, Richard Jordan, William Boyle, Francis O'Neill, Philip Jakeway, Edward Deasy, Robert Bauer, Roland Higgs, Allen Rhoades, Thomas Schubert, Robert Goode.

Juniors

Fifty-seven juniors were listed. Arts: Donald Wieand, Donald Collins, James McWilliams, Joseph Leary, Raymond Cummings, Edward Compas. Education: Kenneth Reeher, Frank Saponare, Francis Starego, James Gorman, Jonathan Naylor. Science: Daniel Fleisher, William Wescott, Stanley Goren, Joseph Matwiejczyk, Joseph Orlando, Frank Dituri, Murray Glickman, Leo Bruyette, Michael Trammolo, Nicholas Albano, Richard Koker. Commerce and Finance: John McCamley, Thomas Horan, John McGoran, Robert O'Connor, James O'Neill, John Corr, Louis Cali, William Forebaugh, John Peters, William Quinn, Francis Bloom, Edward Fanelli, James Donahue, Carl Yeager, Vincent Gammache, Francis Barry, Thomas McInerney, Joseph Doody, Henry Fessler, Joseph Foley, Joseph Healy, George McElwee, Alfred White. Engineering: David Marano, Daniel Wylde, Alfonso Mazanek, George Barton, Joseph Krzyzosiak, Richard Livingston, Joseph King, Anthony Coppa, Joseph Beals, John McGrath, George Goodman, Edward Lagno.

Sophomores

Seventy sophomores and one hundred ninety-two freshmen are listed on the Honor Roll. Only those who have attained an average of 3.5 or above are listed here. A 3.0 average is necessary to make the list.

Sophomore II's are: Eamon Walsh, Francis Quinn, James Mitchell, William Riepe, William Mahoney, Edward Murray, Thomas Santry.

Sophomore I's are: Francis Collins, James Naughton, Raymond Kelm, John Malloy, Thomas Sullivan, William Molnar, Louis Slater.

Freshmen

With an average of 3.5 or better,

BETTER THAN Continued on Page Eight

49'ers Vote On Leaders Tomorrow

One of the most hotly contested student elections ever held on this campus will be run off tomorrow when the Sophomores go to the polls to select their leaders for next year.

Election plans were somewhat upset by last week's Student Council decision that only one Council member from the Junior Class will be received from any one school of the four on the campus. Last night the corrective nominations were held after a political rally by the "Progressive" Party.

The list of the candidates will be placed on the Bulletin Board and on the ballots when the Student Council holds the elections tomorrow. The elections will be held at the Information Booth in Mendel Hall between 10 A. M. and 2 P. M.

The candidates for president and their past activities at Villanova follow:

Joseph D'Auria, Sophomore II Engineering; American Chemical Society; American Society of Chemical Engineers; Sophomore Class President; Student Council; Villanovan News Writer.

John Kucha, Sophomore I Arts; Villanovan Feature Editor; Double Octette; Beta Gamma Debate Team; Drama Club; Delta Pi Mu Fraternity.

James Plunkett, Sophomore II Commerce and Finance; Villanovan Assistant Sports Editor; Dance Committee-Soph Hop; Dance Committee-Library Dance; Freshman Basketball Manager.

Committee Selected By ASCE to Plan Coming Smoker

At a recent meeting of the A.S.C.E., plans were made for a smoker. It will take place on Tuesday, May 27th and Mr. Charles B. Ruckdeschel, an engineer of the Hercules Powder Company, will speak on the subject of "Caissons."

John Scanlan, President of the Society, accepted volunteers to head the various committees which will handle the details of the affair. Jerry Mauer is in charge of the Entertainment Committee and he will be ably assisted by Ed Walsh, Dick Devine and Bob Forrest. These men are preparing a skit entitled, "Diverted Life Thru An Inverted Scope," which will be of a non-technical nature and should provide a few laughs. Arrangements have also been made to show a few short sound movies. The refreshment committee is to be under the able guidance of Dan Fisher, who will have Jack McNamara and Bill Brennan as his assistants. Joe Devereaux and Dave Cushwa are handling the publicity for the affair.

All Civil Engineering students, including those who are not members of the society, are cordially invited to attend.

APPRECIATION

The Villanovan wishes to thank sincerely Miss Helen Harrigan of the Registrar's Office for her special effort in preparing the tabulations and final manuscript containing the student points averages and Honor Roll for last semester. Her interest is deeply appreciated.

ALUMNI NOTE

All members of the alumni are asked to submit their ballots, for the election of officers of the fiscal period 1947-1948, before the deadline Sunday May 25, 1947.

Senator Myers Enlisted as Chief Graduation Speaker

Honorary Degrees To Be Conferred on Statesman, Physician and Two College Presidents

Commencement exercises on Monday, June 16, 1947 will be held in the Field House. All the former pomp and dignity associated with graduation will be resumed with this 105th graduation at Villanova.

Many notable guests will be present at the ceremony and among these, the following will receive honorary degrees from Villanova: Pennsylvania's own senior Senator Francis John Myers; Dr. William Wayne Babcock, surgeon at Temple University Hospital; Rev. John Joseph Long, S.J., President of St. Joseph's College and Brother Gregorian Paul, F.S.C., President of La-Salle College.

Myers Graduate of Saint Joe's

Senator Myers, in addition to receiving an honorary degree, will deliver the graduation address to the Seniors. A native Philadelphian, Senator Myers received his A.B. from St. Joseph's College in 1923 and his LL.B. from Temple in 1927. He was also admitted to the Pennsylvania Bar the same year and has practiced law in Philadelphia since that time. Elected as Deputy Attorney General for Pennsylvania he served a two year term from 1937 to 1939. He also served in the capacity of Secretary to the District Attorneys of Philadelphia in the late twenties and early thirties. Senator Myers was a member of the 76th to 78th Congresses in session from 1939 to 1945.

Dr. Babcock received his M.D. from the College of Physicians and Surgeons in Baltimore, Maryland in 1893. He went to summer school at Harvard that year and then to the School of Medicine at the U. of P. By 1900 he had also obtained his doctor's degree from Medico-Chirurgical College in Philadelphia. Dr. Babcock received an honorary degree from Penna. State College in 1904 and his LL.D. at Temple University in 1932.

Resident at St. Mark's

During his long and interesting career he has been resident physician and surgeon at St. Mark's Hospital in Salt Lake City, Philadelphia Polyclinic & College for Graduates in Medicine, Kensington Hospital for Women, and Temple University Hospital. At Temple he was demonstrator and lecturer in pathology and bacteriology and professor of gynecology and surgery. Dr. Babcock has conducted researches leading to improved methods in surgery and has invented a number of surgical instruments. Entering the Army in 1917 as a Captain in the Medical Reserve Corps, he rose to Lt. Col. before his release in 1918 and was head surgeon of General Hospital No. 6, Fort McPherson, Ga.

He was President of the American Association of Obstetricians, Gynecologists and Abdominal Surgeons in 1933-34. Dr. Babcock is author of a Text Book of Surgery and Principles and Practice of

SENATOR Continued on Page Eight

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

DONALD M. COLLINS, '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
WILLIAM F. ALTENHOHL, '48 ..... Managing Editor
HUGH JOHNSON, '49 ..... Sports Editor
JOHN KUCHA, '49 ..... Feature Editor
ROBERT FLAHARTY, '48 ..... Picture Editor
LOUIS MECCARIELLO, '48 ..... Business Manager
PETER F. McMANUS, '47 ..... Circulation Manager
JOHN A. McDERMOTT, '48 ..... Copy Editor

News Staff

James Conaty, '47 — Charles P. Laferty, '50
Richard Shinners, '48 — George Szymanski, '50
Joseph D'Ambisi, '49 — Martin G. Binder, '50
Joseph D'Auria, '49 — John Casby, '49
John Kennedy, '50 — Dave I. Ryan, '48
Gene Daly, '50 — Robert Carroll, '50
R. Michael Marshall — Raymond Callahan '49
William Mooney, '50 — Michael Nowlan '49
Joseph McNamara

Feature Staff

F. Anthony Homann, '50 — John Mallick, '49
Anthony Coppa, '48 — Joseph Kenney, '50
Anthony Mullen, '49 — Joseph Miller, '50

Sports Staff

David Marano '47 — James Plunkett '49
Daniel Redmond '47 — Arnold Keehan '50
Donald Wieand '48 — Anthony Minyon '50
Vincent O'Donnell '48 — Neal Fahy '50
Ned Hoffner '49

Business Staff

William Wescott, '47 — Nicholas Marziani, '48
John Metzger, '49 — Robert Pidgeon, '49

Picture Staff

William Monagle, '48 — John Kane, '50
Emile Meyer, '49 — Thomas Mantini, '50
Leo Dodd, '49 — Raymond Berninger, '49
Richard Hudak, '49 — Daniel Hafinger, '50
Michael Torpey, '50

Circulation Staff

Thomas Flatley, '50 — Gunther Kaiser, '50
P. A. Richards, '50 — Joseph Heck, '49

Faculty Advisor—Rev. John A. Klekotka, O.S.A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman —
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription: $2 per year. Circulation: 5000.
Entered as second class matter at the Villanova Post Office December 27, 1928.

Member of Associated Collegiate Press, Distributor of Collegiate Digest.
Member of Catholic School Press Association, Catholic College Press Association and National Scholastic Press Association.

Better Student Politics . . .

This is what might be called an election edition. During this week and the next, practically all of the school offices will be filled for 1947-8.

Elections, on campus or otherwise bring with them political efforts by the candidates and their supporters. We wish here to set forth the political platform of this newspaper.

The Villanovan will maintain the strictest neutrality on every political issue. Many of the men on our staff are actively engaged in the election campaigns but the editor has striven and will continue to strive to bring to you an objective reporting of the election news. We here do not wish to go on record with the statement that no newspaper should actively support a party. We merely believe it to be unfair for us to do it since we are the only publication reporting the election news.

The word politics has descended from the old greek "polis"-city or state. With the last few years the word politics has connotated some act or acts of underhandedness or corruption. From such a noble beginning, the word has fallen low.

At the present time there is at least one fully organized political party on campus and several semi-organized political factions. The paper sincerely hopes that these groups are run according to the older rules.

Party re-appearance on the campus is a good thing. It shows the interest of the student body has again been fired. The school owes a debt of gratitute to those men who brought about this rebirth of spirit.

Yet we ask that the men who are to vote in the coming elections to exercise intelligence in their choice. If the students are really interested in the school government, they must honestly and carefully judge the candidates for whom they are to vote.

The purpose of political factions is to acquaint the public with the true value of the candidates, not to stampede it with Whoop-la.

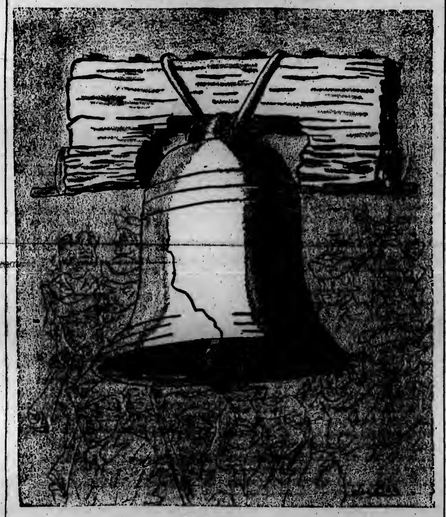
For You . . .

The year now coming to a close has not been a stellar one, here at Villanova. True, there has been a revival of the old familiar activities on the campus, but the atmosphere has remained one of the smugness and cynicism. Practically every person has felt the presence of a general "Don't give a hoot" attitude.

We realize that this sort of atmosphere is beneficial to no one. For our own sakes, therefore we must, regardless of how strongly we feel, forego some of our bitterness and really do something to change the situation.

Tomorrow, class elections are being held. In the past much of the cause for unrest has been laid at the door of the class officers. Among other things they have been accused of being not truly representative. We are not making any statements on the truth or falsity of such criticism, but we are urging you to do your part tomorrow for your sake and that of the whole school by seeing that the right men do get elected.

The staff of the Villanovan urges all of you to vote tomorrow. We urge you to see that the present atmosphere on our campus can be greatly improved by a large and sincere vote.



A week from tomorrow, you will be asked to elect two men to represent you at the N.S.O. convention in Wisconsin this summer. Make sure that you send the most capable men, because they will be speaking for you at that convention.

In all, we are once again asking you to take an active interest in your school, because it is evident to us how important this interest is to one's college education.

Villanova can have a really good effect in your life or it can be little more than a place where you spend a few hours a day.

Tomorrow you can step in the right direction by voting the men whom you think have "what it takes" into office. It's up to you.

To The Polls

Letters

15 May, 1947.

Dear Editor:

A sincere and hearty "Thank You" from the Officers and Moderator of the Class of '48 to the Villanovan for its cooperation in publicizing the Junior Week just passed.

We should like to express as earnest and sincere a "Thank You" to the Junior Week Chairman and to the chairmen and members of the committees of the various activities of Junior Week for work so very well done.

Of course, our heartiest thanks are for the members of the Junior Class and for those of the other classeswhose enthusiastic participation made Junior Week the success that it was.

Gratefully yours in Christ,
Michael J. O'Donnell, O.S.A.
Moderator—Class of '48.

Pride and Prejudice

This they call justice!

More than likely you have read of the July lynching of two Walton County, Ga. negroes and their wives. This act of coldbloodedness horrified communities throughout our nation, and agents of the FBI were sent to the scene of the crime in hopes of apprehending the murderers.

None of the culprits, it was said, thought it necessary to conceal their identity by wearing masks. Consequently, all in the area of the lynching must have known who these offenders were. Yet, every witness who was examined by the Federal Grand Jury claimed to have no knowledge of the gang. Not even the farmer whose car was used to carry the victims to their death professed to know the name of a single member of the group.

The question arises as to why this information has been withheld. Was it fear that made them silent? Probably! Was it obedience to the code of bigotry, the code that says the white man must not be arraigned for a deed collectively committed in behalf of Georgia's white ascendency?

This, too, is likely, but one thing is certain—Walton County, through ingenuity and resourcefulness, has scored an ignoble triumph over the FBI.

But the case is far from closed! The FBI, in its rightful quest for justice, must and will eventually see the wall of bigotry and stubborn silence which has protected these 20 murders broken. Until these men are apprehended and justice prevails, we shall be haunted and tormented by the knowledge that a grave wrong and injustice has been done these poor negroes. What has the government done about it? Better still, what should it do?

According to a recent report issued by Dr. S. W. Patterson, president of Tuskegee Institute, six persons were lynched in the year 1946. This was an increase of 5 over the number of lynchings in 1945 and 4 more than the number for 1944.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has launched a campaign for the passage of the Federal anti-lynching Bill. Just why should there be any question in this regard?

Is not lynching an immoral and a national disgrace!!? Lynching must go, and in its stead—justice for all.

Clothing Drive

The clothing drive, which has been widely publicized throughout the Villanova campus, is the subject of our article this week.

The appeal which has been made to the Catholic Colleges of the Philadelphia area has been placed in the hands of your school. Six colleges are participating in the campaign to raise a large amount of clothing for the negro parishes in this area. Villanova is the central collection station. It is for this reason that an especially strong appeal is being made to you students, and faculty members, to aid this worthy cause.

Certainly we do not want to be lagging behind the schools who are bringing their contributions to us. Only the members of this institution can make our part in this drive a success.

Regardless of the condition of your old clothes — bring them in. Torn clothing will be repaired, and soiled clothing can be cleaned. There are many colored families in Philadelphia who need clothing urgently—don't let them down. Men, women and children are all looking for your assistance.

Naval Machinery Class Travels To Navy Yard

Aircraft Carrier and Destroyer Escort To Be Visited Soon; Interested Students Invited

On Thursday, May first, the naval machinery class of Villanova College made a trip to the Philadelphia Navy Yard to inspect the main propulsion and auxiliary machinery of the U.S.S. South Dakota, a Washington class battleship. Lieutenant Commander O. M. Collins conducted the party on a tour of the ship, explaining the operation of the evaporators for water purification, the electrical system, the boilers and turbines. The Villanova engineers were impressed with the efficiency of operation of the express type boilers. Lastly, the refrigeration and de-humidification systems were explained. Since the ship is decommissioned, the de-humidifiers were the only pieces of machinery that could be seen in actual operation. These pieces of equipment maintain the relative humidity inside the ship constant at thirty-five percent, the best possible condition for preservation of the metal.

Submarine Visited

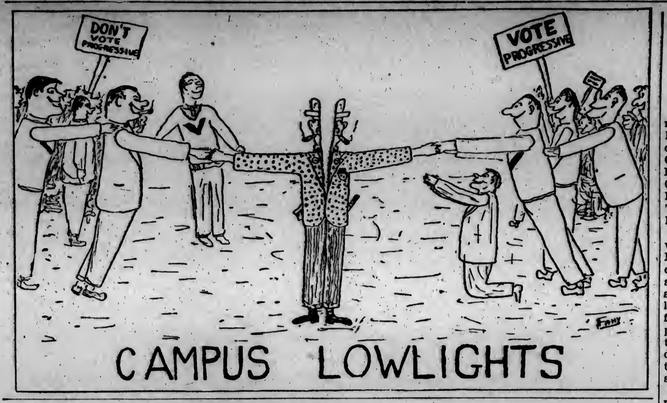
The submarine Permit was visited on May eighth. Lt. Cmdr. L. S. Robinson escorted the group around the craft, from the forward torpedo room aft to the diesel machinery spaces and motor compartments. Everyone was impressed with economical utilization of all space, from the position of the crew's quarters atop the stored torpedoes to the captain's stateroom, which is the size of an Austin hall closet.

Two more trips are scheduled, on the 22d of May and the 5th of June, to an aircraft carrier and a destroyer escort, respectively. All of those who are interested are invited to come on these trips.

The class wishes to thank Captain Thomas, commanding officer of the NROTC Unit here, for his cooperation in supplying the transportation and arranging these trips. It is hoped that an interest in the Naval Reserve will be fostered through these tours, which have been most interesting.

New Officers Seated In Sanctuary Society

At a recent meeting, the Sanctuary Society elected the following officers: Emeric Michalik, Science Sophomore, President; Joseph Shannon, C&F Freshman II, Vice-President; and C. Patrick Boylan, C&F Freshman II, Secretary. They will assume their duties in September.



Rev. James E Hannan, O.S.A., Moderator of the Society, announced the results of the voting. He added, that the Sanctuary Society, the oldest organization on the campus, had a successful year of activities. It is the duty and privilege of the members of the Sanctuary Society to serve Mass, Benediction, and all collegiate religious services.

Besides the innumerble beneficences derived from participating in the Holy Sacrifice, the members of the Society have the undying gratitude of the reverend fathers for their sacrifices of time and service. Fr. Hannan concluded by thanking all the members of the Society for their fine Catholic college spirit.

PHYSICS FRATERNITY VISITS CAMDEN

The Kappa Gamma Sigma fraternity of Villanova will hold a scheduled meeting on Thursday of this week to hold nominations for next year's officers. This organization is one of the more active groups on the campus. Not only has it held meetings every two weeks or oftener since in was organized last January but it has also been able to schedule various activities on the campus, this despite the fact that it is the most recent group that has been formed. The present officers who are now up for renomination are Bill Turner the vice-president, and Ed Healy the secretary-treasurer. Bill Connors the President is due to graduate this June and therefore will not be able to be with the fraternity next year. It is hoped that all members who will not be able to attend the meeting will have some other member make known their choice for nomination during the meeting so that all may be well represented.

In line with the policy of the fraternity to extend and disseminate knowledge and interest in Physics, a visit to the Radio Corporation of America in Camden was arranged several weeks ago. Seven of the members were shown about the extensive manufacturing system where television sets and phonograph records were being turned out by the thousands.

'NEATH THE SPIRES

By ANTHONY COPPA

Behind all our actions lies a silent factor which determines their merit. This factor is motive. In all intelligent acts, the motive is the cause of the action, and while it is often not apparent in the action, it nevertheless is of greater importance. If a righteous motive is lacking, the act cannot be good, but on the other hand, if the motive is sincere, the act may be good, depending on the nature and conditions of the act.

Yet, how frequenty do we fail to consider our motives in the things we do? How often do we act without asking ourselves whether such action is justified? The answer is too often!

The question we should ask ourselves when perplexed as to the righteousness of an act is this: "Will my action be in accordance with the principles to which I adhere?" If the answer is positive, the action will not be in disharmony with the dictates of our conscience and therefore will be morally good. This is true, since the conscience is the immediate guide concerning right and wrong. If, however, the answer is in the negative, the action must be discarded, for it can perform no ultimate good.

Especially for Catholics is the consideration of motive a basic duty. For the Catholic Church has clearly defined the requirements of Divine law in which the importance of motive is constantly stressed. The Commandments provide a practical guide to be used in realizing the good or evil of a proposed act. Yet, with all these assets at our disposal, we often fail when the time comes to use them. While taking tests in school, we don't hesitate to look at the next man's paper, as soon as the instructor looks the other way. We do this knowing it is wrong. When things are against us we are too weak to tell the truth, where the truth is not convenient to us. If we fail in these little things, what is going to happen to us when we encounter the really tough trials of life? What is wrong? Shall we dispense with this problem by saying that man is an imperfect creature? No! Man is not so imperfect that he cannot act in accordance with his beliefs. Our wounds of imperfection are not so deep that they cannot be healed by the grace of God. What we need is a little "fight."

Those who really love good in the world admire men who "practice what they preach." In the works of literature they are praised, and on the pedestal of man's tribute, their statues stand.

But of far greater importance, the multitudes of such men, who have left no footprints on the pathways of human tribute, live in the everlasting glory of God—

For greatness has its dwelling
In the soul,
Depending on the motive, not the feat,
And neither fame nor glory is its goal,
But lives therein, its own reward complete.

Professional Survey

ACCOUNTANCY

(Based on reports by American Institute of Accountants; Science Research Associates; The Institute for Research).

OUTLOOK:

Fathered by big business, accountancy stands today a profession whose future is secure. There is a great demand for trained accountants, a demand rising from these facts:

1. Accountancy serves a basic need, being thus indispensable to business and government. It is a profession wherein competent men are ever in demand.

2. Accountancy is expanding. Post-War business reorganization heralds an era of unprecedented commerce and industry. Government legislation continues to create additional opportunity fields for the accountant with: new tax divisions; expanded Social Security, Federal expenditures, etc. Having already absorbed over 30,000 accountants, Federal, state and local governments still call for more, with particular demand coming from Federal Trade Commission, Securities Exchange Commission, Interstate Commerce Commission, General Accounting Office, and State and City Comptroller Offices. New private businesses are in much need of specialized accountants while there ever beckons the executive posts—to those with exceptional talent and broad culture.

Accountancy is so much in opportunity today few other professions can rival its offerings; It is a presently lucrative field; its future is as secure as business itself.

TRENDS:

Accountancy and Business — To illustrate this dependence of accountancy upon business:

Accountancy's Growth
1900— 25,000.
1910—39,000.
1920—118,000.
1930—190,000.
1930-1940—STATIC
1940-On—Continued Rise.

As Big Business rose, so did accountancy. Particularly significant are the years 1930-1940 when accountants were hit hard by the depression. In that decade there was no rise in employment; accountants had all they could do to keep above water.

SIZE OF ACCOUNTANCY (CPA):

Total CPA'S—26,000 % Of Total
A.I.A. CPS'S—10,043.....34.9%
St. Society's
CPA'S—16,790.....58.8%

Present CPA'S number some 26,000 or about 15% of all accountants.

Continued on Page Four

THE BULL PEN

By JOHN KUCHA

The only seemingly safe subject to discuss this week is the weather.

We were sitting here, wrestling with this cantankerous typewriter, and trying to find something with which to bore you, when we raised our eyes to the instruction sheet which our red-haired Copy Editor put on the wall above the desk. One section of the sheet struck our curious fancy. "To avoid putting the figures first when round numbers are given, such forms may be used as 'About 250 students,' 'Over 1200 Automobiles,' 'Nearly 750 gallons of milk.'

Well, we don't exactly know why but this triple combination is interesting. Take those 250 students, associate them with 1200 automobiles. That is an ingenious twosome. Precisely why the Copy Editor includes those 750 gallons of milk is beyond our small mind. He could have substituted another beverage and really have made a zoftik mickey. Picture the scene, if you will. The 250 students climb into those 1200 autos after storing aboard those 750 gallons of joy juice. Egads, this thing is assuming the proportions of a Hollywood Academy Award picture! We'll get a student with an overactive thyroid to play the part of the 250 students (this will save overhead). Then, before he steps into his 1200 automobiles, 60,000 Indians riding three-humped camels (this is a De Mille extravaganza) cross the range as the 5000 G men riding buffaloes borrowed from Zlotnik follow in hot pursuit. Under the terrific barrage that the enemy puts up, Joe, the student, asks Lana's forgiveness. She tells him that she is in love with Cary Pants. As the evening sun sets, the two buffaloes pledge undying love and walk into the fading night.

Now what we want to know is, "What business is this guy in?"

Watchin' the Wildcats

Blame it on Leighton and Hoffner.

Well, our number finally came up and we got a date for the Junior Prom; so all our gleanings of news were observed first hand. We were particularly impressed by the noble efforts of the decorations committee and more than one of the boys said that they heard those pseudo-Dogwood trees barking.

The lighting was just right, although WILL LANE is still looking for that sharp number he brought over from Woodbury for the boys to see. The affairs left most of the student body pretty flat, with the exception of HUGH JOHNSON and FRANK McBRIDE who had an indelible pencil between them that really paid off. We found midway along in the evening that Ray Eberle was also doubling as a hat check attendant.

We observed that TOM MUELLER wasn't so sharp at dancing, but boy! could he intermission? He kept a crowd amused with impersonations and a cigar act and side comments on Oklahoma (where men are men, and the Women sure know it.) Also happened to notice that KAY had a tough time keeping DON JORDAN from the stage —remember that blonde???

PETE McMANUS suggests that the seats in the balcony be dusted off before every dance in the Field House.

Post dance disappointments were registered for the most part by DICK LIVINGSTON and JACKIE, BOB MacNAMARA and MARGIE, JIM MacNAMARA and KAY, DICK RANDOLPH and ISABELLE and a host of 200 others who invaded the Covered Wagon only to find that the chow was all gone and the only thing that they were able to do was to pay the $2.00 cover charge and sit down. Before we get off this dance subject; when is TOM NARY going to break down and bring her to a dance.

Thay, fellows, MIKE CRUISE

Continued on Page Seven

The Top Hatter

Concert Critique

By PATRICK LAFERTY

Last Monday, May 12, The Villanova College Symphonic Band and Double Octette held a joint concert with the Immaculata College Glee Club in the Villanova Field House. The Immaculata Choral Group was under the direction of Miss Anne Gleason, Immaculata '48, while Ralph E. Handran, O.S.A., M.Mus., directed the band.

Two marches, George Gershwin's "Strike Up the Band" and Meacham's "American Patrol" opened the concert. The band was at its best in these two numbers, and the latter march was excellently rendered. "Pavanne" (Gould) followed, closing the introductory phase of the concert. Here the sustained quality of the notes was a distinct improvement over the first two numbers, where a tendency to slur the melody line was noticed.

The backdrop curtain was then raised on the Villanova Double Octette. The three numbers slated for this group were: C. F. Candish's "Song of the Jolly Rogers," "Eight Bells" and "Away to Rio."

The Double Octette sang with excellent interval timing and a pleasing blend—one could well imagine the stirring effect of this talented group with an orchestral background. An encore "My Rosary" exploited sixteen earnest gentlemen to their harmonic best.

Latin Dance Offered

The Band resumed with Bennett's "Mexican Hat Dance." The number flourished with a great deal of noise and little music or rhythm. Individual talent of the group was obscured and only heard at rare solo periods. Better arrangement might have adapted the fiery dance to the ensemble. An amusing interlude in the program was "Whistler and His Dog" by Pryor. Skillful playing of the instrument group and clever contortions of the three "Whistlers" (Hank Franzonik, Matt Kearney, and Jack MacNamara) rendered it very enjoyable.

Part One closed with "Repartee" by Robert Russell Bennett, a piano concerto with Vincent Gammache as piano soloist.

Pianist Excellent

He seemed by his playing to enhance each band entrance. The drum background at times was distracting. Vincent's control gave excellent volume which attracted but did not annoy; offered entertainment yet fully revealed the capabilities of the artist.

Part Two of the concert saw the curtain rise upon about fifty young ladies in black gowns, they opened with their school song, but unfortunately they could not be heard over the band.

They next offered Mozart's Hymn of Praise "Oh Praise Ye the Lord From the Heavens" from the Cantata "Dir Seele des Weltalls O Sonne." It was a beautiful rendition of this immortal classic. The four hand-Piano accompaniment was played by Miss Jo Anne Shovlin and Miss Laura Marie Plant.

The next piece was "Tell Me Mama" by the French composer Bergerthe. Effort and stimulation seemed to lag in this one. The succeeding selection, dreamy "Deep Purple" by Peter De Rose, was warmly sung with the pensive reflectiveness which its melody demands.

In the light "Dance-A-Cachucha" the spontaniety and gaicty so necessary was again felt.

Audience Sings

Father Handran again took up has baton with Goldman's "On the Mall." There followed "Man On the Flying Trapeze," "Little Brown Jug," "Bicycle Built for Two," and others. Here the instrument and vocal group were augmented by the Double Octette.

"Night and Day" which followed was introduced well, but the band remained too loud after the choir entered. Its beating tempo was jumpy and the number calls for a slow, stately rhythm. Next came "Stars In Your Eyes," a swing version, and here tempo control was better and used to full advantage in rendering this exciting Latin seelction. After this came an Oklahoma medley of the best known numbers from that popular musical. The Alma Mater and Star Spangled Banner concluded the concert.

In all, the musicale was appreciatively received by the audience. Their attentiveness made the effort of the various groups in preparing for the affair well worth while.

Overall criticism might be as follows: The Band could integrate their sections better by more careful arrangements. The Glee Club was very good in the light of their limited rehearsals. Still the group might make their presentations more dynamic—implying by emotion the mood of the piece. Lastly re-arrangement of the stage placements is called for. The choir had too much of their effort absorbed by the backdrop wall. They should be placed in front of the Band and diagonally facing one of the side walls of the Field House.

Villanova Club Holds Meeting

The Villanova Club of Philadelphia held its last meeting prior to the summer months on May 15 at the Hi Top Country Club. Movies of the 1946 World Series were shown to the large group of alumni who attended the meeting.

A committee to investigate the Club's possibility of attending the Villanova-Army game next fall was appointed. The committee will study the various means of transportation for a representative body who plan to attend the game. Heading this committee is Robert H. Simpson '43. He will be assisted by John Fitzgibbons '45 and Donald P. Cryor '43.

It is the plan of the Villanova Club of Philadelphia to arouse interest in this game and it is hoped that a large group of loyal Villanova followers will follow their team to New York.

Four Students Nominated For NSO Elections

Barrett, Collins, McDermott, Stanley Named at Student Council Meeting

After weathering a stormy session during which it disbanded itself and then reinstated itself, the Student Council acted on the first item of its agenda — the reception of nominations for delegates to the National Students Organization Convention. The Council convened at 6 P. M. it was 7:30 P M. before nominations were able to be received.

The reception of nominations for the delegates to the convention at the University of Wisconsin next September was then moved and approved. Acting Chairman Don Collins outlined the procedure for nominating candidates, saying that nominations were to be unlimited and that the nominator should list the qualifications of his nominee with regard to interest in extra-curricular activities, public speaking ability and a knowledge of parliamentary procedure. The nominations then proceeded.

Jack Stanley, reading from a prepared speech, addressed the audience and Council in nominating Phil Barret as the senior delegate to the Convention. Mr. Stanley outlined Barrett's qualifications pointing out in particular that he attended the first convention of the NSO and established vital contacts with other representatives. Stanley mentioned Phil Barrett has been working in close contact with developments and is therefore well briefed as to what should be done. He also stated that Phil Barrett was instrumental in the reestablishment of the International Relations Club and was later elected President of that organization.

Matt Kearney then arose and submitted his nomination for John McDermott drawing attention to the fact that Mr. McDermott has been active throughout the school and is now serving on the Villanovan in the position of Copy Editor. He further stated that McDermott is noted for his logical thinking and maintenance of high Catholic ideals and his general all-around ability and therefore received his support for the position of delegate to the NSO conference.

Tom Sullivan took the floor to deliver a prepared address giving to the Council his nomination of Jack Stanley. Sullivan outlined Stanley's qualifications pointing out that he is a member of the Student Council and has been acclaimed for his knowledge of parliamentary procedure and his excellent speaking ability. He continued, saying that Stanley has been active in the International Relations Club and Inter-Racial Club.

Bill Altenpohl followed, forwarding his nominee, Don Collins. In nominating Collins, he stated that Mr. Collins has served as Editor of the Villanovan and is a proven leader in other extra-curricular activities. Altenpohl added that Don Collins is also an excellent student, having attained the Honor Roll on many occasions.

A motion was then made to close the nominations. As Acting Chairman, Don Collins proposed that forty-five seconds be given for anyone to rise and make a nomination. The time limit expired without any nominations forthcoming and the motion was carried. With the nominations ended, the Council proceeded with the other business on the agenda.

These are Your N. S. O. Nominees

PHILLIP BARRET '49 — DONALD COLLINS '48 — JOHN McDERMOTT '48 — JOHN STANLEY '49

Professional Survey

Continued from Page Three

CPA STATE DISTRIBUTION (1st fifth)

1st—New York, 9,342.
2nd—Illinois, 2,231.
3rd—California, 1,719.
4th—Pennsylvania, 1,559.
5th—Texas, 1,208.

Accountants thrive in the big business states.

LEGISLATIVE MOVES:

In a Survey of 4550 members, the American Institute of Accountants almost overwhelmingly approved the moves to institute as state legislation these fundamentals—so long desired by accountants:

That:

—Public Accounting legislation be justified only by its public benefit.

—The CPA'S final endorsement of financial statements are of public interest, therefore subject to state control.

—Auditing and Certification be done only by licensed Accountants.

—CPA requirements include: two years of accounting experience for college graduates; additional experience for those with no college. (Already adopted by New York state; to be adopted by New Jersey from January 1, 1951).

—That CPA examinations requirements should not so high as to permit entrance of very few, or so low as to admit sub-calibre ranks.

—No legislation should impede inter-state operation of accountants; inter-state respect for licenses should be encouraged.

—Societies should resist efforts to assign CPA title to special groups on less difficult examination; to resist registration as public accountants of bookeepers, tax consultants, etc.

These aims have long been sought by accountancy, both for the sake of its members and for its advancement.

QUALIFICATIONS

What makes an accountant? Character and personality above all else, declare the field's authorities. The AIA lists these as the accountant's indispensibles:

1. High moral character.
2. Imagination, initiative and perseverance.
3. Pleasing personality.
4. General cleanliness and smartness of appearance.
5. Ability to talk and write effectively.
6. Self-assurance and willingness to accept responsibility.
7. Tact in dealing with others.
8. Qualities of leadership.
9. Professional sense of service.

Personality, the great indefinable, is the greatest factor.

TECHNICAL BACKGROUND:

One of the few professions not demanding a college degree—even CPA's don't need one—accountancy nevertheless now offers its better positions almost exclusively to college men.

Stressed particularly in college background are: Basic knowledge of theory and practice of accountancy, economics, finance, insurance, cost accountancy, auditing, some specialized accountancy and commercial law. The much discussed cultural background is far more important than many think. " . . . men graduated from courses in the liberal arts and sciences develop quite as rapidly as men who have devoted most of their time to technical accountancy study."

CPA Requirements: demand that applicants pass a list given by

Continued on Page Six

When you graduate, you will have one of the finest opportunities to learn to fly ever offered young men in peacetime.

The Army Air Forces' Aviation Cadet Training Program gives you that chance. It cannot be duplicated anywhere at any price. Leader in new things for aviation—in jet and rocket propulsion, far-ranging heavy aircraft, improved navigation facilities, and many other of the latest developments in a fast-moving field—the AAF can help you begin a brilliant future.

The Air Forces have reopened Aviation Cadet training to qualified civilians 18 to 26½ years of age. Men selected for training as pilots under the terms of the program must be single and have had at least two years of college education, or the equivalent, in an accredited institution. Upon successful completion of the course, graduates will be commissioned Second Lieutenants, Army of the United States, and assigned to flying duty with the Army Air Forces.

Reactivation of the Aviation Cadet program is typical of the AAF's continuing effort to provide selected young men every opportunity to earn advancement. Cadets who win their wings as today's pilots will be the same kind of men who, in wartime, built and manned the world's mightiest air arm.

Make your plans now to get in at the start! By applying immediately after graduation, you can take your qualifying examinations and enter the July 1st class, or—if you want a summer vacation—you can take your examinations now and be ready to enter the class beginning October 15th. Further information is available at AAF Bases, U. S. Army Recruiting Stations, local Civil Air Patrol headquarters, or by writing to the Commanding General, Army Air Forces, Washington 25, D. C.

AIR POWER A A F IS PEACE POWER

★

U. S. ARMY RECRUITING SERVICE

VILLANOVAN SPORTS

Austin Continues Winning Streak

Barracks Win; Doms Win Over Alumni in Protest Game

Four hotly contested games were played last week in the Intramural Softball League, the decision of one still undecided since the last inning must be replayed. This unusual occurence resulted from a protest over a play in the last inning of the game between the Doms and Alumni. Up until that time the Doms were leading by a score of 5 to 4.

Austin Leading League

In the other game on Monday night, Austin hall shut-out Mendel hall to the tune of 7 to 0. Pitcher Bill Nealon allowed only three scattered hits, all of them singles. His team gave him fine support, both in the field and at bat, playing errorless ball and gathering a total of eight hits. The fourth was the big inning for Austin when three successive errors by Mendel and a timely single poked into left field by Jack Corr resulted in four runs. In the next frame, singles by Selinger and Elinsky batted in two men who had been walked earlier in the inning. The other run for Austin came from the bat of George Egan who slammed out a home run in the third. It was the second straight win for the Austins who are currently topping the league.

Mendel lost their second game in a row on Tuesday evening to Alumni. It was a heartbreaker for Mendel, losing by a 9 to 8 score. Both teams got eight hits. However Alumni was issued eight walks by pitcher Bogdanski. A triple by Carl Annas in the third for Alumni was the longest hit of the game. It enabled two men to score and gave the winners the lead which they never relinquished. Mendel tried valiantly to come back but was limited to two singles in the last three innings. This game dropped Mendel to last place in the league.

Barracks Win

The Barracks took the other contest on Tuesday night from Fedigan scoring six runs in the last two innings. Four singles and a walk in the sixth frame made possible the scoring of four runs for the Barracks. In the next inning McNulty hit a home run with one on for the other two runs. The big inning for Fedigan was the fourth when they scored four runs on three errors, two walks and a home run by Bill Trees.

Mel Downey Signs With Pro Eagles

Mel Downey, one of Villanova's starting tackles of last season, resently signed a contract to play football next year with the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Professional League. He joins veteran Eddie Michaels, who played ball with the Main Liner's in 1936, 7, and 8.

Played With Dartmouth

Downey, who is a product of Boys High in Brooklyn, played his first college football with Holy Cross in 1941. He was later transfered to Dartmouth under the V-12 program. He played first string tackle with the Indians in 1943—a team which lost only one game all season—to Penn.

After his discharge from the Navy, he matriculated at Villanova where he landed a starting berth on Coach Olivar's eleven. Later on in the semester, he was forced to withdraw from school because of financial difficulties.

He is one of many ex-Villanova College football players to make the big league.

Believe It or Not, He's Out!

—Staff Photo by Winters

Norm Kline, Villanova's third sacker, puts it on Lon Morreale, Fordham right fielder. Morreale, who had hit a double to center field, didn't count on Al Litwa's throwing arm and was called "out" at third, trying to stretch his hit.

Track Team Prepares For IC4-A Meet

Villanova Enters Largest Delegation Yet in Season's Finale

With a little more than a week remaining before the IC4-A Meet, Villanova's tracksters are putting the finishing touches on their training under the watchful eye of Coach Jim Elliott. The meet, returning to its old two-day custom, will be held at Franklin Field, Philadelphia on May 30, 31st.

Banking on the same group that jailed Seton Hall's Pirates over a week ago, plus the incomparable George Guida, Villanova will dispatch its largest IC4-A entry in years in an effort to launch the Main Line school's drive to national track prominence.

Coach Elliott has nominated 21 men for competition, but is relying most heavily on an octet of Wildcats whose performances have stamped them as strong contenders for titles in their respective events.

George Guida, if his injured leg is in shape, should be a sure bet for points in the 220 and quarter-mile. The latter, which is George's specialty, might result in a battle among the South Philadelphian, Manhattan's Johnny Quigley, and NYU's Reggie Pearman. The 220, on the other hand, should be a wide open affair with a plethora of "dark horses" in the starting gate. Guida is also scheduled to run on the mile relay team.

Others being depended upon are a pair of recently acclaimed record-setters, "Buck" Coleman and Browning Ross. Coleman on previous performances, rates at least a runner-up spot in any prognostications as to the outcome of the pole vault, Richard "Boo" Morcom of New Hampshire being the favorite in most quarters.

Ross, entered in both the mile and half-mile, has his work cut out for him in either event. He will have to better his newly-established school record if he is to win the mile, with such brilliants as

TRACK Continued on Page Six

Lord Raps Homer Against Fordham

Second Baseman Hit First Homer of Season in Win Over Fordham, 5 - 3

Behind the heavy hitting of Joe Lord and Dan Casey, Villanova stretched its winning streak to 4 straight games in beating Fordham 5-3. "Major" McDonnell, who gave up 4 hits, 3 walks, and had 2 strikeouts, was removed in the fourth inning for a pinch hitter. Bill Smith finished out the game, giving up only one hit, and got credit for the win.

Rams Score First . . .

The Rams were the first team to draw blood. Burgio, the center fielder, opened up the second inning with a long double. Keefe, the first baseman who had two hits for the day, quickly singled to left, driving in the first run. They scored their last two runs in the fourth inning on a single, a walk, a force play at second, a wild throw by Comerford and a triple by the pitcher.

Villanova scored 2 runs in the third, 2 more in the sixth, and 1 more in the eighth to win.

McDonnell drew a walk after D'Ambrosio had fouled out. Dan Casey then parked one under the football stands for a double, McDonnell going to third. Litwa filed out but Fordham's Keefe mishandled the ball on Norm Kline's attempt, and 2 runs scored.

In the sixth, with one run already across, John Blong blasted a single to center. Charlie Comerford sacrificed him to second base. Then Joe Lord, after fouling away 6 pitches, saw the right one and knocked it over the head of Burgio, for a triple which scored Blong.

Lord Homers

Again in the eighth it was Joe Lord. With the bases empty, and two outs, Joe hit a high ball that cleared the left field fence, 350 ft. out for his first homer of the season.

The game was played under the prevailing May weather, namely cold, but there was plenty of excitement for the fans. In the fourth inning, when the Fordham pitcher balked, Coach Jack Coffey and his boys poured all over the umpires, which had "all-hands" on their feet.

Penn Game Rained Out

The University of Pennsylvania Villanova baseball game, scheduled for last Wednesday on River Field, was called off due to rainy weather. This was the second game that was rained out.

With wins over St. Joe's Drexel, West Chester, and La Salle, the Quakers loom as the champs of Philadelphia, Fr. McKee, has been trying to work the game in somewhere in the future, but due to the heavy "rain check" schedule of both teams is doubtful that the two teams will meet this year.

'Cats Down Hoyas 4-3, Lose to Navy On Saturday, 8-4

Hen Donahue Winner Over Georgetown, Joe Lord Continues Heavy Hitting

The 'Cat nine swept into the win column on Friday afternoon at the capital, but dropped a tough decision to the Naval Academy on Saturday. The boys beat out Georgetown by 4-3 and bowed to the Crab-Towners, 8-4.

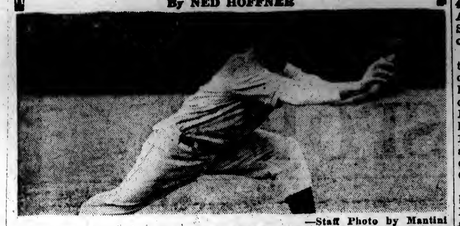
Hen Donahue was the man who contributed the most to the Blue and White's victorious tussle in Washington as he limited the Hoya's to three runs. Donahue's partner-in victory was basketball's Joe Lord who has hit the horsehide at a tremendous rate of late. Joe collected two more bingles, along with Al Litwa, ball-rocking outfielder and Casey, another fly chaser who can clout as well as corner the pellet. Frank O'Neill came through with a bingle to warm the hearts of the scouts in the crowd.

For Georgetown, cleanup Elmer Rah-Rah Raba sparkled in the outfield and at the plate, but the vaunted titans of the District, in line for the district championship, by the way, could not tame the Wildcat.

The story was quite different down at Annapolis, however, where the Middies polled 12 hits to humble Villanova. Stan Chojnacki started in the box for our boys, but needed help from Greene as the Tars broke out in a four run rash in the sixth inning.

Joe Lord continued his phenomenal batting pace as he rapped out three hits—he was the only man to get more than one hit on the Blue and White. Casey, Litwa, O'Malley, and pitcher Greene also made the hit column. It looks as though Lord is due to rise in the batting order if that base hit average is kept up.

Thompson Wins Mile



—Staff Photo by Winters

George Thompson, turning in a 4:31.2 mile, took that event in the dual meet with Seton Hall.

In The Sportlight

By NED HOFFNER

CHARLIE COMEFORD —Staff Photo by Mantini

Watching the Baseball team in their last seven victorious encounters at home, one could not help but be impressed by the fine defensive play of our first baseman, Charlie Comerford. In a few of the recent games, when the thermometer was dipping around 40 degrees and the wind was whistling across the football field, the arms of the infielders were a bit cold and the throw outs at first were hitting anywhere but in bullseye. It was on these occassions that Charlie dug them out of the dirt and stretched his full 6-2" frame halfway across the diamond to save Coach Weinert's charges many a man on base.

All-Around Athlete

Charlie is a Philadelphia boy, born and raised in Germantown. He attended Germantown High and made quite a name for himself in sports at that school. He was a member of the Soccer, Basketball and Baseball teams. In soccer he was goalie for the Germantown team that went undefeated in 1940. He was captain of the baseball team and in his senior year, turning in the best batting average of the squad. For these varied activities in sports and scholastic activities, Charlie was awarded the Findiessen Memorial Award.

A C-54 was the smallest plane that Charlie could fit his lanky frame into, so he flew those large transports for the ATC in the Pacific. His duties would not permit his participation in any organized ball while overseas, so he was quite out of practice when he answered the call for baseball candidates last season. His performances pleased Mr. Weinert and, as a result, has held down the initial sack ever since. Last season, his timely hitting paid off by leading the 'Cats in R.B.I.'s.

Prayed with G. F.

Last summer found Charlie in the Philadelphia League playing with General Electric, along with Joe Lord, under the coaching of Mr. Weinert. This season however, he has a chance to play with Manoa in the Main Line League a stepping stone to a lot of the best things in Baseball. We hope it will be for Charlie Comerford.

With the baseball team's consistently fine display of proficency at the National Pastime, the turning back of 8 consecutive opponents and the increased and vigorous following of the student body, a double-barreled glimpse of a couple of the men that are making that team tick is in the making.

George "Pop" Warner is first. This is the third year that George has been stopping at short with the Wildcats. He held down that position for all three seasons in college along with three years of high school ball and says he'd be lost anywhere else but on the field.

GEORGE WARNER

Captained Team In High School

His baseball experience is long and varied. He started at St. John's High School in Patterson, N. J. where he participated in the sport for three years and was honored as the team captain in his senior year. Summers found him in Patterson's widely followed twilight league. He entered Villanova in 1942.

"Pop" played here in the 1943 and '44 seasons but then took some time out to do some work for the Government as an Ensign on a minesweep in the Pacific. George laments that the cramped quarters found aboard the "Sweep" did nothing constructive for his throwing arm and his general physical condition and has been experiencing a lot of trouble so far this season in coming around to his usual form. His hands are his biggest problem, stiffening in cold weather games.

But, with a few sunny days, George should regain his old form and finish the season in a blaze of glory.

Track

Continued from Page Five

Gerry Karver (recent author of a 4:12 performance) and Horace Ashenfelter of Penn State, Nick Smusyn of Navy and Frank Dixon of NYU listed as starters.

If Coach Elliott should decide to have the Woodbury Wonder compete in the half, he will most likely be pitted against such redoubtables as Reggie Pearman, NYU's Penn Relays hero, Bill Atkinson, Manhattan's indoor IC4-A 1000-yard champ, Jerry Connolly and John O'Hare of Fordham's crack 2-mile relay team, and Stan Callender of NYU, among others.

Carrying the Blue and White hopes in the 2-mile run will be Dave Williams and George Thompson. Both are capable of placing in a field where the indoor IC4-A king, Curt Stone of Penn State seems to standout well above the rest, unless North Carolina's Jack Milne should decide to run. Eddie O'Toole of Manhattan and Armand Osterburg of NYU are other contenders.

Listed for plenty of action if premeet entries mean anything are freshman Joe McCreary and veteran Ed Fitzgerald. McCreary is entered in the two dashes and the broad jump in addition to the mile relay. Fitz has the task of running a half and two quarters staring him in the face, one of the latter two quarters being a leg of the mile relay.

Chief Wildcat hope in the weights is "Big Bill" Lilienthal, who is goin to concentrate on his best event, the discuss. Bill was within a foot or two of the winning toss last year but competition was so close that places were decided by as little as 2-inch differences. Consequently, his efforts were not rewarded in the scoring column. This year he will have to outdo last year's winning heave, however, if he is to do anything, for collegiate performers this Spring have been little short of terrific.

Professional Survey

Continued from Page Five

legally authorized slateboard of examiners. These semiannual examinations last 2 or 3 days, covering accountancy, theory of accounts and commercial law, etc. Academic background demands high school, sometimes college training. State laws regarding experience vary widely, ranging from 2-6 years experience in public accounting as a prerequisite to receiving the certificate. The examinations itself? A thorough comprehensive test designed to wither all but the very best. So highly respected are those who service that the CPA title is universally reorganized as the symbol of accountancy's elite. By this very quality the CPA holds the great advantage—he being the first sought by firms, he being the best prepared for branching into partnerships.

INCOME:

Always reputed as being the highest paid business profession, accountancy boasts attractive income rates.

Those accountants serving strictly professional, the CPA's, rank with the very highest of professional work. Most nearly approximating and medicine incomes, CPA incomes needed often surpasses these top fields. According to figures from 1920 to 1931, the CPA's average income for those years was no less than $7500—conderably higher than the business medium higher even than any other professional field—Bar None CPA earnings go even as high a $50000 for top men.

Those accountants serving others as employes—the chief accountant, auditor, treasurer, etc., receive top rates when compared wih all other office employes. Survey shows that of actual salaries of thousands engaged in all types of enterprises places at the head of the list, accountants and auditors.

Beginners, $125-200.
Government, $200-400.
Experienced, $200-500 up.

Average for non-CPA's

1936—$3000.
1947—$4000 up.

For further Information: write American Institutes of Accountants, 13 East 41st St., New York 17, New York.

SPORTORIAL

By HUGH JOHNSON
Sports Editor

Last week many a "Diploma Factory Student" sat up and took notice of the fact that Villanova has a baseball team.

But then again, how could they but . . . even the sports writers of the local newspapers had taken notice of the fact that the Wildcats have won 10 out of 14 games.

This calls for a look see into the records to dig out the reasons for all those wins and losses.

Spring practice was slow in getting under way. There was rain. There was cold weather. In fact, there even was snow on the ground when the team first started pounding pockets into their gloves. So, all in all, they had about eight decent days to play ball before the season's opener with Quantico. That first game was a lucky win. The great teams of yesterday all have been demobilized.

In the second and third games of the season, played in the Deep South with Duke and North Carolina, the lack of spring training became very evident. It seemed as though everybody in the infield had two or three boots on that road trip.

But once Lefty Wienert's boys came north again they began to live up to pre-season predictions. Knocking off Princeton, Connecticut and Dartmouth, three in a row, the team met with disaster at the hands of the still unbeaten Cadets from West Point.

Returning home, the 'Cats got back to their winning ways by beating the Quantico Marines in a return game, Kings Point, Seton Hall, Bucknell, and in the post weeks, Fordham and Georgetown. Last Saturday Navy continued its jinx . . . Villanova having lost to the sailors in football, basketball, track and now baseball. So much for the past. As for the present, today's game will be a very crucial one. So far this season the Wildcats have beaten all the Catholic schools.

The most important of these victories was the 7-to-5 win over Seton Hall and the 5-to-3 win over Fordham. The Pirates, except for that one loss, have a perfect season. They, in turn, have beaten Holy Cross and Boston College, two other outstanding Catholic schools.

Fordham, which has an up-and-down season, last Saturday beat N. Y. U., which up to that time was leading the hot New York City League by a score of 18-7.

So with a win over Loyola, which has beaten LaSalle and Mount Saint Mary's, Villanova might be able to claim the mythical Catholic championship of the United States.

The biggest disappointment of the season by far was the two rain-outs of the Penn games. With all of Penn's local victories, they could claim a Philadelphia championship—and if we could have beaten them—well, it speaks for itself.

Put ZING IN YOUR SWING

Extra strength for extra stroking power is built into the throats of the "Fiber-Sealed" Wright & Ditson Davis Cup and the "Fiber-Welded" Spalding Kro-Bat . . . both made by Spalding. At your dealer's.

SPALDING SETS THE PACE IN SPORTS

11-ply Lamination

Both made by Spalding

Frosh Nominate Class Officers At Group Meeting

Rev. J. E. Hannan, O.S.A., Class Moderator, Addressed the Assembly at First Inaugural Meeting

The largest class ever to enter Villanova, the Class of 1950, held its first organizational meeting on Tuesday evening, May 13th, in the Field House, its purpose was to nominate candidates for class officers.

Rev. James E. Hannan, O.S.A., moderator of the class, opened the inaugural meeting, and welcomed the Class of '50 in the name of the College. He reviewed the fundamentals of a Catholic education, and called on the body to elect officers with the traits of ability, loyalty, service, dependability, and leadership. The speech was warmly applauded by the gathering.

John Stanley Addressed Group

Fr. Hannan then turned the meeting over to John Stanley of the Student Council, who, after some preliminary remarks, conducted the nominations. In the course of some very eager activity, the following men were nominated for office:

For President: Robert H. Graf, Engr.; Edgar C. LeBlanc, Jr., Ed.; Rudolph C. Swanson, Jr. Engr.; Albert J. Veling, Ed.; John H. White, Arts;

For Vice-President: Thomas A. Clavin, Ed.; Paul Kelley, C&F; Roland M. Marshall, C&F; Robert E. Probert, C&F;

For Secretary: John T. Callahan, Jr., C&F; Daniel J. Doris, C&F; Joseph R. Quill, Science; George R. Szymanski, Science;

For Treasurer: Peter J. Crerand, C&F; George A. Egan, C&F; Joseph D. O'Brien, C&F; Paul L. Schratwieser, C&F; Frederick V. Watson, C&F;

For Representatives to the Student Council (3 to be elected): Carlo F. Andreone, Engr.; Francis J. Buckley, Jr., Mech. Engr.; Maurice A. Crane, Arts; Donald J. Griffin, C&F; Edward F. Krieg, Arts; William J. Leighton, Engr.; Joseph J. Liebner, Ch. Engr.; Richard L. McMonigle, C&F; Michael J. Nowland, Engr.; Vincent A. O'Neil, C&F; William J. Regan, C&F; Arthur F. Smith, Arts; George G. Thompson, C&F;

Elections will be held under the supervision of the Student Council about May 28th. Approved lists of candidates will be posted on all bulletin boards and in conspicuous spots on the campus. George Beltzer was appointed chairman of the committee to publish the lists of candidates.

Nominations were so brisk, that during the nomination for Student Council representatives a motion to close the nominations was defeated by an approximately two-thirds vote. After the nominations, Mr. Stanley answered questions from the floor concerning the elections. It was pointed out that campaign activity is on the upswing, and that candidates would have an unlimited field of ideas to choose from.

The nominators were given the opportunity to speak in behalf of their candidates, and turned out to be enlightening as well as amusing.

A large resident turnout was observed at the meeting, which was held on the gym floor. As it is, unfortunately, the dayhops were represented by a small group. Future meetings will be held with the view of providing refreshments and entertainment following the meetings.

Orientation Discussed

One of the first matters under consideration by the class officers, immediately after election, will be the appointment of the Orientation Committee, it was announced. This committee will supervise the indoctrination of the incoming Freshmen in September, and will aid them in becoming adjusted to college life.

Notices will be posted on the bulletin boards announcing the exact date of elections.

Fr. Hannan is also the Assistant Chaplain of the College.

CANDIDATES FOR OFFICE—CLASS OF 1950

For President:
Robert H. Graf—Eng.
Edgar C. LeBlanc Jr.—Ed.
Rudolph C. Swanson, Jr—Eng.
Albert J. Veling—Ed.
John H. White—Ar.

For Vice-President:
Thomas A. Clavin—Ed.
Paul Kelley—C&F.

Continued on Page Eight

Watchin'

Continued From Page Six

made the Woman's Page of the Sunday Bulletin. See what these lunchtime visits get you. BUD KANE only made the sports sheet. BILL LUDEN and BILL FRIEND were showing off their tennis techniques at a local girls college. We hear that they have decided to switch to ping-pong. JOHN MATTESSICK has put through two calls a day to Rosemont—wonder if the Rosies are going to start charging him for the telephone messenger service.

After being serenaded by the lovelies from Immaculata last week, we just happened to be passing the stage door, when we ran into a small sized group of "Johnnies," flowers in hand and tongues that weren't. "two blocked." Most prominent were ED DAHLHAUS, BILL DIANA, JACK and JOE PESHINA and DICK RICE. What school spirit; what lovely tomatoes!

At this writing, Villanova is once more assuming its deadly still; HEILMAN is once more keeping his eyes open in class; O'Dwyer Hall is once more its old self after a few pre-dawn parties. JOE RINGLESTEIN finally found his corsage but now has no date and BILL BRENNAN is taking hourly doses of bicarbonate to offset a severe case of cream puff poisoning.

FULL DRESS - TUXEDOS
Cutaways and Shoes For Hire
Summer Formal outfits a specialty
Outfit your entire group for Weddings, Parochial Graduations Etc.
IRVIN STERN
24 W. STATE ST. - MEDIA 0310
Established 1900

IN A RUT?
Climb out with the aid of Aptitude Testing and Counseling
Send for Free Booklet V-2
Philadelphia's Oldest Guidance Bureau
TOMLINSON COUNSELORS
220 S. 16th St., Phila. 2 KI 5-2112

Phone Bryn Mawr 2422
THE BOUQUET SHOP
Roberts Rd. & Lane Ave.
BRYN MAWR, PA.
-:- FLOWERS BY WIRE -:-

College Tailor
Coladonato Tailor Shop, Inc.
2 ARTHUR ROAD
Rosemont, Penna.
Bryn Mawr 1266
We do adjustments the way you want them.
Work and Service—Good
Prices Reasonable
Why Walk? Clothes Picked Up at Pie Shop Daily!

HART & HALL, INC.
825 LANCASTER PIKE
General Insurance

JEANNETT'S FLOWER SHOP
Floral Ideas for All Occasions
SPECIALIZING IN CORSAGES
Member Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association
823 LANCASTER AVE.
BRYN MAWR
BRYN MAWR 870

The blade with the MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE!
Marlin BLADES
3 MONTHS SHAVING 25¢
GUARANTEED BY THE MARLIN FIREARMS COMPANY
Fine Guns Since 1870

McGregor Sportswear
Van Heusen Shirts
Hickok Belts
Holeproof Socks
Botany Ties
Arthur Allen Clothes
Douglas Shoes
You can buy them all — and many other famous brands at the Main Line's most modern store for Men and Boys.
SPRITZLER'S
47 W. Lancaster Ave Ardmore
Open Fri. & Sat. Eve's
PARKING IN REAR

BLUEMONT
LAUNDERERS and DRY CLEANERS
COLLECTIONS and DELIVERIES
MONDAY, WEDNESDAY, FRIDAY
INQUIRE AT THE PIE SHOP

ICE Aristocrat CREAM
PHILA. DAIRY PRODUCTS CO.
4th & Poplar Sts., Phila., Pa.

OPEN DAILY TO 6 P. M. WEDNESDAY TO 9 P. M.
Midnite Blues
IN ONE-BUTTON LOUNGE MODEL
Yes, Men . . . Lord and Lord have them — In plain and chalk stripes in a fine light weight unfinished worsted. Styled Right — Priced Right — at $41.50
Regular and Longs

100% All-Wool Gabardine Suits $39.50
Doeskin Suits $41.50
Worsteds, $41.50
Sports Coats $16.75 to $26.75
Slacks $11.75 to $15.75
Park-Lord
"The Upstairs Store for Men"
1211 CHESTNUT ST. 2ND Floor

Blazing Trails in COMMUNICATIONS

TO CONTINUE TO PROVIDE the world's finest telephone service—this is the objective of the Bell System.

It takes the combined efforts of scientists, manufacturers, and associated operating companies . . . such as The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

Continuous research and exploration is the function of the Bell Telephone Laboratories. From these laboratories, one of the world's great research organizations, have come significant advances in telephones, cable, loading coils, repeater tubes, switchboards, dial apparatus, coaxial cable, radiotelephone systems . . . the very fabric of modern communications.

From these laboratories, too, are coming developments which will be ready for general use in the near future: Toll dialing, microwave radio relay systems, power-line carrying apparatus for transmitting telephone calls over rural electric power lines, short-wave radio systems for extending telephone service to isolated places out of reach of wire and cable lines.

And for the tomorrow after tomorrow, still more amazing equipment . . . some of it already in the blueprint stage.

• • •

Behind each of these developments lie the skill and imagination of many college-trained men and women. More than ever, the communications system of tomorrow depends on the college classroom of today.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Frosh Nominate Class Officers At Group Meeting

Continued From Page Seven

Roland M. Marshall—C&F.
Robert E. Probert—C&F.

For Secretary:
John T. Callahan, Jr.—C&F.
Daniel J. Doris—C&F.
Joseph R. Quill—Sc.
George R. Szymanski—Sc.

For Treasurer:
Peter J. Crerand—C&F.
George A. Egan—C&F.
Joseph D. O'Brien—C&F.
Paul L. Schratwieser—C&F.
Frederick V. Watson—C&F.

For Representatives to Student Council:
Carlo F. Andreone—Eng.
Francis J. Buckley, Jr.—Me.
Maurice A. Cocne—Arts.
Donald J. Griffin—C&F.
Edward F. Krieg,—Arts.
William J. Leighton—Eng.
Joseph J. Liebner—ChE.
Richard L. McMonigle—C&F.
Michael J. Nowlan—Eng.
Vincent A. O'Neill—C&F.
William J. Regan, Jr.—C&F.
Arthur F. Smith—Arts.
George G. Thompson—C&F.

Senator

Continued From Page One

Surgery. Included in his literary career is a period as Surgical Editor of "Cyclopedia of Medicine."

Administrator of St. Andrew's

Rev. John J. Long, S.J., entered the noviciate of St. Andrew's on the Hudson, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. in 1917, and after being ordained a priest went to Woodstock College in Maryland where he obtained his A.B. and M.A. by 1924. He went to Georgetown Preparatory School as instructor for several years and then returned to St. Andrew's on the Hudson as Administrator.

Fr. Long went to Cleveland, Ohio to do extensive work in Patristic and Scriptural Studies and then returned as Administrator to St. Andrew's. He was appointed President of Loyola High School in Baltimore in 1936 and also pastor of St. Ignatius' Church at the same time. Fr. Long took a leave of absence in 1937 and went to the Gregorian University at Rome where he obtained his Ph.D. He returned to Baltimore and remained there until he was appointed President of St. Joseph's College.

M.A. in Chemistry

Brother Paul, F.S.C., received his B.S. in Chemistry at Catholic University and returned later to obtain his M.A. in Chemistry. Before going to Catholic U. he went to Roman Catholic High School and then entered the Brotherhood. After completing his College he taught at West Catholic Boys High School for seven years. Was appointed to teach at La Salle and has been there ever since in various capacities as Teacher, Dean and President.

This graduation will resume the practice of having the Valedictory and Salutatory addresses delivered by the students. The names of the two students have not been announced but will be published as soon as available.

During the war, the graduations were restricted; due to the accelerated program and the number of men graduating at various times, many of the ceremonies were omitted. Gone will be the practice of the graduates receiving commissions along with their degree. Formerly the men of Villanova were commissioned Ensigns or sent to Midshipman's School on some other campus.

Better Than

Continued From Page One

the following Freshmen II are listed: George Fieo, William Delaney, Lawrence Ermilio, Francis Delahanty, William Quinn, Anthony Trifletti, Norman Schoonover, William Sundermann, John Kucha, Ralph Iorio, Robert Fitzpatrick, Joseph Barrack, Walter Konohue, Allessio Caporaso.

Freshmen I's are: Edward Krieg, Joseph Gabriel, Maurice Crane, Bernard Reilly, William Ward, Stanley Zemaitis, Raymond Raclawski, Emanuel Rubin, Walter Bogdanski, James McGovern, Joseph Quill, James Markham, Joseph O'Donnell, John Roesgen, Richard Sullivan, Joseph Dugan, Anthony Jessel, Philip Dellisante, Wallace Dietrich, Roland Marshall, Daniel Skelly, Charles Snyder, Walter Wisniewski, John Holanhan, John Link, Leo Kosclanski, Angelo Rosselli, Robert Butler, Paul Arizin, William O'Brien, Donald Best, John Crawford, Frederick Hohmann, Marcel Jansen, Robert MacDonald.

Student Plans for Army Game Trip - Page Five

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 22—No. 22 N. A. S. X-660 VILLANOVA, PA. TUESDAY, MAY 27, 1947

NSO Elections to be Held in Mendel Hall Today

John Kucha Made President As '49 Class Goes to Polls

Record Turnout Ends Week of Heavy Campaigning by Progressives and Independents

In a smashing sweep, the Progressive slate scored a complete victory in the Class of '49 elections, last Wednesday, May 21st. The elections were held under the supervision of the Student Council Elections Committee, Daniel Redmond, chairman.

John Kucha, standard-bearer of the Progressive ticket, polled 189 or 56% of the 337 ballots cast, winning the Class Presidency over his opponent, James Plunkett, Independent, who polled 144 votes.

George Guida, Progressive, won the Vice-Presidency receiving 278 votes to 59 for his opponent, Richard Rice, Independent.

John Gattuso, another Progressive candidate, polled 225 votes to become Secretary, defeating his opponent, Richard Strathmeyer,

JOHN KUCHA, '49 . . .
. . . New Junior President.

Independent candidate, who received 111 votes.

Anthony Scarpa, Progressive, became Treasurer by the votes of 212 to 123 over Robert Suarez, Independent candidate.

Student Council Representatives

The ballot for Student Council representatives was divided among the four schools of the college. Independents and Progressives named candidates from each school.

From the C&F school, Thomas R. Sullivan, Progressive, won the seat, 222 to 107, over Frank O. Christenson, Independent.

Robert J. Stoelker, Progressive, won the right to represent Engineering, registering 149 votes. Joseph D'Auria, Independent candidate, scored 113 votes, while Vincent Mahon, running unattached, received 71 votes.

The Arts and Science school will be represented by Robert M. Dougherty, Progressive, winning 228 to 100, over Richard L. Randolph, Independent.

Emil Mica, Progressive, won over Joseph Brehmer, Independent, 204 to 125, for the Education school.

Balloting took place in Room 119 Mendel Hall, the Villanovan office, between 10:00 A. M. and 2:00 P. M. The official bulletin announcing the results was released at 4:00 P. M., the same day, and was signed by Daniel Redmond, Chairman of the Election Committee, and Donald Collins, Chairman protem of the Student Council.

The balloting was preceded by intensive campaigning by the two slates.

'50 Class Ballots Tomorrow for Soph Leaders

The Class of '50 elections will be held on Wednesday, May 28 in 119 Mendel Hall, the Villanovan office, between the hours of 10 A. M. and 2 P. M. The elections will be under the supervision of the Student Council Elections Committee, Daniel Redmond, chairman.

It is expected that the vote will be the heaviest in the history of any Freshman class ever matriculating at Villanova, because of the peak enrollment of this class. Campaigns are now in full blast and the results are expected to be close.

For the office of President there are five nominees. Their names and activities follow:

Robert H. Graf, 19, of Lynnbrook, N. Y., Engineering, Freshman II. He has been active on the Bello Aire Yearbook Photography staff, the Phi Kappa Pi, Intramural swimming, and Physics Fraternity, and resides at 325 Austin Hall.

Edgar C. LeBlanc, Jr., 27, of South Orange, N. J., Education, Freshman II. He is a veteran of the U. S. Army, and is a member of the Sanctuary Society. He resides at 110 Barracks No. 1.

Rudolph C. Swanson, Jr., 22, of Camden, N. J., Engineering, Freshman II. He is a veteran of the U. S. Navy, and is a member of the Sanctuary Society. He resides at 303 Austin Hall.

Albert J. Veling, 21, of Brooklyn, N. Y., Education, Freshman II. He is a veteran of the U. S. Navy, and is a member of the varsity football team, and active in intramural swimming. He resides at 215 Alumni Hall.

John H. White, 21, of Stamford, Conn., Arts, Freshman II. He is a veteran of the U. S. Navy, a member of the Arts Fraternity, and a participant in Intra-mural basketball. He resides at 317 Austin Hall.

Rev. John J. Coffey, O.S.A., will begin a series of talks this Sunday, June 1 on the "Hour of Faith" Program broadcast by the ABC network.

Francis Hanssens Chosen to Deliver Valedictory

Senior Philosophy Major Will Speak on Contribution of Catholic Graduates

Francis Hanssens a Senior I student in the Arts school has been selected to give the Valedictory address at Commencement this June. This will be the first Valedictory speech in several years and Mr. Hanssens has signified his appreciation of the honor conferred upon him.

A native Philadelphian, and a graduate of St. Joseph's Preparatory school there Mr. Hanssens has come to Villanova by way of the Navy V-12 and R.O.T.C. programs. He was discharged from the Navy in June of 1946 but continued his affiliation with the Navy by becoming a contract member in the R.O.T.C. unit on the campus. He will receive his commission in June of this year.

FRANK HANSSENS . . .
. . . Valedictorian.

Mr. Hanssens has related that although the topic of his address is not completely outlined, he is certain that he will speak on the contribution of the Catholic College Graduate in making the world what we continually say it should be.

Although he is not absolutely certain of the path he will follow after graduation, he has tentative plans of entering law school.

He has been one of the leading scholastic leaders and a consistent honor roll student.

Father Carney Speaks at Chapel

The Freshman chapel assembly was addressed by Rev. William Carney, O.S.A., of Malvern Prep, last Wednesday evening. He spoke on the words of St. Bernard's famous prayer to the Blessed Virgin. Father Carney preached the sermon with moving simplicity and forceful thought.

Delivering the sermon last Thursday, and Monday, Rev. James E. Hannan, O.S.A., College Assistant Chaplain, spoke on the theme "Our Sorrowful Mother."

Tonight and tomorrow evening, Rev. Henry J. Eagan, O.S.A., of the college faculty, will deliver a sermon entitled, "Our Blessed Mother for the College Student."

School Wide Contest Decided this Afternoon

Villanovan Office Is Scene of Choice for Wisconsin Convention; Nominees Hopeful on Eve of Election

When it last convened, the Student Council decided on tomorrow, Wed., May 28, as the date on which the school-wide elections of delegates to the N. S.O. convention should be conducted. It provided that all students be eligible to vote and that ballots be accepted between the hours of 10 A. M. and 3 P. M. in the Villanovan Office.

At a previous meeting of the Student Council, nominations for delegates were received. The names of four nominees, Phil Barrett, John McDermott, John Stanley and Don Collins were forwarded at that time. Of these four, the two polling the largest number of votes will represent the students of Villanova College at the coming convention.

Each of the nominees has closed his personal campaign with the granting of an interview and the issuing of a statement regarding tomorrow's election.

Phil Barrett, when asked for a statement on the coming NSO election, stated: "My purpose in seeking election as your representative to the NSO Constitutional Convention is to make every effort to serve the common good of all the students in the light of Christian principles. The groundwork for the proposed NSO was laid at the Chicago Student Conference to which I was a delegate. Since I have been in close contact with developments of NSO in its embryonic stage, I believe that for this Constitutional Convention especially, I would be in a position to contribute to the launching of the National Student Organization."

One of the founders of the post war International Relations Club and its first President, Secretary of the Spanish Club, and a member of the Sanctuary Society, Phil has, since his arrival here last spring, been one of the more active men on the campus. In his opinion, however, the most important thing he has done here, and the greatest honor he has received was his designation as one of the two Villanova delegates to the NSO Congress last December.

Phil Barrett served in the U. S. Navy from 1942 to 1945. He is a member of the School of Commerce and Finance and a member of the Class of 1949.

John McDermott

As Copy Editor of the Villanovan, Chairman of the Arts Fraternity Expansion Committee, member of the ROTC, and a debater, John McDermott has become well known and well liked at Villanova. While participating in these activities he has managed to remain a consistent honor roll student.

Before coming to Villanova, he was in the Navy program at Muhlenburg College. He was discharged from the Navy last June. John is a native of Philadelphia and attended St. Joseph's Preparatory School there. He is now a Philosophy major in the Arts School.

When asked for a statement, he said: "I believe that the NSO is the best development in American educational circles for the past fifty years. At last there may be an organization capable of clearly voicing student views on their own education. For some time, we students have felt that much could be done for American education's sad plight if only the students themselves were able to be heard. This organization may provide the opportunity.

"I use the word 'may' because this organization will succeed or fail according to the type of men the students send as their representatives.

"The men the students select must be capable men of integrity

CONTEST Continued on Page Seven

Student Council Hears Report on Army Game Trip

Villanova's Student Council had a quiet session on Tuesday, May 20, and much was accomplished in the transaction of routine business.

A motion was made and passed to hold elections for officers of next year's Senior class on June 4th. Election procedure will be the same as that used for the Junior elections.

It was also decided that elections for N.S.O. representatives would be held on Tuesday May 27th.

Army Game Report

A report was made on arrangements and recommendations for student activity for next year's Army game. The report ran as follows:

1. That students who wish to go to West Point for the game acknowledge their wish by making a deposit with the committee. This money will be deposited in the business office and will be known as the Army game transportation account.

2. That the Student Council make funds available to the committee, so the said committee can purchase supplies for making "Beat Army" signs to be hung about the campus.

3. That some funds be made available for sound truck and for costumes for a rally to be held on the Thursday before the game.

5. That all incoming Frosh be prepped in school songs and cheers a few days before the rally.

5. That Frosh attendance at the rally be mandatory.

6. That Philadelphia newspapers be informed of the rally.

7. That Mr. Whelan be informed of the number of students wishing to make the trip that he may order that numbers of tickets plus additional numbers for late applicants.

The members of this committee are: Chairman, Joseph D'Auria; committee members, Gerry Connors, John Kucha, and Bill Altenpohl.

Next year's Georgetown game has been selected as the "game of the year" by the Council. The best decorated residence hall will receive the Connolly Award which was traditionally given before the Temple game. It is hoped by the Council that the Temple game may be revived as Villanova's traditional game.

Councilmen then passed a motion that all graduating Seniors who performed in intercollegiate athletic competition during the '43 & '44 seasons have their cases reviewed by the athletic board for eligibility to receive letters.

Dave Ryan made a report on the progress being made to increase day-hop religious activity.

The meeting was then adjourned.

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

DONALD M. COLLINS, '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
WILLIAM F. ALTENPOHL, '48 ..... Managing Editor
HUGH JOHNSON, '49 ..... Sports Editor
JOHN KUCHA, '49 ..... Feature Editor
ROBERT FLAHARTY, '48 ..... Picture Editor
LOUIS MECCARIELLO, '48 ..... Business Manager
PETER F. McMANUS, '47 ..... Circulation Manager
JOHN A. McDERMOTT, '48 ..... Copy Editor

News Staff

James Conaty, '47, Richard Shinners, '48, Joseph D'Ambisi, '49, Joseph D'Auria, '49, John Kennedy, '50, Gene Daly, '50, F. Michael Marshall, William Mooney, '50, Joseph McNamara, Charles P. Laferty, '50, George Szymanski, '50, Martin G. Binder, '50, John Canby, '49, Dave I. Ryan, '48, Robert Carroll, '50, Raymond Callahan '49, Michael Nowlan '49

Feature Staff

F. Anthony Homann, '50, Anthony Coppa, '48, Anthony Mullen, '49, John Mallick, '49, Joseph Kenney, '50, Joseph Miller, '50

Sports Staff

David Marano '47, Daniel Redmond '47, Donald Wieand '48, Vincent O'Donnell '48, Ned Hoffner '49, James Plunkett '49, Arnold Kinahan '50, Anthony Minyon '50, Neal Fahy '50

Business Staff

William Wescott, '47, John Metzger, '49, Nicholas Marziani, '48, Robert Pidgeon, '49

Picture Staff

William Monagle, '48, Emile Meyer, '49, Leo Dodd, '49, Richard Hudak, '49, Robert Tobyne, '50, John Kane, '50, Thomas Mantini, '50, Raymond Berninger, '49, Daniel Hadinger, '50

Circulation Staff

Thomas Flatley, '50, P. A. Richards, '50, Gunther Kaiser, '50, Joseph Heck, '49

Faculty Advisor—Rev. John A. Klekotka, O.S.A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman —
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription: $2 per year. Circulation: 5000.

Entered as second class matter at the Villanova Post Office December 27, 1928.

Member of Associated Collegiate Press, Distributor of Collegiate Digest.
Member of Catholic School Press Association, Catholic College Press Association and National Scholastic Press Association.

Congratulations Sophomores . . .

The Editorial Staff of the Villanovan offers its warmest congratulations to the Sophomore Class for its contribution to a better Villanova. Without hesitation, we assert that the spirit and enthusiasm exhibited in last Wednesday's election has been the most significant step in the creation of an atmosphere of general good will.

Unfortunately, some feelings have been grated by the over enthusiasm on both sides. We do not feel that this immediate ill will is going to last, however, and we are sure that in the end, regardless of the winners of the elections, the atmosphere at Villanova will be much improved. We urge that all pettiness be put aside and both factions rejoice in the lasting good effect created.

In the past, the Villanovan has reiterated time and again its plea for better spirit on the campus. We have urged and argued, pleaded and scolded, but it takes the action of you students to make our words really mean something. You Sophomores have taken action. You have done something about. You are ones to be thanked.

Towards "Higher" Education . . .

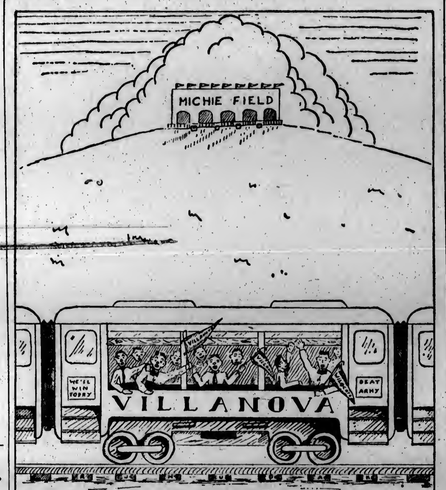
Tomorrow (Tuesday) you students will be asked to lend a hand in the improvement of American education. Your role will require little time or effort, but you will be the stars of the show, for yours is the most important part. You are being asked to take five minutes of your day to elect your delegates to the N.S.O. convention. If all of you do this conscientiously, one of the biggest hurdles will be cleared.

American education is being criticized today, as it always has been. Again, the critics declare that the advantages of a democratic form of government in the general uplifting and development of man are not being utilized, and are actually being lost because of a misdirected system of education. More and more of us agree with this criticism.

We are ashamed to admit that the average European institution of higher learning is vastly superior to its American counterpart. We are ashamed to admit that the average European student is far more advanced than his American brethren. We are ashamed to realize that the background of the adolescent European is often broader than the American college man.

We are disgusted with schools more interested in producing good football teams than well developed, mature men; with schools where one can take any combination of electives for four years and receive a degree; with schools that offer courses in fly-casting and skiing.

We are sick of a system that pays professors less than ditch diggers; of a system geared to the most backward student; of a situation where foreign students are often better versed in our own idiom and language.



We have felt all this and more, but up until now we have done nothing more than talk. The N.S.O. provides the opportunity to act. The N.S.O. is the medium through which we students may finally exert a strong influence. The N.S.O. will be a representative body of American students, and its success or failure depends on the men who make it up. The caliber of these men depends on you since you are doing the electing. Therefore, if you sincerely want to aid your country in fulfilling its latent possibilities, cast a sincere vote tomorrow.

Now . . .

If you attended any of our football games last fall you were cognizant of the fact that our opponents always showed more spirit than we did.

Recently at a student council meeting this topic was discussed again and a committee was appointed to do something about it. Tentative plans include a pre-Army game rally and a trip to the game at West Point. The accomplishment of this depends entirely upon the student body.

Although it is spring and the football season is far away, now is the time to make the Army game exemplary of the real spirit of Villanova. The committee wants all men of Villanova to attend the rally, to make the trip to West Point, and to support the team. We want spirit at Villanova, and we hope to get it with the help of the students.

ASCE Will Hold Smoker Tonight

C. B. Rucklesche! to Speak on "Caissons" at Mendel Hall Amphitheatre

Mr. Charles B. Ruckdeschel will be the guest speaker at the A.S.C.E. smoker this evening. His subject will be "Caissons," and it should prove to be most interesting to all students of Civil Engineering.

Former Business Man

The speaker, who was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School, worked in the banking business for several years before entering the construction field. He then attended Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and attained a degree in Civil Engineering. Mr. Ruckdeschel has, since that time, gained a wealth of practical experience. He served as Assistant Construction Engineer on the Delaware River Bridge project, and as Engineer in charge of construction on the Pennsylvania Railroad's 30th Street Station in Philadelphia. In recent years he worked for General Motors Corp. in the plant layout and construction department. At the present time he is employed as an engineer by the Hercules Powder Company.

Meeting Sidelights

In addition to Mr. Ruckdeschel's address, Dave Cushwa will show a few short movies including "Football Highlights of 1947." A group of students headed by Jerry Mauer will present a short comic skit entitled "Diverted Life Thru an Inverted Scope."

Dan Fisher's refreshment committee will provide a short snack to top off the evening.

All students of the Civil Engineering School are cordially invited to attend.

P. K. P. SMOKER

Wednesday, May 28 at 8 P. M. there will be a PKP smoker in the C&F Auditorium. The purpose of the smoker will be to nominate officers for next year. Refreshments will be served and attempts will be made to provide some type of entertainment.

A.I.E.E. Names Candidates

Men Nominated to Fill Offices for Next Year

At a meeting held in the Dynamo Laboratory Tuesday May 13, thirteen members of the A.I.E.E. were nominated for office for the coming school year. Chairman Harry Edwards who graduates in June presided. Twenty-five members were present.

Elections will be held as soon as the nominees are approved. Notices will be placed on the bulletin board in the near future announcing the date, time, and place of the election. Mr. Buecbe, head of the Electrical Engineering Department, is Moderator.

Plant Trip Planned

A plant trip to the Southwark Station of the Philadelphia Electric Company has been planned for the near future. Larry Fallon is in charge of the arrangements. The trip will be held under the supervision of Mr. Buecbe.

Nominations for the officers of the A.I.E.E for the coming year are as follows:

Chairman:
D. V. Wylde
T. J. Nary
C. McDermott
J. M. Endres

Vice-Chairman:
J. O'Mara
W. Owens
L. Lyons
J. Gallagher

Secretary:
W. Wynne
J. O'Donnell

Treasurer:
D. Ryan
J. Piontkowski
J. Krzyzosiak

CLASSIFIED ADS

Lost—$100 bill. Sentimental value. Return to James Morgan, Rm. 217, Barracks J. Reward.

Found: In Infirmary, one pair of glasses. Also a coat. Will owner please call for same. Father F. X. Boyle, O.S.A.

Letters

Camden, N. J.

Dear Sir:

Your publication has been asking: "What is wrong with our school spirit and student body?" The answer is that you have so-called GI's who are always looking for a handout. Your editorial for more pay is proof. In the first World War we were not pampered and paid to fight; we were not sotties, but were able to take it and didn't spend most of our time asking for help.

I venture to say that most of your GI's didn't see action; don't know how to do "squads right," and are poor specimens of soldiers. You can only appreciate the thing you work for. Ask your parents and grandparents. They worked and made this country great.

The present generation has been given $270,000,000,000 by our government and they will never appreciate it. None of your GI's have produced anything as yet—they have been living on "the fat of the land" created by their forefathers. Get down to fundamentals and you will have your answer.

A True Friend.

Ed. Note:

The "GI's" who are so severely critized in this letter fought to victory the greatest test of strength that ever faced the United States. For the first time in our history we were engaged in a war that blazed simultaneously in every quarter of the world. For the first time in our history we shouldered the burden of the battle in engaging a major enemy.

As to the GI's seeing action, more American men actually faced enemy fire in this war than at any time in our history. The men on this campus who have lost limbs in our war, the men who are still carrying German and Jap steel in them, the men whose dreams are still shattered by screaming planes and whining bullets attest to the fact that whether we could or not we took it, and took it in bigger doses than Americans ever did before.

Our present generation invested that $270,000,000 in planes and guns and ammunitions, so far our dividents have been our scars.

Yes, we want money, money to get a start in our attempts to rebuild our lives, money to get an education so that are can see that this catastrophe does not occur again. It seems to me that the salts of W.W. I. wanted more money too. They wanted money a decade after the war. They wanted the money to help tide them over a depression which their generation caused.

Our fathers fought in the first World War—we don't want to disparage their efforts but we do want to defend the men who have prevented America's down fall.

Dear Sirs:

Since in the Villanovan of May 6th, you published a letter from somebody's girl friend, I thought perhaps it would not be out of order for somebody's mother to write to you.

There is much of real interest in the Villanovan. I remember in one issue you asked for criticism. Of that, I have none—only praise and admiration. The editorials are unusually fine. The one on "Mother's Day" was about as lovely as anything I've ever read. It was real and sincere, not the usual gush. "The Bull Pen" and "Watchin' the Wildcats" are most entertaining—just as clever as the best in the New Yorker. All in all, I find the entire paper well worthwhile. My congratulations are extended to the boys whose talents and sacrifice of time make the Villanovan possible.

The one sad note, now and then, is when the lack of school spirit is mentioned. That I cannot understand in people so young and in a spot such as Villanova. Old age usually brings on a loss of interest in what goes on about us. Surely that can't be what's ailing those people who did not even take time out to vote in the Adam Hat contest. After reading the splendid "Sportorial" in the May 6th issue, I felt like casting a vote myself.

In closing, I would like to add a word of encouragement to those boys who strive to create interest and spirit, they will never regret the time and sacrifices they are making now. Later on in life they will profit greatly from such experience. What is sadly lacking in America today is real leadership. Certainly you boys who are working so hard now are developing just that.

My best wishes to you all.
Sincerely,
Mrs. Elizabeth Meiskell.

I HAD A PRETTY GOOD DAY, FLUNKED TWO SENIORS.

The Bull Pen

By JOHN L. KUCHA

Thanks, Sophomores. Our thanks also to the Student Council which did a wonderful job of the tedious business of counting votes.

Fiorello Z. Ciotola smoked through the bitter ends of ten stogies while counting "X's".

Did you know that the very last word in the dictionary is zyzzle. We didn't know it ourselves until we looked it up. Means to make a hissing sound. So instead of "You Gotta Have a Little Mozel," it ought to be, "You Gotta Have a Little Zyzzle." If your'e a crossword specialist that word might interest you. You might also like "Aa" which is a river in Latvia. This river is pronounced like "aa" in English. How the Latvians pronounce it is their worry. Of course, it might be a little confusing to the Latvian doctors; they wouldn't know whether to examine throats or talk Geography.

We just heard some mysterious steps in the hall and managed to catch a glimpse of 200 Freshmen busily tacking up campaign signs. Things are really going to be busy around here what with Freshmen and Juniors going to the polls on successive days. Lots of luck to everybody concerned! Villanova's spirit is coming back by leaps and bounds.

We read an interesting letter in the Bulletin the other day. Seems as if some paperhanger wrote in to the editor and defended the patriotism of paperhangers during the war. That fella Hitler sure gummed up things for the boys!

Looks like this will be a short column this week. We're heading for Pete's. Pete's, as you all know, is a small tearoom just off the beaten track. We feel beat, so on to Pete's—for a bit of the tea.

Professional Survey

Navy Commission

By E. OXFORD

(Based on Navy Bulletins)

The Navy's recently announced Naval Reserve Program is now calling for citizens, veteran and non-veteran alike, to fill its ranks. Offering specialized training in its surface, air, and submarine components alike, this Program also features the Navy 3-year 5 percent pay increase, and for almost all veterans—the regaining of ratings held when discharged.

Members may belong to either of its two branches: The Volunteer Reserve or the Organized Reserve.

The Volunteer Reserve—stepping stone to the Organized Reserve, this section permits of qualified transfer to that branch. Volunteer Reservists obtain training by:

Free Navy home study courses, and/or membership in informal Reserve groups. Not paid for this, eligible Volunteer Reservists may apply for the annual 2-week training cruise under Navy pay. District Equipment for informal instruction includes lectures, moving pictures, work assignments, etc.

The Organized Reserve — with higher requirements, this is the smaller Reserve group. Members of this branch attend weekly meetings, take annual 2-week cruise, draw rate pay, and are entitled to full Naval Reserve benefits. Its three component sections: Air, Surface, and Submarine are supplied by the Navy with surface ships, subs, shop equipment, etc.

Pay Rate—for members of the Organized Reserve is based on the "Training Period," four such periods to a month.

Rank	Per period
Apprentice Seaman	$2.50
Seaman, 2nd class	2.67
Seaman, 1st class	3.00
Petty Officer, 3rd class	3.34
Petty Officer, 2nd class	3.84
Petty Officer, 1st class	4.50
Petty Officer, Chief,	5.00
Petty Officer, Chief, permanent	5.50

The annual two-week training offers full pay, travel expenses, etc.

Fields of Training—Include: Communications, Construction, Electricity, Engineering, Meteorology, Navigation, Pharmacy, Radio, etc.

BRANCHES OF THE ORGANIZED RESERVE

1—Naval Air Reserve

Aviation component of the Organized Reserve, the Air Reserve is located in 24 centers throughout the country. Its members attend 48 refresher periods yearly at their centers, and participate in two-week annual training duty. Rate paid for this meeting—attendance and training duty, they receive a yearly total equal to two months' full Navy pay.

Aviation personnel of Volunteer Reserve are not required by rule to drill, and do not receive pay. They may attend instruction periods when possible, sometimes fill Organized Reserve vacancies, and request entrance in the two-week training period.

Aviation Reservists are not subject to transfer and are trained in at least one specialized phase, such as: navigation, radar, gunnery, ord-

PROFESSIONAL Continued on Page Four

OUT OF THE COPY BASKET

By JOHN P. MALLICK

After a three week absence during which Mr. Kaiser has very ably substituted for me, I return to find a large collection of items, a vacant chair and an idle typewriter. So without any further nonsense, I shall dig into my pile of newspapers and try to come out with some jokes.

• • •

Ah! Here are two from Mt. St. Mary's "Mountain Echo."

Junkman: "Any rags, paper, old iron?"

Man of the house (angrily): "No. My wife's away."

Junkman: "Any bottles?"

• • •

Freshman: "Father, a professor has just hanged himself."

Dean: "Holy smokes! Have you cut him down?"

Freshman: "No, Father, he ain't dead yet."

• • •

"Mother, put the kettle on, we're going to get boiled tonight."

• • •

Did you hear about the drunk who threw pennies into the subway grate, then looked up at the City Hall clock to see how much he weighed? (Memories of Junior Week).

Dakota Scientist

• • •

The preacher is going to talk on "Souls Burning in Hell," next Sunday. "Tell Mother I'll Be There," will be rendered by the Ladies Quartet.

• • •

From the Auburn Plainsman, we pick the following anecdote:

College is just like a laundry—you get out of it just what you put into it—but you'd never recognize it.

• • •

Here's a puzzle for baseball fans: Two teams battled for nine innings, the home team winning 1 to 0. A glance at the box score shows that neither pitcher allowed a hit, nor gave a base on balls, nor hit a batsman with a pitched ball. Neither team made an error. How

OUT OF Continued on Page Four

Pride and Prejudice

Today we wish to discuss one of the most abused questions of interracial conversation. This vital problem is the one of interracial marriage and social equality.

The Negro, today, stands at a disadvantage in our society. However, groups, through articles such as these, and other means, are attempting to eradicate most of the disadvantages of the colored people. The question arises then—"Will not the removal of these disadvantages lead to a demand for social equality for the Negroes?" This question leads to another "Do Negroes want social equality?"

Negro Desires

From direct association with a large group of Negro people, the following has been ascertained:

a) The Negro does want social equality, if by this term we mean equality of basic human rights.

b) The Negro desires equality regarding his participation in the ordinary civilities of every day life. In other words, if those of us who would give our seat to a white female rider would do the same for the colored woman, perhaps we would receive the same courtesy in return from Negro men.

c) Another vulnerable spot is the use of nicknames for the Negro. To use the terms nigger, coon, and others is to slander the Negro's natural right to his good name. The dark skinned people have the right to expect social equality in this regard.

Intermarriage Question

Now, we come to a still more precarious question, and that is the intermarriage question. Does the Negro seek the white for a mate? The answer is obviously no. However, if you are in doubt, you might put the question to a representative group of colored eligibles. Yet it may be cited that there is a great deal of intermarriage today. That is true, but it may be traced to the whites as well as to the colored.

It is interesting to learn that perhaps less than 1 percent of the American Negroes are pure black. The reason for the mixture can be traced back to the "old world."

PRIDE Continued on Page Eight

The Top Hatter

Oklahoma!

By F. ANTHONY HOMANN '50

Just before the semester is over, Villanova students will have an opportunity to see "Oklahoma!" for this smash hit will open at the Forrest Theatre on June 9 for a summer run in Philadelphia. Included in the cast are such notables as James Alexander, Peggy Engel, and Patricia Shay.

The influence of "Oklahoma!" on the American musical comedy has been widely discussed. For sel-has an American musical received the immediate acclaim which was accorded "Oklahoma!" Broadway audiences were quick to perceive the beauty of the fresh, clean cut musical score by Rogers and Hammerstein. Every audience went from the theatre whistling or humming such songs as "Oklahoma!", "O What A Beautiful Morning," or "People Will Say We're In Love." Here was music which was typically American, music refreshingly different from the run of the mill "hit" tunes. "Oklahoma!" became a hit overnight, tickets to a performance were nowhere to be had, and the whole country acclaimed this new musical. Nor was this popularity something of the hour, for "Oklahoma!" monopolized Broadway theatre for four years, with each and every performance given to a sold out house. It's popularity off Broadway was the same. Road companies were held over everywhere they performed. "Oklahoma!" had earned a distinctive place in musical comedy history before it celebrated its first birthday.

Agnes DeMille received well earned credit for her choreography work in "Oklahoma!" and Robert Russell Bennett was likewise honored for his orchestrations. It is regretable, however, that the story of "Oklahoma!" always seems to be subservient to the music, so that a potentially good plot is deprived of the prominence it deserves.

Tickets for the performance will not be plentiful, so if you intend to see this superior production, delay ought to be avoided. Tickets for the show can be purchased at the Forrest Theatre, and they are priced from $1.30 to $3.90.

Several excellent movies stand out among the dismal fare Hollywood has been consistently sending to movie audiences. Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings' classic "The Yearling" is now being featured at the Karlton Theatre in Philadelphia. The many headaches' disappointments, and postponements which marked its production seem inconsequential when the finished product is viewed. "The Yearling" is outstanding in many respects. The Pulitzer Prize Novel which is the basis of the movie has been only slightly altered (in pleasing contrast to the usual Hollywood procedure of thoroughly distorting the original history), and the poignant tale of the Baxter family is presented in a rich, rewarding manner. Gregory Peck and Jane Wyman are featured as the parents, while Claude Jarman, Jr. plays Jody, for which role he was voted the Academy Award. Everyone should enjoy "The Yearling."

Another worthwhile movie is "Alexander's Ragtime Band" playing at the Fox Theatre. Irving Berlin's hit musical of a decade ago is as pleasing as ever, and both those who have and who have not seen it will enjoy the gay Irving Berlin music.

Watchin' The Wildcats

Blame it on Leighton and Hoffner.

The quiet of Villanova's post-Junior Week was shattered very infrequently by members of the institution's social set, and all told, the campus was as quiet as C&F after 2:00 P.M.

DAN REDMOND, JIM LYONS, JIM MULLEN and MARK MANNING must have been having a hot time on Saturday night at the Everglades. Shortly after they left the 69th St. establishment, the whole darned business went up in smoke. You can never tell what those Zippo Lighters will instigate.

We'll have you know that Don's is now sporting a floor show. We slipped down into its murky depths on Saturday last to find thirty to forty couples standing in rapt awe at the jitterbugging of JOHN MALLICK. Perhaps things were hot because JOHN was wearing his blazer. How about that?

Due to advertisements that have been appearing on the local C&F bulletin boards, BUCK COLEMAN has been swamped with applications from far and near. How's about sharing some of that wealth with a few of your less fortunate brethren, Pancho?

Mr. Elliot has applied to the Athletic Department for a pair of blinders for Browning ROSS. He has been displaying some fine mudder form down at the track in recent workouts. Of course, he is strictly in season since Mudder's Day is only two weeks past.

DICK MacNAMARA has broken into the social set. He has been invited to the annual get-together of hte Baltimore Hunt Club of Philadelphia. JACK POWELL raised the pitch of his voice and did the inviting. We've a hunch MacNAMARA will be a little surprised but what a lovely couple they'll make!

JACK CASEY is eating and sleeping once more now that the Progressives are in office. We saw him haunting his fellow Sophomores so much that we were sure that he was on the ticket. The line was drawn though, when he approached two clothes trees and asked them for their political views.

NORRY KENNEDY keeps a calendar with him at all times now. Checking off the days until he can get back to Maryland and Mary.

The boys in the know were quite flattered the other evening when Johnny Wysocki paid a visit to the campus to talk to a few of next year's football hopefuls.

If this spell of wet weather continues, the school will have to issue foul weather gear to the loyal band that makes its way over to Rosemont every afternoon.

A priest had arrived in a strange town to give a mission. After dinner he wished to mail some letters. Strolling down Main Street, he failed to detect a post office, so he decided to ask a little boy for directions.

"You're a stranger in town, ain't you?" the boy queried.

"I'm here on a mission," he explained.

"What's a mission?" the boy asked.

"Well," said the priest, "you come to church Sunday and I'll show you the way to Heaven."

"Huh," grunted the boy in disdain. "You're going to show me the way to Heaven, and you can't even find your way to a post office."

The Subisco Periscope

Banquet Staged For IRC Men at Ben Franklin

Mark Doyle Tostmaster as Dr. Hartman and Fr. Dunne Speak

The Benjamin Franklin Hotel was the scene of a banquet held on Thursday, May 22, by the International Relations Club of Villanova College. Mark Doyle acted as toastmaster. He welcomed Dr. Hartman on behalf of the club and indicated that this gathering was a celebration of the first year of the reactivated club. He gave a short history of the International Relations Club since its rebirth in March 1946. Doyle further emphasized some of the major activities of the club during the last year mentioning the regional broadcast, the Newman Club meetings and the bi-monthly meetings on campus. In concluding his introductory remarks he stressed the importance of the organization by pointing out the fact that students from this club represented Villanova on the Foreign Policy Association, the United Nations Student Council of Philadelphia, the Regional and Nation N.F.C.C.S., and the Regional and National N. S. O. (National Students Organization).

He stated further that two of the members of the club are candidates for the N.S.O. convention which meets in September.

Dr. Hartman Speaks

The first speaker was Phil Barrett, one of the candidates for N.S.O., and a former president of the International Relations Club. He was described as the one most responsible for rousing the club from its lethargy. Rev. John R. Dunne, O.S.A., the Moderator of the club, was the next speaker. He atended all the activities despite his recent illness and tackled all problems that arose. The principal speaker, Harold Hartmann was considered ideal since he has been a student and professor of current history for many years.

Professional Survey

Continued from Page Three

nance, photography, electronics, etc., as well as technical courses related to present and future aircraft types.

II—Surface Reserve

The Organized Reserve's surface component, this branch being the largest section, and includes the greatest number of activities and specialist units. Members will be part of a Division, the component's basic unit, consisting of ten officers and 200 men. Three hundred Naval Reserve training centers for this surface force will dot the country; 200 ships of all types will be at its disposal on ocean, rivers and lakes. The Surface Reserve will also use regular Navy ship and shore equipment for their weekly two-day cruises.

Volunteer Reserve applicants for this branch will be continuously given good opportunities to join, since the Organized Reserve's high physical requirements and age standard point to a high personnel turnover rate.

III—Submarine Reserve

For teaching undersea craft operation, the Navy has assigned this branch twelve de-commissioned and modified submarines, veteran war-warriors, now stationed at coastal cities. Also available from time to time will be submarines of the active fleet, as well as school facilities for special classes of 200 at the New London, Conn., Submarine Base for training in approach and invasion, Monsen lung, diving, trimming, etc.

The special classes hold priority for those with sub experience and for those from the East and Mid-west.

Eligibility for Volunteer and Organized Reserves—

Armed-force veterans up to 64; non-veterans, 17-40; veterans must present honorable discharge or discharge under honorable conditions.

Applicants under 18 need parents' consent; all other than World War II veterans must pass physical and aptitude tests.

REQUIREMENTS

Supply Officers—Ensign, Regular Navy; age 21-25; College graduate; must meet Staff Corps physical standards; must be native born, or naturalized 10 years.

Naval Veterans now Reserve members as Volunteer Naval Reserve Officers, to Ensign, Line and Staff, Reserve; age 19-30; two years college or equivalent; Reserve Officers' physical standards; must be enlisted in Reserve for inactive duty; honorable discharge from World War II Naval Service; native born, or 10 years naturalized.

Ex-Coast Guard officers as Volunteer Naval Reserve officers, rank equivalent to prior Coast Guard rank; age 19-40; College graduate; Reserve Officer physical standards; be honorably discharged commissioned or warrant officers in U.S. Coast Guard; native born, or 10 years naturalized.

Graduate Engineers, as Lieutenants (jg) USN; age 22-30; College graduate with Engineering degree. (Note.—Professional examinations for this branch to be given June 24-25, 1947); Physical requirements: Vision, 8-20 corrected to 20-20; Height, 66"-76"; Weight, min. 132 lbs.; Hearing, 20-20; Teeth, 20 vitals, normal occlusion; 3 yrs. professional engineering experience or related military service by July 1 1947, 2 years of which gained after receipt of degree; native born, or 10 years naturalized.

Graduate Engineers, as Ensigns, CEC, USN; age 21-26; College graduate with Engineering degree; scheduled graduates may be processed prior to graduation; physical requirements same as for Graduate Engineers, Lieut. (jg.); native born, or 10 years naturalized.

Petroleum Engineers, as Naval Reserve Officers; under 30 yrs. of age; College graduate with an Enginering degree preferably in petroleum or chemical engineering; 2 years actual refining or lab. experience/or ten years experience in analysis of petroleum products; physical requirements same as for Graduate Engineers (above); native born, or 10 years naturalized.

Ex-Marine Officers, as Volunteer Naval Reserve Officers; age 19-30; College graduate; Naval Reserve Officers' physical standards; native born, or 10 years naturalized.

Doctors of Medicine, as Lieutenant (j.g.) USN, and above; age 21-31 (50, USNR); Medical school graduate with no professional experience, as Lieut. (j.g.) only; must have completed internship, or complete it within 4 months, plus professional examination, as (j.g.) and above; Staff Officers' physical standards; vision 8-20 corrected to 20-20; native born, or 10 years naturalized.

Dentists, as Lieutenant (j.g.), USN; age 21-32; duly licensed; one year internship, plus 2 or 3 years practice desirable but not required; Staff Officers' physical standards; native born or 10 years naturalized; (Note.—Waivers may be obtained on some minor requirements, upon proper application).

Further Information: Interested applicants for any branches listed above should call in person between 9 and 4, Saturday by appointment, at U.S. Naval Officer Procurement Office, 2nd floor, South 13th Street, Philadelphia, Pa., or preferably, Naval Office, Mendel Hall, Villanova College, Villanova, Pa.

Out of

Continued from Page Three

was the run scored? If you know the answer, let me know and I'll publish your name along with the answer in a couple of weeks. If you answer this you're entitled to a degree of BBT (Bachelor of Baseball Technicalities).

Auburn Plainsman

• • •

In a local clip joint the other day, one of the barbers piped up with "Who next?"

A freshie blushed and answered, "I do, once in a while."

The blade with the MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE!

GUARANTEED BY THE MARLIN FIREARMS COMPANY
Fine Guns Since 1870

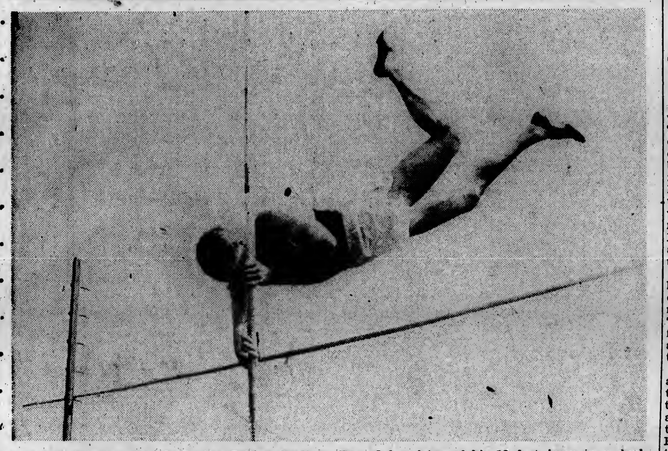
FULL DRESS - TUXEDOS
Cutaways and Shoes For Hire
Summer Formal outfits a specialty
Outfit your entire group for Weddings, Parochial Graduations Etc.
IRVIN STERN
24 W. STATE ST. - MEDIA 0310
Established 1900

College Tailor
Coladonato Tailor Shop, Inc.
2 ARTHUR ROAD
Rosemont, Penna.
Bryn Mawr 1266
We do adjustments the way you want them.
Work and Service—Good Prices Reasonable
Why Walk? Clothes Picked Up at Pie Shop Daily!

The grandest smoke you've ever enjoyed!

It's true, if every smoker knew what PHILIP MORRIS smokers know . . . they'd ALL change to PHILIP MORRIS.

Yes, the PHILIP MORRIS smoker really gets what other smokers only hope to get . . . PERFECT SMOKING PLEASURE.



So for perfect smoking pleasure . . . try a pack today!

CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS

ALWAYS BETTER—BETTER ALL WAYS

VILLANOVAN SPORTS

"Bucky" Coleman, who holds the College Stadium Record by virtue of his 13 foot jump in a dual meet with Seton Hall this year, clears 12 foot with ease in practice. Track Coach "Jumbo" Elliott looks for Coleman to score a large number of points for the Wildcats in the IC4-A meet this weekend.

Weinert's Nine Downs Georgetown again 12-6

Bobby Green Wins Third Game of Season Over Fumbling Hoyas on Saturday

By NED HOFFNER

On Saturday afternoon, the Blue-Grey wave of Georgetown hit the Main Line campus for a return match with Coach Phil Weinert's nine. When the tide washed out, the Hoyas found themselves on the short end of a 12-6 drubbing at the hands of Bob Green and company in one of the most lopsided contests of the season. The Wildcats jumped into the lead at the outset of the game and never relinquished it. Green was the winning pitcher, while Carroll was charged with the loss.

Errors Costly to the Hoyas

A comedy of errors and timely hitting in the first inning pushed over 7 Cat runs. With Kline, O'Malley and Litwa on base, John Blong parked one into the right field stands, scoring two of his teammates. Not to be outdone, Charlie Comerford followed suit with a double, scoring Blong and Litwa. Joe Lord and Pete D'Ambrosia got on with a walk and an error respectively and scored on Green's timely single. Georgetown was held scoreless until the third frame when they scored. Leading off with

BASEBALL

Continued on Page Six

Tennis Match Off

Because of the persistent bad weather, the Intramural Tennis Tournament has necessarily been called off this spring. The numerous contestants have consistently been forced to postpone their matches because of rain, and so it has become impossible to complete the tournament. With only two weeks remaining and over twenty-five contestants still uneliminated, Fr. Kemme has had to cancel the awarding of the Fred Koch Trophy until next year.

Last year, Fred donated this Villanovan Intramural Trophy to the college to be presented to the winner of the Intramural Tournament. The main trophy is to rotate for five years. The annual winner is also to receive a small permanent trophy as his award.

This year, Fred has also offered a medal to the runner-up in the tournament to be given along with the permanent trophy. These medals are to be presented, as is the trophy, for the next five years. Fred has already ordered the trophies and the medals so that they will arrive for next spring's tournament.

Jumbo Elliot Enters Field Of 21 Men in IC4A Meet

Guida, Coleman, Ross are Expected to Lead Team in Contest at Franklin Field on Weekend

The 1946-47 college track season will come to a close this Friday and Saturday in the IC4A meet at Franklin Field. Returning to the University of Pennsylvania campus after a 3 year lapse, the meet this year will be held on its pre-war two day basis.

Villanova will send into the "City of Brotherly Love" one of its most formidable teams in years. Led by the sensational George Guida, the 'Cats should make a strong bid for national prominence and may annex a few championships. Guida, already National 600 yard indoor champ, shows every indication of being the man to beat in the 440 yard run. Although hampered recently by an annoying leg injury, Guida will in all probability be in shape for his specialty race. Aside from the 440, Wildcat speedster is also entered in the 220 and one of the mile relay races.

Bank on Ross and Coleman

Besides Guida others who are expected to make good showings in the meet are Browning Ross and Buck Coleman. Ross, who recently set a new Villanova College record in the mile, has a great chance of winning that event providing he can outrun Penn State's Gerry Karver. Karver is considered the top college miler of the day and recently ran the distance in the splendid time of 4:12. Coleman, meanwhile, has shown up excellently so far this season in the pole vault and presents a great chance of winning that event.

'Cats Improve in Field

In all, Villanova will be represented by a total field of 21 men. Exclusive of the trio already mentioned, Coach Jumbo Elliot is counting heavily upon other capable performers in the various events. Among these are Bill Lilienthal in the discus and shot put, Dave Williams and George Thompson in the two mile, Ed Fitzgerald in the quarter and half, and Joe McCreary in the dashes and broad jump.

Although most of the experts claim that either N.Y.U. or Manhattan will cop the event, Villanova is expected to make a great showing with the possibility of causing a few surprises.

Bob Casey Leads Intramural Golf

By JAMES PLUNKETT

As the Intramural Golf Tournament moves into the semi-final round, the original field of 36 entries has been whittled down to the top four golfers.

Casey's Play Spectacular

A former Villanova golf star, Bob Casey, is the natural favorite by virtue of his spectacular play thus far in the tournament. Scoring an easy victory in the first round, he upset Don Wieland in the second round in a match which was by far the most exciting of the tourney. With Casey leading, three up, as they started the back nine, Wieland's short shot, which had been erratic all day, began to hit the green with amazing regularity. Don's par four on the 16th hole tied the match. The next two holes were halved thus forcing the match into extra holes. Casey cupped a birdie on the 19th which enabled him to beat Wieland who had another par.

The remaining linksters, Harry Helms, Len McMonicle and Kevin Murray have been playing consistent golf but nothing as spectacular as Casey has been playing.

The parings for the semi-final round pit McMonicle against Helms and Casey against Murray. Both matches are to take place today with the latter match to start at 9:30 and the former to start at 2:30.

"Jumbo" Elliott Low 83.

Another item which might be of interest to golf enthusiasts is that Jim "Jumbo" Elliott, the erstwhile track coach scored an 83 in the qualifying round of the Inquirer Golf Tournament. In all probability Jim will be named coach of next year's golf team.

NOTICE

All men interested in leading cheers for Villanova next year are urged to get in touch with Charley Mamsic, of Mendel Hall. Charlie will place a notice on the Bulletin Boards in the near future telling candidates where to report.

Loyola Here to Close Villanova's Home Season

Baseball Team Closes Home Season Today, Meets Lehigh on Memorial Day; Penn State on Saturday

Entering the last week of the 1947 season, the Villanova Baseball Team plays its last home game against Loyola today. Game time is 3 P. M. This is a "rain check" game which was scheduled for last Wednesday. On Friday of this week, Coach Weinert's nine plays a Memorial Day game with Lehigh, and moves over to State College on Saturday to play the season's finale with Penn State.

Loyola comes to our campus with a very impressive record. After losing a tough game to St. Joseph's in the early part of April, they have gone on to win their last 10 games. This includes double victories over the Explorers of La Salle and Mt. St. Mary's. Chojnacki or Smith most probably will make the trip to the hill for Villanova, while Loyola will probably start Bill Young, their ace pitcher.

Lehigh on Memorial Day

On Friday, Memorial Day, the Wildcats move up to Bethlehem to "lock gears" with the Lehigh Engineers. Lehigh has had an "up and down" season so far but they have had impressive victories over Cornell and Lafayette, although losing a heartbreaker to Navy by a score of 4-2.

Penn State on Saturday

The last game of the season, played at Penn State, will be just about the toughest game of the year. The Nittany Lions have beaten Muhlenberg, Pittsburgh, Dickinson, and sport a double win over the Hoyas of Georgetown. But most important from a local standpoint, the Lions have an 8 to 3 win over Temple.

The Wildcats go into the last week with a record of 11 wins and 4 losses. If they can cop all of these games, Villanova will be able to boast of one of the best baseball seasons in its history.

Pennsylvania Champs?

And, aside from just ending the season with a bucketfull of wins, Villanova, by scoring wins over State and Lehigh, might be able to claim the mythical Pennsylvania Championship by the virtue of the excellent records of both these teams so far.

Austin Extends Winning Streak

By NIEL FAHY

As the Intramural Softball League goes into the last third of the season, Austin hall, with an undefeated record of four straight wins, is topping the league while three teams, Alumni, the Doms and the Barracks are all tied for second place. Five games were played last week while two were rained out.

In the games played on Monday night, Alumni edged out Fedigan by a 3 to 2 score and the Doms beat Mendel 7 to 1. Alumni won its game on only five hits, however, three of them being doubles. Pitcher O'Neil limited Fedigan to a total of three hits, all of them singles. He would have had a shut-out but two errors in the fifth inning allowed two runs to come in. It was a closely contested game all the way. Neither team got any hits in the first, third, sixth and seventh innings.

On Tuesday evening, the Barracks, although outhit 6 to 4, blanked the Doms with a 6-0 whitewash. This strange happening resulted from four costly errors by the Doms, and the inability of the Doms to bunch their hits. Their six hits came in six different innings and they were unable to start a rally. O'Brien pitched a fine game for the Barracks.

Thursday night brought a free slugging game between Austin and the Doms in which Austin finally won out 9 to 7 to keep their perfect record. Austin got six runs in a big third inning rally when seven men got on base before one out was made. The Doms were never able to get the lead away after that inning. In the other game played on Thursday night, Mendel pulled a surprise and upset the Doms 6 to 5. It was the first victory of the campaign for Mendel.

LEAGUE STANDING

	W	L
Austin	4	0
Alumni	2	2
Barracks	2	2
Doms	2	2
Fedigan	1	2
Mendel	1	4

Student Council Draws up Plans for Army Game

Rough Outline of Army Trip Calls for Private Train to Leave Campus on Morning of Game

By DAN REDMOND

Only 123 days remain before Villanova's football gladiators take the field at Michie Stadium, West Point to battle Army's Cadets in a game that the 'Cats have been pointing for since the conclusion of the '46 season.

This is an important game of an important season, one that will prove the Main Line school is still a first-rate football power. In order to give the students, alumni, and their friends a chance to "Follow the Wildcats," the Student Council, working with the Alumni's Philadelphia Club, have set up tentative plans to afford special travel and ticket reservations for the Army game.

It is also planned by the Student Council, through the Orientation Committee, to have a giant pep rally the Thursday before the Army game (Sept. 25) with Freshmen attendance compulsory.

Plans for travel, as they presently stand, have the fans traveling by rail at special excursion rates, so that the cost should be reasonably low. Local stops would be made wherever necessary between here and perhaps, Trenton.

It is estimated that the total cost, travel plus game ticket, should not exceed $8 with there being a possibility of a still lower cost. No tickets, either for travel or the game, will be sent out until paid for.

Since school will not open until the latter part of the week before the game, most of the plans will have to be completed before Summer vacation begins.

For this reason, a committee headed by Joe D'Auria, retiring Sophomore Class president, has been appointed by the Student Council to handle the matter. D'Auria will attend a meeting of the Alumni's Phila. Club tomorrow night at which time final details are to be arranged.

Assisting the chairman are: Bill Altenpohl, originator of the idea within the Council; Gerry Connerd, newly elected Secretary-Treasurer of the Council; and John Kucha, recently-elected president of next year's Junior Class, who requested that the Council make plans for the trip with the students and the Council together at an open meeting.

SPORTORIAL

By HUGH JOHNSON
Sports Editor

THREE WINS . . .

Just about the biggest sport scoop of last week was the announcement of the proposed Army trip . . . Although many a "Progressive" movement has been started here on the campus and fallen through, this one, being run by the "do-something" Student Council might turn out to be a reality. If it does pan out, it will be the greatest student movement in the history of the school. It will be that intangible something that will round out next season's football team . . . that team that's going to close out it's season with a perfect record!!!

And while we're on the subject of the Student Council, I'd like to point out two other points, with regards to sports, that they have acted upon. First, they voted to make next Year's Georgetown Game the "Game of the Year" to replace pre-war Temple. Although the Hoyas have George Washington U. as their traditional contest, I know for a fact that they would 10,000 times rather smear it on Villanova. So, all in all, it's a good idea for next year. The Council also intends to revise the pre-war practice of awarding the Connolly Trophy to the best decorated hall on the campus, which should go a long way towards revising the old Villanova football enthusiasm.

Secondly, A motion was brought up by Bill Altenpohl stating, in effect, that all members of the 1943 and '44 football teams, who are still here in school, receive recognition for their efforts in the form of letters. Among this group, to name a few, are Don Collins, tackle and Zig Gory, center, from the '43 team, and Ray Willie, tackle, Bill Ryan and Don Boos, both QB's, Bob Forrest, end, and Vince McPeak, fullback, from '44.

The first motion was defeated, however, after Matt Kearney, the former Sports Ed of the VILLANOVAN, claimed that it might bring up a technical question of eligibility regarding some of the fellows who played on those teams and are now playing at other colleges. So the motion was re-written to read, in effect, that at the time of graduation, the fellows whose names were submitted will be awarded their letters. The revised motion carried unanimously.

At the next meeting, the names of those who played basketball, and baseball, and who ran for the track team during the war years and received no recognition, will be submitted. No opposition to the measure, which will read the same as the football motion, is anticipated. I would appreciate it, however, if every fellow who falls into the above category will leave his name at the VILLANOVAN office before next Friday so that a complete list may be drawn up.

ONE LOSS . . .

Contrary to all the pre-season publicity, the Villanova crew, unofficial or otherwise, isn't any more. Hughie Maguire and his boys fought a long uphill battle to put the Wildcats "on the river," but things just didn't work out.

It all started about 3 months ago when Hughie and Charlie Kain, one of the finest oarsmen ever to graduate from Villanova, got together and decided to organize an unofficial crew to represent the school. Together they persuaded the Fairmount Barge Association to lease some of their equipment for the expected large turnout to practice with.

All went well for a while. They had the large turnout of candidates, some of whom had a good deal of experience behind them. Faced with the problem of different class hours, they even held twilight practices, in addition to Saturdays and Sundays. There was lots of spirit and oomph behind each stroke of the oar.

But just like all good things, this reality had to come to an end, only a lot sooner than had been expected. It seems that the Fairmount Club, which is operating on a tight budget, could no longer afford to play Santa Claus. Net Result . . . no crew.

In spite of all, it was a step in the right direction. Maybe next year, with the boys organizing during the winter, a full - pledged crew can be a reality. At any rate, our hats off to The Fairmount Club, Hughie Maguire, Charlie Kain, and all that made it a fine show of school spirit!!!

All Year 'Round
Worsted Suits
Styled in smart Single and Double Breasted models. These are suits that Need No Sales Promotion
but are good honest values for your money.
Priced at $39.50
$41.50
$44.50
Lord and Lord
"The Upstairs Store for Men"
1311 CHESTNUT ST. 2nd

Baseball

Continued from Page Five

a single by their dependable lead-off man, Morehousse, who collected three for five for his afternoon's endeavors, they bunched four hits for a brace of runs. Three men died on base however, as the result of the mortar-like arm of Al Litwa, who rifled one into Charlie O'Malley on the fly to hold the runners to their bases.

Charlie Comerford and Joe Lord got together in the third with a little hocus pocus that baffled the Hoya Infielders. When the dust had cleared, they had gotten away with two double steals that netted another pair of runs. Georgetown came back in their half of the third to score twice on five hits. A well executed double play squelched the rally before it had a chance to go any further.

Carroll Knocked Out

The fifth inning proved the undoing of starting pitcher Carroll of the Hilltoppers. Combining two walks and two hits, the 'Cats drove him from the mound and commenced operations on Flynn a lanky sidearmer with a trick delivery. Norm Kline however, in the clutch, with two mates aboard, punched a double into the right field stands, driving home Casey and Green. Charlie Comerford's single drove in Litwa and Kline. A well-executed double play set the Hoyas down in their half of the same inning.

With a comfortable lead, Mr. Weinert made some changes in his combination and inserted Pollidor, Price, O'Neill and Warner into the lineup. Bill Smith then took over the pitching chores from Bob Green while Stan Chojnacki came in in the ninth. The Collegians went scoreless for the remainder of the game.

Green's Third Win

The game was Green's third win against no losses. His support was a bit shaky at the outset but the infield settled down to turn in a fine performance, being guilty of only three miscues while Georgetown had five. They outhit the opposition by a count of 14 to 11 and in general showed a greater superiority to the visitors that they did in the recent 4-3 setback handed to them in Washington.

Georgetown

	AB	H	R
Morehouse, lf.	5	3	1
Connors, 2b.	5	1	1
Baker, 1b.	3	2	1
Raba, cf.	3	2	0
Shult, rf.	4	0	0
Napes, ss.	5	1	1
Flavey, 3b.	5	2	1
Corley, c.	0	0	0
Carroll, p.	4	0	1
Total	38	11	6

Villanova

	AB	H	R
Casey, cf.	4	1	0
Litwa, cf.	5	2	2
Pollidor, cf.	1	1	1
O'Malley, c.	2	1	0
O'Neill, c.	1	0	1
Blong, rf.	4	1	1
Comerford, 1b.	3	2	1
Price, 1b.	2	0	1
Lord, 2b.	4	2	2
D'Ambrosi, ss.	2	1	0
Warner, ss.	2	1	1
Green, p.	3	0	1
Smith, p.	2	0	0
Chojnacki, p.	0	0	0
Harnett, 2b.	0	0	0
Kline, 3b.	3	2	1
Totals	38	14	12

Last night I held a little hand
So dainty and so sweet,
I thought my heart would surely break
So wildly did it beat.
No other hand in all the world
Can greater solace bring,
Than the pretty hand I held last night,
Four aces and a king.
The Tower

• • •

Just to fill up space I shall bore you with this little poem:
Any girl can be gay
In a classy coupe
In a taxicab all can be jolly.
But the girl worthwhile,
Is the girl who can smile
When you're taking her home in a trolley.

• • •

Remember?
When in a rut
CUT.

• • •

A danca
A data
Romanca
Out lata
A classa
A quizza
No passa
Gee whizza.
The Tower

In The Sportlight

By ARNOLD KEEHN

BILL SMITH

A three letter winner at Haverford High, playing baseball, basket ball and soccer, Bill Smith entered Villanova in 1941. His collegiate training being interrupted by the war, Bill enlisted in the Army during 1943 and found time available to cover left field for the Waco Army Air Field nine where he had a batting average of .369.

Led Team in '46

Returning to the Blue and White campus in 1945, he promptly set out to win his Varsity baseball letter during the 1946 season; leading the team in the base hit department with an average of .405.

During his stay in the Army, Smith alternated between pitching and playing left field, so it was natural that on his return to the Villanova diamond he would gain a few pitching assignments. His record to date of two wins and three losses do not give a fair account of Bill's pitching ability, for in the three games that were lost the temperature was in the low 40's.

Excellent Hitter

Outside of pitching, Bill Smith's favorite pastime is collecting base hits and covering left field in a flawless fashion. The King's Point game found him making a sensational game-saving catch, one which would be welcomed in any major league ball park. All these facts combined give ample proof to see why major league scouts are recognizing Bill's ability.

BILL SMITH

Playing his last year at Villanova, Bill is a senior in the Commerce and Finance school. He has expectations of playing some professional ball before setting his goal in the business world.

BATTING AVERAGES

(Including Georgetown Game)

	AB	R	H	SB	E	Av.
O'Malley, c.	12	2	7	3	0	.583
Lord, 2b.	47	7	18	6	2	.383
O'Neill, c.	51	12	19	1	4	.372
Pollidor, lf.	12	1	4	3	0	.333
Litwa, cf.	62	13	19	3	2	.307
Blong, rf.	34	10	10	4	0	.285
Kline, 3b.	62	10	17	0	10	.274
Comerford, 1b.	31	5	8	5	3	.258
Casey, lf.	56	12	13	5	0	.233
Green, p.	12	1	3	0	0	.216
Algeldinger, 2b.	22	3	4	0	5	.181
Smith, p. cf.	29	3	6	1	1	.173
Price, 1b.	28	3	4	1	3	.143
Warner, ss.	17	1	2	1	3	.118
D'Ambrisio	15	3	1	1	2	.066

(Listing of men with 10 or more at bats)

PITCHING

	Won	Lost	In. Pitched
Chojnacki, Stan	4	1	43
Green, Bob	3	0	31 2/3
Donahue, Hen	2	1	22
McDonald, Maj.	0	0	11
Smith, Bill	2	3	27 1/3

Juniors Meet Tonight for Nominations

The Class of 1948 will bring an eventful year to a climax at 7 P.M. tonight during a meeting at which its leaders for the coming year will be nominated. Peter Pallitto, the present Class President, has announced that William Friel, 2d, the Alumni Secretary, will address the class concerning the election of a member of the present Junior Class to act as student representative on the Alumni Board of Governors next school year. Pallitto pointed out that Mr. Friel will speak promptly at 7 P. M. in Room 215, Mendel Hall and urged the men of the Junior Class to be on time for this important announcement.

This final meeting will not be a smoker and only nominations for the four class officers, six Student Council representatives and the new post on the Alumni Board will be considered. The meeting will be conducted according to strict parliamentary procedure and the nominations will be closed for each position when so moved and voted. Election of these candidates will take place on June 4.

Contest

Continued From Page One

and intelligence. They must have the general opinions of the students they represent and the ability to put these ideas across.

"It is a bit difficult for a man to list his own qualifications for any particular position and although I have indicated confidence in myself by my acceptance of the nomination, I leave the real judging up to the students who have a perspective that I naturally cannot possess. I ask only that the students vote and send the men whom they think best qualified."

John Stanley commented on his desire to become one of the two Villanova delegates to the NSO convention in this manner: "I should like to go to Madison this September to see through a movement in which I have long been interested, for which I have worked here at Villanova, and which I believe is important for the welfare of the American Student. I should like to have this opportunity of using my talents to advance a great work."

John is a Social Science major in the School of Education. He will receive his degree in 1949 and expects to continue to work for his Masters. He came here last Spring and has been active in a variety of activities.

He helped revive the International Relations Club and has spoken at campus meetings as well as regional meetings with the other Catholic colleges of the area. He spoke on a radio program under the same auspices several months ago. He is a member of the Poetry Society, the Arts Fraternity, the Inter-Racial Society, and was, for a short time, a member of the Student Council. John was one of the two Villanova delegates to the National Convention of the National Federation of Catholic College Students at Toledo last month. Since he has been here, Stanley has shown a keen interest in student affairs and has on many occasions demonstrated his speaking ability.

John spent a year at NYU in 1940 and served abroad with the RCAF and the AAF from 1941 to 1945.

Don Collins' talents extend from the study hall to almost every phase of extra-curricular activity. He has been on the honor roll consistently and has made a 4.0 average on several occasions.

In 1943 he was on the varsity football team. He's been Managing Editor of the Villanovan and is now Editor-in-Chief. Don is a member of the Debating Team, the Dramatic Club, and was one of the organizers of the Arts Fraternity. In 1946 he was Chairman of the Junior Prom Committee. He was a delegate to the United Nations Student Council of Philadelphia and has spoken on the Atomic Energy Forum of that organization. Don Collins has long been a member of the Student Council. This year he was Vice-Chairman and succeeded to the Chairmanship at a recent meeting of the Council.

After serving in the United States Marine Corps for one year he received a Medical Discharge in 1945. In 1948 he will receive his A.B. and continue his studies at Law School.

When questioned as to why he wanted to go the NSO Convention he gave this answer: "I would like to be an NSO delegate because the NSO needs sound, aggressive, Catholic leadership. I have had some experience with parliamentary procedure, public speaking, and organizations of this kind and would like to do what I can to meet this need."

For Expert Convenient Attention

The Campus Barber Shop
First Class Work
Popular Prices

ICE Aristocrat CREAM
PHILA. DAIRY PRODUCTS CO.
4th & Poplar Sts., Phila., Pa.

An invitation to all Villanovans
FAMOUS ITALIAN TOMATO PIES
Baked Before Your Eyes
JOHNNY & DINGERS
Prepared to serve you Steak Sandwiches Hogies
County Line and Chestnut Ave.
Ardmore, Pa. Ard 9430

Phone Bryn Mawr 2422
THE BOUQUET SHOP
Roberts Rd. & Lane Ave.
BRYN MAWR, PA.
-:- FLOWERS BY WIRE -:-

• McGregor Sportswear
• Van Heusen Shirts
• Hickok Belts
• Holeproof Socks
• Botany Ties
• Arthur Allen Clothes
• Douglas Shoes
You can buy them all — and many other famous brands at the Main Line's most modern store for Men and Boys.
SPRITZLER'S
47 W. Lancaster Ave Ardmore
Open Fri. & Sat. Eve's
PARKING IN REAR

Tennis Trunks
Sport Shirts
Summer Clothes
MANLY STORE
835 LANCASTER AVE.
BRYN MAWR, PA.
N. MARZIANI, Representative

JEANNETT'S FLOWER SHOP
Floral Ideas for All Occasions
SPECIALIZING IN CORSAGES
Member Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association
823 LANCASTER AVE.
BRYN MAWR
BRYN MAWR 570

HART & HALL, INC.
825 LANCASTER PIKE
General Insurance

BLUEMONT
LAUNDERERS and DRY CLEANERS
COLLECTIONS and DELIVERIES
MONDAY, WEDNESDAY, FRIDAY
INQUIRE AT THE PIE SHOP

Kenton is strictly stratosphere stuff in popularity polls with his powerhouse drive. Capitol's latest album "Artistry in Rhythm" is a collection of Kenton kicks... eight exciting, original compositions never before recorded. At your dealer—now!
$3.15 plus tax
NEW TRENDS IN TORRID TEMPOS
'His Feet Too Big for de Bed' — Cap. 361
'Intermission Riff' — Cap. 298
'Painted Rhythm' — Cap. 250
'Artistry Jumps' — Cap. 229

When Vacation finally comes...
Vacate by Greyhound

for more Convenience • Comfort • Economy
One of these days the profs are going to give you the gate! That'll be the day to board a big, comfortable Greyhound and head for home. You'll come out on friendly terms with your budget, too — because Greyhound's low fares will save you much more for vacation fun. So remember: when they let you go . . . go Greyhound!

Check These Amazingly Low Fares

Pittsburgh, Pa.	5.80	Syracuse, N. Y.	5.00
Scranton, Pa.	2.50	Boston, Mass.	4.50
Wilkes Barre, Pa.	2.50	Norfolk, Va.	4.65
Williamsport, Pa.	3.65	Harrisburg, Pa.	1.75
Easton, Pa.	1.40	York, Pa.	1.75
Baltimore, Md.	1.50	Johnstown, Pa.	4.60
New York, N. Y.	1.50	Detroit, Mich.	10.25
Washington, D. C.	2.15	Charleston, W. Va.	8.45

Broad St. Station SPRUCE 4-7060
New 69th St. Terminal BLVD. 3100
GREYHOUND

Villanova Profs Speak on CCICA

Frs. McFadden, Gavigan, Take Part in Commission Discussion

The Catholic Commission on Intellectual and Cultural Affairs held its annual meeting on May 18th at Catholic University. Rev. Charles McFadden and Rev. John Gavigan, O.S.A., of Villanova, were the only members from the Philadelphia area, and both took part in the panel discussions.

Proceedings

Proceedings began with introductions, a formal opening of the meeting by the president, the report of the Executive Director, the announcement of committees, and a briefing of the problems to be discussed.

The members then adjourned to the respective committee rooms where the specific problems were discussed.

At 1 P. M. the meeting recessed for luncheon. At 2 the committees reconvened for continuance of the discussions until 3.

At that time there was a second general meeting and the committees reported on the work of the day.

German Club Ends Activities

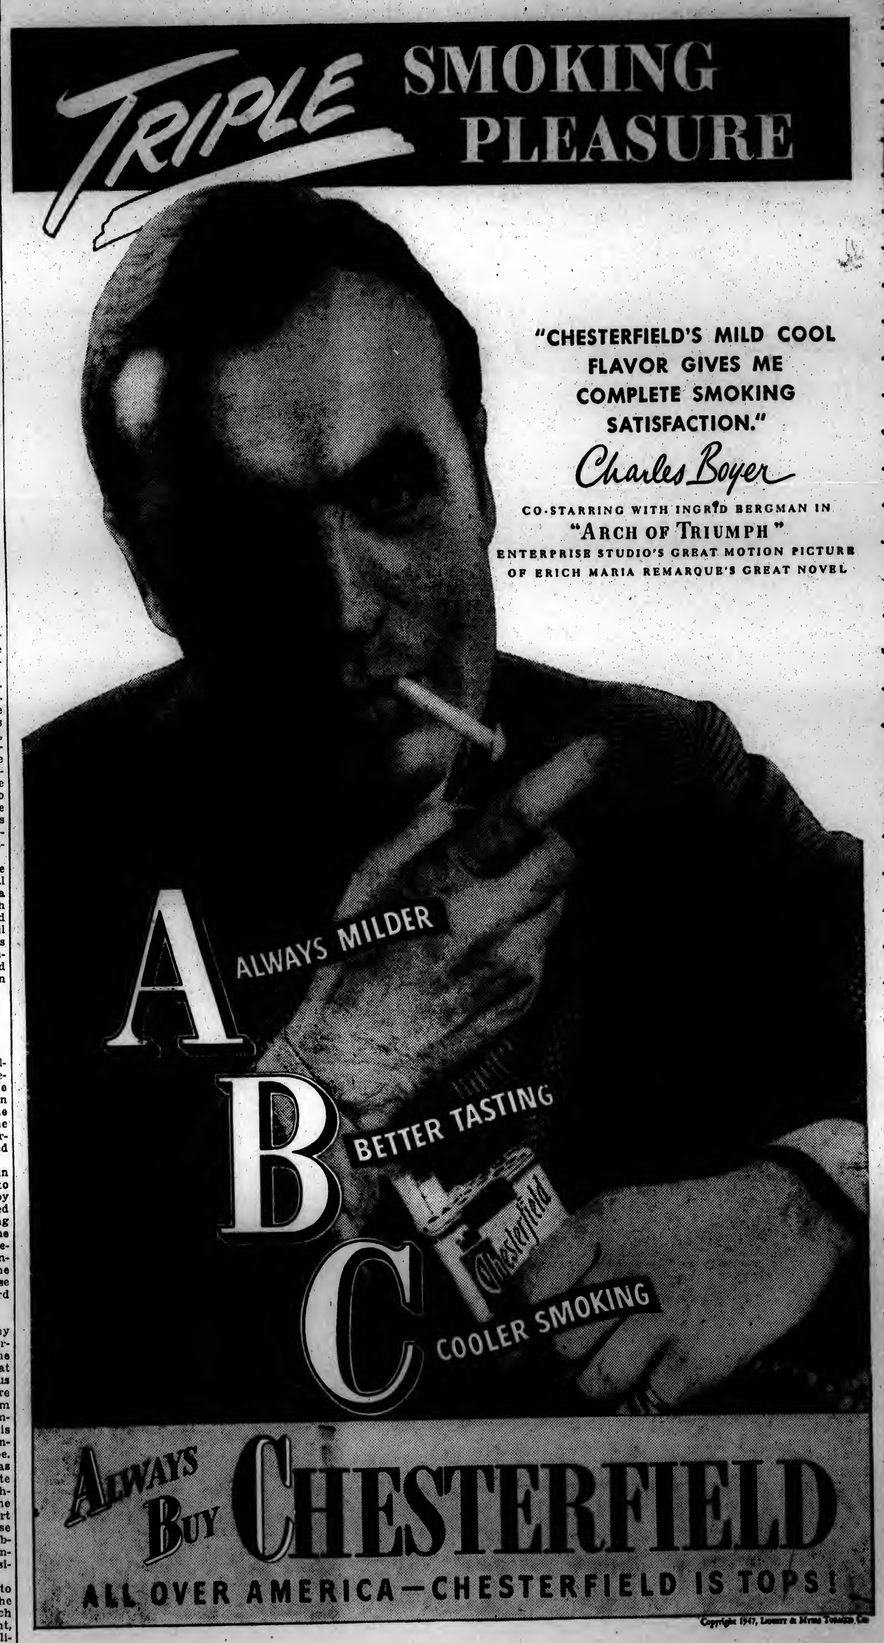
Last Monday evening, Neustadter Kreis held its last meeting of the semester and outlined election procedures.

President Gunter Kaiser reviewed the club's past activities and injected an appreciative note for the work done by the various members and officers. Reverend J. Lunney, O.S.A., the Moderator, then eulogized the accomplishments of the officers. He, in turn, was the recipient of great praise for the aid he had afforded the club in its rise to a prominent campus society. The financial statement of the club was then read; the funds showed a substantial increase during this semester.

Discussion of election procedure following Father Lunney's initial remarks finally centered about a suggested committee of six which will draw up a constitution and system of election for the Fall term. The class representatives constitute the committee to formulate future plans; Vince Pica and Frank Gurzikowski are Co-Chairmen of the group.

Pride

Continued from Page Three



Southern European traders traveled to the "dark continent" long before slave traders brought the Negroes to America in 1619. In other words, very few of the Negroes originally brought to the United States were pure black. Certainly, the Negro cannot be blamed for this.

In the case of intermarriage in our time, the Negro is no more to blame than is the white. And by the way, to those who are worried about the entire white race being destroyed by intermarriage, or the population of the United States becoming dark if intermarriage continues — well, try convincing the census bureau about it, because right now they don't believe a word of it.

Morally Permissible

Morally there is no reason why these two groups may not intermarry; however, the attitude of the Church clarifies the question at this point. So long as the religious and other technical barriers are overcome, the Church will perform the ceremony; however, any member of the clergy will do all in his power to explain the handicaps involved in a marriage of this type. (This includes the colored clergy as well.) Socially a colored-white marriage is not acceptable in either white or colored circles. The children of a match of this sort will find it most difficult because they cannot understand the problem. In short, intermarriage is inadvisable, but morally permissible.

Our part in this story then is to see that we do our best to give the Negro the social equality to which he is entitled, and more important, to teach our offspring this equality. The answer to this and many other controversial issues regarding the Negro lies in formal and informal education.

Here It Is---"Beat Army" Trip

VILLANOVA COLLEGE LIBRARY VILLANOVA, PA.

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 22—No. 23 N. A. S. X-660 VILLANOVA, PA. TUESDAY, JUNE 3, 1947

Four Honorary Degrees at Graduation

West Point "Victory Special" To Climax 'Beat Army' Week

Fireworks, Horseplay and Mock Funeral to Highlight Huge Rally

The Army trip is on. The Student Council and the Alumni have agreed upon the plans for the affair, and the Council will go ahead with preparations for the "greatest rally yet."

Saturday, September 27th is the day of the game, and the trains will pull out of the Villanova station at 8:15 A. M. The caravan will reach West Point at 12:30 in plenty of time for the game and a revue of the grounds.

Deposits May Be Made

The cost of the whole affair including the train ticket and tickets for the game will be ten dollars. On Thursday at the Information Booth, students can make deposits on the cost of the trip. The Student Council will accept partial payments from three dollars up, or the ten dollars total cost between 10:00 A. M. and 3:00 P. M., and will give out receipts for the amount collected.

Students may bring parents and friends to the game so that they might take advantage of the excursion rates on the railroads. The trip will end registration week on the campus, and will follow a rally which will be conducted by the Student Council on Thursday night, Sept. 25.

The rally will be under the direction of John Kucha, and will feature talks by the coaches and players, fireworks, band numbers and cheers. The Alumni will be out for the affair and the students are invited to bring their friends.

Final collections will be made by mail during the summer or at registration time. It will be necessary, however, that the returns be in as early as possible so that the trains may be properly arranged.

Frosh Elect Le Blanc Prexy

Largest Class, '50, Chooses Its First Officers in Lively Vote

Climaxing a vigorous pre-election campaign, the Class of '50 went to the polls on Wednesday, May 28, and elected its initial officers. Edgar C. LeBlanc, Jr., Freshman II, won the presidency by a plurality of 38 votes. A total of 358 votes were cast.

Parties Split

The candidates affiliated with the two party slates, "Your Party" and the "Card Party," split the victory. The former, headed by LeBlanc, won the seats of President, Vice President, and Secretary. The latter gained its advantage by seating the Treasurer, and the three Student Council members. Except for Regan, who polled 130 votes, the other Student Council seats were contested to within five votes of each other.

In the balloting, which took place in the Villanovan office, from 10:00 A.M. to 2:00 P.M., independent candidates and incomplete slates were left in the background.

Analysis

The breakdown of the votes cast follows:

For President: Edgar C. LeBlanc, Jr., the winner, with 158 votes; John H. White, 120 votes; Rudolph C. Swanson, Jr., 33 votes; Albert J. Veling, 32 votes; Robert H. Graf, 13 votes.

For Vice President: Roland M. Marshall, the winner, with 136 votes; Robert E. Probert, 92 votes; Thomas A. Clavin, 73 votes; Paul Kelley, 53 votes.

For Secretary: George R. Szymanski, the winner, with 197 votes, the highest individual scorer; Daniel J. Doris, 86 votes; John T. Callahan, Jr., 39 votes; Joseph R. Quill, 34 votes.

For Treasurer: George A. Egan, the winner, with 134 votes; Joseph D. O'Brien, 125 votes; Paul Schratwieser, 58 votes; Frederick V. Watson, 20 votes; Peter J. Crerand, 13 votes.

For three Representatives on the Student Council: William J. Regan, winner, 130 votes; Edward F. Krieg, winner, 106 votes; Richard L. McMonigle, winner, 104 votes; Donald J. Griffin, 102 votes; William J. Leighton, 101 votes; Michael J. Nowlan, 86 votes; Francis J. Buckley, Jr., 83 votes; Carl F. Andreone, 72 votes; Joseph J. Liebner, 68 votes; Vincent A. O'Neil, 63 votes; George G. Thompson, 57 votes; Arthur F. Smith, 41 votes; Maurice A. Crane, 27 votes.

The elections were supervised by the Student Council Elections Committee, Daniel Redmond, Chairman.

New Improvements Due in Machine Shop This Summer

By DICK SHINNERS

During the Summer months the improvements in the Engineering Shops will be completed and the machine shop will contain all the fundamental tools used in engineering.

All of the old countershafting and belt drives will be removed and replaced with direct motor drives. Many of the older machines have been removed and others have been converted to unit drive.

Modern Equipment Acquired

The most modern equipment available has been acquired from the War Assets Administration by Rev. John Vrana, O.S.A.

A Le Blond 16-inch engine lathe and a Morey turret lathe for demonstrations of production processes and eight Logan lathes for the students have been installed.

Five new bench shapers and horizontal, vertical and universal milling machines are included in the new equipment.

The College has acquired three new Delta drill presses which have a half-inch capacity.

For grinding there are three bench grinders, a Cincinnati Universal tool grinder and a Norton surface grinder.

A machine that has revolutionized the die-making industry, a metal cutting band saw that will cut up to 10 inches of tool steel is already in the shop.

The Pattern Shop and Foundry

NEW Continued on Page Seven

TO REPRESENT VILLANOVA

Very Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire, O.S.A., President of the college, will represent Villanova at the final exercises concluding Princeton University's Bicentennial Celebration. President Truman will receive an honorary degree at the ceremonies which will be attended by representatives of 41 foreign nations.

STUDENT COUNCIL TO MEET

The Student Council will meet Thursday night, June 6, at 6:00 P. M., in 215M. New members will be inducted.

Phil Barrett and John McDermott NSO Delegates

C&F and Arts Man to Represent Villanova at National Convention Next Fall

In unusually heavy balloting last Tuesday, Phil Barrett and John McDermott were elected to represent the student body at the September Constitution Convention of the National Students Organization.

Dan Redmond, Chairman of the Election Committee, announced that the total vote was 682, or approximately 30 percent of the total enrollment. The official tabulation of the vote is:

Phil Barrett 421
John McDermott 333
John Stanley 320
Don Collins 276

As the ballots were counted Phil Barrett took an early lead, which he maintained throughout the counting. From the beginning it was also evident that the other position would be a fight between McDermott and Stanley. At first McDermott went into a slight lead, but Stanley soon overtook him and went out in front with a substantial lead of about 65 votes. McDermott later began to close the gap, and, with only a few votes left to count, the tally was tied at 306. At the final count McDermott rallied to win by a margin of 13 votes.

The voting seemed to be in pairs, with Barrett and Stanley paired off against McDermott and Collins. Many voted for Barrett and McDermott, however, which accounted for Barrett's sweeping victory, and the "nip-and-tuck" battle between McDermott and Stanley.

Personal Statement

Immediately after the final official tabulations were made public, Phil Barrett was quoted as saying:

"I am most grateful for the confidence that the student body has shown towards me. I will be ever watchful that their best interests be furthered at the forthcoming convention at the University of Wisconsin."

When asked for a statement, Mr. McDermott had this to say:

"I want to sincerely thank the student body for affording me the privilege of representing them at Wisconsin this summer. In my mind, the N. S. O. is a big thing in American education, and I deeply appreciate the opportunity to take part in it."

Clothing Drive For European Students Undertaken

A new clothing drive, this time for the benefit of the poor students of Europe, was initiated on the Campus June 1st. All old clothes will be collected in the container placed at the information booth in Mendel Hall.

Collections will be also be received to defray the expense of sending the packages overseas. The articles will be sorted, packed and shipped during the summer months so that they will be available for the students during the fall and winter.

The clothes will be sent to all countries to which they can be sent without hindrance or expense, e. g., Belgium, Czechoslovakia, England, France, Germany, Holland, Italy, etc. The students who donate the clothes can designate the countries to which the clothes are to be sent by attaching a note to them.

The Chairman of the Faculty Committee is Rev. F. X. McGuire, O.S.A. and the Chairman of the Student Committee is Dave Ryan of the Student Council.

Seniors Will Graduate With Pre-War Tradition

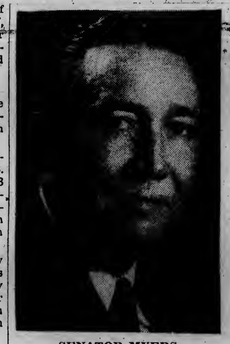
Class of '47 to Don Cap and Gown; Many Notables To Be Honored in Baccalaureate Exercises

The 105th Graduating Class of Villanova College, the Class of 1947, will complete its college career at commencement exercises, Monday, June 16th, in the College Field House.

Senator Myers to Speak

Senator Francis J. Myers will be the chief guest speaker at commencement. He will also receive an honorary degree.

Senator Myers is a native Philadelphian, recipient of an A. B. from Saint Joseph's College in 1923 and an L.L.B. from Temple University in 1927. He was also admitted to the Pennsylvania Bar in 1927, and has practiced law in Philadelphia since that time.



He served as District Attorney of Philadelphia in the late twenties and as State Deputy Attorney General from 1937 to 1939. Senator Myers was a member of the 76th to 78th Congresses in session from 1939 to 1945.

Three Other Degrees

Honorary degrees are also to be bestowed upon Doctor William Wayne Babcock, of Temple University Hospital; Reverend John Joseph Long, S. J., President of Saint Joseph's College and Brother Gregorian Paul, F.S.C., President of La Salle College.

This graduation will resume the custom of having a Valedictory address. The Valedictorian of the Class of 1947 is Francis Hanssens, Senior I student in the Arts school. A graduate of Saint Joseph's Prepartory school, Hanssens came to Villanova through the V-12 and R.O.T.C. units previously stationed on the campus.

The topic of his address will be the contribution of the Catholic Graduate in making a better world.

SENATOR MYERS

W. Altenpohl, '48 Heads New Staff Of Villanovan

Yesterday, Rev. John Klekotka O.S.A., announced the changes of the VILLANOVAN Staff for next year. Bill Altenpohl, Managing Editor, has been moved up to Editor-In-Chief, succeeding Don Collins. John McDermott, copy editor, has been moved up to fill the post of Managing Editor.

Other changes in the staff are Ed Oxford, Copy Editor; George Szymanski, Feature Editor, to replace John Kucha, who resigned to devote his time to Junior Class and Student Council activities; Dick Hubbard, Picture Editor, and Nick Marziani, Business Manager, to replace Bob Flaharty and Lou Moccariello, both of whom retired after two semesters work. The office of Circulation Editor has yet to be filled.

Of this year's staff, Hugh Johnson, Sports Editor, is the only Editor to remain in the same spot. He was appointed earlier in the semester.

Altenpohl assumes the new position after five semesters of experience with the Villanovan. Bill is an Army veteran, having served as a P-51 fighter pilot with the Eighth Air Force. He returned to the Campus in September of 1945 to resume his studies in mechanical engineering.

Gordon, Kearney, Yeager Named For '48 President

Elections to Fill Posts To Be Held Tomorrow Between 10 and 3

With clock-like precision and speed, the Class of '48 nominated its candidates last Tuesday night at a class meeting under the direction of Rev. Michael O'Donnell, Moderator.

At one of the shortest nomination meetings on record, Matt Kearney, of the Arts School; Andy Gordon, Education student, and Carl Yeager, C. & F. student, were nominated for the office of Class President.

Kearney, Gordon and Yeager

Kearney, the only candidate running unaffiliated, has held the position of Editor-in-Chief of the Villanovan and served on the staff for three years. He was instrumental in the reorganization of the Arts Fraternity and later was elected President of that organization. In addition, Kearney has served on the Student Council for a year, during which time he held the office of Secretary-Treasurer.

Andy Gordon, running on the Popular Party ticket, quarterbacked the football team during the past season. Andy also was Chairman of the Blazer Ball which was recently held by the Junior Class.

Carl Yeager, presidential candidate of the "Your" United Senior Party, has been active as a member of the Debating Society and has been a member of the International Relations Club. Carl is also on the 1947 Belle Air staff.

Ringlestein, Pallitto

For the office of Vice President, Peter Pallitto, C. & F. student, was nominated by the Popular Party. Pallitto is the retiring President of the Junior Class. He has also served on the Student Council. Joe Ringlestein, candidate of the United Senior Party, was also nominated for this position. Ringlestein is a member of the Villanovans and the Symphonic Band.

The Popular Party nominated Tony Cocco for Secretary and Frank Nugent for Treasurer, while

GORDON Continued on Page Eight

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

DONALD M. COLLINS, '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
WILLIAM F. ALTENPOHL, '48 ..... Managing Editor
HUGH JOHNSON, '49 ..... Sports Editor
JOHN KUCHA, '49 ..... Feature Editor
ROBERT FLAHARTY, '48 ..... Picture Editor
LOUIS MECCARIELLO, '48 ..... Business Manager
PETER F. McMANUS, '47 ..... Circulation Manager
JOHN A. McDERMOTT, '48 ..... Copy Editor

News Staff

James Conaty, '47 — Charles P. Laferty, '50
Richard Shinners, '48 — George Szymanski, '50
Joseph D'Ambisi, '49 — Martin G. Binder, '50
Joseph D'Auria, '49 — John Casby, '49
John Kennedy, '50 — Dave I. Ryan, '48
Gene Daly, '50 — Robert Carroll, '50
R. Michael Marshall — Raymond Callahan '49
William Mooney, '50 — Michael Nowlan '49
Joseph McNamara

Feature Staff

F. Anthony Homann, '50 — John Mallick, '49
Anthony Coppa, '48 — Joseph Kenney, '50
Anthony Mullen, '49 — Joseph Miller, '50

Sports Staff

James Plunkett '49
David Marano '47 — Arnold Keehan '50
Daniel Redmond '47 — Anthony Minyon '50
Donald Wieand '48 — Neal Fahy '50
Vincent O'Donnell '48
Ned Hoffner '49

Business Staff

William Wescott, '47 — Nicholas Marziani, '48
John Metzger, '49 — Robert Fidgeon, '49

Picture Staff

William Monagle, '48 — John Kane, '50
Emile Meyer, '49 — Thomas Mantini, '50
Leo Dodd, '49 — Raymond Berninger, '49
Richard Hudak, '49 — Daniel Hadinger, '50
Michael Torpey '50

Circulation Staff

Thomas Flatley, '50 — Gunther Kaiser, '50
P. A. Richards, '50 — Joseph Beck, '49

Faculty Advisor—Rev. John A. Klekotka, O.S.A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman —
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription: $2 per year. Circulation: 5000.
Entered as second class matter at the Villanova Post Office December 27, 1928.

Member of Associated Collegiate Press, Distributor of Collegiate Digest.
Member of Catholic School Press Association, Catholic College Press Association and National Scholastic Press Association.

A New Spirit

This is the last issue of the Villanovan under the present Editorial staff. We could not let the semester end, without saying something about it for it has not been an ordinary semester at Villanova.

If you remember, we said at the beginning of the year that our purpose was to serve the student body, and to be a real reflection of what Villanova is. Well this is the end of the line and we hope that we did fulfill our goals.

It has been a really great experience interpreting Villanova because in our small way, we see the reflection of something much bigger than the Main Line campus. We see a picture of the whole world affected by a world experience —War.

No, there have been no wild antics this semester, there has been no tug of war contest, no fivers full of jubilant college lads. The professors no longer refer to the students as boys—the whole atmosphere is subdued even serious.

These are the raw materials, the data of our observations—you might say our little experiment. Drawing conclusions from these facts is the much more important and as you might guess the more difficult job.

What is the answer anyway? Are we dried up, bitter cynics trying to postpone our lives as long as the government gives us room and board or are we a bit more mature at a younger age. The Villanovan thinks along the latter lines.

We see a new spirit on the campus, a manly quiet feeling that recognizes the real purpose of education and Villanova. We see a really great Villanova in the near future.

Professional Survey
The Law
By E. OXFORD

Outlook—
Is the legal profession overcrowded? Ten years ago the answer was a resounding "Yes!" Today, due primarily to broad expansion in Federal and private business, competitive pressure has somewhat eased. Consider these points and the reasons for prevailing law opportunities become clear:

1. Advanced legislation, practically unexpected a few years ago, has greatly changed national life while opening new vistas for the lawyer.

2. The increasing complexity of business demands more and more legal assistance. The corporation lawyer, for example, is a direct outgrowth of this movement.

3. Some 5280 Government positions are open only to qualified lawyers. Various commissions and departments, as well as attorney-groups from city attorney up to United States District Attorney, must be fully staffed with legal men.

4. Wartime depletion steadily lowered law school enrollments. Law school graduates in 1946 numbered about 8000 less than they did in 1940. This drop in lawyer supply accounts for a great part of the present demand.

5. The usually high number of law school graduates need be no deterrent to the law student. The U. S. Department of Interior points out: "Although some 10,000 new students are graduated in law annually, a large proportion of them never practice, but enter business, where their training stands them in good stead."

Not quite the crammed-to-overflow career field of a decade ago, the legal profession is by no means wide open. Investigation shows, however, that any and all overcrowding is where it is in all professions: at the bottom.

Judge W. H. Sawtille of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals well sums up the prospective lawyer's chances as they stand today: "I believe that any man of average intelligence but more-than-average industry can eventually earn a living in the practice of law. The most important factors of success are a determination and a readiness to sacrifice personal comfort and pleasures for the sake of getting ahead in the profession. As for the field being overcrowded, the same is true of any other vocation. But it is not a matter of quantity, but of quality. There is always room at the top—but it takes hard work to get there."

Trends—

(a) Growth

Year.	Lawyers.
1920	123,000
1930	160,000
1940	175,000
1950	185,000

(b) Distribution

Percentage breakdown of 1940's total of 173,000 shows employment sources for graduate attorneys:

		%
Independent practice	128,000	72
By independent practices	20,000	11
Government or non-legal firms	29,000	17
Total	177,000	100

(c) Bar Examinations—
The past infiltration of incompetence has so jarred the practicing profession that special effort is being made to raise already high entrance standards and to make them even more stringent. Disbarment rules are being much more liberally applied, impressing on all concerned that this is a quasi-public profession—one in which the public is vitally concerned. Legal ethics as set forth by the American Bar Association appear in the paragraph headed "Qualifications."

Specialization—Outline sketches of particular branches, their duties, etc.:

Criminal Law—Often criticized for defending criminals known by himself to be guilty, the criminal lawyer nevertheless is not helping the guilty to defeat justice if he sees that his client is legally tried. Advantages of this work feature large fees and much publicity. Disadvantages: grade of clientele, chances for violating code.

Torts—This includes injury to persons and also property damage. An attorney for the plaintiff is retained contingently—remuneration being proportional to recovery. An attorney for the defendant (indemnity and liability insurance companies, etc.) receives set fee, regardless of case outcome.

Real Estate—Centering about examinations of titles, this work consists in property and foreclosure proceedings, administration of estates, etc., all bringing the real estate attorney closely in touch with the real estate market, making it possible for him to engage in business for himself or with a partner.

Corporations—Exceedingly lucrative, this field entails keeping of corporate records, guiding and directing stockholders' meetings, preparing annual state reports, issuing securities, controlling property rights, mergers, etc. More than any other, this new field offers a chance for "side-business" or full-time business.

Tax Lawyer—Born of complicated tax laws, this expert must keep closely informed on the bewildering changes in all tax laws, advise clients, supply tax service to general practitioners, write tax guides for the general practitioner.

Patent Lawyer—A "safe" field—a very highly specialized branch. Few without special training can touch this. The patent lawyer's work consists of Patent Office searchings, handling appeals to tribunals of U. S. Court of Customs and Patent Appeals, handling the defending or trying of infringement matters in Federal Courts, etc.

For law-trained citizens these are many other branches. Far and away, however, the most opportune at the time is:

Federal Government employment—the great expansion in Federal bureaus, large and small, means greater opportunity for the lawyer. Here are a few branches now open: Bureau of Internal Revenue, Patent Office, Veterans' Administration, the Indian Bureau, Federal Communications Commission, Farm Credit Administration, Interstate Commerce Commission, Treasury Department, Department of Justice, F.B.I., S.E.C., and many others.

Also, thousands of other government positions are definitely open for law-trained men, positions in which law training is not absolutely required, but decidedly hold favor for one with such training.

Qualifications for the Lawyer

Formal Training—Law school is today the practical minimum. The Association of American Law Schools requires two years of pre-legal work before the high school graduate enters law school; four years of college, however, is very highly recommended.

Pre-legal courses should center about liberal arts, including as many courses as possible in government, economics, history, natural science, philosophy, psychology, and, above all, English and Public Speaking. Most vitally necessary are the last two.

The American Bar Association cautions all enrollees and transferees as to choice of school. A list of approved schools has been prepared, and is available through the association.

The Bar Examination is the climax of the lawyer's "school" training. Given annually or oftener by a board of practicing attorneys, these tests include a general examination of all courses taken during the three-year legal schooling. A lawyer can't be licensed unless he has passed this examination, and he can't practice without a license. It is, in short, the final, the biggest final of all.

Personal Traits

What a man is decides what his future will be in law. Listed below is a summary of the canon of ethics set forth by the American Bar Association, each one seeming to be based on the principle that the man best suited to practice the law is the one who best lives the law:

I—Respectful manner toward the court; II—One defending a criminal must uphold justice; III—One assigned to an indigent should not ask to be excused, but should help as best he can; IV—One must describe to his client all interests held in the controversy; V—One may represent conflicting interests only by consent of all parties; VI—One may not use past confidence adversely; VII—One may not encroach on another lawyer's business; VIII—One must be guided by his own conscience, not by his client's. He may not hold false promises, or continue a controversy needlessly; IX—One may not secure financial interest in subject matter of controversy; X—Fees are to be fixed according to value of services, size of involved interest, and client's ability to pay; XI—One must deal candidly and honorably with facts; XII—Reputation is the lawyer's greatest asset and advertisement; XIII—Stirring up litigation is unprofessional and punishable; XIV—One must decline a case intended merely to injure the opposite party or to work oppression or wrong.

The "Shyster" type of years past is fast becoming extinct; the cut-throat dollar chasers are finding their greatest enemy in the profession's powerful standard-raising groups: the city, county, state and national bar associations.

The law aspirant fresh from law school should be prepared, declare those who know, to go through three or four of the most discouraging years he ever experienced. He, bent upon spellbinding juries, will be reduced to duties at first little better than a messenger boy. He will be later permitted to prepare briefs, which so often considered air-tight by the neophyte will promptly be shot full of holes by the "old-timers." This period is precisely and simply one of "aging." Patience and industry—these are the young lawyer's greatest needs in his dry years. Having proved himself in this period, he moves on to his own practice or into a law firm, dogged persistence having paid off.

Income

Law is one of those professions which makes the beginner feel like burning his books and sign aboard a tramp steamer headed for Java. Those starting as law clerks will receive something like 130 to 150 dollars a month. He who sets out for himself should give thanks that

THE LAW Continued on Page Eight

Letters

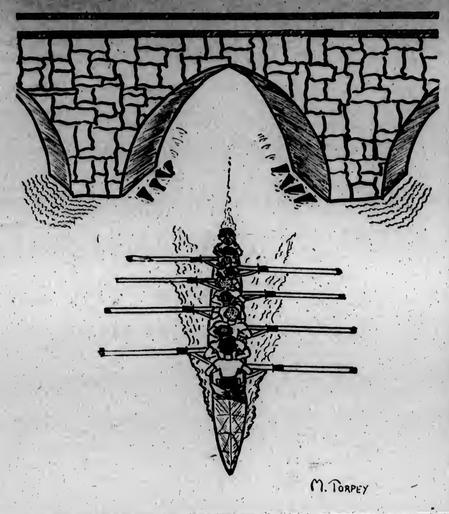
Sir:

I take violent exception to "True Friend's" opinion of present vets and their, as he puts it, "living off the fat of the land." He probably is jealous because he has boozed away his bonus money and doesn't see any more forthcoming.

As for his "seeing action" I don't think he ever knew the real meaning of it. He then fouls up his figures by quoting a 27 billion dollar expenditure for "the present generation." Mr. True Friend, that was spent in protecting cynics like you who couldn't unwrap themselves from their bathtub gin.

Mr. True Friend should read his biblical Commandments. "Thou Shalt not covet thy neighbor's goods" and then thing it over!.

100% Disabled.



Pride and Prejudice

Tolerance Is Inadequate

Tolerance is an ugly word, though strenuous efforts have been made to invest it with a halo. It is borrowed from the vocabulary of medicine, where it means to endure, without injury to, a foreign body or a poison. To tolerate Jews or Protestants or Catholics, Negroes or Asiatics means simply to put up with them temporarily in the expectation of being eventually rid of them.

Tolerance, then, is not enough. It is not worthy of human beings. What is required is justice and charity. We must give everyone his due, respecting his rights and his good name, and we must love him. To love him means not to entertain a sentimental feeling in his regard, but to wish him well, sincerely and with all our heart. Justice and charity, in contrast to tolerance, are worthy of human beings. More, they are enjoined upon us in conscience. They alone can eliminate prejudice and bigotry. Justice will cut, and, if need be, burn, these fungi away, and charity will replace them with a wholesome, nutritive growth.

We of the Interracial Society wish to acknowledge our sincerest thanks for making the clothing drive for the poor Negro parishes so successful. Rest assured that your contributions were and are most appreciated.

SO WHAT, WE'LL WIN THE HARD WAY.

The Bull Pen
By JOHN L. KUCHA

Everyone else has called your attention to the fact that this is the last issue of the paper this semester. This column is also our little swan song. It's been fun to associate with the men on the staff. Had it not been fun there wouldn't have been any compensation.

Looking back for a quick recap this is the score:

452 Freshmen could not understand our gibberish.

29 Freshmen smiled.

2 faculty members laughed out loud.

235 Rosemont lassies thought it was cute.

2 girls didn't care.

1 person wrote in a compliment. Thanks, Dear.

3200 sent in complaints (Includes protest from Delurey Hall).

7 warnings from the Vice-President.

8 reminders from the business office.

So, we'll close the files . . . as the familiar saying goes, but before we turn in our typewriter we want to take a good verbal swipe at Hughie Johnson.

Hughie Johnson, as you probably don't know, is our Sports Editor. At least that is what the masthead says. He thinks Intramural sports are Intermuriel sports. (Games played between cigars.)

Let's go on to some other people on the staff:

John "Killer" Kane . . . eccentric staff photographer . . . the only man who takes six-column pictures for a five-column paper.

George "The Mole" Szymanski . . . deacon of the Barracks and new Feature Editor.

George "Tex" Winters, who is called Tex since he's from Oklahoma.

F. Anthony Homann . . . white hope of the Humanist school.

Dick Shinners . . . who has been writing the Pie Shop construction stories all this year . . . and will be next year, too.

John McDermott, whose brains after being packed in a pound of cotton to prevent rattling, were placed in a thimble and mailed to the Smithsonian Institute.

John "Avoirdupois" Mallick . . . Villanova student commuter from Rosemont and Immaculata.

Father Klekotka . . . Father Klekotka . . . h-m-m!—there must be some way to say it, and still get by the censor.

So this is it. The last prattling mouthful has been uttered. We may have hurt a few feelings here and there. We hope the scars are not permanent, for we've only poked fun for fun's sake. Our sincere thanks to the hundreds of friends who have constructively criticized our meager literary efforts. Before we say our last farewell . . . just a few words . . . Villanova's campus is once again feeling that intangible thing called School Spirit. By all means, come to the Army game! Without excuse be at the Pre-game Rally to be held during registration! It's going to be the biggest thing that Villanova has ever seen. Don't think you're too grown up to be a kid again and shout your fool head off. The best therapy for our post-war cynicism is a little bit of being boys again. Maybe then we can erase the pains and memories of the past few years.

O. K., Alberta, I'm coming right home.

Out of the Copy Basket
By JOHN MALLICK

To all who read this column . . . Good news . . . this is the last issue for this school year. So now I can throw any old joke I find lying around, into this—(supply you own adjective) Column and be safe, since vacation is just a few days away.

From the Notre Dame Scholastic I borrowed the following:

Then there's the story of the disgruntled junior who fox-trotted up to Tommy Dorsey and said, "Do you play requests?"

"Sure, what would you like to have us play?"

"Pinochle," he muttered.

• • •

Since finals are just around the corner, a little advice to the midnight oil burner . . . don't give up, I've just learned that Edison consistently flunked his math tests and Dorothy Thompson, noted columnist and Syracuse U. grad, booted her English exam there. So if they can do it, why can't you? Or are you better than they.

Cannibal Cook: "Shall I boil the missionary?"

Chief: "No, he's a friar."

St. Bonaventure.

• • •

Jack and Jill fell down the hill
A stunt that's very risky.
If water makes them act like that,
I think I'll stick to whiskey.
Annapolis Log.

• • •

"We'll have to rehearse this," as the undertaker said when the coffin fell out of the car,

Okay, so we drop dead . . . I still thought it was funny.
Notre Dame Scholastic.

• • •

Or as the bandit said when he stuffed a paper towel in his victim's mouth . . . Anything for a gag.

• • •

"Would you give ten cents to help the Old Ladies' Home?"

"What, are they out again?"
The Tatler (New Rochelle).

Since there are only four more days of classes remaining, and the weather is so beautiful here's a little tip in order to prepare you for the vacation.

7:00 A. M.—Alarm clock rings for 8:00 A. M. class. Raise right arm leisurely and throw clock out window. (Buy new one next semester.)

10:00 A. M.—Open left eye slowly.

11:00 A. M.—Open right eye and close immediately. Do not overdo.

Noon—Have roomate bring substantial meal to you in bed. Chew food slowly.

1:00 P. M.—Crawl out of bed if so inclined.

2:00 P. M.—Dress unhurriedly in casual clothing.

2:40 P. M.—If you have to go to C&F, take taxi. Drive slowly.

2:50 P. M.—If tired from trip, relax on lawn.

3:50 P. M.—Ride piggy-back to next class if you feel like attending.

4:00 P. M.—Sleep during class. Get plenty of rest.

4:50 P. M.—Return to room with as little exertion as possible.

Eat something nourishing that requires no chewing. Retire immediately.

The Gamecock (Univ. of South Carolina).

(They'll never recognize it!)

• • •

Well that cleans out the copy basket for another semester. I wish you all a pleasant summer.

Watchin' the Wildcats
Blame It on Leighton and Hoffner

New trails are being blazed by members of Fedigan Hall. The sunny afternoons that we have had of late have found DICE AMBROSE, LEO DODD, DAN STONE, JIM STEPHANO and BUZZ WALTJEN making a devious way back into Wayne to dunk their respective forms into the waters of Martin's Dam Swimming Club. The set-up is complete even to a small representation of Rosemont Queens who park themselves on one of the more distant floats. AMBROSE (never known before to possess any swimming talent) can now make the float without coming up for air.

The Sophomore Class of Immaculata threw one of its occasional parties and "get-acquainted" affairs last Saturday. BOB FUREY led a small contingent from Villanova up to Norristown, where the affair was held. JOHN SIANO was there. He confined his activities to a nearby driving range for the early part of the evening, but found someone who would listen to him and spent the rest of the evening describing the intricacies of the "T" formation to her.

The boys left at a respectable hour with heartfelt thanks to FUREY for the well-filled ice-box and the spaciousness of the adjoining garden.

Of late we've noticed that the school has persuaded more water to run through the pipes at the same time. Makes drinking more than a vacuum demonstration. This single stroke of genius is no doubt in keeping with a move by the administration to prove to the students that water is better than beer.

JOE BERGMAIER'S G. I. Taxi service is now employing young men to run behind the car to pick up loose hex nuts which the auto seems to be losing with amazing rapidity. If these breakdowns keep up, WALT WILKS and JOE McKEEVER will have to get up in the middle of the night to get to school.

Our congratulations to GEORGE SABO, who on May 27 was notified that his wife presented him with a 6½-pound son. BOB POPE, PAUL SKOPIC and AL HUELSENBECK helped him to celebrate the event.

Congrats also to GEORGE PAVALKO, whose wife presented him with a girl.

ED SULLIVAN is making his bid for glory this week-end by supplying transportation for some of Roseland's finest to Ocean City.

WILL MOLNAR is attributing his good marks to the fact that he does his studying on a particular front porch in Mayfair. When we do our studying out there we get bitten by the mosquitoes. What's he got besides citronella?

This will be our last affront to a reader's intelligence for this school year. If we're lucky we'll be back here next year and we're anxious to see if EMMANUEL RUBIN will still be talking to Dr. Haenisch after Chem. lecture; if BUCKY COLEMAN will still be taking his English course down Drexel way; if BILL MUNDY will still be tossing the coin to decide between Bobby and Rosy; if SAM CANNING will still spend his free time admiring the scenery upon the Chestnut Hill campus; if GERRY MAUER will win a new car after devouring all that Phillip's soup.

The Top Hatter
Final Curtain
By F. ANTHONY HOMANN '50

In reviewing the features of the past season, it is interesting to consider the many outstanding musical and theatrical events which took place in Philadelphia. This season has been outstanding in many respects, both in quantity and in quality of the concert and theatre concert.

Eugene Ormandy led the Philadelphia Orchestra through a season which featured many brilliant soloists and conductors, and through a program which struck an admirable balance between standard orchestral offerings, contemporary compositions, and little known works from the past. Eugene List, Claudio Arrau, William Kapell, and Rudolph Serkin were some of the pianists featured, while Gregor Piatiagorsky, violoncellist, William Kincaid, flutist, and Zino Francescatti, violinist were among the other guest soloists.

On the conductor's stand, Igor Stravinsky, George Szell, Alexander Hilleberg, Dimitri Mitropoulos, and Bruno Walter all made appearances. Possibly the most disappointing was Mitropoulos, vibrant director of the Robin Hood Dell concerts. In playing the Mahler Symphony No. 4, he selected a work which was virtually unknown, as well as unappreciated. The remainder of his program seemed listless, though well played, and it was difficult to appreciate the artistic ability displayed. Stravinsky was featured in a program of his own works, which he presented very convincingly. The Orchestra patrons enjoyed a season which, if it was not outstanding, was nevertheless well filled with solid musical fare.

STAGE

Theatre-goers likewise enjoyed a good season. Two top-notch musical comedies, "Finian's Rainbow" and "Brigadoon," opened here before beginning what may prove to be lengthy Broadway engagements; while such shows as "Up in Central Park," "The Student Prince" and other such favorites were featured in the local theatres.

Drama also had its moments this season. "State of the Union," starring Henry O'Neil and "Cyrano de Bergerac" with Jose Ferrer, were tremendously successful and popular with those who were fortunate enough to get tickets for them. Ruth Draper, Maurice Chevalier and Elizabeth Bergner all appeared on Philadelphia stages doing sketches. This idea of one person monopolizing a theatre seems to be growing in popularity, quite possibly to the detriment of the legitimate theatre.

"Henry V," the British movie production of Shakespeare's drama, which starred Laurence Olivier, scored a decided success. The production proved that Shakespeare could be entertainingly made into movies without distorting the original play. "Henry V" had all the pageantry, all the color and drama Shakespeare would have had, were that venerable playwright alive today. William Walton composed a musical score which in parts was brilliantly fascinating.

All Stops To Paoli
By A. J. MULLEN

Peering over the parapet behind which we sought cover during the trying times of Junior week, and the much contested Sophomore elections, we found the scene much quieter and felt that at least one last trip to Paoli might be in order before the term closed.

The day hops, a harried lot at best, are looking their "worn out" worst. Make up work and study for term exams have dimmed their eyes and dulled their brains until there is little to identify them as their former selves save the same clothes.

As to the resident students, they have retired into their own efficient turtle shells, the dorms, and little is left protruding but an occassional head.

In this cloistered and studious atmosphere the social lions are still striving mightily to retain their professional standing. The lady killers, the sports maniacs, and the ardent card players all manage by fair means or otherwise to follow their own particular bent though it is notable that all formal ex-curricular activities have come to a standstill.

"Don's" in Yeadon, the poor man's Stork Club, is still the haunt of a number of local swains. And Market Street in Philadelphia is not without the patronage of Villanovans. (We've been trying to tell you fellows that there are prettier girls out here on the Main Line).

For those who merely want to keep in condition for the time when school ceases up, there is always the Greek's and the Hamburger Hearth. It has been said that the Greek's is the only place that ever considered the Pie Shop as serious competition. Drop in some time and you'll know why. Hamburg Hearth is often known as the only indoor open air grille.

So our dime store Don Juans carry on. The girls from the nearby schools have learned long ago that they are harmless and now the fellows seek vainly for new ones who don't know them. Don't worry boys, September is not far off. That means a new semester, a new crop of girls, and the same old subjects.

Augustinian Chapter to Meet For Elections

Provincial To Be Chosen and Changes Due in St. Thomas of Villanova Province

On June 23d, the Provincial Chapter of the Province of St. Thomas of Villanova, will convene at Villanova. Its purpose will be to elect the Prior Provincial and the four Definitors, who act as an advisory council to the Provincial.

The chapter is held every three years, and is attended by all Priors and representatives of the Reverend Fathers of the province.

Very Rev. Mortimer A. Sullivan, O.S.A., is the present Prior General. He has held the office since 1944, and the voting does not preclude his reelection. The term of office is three years.

After election of the Provincial and the Definitory, the required changes of Priors and other priests will be made. It is certain that a number of priests of the province will be selected to join the faculty at the New Merrimack College, in Massachusetts.

The Province of St. Thomas of Villanova covers the eastern United States, and its center is at Villanova, Pa. Included in the province are numerous parishes, mainly scattered through Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, and other states, and several preparatory schools, academies, and two colleges.

ASCE Has Movies, Lecture at Smoker

Mr. Charles B. Ruckdeschel, an engineer of the Hercules Powder Company, gave a very interesting talk on "Caissons," their types and uses last Tuesday evening, May 27, at the A.S.C.E. smoker. His talk centered about the proper uses of the three general types of caissons, Box caissons, Open caissons and Compressed Air caissons. He Compressed Air caissons. He also pointed out specific cases where each type caisson would be used, and the results which would be obtained.

Most interesting was the explanation of compression and decompression chambers, and the effects of high pressures on a man working in a caisson under the ground or river. Sudden changes of pressure cause "caisson disease" whose symptoms are pains in the muscles and joints, deafness and fainting.

In conclusion, Mr. Ruckdeschel emphasized the tremendous importance of practical experience in the field.

A fairly humorous skit on the field work of Civil Engineering entitled "Diverted Life Through an Inverted Scope" was presented by a group of students headed by Gerry Mauer. Also included in the cast were Dick Devine, Ed Walsh, Bob Forrest, Newt Ward and Ed Mazurkiewicz.

KEEP SUPPLIED WITH SCHOOL TICKETS
GOOD ON BUSES AND RAIL CARS UNTIL USED
5c a Ride, including Special Free Transfers. Obtain Identification Cards at School Office.
RED ARROW LINES
Philadelphia Suburban Transportation Co.

ONCE OVER and a clean shave!
3 MONTHS SHAVING 25¢
Marlin HIGH SPEED BLADES
GUARANTEED BY THE MARLIN FIREARMS COMPANY
Fine Guns Since 1870

HART & HALL, INC.
825 LANCASTER PIKE
General Insurance

FULL DRESS - TUXEDOS
Cutaways and Shoes For Hire
Summer Formal outfits a specialty
Outfit your entire group for Weddings, Parochial Graduations Etc.
IRVIN STERN
24 W. STATE ST. - MEDIA 0310
Established 1900

For Expert Convenient Attention
SERVICE IS OUR FIRST THOUGHT
The Campus Barber Shop
First Class Work
Popular Prices

JEANNETT'S
FLOWER SHOP
Floral Ideas for All Occasions
SPECIALIZING IN CORSAGES
Member Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association
823 LANCASTER AVE.
BRYN MAWR
BRYN MAWR 570

College Tailor
Coladonato Tailor Shop, Inc.
2 ARTHUR ROAD
Rosemont, Penna.
Bryn Mawr 1266
We do adjustments the way you want them.
Work and Service—Good
Prices Reasonable
Why Walk? Clothes Picked Up at Pie Shop Daily!

Let's Get together
PHILIP MORRIS
is so much better to smoke!
"It's always fair weather when good fellows get together" . . . with PHILIP MORRIS!
It's true . . . if every smoker knew what PHILIP MORRIS smokers know . . . they'd ALL change to PHILIP MORRIS.
Yes, the PHILIP MORRIS smoker really gets what other smokers only hope to get . . . PERFECT SMOKING PLEASURE.
So for perfect smoking pleasure . . . try a pack today!
A favorite with Young People from coast to coast
Everywhere it goes the assurance of Beech-Nut for fine flavor goes with it
Beech-Nut Gum
CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS
ALWAYS BETTER—BETTER ALL WAYS

VILLANOVAN SPORTS

Tuesday, June 3, 1947 Page Five

Villanova Finishes 7th in Field of 44 at IC4A Meet

Guida and Ross Lead Teammates to Best IC4A Showing in Villanova History

Villanova locked the door on a very successful track season last Saturday, when Coach "Jumbo" Elliott's thinclads finished seventh with 12 points in a field of 44 colleges, in the 71st annual IC4A outdoor championships at Penn's Franklin Field. NYU, the pre-meet favorite, checked in with 36 points to win the team title.

Leading the Wildcats to their best IC4A showing in history were the apparently invincible quarter-miler, George Guida, and a teammate who seems destined to cause an equal amount of concern among milers, Browning Ross.

Guida Wins 440

Guida, after posting the best 440 time in the heats on Friday, showed even greater superiority when he raced to an eight-yard victory over his five finalist rivals in the amazing time of 47.5 seconds. His winning time on Friday had been 48.3. Later, George tried to run the 220 with the same effect, but his 220 efforts produced only a third place behind Manhattan's Joe Cianciabella, whom he had previously beaten at that distance, and Michigan State's Bob Schepers.

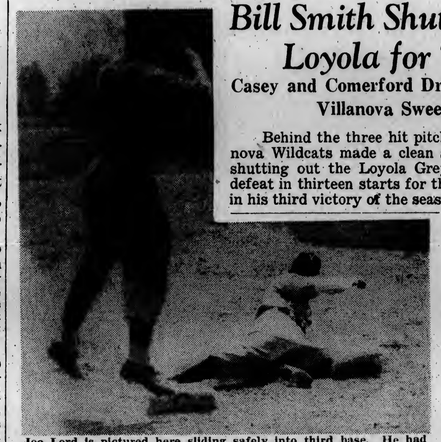
Ross won the hearts of the fans in the mile run when his blazing "kick" finish carried him from fifth place to second and within 15 yards of Penn State's Gerry Karver, who breasted the tape in 4:12.7. Browning was clocked unofficially in 4:15.8 to better his recently established school record of 4:19.

This represented the extent of Villanova's scoring, but there were strong evidences of power displayed by the eight other Wildcat representatives. The mile relay team, running without Guida, fell before the axe when they drew the "wrong" one of two qualifying

TRACK Continued on Page Six

Casey, Helms Win Golf Tourney's Semi-Finals

In the semi-final matches held last week as the Main Line golf course, Bob Casey defeated Bob Murray in 18 holes while Harry Helms beat Bob McMonicle 2 up.



As has been the rule during the whole tournament, the A. M. match between Casey and Murray was by far the most exciting. Murray gained a short-lived lead on the third hole by virtue of a birdie 3. Casey came right back to win the next two holes, getting a par 5 on the 4th and birdie 3 on the 5th hole. Murray won the 6th hole but after halving the 7th, Casey parred both the 8th and 9th hole to finish the first nine with a two hole edge. A par on the 11th hole increased this margin but then Bob Murray's putter turned into a magic wand as he parred three holes in a row to tie the match going into the 15th hole.

Casey took a par 4 on the 400 yard 15th to lead 1 up with two holes to play. Both players parred the 16th hole but when Casey's drive went into the trap on the

CASEY Continued on Page Six

Bob Casey, who last week defeated Bob Murray in one of the tournament's most exciting matches.

Joe Lord is pictured here sliding safely into third base. He had dashed all the way from first when the catcher threw wild.

Bill Smith Shuts Out Loyola for Third Win 4-0

Casey and Comerford Drive in 3 of the 4 Runs as Villanova Sweeps Home Series

Behind the three hit pitching of Billy Smith, The Villanova Wildcats made a clean sweep of their home series by shutting out the Loyola Greyhounds, 4-0. It was the first defeat in thirteen starts for the boys from Baltimore. Smith, in his third victory of the season, had plenty of support from the big bats of Dan Casey and Charlie Comerford.

Villanova threatened early as Dan Casey, the first man up, dumped a Texas-league single into left field. He reached second as Al Litwa grounded out, and moved to third on an infield single by Norm Kline. The rally died, however, as Frank O'Neill took a third strike and Casey was run down between third and home.

Lind led off Loyola's half of the second inning with a line drive into right center, but Smitty buckled down, forcing Boone to line out, and getting the next two men on strikes. The 'Cats also threatened again in their half of the inning, but a snappy double play poured water on the rally.

Price Scores First

Villanova scored its first run in the fourth on a single, a walk, and two errors. Price was safe on an error by Schock at first, D'Ambrosio walked, and Smith got on through the shortstop's error to load the bases. The stage was now set for Dan Casey's third consecutive hit, a single into left field that scored Price from third. The second run came across in the sixth, when Polidor scored from third on a wild pitch. He had been sent in to run for D'Ambrosio who was hurt sliding into second.

Two Runs in Seventh

Villanova's big inning, however, came in the seventh. Norm Kline opened by drawing a pass; O'Neill followed by beating out a bunt; and Blong came right back with another safe bunt to load the bases. At this stage, Mr. Roche left the game to be replaced by left-hander Carroll. To hit against the portsider, Coach Weinert sent right-handed hitter Charlie Comerford in for Fred Price. The strategy paid off, for Comerford smashed a solid line drive single into left-field to score both Kline and O'Neill, with the third and fourth runs.

That was all the scoring for Villanova, but it was more than enough as Bill Smith continued to remain invincible master of Loyola's batters. He ran into a little difficulty in the top half of the ninth when Loyola's big third baseman, Lind, opened with a booming triple deep into center field. Smith, however, got Boone and Schock to pop up to the infield, and Amer lined out to third to end the game.

In winning his third game Bill Smith pitched the best game of the whole season.

Loyola	R	H	O	A	E
Squirier, lf.	0	1	1	1	0
Carmody ss.	0	0	2	2	1
Whalen, 2b.	0	0	0	3	0
Lind, 3b.	0	2	2	2	0
Boone, rf.	0	0	0	0	0
Schock, 1b.	0	0	9	0	1
Amer, cf.	0	0	2	0	0
Wintz, c.	0	0	8	0	0
Roche, p.	0	0	0	1	1
Carroll, p.	0	0	0	1	0
Totals	0	3	24	10	3

Villanova	R	H	O	A	E
Casey, lf.	0	3	0	0	0
Litwa, cf.	0	1	3	0	0
Kline, 3b.	1	2	3	1	0
O'Neill, c.	1	1	9	0	0
Blong, rf.	0	1	0	0	0
Price, 1b.	1	1	7	0	0
Comerford, 1b.	0	1	1	0	0
Lord, 2b.	0	0	2	2	1
D'Ambrosio, ss.	0	0	0	2	0
Warner, ss.	0	0	1	0	0
Smith, p.	0	0	0	2	0
zPolidor	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	4	10	26	5	1

z—Ran for D'Ambrosio in 6th.

Team Falls To Penn State; Defeats Lehigh in Finale

'Cats Lose Thriller as Price Hits Longest Home Run Seen at Penn State in 23 Years

Penn State beat the Villanova Wildcats, 9 to 8, on Friday in a thrill-packed game at Penn State. It was a game filled with hits, errors, runs and spectacular plays. Jigger Donahue started on the mound for Villanova and Gehrett for Penn State.

'Cats Take Lead

The 'Cats got off to a one-run lead in the second inning on a double by Fred Price and a double by Lord. State tied it up in their half on two singles, a walk and a hit batsman. In the third inning Casey singled and Kline singled. Then John Blong powered a 400-foot home run, driving in Casey and Kline. O'Neill singled to left and Price followed with another tremendous home run—this one over the right-field fence.

Penn State, however, came right back and scored four in the last half of the third to make it six for Villanova and five for State. Penn State scored a run in the fifth and, after loading the bases, Donahue was relieved by Bob Green, who came in and halted the rally. At this point the score was tied at 6-to-6.

Penn State then scored two more runs on a walk, an error by Kline, an error by D'Ambrosio and a single. There was no scoring by either side in the seventh inning.

Casey Triples

Price started the eighth by walking and Lord followed suit. Pinch hitter Polidor was called out on strikes, and both he and Bobby Green were evicted from the game for arguing too strenuously with the umpire. After the fracas, Dan Casey stepped up and drove one over the right-fielder's head for a sure triple. Price and Lord scored easily, but Casey was nipped trying to stretch his triple into a home run.

With the game all tied up at eight apiece, Major McDonnell took over the pitching chores and retired the side without any damage in the last of the eighth. In the ninth Villanova failed to score. McDonnell then unfortunately hit the first batter and though he retired the next two men in order, pinch hitter Benjish came up and took the game for Penn State with a

BASEBALL Continued on Page Six

Alumni Cops 2nd Place in League

With only one more week to go in the Intramural Softball League, Austin Hall is still leading the league. Alumni Hall won five of the six games played last week and pulled itself up into second place.

The biggest upset of the season was turned in last Monday night by Mendel when they dumped previously undefeated Austin, 6 to 3. Les Obst pitched a beautiful game for Mendel, allowing only two hits, both of them singles. He missed his shutout in the fourth when three runs came in as a result of four errors by the first-baseman. Obst helped his own cause by slamming a home run over the center field shack in the seventh inning.

Alumni Downs Doms

In the other game on Monday night Alumni nosed out the Doms, 5 to 4, in a close one. The game was tied at 4-4 going into the seventh inning when Griffiin and McCluskey punched out singles to bring in one run. In the last half of the inning DiGiroiamo singled to start a rally, but a quick double play ended the game.

Tuesday night brought a 7-to-7 tie in the Mendel-Fedigan clash. Pitcher Strobel, the Fedigan ace, had a bad night and issued a grand total of 15 walks in six innings. On the other side, the Mendel team made seven errors to even it up. At the end of the fifth frame Fedigan was ahead by a 7-to-2 score, but Mendel garnered five runs in the last two innings to tie the game up. Petti hit the only home run of the game with one on in the third. The game will be replayed later on in the season if possible.

At the same time, on the Austin diamond, Alumni knocked out eleven hits for eleven runs in trimming

ALUMNI Continued on Page Six

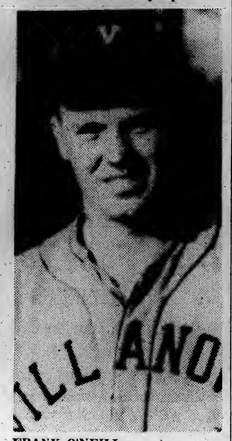
They Made Villanova History

BROWNIE ROSS—
He broke the school record with a 4:16 mile.

JOE LORD—
He was the state's high scorer for the season with 438 points.

BUCKY COLEMAN—
He broke the school pole vault record with a 13 foot jump.

Charlie O'Malley, Villanova's leading hitter of the season, shakes the hand of Bobby Green after his recent win over Georgetown.



GEORGE GUIDA—
He broke all sorts of records besides being chosen the outstanding athlete in the school.

BOB POLIDOR—
He equalled the nation's record with a 109 yard run.

JOE ROGERS—
He led the nation in ground gaining in the middle of the season.

FRANK O'NEILL—
He led the baseball team to 13 victories.

Track

Continued from Page Five

heats on Friday. Running with Joe McCreary, Gene Kelly, Dick Muscelli and Ed Fitzgerald in that order, the 'Cats bettered all previous Villanova mile-relay records when they turned in a 3:16.9 time.

McCreary Leads First Leg

In the first heat Joe McCreary got the Main Liners off to a good start, handing Gene Kelly a slim lead at the first exchange, but Kelly, although turning in an excellent quarter-mile, lost the lead and gave Muscelli the baton in fifth place. Dick, running evenly, couldn't make up any ground before passing to Fitzgerald. Ed, running against such stalwarts as Hammack, Gilhooley and McDonnell, did well to move the Blue and White into fourth place.

Although this quartet was not honored in any way, its performance was certainly deserving of some credit. Running with three Freshmen and one Sophomore, it served notice of future greatness, and these runners should some day share the glory of their more illustrious teammates. McCreary's showing was especially gratifying. The ex-West Catholic lad turned in a 48:5 quarter-mile leg.

Dave Williams and George Thompson, our two-mile runners, came in eighth and eleventh, respectively, in a large field that was led by Curtis Stone, of Penn State, in the record-breaking time of 9:11.8. Both Williams and Thompson bettered previous personal marks for this year with clockings of 9:34 and 9:38, respectively.

Guida Beats Pearman

Guida's 440 victory was a beauty to watch. Drawing the outside lane, and standing in a staggered position, George rocketed off the first turn even with Fordham's Sophomore sensation Hal McDonnell, who was on the pole. Guida quickly cut across the cinders to wrest the pole and lead from McDonnell. From that point on no one even came close, although Jeff Kirk, of Penn, challenged for a moment on the final turn, and NYU's Reggie Pearman kicked from sixth to third place in the home stretch. Jack Hammack, of Army, was runner-up, the leader of a very closely grouped quintet of Guida "followers."

Ross ran a "heady" race in capturing second place in the mile. Starting slowly, the mite miler was well back at the gun, but had eased himself into fifth place by the quarter-mile mark. He kept this position for the most part of the next two quarters, allowing Columbia's Berger, Michigan State's Dianetti and Karver to battle it out alternately for the lead. With two Syracuse boys ahead of him, Neil Pratt, Dick Church and Ed Walsh, of Manhattan, directly in front of him in fourth place, Ross's chances looked bad.

But the Woodbury wonder slipped past Walsh at the first turn of the gun lap and moved into a bid on the back stretch. Here Walsh made his move and surged into second place. Brownie measured his rivals while passing Church, of Syracuse, to put himself into a challenging fourth place.

At this point Karver was beyond being caught, but the others—Pratt first, then Walsh, felt the sting of the now famed Ross "kick" finish. The little one nipped the green-clad Manhattan miler just a few steps from the finish to mark the second time he has beaten the fore mer IC4A mile king.

Baseball

Continued from Page Five

double to right center which scored the winning run.

LEHIGH GAME

Stan Chojnacki pitched Villanova to its thirteenth victory of the season and his fifth victory of the season as he gave up seven hits, and struck out 10, to beat Lehigh, 2 to 1. Price scored both runs.

Price started the second inning with a single to right. He went to second on Lord's grounder to the third-baseman. Polidor then singled to left and Price held up at third. He scored on D'Ambrosio's long fly.

Price Scores Again

In the sixth Price again led off with a single. He advanced to second on Lord's bunt. Polidor then grounded out to short, Price going to third. D'Ambrosio singled to left, scoring Price with the winning run.

This closed Villanova's season with a record of 13 wins and five losses. Individual honors for the season were gained by Charley O'Malley, who led the team with a .583 batting average; Stan Chojnacki, who won the most games; Frank O'Neill, Al Litwa and Dan Casey, who banged out the most hits.

Penn State Game

	ab.	r.	h.	sb.	po.	a.	e.
Casey, lf	5	1	3	1	2	0	0
Litwa, cf	5	0	1	0	0	0	0
Kline, 3b	4	1	1	0	3	3	1
O'Neill, c	5	1	1	0	7	2	0
Blong, rf	4	1	1	0	1	0	1
Price, 1b	3	3	2	0	8	0	0
Lord, 2b	1	1	1	1	3	0	0
D'Ambrosio, ss.	2	0	0	0	2	3	0
Donahue, p	2	0	0	0	0	0	0
Green, p	1	0	0	0	0	0	0
a-McDonnell, p	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
b-Polidor	1	0	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	33	8	10	2	26	8	2

a-McDonnell, losing pitcher.
b-Hit for Green.

Two-base hit: Price. Three-base hit: Casey. Home runs: Price and Blong.

Lehigh Game

	ab.	r.	h.	sb.	po.	a.	e.
Casey, lf	3	0	0	0	1	0	0
Smith, lf	2	0	1	0	0	0	0
Kline, 3b	5	0	0	0	3	0	0
Blong, rf	4	0	1	1	2	0	0
O'Neill, c	4	0	0	0	0	0	1
O'Malley, c	0	0	0	0	4	0	0
Price, 1b	3	2	2	0	1	1	0
Price, 1b	3	2	2	0	1	1	0
Comerford, 1b	1	0	0	0	1	0	0
Lord, 2b	3	0	1	0	2	0	0
Polidor, cf	4	0	1	0	2	0	1
D'Ambrosio, ss	4	0	1	1	1	3	0
Chojnacki, p	1	0	0	0	2	0	0
Totals	34	2	7	2	27	5	2

Alumni

Continued from Page Five

the Barracks, 11 to 6. Alumni led all the way and it was never close. Highlighting this game was O'Neil's fourth-inning double with the bases loaded and two out.

Alumni Wins Fifth Straight

Alumni won its fifth game in a row on Wednesday night, trouncing Mendel by an 11-to-3 score. After leading by two runs going into the third, Mendel lost all life and wound up on the short end. Griffin pitched a neat four-hitter for Alumni. Mendel made five errors to bring their two-evening total to 12. Cussen hit a home run that bounced over the center field barrier in the sixth for Mendel.

While this slaughter was going on, over on Austin field, Strobel pitched a two-hit shutout as Fedigan blanked the Barracks, 6 to 0. He faced only 24 men and had a no-hitter until the fifth when Tonetti opened up the inning with a single. It was a tight game up to the fifth when Fedigan began to score. Filpelli led the Fedigan attack, getting three for four.

INTRAMURAL SOFTBALL LEAGUE STANDINGS

	W.	L.	T.
Austin	4	1	0
Alumni	5	2	0
Fedigan	2	2	1
Doms	2	3	0
Barracks	2	4	0
Mendel	2	5	1

Don't worry if your average is low
And if your A's are few,
Remember that mighty oak
Was once a nut like you.
Illinois Tech.

Casey

Continued from Page Five

18th Murray was able to tie the match with a par.

On the 19th hole, two long wood shots followed up by a chip shot which landed 3 feet away from the pin gave Casey the match. Murray bogied this hole.

In the afternoon match, Harry Helms nearly turned the match into a lopsided victory by winning 5 of the first nine holes, McMonicle's putting accuracy increased greatly on the back nine but the lead piled up by Helms on the front nine proved too great for him.

Because the Remy — Hittinger match has been postponed for the past three weeks because of inclement weather, another semi-final round will be played this week.

ASME Completes Activities With Group Elections

Elections and plans for next year were the order of the day at a recent meeting of the student branch of the A.S.M.E. Members of the active engineering group elected Joseph Beals, Chairman; Richard Shinners, Vice-Chairman and Louis Alvare, Secretary.

The group decided that next fall they will conduct a 'grease dance' along with a smoker to inculcate interest in the organization. The dates for the affairs have not been set, but will be decided at the next meeting of the group.

Of interest to engineers, is the 'grease dance' which will be open to all. The affair will be staged in the basement of Mendel Hall, and the attire for the affair will be coveralls and slacks. Engineers and their dates will dance to the music of a popular band to be announced later.

New

Continued from Page One

are included in this rejuvenating plan and there is a new combination disc and spindle sander, a belt sander and a Boise-Craneband saw for the Pattern Shop. The old belt-driven bench lathes have been converted to wood-turning lathes and installed in the wood-working shop.

Revised Course Made Possible

In conjunction with all the changes, Mr. William Gorman, Instructor of Mechanical Engineering, has announced that the shop will be used in a revised course—Manufacturing Processes. The course will cover all the phases of the various manufacturing processes. Motion pictures, lectures and demonstrations will be co-ordinated in its presentation. It will be a two-semester Sophomore course, and will include one hour of lecture and three hours of laboratory work.

The first semester will cover Pattern Design and Foundry Practice; Machine and Welding Processes will be presented in the second semester.

The course is designed to prepare the students for engineering practices, and not to give them vocational training. The students will be required to complete several projects in all phases of the course.

Daughter: "Just think the silk in this dress came from an insignificant little worm."

Mother: "Of all things! There no way to talk about your fath
Auburn Plainsma

BLUEMONT
LAUNDERERS and DRY CLEANERS
COLLECTIONS and DELIVERIES
MONDAY, WEDNESDAY, FRIDAY
INQUIRE AT THE PIE SHOP

An invitation to all Villanovans
FAMOUS ITALIAN TOMATO PIES
Baked Before Your Eyes
JOHNNY & DINGERS
Prepared to serve you Steak Sandwiches
Hogies
County Line and Chestnut Ave.
Ardmore, Pa. Ard 9430

We Thank All VILLANOVANS
For Their Kind Patronage.
We Wish Each of You a
Happy Summer Vacation.
The MANLY Store
835 Lancaster Ave.
Bryn Mawr
Campus Representative—NICK MARZIANI

Phone Bryn Mawr 2422
THE BOUQUET SHOP
Roberts Rd. & Lane Ave.
BRYN MAWR, PA.
-:- FLOWERS BY WIRE -:-

McGregor Sportswear
Van Heusen Shirts
Hickok Belts
Holeproof Socks
Botany Ties
Arthur Allen Clothes
Douglas Shoes
You can buy them all — and many other famous brands at the Main Line's most modern store for Men and Boys.
SPRITZLER'S
47 W. Lancaster Ave
Ardmore
Open Fri. & Sat. Eve's
PARKING IN REAR

ATLANTIC STEEL PRODUCTS CO.
1330 N. 30th ST.
PHILA., PA.
"Steel of every description from stock"
PO 5-4100 PO 5-4101

a hot tip on your graduation gift!
A real fun-maker! Capitol's Luxury Portable Phonograph is completely different ...because it plays ANYWHERE electronically. That means rich, really smooth tones, just like you get from your big radio. Plays on electric current (plug in) or on its own battery (wind up)—both ways through the tubes! Swell for the beach...for weekends away...for the mountains.
AT ANY CAPITOL DEALER.
now!

Capitol LUXURY PORTABLE

ICE Aristocrat CREAM
PHILA. DAIRY PRODUCTS CO.
4th & Poplar Sts., Phila., Pa.

WEDNESDAY TO 9 P. M.
All Year 'Round
Worsted Suits
Styled in smart Single and Double Breasted models. These are suits that Need No Sales Promotion
but are good honest values for your money.
Priced at $39.50
$41.50
$44.50
Lord and Lord
"The Upstairs Store for Men"
1211 CHESTNUT ST. 2ND Floor

THE TEAMWORK behind your TELEPHONE

When you lift the receiver, the telephone company doesn't know whether you want to call around the corner . . . or around the world. It must be ready to fill your order, either way.

To do this takes teamwork . . . the teamwork of thousands and thousands of individuals, the teamwork of many communications organizations.

The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania is one of 21 operating companies working together in the Bell System.

The Long Lines Division of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company provides, maintains, and operates facilities for handling most of your long distance calls.

In addition, the wires of more than 6,000 independent telephone companies connect with those of the Bell System . . . so that any one of this nation's 30 million telephones can be reached quickly and efficiently.

This, we think you'll agree, is teamwork at its peak.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Gordon

Continued from Page One

the "Your" United Seniors Party nominated Joe Beals for the first post and Tom Kiely for the latter.

For the new post of Alumni Representative, which was explained in an address by William Friel, 3d, Gene Ruane was nominated by the United Seniors Party, while Bob Manske was put up by the Popular Party.

Of the 16 men nominated for Student Council positions six will be elected. The entire nomination card is as follows:

President
Andy Gordon, Popular Party
Carl Yeager, Your United Senior Party
Matt Kearney, unaffiliated

Vice President
Pete Pallitto, Popular Party
Joe Ringlestein, Your United Senior Party

Secretary
Joe Beals, United
Tony Cocco, Popular

Treasurer
Frank Nugent, Popular
Tom Kiely, United

Student Council

C.&F.:
Robert O'Connor, United
Bernard Cleary, Popular
Joe [illegible]ley, United

Engineering:
John Brennan, Popular
James Feeney, Popular
To[illegible]ary, United W[illegible]m Brennan, United

Arts:
Nicholas Albano, United
Eamon Walsh, Popular
John McDermott, unaffiliated

Education:
Bob Polidor, Popular
William Carlin, unaffiliated

Alumni Rep.
Gene Ruane, United
Bob Manske, Popular

MATT KEARNEY: "I consider the election not as party against party, but a move to put the men in office who will best serve our Senior Class. I only ask that all the Seniors weigh carefully the capabilities of each candidate for each position individually, and that each Senior exercise his right to vote sensibly."

ANDY GORDON: "I would like to thank you for the nomination, and, if I am successful, I promise to do everything in my power to give the class of '48 everything, they so richly deserve."

CARL YEAGER: " 'Your' Senior Party is truly 'your' party—representing day-hops and residents, and composed of competent men. 'Your' Party knows what Villanova was, is, and should be, and will work for better school spirit, true representation, more social affairs and intramural activities; and, finally, a Senior Prom—a paragon among Villanova dances."

The Law

Continued From Page Two

he receives that; if he clears $1,000 for the year, he should consider himself a success.

For the established lawyer, income rates rank with the highest of all professions, and it is an established fact that of all business men receiving $5000 or more per year, no less than 80% had extensive law training.

Population	Earnings
Small towns	$2,600
30,000-100,000	5,000
100,000-250,000	4,500
250,000—up	6,300

Average earnings rise from $1,000 the first year, up at the rate of about $600 per year; 2d year—$1,600, 3rd year—$$2,100; 4th—$2,500; 5th—$3,000; 6th—$3,600; 7th—$4,400; 8th—$5,000; 9th—10th—5,500, and so on up.

Experience overshadows sheer ability in drawing power; an established name is the greatest single determination of income.

All in all, income rates in the legal profession are substantial, ranking among the highest (Medicine, Accounting, etc.). It is a splendid field for the established, a worthwhile field for the promising newcomer.

For Further Information write: (Your State Bar Association).

COPY BASKET

That reminds me of the pilot who took some maple syrup in his plane in case of a pancake landing.

• • •

There is always the touching tale of the luncheon scene in the Brooklyn flat. The 4-year-old son: "Mommy, can I ylease have some ice cream?"
"Mommy, can I please have some beer."

Northeastern News.

TRIPLE SMOKING PLEASURE

LLOYD MANGRUM
U. S. NATIONAL OPEN CHAMPION

A ALWAYS MILDER

B BETTER TASTING

C COOLER SMOKING

Straight to the pin, Lloyd THEY SATISFY

ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD

ALL OVER AMERICA—CHESTERFIELD IS TOPS!

Copyright 1947, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Volume 22

Summer Issue

August 5, 1947

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 22—Summer Issue | VILLANOVA. PA. | Tuesday, Aug. 5, 1947

BIG RALLY AND TRIP SET FOR ARMY GAME

Student Council Sponsors Affair

FIREWORKS, BAND; HORSEPLAY LISTED

We're out to maul the mule on September 25. A gigantic pep rally will be staged on the campus by the students of Villanova College. It's the pre-Army game send-off for our boys in the blue and white. All students are invited to be present to lend vigorous support to the shenanagins that are planned.

The entire affair is a student sponsored project. It is to be financed by the student body. Therefore, the student council has asked every student to contribute twenty-five cents in order to cover the expenses which will be incurred.

The scene of the "big doings" will be the Goodreau stadium, and everyone can expect plenty of things to happen . . . . exciting things. The curtain goes up at 8:30 P. M., when the Villanova band attired in new finery will march upon the field. Stirring marches, plenty of fanfare, and all-around hulabalioo is being planned.

Unusual Features in Store

Perhaps you might be interested in some of the things that the "master minds" of the rally committee have planned for the event. Well, for one thing sometime during the evening don't be shocked if you see a hearse jaunting across the field to cart off the old dead Army mule. Modern design has not permitted us to burn him in effigy. This time he'll be shot!

All the big sports mentors from the Philadelphia area have been invited to attend. The impressive list includes such names as Byron Saam, Tom Moorhead, Bill Sears and Jack Dempsey. There is to b a raffle conducted for the freshmen alone. The freshman with the lucky number will receive a wonderful prize. This is a special service the

(Continued on Page 4)

Jordan Olivar and Earl Blake prepare teams for traditional battle at Michie Stadium, Sept. 27.

VILLANOVA VS ARMY

Wildcat Special Will Leave Here Sept. 27

All the followers of the "Wildcats" are invited to board "The Wildcat Special" on September 27th. The season's first football special under the sponsorship of the Student Council and the Villanova Club of Philadelphia will depart at 8.20 A. M. (EDT) on the day of the game from Broad Street Station. The price of the Special including train fare and ticket to the game will be $9.75.

The special train affords all a method of transportation direct to West Point and assures all who board "The Wildcat Special" a reserved ticket to the game. Since tickets are scarce, the trip is a positive way of insuring a seat at the traditional classic.

"THE WILDCAT SPECIAL" TRAIN
Via Pennsylvania Railroad and New York Central Railroad (DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME)

Leave Philadelphia
Broad Street Station . . 8.20 A. M.
Pennsylvania Station
(30th St.) . . . . . 8.24 A. M.
North Philadelphia . . 8.33 A. M.
RETURNING
Leave West Point . . . . 6.00 P. M.

Only $9.75

for Round Trip Rail Ticket in Coaches and Reserved Seat at Michie Stadium. Including Taxes.

Train Will Carry Diners

The price of $9.75 includes train fare ($6.15 tax incl.) and a reserved ticket ($3.60 tax incl.) This does not include meals; however there will be diners on the train to satisfy all appetites. After the game the train will leave West Point, N. Y. and return to Philadelphia.

All interested in the trip are asked to fill in the blank below

(Continued on Page 4)

RALLY CONTRIBUTION

I, ... as a loyal supporter of the Wildcats hereby contribute $..... to the Rally fund as my share in helping to support it to the fullest extent. I understand that this is ENTIRELY A STUDENT FUNCTION.

Send contributions to Army Trip Committee, Box 1, Villanova College, Villanova, Pa.

Scores of Other Army-'Cat Tilts

	V	A
1908	0	25
1910	0	13
1913	0	0
1914	0	41
1915	16	13
1916	7	69
1917	7	21
1919	0	62
1921	0	49
1943	0	27
1944	0	83
1945	0	54
1946	0	35
	30	492

1 win, 11 losses, 1 tie.

THE WILDCAT SPECIAL

RESERVATION BLANK

Date .....

Enclosed money order ☐ to the amount of $.....

to cover ..... reservations.

Name .....

Address .....

City and State .....

ALL SEATS RESERVED

Total cost per person $9.75 (tax. incl.)

Kindly make money order payable to Army Trip Committee
Box 1, Villanova College
Villanova, Pa.
No Tickets Mailed

VILLANOVAN

Published once during the Summer Session by the Student of Villanova College, Villanova, Pa.

SUMMER STAFF

WILLIAM ALTENPOHL — JOHN KUCHA
DAVID RYAN — HUGH JOHNSON
PAUL CARMICHAEL — EDWARD WILBUR
JOHN KANE — GUENTHER KAISER
EMILE MEYER — DON COLLINS
VINCENT PEDANO

Rev. John a Klekotka, O. S. A., Faculty Adviser

This paper is dedicated to the Villanova Wildcats, the team that is going to defeat the Cadets of Army.

Subscription $2 per year. Circulation 5000. Entered as second class matter at the Villanova Post Office, December 27, 1928.

Member of Associated Collegiate Press, Distributor of the Collegiate Digest, Member of Catholic School Press Association, Catholic College Press Association, and National Scholastic Press Association.

Lend Your Full Support To The Pre-Army Game Rally

There's no school spirit around these halls, you say? Well we're out to prove to you that there is. We're planding a rally which will show everyone . . . whether they ever heard of Villanova or not, that we have one of the best and most cooperative student bodies of any school in the country. This is your chance! It's your Rally! It's your turn to show the cynics what we can do when we all get behind the wheel together!

The pre-Army game rally of 1947 is sponsored by your student council. Everyone of you has been appointed a committee of one to make this affair a success. It is ENTIRELY A STUDENT FUNCTION . . . conceived by the students, and to be supported by them both financially and morally.

Villanova students have been crying into their collective cokes for the past year that there is not enough school spirit of the campus and that there is not enough student self-government to foster any. Well, here we are showing you "doubting Thomases" that we not only have the spirit, but we have the body . . . the student self-government. One which is perfectly capable of handling activities by itself, without restraining influences.

* * *

BEAT THAT ARMY MULE!!! We don't have to tell you what this means to every one of us. What we want is your support gang. Let's all get out there September 25 and show our team and our coach that we're backing them to the hilt. That when sun sets on Michie starium the following Saturday it will set also upon the long unbeaten Army dynasty. We can do it. All our team needs is to know that we're there rooting for them. We can show them we will be, if we attend this rally.

We're getting the spirit. Let's move the lead fellows and get going. Let us know you're going to support your rally . . . YOUR RALLY!!! If you fail now, you will cause a return of the lethargic state that has existed among the student body the past few years. We've had enough of that . . . every single one of us.

HIT 'EM HIGH. HIT 'EM LOW. COME ON VILLANOVA LET'S GO!!!

BEAT THAT ARMY MULE!!!

P. CARMICHAEL.

Sportorial

By HUGH W. JOHNSON

Last spring, Coach Jordon Oliver had the first chance since becoming head coach at Villanova in 1943 to uncover the reserve talent of his team. During the workouts last fall, Coach Oliver was always under pressure to get out the best starting team from the more than 100 aspirants; hence had to sacrifice the development of a reserve squad. And, during the war years, the Navy and draft boards always left some doubt as to the number of men that could turn out for the next days practice session.

But this past spring, with almost the same squad on hand, Jordon Oliver and his staff were able to devote more time to the individual: bringing out the best of his football abilities.

So, all in all, this year's spring practice session was a huge success . . . if the scrimmages with N. Y. U. and Lafayette were an indication. The blocking was clean and crisp, the timing was precise and the front wall was as immovabel as the Rock of Gibraltar.

But above all, this there were 4 observations I made that seem to stand out.

The Front Wall

First of all, the line play. It seemed that every combination of linemen that were used in the two scrimmages played just as good a game as any other. In other words, it would be hard for any coach to say that he had a set first team line. This, to me, is most important because I don't believe in 60 minute ball players. True, you might have an All-American tackle, but you're a lot better off than the other team if you can send in a man as good

(Continued on Page 4)

Olivar Optimistic Over 1947 Season

THE COACH SAYS:

So you're boing to see the Army game? What do you expect to see —an overwhelming defeat of the Wildcats, such as has happened these past four years? Or will our team run rough-shod over the Cadets and pile up a lop-sided score?

JOHN GATTUSO

Very likely, neither one of these two eventualities will occur. The Army squad, despite the predictions of the experts, will still be a strong, hard-hitting, fast-moving aggregation that will afford anyone enough competition to satisfy.

Army's line will probably be their strong point with Goble Bryant and Joe Steffy returning from last year's first string. This line will be big and tough and coached to a

BUD KANE

"T" by one of the best men in the business, Herman Hickman, of All-American fame from Tennessee.

Stuart Back in Line-up

In the backfield, one of the golden boys of the undefeated '45 squad returns. Bob Stuart, overshadowed by Davis and Blanchard in 1945 and sidelined by an operation in 1946 is ready to go, bigger and better than ever. Here's r brief idea of his '45 exploits: he averaged 6 9 yards per carry and including passes gained approximately 600 yards. As you may remember, Doc and Glenn were piling up yardage then also.

JOE ROGERS

The other backs who should help the Army are Rowan, last year's regular right half and Gustafson who spelled Tucker to qb. and also played hb. Another boy, Galiffa, has been doing some fine work at qb..

Of course there are two sides to this ledger. Last year we went up with a hopeful, determined group made up mostly of G.I.'s who feared no one. However, inexperience was costly, as the game proved. This year the physical and mental make-up of our boys will be the same with the added advantage of having played together against some of the nation's best teams for one year.

Exverienced Men Return

Joe Rogers, Danny Brown, Ralph Pasquariello and a host of others were freshmen last year, playing in their first real big game. This year they'll know where "Cap" is or certain play and which way Bud Kane and Komarnicki are blocking down field. All these little things will help in a close game.

SAM COSTANTINO

Our only key loss has been Bill Sullivan at end and this spring's fine work by Ed Berrang, Sam Constantino and Johnny Guttuso reassured us that we don't have to worry about Bill's replacement.

The entire squad is looking forward to this Army game, so expect to see us really fighting for the win, blocking and tackling harder than in '43 with a will and a spirit as good as in 1915. No matter what the final story is, one thing is certain—both teams will have to dog fight it right down to the last split-second to be sure of victory.

DAVE LILIENTHAL

Prof: "Look at that fellow over there annoying that girl."
Stude: "Annoying her? Why, he's not even looking at her!"
Prof: "Yes, and that's what's annoying her."

• • •

It's a rare prof that comes to class ten minutes late—in fact so rare that he's in a class by himself.

• • •

Prof: "Say, Thompson, your roommate studies twice as hard as you do."
Thompson: "Sure! I keep telling the poor sap, but you can't learn him nothing."

(Continued on Page 4)

News Letters

By J. L. KUCHA

Though you might be interested in knowing the low down on what's cooking at Villanova these days. Of course, everyone is enthused about the huge plans for the Army Rally. But aside from that here's what's new.

— V —

Pie Shop (the new one) construction is going ahead at full speed and there are some hopes that Day Hops will have a larger place in which to eat. Refreshing news, that strike settlement, Loule's hopes are running high!

— V —

The new Chemical Engineering Building is going up at full blast. Latest rumor has the completion date some time in October. The Naval Science Building is going up at the same pace.

— V —

Father Vrana is recovering from an appendectomy. Father McNally also underwent a foot operation at Misericordia Hospital.

— V —

We were all saddened by the news of Father Maguire's father passing away last month.

— V —

Paul Soentgen, better known as Paul The Painter, had an unfortunate spill while working and is now slowly recovering from dislocations of the right hip and left shoulder at Bryn Mawr Hospital.

— V —

The Villanovan now has a new printer, namely the Long Publishing Company of 1315 Cherry Street, Philadelphia.

— V —

Villanova is expecting some 525 new and fresh faces this coming Fall Semester. The Student Council is planning a good reception.

— V —

The Rally Committee is planning to deafen the collective ears of the Main Line with the huge fireworks display. Bring your earplugs and come along.

Contributions Now Taken

In response to a letter from the "Army Rally Committee" to the students, Alumni, and friends of Villanova for funds to stage the Army game rally, many contributions were received by that committee. However, more funds are still needed to defray completely all the expenses. Your contribution will be gratefully accepted by the committee. Either send by mail or bring in your donation to the rally fund, headquarters for which are located in the offices of this newspaper, 119 Mendel Hall.

The committee gratefully acknowledges all contributions, and herewith, publishes the names of all those who—as of July 30—have given financial support to the "Army Rally Committee."

The Connelly Brothers	$25.00
Ciamalchels, Louis	2.00
Connors, Gerald J.	1.00
Homann, Anthony	1.00
Kane, John	1.00
Laferty, Charles Patrick	1.00
O'Rourke, James E.	1.00
Szymanski, George	1.00
Duffey, James	.50
Somers, E. F.	.50
Stratis, Peter	.50
Tralles, Phil J.	.50
Wilkinsson, F.	.50
Allivein, Robert A.	.25
Barnes, George H.	.25
Bickhart, Benjamin	.25
Blasic, Louis	.25
Bonner, Jack	.25
Boyle, James J.	.25
Boyle, John F.	.25
Bradburn, C. D.	.25
Brennan, Jim	.25
Brennan, John	.25
Canini, Bill	.25
Cassidy, B. J.	.25
Carmichael, Paul	.25
Chorba, George	.25
Collins, Francis P.	.25
Conaty, James E.	.25
Constantino, Anthony E.	.25
Coporaso, Alessio	.25
Costello, M. F.	.25
Crinkovich, Leo R.	.25
Cusick, William	.25
Dahshaus, Ed. M.	.25
Dal, Jimmy	.25
DeCerchio, Vincent N.	.25
Delanay, Jim	.25
DePrisco, John	.25
Dolan, T. P.	.25

(Continued on Page 4)

VILLANOVA TO OPEN WITH KING'S POINT

WILDCATS TO OPPOSE CADETS ON SEPT. 27

Sport Solons Place Heavy Odds On Army

Five of the outstanding football experts in the country, in reply to a recent letter from the Sports Editor of the Villanovan, have chosen Army to beat Villanova, when the Cadets and the Wildcats meet on September 27, at West Point.

SYLVIO YANELLI
Villanova

Amos Alonzo Stagg, the "Grand Old Man of Football" remained non-committal when quizzed concerning the outcome of the game. The country's only octogenarian football coach stated, in substance, that his lack of knowledge of the personnel of the two teams precluded the possibility of his making a prediction or comment one way or the other.

Encouragement and sympathy for the Villanova cause are expressed or implied in some of the replies of the experts. However, while professing to root for Villanova College, Don Donaghy, Jimmey Powers, Stanley Woodward, and Bill Cunningham—from whose letters excerpts are given below—all selected Army, but, it would seem, rather reluctantly.

Leahy Picks Army

Whether or not University of Notre Dame head football coach Frank Leahy's "prediction of Army by at least two touchdowns" is based on the hopeful desire to see the Irish meet the Cadets with an unblemished record for the season —or for well over three seasons, for that matter—is not easily discernable. Certainly this much is certain: Leahy would take at least as much joy as any other coach whose team has fallen before the undefeated Army powerhouse in downing the Cadets, whose spectacular streak began at the outset of the 1944 season, following their defeat at the hands of Navy at West Point in the final game for both teams at the end of the 1943 season.

Parenthetically, it should be added here that Villanova at large and Jordan Olivar in particular would take more than a little pride in beating Army this year. Far and above just winning a football game is now at stake. The deep wounds inflicted by lopsided Army wins and a prodigious total of points scored against the Wildcats in the last three years can only be soothed—certainly, they can never be forgotten— by a Villanova victory over the Cadets.

In relation to the other comments received by this office from the coaches and writers, the prediction by the revengful—as far a Army is concerned—Notre Dame mentor seems almost dogmatic. None of the other experts are quite so bold and definite in their comments as is Leahy.

ED BARRANG
Villanova

So, herewith, from the prescient Mr. Stagg, through the amicable and encouraging sports writers, to the assertive Mr. Leahy, we present below the following valued comments, extracted from their letters.

• • •

Amos Alonzo Stagg, Advisory

(Continued on Page 4)

Review Defeat By Army Squad

Here we go up that long trail to West Point to avenge our war-time defeats. This time we are not filled with half-hopes nor carrying stubs of long odds tickets, this time we're not kidding. The toughest defeat to swallow of that too long ...st was last year's encounter.

Day broke on that '46 game through a thick haze and by noon the weather made up its mind to rain. For two full hours before game time, water poured down on Michie Stadium making the field an Atlantis at low tide. The Wildcats had their fur wet but were driving for victory as they ran out beore the 17,000 hardy reviewers.

As the Grey and Gold lined up to kick off, their ranks were filled with some all-time football greats. The names of Davis and Blanchard were on the lips of millions of people, while the radio announcers had difficulty in recognizing some of the leading players in our line-up. Then came the boot and the game was on.

Capriotti took the kick-off and returned it to the twenty-five yard line. Already the ball was muddy, so Quarterback Gordon took the ball over center, gaining a few yards. On the next play Capriotti was hit at the line and the slippery mellon squirted from his arms. Army fell on it and the juggernaut was in motion. Davis slid to the ten and from there, "Diesel Doc" Blanchard scored. There it was, with less than two minutes of play, the hard men from West Point were in the lead.

Pasquariello took the next kick-

(Continued on Page 4)

LOU FERRY
Villanova

Pigskin Season To Start Officially With Mariners

Game Anything But Pushover

For the second straight year, Villanova opens its home season against the Mariners of Kings Point at Goodreau Stadium on September 20th. The game, which will be the first Villanova Contest ever to be televised, also marks the Alumni's Homecoming Weekend. Last year, under the leadership of game captain Billy Sullivan, the Wildcats scored a decisive 40-6 triumph.

But this year, with almost the same squad intact plus a few promising newcomers, Coach Bill Reinhart promises that his boys will be out to upset favored Villanova. Although the win-loss record of Kings Point's 1946 season wasn't too impressive, it doesn't necessarily show a true picture. The old maxim, "Records never tell a true story" holds in this case because, 1, it was their first year of real football competition and 2, they played some of the toughest teams in the nation.

ROMEO CAPRIOTTI
Villanova

McCrane Sparks Team

With Jack McCrane, the passer at quarterback, the Mariners from Long Island present a constant threat. Ray Stoviak, the backfield coach who did a good job of tugging the leather in his undergrad days at Villanova, thinks that McCrane is one of the smoothest backs he has ever seen. Jack's record should substantiate that as he was rated 7th in the nation by virtue of his passing. Against the Main Liners, he had 6 completion in 14 tries for a .429 average.

Ed Michalski, the sub halfback who scored the Sailor's lone tally of the day on a 40-yd. pass from McCrane, will also be on hand at the kickoff.

Oliver Eleven Ready

Meanwhile, Coach Jordon Oliver's eleven should be at peak for the battle. Halfback Joe Rogers, who twice crossed the double white line last year, Cap Capriotti, halfback and big Ralph Pasquariello, fullback, both of whom scored once, all are likely to be in the starting backfield again.

The longest run of last year's

RALPH PASQUARIELLO
Villanova

game, a 68 yd. zig-zag return of a punt, was made by reserve halfback Bill "Zip" Zehler. He likewise will be around to try and repeat that performance.

Al Schmidt, the 205—6'2" halfback, will also be gunning for the "Pointers." Last year, it was against that team that he suffered a chipped ankle that sidelined him for the whole season. The hottest thing in football togs this spring, he should get to see plenty of action this year.

Graduation Takes Three

Graduation, which is always a problem to a football coach, was a little more gentle to Coach Oliver and his aides than usual. Because the major portion of the team was composed of a bumper crop of underclassmen, the spring awarding of diplomas left only a few gaps in the squad. Last year's squad captain, end Billy Sullivan, left the fold in February. Center Zig Gory, who starred in '43 and again in '46, and halfback Vince McPeak, the big offensive gun in '44 and '45 but who was hampered by injuries last season, both graduated in June. Mel Downey, who started in most of the games, signed a contract last spring with the Philadelphia Eagles.

(Continued on Page 4)

Game Ticket Information

So that students may have the privilege of reserving tickets for the Army game, the student council has arranged with the Athletic directors of the college to hold aside choice seats for the Army game. This is the first time that students have ever had the privilege extended them.

Early returns, of course, will be honored with choice seats near the mid-field stripe. Below you will find a blank which you may fill out and send in to us, so that your tickets may be reserved. Do so as soon as possible for the time is short, and the tickets are limited.

Tickets have been scarce this year, due to the many requests that have already been received. Hence we suggest that you enter your your subscriptions early. We will be willing to cooperate with you in any way to secure your tickets.

Fireworks and Band

(Continued from Page 1)

student council is conducting in order to make our freshman feel a home on their new campus.

Movie Star Coming

Of course you'll all be waiting for the name of the movie star we have invited for the occasion. We can assure you that you won't be disappointed.

Jordan Olivar will be there with the football team and introduce to you every member, and he will give you his prediction of the outcome of the tussle which is going to take place the following Saturday afternoon at Mitchie stadium.

The student council makes a sincere appeal to all the students of Villanova College to be out there Thursday evening September 25, to show our squad we will support them every minute during our contest with Army, and through the season. The council also hopes that students will remember to contribute to the Army Rally Fund so that it can be assured that it will bring you the best in enertainment for that evening.

Fireworks Provide Climax

Oh yes, don't forget to be watching for our fireworks that same evening. They are undoubtedly the biggest and the best you've ever seen. We guarantee that the climax of this entire affair will make the Atom bomb dropping over Hiroshima look like a rocket on the fourth of July!

Wildcat Special

(Continued from Page 1)

with a money order to the amount of $9.75 for your reservation. Choice of seats will be set aside in order of reservation received.

Make reservation early to receive prompt attention, keep money order stub as your receipt. Tickets will be distributed by Student Council Committee Chairman John Kucha and Vice Chairman Bill Altenpohl from room 119 Mendel Hall the week of registration.

All those interested in the trip are asked to fill out blank below at earliest possible date.

Why are women called angels? Because they're always up in the air, usually harping on something, and never have a thing to wear.

Sports Solons

(Continued from Page 3)

Football Coach, Susquehanna University . . . I regret to say that I am completely ignorant of the personnel of Villanova and West Point . . .

Stanley Woodward, Sports Editor, New York Herald Tribune . . . I know that Villanova has a really good football team coming up and I have a great admiration for the way Jordan Olivar has handled the situation. I believe, however, it is a little too much to expect that Villanova will beat the Army.

The Cadets have lost a flock of good men but they will not be feeble. I think it will be close and I believe Army will win. I shall be rooting for Villanova because a Wildcat victory would make a better story.

Don Donaghey, The (Philadelphia) Evening Bulletin—Common caginess makes me go or Army again but I'll be delighted to be soaking wet on the pick at nightfall, Sept. 27.

Bill Connelly, patron Villanova arts and sports assures me the Cats are loaded this time. I hope it's with what the Navy calls a "service" charge.

Best wishes for a win . . .

Jimmy Powers, Sports Editor, The (New York Daily) News—I think Army will win because Army is in a much better position to assemble and develop a long and exhaustive dynasty.

Army was not interrupted during the war years as Villanova was. Its coaching staff and players and steady supply of talent is still in tact and I believe the momentum and the arvantage of the war will carry them through for qquite a while, therefore I will have to pick Army.

Bill Cunningham, The Boston Herald—Regarding your question about the outcome of the Villanova-Army game, I'm trying to think of a polite way of mentioning the name of the team I consider to be the probable winner.

In other words, best wishes to your gang for a well-fought contest, but I expect to find Army in the win panel . . .

Frank Leahy, Head Football Coach, University of Notre Dame—Hope that the prediction of Army by at least two touchdowns reaches you in time for your deadline; but not in such time as would ruin your whole week.

ADAMS CLOTHES
MAIN and SWEDE
NORRISTOWN, PA.

Army Rally Contributions

(Continued from Page 2)

Donahue, Neuman E.	.25
Donahue, W. A.	.25
Dougherty, John James	.25
Dwyer, John	.25
Falbey, Frank B.	.25
Feudi, Frank	.25
Finisdore, Frank M.	.25
Fitzpatrick, Robert	.25
Garcia, Theodore	.25
Gemender, Jack	.25
Genualdi, Andrew J.	.25
Goldschmidt, John W.	.25
Gowan, N. C.	.25
Greenburg, R. B.	.25
Hall, Everett F.	.25
Healey, Ed.	.25
Heickell, Edward	.25
Herring, John	.25
Hickey, John M., Jr.,	.25
Hogan, Tom	.25
Kelly, James J.	.25
Kilgallon, E.	.25
Knapp, Peter M.	.25
Kzyzosiak, Joseph T.	.25
Lane, William	.25
Leary, Joseph P.	.25
Lightball, John	.25
Lynch, Geoffrey J.	.25
Lynch, James	.25
Maffei, Mike	.25
Maggioncalda, E. C.	.25
Marziani, Lou	.25
Mazurkiewicz, E. M.	.25
Meccariello, Louis A.	.25
Meyer, Emile J.	.25
Michalik, Emeric J.	.25
Mirante, Francis J.	.25
McGee, Charles J.	.25
McKay, John M.	.25
O'Neill, William P.	.25
Parsons, Rosa	.25
Pyne, Jerry	.25
Quinn, Gene	.25
Rudolph, Sylvester J.	.25
Rush, Edmund P.	.25
Samsel, John J.	.25
Sandors, Gus J.	.25
Scarpa, A. Anthony	.25
Scelba, Victor	.25
Schuch, F. J.	.25
Scopetta, John	.25
Selfridge, James J.	.25
Slater, Louis M.	.25
Slayton, Ralph E.	.25
Stoelker, Bob	.25
Squadrito, James	.25
Stanley, John	.25
Sutula, Ed.	.25
Trees, William E.	.25
Trucks, Thomas N.	.25
Tyszkiewicz, Joseph	.25
Walsh, Edward	.25
Welsh, John J.	.25
Whittaker, Chas.	.25
Wolff, Frank	.25

Pigskin Season to Start

(Continued from Page 3)

The game will mark the start of the second annual Homecoming weekend since the war for the Alumni Banquet will be hed while Mass, Communion, and breakfast will round out the program on Sunday. Mr. William Friel, Alumni Secretary, expects a huge turnout for the whole affair.

To Be Televised

Fr. DcKee, Director of Athletics, recently announced that station WFIL's new television station will flash the game on what there is today of a nationwide hookup. As usual, the game will be broadcast but this marked the first time any Villanova contest was ever televised.

Wildcats to Oppose:

(Continued from Page 3)

off but fumbled on the tackle and Army was again in posession. Villanova held momentarily, bolstered by penalties, but Blanchard went from the 42 to the 18 for a first down. In two plays, Army was down on the 3, but it wasn't quite so easy to score. After two fruitless tries, however, Davis circled the end to score. The second tally.

Army Again Moves

On receiving the kick-off, Villanova tried twice and then kicked to the Army 40. Despite penalties, Army moved again. The advance was finally stemmed when Gordon recovered Blanchard's fumble on the visitor's 10. We kicked as the quarter ended.

Punts were exchanged and Villanova drove to a first down. Temporarily on the move, the Wildcats were slowed by a bad pass from center and Gordon was forced to kick. Then Army fumbled and the Blue and White recovered. Then with Gordon throwing and Polidor and Pasquariello running, we first downed on the Army 27.

The rally was quelled when Villanova fumbled, but Army reciprocated and the Olivermen took possession on the Soldier's 40. Schrieber punched out a first down on the Army 28 but there the drive stalled and action dragged until the half ended.

Third Tally by Fuson

With the exception of Blanchard who was hurt, the Army first team started the second half. On the first play after the kick-off Pasquariello fumbled and the Cadets took over on our 27. On eight plays, Army crossed the goal line with Davis doing most of the gaining, although "Ug" Fuson got credit for the score.

Kane Drops Tucker

Villanova took the kick-off but was forced to punt and the Cadets took over on their 35 where Arnold Tucker was smashed by Frank Kane on the hardest tackle of th afternoon. Army broke away again on a pass to Hank Foldberg wh carried to our 34.

Four plays later, Tucker dropped back to his own 26 and heaved a long pass to Barney Poole who was all clear in the end zone. Score—Army 28, Villanova 0.

We received the kick-off but a pass was intercepted by Tucker and the Grey took over on their 49. Fuson broke through for a first down on our 38 as the period ended. One run and a pass to Poole ate up that yardage and Mackmull added the conversion.

Schreiber Again Leads Way

After an exchange of boots, Schreiber and Dost brought the ball up to the midfield stripe but Gustafson intercepted a pass and the rally again was halted. Army gained but Lilienthal recovered a fumble at center-field. A clipping penalty here hurt severely and an interception blocked all hope of advance. This ended the action except for the usual last minute pass and punt frustration.

Army did it again to us but they did it only with the thin red line of the first team. Against the second team Villanova held the advantage.

Sportorial

(Continued from Page 2)

as he first one.

Example? All right. Take the Villanova - Army game in 1943. Army, with an All-American backfield and with such names as Johnny Green and Tex Coulter on the line could only score 7 points on the Wildcats in the first half. But with liberal substitution of the great wealth of reserves, they managed to wear down the main Liners and score two T. D.'s in the third quarter and still another in the fourth. Anybody that saw that game will back me up, I am sure, when I say that if Villanova had a few more reserves, instead of eleven 60-minute men, the score would have been less favorable to the Mules.

Backfield Reserves

The second point to note was the wealth of reserve backs. That combination of "Jack Rabbit" Tulskie, "Bulldozer" Clavin, and "Slicker" Schmidt, looked as good as any backfield I've ever seen. Neither N. Y. U. nor Lafayette could catch up to Tulski around the ends, nor could they slow up Clavin over center, and Schmidt acted as though he had a free pass over any tackle he chose. Yes, Coach Oliver can be assured of a great reserve of not only linemen, but backs as well.

The Passing Attack

Andy Gordon's passing was the third feature. Last year, Villanova picked up the reputation of being a great running combination, thanks to some fine work by Joe Rogers, Cap Capriotti, Bob Polidor, Zip Zehler, and Ralph Pasquariello. However with this thought in mind, it seems reasonable that many of the coaches of the teams we play this year, including Army, will try to build up their lines to prevent an avalanche of the same thing.

Therefore, if we can cross up the opposition every now and then, with a good passing attack, we'll win more than just six games this season. And believe me, we have that combination. I don't have the actual statistics on the passing in the two scrimmages but every time we needed extra long yardage, the ends and back were "johnny-on the-spot" to pull in anything that Gordon threw.

Offense Over the Defense

The last observance, in my opinion, is the most important. Last year, Villanova held some of the highest scoring clubs in the nation to two and three touchdowns. Although Army, which was picked by the Associated Press writers as the second best team in the country, did score 35 points, 14 of them were practicly gratis, due to the two quick fumbles in the opening minutes. So, in a sense, they only scored on us three times. Navy, which almost pulled one of the biggest upsets of all times against Army, only scored once on Villanova. B. C. and Holy Cross, the two New England powers, had to be satisfied with two tallies each.

So it all adds up to this: We have the team, we have the schedule, and now all we need is the backing of the whole student body to beat King's Point, avenge Army, and then go on to a great season.

Army vs. Villanova Game Tickets

Reservation Blank Date .....

Enclosed is my money order, $..... to cover .....

(state no.) game tickets.

—All Seats Reserved —

Total cost per person $3.60 (tax incl.)

Name .....

Address .....

City and State .....

Send money orders to Army Trip Committee, Box 1, Villanova, Pa.
No Tickets Mailed

Blue Jay Restaurant
Norristown's Finest Restaurant SEAFOOD
STEAKS
& CHOPS
22-24 MAIN ST.
PHONE 4097

J. Ralph Shuler
Jewelers for 3 Generations
325 DeKalb St.
Norristown, Pa.

Court House Barber Shop
Featuring Massage & Shampoo REASONABLE ESTIMATES
6 W. PENN ST.
NORRISTOWN. PA.

Marsella Studios
52. E. MAIN ST.
CURREN ARCADE
NORRISTOWN, PA.
Phone 0562
Philadelphia Studio
3034 N. 22nd St.
Phone SAG. 6946

Anna Catanese
Flowers for All Occasions
321 DEKALB ST.
NORRISTOWN. PA.
PHONES 2233 - 2234

Volume 23
n. 1-24

October 14, 1947 – May 25, 1948

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 23—No. 1 VILLANOVA COLLEGE, VILLANOVA, PA. Tuesday, October 14, 1947

Council Demands Better Seating

Intra-Murals, Social Affairs, Recreation Space Discussed at Two Hour Meeting

If the Student Council has its way, Villanova students and their immediate guests will have a reserved section in the center of the field seats for all home football games, with the band and Frosh forming the nucleus of the group.

This was put into the form of a motion at the Council's last meeting on Wednesday, October 8, beginning at 6:00 p.m. Councilmen argued that this procedure would improve cheering and student spirit at the games.

It was pointed out that at the Miami game students were strung out all the way into the end zone. With eight thousand field seats and only two thousand students, this state of affairs hardly seemed necessary to the councilmen.

Dances Proposed

At the suggestion of the Committee on Social Affairs, the councilmen discussed the possibility of holding informal dances to recorded music after Villanova's home basketball games. Action on this point was suspended pending further investigation.

It was then recommended with little debate that a committee of interested students be selected to assist those faculty members actively engaged in conducting the intra-mural sports program.

At a previous meeting, held on October 1, the council moved to request from the administration a listing of privileges rendered for the $5.00 room reservation fee. For example, does a room reservation guarantee the student that the status quo will be preserved?

Steps are also being taken to provide indoor recreation space for day-students to help while away the hours between scattered classes. Investigation has revealed that the Blue Room in the Field House is in condition to be utilized immediately, and that the billiard room may be made available with very little effort.

It was proposed that these rooms be open to day-students during the week and that they be made available to residents on week-ends for use as reception rooms.

NFCCS INAUGURATES FUND DRIVE ON CAMPUS TODAY

Collection to Aid Europe's Needy Will Be Made in Religious Classes

Plans for the donation of money from Catholic college students in this area, to aid Europe's needy students, were completed at a meeting of the Philadelphia region of the National Federation of Catholic College Students, at Chestnut Hill College, Tuesday evening.

This drive for funds will begin Monday in Villanova, St. Joseph's, LaSalle, Chestnut Hill, Rosemont and Immaculata Colleges.

According to John Stanley, senior delegate to the N.F.C.C.S. from Villanova, collections in this school will be made at intervals in all Religion classes.

Featured speaker at the meeting was Chestnut Hill student Maria Meissinger, who lived in Germany before and during the war years. She told of hiding in the cellar of her home while Gestapo agents searched the house for two days.

She said the need of the students in Europe was greater than Americans realize and that they are doing without "shoelaces, pencils, paper and the other small things that seem unimportant but help to make life easier." She said that she could sum up the foreign students' need in three words—"They need everything."

John Stanley William Cusick, Herman Diesel and Rev. William Lunney, O.S.A., represented Villanova at the meeting.

REV. F. X. McGUIRE, O.S.A., Celebrates Opening Day Mass in College Field House Before Entire Student Body

Gov. Duff Seeks Aid of Fr. McGuire

President Will Serve on Educational Committee

Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire, O.S.A. President of Villanova College, has been appointed a member of the committee to cooperate with the Joint State Government Commission in studying educational facilities. He was selected by Governor James H. Duff and the appointment certificate was forwarded by the Governor on August 30, 1947, after Fr. McGuire had accepted.

The committee was appointed under the Act No. 565, approved on July 8, 1947, and they must make a report to the Governor and the General Assembly on or before the fifteenth day of November, 1948.

The Act, House Bill No. 216, authorizes the Joint State Government Commission to study educational facilities; needs of the citizens in certain educational fields; financial administration; courses and educational needs for admission to colleges and universities and factors germane to complete study of post high school education.

Fr. McGuire is one of ten appointed by Governor James H. Duff who received his authority from the following section of the Act "Committee which shall consist of fifteen (15) representatives of educational and other interests in the several geographical sections of the Commonwealth shall be appointed. Ten (10) of whom shall be appointed by the Governor. . . . "

Another section of the Act provides the authority to the Committee "Authorized to make a complete study of the educational facilities and needs of the citizens of this Commonwealth in the fields of formal education."

Fr. McGuire stated that he will lend his time and energy to the welfare of the citizens of Pennsylvania in the field of higher education

Color Scheme Adopted in Lab

In connection with the Villanova expansion program, all the engineering drafting rooms have been completely remodeled, under the supervision of L. E. Whitmoyer, technical advisor for du Pont, with much emphasis on the science of "Color Conditioning."

The use of carefully selected colors in schools is a relatively new aid in the science of teaching. Because of their important psychological and physiological effects, these colors were selected for their functional advantage rather than for decorative purposes alone.

There are three important reasons for using color in painting the modern school. One is its psychological effect on students. That is, to stimulate the sense or to produce a soothing effect, whichever is desired. If a room is apt to be too cool, warm colors will make it seem warmer; and conversely cool colors make warm rooms seem cooler. A second factor is that a variation in color schemes used in a series of rooms makes for greater cheerfulness throughout the entire school building. A third is that color increases the efficiency of the staff and students as it provides a more comfortable seeing environment.

The colors themselves are differ-

(Continued on Page 7)

The Student Body of Villanova College extend their condolences to Dr. Edward L. Haenisch on the recent death of his son.

Soph Cotillion To Open Social Year

Jack White Heads Committee; October 18 Announced as Date

Villanova College will open its social calendar with the traditional Sophomore Cotillion on Saturday, October 18. The dance will be presented by the class of '50 in the Villanova Field House. Music will be furnished by the Villanovans.

John White, general chairman of the dance committee, promises a gala affair. The decorations committee headed by Frank Wegener has great plans for the dance, but does not wish the theme to be revealed. The Cotillion will be an open, informal dance. Tickets may be secured from Ed Krieg. Admission will be $2.40 per couple, tax included.

Jack White Heads Soph Dance Committee

Villanovans Popular

Under the leadership of George Beltzer the Villanovans have become a popular local orchestra. Smooth, danceable music is assured and specialty numbers will feature Pete Kite and his electric guitar.

Dan Haflinger and Ed Schollmeyer, co-chairmen of the Social Committee, hope for an impressive turnout of Freshmen. Freshmen are reminded that one of the functions of the Sophomore Cotillion is to welcome the Frosh and initiate them into the social life of Villanova College.

All who do not have dates are asked to be present at a short meeting this evening, October 14th, at 8:00 P.M. in front of the information booth in Mendel Hall.

Two Seniors Are Editors Of Belle Aire

Veteran Yearbook Men Will Head '48 Issue

Attention was focused on the 1948 Belle Aire Year Book when James J. Mitchell and Raymond L. Cummings were named Co-Editors.

The two men, members of the Senior class, are already well known on the campus from their wide participation in other extra-curricular activities.

For three years Mr. Mitchell has helped in the preparation of the year books so comes to his new position with no dearth of experience (He is a former member of the Air Corps.)

Mr Cummings served as a staff member in the compilation of two previous Belle Aire issues. In addition, he was a member of the VILLANOVAN staff for a period of two years. (He, too, served in the Air Corps.)

Both men are members of the Arts Fraternity.

Twenty-Eight Teachers Added

To meet the record-breaking enrollment at Villanova, the faculty for for the 1947 school year has been strengthened by engaging the services of twenty-eight new professors. Comprising the list are six priests, twenty laymen, and two Naval instructors.

Engineering

The Engineering School has added Mr. John B. Clothier and Mr. D. W. Davis to the Electrical Engineering department. The Mechanical Engineering department is further fortified by Mr. Martin Gillan, Mr. William Hampton, Mr. Miles Potter, and Mr. Frederick Liederbach.

History

The History department is reinforced by the services of Mr. John R. Murphy, Mr. Henry Rofinot, Fr. Peter J. Paul, OSA, PhD., and Fr. Henry E. Greenlee, OSA, STD. Fr. Paul will teach Social Philosophy and Political Science. Fr. Greenlee will instruct in the History of Philosophy.

Mathematics

The Mathematics department is bolstered considerably by engaging Mr. William Cipriano, Mr. Francis Hendry, Mr. Francis McNamara and Father Gallagher. Mr. Hendry, native of Scotland, only recently arrived in the U. S.

English

Three additions are made to the English departments—Mr. Jerome Fisher, Mr. Anthony Frayne, and Mr. Joseph T. Jonas. This is a return engagemen for Mr. Jonas, as he instructed in English and Public Speaking from 1926 through 1935. Mr. John I. McEnerney will aid in the Classics.

Physics

The Physics department gains Mr.

(Continued on Page 8)

ENGINEERING CURRICULA UNDERGOES CHANGES

Numerous changes and amendments in the Engineering Curricula have been announced this semester by the Dean's Office.

In former years specialization in the field of his choice was made in the beginning by the student; in the future, however, all freshmen engineering courses will be identical, entailing 19 credit hours per semester. History has been reduced from four to two credits. Additional credits have been given for various drawing courses.

The Chemical Engineering Course has had four credits added to the requirements for a degree. Comparison shows semester credits total 21-20, not 20-19, in the Sophomore year; 19-19, not 17-19 in the Junior year; and 20-18, not 20-17 in the Senior year.

Civil Engineers must complete six more credits to merit their degree. The files list 20-20 in the second year, 18-19 in the third year, and 18-18 in the fourth year.

The school of Electrical Engineer-

(Continued on Page 7)

Policy

Even newspapers, believe it or not, have pangs of conscience now and then. So it is with us after reviewing our past efforts in the focus of the summer's perspective.

We have found much of our copy given position and emphasis far out of proportion with its importance. Our coverage has been purely local and so that many events and much information of considerable importance to students has not been able to be found in our pages. In short, being quite frank with ourselves, we think that the paper has been a bit petty and dull.

We are working now so that this semester you might have a new Villanovan—one which would be the best product that the school could produce.

Our plan or policy by which we hope to bring this about is always to live up to the highest ideals and fullest responsibilities of the student community, and to serve the students of Villanova College by keeping them informed of the happenings of the student world, and by providing them with a medium of expression.

J. A. M.

The Villanovan Plan

Most resident students have exhibited an admirable degree of maturity in voicing their opinions of the crowded rooming conditions prevalent on the campus this semester. They realize that the facilities of the campus are strained to the breaking point because of the overwhelming desire for education. Thus, they conclude that crowded rooms, inadequate furnishings, and long waits in lines are necessary evils in the course of their education.

There are some undesirable conditions, however, which could possibly be averted immediately and without much cost to the college. There are few reasons why some students who paid to reserve a room must live with no more furnishings than students who failed to do so. Nor is there any reason why the charge should be the same for a room which has only half the per capita area of another room. It seems logical to have a plan for distribution of facilities when there are not enough for everyone.

The Villanovan therefore believing that every effort should be made to alleviate the unwanted but understandable overcrowding offers its own plan.

The Villanovan Plan for Improving Campus Living Conditions:

(1) If possible all reserved rooms be provided with full furnishings: one desk, lamp, bed, and chair for each person; one bureau for every two persons.
If this cannot be done then distribute furniture to reserved rooms with first regard to upperclassmen.

(2) A "standard" room to be established as the basis for all room charges. This room would specify the approximate per capita space and amount of furniture for each occupant.
The room charge would vary as the room deviates from normal.

(3) All veteran students and students over 21 be allowed to room off campus if they so desire. This would provide much needed room for other students.

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

WILLIAM F. ALTENPOHL, '48 — EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
JOHN A. McDERMOTT, '48 — Managing Editor
JACK CASBY, '49 — News Editor
HUGH W. JOHNSON, '49 — Sports Editor
GEORGE SZYMANSKI, '50 — Feature Editor
RICHARD HUBBARD, '48 — Picture Editor
VINCE PEDANO, '48 — Circulation Manager
NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI, '48 — Business Manager
EDWARD OXFORD, '50 — Copy Editor

News Staff

Michael Marshall '49, Richard Shinners '48, Joseph D'Ambrisi '49, Michael Joseph Nowlan '49, Charles Patrick Laferty '49, Frank Gobe '51, Frank Guzikowski '51, William C. Miller '50, Thomas Smith '51, Louis Alvare '48, Jerry Connors '49, Tony Linahan '51, Joseph Miller '51, George Sabe '50, Martin Mulkeen '51, Joseph Rath '51, Francis Dunne '51, Thomas Mitchell '51, Joseph Miller '50, Marty Hinder '49, Joseph D'Auria '49, Jack Mallick '49, John Kennedy '49, John James Connolly '51, Thomas M. Russo '49, Joseph Kenney '50, William J. Leighton '50, John W. Ample-gate '51, Robert F. Carroll '51, Joseph Callahan '51, George R. Reinhart '51, Arthur Woodrow '51.

Feature Staff

R. E. Manifold '51, William Breninghouse '51, Joseph Quill '50, A. J. Mullen '49, David V. Anthony '51, John A. Rowe '51, Gunther Kaiser '49, P. McManus '48, John Mallick '49, Vince O'Neil '51, Mark Morris '51, James Tayoun '51.

Sports Staff

James Lyons '48, Vincent O'Donnell '48, Daniel Redmond '48, David Ryan '48, Paul Altenpohl '49, Joseph Hennessey '49, Ned Hoffner '49, Arnold Keehan '49, Roy Cameron '50, William Canino '50, Neal Fahy '50, George Mondchein '50, Raymond Mondschein '50, Tyson Reilly '50, Walter Rygiel '50, William Ward '50, Edward Hattrick '51, Harry Jacobs '51, William Klucsarits '51, Raymond MacWilliams '51, Paul Pressede '51, Harold Range '51.

Picture Staff

Robert Graf '51, John Kane '50, Raymond Berninger '49, Dan Hafinger '50, William Neal Carter '51, Charles Calley '51, Philip McChesney '51, William Murphy '51, Harry Papaian '51, Robert Pope '51, Jack Muratori '51.

Business Staff

William Wescott '47, Joe King '48, Barry Gibbons '51, Jack Gibbons '51, Donald Baralt '50.

Circulation Staff

Vince Pedano '49, George Weber, III, '51.

Faculty Advisor—Rev. John A. Klekotka, O.S.A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova: scholar, athlete, gentleman — LEO GOODREAU

Subscription: $2 per year. Circulation: 5000.
Entered as second class matter at the Villanova Post Office December 27, 1928.

Member of Associate Collegiate Press, Distributor of Collegiate Digest.
Member of Catholic School Press Association, Catholic College Press Association.

Gone But Not Forgotten

At the end of last semester something happened here at Villanova that left many of us wondering. The matter concerned a five dollar room deposit that was to be paid by all students desiring to reserve a room of their choice for the coming term.

We all wondered just what the deposit was for. Many of us felt that the quizzical looks were justified. Most of us were of the opinion that at least some sort of explanation was our due. We were not complaining we were merely wondering.

Recently an answer was given us. It appears below.

September 12, 1947

Matthew J. Kearney, Jr.
Secretary-Treasurer
Student Council
Villanova College,
Villanova, Penna.

Dear Mr. Kearney:

The request of the Student Council under date of June the 11th 1947 "That the College Authorities make the $5.00 room reservation fee collected this semester deductible from the coming Fall's room and board bill" has been received.

In further explanation of this fee, I would like to call your attention to the "Villanova College Bulletin," Vol. LXXVI, Number Four, October 1945. On page 135 are listed certain fees under "additional charges and deposits." Some are payable before registration, others payable at registration. Of these fees, some are refundable and others are not. Fees refundable and able to be credited to students' accounts are noted in the footnote at the bottom of the page.

You will notice under "additional charges payable before registration," a room reservation fee of $5.00 which is to be paid by the upper classmen for the privilege of selecting rooms in advance is neither refundable nor able to be credited to a student's account. As a matter of fact, it is a fee that the student need not pay if he so desires. In as much as these fees have been set up and approved by the Board of Trustees of the College, it is my duty as President of the institution to see that they are collected. It is not within my jurisdiction to change them.

The privilege of reserving rooms in advance was in effect up to and including the Spring of 1942. For obvious reasons, it had to be discontinued during the war years. The College Administration agreed to reinstate that privilege at the end of the academic year just concluded. It is to be regretted that students unfamiliar with its existence in the past found it so unpleasant.

While it is not possible to take any action now on the request which you have so respectfully submitted, I shall be very happy to confer with the appropriate officers of the Student Council on the subject of reserving rooms in the future. We can, I am sure, find the time that will be of mutual convenience.

With best wishes, I am,

Sincerely,
Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire, O.S.A.,
President

A Thirty Hour Day?

Doing good can become wearisome. Few, however, become weary from self-consideration. Taking care of self, body and soul, is a full time job. Twenty-four hours of each day are required. Some might even argue for a thirty hour day, for purposes of self improvement. This proposition is worthy of consideration, for possibly one hour of the thirty could then be spent helping neighbor. No one could claim lack of time as reason for not fulfilling his obligation to help the unfortunate.

The approximate future will see a relief drive launched for needy European students. No Villanovan can deny his obligation; no Villanovan can be deaf to the cry, "Bread, bread!"; no Villanovan needs that extra hour.

How can we help them? Charity, you know, sometimes consists in giving self, a smile, a word. Ten smiles and fourteen sentences won't fill one empty stomach. Even the Communists dole out propaganda by the slice. We want more than that.

An American, you are anxious to make friends for America. A Villanovan, you are proud to see the school place its principles of Christian charity into practice. Prove it by contributing generously.

LETTERS

1 October, 1947

Editor of the Villanovan,
Villanova, Pennsylvania.

Dear Sir:

Last semester something occurred here on the Villanova campus which caused a momentary stir of excitement. An announcement was made concerning a five-dollar room deposit for the privilege of reserving a room for the coming term.

Many of us wondered at the time just what the deposit was for. Perhaps you can throw some light on the matter.

This letter is not meant to be a "gripe" I like Villanova as a school, I'm proud to be a student. Maybe I'm wrong, but an explanation, even at this late date, might contribute to the spirit on the campus.

Yours for a better Villanovan.

Edward K. Kiely

2 October, 1947

The Editor of the Villanovan,
Villanova, Penna.

Dear Sir:

Oftentimes many campus events pass by with little notice made of them. This is to be expected. With the large number of individuals present and the many activities, little hope of singling out individuals can be held.

I would like to commend publicly the students who conducted the Army Rally. The scope of their task is hard to conceive. Judging from the success attained, weeks of work on the part of many individuals went into the affair.

With a wish for other such events, I remain,

Sincerely yours,
William G. Doyle

October 3, 1947

Villanovan Editor,
Villanova, Penna.

Dear Sir:

A group of us were gathered in one of the nearby soda parlors discussing the problems of the day. As the evening wore on we began to discuss that age-old problem of spirit at Villanova.

Whatever nebulous, intangible substance spirit may be, we decided that it is much in evidence at Villanova this year. We're not intentionally waving a flag and pledging allegiance to dear old alma mater, come what may, when we say this. We firmly believe it.

When we put aside all the gripes, our long waiting in lines and seriously think it over, Villanova has something this year it didn't have before. We'll still gripe, and things will continue to improve, but we know we have it this year. There'll be no stopping us, now. . . .

Maybe we're wrong, but we think we're right.

A Group from Austin Hall

THIS YEAR'S SCHEDULE

Oct. 19—Detroit
Shibe Park ..... 23— 6
Oct. 24—Boston College
Braves Field ..... 12—14
Nov. 1—OPEN
Nov. 8—Marquette
Milwaukee ..... 26—13
Nov. 15—*Georgetown
Shibe Park ..... 19— 2
Nov. 23—San Francisco
Seal Stadium ..... D.N.P.

* Game of the Year.

Two boys were leaving church and discussing the sermon which had been about the devil.

"Uh, I don't believe that devil stuff," said Jim, "it's just like Santa Clause, it turns out to be your father."

• • •

Don Collins must be the cleanest boy in school—he's been given the brush-off so often.

• • •

"So you had a nice time over the weekend, did you, Joe? Did you tell your host you appreciated his hospitality."

"I certainly did. I told his food was wonderful, his drinks were delicious, the scenery was wonderful, his wife's kisses were wonderful . . ."

"Wait a minute, Joe, you didn't tell him that, did you? Whatever made you say a thing like that?"

"Well confidentially she kisses like a cow, but I didn't want to hurt his feelings.

• • •

Frosh: If the dean doesn't take back what he said to me this morning I am going to leave school.
Soph: What did he say?
Frosh: He told me to leave school.

JAZZ, DISCUSSION AND REVIEW

By R. E. Manifold

We first offer some justification for our efforts, that is we have a very definite object in view. We do not know the background of the reader nor his points of view in approaching and appreciating Jazz, so in some cases we'll soar happily over the goal we have set, and in others fall miserably short.

In a word, criticism, will be the vehicle used to present an insight into the field which we have chosen to treat. And our ultimate aim is a dissemination of an enthusiasts' opinion, in the hope that it will stimulate more interest, invite argument, and generally advance the pleasure which belongs to any lover of an art form.

And already we see a skeptic raise an eyebrow at our last sentence so offensively we leap to an explanation. We will lean on an argument of Wordsworth's and say that Jazz is the spontaneous overflow of powerful feelings, and though its roots lie in stimulated emotion (as does all art as we know it) the musical reaction is almost simultaneous with the stimulus rather than an emotion recollected in tranquility; hence there exists in jazz unique quality—that of freshness and originality, not to be found in any comparable idiom. (We'll be free to argue from eleven to twelve on Mondays in C & F.)

Now to our task — we were pleased to see, stocked in the local record shop a re-issue of Muggsy Spanier's "Relaxin' At The Touro," on Bluebird. This record with seven others was cut in 1939 and all were loudly applauded by the jazz fancier. This group of discs heralded Muggsy's return to the field as he had been convalescing in the Touro, a sanitarium in New Orleans, hence the appropriate title. The record throughout is restrained and permeated by a feeling of sombre repression. The mood is fixed by Joe Bushkin's piano when with an economy of well selected notes he introduces Muggsy's plaintive horn. Spanier plays the first chorus with his plunger horn in a manner which suggests Armstrong. A bluer chorus we have never heard than that which follows by Bushkin. Rod Cless, now deceased, follows with a deeply emotional solo on clarinet almost lyrical in suggestion. Next a half chorus by George Brunis during which the band quietly enters and Spanier's horn is again felt as the record ends. We feel that this record is one of the best that Spanier has ever cut, certainly much finer than some of his later recordings with Commodore. The other side "Shimmy Like My Sister Kate" is lively.

We feel that the lovers of Dizzy the Dynamic have been slighted, so be not offended as we intend to devote an equal amount of time to the ultra-modern jazz in later columns.

Town Talk

By KAISER & McMANUS

In an effort to obtain "Annie Oakleys" this column will provide free advertising for the various Rialtos about town. It will also be offered as a guide to those Villanovans seeking entertainment in Philadelphia during the fall and winter week-ends.

The theatre season has begun in earnest with all the marquees displaying varied productions to suit any taste.

Revivals seem to be the order of the day. Originality is stepping aside to make room for perennial favorites. "Rose Marie" has just closed at the Shubert. At the same theatre "The Merry Widow" is now holding forth. The tuneful Lehar operetta will certainly be remembered as a show of every season past.

If reminiscences of the Mauve Decade are desired, the Forrest Theatre is all dressed up in a pleasant revival of Oscar Wilde's, "Lady Windermere's Fan." The Victorian comedy of manners with decor by Cecil Beaton was quite a hit in New York last season. Although the acid epigrams of Victorian society may have lost some of their punch, this lavish production with Cornelia Otis Skinner makes for an evening of rewarding theatre.

The Locust can lay claim to the most ancient revival this season. The play is "Medea," by the Greek tragedian, Euripides, of fifth century Athens. Jason and Medea were met early in high school experience in the sail of the Argonauts. Judith Anderson, John Gielgud and Florence Reed provide a more than competent cast. Mr. Gielgud appears to have deserted Oscar Wilde for the ancients, as he appeared last season in an admirable revival of "The Importance of Being Earnest."

A true mark of the winter season is the arrival of the Ice Capades of 1948 at the Arena. Those who have never seen an ice show are sure to admire the art and beauty of the performance. It is also a yearly treat enjoyably repeated.

The Youth Concerts seem to be the best of three choices. Posters to this effect will be found in Mendel Hall, the Library and the Commerce and Finance Building.

Those interested in any of the listed series should contact the writers of this column, or leave their names at the Villanovan office. An orchestra representative will handle all ticket arrangements.

BULL PEN

By John Kucha

One of the most interesting schools to open up since "High School at home," is the new school for bartenders, which has started classes in Philadelphia. G.I. approved, too. We tried to apply but they wouldn't recognize our transfer credits from Ford's.

It doesn't take much of a stretch of imagination to imagine a typical day at this school. Frinstance: You report for bar lab at eight in the morning. Your head is bursting if you've done your two pints homework. The Prof. enters, everyone grabs a Bromo-Seltzer and we're off to a higher education. Fifteen drunken specimens walk in and you listen for two solid hours to how their wives are mistreating them. This is followed, by sixteen irate wives looking for their husbands. (You see, drink leads to bigamy).

The student bartenders then listen to an hour lecture from Ray Milland while the janitor shoos away the stray bats that have accumulated The bell rings. Just time enough for some potato chips and pretzels and we're off to class. But first a pep rally for the students! Hic. Hoc. Hooray, Calvert's the Special for today. Team! Team! Team! Ah, yes, there's lots of spirit on this campus!

Afghanistan University reports overcrowded conditions on its campus. It seems everyone there rides to school on his zebra. So now the university grounds are filled with zebras With a prewar enrollment of three Ubangis, the last jungle war ended and headhunters are now seeking educational benefits under the Taft-Gazoonkus Bill. Conditions are so crowded that there is end in sight. We can believe that, too! The tom tom line forms at the right.

One Frosh standing line complained that he only moved two feet in one hour. That was okay! Only we discovered that the guy had three legs.

See you next week.

'NEATH THE SPIRES

By Joseph R. Quill

Whether we realize it or not, fewer days were more uncertain than is today, the fourteenth of October, 1947. Strong nations are reaching with iron hands toward the very existence of smaller nations, breeding distrust and jealousy all over the world. All nations are supposedly saying, "Let's put away our arms," and in sharp contrast are continuing, to recruit military might. We can see a very close and concrete example of this in watching our naval students gather on Austin Field.

The proceedings of a week ago today, at the United Nations Assembly, were called the "most tumultous day's debate in U. N. history." Why cannot men agree and work together to produce this better world?

They have turned their backs to God, not because he is God, but because they see something that they think they might like a little better.

Materialism is the trend of the day, and no thought is given to any other trend. We can see materialism expressed very clearly and openly in some of the great powers of today. Even the United States has been accused again and again of imperialism by those who cannot seem to get the word out of their minds.

What is the remedy for this materialism and turmoil? The remedy is evident as soon as the reason is discovered. If materialism builds strife, then its opposite — godliness should bring the affairs of the world to a tranquil state.

If the masses and their leaders would truly return to God, we would see in our day a change so obvious and apparent that all men would marvel. Would that all men could see God as their co-workers, and as One who is interested in even the most minute thing. If men could see God as this, then we would not worry about international affairs, for the hand of God would be directing every move that was being made.

ONE SMALL VOICE

By Frank McBride

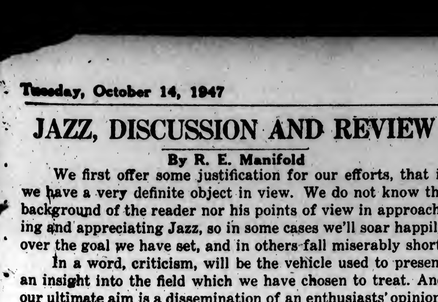
Why I'm Here

The editor was faced with the choice of running this column or a series of articles on "The Mating Habits of the Fan Tailed Bobolink," by Dr. Fortesque Humphreys, famous South Dakota tree dweller. Well—with remarkable insight into our readers' preferences—the editor made his decision, but the death of Dr. Humphreys forced him to reverse it. . . .

Why Not Cheer

We hate to be serious, but can't pass up this opportunity to earnestly congratulate that lonely quintet that prances up and down in front of the stands at our football games. Wonder how it feels to stand out there and look up at a sea of 3000 immobile faces once a week? Maybe we think we've outgrown the "rah rah" stage, but—when Ike can shed his dignity at Michie Stadium and bust a lung singing "On Brave Old Army Team"; or when Nelson Rockefeller can sit in the rain at Hanover, N. H., cheering like a Dartmouth freshman—I think maybe even the biggest wheels at Villanova could break down and make a little unified noise for the Wildcats.

Incidentally, those guys with the horns play the first and third verses of "Alma Mater" between the halves every week. The words (and those of our other songs and yells) run from page 69 to 73 in the Students' Handbook. They sound terrible when the whole student body joins in—we know—we saw a Villanova game in 1939. . . .



Food's So Dear

President Truman, in recent messages to the people, has cautioned us to (1) eat less; (2) cut prices. . . . Louie of the Pie Shop is doing all in his power to see that we Villanovans adhere to these suggestions. . . .

Tea—Not Beer

Well, the fall social season is under way. . . . Rosemont broke the ice with a gala Man Trap held on their grounds October 5th. Results: no hits, several errors and eighteen runs in brand new nylons. . . . We weren't there but Jack Corr, Don Collins, Hugh Johnson and a few other social lights report that it was veddy, veddy nice, so orchids to Eileen Gillespie and Dot Kane for a fine afternoon . . . Incidentally, whether we and the Duchess of Windsor like the "new look" or not, the Rosemont gals do.

On the same date the Chestnut Hillers froze us out! Yep they poured tea, too, but not for Villanova. What's the matter, girls? We hate, too!

By John A. Rowe

It is Registration Day. The dusty Paoli local rolls into Villanova Station and comes to a grinding halt. A travel-worn figure, struggling with bulging suitcases, clumps down from one of the cars. He drops a dog-eared magazine, retrieves it with obvious effort and gazes at the departing train. A cold feeling of desolation grips him for an instant, but this quickly departs as he recalls that now he is on his own. He ventures a step toward the college. Suddenly he stops, furtively glances about, and, satisfied that no one is near to see, he nervously fumbles with a small zippered bag. It pops open and a toothbrush and a shiny new razor fall out. He replaces these articles in feverish haste, digs deeply among the contents of the satchel and finally extracts a $1.00 pipe and a tin of tobacco. He applies a light to the crimp-cut protruding from the bowl Puffing furiously, he gets a nice blaze. Feeling sufficiently masculine, our hero then proceeds up the path, his eyes smarting with the smoke belching from between his teeth.

Upon reaching Mendel Hall he is greeted by the "Welcoming Committee.. (also known by terms unprintable), who provide him with a "dink," button, and a "Reg." booklet. Only a few months ago he was a big shot, a senior, a wheel in his small domain. It takes a while, but gradually our friend accepts this novel idea from the Orientation Committee, and he resigns himself to his fate. Our friend spends the rest of his first day getting himself registered, getting his schedule and other essentials.

The loneliness of his first night away from home is accentuated by the physical cold of his room as well as by the coolness of his stranger-roommates. Our hero is very sour to the world as he tosses throughout the night. He thinks of his downy bed at home, and what ever possessed him to pick a college so darned far from home. Morosely he compares the swell times he had in high school with his present galling dilemma. At last he dozes into slumber, and when he awakens, the world seems a little brighter, at least. As the day passer he begins to appreciate the architectural and natural beauty of his new home. He likes the way everyone says hello, even though they don't know him from Adam. Pretty soon everything is going very nicely; he gets another blanket, they turn on the heat in his room and even his pipe begins to lose its bite.

Add Officers To ROTC Unit

Captain R. J. Farfield of the United States Marine Corps and Lt. Commander H. G. Carlson, a naval aviator, have been assigned to the Villanova unit of the N.R.O.T.C. as instructors of naval science.

A graduate of North Dakota State College, Capt. Farfield received his commission in the Marine Corps at Quantico, Virginia in 1942. He joined the 9th Marines, 3rd Marine Division and served on New Zealand, Guadalcanal and Bougainville as an infantry officer. Through 1944, Capt. Farfield instructed officer candidates in infantry troop leadership at Camp Pendleton, Calif. He then returned to Pacific action, with duty on Saipan and in the American occupation of Japan. With the peace, Capt. Farfield was assigned to the University of Minnesota where he took a post-graduate course in industrial relations.

Lt. Commander Carlson graduated from the Naval Academy in 1940 an then entered flight training at Pensacola. He received his wings there in 1942. During the war he served with an aircraft squadron and later was transferred to an air support group on the "U. S. S. Rocky Point" and the "U. S. S. Lunga Point." Prior to his arrival at Villanova, he was stationed at Pearl Harbor with Utility Squadron No. 1. He was awarded the Purple Heart.

German Club Meeting Set

Neustadter Kreis, the Villanova College German Club, has scheduled its initial meeting for Tuesday, October 14. The group will assemble in room 215, Mendel Hall, at 8 P.M.

A lengthy preliminary session of the executive committee was held last Monday evening. At that time Rev. William Lunney, O.S.A., Moderator, discussed plans for the coming year with the committee.

Vince Pica and Frank Gusikowski, co-chairmen of the group, are in charge of the arrangements for the reception of new members. All interested students are eligible for membership.

"I've got a perfect news story!"
"How come, man bites dog?"
"No, bull throws the professor."
The Brown and Gold

The professor that comes to class ten minutes late is rare—In fact, he's in a class by himself.
The Brown and Gold

Extension Course at Hallahan Begins 30th Year

Simultaneous with the opening of the school year at Villanova was the launching of the fall extension courses at Hallahan High School in Philadelphia. These are also conducted by the Augustinian order.

Rev. Joseph C. Bartley, O. S. A., Dean of Commerce and Finance school at Villanova, heads a capable staff of instructors of whom many are well known to faculty and students at Villanova. Among these are Dr. Hartman, Rev. William Krupa, O. S. A., Dr. Bartley, Mr. Dougherty, Mr. Allessandroni, and Dr. Brown.

Offered at the night school are courses in Commerce and Finance, including Accounting (B. S.), and courses in Nursing (B. S.), Education (B. S. M. A.), and Liberal Arts. The majority of students are working people.

Of the 400 attending the night session three nights a week, 40 per cent are women. The students, comprising teachers, nurses, business men, and veterans, come from Philadelphia and New Jersey. They are working toward degrees, certificates, or are taking specialized courses in their chosen fields.

Fr. Bartley has stressed that the courses are more practical than cultural, inasmuch as they prepare for entrance into the business world. He also stated that many of the certificate studies were comparable to first and second year college work.

The Saturday classes 900 strong, include one hundred lay persons; the remainder are nuns, priests, and brothers from within a fifty mile radius of Philadelphia. Now in its 30th year this extension school offers degrees and studies to those in teaching and nursing as well as to those in business. Post graduate work is also offered to those who attend Saturday morning classes.

ALUMNI CLUB HOST TO COLLEGE PRESIDENT

The Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire, O. S. A., president of Villanova College will make his first public address of the 1947-48 school year Thursday evening at a meeting of the Villanova Alumni Club of Philadelphia. The meeting will be held in Philopatrian Hall, 1923 Walnut street, at 8:30 p.m.

Jordan Olivar, head football coach at Villanova, will show color moving pictures of the Villanova-Army game, at this meeting. This will be the first public showing of these pictures.

Alumni Schedule Pre-Game Rally

A pre-game rally and dinner will be held in Boston by the Greater Boston Villanova Alumni Club on Thursday, October 23, the night before the Villanova-Boston College football game. The Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire O. S. A., President of Villanova college, will be the principal speaker. The dinner and rally will be held at the University Club, 40 Trinity place, Boston, Mass.

James V. Hartnett, '26 president of the club announced that the response for tickets has been enthusiastic and that the meeting, "Will probably be the best we have ever had."

Mr. Hartnett said that parents of students now in Villanova may attend and can make reservations by contacting him at the Robbins Co., 80 Federal street, Boston 10, Mass. He said that both men and women are invited. The meal will be a steak dinner; tickets to the affair will cost $3.50.

Frosh: "Do you know who some of the greatest leaders of men were in the last century?"
Soph: "Sure, Women!"
Auburn Plainsman

Traditional Regs Overtake Frosh

By Michael Nowlan

With renewed zest and traditional color, Freshmen orientation has resumed its former status on the college campus. Wearing of the regulation uniform, learning of the school songs and cheers, and attendance at two rousing pre-game pep rallies gave witness to this school spirit.

Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A., Vice-President of the College, and Rev. Edwin T. Grimes, O. S. A., M. A., Chaplain, delivered talks to the class of 1951, in the Commerce and Finance Auditorium, Wednesday evening, October 1st, preceeding the Miami game rally.

Regs Issued

The Orientation Committee, headed by Matthew J. Kearney, kept registration in high gear and indoctrinated the incoming Freshmen with the true spirit of Villanova. "Regs," consisting of blue freshmen skull cap, identification pin, and handbook were issued to the first year men immediately preceding their matriculation.

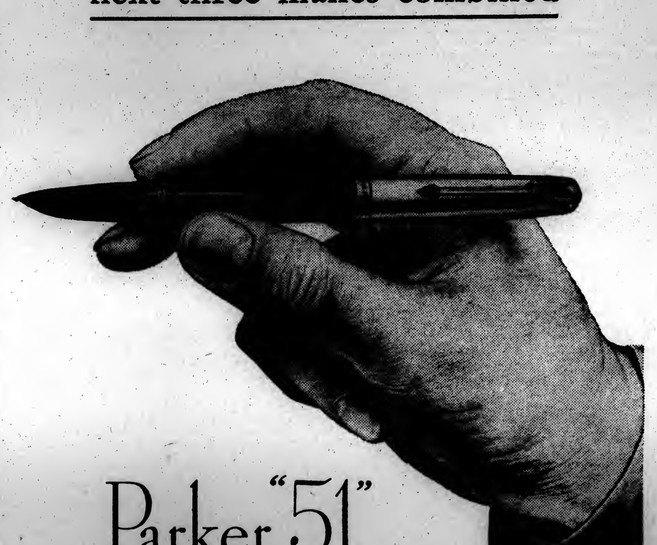
Songs, cheers and pep talks featured the first Freshman meeting, Wednesday of Registration week, on the campus in front of Austin Hall. The following night, the huge Army game rally was held in the Stadium.

Discipline Stressed

College rules and regulations were the main theme of Fr. McKee's talk to the Freshmen class. Father spoke on the necessity of carrying out college rules and mentioned such subjects as correct attire, weekend privileges, cars on campus, smoking, and cutting classes. He emphasized his desire that the new members would always conduct themselves in a manner befitting a Catholic college gentlemen.

From the Dakota Scientist:
A young girl, seeing names like "Surrender" and "My Sin" on the perfume counter, timidly asked, "Don't you have anything for a beginner?"

Salesman: "Madam, I represent the Darnit Woolen Mills. Would you be interested in some coarse yarns?"
Madam: "Well, I'm a little pressed for time. Are they long ones?"



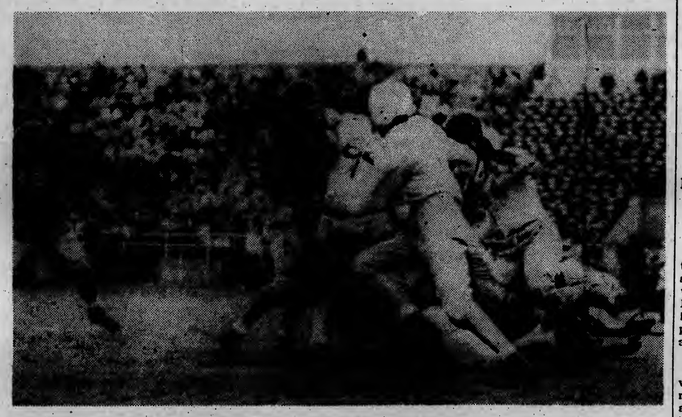
"If I don't bring home Dentyne Chewing Gum, they attack!"

"Boy! Do these kids make my life miserable if I forget the Dentyne Chewing Gum! I can't blame the little shavers, though. I'm as keen as they are on that refreshing, long-lasting flavor. And Dentyne helps keep their teeth white, too."
Dentyne Gum—Made Only by Adams

At 20 great Universities...

More wanted than the next three makes combined

Parker "51"



●77 surveys in 29 countries confirm the Parker 51's amazing popularity. At 20 leading American universities, senior men and women voted Parker more-wanted than the next three makes of pens combined. ● This preference stems from the 51's distinctive styling—its incomparable performance. Precision-made, it starts on the instant—glides with satin smoothness. And only the "51" is designed for satisfactory use with new Parker Superchrome—the super-brilliant, super-permanent ink that dries as it writes! ● Choice of points... smart colors. $12.50; $15.00. Pencils, $5.00; $7.50. Sets, $17.50 to $80.00. Parker "V-S" Pens, $8.75. Pencils, $4.00. The Parker Pen Co., Janesville, Wis., and Toronto, Can.

worlds most wanted pen... "51 writes dry with wet ink!"

Copr. 1947 by The Parker Pen Company

VILLANOVAN SPORTS

Passing for long yardage, Villanova's Bill Doherty (13) receives perfect protection from Tom Clavin (63) and the center of the Wildcat line. Bob Polidor (19) slips through the Sailor's right tackle Zacharkow (62) and right guard Downes (44) as a potential pass receiver.

Football Team Downs Kings Point, Loses To West Point, Ties Miami

Oliver's Eleven Beats Sailors 60-0, Army Wins 13-0, Hurricanes Deadlocked, 7-7

Opening its 54th collegiate football season before a homecoming crowd of 10,000, the Villanova Wildcats ran over a weak Kings Point team by a 60-0 score. Coach Jordan Oliver used four full teams in winning his second straight decision over the Mariners.

On the defense, Villanova held its white shirted opponents to a net loss of minus 22 yards while on the offensive, ran up a total of 302 yards.

Capriotti Scores

After the opening kick-off and tackle by senior John Siano, Kings Point got nothing through the line and was forced to kick. On the first play from scrimmage, Cap Capriotti picked the ball up and on play No. 43, shot over right tackle, and galloped 62 yards unmolested for the first score of the game. Siano came in and kicked the extra point. Score 7-0.

Shortly before the end of the first period, Andy Gordon intercepted a pass that set up the stage for another score. With Steve Rominik, Phil Snyder, and Tom Clavin carrying the ball, the Cats drove to the Mariners one. Clavin was elected to take it over for the score.

Bob Polidor, 168 pounds of jet propelled speed was the next man to score. Taking the same hole Capriotti used on the first score, Polidor, aided by a timely block by Tom Smith, racked up 18 yards to score. Siano's kick was good. Score 20-0.

Caulfield Scores

On the last scoring play of the half, Jim Caulfield, the halfback, grabbed Steve Rominik's long pass down the middle to score standing up. Siano's kick was the last bit of scoring until the final quarter.

With Jack Tuiskie, Al Veling, and George Schreiber taking hand-offs from quarterback Billy Wolff, the Wildcats made their longest sustained drive (59 yards) of the day. With the ball resting on the four, Wolff crossed the Sailors up by passing to end Roy Schleicher who stretched his 6 foot two inch frame out to grab the ball for the score.

The long awaited and highly heralded Villanova conquest of the 1947 Army eleven failed to materialize. When the dust settled over Michie Stadium, the Army Mules had racked up its 29th consecutive win and once again the Wildcats had failed to score on the Cadets. The final score was Army 13, Villanova 0.

In fact, failure to score was the only disheartening note in the Wildcats play. None of the 5,000 fans, who had followed the team to the Point, could say that they had been let down. The play of the Blue and White so impressed some writers that they referred to them as a revved-up ball club. Whether or not this is an accurate appraisal remains to be seen.

Teams Closely Matched

Defensively the teams appeared to be evenly matched. The Cadets got the jump when a quick kick on the first series of downs settled inside the Villanova ten. This forced the Wildcats to play very conservative ball for the remainder of the first quarter while Army pressed the advantage it had gained. It wasn't until 13 minutes of play had lapsed that Army notched a first down. This fact testifies to the ability of the Villanova defense.

Gustafson Scores

Late in the second quarter, Villanova put the ball in play on their 11 after an Army kick. On the first play Al Veling was jarred and fumbled the ball which Gustafson recovered for Army on the 13. Then Gustafson faked a hand off to Bobby Stuart and went around a confused Villanova right side for the first score. This was a very smooth and deceptively executed play. Joe Steffy, Army's able captain converted. The score was Army 7, Villanova 0, at the half-time.

Again in the third period Army turned a recovered fumble into a score. Ralph Pasquariello fumbled on his own 23. Rowan recovered for Army and in six plays, one a 16 yard advance by Rowan, the Army had scored again. The line play was exceptionally ferocious at this time.

(Continued on Page 6)

Track, Baseball Players Excell in Summer Sports

By Dan Redmond and Jim Lyons
Track

After complementing one of Villanova's most successful Spring track sessions with some mid-summer performances as hot as the weather, Coach Jim Elliott's track luminaries have returned to emulate their last year performances as Wildcats.

Most talked about performances were those of George Guida, whose national fame has now become world wide after his most successful Scandinavian tour. Teammates Browning Ross and George Thompson also made brilliant showings in the National A.A.U. meet at Lincoln, Nebraska, last July.

Guida Runs in Europe

Guida, after pulling up in the Senior National 200-meter dash, came back to edge Dave Balen, Colorado, for second place in the 400-meter run, a few strides behind Illinois' Herb McKinley. The place position nominated George for the U. S. team of nine men which was selected to tour the Scandinavian countries for a six-week period last summer. A similar team of nine traveled Central Europe during the same time.

Ross, whose second to Gerry Karver in the IC4A mile was one of the season's surprises, pulled a surprise on himself when, after training for the metric mile (1500 meters) in the Nationals, he decided to enter the Senior National 10,000-meter run at the eleventh hour. Brownie ran a heady race and although he lost to Eddie O'Toole, Manhattan's distance ace, he provided an anticlimax for the fans with his thrilling kick finish to beat veteran Don Lash, former Indiana University star. The Woodbury Wonder supplemented his 10,000-meter second place showing with a fourth in the 3000 meter Steeple-Chase, won by his old nemesis, Forrest Efaw.

Thompson Wins

Thompson, representing the NYAC, showed evidences of what to expect from him this year, with a great victory in the Junior National 5000 meters. Long-striding George returned to place sixth in the Senior

(Continued on Page 6)

Villanova Downs Holy Cross, 13-6

Wildcats Score Impressive Victory of Favored Crusaders for Seasons Second Win

By James Plunkett

At sunbaked Fitton Field last Saturday, an astonished crowd of 20,000 partison fans watched Villanova's Wildcats run rough-shod over a heavy Holy Cross squad by the wholly unindicative score of 13 to 6.

For for the first time this season, Villanova unleashed the offensive power which caused many observers to name her the "dark-horse", in pre-season prognostications.

'Cats Get Early Break

The Wildcats, taking advantge of every break afforded them, scored their first touchdown in the early moments of the game. Bob Sullivan, the Crusaders' fleet halfback, fumbled when hit by a host of Villanova players on the opening kick-off with Al Barker recovering. Ralph Pasquariello boomed his way to the four yard line in two plays. When the Holy Cross line held on three bucks to the left, Bob Polidor took a shovel pass from Bill Doherty and scampered around right end to make 6-0.

Tom Clavin with Bill Doherty holding converted the extra point.

Reilly's kickoff was again taken by Sullivan who returned it to the 25-yard line. A pass netted a first down on the 36 yard line but there the Mainliners forward wall held and the Purple and White was forced to kick. Steven Romanik made a nice return to the 41 but a clipping penalty on the play put the ball on the 16-yd. line. Shy of a first down by a half yard, Al Schmidt dropped back to his own 15 where where he got off the longest kick of the day, a 65-yd. boot, to the Holy Cross 20-yd. line.

Pasquariello Goes for 44

Still unable to penetrate an outweighed Wildcat line, Brennan kicked to Polidor who ran the ball back 16 yds. to his own 31. Bill Doherty with big Ralph Pasquariello blocking, picked up 7 yds. around right end. Running this time behind the fine downfield blocking of Tom Smith and Bill Lilienthal, the burly fullback from Everett, Mass., crashed off tackle for 44 yds. The Wildcats fumbled on the next play but Barker recovered again after three Holy Cross players dove but missed the ball.

Resorting to the airlanes for the first time in the game, Doherty's attempted pass was intercepted by Veto Kissell who ran it back to the 27. After two plays were smothered by an inspired Wildcat line, the Hilltoppers tried to pass.

John Sheenhan came crashing through the interference to knock the ball out of Brennan's hand and recover for Villanova, on the 17 yd. line.

Romanik's pass to Schmidt in the

(Continued on Page 6)

Kittens Deadlock Rutgers 150's, 6-6

Knecht Scores Lone Villanova Tally in Strong Defensive Game

Villanova's 150 pound football team opened its second season with a 6-6 tie with Rutgers. The game was played last Friday at New Brunswick, N. J., and marked the inauguration of the Rutgers 150 pound team's 1947 season, as well as Viallanova's.

Klein Scores Early

On a 15 yard jaunt, about midway in the first period, Leon Klein rang up the first score of the game, and Rutgers' only touchdown of the afternoon. The try for the point-after-touchdown failed.

Coach Tony Cocco's team countered with a Villanova score in the latter part of the second period. Joe Millins' pass-catching ability figured prominently in the scoring. It was Mullins, on an over-the-center pass catch, who set up the pay-off play. Harry Knecht shot an aerial to the diminutive end in the end-zone to tie up the ball game.

Charlie Battino's kick for the extra paint was low.

In the final period, Knecht brought back a Rutgers' put some 64 yards, skillfully using his blockers along the way, to the two yard line. After three Villanova tries at a very formidable Rutgers line, Battino was stopped inches short of a score when he went wine around and, having received a lateral for blocking back MacNulty.

Rutgers gradually worked itself out of its very precarious position, and successfully beat back Villanova's many hammering attempt to score gain. The ball game ended with the ball about mid-field.

Defense Shines

The game was marked by the defensive play of both teams. Villanova's line, from end to end, did a more than creditable job of repulsing the Rutgers T plays. Much pressure was exerted upon the Rutgers' quarter-passers throughout the game by crashing Blue and White ends. Captain Bobby Fitzmeyer and Joe Carroll distinguished themselves by their line-backing play.

The Rutgers line was at it best when it held off Villanova on the two yard line for a complete sequence of downs. Right guard Sugarman was a constant source of trouble to Villanova ball-carriers. A fast, hard, aggressive ball player, he

(Continued on Page 6)

Speedy Bob Polidor gets off on a long runback of Harry Ghazi's punt, Outrunning Lee Wilson, John Gattuso is number (20).

Ross, Thompson "Beat Army"

Cross Country Team Downs Mules, 22-30

Villanova's cross-country team was off to a successful start on September 26th when it defeated the U. S. Military Academy over West Point's rugged course with a 22-33 score The Wildcats ran away with the first three places. Browning Ross, who set the school's mile record last spring, and George Thompson, Jr., National 5000 meter champion, joined hands to finish in a tie for first over the 4.2 miles course in 21:40.0.

Jim Kennedy, 1945 Philadelphia Catholic League Champion, who is showing great improvement, was third. Dave Williams and Tom Conboy, the Patriarchs of the team — both of whom are 27 years old, were Villanova's fourth and fifth men. They were followed by Jim McGehrin, Roy Cameron, and Charlie McKee. The team was accompanied by George Guida who had just returned from his successful European tour.

Elliott Pleased

Coach Jumbo Elliott was pleased with the team's performance. He intends to develop the boys through the New York University, Fordham and Seton Hall meets so that they will be in the peak of condition for the IC4A and NCAA championships.

Order of finishes in the Army meet: 1, Browning Ross and George Thompson, Villanova; 3, Jim Kennedy, Villanova; 4, Tom Strider, Army; 5, Jim Thompson, Army; 6, Dave Williams, Villanova; 7, Charles Farabaugh, Army; 8, Bruce Buechler, Army; 9, Bill Trieschmann, Army; 10, Tom Conboy, Villanova; Jim McGehrin, Roy Cameron, Charlie McKee, Villanova.

Kittens Deadlock

(Continued from Page 5)

broke through the line considerably enough to make himself the most conspicious of all the Rutgers linemen.

Several minor injuries and bruises were suffered during the game by both teams. None however, were serious enough to sideline any player for more than a few minutes playing time.

TRACK and BASEBALL REVIEWS

(Continued from Page 5)

National event.

Other Wildcats to perform in the Nationals were George "Buck" Coleman, holder of the Villanova Stadium pole vault record, and Gene Kelly, one of last year's quartermilers. Kelly ran a leg of the 1600-meter relay for Grand Street Boy's Club, who finished fifth in this star-studded field. Coleman experiencing one of his very rare bad days, had to be content with a fourth in his specialty.

Guida, Ross and Coleman were picked from the Middle Atlantic section as three of thirteen representatives of that section. This representation of three gave Villanova a tie with Penn State for the largest number of representatives in the Middle Atlantic group. State sent IC4A champions, Gerry Karver, Curt Stone and "Tubby" Lang.

Ross Unbeaten

While his teammates were performing at home, George Guida was making headlines with victories abroad. Virtually unbeatable at the 400-meter distance, the amiable South Philadelphian often contributed his talents to the American cause in the 100 meter or 200 meter distances. Here, Negro ace, Hamson Dillard, was invincible, but George was usually good for second place. While his individual victories were brilliant, probably George's best effort was his anchor leg on the 1000-meter relay team, which won the world's record by seven-tenths of a second at a meet in Oslo, Sweden.

With the first man running 100 meters, the second 200 meters, the third 300 meters and the fourth man 400 meters, the American team lined up with Fortune Gordien, Walt Smith, Harrison Dillard and George Guida. George ran a blistering 47.1 second quarter to bring the Yanks home first in 1:52.8, to shatter the record set by the United States in the 1936 Olympic Games.

Baseball

When the semester's ending closed the collegiate baseball season last spring, the Villanova nine had an enviable record of 13 wins and 4 defeats. In addition four of Coach Weinert's players had been signed with big league clubs

Frank O'Neill was signed to play with Mobile, Alabama, of the Southern Association. This is a Brooklyn farm of the A.A. circuit However, he was sent to Spokane, Washington, of the Western International League. Frank was the regular backstop for the Spokane club, which lost the league race by one percentage point. Harland Clift, formerly the third baseman of the St. Louis Browns, took an interest in Frank's hitting and aided him greatly As a reward for his great season O'Neill has been recalled by Mobile and he will join the club for spring training in Ciudad Trujillo after graduation this February.

Smith and Casey to Utica

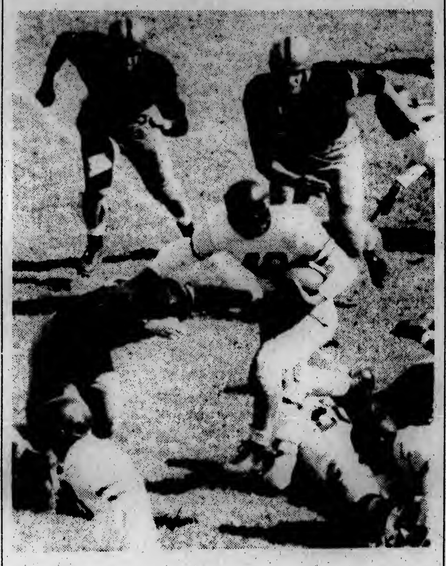
Bill Smith and Dan Casey also made great strides toward league careers. Both players were signed by the Phillies and sent to Vandergrift, Penna., of the Class C League. Bill matched thirteen wins against only 2 losses.

Danny played the outfield and recorded a healthy .325 average while fielding superbly. The right-handed pitcher and the left-handed hitting outfielder are due to report to Utica in spring. This is a Class A ball club and from there, it is only a short hop to Shibe Park.

Lord Turns Pro

Joe Lord, basketball and baseball great while at Villanova, was also signed by the Phillies. Joe was farmed out to Dover, Delaware, in the Class D League, but left the club shortly after the season began for his health's sake. Joe will play with the Rochester club of the Professional Basketball League.

Others of last year's nine played in and about Philadelphia. Charlie Comerford, lanky first sacker, first played for Tacony of the Eastern Penna. League, but later he performed for General Electric, his employer. His heavy hitting was a factor in their winning the Philadelphia National Industrial League.



Jack Corr played left field for Manoa of the Main Line League. He finished the season with a .330 batting average. Manoa won the pennant but lost in the Shaughnessey playoffs.

Al Litwa played the outfield while Stan Chojnacki pitched for Collingswood of the Camden County League.

Major McDonnell served as batting-practice pitcher for the Phillies. In the only game in which he performed, the "Major" struck out six in two innings after relieving Charlie Schanz in an exhibition at Waterbury, Connecticut.

"Jigger" Donahue turned in nine wins while losing only four for Bennington, Vt. Fred Price, Charlie O'Malley and John Blong played in the same league as Jigger, playing for Fort Albans, Vt. Fred and Charlie both hit over three hundred. John hurt his ankle early in the season but played good ball when he returned to action

And so the story goes, all the players stayed close to the game and Villanova has great prospects for this coming school year.

Fullback Ralph Pasquariello managed to outrun Army's Jim Rawers (88) and Jack Shelley (21) for an eight yard gain but somebody forgot to take out Goble Bryant. Lillenthal, Pavaiko and Kane lead the way for the run.

Football Reviews

(Continued from Page 5)

Steffy's conversion boot was poor.

Villanova, trying desperately for a quick score, belatedly opened a passing attack that enabled them to move to the Army 20. However, inability to coordinate a running and passing attack made it extremely hard for passers Romanick and Gordon and Army took over on downs on their own 20. Never again did Villanova threaten. The game ended with Army in possession of the ball in Wildcat territory.

A good Villanova club had been defeated by an Army team that didn't miss Blanchard, Davis and Tucker as sorely as they were expected to.

A crowd of 26,500 saw a never-say-die Villanova eleven came back in the third period to score a T. D. and an extra point to deadlock Miami University at 7-7, a week ago Friday night at Shibe Park. Both teams, on the rebound from defeats suffered at the hands of Army and Baylor respectively, were at each others throats all evening.

Early in the second quarter, Miami recovered a Villanova fumble and in six plays advanced to the Wildcat 14. Then Johnston after passing to Bowman for 12 yards, swept right end for the first score of the game. Harry Ghaul placekicked the all important extra point.

The 'Cats began their scoring drive in the third period from their own 14 yard line when Dan Brown recovered a Miami fumble. From here Big Ralph Pasquariello, Al Schmidt and Cap Capriotti alternately carried the ball to the Miami 2 yard line. Schmidt hit pay dirt on an off tackle play. John Siano saved the day for Villanova when his placement split the uprights to tie the score.

In the final period, Villanova took to the air and several times proved that the shortest distance between two points is the airlanes. This passing attack got the 'Cats to the Hurricane five. Here the advance was stymied, so with fourth down coming up, a field goal was called for. John Siano, the place kicking specialist came in the game for a try, but his placement was a few feet wide.

Villanova Downs

(Continued from Page 5)

end zone was dropped and once more the 'Cats lost a scoring opportunity as three more passes were batted down by an alert Holy Cross defense.

Holy Cross Scores

For the first time in the game, Holy Cross showed signs of its widely publicized offensive power. In seven plays, the Crusaders marched 87 yds. to score their only touchdown, featured by the power running of Veto Kissell who smashed off-tackle for 54 yds. in two plays. The payoff play was a 20 yd. pass from Brennan to Barton in the end zone. Sullivan's kick was wide to the left.

Holy Cross nearly scored again following the kickoff when Ball recovered Polidor's fumble on the 13 yd. line. A magnificent interception by Schmidt in our end zone for a touch back and Villanova took over on the 20.

T. D. Called Back

Pasquariello broke into the clear on the very next play to go 80 yds. for a touchdown only to have his long run nullified by a hotly disputed clipping penalty. The half ended with Villanova again threatening the Crusaders goal.

On the second play of the second half, Holy Cross fumbled and an alert Wildcat defense was quick to jump on the loose ball. For the fifth time in the ball game, the Cats, deep in enemy territory, couldn't come through with the payoff punch and Holy Cross took over on the 25.

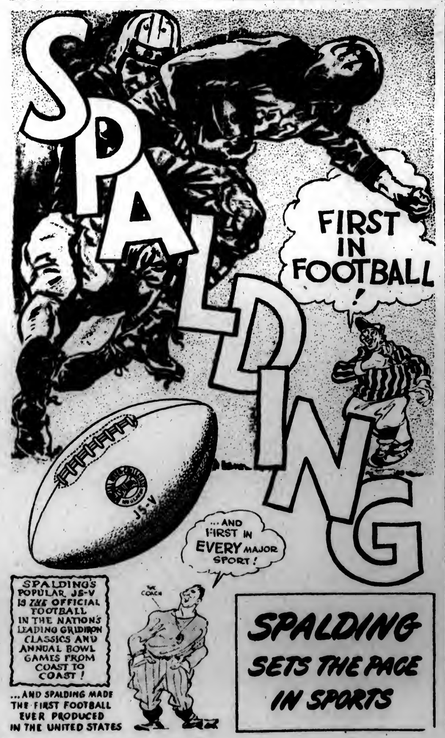
Forced to kick once again, Brennan got off a long boot to Captain

(Continued on Page 8)

Detriot Next On Schedule

Sunday afternoon, October the 19th, coach Chuck Baer will bring his Detroit University eleven to Shibe Park in an attempt to avenge a 28-6 drubbing handed him by the 'Cats in the Motor City last season.

With a nucleus of six men from last season, Coach Baer has built another T Formation squad, with last year's center Gene Malinowski in the hand-off roll. Gene's passing performances in early practice accounted for his transfer from the forward wall into the backfield.



Titans Have Good Record

Villanova will constitute the fifth game in the Titan schedule. Up to this point they have had a relatively easy time with Central Michigan, Wayne and Marquette but dropped one to Oklahoma 30-22. In keeping with last year's performances, their quick opening "T" has stood them high up in the list in the country's groundgainers. At the present writing they rank fifth in the country with the average yardage per game of 431. At the time of last year's encounter they ranked first in the country, but after Billy Sullivan and Co. finished with their thrusts at the forward wall, their average was considerably diminished.

The Titans have a well-balanced line and with Joe Wright and potential "All-American" Gene Malinowski in the backfield, they present a real threat to the Villanova record. However, the ledger shows that The 'Cats are still ahead in the series, eight wins, four losses, and two ties.

Villanova came out of the Holy Cross game in fairly good shape. Detroit, then, can expect to be looking at the same line, grabbing at the same backfield that trounced them last year, and praying that the expected 30,000 fans won't be too partial to the home club.

FLY to the B. C. Game in LUXURIOUS DC-3 AIRLINERS
Round Trip Fare $25; Tax & Dinner Inc.
Only 48 Reservations Available
See Hugh Johnson in VILLANOVAN Office
TODAY 2-4 P. M. :: THURSDAY 2-4 P. M.

Engineering Curricula

(Continued from Page 1)

ing has added five more credits to roster. The Sophomore year cites 20-20, in place of 22-18; the Junior year 19-19, in place of 17-18; and the Senior year 19-18, which remains constant.

Smallest of all credit increases is two credits in the Mechanical Engineering school. They need 40 in their second year, 38 in their Junior year, and 37 in their Senior year.

COLOR SCHEME

(Continued from Page 1)

ent from those usually employed in interior decoration for they are functional. All of them harmonize with each other. They are not based on personal preferences or artistic "hunches," but have required many years of research and study.

In addition to the drawing rooms, Father Vrana has informed us that the Pattern Shop, Machine Shop, Tool and Stock Room, and the Machine Shop Office, have been studied by Mr. Whitmoyer, and will be completed in very short time.

Roberts ESSO Service
Courtesy - Service - Thanks
WE SERVICE YOUR CAR While You Are in Class
Lancaster Pike and Haverford Road
B. M. 9141 ROSEMONT, PA.
Pick-Up and Delivery Service

KEEP SUPPLIED WITH SCHOOL TICKETS
GOOD ON BUSES AND RAIL CARS UNTIL USED
5c a Ride, including Special Free Transfers. Obtain identification Cards at School Office.
RED ARROW LINES
Philadelphia Suburban Transportation Co.

Band Is Slated for Two Out of Town Appearances

Villanova's sixty-piece concert band will make its first out-of-town appearance since the war on October 23 at a Knights of Columbus Convention in Gloucester, Mass.

On the following afternoon, the band will demonstrate its marching precision between the halves of the Villanova-Boston College game. The band, with new uniforms, received favorable comment on their half-time appearances at the Army and Miami football games On these occasions the unit was televised over W.P.T.Z while displaying their marching ability.

Rev. Ralph H. Handran, O.S.A. will conduct the concert band in Gloucester, his home town. During the war Fr. Handran served as a Navy Chaplain aboard the "U. S. S. Cowpens," which was awarded a unit citation. Since his return to the college, he has been appointed moderator of the band and the Glee Club.

Station WIBG which is applying for a television license from the F. C. C., has approached the college authorities seeking permission to include the concert band on its television educational program. Also in the formative stages are a series of concerts to be broadcast over Philadelphia radio stations.

Included in the band's active program will be an appearance in Camden, where the unit will march in a Holy Name parade. Tentative plans include concerts at neighboring colleges. Last year these concerts were received enthusiastically by those who heard them and it is hoped that greater interest will be aroused this semester.

JEANNETT'S
Bryn Mawr Flower Shop
Corsage Specialists
FREE DELIVERY
823 Lancaster Ave.
BRYNMAWR, PA.
Bryn Mawr 0070 : Flowers by Wire

Advantages of ASME Outlined At Inaugral Session

The "Opening Rally" of the A.S.M.E., conducted by Joseph Beals, Chairman, and supervised by Prof. George H. Auth, Honorary Chairman, was held October 3, in Mendel Hall. Introduced to the group of approximately seventy-five students, were the newly elected officers; Joseph Beals, Chairman, Dick Shinners, Vice-Chairman; Louis Alvare, Secretary, and C. Donald Bradburn, Treasurer.

Prof. George H. Auth, in his speech, briefly outlined the many advantages that the student branch of this society offers the undergraduate. He maintained that the principal objectives of the Student Branch were: To broaden the student's acquaintance with the practical side of Mechanical Engineering; to give each student member the journal of the society, (Mechanical Engineering), and thereby keep him informed about Engineering progress; to develop the student's initiative and ability to speak in public, and to familiarize him with the parliamentary procedure and organization of learned societies; to enable the student to establish fraternal contact with his fellow students in engineering, at Villanova and at other colleges, and to meet graduate engineers engaged in the active practice of Mechanical Engineering. Said Prof. Auth: "Three men of the graduating class of '47 obtained excellent positions in engineering through the acquaintances of higher officials at last year's convention which was sponsored by Villanova

Welcome Villanovans!
The Chatter Box
Under New Management
French Cuisine
Luncheon Dinners
PARTIES — BANQUETS
839 Lancaster Ave.
B. M. 3312 BRYN MAWR, PA.

POLIDOR SELECTED TO RECEIVE AWARD

A six man committee, consisting of coaches, alumni and students selected Bob Polidor as the outstanding Villanova football player in the Army game on Sept. 27, thereby entitling this outstanding back to a set of wearing apparel donated by the Manly store of Bryn Mawr. The committee included Jordan Oliver and Art Raimo coaches, Bill Connelly outstanding alumnus, and student Bill Altenpohl, Hugh Johnson, and John Kucha. Messrs. Altenpohl and Johnson are Editor-in-Chief and Sports Editor respectively of the Villanovan while John Kucha was head of the Army game rally committee. The wearing apparel consisted of a sports outfit, shirt and a pair of socks.

Polidor, who was the sparkplug in the Villanova drives against Army repeatedly brought the large crowd to its feet by his spectacular runs and pass catching achievements. Bob also played a fine defensive game making numerous slashing open field tackles.

Others who gave a fine performance against the cadets and were honored in the balloting were center Milt Komarnicki and quarterback Steve Romanik. Komarnicki was a stalwart in backing up the line while Romanik showed excellent marksmanship in leading the teams passing attack.

Junior Class Discuss Rings At Meeting

The class ring issue occupied the floor at the first meeting of the class of '49.

After a lengthy debate, John Kucha, President, appointed Edward Quinn to head a committee which will secure bids from various ring manufacturers. This committee will make its report at the next meeting, tentatively scheduled for October 29th or 30th.

Joseph D'Auria was named chairman of a committee which will request competitive bids from clothing firms on class Blazers.

Junior Week was announced as the first week in May. Rev. Thomas Burke, O. S. A., suggested that this year's Junior class should also hold a Father's Day.

Every Junior was requested to attend the next meeting when matters of policy will be discussed.

Refreshments were served to the group.

Navy Department Sets Exam Date

A competitive examination for young men between the ages of 17 and 21 seeking admission to the N.R.O.T.C. will be held on December 13 at various regional distructs throughout the country including Villanova College. There will be 2500 scholarships awarded to the various colleges in the nation.

The cost of tuition, fees, and textbooks will be paid by the government, and students will receive retainer pay for other expenses during college at the rate of $600 per year.

Candidates interested are asked to fill out applications and have them in the hands of the Navy Department before November 10th. Further information and literature may be obtained from the Navy Department or at Villanova's R.O.T.C. office.

Twenty-Eight Teachers

(Continued from Page 1)

James Boswell, and Chemistry, Dr. Alexander Gero and Mr. Frederick Strong.

C. and F.

The C. and F. School takes on Mr. Albert C. Holl in the Business Law section, and Fr. George J. McLaughlin in the Economics and Finance branch Mr. Daniel Rivas, from Puerto Rico, is instructing elementary Spanish.

Religion

Fr. John A. Walsh and Fr. Thomas P. Purcell are with the Religion department. Fr. Purcell also takes over as Assistant Chaplain.

Villanova Downs

(Continued from Page 6)

Bill Doherty who set up the winning touchdown by returning the ball behind fine blocking to the Holy Cross 35. Clavin went off-tackle to the 17. Polidor swept right end to the 6 yd. line, for a first down. Joe Rogers who up until this time had been sidelined with three broken ribs showed the form which made him the East's leading ground gainer last year by going over from the 3.

Clavin's attempted conversion was wide. Villanova 13, Holy Cross 6.

After an exchange of punts, the Crusaders dug deep into their bag of tricks and came up with the most perfectly executed play of the game. Brennan on a fake punt, lobbed a short screen pass to Sullivan who behind six men interference ran to the 45 yd. line where he was forced out of bounds.

As the game progressed the play became more and more vicious and the fumbles became more and more frequent. The hardest tackle of the day came early in the fourth quarter when Danny Brown rammed into safety man Bob Farrell just as he caught a punt, causing him to drop the ball into the waiting arms of Dan's teammate, Bill Carlin.

With the KINGS of SPORTS it's CHESTERFIELD

A B C

Always Buy CHESTERFIELD

A ALWAYS MILDER
B BETTER TASTING
C COOLER SMOKING

The Sum Total of Smoking Pleasure

Copyright 1947, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

VILLANOVAN

VOL. 23—No. 2 VILLANOVA COLLEGE, VILLANOVA, PA. Tuesday, October 21, 1947

RELIEF DRIVE SPONSOR'S DANCE

Strong Recommendation For Affiliation Given By Villanova N.S.A. Delegates

Lengthy Report Stresses Adoption of Constitution and Fulfillment of Program

After two weeks of continuous effort, the two delegates to the Madison Convention have submitted their report.

The first section of the report discusses the history of the N. S. A. It points out that a world student conference was called in Czechoslovakia in the summer of 1945. The United States was represented by a group of twenty-five students selected from ten leading colleges and 15 U. S. student youth organizations such as Y. M. C. A.; N. F. C. C. S., etc. At this congress the delegates from the United States recognized the need for a National Student Association in the United States. They saw the good work that other national student organizations had been able to do and saw in the cooperation of national student bodies the possibilities of the creation of a world society that would possess true international understanding.

Prefacing the real body of the report, the delegates made a personal statement concerning the objectivity of their observations at Madison.

In the statements on their observations, they emphasized first of all the spirit of the delegates. They said that the great cross-section of the American student community really and truly worked together to bring about an organization which would emphasize the qualities which they had in eommon.

Concerning the constitution, the delegates wish to point out that if the students of Villanova wish to become members of the N.S.A., then they through the Student Council must ratify the constitution. The passage of the constitution was the biggest job at Madison and the mature way in which the provincialism and secretarianism was overcome seemed to indicate to Mr. Barrett and Mr. McDermott that the students of the United States could really form the NSA.

The next section of the report explained the proposed activities of the NSA in its first year. Three different fields of activity were high-

(Continued on Page 3)

Bunting of N. A. M. Stresses Production to Lower Prices

Offers Management's Views on Spiraling Cost of Living

By John L. Kucha

PHILADELPHIA, October 15—In a joint press conference at the Hotel Warwick with local college editors and the working press, Mr. Earl Bunting, President of the National Association of Manufacturers, outlined his organization's policy regarding major problems facing the country and the world at large, today.

Mr. Bunting stressed continually that higher productivity in all phases of economic life is the only solution to the present dilemma of the high cost of living in this country and the starvation prevalent abroad.

Pressed as to the matter of the spiraling upward cost of living, Mr. Bunting replied that this phase is a circle which, as living costs go up, correspondingly pushes production costs up. He further stated that government buying of food to aid foreign countries is also a contributing factor. This in turn increases the cost of federal government which puts an additional burden on the taxpayer and lowers his buying power. However, he added, that problem, the cost of government, is the people's problem.

The N.A.M., he said, wishes to develop sound public relations between employer and employee with stabilized employment as an ideal. Collective bargaining should be sincere in order to make it effective. The N.A.M. does not favor industry wide collective bargaining as it is its view that such practices are both unfair and monopolistic.

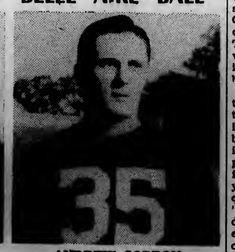
With such contributing factors as the high cost of government, and the high wage rates now in effect, industry has been unable to pour back in the form of re-invested capital, one-fifth of its natural gross products which business had done for a period of sixty consecutive years ending in 1929. Mr. Bunting, quoting from industry's figures, "Our growing wage and living standard with a peak of sixty million employed, has caused a deficiency of available capital to re-invest. We are surprised that living costs are not higher because we have not increased productivity to a corresponding level." Production in the last year has lagged behind expectations, yet the outlook is favorable for the future. Labor itself has eased its demands, and Mr. Philip Murray himself concurs that the overall solution lies in increased production.

On the personal side, Mr. Bunting is a tall, middle-aged man who confesses that he was unfortunate in being born without a gastric lining in his stomach, which cut his educational pursuits short. However, he managed to educate himself

(Continued on Page 8)

2270 Students Set New Record

The official estimate of the Registrar's Office of the student enrollment for the Fall Semester, 1947, lists a student body of two thousand two hundred and seventy. Sixty three percent are veterans.



Of the vetcrans students, who total one thousand four hundred and twenty one, one thousand two hundred and ninety-three are in attendance under Public Law 346, and one hundred and twenty four are training under Public Law 16. Four veterans in the Seminary Section in Saint Mary's Hall completes the total.

Breakdown of the enrollment figures by classes and schools are unavailable at this time

CO-CHAIRMEN OF BELLE AIRE BALL

ROBERT O'CONNOR

ANDREW GORDON

BELLE AIRE BALL DATE ANNOUNCED

The Senior class of Villanova has announced that the Belle Aire Ball, the traditional social highlight of the year, will be held on January 16. At the same time it was also stated that January 17 has been chosen as the date for the annual Senior Dinner Dance.

Andy Gordon and Robert O'Connor have been selected as co-chairmen of the Senior Prom by Carl Yeager, president of the class of '48. He assured that all efforts were being taken to provide a suitable band for the Prom. A fine name band is promised and is sure to provide enjoyable music.

There will be a meeting of the Senior class this evening at 8 o'clock in the C & F auditorium. A financial report of last year's activities will be given and formulation of plans for this year's activities will be started. Color films of the Army game will be shown. All members of the Senior class are urged to attend.

Scopetta Named Program Chairman

A rush of activities is pointing the week's happenings toward Saturday night, October 25, the date selected for the N. F. C. C. S. benefit dance to be held at the Villanova Field House.

This dance, in being the first sponsored by any unit of the N. F. C. C. S. in this area, constitutes the first general student activity in that organization's drive on behalf of foreign students.

John Scopetta, chairman of the event, anounces that the program will be conducted along the harvest theme. No dance with that theme featured has been conducted at Villanova in a number of years.

Staff Given Preview

The committee plans to introduce a surprise feature, in addition to decorations in keeping with the original theme of the program. Students are hopeful that this same feature will be placed in the decorations plans at future Villanova dances.

JOHN SCOPETTA

Informality of dress will be the keynote of the evening. Publicity to that effect is being distributed. This, plus the low price of admission, has given unexpected momentum to ticket sales.

Villanovans to Play

The Villanovans, led by George

(Continued on Page 8)

BELLE MASQUE HOLDS TRYOUTS

Last Wednesday and Thursday, the C & F auditorium was the scene of tryouts for the Belle Masque, Villanova's Dramatic Society. Each of the eighty members read selections from well known plays so that Fr. Krupa, Moderator, could judge their voices.

Rehearsals for three one-act plays will begin sometime this week Included in these plays will be the famous "Fisherman." The cast for these plays will include girls from Rosemont whose assistance was greatly appreciated last semester.

Position Open

Besides acting there will be positions opened for directors, make-up men, stagehands and production men.

Fr. Krupa stated that he was well pleased with the turnouts and that this should be one of the Belle Masque's greatest years.

These plays are expected to be presented sometime before the Thanksgiving holidays. Before their presentation, however, there will be public readings at several places such as Valley Forge Veteran's Hospital and other hospitals.

Last Semester, the Belle Masque staged three one-act plays, entitled; "Trifles" by Susan Glaspell, "The Workhouse Ward" by Larry Gregory, and "Where the Cross is Made" by Eugene O'Neil. These plays were received favorably and it is hoped that the same success will be attained this year.

Fr. Krupa holds a graduate degree in Speech and Drama from the Catholic University.

Linsalata Inaugurates Accounting Society

An accounting society, the second of its kind to be formed in Pennsylvania, is being organized at Villanova by Mr. Linsalata, Assistant Professor of Accounting. The first such society originated at Temple prior to the war.

The Committee on Education of the Institution of Certified Public Accountants of Pennsylvania, of which Mr. Linsalata is a member, is encouraging the organization of these groups. Membership is open to all Junior and Senior Accounting majors with an average of better than 85 per cent in Accounting subjects. It is pointed out, however, that those who are not accepted for membership may attend all meetings and receive many of the benefits of membere

The objectives of the society are three:

1. To provide Accounting majors with an opportunity to learn the many accounting procedures not emphasized in the regular college curricula.
2. To explain methods by which accounting background can be utilised in obtaining good positions after graduation.

(Continued on Page 4)

Spanish Prof. Lauds Spirit

More than a hundred members assembled in the Commerce and Finance auditorium for the opening meeting of the Spanish Club, Tuesday evening The guest speaker was Mr. Daniel Rivas, a native of Cuba.

The organization is the largest on the campus and many functions are planned. The highlight will be the annual celebration of Cervantes Day. Rev. Lorenzo Lozano, O. S. A. was ill last year, and this forced the cancellation of the annual event; however, plans are now under way to have the gala fiesta sometime in November. In preparation for the occasion the club will meet every

(Continued on Page 4)

The President Speaks

Dear Men of Villanova:

Today, and during the months that lie ahead, the United States is being called upon for the relief of Europe. There is no human need that must not be satisfied. People must be fed, clothed, and housed. The sick must be hospitalized, treated, and given proper medical care. This relief must be extended to the old, middle-aged, and to children and infants as well. It is a sorry circumstance, but at the same time a happy opportunity for our Nation to exercise, in a Christian way, the corporal and spiritual works of mercy.

The National Federation of Catholic College Students, of which Villanova College is a member, is organizing a drive for the relief of students in foreign lands. Our own students in America are the hope for the future because they are the leaders of tomorrow. Our fellow students in foreign lands are no less the foundations on which are based the hopes of men in foreign countries. Today they are poverty-stricken materially. They must be fed. They must be clothed. They must be housed. Further, they must be supplied with the minimum tools necessary in the pursuit of truth on whatever level — pencils, pens, paper, books. It is up to us who, comparatively speaking, enjoy a super-abundance of material things to alleviate their plight.

Accordingly, there will be conducted on the campus, during the next few months, a drive for the welfare of our foreign brothers. I recommend this drive most warmly to the student body at large. I ask your whole-hearted and sincere cooperation. I know that the spirit of Villanova will carry it to the heights of extraordinary success.

Sincerely,
Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire,
O. S. A., President

Another Duty

They're home again. They're here to stay. We speak of the war dead that are being brought back to the United States during these weeks. Every day they arrive and we cannot help but think.

It's a difficult subject to discuss. In doing so we reopen old wounds, wounds which might be better left covered by time for time is no quick healer. But we as a nation have so much to learn; we as men have so much to realize.

Those same men know not what they were fighting for. They know not what they died for. They fought for a nebulous something. Did they die for nothing?

They left to us an obligation, an obligation to determine just what that nebulous something is. It is for us to prove that the nebulous something is the God-fearing, democratic way of living. Then, having decided, we must spread our beliefs to all parts of the globe. Having done this, we will know that these men did not die for nothing.

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

WILLIAM F. ALTENPOHL, '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
JOHN A. McDERMOTT, '48 ..... Managing Editor
JACK CASBY, '49 ..... News Editor
HUGH W. JOHNSON, '49 ..... Sports Editor
GEORGE SZYMANSKI, '50 ..... Feature Editor
RICHARD HUBBARD, '48 ..... Picture Editor
VINCE PEDANO, '49 ..... Circulation Manager
NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI, '48 ..... Business Manager
EDWARD OXFORD, '50 ..... Copy Editor
JAMES PLUNKETT '49 ..... Assoc. Sports Editor

News Staff

Michael Marshall '49, Richard Shinners '48, Joseph D'Ambrisi '49, Michael Joseph Nowlan '49, Charles Laferty '48, Frank Gobes '51, Frank Gurkowski '51, William C. Miller '50, Thomas Smith '51, Louis Alvare 48, Jerry Conne s '49, Toby Linahan '51, Joseph Miller '51, George Sabo '50, Martin Mulkeen '15, Joseph Rath '51, Francis Dunne '51, Thomas Mitchell '51, Joseph Miller '50, Marty Binder '49, Joseph D'Auria '49, Jack Mallick '49, John Kennedy '49, John James Connolly '51, Thomas M. Russo '49, Joseph Kenney '50, William J. Leighton '50, John W. Applegate '51, Robert F. Carroll '51, Joseph Callahan '51, George R. Reinhart '51, Arthur Woodrow '51, William Foley '50, Frank McGuhan '50, Dick Randolph '49, Robert MacRoberts 50, James Guss '50, Gerhard Farnon '50, Edg ar Le Blanc '49.

Feature Staff

R. E. Manifold '51, William Breninghouse '51, Joseph Quill '50, A. J. Mullen '49, David V. Anthony '51, John A. Rowe '51, Gun'her Kaiser '49, P. McManus '48, John Mallick '49, Vince O Neil '51, Mark Morris '51, James Tayoun '51.

Sports Staff

James Lyons '48, Vincent O'Donnell '48, Daniel Redmond '48, David Ryan '48, Paul Altenpohl '49, Joseph Hennessey '49, Ned Hoffner '49, Arnold Keehn '49, Roy Cameron '50, William Cambo '50, Neal Fahy '50, George Mondschein '50, Raymond Mondschein '50, Tyson Reilly '50, Walter Riegel '50, William Ward '50, Edward Hattrick '51, Harry Jacoba '51, William Klussmrits '51, Raymond MacWilliams '51, Paul Presede '51, Harold Range '51.

Picture Staff

Robert Graf 51, John Kane '50, Raymond Berninger '49, Don Haflinger '50, William Neal Carter '51, Charles Culley '51, Philip McChesney '51, William Murphy '51, Harry Papalan '51, Robert Pope '51, Jack Muratori '51.

Business Staff

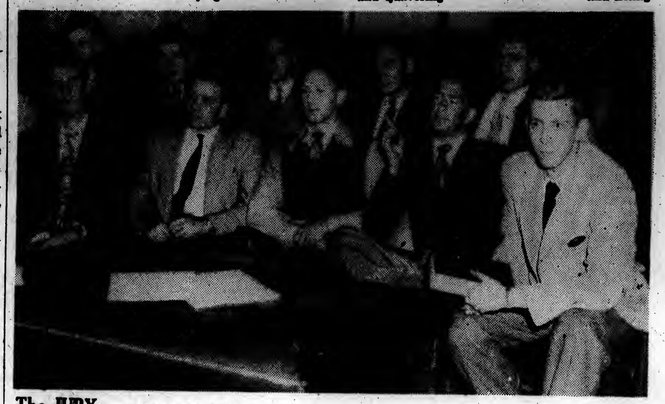
William Wescott '47, Joe King '48, Barry Gibbons '51, Jack Gibbons '51, Donald Barait '50.

Circulation Staff

George Weber, III, '51, Ralph Iorio '50, Ed Kent '51, Mario Piazzolla '51, Charles Clunk '51, Ralph Skowron '51, Gene Lanigan '51.

Faculty Advisor— Rev. John A. Klekotka, O.S.A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman —
LEO GOODREAU



AN EDITORIAL IN PICTURES

Orientation Committee Stages A One Act Farce

The Characters

The BAILIFF —Big, Bad and Bullying The CULPRIT —Quivering and Quavering HIS HONOR —Black and Biting

The JURY — Dashing and Debonair

The Convicted Emphatically Expresses His Opinion of the Whole Show

The Farce

Last week something really different happened at Villanova. The Freshman were tried for their breaches of regs. The whole proceedings took on a humorous aspect and everyone seemed to be having a fine time. The real climax of the show came, however, when the judge and the D. A. became very serious and told us all that activities such as the show they were staging was part of a responsible student government of Villanova. . . . Comedy can't sub for real drama!

THE VILLANOVAN POLL

By Tom Russo

This year we, the Feature Department of the Villanovan, are presenting in addition to our regular features, a student opinion column. From time to time we intend to choose a different subject that will be of interest to the student body, compose ballots containing a number of questions pertaining to that subject, and then conduct a survey on the campus by having our staff interviewers personally interviewing various students. The ballots will then be counted and the results presented in this column.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Tom Russo was employed by Opinion Research Corp., of Princeton, N. J., in their production Dept. In future editions Tom will conduct Campus polls on varied topics. Readers are invited to submit topics of interest.

We chose as our subject this issue, "The Weaker Sex," and interviewed one hundred students. Below are the questions asked and the statistics obtained from the answers:

1—Do you prefer blondes, brunettes, or redheads?
Blonde—29%
Brunettes—55%
Redheads—10%
No opinion or don't care—9%

2—About how tall do you like the girl you date to be?
Average—5 ft 5.43 in Range—5 ft. 2 in. to 5 ft. 10 in.
No opinion or don't care—3%.

3—Do you like a girl to use a lot of makeup, a conservative amount, or none at all?
A lot—1%
Conservative—96%
None—2%
No opinion or don't care—1%

4—Are you in favor of the new style dress lengths?
Yes—11%
No—80%
No opinion or don't care—9%

5—List in the order you rate them, the following five qualities you prefer in a girl:

	Percentage
	1	2	3	4	5
Looks	23	34	17	12	14
Neatness and dress	6	17	35	33	9
Nice personality	57	29	12	1	1
Likes the things you do	4	11	22	34	29
Has high ideals and virtues	11	10	13	19	47

BULL PEN

By John L. Kucha

Last week in the Bulletin, we read, with more than a little interest, an official explanation by the Philadelphia Water Department of why Philadelphia's water was running yellow from the spigots and dyeing all the housewives' sheets and pillowcases a neat olive drab, thus causing many a veteran husband to spin on his neurosis. Here follows in cold, inhumane, scientific language the explanation:

Because of drought in the upper regions of Pennsylvania, the level of the Schuylkill dropped last week. Thus, surface currents stirred up the bottom of the river and manganese deposits were drawn from the bed into the water system. When the water, laden with manganese, reached the purification plants, the chlorine bleach reacted with the manganese and formed an insoluble salt which was carried in suspension to all the drinking and washing water of Philadelphia.

Well this sounds harmless enough when the human element is excluded. BUT! How about that human element, Philadelphia Water Department? You didn't tell us that a local prizefighter took a drink of this water and turned yellow. You didn't mention a watery word about Joe Blotz, who took a drink of this water before leaving for work and because of the chemical reaction on the fillings of his teeth, started to televise a football game from his chest, did you? You kept mum about Susie Glockenspiel who had a high iron content in her blood and who, when she sat on her boyfriend's lap, electrocuted him! You kept it hush, hush, when Joe Baeszler started emitting beta and gamma rays and had to be operated on for removal of his valence! Nary a word, eh? Shame! For shame!

We attended a press conference this past week Mr. Earl Bunting, the President of the National Association of Manufacturers, disclosed to us the medical fact that he had been born without a gastric lining on his stomach. Which started us to thinking, "What effect has the ulcer on American Business?" In a very recent survey held by us, we were able to establish some facts which will amaze the psychology profession. Peptic ulcers of the non-suppurative type cause otherwise normal men to enter the haberdashery business and sell shorts which are too small This causes 25,000 canoe upsets per annum. Acute gastric ulcers, complicated by haematoma auris usually tend to make men enter the stock market and become bears. Whereas, those with chronic gastric ulcers end up as bulls on the Boston police force. Men who have no stomachs can easily find jobs with the Tums people. People with no brains end up by writing a column for the Villanovan.

Chit-Chat

By John P. Mallick

The purpose of this column will be to obtain news from local colleges which will be of interest to Villanovans.

Since the school year is quite young, I have only been able to obtain contact with our nearest college. In the near future I shall try to obtain a more complete coverage of local colleges.

ROSEMONT:

The semester opened with a Mass celebrated on September 26 by Fr. Sullivan with the Freshman class present. In this year's Freshman class, which totals 96, includes girls from all parts of the world. Some from China and one from Guam.

On October 22 the Juniors will hold their traditional "Baby Party" for the Freshmen. The Frosh will dress up as babies, the Juniors as mothers and the Seniors as Old Ladies. This should be quite a spectacle for the fellows to see, but I have learned that the boys are not permitted.

The new addition to the Tea House is expected to be finished in December. As soon as it is completed there will be more tea dances.

Congratulations to the Rambler, student publication, for receiving the rating as All Catholic.

There are at present five "Rosies" taking their Physical Chemistry lab at Villanova.

On Friday, October 24, the Dramatic Club will stage a one-act play. All are invited.

Strong Recommendation

(Continued from Page 1)

lighted. First was the panel on International activities. The activities of this phase of NSA can be made available to more students by the mutual cooperation which can be afforded through the union with the other American students.

Lastly the delegates urged in as strong words as they could use that Villanova recognize its place in the American student Community and realize that the NSA is the meeting ground of this community. Thus they argued that Villanova should join and embrace the programs of the NSA to the fullest possible degree.

Linsalata

(Continued from Page 1)

3. To give members the opportunity to hear prominent C. P. A.'s of Pennsylvania speak about accounting subjects of general interest, not only to Accounting majors, but to everyone who plans to enter the business world.

At the end of each school year two awards will be made by the society; the recipients will be the Senior and Junior who rank highest in Accounting subjects.

The society will meet semi-monthly. About fifty members have already been accepted into the organization.

Town Talk

By Kaiser & McManus

It is a brave producer who will unearth a classic play for modern consumption At the very moment of announcement, it's appeal is limited. Though the production be adult and the cast talented, such plays easily fail. An unfortunate example was last season's American Repertory Theater which was poorly attended. Such a cultural group cannot be maintained by giving satisfaction to limited audiences.

Producers Robert Whitehead and Oliver Rea were not content with presenting the usual Shakespeare drama. They found a play of Fifth century Corinth, "Medea" by Euripides Jed Harris, the Theater Guild and the Whitehead-Rea combination all had read the Robinson Jeffers adaption of the Euripidean tragedy. It was the latter pair who made this courageous production possible. As "Medea" is their initial offering in the theatrical world, the entire company is looking forward hopefully to the New York opening:

Those theatergoers looking for lightweight entertainment completely bypassed the Locust Theater during the Philadelphia run of "Medea" Even rave notices did not swell the first week's audience to overflowing. But word soon circulated as to the play's caliber, and the second and final week found every performance.

"Medea" is a tragedy from first to last curtain with none of Shakespeare's low comedy to lighten its somberness. Its samguinary theme was enough to drive the fair sex from the theater in droves.

The adaptation by Robinson Jeffers was executed and it's much more absorbing than the earlier translations Observed as a whole, the adaptation faithfully followed the action and scenes of the original. Even as Euripides lessened the importance of the Chorus, this modern presentation completely replaced the Chorus as a unit. Separate roles were extracted from the lyric passages of the ancient convention and were spoken by three women who appeared as individual characters

Euripides, the master of character analysis has created a feminine role that would tax the strength of any performer. It is the electric performance of Judith Anderson that commands the audience's attention from beginning to end. There has been a recent trend towards psychological drama in the cinema world. Euripides shows that the interest is nothing new. His Medea is a woman of great passion and ambition who was driven by Jason's unfaithfulness to wreck herself and her former husband.

"Medea was proof that with thoughtful adaptation a great many classic plays could be made most effective modern productions. Euripides was the modernist of his time, his interest in people was of an ethical nature. His greatest triumph was in the portrayal of human character in all its strength and weakness This "Medea" was a happy choice for Whitehead and Rea. Miss Anderson's performance coupled with a complete production of the highest quality made this play the most satisfying of the current season. There has been talk of overacting on the part of Judith Anderson, but this venomous role demands all that the most talented could offer. Considering the woman, Medea, herself, it seems impossible that her wickedness could be overemphasized.

Ho-Hum

Over-heard: "Lo Darling. Just fine. Mercy, yes, since I last saw you I've had things happen—had all my teeth out and an electric stove and refrigerator put in."
AUBURN PLAINSMAN

FLASH! FLASH!

Newspaper scoop: "Don't kill your wife. Let a Xerxes dishwasher do the dirty work."
AUBURN PLAINSMAN

'NEATH THE SPIRES

By Joseph B. Quill

Even as you are reading this paper some motorist or someone traveling across the countryside is looking at the autumn hills and trying to appreciate in some way their power and beauty. The fields and forests are gold or brown, retiring from the summer green. Overhead the sky is grey, with the quick breeze accounting for some of its color.

All the year the countryside attracts attention: winter, with glistening icicles hardened on the black trees; spring, with its damp green-growing ground; summer, with a light breeze stirring the lazy water.

Maybe there seems to be no connection between all this and the fact that in this world there are people who refer to themselves as atheists. We'll let the connecting link go 'til later. For now let us just realize that there are people who do profess disbelief in a Supreme Being or God. To put it very clearly, they say, "I do not believe in God."

Naturally, when told this by an individual, we attempt to explain to him that God does exist. Some men pull books from the shelf and show the so-called atheist the proofs that God exists. They implore him to look at the proof from history or reason. They try to show him that God exists from the fact that even the atheist has a conscience. Or they tell him the proof from causality: "Disassemble a watch and put the parts on a table. . . ." Finally, if all these fail, the atheist is asked if every effect must have a cause.

And so it goes. The proofs become more involved and the atheist becomes more befuddled rather than more enlightened. He becomes lost in a maze of undeniable and logical cold facts from which there is no escape. Probably, he also remains an atheist. If one man were to tell a second that he did not believe the second man had a brother, the man would no doubt show him his brother. If a man were to tell me he did not believe in God, I would show him God. I would take him out to the top of a high hill and show him the resting valley below with its swaying trees and colored fields.

Then would the atheist and God meet — face to face.

ONE SMALL VOICE

By Frank McBride

THE IRON CURTAIN

"If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools"

The above lines from "If" by Kipling — were brought to our minds when we read the column we wrote last week. Don't know who the knaves were, but it's a pretty sad day when a voice can't be lifted to criticize — and we think justly — the size of a hamburger.

Friday Frolic

Friday night found Don Canada, Tom Myers, Bill and Herk Meehan, etc., cavorting (with friends) at a barn out Conshohocken way. Tom Kiley was the enterepeneur, maitre d'hotel, or whatever you wanta call him.

The Night Before

The curtain rolled up on the fall social season in our own Field House this past Saturday with the Soph Cotillion. Really had a good turnout and a fine time was had by all.

This week's orchids to Jack White, Frank Wegener & Co., for their part in the "reincarnation of Villanova.

Can't stop here without doffing mon chapeau to George Beltzer and his boys for a fine performance. Pete Kite really flies high with his electric guitar.

The Morning After

Very impressive turnout at Shibeshire on Sunday for our fracas with Detroit. The cheering and general "esprtie de corps" is really on the upswing. Let's keep it that way, fellows! (Pun 87).

Gerry Mauer, Dick Sigg, Bucky Coleman, and several other "cats" did their "after the gaming" at the Philadelphia Navy Yard Officers Club.

Incidentally—there's buffet supper there every Sunday and a dinner dance every Saturday. Good food, good music, and at prices tailor made for a $65.00 per month income!

Coming Attractions

Speaking of $65 00 per month, this coming Saturday is balm to a battered wallet. At $1.50, who can go wrong? The cause—aid to needy students in Europe—is really worthwhile, so we hope to see you all there. Don't forget—this is a very informal affair.

Speaker: "Money, my friends, is not everything. We should all realize that it cannot bring us happiness; nor will it win us friends. There is no joy to be had from it. I speak, of course, of Confederate money."

THE STYLUS

Employer: "Remus, did you go to your lodge meeting last night?"
Butler: "Nossuh. We dun have to pos'pone it."
Employer: "How is that?"
Butler: "De Grand All-Powerful Irrevincible Most Supreme Unconquerable Potentate dun got beat up by his wife."

WEST CATHOLIC NEWS

Pop: "There's nothing worse than being old and bent."
Hopeful Son: "Oh yes, Pop, being young and broke."

VILLANOVA VIEWS by Cody

Diesel and Stanley Address Council

Affiliation of Villanova Chapter of NFCCS with Student Council Suggested, Aid Asked in Relief Drive

At its weekly meeting, last Wednesday night, the Student Council discussed and acted upon many questions currently confronting the student body. Among the problems brought to its attention were the service in the dormitories, and the quality of food served in the cafeteria. Mr. Diesel, a guest speaker, spoke on the National Federation of Catholic College Students, and Mr. Stanley discussed the Student Relief Drive.

Mr. John Kucha, head of the Army rally committee, turned over to the council a surplus of $253.00. This was the amount cleared on the rally and the trip to West Point.

Bill Regan brought to the attention of the Council that complaints had been received concerning room service.

A committee was directed to inspect the cafeteria and the kitchen. The committee, headed by Bill Regan and Carl Yaeger, is to turn over a daily report on the meals served there.

It was suggested that the athletic association show motion pictures of Villanova football games to the student body. These pictures would include only the away games, and it was proposed they be shown in Commerce and Finance auditorium on Thursday evenings following the games.

After the business had been cleared, the Council was addressed by Herman Diesel, who spoke for the National Federation of Catholic College Students. Mr. Diesel, Vice-President of the Philadelphia region and head of commissions, asked that a Student Council member be appointed as a representative in his Federation at Villanova. He claimed that the growing importance of the N.F.C.C.S. warranted affiliation with the Student Government.

He discussed with the Council the Radio Acceptance Poll group which opposes offensive radio shows and the possibility of putting the poll to the students of Villanova.

Jack Stanley also addressed the council on the Student Relief Drive. He stressed the fact that as representatives of the student body they would be able to arouse interest in this drive to aid Europe's undernourished students.

The Council also appointed Jack White chairman of school spirit committee and Dick McMonigle chairman of the committee on social affairs.

"From what I hear, your wife is a bit of an angel."

"Too true! She's always up in the air and harping about something."

CAMPUS POLISH STUDENTS ATTEND PHILA. MEETING

At a gathering in the International Institute, in Philadelphia, last Sunday evening, eighteen Villanova students comprised the largest single delegation at the first meeting of the Polish Intercollegiate Club for the present school year. Ed Szkaradnik of Villanova, assumed the duties of the vice-presidency to which he was elected last June.

Mingled in the crowd were young men and women from all the large and small colleges in the Philadelphia area, including Penn, Bryn Mawr, Chestnut Hill, Immaculata, Drexel, Temple, and others. Following a brief meeting, refreshments were served, and dancing commenced on a merry tone. Vacations were discussed, and friendships renewed in the remaining moments before the 11:45 P M. Paoli Local connection was rushed.

Future plans include a gala dance at the Ben Franklin Hotel, in April 1948, a Graduate Ball, honoring the graduating members, in June 1948, a concert to be sponsored at the Academy of Music, featuring a prominent pianist, in January, 1948, various smaller affairs, including dances, parties, guest speakers, business meetings, enlivened by receptions at various members' homes.

Spanish Prof

(Continued from Page 1)

Monday evening at 8:30 to rehearse singing of Spanish songs.

When the business of the meeting was completed, the spotlight was focused on Don Daniel Rivas, who recently arrived from Cuba to teach in the Spanish Department here at Villanova. In an informal talk, Mr. Rivas praised the spirit and friendliness of Villanova, and gave a brief description of his native Cuba.

Slip of the week was made at a local funeral. When the Funeral Director announced: "We shall now pass around the bier," so Tom Burke replied, "Oh, I'll have ginger ale if you don't mind."

Seven Former Students Begin Seminary Life

Seven former Villanova students have answered Christ's challenge, "Come follow Me", it has been announced by the Chaplain's office. The men to receive the call are: James M. Dean, Francis R. Quinn, Wilbur F. Beh, John Deery, William G. Plum, F Anthony Homann, and Edward J. Weidner Jr.

James Dean, Francis Quinn and Wilbur Beh were received into the Augustinian Order on the ninth of September. These young men received the white habit of the Augustinian Novice and will spend a year studying the principles of religious life at Good Counsel Novitiate, at New Hamburg, New York.

On the following day, the Feast of the Augustinian, Saint Nicholas of Tolentine, Jack Deery of Bryn Mawr, Pa., a Junior Artsman who entered Villanova in September, 1940, pronounced his simple vows of poverty, chastity, and obedience. Mr. Deery at present is completing his college course at St. Mary's Hall, on the campus.

F. Anthony Homann of Drexel Hill, Pennsylvania, a chemical student of last term, recently entered the Society of Jesus. Tony, a Villanovan staff contributor, was the author of the widely read column, "The Top Hatter".

A former pre-medical student who entered Villanova in 1941, William G. Plum of Rockford, Ill., recently completed his novitiate in the Capuchin Fathers, in Cumberland, Md., and pronounced his first vows. His name in religion is Frater Andrew.

Edward J. Weidner, Jr., of Brooklyn, New York, a C & F student, who entered Villanova in September 1946, is at present a Postulant in the Trappist Monastery of Our Lady of the Valley, near Providence, Rhode Island.

The English department has announced a new English course for next semester entitled "English in Ten Easy Lessons (or Five Hard Ones)" Course number 234. As a prelude, the English department has submitted the following:

Incorrect: Shall us take a taxi, dear?

Correct: Shall us walk, toots?

Incorrect: Dear Dad: May I have ten dollars? We are having a prom.

Correct: The lab fee for the Chemistry course is ten dollars.

R.O.T.C. Students Cruise Atlantic

During the past summer, the contract students of the R.O.T.C. program at Villanova took part in a three-week North Atlantic cruise. They along with 600 other contract students from all colleges east of the Mississippi River boarded the carrier Leyte and four of the newest type destroyers at Quonset Point, R.I. For 3 weeks they plied the Atlantic and the students fell into the routine of shipboard life. A system of rotating watches made it possible for the student to familiarize himself with the ship's various parts. The rest of his time was taken up with instruction periods, drills and special activities such as refueling at sea; simulated air attack, etc., etc.

Rev. John A Kiekotka, O. S. A., will inaugurate tomorrow a series of sermons to be given each week by a member of the college faculty at the Wednesday and Thursday chapel exercises. Fr. Kiekotka is an instructor in the Electrical Engineering Department and is moderator of the VILLANOVAN.

Class of '50 Midshipmen Rank 5th in National Tests

Word was received recently from Washington, that among the 52 colleges in the country, last year's Villanova freshmen in Naval Science Examinations stood 5th in the country.

Among the 100 men in the R. O. T. C. program this year, 52 are regular Freshmen Midshipmen who passed last year competitive examination.

Midshipman Joseph P Healy has been appointed company commander for the first fall term.

For Expert Convenient Attention

THE CAMPUS BARBER SHOP

First Class Work

Popular Prices

Meet your friends at the GREEKS

Tasty Sandwiches

Superior Soda Fountain Service

Luncheon :: Dinner

818 Lancaster Ave.
Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Where All CATS Meet BEN-ZIN LUNCHEONETTE 9:30 A. M. 11:30 P. M.

WE'RE NOT CRYING
WE'RE NOT CROWING
BUT WE KEEP ON TRYING

Tasty Snacks Fountain Service

Men's Toiletries
LOCATED ON LANCASTER AVE.
at Edge of Campus

We're Ready for You CATS

We're stocked up with the finest array of Fall clothing and furnishings a college man ever laid eyes on—and within your budget.

The MANLY Store
835 Lancaster Ave.
Bryn Mawr, Pa.
B. M. 0131
Campus Representative—Nick Marziani

College Men here's YOUR kind of magazine!

IN THE NOVEMBER ISSUE 25c AT YOUR BOOKSTORE
THE GREAT TOE . . . Ohio State's Lou Groza.
SHOULD WE HAVE UNIVERSAL MILITARY TRAINING?
IS YOUR DATING TECHNIQUE ORIGINAL?
BULL SESSIONS AT OREGON STATE COLLEGE
ONE MAN AIR FORCE . . . Glen Dobbs of Tulsa U.

Loads of SPORTS • STORIES PHOTOS IN COLOR • PIN-UPS • GAGS • CARTOONS • DATE CLINIC

5 BIG ISSUES

CAMPUS REPS WANTED
Be the VARSITY branch representative on your campus! It's easy—it's fun—it pays off! Write today for details.

Tailor-made for college men — that's VARSITY! Every issue packs a wallop with a star-studded lineup of spectacular sports, thrilling fiction, sparkling humor, luscious pinups, straight-from-the-shoulder steers on careers, dating, problems and everything else of importance in the young man's world.

VARSITY is the only magazine of its kind — it speaks YOUR language, knows YOUR interests — it's the magazine YOU have been waiting for!

MAIL THIS COUPON TODAY

VARSITY, 360 Fourth Ave., New York 10, N.Y.
☐ Count me in on your introductory offer to VARSITY! Here's $1.80 for 3 issues.
NAME.....
ADDRESS.....
CITY.....ZONE.....STATE.....
☐ Yes, I'd like to be your representative!

SMOOTH AT SOPH HOP, VILLANOVANS POINT FOR HOE-DOWN

VILLANOVAN SPORTS

Severancemen Complete First Week of Practice

By James Lyons

When Coach Al Severance called the first basketball practice of the season a little over a week ago, he was greeted by all of last year's regulars with one glaring exception. Joe Lord, who as captain of last year scored 438 points for a season record and also tallied 45 points for the district mark for an individual contest, was conspicous by his absence. This year Joe will be playing professionally for the Rochester Royals.

However, Al was heartened by the performance of two newcomers Paul Arizen, a 6' 1" South Philadelphian and Joe "Toad" Hannan, a 6-footer from the famous Hannon clan of South Catholic. Although Arizen never played high school or college ball before, he has shown plenty of polish and has mastered the pick and go and weave, which are the nucleus of the "screen" style of play used by the Main-Liners. Hannon is returning to Villanova after a tour of duty in the Navy. Toad performed with the Wildcats of '45. Playing as a Freshman, he was extremely fast and cool. Against Rhode Island States firehouse type of play, he ran wild and racked up 29 points to cop scoring honors for the night. Later that season, his set shot was improving and sports writers were predicting a great future for "Toad". In practice to date he has lived up to their predictions.

Last Year's Vets Back

Tommy Sabol, Brooks Ricca, Shy Raiken, Jack Crossin, Leo Wolf, John Weglicki and Perry Del Purgatorio are the returning regulars of the 46-47 club that won 17 and lost only 7. It is worthy of note that they suffered 6 of their 7 losses in their first 12 games, mainly because they lacked experience Then this freshmen club aided by one senior ran up 11 straight victories before bowing to Georgetown in their finale. That was the same Hoya team that spoiled Duquesne's undefeated season.

Followers of last years Blue and White team will remember the work of Sabol, Ricca and Weglicki under the boards. Leo Wolf wins favorable remembrance for his smooth play and headiness. Raiken and Del Purgatorio might have a slight nod in the scoring column while Crossin was the gazelle boy of Villanova. Incidentally, Jackie has been wearing glasses during practice. However, his game shows only improvement over last season's able performance.

Ray Petit, also of last year's squad, Bill "Bungy" Young formerly

(Continued on Page 6)

Boston College Host To Strong Wildcat Eleven

Invading New England for the second time in less than two weeks, Villanova's Wildcats will encounter the high flying Eagles of Boston College in what looms as the biggest game of the week in the East.

Fresh from as hard fought battle with Louisiana State University Denny Meyer's cohorts have been pointing for this game all season to disprove the many claims that their 14-12 victory last year was not a fluke

The series which started was back in 1922 is now stalemated at 5 wins, 5 losses and 2 ties for each team. Both squads are confident of breaking this deadlock.

Boston College is again loaded with every player except Don Panciera, back from the 1946 squad. Panciera will see action against Villanova again this year though, as he is playing for Ed McKeever's San Francisco team.

From pre-game reports, many Villanova students, will be on hand this Friday at Fenway Park. Those students who found it impossible to go because of Friday classes now have the opportunity afforded them through the securing of two Luxurious DC-3 Airlines.

VILLANOVA 150'S TIE PRINCETON TIGERS 6 TO 6

Knecht and June Score Only Tallies Kittens Again Tie

By HARRY JACOBS

Playing before one of the largest crowds ever to attend a home 150-lb. game, Coach Tony Cocco's Kittens scored their second straight tie of the season with Princeton last Friday afternoon by the score of 6-6.

Princeton was the first to break the scoring ice midway in the second quarter. With Callson, Shiras, and June carrying, the Tigers worked the ball down to the Kitten 20. With a first and 10, Don June took the ball on a naked reverse and spun around right end to score. The try for the extra point was wide.

Furey Blocks Kick

Five minutes later, Bob Furey, Norristown's gift to the Main Line Campus broke through the Princeton line to block a punt by Johnny Rock. Joe McGaughan was quick to fall on it giving Villanova the ball deep in Tiger territory.

Harry Knecht, the Kitten fullback, smashed over to score from the three. His try for the extra point was wide. That was all the scoring for the afternoon and the game then turned into a terrific defensive battle.

Fitzmeyer Excells

Although it was a hot, sultry afternoon, neither team would yield any long yardage to each other. But the man who stood out above all for his smashing defensive play was Captain Bob Fitzmeyer. Bob, who was also captain of last year's squad, refused to be taken out on any play. When the Princeton quarterback saw that Bob was backing up the right side of the line, he would run the play to the left side of the line. But the former St. Joseph High star wasn't to be fooled. Before the play would start, he would shift into the left side of the line and be there waiting for the ball carrier to run into his waiting arms.

Bill Leighton, who, in spite of having to be helped out of the game twice, Dick Devine and Harry Knecht were the big guns in the Villanova backfield. They ripped off long yardage consistantly but when the chips were down, the Ivy Leaguers tightened their line up and refused any passage.

Cornell Next

Next week, Cocco and his staff (Dave Ryan, Joe Topper, Milt Anderson, and Vince O'Donnell) will take their squad up above Cayuga's Waters to meet the 150s of Cornell. The squad, on the whole, is in fairly good physical shape except for tackle Ned Hoffner who has his nose broken in three places. Hoffner hopes to be able to play later on in the season with the aid of a nose guard.

Ross, Thompson To Run In Sugar Bowl

Two outstanding Villanova distance stars, Browning Ross and George Thompson have been invited by the New Orleans Mid-Winter Sports Association to compete in the annual Sugar Bowl Classic which is being held during the week of January 1, 1948.

Known far and wide as the biggest single sport event held anywhere in the United States, outstanding teams and individuals, besides appearing in the annual football game, also compete in various other sports; namely, tennis, track and basketball.

An omission was made last week concerning the article on the summer track achievements The VILLANOVAN stated the Villanova's mile relay team did a 3:21 mile in its only outdoor appearance last year. Actually they performed twice as a team and the second time out, they turned in a 3:16.9. The quartet, the first time was McCreary, Kelly, Fritzgerald and Guida. In the second running Dick Muscelli replaced Guida.

The two Villanovan harriers will compete in the 3000 meter steeplechase. Last year, Browning Ross was in the runnerup spot behind the National Champion, Forrest Efaw, formerly of Oklahoma A. & M. Third place went to Joe McCluskey of the New York A. C. This will be George Thompson's initial crack at the steeplechase. However, judging from past performance, the thin, long striding Junior National 5,000 meter titleholder should give an excellent account of himself.

Because of the interest lately shown, the College is making arrangements to organize a swimming team. Plans are being made and a schedule will be forthcoming shortly The college pool was not available last season.

SPORTORIAL

By HUGH JOHNSON
Sports Editor

All the way from Burlingame, California, to Havana, Cuba, we've been stormed with letters asking what happened to our Sportorial last week. Well, we had one written up but with the new setup with our printer, we can't get too many last stories in on Mondays, so we had to drop it out last week. We also had planned on running the traditional column written by Coach Oliver last week, but there again we ran into the same late story problem again. Our apologies to Coach Oliver; it won't happen again.

Last Wednesday night, your reporter said a few words to the student council concerning a possible return to the traditional Temple game. It seems that during the war, Villanova had the Navy V-12 program here while Temple had to play with fellows straight out of high school. It was only fair that the game be dropped under those conditions. But now, with Temple back to their pre-war standards, many of the students and almost all of the football players would like to see a return of the city series.

Trying to recap 4 football games is like trying to tell a soldier who spent 4 weeks in the front lines that there is a war going on. But, by taking a quick flashback at what our gridders have done, we may be able to get an insight as what to expect in the remaining 4 games.

The Kings Point game, it is generally agreed, was no real test of Villanova's potential power. It did, however, give to Coach Jordan Oliver a good look-see at his all important reserve strength. The second and third teams dominated the play which brought broad smiles to the loyal fans who were at that time, planning for a big win over the Black Knights of the Hudson.

Army and a Line

But it wasn't long after the 5,000 Villanova rooters had seated themselves in Michie Stadium that Army proved it was still the same Army of old even without its all-time All-American backfield. But it was the Army front wall, the same line that held last year's Rose Bowl Champs to a scoreless tie last Saturday, that made the difference. The Wildcat offensive was constantly stymied by fellows like Joe Steffy, Goble Bryant, Jim Rawers, and Bill Yeomans. The locals,

(Continued on Page 6)

SLOW DOWN, BUD

"Zip" Zehler (19) is a speedy individual, but was nabbed by those hands behind him while Al Ripple (74) races in to help.

VILLANOVA SCORES!

Knecht (43) carries the ball over as Fitzmeyer (53) and Dunn (18) watch. Unidentified Princeton players also watch yith expressions of disgust.

THREAT

DAVE FOLEY
Marquette Tackle

SEVERANCEMEN

(Continued from Page 5)

of West Catholic, John Farley and Pat Murphy, intramural star, are striving hard for a varsity berth.

"More Work", Say Coach

Coach Severance's comment was "They need plenty of work." But the usually pessimistic mentor, who is beginning his 12th season at Villanova, did admit that the Club looks good on the offense but he added quickly that defensively, they were still very weak. Some of the newer students might find encouragement in Al's won and loss record for nine peace time season. His teams have won 139 while losing 39 for an average of .781 percent.

Everything considered, the outlook on Villanova's basketball season is good. Veteran manager, Jack Kennedy and his new ass'stant, Christ Sickler deserve much praise for their work

First Tie in 9 Years

When Villanova tied Miami it was the first time in 9 years that the 'Cats have been held to a tie. On homecoming day during the 1938 season, Villanova fought a So. Carolina team to a scoreless tie Since then, Villanova has played consecutive football contests with either winning or losing.

INTRAMURAL BOWLING TO START WEDNESDAY

Main Line Bowling Alleys to House Renewed League

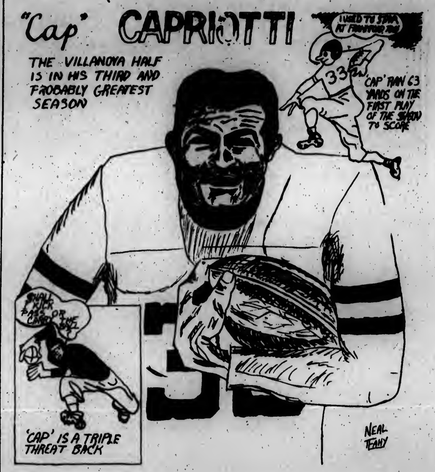
By Arnold Keehn

The Villanova Intramural program gets under way Wednesday and Thursday of this week when the Bowling league has its first practice match so as to enable the league to obtain its average bowling score and thus make handicapping a more simplified problem.

The Main Line Bowling Alleys, Rosemont, will be the scene of this Intramural program Bowling once a week, Wednesday's league will be named the Villanova "A" squad with its starting time at 3:15 and Thursday's league the Villanova "B" squad will begin its matches at 2:30. The winner of the respective leagues will have a first half championship playoff the week preceeding Christmas holidays.

New Freshman Enroll To Bolster Track Squad

Quite a few talented yearlings are expected to add to the Wildcats' mounting track prestige. Taking a quick inventory, we find here at Villanova under the able tutelage of Jim "Jumbo" Elliott some of the best freshmen track and field men in the country While ineligible for varsity competition this year, they will greatly bolster Villanova's track squad next season.



New Yorkers Prominate

Jim McKenna is a leading quarter-mile prospect. The New York City speedster turned in a 47.9 seconds "440" while anchoring the NYAC mile relay last summer in the National A.A.U championships.

A trio of sprinters from New York in the persons of Bill Shelly, Bishop Loughlin's N. Y City Catholic High Schools' 440 yd. champion; Ed Bossenwine, Cardinal Hayes H. S. Catholic League 220 champ; and Tom Irish, Cardinal Hayes sprinter, should give plenty of speed to the team.

Joe Semple, of Palmyra H. S., N J., and Harold Badger, of Norristown H. S., are certain to throw their weight around in the field department. Semple competes in the shot put and discus. He also heaves the javelin out around the 190-foot markers Badger was the outstanding school boy shot putter in the Middle Atlantic distruct last spring. Badger has thrown the 12-lb. iron ball over 54 feet.

With incoming men such as these, the track team will be assured of maintaining its high national ranking.

SPORTORIAL

(Continued from Page 5)

however, did bring the capacity crowd to their feet in the second period with the excellent passing of Steve Romanik and the breakaway running for which Bob Polidor has become famous.

The Villanova defensive, especialy in the backfield, was equally as potent as was that of the West Pointers. As for the 2 touchdowns, even the New York sports writers, who have always been pro-Army, all seemed to agree that the Mules were the recipients of 2 very lucky breaks, in the form of 2 Wildcat fumbles, to set up their scores.

All this is said, not to detract from the team that has gone through 32 straight games without a defeat, but rather to analyze the game for those who would have you believe that Army took it easy in their opening game.

Miami Tie

Then came the biggest disappointment of the season in the form of the Miami game. The only time the Main Liners looked as though they had any offensive was on the sustained drive that produced the score. Other than that, the ball handling looked extremely sloppy which made it easy for the Hurricanes to get away with a tie. The defensive play of Bill Doherty, Bill Lilienthal, Al Barker and Milt Komarnicki, and the fine kicking of Al Schmid were other bright spots of the game.

A lot remains to be said for the Miami team. In spite of their losses to Baylor and T.C.U., their deceptive T-single wing with Harry Ghaul, Hal Johnston, and Al Kasulin (who incidentally saw plenty of action on the Main Line campus as a V-12er) to carry the ball, will make plenty of trouble for their opponents this year.

Villanova 13, Holy Cross 6

The Holy Cross game may easily prove to be the turning point of the season for Coach Olivar's eleven. In spite of 6 fumbles and in spite of only 1 forward pass completed out of 11 tried, the Villanovans scored an impressive victory over a highly lauded Crusader team.

Some of the local dopesters will call that game a minor upset but the real story lies in the fact that the 1947 gridiron representatives of Villanova finally found themselves with regard to opening holes in the line for the enormous wealth of backfield material.

A most interesting phase of that Holy Cross contest was the pre-game scouting of the Villanova team. No doubt, "Ox" DaGrosa, the Cross coach depended on the Army and Miami game reports, thinking that the 'Cats would have to use everything they had to beat those two tough teams. And, to all intents and purposes, it seemed the smart thing to do.

Yet fate, as it were, crossed him up. The powerful Army line and the careless ball handling in the Miami game made the Blue and White look impotent on the ground while the passing record for both these games was well over .500. So, Mr. DaGrosa proceeded to spend most of the week stressing pass defense as it had almost lost them their game to Temple the week before.

But this piece of strategy proved his downfall as the statistics of the game will show. True, the pass defense permitted only one pass to get through and with 3 interceptions, but Villanova picked up a total of 255 yards through a team that held its last two opponents, Dartmouth and Temple, to a total of 47 yards on ye ol' terra firma.

FLY TO THE BOSTON COLLEGE GAME
$27.50 Includes
1. Round Trip to Boston
2. Meal on Airplane
3. Bus Ride to Game
4. Ticket on 40-Yd. Line
LUXURIOUS DC-3's
Plane Leaves
Southeast Airport
5 P. M., Oct. 24

QUALITY CLOTHES FOR MEN AT LOW COST
RITTENHOUSE 6-8430
surprise! surprise!
Liberal choice of fine QUALITY men's suits in SHARKSKINS, HARD FINISHED WORSTEDS & GABARDINES in two- and three-button single-breasted, and one- and two-button double-breasted models. In all the NEW FALL SHADES.
34.50 and 39.50
These prices are made possible by our LOW OVERHEAD and LOW MARK-UP policy.
NEW FALL TOPCOATS.. 29.75 to 39.75
ALL OCCASION SLACKS 8.75 to 13.75
Lord and Lord
1211 CHESTNUT ST. 2nd FLOOR
ELEVATOR TO SECOND FLOOR
OPEN DAILY TO 5 P.M. WED. TO 1 P.M.

RUDY ROYTEN
Marquette Quarterback

A Scotchsman was leaving on a business trip and he called back as he was leaving: "Good-bye all, and don't forget to take little Donald's glasses off when he isn't looking at anything."

The Bouquet Shop
Flowers That Are Pleasingly Different
Roberts Road and Lancaster Avenue
BRYN MAWR, PA.
Flowers By Wire
Bryn Mawr 2422

Sophomore Cotillion A Notable Success

Last Saturday night the Class of '50 presented the Sophomore Cotillion in the Villanova Field House. Villanova's first social function of the year was a gala affair. Music was supplied by the Villanovans.

The orchestra played the latest popular tunes and Gene Valerio's piano version of "Body and Soul" and "Near You" which received a tremendous ovation. Also well liked were "Rose Room" and "Lady Be Good" as played by the rythym section, which featured Pete Kite on the electric Spanish guitar.

Musical Theme

The decorations were patterned after a musical theme. At the center of the floor was an old-fashioned music box emitting a profusion of notes which streamed upward .Huge multi-colored staffs with sparkling black notes separated by large silver stars were hung along each side of the balcony.

On each side of the stage two life-sized figures beat tom toms and for its background the band had a solid black drape on which a silvered placard emblazoned a greeting to the Sophomore Cotillion. Frank Wegener, chairman of the decoration committee, wishes to express his thanks to all those who aided him in erecting the decorations.

The dance was made possible by the efforts of John White, General Chairman; the ticket committee, headed by Ed. Krieg; Phil McKay and Walter Rygiel of the publicity committee; Dan Haflinger and Ed Schollmeyer of the social committee; W. D. Foley, refreshments; and Joe Quill and Joe Miller of the program committee. Rev. Harry A. Eagan, O.S.A.—Moderator of the Sophomore class complimented the committee.

The Sophomore Cotillion has always been a favorite informal dance, usually the first dance of the year. It was given this year, in order that the freshman may become acclimated to college social life.

The Villanovans, an all-college band, received much praise from all who attended. This same aggregation will play at the coming NFCCS dance this Saturday.

DANCERS ENJOY EVENING AT SOPH COTILLION

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Mendel Hall was the scene of the first meeting of the International Relations Club last Monday evening at 8:20 P. M. The club's president, Mark Doyle, in a short introductory speech outlined its activities for the coming year. In brief these are: (1) Villanova will furnish a principal participant for all broadcasts of the College Forum over W. F. I. L. (2) Joint meetings with sister colleges will commence in the near future. (3) All general club meetings, formerly held at the University of Pennsylvania's Newman Club, will be rotated around the different colleges. The first of these was held Monday, October 20th, in which William Carroll represented Villanova. After this, Father Dunne terminated the meeting with a welcoming address

In cooperation with the Foreign Relief Committee, members of the club are assisting in collections being taken up for this cause.

All students who desire to join the club are cordially invited to attend the next meeting.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

The cornerstones on the two new buildings contain many items of interest. Among the articles that were deposited within the block of granite were a copy of the college catalog, a daily newspaper, a copy of the charter and coins. These were deposited to mark history and record the events of the day.

Pre-Meds Move To Reactivate Fraternity

Assembled for the revival of the official college Pre-Med Fraternity, over one hundred men met in the amphitheatre in Mendel Hall on Thursday evening, October 16th, under a committee headed by John Goldschmitt. Rev James A. Donnelon, O. S. A., of the Biology Dept., is Moderator.

The chairman outlined the past history of the fraternity, known as Lambda Kappa Delta, bringing up to date the wartime tribulations, and outlining the future plans. He is assisted by Richard Dalrymple, acting Secretary, Dominick Longo, acting Treasurer, James Day, Vincent Pica, and Joseph Heck.

Plans call for the drawing up of a Constitution, meetings addressed by prominent speakers in the medical field, smokers, a dinner dance, and the revival of the Mendel Bulletin, a magazine devoted to the needs of pre-medical students.

After a brief discussion period, the chairman adjourned the meeting on an ambitious note, calling for a membership drive, and urging that the fine turnout be repeated at the next meeting when the plans outlined are initially put into effect.

NOTICE

An organist is needed for the College chapel. Anyone interested report to room 121 Mendel Hall.

TO THE COLLEGE MAN:
The Fox Chase College Shop wishes to announce to the men of Villanova College — the latest things in Campus Wear. We are conveniently located next to the Villanova Drug Store just west of the Campus. Make this shop your meeting place.
Also special rental service for Formal Evening Wear.
FOX CHASE COLLEGE SHOP
S. N. SABELLICO (Owner)
W. Lancaster Avenue
Villanova, Pa.
Mon., Tues., Thurs. until 9
B. M. 2617

"Dancing with a Deb" GREAT RECORD! ★
—"Skitch" Henderson's Newest Disc for Capitol
"Skitch" and some of his side-men looking over an arrangement of "Dancing With a Deb."

The platter that's causing plenty of chatter in juke circles is "Skitch" Henderson's latest instrumental—"Dancing With a Deb." Boy—what a record!
It's obvious "Skitch" has had plenty of experience in tickling those ivories, and he follows that experience rule in smoking too. "I smoked many different brands and compared," says "Skitch." "My choice from experience is Camel."
Try Camels. Compare. Let your own experience tell you why more people are smoking Camels than ever before!

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. Winston-Salem, N. C.
★ More people are smoking CAMELS than ever before!

CLUB NOTES

POETRY CLUB

The first meeting of the Poetry Club was held last Tuesday evening. The program for the coming year was discussed, and it was decided that the works of several modern writers would be studied.

At the next meeting the group will review the writings of E. A. Houseman. Thereafter attempts will be made to compare each author as to type and school of poetry.

The organization will meet twice monthly. The next meeting is scheduled for October 28th. Rev. Robert M. Sullivan, O S. A. is moderator, Thomas A. Daly president, and Robert O'Donnell secretary-treasurer of the group.

MATH CLUB

On October 21st, a symposium on the subject, "The Application of Mathematics to Engineering Physics", will be continued by the Philadelphia Section, AIEE, with the cooperation of the Franklin Institute.

The symposia were initiated last year with the presentation of the subject, "Servomechanisms".

The chief objective of the present symposium is to show the value of mathematics as a tool to engineers and physicists.

Five speakers will prepare brief mimeographed summaries of their lectures together with a bibliography to aid those who wish to investigate these subjects in detail. Short discussions will be held after each lecture.

DEBATING TEAM

Beta Gamma held a meeting Monday October 20, at 8:00 P. M. in 215 Mendel. A full and active program was formulated for the coming year. All interested are urged to attend.

BELL WILL TOLL

A reminder of all Villanova's war dead will be presented to the students with the daily tolling of the chapel bell. The "De Profundis," rung every evening at 7 o'clock in memory of all dead, was dedicated anew to Villanova men who lost their lives in military service. This was done at a recent chapel service by Rev. E. T. Grimes, College Chaplain.

Relief Drive

(Continued from Page 1)

Beltzer, have already contracted to play for the affair. After their initial performance recently, there is no question as to the professional quality of the group. Their repertoire this year consists of danceable tunes, new and old. Dreamy numbers with a sprinkling of swing selections and novelty hits have been selected to satisfy a diversity of tastes. The music, beginning at nine, will last until one.

In addition to the material help, which the dance proceeds will supply, spiritual assistance will assume the principal position. All students are urged to participate in these exercises which have been outlined as being approved by the N.F.-C.C.S.:

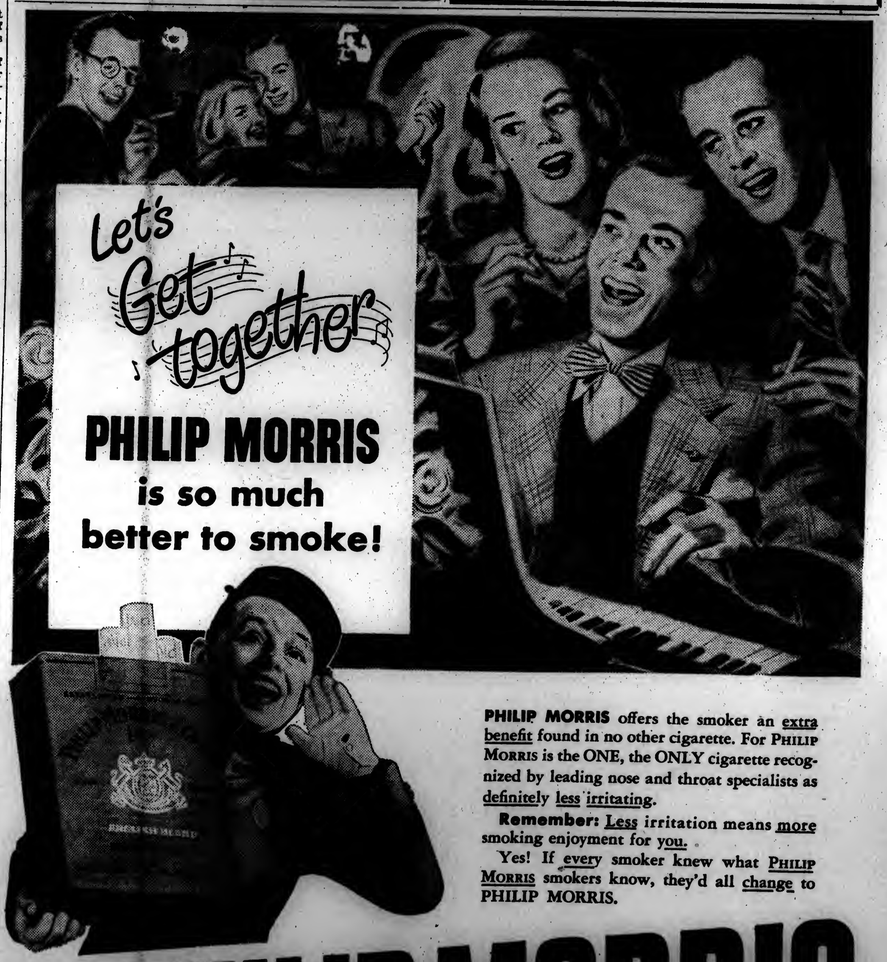
1. Rosary Pledge to Our Lady of Good Counsel. (Pledge cards to be deposited in the receptacles in Mendel Hall and the C. & F. building.)
2. Special Mass to be said each Friday at 7:30.
3. Holy Comunion on the first Friday of each month.
4. Daily public recitation of the Rosary at the 7:30 Mass.

The campaign started last Monday and will continue through to Christmas Vacation.

Bunting of N.A.M.

(Continued from Page 1)

through lectures from his employer, a civil engineer in a logging camp. He was an instructor in Marketing at the University of Oregon from 1923 to 1926. Mr. Bunting is a resident of Winchester, Virginia, and is a member of the board of directors of the O'Sullivan Rubber Co. He admits that he is sometimes jokingly referred to as "America's Number 1 Heel."



Dunhill Awards Topcoat to Bill Doherty

WELCOME BACK, CATS
HAMBURG HEARTH
814 LANCASTER AVE. BRYN MAWR, PA.

SPRITZLERS
For VAN HEUSEN Shirts
47 W. LANCASTER AVE.
Ardmore, Pa. Ard. 0176

An Invitation to All Villanovans
Famous Italian Tomatoe Pies
JOHNNY'S and DINGER'S
STEAK SANDWICHES HOAGIES
FREE DELIVERY
County Line & Chestnut Ave.
ARDMORE, PA. ARD. 9430

PHILIP MORRIS offers the smoker an extra benefit found in no other cigarette. For PHILIP MORRIS is the ONE, the ONLY cigarette recognized by leading nose and throat specialists as definitely less irritating.

Remember: Less irritation means more smoking enjoyment for you.

Yes! If every smoker knew what PHILIP MORRIS smokers know, they'd all change to PHILIP MORRIS.

CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS

TRY A PACK... TODAY

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 23—No. 3 VILLANOVA COLLEGE, VILLANOVA, PA. Tuesday, October 28, 1947

HALLS TO SEEK CONNELLY AWARD

Dr. Haenisch Honored At Chem. Society Meeting

Chemistry Professor Named Chaiman of Division at Recent Election

At a recent meeting of the American Chemical Society, held in New York City, September 15th to 19th, the following members of the Villanova Chemistry Department were in attendance: Rev. E. F. Jenkins, O.S.A.; Dr. G. N. Quam, Associate Professor of Chemistry; Mr. F. J. Blanchard; Dr. A. Gero; and Mr. F. C. Strong.

Doctor Edward L. Haenisch was elected Chairman of the Division of Chemical Education of the Society at an election held in conjunction with the meeting. Doctor Haenisch is Professor of Chemistry at Villanova.

At a symposium arranged by Doctor Haenisch, the subject of "Recent Advances in Chemistry," was discussed before the audience of five hundred.

Father Jenkins was a member of the committee which prepared an American Chemical Society and Co-operative Test Service Examination in Organic Chemistry for national distribution.

Doctor Haenisch has served for many years as Professor of Chemistry at Villanova. He received his doctor's degree from the University of Chicago and is the author of many books on chemistry.

The American Chemical Society is one of the most prominent societies in this country, fostering science and research in many fields.

Edward Murray Elected Head Of Chem. Group

The following officers were elected at a joint meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers and the American Chemical Society, for this year on 7th October: Edward Murray, President; Lou Slater (A.C S.) and John Mellon (A.I. Ch E.), Vice-Presidents; Walter Donohue, Secretary; and Al Dallago, Treasurer.

At the initial meeting, Mr. F. Blanchard, moderator of the group, addressed the assembly, explaining the advantages of membership in the student chapters.

Award Made

He also made a presentation, consisting of a pin and a certificate of recognition awarded by the A. I. Ch. E. to the student just beginning his Junior year who held the highest scholastic average in the Freshmen and Sophomore years. The award was given to Walter Donohue.

The Program Committee of the society held its organizational meeting on 21 October. Members include: James Drohle, chairman, James Dugan, John Gorman, Joseph D'Auria, Angelo Agresta, and Walter Knapp.

Activities Planned

Plans were discussed for possible plant trips, educational movies, lectures by prominent individuals in the Chemical and Chemical Engineering fields. James Drohle, chairman, reported that contacts had been made with many organizations in the greater Philadelphia area such as Rohm Haas Corporation, General Electric. American Viscous

(Continued on Page 2)

PROFESSOR ADDRESSES STATEWIDE MEET OF EDUCATIONAL SOCIETY

An address was delivered by Rev. Edward F. Jenkins, O. S. A., Associate Professor of Chemistry at Villanova College last Friday at the annual meeting, in Erie, Pa., of the Pennsylvania Catholic Educational Association.

"We cannot possibly succeed," said Father Jenkins, "in any undertaking unless we have a clear idea of what it is that we are trying to do." He points out that "The procedure to be followed in the education of youth will necessarily be the best suited to attain the end of education." In support he quotes Pope Pius the eleventh, " . . . education consists essentially in preparing man for what he must be and for what he must do here below in order to attain the sublime end for which he was created."

Father's discourse was entitled, "Integration of the Principles of Philosophy and Theology with the Teaching of the Natural Sciences." Present also, from Villanova, in an official capacity, was Rev. Joseph Boyle, Registrar of the College: he is the Treasurer of the Association.

Father pointed out "Unless the teaching of the natural sciences is thoroughly integrated with the principles of philosophy and theology we cannot possibly attain this end."

Father's talk then proceeded in three main divisions:

1—"Properly integrated with the principles of philosophy and theology the study of the natural sciences liberates the mind from ignorance.

2—"There is no denial of the fact that modern scientific progress, and therefore the teaching of the physical sciences, can make the world a much better place to live in.

3—"The study of the natural sciences, and scientific research, instead of plunging men into barbarism, should bring them nearer to God."

NFCCS Drive Continues with Nation-wide Plan

Spiritual as Well as Financial Aid Promised

The National Federation of Catholic College Students is sponsoring a drive, not only for financial and material aid, but for spiritual aid. Villanova College has adopted the plan set forth by Rev. E. T. Grimes O S.A. and all students are asked to participate.

The plan for the College is three fold; daily recitation of the Rosary, monthly Communion, and weekly student's Mass. The Rosary will be recited at the 7:30 Mass every morning during the drive. The monthly Communion and weekly students Mass will be for the success of the NFCCS Campaign.

Mass To Be Celebrated

A Solemn High Mass will be said on November 15th. in the Cathedral of St. Peter and Paul. The celebrandt will be a secular priest, the Deacon, a Jesuit from St. Joseph's College, and the Sub-Deacon will be Rev. McLaughlin O.S.A. from Villanova. These Priests are connected with the Campaign, Father Mc Laughlin being the Moderator of NFCCS at Villanova College. The Seminary Choir of Villanova will sing the Mass.

James Dougherty, the National President, at a recent meeting of the Regional Committee, said that the Spiritual Campaign will do more good for American students who participate than for foreign students.

Help Needed

Students are also asked to give generously toward the Drive, in a financial and material respect. Student contributions will go far toward the binding of friendship between American and foreign students. Miss Joan Christie, National Director of the Student Relief Committee, pointed out that not only are people in foreign countries waiting to see the result, but many of the people in our own land want to see just how much the Catholic students will do for the unfortunate students abroad. Their attitude toward us will depend largely on the success or failure of this drive.

Miss Christie attended the meeting of the Regional Committee at Chestnut Hill on October 17th. She is making a tour of all NFCCS Regions in the country in order to coordinate their activities. The great need of the students in foreign lands and the help that the American Students can give them was the theme of her address. She stated that large quantities of books, clothes, and other goods are in great need.

In the hands of the Students rests the success of the campaign, both in Spiritual and financial aid.

Drive Results

Results of the first week of the NFCCS campaign show that the Sophomore class is in the lead. The results are:

Freshman	$ 59.15
Sophomore	$ 59.69
Junior	$ 38.43
Senior	$ 18.53
Total	$175.80

Georgetown Game Will Climax Campus Contest

Enthusiasm is running high on and off the Villanova campus as the annual "game of the year" with Georgetown draws near.

Climaxing the pre-game rally will be the presentation of the Connelly Plaque to the resident hall, or day-hop group which puts on the finest display of decorations on the Campus. The award was inaugurated in 1937, when Temple was the traditional foe, by William Connelly, class of '27, one of Villanova's most enthusiastic supporters. The plaque will be presented to the winning group at the rally preceding the November 14 fray, and will remain in their possession for one year.

This will mark the first year since 1942 that decorations have been judged, but they have already become part of the Georgetown game tradition, and tend to increase the already fine pre-game spirit. Students have already begun planning, and indications are that the groups will be all out, in time and effort, to win the contest.

Fedigan Winner

Five times the award has been presented, and five time Fedigan Hall has emerged from the bloody rivalry a winner. They vow to get it again, but representatives of the other halls promise stiff competition.

The leaders of the various groups are advised to become acquainted with the rules before going further with their plans. Some of them are as follows: No college linen is to be used and use of such will disqualify the group; decorations must be on or in the vicinity of the respective halls; all decorations must be paid for by the group as a whole.

Judges will be the entire Student Council; the date of judging will be announced later. It is hoped that the other halls on the campus will make an attempt to arrest the award from the group in Fedigan. In the last judged affair in 1942, Fedigan carried off the award with a clever circus theme.

Marziani Named Senior Dinner Dance Chairman

Nicholas Marziani, Business Manager for the Villanovan has been appointed Chairman of the Senior Dinner-Dance, which will be held on January 17. The affair will begin the final chapter of the Villanova Story for the members of the Class of '48. Plans are being drafted to make the affair one to be remembered long after the graduation turns the final page.

Mr. Marziani is investigating several of the Philadelphia Hotels and local country clubs in an effort to find a suitable scene for the gala event. The senior class will meet early this week to decide on the location, and the announcement

(Continued on Page 2)

INTERFRATERNITY BALL, FOOD DISCUSSED AT COUNCI LMEETING

It was announced at the weekly Student Council meeting on Wednesday night that the Inter-Fraternity Ball will take place November 15th. The committee examining the "cuisine" reported improvements during the week. The Council also approved the award of a sport shirt to each member of the football squad.

At the meeting were present some fifty students. The Council first heard from Mr. McMonigle head of the Social Affairs Committee. He announced that the inter-Fraternity Ball would take place Saturday evening November 15th, and that further details will be divulged at a later date. He also reported that dancing would not be held after this year's basketball games.

Regan Reported

Mr. Bill Regan, co-chairman of the committee on food conditions, asserted that considerable progress has been made. He conferred with Mr. Vogel, the dietician, and made several inspection tours in the kitchen during the past week. As a result he announced that steak sandwiches may be on the menu once a week, fried eggs will be served as soon as new grills arrive, the soft boiled eggs will be cooked more thoroughly, and bread and rolls will be offered in more variety.

Mr. John Kucha also revealed that he has been authorized to make an objective report to Rev. Francis X. McGuire O.S.A. on the food served in the cafeteria. He asked for the cooperation of the men on the committee appointed by the Council. The Council unanimously passed a motion that the committee be publicly commended for turning in such a complete report in so short a time.

Surplus Available

Mr. Kucha reminded the Council that a surplus from the Army rally was available, and suggested that $150.00 be expended for sport shirts for the entire football squad. The suggestion was put into the form of a motion and passed unanimously. The presentation to the team will be made after the Boston College game.

The School Spirit Committee chairman, Nick Albano, was appointed the task of learning whether it would be possible to decorate the

(Continued on Page 7)

On The Way Up

One of the most persistent criticisms of the American student has called him immature. The common belief has been that in comparison with his European counterpart, the American student has seemed rather small and unimportant.

It has been pointed out that in foreign lands, the student occupies a much more respected place in society. He takes a more active part in the political affairs of his nation, and his opinions carry greater weight in the minds of his fellow citizens. On the contrary, the American student seems to live in a world bounded by football games and old jalopies, with a few quick classes thrown in between. This last criticism we know to be unfair, but it is true that European students do outshine us on the most important scores.

This past summer something occurred in the American student community that seems to indicate a great change. After seeing the good work that was able to be accomplished by student organizations in other countries, a group of American students initiated a United States National Student Organization and this summer this organization became a real live actuality.

The importance of this step seems to be in the fact that the establishment of such an all-encompassing association, required serious work on a high plane. It would require that the myriad differences of a vast community of students would have to be overcome by a realization of more important, but still intangible goals. The step has been taken, however, and judging by the feeling on the majority of campuses, the N.S.A. will have little difficulty in being ratified.

It may be that the American students are finally becoming big enough to partake in higher possibilities of their position in society..

So Far So Good

The Vilanovan wishes to publicly commend the student council on the energy and effort it has expended thus far in its role as the student's sounding board. Much time has been expended each week in committee work and in the unusually long council sessions. The most notable change over past semesters, however, is the attitude of the council members. The Villanovan may not always agree with the action taken by the council, but it does commend the sincerity and conscientiousness of the council members. On the whole, these men are a credit to themselves and the students who elected them.

Quite often, the student council has been regarded as just another club. The membership was perhaps a little more exclusive, but all the aspects of a club remained. Council members often failed to attend meetings. The nearly complete representation at recent meetings gives ample proof that the status quo has changed.

It will be quite possible to see criticism of future actions of the council when we believe such criticism pertinent. In view of the unfavorable light in which the council has been held in past semesters, however, we think it pertinent now to point out the change for the better that has occurred.

Crisis At Lake Success

Upon the decisions of eleven men rests the future of the world. If they fail to accomplish what many others have often tried, the world may once more be tossed into a turmoil. In any event, the ponderings of these men will carry much weight in the future balance of world peace.

These eleven men comprise the Security Council of the United Nations. Within themselves they contain so many conflicting ideologies and interests that so far, there has been some little agreement. Of some sixty meetings held on the Greek question only one brought results. This was only one question. On other issues, equally futile results have been obtained. Where does the failure lie?

Many people in the United States lay the whole blame on the Russians. It is reasonable to expect that the Russians also blame us. Many delegates use the floor to air personal differences. They have their own axes to grind. It is only when contrary opinions are reconciled, especially among the primary powers, that we can expect the United Nations to achieve any measure of success.

There is no doubt that the use of the veto power has been used predominantly by the Russian delegation. It was called into effect 18 times in 188 sessions of the Council by the Russians. The only other power to use the veto even once was France. The other nations had no need of it. Their ideas were in agreement with one another.

Secretary of State George Marshall has given the United States' solution to the problem of the veto. In one point of his four point program he asks that the veto power be restricted to occasions when economic or political penalties against member nations are being contemplated.

In a second point he asks that a committee, composed of delegates from the fifty-five member nations be formed. With decisions resting on a two-thirds majority, this committee would not have the power of action but it would serve to mobilize international opinion and exert a concerted moral force against offenders.

Something must be done before steps ahead can be taken. It will be of great interest to us as students to watch the U.N. in its coming deliberations. Though students now, the greater part of our lifetime will be lived in a world affected by actions of the U. S. today. The crystal ball is before us. We have only to watch the shadows to determine future events.

Pride And Prejudice

Differences, as incompatible as they are certain, underlie the present war of ideologies. Can we ever hope for agreement, peaceful harmony, and compromise when the basically conflicting ways of life differ in the all important regard of man?

Democracy recognizes the inviolable sanctity of man. Communism, propagandizing equality, in effect, reduces man to a mere automaton. As long as this insurmountable chasm exists between the two there can be little hope for peace and harmony.

A like parallel can well be drawn with regard to the members of the colored race. As long as we here in America differ over basic concepts of our problem we cannot ever hope to solve this present-day dilemma.

Unless there be motivation and change of values, coupled with an understanding of the facts, the negro will still be classed as inferior. With this difference existing, we are doomed to failure.

First the proper position of the negro as a member of the human race must be realized. Bigotry never has had a place in our Christian way of life. Once we realize this, we have taken a long step on the road to success.

It is ours to pray for an objective view of the negro's problems on the part of all. It is for us to maintain the Catholic principles of equality for all. From this stems the sanctity of the Negro's natural rights.

No Christian can seriously question the evil lying hidden in any type of racial prejudice. Recognition of this evil has been instilled in us from the first days of our Catholic education. Not only charity but justice demands that we give to all rights which are not man-given but God given.

Having recognized the brotherhood of man under the Fatherhood of God we cannot in conscience fail to realize our obligations as Catholic students. As such, we have received our call to action. It is for us to spearhead this drive against racial intolerance.

Letters

October 16, 1947

To the Editor
The Villanovan
Villanova College
Villanova, Penna.
Dear Sir:

Word has reached our ears via "the grapevine" that the men of Villanova feel slighted due to the fact that they were not invited to our Junior-Freshman Kindler on Sunday, October 5th.

Just by way of correction, we would like you to know that a letter was sent to your Junior Class President at Villanova on September 25th, inviting the Juniors and Freshmen to attend. Apparently, the letter never reached the gentleman for whom it was intended, or perhaps he did not receive it in time to spread the glad tidings!

Hoping that this will clarify the situation, I am

Very sincerely yours,
Pat Walsh, Chairman
Freshman-Junior Tea Dance
21 October, 1947

Editor of the Villanovan
Villanova, Penna.
Dear Sir,

In the October fourteenth Villanovan, there is promulgated a brave and praiseworthy policy as to what the "new" Villanovan will concern itself. Those who read that editorial were certainly heartened to think that our "vox populi" would no longer concern itself with the tedious confusion of C.L.M.'s activities at Rosemont. Nevermore would we be forced to devour a full page spread on some bygone meeting of the student council. This was very nice indeed, if it had not been for a multiplicity of articles in the same issue that were certainly incongruous with the policy. Not even the mollifying note of self-accusation can atone for the "petty and dull" endeavor of the Fourteenth of October.

So if you'll forgive my temerity, let me proffer a few suggestions. The items which warrant a good deal of space are often uninteresting but they do not warrant the shameful treatment meted out to them by the staff. With an organization of such size as indicated by the masthead, there should not be a concentration of work on any one member and each article should be developed in the light of its maximum intercsts. Then too, as you yourself state, there should be a diversity of subject materials that would possess a universal appeal to the college student.

Whether or not you abide by these suggestions, or rather by your own policy, is naturally up to you. We apparently agree in the desire for a better Villanovan. I hope you can do it.

Sincerely,
An interested reader

Edward Murray

(Continued from Page 1)

Corporation, E. I. duPont de Nemours Corporation, and the Owens Corning Fibre Glass Corporation.

A meeting of the whole society is to be held November 4th. Two films are being obtained, "Looking Ahead Thru Plexiglass" from the Rohm Haas Corporation, and "The Magic of Fluoresence" from General Electric Corporation.

Marziani

(Continued from Page 1)

will be made in next week's Villanovan.

Mr. Marsiani matriculated at Villanova in 1941. Studies were interrupted from 1943-1946 while he served in the Navy. He has been a member of the Villanovan staff for four years and is also a member of the Concert Band, the Spanish Club, and the Delta Pi Epsilon.

VILLANOVAN
Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

WILLIAM F. ALTENPOHL, '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
JOHN A. McDERMOTT, '48 ..... Managing Editor
JACK CASBY, '49 ..... News Editor
HUGH W. JOHNSON, '49 ..... Sports Editor
GEORGE SZYMANSKI, '50 ..... Feature Editor
RICHARD HUBBARD, '48 ..... Picture Editor
VINCE PEDANO, 49 ..... Circulation Manager
NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI, '48 ..... Business Manager
EDWARD OXFORD, '50 ..... Copy Editor
JAMES PLUNKETT '49 ..... Assoc. Sports Editor

News Staff

Michael Marshall '49, Richard Shinners '48, Joseph D'Ambrisi '49, Michael Joseph Nowlan '49, Charles Laferty '49, Frank Gobe '51, Frank Guzikowski '48, Thomas Smith '51, Gearce Snow '50, Martin Mulkeen '51, Joseph Rath '51, Francis Dunne '51, Thomas Mitchell '51, Joseph Miller '50, Mard Binder '49, Joseph D'Auria '49, Jack Mallick '49, John Kennedy '49, John James Connolly '51, Joseph Kenney '50, William J. Leighton '50, John W. Applegate '51, Joseph Callahan '51, George R. Reinhart '51, Arthur Woodrow '51, William Foley '50, Frank McGuhan '50, Dick Randolph '49, Robert MacItoberts '50, James Guss '50, Gerhard Farnon '50, Edgar Le Blanc '49.

Feature Staff

R. E. Manifold '51, William Breninghouse '51, Joseph Quill '50, A. J. Mullen '49, David V. Anthony '51, John A. Rowe '51, Gunther Kaiser '49, P. McManus '48, John Mallick '49, Vince O Neil '51, Mark Morris '51, James Tayoun '51, Leo Dodd '49, Emil Mayer '49, Richard Hudak '49, Thomas Russo '49

Sports Staff

James Lyons '48, Vincent O'Donnell '48, Daniel Redmond '48, David Ryan '48, Paul Altenpohl '49, Joseph Hennessey '49, Ned Hoffner '49, Arnold Keehan '49, Roy Cameron '50, William Canino 50, Neal Fahy '50, George Mondschein '50, Raymond Mondschein '50, Tyson Reilly '50, Walter Regiel '50, William Ward '50, Edward Hattrick '51, Harry Jacobs '51, William Khasaritis '51, Raymond MacWilliams '51, Paul Presendo '51, Harold Range '51.

Picture Staff

Robert Graf '51, John Kane '50, Raymond Berninger '49, Dan Haflinger '50, William Neal Carter '51, Charles Calley '51, Philip McChesney '51, William Murphy '51, Harry Papalian '51, Robert Pope '51, Jack Muratori '51.

Business Staff

William Wescott '47, Joe King '48, Barry Gibbons '51, Jack Gibbons '51, Donald Haralt '50.

Circulation Staff

Vince Pedano '49, George Weber, III, '51, Ralph Iorio '50, Ed Kent '51, Charles Clunk '51, Ralph Skowron '51, Gene Langan '51, Juan F. Calzada '51, William J. Coakley '51.

Faculty Advisor— Rev. John A. Klekotka, O.S.A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova: scholar, athlete, gentleman —
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription: $2 per year. Circulation: 5000.
Entered as second class matter at the Villanova Post Office December 27, 1928.

Member of Associate Collegiate Press, Distributor of Collegiate Digest. Member of Catholic School Press Association, Catholic College Press Association.

The Cement Bowl!

By William Breninghouse

Without a doubt, college men have terrific intelligence. Proof of this is found in recent observations of the construction going on in the field behind Mendel Hall. There, a group of diligent industrialists dug a hole and poured cement into it under the watchful supervision of the student body, without whom the task would seemingly be impossible.

The first impressions as to what was under construction were wide and speculative. We bring you now the opinions of men, all experts in their fields.

Vladimir O'Stolski, senior NROTC student, advances this argument, "This concrete indentation is a mount for a sixteen inch coastal gun with which freshmen will be sent home for not rolling up pant legs." Mr. O'Stolski's comments are most enlightening. There is nothing the school needs more than a sixteen inch coastal gun and this will undoubtedly make the school a place where students will get a real bang out of life.

Thaddeus, Willblower, Soph, affirms, "The project under construction is an exclusive wading pool for upperclassmen." Upperclassmen have never had a private wading pool and we know that they will think the idea really peachy, but really peachy. Of course this will have it's drawbacks, freshmen may become jealous and want a wading pool of their own. They may even refuse to eat their spinach if they do not get their wish.

"Seeing that it is in back of the cafeteria," says Abraham Cohen, student leader, "it must be a fish pond where the cafeteria will breed its own mysteries." This is an interesting conclusion for, since meatless Tuesdays have returned, people will eat more fish, men will do more fishing and before we know it there will be no fish left. We will not have to worry because there will be, by that time, a whole new race of wildcat fish grown in our own back yard. Bravo to Mr Cohen for his observations.

Perhaps one of the most novel ideas was forwarded by a football hero, Joe Smith, who claims, "Because of my six hard years on the football squad they are erecting a statue of me. "We went to the coach to see about this braggart and were informed that he was not an official wildcat but in reality a Boston College halfback who lost his way returning from a game with Kansas State a few weeks ago Therefore, his statement has no value other than that of filling up space.

After receiving more misleading info, we decided to question an authority, so we consulted Tony, the job foreman. He asked simply, "Why you ask me what for I digga the hole? I no aska the quest. When de boss say, 'Hey Tony, digga da hole and put cementa in' I digga da hole and put cementa in."

One night, we hid a freshman in the soft cement with orders to find out what that cemented hole in the ground is or perish trying. That's the way we are, nuts. Tonight is the night. If you hear a commotion about 11:30, don't worry about it, we will have begun blasting operations.

"AND SO WE'RE DOIN IT ALL WRONG, HUH?"

Chit-Chat

By John P. Mallick

ROSEMONT:

Tryouts were held last Friday evening for female parts in Villanova's forthcoming plays. For the play "Fisherman," the feminine role will be played by Miss Rosemary May, for the third act of "Our Town," Misses Posie Brown, Kay Kelley, Marie McMenamin, and Peggy Ann Collum, and for "Twelve Pound Look," Misses Madeleine Dransfield and Loretta Moore. After the tryouts, refreshments were served in Mayfield Hall for their guests.

IMMACULATA

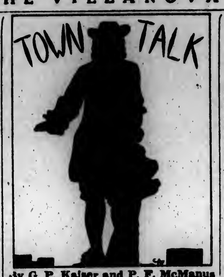
A dance will be held on Friday evening, October 31, in the Rose Garden Room of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel. This affair will be sponsored by the Philadelphia Chapter of the Immaculata College Alumnae, in order to raise money for the college building fund.

Johnny McGee and his orchestra has been engaged for this affair. The tickets are $5.00 and dress is optional.

Many thanks to Miss Dorothy A. Baines of the Publicity Committee for this information.

I see that on October 30th, the girls will conduct a Hallowe'en Party with all the trimmings That is, cider, hallowe'en decorated food, dunking for apples and all the rest. No males allowed. Sorry.

On November 7, the Glee Club will conduct a joint meeting with St. Joseph's Glee Club.



In the near future the Immaculata choir will sing Liturgical Music on the Catholic Hour over Station WCAU at 10 A.M.

On November 8, the girls will conduct a Sadie Hawkins night, to which we have been invited. But more shall be said about it in the next issue.

CHESTNUT HILL

I must apologize for the lack of news from this college, but in the near future I shall contact them.

On November 7, the Dramatic Club will conduct a play, and on Sunday, November 9, a Kindler for Sophomores will be held.

TOWN TALK

By G. P. Kaiser and P. F. McManus

The talents of many artists are being displayed in Philadelphia this week.

Jane Cowl will show her usual prowess as a comedian in a revival of "The First Mrs. Fraser." The play, by St. John Ervine, opens tonight at the Locust and will have a run of only five days through Saturday.

The marquee at the Shubert theater is advertising Pearl Primus in a Calypso revue. The show features songs and dances of the West Indies. Many well-known calypso performers are included in the cast of fifty.

"Lady Windermere's Fan" is still fluttering at the Forrest for the remainder of this week.

Two piano recitals hold the spotlight on Wednesday evening. Bruce Barbour, a young American pianist, and the better known, Guiomar Novaes, are the artists. Miss Novaes, who recently made a most favorable impression in her concert with the Philadelphia Orchestra, will play Beethoven's familiar "Moonlight" Sonata, Bach's Chromatic Fantasy and Fugue, Schumann's Carnival, and a group of ever fresh and popular Chopin pieces. The Brazilian pianist will play in the Academy of Music and Mr. Barbour will hold forth in the foyer of the same building.

The local opera season will be ushered in officially when the Philadelphia-La Scala Opera Company presents Verdi's masterpiece of pure melody "La Traviata" on Thursday evening. This extremely popular company played to capacity houses all last season, and richly deserves the success it enjoys. The cast for the opening will include Lucia Evangelista, a lyric soprano and a singer new to the company; Enzo Mascherini, baritone; and Giuseppe Garibaldi, a young Italian tenor. Some tickets are still available but they should be secured well in advance. Prices range from $1.95 to $5.20.

Theatrical entertainment of a high quality is not limited to center city. The Hedgerow Theater of Moylan, Pa., is certainly worthy of a visit from even the most discriminating Villanovan. On this Friday evening, the company will perform "Twelfth Night," the romantic comedy of Illyria by W. Shakespeare; and on Saturday evening, Dreiser's "An American Tragedy." Phone Media 2482 for reservations. Prices are from $1.20 to $2.40 with a student reduction of $.30 in the $1.20 section.

After Pierre Monteux's guest conducting, Eugene Ormandy again assumes conductorship of the Philadelphia Orchestra. On Friday afternoon and Saturday evening, Ormandy will lead the orchestra in Mozart's Symphony in D Major known as the "Prague." To commemorate the centenary of the death of Felix Mendelssohn, the middle portion of the concert will consist of the Overture, Scherzo, and Nocturne from the incidental music for Shakespare's, "A Midsummer Night's Dream." The second half of the concert will be allotted to Rimsky-Korsakov's musical score for a thousand and one nights, "Scheherazade." The important violin solos wil be played by concertmaster, Alexander Hilsberg.

Come Monday, the 3rd of November, there are two openings in Philadelphia, though neither show is new to theatergoers. For two weeks the Shubert will house "The Firefly" by Friml, continuing the long line of popular operettas at that theater. Prices range from $4.55 to $1.30. The Shubert is so constructed that one can see from any location.

Bobby Clark returns to the Forrest in Victor Herbert's "Sweethearts." Considerable liberty has been taken with the original book to fit the personality of the effervescent Bobby. As witnessed previously the show lives only when Clark is "strutting the boards." His bounce and verve were enough to carry the show for a year on Broadway.

'NEATH THE SPIRES

By Joseph R. Quill

About two weeks ago, while standing out in front of school waiting for a bus, I chanced to be offered a ride by a passer-by. As we rode along, I learned that he was a student at one of the local non-Sectarian colleges. We must have ridden about fifteen minutes when we came upon a bright new car, slowly traveling the center of the two right lanes of the highway. After some blowing of his horn, our non-sectarian student managed to take his car around the other, and, as he did, noticed that it was being driven by a sister with a companion who was also a nun. This brought an uncomplimentary remark about Catholics, and—if only one millionth of a billionth per cent—it lowered the position of the Catholic in the public eye.

A non-Catholic, for the most part, forms his opinion of Catholics from the things he sees them do. For this reason, any Catholic in the public eye has a double duty—first, of performing his office; and second, of seeing that no degradation is brought to the Catholic faith through him. Any Catholic, whether a prominent man or not, has the duty of treating all men in such a way as to bring respect to his faith.

The simple examples that can be used to clarify this are endless. When we are driving along the road with our Villanova seals on our rear windows, we should drive so as to bring credit to a Catholic's driving. In sports—football, basketball—Catholic college and high school teams exemplify good sportsmanship. When we're swimming and have a miraculous medal around our necks, we should, by our conduct, bring credit to our faith.

To make it all very short and concise, it could be said that even the Catholic Church can benefit by having public opinion in its favor. We cannot logically expect outsiders to become interested in something that is unpopular with their companions. We—each and every one of us—are responsible for what the people of the world think of the Catholic Church.

We can make them think good or evil.

ONE SMALL VOICE

By Frank McBride
For Villanova's Glory

Last Wednesday night marked the departure of the Villanova gridders and band for Boston. We took in the pep rally which was held before the team left and brought home the firm conviction that there is still hopes for a revival of that old Villanova school spirit. As long as we have three or four hundred fellows like those that saw the team off, Villanova isn't licked.

Lowdown on Hoedown

Ina wordsa Di Tracey's nucaractra "Ewybdy ther hadt wonrful time. "Mumbles was about the only one that didn't make the Harvest Hoedown.....For the benefit of the few others that weren't there-we'll say it was tops That informal atmosphere was a terrific innovation and the committee did a bang-up job.. Baloons, baloons, baloons.....I'm still walking on air.....As per, the Villanovans made with excellent music.

High on a Hill

Sunday afternoon the seniors of Chestnut Hill College threw a Tea Spree...Now wait a minute..... we were invited! The invitations were strictly by word of mouth and are we glad that we got one ... Though we did miss a few faces up there, it was a tremendously successful affair.....Those girls from the Mount really know how to put on some swell Kindiers.....Nice goings, gals .....We also heard about a very successful fashion show at one of the local schools. The new "look" is here to stay.

And a Red Face

Looks like a good time to hang my head and admit that Villanova WAS invited to the Freshman-Junior Tea Dance a few weeks ago! The error was on our part so let's stay friends.....OK, Pat Walsh?

Prof.: "Lester, how far were you from the correct answer?"
Lester: "Only three seats, sir."
St. Bonaventure

She: "How are you getting along in college?"
He: "Oh, I'm as famous as Napoleon."
She: "How come?"
He: "I went down in History."
St. Bonaventure

Harvard Man: "Can I turn off the big light?"
Wellesley Girl: "You may."
Harvard Man: "Can I turn off the sofa light?"
Wellesley Girl: "Certainly, Reginald."
Harvard Man: "Now that it's dark in here can I ask you a question?"
Wellesley Girl: "Certainly, Reggie."
Harvard Man:" What do you think of my new luminous wrist watch?"

Villanova's man's approach under the same conditions: "Do you mind if I turn off the light, I freckle easy."

Physics Prof.: "What happens when a body is immersed in water?"
Bright One: "The telephone rings."
The Auburn Plainsman

Prof Savage: "Shame on you. Do you know what happens to business students who tell lies?"
Frosh: "Yes, sir. When they get a job with a firm, they send them out as salesmen."
St. Bonaventure

VILLANOVA VIEWS

Informality Reigns at Hoe-Down; Harvest Theme Well-Received

The N.F.C.C.S. inaugurated its relief drive last Saturday night with an informal dance. The student body displayed its support of the drive with an impressive turn-out.

A surprise program of entertainment was headed by the well known impersonator and master of ceremonies, Guy Marks, now appearing at the Swan Club in Philadelphia. Mr. Marks journeyed to Villanova between shows.

Decorations in the Field House were of an autumn motif. An arbor of branches was placed in the door way opening on to the dance floor. Occupying prominent positions on the floor were two large shocks of corn and immense balloons painted as pumpkins.

A cosy atmosphere prevailed under the diffused glow of a harvest moon. Along each balcony were hung strings of balloons.

"Sloppy Joe" sweaters and skirts as well as bright colored shirts and slacks conformed with the informality of the hoe-down.

The Villanovans were attired in open collared plaid shirts.

The band played from an alcove of balloons set under the balcony. The music was not of a hill-billy nature, as many expected, but was a variety of old and new tunes.

Though the Villanovans had just returned from an engagement in Boston, they were able to supply the smooth music for which they are becoming noted.

Program chairman, John Scopetta, congratulated the members of the committees on the success of the dance. Joseph Barrack and Dave Frink were in charge of the decorations. George Cololough was in charge of refreshments. Bill Trees acted as treasurer and Jerry Norton directed the extensive publicity campaign.

The proceeds of the dance are to go for the aid of foreign students. The financial statement of the dance will be issued at a later date. Similar statements will be issued weekly as the N.F.C.C.S. drive continues.

The wonderful love of a beautiful maid.
The love of a staunch, true man,
And the love of a baby—unafraid,
Have lasted since life began.
But the greatest love—the love of loves,
Even greater than that of a mother,
Is the tender, passionate love
Of one drunken bum for another.

St. Bonaventure

Mr. Harris Transerred To Faculty As English Prof

Mr. George Harris, former advisor at Villanova College for the Veterans' Administration, has assumed duties as an instructor on the college faculty He is teaching Freshmen English classes.

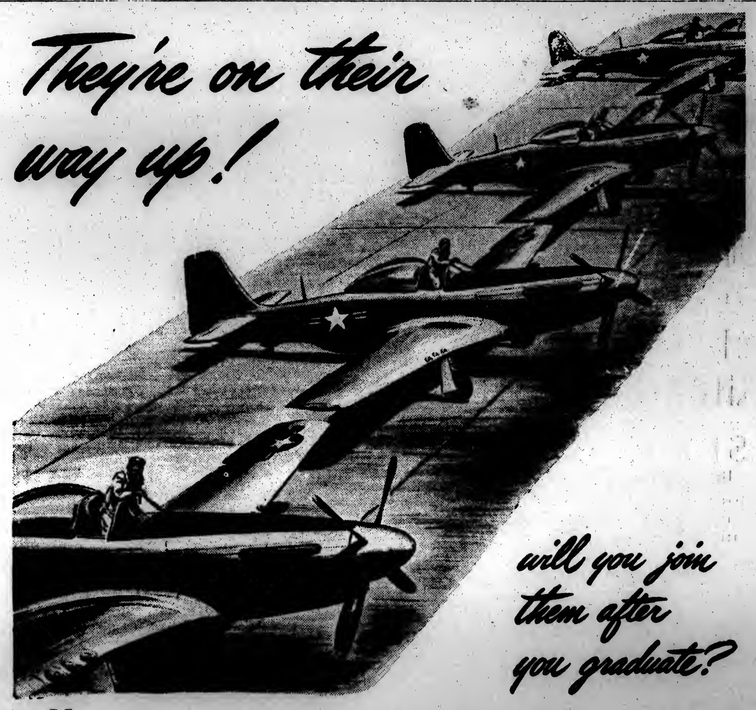
The new instructor will also act as Chairman of the Veterans' Guidance Bureau. Wide experience was gained in this field during the eighteen months that Mr. Harris was the Veterans' Advisor.

With his inauguration, Harris will relieve Father Dunne of his duties as the Veterans' Guide. Father will then resume his position as the Moderator of Intra-Mural activities.

Free
SONG WRITING INFORMATION
Song Hit Guild 32-page Folio No. 16 shows how you may get $1,500 advance royalties. Answers all your questions about songwriting. Send 10¢ coin to cover cost of mailing and handling. Write Today! Dept. CP.
Song Hit Guild

OPEN A SPECIAL CHECKING ACCOUNT TO-DAY — —

Save the bother of having to be your own BANK



If you are without a personal checking account, you can now have this modern convenience without a minimum balance requirement. You simply pay a small amount for your check book when opening your account. There are no other charges. Ask for Miss Abernethyand; she will explain everything.

THE BRYN MAWR TRUST CO.
BRYN MAWR

Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

They're on their way up!

will you join them after you graduate?

YOU probably know a number of men in your class who were pilots in the wartime Air Force. They are the best advertisements for the Aviation Cadet program. Talk with them about it.

Chances are, they'll tell you their service as pilots was one of the most interesting and exciting phases of their lives. Fast action, comradeship, and the chance to serve their country paid them dividends they don't forget . . . added something to their stature and poise that they couldn't have gotten anywhere else.

Cadet life today is no different. As a potential pilot in the new U. S. Air Force, you serve at a time of equal importance to the nation. Freedom, responsibility, the chance to use your own initiative are all yours.

The training you get is the finest your government can provide — $35,000 worth for every Cadet. You're taught by skilled instructors, fly the best airplanes. Your living facilities are excellent.

Learning to fly today opens profitable fields to you in aviation — which is expanding more rapidly than at any other time in history.

Pilot training is open, now, to single men, 20 to 26½ years old, who have completed at least one-half the credits for a degree from an accredited college or university — or pass an equivalent examination. Cadets completing the course will be commissioned Second Lieutenants, ORC, and assigned to active duty as pilots with the Air Force. During their tours of duty they will be given a chance to qualify for Regular Air Force Commissions. This is your opportunity! Look into it today at your nearest U. S. Army and Air Force Recruiting Station.

U. S. ARMY AND AIR FORCE RECRUITING SERVICE

EAGLES SQUEEZE BY WILDCATS, 6-0

VILLANOVAN SPORTS

Tuesday, October 28, 1947 Page Five

They cheered their team off as the Paoli Local left Villanova, but all to no avail. Villanova lost to Boston College two nights later by a score of 6-0.

Knecht Throws T.D. Pass To Probert As Kittens Down Cornell, 6-0

SPORTORIAL

By Hugh Johnson, Sports Editor

Sitting beside the radio listening to "Ace" Sportscaster Bill Sears is hardly the way to cover a football game, but, just like the poor soul who wants to buy a new car, he'll take it on the dealer's terms or not at all. So, just like the rest of Villanova students who didn't have dates on Friday night, we covered the game a la Marconi.

Injuries To Blame?

There no sense crying over spilled milk, but facts are facts. Almost everybody on the teams has some sort of bruise, tear, cut or break. Ralph Pasquarello's foot, Bob Polidor's shoulder, Cap Capriotti's chin, Al Schmid, Bud Kane, and Ed Berrang, with leg trouble, just to mention a few.

One bright spot in that dark ledger of injuries is the possible return of Andy Gordon for the Marquette game two weeks from now. Andy has been in the hospital for an internal infection but last Saturday night found him desperately trying to make up for the loss of 17 lbs. with ice cream, cake and olives at his O. A. O.'s birthday party.

One sidelight of the B. C. game that might prove interesting is Villanova's defensive record. While listening to the game, we devised a tricky system of scoring on the tackles made during the game. (So tricky, in fact, that we couldn't remember how it worked out as soon after as the following morning). At any rate, Tom Clavin took top honors with 8¼ points. Next was Syl Yanelli with 6½, then Brown, Ferry, Sandusky, Lilienthal, Pavalko and Berrang in that order. This doesn't, however, take into account the number of minutes each player was in the game. But somewhere along the line it does embrace the "availibility to make the tackle" theory, (i. e., backer ups, lineman, etc.).

(Continued on Page 6)

By Harry Jacobs

Opening up with a belated passing attack, Villanova's 150-lb. team downed Cornell at Crescentville Stadium by the same score that the Varsity team lost to Boston College, 6-0. It was the first win of the season for the Kittens having previously tied Rutgers and Princeton by the 6-6 count.

Although they couldn't score in the first three periods, coach Tony Cocco's boys did dominate the play most of the game. In the first quarter, Cornell held for downs on its own 7 yard line. In the second quarter, the Kittens ran into the same trouble on the 20-yd. line.

Villanova Scores

Again in the third quarter, Cornell held on the 25 but in the last frame, Dick Devine heaved a long aerial to Ed Downey, good for 20 yards, setting the ball on the Ivy League's 20. Three plays later, Har Knecht standing on his own 17, let loose with a pass into the end zone to Bob Probert, good for the game's only score. Jack Caroll's dropkick for the extra point was short.

Cornell tried the usual last minute desepation passes by the Kitten defense, lead by Captain Bob Fitzmeyer, rushed the passers enabling Villanova to protect its never again challenged lead.

The game marked the return of Ned Hoffner, who played his usual good game at tackle. Hoffner was out last week with a broken nose. Bill Stonelake, who hurt his back earlier in the season, missed the game.

Next week, Villanova travels to Annapolis to meet the Middie's 150's. They took the league title last year.

Lineups
Villanova		Cornell
Mullin	LE	Hagoman
Ward	LT	Lapento
Carroll	LG	Weisborn
Fitzmeyer (C)	C	Pinkham
Furey	RG	Wainwright
Hoffner	RT	Wurtz
Meriwether	RE	Rock
Curtin	QB	Shawcare
Leighton	LHB	Minister
Probert	RHB	Corwith
Knecht	FB	Ortt

Score by Periods

Villanova	0	0	0	6
Cornell	0	0	0	0

Substitutions: Villanova, Downey, Doyle, Devine, Hamilton, McNulty, O'Brien, Schmidt, Thompson, Wieand. Cornell, Winokin, Cotter, Martin, Thaler, Hill, Blank, Baker.

Joe Deminick Runs 55 yds. For Boston's Lone Tally

Villanova Misses Three Scoring Opportunities Against Heavy Boston College Line

By Harry Jacobs

Playing before a capacity crowd of 40,000 at Braves Field in Boston, Villanova dropped its toughest game of the season to a highly favored Boston College eleven, 6-0. The win puts B. C. ahead in the series 6 to 5.

The Eagles scored their lone tally midway in the third quarter on a 55 yd. gallop by Joe Diminick, the 163 lb. halfback from Kulpmont, Pa. Deminick scored after B. C. had a first and 10—thanks to a demoralizing 15 yd. penalty against the Wildcats—on a quick opening play and scored standing upright.

'Cats Threatened 3 Times

Although the statistics would indicate the Beaners had a "Tea Party" in winning, the game wasn't all one sided. On at least 3 occasions, Villanova had its few hundred rooters on their feet with scoring threats; one of which died on questionable goal line fumble

B. C. chalked up the initial first down of the game in the opening period. After an exchange of punts, quarterback Steve Stuka handed the ball to Deminick who made 3. Stuka then faked a pass and shot through the line to register a first down.

Clavin & Yanelli Hold

But Tom Clavin and Syl Yanelli helped to tighten the front wall and Brennen, the Boston kicker, booted the ball out on the 41 of Villanova. Joe Rogers, Bob Polidor, and Ralph Pacquarello, all playing with taped up injuries, could gain little through the heavy B. C. line so Al Schmid, kicked to the 15 where Yanelli dropped the ball carrier.

Three plays later, fullback Polidino scored a first down. But Bill Lillienthal, Dan Brown, and Pasquarello held the rolling offense to a net gain of one yard, so Brennen on 4th down, faked a kick and passed. It went out of bounds and the Main Liners took over. A Doherty pass to Polidor was good for 7 and on the next play, Pasquarello broke through for 6 and a first down. On a cross-buck, Rogers made 7, but a tough break in the form of a fumble gave the ball to the Eagles as the first period ended a scoreless tie.

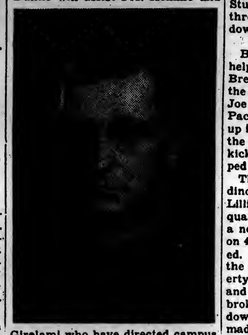
Deminick Goes 49 Yds.

On the first 2 plays of the second quarter, Polidino and DaRosa made 7, then DaRosa, forced to run because he couldn't pass, carried for 10 and a first down. A 5 yd. penalty set the Eagles back to their 41 where Deminick gave a preview of his running ability by r pping off 49 yds. before George Pavalko bounced him out on the 10.

However, the Villanova defense tightened and Bill Carlin, Ed Berrang, and Lilienthal held three Boston plays to a one yard gain. The ball went over to the Wildcats and Al Schmid, whose kicking in spite of a bad leg, was a highlight of the game, punted the ball 60 yds. Two plays later, End Dan Brown slid into the B. C. backfield, batted down a flip-out and then recovered it 25 yds. away from pay dirt.

Doherty's Run Called Back

This brought the whole stadium to its feet. Polidor made 2, a pass to Rogers just missed and Doherty, as he did against Detroit, faded to pass, so nobody in the open, tucked the ball under his arm and weaved his way to the 25 for what would have been a first down. But backfield-in-motion nullified the play and first scoring threat.



Boston ripped off 12 for a first

(Continued on Page 6)

FR. J. DUNNE TAKES OVER INTRAMURALS

Former Army Chaplain to Run Campus Activities

Yesterday, Rev. E. B. McKee, O.S.A., Director of Athletics, announced the appointment of Rev. John R. Dunne, O.S.A., to the board of Intramural Athletics. Fr. Dunne will assist Frs. Kemme and Girolami who have directed campus sports since 1944.

Fr. Dunne is an alumnus of Villanova and received his M. A. degree from Catholic University. After a short assignment in Cuba, he returned to his own campus and, together with Fr. McKee, took over the reins of Intramural Activities.

Chaplain in Army

In 1943, Fr. Dunne was commissioned a Chaplain in the U. S. Army. He saw action with MacArthur's forces in the Philippines and Japan. After his discharge in 1946, as a Major, this staunch Villanova pusher was handed the task of Veteran's Advisor which position he held until this past week.

Huge Intramural Plan Announced

This week, Rev. John R. Dunne, O. S. A., of the board of Intramural Sports, announced a tentative schedule for athletics on the campus for the coming school year. Touch football, basketball, swimming, tennis, golf, softball, boxing, together with an amateur night and the hall decorations for the Georgetown game, are the highlights of the program.

"We say tentative," said Fr. Dunne, "because the large enrollment will make it necessary for the utmost of co-operation from the student body to put the program over. And, with this co-operation, we can bring athletics back to the students on the pre-war scale.

The first phase, touch football, will make its appearance this week. The six-man teams are to be divided up in this fashion; Alumni, Fedigan, Austin, and Mendel halls are permitted to have three teams each, Delurey, O'Dwyer, and Simpson, each one team each of the barracks are to be represented by 2 teams each; and the day-hops are to be divided into 12 teams each from the C & F'ers and those from Mendel.

It is suggested that each team have about 8 or 10 fellows to start with then elect a captain. The captains of each team will then represent their team at the league meetings.

The first of these meetings will be held this Thursday evening, in room 215 at 6:15. The captain of each team will bring with him, (1) a list of his players; (2) the name of his team; (3) the times which he will be able to field a team; (4) and his own room number. At this meeting Fr. Dunne will explain the set-up more clearly and will explain the rules under which the teams will play. It is here that a schedule will be drawn up.

As soon as the football season is over, the program calls for the popular return of intramural basketball. The system for the playoffs will be drawn up later. Basketball will be followed by swimming, boxing, tennis, golf, and softball.

Each hall or day-hop group will be scored for their endeavors and the results will be published as the year goes on. Also included in the scoring will be the decorating of the halls before the Georgetown game.

The final feature of the extensive program is the annual amateur night. Any individuals or any group of individuals may compete and points, along with individual prizes will be awarded.

Boston College Game

(Continued from Page 5)

down on three plays before end Don loss of yardage trying to pass. After Griffith trapped Stuka for a long Brennen's kick, twisting, turning Cap Capriotti was roughed up by the B. C. lineman giving the 'Cats a first and 10. A Doherty pass was incomplete. Pasquarello and Capriotti made 9 before Doherty was forced to kick.

Benidetto and Deminick made 2 quick first downs before Stuka fumbled and Komarnicki flopped on it. After an exchange of punts, the half ended, the score still 0-0.

Capriotti Runs 49 Yds.

After Siano's Kickoff, neither side could move against each other. Finally, Brennen was forced to kick to the 50 where Doherty brought it back to the 45. A box pass to Berlang was no good. On the next play, Doherty handed the ball to Capriotti. He shot through the line, picked up a nice block from Dan Brown and weaved his way to the B. C. 5 where Art Spinney, the last man, forced him out of bounds.

With a first down Schreiber carried to the 2. Shifting into the box Al Schmid was hit hard and lost the ball on the goal line where a Boston man fell on it, ending threat No. 2.

Deminick Scores

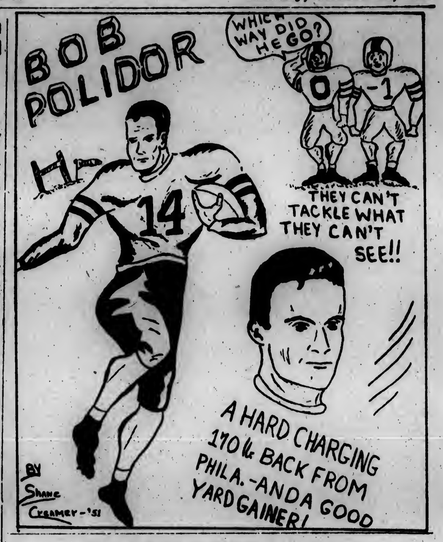
With the ball out on the 20, Benidetto pushed his way to the 31 before Stuka, trying to pass, fumbled the ball and again Dan Brown recovered deep in B. C. territory. It looked as though Villanova was all set to move again but referee Leroy Kelley called a holding penalty which gave the Eagles a first down. On the next play, Joe Deminick broke loose and did his 55 yard dash for the games only score. On Brennen's try for the extra point, the ball was fumbled. Score B. C. 6-0.

Play shifted hands three times with neither team being able to register the necessary 10 yds. before Brennen kicked out on the Villanova 28. With Stev. Romanik, at quarter, Jack Tulskie, Bill Zehler at halves and Schreiber at full the Wildcats again started to move.

Boston crossed up the hard charging Blue and White lineman with a screen pass for a first down and managed to hold on to the ball for the remaining 2 minutes.

Zehler & Schreiber Move

Lehler made 11 around end and then Schreiber made 16 through the line for 2 successive first downs. Romanik then dropped back and passed to Zehler for 20 yds. That put the ball on the Boston 31 with a first and ten. A Romanik pass, however, backfired and cut off all hopes of a Wildcat score in the third period.



INTRAMURAL BOWL'G STARTS 2ND WEEK

The Main Line Bowling Alleys, Rosemont, will be the scene of Intramural action Wednesday and Thursday of this week, when representative five man teams will be present from the various halls on the campus. There are, however, four additional "Day Hop" squads needed to make the league a success. Anyone interested in joining the teams is invited to attend the league matches on Wednesday or Thursday. The practice session of last week was poorly attended by those who had turned in their names as interested in joining the league but it is expected that they will be on hand for the inauguration of the bowling matches.

Matches to Begin at 3:15

So as to make it possible for a larger turnout, the matches will begin at 3:15 P.M. on Wednesday and Thursday. The cost for three games will amount to seventy-five cents with a ten cent optional payment to the pin boys. Each five man team is expected to contribute seventy-five cents for prize money which will be put in a common pool and apportioned equally at the conclusion of the season. Prize money will be paid out on a point basis for all the teams, high five man team average for one and three games, high individuals single and three game average.

Operating as a "Handicap" league with a maximum handicap of seventy-five pins, it was proposed the previous week to start the teams out on an equal footing by not giving any handicap for the first week. The average score which a new man must take after this week will be 150. Another suggestion which was made was that the various campus publications and organizations enter representative teams into the "Villanova Intramural Bowling League."

SPORTORIAL

By Hugh Johnson, Sports Editor

(Continued from Page 5)

Warning to the Coon-Dogs

Although it is still a few weeks away from the Georgetown game, a few inquiries have already been made on our campus from windows of automobiles bearing D. C. license plates as to just where we keep Count Villian, 2nd. For the information of the Hoya Saxais, the Wildcat is kept in the Phila. Zoo along with 25 other buddies. Now far be it for us to accuse any Georgetown student of wanting to steal our Count but somewhere in the annals of college pranks there was something written about a Fordham Ram missing right before a Georgetown game, in fact, just last year. But to the "care to, love to, have to" boys we say, go right ahead. The Zoo is at 34th and Girard Ave. Just remember, this Wildcat is the meanest, toughest, roughest, biggest animal the Florida Chamber of Commerce could find so y'all had better check on the premiums of your NSLI before coming north.

Week of Upsets

In a week of outstanding upsets, one of the longest unbeaten streaks in the annals of college football fell by the wayside. Columbia's last minute rally did something Villanova and 18 other big names in football have been trying to do since the start of the 1944 season. But those 32 games will be lasting tribute, not only to West Point, but more so to the excellent coaching of Coach Earl (Red) Blaik.

True, he did have some of the best ball players in the nation during the war, but consider the fact that every team that Army played was guided by one theme in the spring and fall practices i. e., "Beat Army!!" So, our "bouquet" of the week to Red Blaik, one of the greatest football coaches since Notre Dame's Knute Rockne.

QUALITY CLOTHES FOR MEN AT LOW COST

HITTENHOUSE 6-8430

surprise! surprise!

Liberal choice of fine QUALITY men's suits in SHARKSKINS, HARD FINISHED WORSTEDS & GABARDINES in two- and three-button single-breasted, and one- and two-button double-breasted models. In all the NEW FALL SHADES.

34.50 and 39.50

These prices are made possible by our LOW OVERHEAD and LOW MARK-UP policy.

Lord and Lord

NEW FALL TOPCOATS.. 29.75 to 39.75
ALL OCCASION SLACKS 8.75 to 13.75

1211 CHESTNUT ST. 2nd FLOOR

OPEN DAILY TO 6 P.M. THURS. TO 9

ELEVATOR TO SECOND FLOOR

Pie Shop Opening Expected Soon

Construction almost completed, Villanova's new Pie Shop will be open for business in several weeks. The seating capacity will be approximately 400; this is an increase of about 250 over the present campus Shop. Dimensions of the new building are: 170 x 40 feet. The serving counter will be 80 feet. The building was formerly one wing of an "H" shaped army cafeteria in Camp Peary, North Carolina.

Facilities in the new building will include all those contained in the old cafeteria, plus any extras possible. The old Pie Shop will be turned into an electronics laboratory.

Interfraternity

(Continued from Page 1)

halls prior to the Georgetown football game. In past years, men of Villanova have vied for honors in decorating their halls. A plaque was then awarded to the best dressed hall. Since the plaque is still available it was felt that the custom should be reestablished.

The Council passed the motion that the organization meet every other week instead of every week. The meeting was then turned over to the business of revising the constitution.

Pepsi-Cola To Offer Twenty-six Fellowships

Twenty-six new graduate fellowships, each of which will grant full tuition and $750 a year for three years, are being offered to college seniors this year by the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board.

Any college student who will receive a bachelor's degree during the school year 1947-48, from a college or university in the United States, may apply for one of these fellowships.

The fellowship may be used at any accredited graduate or professional school in the United States or Canada, and in any field of study which will lead to an M.A., Ph.D., M.D., or other advanced professional degrees.

Winners will be selected on the basis of their undergraduate records and recommendations as to character, personality, and qualities of leadership, and the fellowships will be limited to those students who are in need of financial assistance.

Six winners will be chosen from this geographic district which includes New England, New York, and Pennsylvania.

The purpose of this program is to discover students of unusual ability and to help them secure further education. The program is sponsored by an independent group of educators, known as the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board, and is offered as a service to American youth by the Pepsi-Cola Company upon the recommendation of its president, Walter S. Mack, Jr.

Qualified students, interested in applying for one of these fellowships, may obtain application forms from the dean, Rev. Edward M. Dwyer, O.S.A. in room 117. All applications must be received by the Board no later than January 1, 1948. Winners will be announced March 15.

Bruderle Attends Foreign Policy Asso. Meeting

On Monday night, Mr. Bruderle, associate professor of History, represented Villanova College at a meeting of the Foreign Policy Association of Philadelphia. The purpose of this organization is to promote the study of international relations among college students.

The program to be followed during the current school year was discussed, and suggestions were offered by representatives of the colleges in this area. A tentative plan was advanced whereby all interested students of the schools might meet at the University of Pennsylvania or other suitable place to hear prominent speakers discuss international problems. As yet no definite plan has been established. Announcement will be made at a later date.

College To Observe All Souls, Nov. 3

All Souls Day, November 2nd, a Sunday, will be commemorated on Monday, the third of November. By special authorization of the Holy See every priest is permitted to say three Masses on that day.

Masses at the College Chapel will begin at 5:15 A.M. and go on continuously until 9:00. This last Mass will be a Missa Cantata chanted by the Schola Cantorum of the Augustinian Seminary.

All Souls Day Commemoration cards will be distributed by the Chaplain to all the resident students. These should be filled in and returned before Sunday, November 2nd. The eight o'clock Mass will be said for the deceased Alumni, the parents, relatives and friends of the Villanova student body.

Let's Get together

PHILIP MORRIS is so much better to smoke!

PHILIP MORRIS offers the smoker an extra benefit found in no other cigarette. For PHILIP MORRIS is the ONE, the ONLY cigarette recognized by leading nose and throat specialists as definitely less irritating.

Remember: Less irritation means more smoking enjoyment for you.

Yes! If every smoker knew what PHILIP MORRIS smokers know, they'd all change to PHILIP MORRIS.

CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS

TRY A PACK... TODAY

THE BULLETIN BOARD

ASCE

Villanova's ASCE Student Chapter held its first meeting of the fall term last Friday, with organization and the addition of new members as its immediate objectives.

President Jack Scanlan opened the meeting by introducing Mr. John Gallen, faculty advisor to the chapter, who outlined plans for a minimum of four field trips for the year. Mr. Gallen also expressed hope that a few men would start work immediately on a topic to be presented this Spring at the Student Chapter Convention at Swarthmore. Since each school is limited to one representative in the competition for prizes, eliminations will have to be held here at the school a month or so in advance of the convention.

Enrollment of new members has boosted the chapter membership to a record 75. President Scanlan, cognizant of this, has begun plans to enter a bowling team in the proposed Phi Kappa Pi League by appointing Tom Santry as captain of the ASCE keglers. Scanlan hopes that the other engineering societies will follow suit in order to provide spirited league competition.

Standing committees were rearranged in their composition. The program committee is now headed by Dick DiTos, with Ed Walsh, the senior class representative. Refreshments will be handled by Tom Burke and his hand-picked assistants; publicity by Gerry Mauer and Jim Haney.

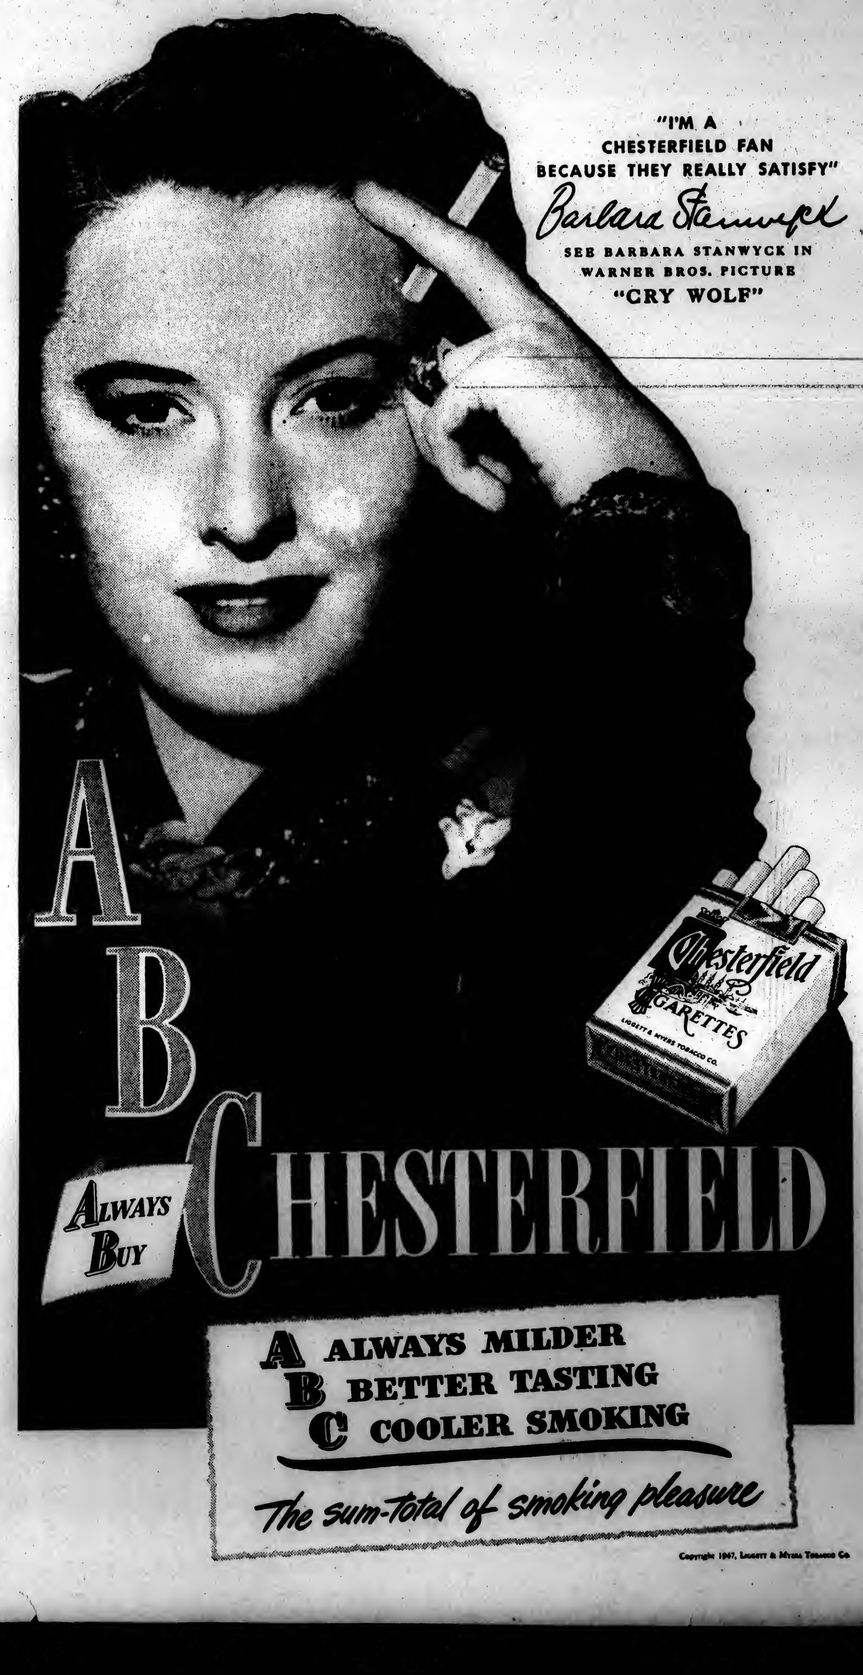
Officers to serve through the Fall Term in addition to Scanlan are: Vice-President John "Doc" Brennan, Secretary Jim Carroll, and Treasurer Tom Burke.

BETA GAMMA

At the initial meeting of Beta Gamma, the college debating society, last Monday night, plans were made for trial debates for the new members. President Carl Yeager announced that meetings would be held bi-weekly, and he called for support of this year's organization.

Ten new candidates turned out for the debate team at this meeting. Mr. Yeager felt that they should demonstrate their ability as soon as possible, and scheduled three debates among the new members for the next meeting.

The group will meet on alternate Thursday evenings and it is planned that every other meeting will be devoted to business, and the assignment of topics for future debates. At the other meetings guest speakers will address the group.



The organization, a member group of the Ben Franklin Debate Conference, is directed by Rev. William Krupa, O.S.A. Father Krupa stated that the team will make trips to New York and Washington. Several members of last year's organization lead the competition for places on the team.

AIEE

The first meeting of the A.I.E.E. was held October 17, in the Dynamo Lab. Tom Nary, Chairman, greeted the old members and welcomed the new ones. Attendance at this meeting was the largest in several years, seventy students being present.

Mr. Davis, Professor of E.E. at Villanova and District Representative of the A.I.E.E., addressed the members. He announced that a contest will be held in the near future for all E.E.'s. A schedule of activities for the coming year is now being prepared.

JEANNETTE'S
Bryn Mawr Flower Shop
Corsage Specialists
FREE DELIVERY
823 Lancaster Ave.
BRYN MAWR, PA.
Bryn Mawr 0570 : Flowers by Wire

VILLANOVAN

VOL. 23—No. 4 VILLANOVA COLLEGE, VILLANOVA, PA. Tuesday, November 4, 1947

Class of '50 Sets 550 as Dance Limit

Adelphia Voted Site of Senior Dinner-Dance

Five hundred and fifty tickets is the limit set by the Senior Class for sale to the Belle Aire Ball, the first formal dance of the school year. Tickets will be on sale in the near future for $6.00 per couple, tax included. This was decided upon by the Senior Class at a meeting held last Thursday evening.

Co-chairmen of the Ball, Bob O'Connor and Andy Gordon, in conjunction with the class, have set January 16 as the date for the brilliant social. The ticket limitation was figured on the capacity of the Field House which is the scene of the affair.

The Hotel Adelphia was voted on as the scene of the Senior Dinner Dance to be held on the following evening, January 17th.

Name Band To Be Selected

Joe Ringlestein and John Quinn, co-chairmen of the Band Committee have submitted the list of available bands for selection. A name band will play for the dance and will be announced in a subsequent edition of the Villanovan.

The Chairmen of the Dance have appointed the following men on the committees, pending approval:

Band Committee—Joseph Ringlestein, John Quinn.

Ticket Committee—Joseph Healy, Thomas Boyle.

Program Committee—Edwin Keller, Thomas Daley.

Decoration Committee — Thomas Braun, Eamon Walsh.

Publicity Committee — Matthew Kearney.

President to Inaugurate Expositions

Villanova will inaugurate public Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament on November the seventh, the first Friday of the month.

Reverend Francis X. N. McGuire, O. S. A., President of the college, will offer the Mass of Exposition at 8 o'clock on each First Friday. The Blessed Sacrament will be exposed publicly until five-fifteen in the afternoon; when Benediction will be given. At four-thirty every First Friday, the Augustinian Scholastics will chant the Divine Office in the College Chapel Coram Sanotissimo Sacramento.

Volunteers among the Faculty and student body will go on watch before the Blessed Sacrament at half-hour intervals from 8:30 in the morning until 4:30 in the afternoon. The President of the College will begin the first watch, to be followed by members of the Sanctuary Society.

Villanova's intentions for the adoration of the Blessed Sacrament are:

1. To make reparation to the Sacred Heart for the sins of men, in keeping with the request of Our Lady of Fatima.
2. To pray for the peace of the world.
3. To remember the spiritual welfare of all Villanova students, alumni, and faculty, living and dead.

COLLECTIONS FOR WEEK OF OCTOBER 27, 1947
Freshman	$ 29.30
Sophomore	47.62
Junior	16.09
Senior	11.86
Total	$104.86

Villanovan Meets Mother After Wartime Seperation

Mother and Son Reunited After Nine Years

Ed. Note: This story was written by a member of the Villanovan special assignment staff who had the privilege of interviewing Mrs. Diesel in Philadelphia recently. It was written in keeping with the Villanovan's policy of giving readers first hand accounts of events of campus interest.)

By Frank Guzikowski

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31, 1947 — Nine long years of waiting came to a happy ending with the landing of an American Airlines transoceanic Constellation at Philadelphia's Southwest Airport on Saturday, October 25. Aboard was a mother who had been separated from her son and husband since October of 1938. Those eventful years were fraught with worry and desperation for William Diesel, his wife Maria, and their son Herman, a member of the Junior class at Villanova.

The story goes back to June of 1938. In that month the family of three returned to Germany to visit relatives living near their former home, just outside of the city of Munich. They had left that city in 1930 to make their residence in Philadelphia.

Months Became Years

Without warning they were swept up in the swirl of activity created by the workings of the German political machine. It was with great difficulty that the father and son, American citizens, were able to return to this country. Mrs. Diesel, unable to leave because of her German citizenship, insisted that they return without her. It was expected that she would follow them a few weeks later. Those weeks turned into months, the months into years until even the hope of meeting her family was kept alive only by constant forbearance and trust in God.

Shortly after he graduated from North Catholic High School Herman Diesel joined the American Army, a service that was terminated with the end of hostilities a full six years

(Continued on Page 4)

Spanish Club Prepares Annual Fall Fiesta

The Spanish Club is preparing for its annual Fall fiesta "La Noche Espanola." Rev. Lorenzo Lozano, O.S.A., Moderator, announced that the event will take place November 25th in the C&F auditorium.

The male chorus has already held several practice sessions, and other members of the Spanish Club are urged to join. The next choral practice on Monday night at 8:30 P.M. in C&F.

The highlight of the evening will be the play, "Una Prueba de Amor," which will feature several beautiful "muchachas" from Rosemont College teamed with the Villanova thespians. The first rehearsal was held last Tuesday.

Another attraction will be the Spanish film, "The Adventures of El Chico," with dialogue in Spanish.

Refreshments will be served. Invitations have been extended to all of the neighboring colleges.

The Spanish Club is the largest club on the campus, and now numbers 350 members.

Juniors Award Ring Contract to Newark Co.

Loren Murchison Gets Contract

Loren Murchison and Co., Inc., of Newark, N. J., was awarded the contract to furnish rings for the junior class, Monday evening, Oct. 27, at the junior class meeting held in the Commerce and Finance Building.

Design Unchanged

Design of the class ring is essentially the same as that of previous years. Juniors are allowed to have their first two initials and full last name engraved on the ring free of charge.

In awarding the contract, the committee, headed by Edward Quinn, considered bids submitted by many firms. Final choice was made after a comparison of the companies' quality, reliability, and prices.

Over 200 students attended the meeting. Samples of the Blazers are to be approved at the next meeting. Movies were shown and refreshments served.

Belle Masque Members To Stage One-Act Plays

Two nights last week the members of the Belle Masque met in the Commerce and Finance auditorium for their first rehearsals of the season, under the direction of Rev. William J. Krupa, O.S.A.

On Wednesday night, the entire cast of "The Fisherman" went through their parts. The leads are shared by Rosemary May, of Rosemont College and Dick McKinley, who will play the part of "Peter." Others in the play are Paul Altenpohl, Joe Hennessy, and Ed Wilbur.

A reading of male parts for "Our Town" was held the same night. Joe Leary takes the part of the "stage manager." The cast is augmented by Jerry Anne Collum, Marie McMenamin, Kay Kelly, and Mary Rose Brown.

In addition to those players mentioned, the cast of "Our Town" will include Phil Appleby, J. Rowe, Don Collins, E. J. Doyle, William Brenninghouse, Ed Fanelli, John Mallik, and Phil Meades.

Thursday night "The Twelve-Pound Look" was rehearsed. Loretta Moore and an undecided Villanovan will have the leading parts. Supporting players are Mimi Dransfield and Richard Lauman.

These plays will be presented within the next three weeks. The date is to be announced.

The drama club is also considering a variety show for later in the year.

VILLANOVAN TO HOLD CARTOON CONTEST

The Villanovan announces a campus-wide cartoon contest for the purpose of revealing latent talents. The contest begins November 4th, and ends on November 20th, on which date the judges will choose the final winners.

Judges in this contest will be Villanovan staff cartoonists, Neal Fahy, Chairman of the contest, will be assisted by Leo Dodd, Emile Meyer, Richard Hudak. Chairman Fahy has announced the following rules:

1. The drawing must be 8" by 10".
2. Must be on subjects of campus interest, including sports.
3. Must be finished in black ink.
4. Must be on white drawing paper.
5. Staff members of the Belle Aire Yearbook and the Villanovan are excluded from the contest.
6. Must be a registered student at Villanova College.

Prizes donated by Chesterfield Cigarette representative, Joe King will be awarded to the winner.

In the past, Villanova cartoonists have been discovered only by chance, therefore this publication is sponsoring the contest as a vehicle for budding cartoonists, and as an initiation into their future on the long-lived college newspaper.

All judged entries will be published, and all entries become the property of the Villanovan. The decision of the judges will be final.

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the VILLANOVAN Staff, Thursday, Nov. 6th at 6:30 in Room 119, Mendel Hall.

Fedigan Hall Plots to Keep Connelly Prize; Names Committee

Fedigan Hall has begun preparations for the Decorations Contest which begins Monday, November 10, and runs to November 13.

The entrants in the contest, competing for the Connelly Plaque, intend to stimulate "Beat Georgetown" spirit. The plaque awarded to the winner now reposes with the residents of Fedigan Hall, continual holders of the trophy since its inauguration in 1937.

Alumnus Gave Plaque

Donated by William Connelly '27, the prize was awarded to Fedigan first in '37 when their winning slogan was, "The Wildcats Will Be FED-I-GAN." They have been the recipients of the award five consecutive times since then. Austin Hall, always close behind and runner-up in 1941, expects to be the darkhorse of the campaign.

The Student Council, judge of the contest, expects this year's "Beat Georgetown" campaign to develop into the most lively of all the years.

Awarding of the trophy will be made on November 13 at the huge pep rally, the grand finale of all pre-

(Continued on Page 4)

New College Sets Date For Dance

Manor College, recently established at Fox Chase Manor, Philadelphia, announced that it is holding a dance on November 8. Featured attraction is music by Stan Kenton and his orchestra.

The college, attended by ten girls this year, is affiliated with Catholic U. in Washington, and is run by the Sisters of St. Basil the Great, of the Ukranian Catholic Church. The new institution is within the Byzantine Rite.

Square and Ball Room dancing along with the music of popular Stan Kenton will be the main attractions for the night. Buses will leave Broad and Olney for the grounds every half hour from 7 o'clock on. Tickets for the affair, lasting from 7:30 to 1 A.M., are on sale at the Information Booth or may be acquired at the door. Students may come either stag or with dates. Girls from the neighboring Catholic colleges will attend the dance and will help to make things gay.

Vote Today

Today will present many Students of Villanova with the opportunity to really practice what they preach. For many years it has been common for the college man to criticize the apathy of the citizens towards their voting right. So much wrong has been wrought by the careless attitude of citizens that many students wonder about the very foundations of American Democracy.

Now is the time for we students who possess the right to vote to utilize our privilege. It is inconceivable that an American student fail to do his civic duty. It will be the real test of the convictions of the Philadelphians in our midst if they do take time to vote in the municipal election being held today.

It is almost the duty of every college man to take an active interest in his locality's political affairs. With his esteem and knowledge, he can do the nation as a whole a great good by showing that he has absorbed the American heritage and will not let it die.

It should be the ambition of every informed person to carry his knowledge on to the less informed, especially in political matters, where many times the good health of the locality is in the balance. Today, however, the issue is at first hand. . . . Be you Democrat or Republican, VOTE TODAY.

Part of the Show

The bandwagon of communism rolls toward western Europe. Entertainers and barkers vibrant with zeal, lustily proclaim the magic wonders which can be had for so small a price. The dejected in spirit, those despairing, are awed by an extravaganza which promises entertainment and refreshment for body and spirit which was so long absent. The price—one leaves his membership card to the Christian faith at the door. Peace, contentment on the inside? Like so many pretty things, like so many red apples, this one, too, is rotten at the core.

Catholicism has been the greatest show on earth for two thousand years. Occasionally, its barkers, its entertainers, become scattered and even become few. Today, the Catholic Church is in direct competition with Communism. It needs sincerely enthusiastic workers to draw the eyes of the world to the shadow of the cross in opposition to the hate, contempt, and irreligion circulated by every devoted communist.

Last week, Villanovans, your willing spirit in contributing to desperate students abroad, ecphasized the fact that you, as students, desire to labor, to battle for Christ, that you oppose communism in every form with every bit of strength.

We must continue to be active during the remainder of this program, for the peace of Christ shall come only in the Christ thought, the Christ word, the Christ deed reflected in our daily lives.

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

WILLIAM F. ALTENPOHL, '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
JOHN A. McDERMOTT, '48 ..... Managing Editor
JACK CASBY, '49 ..... News Editor
HUGH W. JOHNSON, '49 ..... Sports Editor
GEORGE SZYMANSKI, '50 ..... Feature Editor
RICHARD HUBBARD, '48 ..... Picture Editor
VINCE PEDANO, '49 ..... Circulation Manager
NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI, '48 ..... Business Manager
EDWARD OXFORD, '50 ..... Copy Editor
JAMES PLUNKETT '49 ..... Asso. Sports Editor

News Staff

Michael Marshall '49, Richard Shinners '48, Joseph D'Ambrisi '49, Michael Joseph Nowka '49, Charles Laferty '49, Frank Gobo '51, Frank Gusikowski '48, Thomas Smith '51, George Saco '50, Martin Mulkeen '51, Joseph Rath '51, Francis Dunne '51, Thomas Mitchell '51, Joseph Miller '50, Martin Bagner '49, Joseph D'Auria '49, Jack Mallick '49, John Kennedy '49, John James Connolly '51, Joseph Kenney '50, William J. Leighton '50, John W. Applegate '51, Joseph Callahan '51, George R. Reinhart '51, Arthur Woodrow '51, William Foley '50, Frank McGuhan '50, Dick Randolph '49, Robert MacRoberts '50, James Quas '50, Gerhard Farnon '50, Edgar Le Blanc '49.

Feature Staff

R. E. Manifold '51, William Breninghouse '51, Joseph Quill '50, A. J. Mullen '49, David V. Anthony '51, John A. Rowe '51, Gun her Kaiser '49, P. McManus '48, John Mallick '49, Vince O'Neil '51, Mark Morris '51, James Tayoun '51, Leo Dodd '49, Emil Mayer '49, Richard Hudak '49, Thomas Russo '49

Sports Staff

James Lyons '48, Vincent O'Donnell '48, Daniel Redmond '48, David Ryan '48, Paul Altonpuhi '49, Joseph Hennessey '49, Ned Hoffner '49, Arnold Keehan '49, Roy Cameron '50, William Canino '50, Neal Fahy '50, Georgs Mondscheier '50, Raymond Mondschein '50, Tyson Reilly '50, Walter Rygiel '50, William Ward '50, Edward Hattrick '51, Harry Jacobs '51, William Klusaritis '51, Raymond MacWilliams '51, Paul Pressede '51, Harold Range '51.

Picture Staff

Robert Graf '50, John Kane '50, Raymond Berninger '49, Dan Haflinger '50, William Neal Carter '51, Charles Calley '51, Dan Robinson '51, William Murphy '51, Harry Papaan '51, Robert Pope '50, Jack Muratori '51.

Business Staff

William Wescott '47, Joe King '48, Barry Gibbons '51, Jack Gibbons '51, Donald Barait '50.

Circulation Staff

Vince Pedano '49, George Weber, III. '51, Ralph Iorio '50, Ed Kent '51, Charles Clunk '51, Ralph Skowron '51, Gene Langan '51, Juan F. Caisada '51, William J. Coakley '50.

Copy Staff

Frank McGeehan '50, Girard Farnan '50, Edgar Le Blanc '50, Steve Keiss '51, Robert MacRoberts '51, William Foley '50, Dick Randolph '50.

Faculty Advisor— Rev. John A. Klekotka, O.S.A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman —

LEO GOODREAU

Subscription: $2 per year, Circulation: 5000.
Entered as second class matter at the Villanova Post Office December 27, 1928.

Member of Associate Collegiate Press, Distributor of Collegiate Digest.
Member of Catholic School Press Association, Catholic College Press Association.

Less of This, Please

Without a doubt, one of the most pleasant aspects of being taught at Villanova is the beauty of the surroundings. We have every reason to be proud of the campus and quite naturally. We should do our share in keeping it in the best condition.

The action of the student body is hardly commendable, however, as the picture indicates, when such little campus respect is shown. It will be very little trouble to correct this situation, but what is more, it is only in line with our own personal self respect.

Incidentally . .

By J. Duffy

Today, the residents of the City of Brotherly Love are playing their part in the greatest American pastime.

It's a game in which the rules have never been defined and, in fact, one in which the winners' tactics are often the most obscure. This is particularly true in areas of entrenched political monopoly where it is a sign of mental lapse on the part of the party in power to discuss the issues of the day. Moreover, approximately half of the eligible players of the game appear content merely to stand on the sidelines and jeer. Its only when a monumental issue like intra-party control of graft is raised that the players out-number the jeerers.

It is possible that the general apathy of the voters is due to the countless number of red herrings that are dragged across the path of reason during a political campaign. This column humbly introduces another reasonable(?) explanation, for the absence of citizens on "citizen's day" in the neighboring metropolis of Philadelphia.

We indicated above that the habit of political campaigning is a pastime. Today marks the death throes of such a pastime in Philadelphia. But the dictionary insists that pastime is equivalent to amusement. Is this the key to the whole mystery? Is life in Philadelphia unusually funny? Is such humor peculiar to Philadelphia?

This thought has occurred to us: when a resident of Philly becomes thirsty does he grimace or grin? Some one unfamiliar with the vagaries of Philadelphia society might classify his expression as humorous. We must admit that persons have made jokes about Philly water, but we suspect it was the "misery loves company" type of humor. This same outsider might also misinterpret the contortions on the face of a native when his nose recognizes the presence of a body of liquid (for the most part filth) commonly known as the Delaware River. In addition can you be certain that the sound brought forth by wage tax deductions is not a grunt of sheer delight?

We hope we have made our point: that pastimes are amusements and should not be taken seriously.

Odds and Ends

By Joseph Leary

In this column, divers topics, contiguous and disjointed, shall be had. However, it shall have a personality, a bit of genius perhaps in its personal endeavor to weave an overall fabric of that contexture and spit which urge the world to rotate. In the latter therefore, species of: wheels, problems, solutions, gewgaws, the wail of the Banshee, and ah, sometimes young ladies.

Man's intellect satisfies itself with nothing but the truth. A rock smacking on the pate immediately compels that same pate to the truth of the matter. Similarly, when man found himself plus a world, he wondered at the truth of the matter. Through the ages, revelation and mental experimentation particularly of the thirteenth century have set forth a compendium of science practical from the standpoint of physical usage today, in regards to the proximate, and vital to any way of life in the truthy pursuit of the ultimate. Odd's life, one day in the University of Paris, a visiting lecturer spoke, "Nihil Omnino In Nihilum Redigetur." "Nothing at all will ever be reduced to nothingness." Later in the nineteenth century chemists and physicists realized the truth of Aquina's indestructibility of matter, and, in testtubes. (Nihil, by the way, refers to energy also.) Startling are the scientific deductions arrived at by Aquinas, Bacon, Albertus Magnus, etc. There was much they could not do. Though they could not fashion the boards, they did see the house, they could think. Never were they content with the easier problem of the proximate, but sought the inner wheels, the wholeness.

The categorical frame of mind inspired by some of our educational institutions today indicates that half the man is being trained, that the organised body of facts so natural to rational thinking and behavior so potent with authority is being discriminated against, that the board is preeminent, and consequently, that this age shall never taste the political, intellectual and artistic advancement and balance (not to mention religions) of the thirteenth.

Yes, business is business. Afterall, soup crackers aren't tangerines. Tsk, Tsk, Tsk . . . throwing rocks at St. Thomas! More could be said. Thank God for Villanovas.

Pride and Prejudice

It was especially gratifying to read last week of the proposals recommended by the President's committee on American social problems. The group asked for the abolishment of all racial segregation and discrimination.

The fifteen men made recommendations which, upon adoption, would bring our nation much nearer to the full realization of the American way of freedom and equality for all.

The group strongly urges the enactment by Congress of laws to prevent lynching and to nullify the effects of poll tax provisions. The committee members ask that provisions guaranteeing fair employment practices be incorporated into laws.

Too long, the civil rights guaranteed and embodied in our constitution were an American principle and, regrettable enough, not an American practice. Christian ideals defining the inviolability and sanctity of man were not sufficient motivation. The four freedoms underlined in our constitution should be concretely portrayed in the daily life of every one of us.

Our President has urged us all to study and consider the deliberations of this group. As stated: "We must guarantee the same rights to every person regardless of who he is, where he lives or what his racial, religious or national origins are." This can be done by a growing awareness of our responsibilities and appropriate positive action.

For those who in spite of obligations still feel prejudice, it might be well to heed the words of Ebert Hubbard, wit and philosopher who sagely and succinctly wrote: "Treat others as though you were others."

Letters

DEAR SIR

Looking over a recent issue of the Villanovan leaves me befuddled. I don't know where to begin. Every article is the same, a column of type. Be it a simple club meeting or an event of major importance, they're all the same. Is the object of this paper to fill every page up no matter how? Or is it to give general, comprehensive, diversified, and interesting news to the entire student body. If filling up space is the object, success is yours; if your object is otherwise, junk the 18 stories of equal length on the same weekly topics. Let's see 25 to 30 stories from every angle on every phase of campus life. Get something on Joe College, get behind the scenes. Get news.

Your editorial page is good. Cut half of your stories in half and get some news in that space. Make the length proportionate to the importance. Any way, Good Luck,

A Well Wisher

November 1, 1947

Editor of the Villanovan
P. O. Box No. 1
Villanova, Pennsylvania

Dear Sir:

You might call me an average Villanova student. What the average student is like is a question I'd rather not answer. The point I am trying to make is that when it comes to having much to say around here, I'm just not there.

But fellows, buddies, comrades, friends, would you please take it easy on the noise in the dormitories?

That's not a profound statement. It will never make "Life". But doesn't it mean something to you?

I don't study all the time but I do like to read and I love my sack time. So would you kindly join me in a reduced noise campaign.....

A beloved buddy

Chit-Chat

By John P. Mallick

Immaculata

Best I warn you boys before it's too late. November 8 is Sadie Hawkins' night on the Immaculata campus. Yes sir, it seems that from 8 to 11 P. M. the "Macs" have their chance to grab off some handsome Villanovans. Some of our boys, such as Walt (Optimo) Cherry, Bernie (The Smile) Borschke, Ed (Mayor) Sullivan, Bob Kessler, and Matt (Glockenspiel) Kearney will act as hosts. It appears though, that the number of guests is limited, so, those who wish to procure tickets (gratis) are requested to see anyone of the above as soon as possible. There will be busses at Paoli to take the men out to Immaculata, and also to return them to the Paoli station after the dance. By the way, St. Joseph's and La Salle will be there also, but why should we worry?

Most of the girls present will be resident students, bolstered by the attendance of "Mac" day-hops.

Chestnut Hill

On November 7 the Mask and Foil of Chestnut Hill with the cooperation of the Dramatic Clubs of St. Joseph's College will present "George Washington Slept Here". The production will take place in Town Hall at 8:30 P. M., tickets are $1.20 including tax.

Last week their hockey team lost to Rosemont 1 to 0. On Nov. 10th they play Drexel, and on Nov. 13 they play Immaculata, both games away. So far, the team has lost 2 games and won none.

Another Kindler is on its way. This event will take place on Nov. 9th from 2 to 5:30 P. M. in the cafeteria, with the attendance of Sophmores girls only.

For your information Chestnut Hill is the Largest Catholic College in the Philadelphia area with an approximate enrollment of 490 students.

'NEATH THE SPIRES

By Joseph Quill, '50

It takes little or no consideration to determine what building stands out most among those on the campus. The chapel's high towers and forward position make it the most prominent building here. The towering crosses reach higher than the top of any other structure on the campus. It was built in the approximate physical center of the campus.

The building that has most to do with religion on the campus was not so placed in the center of all the others by chance. The chapel was placed there to signify that all the activities of the college should be centered around it, that is, around religion.

This centering our activities around religion might sound a little more difficult than it actually is. A person who is living a good life is making religion the center of his activities: it means observing the commandments of God.

A man who says a prayer called the morning offering, is offering his whole day and every deed he performs throughout it to God. God is made the center of everything, though the person who told Him this may forget it during the course of the day. By making this offering each day the man is centering his life about religion and in so doing, is drawing himself closer to God and achieving the purpose for which he was created.

Aside from achieving the purpose for which he was created—although nothing is more important—he is very probably a contented man, and a contented man can do many times the volume of work that a worried or preoccupied person can do. This is a practical and immediate result of centering our work around religion.

If we are centering our lives around the chapel and around religion, we are achieving the purpose for which we were created, and in no other way can we achieve this purpose.

Campus Calendar

Wednesday, November 5

Closing date for submission of manuscripts for the Annual Anthology of College Poetry.

Rev. Henry Eagan, O.S.A., speaks on the "Holy Souls," — Chapel, 8:00 P.M.

Thursday, November 6

D.P.E. meeting — 106 C&F — 12:30 P.M.
Beta Gamma meeting — 215 Mendel — 8:30 P.M.
Rev. Henry Eagan, O.S.A., speaks on "Holy Souls" — Chapel — 6:30 P.M.

First Friday, November 7

Masses at 6, 7, 7:30, 8, 9—(Mass of Exposition at 8).

Saturday, November 8

VILLANOVA vs. MARQUETTE— Milwaukee—2:30 P.M.

Monday, November 10

Closing day for NROTC applications to be Mailed.
Spanish Club choral practice — C&F — 8:30 P.M.

Tuesday, November 11.

Next issue of the VILLANOVAN.

by G.P. Kaiser & P. F. McManus

Top performance of the week is Gian-Carlo Menotti's "The Medium" and "The Telephone" at the Walnut Theater. The combination enjoyed a run of six months on Broadway, and will retain their original casts, the dual offering is operatic, the complete dialogue being the Puccini-like sung "The Medium" is a somber tale of Madame Flora, principal, Marie Powers, a cheating medium whose overworked imagination embroils her in her own fiendish devices.

"The Telephone's" young man is experiencing great difficulty in proposing to his beloved, who is involved in unbroken telephone conversations with various friends.

Composer Gian-Carlo Menotti is one of the few contemporaries who have had their works performed by the Metropolitan Opera Company. "Amelia Goes to the Ball" and "The Island God," achieved success few modern operas attain.

More opera arrives in the city tonight, November 4th. At the Academy of Music young American artists will sing "La Boheme". This lyrical, Puccini opera is highly recommended to those who never attended such performances, as it is to be sung in English.

On the evening of November 10th, a cast selected from the Metropolitan, Chicago and San Carlo opera companies will sing "Madame Butterfly" at the Academy.

The poignant tragedy of Cio Cio San is complete with new settings and costumes. The performance is reasonably priced from $1.30 to $3.90.

Climb into a tally-ho for a call at the provincial theater, the Hedgerow. The Moylan cast has a full week's work: "The Great Big Doorstep" on Wednesday, November the 5th, on Thursday the 6th "The Emperor Jones" with admittance to students only, and on Saturday evening, the 8th, "Among Ourselves."

A "left-over" from the straw hat circuit made a bid for theatrical fame last night at the Locust: "Trial Honeymoon" by Conrad Smith, which will inhabit the theatre for two weeks.

At that engagement they played Beethoven's monumental Symphony No. 9 with well known soloists.

This weekend the Philadelphia Orchestra after their Annual Music Festival with Conductor Eugene Ormandy, at Worcester, Massachusetts, left for their tour of Mid-Western Cities.

OUT OF THE COPY BASKET

J. P. MALLICK

Overheard in the Shakespeare Class:

Teacher: "Who was Romeo?"

Voice from the back: "The first one to say 'I have a lady in the balcony, Doctor'."

The Tomahawk

• • •

Teacher: "Willie, how do you define ignorance?"

Willie: "It's when you don't know something and someone finds it out.

• • •

A woman's beauty is not a gift to man, it's a bribe.

• • •

"What did you say this morning, Prof?"

"Nothing."

"Of course, but how did you express it this time?"

Auburn Plainsman

• • •

At a recent dinner, a man sitting next to a lady, was, to say the least, inebriated. He leered at her and commented: "Shay, you're the homeliest woman I've ever seen!" With a show of spirit, she replied, "Well, you're the drunkest man I've ever seen!"

"I know, madam," the souse answered, "But I'll get over that by morning."

The Technique

Jazz Review

By R. E. Manifold

Again we were browsing in the local record shop (there follows a rather obvious plug, but they treated us nicely—Atchison's 65th & Woodland Ave.) when our attention was attracted by a very well done album cover. It was an album by VOX called "Saturday Night Swing Sessions" and the literature explained that the enclosed records had been cut during an actual jam session on the air. It had such names on the cover as Roy Eldridge, Flip Phillips, Al Casey, Eddie Safranski, Specs Powell, and Mike Collichio. This was a fecund field of talent, and a fine musical harvest seemed certainly in the offing.

The first of six sides consisted of a thing called "Flip and Jass", a clever little something whipped up by the boys, no doubt shortly before the session started. The melody is stated by the ensemble (No. 17643) quickly followed by the first wild notes of "Little Jass", the notes get wilder and noisier—and Specs (no slouch in competition) quickly catches the spirit of the thing with his cymbals, until, in desperation, we were forced to lift the record arm in order to regather our equanimity. (All the college wits should love this lead.)

Undaunted, we gently placed the record arm on side two, a continuation of "Flip and Jass", and hoped for the best. This features Flip's tenor and he blows a harsh, noisome and hardly creative chorus with the ensemble romping behind him. Again the overpowering cymbals of Spec's successfully drowns Flip out. At this point we are almost glad, because Flip, apparently devoid of ideas, plays all the standard little turns of expression that are stock to Fifty-Two street.

Side three continues, presumably featuring Mike Collichio on piano—that which followed was trite, or tripe, as you prefer. A thing worthy of mention occurs at this point when a musician with taste (Ed Safranski on bass)—no rhyme intended—plays a commendable chorus and, though the audience wildly ovates each of the preceding musicians upon completion of their solos, there is nary a sound to be heard when Safranski finishes his chorus,—well at least Kenton knows your worth, Eddie. There follow several musical exchanges between Roy and Specs, Eldridge coming out the better in the tilt and once more the ensemble states the riff and the record comes to an end (for which we were quite grateful.)

Al Casey on guitar must be vieing for low man on the Downbeat Poll this year as the chorus he plays on "Honeysuckle" will attest. Again Safranski shines as he follows Al, the man displays fine technique and ideas and his tone reminds us of Jimmy Blanton. Specs is considerate on this side and plays quietly enough for Casey to be heard (there is an assumption involved at this point). The side ends.

Side five is "High The Moon" and again Specs is too loud on the cymbals. This side is a little better than the rest mostly due to the efforts of Eldridge (love his tone), who plays several choruses and doubles with Flip to the end.

The sixth side finds the group playing "Lover" through the first chorus, "Little Jass" admirably stating the theme. Then Flip plays a quiet bridge going into his chorus which is a little better than anything he had played previously on this set. Bouncing on a sustained note he leads into the next chorus which again is quite effectively ruined by Spec's cymbals. Between the two of them they kick up quite a racket—we thought we heard Powell speed the rhythm at this point—(that would be too much). Flip seems to grow rather tired, or perhaps bored, and succeeds in conveying his feelings to the listener by repeating the same turn of expression five or six times, Eldridge follows him and the record runs off. The silence in the record booth was almost frightening.

The problems that confront the small record companies are manifold, this we realize. They, in their motives, are to be commended.

They make available to the average enthusiast hot jazz by well known artists, which the larger companies are reticent to do, for this we are grateful—But, in issuing a group of records like the above, they leave a sour taste in the minds of the fancier and jeopardize their own chances of survival. Perhaps a little more consideration on the part of the company management would alleviate the situation. Mind you, we are not directing this harangue at VOX particularly, but at all of the smaller companies, most of whom have been guilty of this offense on occasion.

And now a digression, we all know the enjoyment of listening to a jam session and some of us know the pleasure of playing in one, so at this point we proffer a suggestion —(there is no remuneration involved, just a psychic income). How many students would be interested in getting together, say between classes or at some time we could mutually set, and play for our own enjoyment? No great technique is necessary, nor the ability to read, —just enthusiasm. Anyone interested contact your columnist in the Villanovan Office between two and four on Mondays.

We will be back next week with more views and comments and we hope you will join us then.

WELDING GROUP ANNOUNCES AWARDS

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 1—The Trustees of The James F. Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation announced today the rules of their Annual Engineering Undergraduate Award and Scholarship Program.

This Program contains two interdependent plans: the Award Plan and the Scholarship Plan. Under the Award Plan, engineering students of various engineering schools and colleges will submit papers on arc welded design and the use of welding in maintenance of machines and structures. Under the Scholarship Plan, scholarships will be allocated to the schools in which the three highest award recipients under the Award Program are registered.

Awards for papers will be as follows:

No. of Awards	Amt. of Each Award	Total Amt. of Awards
1	$1000	$1000
1	500	500
1	250	250
4	150	600
8	100	800
12	50	600
50	25	1250
77		$5000

The Scholarship Plan is as follows:

The institutions in which the three top awards are made to students will receive amounts of money equal, respectively, to those awards. These amounts are to be used for the purpose of scholarships in the departments in which the award students are registered.

Students' papers are to deal with design for arc welding of parts of machines, complete machines, trusses, girders, structural parts, or their maintenance.

Resident engineering undergraduate students registered in any school, college or university in the United States, which offers a curriculum in any branch of engineering are eligible.

Fedigan

(Continued from Page 1)

game activities.

Fedigan Preparing

Determined to keep possession of the Connelly Plaque, residents of Fedigan have elected Jim Flunket, Pete Knapp, and Charley O'Malley under the chairmanship of Joseph Ringelstien to draw up plans for their Hall. Several ideas have already been submitted.

Alumni, Austin, and the dark horse barracks groups have not yet finished mapping out their plans, but stiff competition is expected from all.

For Expert Convenient Attention

THE CAMPUS BARBER SHOP

First Class Work

Popular Prices

Mother and Son Reunited

(Continued from Page 1)

later. Mr. Diesel was at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese made their fateful move in December of 1941. A year before he had lost all contact with his mother. That contact was never firmly re-established until late in 1946. In the years between, two units of the family were embroiled in a devastating war. Mrs. Deisel's husband established residence in California, working hard to make time pass quickly. It is little wonder that hopes ran low as succeeding months passed.

Short Message

As American troops moved into Germany and the war drew to a close, months of effort culminated in an exchange of messages. A shorter message never carried so much meaning for Mrs. Diesel. Her family was safe.

Of the war years she cares to say little. It suffices to say that they were trying and painful ones, difficult and fearful beyond imagination. It took months of combined effort for Mrs. Diesel to obtain a visa to return to the United States. A month after passage was granted to the first German citizen, Mrs. Diesel boarded a plane at Frankfurt for the 20 hour trip to Philadelphia.

"Home" Again

To talk to Mrs. Diesel is an experience to be remembered. Quiet and unassuming, she succeeds in unconsciously emanating the satisfaction that she feels in being "home" again.

In passing, she mentioned the dire plight of the German student. Before enrolling in a university, he must first contribute six months' labor to its repair. This was made necessary by the almost total destruction as those schools were entangled in wartime destruction. Books are so scarce that fifty students share one or two books. A fact hard to believe but true. Mrs. Diesel had high praise for the American combat troops. She was proud that her son was one of them.

At present she is staying with friends in Philadelphia while her son is studying at Villanova. At Christmas time they hope to visit California, where Mr. Diesel has established a home. Herman Diesel will return to Villanova while his mother remains with her husband.

You can tell a Frosh by the way he gawks!
You can tell a Soph by the way he talks!
You can tell a Junior by the way he walks!
But you can't tell a Senior anything.

The Oswegonian

JOHN DOUGLASS CO.
Formal Attire Rentals
69th Street Theatre Bldg.
UPPER DARBY
Open Mon., Tues., Wed.
BLVD. 5957 Till 9:30 P. M.

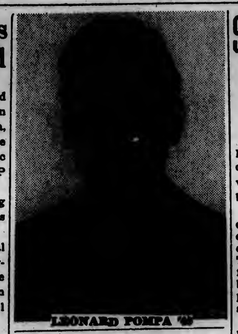
Welcome Villanovans!
The Chatterbox
Under New Management
OUR KITCHEN OPEN TO PUBLIC INSPECTION
Luncheon Dinners
PARTIES — BANQUETS
839 Lancaster Ave.
B. M. 3312 BRYN MAWR, PA.

Cats --- Get in the Bowling Swing!
Organize Intra-Mural Leagues NOW!!!
For Further Information Consult Mr. C. Butera
SPECIAL RATES TO LEAGUES
Ardmore Recreation Center
44 W. Lancaster Avenue, Ardmore, Pa.

Villanova Alumnus Receives Award

Leonard Pompa, 34, who received a Bachelor of Science degree in Civil Engineering, from Villanova, in 1940, has been awarded first prize of $3,200 for designing a new arc welded underframe for 2000 HP Diesel and electric locomotives.

The new method of assembling the locomotive underframe reduces its total weight 12,000 pounds.



Mr. Pompa has done a great deal of work in stress analysis and dynamics and at the present time he is engaged in preparing a thesis on the analysis of stresses in all welded steel plate drier rolls.

Mr. Pompa is employed as an executive engineer with the Lukens Steel Co. of Coatesville, Pa.

He is also taking graduate studies at the University of Pennsylvania to obtain a Masters degree in Engineering.

The prize was one of many donated by the trustees of the James F. Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation in its "Design for Progress" program

Mr. Pompa's entry which won the prize consisted of nine pages of typewritten material, 27 pages of design and calculations, 19 photographs, 6 diagrams and three extra large blueprints.

LEONARD POMPA '36

Comment

Three deaf students were riding a train bound for London. As the train stopped at a small station:

First Student: "It's Wembly."

Second Student: "It's not, it's Thursday."

Third Student: "So am I, let's have a spot of tea."

* * *

Frosh: "Mamma, may I go out tonight?"

Soph: "Going out tonight, mother. Home at ten."

Junior: "Going out tonight, Dad."

Senior: "G'night, Dad, I'll bring in the milk."

Roberts ESSO Service
Courtesy - Service - Thanks
WE SERVICE YOUR CAR While You Are in Class
Lancaster Pike and Haverford Road
B. M. 9141 ROSEMONT, PA.
Pick-Up and Delivery Service

SECTION OF BAND SERENADES BOSTON

On Oct. 23rd the Villanovan Band played a concert before a Gloucester, Mass. audience and followed with music for a Knights of Columbus dance.

Before the game on the following day, John L.McNamara and his costumed German Band serenaded our team at the Kenmore Hotel. The serene streets of Boston were further disturbed when McNamara's boys and a group of Villanova supporters marched about singing the songs of our school.

Halftime at the game saw the band in two-step cadence to the "Old Grey Mare", while Drum Major, Dick Boyle, substituted as cheer-leader. After the game, many spectators remained to hear the band, watch the group march ten blocks through Boston's traffic.

And in 20 great universities, too—it's the pen preferred above all others!

Parker "51"
world's most wanted pen

● Recently, the seniors in leading universities voted Parker more wanted than the next 3 makes of pens combined. Here's added evidence of the tremendous Parker popularity which has already been proved in 77 surveys in 29 countries ●The reason for such popularity is simple. In your hand, the "51" balances with eager, handsome poise. It starts instantly—and writes with light and pressureless touch. So smooth. Precision-made, only the "51" is designed for satisfactory use with new Parker Superchrome—the super-brilliant, super-permanent ink that writes dry! ● See the "51" today. Choice of custom points and smart colors. $12.50; $15.00. Pencils, $5.00; $7.50. Sets, $17.50 to $80.00. Parker V-S Pens, $8.75. Pencils, $4.00. The Parker Pen Company, Janesville, Wisconsin, U. S. A., and Toronto, Canada.

$25 CASH GIVEN AWAY—for interesting, true stories about Parker "51" Pens. Base it on your own G. I. experience—or relate what happened to some friend. $25.00 for each story used. Just report the facts. Stories are judged on facts alone. All letters become our property—cannot be returned. Address: The Parker Pen Company, Dept. CN-47, Janesville, Wis.

Copr. 1947 by The Parker Pen Company

"51" writes dry with wet ink!

VILLANOVAN SPORTS

Bill Lilienthal Receives Weekly Maxwell Award

Stellar Lineman Picked as Outstanding Collegiate of the Week

By Harry Jacobs

Yesterday, Bill Lilienthal, stellar left tackle of the Villanova football team received the weekly Robert W. Maxwell Memorial Club Football Club Award as the outstanding collegiate fooball player in the Philadelphia area. Mr. Bert Bell, President of the Maxwell Club and also President of the National Professional Football League, made the award on behalf of the club at its weekly Luncheon at the Warwick Hotel.

The certificate accompanying the award reads as follows, "This is to certify that William Lilienthal of Villanova College has been awarded this Certificate in recognition of sportsmanship and outstanding play on the gridiron." It is signed by Mr. Bell and Mr. Ronald Kinney, Secretary of the Club.

Starred in 1943

Lilienthal first matriculated at Villanova in 1941. He played on the freshman team and, as a sophmore, broke into the starting lineup under Clipper Smith, in '42. He later entered the Army and served in the E. T. O. as a Staff Sergeant. While in Europe he won the Discus event in the Servicemen's Track and Field meet. Upon his discharge, he returned to the campus and he

Bill Lilienthal, stellar tackle on the Wildcat eleven, received the Maxwell Award this week as the outstanding lineman in the Philadelphia district.

MARQUETTE HOST TO VILLANOVA ELEVEN

Hilltoppers Seek First Win Over Wildcats

By James Plunkett

After a two week respite, the Wildcats will journey to the midwest to engage a powerful University of Marquette Squad. Striving for their first victory over Villanova since the series started way back in 1911, the Hilltoppers have been pointing for this game all season. As an added incentive, the contest will be Marquette's Homecoming Game, and the old grads on hand will be satisfied with nothing less than a victory.

'Cats Won Last Year

Last year at Shibe park, the 'Cats emerged with a hard-earned 26-13 win over an inexperienced Marquette squad. This year Coach Frank J. Murray has successfully combined a vastly improved run-

(Continued on Page 6)

Undefeated Navy 150's Down Kittens, 26 - 6

By Dave Ryan & Harry Jacobs

The undefeated 150 lb. team of Navy won over Villanova last Saturday at Annapolis by a score of 26-6. It was the first defeat for the Villanova Kittens so far this season, having previously beaten Cornell and tied both Princeton and Rutgers.

Leighton Goes 98 Yds.

Villanova's lone score came on a kickoff after Navy's first score. George Sivinski's boot was handled on the 15 yd. line by Bill Leighton. It was a wobbly kick that got away from Leighton but he ran back to his own 8, fielded the ball, and started up the sidelines. The former West Catholic athlete picked up some nice blocking, especially from Captain Bob Fitzmeyer, and raced 92 yds. to score standing upright. Jack Caroll's dropkick for the extra point was short.

Navy, playing with 4 complete teams which were picked from the 500 candiadtes earlier in the season, went ahead early in the second quarter. Bud Vance, on a double reverse, bullied his way between the right tackle and end for the first T. D. Sivinski's kick was good. Then came Leighton's 98 yd. run and the score stood 7-6 in favor of Navy at the half.

Navy Opens Up

But late in the third quarter, the Navy conditioning began to take its toll on the Kittens. Jack Bowers had brought the ball 15 yds. to the Villanova 7 for a first and ten. On the second play of the series, Bowers fell over the goaline. Sivinski's try for the extra point was blocked by Don Deland.

In the last few minutes of the game, Coach Tony Cocco rushed in all his reserves in an effort to halt the rising Navy tide but all to no avail. Eddie Armstrong's 10 yd. gallop around end coupled with Sivinski's added point made the score 20 to 6. In the cosing minutes, Joe Tobin scored and the final scoreboard reading showed the Kittens on the short end of a 26-6 score.

The Villanova 150's have an open date this weekend. The next and last game of the season is with Penn the day of the varsity's Georgetown game. The Quakers will be on hand at 2:30 at Goodreau Stadium to do battle.

Ed. Note: In a post-season bowl game, Villanova will meet Kentucky at Cleveland on Sat., Dec. 6. This bit of info was withheld too long to publish.

Fordam Wins Over 'Cat Harriers

George Thompson Takes First Place

With Browning Ross and Dave Williams absent because of illness, Coach "Jumbo" Elliott's cross-country team dropped their first meet of the season last weekend to Fordham University 33-22.

Thompson Wins

Despite the efforts of George Thompson and Tom Kennedy, the Wildcats were unable to win. Thompson, running his best time of the season, won the cross-country grind in the excellent time of 27 minutes and 13 seconds, over the VanCourtland park course which is nearly 5 miles long. Kennedy, showing great promise for the future, turned in a fine fifth. Although the team lost, Elliott's charges showed much improvement.

Seton Hall Next

The next meet will match the Wildcats with the Seton Hall hill and dalers at South Orange, New Jersey this weekend. For this contest, Coach Elliot expects to have his two mainstays Browning Ross and Dave Williams, back in running condition. Ross has been confined to his home for the past week with a severe case of the grippe while Williams has been unable to run all season due to a bad chest cold and throat infection.

Schedule For Basketball Set

By Bill Canino

Last week Rev. E. B. McKee, Director of Athletics, announced the Wildcat Basketball schedule for the coming season.

Highlighting the schedule are two intersectional contests which precede the Christmas vacation. The Severancemen travel South to meet the Eastern Kentucky College Quintette at Louisville on December 19. The next night they will engage Cincinnati U. in Ohio.

The ever-powerful Rhode Island State team will come to the Main Line gym on Feb. 6. Home and home series have been arranged with Seton Hall and Georgetown, a pair of old rivals. The series with the U. S. Military Academy and the U. S. Naval Academy is also being continued. The 'Cats meet the Cadets on January 7 at West Point and travel to Annapolis on the 10th.

Although Freshmen are ineligible for varsity competition this year, Villanova's basketball coach, Al Severance, has already begun to groom his newcomers for next year's campaign. The mentor seems well pleased with his new material and has been using several men against the varsity squad in the pre-season workouts.

White Carries Good Record

Leading the way among those who look particularly promising is 6 foot 7 inch Sherman White. This lean colored lad who hails from Englewood, N. J. has shown proficiency in the pivot position and should prove valuable to the team when the 48-49 season rolls around. During his high school career, White was twice chosen for All-State honors. In his senior year he broke the state scoring record, accumulating over 400 points and averaging 25 points per game.

Kane All-Scholastic

Another prospective hoopster is Jack Kane, a sharp passer with a deadly eye. Kane a 6 foot 2 inch guard, was a mainstay on North Catholic's team last year. He won positions on both the Philadelphia All -Catholic and All-Scholastic fives which are chosen by the sports writers of the city.

Sid Gecker, also a Philadelphian, has shown signs of being one of the hardest pressing players on the

(Continued on Page 6)

Intramural Football Teams Hold Meeting

By Monschien, Inc.

At a meeting held Thursday night, Rev. John R. Dunne, O.S.A. Intramural Moderator, outlined the rules, regulations and program for the Intramural Football League. Thus far, fourteen captains have submitted team rosters. Any new teams that wish to compete must have their team list in 215 Mendel Hall by 5 P. M., Thursday, Nov. 6. Information must include team captain and roster, and available hours of competition

Intramural

Until further arrangements, team captains will schedule games among themselves. Attempts are being made for each team to play all other teams at least once during the season. The four top teams will meet at the end of the season for the campus championship.

Team captains will meet Thursday to arrange schedules for following week.

Captains To Arrange Games

The following rules were promulgated;

1.) Two fields, 40 feet by 60 feet, will be lined off in front of Austin and one behind Mendel.

2.) Regularly scheduled games have priority on use of fields.

3.) A team will forfeit unless the opposing captain is notified a day prior to the game.

4.) Lengths of the games are to be arranged by the captains, with a minimum of 30 minutes.

5.) Six or eight may compete per agreement of captains.

6.) Game captains must arrange for officials.

7.) A two-handed touch will constitute a tackle.

Today

Brks. 2 Lonely Hearts vs. Brks. 2 Flying Pork
Day Hop Engineers vs. Barracks 1
Alumni Jawbreakers vs. Mendel Maulers

Wednesday, November 5

Delurey vs. Barracks
Day Hop Engineers vs. Alumni Jawbreakers
Brks. 3 Skippers vs. C & F Claws

Friday, November 7

Brks. 1 vs. C & F Claws

Saturday, November 8

Day Hop Engineers vs. Chipmunks
Day Hop Frosh Arts vs. Brks. 4 Tigers

Sunday, November 9

Jawbreakers vs. Skippers
Brks. 3 Upper vs. Skippers

Sunday, November 9

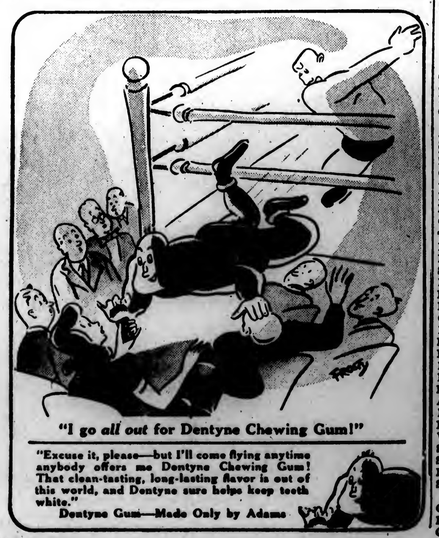
Skippers vs. Tigers
Mendeleers vs. Brks. 3 Upper

Maxwell Award

(Continued from Page 5)

was finishing the season in superb style. This season he again had a hard time regaining his position but after his fine play in the Miami and Holy Cross games, he was elected captain for the Detroit game and is now holding down a starting position.

The award for the outstanding high school player in the area was presented to Richard Rhoades, Valley Forge Military Academy halfback. The guest speaker was Charles K. Dellmuth, Graduate Manager of Swarthmore College, who spoke on "Football as Played in Australia."



Villanova Lineman With Army Overseas

Corporal Ted Oroski, who played guard for the 1944 Wildcat team, is now holding that same position for the 11th Airborn Division Team with headquarters in Hokkaido, Japan, it was announced recently by the Army.

Oroski, a 194-pounder from Wilkes Barre, Pa., played 4 years of high school ball at Hanover High before matriculating at Villanova. He entered the Army in March of '46 and was sent to Japan.

He also played with the 11th Airborn "Angels" last year. The team which took all-Pacific honors in a post-season bowl game in Shanghai.

FALL WEAR for COLLEGE MEN
THE MANLY STORE
Campus Representative NICK MARZIANI
835 Lancaster Ave. Bryn Mawr, Pa.
You Villanova College men have found that we understand the campus man's need for well styled and long wearing apparel at budget prices. Never, we believe, have we better met your needs than in our Fall showing. Come in and select, right now, those things which you need for this season.

"I go all out for Dentyne Chewing Gum!"
"Excuse it, please—but I'll come flying anytime anybody offers me Dentyne Chewing Gum! That clean-tasting, long-lasting flavor is out of this world, and Dentyne sure helps keep teeth white."
Dentyne Gum—Made Only by Adams

"Doc" Jacobs now Director Athletics At St. Michael's

It was recently announced that George "Doc" Jacobs, former Villanova varsity baseball, 150 pound football, and Freshman coach has been appointed as Director of Athletic at St. Michael's College, Winooski Park, Vermont.

Jacobs came to Villanova in 1930 as assistant baseball mentor. He succeeded Charlie McGeehan, his former tutor, in 1933 and had great success with his teams. He coached such luminaries as Lenny Merullo, Nick Etten and Mick Garbark, all of whom have played in the major leagues.

"Doc" Had Good Records

His Freshman football teams had a record of 20 consecutive victories over a period of ten years. While tending his coaching chores he also acted as football scout for the varsity. His Freshman squads were used by head coach Maurice "Clipper" Smith to run through opponents' plays and to scrimmage the first team.

He was also one of the leaders in bringing 150 pound football to the campus. He served as coach of the lightweights until the time he left in 1943 to enter the service.

Hilltoppers Seek

(Continued from Page 5)

ning attack complemented by a strong aerial offense to produce one of the best balanced attacks in the midwest. Although their line will be one of the lightest the 'Cats have faced this year, only a mere 199 pd. average as compared with Detroit's 219 and Boston College's 220, their weight disadvantage is more than set off by their speed.

Upset Detroit

If comparative scores were used as a basis, Marquette would rule a four touchdown favorite. In one of the most lopsided upsets of the campaign, the Hilltoppers trounced mighty Detroit 41-18 while Villanova experienced much difficulty in edging the Titans 14-13. Previous to the Detroit game, Marquette had breezed by South Dakota 33-6, and had rallied twice to beat a suprising St. Louis squad 27-23. In this game, Sophomore sensation, Darol Robarge completed 9 out of 11 second-half passes. Since the Detroit game, the Hilltoppers have suffered consecutive defeats at the hands of San Francisco, Wisconsin of the Big Nine Conference and Michigan State.

Reports from the Milwaukee campus indicate that Marquette feels that this is the game to end the Wildcats' years of mastery. The 'Cats, on the rebound after their defeat at the hands of Boston College are just as determined to make Marquette thir fourth victim this year.

Basketball Schedule

(Continued from Page 5)

court. He spent his high school days at Central High and was known throughout the city for his drive and accuracy from the floor.

Other Freshmen who have displayed good potentialities are Don Zalinski, New Jersey All-State selection, from Trenton Catholic, Jim Gavin, an all-around ball player, who did his passing at St. Joseph's High in Paterson, N. J.; and Sam Lacky set shot artist from Cartaret Prep., N. J.

TEAM	Place	Date
Mt. St. Mary's	home	Dec. 3
Manhattan	home	6
Scranton	home	10
Princeton	away	13
Lehigh	home	17
Eastern Kentucky	away	19
Cincinnati	away	30
Kings Point	home	Jan. 7
Navy	away	10
Rutgers	home	14
Fordham	away	16
Rider	home	21
Loyola	away	23
Army	away	28
Muhlenburg	away	31
R. I. State	home	Feb. 6
Waynesburg	home	11
Seton Hall	away	13
Seton Hall	home	18
New York A. C.	away	20
St. Francis (Brooklyn)	away	21
Georgetown	away	25
Bucknell	away	27
Georgetown	home	Mar. 4

SPORTORIAL

By Hugh Johnson, Sports Editor

Mr. Bill Lilienthal Receives 2 Awards

Yesterday, Bill Lilienthal received the Maxwell Award at the clubs weekly luncheon. But what is more, he is also the lucky recepient of our intangiable "Bouquet" of the week.

Seriously though, Bill is one of the finest linemen we have seen in a long time. On some of the long runs made this year by Bob Polidor and Cap Capriotti, few have noticed that it was Big Bill Lilienthal who was up in front of the play clearing the way for these speedy backs. That's because he is the type of player who is not content to make his assigned block. He will make his play on the end or tackle for sure but then the C. & F.'s pride and joy will jump up, dash down the field, and make life unfortunate for some poor defensive halfback who happens to be in the way.

And, on the defensive, when that 220 lb. monster pushes back his sleeves, it's not for effect. He means business. Said one Georgetown tackle after last years game, "He's a turnstile tackle, all right, but not the right kind. He spun open enough when Capriotti or Rogers had the ball but on the return trip by one of our backs, he sure knew how to jam the door." Yes, take it from one who knows, "When the second tackle is as hard as the first, that's Lilenthal."

Time Out for the 150's

Last Saturday, Villanova's rugged 150's lost a rough game to the Middies of Navy. That may not strike a note with some sports writers who don't think much of Villanova anyway, but that Navy team is a tough aggregation. They have been undefeated since 150 lb. ball returned to their campus after the V-J day. In fact, they travel out to Illinois this weekend to meet the Illini for a mythical national championship. (Smart money has Navy by 2 T. D.'s).

But here we are more interested in Villanova's 150's. The same 25 fellows that comprise the team pray football—for the sake of playing football. Theirs isn't the glory of headlines, but rather the personal satisfaction of playing the greatest game of competition and teamwork in the world.

For the most part they play their rugged 5 game schedule with hand-me-down varsity equipment, or, for those that are fortunate enough, their own personal gear. They receive no room and board rights and most of the fellows have a tough time with their class schedules. Their only break comes in "on-the-road" expenses and in free medical care—after the Varsity . . .

The coaches come in for a word of praise also. Tony Cocco, Milt Anderson, Dave Ryan, Joe Topper, and Vince O'Donnell all donate their experience and knowledge gratis.

So, to you of the hero worshipping sect, when you see one of the boys with a Villanova letter but with a 150 inscribed in it, just remember that he has played as much football as anyone can expect of him under the conditions which he plays.

ANNOUNCING THE OPENING OF
WAYNE JEWELERS
ON FRIDAY, NOV. 7, 1947—9 A. M.
You're cordially invited to inspect the newest and finest selection of nationally famous
WATCHES, DIAMONDS, JEWELRY AND SILVERWARE
A Complete Watch and Jewelry Repair Department at Your Service!
All Work Guaranteed
ANTHONY WAYNE THEATRE BLDG.
Wayne, Pa.
Wayne 3297

Report From Madison; Text of NSA Report

Ed. Note: Beginning with this issue the Villanovan is continuing the report of the N. S. A. delegates, Mr. Mellemeier and Mr. Barrett, who spent a week at Wisconsin this past summer representing the students of Villanova at the convention of the National Students' Association.

Before presenting the body of this report, we feel that it is pertinent and important to say something about our state of mind as your delegates in Madison. We feel that this is necessary because certain of our statements and actions prior to our going to Madison might lead some to doubt our open mindedness and impartiality towards the whole convention.

It is true that we did agree with the principle of N. S. A. and went on record as such. We wish to point out, however, that although we did agree with the theory of N. S. A., we maintained an impartial, nonprejudiced and objective view towards the convention. We did not go skeptical and expecting failure, and neither did we view the proceedings through rose colored glasses. We did go fully cognizant of our responsibilities as delegates from a Catholic school. We asked ourselves, "Is there need for such organization?; Do students have enough in common to band together thus?; Are the purposes of the organization sufficiently far reaching to overcome the many differences of the great American student community?; What should Villanova do about it?"

Now we have returned to you with the answers which with your indulgence, we respectfully submit in this report.

Background

The postwar student movement began with a convention of the International Union of Students held in Prague in August, 1946, which was the offspring of the Soviet-inspired World Federation of Democratic Youth, launched in London in 1945.

At Prague the United States was represented by ten colleges and ten national student organizations, who were impressed by what they learned of national student organizations abroad. On their return, they decided to form a United States Student Union which would encompass all the campuses of the nation. A major step in the direction of organizing the American student community was taken in December, 1946, when about 600 American college students gathered at Mandel Hall on the campus of the University of Chicago to discuss plans for the establishment of a national student organization in the United States. The students of America for the first time since the days of the American Student Union and American Youth Congress are getting together in one national organization—Catholics, Jews, Protestants, Communists, liberals, conservatives, isolationists, pacifists, internationalists—and just plain student. After discussion in panels and plenary sessions on problems of structure and program, a National Continuations Committee was instructed to prepare a constitution and program, which was to be presnted to a constitutional convention at Madison in August, 1947.

The Constitutional Convention at Madison opened on August 30 with 1,000 politically and socially minded student delegates. After a welter of opposing voices and dissenting opinions, came a United States National Student Association with permanent headquarters at Madison until its constitution is ratified by ¾ of the student governments of student bodies speaking for more than a majority of the student population represented at the convention.

Staff Smoker Fills Blue Room

The Blue Room was filled to capacity, the blue cigar haze swirled heavily, and belly laughs were the order of the evening when the Villanovan staff staged its second annual smoker last Wednesday night.

The embryonic magnates of tomorrow's press tempered the business of gathering and editing the campus news with a session of camaraderie.

The program was arranged by John Kucha. Refreshments were available throughout, and huge stores of edibles were tracked down and consumed by the news hounds. Movies on a variety of subjects were shown, and a community sing indicated that there are some hog callers of championship calibre in Lancaster County. There were also present some story tellers

Rev. J. Klekokta, O.S.A. the faculty adviser, Bill Altenpohl, the editor, and John McDermott, the managing editor, injected a few serious remarks into the session, when they called for a bigger and better Villanovan to be achieved through more spirit and a greater willingness to work on the part of staff members. Hugh Johnson, the sports editor, announced the opening of the intra-mural football season.

Cigarettes for the affair were distributed by the campus representative for Chesterfield, Joseph King. Cigars and refreshments were also given the large group.

Marines Outline Reserve Program

Lieutenant Colonel E. O. Price, U.S.M.C., Director of the Fourth Marine Corps Reserve District recently outlined the new peacetime Marine Corps Reserve program.

It is organized along lines similar to those of the regular Marine Corps with ground, amphibious and air units.

There are two main categories in the Citizen Marine Corps: The Organized Reserve, and the Volunteer Reserve. The former requires participation in weekly instruction periods at local ground or air stations, and fifteen days of training at a summer camp; the latter, however, makes no demand on a member's time because there are no meetings to attend, nor are they required to train at a camp during the summer. Male volunteers, however, may apply for active duty training during the summer and will be accepted if they come within the quota.

Complete information concerning the Marine Reserve program can be obtained from Captain Fairfield, United States Marine Corps, at the NROTC offices.

JEANNETT'S
Bryn Mawr Flower Shop
Corsage Specialists
FREE DELIVERY
823 Lancaster Ave.
BRYNMAWR, PA.
Bryn Mawr 0570 : Flowers by Wire

AN INVITATION TO ALL VILLANOVANS
Famos Italian Tomato Pies
JOHNNY'S & DINGERS
STEAK SANDWICHES HOAGIES
FREE DELIVERY
County Line at Chestnut Ave.
ARDMORE, PA. ARD. 9430

The Three Suns —reading down: Morty Dunn, Artie Dunn, Al Nevins

"Sleepy Time Gal" Whatta Gal! Whatta RECORD!

...latest disk by The Three Suns for RCA Victor

BACK in '25 everybody was humming 'bout that "Sleepy Time Gal." Now "Gal" is back in a new and wonderful record.

And here's another favorite with a great record: cool, mild, flavorful Camel cigarettes. More men and more women are smoking Camels than ever before.

Why? The answer is in your "T-Zone" (T for Taste and T for Throat).

Try Camels. Discover for yourself why, with smokers who have tried and compared, Camels are the "choice of experience"!

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Nevins

More people are smoking CAMELS than ever before!

THE BULLETIN BOARD

DPE

Elections were held last week by the Commerce and Finance Fraternity, Delta Pi Epsilon. The following men were elected to office: Joe Foley, president; John Ciatola, vice president; Ed Compas, secretary; Joe Doody, treasurer; Anthony Cocco, sergeant-at-arms; and Bob Manske, student council representative.

At the first meeting following elections the schedule of events for the year was discussed, and prime consideration was given to the group's participation in the Inter-Fraternity Ball on November 15th. Plans were also drafted for the initiation of pledgees.

All Sophomore, Junior, and Senior C & F students are eligible for membership. Application will be accepted at the next meeting which will be held on Thursday, November 6th, at 12:30 P. M. in Room 106 of the C & F Building. Those men admitted to the organization will be initiated at a smoker to be held in their honor. Upper classmen are reminded that in the future new members will be confined to the Freshmen.

The organization is expanding rapidly, and additional announcements of activities will be made as soon as plans crystallize.

Medical Frat

A committee under the chairmanship of Dick Eidam has been selected to revise and rewrite the constitution of the L. K. D. It is their aim to formulate a constitution which will be flexible enough to expand with the growth of the society.

Though not a fully reorganized fraternity, the L. K. D. has been accepted for participation in the Inter-frat dance. The dance ticket committee will be made up of L. K. D. members, with Dom Longo as chairman.

Membership in the L. K. D. is open to all students of the School of Science interested in medicine, dentistry, or veterinary medicine. Students of physics and chemistry who intend to direct their later efforts to biological and medical research are sincerely invited to membership in the L. K. D. Application forms are available in the biology laboratories.

Sanctuary Society

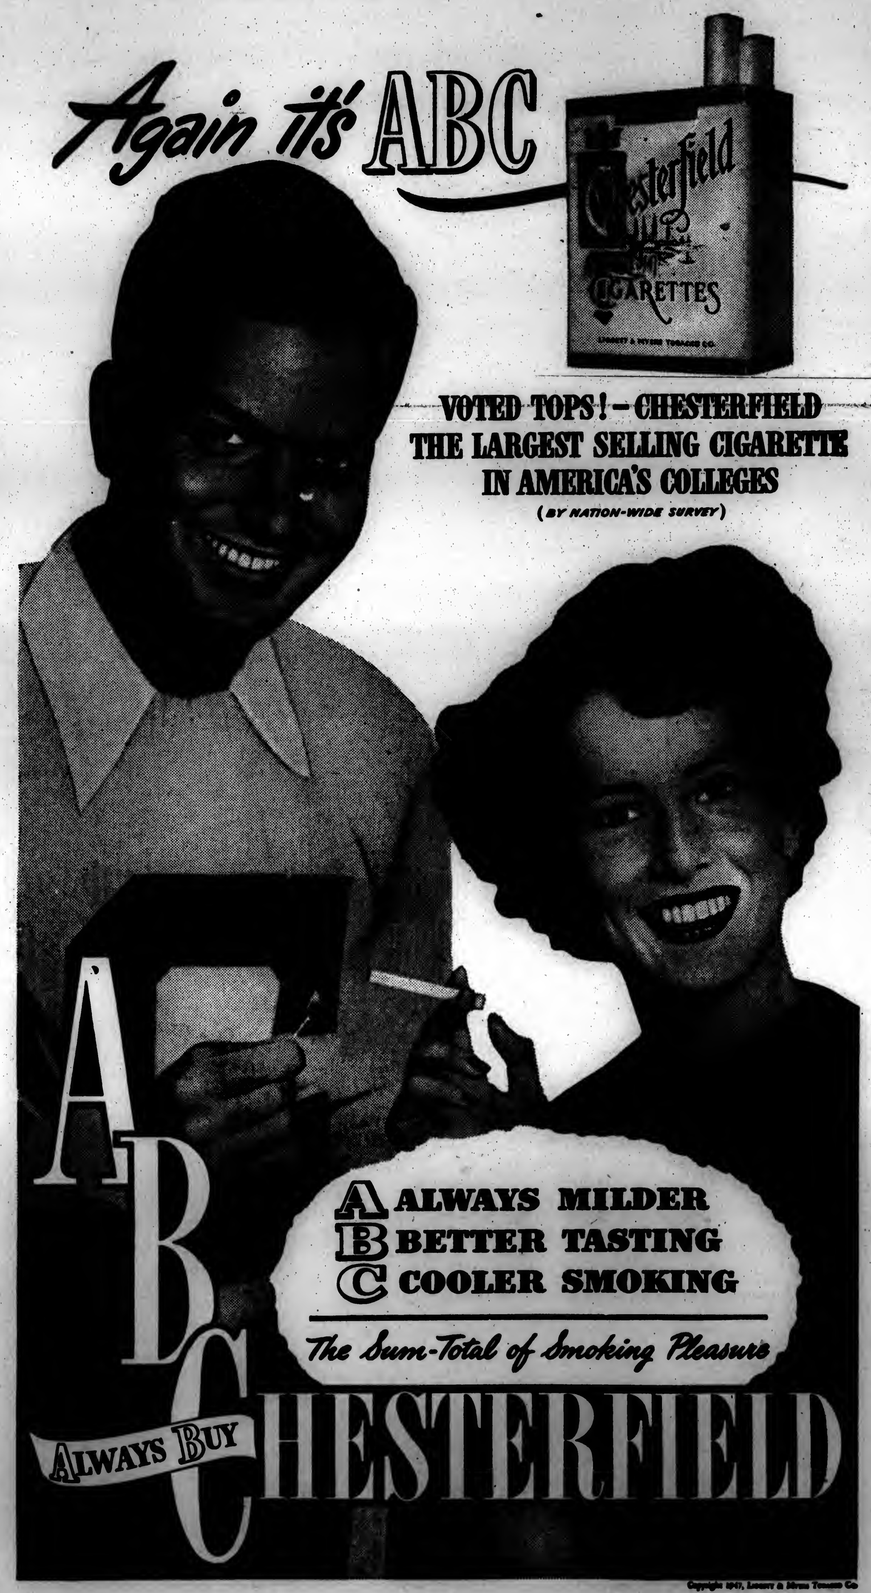
On the evening of Nov. 4th in room 215 Mendel, the Sanctuary Society held its fourth meeting of the current school year. A representative group of the 140 members discussed two plans:

In conjuction with the all day Exposition of the Most Blessed Sacrament on First Fridays members will keep vigil in the sanctuary for half hour periods. Four men at a time will kneel in adoration.

Also discussed were arrangements for monthly group Mass and Holy Communion. The seven o'clock Mass on the Wednesday after First Friday has been tantatively decided upon. Members will answer the responses and receive Communion in a body.

Officers of the Sanctuary Society are: E. J. Michalik, president; Joe. Shannon, vice-president and Patrick Boylan, secetary.

Physics' Frat



Thursday evening, October 30, 1947, the Physics Club of Villanova college held its first meeting of the year. Plans were discussed on many activities for the forthcoming year.

The club is trying to affiliate with a number of prominent Physics Associations.

This week the club installed a transmitter operating at 144 to 148 megacycles on station W3LDV. This station was donated by Maurice Wilhere, a member of the organization.

All Physics majors are urged to join the club.

GET THE BEST
GOOD REPAIR SERVICE
GOOD LUBRICATION SERVICE
GOOD GAS AND OIL
Villanova Service Station
AT EDGE OF CAMPUS

VILLANOVAN

VOL. 23—No. 5 VILLANOVA COLLEGE, VILLANOVA, PA. Tuesday, November 11, 1947

VILLANOVA COLLEGE LIBRARY

Wildcats Geared To Pounce On Hoyas

Interfrat Ball Tops Week's Social Events

Villanovans Will Supply Music—To Feature New Girl Vocalist

The Interfraternity Ball, top social event of the combined campus fraternities, will be held next Saturday evening, November 15th, in the College Field House. Music will be provided by the Villanovans.

Sponsors of the dance are the 4 campus fraternities: Pi Kappa Phi, Engineering; Lamda Kappa Delta, Medical; Delta Pi Epsilon, Commerce and Finance; and Delta Pi Mu, Arts. Running of the event is facilitated by a unified Control Committee. Dick McMonigal, Student Council Social Affairs Chairman, is the Chairman of the Committee. He is being assisted by Dick Shinners, Dominic Longo, Joseph Foley and Dick Randolph.

Villanovans to Play

With a revamped group who proved their excellence at the Sophomore Cotillion, the Villanovans will provide music at the Ball. The Band is directed by George Beitzer. A special feature will be the appearance of a female vocalist with the orchestra.

The dance is an informal, open one, and tickets are priced at $2.40, including tax. Tickets may be purchased from members of the committee, or any fraternity officer.

Surprise Theme

The Phi Kappa Pi is responsible for decorations. Dick Shinners, Mike Nowlan, Dan Haflinger, Bob Pope and Rowland Myer form this committee. Publicity is directed by Edward Murray, assisted by Walter Knapp. Matt Kearney heads the Program Committee and Dominic Longo the Ticket Committee.

Motif of the Ball is as yet undisclosed, but earnest work on the part of the Decorations Committee assures the dancers of pleasant surroundings.

Humanists Offer Essay Prizes

The American Humanist Association has announced an essay contest for all college students. The assigned subject for an essay of from 1,000 to 1,400 words is, "Building a Positive Way of Life in Accordance with the Scientific Method and the Highest Aspirations of Mankind." Prizes of $25.00 and $10.00, are given to individually written essays and group written essays. The group essay should result from group discussion. All entries must be postmarked before December 20, 1947. No manuscript will be returned, and publication rights will be reserved by the Humanist Association, and the winning entries will be published in The Humanist. Entrants should give the address of the college or university they are attending. All manuscripts should be sent to the American Humanist Association, 569 S. 13th East, Salt Lake City 2, Utah.

N.F.C.C.S. Collection

Freshman	$35.55
Sophomores	$21.82
Juniors	$21.66
Seniors	$10.02
	$89.05

TALKS FOR RADIO

REV. R. HANDRAN, O.S.A.

INAUGURATION OF CAMPUS RADIO NEAR; APPROVAL PENDING

Station Will Provide Entertainment and Stress Student Views

Pending final approval of the administration, and assignment of an operating room on the campus, Villanova's own radio station is ready to go on the air. The station will broadcast at a frequency of 640 kilocycles with an available power output of approximately 30 watts. The transmitter which was completed last Thursday is ready and in the near future scheduled programs under the direction of Tom Sullivan, Ed Doyle, Dick McKinley, Kevin Mc Chesney, Emil Mika and Matt Kearney will be presented.

The station was constructed by a group of students who were interested in the project from an Engineering viewpoint. Time, money, and advice from the following made the station very successful from an operational standpoint: Joe Doyle, Ed Healey, Frank Haney, Joe Muldoon, John McHugh, Dan Robinson and John Kane. In addition parts were donated by the Electrical Engineering Dept., and the Physics and Chemistry Depts. very generously lent the group their workshop for the purpose. As it stands, the station has a value of about $150.00 the major part of which was put up by the above group of students. All worked under the guidance of Rev. R. Handran, O.S.A. who is in charge of all general business pertaining to the station. At present a three hour broadcast is planned daily with the station operating from 8 P. M. til 11 P. M. School and world news will be broadcast and in addition, special events whenever possible. The sche-

(Continued on Page 3)

GYMNASIUM THE SCENE OF GIGANTIC PRE-GAME RALLY

Torchlight Parade to Precede Rally; Bonfire to Conclude It

By Jack Conally

Preceded by a blazing torchlight parade, the entire student body, together with hundreds of Wildcat fans and alumni will gather in the Field House this Thursday night at 8:30 for the largest and most spectacular pre-game rally in Villanova history.

Aiming to send spirit sky-high for the annual Georgetown game, the committee, headed by Nick Albano, has gone all out in preparing a gigantic demonstration. The rally will not only enliven the traditional fervor of the Georgetown games, but will also acclaim "Ollie" and the squad.

Many Notables Invited

Speakers for the rally include Rev. Edward McKee, O.S.A., Athletic director of the college; coach Jordan Oliver; Mort Berry sportswriter for the Inquirer; Bill Sears, W.P.E.N. sports announcer; and members of the squad.

The student body, cheerleaders, and band will form outside of Mendel Hall at 8:15 for the torch parade to the Field House.

Featuring the activities at the Field House will be the presentation of the Connelly Plaque to the hall judged to have the best "Beat Georgetown" decorations. Following the presentation of the plaque, the fans will move to the parking lot across from the Gym, where a tremendous bon-fire will be lighted. The privilege of lighting the fire will go to the hall winning the decorations award.

Hoyas Show Stuff Snare 'Cat Mascot In Daring Raid

Editor's Note

Much has been said about the lifting of Count Villian III—some of it true, most of it not. The Villanovan now prints what it believes to be the most assurate account of the stealth that has been printed to date. The story of the capture is the result of an interview with Charles Bidwell one of the Georgetown students who took part in the raid.

Last Thursday, three Georgetown students, Richard Kelly, Charles Bidwell and William Blatty daringly raided the campus and by sheer luck and audacity made off with Villanova's mascot Count Villian III. In sharp contrast with the stories in the daily press and the rumors on the campus, these men claim that they did not pose as priests, but rather as A. A. officials. They also claim that they did not know the whereabouts of the Mascot from an inside source, pointing out that they went to the Zoo first.

Tried Zoo First

At noon of last Thursday, the three students, playing a hunch arrived at the Philadelphia Zoo in search of the Villanova Wildcat. They were told that no such wildcat

(Continued on Page 8)

Last Home Game of Season Stimulates Campus Spirit

Kickoff Set for 8:30 P. M. on Friday Night, November 14, at Shibe Park

The bowl-bound Villanova Wildcats will clash with the invading forces of Georgetown University this Friday under the arc lights at Shibe Park in a game that will be the most colorful of the year.

The Hoya squad, eager to avenge the 19-2 drubbing they received last year from the 'Cats, will come to Philadelphia with exactly the same squad they had last year plus a brand new repertoire of plays originating from Coach Jack Hagerty's spread formation. This tricky lineup makes defensive assignments especially difficult while furnishing passers, "Babe Baronowski and Elmer Raba, plenty of protection on pass plays.

TALKS TO FRAT

REV. J. M. DOUGERTY, O.S.A.

All-American Guards

While the 204-pound Georgetown line average, is considered light by present-day standards, they have plenty of speed and two rugged guards of All-American caliber in Richard "Bus" Werder and Elmer Oberto. Werder was All-American Honorable Mention in 1942, while playing with a poor ball club, while last year he was honored again by being named to the Catholic All-American team. (Romeo Capriotti was named halfback.)

The Blue and Gray's field generals are Elmer Raba, a dangerous breakaway back who was sidelined last year with injuries, and Babe Baranowski, whose passing featured last year's contest. No matter who the Wildcats play, the opposition always seems to come up with a top-flight kicker—this week, in the person of Lou Surnam, who ranked ninth in the nation in the kicking department last year.

Probable lineups:
Villanova		Georgetown
Brown	le	Sarashevitz
Sandusky	lt	Dolan
Pavalko	lg	Oberto
Karmonicki	c	Kelly
Smith, T.	rg	Werder
Lillenthal	rt	Robustelli
Berrang	re	Desmond
Gordon	qb	Raba
Rogers	hb	Graham
Polidor	hb	Miller
Pasquerello	fb	O'Doherty

Strictly an "in and out" ball club, the Hoyas have enjoyed mediocre

(Continued on Page 6)

MEDICAL FRAT WILL HEAR FR. DOUGHERTY AT GENERAL MEETING

"The New Era in Medicine" Is the Topic of Scientist's Address

Very Rev. Joseph M. Dougherty, O.S.A., Ph. D., Prior of Villanova Monastery will address the first general meeting of the newly reorganized L.K.D. Fraternity tomorrow night at 8:00 P.M. in the amphitheater of Mendel Hall. The title of his address will be "The New Era in Medicine."

Fr. Dougherty was awarded Ph. D. in Biology by Catholic University in Washington, D. C. in June, 1926, and shortly after assumed the office of Dean of the School of Science at Villanova College. In 1944 he became Prior of the Monastery.

He is co-author of a text book, "Bacteriology and Immunology", and is prominent in Philadelphia medical circles as a member of the Board of Trustees of several Catholic hospitals. A lecturer of distinction he is also director of the biological science phase of talks heard over a Philadelphia radio station.

As Dean of the School of Science, Fr. Dougherty organized the L.K.D. fraternity. The Mendel Bulletin, the reorganization of which is being undertaken by the L.K.D., was also initiated by him.

Chairman of L.K.D., John Goldschmidt, has announced that a business meeting will follow Fr. Dougherty's address. The proposed constitution will be submitted for the discussion and approval by the members and the reorganization of the Mendel Bulletin will be discussed at this meeting.

Senior Ball Theme Secret

High activity is the keynote in the Senior class as plans progress for the Belle Air Ball. Co-chairmen Andy Gordon and Bob O'Connor and their committee heads have begun extensive work to make this first formal dance of the school year one to be remembered.

Tom Braun, Chairman of Decorations, has had his committee working overtime in planning a theme to end all themes. However, all decoration plans have been labeled "top secret" and a ticket to the dance is the only assurance one has of seeing same.

All things seem to indicate a complete sell-out before the Christmas holidays and numerous inquiries have been made about tickets. The exact date of ticket release has not been set, but the next two or three weeks should see them on sale.

The band committee has not as yet selected a band to their liking, but this news should be available within the next week.

Orientation 101

Too many times do we take for granted our blessings. Too often do we come to expect and then demand what have been free gifts. G. K. Chesterton turned out a few interesting chapters on this theme in "The Everlasting Man." Our parents' sacrifices, the benefits of government and religion lose our attention and gratitude because they are so habitually and so freely given.

It is with a view towards re-evaluating one of these habitual sacrifices that this editorial is written.

On a college campus, burdened with scholastic demands and driven by youths' need for recreation, we often overlook some of the blessings we have received. It is only occasionally, when things get out of kilter, that we take any notice of the administration and then it is only for condemnation. No, this is no "pro-administration" editorial. This is an exhortation to the student to orient himself with the facts.

In the classrooms and in the offices of this college is being carried on one of the few works of true charity in this world today. The great accomplishments of Catholic education at Villanova have been directly the result of the selfless effort of the Augustinian Priests and Brothers. Their work built Villanova and it is their work that is maintaining it now.

The men who teach us have given up their homes, their ambitions and many of their hopes to serve in Christ's army. Their enormous sacrifice was made not only for God but for the welfare of the young men whose education is their care. It is a work of love; love of God and of fellow-man.

Here at Villanova some sixty intelligent and highly trained men labor on the faculty at practically no recompense except the satisfaction of executing God's commands. If laymen of equal training and in similar positions were staffing the college, their annual salaries could only be met by an endowment of three million dollars. When one comes face to face with this fact one can realize the immensity of this free gift of love.

Realization of this unalterable fact can do a great deal towards attaining the Catholic ideal of education here at Villanova. Our gripes seem a little less important when they are placed against this background of self-sacrifice. It will lead to better cooperation between student and professor. It will aid immeasurably in the fulfillment of the Aristotelian pedagogical precepts of benevolus, attentus, docilis!

Old Stuff

This is rather a traditional editorial with the Villanovan. Every year, no matter who the editors might be, you will find its equivalent. For this reason we fear to give it a very big place on our page of expression.

No matter how broadminded we might be we cannot overlook the fact that every semester many, many students fail to see their function at Villanova as little more than a necessary prelude to the securing of a job.

Indeed there are but a few greater underestimations. We appeal to the student to open himself to the real possibilities of college. We ask him to be honest with himself and make his stay here a true development of his talents. The real student will make his stay here a vital one. He will seek the answers to the questions that gnaw at his soul.

Your guiding principle can be one of total honesty with yourself.

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

WILLIAM F. ALTENPOHL, '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
JOHN A. McDERMOTT, '48 ..... Managing Editor
JACK CASBY, '49 ..... News Editor
HUGH W. JOHNSON, '49 ..... Sports Editor
GEORGE SZYMANSKI, '50 ..... Feature Editor
RICHARD HUBBARD, '48 ..... Picture Editor
VINCE PEDANO, '49 ..... Circulation Manager
NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI, '48 ..... Business Manager
EDWARD OXFORD, '50 ..... Copy Editor
JAMES PLUNKETT '49 ..... Assoc. Sports Editor

News Staff

Michael Marshal '49, Richard Shinners '48, Michael Joseph Nowlan '49, Charles Lafferty '49, Frank Golie '51, Frank Guzikowski '51, Thomas Mitchell '51, Joseph Miller '50, Martin Biender '49, John James Connolly '51, Joseph Kinney '50. Joseph Callahan '51, George R. Reinhart '51, Arthur Woodrow

Feature Staff

R. E. Manifold '51, William Breninghouse '51, Joseph Quill '50, A. J. Mullen '49, David V. Anthony '51, John A. Rowe '51, Gunther Kaiser '49, P. McManus '48, John Mallick '49, Vince O'Neil '51, Mark Morris '51, James Tayoun '51, Leo Dodd '49, Emil Mayer '49, Richard Hudak '49, Thomas Russo '49

Sports Staff

James Lyons '48, Paul Altenpuhl '49, Ned Hoffner '49, Arnold Keehan '49, William Canino '50, Neal Fahy '50, George Mondschein '50, Raymond Mondschein '50, Tyson Reilly '50, Walter Ryder '05, Harry Jacoloe '51, William Klusaritz '51, Raymond MacWilliams '51 Paul Pressede '51, Harold Range '51.

Picture Staff

Robert Graf '50, Raymond Berninger '49, Dan Haflinger '50, William Neal Carter '51, Dan Robinson '51, William Murphy '51, Harry Papaan '51, Robert Pope '50.

Business Staff

Joe King '48, Barry Gibbons '51, Jack Gibbons '51, Donald Daralt '50.

Circulation Staff

Vince Pedano '49, George Weiser, III, '51, Ralph Iorio '50, Ed Kent '51, Charles Clunk '51, Ralph Skowron '51, Gene Langan '51, Juan F. Calzada '51, William J. Coakley '50.

Copy Staff

....
Frank McGeehan '50, Girard Farnan '50, Edgar Le Blanc '50 Steve Keiss '51, Robert MacRoberts '51, William Foley '50, Dick Randolph '50.

Faculty Advisor— Rev. John A. Klekotka, O.S.A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman —
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription: $2 per year, Circulation: 5000.
Entered as second class matter at the Villanova Post Office December 27, 1928.

Member of Associate Collegiate Press, Distributor of Collegiate Digest.
Member of Catholic School Press Association, Catholic College Press Association.

On Freedom

In a recent statement, His Eminence, Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, Archbishop of Philadelphia, proposed a ban for a period of one year on two mid-town theaters, and also on all motion picture releases of a certain studio.

The ban was to be imposed if these theaters refused to comply with the demand of the Cardinal, as the spiritual leader of over one million Catholics of the archdiocese. Both films had been condemned by the Legion of Decency.

Obedience to the implied ban offers ample opportunity of exemplary Catholic action. Any cries to the effect that the ban is an infringement of individual freedom of choice is easily refuted: Freedom is only attained by making the choice of moral good.

Freedom for the modern world means absence of all restraint; a perpetual vacation from authority, a holiday from law and a right to believe and to act in whatever manner one pleases.

Freedom, however, is not absence from all law or restraint; it means the choice among various good acts which is most conducive to individual perfection.

In "The Cross and the Crisis," Monsignor Fulton J. Sheen claims . . . "the Church refuses to identify freedom with either absence of restraint, or indifference to truth. On the contrary she insists that freedom has something to do with truth."

Father cites as an example . . . "The truth about a triangle is that it has three sides. Hence, I am free to draw a triangle only on condition that I obey the intrinsic law of its nature, and give it three sides, and not in a stroke of broadmindedness either four or five sides.

Obey the law of eating and we are free to enjoy good health, obey the law of gravitation and we are free to fly, and accept the truth of the meaning of words and we are free to speak."

Freedom is to be in possession of oneself. Such is precisely the message of our Lord: "The Truth will make you free."

Incidentally . .

By J. Duffey

There are those who maintain that the inevitable aftermath of war is economic and political chaos, both in the victorious and the vanquished countries.

Events in the United States of the past two years are, in our opinion, no exception to this rule. We have in these United States a great body of civil rights which originated in the common law. Most Americans, being American, would insist that they were in favor of free speech, free press, trial by jury, freedom of religion, etc. But while they adhere to these basic political beliefs in an abstract sense, their actions may be somewhat at variance. We suspect that the typical American considers himself an infallible judge of what is best in a political society. This is sometimes amusing and sometimes frightening. It is amusing when you confront such infallibility in an individual but when a mob covers itself with the cloak of righteousness the results are apt to be dangerous.

For example, we present a recent illustration in the fair city of Philadelphia. Nearly everyone will agree that most people know very little about the constitution other than its avowed perfection. In fact, it would be a gross understatement to state that the average individual has a working knowledge of the provisions of that sacred document. In case anyone should question this he could be referred to a number of polls attesting to the ignorance of the common man.

In spite of the obvious handicaps that ignorance places in the road to reason many persons have been able to form an absolute judgment in regard to the latest Congressional investigations of subversive elements. In the face of a court decision to the contrary and on the Natural resources seem neither to be here, but, how about there? Remedies have been exercised in recent years to forestall any acute shortage. The theory that the Pacific Ocean floor contained a veritable wealth of these same, stung many imaginations with possibilities culminating in the U. S. Transmigration Plan. Its basic tenet consisted, as you remember, in the utter transferring of the U. S. to the Pacific floor and accordingly, the Pacific Ocean to the U. S. Sentimentalists and ultra-conservatives objected to the excavation of the life and soil of the grandiose Municipal Stadium—like fishpond which would result. Communists, anarchists, underworld people, etc., objected as it would entail refocusing lights used in their eerie scenes. Many were the snags: misers with hidden gold, the Oregon-Calif. dispute as to the departure point, naturalists fretting about the whales, etc., and should the water be let in as the people leave. It is quite obvious that the bodily removal of the U. S. life, people, trees, everything, went against the grain. As 100 per cent cooperation was necessary, the plan was smashed.

(Continued on Page 3)

Odds and Ends

Another story, true. In a little, dark church on the rocky shore of western Ireland a gnarled, wet hand swung open the wooden door with the wind and rain. Inside, the huge fisherman paused in his glistening oilskins and crossed himself. Then he-strode up the middle aisle, flung himself on his knees, and extending his arms like a cross, he cried out his public confession in the "soft, sybilant, Gaelic."

Both of these ideas are radical. The first, from the standpoint of physical impossibility, the second, because of its inability to become attuned to any materialistic or utilitarian melody. Obviously, the fish-

(Continued on Page 3)

Pride and Prejudice

I had an interesting chat last week with George Guida, Villanova trackman, who recently returned from a tour of Northern Europe. I was especially concerned with the reaction to and the reception given Harrison Dillard, negro hurdle champion and record holder, who was on the Scandinavian track team touring with George.

As Mr. Guida would have it:

"There wasn't the slightest bit of racial prejudice evident in all the countries I visited. This was as it should be. Harrison was accepted with the same graciousness and warmth accorded us. There was never any distinction made socially or otherwise. We were simply American and as such were treated royally.

"I must say of Dillard that he not only performed phenomenally on the track but also made our hosts wonder why discrimination and injustice were shown his race in America. He was a real gentleman and his demeanor always reflected to the credit of our team and country.

Recognizing this fact, Ambassador Bay at a reception given us at the U. S. Embassy in Oslo, Norway personally commended Dillard as representative of international good will and friendship.

Also of pertinent interest, in Copenhagen, Denmark, a doctor questioned me as to why, in the face of provisions in our American Constitution this racialism was allowed to exist. He had met Dillard and admired and respected him as a prominent American athlete and gentleman. The doctor told me of his visits to America and how he was appaled at the apathy shown the negro and his problems. He could not believe that medical men here, whose profession is built on noble foundations, were guilty of discriminary practices."

In answer to my question about the relations of the rest of the team with Dillard, Guida responded:

"Our team of nine men, representing various sections of the country, might have brought with them local prejudices. If they did, they didn't express them even in a mild form for we all got along very well with Mr. Dillard. All agreed that he was a wonderful companion and teammate. No problem ever presented itself. We just naturally were teammates and acted accordingly."

That last line of Mr. Guida's is a point worthy of further comment. While we are free to admit in theory that the negro is our equal, we are definitely remiss when it comes to the more important obligation of practicing what is preached.

Those of you who have served abroad during the war years will confirm the fact made clear by Mr. Guida's quotes. Race prejudice is not an inevitable or a universal instinct; it is an un-Christian disease that breeds hate, discord and wars. It would be well if we could follow the exemplary conduct of the American-Scandinavian track team and consider ourselves "team mates" in our daily relations with our negro fellow men. Not only considering ourselves as such but acting accordingly, we have done much.

Inauguration . .

(Continued from Page 1)

dule will also include a two hour program of "Music To Study By."

For those who are interested in getting on the staff of the station there will be held soon a general meeting of the staff. Consult the bulletin boards in Mendel Hall or the Villanovan for particulars. Openings will be available for those residents who are interested in the technical aspects of radio.

Particular emphasis will be placed on those with experience or interest in program work since the main object of the station is to be a source of entertainment and student expression.

It is to be understood that nothing is going into operation until final approval is obtained from the President. The transmitter is so constructed that no license is necessary and that it complies fully with the regulations of the Federal Communications Commission.

Campus Roll Call

By John P. Mallick

Get ready, fellows!

IMMACULATA

The Senior Ball, given by the Class of '48, will be held on Friday evening, November 21, 1947, in the main ballroom of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia. Bob Shelly and his orchestra will provide the music. Dancing will be from 9 to 1. The Chairman for this dance is Miss Berenice Connelly.

CHESTNUT HILL

On Friday, November 21, 1947, the Senior Ball will be held in the main ballroom of the Benjamin Franklin Hotel in Philadelphia. Moe Jaffe and his orchestra will provide the music. Miss Ellen McKernen is Chairman of the affair.

The following were elected to office in the Freshman class: President, Mary Lou Moore; Vice-President, Mary Catherine O'Malley; Student Council, Bunny Keeler and Margo Lauman.

ROSEMONT

"Winter's Dream," the Senior Ball, will be presented on Saturday, November 22, 1947, in their gym. Dancing will be continuous from 9 to 1 to the music of Moe Jaffe and his orchestra.

The new portion of the tea house opened last week doubles the amount of room for the girls to eat and chat. All future tea dances will be held in this building.

An interesting note on Moe Jaffe, who will play at both Chestnut Hill and Rosemont Balls, is that he wrote such popular songs as: "Bell Bottom Trousers," "If I Had My Life to Live Over," and the lyrics to "If You Were But a Dream."

'NEATH THE SPIRES

Joseph Quill, '50

The United States is no doubt largely a non-Catholic country. As every country, the United States has had, and still has today, many great and prominent men who are the leaders of their people. We would expect that our leaders would be mostly non-Catholic men, as this is a non-Catholic country, and such is the case. Because of this scarcity of Catholic leaders in our country, Catholics sometimes do not realize the number of great men of the world who are or were Catholic.

The list of the world's prominent names since the time of Christ is very decidedly Catholic. In fact, till the beginning of the sixteenth century, there were almost no non-Catholic great names in history. By now, no doubt, the number has greatly increased.

Let us enumerate a few Catholics who are decidedly among the great men of past and present. Many of the saints were prominent men of their time: Pope Gregory the Great; St. Camillus, the founder of the Red Cross; St. Francis of Assisi; St. Joan of Arc, the French heroine; St. Thomas More, the English nobleman. Ferdinand and Isabella of Spain were Catholics, as were Charlemagne, Richard the Lion Hearted, Constantine, Columbus, and many others. Marco Polo's exploits are known far and wide; Magellan's circumnavigation of the globe is in every history book. The list of Catholic names in art is never-ending: Caedmon, Chaucer, Dante, Cervantes, Petrarch, Raphael, Rembrandt, Rubens, Michelangelo, Beethoven, Verdi, Puccini, and many others. Mendelian laws of heredity are used and studied today. Pasteur, Roentgen and Kirscher made valuable contributions to the medical world. Amperes and volts are named after Catholic men.

Today we have Catholic leaders: Cardinal Spellman, Claire Booth Luce, Henry Ford, II, and others. Bing Crosby and Spencer are but two in the entertainment world. Agnes Repplier is one of the foremost writers of the day.

To keep mentioning prominent people of today or yesterday who are or were Catholics would make this more of a catalogue than anything else. My purpose is merely to show that a great number of notable men belong to the Catholic church, and that, as Catholics, we should be aware of it. There is no reason for us to grow apologetic because of the apparent paucity of Catholic prominence.

Campus Calendar

Wednesday, November 12
12:00 Deadline for completion of building decorations.
8:00 P.M. Rev. Charles Kropp, O. S. A., speaks on Hell — Chapel.

Thursday, November 13
12:00 D. P. M. meeting—212 Mendel.
12:30 P.M. Preliminary survey of building decorations.
6:30 P.M. Rev. Charles Kropp, O. S. A.—Speaks on "Hell"; Chapel.
7:00 P.M. Judging of building decorations.
8:00 P.M. Pep Rally—Field House—Bonfire following.

Friday, November 14
2:30 P.M. "150 Pounders" vs. Pennsylvania—Villanova Stadium.
8:30 P.M. VILLANOVA vs, Georgetown—Shibe Park.

Saturday, November 15
9:00 P.M.-1:00 A.M.—Inter-Fraternity Ball.

Tuesday, November 18
Next issue of VILLANOVAN. A.C.S. meeting.

SEVENTEEN YEARS AGO IN THE VILLANOVAN

By Richard J. Hudak

FROSH TAKE ANNUAL LACING FROM SOPHS

(Editor's Note: This item taken from Oct. 28th issue of 1930 Villanovan).

Hampered by the loss of the auditorium the Sophomore Class held the annual Freshman initiation in Villanova Stadium. After being feasted by the Vigilantes, under the leadership of Ed Hooky, the Frosh were entertained (?) by being escorted into Bryn Mawr, where they were exhibited to the populace. The affair was well conducted, but the consensus of opinion was that the Frosh were treated too tenderly.

At the stadium, Sophomores had been making a frantic search for 300 oysters that had mysteriously disappeared; sawdust and feathers were also absent. Investigation brought to light that several Frosh had been seen acting suspiciously near the stadium. It is reported that no action will be taken until definite evidence has been secured, then justice will be swift and severe.

G. P. Kaiser and P. F. McManus

The great red curtain at the Academy will rise tonight, November 11, on the first local Metropolitan Opera offering of the winter season. For the eagerly awaited event, the company will perform Mozart's "Don Giovanni." Cast in the role of the amorous Don will be bass-baritone Ezio Pinza. His portrayal of the Don best displays his magnificent voice and acting ability. Polyna Stoska, late of the New York Opera Company and the musical success, "Street Scene," will make her debut in the role of Donna Elvira. Others in the cast are Nadine Conner, Regina Resnik, sopranos; Charles Kullman, tenor; Mack Harrell, baritone, and Salvatore Baccaloni, basso-buffo. As almost all tickets are by subscription, seats for individual performances are most difficult to obtain. The company has been advertising recently, so perhaps some few seats are available.

In an effort to increase music appreciation among the Youth of the city, the Philadelphia Orchestra will present its first Concert for Youth this Wednesday evening. The concerts are available to a limited age group and at very attractive rates. The most expensive seats at the Academy are offered for only $6.50 for the series of five concerts. Though the series is operated at a financial loss each year, the organization feels its undertaking is more important than financial gain.

At the first concert, Eugene Ormandy will conduct and the soloist will be 18-year-old Sigi Weissenberg, winner of the open competition last June. He will play Rachmaninoff's Third Piano Concerto.

England, in the person of Dame Myra Hess, will be represented in a piano recital at the Academy of Music, Thursday evening, November the 13th. This recital will be Dame Hess's first in Philadelphia since before the war.

Say it with sweets,
Say it with drink,
Say it with eats—
But never with ink.

Odds . .

(Continued from Page 2)

erman didn't wear an Arrow shirt or show concern over his gingivitis.

The conventional radicalism of today deems the first idea as more acceptable than the ideals of the fisherman. Consequently, there are few radicals for Christ.

BULL PEN

By John L. Kucha

Looks like the Villanova-Georgetown game will be played for blood, or for a reasonable facsimile thereof. The grapevine tells us that a few braver souls on the campus ventured down to Georgetown's campus the other Sabbath and raised the Villanova flag on their mastiff . . . or something like that.

Don Collins is chartering a Pogo stick to journey to the Cleveland bowl game. . . . Villanovan stocks fell to a new low on the curb last week. . . . We hear that the farmers throughout the midwest are clamoring for back issues. . . . Watch Villanova's rooting section be outcheered by a handful of Georgetown rooters. . . . and their team hasn't won half as many games. . . . Guenther Kaiser, the custodian of Count Villain, III, tells us the old boy is getting fatter, bigger, and tougher and may soon need a new cage. . . . Seems like the local girls' colleges are just going mad throwing dances. . . . One of these days we may hie our bones over and see just what they mean by Kindler. '. . . Predictions of things to come . . . Fedigan will win the Connelly Award. . . . The College will soon publish a complete list of requirements to all degrees. We hear it's in the printing stage right now. . . . The Football team will go through the rest of the season undefeated . . including the Bowl Game, in which they will win by at least three touchdowns. . . . The basketball team will have one of the best seasons seen in any year. . . . Next year, the track team will have the fastest mile relay team in the country. . . . Orchids to Al Schmidt and John Siano who placed one-two in last Wednesday night's kicking contest held at Shibe Park . . . Al kicked a neat 63 yards to top 'em all. . . . We hear the Lower Marion Council may close the Veterans Aid Center that has been such a big help to local and Villanova veterans . . . here's hoping they don't, as it has done a magnificent job of smoothing the veterans' thorny path back to a home. . . . Looks like an anti-smoking drive is on . . . hold on to your matric cards . . . tallyho.

Jazz Review

By R. E. Manifold

We would like our readers to share the pleasure we enjoyed several evenings past, when we were fortunate enough to hear a really fine musician, Johnny Smith by name, playing with a group that ably complemented him.

We realize that it is impossible to put the joys of jazz on paper—there is an abundance of words but no sound—but this much we can do: we can inform you of visiting musicians and give you the dates and clubs where they will be appearing.

A Jazz Great

A thumbnail profile of Johnny goes like this: he is twenty-four, comes from Portland, Maine. He has the gift of perfect pitch, and has played the guitar since he was fourteen. He has been featured with Ormandy, and is currently a staff musician with NBC in New York. Johnny plans a concert tour in the East this winter. He likes Bach immensely, with MacDonell his favorite American composer.

While we were present, he played a number of selections. We were particularly impressed by his classical interpretations of "Temptation" and "Malaguena," and his hot work in "After You've Gone" and "Man I Love." After the first two selections we got the distinct impression that there were three guitars playing simultaneously—he so masterfully combines the well-known single string style (a vogue fixed by Charlie Christian) with a multiplicity of chords, each outdoing its predecessor in beauty and imagination, forming an inverted pyramid of good things musical. This is, of course, when he plays "pretty."

Exciting String Effect

His jazz, in "After You've Gone" and "Man I Love," outshines his classical efforts. He was in unusually good form while playing "Gone" and the effect was tremendously exciting. The listeners began to feel th musician's enthusiasm and beat, and everyone was breathlessly anticipating each turn of musical thought until driven by Billy Krechmer's clarinet, Johnny broke from the group and proceeded to play an amazing chorus of chords. After "Gone" we were really "gone."

About Billy Krechmer

To those who have not had the pleasure of meeting Billy, we promise you a rude awakening (musically speaking), on your first acquaintance. He is an exceptionally gifted clarinet player and by his vitalizing influence succeeds in getting a maximum of musical expression from the artists who are his guests.

Incidentally . .

(Continued from Page 2)

basis of partial and limited testimony some of the good people of Philadelphia have even decided that the rights of assembly and free speech must be curtailed. If their argument was logical it might go something like this: Persons who advocate the overthrow of governments must be denied civil rights; Hollywood actors and writers are such persons; therefore, Hollywood actors and writers must be denied civil rights. Needless to say there are a great many ifs, ands, and buts to this argument. We suggest that the second part of this syllogism is most difficult to maintain. What do you think?

Father McGuire Assists Group In Report To Gov.

The first meeting of the Joint State Government Commission was held in Harrisburg on November 6, 1947, to compile a report to send to Governor Duff on or before the fifteenth day of November. The report will include material on educational systems in Pennsylvania and such drafts of legislation as may be necessary to carry out its recommendations.

Father McGuire is a member of the Joint State Government Commission by direct appointment from Governor Duff, and in this capacity attended the meeting.

The committee was originated by House Act 565 and is to compile its report, including the following:

The educational needs of the youth of Pennsylvania as to the kind and amount of higher education they should receive.

An appraisal of existing institutions to determine the extent to which they are adequately meeting the needs of the youth as well as those of the Commonwealth.

Recommendations, in the event that our present institutions are not adequately providing for the needs of our youth, and suggestions as to how this situation may be remedied.

The Commission will act in conjunction with the department of Public Instruction in regards to the administration and supervision of programs of higher education as well as the Commonwealth's method of financing higher education.

The requirement for certain improvements in the educational system has been considered pressing enough to warrant the formation of this commission and its report will be given careful attention.

Council Discusses Bowl Game Trip

In it's regular bi-monthly meeting last Wednesday night the Student Council discussed and took preliminary action on several important questions concerning student affairs. Some of the more important questions brought to the attention of the members were the possibility of a student trip to the Great Lakes Bowl game, the appointment to the Council of the alumni representative, the appointment of four new members to the United Nations Student Council, and the submission to the Council of the fraternity constitution.

Interest In Bowl Game

Don Collins, president of the Council, brought up the topic of a special train to Cleveland for the Great Lakes Bowl game on December 6th. Villanova will oppose the University of Kentucky in the classic. He stated that, inasmuch as this game will be the inaugural contest, interest on the campus is high, and many men would welcome the opportunity to attend. The matter was given careful consideration and turned over to Nick Albano of the Spirit Committee for further investigation. He will report on the matter at the next meeting.

Plaque Given Next Thurs.

Extensive interhall-activity will be climaxed this week in an attempt to win the Connelly Plaque. The award will be made for the best decorated Hall in preparation for the Georgetown Game and will be presented the night before the game.

Numerous halls have already formulated their plans and have begun to erect their decorations. Among these are Austin, Fedigan, Mendel and Alumni. At present the Barracks are not planning to participate in the contest.

The decorations must be completed by noontime tomorrow. All displays must be illuminated and judging will be at night. A preliminary survey by the judges will be held at 12:30 Thursday, while the final judging will take place at 7:30 Thursday night.

Mr. William Connelly, donator of the award will act as Chairman of the Judging Committee. The remaining judges willinclude:Coaches Olivar and Raimo, Mr. William Friel and Robert Whalen.

Mr. Connelly will present the plaque to the Chairman of the winning hall. Presentation is to be made at a huge rally immediately following the judging.

The plaque has recently been refinished, and the names of the past winners has been inscribed. It remains in the possession of the victorius group for the next year, and will hang in their hall.

SANCTUARY SOCIETY

The Sanctuary Society attended Mass and received Holy Communion in a body last Thursday at the 7 o'clock Mass. Some 120 members were present for this initial monthly Mass.

DRAMATIC SOCIETY OFFERS 'FISHERMAN'

Belle Masque, Villanova's Dramatic Society, in conjunction with Rosemont Dramatic club, will present its first performance of the season on Monday November 24, in the Field House, with a repeat performance scheduled for the following night.

At the curtain raiser, first nighters will have an opportunity to view the local thesplans in their production of the three one-act plays—"The Fisherman," a fantasy taking place in Heaven; "The Twelve Pound Look," a satire on the life of the sick; and the third act, graveyard scene of Thornton Wilder's popular Broadway hit "Our Town," a play characterized by its sharp departure from dramatic convention.

Tickets will go on sale next week.

THE Bouquet Shop
"Flowers That Are Pleasantly Different"
Lancaster Ave. at Roberts Ave., Bryn Mawr, Pa.
Flowers By Wire
BRYN MAWR 2422

Roberts ESSO Service
Courtesy - Service - Thanks
WE SERVICE YOUR CAR While You Are in Class
Lancaster Pike and Haverford Road
B. M. 9141 ROSEMONT, PA.
Pick-Up and Delivery Service

For Expert Convenient Attention

THE CAMPUS BARBER SHOP
First Class Work
Popular Prices

WAYNE JEWELERS
You're cordially invited to spect the newest and finest selection of nationally famous
WATCHES, DIAMONDS, JEWELRY AND SILVERWARE
A Complete Watch and Jewelry Repair Department at Your Service!
All Work Guaranteed
ANTHONY WAYNE THEATRE BLDG.
Wayne, Pa.
Wayne 3297

WELCOME BACK, CATS
HAMBURG HEARTH
814 LANCASTER AVE. BRYN MAWR, PA.

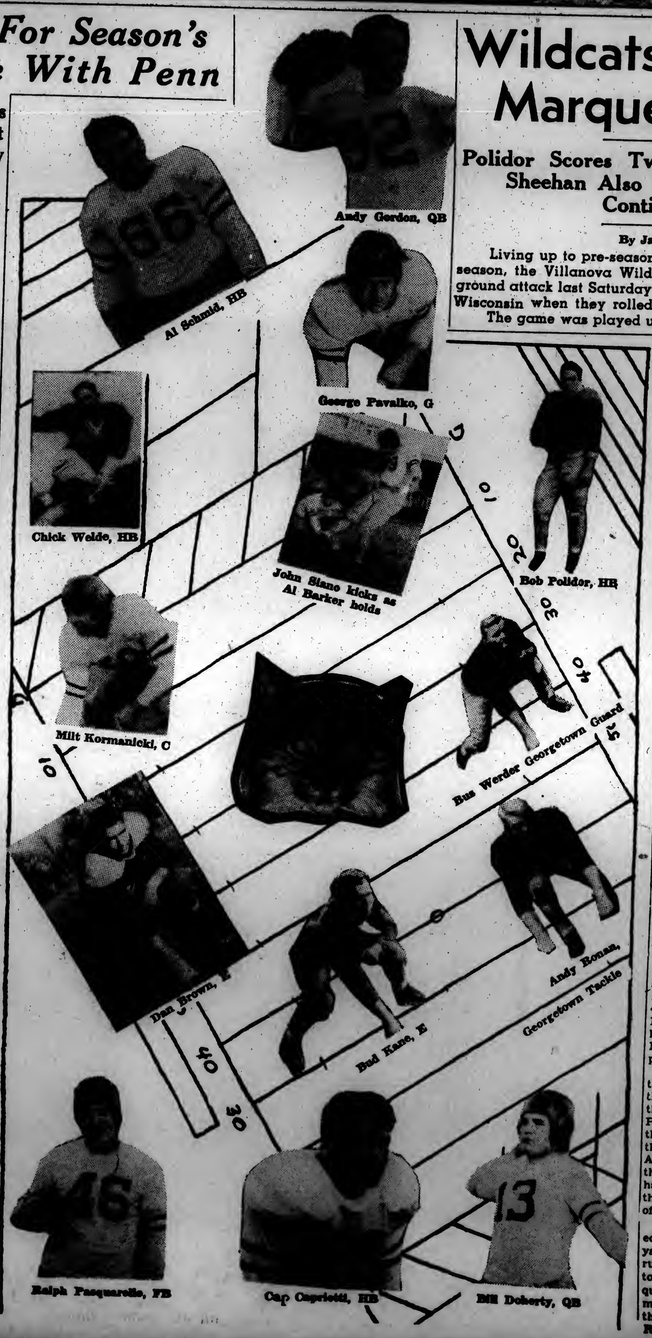
A RECORD HIT in the making!
...It's Desi Arnaz's—
"I Love to Dance"* (RCA Victor)
*From the MGM picture: "This Time for Keeps"

CAMEL is the cigarette for me!
THIS volatile Cuban's rhythms have been sweeping the country. Everywhere he's played, Desi Arnaz has broken attendance records! And, when Desi lights up a cigarette, it's the brand that's been a national favorite for years and is now making new records of its own! Yes, more men and women are smoking Camel cigarettes than ever before!
Why? The answer is in your "T-Zone" (T for Taste and T for Throat).
Try Camels. Discover for yourself why, with smokers who have tried and compared, Camels are the "choice of experience"!
More people are smoking CAMELS than ever before!
R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. Winston-Salem, N. C.
BEAT GEORGETOWN

BEAT GEORGETOWN

VILLANOVAN SPORTS

Kittens Set For Season's Finale With Penn



Captain Bob Fitzmeyer Has Team Up for the Contest Scheduled for This Friday

By Bill Canino

This Friday afternoon the Villanova 150 Pound football team faces a strong University of Pennsylvania 150 eleven at Goodreau Stadium. A strong rivalry exists between the two squads inasmuch as last year the "Kittens" edged Penn by a 6-0 score.

Coach Tony Cocco and his staff have predicted a hard fought battle but base their hopes for a victory on such men as Captain Bob Fitzmeyer, a sterling center whose defensive work has sparked the team all season; Bob Furey, rugged guard and quarterback Joe Curtin. These men were in the starting line-up last year and will be in there fighting to make it two in a row. Other gridders who saw action in last year's campaign and are expected to play Friday are Bill Leighton, back, J. J. Thompson and Ed Downey, a fine pair of ends, and Harry Knecht, sensational passer.

To date, the Main Line lightweights have a record of 1 win, 1 loss, and two ties. Their victory was over a strong Cornell team at Ithaca two weeks ago by a 6-0 count. Their only loss came last week when they bowed to powerful Navy, who have already clinched the title.

ED FITZGERALD TO RUN AT WASHINGTON

Meet Sponsored by the Washington Daily Star

By Harry Range

Ed Fitzgerald, Villanova quartermiler, has been invited to participate in the Invitation 600-yard run at Washington, D. C., on January 3, 1948. In this meet, sponsored by the "Washington Daily Star," Ed will have his first chance to compete individually, since all his endeavors last year were with the championship mile relay team.

Tough Competition

Fitzgerald will face some of his keenest competition in this meet which will feature some of the country's foremost runners. Probable starters are: Herb McKenley from the University of Illinois, holder of the unofficial world's record for the quarter-mile; Hal McDonald, sophomore star from Fordham University; and the veteran 440 man from Manhattan College, John Quigley.

Also receiving an invitation to compete in the 600 was Jim McKenna, who chose to decline.

'Cats Win Over Seton Hall

Last Saturday, Villanova's Harriers won over Seton Hall's Cross-Country team by a score of 18-38. As usual, George Thompson and Browning Ross finished first and second with close times of 32:23 and 32:28 respectively.

Jim Kennedy, Charley McGee, Jim McGuerin, and Tom Conboy all turned in excellent times over the 6-mile Villanova course. Phil Stillwell turned in the best Hall time finishing third in 32:39.

Wildcats Crush Fast Marquette Eleven

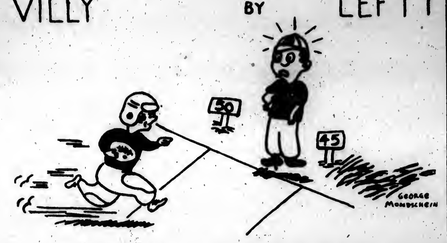
Polidor Scores Twice, Pasquariello and Sheehan Also Score as Villanova Continues Jinx

By James Plunkett

Living up to pre-season predictions for the first time this season, the Villanova Wildcats unleashed an overwhelming ground attack last Saturday at Hilltop Stadium in Milwaukee, Wisconsin when they rolled over Marquette University 25-7. The game was played under adverse weather conditions, as Marquette's passing sensation, Darol Robarge, handicapped by biting winds, a light snow, and a muddy field turned in his worst performance of the season completing only 6 of 19 forward attempts.

Rogers Sets Up Score

Forced to punt after reciving the opening kickoff, Sam Sauceda got off a wobbly boot to Bill Doherty, who returned the ball eight yards to the Wildcat 47. Following Calvin's line buck of 5 yards to the Hilltopper's 48, Joe Rogers, starting his first game of the season, slipped through right ackle on a delayed handoff from Andy Gordon for 47 yards to the 1-yard line where he was pulled down from behind by Sauceda. On the following play, Ralph Pasquariello crashed over for the first Villanova score. Vince O'Sullivan kicked the only Villanova conversion of the day and the Wildcats led 7-0.



Smart quarterbacking on the part of Andy Gordon set up the 2nd Villanova tally. With third down and 9 yards to go on the Marquette, 49, Andy crossed the Hilltoppers defense by quick kicking to the 1yard line. Marquette's return boot was taken by Doherty who ran the punt back to the 33. A clipping penalty set the ball back on the 48. Polidor and Pasquariello combined to move the ball to the 17. Rogers, on the same play that set up the first touchdown raced to the 3 but a clipping penalty nullified the run. On the next play, behind the 3-man blocking of John Sandusky, Ed Berrang and Milt Karmonicki, Polidor squirmed 21 yards for the tally.

Polidor Races 71 Yards

Following the kickoff, Marquette swept back to score with Tony Pitroff setting up the taly by a 49-yard run to the six. Denny Pantziaft crashed over two plays later from the 6-inch line. Melvin Mocholski place kicked the extra point.

With Polidor leading the attack, the Wildcats roared back to score their third touchdown. Returning the kickoff from the 5 to the 33, Polidor, after "Zip" Zehler had lost three yards, went all the way for the touchdown on a lateral from Andy Gordon. Pasquariello threw the key block that shook the shifty halfback loose. This made the third touchdown in the last 11 plays of the game.

The final Villanova score climaxed a march that started on the 41-yard line. Polidor topped Schmid's run of 19 yards by racing 33 yards to the 7-yard line. When the Marquette line stiffened, Steve Romanik passed to John Sheehan in the end zone for the touchdown. Romanik missed the extra point.

YOU GUYS BETTER BEAT GEORGETOWN!

SPORTORIAL

By Hugh Johnson

"We Told You So"

—Hate to say it, but two weeks ago in this very column, "We told you so." We also told those who were more or less responsible for Count Villian III that the Georgetown Boys had been for some time determined to make off with our mascot. However, the big Mahogs informed us not to worry. All was in hand down on the school's farm on the far side of Lancaster Pike. We were assured that anybody noseing around looking for a 15-lb. wildcat would catch a bad case of posterioritis via the shotgun method.

Maybe that was all true but Mr. Bidwell and co. never put that leathal weapon to a test. They pulled a smooth job with all the daring and cunning of an O. S. S. team and it is very doubtful if anybody, even with topside authority will be able to re-snitch the Count before Friday night.

But the whole affair smacks of an inside job. Not many people on campus knew exactly where the cat was housed and still fewer knew that the keeper was to turn the mascot over to no one unless he, the keeper, knew them or had proper identification. It would seem a lot more feasible to get that Villanova student or employee that did all the foaming at the mouth rather than the boys who were the kidnappers. Don't forget, four (not 37 as reported in the Washington papers) of our troops tried tried the same thing Sunday a week ago without the aid of informers, but Georgetown's "Butch" was not available.

Georgetown Ready

But, with or without the wildcat, Coach Jordan Olivar's eleven are in for a rough, tough battle at Shibe Park come Friday night. It's true that the Hilltoppers of Georgetown have had a mediocre season, but, like Villanova before the troucing of Marquette, the Hoyas had an open date last weekend.

So, once again a warning. Jack Hagerty's eleven doesn't believe in comparative scores. They have scouted Villanova as closely as Notre Dame did Army. Even the lowest scrub on the team can tell you what size shoe Bob Polidor wears. Capitol City sources inform me that Georgetown has a complete set of unused spread formation plays which they have been perfecting for two weeks. In short, Georgetown will be throwing everything in the books at Villanova on Friday night.

Individuating Notes that Make Up the Whole

On paper, the blue and grey have one of the best lines in the nation. Bus Werder at left guard is being loomed as All-American by the Hoya's publicity chief, Larry Hogan. We say that he is one of the best in the east. Watch him. He wears No. 38. Elmer Oberto and Jim Nalls, who played for Notre Dame during the war hold down the right guard spots. They will also bear watching.

When it comes to weight, the southerners bow to very few. Across the line that usually starts, they average something like 204. But when you throw reserve monsters like Nimmer O'Keefe (260) and Jim Ricca (220) into the lineup, the weight advantage becomes more apparent.

Going into the backfield, there's Elmer Raba, who was as sought after in 1943 as was Johnny Papit last year. Only Elmer did go to West Point where he subbed for Glenn Davis. Last year against Villanova he wasn't too effective. His legs were as banged up as the front of a female driven Ford but this season's he's in good shape and along with Babe Baronowski, should see plenty of action at Q.B.

BARRACKS 3 LEADS INTRAMURAL LEAGUE

Mendel Maulers, Arts Day Hops, and Jawbreakers All Score Initial Wins

Mondschein, Inc., and Klucsarits

The Barracks No. 3 Skippers, with two victories under their belt, lead the newly-formed Intramural Football League at the end of the first week's competition.

The brilliant play of Capt. Bill Lemmer, Tom Reisner and Leo Schreiber featured in the 30-6 victory over the "Flying Polacks" and a last minute 6-0 triumph over the C & F Claws. Lemmer's passes to his two receivers accounted for all of the scoring and were the big offensive thrusts for the Skippers.

Mendel Maulers Win

In two games, the Mendel Maulers boast a 12-6 victory over the Alumni Jawbreakers and a 6-6 tie with Delurey. Don Sweda's end run resulted in the first score against the Jawbreakers. A pass from Gerold to Bill McGrew netted the touchdown that later proved to be the margin of victory for the Maulers. In the closing minutes, a pass from Hartnett to Lynch produced a tally for the Jawbreakers. Against a hard-fighting Delurey outfit, the Maulers had to be contented with a 6-6 tie. George Mondschein caught a touchdown pass for the Maulers, while Elliott knotted the count on an end run from the five yard line.

The Jawbreakers rebounded from their defeat with a 12-6 conquest of the Engineer Day Hops. Two early touchdown passes by Grimth gave the Alumni squad a lead they never relinquished.

Simpson Forfeits

In the only other game reported, the Arts Day Hops whipped Barracks 1 by a decisive 42-0 score. Barracks 1 also forfeited to Delurey while Simpson forfeited to Barracks 4 in other scheduled league games.

In order to qualify for the championship playoff, all captains must turn in scores of games to the Villanovan office. Standings will be computed from these scores. Meetings of captains will be held every Thursday in 215 Mendel at 6:00 and scores of the week's games must be in at that time in order to appear in the next edition.

This week's schedule:

Today

Austin Comets vs. Mendel Maulers

Wednesday

Engineer Dav Hops vs. Delurey

Thursday

C F Claws vs. Brk. 4 Tigers
Brks. 1 vs. Jawbreakers
Brks. 3 Skippers vs. Delurey
Mendel Maulers vs. Sea Gulls

Saturday

Engineer Day Hops vs. Brks. 3 Skippers
Austin Comets vs. Brks. 3 Skippers

Sunday

Brks. 3 Skippers vs. Mendeleers

Football Team Banquet Dec. 9

By Martin Binder

The alumni association has announced that the Annual Football Dinner will be held on December 9. The "Loyalty Cup," given annually to the outstanding alumnus will be presented on this occasion.

The Varsity Football Squad will be the guests of the association and will be presented with several prizes. The dinner is being arranged by Mr. Frank M. Fitzpatrick, '40, who is also the secretary of the club.

Subscription $5.00

The dinner will start at seven at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel. Subscriptions are five dollars per person.

Toastmaster on this occasion will be Mr. H. Bruce Murray, '30, who was former president of the Villanova Club of Philadelphia.

Tickets for this affair can be purchased by writing or phoning the Alumni Secretary at Villanova College. Bryn Mawr 1880, Ext. 69.

Santacroce Proud Papa

By Mike Kearney

Mike Santacroce, former member of the Villanova staff, is the proud father of a little, baby girl. Mike, in passing out cigars, often finds it difficult to talk what with all his excitement, over the latest addition. The baby was born two weeks ago.

Villanova To Meet Kentucky In Bowl Game

Cardinals Take Easy Lead In Bowling League

By Arnold Keehn

The Villanova Intramural Bowling League inaugurated its initial league matches last Thursday, at the Main Line Bowling Center. There is still an opportunity for additional five man squads to enter into the league. Anyone wishing to join should be on hand this Thursday.

. . Hulbert and Corr Lead Team . .

The Cardinals, led by Bill Hulbert and John Corr, took a comparatively easy four points from the Woodchoppers bowling five man, total pin scores of 762, 747, 679 as compared to the Woodchoppers scores of 623, 736, 655. The Cardinals gained three points on games and one point for total pins. Hulbert had a 194 game for the Cardinals while Bill Jones rolled a 175 score for the Woodchoppers.

Toth and Jim Duffy paced the Cats to a three point victory over the Rebels, having a total pin score of 771 and 768. The Rebels lone point was gained by a 690-655 win. Jim Duffy rolled high score for the league with a 212 game and a three game average of 171. Blank had a 188 game for the Rebels.

League Standings as of Nov. 6

	Won	Lost
(1) Cardinals	4	0
(2) Cats	3	1
(3) Rebels	1	3
(4) Woodchoppers	0	4

Schedule for Nov. 13.
Cardinals vs. Rebels
Cats vs. Woodchoppers

Georgetown . .

(Continued from Page 1)

success this year, rolling over Fordham University, Tulsa and N.Y.U., while losing to Wake Forest, St. Louis, and Boston College. In the only game common to both teams' schedule, Georgetown was beaten by Boston College, 26-10, while the Wildcats were edged by the Eagles, 6-0.

Friday's meeting will mark the sixth time these two Catholic Colleges have met, with Villanova holding a slim edge on the series, Having won 3 while losing 2. The series, one of the oldest in the history of formal football at Villanova, commenced in 1904 when the 'Cats were blanked, 17-0. Slashing back, the Wildcats won in '05 and '30 by scores of 6-0 and 13-0, respectively.

C. Y. A. To Sponsor Clash of Wildcats At Cleveland, Dec. 6

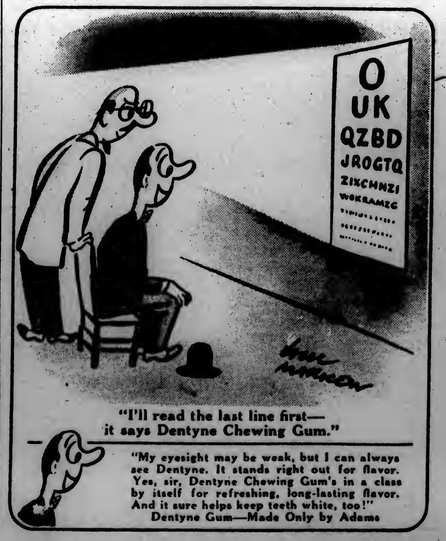
By Harry Jacobs

This story was withheld too long to make last week's issue. However, here are a few of the facts. Ed.

Last Tuesday it was announced from Cleveland, O., that Villanova will meet the University of Kentucky in a post season bowl game on 6 Dec. The game will be played at Clevelnad Staduim and it is to be the first annual Great Lakes Bowl game.

The contest, sponsored by the Cleveland Council of the Knights of Columbus, will be played for the benefit of the underprivileged children who are members of the CYA (Catholic Youth Organization). Although terms were not revealed, it was announced last week that each of the two teams would receive about $10,000.

Wildcats vs. Wildcats



Count Villian, III, Villanova's wildcat (which is in temporary custody of a few animal lovers from Georgetown) will be on hand to do battle with the Wildcat of Kentucky. It will be the first post-season game for the Southerners while for the Main Liners, it will be the second bowl game, having tied Auburn, 7-7, in the Bacardi Bowl played at Havana on New Year's Day, 1937.

Although Kentucky under Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant lost 2 tough games this season to Mississippi (14-7) and Alabama (13-0), they are nevertheless considered one of the power teams of the south. Cincinnati, Xavier, Georgia, Vanderbilt, Michigan State and last week, West Viriginia have all fallen by the wayside while Evansville and Tennessee remain to be played.

Villanova Has 3, 2, 1 Record

Villanova, to date, has scored 3 wins as against 2 losses, with one tie. Georgetown and San Francisco are the only regularly scheduled contests remaining to be played.

Plans are being drawn up to supply transportation for the expected large number of rooters who might wish to attend the season's finale.

"I'll read the last line first—it says Dentyne Chewing Gum."

"My eyesight may be weak, but I can always see Dentyne. It stands right out for flavor. Yes, sir, Dentyne Chewing Gum's in a class by itself for refreshing, long-lasting flavor. And it sure helps keep teeth white, too!"
Dentyne Gum—Made Only by Adams

Text of N. S. A. Report

By John A. McDermott and Phillip F. Barret

Part II

OBSERVATIONS AT MADISON OF THE SPIRIT OF THE DELEGATES

Our first observation is one that we consider especially significant. From the very first we were tremendously impressed with the spirit or attitude of the whole delegation. The convention had all the size and bustle of a large political convention, but none of the back room "under the board" politicking. We came prepared to witness bloc voting on a regional basis-we saw none. We came prepared to band together with other catholic schools against interests bitterly opposed to us-we never had the slightest need to do this. Provincialism, petty sectarianism were all overcome by a marvelous spirit of common purpose and cooperation.

The spirit was one of awareness too-awareness of the great potentialities of a National Student Association. This awareness was engendered by a maturity and intelligence which in our humble opinion has never before been exhibited by the American student community. The delegates seemed to realize their potential role in the creation of a world society which can overcome its differences and live in mutual harmony. It was this awareness of their position in the world society that caused the many sided differences of the delegates to be overcome and that caused the N. S.A. to become in actuality what it had been up to that time on paper.

The conclusions which we drew from this spirit are probably quite obvious. First, we saw that students could really sit down together and work on their common problems. Second, we saw that the high purposes of the high purposes of the N.S.A. could really be eventually accomplished because they were no more than mere words to the delegates. Thirdly, we concluded that the N.S.A. was really worth serious consideration because the students showed that they were big enough to meet the problems that beset them.

OF THE ADOPTED PROGRAM OF THE N.S.A.

To accomplish the many purposes of the National Student Association, it was early realized that definite program of action was necessary. Accordingly the delegates were divided into three panels which treated three different fields of possible N.S.A. activity. These were Panel (1) Academic Freedom and student activities; Panel (2)'Educational Opportunity; Panel (3) International Activities.

This report will present an outline of the panel reports because of their voluminous character. A copy of the final approved report will be made available as soon as they are forwarded from Madison.

Panel (1) This report first adopts a set of principles on academic freedom. These are a repetition of the principles stated by the American Association of University Professors - Vol. 32 No. 4 AAUP Bul. The report then adopts a Student Bill of Rights which the NSA holds as essential to the full development of the student as an individual and to the fulfillment of his responsibilities as a citizen. Significant is the clause which states that the Bill of Rights shall not be construed as interfering with the right of private institution to set up specifically defined standards in line with the avowed purpose of its establishment. There is then set up definite criteria for the application of the Student Rights. A program is suggested for student-faculty-administration relations. This is followed by proposed programs for cultural development.

Panel (2) This panel set up definite steps to be taken by the N.S.A. on government aid, the discrimination problem—with a special section on Southern states. Policies are set on educational facilities, academic standards and curricula reform.

Panel (3) This panel set or rather recommended policy towards UNESCO, WSSF, and ISS and then set up a line of proposed activities on-Publication of Intn'l. student's activities, academic exchange, travel and summer tours, relief, projects for foreign students in the U. S., problems of development of contracts with foreign groups of students.

Summary of Panel Reports — In essence these reports (as approved) do nothing more than delineate a line of action for the activities in the first year. This means that the students of the whole country are getting together to solve such things as—the problems of a responsible and authoritative student government — free and responsible student press — academic freedom for teachers etc. It means that opportunities for summer travel abroad will be approached on a broader basis. IT means that the students are doing things together. The programs are all worthwhile and practically without controversy. They are the sort of thing that we believe'(and usually only believe) our education should be filled with.

Attention Juniors

The Loren Murchison Co. Repsresentative will take ring orders from 11 A. M. to 4 P. M. on Wed., Thurs. & Fri. of this week in the Villanovan office and at the Junior class meeting on Wednesday.

SPRITZLERS
For VAN HEUSEN Shirts
47 W. LANCASTER AVE.
Ardmore, Pa. Ard. 0176

JOHN DOUGLASS CO.
Formal Attire Rentals
69th Street Theatre Bldg.
UPPER DARBY
Open Mon., Tues., Wed.
BLVD. 5957 Till 9:30 P. M.

JEANNETT'S
Bryn Mawr Flower Shop
Corsage Specialists
FREE DELIVERY
823 Lancaster Ave.
BRYNMAWR , PA.
Bryn Mawr 0570 : Flowers by Wire

KEEP SUPPLIED WITH SCHOOL TICKETS
GOOD ON BUSES AND RAIL CARS UNTIL USED
5c a Ride, including Special Free Transfers. Obtain identification Cards at School Office.
RED ARROW LINES
Philadelphia Suburban Transportation Co.

Meet your friends at the GREEKS
Tasty Sandwiches
Superior Soda Fountain Service
Luncheon :: Dinner
818 Lancaster Ave.
Bryn Mawr, Pa.

WHY WALK?
CLEANING PRESSING
We Pick Up and Deliver Daily at the
PIE SHOP
COLLEGE TAILOR
COLADONATO TAILOR SHOPPE
• SERVICE
• GOOD WORK
• PRE-WAR PRICES
2 Arthur Road
Rosemont, Penna.
BRYN MAWR, PA.

Here, in question and answer form, are some facts on the U. S. Air Force Aviation Cadet program. They cover details you may have been wondering about—and will be useful to you if you want to learn to fly and begin a career in one of today's fastest-moving fields.

1. Who is eligible for appointment to the Cadets?

You, if you're physically fit, single, between 20 and 26½ years old, and have completed at least one-half the requirements for a college degree from an accredited institution — or pass an equivalent examination.

2. How long does the training last—and what does it cover?

You receive approximately 52 weeks' training — worth $35,000 — in primary, basic and advanced flying, along with other related courses designed to give you the finest background in your specialty.

3. What's the story on duty after graduation?

After successful completion of the course, you will be commissioned a Second Lieutenant, Officers Reserve Corps, and assigned to pilot duty with the U. S. Air Force at a starting monthly salary of $336 (including flight pay). You will serve on active duty for three years unless sooner relieved, and be eligible for $500 a year bonus for each year of active duty as a Reserve Officer. If you're interested in a Regular Air Force commission, you'll be given a chance to qualify.

4. What are the civilian career opportunities?

That's one you can answer for yourself by taking into consideration these facts: Contrary to what some people think, aviation is not overcrowded — for pilots or anyone else. No field is expanding more rapidly or offering more profitable openings to qualified men. After Aviation Cadet training, you can compete on an equal basis with any flier in the world.

These are only a few of the advantages. Why not stop in today at your nearest U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station and get all the details?

★

U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Service

ASME

On the afternoon of Nov. 6th, in room 214 Mendel, the A.S.M.E. held its second official meeting of the current school year.

Joseph Beals, Chairman, announced that on December 1, 2, and 3, the A.S.M.E. will hold its yearly Convention at Atlantic City. At least sixty students from the Student Branch of Villanova College are expected to attend. The Junior Members of the Philadelphia Chapter will supply transportation and care for expenses.

Also mentioned were plant trips to Autocar in Ardmore and Siboney Distilling Corporation in Philadelphia, to study assembly line layout, plant organization, and alcohol distilling, and many other industrial applications.

The meeting adjourned with the appointment of the following men as Chairmen of the newly formed Sub-Committee: Norman K. Cobb, Trip Committee; Hank Tobleman, Smoker Committee; Bill Altenpohl, Advertising Committee; and Donald Barait, Movie Committee.

Hoyas Show Stutf

(Continued from Page 1)

was boarded at the Zoo, and so they departed for the campus. Here they mingled with the students, and asked questions concerning the whereabouts of the cat. No one seemed to be able to supply the information. For two nervous hours they plied the students with their questions, but all to no avail.

After looking around the campus the three captors decided to look in the barn across the pike. Finding the barn door open, their hopes were confirmed because they saw the cat inside. The time was about 3 P. M.

Dosed as A. A. Officials

Under the guise of A. A. officials who needed the cat for a Marquette rally that night, they approached the watchman and asked that the cat be placed in their custody. The watchman refused, saying that they must have a written permission from the administration.

A short while later, they returned with a forged note of release. Again, they were refused by the watchman, who said that they must see Gunther Kaiser, one of the student custodians of the cat. At this, they became indignant, and put on a show of theatrical explosions and indignation at being so rudely treated. The watchman held his ground, however, and they turned away beaten and dejected.

Watchman Fooled

Having come so far, however, they decided to try just once more and returned at 8:30 P. M. Putting on their most persuasive show, they told the watchman that Kaiser was no where to be found, and that the administration was humiliated because of the way the were treated by him. They told him that his job was at stake, and he had better cooperate. This was too much for the poor watchman and he finally broke down and helped them cart the cat away.

Finding it impossible to load into their station wagon, they left and returned at 9:20 P. M. with a truck hired in Bryn Mawr. They loaded the cat and drove to Jenkintown where they transferred the cat to another truck, and at 1:15 A. M. departed for Georgetown, their mission accomplished.

Meanwhile the driver of the hired truck sensing that all was not on the up and up, called Fedigan Hall and told Paul Cavanaugh, who answered the phone, of the stealth. Doubtful of the story, Cavanaugh called John Callahan another of the student custodians and he told Cavanaugh that as far as he knew the cat was perfectly safe. Thus died the last chance of saving the cat while still in Philadelphia.

Since last Thursday, a number of attempts have been made to rescue the cat and all have been unsuccessful.

VILLANOVAN

VOL. 23—No. 6 VILLANOVA COLLEGE, VILLANOVA, PA. Tuesday, November 18, 1947

REIMEL '24 NAMED 16TH RECIPIENT OF LOYALTY AWARD

Alumnus Is Assistant District Attorney of Phila.

Vinrent A. Gordon, president of the Villanova Alumni Club of Philadelphia, announced last week that Theodore L. Reimel, '24, has been chosen to receive the 16th annual Loyalty trophy given yearly by the club.

Mr. Reimel is the assistant District Attorney of Philadelphia assigned to trial cases in court of Quarter Sessions. The award will be given him at the Annual Football Dinner, Dec. 9 at the Benjamin Franklin hotel.

He was chosen for this award by a committee made up of previous recipients of the trophy. The trophy is given for "Zeal for Alumni matters, outstanding loyalty to the alumni association and unselfish service in behalf of all things Villanova." The award itself is a silver football inscribed with the above words and the names of all past recipients.

Mr. Theodore L. Reimel, '24

WORKED AS REPORTER

Mr. Reimel graduated from Villanova in 1924 after completing the Liberal Arts course. He then attended Temple law school and received his LLB degree in 1928. He has been active in newspaper work acting as reporter and correspondent for the Philadelphia Record, and later becoming editor of the Kensington Bulletin. He was admitted to the bar in 1925.

From 1929 to 1932 he tried civil cases for other attorneys and from 1933 to 1937 he was attorney for the Pennsylvania Rapid Transit company. He was also attorney for the Quaker City Cab company and the Yellow Cab company of Philadelphia. Mr. Reimel is a consultant on manslaughter cases and has edited a number of legal books.

Belle Masque Presents Medley of Fantasy, Drama

Rev. William J. Krupa O.S.A. moderator of the Belle Masque Dramatic Society presents this week three one-act plays for the pleasure of the students of Villanova and their friends. The playbill includes: The Fisherman, The Twelve Pound Look, and the third act of Our Town.

Curtain will be at eight-thirty on Monday and Tuesday December 24th and 25th in the Villanova Field House.

In response to a desire to keep the Belle Masque on the level of an intra scholastic activity, admission will be free. Invitations have been extended to the students of the neighboring colleges of Chestnut Hill, Immaculata, and Rosemont.

Victory - Death Themes Capture Trophy

DELURY HALL, left; FEDIGAN HALL, right.

Rally, Dance Climax Week; Decorations Race Ends In Tie

Interfrat Ball Laudable Success

Climaxing a long weekend of activities on the campus the Interfraternity Ball on Saturday night was well attended and followed the Georgetown game events.

The music of the Villanovans was smooth and solid. Miss Marian Stodder the new vocalist with the band was a huge success and everyone voiced their approval. She was selected from the many participants in the audition held Thursday, November 6th.

Miss Stodder matriculated at Rosemont College in 1946 after attending Notre Dame Academy in Moyan. She has appeared on many radio shows and was one of the four finalists in auditions held by Benny Goodman.

FOR PICTURE SEE PAGE 4

The Field House was decorated

(Continued on Page 4)

Area NROTC Exam Slated for Villanova

Lieut. Com. Little has announced that a test will be given for all NROTC applicants in the Villanova area at this college, December 13 at 8:45 A. M.

The majority of the 50,000 applications received by the November 10th deadline were high school seniors. Of the 50,000 applicants 10,000 are expected to qualify for a physical exam. The physical will in all probability reduce the number to 2,500. This final group will then be interviewed by selection boards, each consisting of a business man, a Naval Officer and an educator. The qualified men will then take up their studies at the 52 NROTC colleges in the country.

It was also disclosed by the Navy Office that 3 senior contract students have made application for Regular Commissions. Two of these men have requested Navy commissions while the other man has chosen the Marines.

Proper applications and physical records will be sent to Washington to await the decision of the Bureau of Personnel.

Jubilant Throng Lauds Team

Although hundreds of men were patrolling the campus and guarding the decorations against a possible Georgetown attack, over two-thousand men cheered on the Wildcats at the Georgetown 'Game of the Year' rally. Led by Nick Albano, chairman of the Rally Committee, the students poured into the Field House Thursday night to hear Coach Jordan Olivar sound the keynote of the week's events: "We've got a great ball club, the student body has shown how well they will back it up, and Georgetown will feel the full weight of our fury Friday night at Shibe Park".

Bill Friel, Alumni Secretary, presented the William Connelly plaque to the winner of the Hall decoration contest. The award was split between Fedigan, perennial awardtaker, and the Delurey Halls. The sport shirts awarded to the 'varsity' by the Student Council were presented to the team by Council chairman Don Collins. Villanova's gameband rocked the gym with Wildcat songs between the speeches.

Surprise speaker of the evening was diminutive Rosemary McCarron, woman sports-writer of the Philadelphia Inquirer staff. She brought the house down with her rousing "Tomorrow night let Philadelphia know that the Wildcats are out to win."

Nick Albano started off the evening with the band playing "College Days". This was followed by the cheer-leaders going through the list of college yells to the roaring accompaniment of the students. Nick followed this up with the announcement that the Inter-Fraternity Ball Saturday night was going to be the 'Georgetown Victory Dance'.

After the inspiring "March of the Wildcats" was aired, Nick brought attention to the Villanova-Pennsylvania 150 lb. clash on Friday. The wildkitens were cheered to the rafters by the stands.

Mister Olivar's speech, although praising the team as a whole, singled out Bob Polidor, Georgetown Game Captain, as a man of exceptional ability, nerve, spirit, and unselfishness. Rising at the crowd's mandate, Polidor himself gave credence to Olivar's remarks, when he

(Continued on Page 7)

Coveted Plaque Won By Fedigan, Delurey

Traditional Wildcat spirit reached new heights last Thursday with all resident students in keen competition to merit the coveted Connelly award. The campus, thundering with music, was flooded with lights illuminating decorations proclaiming Villanova victory.

After tallying their findings the judges decided on a tie between Fedigan and Delurey halls. William Connelly, chairman of the judging committee and donor of the award, offered a second and duplicate prize. Because of his generosity each hall will display their winning plaque.

Fedigan Hall featured a huge blue "V" in back of which a comet, representing Villanova, fell crushing Georgetown. Another theme depicted a Hoya being beheaded and buried with his fellow teammates.

Complete with undertakers, a graveyard and a hearse, Delurey Hall dramatized the funeral of the once active Georgetown team.

Black drapes covered the dorm with bereaved Hoyas standing around weeping for their fallen comrades.

Residents of Simpson Hall presented their version of the fourth atomic attack. A large tinfoil replica of the Bikini blast pictured the crumbling of the Jesuit institution.

Not to be outdone the Freshmen of Barricks 2 and 3 fired a salvo from the USS Wildcat into the quickly sinking USS Georgetown.

Death by hanging was the motif of O'Dwyer hall's exposition. This building was almost completely covered with placards reminding "the Rebels" that even though they captivated "the cat" they could not captivate the team.

Good Council had many varied decorations among which Jack Jawbreaker, Dinah Fatfield and many other comic characters praised the Alma Mater.

The scene of another atomic extravaganza took place at Austin Hall. The opponents team "rested in pieces" after being bombed by Polidor, Capriotti, Gordon and Schmidt.

(Continued on Page 4)

TESTS ON CAMPUS RADIO STATION CONTINUE THIS WEEK

Experimental Broadcasts to Continue During Evening at 540 on Dial

Operating under temporary approval of the administration, Villanova's radio station has been testing since last Wednesday. Pending final approval and assignment of an operating room, the station is conducting experimental broadcasts from the third floor of O'Dwyer hall.

Coming in at 540 on the radio dial, the reception thus far has been good in Mendel and Fedigan halls. Improvements now being made will mean clear reception throughout the campus. Present broadcasts from O'Dwyer hall, under direction of Matt Kearney, Emil Mika, and Dick McKinley, are featuring musical recordings. With the advent of regular broadcasts and a permanent studio, a variety of programs is anticipated. Broadcasting time is expected to be between 8 P.M. and 11 P.M.

MATT KEARNY

The station was set up by a group of interested students, mostly from the Physics department. Operations at present are being conducted under temporary permission only. Official inauguration awaits the approval of the President.

Local Lecturer Discusses Points in Race Relations Before Inter-racial Club

Tonight the Inter Racial Club of Villanova College is sponsoring a forum which will have for its guest speaker Mr. Lewis J. Carter, Jr. The meeting will be held in room 215, Mendel Hall, and will start at eight o'clock.

Mr. Carter will have for his topic "Some Basic Elements in Inter Racial Relations and Practical Applications of the Same."

After the lecture a discussion will be held concerning these points. "Why is there racial prejudice?" "Is racial prejudice on the decline?" "What does the Negro want from the American economy?" and, "Is the Negro an economic liability?"

Mr. Carter has given similar lectures in Beaver College and to the Inter Relations Group Forum of Temple University. Mr. Carter is a member of the Speakers Bureau and a representative of the Labor Education Association of the Philadelphia Conference of Christians and Jews.

At present Mr. Carter is the industrial Secretary of the Armstrong Association, Educators and Social Engineers in the field of Race Relations.

Mr. Carter received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Pennsylvania

(Continued on Page 2)

STRONG STUDENT GOVT. — Possibility or Dream?

During the past summer some seven hundred students sat down together and did some very serious thinking about issues and problems which we have in common. As you might have guessed, the question of responsible democratic student government was a major topic in these discussions. It seems that the great majority of American students strongly advocate authoritative student government, but very few student communities have been able to obtain it.

The feeling was so strong on this point that these delegates, representatives of more than half of America's students, included in a Student Bill of Rights the statement that "every student has a right to democratic student government."

This fact, plus the knowledge that authoritative student government is comparatively rare in American colleges would lead one to believe that there is a serious conflict between the students and the faculty on the value, necessity and worth of responsible student government.

This writer feels, however, that such is not the case, and the purpose of this editorial is to illuminate the actual problem and point the way to the solution.

What Students Say

We students in considering the problem of student government, build our case this way. We see education as essentially a personal endeavor. We understand that colleges and universities exist mainly to aid man in developing himself—to guide him—to advise him—to light his way—to illuminate his search for the road to a better life and the attainment of his ultimate goals, however, we realize that essentially we are the ones who must do the work of education. We must live our own lives. We must build the structure on our own.

Thus it is that the student armed with these principles deems it so natural that he govern himself in his small student world. He says "If I am preparing myself now for a life where I must stand on my own and make my own decisions, certainly now as a mere student, I should stand on my own. Certainly now, I should make the relatively less important decision needed in society."

What Faculties Say

Strangely enough to many of you may be the fact that a great many of the faculties the nation over (as was revealed at the convention) almost completely agree with this point of view. They state that they would be glad to be relieved of such burdens as student discipline and student affairs, etc. They would rather that the emphasis be on COOPERATION with amature student body. Moreover, they point out the great benefits to be had in student government. They feel that it is the finest preparation for the important role of citizen that each college graduate soon undertakes.

Where then is the conflict? It is in the disagreement over the application of these principles. The faculties declare that the American student has not exhibited enough maturity and intelligence to justify his use of powerful student gov't. They point out that students have not even shown interest in assuming the responsibility of government much less the ability and hence the colleges govern the student out of expedience rather than desire.

More over, in America the action of a few irresponsible students insures the reputation of the whole school and in many cases a bad reputation simply cannot be financially afforded, and so colleges are often extremely reluctant about giving real power to the students.

In my opinion here in this disagreement lies the reason why Villanova and most American schools do not have strong student governments. I believe that the faculty of Villanova would welcome authoritative student government, if they believed that the students could carry the responsibility. Evidently they do not think that council has exhibited enough ability to date.

The unfortunate thing about this situation is the vicious circle it lends itself to. The students feel that they do not have enough power to do anything very worthwhile and the faculty feels that the government hasn't done anything to merit real authority and so no progress is made.

What Our Student Council Should Do

What is to be done? Since it is primarily their affair, the initiative should be taken by the students. To attain responsible student government at Villanova, I think the student council must aim at proving to the administration that they have the ability to assume real authority. They must show themselves to be more than a mere sounding board of student gripes ready to run to the administration on the slightest provocation. They must demonstrate their understanding of the administration's position. They must show themselves not to be below reprimanding the students. Because student life consists of more than football rallies and the condition of the food, they must show themselves concerned with more than this phase of student life. All in all their every action must exhibit a more responsible attitude than has been evidenced in years past.

This is no small task; in fact it is a tremendous job. Knowing the men on the council, however, I believe that there is no dearth of talent and that under the present leadership which is by far the best in my years at Villanova, this goal can be achieved.

This Student Council could rise to the greatest heights in the history of the Villanova student body. It could perform the task. Is it up to it? I sincerely hope so.

John A. McDermott

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

WILLIAM F. ALTENPOHL, '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
JOHN A. McDERMOTT, '48 ..... Managing Editor
JACK CASBY, '49 ..... News Editor
HUGH W. JOHNSON, '49 ..... Sports Editor
GEORGE SZYMANSKI, '50 ..... Feature Editor
RICHARD HUBBARD, '48 ..... Picture Editor
VINCE PEDANO, 49 ..... Circulation Manager
NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI, '48 ..... Business Manager
EDWARD OXFORD, '50 ..... Copy Editor
JAMES PLUNKETT '48 ..... Assoc. Sports Editor

News Staff

Michael Marshal '49, Richard Shinners '48, Michael Joseph Nowlan '49, Charles Lafferty '49, Frank Golie '51, Frank Gusikowski '51, Thomas Mitchell '51, Joseph Miller '50, Martin Bender '49, John James Connolly '51, Joseph Kinney '50, Joseph Callahan '51, George R. Reinhart '51, Arthur Woodrow

Feature Staff

R. E. Manifold '51, William Brenninghouse '51, Joseph Quill '50, A. J. Mullen '49, David V. Anthony '51, John A. Rowe '51, Gunther Kaiser '49, P. McManus '48, John Mallick '49, Vince O Nell '51, Mark Morris '51, James Tayoun '51, Leo Dodd '49, Emil Mayer '49, Richard Hudak '49, Thomas Russo '49.

Sports Staff

James Lyons '48, Paul Altenpuhl '49, Ned Hoffner '49, Arnold Keehan '49, William Canino '50, Neal Fahy '50, George Mondschein '50, Raymond Mondschein '50, Tyson Reilly '50, Walter Rygiel '05, Harry Jacobs '51, William Kiussarlis '51, Raymond MacWilliams '51, Paul Presesede '51, Harold Range '51.

Picture Staff

Robert Graf '50, Raymond Berninger '49, Dan Haflinger '50, William Neal Carter '51, Dan Robinson '51, William Murphy '51, Harry Papaan '51, Robert Pope '50.

Business Staff

Joe King '48, Barry Gibbons '51, Jack Gibbons '51, Donald Barall '50.

Circulation Staff

Vince Pedano '49, George Weber, III, '51, Ralph Iorio '50, Ed Kent '51, Charles Clunk '51, Ralph Skowron '51, Gene Langan '51, Juan F. Calzada '51, William J. Coakley '50.

Copy Staff

Frank McGeehan '50, Girard Farman '50, Edcar Le Blanc '50, Steve Keiss '51, Robert MacRoberts '51, William Foley '50, Dick Randolph '50.

Faculty Advisor— Rev. John A. Klekotka, O.S.A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman —
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription: $2 per year. Circulation: 5000.
Entered as second class matter at the Villanova Post Office December 27, 1928.

Member of Associate Collegiate Press, Distributor of Collegiate Digest. Member of Catholic School Press Association. Catholic College Press Association.

Pride and Predjudice

It would be flagrant hypocrisy, to pretend that the position "enjoyed" today by the Negro in the United States is in harmony with our democratic principles. A cursory glance will prove this beyond question.

It is the negro, subject of a multitude of social disabilities, who knows what it is to have school doors slammed in his face. He has felt the vehemence of courts, judging race instead of crime. Insult and humiliation have been heaped upon him in theatres, restaurants, hotels, trains, and planes. Yes, he knows the ghettoes!

Yet, recognizing and admitting these injustices, we still prefer prejudice to truth. We ignore with perfect complacency our undeniable obligation to right the wrongs done to an injured race.

Why must discrimination exist? That is the question which we ourselves must answer. Can we possibly conjure up satisfactory and justifiable reasons for its existence?

Yet bigotry and prejudice do continue. We all realize that we'll never effect a solution to this negro question unless we make that problem a relative one. We must seek to understand and know more of it. How can we combat a disease of which we are totally unaware or having seen its ugly head, take its existence with a "just one of those things" attitude?

Education then, is important. Those among the students who have some interest already will seek to cultivate and nourish it further. Those who have no interest cannot possibly be adamant when this question faces them. During this week we will have the opportunity and privilege of hearing an authority on the question. The truth is waiting. It is for us to seek and be informed.

To The Editor

14 Nov., 1947.

TO THE STUDENT BODY

Men of Villanova:

This letter will serve two purposes.

First, it will thank you for your splendid cooperation in preparing the halls for the Connelly award.

The amount of effort and the abundance of spirit displayed were phenomenal. Add the more notable were these things when we consider that decorations and the Connelly award are virtually new entities among us today. Few remember those glorious years of school spirit prior to the war and to service, but all will acknowledge that our decorations this year left little wanting.

And, this brings us to our second purpose, a point of clarification. In order to avoid campus favoritism, our student counsel decided to select for the Connelly award judges who would be impartial. We were very fortunate in having five well known and well liked Villanova men accept our invitations — Bill Connelly, Jordan Oliver, Art Raimo, Bob Whelan, and Bill Friel. We defy anyone to find finer, more congenial, and more receptive judges.

Each judge was directed to consider workmanship, artistry, theme, and originality in his decisions. Further, each judge was given his own particular score card which listed the names of the Halls and which had a column for evaluation of the Halls. The basis of the scoring was ten points for the perfect set-up and one point for the least perfect one with degrees of perfection ranging from one point to ten.

Here are the results as Chairman Bill Connelly gave them to us:

Delurey	8	9	9	9	8	43
O'Dwyer	6	7	6	8	7	34
Simpson	7	8	7	9	10	41
Mendel	4	2	1	3	5	15
Fedigan	7	9	9	9	9	43
Good Consel	6	5	5	8	7	31
Alumni	5	5	2	7	7	26
Austin	5	6	3	7	6	27
Barracks No. 2 & 3	9	6	9	8	8	40
Barracks No. 1 & 4	8	4	4	4	6	26

It's all over for this year, fellows; Again from us to you, thanks for your spirit; and from all of us to the judges and to the school authorities, many thanks for your advice and cooperation.

NICHOLAS ALBANO, Jr.,
Chairman Spirit Committee.

Odds and Ends

By Joseph Leary

How many things get to be said before you can say them. In a kind of a way, it seems that Thomas Aquinas, Walt Whitman, Dean Swift, and some others have definitely standardized eminent sections of the vocabulary. Possibly everything of value has been said, and originality on any subject feels obsolete, or in the least, worn. Consider one, learned, who spoke the bit, "I had a mole," in the German tongue so that no one realized quite precisely what he did have. This particular mole was a facial one, therefore his coinage was not a squeamish endeavor to hide a lump. Rather, he felt that stating the fact for the layman, not a hair would have been added toward any original thought on this, or any other subject.

When one, for example, voices an opinion that many people are bilious with their own self-possession and concerned primarily with a systematic greed and the removal of eyebrows, one feels it has been said. And when one adds that these same are responsible for world troubles, that allegiance to mammon must be offset by loyal, God-fearing, intelligent men, one feels he may be wearing his oldish coat.

One fairly novel gew-gaw may be discovered in this poem of J. Horace Wuchus, done in his earlier youth.

"Wheels?"

"Do you think you've really found
What makes those wheels go round and round,
Those famous "Wheels" so often spoke
In many a tune or passing joke,
The ones that begin their roll at birth,
And roll right up to that mound of earth
That speaks of death and dust to dust?
If truthful wisdom is your goal,
Paraphrase the "Wheels" to soul.
Who turns the "Wheels?"
Listen to me,
It's only God can make a tree."

Only part of the piece is reprinted. Though J. Horace has a novel idea on an old subject, doubtless he was in earlier youth at the time of writing.

Campus Calender

Wednesday, November 18
Delta Phi Mu—Room 215 Mendel —12:00 P.M.

Wednesday, November 19
Rev. Henry Eagen O.S.A. speaks on "Hell"—Chapel

Thursday, November 20
Rev. Henry Eagen O.S.A. speaks on "Hell"—Chapel

Sunday, November 23
VILLANOVA vs San Francisco—Broadcast 5:00 P.M. (ET)

Monday and Tuesday, November 24 and 25
Belle Masque—Plays—Feld House—

Tuesday, November 25
Next issue of Villanovan

Local Lecturer

(Continued from Page 1)

State college, where he majored in history and political science, and minored in the Romance languages. He received his Master's Degree in Economics from the same institution.

Previous to his work with the Armstrong Association, Mr. Carter worked for the State of Pennsylvania, and assistant principal and teacher of French and Latin in the Academy Heights High School in Pinehurst, North Carolina.

Mr. Carter is a member of the Frontiers Club of America, of the Men of Cliveden, Omega Psi Phi, the national romance language honorary fraternity Phi Sigma Iota, and the Germantown Y. M. C. A.

Rev. William J. Lunney is the moderator of the Inter Racial Club, and has extended invitations to this meeting to the whole student body and their friends.

SPIRIT TAKES TOLL OF HOYAS

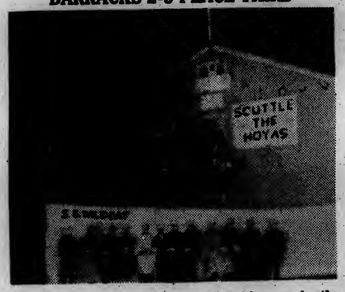
RALLY'S GUEST SPEAKER

Rosemary McCarron, a member of the Philadelphia Inquirer staff, speaking at the rally last Thursday night.

VILLANOVA'S BOMBERS

George Klein Knecht, holding flight plans, left, and Martin Stoker, bombardier and pilot on the aerial excursion to Georgetown, stand ready to take off.

HOYAS TAKE TOLL OF 'CATS



Ed Sullivan as he appeared for class Thursday morning after a jaunt by auto to the Georgetown campus Wednesday night.

SECOND PLACE DECORATIONS

Simpson Hall as it appeared for the judging Thursday night.

BARRACKS 2-3 PLACE THIRD

The "ship" barracks follow Simpson in the judges eyes before Thursday's rally.

LAST LOOK

As we trekked our weary way back to school we happened to note this happy sight.

SNIFF, SNIFF!

The gift, to Butch, which only a dog can appreciate.

New Vocalist Warbles at Dance

INTERFRAT BALL

(Continued from Page 1)

with a Wildcat theme. There was a wildcat banner hanging behind the band on the stage with banners with the symbols of the fraternities who held the dance, decorating the Field House. In the center of the floor was a white column surrounded by a small picket fence.

The Inter-frat Ball was a very successful dance with much praise due the fraternities responsible for the affair.

EXPANSION PROGRAM IS YEAR BOOK THEME

After more than a month of ground work the Belle Aire staff announced its theme for this year's issue.

The chief topic will be the physical expansion of the campus; the construction of new buildings and beautification of the grounds. The various stages of construction will be shown, from ground breaking, to excavations, to steel skeletons, to completed edifices with landscaped surroundings.

To date the photography has progressed at a rapid pace, and several phases of campus life have already been filmed for future Villanovans. The decorations on the residence halls have been photographed, and the 150 pound football team has posed.

An added feature of this year's issue will be a pictorial account of the typical week end of a Villanova student. This includes, of course, a fair young thing, the big game, the dance, and so forth.

Other details have not been divulged by the editor.

The 60-man staff of the Belle Aire is the largest in years, headed by James Mitchell and Raymond Cummings, co-editors.

JUNIOR CLASS AWARDS BLAZER CONTRACT TO LORD AND LORD

Some sixty members of the Junior class met last Wednesday evening in C & F Auditorium to select the type and color of the Class of '49 blazers.

Lord and Lord of Philadelphia was awarded the contract for the three-buttoned, dark blue blazers. A sample of the blazer, which will cost $23.75, will be displayed shortly in Mendel Hall.

Frank McBride, Chairman of the blazer committee, cleared much confusion, by differentiating between a sport coat and a blazer by stating that the latter is a solid color coat.

There was much discussion on such matters as price, style, material etc. The price was determined by due consideration of the quality and tailoring. Lord and Lord offered the lowest price on what was desired. Major discussion centered over whether the contract should be awarded by such a minority or another meeting should be called.

The college seal will be affixed on a removable pad to the left breast pocket. Probable colors of the seal will be silver, blue, and gold.

After the meeting the ring representative of Loren Murchison & Co. took orders for class rings, samples of which were displayed.

Conveted Plaque Won

(Continued from Page 1)

Alumni Hall, draped in pennants, showed motion pictures of other college games which greatly amused the crowd.

Barricks 1 and 4 made their bid for the Connelly plaque by portraying a graveyard. The windows of the buildings were illuminated spelling out "Beat Georgetown".

A sign depicting a Wildcat eating Hoya was hung outside of Mendel Hall by the dayhops.

During the rally which followed the inspection of the decorations Mr. William Friel, one of the judges, presented the plaque to Joe Ringlestein and Frank Cantwell, chairmen of the decorations committee for Fedigan and Delurey Halls, respectively.

Ringlestein and Cantwell for Fedigan and Delurey Halls, respectively gave short talks thanking the judges and residents of their dormitories for winning the most envied award on the campus.

No. 1 gift with seniors at 20 universities

Parker "51"

Copr. 1947 by The Parker Pen Company

Again this Christmas, Parker "51" is the world's most-wanted gift pen. In fact, seniors at 20 great universities voted Parker more-wanted than the next three makes of pens combined! All in all, 77 surveys in 29 countries confirm this preference. • Incomparable in its styling and performance—the "51" makes all writing a pleasure. So perfectly balanced—so responsive—so smooth gliding. And only the "51" is designed for satisfactory use with remarkable new Parker Superchrome—the super-brilliant, super-permanent ink that dries as it writes! • Choice of custom points to suit your individual style of handwriting . . . and smart gift colors. $12.50; $15.00. Pencils, $5.00; $7.50. Sets, $17.50 to $80.00. Parker V-S Pens, $8.75. Pencils, $4.00. The Parker Pen Company, Janesville, Wisconsin, U. S. A., and Toronto, Canada.

World's most wanted pen "51" writes dry with wet ink!"

Getting Down to Fundamentals

THESE PEOPLE ARE TELEPHONE EMPLOYEES, building a telephone system.

Not a real one, it's true, but a table-top replica that illustrates the fundamental problems which management meets every day in planning, financing, developing, and expanding a telephone system such as the one that serves your home town.

They raise miniature telephone poles. They string miniature telephone lines between homes and stores and the central office. They plot the changes required when a new telephone is installed . . . when a subscriber moves . . . when additional lines are needed in outlying sections of town. And they keep representative records of the money involved: where it comes from, how it is used, and how repaid.

Such training in the fundamentals of the business, as well as in technical matters, is part and parcel of a telephone career. It is background for good management . . . and good management, by trained and experienced employees, helps provide you with the best possible telephone service at the lowest possible cost.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

VILLANOVAN SPORTS

'Cats Down Georgetown, 14-12

FIRST BLOOD DRAWN

Joe Rogers, 34, (arrow) pushes over to make the score 6-6. Pasquariello, 46, cleared the hole with the help of John Sandusky, 58. Rives, 24, looks on helplessly as are Grahm, 35; Bonfore, 14, and Desmond, 22. Barker, 41, watches happily.

Rogers, Pasquarello Score as Villanova Wins Game of Year

By Harry Jacobs

Trailing by five big points at halftime, Villanova fought an uphill battle to win out over Georgetown by a score of 14-12 before 15,000 shivering fans at Shibe Park last Friday night. Although the Wildcats outgained the Hoyas, it was the educated toe of John Siano that made the with his perfect kicks for the point after touchdown.

Villanova, one of the nations best defensive teams against orthodox offensives, had lots of trouble with Georgetown's spread formation and the passing of Babe Baronowski. The Hilltoppers were a constant threat no matter where they had the ball.

Polidor Hurt on 30-yd. Run

In the opening period, Villanova showed its power. They pushed for 81 yds. with Joe Rogers carrying the ball across for the score. The highlight of the drive was a 30 yd. sweep by Bob Polidor around the end. He was stopped one yard short of the goal line and received a severe charley-horse on the upper left thigh which side-lined him for the remainder of the night.

Georgetown did all its scoring in the second period. Elmer Oberto started the drive by recovering a fumble on Villanova's 35. Going into their spread, the Hoyas passed down to the 10 yd. line. On a sneak over what would be left tackle in a regular formation, Brooke Beyer pushed down to the 2. Baronowski on a direct buck, plowed over for the score. His dropkick for the extra point was no good.

Jim Nalls Recovers

Later in that same stanza, Jim Nalls, who once played for the Irish of Notre Dame, took his turn at picking up a Wildcat fumble out this time, a lot closer, on the 22. Two pass plays were smeared by Ed Lanningan and Tom Smith. But on last down, Baronowski ran to his right to pass, saw all his receivers covered, tucked the ball under his arm and started for the goal line. It looked as though he would walk across the double white line until Bill Doherty come out of nowhere and forced the Hoya QB into the red flag. On a close decision, the ref called him over. Baronowski's dropkick was again short.

Brown Goes 71 Yds.

Right before the half ended with Georgetown leading 12-7, Villanova had the hopeful crowd on their feet. Andy Gordon, passing for 26 yards connected with Dan Brown. Gordon was driven hard after he threw the pass so Steve Rowanik came in. He chucked to Brown again for 43 yards to the Georgetown eight. Al Barker called for time to stop the clock by when time was back in, the ref ran in with his whistle blaring, ending the half.

Pasquarello Scores

After the usual shinanigans at half time, a rejuvinated Wildcat football team came out on the field determined to score again. Jack Tuiskie, who played a terrific game in substituting for the injured Polidor, started the t. d. march with a pass interception. He sprinted 32 yards to the Georgetown 28 before he was stopped. Ralph Pasquarello carried through center for 7. Joe Rogers then made it a first and 10. Gordon, Rogers and Pasquarello pushed it to the five. Although the Hilltoppers sent eight men into the line with 3 backer-ups a yard behind, John Sandusky and Al Barker opened up a hole to allow Pasquarello to score. John Siano, who once played at Georgetown before entering the Marine Corps, came in and made his second kick of the evening good. This was the last bit of scoring for both teams.

Tuiskie Intercepts

Late in the fourth period, the Hoya defense, sensing a run through the line, moved their defense in to make the ball carrier

(Continued on Page 6)

Intra. Football Schedule

Today
Mendel Maulers vs C&F Claws
Engineer Day Hops vs Barracks 1
Almuni Jawbreakers vs Brks 4 Vandals
Mendeleers vs Jawbreakers
Wednesday
Delurey vs Engineer Day Hops
Thursday
Jawbreakers vs C&F Claws
Delurey vs Mendel Maulers
Saturday
Engineer Day Hops vs Chipmunks

Cocco's Kittens Close Season Tieing Penn, 0-0

CAGERS IMPRESSIVE IN FAST SCRIMMAGE

By Jim Lyons

Last Wednesday, Al Severence sent his cage proteges against Coach Scofield's Brown Prep five. Villanova started an all Freshman five whose performance drew favorable comment.

Freshman Started

Although the fray was an informal affair, the names of the starters might be of some meaning. Sherman White, Don Solinsky, Jack Kane, Frank Gavin, and Sam Lackaye were in at the tap-off. White and Lackaye collaborated nicely and led the freshmen to a commanding advantage.

Both coaches substituted liberally and everyone on the Wildcat squad played. At times the action was ragged but frequent substitution worked to the detriment of any combination that was clicking.

Later, at Coach Scofield's request, Al sent in a varsity five. The superiority of the more experienced players was so overwhelming that they were quickly removed and a semblance of a contest returned.

Less Than 3 Weeks Left

Less than three weeks remain before the season opens and this is how the Wildcats shape up. As a team, they will be better than last year. How much better remains to be seen. The squad is better balanced than last year's quintet who compiled a 17-7 record. They need a big man—the giant that is standard equipment in basketball today, and to date no player has shown that defensive ability that wins for him the nick-name—"handcuffs."

Don't get me wrong. I am not selling the team short. These are merely my impressions of their performances to date. Tommy Sabol can be expected to get the ball off capped.

Winding up the 1947 season, Coach Tony Cocco's 150-lb. eleven battled to a scoreless tie with the Quakers from Penn before a crowd of about 1500 last Friday at Goodreau Stadium. It was the third tie this season as compared with one win over Cornell and one defeat at the hands of Navy, the league champs.

The game, for the most part, was a see-saw affair. Neither team could open up with a sustained drive. In the second period, Penn did move inside Villanova territory. But some fine defensive work by Captain Bob Fitzmeyer, Bob Furey, and Ned Hoffner, the Kittens held for downs on the 24.

Villanova Threatens

But late in the last period, the belated Villanova attack showed itself. Thanks to some quick opening holes, Dick Divine and Harry Knecht ripped off long runs of 28 and 11 yds., respectively.

That set the ball down on about the 14 yd. line of Penn. Then, in one of the fastest manuevers seen this season, Villanova ran off four running plays in 30 seconds. Twice they went out of bounds intentionally and twice they called for time.

With the pigskin resting on the Quaker five, with 30 seconds to go, Villanova received their toughest break of the game. And for that matter, the toughest break all season. On second down, the ball was snapped a little low and Harry Knecht, gambling on a chance of the boards many more times than other men his size will. Paul Arizon is very effective under the boards and will tap in follow ups on numerous occasions but these two players will only compensate for the lack of a giant. They can't take the place of one. Next year we will have a big man—a good big—man in the person of Sherman White. But until then, we will be handi-

(Continued on Page 6)

Wildcats Travel West To Meet San Francisco Dons

AUSTIN HALL COMETS GRAB FOOTBALL LEAD

Mondschein Inc., and Klucsarits

The Austin Comets entered competition in the Intramural Football League this week and swept to the top of the standings with three consecutive victories. Delurey, with one tie to mar its record, scored two more triumphs to gain the runner-up spot.

In their initial game, the Austin Comets downed the Mendel Maulers 24-0. The alert pass defense of the Comets set up all four touchdowns. An interception by Doris resulted in the first score and three other intercepted passes put the ball in scoring position each time. Capt Ray McNulty's touchdown passes to Eagan, O'Brien, and Doris turned the game into a runaway.

In the game with the C&F Claws, McNulty's passes again accounted for all of Austin's scoring. His bullseye passes were gathered in by Mundy, Doris, Bloom, and Eagan for another four touchdown total. A Claw pass from Duffy to Devlin averted a shutout and the final score was 24-6.

Held scoreless throughout the first half by Joe O'Brien's fighting Alumni Jawbreakers, the Austin Comets came back to keep their slate clean with a 12-0 victory. McNulty's arm again provided the winning margin with touchdown heaves to Ken O'Brien and George Eagan.

Delurey Moves Up

Delurey served notice that they will be in the thick of the title fight with two big victories over the Barracks 3 Skippers and Alumni Jawbreakers. McHale of Delurey rivaled McNulty of Austin for the week's individual honors by his performance against the erstwhile league leaders, the Skippers. He personally

(Continued on Page 6)

By Harry Jacobs

Making the longest trip in the history of football at Villanova College, Coach Jordan Oliver will take his squad out to San Francisco where they meet the Dons from the University of San Francisco. The game is scheduled for this Sunday at Kezar Stadium, kickoff, 2 p. m. (5 p. m.-EST). The game will be broadcast over WPEN.

Schedule

Here is the teams schedule: They leave Villanova tonight at 6 p. m. Tomorrow they will hold a workout in Chicago and again on Thursday in Denver. Saturday the team will arrive in San Francisco and a light workout is scheduled in Kezar stadium that afternoon.

After the game on Sunday, the mobile Wildcats take the Southern Pacific Special for Los Angeles where they will spend the whole day as guests of MGM Motion Picture Co. Grand Canyon will open its huge jaws to the Main Line footballers on Tuesday and Chicago will be serving turkey dinners on Thanksgiving. The team will arrive home on Friday where they will immediately start work on the Kentucky Bowl Game.

Ed McKeejar, Coach

As far as football goes, the USF

(Continued on Page 6)

Tickets for the Villanova? Kentucky Bowl Game went on sale yesterday, William Friel, Alumni Secretary, will handle the sale of his office in the absence of Bob Wealand, who will make the road trip to San Francisco.—Ed.

Announced prices:
$4.80
$3.60
$2.40*
$1.20*

*These tickets are on sale only at Municiple Stadium, Cleveland, which holds 80,000, on the Dec. 6, the day of the game.

SPORTORIAL

By Hugh Johnson, Sports Editor

Split bouquet this week. Half to Coach Jack Haggerty of Georgetown, the other half to his ace-in the-hole, Babe Baronowski.

Last year, Coach Haggerty had an average football team working from the conventional "T" formation. As you may remember, Georgetown had a poor season. Faced with the problem of playing with the same group again this year, Haggerty and his companion "Mush" Dubofsky introduced the use of the standard spread formation with a few variations of there own.

The score of the Villanova-Georgetown game last year, 19-2, or 3 td's. Figuring that Villanova is rated at least 3 touchdowns over the 1946 squad, then it becomes obvious that the Hilltoppers should be rated at least six touchdowns better than last year. To bring the same team up that much in that short a time is no minor feat and only a coach of Jack Haggerty's caliber could pull a trick such as that.

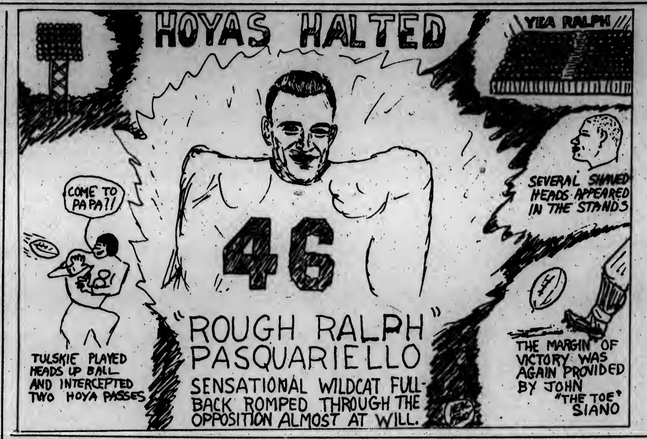
As to Babe Baronowski, those who saw Friday night's game could tell you all about him. In the opinion of some of the press box experts, Georgetown's intricate spread formation would never click without the passing and running of master tactician from Chicago. The proof of that statement is in the records. Baronowski passes . . . Baronowski runs . . . Baronowski scores again. You can look for the name of Henry Baronowski when the All-East teams are named next month.

Jack Tulskie Makes Good

The brightest spot in the whole game was the assendance of sophomore Jack Tulskie to new heights in Villanova's ranks. Some of you may remember him when he starred on West Catholic's City Championship team in 1944. Besides being named All-Scholastic that year, he was mentioned for All-State honors.

At the start of this seaosn, Jack was still having trouble with the "T" formation, having played all his football from a single wing. And, with fellows like Bob Polidor, Cap Capriotti, and Phil Snyder playing the same half back position, things didn't look too bright for a varsity slot.

But with Capriotti and Snyder benched for injuries, Tulskie slid into No. 2 spot. Then, on Friday night when speedy Polidor was pounced upon in the opening minutes, Jack saw his opportunity and made good. He split the ball carrying chores noblely with Ralph Pacquarello and Joe Rogers, and especially looked good by intercepting two timely passes.



Now that he has gotten over bench-warmers nervousness, you can look for big things from Jack Tulskie in the 'Frisco and Kentucky games this year, and lots of good ball playing next season.

John Sandusky, Bill Lilienthal, George Pavalko, Ed Lanigan and Tom Smith all looked particularly good on the line play. Bart of that credit, however, can go to Jordon Oliver and his staff for their defensive setup. Lilienthal and Sandusky, the big weights, played in the center of the line while the lighter and possibly the faster guards played out further in what would be the tackle slots. The net effect was the complete bottling up of Georgetown's running attack which showed a net of 22 yards.

Other Highlights

How does one play heads up football Ask Baronowski. Here was the setup. Georgetown had just scored. Villanova was all set to receive the kickoff except a last minute substitution, Nate Finkelstein for Dan Brown at end. Nate has to run the whole width of the field as the Hoyas were wasting no time in getting the kickoff away. Rather than kick a long deep one, Baronowski kicked straight at the winded Finkelstein.

As it turned out, Fink did juggle the ball a bit and the two Georgetown ends were right on top of him, trying like all fury to wrestle the ball away from the Villanova end. Too bad though, Fink was smart enough to make sure had had the ball before doing anything thereby preventing a Georgetown recovery.

Ballot For All-American

It is requested that this clipping be cut out and placed in the ballot box in front of the VILLANOVAN office. This is to help us pick an All-American Team. Thank you.

Position	Player	Team
LE
LT
LG
C
RG
RT
RE
QB
HB
HB
FB

Georgetown . .

(Continued from Page 5)

fumble. Their stragedy worked and they took over the offense. But again Jack Tulskie saved the day with a pass interception. On the second play of that series, Villanova shifted into a box to the right with Doherty back. Catching the Hoyas way off guard, Doherty quick kicked. The ball took off for 40 yards, bounced another 15 yards putting Georgetown deep in their own territory for the remaining 2 minutes of the game.

Kittens . .

(Continued from Page 5)

recovering the ball and running rather than failing on it and having time run out, missed the pigskin and the alert Penn line was all over the ball. With the clock running out, the game ended a scoreless tie.

Navy Win Title

So, winding up the second Intercollegiate 150 lb. Football, we find Navy, as last year, the champs, with Princeton and Rutgers tie for second place Villanova, Penn, and Cornell, 4, 5, and 6 in that order. Hats off to the rugged lightweights who have played so magnificently this season.

San Francisco . .

(Continued from Page 5)

Dons, coached by Smilin' Ed McKeevar, have a rough and tough team. Not so heavy on the line, they depend mostly on quick opening plays with speedy backs to tug the leather. They have lost three tough games, one to Oregon, Mississippi State, and Nevada, while their wins over San Jose State, Duquesne, Marquette, Santa Clara, and Loyola, have all ben impressive enough to make the Golden Gaters a slight favorite.

Hall Ready

U. S. F. so far this year has been riddled with injuries, especially Forrest Hall, one of last years leading halfbacks on the west coast. Hall was listed as a new record holder in that '46 season by the N. C. A. A., having run up a total of 573 yds. in 15 carries for a 40.1 average. However, Hall, a 155 pounder from Oil City, Pa. should start against the Wildcats along with Joe Scott, Bob Greenhaigh, and Don Panceria. Panceria is the Q. B. who was with Boston College last year.

Up on the line, John Krsak, 200 lb.sophomore and Dick Golichowski at 211, both from Indiana, hold down the flank positions. Both boys have been effective this year. Krsak specializes in blocking punts—three so far this year.

Tino Sabuco, the rugged center of the line, is another favorite of Bill Grant, U. S. F.'s Publicity Man. His play so far this season Grant justly feels, should merit Sabuco at least All-Coast honors.

Bob Kelty, former Villanova Basketball great from 1939-42, became the proud papa of none less than triplets. Bob's wife presented him with two girls and a boy.

NFCCS Collections

Freshmen	$24.07
Sophomores	21.66
Juniors	19.61
Seniors	10.87
	$76.21

Austin Hall . .

(Continued from Page 5)

accounted for one touchdown with a runback of a pass interception and threw five touchdown passes; three to McAntee and one each to Healy and Kempf. The game ended in a 36-0 rout. Kempf was the target of two of McHale's touchdown tosses against the Jawbreakers while Capt. Fessler tallied to make the final score 18-0.

Vandals Win, 6-0

The Alumni Boys rebounded by ekeing out an 18-12 decision over Barracks 1. The passing combination of Lynch to Griffen accounted for all of Alumni scores. Ray Artz kept the Barracks in the game with two jaunts to paydirt. Barracks 1 also suffered a 6-0 setback at the hands of the Barracks 4 Vaklals. In other games, the Vandals tied the Barracks 3 Skippers 12-12, and romped over the C&F Claws to the tune of 18-0.

The Mendel Maulers tasted defeat for the second time this week bowing to the Barracks 4 Sea Gulls 24-6. Donlin, Knecht, McCabe and McPortland scored for the Sea Gulls. The fine defensive play of Smith and McPortland held the Maulers scoreless until the last play of the game when a Sweda to Gerold pass resulted in a consolation touchdown.

Forfeits of the week were: Fedigan to C&F Claws and Barracks 1 to the Mendeleers.

Standings:

Team	Won	Lost	Tied
Austin Comets	3	0	0
Delurey	3	0	1
Brks 4 Vandals	2	0	1
Brks 4 Sea Gulls	2	0	0
Arts Day Hops	1	0	0
Mendeleers	1	0	0
Brks 3 Skippers	2	1	1
Alumni Jawbreakers	2	3	0
Mendel Maulers	1	2	1
C&F Claws	1	3	1
Flying Polacks	0	1	0
Engineer Day Hops	0	1	0
Simpson	0	1	0
Fedigan	0	1	0
Barracks 1	0	5	0

ATTENTION JUNIORS!

FINAL ORDERS FOR CLASS RINGS WILL BE TAKEN THIS WEDNESDAY AND FRIDAY IN THE VILLANOVAN OFFICE FROM 11 A.M. to 4 P.M.

MRS. S W. HAMPSON, IOREN MURCHISON CO. REPRESENTATIVE, WISHES TO THANK THE JUNIORS FOR THEIR COOPERATION

Text of N. S. A. Report

By John A. McDermott and Phillip F. Barrett
Part III

OBSERVATIONS AT MADISON —Of the Constitution of the N. S. A.

The report on the constitution will be brief because it will be necessary to furnish the faculty and student Council with the ratified constitution, since each campus must pass on this constitution as a prerequisite to joining the N. S. A.

We will present, however, a brief treatment of the major issues in the passage of the constitution.

(1) The first real stumbling block came over the question of whether or not national student and national youth organizations such as NFCCS, YMCA, SDA, AIMS, etc., etc., would have any official affiliation with N. S. A. There were many proposals including a voting affiliation, an advisory affiliation and finally no affiliation.

After many hours of discussion, it was finally voted that these organizations would have no affiliation at all. The main reasons for this decision were a desire to make the campus the only unit of NSA organization; the double representation that would be a result of giving other specialized student groups extra representation and the fact that cooperation with these groups did not require any offical affiliation.

The reeling of the body was that the 3-2-1 plan was favorable to the metropolitan areas and the 1-1 p.an was too impractical.

(2) Another issue of considerable controversy was the one on whether or not the N.S.A. would have a judiciary to interpret the constitution. There were many plans offered including one that proposed a student-faculty judiciary council, another that proposed an entirely student constituted judiciary, and finally one that placed the power of the judiciary in the hands of the executive committee.

The decision was to accept the last proposal and have no distinct judiciary body. The big argument in favor of this action was one that pointed out the unnecessity and impracticality of the judiciary with the added note that it would be easier to create a needed judiciary than to junk an unnecessary one.

(3) The fourth big issue to confront the congress was one which set the sale of representation to the annual congresses. This was a very formidable problem since it posed the interests of the big metropolitan college against the smaller school. The point of disagreement was not on the basic scale, but rather whether or not schools with discontinuous times of attendance and or discontiguous campuses would be considered or would be viewed as one school or as a group of individual schools. This became a very hot issue because it seemed to the large schools that were complete units that their representation would be almost half that of discontinuous and discontiguous colleges of the same total enrollment.

The problem was solved by a compromise which stated that the total number of delegates from schools of the same total enrollment would be the same and that the distribution of delegates in the discontiguous and discontinuous schools be a problem of those particular schools concerned.

(4) The fifth and to our mind the most significant issue was that over the affiliation clause. This clause would state the N. S. A. policy towards joining the other bodies (this does not refer to the national organization discussed under number one). It became the most significant issue because it would directly affect policy with the I.U.S. (International Union of Students). Because of the very broad constitution of I. U. S. and because of the great power of the Communists in the executive council of I. U. S., the delegates were especially wary — not wanting to make a foolish step. The overall sentiment of the delegation was essentially the same. Everyone agreed that the international understanding and good will were two of the primary aims of NSA. Everyone agreed that the position of the United States demands that her students break out their isolation and actively live in the student world BUT everyone did not want to see the N. S. A. discredited in its infant stages by the actions of any affiliate. Therefore, after long argument and discussion which kept the delegates in plenary session till 3 A. M. a code of conditions was set up by which N. S. A. could eventually affiliate with the I. U. S.

JUBILANT THRONG

(Continued from Page 1)

said he spoke to praise those men on the Freshman team who have contributed so much to the varsity's success and have gained so little of the glory.

AN INVITATION TO ALL VILLANOVANS
Famous Italian Tomato Pies
JOHNNY'S & DINGERS
STEAK SANDWICHES HOAGIES
FREE DELIVERY
County Line at Chestnut Ave.
ARDMORE, PA. ARD. 9430

Let's Get together
PHILIP MORRIS is so much better to smoke!

PHILIP MORRIS offers the smoker an extra benefit found in no other cigarette. For PHILIP MORRIS is the ONE, the ONLY cigarette recognized by leading nose and throat specialists as definitely less irritating.

Remember: Less irritation means more smoking enjoyment for you.

Yes! If every smoker knew what PHILIP MORRIS smokers know, they'd all change to PHILIP MORRIS.

CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS
TRY A PACK... TODAY

JEANNETTE'S
Bryn Mawr Flower Shop
Corsage Specialists
FREE DELIVERY
823 Lancaster Ave.
BRYNMAWR , PA.
Bryn Mawr 0570 : Flowers by Wire

Meet your friends at the GREEKS
Tasty Sandwiches
Superior Soda Fountain Service
Luncheon :: Dinner
818 Lancaster Ave.
Bryn Mawr, Pa.

KEEP SUPPLIED WITH SCHOOL TICKETS
GOOD ON BUSES AND RAIL CARS UNTIL USED
5c a Ride, including Special Free Transfers. Obtain Identification Cards at School Office.
RED ARROW LINES
Philadelphia Suburban Transportation Co.

JOHN DOUGLASS CO.
Formal Attire Rentals
69th Street Theatre Bldg.
UPPER DARBY
Open Mon., Tues., Wed. Till 9:30 P. M.
BLVD. 5957

Roberts ESSO Service
Courtesy - Service - Thanks
WE SERVICE YOUR CAR While You Are in Class
Lancaster Pike and Haverford Road
B. M. 9141 ROSEMONT, PA.
Pick-Up and Delivery Service

For Expert Convenient Attention
SERVICE & OUR FRIENDLY TREATMENT
THE CAMPUS BARBER SHOP
First Class Work
Popular Prices

THE BULLETIN BOARD

Accounting Society

The Villanova Accounting Society was officially inaugurated last week with the election of Raymond H. Keim, president; Louis Y. Roche, vice president; Edward G. Sutula, secretary; Charles Whitaker, treasurer; and Phillip F. Barrett, librarian. Under the guidance of Mr. Linsalata the club has progressed rapidly into a well developed organization.

In his introductory address, Mr. Linsalata stressed the fact that the society is an honorary one, and that those accepted should be proud of holding membership. He stated that Villanova is one of the nine Accredited Accounting Schools in Pennsylvania, and that this club is but the second of its kind to be formed in the state. Benefits to members were briefly outlined, and it was announced that honorary certificates will be presented to each member at the end of each year. This certificate is an addition to the awards to be given to the Junior and Senior attaining highest grades in accounting subjects.

The program for the year includes numerous guest appearances of prominent Pennsylvania C. P. A's. These speakers will be chosen by an executive committee composed of outstanding leaders of the business world. Topics to be discussed will be of general interest to all who plan to enter any field of business, as "The C. P. A.'s Responsibility to the Public", "Professional Ethics"; "Special Work of the C. P. A."; "Aptitudes needed by the professional Accountant"; etc. Plans are being made to have Villanova represented at various state meetings of Accounting Societies. Representatives will be named at a later date.

Although membership is now restricted to Junior and Senior Accounting majors, a motion has been passed to admit qualified Sophmores after their quarterly marking period. Students of the several Schools are invited to attend all meetings. (A special invitation is extended to all engineers.)

The organization is now comprised of thirty-five members.

Medical Fraternity

With "The Doctor, in the service of mankind" as his theme, and the attentive, interested members of the recently reorganized Medical Fraternity as his audience, Rev. Joseph M. Dougherty, O.S.A., Ph.D., delivered the initial address of the year to the science group.

Father Dougherty is Prior of the Monastery of Saint Thomas of Villanova. He is an author and lecturer of distinction and a former Dean of the School of Science here.

Three main points outlined the inspirational talk: (1) Proper preparation is necessary for the profession, preparation well provided by the college to its students through the years; (2) the only thing worth while is to help others; (3) besides Religion, English and Public Speaking are the most important subjects, and neatness and cleanliness the most important characteristics, to be acquired during the college years.

Vividly and dramatically the Prior, time after time, cited the likeness of the Doctor to the Priest. Clearly portrayed was the applicability of our Lord's words to the profession, "So long as you did this to these, the least of my brethren, you have done it to Me."

The necessity of high marks, the ambitions which lead to a craving for power and reward, the excusing of lack of progress on apparent difficulties all were decried; the motive, the drive, to give and to serve must guide above all petty ambitions, over all difficulties to final success.

Arts Fraternity

Richard Randolph took the gavel for the first time last Thursday in 215 Mendel to preside over the meeting of the Delta Pi Mu, as new president of the fraternity.

Mr. Randolph won his office by a very narrow margin from his opponent Maurice Crane. Other officers of the fraternity include: John McGrath, Vice-President; William Fleming, Secretary-Treasurer; and Arthur Smith, Student Council Representative.

VILLANOVAN

VOL. 23—No. 7 VILLANOVA COLLEGE, VILLANOVA, PA. Tuesday, November 25, 1947

Belle Masque Plays Please Audiences

"Twelve Pound Look", "The Fisherman", "Our Town' Will be Vestaged Tonight

An appreciative audience last night viewed three plays presented by Belle Masque. The second of the new Fall series of dramatic productions included: "The Twelve Pound Look" by J. M. Barrie, "The Fisherman" by Jonathan Tree, and "Our Town" by Thornton Wilder.

The three productions under the direction of the Rev. William J. Krupa, O.S.A., have attracted many students from Chestnut Hill, Immaculata, Rosemont, and Villanova. Admission is free. Curtain time is 8:30 P. M.

All actors are students at either Rosemont or Villanova. From last year's three plays: "Trifles," by Susan Glaspell, "Workhouse Ward," by Lady Gregory, and "Where the Cross is Made," by Eugene O'Neill. There are three returning actresses: Misses Mary Rose Brown, Loretta Moore and Mimi Dransfeld.

The third act of "Our Town," takes place in a graveyard. After a brief introduction by narrator Joseph Leary, the actual action of the play begins. After Emily (Katherine Kelly) dies, she meets the other occupants of the graveyard, all of whom are friends and relatives. They attempt to discourage Emily from returning to the world of the living, however, she is determined to return to see the day of her eleventh birthday. As the other inhabitants of the cemetery predicted, even that day was not as pleasant as she thought it would be; thus she too loses interest in the world. Mr. and Mrs. Web are portrayed by Clark Stockdale and Mary Rose Brown. The supporting cast includes: Jerry Ann Collum, Marie McMenamin, Louis Bartette, Louis Blazic, William Breninghouse, Donald Collins, Edward Doyle, Edward Fanelli, John Mallick, Herbert Matthews and Philip Meades.

"The Fisherman" was a fantasy of Heaven. Audrey (Rose Mary May) enters Heaven only to find that Henry (Edward Wilbur) her lover, is not among the chosen. Audrey's hopes for Henry, and Peter's (Richard McKinley) rebuke and dismissal of Henry form this skit, Joseph Hennessy and Paul Altenpohl fill out the cast.

Last of the plays was "The Twelve Pound Look." Harry Sims (John Rowe) about to be knighted engages a typist to write acknowledgments to congratulatory messages. The typist turns out to be Harry's first wife, Kate (Loretta Moore). Harry, determined to find out the name of the man who is his wife's preference, is flabergasted when she answers she only wanted independence. In the ensuing conversation Kate flaunts Harry's pride and unable to bear it, Harry dismisses her. Mimi Dansfield and Richard Lauman complete the cast as Harry's second wife and the butler respectively.

Final rehearsals were held for all plays the latter part of last week. A dress rehearsal was held Sunday for the seminarians.

All the costumes for the plays were furnished by the Miller Costume Company, Philadelphia.

In the future Belle Masque hopes to produce a full-length play and sponsor a variety show.

NFCCS COLLECTING

FRESHMEN	$34.00
SOPHOMORES	$23.60
JUNIORS	$16.60
SENIORS	$14.80
	$89.00

Radio Station Approved By Authorities

This week the Campus Radio Station was officially approved by the administration and as of this writing stands ready to commence operations immediately after the coming holidays. Although the organization has to obtain a room yet, they are confident that this block will not seriously delay operations because there are at present several possibilities open to them to choose from. However, it seems very likely that an opportunity will present itself during the present vacation for several of the engineering staff to effect the necessary installation wherever it may be.

As soon as the layout is installed regular scheduled programs will be in order and there will be a demand for an operating staff to conduct programs. Rev. R. Handran, OSA, who is in charge of the music activities on the campus, is the official moderator of the new undertaking.

All broadcasting for the time being will be on 538.8 kilocycles, 540 on your dial.

P. & W. Schedules Stadium Stop

Effective Monday, November 17, 1947, the Philadelphia and Western Railroad Company is to stop four Northbound trains daily except Sunday, at the Villanova Stadium stop, to afford increased accommodations for the students at Villanova College.

The decision reached after a traffic check by the P&W RR Co. indicated a morning density not found in the afternoon intermittent flow.

The Norristown express trains, which carry a special second car for the Villanova students will leave 69th Street at:

Weekdays	Saturdays
8:00 AM	8:01 AM
8:14 AM	8:16 AM
8:30 AM	8:31 AM
8:45 AM	8:46 AM

Navy Requirem'ts Recently Lowered

Physical requirements for the navy have been lowered. In a recent statement to the VILLANOVAN, Capt. T. C. Thomas enumerated the changes that will affect men interested in the Naval Reserve—Class V-6 or—enlisting in the regular navy.

The changes are:

1.) Modified requirements on required teeth.

2.) 20/20 vision or better, acceptable if correctable with glasses to 20/20 in each eye.

3.) Color-blindness acceptable.

4.) Minimum height requirement 5 feet, Maximum height requirement 6 feet 6 inches.

Student Convocation To Hear Speakers On N.F.C.C.S. Drive

Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire, O.S.A., President of the College and Rev. A. J. Wycislo, Guest Speaker, Will Address Students

The first post-war general convocation of the Villanova student body will be held Tuesday afternoon, December 2, in the Field House, at 2 P.M. The convocation will feature a talk by the Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire, O.S.A., president of the College and a talk by the Rev. Aloysius J. Wycislo, guest speaker.

Father McGuire has not revealed the subject of his talk but Father Wycislo's talk will be on relief for foreign students. It is believed that his speech will help to vitalize the N.F.C.C.S. drive which is currently being carried out on the campus.

Classes Suspended

In announcing the convocation Father McGuire said that all 2 P.M. classes on December 2 will be suspended and they will be resumed at 3. He said that all students will be expected to attend.

The convocation is under the direction and chairmanship of Kevin McChesney. Mr. McChesney said that following the talks by Father McGuire and Father Wycislo there will be a short address by Jack Stanley, Senior delegate to the N.F.C.C.S. from Villanova, and music will be supplied by the college band, under the direction of Father Handren.

Headed Relief Program

The guest speaker, Father Wycislo, is assistant to The Very Rev. Msgr. Edward E. Swanstrom, executive director of the War Relief services of the National Catholic Welfare Conference. For three years Father Wycisio was overseas field director of the organization. Starting in England in 1943, he set up a Catholic relief program in eighteen different foreign countries. He maintained his main offices at Cairo, Egypt, and from there set up centers in Teheran in Persia to aid the first refugees to come out of Russia. When the allied forces opened up the Europena continent he started centers in Italy, France, Greece and Germany. Previous to 1943, he was assistant director of charities in the Archdiocese of Chicago. He was loaned by his Bishop to the National Catholic Welfare Conference, in Washington, D.C.

FOOTBALL BANQUET SPEAKERS NAMED

Al Ennis, Van Buren, Franny Murray and Father McGuire to Talk at Annual Affair

Francis M. Fitzpatrick '40 has announced that Al Ennis, general manager of the Philadelphia Eagles, will be the principal speaker at the Football Banquet: This dinner will be held at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel at 7:00 on Tuesday, December 9.

Halfback Steve Van Buren of the Eagles will accompany Mr. Fitzpatrick and will also say a few words. Franny Murray, WIBG sportscaster and a former University of Pennsylvania player, and Rev. F. X. N. McGuire, O. S. A. will be speakers, too.

Acknowledgement by Ted Reimel of receipt of the Loyalty Ayard will be made.

Members of the football team will entertain the group. They will be headed by Tom Clavin.

Guests will be: Very Rev. Mortimer A. Sullivan, Very Rev. Joseph M. Dougherty (Prior and Chairman of the Athletic Board of Control), Rev. Edward B. McKee (Vice-president and Moderator of Athletics), and P. F. Banmiller '35 (President of the Alumni Association).

The menu will feature a Turkey dinner. Reservations are $5.00 per person.

VILLANOVAN BEGINS TRAFFIC LIGHT DRIVE

A campaign to correct the dangerous crossing was begun today by the college newspaper the Villanovan in conjunction with the Student Council. The purpose of the campaign is to have the State erect a set of hand operated signal lights at the dangerous crossing on Lancaster pike, opposite the Chapel.

In the past the intersection has taken many lives, and as yet it has never been corrected. The Rev. E. V. Stanford O. S. A. appealed to the state in 1942 to have this remedied—but his efforts were stalemated. The reason given by the state was that only an intersection merits a light.

Since various other schools have been able to erect lights, the Villanovan feels that some action should be taken to prevent and inevitable casuality.

All priests, professors and students are asked by the Villanovan to sign the petitions in front of the Villanovan office this week, in order that sufficient evidence and enough signatures can be presented to the proper authorities.

The alumni as well as the employees of the school, are also invited to sign. Along with the signatures and the exact number of times a given person crosses the "through highway" will be important.

Bowl Game Trip Contemplated By Council

When the Villanova Wildcats meet the Wildcats of the University of Kenucky in the Great Lakes Bowl, at Cleveland on December 6th, it is anticipated that a multitude of Villanova students will be on hand for the fray.

The Student Council at their regular meeting appointed a committee to make arrangements with the Greyhound Bus Company for special buses to carry the travelers to Cleveland and back.

The committee has acted and preliminary arrangements have been made. Buses will leave the campus Friday evening, arriving in Cleveland Saturday morning. The return trip will be made either Saturday night or Sunday morning depending on the wishes of the students.

A list has been posted outside the Villanovan Office and it is asked that all students who intend to make the trip sign this list, stating also, at which time they would prefer to return. This will facilitate the arrangements.

A representative of the bus company will be on the campus Wednesday December 3rd, to handle the sale of tickets and reservations on the buses. Price for the trip will be $13.95, plus tax.

Tickets for the game will also be sold at the same time and these seats will be in a block.

Chem. Students Contemplate Trip

Senior and Junior members of the A.C.S. and A.S.Ch.E. have planned a trip to New York City, Wednesday, December 3rd, 1947 to attend an exposition of chemical manufactures at Grand Central Palace.

The larger part of those invited to the exposition will be Chemists and Chemical engineers who are directly and immediately interested in the purchase of service, materials, and equipment. Secondarily, managers and exhibitors feel that there are great educational resources and values in the exposition.

Results of a poll held by the chemistry society students, on their interests of activities for the coming year are tabulated below;

Movies
- "Neoprene"
- "Evolution of the Oil Industry"
- "X-Rays"

Lectures
- Employment Opportunities
- Atomic Energy

Plant Trips
- DuPont Experiment Station
- Scott Paper

NOTICE!

There will be a general Convocation of the Student Body in the Field House on Tuesday afternoon, December 2nd, at 2 P.M. All students are expected to be present.

It will be necessary to cancel all classes scheduled for 2 P.M. on this day. However, all regularly scheduled classes will be resumed at 3 P.M.

STUDENT COUNCIL

There have been objections brought to our attention that the student body does not know just what, if anything, goes on in the Student Council. Although the meetings are open and every one in the school has been invited to attend, it seems that a large section of the students are unwillingly in the dark about the Council's activities. It has been suggested that the Council report to the students weekly, its progress, plans and difficulties.

This article is in answer to that appeal. It will appear weekly to give information and to answer what questions the students forward to it. Any serious questions addressed to it will receive attention by the Council.

Some basic facts about our student government: The official government of the student body is th eStudent Council. Its constitution appears in your hand-book. It meets every other Wednesday night at 6:00 P. M. in Room 215M. The meetings are open and any or all students are invited to attend as observers. Special meetings and committee meetings are open as well an dthese meetings are announced on the Mendel Hall bulletin board.

The procedure for Council consideration of your petition: See your council representative, the man you voted into office last year. He will bring your petition to the attention of the Council. If you feel that your suggestion is important and that you can present it better than your representative, ask the Chairman for speaking time and you probably will be accorded it.

Don Collins,
Chairman, Student Council.

THE NEW PIE SHOP

Along with the three major buildings now being erected on the campus is the comparatively unimposing new Pie Shop. Unlike its architectural significance, its position on the campus should be far from minor. The Pie Shop should be Villanova's center of leisure time activity, and therefore we should be vitally concerned about all its features.

The new Pie Shop is a grand improvement, and can serve a much larger function than before. The Villanovan feels that it speaks for the whole student body when it hopes that the new Pie Shop will be a real student social center—a pleasant place to relax—a spot where we may receive our friends—a center of campus weekend activity.

To achieve these aims we must do more than sit back, wait until the interior is decorated and then criticize. It would be a good idea for the student council to appoint a committee which would make student opinion available to the administration and the contractor on matters concerning the interior decoration of the building. If the chief obstacle to the suggestions of this committee would be expense, we believe that the student council would have little trouble in securing student cooperation on any such fund-raising enterprise. Moreover it would enhance the position of the council.

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

WILLIAM F. ALTENPOHL, '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
JOHN W. McDERNOTT, '48 ..... Managing Editor
JACK CASEY, '49 ..... News Editor
GEORGE SZYMANSKI, '50 ..... Feature Editor
RICHARD HUBBARD, '48 ..... Picture Editor
VINCE PEDANO, '49 ..... Circulation Manager
NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI, '48 ..... Business Manager
EDWARD OXFORD, '50 ..... Copy Editor
JAMES PLUNKETT '49 ..... Sports Editor

News Staff

Michael Marshal '49, Richard Shinners '49, Michael Joseph Nowlan '49, Charles Lafferty '49, Frank Gobe '51, Frank Gustkowski '51, Thomas Mitchell '51, Joseph Miller '50, Martin Bender '49, John James Connolly '51, Joseph Kinney '50, Joseph Callahan '51, George R. Reichart '51, Arthur Woodrow Louis Alvare '48.

Feature Staff

R. E. Manifold '51, William Breninghouse '51, Joseph Quill '50, A. J. Mullen '49, David V. Anthony '51, John A. Rowe '51, Gunther Kaiser '49, P. McManus '48, John Mallick '49, Vince O Neil '51, Mark Morris '51, James Tayoun '51, Leo Dodd '49, Emil Mayer '49, Richard Hudak '49, Thomas Russo '49

Sports Staff

James Lyons '48, Paul Altenpuhl '49, Ned Hoffner '49, Arnold Keehan '49, William Canino '50, Neal Fahy '50, George Mondaschein '50, Raymond Mondschein '50, Tyson Reilly '50, Walter Ryzic '05, Harry Jacobs '51, William Klussarits '51, Raymond MacWilliams '51, Paul Pressede '51, Harold Range '51.

Picture Staff

Robert Graf '50, Raymond Berninger '49, Dan Haflinger '50, William Neal Carter '51, Dan Robinson '51, William Murphy '51, Harry Papaan '51, Robert Pope '50.

Business Staff

Joe King '48, Barry Gibbons '51, Jack Gibbons '51, Donald Baralt '50.

Circulation Staff

George Weber, III, '51, Ralph Iorio '50, Ed Kent '51, Charles Clunk '51, Ralph Skowron '51, Gene Langan '51, Harry Papaan '51, Robert Pope '50.

Copy Staff

Frank McGeehan '50, Girard Farnan '50, Edgar Le Blanc '50, Steve Keiss '51, Robert MacRoberts '51, William Foley '50, Dick Randolph '50.

Faculty Advisor— Rev. John A. Klekotka, O.S.A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova: scholar, athlete, gentleman —
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription: $2 per year. Circulation: 5000.
Entered as second class matter at the Villanova Post Office December 27, 1928.

Member of Associate Collegiate Press, Distributor of Collegiate Digest.
Member of Catholic School Press Association, Catholic College Press Association.

HOMICIDE HIGHWAY

Above you see the most tragic spot on the campus. This crossing has taken more than seven lives, and it will take more if a signal light is not installed soon.

Local, state and federal authorities have repeatedly emphasized safety, yet here even a warning light is ruled out on a mere technicality. This section of Lancaster Pike is called a "through highway" and signal lights have been refused in the past because there was no intersection. But there is an intersection! Over a thousand victims try their best to cross over this "through highway" daily. Surely this merits some consideration from our lawmakers.

Back the drive for a signal light by signing the petition outside the Villanovan office — your signature might save a few lives.

Incidentally..

By J. Duffy

The position of the Republican Party today is not an enviable one. It is fighting a losing (thus far) battle against an opponent doubly armed. The living opposition to their policies is represented in the person of Harry Truman and the non-living in the memory of the late President Roosevelt.

It is acknowledged that political trends are generally in cycles to the left or right. The course of events in the United States after the first World War would seem to indicate that the aftermath of war is a turn to the right. A conservative tendency may or may not result after the hurly-burly of war but we do believe that a "back to normalcy" movement is inevitable.

After World War I there was a return to Republicanism following the idealistic Democracy of the Wilson era. The majority of the people, being conservative or at least passive, were content to suffer the "rugged individualism" of a well-organized G. O. P. The post-war letdown reacted against Wilson's futuristic ideas and the American public, disillusioned and weary of large designs, crawled into the blind hole of American self-sufficiency. In World War II the Democratic Party, dopinated by a leader with an unprecedented popular appeal, brought the war to a successful conclusion. Here the parallel of the political history of the two world wars ends. The Democratic leader today is a man who in his manner and beliefs represents, if nothing else, regularity and conformity.

As a result, the Republicans are plagued by the memory of a great socially conscious personality and the presence of a practical leader whose plain, solid qualities are satisfactory. It might be said that the public has grown weary of genius.

If the G. O. P. can substitute successful legislation for the Administration's leadership, it has the opportunity to overcome this double handicap. But their main efforts so far have not been shining successes. Destruction of price control has not brought the promised drop in cost of living, and their (the Republican) labor legislation is still undergoing trial. Moreover, on the basis of Congressional reaction to the President's recent address to Congress, we expect the inept G.O.P. leadership to continue to be just that.

Nervous Freshman: I don't know what is wrong with me tonight. I've never danced so poorly.

Frustrated date: "Oh, you've danced before?"

The Tower

Odds and Ends

By Joe Leary

The state and labor unions exist in virtue of the same principle, "the natural propensity of man to live in society." The object of the state, as it exists for the citizen, is the common good, therefore it must protect a citizen's natural right of joining societies and of joining unions. As part of the state, the union must not work contrary to the common good and rupture existing order between the two societies. A balance arises. Both have a similar end or goal, and both must employ a common means to achieve this purpose, social justice.

Social justice is a new name for an old subject. Briefly, it is a virtue whereby social groups render each other their due, and the members within those groups are required to share with each other in the social good. The object of the early forerunners of our modern labor unions, the medieval guilds, was "to determine maximum hours of work, prevent undue competitive waste, prevent excessive wealth in the hands of a few." Members were educated, had a voice in their government; there was care of the sick, and ever so many other practices existed, indicative of the unity of economics and religion and resultant charity. Founded under the auspices of the Church for the common good, they flourished until the individualism of the Renaissance (the seed of modern Secularism) ate into their Christian roots.

Social justice cannot exist in the Secularistic state. For Secularism demands the absence of virtue as it demands the absence of God, and substitutes an armor of compliance with a conventional philanthropy. If God be ignored and therefore social justice, how can labor and management function harmoniously? Do not political and economic exploitation, Communism, racial discrimination find fertile pasture in such environment?

Recently, the Catholic Bishops of the U. S. set forth the crisis which Secularism brings today to family, worker, nation, the world. Skewering history, the sound labor union, government or society cannot be found which has departed from its original place in space, the Christian "place." Being practical, realistic, and progressive, there can be but one Common Denominator, whether it concern order, authority, or the precise hanging of the moon.

The case was one of assault with intent to kill. The judge asked the defendant, "Why did you hit the man with a chair? He answered, "I couldn't lift the table!"

The Red and Black

Pride and Prejudice

It was pleasing to note the responsiveness and interest shown by the student body to the lecture of Mr. Lewis Carter last Tuesday evening. The Negro question headlined the program. In previous articles the need for our further education on the subject was stressed as being a necessary prerequisite to the solution of an all important issue. The positive step taken toward acquiring that education, as evidenced by the attendance of a large number of students at Mr. Carter's lecture, was especially encouraging to this observer.

We had an opportunity to speak further with Mr. Carter following his highly informative and illuminating address. He spoke much concerning the one word "tolerance."

"Tolerance" has its origin, as he explained, in the vocabulary of medicine. Here it means to endure, without injury to, a foreign body or poison. And hence, to tolerate the minority groups, such as Catholics, Negroes and Jews, means to put up with them temporarily in the hope or expectation of being eventually rid of them.

Tolerance, in that sense, is not enough. It is not worthy of human beings. What is really required and indeed demanded is justice coupled with charity. These two are enjoined upon us by conscience. Who of us can fail to head that voice?

In behalf of all the students who attended last Tuesday's lecture, we should like to express heartiest thanks to Father Lunney and his Interracial Society. They were instrumental in making the evening possible and are to be commended for their work. All attest to the worth of Mr. Carter's thought-provoking and interesting talk and to the value of the contributing remarks made by Fathers Gordon and Lunney.

Letters To The Editor

Editor VILLANOVAN,
Box 1, Villanova, Penna.
Dear Sir:

Everyone else seems to be patting himself on the back, so I'll join the throng. I could write about the food, but I won't. It wouldn't be beneath me to discuss scrounging in the chow lines, but I wouldn't mention the subject. Not that I'm adverse to those things, but this time I'd like to pay a few compliments. First of all that pat on the back.

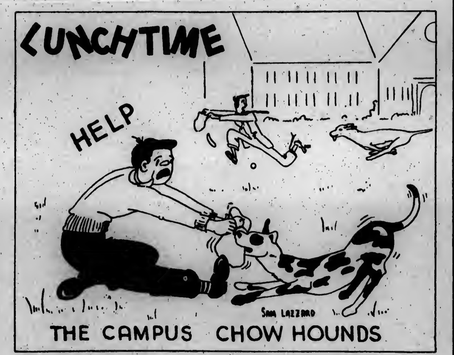
I went to the game last Friday night. I had a marvelous time. After noticing who was out with whom, and what my fellow students were wearing, I had time to notice, for it was very apparent, the high spirit evinced by the Villanovans. Things were really hopping. Never have I seen more spirit at any school function. Though the night was cold, few were the students who failed to attend the game. I even happened to see a good number of fellows from St. Joe's and LaSalle. So a pat is deserving. . . . To the team, and to the student body . . . compliments . . . I can't send orchids because I'm dating a college girl, but I will offer a petunia or daisy. . . .

A Rooter

William F. Altenpohl, Editor
Villanovan,
Box 1, Villanova, Pa.
Dear Mr. Altenpohl:

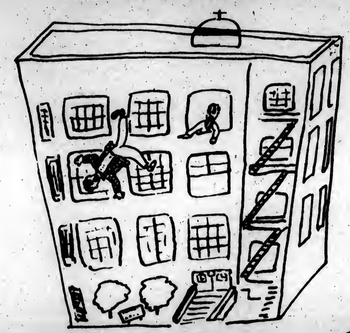
The cheer leaders, keeper of "Butch," and the gentlemen who kidnapped our mascot, "Count Villain III," have asked me to congratulate the Student Body of Villanova College for the spirit and sportsmanship they displayed during the week leading up to the Villanova-Georgetown game.

They are looking forward to the continuation of this series and they hope that both sides will continue this rivalry in the spirit of friendship and good rivalry.



Very truly yours,
John T. Callahan, Jr.
Gunter P. Kaiser
Keepers of the Villanova Mascot
Count Villian III

Jasper: I spent ten hours over my history text last night.
Teacher: Ten hours?
Jasper: Yes, I left it under my bed when I went to sleep.



Cartoon Contest Winners

FIRST PLACE: JACK STEELE

FIRST PLACE: SAMUEL LAZZARO

Hey Mac! You forgot to sign out

THIRD PLACE: ERNESTO E. SMITH

FOURTH PLACE: GEORGE C. CORCORAN, Jr.

Cartoonists Share Glory

Steele and Lazzaro Tie for First Place

Last Thursday evening the Villanovan Cartoon Contest came to a climax when the judges headed by Neal Fahy, Villanovan Sports Cartoonist, announced the winners. The response to the contest was very encouraging, and the decision was close, resulting in a tie between Jack Steele, of O'Dwyer Hall, and Samuel Lazzaro, a day student from Kirklyn, Pa.

The remaining cartoons received honorable mention ratings on scores for college themes and sketching. Joe King, Chesterfield campus representative awarded duplicate prizes to the winners and congratulated them on their success.

Published on this page are the winning entries, in the order they were placed by the judges, Neal Fahy, Leo Dodd, Emile Meyer and Richard Hudak, of the Villanovan Staff.

In third place was a cartoon depicting an Alumni Hall "incident" drawn by Ernesto E. Smith. George C. Corcoran, Jr., of 323 Alumni Hall, took fourth place with his detailed drawing presenting a "chow" line dilemma.

TEN YEARS AGO IN THE VILLANOVAN

Wysocki Receives Board Recognition for All American

By Richard J. Hudak

The following item is reprinted from the Nov. 16th issue of the 1937 Villanovan:

Official information emanating from the All American Board of Football disclosed that Johnny Wysocki, Villanova gridster, has been formally recognized for participation in the selection of the All-America line-up this year.

The highest national recognition achieved by a Villanova football player was attained by Eddie Michaels, captain and guard of the 1934 football squad. Michaels was mentioned on the All-American second team. Other Villanova gridsters have received honorable mention on various selection of national press ratings, among whom were George "Whitey" Randour and William "Toby" Cavanaugh.

LOST and FOUND

The following articles have been turned in to the Information Booth, Mendel Hall, for return to their owners: German book under the name of Mike Creamer; Note book belonging to Francis Gavin; Textbook, Economic Anaylsis and Public Policy, of Charles Tozer; College Physics, owner unnamed.

It is requested that all articles found be returned to the Information Booth which traditionally acts as a Lost and Found department on the campus. Miss Bonaventure will gladly assist those who have either lost or found missing articles, and informs us that she would appreciate any cooperation on this score to make the service efficient.

BULL PEN

By John L. Kucha

We found sufficient time the other day to read a newspaper. Not the New York Times perhaps, but the Philadelphia Inquirer. Someone else had bought it. We saw it lying in a somewhat "read" condition and absent mindedly (how else) we picked it up and started to read. So, while President Truman is planning curbs on this and that, Mayor O'Dwyer is curbing dogs.

Page three quotes a precise scientific dispatch concerning a General Electric scientist who has discovered a simpler way of making rain than by the dry ice method. His method employs ordinary water.

Gads, how science marches on. Next thing you know, they'll be producing rain by using rain. And why not? What could be simpler? .....We know quite a few husbands who are interested in those new speedier than sound planes...They hope to get a speedier than sound auto to take care of that omnipresent back seat driver.

Hollywood News Story.....Six vampires, played by Bela Lugosi, hold up blood bank.....President Shylock announces all deposits guaranteed...anaemic depositors start run on bank...story ends with Lana Turner divorcing a red corpuscle named Joe. This picture is highly recommended to the current crop of movie goers by Lovella Preachers. Just a thought in passing: We haven't seen a good picture since "Gone With The Wind" was made. And how can Hollywood make good pictures when their people alternate between the divorce courts and Congressional probes on communism? There just ain't time!

A peculiar intellectual furore seems to seize the campus just about this (the exam) time. Everybody is boning. Library turnstiles report new records, Freshmen stop pounding the playful dickens out of each other and the nearest Barrack wall, football players take books rather than drinking water along on the California trip, local pubs (that's Villanovese for tea room) are empty, girls are alone by the telephone, vets forget about their subsistence checks, the Czechs forget about the veterans, the Italians forget about Fiume, yes, it's exam time. Villanova men have gone into their respective scholastic cocoons. Only to come out this Wednesday eve as social butterflies.

by P. McManus and G. Kaiser

The Academy of Music is host to the original General Platoff Cossack Chorus on the eve of Thanksgiving. This group will present a review of the old Russian folk songs and dances as they were performed during the time of the Tsars.

Of last week's play openings in Philadelphia, "I Remember Mama" or "Showboat," will do much to make the evening an enjoyable one. "I Remember Mama" stars Charlotte Greenwood as the mainstay of that belovable Norse - American family. The setting of this comedy takes place in San Francisco during the end of the last century.

"Joan of Lorraine," another favorite of last season, has been adapted for little theatre groups, and will make its premiere at the Colonial Players Playhouse, Delaware Co., on November 27, 28, 29. The title role, which starred Ingrid Bergman, Sylvia Sydney, and Luise Rainer during its regular season last year, will be played by Carmen Woolsey. The foppish "Dauphin" as played by Harry Caffery will offer a long succession of laughs.

Also in small theatre companies, we find that those braving the benches of the Hedgerow Theatre will be entertained with Shakespare's "Twelfth Night" on Wednesday. "Cadenza," which had its grand opening last week, will be presented on Thanksgiving Day and the Friday following. "Cadenza," written by Howard Dilla, is a humorous and dramatic fantasy with music.

The Fifth Column

By
Hugh Johnson and Frank McBride

Sunday, Joe Roger's old ship tied up in Frisco, mustered all hands not on watch for a private cheering section at Kesar Stadium. Shouts of "Yo, Joe" had all the localites wondering.

And speaking of football, Joe, the other half of the Tulski twins, has assigned himself as a 1-man publicity agent for his "kid" Jack; Joe is currently quoting 3 to 1 odds on his kid's making All-American next year.

Next year's football schedule won't be announced until next year some time, but if you believe in rumors, we have a few of the possible changes.

Rumor, strictly rumor, has it that Villanova will drop Georgetown, Holy Cross and Boston College. But these tips even go further than that. Possibly, they say, the Wildcats will crack the Ivy League (Brown), the Big Nine (Ohio State) and some representative of the Southwestern Conference, possibly Arkansas. One request—keep all this under your Stetson.

Last weekend was a bruiser. All the Catholic Girls Colleges were in competition for dates—they all had their big dances on the same weekend.

Bucky Coleman prommed with Doris. She's the girl, y' know, who has the little white radio that for so long entertained the troops on the third deck of Alumni. That dance puts the Lonesome Polecat one-up on all of his 17 competitors.. Paul Altenpohl famous for his Saturday night high spots, was booked by one of the campus big wheels . . . poor Janie, she sweated this one out while Bill Carlin was in Reno. . . Leo Dillon refused to repeat last years laugh catcher . . . Emil Meyer refused to do character sketches; too busy keeping the intended happy . . . Carl "I got a million of 'em" Annas was with a westerner named Mary . . .Some of the dolls who didn't know for naught, ended up with sports from St. Joe's and LaSalle . . . foolish girls.

Bob Shebley, back in the music business after getting a hole kicked in his bass drum by a frustrated U. of Virginia rooter a few weeks ago.....Joe Topper, strictly in the ing, was there with (yep) Flos..... The new sports editor—Jim Plunkett—has got a real rooter in Pat Casey, Immaculata's head cheer leader . . ' We saw Frank "Gus" with a lively lovely celebrating Fedigan's Connelly standing with Joe Ringlestein while "Reds" O'Conner, kibitzed . . .

Rossmont Saturday Night

Moe Jaffe at it again...Carl Annas at it again too. This time with an easterner named Kathie...Jack Corr big man with Fran . . . Bill Leighton per usual . . . Louie Alvare with Queen AAA . . . Bill McDonald and Jane.

Teacher: "Why is your translation so loose?"

Moe: "The pages of my pony are falling out."

The Campionette

Campus Calendar

Tuesday, November 25
Senior Mechanical Engineering Plant Trip
6:30 Rev. John Bresnahan, O.S.A., speaks on Thanksgiving to God—Chapel
8:30 Bell Masque Plays—Field House

Wednesday, November 26
Thanksgiving Vacation Begins after Classes

Thursday, November 27
THANKSGIVING

Sunday, November 30
Resident students return to campus

Monday, December 1
Classes resume

Tuesday, December 2
2:00 P.M. Convocation of ALL students—Field House

Blue Room, Billiard Room Made Ready For Students

Kegs and Traffic Signals Discussed at Bi-Monthly Council Meeting

At the regular bi-monthly meeting last Wednesday the Student Council heard that the blue room and billiard room in the Field House might be opened soon. It passed a motion to request a traffic light on the Lancaster Pike and another motion to award keys to Student Council members.

Emil Mika told the Council that the blue room and billiard room should be opened in the near future, provided that several problems could be settled. The chief questions involved acquiring personnel to supervise activities, and deciding at what times the rooms would be available for use. He promised a further report as soon as he had more definite information.

Bill Altenpohl brought to the attention of the Council the dangerous crossing on the Lancaster Pike at the front entrance to the college. He pointed out that since the traffic is usually heavy on the Pike and the number of students crossing at this point was great it represents a safety hazard. It was brought out that this request was made of the authorities a short time ago.

A motion was then made to award a key to each member of the Student Council at the end of the year in which he serves. This motion was bitterly fought by several members of the Council who felt it was an inappropriate idea and thought the school authorities ought to be the ones to suggest it. However, the motion was carried with one dissenting vote from John Kucha who asked that the individual vote of each member be so recorded.

New Navy Building Simulates Warship

by George Schroll

The Navy Office has announced that the new building of Naval Science and Tactics is scheduled for completion sometime in January. New ordnance consisting of a 5-inch gun, with automatic range finder and computer, a 3-inch gun, a 40 mm. gun, and a 20 mm. gun will arrive in time for installation. There is a possibility that radar and radio gear will be acquired at a later date, to complete the equipment of the armory.

Each classroom and office will be equipped with a public address system making possible inter-office communication and general announcements. This system of communications along with a simulated Combat Information Center, a mock bridge and the previously mentioned armory will be coordinated to permit drills in which the midshipmen will practice problems of navigation and combat.

The basement will contain the latest in five position firing ranges where the midshipmen will train in the use of small arms.

They called her bacon. Someone was always trying to bring her home.

PHYSICS CLUB TO BUILD TELESCOPE

Last Thursday the Physics Club of Villanova voted to begin construction of an astronomical telescope. Several of the members, headed by Don Clarke, have been investigating the construction and engineering angles of the undertaking. While the exact design has not been decided upon the club is reasonably sure that it will be either a reflector of the Newtonian or Cassegrarian type or a Standard refractor. The club is studying the possibilities of making the lenses or mirrors from cast plastic materials as a means of saving the time usually involved in grinding the objective or speculum to shape.

The telescope, when completed, will be used for visual observation and photographic Spectroscopy principally. The Physics Club is interested in locating also any students who would be interested in the project as it is anticipated that the telescope will tax heavily the free time of those invited.

The next meeting will be held after the Thanksgiving vacation on Thursday, December 11th, at 5:00 o'clock, in the Physics Lab in Mendel Hall. All those interested are invited to attend.

Fall Meeting

Twenty members of the college faculty will attend the fall meeting of the Middle Atlantic section of the American Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education. This convention embracing all engineering and science educators will be held December 8, at Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Dean J. Stanley Morehouse is chairman of the resolutions committee and as such will express, at the dinner, the thanks of all to the host, Pratt Institute.

Jay: I think the driver of that car ahead must be one of my teachers.
Ray: Why do you think that?
Jay: He's stubborn about lett' me pass.

"TWELVE POUND LOOK"

The Cast from Left to Right: John Rowe (Harry), Mimi Dransfield (Second Wife), Richard Lauman (Butler), and Loretta Moore (First Wife).

OUT OF THE COPY BASKET

By James Tayoun

A lunatic was given paper and typewriter after he wanted to write, and went to work at a great pace, filling page after page. A guard's curiosity was aroused, and he asked to see the manuscrpit.

"I'm writing a wonderful adventure story," said the looney, "take a look."

The first page read, "General Jones leaped upon his faithful horse and shouted, "Giddyap, giddyap, giddyap, giddyap————" and so on for pages.

"What's this?" asked the guard. Nothing but pages of giddyap."

"Oh," said the nut, "can I help it if the horse won't move?"

The Santa Clara

Conscience gets a lot of credit that belongs to cold feet.

Visitor at Byberry: "Is that clock right?"

Inmate: "It wouldn't be here if it was".

A little later in life the girls stop looking for their ideal man and start looking around for a husband.

Turbine Plant Host To Senior Mechs

On the afternoon of November 25, the Senior Students of the Mechanical Engineering Department will take their first Plant Trip of the year to the Lester Turbine Plant of Westinghouse Electric Corporation.

Included in the tour are the following points of interest: The Blade Shop, where blades are forged and finished; Main Assembly Plant, in which the blades are sectioned, dynamically balanced and assembled; Test Floor, Machine Shop and Gear-Cutting Room.

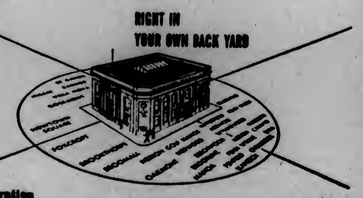
These trips are arranged by the Engineering School to further coordination between actual theory and industrial practice.

WILDCAT PICTURE FOR SALE BY VILLANOVAN

SODA Fountain — Meet Your Friends .. at the .. Greeks
Superior Soda Fountain Service
Luncheon :: Dinner
818 Lancaster Ave.
Bryn Mawr, Pa.

SPRITZLER'S
For VAN HEUSEN Shirts
47 W. LANCASTER AVE.
Ardmore, Pa. Ard. 0176

JOHN DOUGLASS CO.
Formal Attire Rentals
69th Street Theatre Bldg.
UPPER DARBY
Open Mon., Tues., Wed. Till 9:30 P. M.
BLVD. 5057

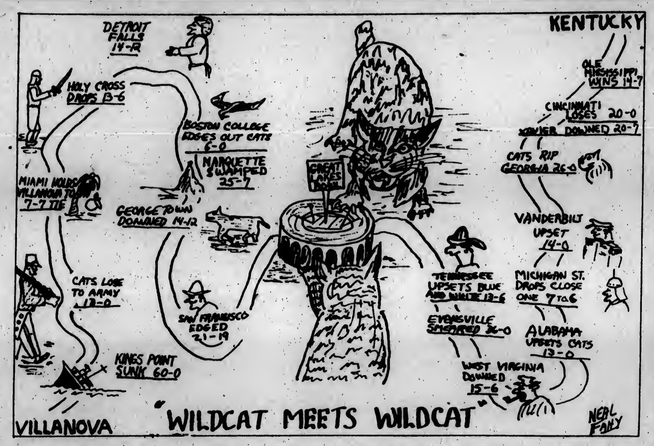


WELCOME 'CATS
HAMBURG HEARTH
814 LANCASTER AVE. BRYN MAWR, PA.

OPEN A SPECIAL CHECKING ACCOUNT TO-DAY — —

Save the bother of having to be your own BANK

If you are without a personal checking account, you can now have this modern convenience without a minimum balance requirement. You simply pay a small amount for your check book when opening your account. There are no other charges. Ask for Miss Abernethyand; she will explain everything.



THE BRYN MAWR TRUST CO.
BRYN MAWR

Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

VILLANOVAN SPORTS

CATS RALLY TO EDGE SAN FRANSISCO

Cagers Prepare for Opener

Wildcats Unimpressive In Pre-Season Scrimmage

By Jim Lyons

Last Thursday night, the Villanova varsity basketball team closed their last full week of preseason practice with a return scrimmage with Brown Prep. Sad to say, the Wildcats were outplayed and outscored by the chargers of Coach Schofield.

Possibly, the main cause of their poor showing was the fact that the boys were expecting to meet the Lower Merion Vets of the Main Line League. The Vets renigged at the last minute because some of their college performers thought it inadvisable to perform at the field house. The team wasn't at all enthusiastic when they learned that Coach Schofield had obligingly substituted his Brown Prep squad. Only a week ago the Wildcats had trounced the Preppers in a scrimmage.

Wegielki Shines

This poor mental attitude coupled with some nice play on the part of Joe Gallagher, George Dempsey and Charlie Bellac made it a very bad night for the Blue and White. In fairness, it must be added that Paul Arrizen, Jackie Crossin and John Wegielki performed more or less in their usual fine fashion.

There's a lesson to be learned from this scrimmage—a lesson that might prove valuable to the Severancemen, "Don't play ball games in locker rooms or on paper." This lesson might be applied to their opening game with Mount St. Mary's. Frankie Filcoch's club won't be expected to have much, but they have every incentive to win and nothing to lose. Older Villanovan rooters can remember when the Praying Colonels of Centre College defeated a strong Harvard eleven on opening day. Later in the season this lesson can be applied to teams played on a home and home basis. In basketball a team can be down one night, so don't sell them short the next time you play them.

The Best War Story of the Week—
Concerns the ex-gob who got a severe case of seasickness and lockjaw at the same time.
The Tomahawk

Harrier Take 7th In IC4A's

Villanova's cross-country team placed seventh in the 39th running of the IC4A cross-country championships with a total of 199 points. The meet, which was won by Manhattan College was held on the five-mile course at VanCortland Park, New York.

Setting the pace for the Wildcats was Browning Ross, who finished fourteenth, his time being 27 minutes flat. Behind Ross, finishing nineteenth, was team-mate George Thompson. The third Villanovan was Jim Kennedy, who finished 49th.

Robert Black, Rhode Island State, was the individual winner, with the good time of 23:37.1, finishing 50 yards ahead of Horace Ashenfelter, of Penn State, whose time was 25:46.

Cats Place Seventh

Manhattan's 36 points enabled them to take the varsity title, while Syracuse took second place with 107. Army and Penn State tied for third with 116, while fifth was taken by Michigan State, with 174 points. Rhode Island State's 178 points captured sixth place, just ahead of Villanova.

Competing for Villanova in the freshman meet was Bill Shelley, who was 48th, and Gene Osbah, who finished 80th. The team title in the freshman division was also taken by Manhattan College, with 50 points.

BROADCAST PLANNED

Plans are being formulated to broadcast the away games of the basketball team this season over the campus radio station WVIL. It is hoped that broadcasts will be made directly at the location and sent to the students over leased wires, thus giving everyone a chance to take an active interest in the games they are unable to see. At present, all the necessary arrangements have yet to be made but as soon as they are arranged, notices of the times of the broadcasts will appear on this page of the VILLANOVAN.

Villanova Sharpens Attack for St. Mary's and Manhattan

By Jim Lyons

Wednesday, December 3, the Villanova courtmen inaugurate their season by meeting an unknown quantity—Mount St. Mary's, of Emmettsburg, Md. The game is scheduled for the field house at the usual 8:30 starting time.

Little or nothing is known concerning St. Mary's. Frankie Filcoch, formerly of the N. Y. Giants, has been hired to coach their club, but aside from that they are a dark, dark horse.

The following Saturday night, the Jaspers of Manhattan invade the Main Line. The Jaspers are another of the usual successful clubs that make New York basketball's proving ground.

Venzyer Only Loss

Coach Ken Norton lost only Captain John Venyzer from his team of last year. The Kelly green had a very successful season last year, compiling an 18-8 record. Villanova was responsible for two of their defeats and Manhattan is out for revenge.

Reports have it that Sig Shronski and Alex Eszeske, 6' 3", and Frankie Howran, 6' 5", are vastly improved in the back board play. So encouraged are Jasper rooters that they are predicting a season comparable to the 42-43 campaign when they won 18 while losing only 2, and were invited to the Invitation Tournament in the Garden.

Both Teams Use Same Offense

The colorful Manhattan quintet employs the Clair Bee type of ball. Coach Norton learned his basketball while playing under Clair Bee at L.I.U. This type of play calls for a maximum of set shots. Villanova also uses the same style of play and this is an excellent opportunity to gauge each team's mastery of the system.

No freshman games are scheduled for these two evenings. Probable lineups:

VILLANOVA		JASPER
Leo Wolf	lg	Shronski
Del Purgatorrio	rg	Eszeske
Ricca	c	Howlan
Raiken	lf	Burke
Sabol	rf	Crowley

Siano's Toe Proves Margin As Rogers Leads Comeback

Sheehan Scores on Opening Play; Final Tally by Schreiber

Thrilling the 25,000 fans present by their sensational last half rally when they came from behind to overcome a 12 point deficit, the Villanova Wildcats squeaker past the San Francisco Dons by a 21-19 margin. In their biggest intersectional battle since they met Loyola University of Los Angeles in 1937, the Cats showed the football world why they were named as the Great Lakes Bowl opponent of Kentucky on Dec. 6.

For the first three periods, the West Coasters had a fairly easy time with the Cats as they piled up a 19-7 advantage. In the last period the charges of coach Jordan Oliver suddenly sprang to life as Joe Rogers and George Schreiber crossed the goal line for the game winning scores.

Gordon Tosses TD Pass

Smart quarterbacking on the part of Andy Gordon set up the first Villanova tally. Going contrary to all the pre-game information that labeled the 'Cats as a team that featured primarily a ground attack, Andy, after Steve Romanik had returned the kickoff from the 5 to the 35 yard line, crossed up the San Francisco defense by calling a pass play on the opening scrimmage play of the game. Gathering in Gordon's 35 yard pass, rangy John Siano with Joe Rogers holding converted the extra point.

San Francisco retaliated almost as quickly and again contrary to the experts they scored their touchdown on a ground play. Starting from their 22 after Pete Matisi had run back Siano's kickoff, the Dons scored in three plays, Fred Klemenock's quarterback sneak advanced the ball to the 25 yard line. Forrest Hall raced around end for a first down on the 36. On the following game, Hall started around end again but being caught by Ed Berrang, he lateraled out to Klemenock who twisted his way down the sidelines for the score to end Villanova's short-lived lead. Marvin Willis kicked his only extra point.

Scott Goes 99 Yds.

Late in the second quarter, the Dons struck for their second score. Playing it safe, they left Al Schmidt's kick roll dead on the 23 yard line. Hall recovered his own fumble on the 18. Mocha, who was poison to the Cats' passing attack all afternoon, picked up 12 yards through the line. Following a quarterback sneak for a 1st down, Jim Ryan passed to Scott on the Villanova 34 who went all the way for the touchdown. Wallis' kick was partly deflected by Berrang.

The Dons scored their final touchdown midway in the third period climaxing a 93 yard march by a 31 yard aerial from Klemenock to Dick Golichowski in the end zone. Scott crashed 8 yards to the 15. Klemenock passed to Golichowski to the 32. On the next play, Matisi taking a handoff reversed to Klemenock who scooted 31 yards to the Villanova 27. After Ryan lost 4 yards, Klemenock uncorked his touchdown pass to make the score 19 to 6. Willis' kick was blocked by Frank Kane.

Rogers Scores

With the outlook pretty dim, the Wildcats came roaring back to turn a fumble into a score. As Klemenock faded to pass, Syl. Yancili came crashing in to hit him so hard

(Continued on Page 6)

STUDENTS SELECT ALL-AMERICAN TEAM

Villanova, Notre Dame and Army Leads in Balloting

By Harry Jacobs

Last week, Villanova College students, given an opportunity to declare their favorite football players, picked an All-American football team for this year. The balloting was slightly heavier than expected with 120 students voting, enough to guarantee a fairly comprehensive choice.

Undoubtedly, because many of the students have not as yet had an opportunity to witness other than merely sectional games the voting gave a decided preference for Eastern players. The Mid-West, South, Southwest and the Far West followed in that order.

Three Unanimous

Three players on the first team were chosen unanimously, getting 120 points each. As might be expected from the headline history they have made this year and last, they are George Connor, tackle of Notre Dame; Guard Joe Steffy, of Army, and Johnny Lujack another member of the Notre Dame squad at quarterback. Fourth place in the voting was occupied by Villanova's fleet halfback, Bob Polidor, who compiled 97 votes.

Villanova and Notre Dame both placed two players on the first team. On the second team, Notre Dame also placed two.

First Team
LE	Bill Swiacki	62	Columbia
LT	George Connor	120	N'reDame
LG	Joe Steffy	120	Army
C	Chuck Bednarick	64	Penn
RG	Bill Fischer	49	Detroit
RT	Bill Lillenthal	45	Villanova
RE	Barney Poole	93	Missisip'i
B	Johnny Lujack	120	N'reDame
B	Bob Polidor	97	Villanova
B	Bob Chappuis	62	Michigan
B	Harry Gilmer	55	Alabama
Second Team
LE	Jim Martin	37	N'reDame
LT	George Savitsky	32	Penn
LG	Tom Fisco	5	Syracuse
C	Dick Scott	63	Navy
RG	George Pavalko	9	Villanova
RT	Goble Bryant	17	Army
RE	Leon Hart	18	N'reDame
B	Bobby Layne	36	Texas
B	Skippy Minisi	14	Penn
B	Terry Brennan	12	N'reDame
B	Doak Walker	11	S.M.U.
Other Backs
Elwyn Rowan		9	Army
Ralph Pasquariello		7	Villanova
Charlie Justice		7	North Carolina
Bob Elliott		6	Michigan

Honorable Mention

Ends: Bramlett, Navy; Rawers, Army; Svoboda, Marquette; McCarthy and Sponaugle, Penn; Brown, Finkelstein and Berrang, Villanova; Watson, Rice, Fier, U.C.L.A.

(Continued on Page 5)

SPORTORIAL

By JAMES PLUNKETT, Sports Editor

Finally, it seems, something is being done about the Freshmen basketball. Nothing definite has been announced by the Athletic Office as yet, but an informal schedule is rumored to be definitely underway. For weeks now the lack of a schedule has been the sore spot in the hearts of many students. No one liked the idea of having the freshmen sit by trying to learn their basketball through observation, and in simulated intersquad games. Scrimmages are fine but the experience and seasoning gained in regularly scheduled games are something that cannot be attained in pratice contests. La Salle, St. Joseph's, Penn and Temple and many of the other local schools have announced their freshmen schedule so there must be teams available. It is to be hoped that this is the first of the many steps needed in a campaign to bring sports at Villanova back to the position they had occupied prior to the war

Still along a similar line, I chanced to come across an article in the Notre Dame Scholastic a short time ago dealing with the subject of student opportunities to compete in varsity sports. A survey had shown that 1 out of every 10 students at the South Bend Institution have a chance for this type of competition. Just to ease a natural curiosity on my part, I decided to find out how many students here at Villanova have that opportunity. Approximately 1 out of every 17 men here on the Main Line have that chance. What the criterion is in this case is unknown to me but it certainly must be lower than the figure here at Villanova.

A complete sports plant must of necessity include sports other than football, basketball, baseball and track. In the present day intercollegiate setup, the quality of these major sports demands that the player be almost handpicked. But what of he so called minor sports? They receive no headlines in the papers. Usually the only place you will find them mentioned is in the result column. But, they certainly cannot be condemned because of this. In my opinion they are and should be just as important an integral part of the collegiate set up as the "headliners".

Swimming, boxing, tennis, and golf have all had their day here at Villanova. Since the end of the war, little or nothing has been heard of these sports. We have most of the physical equipment available to return to competition. All that is needed is a call for candidates and a coach. When then, re we to be lifted from this state of suspended animation in which we now are?

Bouquets to Bill Lilienthal on being selected to the A. P. All Eastern team. Look for Bill to be invited to participate in the East-West Shrine game this New Year's.

After that thriller out at Kezar Stadium, the team should really have a wonderful time on the way back home—a trip to Hollywood yesterday, a look at Grand Canyon and then home by Friday.

No column would be complete without a guess as to the outcome of the approaching bowl game at Cleveland. We could be safe and say that the Wildcats will win but the question is which Wildcat—Villanova or Kentucky. If the team plays like they did last Sunday, they should have a final season's record of 7 wins, 2 losses and a tie.

Before the next issue we'll have played two basketball games. The opener with Mount Saint Mary from Maryland and three nights later, a game with Manhattan College. The latter game should put the cagers to an early test. The Jaspers have practically the same team they had last year plus height. Three men on the starting five are well over 6'3".

Student Select

(Continued from Page 1)

Tackles: Ferraro, U.S.C.; Minor, Arkansas; Davis, Georgia Tech; Czarobski, Notre Dame; Serini, Kentucky; Wisert, Michigan; Paul, U.C.L.A.; Agase, Illinois; Conti, Delaware.

Guards: Barker, Lannigan and Smith, Villanova; Riley, Holy Cross; O'Neill, Syracuse; Signaglo, Notre Dame; Rawlins, L.S.U.; Wren, Illinois; Ramsey, Kentucky.

Centers: Humble, Rice, Walsh, Notre Dame; Muncha, Alabama; Parenteni, Princeton.

Backs: Wedemeyer, St. Mary's; Slosburg, Temple; Lawless, Deuber, Dooney and Minisi, Penn; McWilliams, Mississippi St.; Ghaul, Miami; Graves, California; Conerly, Michigan; Nadherny and Jackson, Yale; Scott, Arkansas; Galiffa, Army; West, Princeton; Girard, Wisconsin; Baronowski, Georgetown; Moss, Illinois; Joe, Penn State; Hall, U.S.F.; Diminick, Boston College; Hawkins, Navy; Rauch, Georgia.

Tickets for the Villanova-Kentucky Bowl game are still on sale. William Friel, Alumni Secretary, will handle the sale in his office in the absence of Bob Wealand.

Announced Prices:

$4.80	$2.40*
$3.60	$1.20*

*These tickets are on sale only at Municipal Stadium, Cleveland, which holds 80,000, on December 6, the day of the game. Be sure to enclose 25 cents in mail orders to cover handling.

Ross Drops Meet

By Harry Range

Browning Ross failed in his defense of the Senior Middle Atlantic A. A. U. 10,000 meter championship last Sunday at Fairmount Park as Curtis Stone, last year's IC4A titleholder from Penn State, won the 6½-mile grind in the good time of 32:35. Although Ross lost, his coach, Jim "Jumbo" Elliot, was pleased with the fine showing of his distance star. This was the second time that Browning has ran since recovering from a severe case of the grippe.

Teammate George Thompson who has shown great improvement since the opening of the cross country season was the first of six Villanova entries to cross the wire. Thompson's last minute kick just fell short as he was nipped at the finish line by a 1 sec. margin.

The remaining Wildcat Harriers finished in the following order: Browning Ross 4th; Jim Kennedy 6th; Dave Williams 7th; Charles McKee 15th; Jim McGehrin 16th; and Tom Conboy 25th.

A Negro preacher took his stand before a wide-eyed audience and raised his hands shouting, "Brothers and Sisters, today ah is going to preach about LIES. But before ah begins ah wants evybody what has read the 76th chapter of Matthew to raise his hand."

The colorful body before him immediately became a mass of tinted palms reaching for the ceiling. The Negro preacher then shouted in his loudest voice, "That's what ah means! Ah's gonna preach today about LIES, 'cause dere ain't no 76th chapter of Matthew."

INTRAMURAL ACTIVITIES

Cats, Cardinals Tie for Lead

By Arnie Keehn

As the Intramural Bowling League enters into its fourth week of league play, a heated contest has developed for the first place position. The Cats, by knocking off the first-place Cardinals, moved into a two-way tie with their victims.

Toth and Palitto Lead

Paul Toth and Pete Palitto led the Cats to a four-point victory over the Cardinals. Averaging 159 and 153 points, respectively, this twosome paced their team to a decisive victory with a score of 797 as compared to the opposing team's 676 pinfall. The Cats gained a very close victory in the first contest, winning by a mere three pins. Jim Duffey decided the outcome of the game as he made a difficult 1-3-8 spare in the final frame. Hulbert rolling a high 183 game was the bright spot for the Cardinals in their defeat.

The Rebels took three points from the Woodchoppers thus creating another tie—this time for third place. Hohenleitner had scores of 155, 171 and 142 for the Rebels to lead his team to victory, while Dick Hudak rolled consecutive games of 144, 159, and 167 for the Woodchoppers. The losers acquired their lone point by a 665-623 victory.

League Standings as of Nov. 20

	Points won	lost
1—Cats	7	5
2—Cardinals	7	5
3—Rebels	5	7
4—Woodchoppers	5	7

Schedule for Dec. 4th

Rebels vs. Cats
Woodchoppers vs. Cardinals

CATS RALLY

(Continued from Page 1)

that he fumbled. John Sheehan covered the loose pigskin on the 30. With Joe Rogers leading the attack, the Main Liners boomed to the 10 yard line in 2 plays. Here the Dons line stiffened but on the fourth down with 12 yards to go for a score, Rogers following Jack Tulaski's blocking swept end for six points. After a heated protest, John Siano's kick was declared good.

With the seconds rapidly ticking away, the Cats started to march from the Dons 44 yard line. Getting a 1st down by a penalty on the 31, Gordon was forced to punt as the San Francisco line held on the 29. Andy angled his short punt out of bounds on the 3 yard line. George Kuksar's return punt was taken by Billy Doherty on the 45, who returned it to the 'Frisco 32. Carrying the ball three consecutive times Joe Rogers advanced it to the 6. Burly George Schreiber crashed over for the game winning score. John Siano, whose kicking toe has won three games for the Cats this year, kicked the extra point.

The Dons nearly saved the ball game as they rolled from their 5 to the Villanova 8 yard line before the Wildcats in a magnificent stand slapped the Dons back with two consecutive losses to take the ball over on downs to end that final gesture.

Villanova	Pos.	San Francisco
Brown	L.E.	Sietz
Lilienthal	L.T.	Kwan
Smith	L.G.	Powell
Tamelli	C.	Shoal
Barker	R.G.	Tarras
Sandusky	R.T.	Westenhirshner
Bertano	R.E.	Pietkiewicz
Roberts	Q.B.	Klemenooit
Schmid	L.H.B.	Hall
Tulaski	R.H.B.	Mache
Romanik	F.B.	Hall

San Francisco	7	6	6	0—19
Villanova	7	0	6	6—19

VILLANOVA SCORING: Touchdowns—Sheehan, Schreiber, Rogers. Points after touchdowns—Siano 3 (placements). SAN FRANCISCO SCORING: Touchdowns—Klemenoon, Scott, Golichowski. Point after touchdown—Willis (placement). VILLANOVA SUBSTITUTES—Siano, Siano, Pavalko, Witsch, Perry, Sheehan, Corson, Peltier, Rogers, Schreiber. SAN FRANCISCO SUBSTITUTES—Davila, Wozniak, Kaminsky, abase, Prudera, Scott.

Referee, Joe Fleming, UCLA. Umpire, Verne Landreth, Friends. Field judge, George Muha, Calif. Head linesman, W. Hall, Utah.

STATISTICS

	Vil.	S.F.
First downs	11	16
Rushing	10	8
Passing	0	8
Penalties	1	0
Yards gained rushing	210	314
Yards lost	52	51
Yards gained passing	87	260
Passes attempted	12	14
Passes completed	3	6
Intercepted by	1	1
Yards interceptions return	7	12
Punts, number	7	6
Punts, average	34	39
Kickoffs, number	4	4
Kickoffs, average	60	48
Yards kicks returned	107	109
Punts returned	37	6
Kickoffs returned	70	94
Fumbles	2	4
Ball lost	1	3
Penalties	3	7
Yards lost, penalties	30	65

AUSTIN, BARRACKS 4 AND ARTS DAY HOPS UNDEFEATED

Mondschein, Inc., and Klucsarits

By virtue of their 12-0 conquest of the Austin Freckled Goldfish, the Austin Comets remained on top of the standing as the Intramural Football League completed its fourth week of competition. Delurey suffered its first setback of the campaign when the Mendel Maulers eked out a 12-6 decision.

Comets Unbeaten

The Austin Comets, although kept to a standstill through most of the game, kept their slate clean by edging the Freckled Goldfish. The Comets attack was sparked by the passing of Ken O'Brien, who tossed touchdown passes to George Eagan and Dan Doria.

Delurey was surprised by a hard-fighting Mendel Mauler squad as they dropped their first game of the season, 12-6. The Maulers' alert pass defense proved to be a valuable asset when Bill McDonald nabbed a McHale pass giving the Maulers their first score. Delurey soon knotted the score on a McHale to Healey pass.

Not to be denied an upset, the Maulers retaliated, as Don Sweda passed to Joe Friend in the closing minutes of the ball game, for the touchdown that spelled defeat for Delurey. This loss dropped Delurey into fourth place in the standings, even though they had defeated the Engineers Day Hops earlier in the week to the tune of 18-0. The play of Healey, McIntee, Fessler and McHale featured for the winners.

Mendel Downs C. and F.

The Mendel Maulers served notice that they will be in the thick of the fight when they topped Bill Duffy's C. and F. Claws, 6-0. A pass from Sweda to Gerold produced the only score.

The Barracks' 3 Skippers won a tight game over the Mendeleers, 24-18. Featuring the contest was a brilliant play of Bill Lemmer, of the Skippers. However, the gem of the game was a forty-yard pass from Skinner Leo Schreiber to Lemmer. Bill starred for the losers by running for one touchdown and tossing to Bob Wiener and Jim McKnight for the other two.

The Alumni Jawbreakers handed the Barracks 4 Vandals their first defeat, 12-6. The Alumni scoring came on passes from Griffin to Annis and Cubbon. Foley tallied for the Vandals.

In what proves to be the biggest score thus far this season, the Barracks 4 Sea Gulls completely outclassed the Barracks 3 Skippers, 50-0. The Sea Gulls substituted frequently and the scoring was divided among the players.

Barracks I again forfeited this week, this time to the Engineer Day Hops. Moderator Father Dunne has brought to our attention the fact that lately games have been played with continual arguments among the players, and in one game had even resulted in fisticuffs. If these tactics continue, warning is given that all Intramural competition on the campus will be disbanded. We hope that the full cooperation of all players will be given in this matter.

The Standings:

	Won	Lost	Tied
Austin Comets	4	0	0
Brks. 4 Sea Gulls	3	0	0
Arts Day Hops	1	0	0
Delurey	4	1	1
Brks. 4 Vandalls	2	1	1
Mendel Maulers	3	2	1
Brks. 3 Skippers	3	2	1
Alumni Jawbreakers	3	3	0
Mendeleers	1	1	0
Engineer Day Hops	1	2	0
C&F Claws	1	4	0
Flying Polacks	0	1	0
Simpson	0	1	0
Fedigan	0	1	0
Freckled Goldfish	0	1	0
Barracks I	0	6	0

Ross Wins Penn AC

Browning Ross, running for the South Jersey Track and Field Club, finished with the fastest time in the Penn AC cross-country handicap run. The meet took place on Sunday, November 9 over the five-mile course at Fairmount Park.

Ross, one of the two scratch men in a field of 56 finishers, completed the course in 27:53. He finished 34 seconds ahead of Herman Goffberg, Shanahan CC, who also started from scratch. In capturing the best time prize, Ross' actual finishing position was 21st.

First place was taken by Frank Harris, also of the South Jersey Track and Field Club, whose elapsed time was 30:58 which, with a one minute was corrected to 29:58. This was Harris' initial AAU cross-country victory. He is the 17 year-old captain of the Woodbury High School Track Team.

Cats --- Get in the Bowling Swing!
Organize Intra-Mural Leagues NOW!!!
For Further Information Consult Mr. C. Butera
SPECIAL RATES TO LEAGUES
Ardmore Recreation Center
44 W. Lancaster Avenue, Ardmore, Pa.

THE MAGAZINE COLLEGE MEN HAVE BEEN WAITING FOR

IN THE DECEMBER ISSUE 25c AT YOUR BOOKSTORE
BASKETBALL PREVIEW
COLLEGE LIFE IN BRITAIN
BULL SESSIONS AT AMHERST
QUEENS ON CAMPUS
VARSITY VISITS THE U. OF MICHIGAN
plus loads of SPORTS • STORIES • PHOTOS PIN-UPS • GAGS • HUMOR DATE CLINIC
SPECIAL INTRODUCTORY OFFER $1 for 6 BIG ISSUES

VARSITY's the new word for a college man's reading pleasure. All over the country, "Big Men on Campus" are singing its praises and, NO WONDER! Every issue is tailor-made to meet the tastes, needs and interests of college men.
There's top-notch sports, fast-moving fiction, rib-tickling humor, eye-catching pin-ups, hard-hitting tips on careers, dating, grooming, records, movies and everything else that's important to YOU.
There's no other magazine quite like VARSITY. It speaks YOUR language — It's the magazine YOU have been waiting for!

MAIL THIS COUPON TODAY
VARSITY, C-11
260 Fourth Ave., New York 10, N. Y.
Count me in on your introductory offer to VARSITY! Here's $1 for 6 issues.
NAME
ADDRESS
CITY ZONE STATE

John McDermott, left and Phil Barrett, right delegates to N. S. A., whose recommendations appear below.

Text Of N.S.A. Report

Part IV
Recommendations

Thus far in this report, we have tried to present the scene as we saw it. Now with you, we will try to draw the conclusion following from these observations.

There is need for an arena in which student groups can meet to discuss important issues of a strictly academic character. Just as the United Nations offers an opportunity for the rest of the world to observe the actions of the Soviet Union and its satellites on issues affecting all, the NSA gives students the opportunity to observe activities of the Communists and fellow-travelers in their midst. Students must be awake to the methods of the Communists and be able to combat them, if the NSA is to avoid the debacle of the American Youth Congress. There is room for a strong and genuinely liberal American student movement which is ever on guard against the enemies of freedom. But such a movement must be armed with courage and skill to outwit the tactics of the Stalinists in its ranks who use every technicality of parliamentarily procedure, every form of propaganda and manipulation, to further their aims.

The American students of 1947 — many of them veterans of the war against totalitarianism—are of different vintage than the students of a decade ago. They will not permit the NSA to become a Young Peoples League in Stalin's network, to aid his plans for world conquest. Then too, there are tremendous possibilities for constructive endeavor by the NSA. Specifically, the NSA will find great need for work in the field of Student Government—both establishing new setups and bolstering existing ones, stimulating better student publications, promoting campus recreational and cultural centers, providing for the exchange of art exhibits, arranging for low cost concert and lecture tours, removing racial and religious barriers to educational opportunity, procuring scholarships for study both in this country and abroad, arranging student tours in foreign countries and encouraging foreign students to visit and study in the United States, promoting exchange professorships and in general fostering closer understanding among college students in this country and abroad.

Any and all legitimate student interests can be served in a unique way through an organization such as this, authorized and supported by the official student governing bodies of institutions in all parts of the country. Needless to say, many of these student programs are already being carried on in varying ways and with varying degrees of success on individual campuses: the national body will coordinate and stimulate these efforts and will go further in accomplishments on a broader and more efficient scale than has heretofore been possible. In general, NSA's work lies in such fields as are outlined above. Any effort to change it into an ideological propaganda organ can only lead to defeat of its own purpose. But, if devoted to the real needs of students NSA can introduce a new era in student welfare.

In conclusion, we believe that it is not necessary to elaborate on the potential benefits which can accrue to Villanova by becoming part and parcel in NSA.

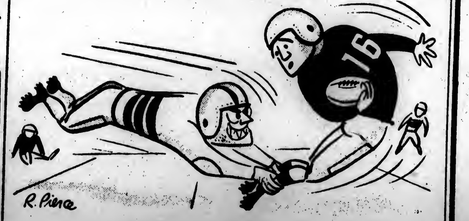
It is enough to say that at last, American students have found a common ground on which they can maturely and intelligently solve their own problems. We therefore recommend as strongly as we can say that Villanova join the NSA and that she embrace its activities to the fullest extent.

Respectfully submitted,
John A. McDermott
Philip F. Barrett

A grave digger, absorbed in his thoughts dug a grave so deep he couldn't get out. As the night grew colder he became more and more uncomfortable, and started shouting for help. At length, a passing inebriated gent, attracted by his cries, staggered over to investigate.

"Get me out of here," shouted the grave digger, "I'm cold."

The inebriated gent regarded him with surprise. "No wonder you're cold," he answered, "they forgot to put any dirt on you."



The Dakota Scientist

JEANNETT'S
Bryn Mawr Flower Shop
Corsage Specialists
FREE DELIVERY
823 Lancaster Ave.
BRYNMAWR , PA.
Bryn Mawr 0570 : Flowers by Wire

KEEP SUPPLIED WITH SCHOOL TICKETS
GOOD ON BUSES AND RAIL CARS UNTIL USED
5c a Ride, including Special Free Transfers. Obtain Identification Cards at School Office.
RED ARROW LINES
Philadelphia Suburban Transportation Co.

Select Your Christmas Gifts NOW!
Use Our Convenient Lay-Away Plan
A Complete Watch and Jewelry Repair Department
FINE HAND ENGRAVING AT YOUR SERVICE
All Work Guaranteed
WAYNE JEWELERS
Anthony Wayne Theatre Building
Wayne 3297 : Wayne, Pa.

See the Great Lakes Bowl Game
VILLANOVA vs KENTUCKY

ONLY $13.90 RD. TRIP TO (Plus U. S. Tax)
CLEVELAND
on Greyhound's Time-Saving Express over the Pennsylvania Turnpike
LEAVE PHILADELPHIA ..... 12:25 P. M.—9:45 P. M.
ARRIVE CLEVELAND ..... 6:00 A. M.—12:25 P. M.
GREYHOUND TERMIALS
Broad St. Sta. Phone: Sp 4-7060
New 69th St. Terminal Blvd. 3100
GREYHOUND

Movies and the Man

College Man Sees Red And Not A Communist

By William Brenninghouse

"Lush love!!! Tense drama!!! Rollicking Comedy!" Every movie made today is heralded by such flowery phrases and a movie is a washout without all of them. Ah yes, the movies, what a business, what an accomplishment, what a laugh.

Moviemakers have decided that the intelligence of American audiences is that of a six year old child. Psychologists tell us that most six year old children haven't the intelligence of a three year old, etc., etc., and etc. Thus most movies are over your head, although you have suspicions that there are some things you know that a six year old child doesn't even have the ability to comprehend. But you cannot call the moviemakers liars so you must submit to the tripe that they call entertainment. All the movies ever made fall into a very few types which we explain now.

First there is the "western" with a title like, "Riders of Rackaback Range." The hero, blond, six foot three, with a mouthful of sparkling pearls, rides a silvery white stallion with a gold encrusted saddle and always has with him a nitwit companion who does his cooking. As the story opens he rides into town just as Blackjack Regan is shooting up the local bar and grille. Without hesitation he wades into the battle, killing or maiming thirty mobsters, emerges scratchless and warns Mr. Regan to "Git out and stay out." Now the townspeople come out of hiding and make him marshall to which he replies, "Ahl do mah best, folks," as the town rocks with cheers. Time passes, our hero falls in love with the judge's daughter and discovers from a crony of Regan then insipid Ed Wilks, the real estate man, is behind the whole deal. The action drags on with a few fist fights, our boy finally landing a haymaker on Regan after a terrific battle. In the end it all turns out right and the hero rides away, waving to the judge's daughter whom he doesn't have the nerve to kiss.

Note: Autry and Rogers do same as above with music.

The private detective has been the subject of many movies. A "private eye" is a rugged character who drinks about a quart of straight whiskey during the course of a case. He is employed by a millionaire, male or female, to recover an article with which a big-time gambler is blackmailing him. The millionaire's daughter, a luscious hunk of feminity, falls for the boy and gives him many a hard time as she is connected through gambling debts to the gangster. Between sappings and kicks in the teeth he makes some deductions that make S. Holmes an amateur. A minimum of six people are slain in the picture which ends with our hero proving his employer a murderer and a first class cad.

Then there is the "musical extravaganza." This waste of film, usually in color, is about the rise, fall and final happiness of somebody or other connected with showbusiness. Replete with leggy showgirls and watery plot it reeks with music, in fact, if you cut out the musical numbers it would be a one reel mistake.

Some movies through want of a better name are termed "comedies"; these break up into two classes, ridiculous and utterly ridiculous. The first is usually a comedy of errors with about as much realism as Buck Rogers and silly girls and idiotic men running loose all over the screen. The other type has for heroes two or three nitwits, usually a straight man and a stooge, sometimes brothers, and sometimes just a bunch of morons. These combine their talents in getting into trouble and in throwing pies. Often they must submit to inhuman torture which they bear with little or no after effect, tortures such as eye gouging, nose smashing, shin-kicking, etc.

Bane of the movie-goers life is the psychological drama in which an alluring, beautiful maiden marries a mad beast for when she was a little girl, her grandmother made her chew tobacco. In a moment of sanity, she murders her husband and takes off with his handsome debonair bodyguard. She finally believes that her new love is trying to drive her insane and pops him. The law captures her as she heads for the border. She sobs out the whole story to the D.A. but there is nothing he can do. She ends up walking the last mile with but one thought on her mind, if she had it all to do over again, she would.

And there you have our movies. The news tells us that Communists have been trying to invade Movieland. If they succeed it will be a tremendous victory for the foes of Soviet Russia.

For Expert Convenient Attention

THE CAMPUS BARBER SHOP
First Class Work
Popular Prices

College Installs Snow Fences

Administrative action has been taken for protection of the campus by the construction of snow fences along all the walks and roadways.

Those students who were here last year are aware of the difficult walking afforded by the heavy snow drifts. It is believed that much of the difficulty will be alleviated through the use of these fences.

Workmen have been engaged in this project for over a week and they expect to be finished in a few days. Then the picket fences will be ready for their initial test which is expected shortly.

THE CAMPUS CLASSIC
CORDUROY SLACKS
A Select Color Assortment in All Sizes
$13.50 to $19.95
The MANLEY Store
835 Lancaster Avenue
B.M. 0131 Bryn Mawr, Pa.
CAMPUS REPRESENTATIVE — NICK MARZIANI

A. S. C. E.

Villanova's ASCE Student Chapter held its second meeting of the current term last Friday morning in Room 104 Mendel. In addition to the regular meeting, plans for a field trip to the Bethlehem Steel plant in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania were discussed.

Tours will be conducted through mills making reinforcing bars, rolled plates, and also through the furnace and other preliminary processing sections. It is expected to last about three hours.

Tuesday, December 2nd, was decided as the best available date for the trip. All engineering students who wish to make the tour are advised to register with Mr. Gallen before tomorrow, Wednesday, November 26th.

After the regular meeting and the above plans were finished, a movie on Soil-Cement and its use in Airport Construction was shown.

GERMAN CLUB

Vincent Pica was elected President of Villanova's German Club last Monday evening. His victory was partly attributed to the excellent work he accomplished on the new constitution which was read at the meeting.

Following the election of the president, John Goldschmidt was chosen vice president, Clarence Heininger secretary, and Dom Longo treasurer.

Rev. William Lunney, O.S.A., moderator of the organization, invited criticism on the new constitution which will be reread at the next meeting before being voted on. The clauses concerning dues and membership qualifications must still be ironed out, he pointed out.

The new president announced plans for a newsletter for distribution among the club members. The letter will contain one page of club news and items of interest to German students. The paper will be put out by the officers of the club and may be enlarged in the future.

The club will hold seven official meetings during the year in addition to several planned social events.

D. P. E.

The Commerce and Finance Fraternity, D.P.E., met on Thursday afternoon of last week to make plans for the coming smoker and to submit the new constitution for approval.

At the smoker, pledgees will be initiated into the fraternity. It was also brought to the attention of all members that article three of the by-laws will be strictly enforced. The article reads: "Unauthorized absence from two consecutive regular meetings, or any three unauthorized absences during one semester is cause for dismissal from the fraternity."

A meeting will be held some time this week to make further plans for the smoker.

BETA GAMMA

Beta Gamma, Villanova's debating organization secured its first victory of the season last Wednesday night as a team of two girls from Bryn Mawr College provided opposition.

Madeline Blount, and Coloston Nauman representing Bryn Mawr defended the negative against Bill Regan and Manny Rubin who upheld the affirmative of the question, "Resolved: That the loyalty probes of the Congressional Investigating Committee are necessary."

The debate, held in Commerce and Finance Auditorium was judged by Rev. William Gordon, OSA. Fr. Gordon stated that he was faced with a difficult decision, but awarded the victory to Villanova. He congratulated both sides on the quality of their speeches.

The chairman for the debate was Vincent O'Niel.

SPANISH CLUB

The drab walls of the C&F auditorium will echo the spirit of fiesta tonight when the Spanish club celebrates its annual "Spanish Night". The members, three hundred and fifty strong, will play host to the clubs of the surrounding colleges.

Rev. Lorenzo Lozano, OSA, has announced that the consuls from Spain and Cuba are expected to be present at the affair. Gay senoritas from the neighboring institutions will be an added attraction.

The main attraction of the evening will be the play entitled "El Prueba de Amor", (A Proof of Love). The Rosemont Club will combine with Villanova in the production. The cast includes: Senorita Peggy Johan as Chelita, Robert Sabol as Don Justa, Senorita Virginia Murphy as Aurora, Pat Fahy as Francisco, and Anthony Guiotta as Ernesto.

Maestro Fr. Lozano will try to steal the spotlight however, leading his male chorus, with his six foot baton. Rehearsals have shown that they are definitely a threat to Fred Waring. They will add to the Latin mood with renditions of "Amapola", "El Rancho Grande" and others.

After refreshments a movie with Spanish dialogue, "The Adventures of El Chico", will be shown. Members are invited to bring their dates. However, the affair is open only to members.

ACCOUNTING CLUB

President Ray Kelm presided at the second meeting of Villanova's Accounting Club on Monday, November 13. After business had been taken care of, Mr. Linsalata addressed the group on "The Duties of the Junior Accountant".

A constitution is being drawn up for the organization and the program for the year is nearing completion. The group will meet on alternate Mondays at 3 P.M. in room 203 C&F. One meeting a month will be devoted to educational discussions by the members on various accounting topics. The second meeting each month will bring prominent speakers to address the society.

AN INVITATION TO ALL VILLANOVANS

Famous Italian Tomato Pies

JOHNNY'S & DIKGERS

STEAK SANDWICHES HOAGIES

FREE DELIVERY

County Line at Chestnut Ave.

ARDMORE, PA. ARD. 9430

"I'll take Dentyne Chewing Gum!"

"He's got something there! When it comes to girls you can love 'em and leave 'em, but once you've tasted that swell flavor of Dentyne Chewing Gum, you're sold solid for life, Brother! Dentyne helps keep teeth white, too!"

Dentyne Gum—Made Only By Adams

Roberts ESSO Service

Courtesy - Service - Thanks

WE SERVICE YOUR CAR While You Are in Class

Lancaster Pike and Haverford Road

B. M. 9141 ROSEMONT, PA.

Pick-Up and Delivery Service

VILLANOVAN

VOL. 23. — No. 8 VILLANOVA COLLEGE, VILLANOVA, PA. Tuesday, December 9, 1947

Sam Donahue Band Booked For Ball

Nation's Top New Orchestra Named to Play for Belle Air Dance

Sam Donahue, hailed by Eastern promoters as the top new band this year, will play for the "Dance of the Year," the Belle Air Ball. The Senior Class is sparing no pains in planning the first formal dance at Villanova in 1948. The dance will be held in the Field House on January 16, in a theme of "really different" decorations.

Tickets for the dance went on sale last Friday and early returns show a heavy demand for the admission slips. Due to a limited capacity of the Field House and a huge student body of 2,200, a limited sale of tickets is a necessity. Co-chairmen Bob O'Connor and Andy Gordon have set 550 couples as the limit.

Donahue has a 16-piece band with two vocalists and pleases dancers with his fine style that combines commercial arrangements with genuine musical feeling. Two engagements at the nation's leading band location — the Click in Philadelphia—prove that the band is a top attraction. It has broadcast coast to coast on all major radio networks.

Tickets on Sale in Halls

Tickets may be purchased immediately from any of the following men: Joe Healy and Tom Boyle, Chairmen of the Ticket Committee, and in the following halls:

ALUMNI: Pete Chapilnski, Albert Melluski.

FEDIGAN: Jack Corr.

AUSTIN: Paul Higgins, Ed Lobrowicz.

BARRACKS: John Mallick, Tony La Banca.

SIMPSON, DELUREY, O'DWYER: Ed Fanelli.

DAY HOPS: Jerry Powell, Jim Lyons, Doc Brennan, Ed Compos.

The price this year will be $6.00 per couple, tax included.

St. Joseph's To Debate With British

The Union Debating Society of Oxford University, and the Villager Debating Society of St. Joseph's College, Phila., will meet on Jan. 13, at 8:30 P.M., at Town Hall, 150 N. Broad St. The question under discussion: — Resolved: "That the workings of a modern Democracy demand a liberal rather than vocational education." St. Joseph's will take the affirmative while Oxford will uphold the negative.

The debate is being sponsored by the Regional Student Relief Drive Committee of the N.F.C.C.S. All proceeds from the sale of tickets will be donated to the Student Relief Drive.

Prominent Figures To Debate

David K. Harris, Hon. Anthony N. Wedgewood Benn, Labor Party candidate for parliament, and Sir Edward G. Boyle, members of the Oxford team currently touring the U.S., will vie with Edward H. Davies and John R. Carrol, of St. Joseph's.

Rev. William J. Krupa, O.S.A. of Villanova, and the Hon. James P. McGranery, Federal District Court of Phila., will preside as judges, with the Hon. Francis J. Meyers, U.S. Senator, Penna. as chairman.

The 2 hour debate will have two men to each team, with each man giving a fifteen minute speech and eight minute rebuttal.

Because the N.F.C.C.S. has a number of member groups in the Philadelphia area, it is expected that the debate will attract a large number of Catholic college students. All members of the Villanova student body are invited to attend. Student tickets for the event are $.80; non student $1.50.

1947 BELLE AIR AWARDED PRIZE

Yearbook Receives All-American Rating

The Belle Air, Villanova yearbook, has announced that last year's book, edited by Tom Schubert, was awarded All-American honors by the National Scholastic Press Association.

The 1947 yearbook was among the four in its class in the United States which received All-American rating. The total entries to the 1947 contest, which is known as the All-American Yearbook Critical Service, numbered 810. Previous to this year only five other editions of the Belle Aire had been named All-American.

THOMAS SCHUBERT, '47

Among the features in the book especially liked by the judges were the dedication, the end sheets, coverage of curricular activities, the copy, and the general readability of the book. Some of the complimentary comments by the judges were: "Good layout—interesting"; "Copy is good—well written and interesting"; "A different but effective way of handling your dedication", and ". . . an excellent introduction—copy is interesting and well written. . . ".

Schubert, a member of the class of '47, first came to Villanova in 1942 from Roman Catholic High School. He was a staff member of both the Belle Air and the Villanovan. He also participated in the V-12 program at Villanova, and when he was discharged in 1946, was elected editor for the following year.

Campus Radio Airs Dedication Tonight

The Rev. Edward Grimes Will Assist in Ceremony

Villanova's own radio station, WVIL, will officially go on the air tonight, Tuesday, December 9. The first part of the evening's programs will feature a Special Broadcast of Dedication Ceremonies.

Although plans for this special program are not as yet completed, it is expected that the Rev. E. Grimes, O.S.A., Chaplain, will deliver an address on the opening of the station.

The opening will be a major event of great significance as Villanova was one of the first organizations to have a radio station shortly after the discovery of radio. The original station, long since dismantled, had its own building and operated on a spark gap set.

Basketball Game Broadcasts Proposed

Among the proposed features of the station are on-the-spot broadcasts of away basketball games. Much care has been exercised in making plans to keep the broadcast material at a level as near to professional radio as possible. Courtesy is asked during the first few days of broadcasting to allow for ironing out of technical difficulties.

Station at 538 Kilocycles

WVIL will come in at 538 kilocycles on your radio; a later change to 640 kilocycles is contemplated.

The studio will be located in Austin Hall, under the slogan, "For the Best in Campus Listening."

In the near future a call for men interested will be issued at which time full staffs will be organized and elections held. At present the station is operating under the direction of Dick McKinley, Emil Mika, Tom Sullivan, John Kane, Frank Haney and Matt Kearney.

Talk, Cinema Highlights of ASME Smoker

Tomorrow at 8:00 P.M. the A.S.M.E. Student Branch of Villanova College will hold its first smoker of the year in the Commerce and Finance Auditorium. Guest Speaker for the occasion will be Mr. Malcolm F. Judkins, Chief Engineer of the Carbide Division of the Firth Sterling Steel and Carbide Corporation.

His topic is "The Development Of Cutting Tools, Including Carbide Tipped Tools". Motion Pictures will accompany the speech.

Mr. Judkins is a graduate of the University of Washington, where he received his B.S. in Chemical Engineering. In 1929 he acquired his M.S. from The Carnegie Institute. He worked for four years at the Northwest Testing Lab, and the U.S. Bureau of Mines at Pittsburg, in Chemistry and Metalurgy. He has been Chief Engineer for the Firth Sterling Steel and Carbide Corporation since 1931.

In connection with his scientific work, Mr. Judkins has written a book in Machine Design entitled "Present Status of Cemented Carbide Cutting Tools Machinery", and contributed much important data to the "American Machinist". He is also Honorary member of the A.S.M., A.S.M.E., A.I.M.E., Army Ordinance, A.S.T.E., and Scabbard and Blade.

All active members of the A.S.M.E. are requested to attend the meeting. Members of the other Engineering societies, the A.I.E.E., A. S. Cr. E. and A. S. C. E. are invited to attend the lecture.

Advent Sermons Herald Christmas

Prior to Christmas a special series of three talks will be given in Chapel by three members of the college faculty. The Very Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire, O. S. A., President of the college, will climax this series with a talk on "The Birth of the Savior," which will be delivered on Wednesday and Thursday, December 17 and 18, respectively.

Fr. John Walsh, O. S. A., will deliver a talk this week on "Why God Became Man." This address will be delivered during the regular Chapel period.

Fr. John Maher, O. S. A., initiated the series last week with a talk on "The Christ is Phophetized."

These talks take the place of the regular latter week Chapel talks and are to renew the ideas that should be associated with Christmas.

President Addresses Student Body

College Field House, December 2nd. At the first Convocation of the student body this semester a two-fold purpose was planned and accomplished. A quarterly address citing concern over the academic and spiritual progress of the students was made by Reverend Francis X. N. McGuire, O. S. A., President of the College a summary of progress and an appeal for renewed interest in the relief drive of the N. F. C. C. S. was made by officials of that organization.

The invocation for the assembly was offered by Reverend George McLaughlin, O. S. A., Moderator of the campus N. F. C. C. S. unit. Singing of the Alma Mater followed; music was provided by the band, with Rev. Ralph Handran, O. S. A., conducting.

Father McGuire had as his theme the present educational crisis and its effect at Villanova. He expressed the desire to meet, in similar manner, each quarter to better effect a close-knit union of faculty and students.

VERY REV. FRANCIS X. N. McGUIRE

Spiritual values were stressed and improved academic effort for any current failing was encouraged.

Rev. Wycisio, War Relief Director, Speaks

Part two of the program included talks by two N. F. C. C. S. officials, Rev. Aloysius Wycisio, Overseas Field Director of War Relief Service, and John Stanley, Student Director of the N. F. C. C. S. drive.

Father Wycisio cited his extensive overseas tour during the war, and post-war period, describing the suffering of student Europe.

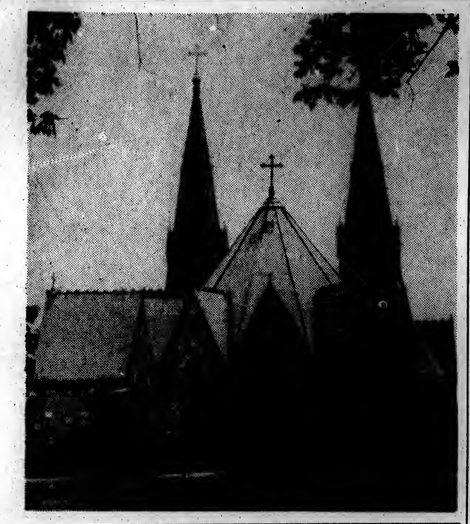
"The Crisis in Student Relief" was his topic, a survey of conditions in schools abroad.

Mr. Stanley expressed the gratitude of the organization with student contributions, which have placed Villanova first in receipts in the Philadelphia area. A collection followed his brief address.

The Star-Spangled Banner concluded the Convocation. Chairman of the affair was L. Kevin McChesney.

Traffic Light Petitions Sent To Township

Although the petitions are no longer on the walls, the drive for a traffic light opposite the chapel on Lancaster Pike continues this week. Petitions signed by the faculty, students and employees have been collected and mailed with a letter to the township authorities. Thus the first step has been taken toward the goal of a hand operated light.



The letter sent with the petition to the township enumerated the people who cross the street daily and explained the danger marked in crossing the pike. It pointed out further how seven people have been killed in the past and recommended the situation be remedied before more people lose their lives.

The college paper has been promised support in its drive by the Keystone Automobile Club of Philadelphia. The local club promises to give publicity to the danger spot in its newspaper.

The next step will be up to the township before the state will take action.

Special Announcement

All seniors who expect to graduate in February or June '48 must see Mr. Friel personally during the week of December 9th to 13th, to fill out qualification records with regard to job placements and contacts.

BACKGROUND

Some of the least appreciated of all music is the background music of a motion picture. It is so worked into the feeling of the picture, that the music, together with the dialogue and action, blend into the whole as one. We are usually not conscious of the music and we are unaware of its effects upon us. So it is with the Campus of the College. It is something that has a psychological effect upon us. We know it is there but usually accept it as part of the whole, the College. If we were to concentrate and listen closely to the background music of a movie, we would be astounded and wonder how we let such a thing go unnoticed. The same goes with the campus. Take it away from the college, examine it and see all that you missed before.

It's not just a field with huge buildings and "Please" signs. Nor is it just a not-so-large area off of which you are not permitted at night. It's more. Can't it be compared to a huge rolling carpet upon which the furniture of the college is placed? But unlike an ordinary carpet, it changes color from a soft snow white in Winter and a plush grass green in Spring to an earthy hay-brown in Autumn. On this carpet of grass are trees, anywhere else just trees, but on the campus they're a little bit more. They're lamps whose spidery black and white of Winter, which changes to a refreshing green in the Spring and mixed autumnal colors around the beginning of the term, do much to make the grounds more ornate.

The beautiful architecture of the ivied buildings are some of the articles of furniture. Shrine and statues are other furniture placed upon this magic carpet which seem to transport you from the cares of the outer world to a feeling of partial seclusion conducive to accomplishment.

The winding roads which lead to such treasures as the Homes of the Students, and the Home of Letters from Home, are all components of that part of the College which is the Campus.

The most important roads, though, are the ones leading to the House of God. Here dwells the God that gave us the College and the means to enjoy it. The whole College derives its fundamental rules from this Being, the Center of the College and the Center of the Universe.

The students themselves add to the Campus. The small knot of sprawling humanity studying in the shade of a chestnut tree, the scholars hurrying from class to class and the ball game over in the corner lot are all, in a sense, part of the Campus.

The Campus stretches all about us and has far too many aspects and phases of which we are conscious of only superficially. Sometime, take a stroll down the roads of the campus and be conscious of the things around you. Take a walk in the morning, in the afternoon, at evening. You will notice differences, so you will notice differences in the Spring, Winter and Fall. That word Campus has more to it than a lot of us realize.

David V. Anthony

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

WILLIAM F. ALTENPOHL, '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
JOHN A. McDERMOTT, '48 ..... Managing Editor
JACK CASEY, '49 ..... News Editor
GEORGE SZYMANSKI, '50 ..... Feature Editor
RICHARD HUBBARD, '48 ..... Picture Editor
VINCE PEDANO, 49 ..... Circulation Manager
NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI, '48 ..... Business Manager
EDWARD OXFORD, '50 ..... Copy Editor
JAMES PLUNKETT '49 ..... Sports Editor

News Staff

Michael Marshal '49, Richard Shinners '48, Michael Joseph Nowlan '49, Charles Laferty '49, Frank Gobes '51, Frank Gusikowski '49, Thomas Mitchell '51, Joseph Miller '50, John James Connol y '51, Joseph Kenney '50, Joseph Callahan '51, George R. Reinhart '51, Arthur Woodrow '52, Louis Alvare '48.

Feature Staff

R. E. Manifold '51, William Breninghouse '51, Joseph Quill '50, A. J. Mullen '49, David V. Anthony '51, John A. Rowe '51, Gunther Kaiser '49, P. McManus '48, John Mallick '49, Vince O'Neil '51, Mark Morris '51, James Tayoun '51, Leo Dodd '49, Emil Mayer '49, Richard Hudak '49, Thomas Russo '51.

Sports Staff

James Lyons '48, Paul Altenpuhl '49, Ned Hoffner '49, Arnold Keehan '49, William Canino '50, Neal Fahy '50, George Mondschein '50, Raymond Mondschein '50, Tyson Reilly '50, Walter Rygiel '50, Harry Jacobs '51, William Klussarits '51, Raymond MacWilliams '51, Paul Pressede '51, Harold Range '51.

Picture Staff

Robert Graf '50, Raymond Berninger '49, Dar Haflinger '50, William Neal Carter '51, Dan Robinson '51, William Murphy '51, Harry Papaan '51, Robert Pope '50.

Business Staff

Joe King '48, Barry Gibbons '51, Jack Gibbons '51, Donald Barait '50.

Circulation Staff

George Weber, III, '51, Ralph Iorio '50, Ed Kent '51, Charles Klunk '51, Ralph Skowron '51, Gene Langan '51, Harry Papaan '51, Robert Pope '50.

Copy Staff

Frank McGeehan '50, Girard Farnan '50, Edgar Le Blanc '50 Steve Kelas '51, Robert MacRoberts '51, William Foley '50, Dick Randolph '50.

Faculty Advisor— Rev. John A. Klekotka, O.S.A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman —

LEO GOODREAU

Subscription: $2 per year. Circulation: 5000.
Entered as second class matter at the Villanova Post Office December 27, 1928.

Member of Associate Collegiate Press, Distributor of Collegiate Digest.
Member of Catholic School Press Association, Catholic College Press Association.

WHAT'S THE STORY

This week in Brooklyn our educational system in the United States reached its logical conclusion. An assistant superintendant of schools in Brooklyn has prohibited the Christmas celebrations and expositions in twenty-three schools in the Borough. This is not an outrageous, not even a surprising, act.

Our public school system is based on the deistic theories of our nation's founders. There is a God but He is so far above us that we can't be sure of any knowledge of Him. Therefore, in our schools there will be no religion taught. This follows directly, if there is no true and irrefutable religion, any doctrine that is taught can be justifiably opposed; and therefore to avoid pointless difficulty no doctrine will be taught at all.

The rites of a religion follow from the doctrine of it. If a rite is not derived from doctrine, the rite is hollow, even superstitious. It is clear then that if there is no doctrine recognized by our schools there should be no rite recognized by them either. Christmas celebrations are historically and essentially a religious rite, therefore in our public schools they should be suppressed.

The conclusion seems a little absurd doesn't it. The logic is unassailable, what's the story? The answer is plain, the postulates of the argument are not our principles. Our principles must underly our school system, our financial system, all our systems. We all agree on something, the basis of our communal systems must be our communal beliefs.

Pride and Prejudice

"Yes, I'm a Catholic. As a Catholic, I believe in justice and charity. I don't claim to be among the foremost exponents of racial tolerance but I am willing to do at least a little in behalf of the Negro." If you can make the above statement and in making it mean what you say, I believe that you will have an interest in what appears below. It is no conscious effort to tug at your heartstrings. It is a mere narration of a scene witnessed by a student like yourself. These impressions could well be yours.

Last week, a friend of mine had occasion to visit a young doctor, among whose practice were counted a number of colored families. As chance would have it, the doctor was called to the home of a Negro laborer. This man's teen-age son had been burned when kerosene, poured over a coal fire, had flared up in the boy's face and burned him severely. The doctor treated the lad and directed that he be sent to a nearby hospital. At present the boy is recovering rapidly.

Of more immediate interest were conditions observed in the home. The laborer, earning no more than forty dollars a week, had seven children to support, none older than sixteen, the youngest being three years of age. They were crowded into a five room flat. The home was neatly kept. In each of the two rooms my friend saw, hung a crucifix. The children seemed to be happy but their clothes, probably fourth or fifth hand-me-downs, showed signs of hard wear and constant patching. The conditions bespoke poverty and are doubtlessly multiplied in many instances.

Children Like These

Colored children attending Catholic schools like our own younger brothers and sisters are definitely in need of the little assistance we can give them. On our part, it means just a little conscious effort, a mental note to do immediately rather than put off until next time. To them, these children, it means warmth and comfort, a merrier Christmas. Placed in economic circumstances beyond their control, we might call it more justice than charity that we help them.

In conjunction with the drive in behalf of Mary Etta Jordon, six-year old colored girl injured in a tragic traffic accident, the Interracial Society of Villanova College is conducting a clothing drive for the families in Philadelphia's colored parishes. Welcomed will be all types of usable clothing, children's especially. The drive will begin today, December 9th, and extend to the beginning of the Christmas holidays. A suitable container is provided at the information booth in Mendel Hall. From here, the task is yours.

A Much Needed Boost

Joseph Leary

In the following, the "I" shall be used in order to shoulder responsibility for a few remarks on the Catholic Novel which represent pure opinion and not the fruition of research.

What is the Catholic Novel? Since it is difficult to offer hard and fast criteria, an easy and possibly more efficient way out would be to have each novel individually judged; avoiding argument over any objective starting point. Manfully however, as any novel concerns man in society, the Catholic Novel concerns man in relation to material society, and God's society.

To achieve this, the novelist should combine artistic forms to Catholic habits of form and feeling, cognizant of the vital balance, never sacrificing one or the other.

The Catholic Novel of bygone days served as an impotent branch upon the tree of literature. Not to detract from Sienkiewicz, Sheehan, etc., but in the main its scope was narrow, it had no universally substantial appeal, it expressed itself continuously in didactic homilies of sweetbitty plots with flexible, soggy characters. The prominent cause, I feel, stemmed from its purpose of propagandizing. The merits of propaganda are extraneous here. The use of the novel, however, as a means of soliciting overrode the limits of the novel's primary purpose to its own detriments.

The emancipation of the Catholic Novel from its fit of lethargic staidness has been accomplished. To my mind, the one most responsible has been Evelyn Waugh in his most responsible book, Brideshead Revisited, a best-seller. Critics generally concede it fine craftsmanship. Many feeling the hangover from past Catholic Novel performances, or maybe on the strength of his Catholic faith accuse him of propagandizing. I feel that Waugh does not sacrifice the art of novel writing to any overemphasis on religious activity and that if propaganda forms part of his purpose it is subtle, not insipid. Waugh mentions that in writing of man, God naturally enters.

Because of his intelligent balancing of artistic forms and Catholic thought in such exquisite fashion, I feel that he has broadened the Catholic writers' scope, has given new life to the Catholic Novel, has proven that it can appeal universally.

Graham Greene, Bruce Marshall, etc.?—Waugh is in the van.

This gag went the rounds lately. It was passed from man to man, shouted from behind boulders, whispered into ears in the underbrush. "Gonna be tough sleddin' tonight." "How come?" "No snow."

The Dakota Scientist

"What's the matter with your fingers?"

"I was getting some cigarettes and some clumsy fool stepped on them."

Letters To The Editor

William F. Altenpohl Editor,
Villanovan,
Box 1.
Villanova, Pennsylvania

Dear Mr. Altenpohl,

Since November 1946, when the Republicans gained a majority in our Congress much criticism has evolved against this representative group. Not wishing to go unheard, Mr. Duffy has chosen to go among those lending their voices to the cause. In Mr. Duffy's article he allows us a brief glimpse of America's political scene in 1930-31. Terms like "rugged individualism," "American self sufficiency" are deposited before us in grand array. The reason we were given a Republican administration in the "Normalcy years" was because the majority of people were conservative and reactionary against Wilson's futuristic ideas. It is not true America was given a Republican administration because the electorat willed it that way? How is the present day Republican party explained away? According to Mr. Duffy, we have a group of men, "plagued by the 'memory' of a great socially conscious individual and the physical presence of a practical leader." The value of these two statements is obvious. The worth of individual leaders of the Republican party is left unmentioned.

Villanova,
November 25, 1947

THE VILLANOVAN POLL

by Tom Russo, '51

At the beginning of the school year we asked Villanovans their opinions of the "weaker sex," and presented the results in this column. This week we took practically the same questions to Rosemont and made a similar survey there, and obtained the following results on the "stronger sex" according to the average Rosemont belle:

1. Do you prefer blondes, brunettes, or redheads?
Blondes: 26%
Brunettes: 52%
Redheads: 4%
Don't care, or no opinion: 18%

2. Must he be as tall, or taller than you?
As tall: 6%
Taller: 94%

3. About how tall do you like your date to be? The average height preferred was: 6 feet, ½ inch.

4. Are you in favor of the new style dress lengths?
Yes: 86%
No: 10%
Don't care, or no opinion: 4%

5. Do you care for "crew cuts" on fellows?
Yes: 42%
No: 38%
Don't care, or no opinion: 20%

6. List in the order you rate them, the following five qualities you prefer in a fellow.
These five qualities and their ratings were:
first—high ideals
second—personality third—neatness and dress fourth—common likes fifth—looks

Below is a complete breakdown of the opinions on this question in percentages;

Rating in percent
Quality	1.	2.	3.	4.	5.
High ideals	64	22	8	4	0
Personality	32	56	8	2	0
Neatness and Dress	0	6	46	28	18
Common Likes	0	6	24	52	16
Looks	4	6	12	12	64

CAMPUS ROLL CALL

By John P. Mallick

Immaculata

Last week-end, which was a big one for us, appeared to be quite well spent by the Macs. It was a closed one for them, but in contrast they spent most of their time in chapel for forty-hours devotion. (Angel factory)

On the morning of December 14th, at 10:30 A.M., the special choir will sing Liturgical music over station WCAU. In the afternoon the Junior class members of the Dramatic Club will present the play "Command Performance" by Sr. Mary Donatus. All are invited. The theme of the play concerns Christmas in the time of Queen Elizabeth.

Carol night will be held on December 17th, when the entire student body dressed in caps and gowns, and carrying lanterns, will sing Christmas carols in the Rotunda of Villa Maria Hall. The Songsters will be accompanied by the school orchestra. All Juniors and Seniors will be able to invite two guests. After the ceremony the girls will start their Christmas vacation which will terminate on January 5th.

Rosemont

Another tea dance fellows! This one will be held on Sunday, December 14th, from 3 to 6 in the afternoon. This Christmas dance will be held in the gym. All Villanova men are cordially invited. There will be no admission, but students may contribute to the N. F. C. C. S. fund.

On the evening of December 16th, the Jest and Gesture, Rosemont's dramatic club, will present Dickens' "Christmas Carol." Afterwards the students will sing Christmas carols, followed by the traditional banquet. It is expected that men from Villanova will continue their tradition of serenading the girls with Yule-tide songs.

Their Glee Club has made recordings of Christmas carols for station WFIL. These records will be played at the Fels Planetarium during the showing of the "Christmas Skies."

The girls return from their vacation on January 7th.

Chestnut Hill

Another joint meeting of the German clubs of both the "Hill" and Villanova is scheduled for December 12th. It is assured that this is to be one of the liveliest events ever to hit the "Hill."

Well, well, another Christmas play! This one will be held on December 17th, and will be presented by the Mask and Foil. Afterwards, the Sophomores will light the Christmas tree and sing Christmas carols.

Their vacation begins on December 17 and ends on January 6.

"Innocent bystanders" are a curious race; wherever they are, something's bound to take place.

Freddie scowled at his father and said, "I got into trouble today, DAD, and it's your fault."

How's that?" asked his father.

"Remember, I asked you how much $100,000 was?"

"Yes, I remember. What of it?" demanded the father.

"Well, said Freddie, 'A Helluva lot' ain't the right answer!"

The Plainsman

TOWN TALK

By G. P. Kaiser
and P. F. McManus

Not since Gertrude Lawrence's appearances in "Pygmalion" has that talented English lady graced a Philadelphia stage. Now she appears in a revival of Noel Coward's "Tonight at Eight-Thirty" at the Forrest Theater. This venture does much to display the remarkable versatility of the star. Six short plays will alternate, three an evening for the usual two weeks. Some are with music.

Tuesday night the Metropolitan Opera is in Philadelphia for the third performance of its regular subscription season. After two German operas, the company has switched to its French repertoire, with Massenet's "Manon." In the title role is a newcomer, Elen Dosla, a Greek late of the Paris Opera, as Des Grieux is Charles Kullman, an American tenor. Martial Singher, Nicola Moscona and others complete the large cast. The leading conductor of the French wing, Louis Forestier, will be on the podium.

More opera will be offered on Thursday evening when the capable Philadelphia-La Scala Opera Company will sing "Puccini," and the drama "Tosca" with a roster of well-known singers. A splendid La Scala is remembered from the '44-45 season when Mario Berni and Vivian Della Chiesa sang the roles of the ill-fated lovers, Mario Cavaradosi and Flora Tosca.

This week-end as guest artist the Philadelphia Orchestra will have Carlos Salzedo, eminent harpist of the Curtis Institute. Coupled with Salzedo's own performance of his Concerta for harp and wind instruments, will be Russian works of contemporary composers. Shostakovitch's bombastic, nationalistic salute to the Soviet Republics, his Fifth Symphony and excerpts from Aram Khachaturian's folkish ballet suite "Gayne." Perhaps the most popular excerpt from the latter composition is the sensational "Sabre Dance" with its vivid coloring and folk dance tempo.

On Monday, the 15th of December, the Second Youth Concert of the season will be presented by the Philadelphia Orchestra. The concert will be devoted principally to Christmas music. The Choir of St. Peter's Church will sing a group of Christmas carols—The Virgin's Slumber Song, Four Czech Carols, and an excerpt from Handel's "Messiah," "Come Unto Him." The mezzo-soprano, Edith Evans, is to sing two operatic arias from "Werther" and "Carmen." The remainder of the program will be given over to Beethoven's Symphony No. 7, Prelude to Act III, Lohengrin, and a Bach Prelude. Alexander Hilsberg, associate conductor of the Orchestra, will be conductor and master of ceremonies.

A great deal of interest has been aroused in Philadelphia concerning the Orchestra Pension Fund. To decrease the deficit of the Philadelphia Orchestra the Association lists three concerts for those who directly contribute a certain amount to the Pension Fund. The Bach Choir, Artur Rubenstien and Benny Goodman will perform at the concerts. Seats are rather scarce as many hold their cards by continued contributions over the years.

I ASK YOU —

Does it pay to play basketball? Ask Tom Sahol. The other night, after the M. S. M. game, where he scored 19 points, Bob started off the floor. He expected the usual congratulatory handshakes but lo and behold, a little nurse from Bryn Mawr broke through the crowd and planted a big kiss right smack on his kisser. Say Al, you don't happen to need a new ball player, do you?

Who's Snuffy Smif's cousin? Well, after much investigation, we found out that he is right here on campus parading under the alias of columnist (?) John Kucha.

The Fourth Column

By Hugh Johnson
and Frank McBride

Round two from the 5th.

We'll start off with a little sad note this week. At this sitting, the NFCCS has wrung a little less than 4 bits per man out of the Villanova student body. This includes the returns from the Hayloft Hoedown, too.

Our faces are slightly red—are yours?

Let's remember that our European contemporaries don't have an Uncle "Sugar" paying the tuition and doling out $65 per to finance Saturday nights.

Weekend Highlights

Our hats off to the brave 100 who formed the Villanova cheering section in Cleveland. Believe us, a good time was had by all in the Lake City.

Back on the home front, Ed Heim played host to a select clientele at a little gathering out yonder. Tom Meyers made an appearance with Dorothy, the model—whoops, we mean Doris the model.

Others present and accounted for were the Meehans, Donahues, Tom Horan, Bob Merriweather, Bill Mundy—Oh yea, Bill Mundy. He's the guy that was unanimously elected president of the "General Wayne Benevolent Society for Old Times."

Saturday p.m. found muchos Villanovos out at Wally Dietrick's Fall-Winter Social. Buck Coleman, Jake McEvoy, Charlie Mallon, etc., rounded out the group.

Wedding Bells, Inc.

(If this smacks of a column one would expect to see in a female college's newspaper, then take it for what it is — pure satire.) Wedding bells will ring out in Philly soon for Joe Rogers and Dan Horgan. (no-no, not each other, they're marrying girls).

Too late for Tom Kennedy and Bill Price though—they made the same mistake, on the same day, at the same time. We're always sorry to see our boys fall by the wayside but—huh—Good Luck anyway boys.

The ASME went down to Atlantic City last week—voted George Marshall an award—then, not to be outdone, also voted an award for Villanova's Charlie Mamzic—for action above and beyond the call of duty.

Odds and Ends

Last week was a busy one at the telephone switchboard. It seems that the San Francisco '49ers and a pro club from N. Y., and the promoters of the annual North-South game were keeping the lines busy trying to lure Villanova's All-East tackle Bill Lillenthal. As he boarded the train for Cleveland last Thursday, Bill was undecided on all three counts.

Ed Berrang would like us to thank the considerate Villanova students who so thoughtfully voted to name him "honorable mention" on the Villanovan All-American team.

To date, our tip-off boy on the next year's football schedule is batting .000. Brown, according to A.P. won't play Villanova next year. The Hilltoppers of Marquette have given up on ever beating the Wildcats—so they very quietly dropped us from their schedule.

We met "Hap" Chandler, the erstwhile Kentucky alumnus, after the game in Cleveland. He refused to go on record about anything in baseball especially in regard to young Mr. Dorocher. He did express, however, a strong personal feeling towards continuance of a Villanova-Kentucky series.

TULSA

From afar come men to the gates of Villanova seeking learning. One of these is George Winters, a Sophomore, come from the shining metropolis of the Southwest, Tulsa, Oklahoma. We asked George to write us something of his hometown, and we quote the following directly:

"Tulsa, 'The Oil Capital of the World,' is located in the northeastern part of Oklahoma on the north bank of the Arkansas River, at the gateway to the greater Southwest. It is a thriving city of 175,000 people, noted for its cleanliness, wide streets, and large parks. The city, although it has no refineries or producing wells, relies on petroleum for its chief source of revenue. It holds the head offices for several of the larger oil companies and has more independent corporations engaged in the many and varied functions of the industry than any other city in the world.

George Winters, of Tulsa, Okla.

Cascia Hall, the Augustinian prep school, is situated in the southern part of the city on a heavily wooded area of forty acres. The school has a beautiful campus, with a brook, stadium, gymnasium and dormitory.

The city of Tulsa is, if not the cleanest, one of the cleanest cities in the world. To further this claim a city ordinance forbids the burning of coal to heat the beautiful homes, and consequently, the city's modern stone buildings are as clean as the day they were built.

The city has large parkways that link the outlying regions with the center of the city. These new traffic-ways make a transportation problem non-existent.

Mohawk Park is the third largest city-owned park in the world. It is the playground of the city containing a zoo, golf course, two large lakes for sailing and fishing, and a large area for picnicking.

In Tulsa are located the head offices and maintenance section headquarters for the American Airlines. There they maintain a hostess school and a ten-story office building for administration.

The residential area of the city would be comparable to Philadelphia's Main Line. Hundreds of the executives of the oil companies have chosen Tulsa for their homes."

Thanks a lot, George, and now for a closing look at those campus fixtures of yours, the BOOTS.

VILLANOVA VOICES

by

CAMPUS BARBER SHOP

Campus Calendar

Tuesday, December 9
7:00 P.M. — WVIL goes on air.

Wednesday, December 10
8:00 P.M. — Fr. John Walsh Speaks on "Why God Became Man."—Chapel A.S.M.E. meeting—Physics Lab.
8:30 P.M. — VILLANOVA vs Scranton — Field House.

Thursday, December 11
ASCE Meeting, Friday, December 12, 1947, in Room 305 Mendel at 11:00 A. M.
6:30 P.M. — Fr. John Walsh speaks on "Why God Became Man"—Chapel.

Saturday, December 13
VILLANOVA vs Princeton — Away

Tuesday, December 16
Next issue of VILLANOVAN.

Wildcat Team Visits Movie Capital, Meets Crosby

Not only did the Villanova football team win a thrilling game from the University of San Francisco, but they also enjoyed one of the quickest and most complete sightseeing itineraries possible.

Spanning the continent twice in ten days the 44 players, coaches and officials who made the journey, witnessed summer weather and snow, movie stars and Navajo Indians, desert wastes and the Pacific Ocean.

Training stops were made at Chicago and at Denver, where 20 degree temperature prevailed. At Ogden a short hike occupied time between trains.

After arriving in San Francisco, most of the time was spent in preparing and resting for the game, with a tour of Chinatown, and Mass at St. Joseph's Cathedral. Eating and sleeping formed the main occupation. Joe Scarcelli was the exception; he spent much time trying to locate tickets for the game for his San Francisco relatives.

During the game San Francisco displayed a large colorful cheering section. An injured Lou Ferry typified Villanovan spirit declining replacement when all other tackles were injured with, "We've run out of tackles."

The team arrived Monday morning in Los Angeles and toured the city and movie studios. The group saw sets being made for "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" and "The Long Grey Line" and such stars as Bing Crosby, Alan Ladd, Ken Wilcoxon, Joan Caulfield, Anita Colby, Veronica Lake, Virginia Field, and Audrey Murphy, America's most decorated service man.

Following an overnight trip from Los Angeles, the Villanova group took the 31 mile "East rim" tour of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado River. Lunch and dinner were taken at the El Tovar Hotel in the canyon. Study and cards filled the time to Chicago.

On Thanksgiving there were a few hours of Chicago souvenir-hunting and a Thanksgiving dinner at the Congress Hotel. Thursday the group left for the last hop to Villanova.

OUT OF THE COPY BASKET

Sonny: "Mother, Poppa wouldn't murder anyone, would he?"

Mother: "Why certainly not. Why?"

Sonny: "Well, I just heard him down in the cellar saying, 'Let's kill the other two, George'."

The Niagara Index

Most people say these jokes aren't funny. But I threw some into the furnace and the fire roared.

WHY WALK?
CLEANING PRESSING
We Pick Up and Deliver Daily at the
PIE SHOP
COLADONATO TAILOR SHOPPE

WELCOME CATS
HAMBURG HEARTH
814 LANCASTER AVE. BRYN MAWR, PA.

JEANNETT'S
Bryn Mawr Flower Shop
Corsage Specialists
FREE DELIVERY
823 Lancaster Ave.
BRYN MAWR, PA.
Bryn Mawr 0570 : Flowers by Wire

CORRECTION

The Manly Store is currently featuring casual sport coats instead of slacks as erroneously indicated in last week's issue.

See Ad Below

THE CAMPUS CLASSIC
CORDUROY CASUALS
A Select Color Assortment in All Sizes
$13.50 to $19.95
The MANLY Store
835 Lancaster Avenue
B.M. 0131 Bryn Mawr, Pa.
CAMPUS REPRESENTATIVE — NICK MARZIANI

"MY HOW THE TIME GOES BY..."

when you're listening to HAL McINTYRE'S newest (MGM) record

ONE OF the grooviest ork-pilots on the MGM record roster is Hal McIntyre. Like so many other top-notch performers, Hal is a Camel fan from 'way back. He prefers Camels because: "Camels suit me best all ways."

For the same reason—more people are smoking Camels than ever before! A great new record for a long-time favorite.

Try Camels. Discover for yourself why, with smokers who have tried and compared, Camels are the "choice of experience."

And here's another great record—

More people are smoking CAMELS than ever before!

VILLANOVAN SPORTS

Kentucky Stops Villanova In Bowl Game, 24-14

Favored Southerners Win Initial Great Lakes Contest In Cleveland

Inaugural Knights' of Columbus Bowl Featured Hard Fought Battle of Wildcats. Sheahan and Pasquariello Score; Siano Adds Extra Points for Olivar Eleven. Season's Finale Ends Collegiatae Careers of Marker, Capriotti, Carlin, Lilienthal, McCarthy.

By Hugh Johnson

Cleveland, Dec. 6—Falling short by ten points in a last period comeback, Villanova lost its final game of the season to a fast Wildcat team from the University of Kentucky, 24-14. The game, played at Cleveland's huge Municipal Stadium, marked the initial contest of the annual Great Lakes Bowl series sponsored by the Knights of Columbus.

Gordon's Passing Potent

The passing of Andy Gordon, with the exception of one interception good for a Kentucky score, was the biggest Villanova weapon while Coach "Bear" Bryant's eleven capitalized on speed, deception, and hard blocking to down the Main Liners.

The game, ending the 1947 football season for Coach Jordon Olivar's charges, also dropped the curtain on the collegiate football careers of tackles Bill Lilienthal and Bill Carlin, guard Al Barker, and backs, Cap Capriotti and Tom McCarthy.

Blanda Kicks Field Goal

Kentucky's first tally came on the last play of the first period after the Southerners had moved the ball from Villanova's 46, thanks to the running of Jack Blanda, Bill Boller and Jimmy Howe to the 18. Here, however, the Villanova defense, especially Tom Clavin and Steve Romanik, refused passage and Kentucky decided to boot a field goal.

With Boller holding on the 27, Blanda's foot rocketed the ball through for the 3 points. The remainder of the period was a seesaw battle which saw Villanova hold the Blue and White of Kentucky deep in their own territory, thanks especially to a nice kick by Bill Do-

The third period saw: (1) the underdogs miss out on what might have been the turning point of the game. (2' a Kentucky score that proved to be THE turning point and (3), a Villanova touchdown called back.

Wildcats Lose Ball

On the opening kickoff, the ball went through the whole Kentucky team and stopped dead on the 2. Three Villanova men swarmed down on the ball but neither team seemed to want to handle it, which, in our books, is a free ball. Finally, Blanda remembered the rules, flopped on the ball—thus robbing Villanova of a scoring opportunity.

Midway in that period, the Wildcats from Lexington moved the ball to the downfield 29. Here, Slippery Jim Howe took a flipout from Blanda, and went the distance after bouncing off of at least 5 Villanova would be tacklers. Blanda's extra point pushed the score to 10-0.

Then, on what would have been the last play of the third period, George Schreiber scored on an eleven yard thrust through the line only to be called back because, said the official, the period was over.

Pasquarello Scores

However, two plays into the last quarter, Ralph Pasquarello carried Kentucky's Boller and Yarutis into the end zone along with the ball to score. John Siano's kick was

(Continued on Page 6)

CROSSIN HOOKS ONE

Crossin evades Mt. St. Mary's Sweibel to score as Brooks Ricca comes in for a possible rebound.

Track Team's Indoor Schedule Announced

Thompson 5th in National AAU Cross Country Run

By Harry Range

George Thompson, lone Villanova entry in the National A.A.U. senior cross-country championships, finished fifth with the time of 23 minutes, 38 seconds. The 10,000 meter event was run over the hills and flats of Van Cortlandt Park, New York, on Saturday November 29.

The N.Y.A.C., placing all their men within the first twelve took the team title with 28 points while second place honors went to New York University A.A. with 64.

Stone Wins Again

The individual crown was captured by Curtis Stone of the Shanahan Catholic Club of Philadelphia. Throughout the race, Stone's only real competition came from the defending champion, Robert Black of Rhode Island State. These two were neck and neck most of the time, Stone finishing 35 yards ahead of Black.

The next man over the line, 125 yards behind Black, was Tom Quinn, setting the pace for the N.Y.A.C. Quickly following Quinn was team-mate Leslie MacMitchell who finished in 33:09.

An exciting contest for fifth place developed between Thompson and Armand Ostenberg of the N. Y. U. A. A. On the second circuit of the course, Thompson gained fifth and held it to finish 13 seconds ahead of Ostenberg.

Indoor Track Schedule for 1948

January 23	Inquirer Meet ..... Philadelphia
Jan. 24	Knights of Columbus .... Boston
Jan. 31	Millrose Meet ..New York
Feb. 7	Boston A.A. Meet .Boston
Feb. 14	N.Y.A.C. Meet ..New York
Feb. 21	National A.A.U. Meet .... New York
Feb. 28	I.C.A.A.A.A. Meet ..... New York
Mar. 6	Knights of Columbus .... New York
Mar. 13	Newark A.A. Meet ..... Newark
Mar. 20	Camden Meet .... Camden
Mar. 26	Knights of Columbus .... Cleveland
Mar. 27	Daily News Meet Chicago

IM SWIM MEET THURS.

Villanova's mermen will have a chance to prove their prowess at the annual swim meet to be held Thursday night, December 11. The meet will consist of the same events as those of previous years. Fr. Dunne, Intramural Sports Director, has had a complete schedule of the various events posted in all halls, dormitories, and barracks. Varsity status of students will not bar them from competing in this affair. Swimming and boxing are the only intramural activities open to varsity athletes, and a number of them are expected to participate. There is no limit of candidates that may be entered by the following

(Continued on Page 6)

'Cats Edge Mountaineers Bow To Manhattan

SABOL IMPRESSIVE IN SEASON OPENER

By Bill Canino

The Villanova basketball team opened its season last Tuesday night against a surprisingly strong Mount Saint Mary's five at the Villanova Field House and eked out a 53-51 victory over the Mountaineers before 1500 fans.

Led by guard Tom Sabol, the all-Sophmore starting array launched a scoring splurge in the opening minutes and amassed a 13-3 lead before the visitors found the range. However, the Wildcat attack faltered and Mt. St. Mary's sparked by Mike Russo, Bob Zwiegal and Pete Clark, narrowed the margin to 21-19 and after Russo connected for two more field goals the visitors forged ahead at half-time 23-21.

Lead Changes Three Times

The Main Liners started the second half in much the same manner as the first and again worked up a sizeable lead only to become the victims of slip-shod ball handling and poor marksmanship. Again it was Sabol, aided by center Brooks Ricca, who put the 'Cats into the lead 29-28 with a two pointer from the outside. Within the next few minutes the lead changed hands three times. Sabol then combined a field goal and a foul which were enough to place Villanova in permanent possession of the lead. Tom also gathered four more points before he was forced to leave the contest favoring a twisted ankle.

The encounter closed with the 'Cats desperately trying to freeze the ball to prevent the Mountaineers from scoring.

Raiken Shaky

For the victorious Main Liners, Sabol looked the most impressive. He garnered six field goals and seven free throws for a total of 19 points. He also displayed fine work under the backboards and took the ball away from the taller Mountaineers on many occasions. Ricca followed with 10 points while Perry Del Purgatorio hit three times from the floor and twice from the 15 foot marker for 8 counters. Raiken collected 7 points although he had a shaky start, missing several set shots for which he is noted. Clark, Zwiegle, and Russo were the mainstays for the losers with 12 points each.

Villanova

	G.	F.	P.
Raiken f	3	1	7
Crossin f	1	1	3
Del P'gat'io f	3	2	8
Hannan f	0	0	0
Ricca c	4	2	10
Arizen c	0	0	0
Sabol g	6	7	19
Weglicki g	0	0	0
Wolff g	2	2	6
Totals	19	15	53

(Continued on Page 6)

BYRNES SPARKS JASPER LATE RALLY

The invading forces of Manhattan College staged a late second half rally last Saturday night to inflict a 52-48 defeat on coach Al Severance's Wildcats.

For the Jaspers of Manhattan who are rated one of the top quintets in the New York metropolitan area, this was their fourth straight victory and their first win over a major basketball power.

Experience Tells

For Villanova, it was their first defeat as against the one victory gained over Mt. St. Mary's earlier in the week. Even though they did lose the 'Cats showed a complete reversal of form. Instead of the sloppy and sometimes sluggish ball played against the Mountaineers, Villanova played a heads-up ball game displaying an air tight defense only to fall apart in the fourth quarter because of their inexperience when the tempo of the Manhattan attack reached a feverish pace.

The first half was a wild and wooly affair with the lead changing hands no less than nine times before the Blue and White pulled away to a ten point lead on Tom Sabol's field goal and double foul conversion, as the first half ended.

The Kelly Green were so closely guarded in the first half that they were only able to take 15 shots at the basket while the Main Liners had 30 chances to score. Superior workmanship alone saved the Jaspers from being smothered as they made good on 8 of their 15 trys. The 'Cats shooting every time they had an opening could connect only 10 times.

Byrnes Sparks Jasper Rally

Villanova's all sophomore aggregation so completely bottled up the Jasper offense that they were forced to move their pivot man, Jack Byrnes to the outside. Repeatedly, the Manhattan center had the ball knocked out of his hands by the alert defensive work of Paul Arizen and Brooks Ricca. It was this same Brynes though, who spelled the downfall of the 'Cats as he connected three times from the outside in the fourth quarter to spark the rally that gave the Jaspers their victory.

VILLANOVA

	G.	F.	P.
Hannon, f	1	2	4
Cross, f	1	3	5
Crizen, c	2	3	7
Del P'gatorio, g	2	0	4
Wolf, f	4	2	10
Sable, g	2	2	6
Ricco, g	2	2	6
Raiken, f	3	0	6
Weglicki, g	0	0	0
Totals	17	14	48

(Continued on Page 6)

SPORTORIAL

MANHATTAN ROOTERS 52
VILLANOVA ROOTERS 48

By Jim Lyons

Wonderful demonstrations of student spirit have highlighted the first two games to be played in the Field House this season.

Yes, first little Mount Saint Mary's College and then ambitious Manhattan College took over "our" Field House. I actually believe that a visitor would have imagined that they were the home teams and Villanova the visitors. The Mount brought a very representative, and very enthusiastic portion of their student body to their game with Villanova. They came with banners and cheer leaders to a game in which they were considered the lowly underdogs. Many of the fellows who played on their football team also played on their basketball club and the same man coached both teams. He also coached baseball. They brought more spirit than ability and they were denied by the very slim margin 52-51.

After the first half our cheer leaders appeared, and our band became more exuberant. Maybe we would have won with or without this reluctant showing of some student interest, but I think it helped.

Sabol Endangers Self by Playing

The Manhattan game—that's a different story. They were the favorites by virtue of their four previous victories. Last year the Severance men defeated Manhattan twice and they respect his clubs. At the outset of the game there was an enthusiastic group of Jasper supporters in the stands. Their cheer leaders, three in number, were on hand and in action. There was little or no noise from the Villanova rooters, save a ripple of applause—comparable to that at the end of a mediocre play—that greeted a Blue and White score. The underdog Villanova teams were performing admirably. Leo Wolf was all over. Tommy Sabol was being used sparingly and only because he insisted on playing. If Tommy lands on his heel, he'll probably be done for the season. Jackie Crossin was stealing the ball right and left, despite the fact they had to have the straps on his ankle cut off at half time to let the swelling go down.

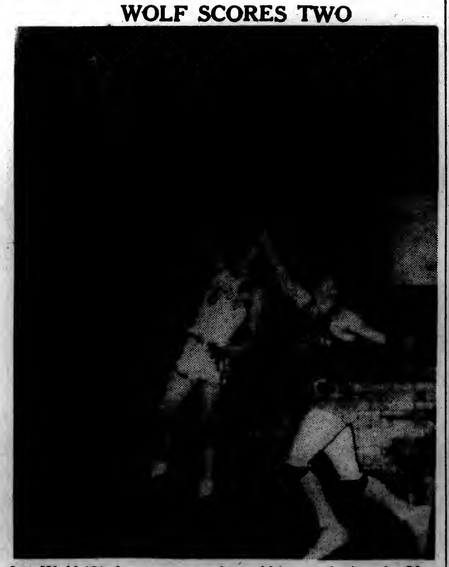
Manhattan Fans Steal Show

Although we led 32-22 at the half, the game was lost midway in the first half, when a caravan of Jasper fans between 200 and 300 strong entered the Field House. They brought a ten piece band, 20 or 30 placards and a large white banner that they stretched across the walk connecting both sides of the stands. Most of them were sporting Kelly green and white, "Beat Villanova" buttons and many of their dates were wearing Kelly green apparel of some sort. Their cheering rocked the Field House. At half time they dropped leaflets on the Villanova fans, who were now grouped on the side of court opposite the players' benches. These leaflets predicted a Jasper victory—despite the 32-22 score.

The impetus of this student support started the Jasper rally that the equally able, but unsupported, demoralized Blue and white quintet could not squelch. Villanova's band and cheer leaders were conspicuous by their absence. However, none of the Villanova students or members of the Alumni tried to rally the Blue and White.

Lack of Spirit Harms Student

This is not the first, but it is the greatest lack of student support I have witnessed at Villanova. I realize that many of the residents went home for the holidays, but their absence was only a contributary factor. Student indifference is a general condition here and it will soon be a crisis, if it isn't already. The student body blames the Administration and the Administration blames the student body. Things are at a fine impasse. The causes of this condition are multitudious in nature and I don't intend to speak of them at all. It is my purpose to point out what this indifference is doing to the Villanova student. Scholastically—it has practically no effect. You have to pass to stay in shcool and most fellows appreciate an education.



Collegiate athletics and activities are designed to develop the mind and the body—the competitive spirit, the will to win, good fellowship. The support given their athletic teams by a student body reflects the quantity of the above mentioned qualities that they possess.

Public Judges School By Spirit

The general public knows more of the spirit of a school than of its scholastic rating. Many people judge a school by the spirit of the student body, for want of a better measure. Indifference to school spirit is in fact indifference to the public's opinion of your education. The student who tries to spite the Administration by curbing any demonstration of school spirit is cutting off his own nose to spite his face. The teams and activities are composed of your room-mates, friends and your Alumni-brothers-to-be. Don't let them down.

If the student body takes the lead in solving this problem, the administration should be more prone to see our point of view in this matter.

WOLF SCORES TWO

Leo Wolf (3), lays up two points of his ten, during the Manhattan game, as Popper (7), can't quite stop it.

INTRAMURAL ACTIVITIES

Football Playoffs This Week; Bowling Lead Taken by 'Cats

By Arnold Keehn

Because of the mid-term exams and the holidays, activity in the Intramural Football League was limited in the final week of league competition. Four games were played and decided the playoff participants.

The Barracks 4 "Sea Gulls" closed with a rush, by remaining undefeated, and tied the Austin Comets for the league lead. The Sea Gulls notched their fourth consecutive victory against the "Flying Polacks" of Bks. 2 "Ace Donelin starred for the victors by scoring twice and setting up the third touchdown, which was registered by McCabe and resulted in an 18-0 triumph. Later in the week, the C&F Claws fell victim to the "Sea Gulls" by an identical score. McCabe's passes to Maher, Smith and O'Brien in paydirt territory assured the Bks. team of their fifth win.

The "Sea Gulls" got their 5-0 record on the line in the final game against their intrabarracks rival, the "Vandals". Each team was determined to win the highly-touted contest and advance to the playoff. Although the game was bitterly fought all the way, the "Sea Gulls" proved far superior and racked up 30-0 victory. The offensive play of "Muff" Knecht featured as he romped for all five touchdowns on brilliant runs. Held in check by the fine play of the "Sea Gulls" line, the hapless "Vandals" never could get started. Late in the game, a "Vandal" drive spearheaded by Joe DeJo penetrated to the enemy five-yard line where a timely interception halted the threat.

O'Brien Leads Alumni To Win

The Alumni "Jawbreakers" qualified for the playoffs with an 18-0 win over the C & F Claws. The victory which assured Capt. Joe O'Brien's team of fourth place in the final standings, was largely credited to the fine play of Johnny Lynch. He figured in all of the scoring as he passed for one touchdown and was on the receiving end of two scoring tosses.

The completion of the regular league schedule finds Barracks 4 "Sea Gulls", Austin Comets, Delurey, and Alumni Jawbreakers as the teams eligible for playoff competition. The four team captains, Bill Knecht of the Sea Gulls; Ray McNulty of the Comets; Hank Fesler of Delurey, and Joe O'Brien of the Jawbreakers will meet today at 6 P.M. with Fr. Dunne in the Villanovan office to arrange playoff schedules. Semi-final opponents will be selected by the flip of a coin. Game officials, time and field schedules will also be decided at this time.

Bowling League Standings as of December 4

	W	L
Cats	11	5
Cardinals	10	6
Woodchoppers	6	10
Rebels	5	11

Hulbert High Scorer

The Cardinals, led by Howie Hulbert with a 196 game, took three points from the Woodchoppers. Marielley had games of 159, 177, 168 for a 167 average.

The Woodchoppers' lone point was acquired by a 721-671 win. Delaney had scores of 163, 153, and 160 for a 158 average.

KENTUCKY STOPS

(Continued from Page 5)

straight and true making the score 10-7.

After that, Villanova held, on its own 25-yard line, a spirited attack, lead by Wilbur Jameson, then took over on downs. But the Dixie boys tightened too, forcing Villanova to kick. However, Jack Griffin broke through and partially blocked Al Schmid's kick and Kentucky soon found themselves 25 yards from the goal line.

Boller Outstanding

Two plays later, Wah-Wah Jones, the giant All-American basketball player snagged a Boller pass just outside the end zone which game captain Joe Rogers made sure was nullified. But Boller, who was considered the outstanding player of the game, wasn't to be denied a score. On the next play, he bobbed and weaved his way over the double white stripe for the tally. Bland's kick made it 17-7.

Villanova, trying to get back into the scoring column, sent Andy Gordon, who was primarily instrumental in the excellent passing record of 12 completions in 18 trys, good for 138 yards, back to pass. But that man Boller again came through, again stole a pass over Frank Kane's head and went 40 yards like the 100 dash man he is for a T. D.

But displaying the comeback form that beat San Francisco, Gordon passed to Zip Zehler which the latter snatched out of the arms of two defensive giants and ran to the 13.

SABOL IMPRESSIVE

(Continued on Page 6)

Mt. St. Mary's

Clark f	3	6	12
Charwiga f	1	0	2
Kripaitis f	2	2	6
Jarrvis f	1	0	2
McCarthy c	0	0	0
O'Connell c	0	0	0
Zwiebal g	5	2	12
Gunther g	2	1	5
Russo g	4	4	12
Total	18	15	51

Referees—Kaufmen, Lewis.

Pasquarello and Rogers were swamped at the line but on the third play, sticky-fingers John han, who had made two impossible catches earlier in the game, took Gordon's pass in the end zone. Stano's reliable toe made the last point in the game with only 2 minutes to go.

I. M. Basketball League Planned

Mondschein Inc., and Kluesaritis Father Dunne has announced that the Villanova Intramural Basketball League will swing into action a week from today. The league will consist of eight teams: one each from Mendel, Austin, Fedigan, and Alumni; one team representing the Doms: Delurey, O'Dwyer, and Simpson; one from Bks 1 & 3; one from Bks. 2 & 4; and one team from the Day Hops.

No definite teams will be formed by any league member, as all students in the various classifications are eligible to play, with the exception of varsity athletes.

Schedules To Be Posted

The league opening, originally scheduled for today, has been delayed for one week, because of tonight's football banquet and Thursday's swimming meet. The schedule will be posted by Father Dunne in all campus halls. Doubleheaders will be played and the first game tap-off is planned for 7 P.M. Teams will have an opportunity to draw equipment before their first games.

IM SWIM MEET

(Continued from Page 5)

campus teams: Mendel, Fedigan, Austin, and Alumni Halls; the Doms; Barracks 1 and 3; Barracks 2 and 4; and the Day Hops. A wealth of swimming talent has been uncovered in individual practice sessions at the pool which indicates stiff competition for championship laurels. Thursday evening's spectators will be treated to a thrilling water carnival.

BYRNES SPARKS

(Continued from Page 5)

MANHATTAN

	G.	F.	P.
Poppe, f	6	3	15
Kelly, f	3	4	10
Bynes, c	3	3	9
Wischhusen, c	0	0	0
Woods, g	0	1	1
Burke, g	2	1	5
Conndly, f	1	1	3
Zeryzer,, g	4	1	9
Totals	19	14	52

Halftime score: Villanova, 33; Manhattan, 22.

Feferes: Layer. Umpire: Lisetski.

Defensive stars of the game were Ed Lannigan, Al Barker, Ed Berrang, Steve Romanik, Al Schmid, and Little Billy Doherty.

BEFORE THEY'RE GONE..
USE
WAYNE JEWELERS
Christmas Layaway Plan

BULOVA
AMERICA'S GREATEST WATCH VALUE

WAYNE JEWELERS
Anthony Wayne Theatre Bldg.
WAYNE 3297 WAYNE, PENNA.

NAVY PHYSICAL

Physical requirements for the navy have been lowered. In a recent statement to the VILLANOVAN, Capt. T. C. Thomas enumerated the changes that will affect men interested in the Naval Reserve—Class V-6 or—enlisting in the regular navy.

The changes are:

1.) Modified requirements on required teeth.

2.) 2/20 vision or better; acceptable if correctable with glasses to 20/20 in each eye.

3.) Color-blindness acceptable.

4.) Minimum height requirement 5 feet, maximum height requirement, 6 feet 6 inches.

Meet Your Friends .. at the .. Greeks
Superior Soda Fountain Service
Luncheon :: Dinner
818 Lancaster Ave,
Bryn Mawr, Pa.

WHETHER you play basketball or are one of its host of enthusiastic fans, you will enjoy the refreshing flavor of...
Beech-Nut Gum
Everywhere it goes, the assurance of Beech-Nut for fine flavor goes with it.
The yellow package with the red oval

THE Bouquet Shop
"Flowers That Are Pleasantly Different"
Lancaster Ave. at Roberts Ave., Bryn Mawr, Pa.
Flowers By Wire BRYN MAWR 2442

SPRITZLER'S
"For McGregor Sportswear"
47 W. LANCASTER AVE.
Ardmore, Pa. Ard. 0176

Student Council Suggests Improvements In Food

Recommendations of Food Committee

Following a complete inquiry into the food question and its many attendant problems, the Student Council on December 3rd, adopted these resolutions:

1. That a permanent liaison be established in order that the student body have a voice in the type and quality of the food served in the student cafeteria.

2. That a member of the school faculty be appointed superintendent in order that close supervision of the food served may be maintained . . . and that this supervisor approve all menus to be used in the preparation of food served in the student cafeteria.

3. That certain foods now served in the cafeteria be abolished completely from student menus, since they are wasted and of no value whatsoever to the students.

4. That certain foods now served in an unappetizing manner be improved before again being placed on student menus.

5. That an effort be made to serve a greater variety of quality foods.

6. That, since the President's request for food conservation specified that chicken may be served on Tuesday, such be done rather than served on another day in place of meat, thus giving the students two meatless days.

PHYSICS CLUB

The Physics Club of Villanova will hold their next meeting next Thursday, the 11th of December, with the twofold purpose of soliciting new members and investigating further the various phases involved in the construction of their astronomical telescope. The club welcomes particularly new members from the schools of Mathematics and Chemistry;

OXFORD COMPOSES PRIZE WINNING POEM

In a surprise announcement this week made by the National Poetry Association, the Villanovan was informed that a poem written by its copy editor Edward Oxford, has been selected for publication in its yearly Annual Anthology of College Poetry. The poem itself, entitled "Age", was picked by a committee judges from thousands of poems submitted by students in colleges all over the country. The Anthology is limited in distribution to colleges and libraries throughout the country. For those who are interested in poetry it may be mentioned that the National Poetry Association is the publisher of the Anthology and is interested in poetry composed by American College students.

Miss Your Dinner (if you have to)
Miss Your Date (if you must)
—but don't miss...
THE NEWEST, MOST THRILLING TALENT HUNT IN AMERICA
INCLUDING TOP STARS FROM THE COLLEGES...
"PHILIP MORRIS NIGHT WITH HORACE HEIDT"

• Every Sunday Night Over NBC, PHILIP MORRIS FINDS A STAR in a search for the great stars of tomorrow. Performers from all over the country ... including the top talent picked from the colleges! Music, drama, thrilling entertainment... weekly prizes of $250 ... and to the winner of the year — movie and radio contracts, plus a grand prize of $5000 in cash!

Yes! For perfect listening, make a date for Sunday night and hear the stars of tomorrow with PHILIP MORRIS! And for perfect smoking...today, tomorrow, always...light up a PHILIP MORRIS, America's FINEST Cigarette!

BE WITH US EVERY SUNDAY NIGHT OVER NBC...UNTIL THEN
CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS

THE BULLETIN BOARD

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Rosemont Acts as Hostess to International Relations Club

Villanova and Rosemont Colleges, each with a delegation of nineteen members from their respective International Relations Clubs, met Monday, December 1, at 8 P.M., in their first joint meeting of the year. The difficulties faced by the London Council of Foreign Ministers in London were discussed during the evening.

Rosemont College extended a cordial welcome in this informal gathering at Mayfair Hall, the first joint meeting of the International Relations Club of both schools since the war. The group, with principal speakers Miss Laura Haggerty and Edward Quinn, expressed its opinion as to the different views held by the ministers in relation to the most desired type of government for Germany; the varied concepts of reparations, and those nations who should be permitted to share in the making of the peace.

MUSIC SEMINAR

Peter Mento and George Scanlon, members of the faculty, have revived a pre-war activity—the Music Seminar. Meeting every Tuesday and Thursday at noon in Room 215 Mendel, the Seminar was reorganized for the purpose of cultivating an appreciation and love of good music.

On Tuesday, December 9th, compositions by modern composers will be heard; on Thursday, December 11th, classics by composers of the 18th and 19th centuries.

All students are invited to attend.

WVIL WEEKLY PROGRAM SCHEDULE

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 9
7:00 P.M.
Official Signing On.
Special Dedication Program.
Recorded music at conclusion
8:30 P.M.
Record Album Show "Finian's

9:00 P.M.
Classical Music on Record.
Rachmaninoff's 2nd Piano Concerto.
9:28 P.M.
Music to Study by.
11:00 P.M.
Sign Off.
WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 10
7:00 P.M.
Campus News and Program Schedule
7:15 P.M.
Sports News and Interview with Player.
7:30 P.M.
Popular Record Show.
8:00 P.M.
Faculty Quiz. Questions and Answers and Round Table Discussion on Current Topics.
8:30 P.M.
Record Album Show "Al Jolson Favorites"
9:00 P.M.
Chanlain's Corner.
9:15 P.M.
Weekly News Analysis by Member of History Department.
9:30 P.M.
Music to Study by.
11:00 P.M.
Sign Off.
THURSDAY, DECEMBER 11
7:00 P.M.
Campus News and Program Schedule.
7:15 P.M.
Sports News and Interview.
7:30 P.M.
Popular Record Show.
8:00 P.M.
Radio Play to be announced.
8:30 P.M.
Record Album Show to be announced.
9:00 P.M.
Classical Music on Record to be announced.
9:30 P.M.
Music to Study by.
11:00 P.M.
Sign Off.
FRIDAY, DECEMBER 12
7:00 P.M.
Campus News and Program Schedule.
7:15 P.M.
Sports News and Interview.
7:30 P.M.
Popular Record Show.
8:30 P.M.
Record Album Show, "Gilbert and Sullivan Favorites"
9:00 P.M.
Music to Study by.
11:00 P.M.
Sign Off.
SATURDAY, DECEMBER 13
2:15 P.M.
Possible Broadcast of Princeton-Villanova Basketball Game from Princeton.
MONDAY, DECEMBER 15
7:00 P.M.
Campus News and Program Schedule.
7:15 P.M.
Sports News and Interview.
7:30 P.M.
Popular Record Show.
8:00 P.M.
To be announced.
8:30 P.M.
Record Album Show to be announced.
9:00 P.M.
Chaplain's Corner.
9:15 P.M.
Music to Study by.
11:00 P.M.
Sign Off.

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 23—No. 9 VILLANOVA COLLEGE, VILLANOVA, PA. Tuesday, December 16, 1947

FATHER BARTLEY HONORED AT FACULTY DINNER TONIGHT

Father McGuire to Introduce New Faculty Members

Rev. Joseph C. Bartley, O. S. A., this year serving his twenty-fifth year as Dean of Commerce and Finance at Villanova, will be honored in the annual Faculty Dinner this evening at 6.15 P. M. in the Field House.

Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire, O. S. A., President of the College, will address the gathering. In addition to paying tribute to Father Bartley, the President will introduce the new members of the faculty who this year number more than twenty-five.

First Dean of C. and F.

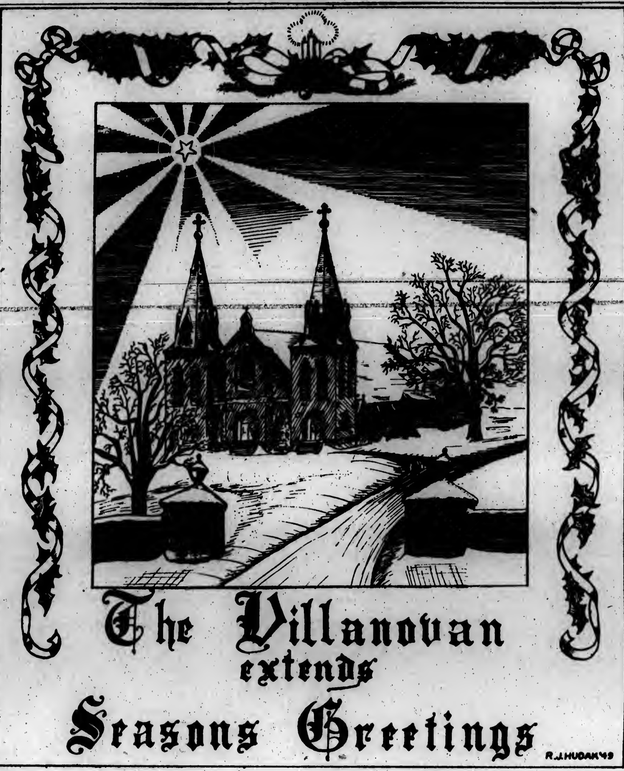
The School of Commerce and Finance was formed in 1922, the year Father Bartley joined the Faculty of the College, and he became the first Dean of the school. Under his direction the school grew rapidly and soon became the largest department in the College, necessitating a new classroom building which was constructed in 1928.

Shortly after, Fr. Bartley took on the duties of Dean of the Extension Schools, including the Summer Session at Villanova and Saturday and Evening Sessions at Hallahan High School in Philadelphia. The extension sessions have been found especially adapted to the preparation of numerous communities of Sisters who received from these sessions the teacher training required for their schools.

(Continued on Page 7)

Christmas Lights Glow On Thursday

With the approach of Christmas, Villanova is again preparing to string the Holiday lights, a traditional custom since 1935. The lighting arrangements will be the same as last year, but 1400 additional bulbs will be used in several new locations. The new locations will not be announced before December 18th at which time the lights will be turned on.



The holiday decorations will be lighted every night from December 18th to January 8th, and will contain 3500 individual bulbs. These lights will be examined regularly for breaks in the wiring and burnt out bulbs, and will be kept in constant repair.

In 1935, a blue spruce east of the Chapel was decorated with 60 lights and the same arrangement was used the following year. The trees in front of the Monastery were added in 1937 and in 1938 the circle in front of the Monastery was decorated. The last addition was the following year when Mendel Hall and St. Rita's Circle were lighted. No change or addition has taken place since then.

The decorations in previous years have met with great success, but with this year's additions, an even better arrangement is expected.

Clothing Drive for Poor Negro Parishes of Phila.

All usable articles of clothing are welcome and should be placed in the container at the Information Booth in Mendel Hall. The Drive will continue until December 20th.

The Villanovan extends Seasons Greetings

R. J. HUDAK '49

Blue Lights In The Corner —

In our living room, all the lights will be out. The only illumination will come from the bulbs shedding their soft blue light over the sparkling tinsel on the evergreen tree in the corner. Outside, the snow will be drifting down in soft, lazy flakes and shadows cast by a corner street light will be heaped on the white snow. Occasionally a car will pass along the street, its rumble serving only to accentuate the quietness of the scene. Then my mind will be clear and look at things in their pure light. Then, perhaps I'll see Christmas as it really is.

In the age in which we live we hear that Christmas just isn't what it should be. Editorials have been written and commercialism is deplored. We hear a merry Christmas and we know not what it means.

Some say that Christmas is tinsel on a tree or a wreath in a window. The yuletide means carols from a loudspeaker on the second floor of a bank building. Banners strung across the main street spell out a Merry Christmas. As we walk down the street we hear the tinkle of a bell and drop our dime or quarter in a box, thinking of someone else's not so merry a Christmas. Are these things Christmas?

Is Christmas a jovial greeting, a cheerful word, a thoughtful gift? We all hasten to say "No." We agree that those are mere accountrements of Christmas. They help make the season but we don't posit them as a cause. They are the accidents, the incidentals. They aren't Christmas.

Christmas is something else. No one is against the things that have been mentioned, but aren't we giving them an importance far beyond their rightful due? You've heard it before and it will be put to you often again but is there a Christ in Christmas? Are we Christians or are we just so many citizens tossing firecrackers and celebrating another Fourth of July? Is Christ a Washington or Lincoln to us? Is this our true Christmas?

Without preaching, isn't Christmas something way down within us, a feeling, a love of God? Isn't Midnight Mass a homage to new-born Christ, a Christ born again over thousands of years? Don't we realize that God is real and personal, that He loves us and the world is His gift to us? These same stars, this same sky blanketed Bethlehem. We can witness this same birth, we can adore the same God. Isn't that something for us to think about? That's Christmas. Those other things serve to bring it to the surface but there their service ends.

And as I sit, drowsily thinking, I can almost visualize a stable out there in the snow beyond the porch. There are carols telling of a birth and angels singing. Peace on earth becomes a reality instead of so many words in a newspaper headline. And with your permission, I'll change the "Merry Christmas" to a blessed and holy and Christ-filled Christmas.

Frank Guzikowski '49

18 VILLANOVA MEN CHOSEN FOR COLLEGE "WHO'S WHO"

Scholastic - Campus Achievements Basis of Selection

"Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges", will list eighteen Villanova students in its forthcoming edition. The 1947-48 issue of this publication will come out this Spring.

Villanovans who will be listed are: Thomas A. Daly, Richard C. Eidam, John J. McCamley, Robert D. O'Connor, Donald E. Wieand, Thomas J. Horan, and William J. Foregaugh, all of whom are February graduates; and Raymond L. Cummings, Edward Fanelli, Daniel L. Haggerty, Richard J. Kokes, Joseph T. Kryzoniak, Joseph P. Leary,

For Picture turn to Page 4

Joseph A. Mahon, John M. McGrath, Frank C. Saponare, Daniel V. Wylde, and James McWilliams, all June graduates.

"Who's Who Among Students", is a reference volume of authoritative information on the leaders of American colleges. The publication has a free service which supplies business firms with information regarding prospective employees. The men and women listed receive nation-wide acclaim for their service to the school and their scholar-

(Continued on Page 4)

Glee Club and Band to Play, Sing Carols

Christmas spirit will enter the campus in force Thursday night. The sound of Christmas Carols will ring in the air while the front of the campus will be brightened by a beautiful display of Christmas lights. The Villanova Glee Club and the College Band, both under the direction of Rev. Ralph Handran, O. S. A., will proceed from hall to hall playing and singing traditional Carols. From here the group will spread the Yuletide Spirit to the girls of Rosemont College.

Caroling has been a traditional event on the campus and will as it has in the past, open the Christmas Season with a feeling of good will and Fraternity.

Seniors Asked to Submit Forms

Seniors who expect to graduate in February and June of 1948 are urged to contact Mr. William Friel, Placement Director, in Room 221, Mendel Hall, as soon as possible to obtain their Qualification Record forms, if they have not done so, already. All questions on this form, (except the first two lines on page 2), are to be filled in and returned to Mr. Friel next week for the senior's personal interview regarding full-time contacts. Each senior is reminded to allot from ten to fifteen minutes of his free time for this purpose.

This procedure must be completed before the Christmas vacation period, as representatives from various companies will be here at Villanova College to interview prospective employees beginning on January 5th.

Your cooperation is urgently requested so that every graduate-to-be will be taken care of and that last minute rushes will not result.

"Rah Rah" May Sound OK, But Its Not Spirit

Whenever a College Editor is at a loss for a fitting topic for his weekly editorial, invariably he will turn to that old overworked subject of the lack of school spirit at the dear old college. Undoubtedly he will ask about the cheering at the last game or the turnout for the previous guest speaker. If he becomes really aroused he'll end up with the warning that, "Unless there is soon a change you students will miss a lot in college."

What our dear friend editor forgets or neglects to tell us is that school spirit is not a matter of cheering or turnouts at all. To be sure, these things may be evidences of a sort of school spirit, but they are not school spirit any more than wet streets are rain.

If a school has a true "spirit" its roots come from a much deeper source. If there is a general feeling of good will it comes not from the good will "per se" but from something even more fundamental.

True school spirit comes from a realization, an awareness. It comes when the students realize a high common purpose amongst themselves. Its roots are in the awareness of them, ultimate goal as students, as citizens, as men. From this awareness and realization comes the kinship and near-brotherhood which is the only criterion of real school spirit. This spirit is a deep and almost profound thing.

This is why some College Editors think it is pointless to talk about the evidences of school spirit when there is a want of the sources in the student body.

J. A. M.

Needed: More Catholics Interested In Politics

"Politics on the Campus" is the title of an arresting article appearing in this week's Colliers. It is significant to note that of the fifteen odd political organizations named, few if any have chapters or branches on Catholic college campuses.

However we may evaluate the positions and beliefs of our fellow students, we can not help but admire them for their interest, at least. More than this, we, Catholics, should look with shame to ourselves.

In our country, the government is founded upon the premise that the people rule. Consistent efficient government is founded on the premise that the affairs of state are the personal affairs of the citizens. Our kind of government demands that politics become our highest social art.

But, strangely enough, politics has become anything but an art. In fact it has become identified with dishonesty, inefficiency and an overall manipulation of affairs of state for selfish interests. To be called a politician is tantamount to being insulted.

Of all groups, Catholics, should leap to fill this want. Not only do we have a duty as citizens, but it is our duty as the lay apostolate as well. Catholicism can give to democracy something it sorely lacks—a soul. It can give the state a final ultimate end. It can supply an answer to the ultimate question, "Whither are we going?"

Presently some campus political organizations are in national disrepute. The formation of a P. C. A. chapter or even some branches of the Socialist League on some Catholic campuses might however portend a great deal more good than evil.

J. A. M.

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

WILLIAM F. ALTENPOHL, '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
JOHN A. McDERMOTT, '48 ..... Managing Editor
JACK CASBY, '49 ..... News Editor
GEORGE SZYMANSKI, '50 ..... Feature Editor
RICHARD HUBBARD, '48 ..... Picture Editor
VINCE PEDANO, 49 ..... Circulation Manager
NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI, '48 ..... Business Manager
EDWARD OXFORD, '50 ..... Copy Editor
JAMES PLUNKETT '49 ..... Sports Editor
ROBERT M. FLAHERTY, '48 ..... Asst. Photo Editor

News Staff

Michael Marshal '49, Richard Shinners '48, Michael Joseph Nowlan '49, Charles Laferty '49, Frank Gobes '51, Frank Guzikowski '49, Thomas Mitchell '51, Joseph Miller '50, John James Connel y '51, Joseph Kenney '50, Jos.ph Callahan '51, George R. Reinhart '51, Arthur Woodrow '51, Louis Alvare '48, Tom Smith '51.

Feature Staff

R. E. Manifold '51, William Breninghouse '51, Joseph Quill '50, A. J. Mullen '49, David V. Anthony '51, John A. Rowe '51, Gunther Kaiser '49, P. McManus '48, John Mallick '49, Vince O'Neil '51, Mark Morris '51, James Tayoun '51, Leo Dodd '49, Emil Mayer '49, Richard Hudak '49, Thomas Russo '51.

Sports Staff

James Lyons '48, Paul Altenpohl '49, Ned Hoffer '49, Arnold Keehan '49, William Canino '50, Neal Fahy '50, George Mondschein '50, Raymond Mondschein '50, Tyson Reilly '50, Walter Ryclel '50, Harry Jacobs '51, William Klussarits '51, Raymond MacWilliams '51 Paul Presendo '51, Harold Range '51.

Picture Staff

Robert Graf '50, Raymond Berninger '49, Dan Haflinger '50, William Neal Carter '51, Dan Robinson '49, William Murphy '51, Harry Papaan '51, Robert Pope '50, Jack Muratori '51, "Tex" Winters '50.

Business Staff

Joe King '48, Barry Gibbons '51, Jack Gibbons '51, Donald Baralt '50.

Circulation Staff

George Weber, III, '51, Ralph Iorio '50, Ed Kent '51, Charles Klunk '51, Ralph Skowron '51, Gene Langan '51, Harry Papaan '51, Robert Pope '50.

Copy Staff

Frank McGeehan '50, Girard Farnan '50, Edgar Le Blanc '50 Steve Kelea '51, Robert MacRoberts '51, William Foley '50, Dick Randolph '50.

Faculty Advisor— Rev. John A. Klekotka, O.S.A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova: scholar, athlete, gentleman —
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription: $2 per year. Circulation: 5000.
Entered as second class matter at the Villanova Post Office, December 27, 1928.

Member of Associate Collegiate Press, Distributor of Collegiate Digest.
Member of Catholic School Press Association, Catholic College Press Association.

He Keeps Wandering In

Joseph Leary

Unshaven faces, worn coats, and broken shoes stretched in a long line outside a religious soup kitchen. A wealthy philanthropist idling the city streets this slushy Christmas day, watched with interest as they slowly filed inside to the hot food and a friendly word. After the plain meal a white collar appeared, and the wanderers sang hymns and heard a Christmas sermon. Outside, the philanthropist fumed. They had been tricked into religion.

The following year, he set up his own soup kitchen. The long line filed in to a sumptuous meal, ending with cigars and good wine. Afterwards, the philanthropist rose and delightedly told all that they owed him nothing, that no strings were attached. A voice of one of those nameless interrupted him, "as he has been so kind to us, the least we can do is say a prayer for him this Christmas day." No one wants to deprive a Baby Boy; it's difficult to exclude God on Xmas day.

Even in these difficult days the eyes of wise men still anticipate:

The Star

A Star lit up the nightly blue,
Unquenchable light, tho' timid hue,
Patchwork thoughts in imagery high,
Staid the watchers of the sky.
For this Star boasted odd advent,
From heaven's door it had been sent,
A Herald, a Crier, over the night,
Proclaiming Bethlehem's sweet sight.
Wisely gaze on heaven's window,
God's star of truth seeks not foe,
As Wise men are not passersby,
Like them be watchers of the sky.

The world prepares as the word is about to leap from heaven, and Infinity is squeezed into the narrow confines of a Baby Boy. The Liturgy can hardly refrain from joyous backflips and as the Church primps and we all prepare for this "Happy Birthday." I can at least wish you all a very "Merry Christmas."

PRIDE AND PREJUDICE

Below is a letter, addressed to the writer of this column, which was received just recently. It speaks for itself.

Villanova College
December 10, 1947

Pride and Prejudice
c/o Villanovan
Villanova, Penn.

Dear Sir:

I have just finished reading the latest in your series of articles. I do not intend to give lavish praise nor do I presume to criticize. I would just like to make a few comments and observations.

Just the other evening I was thinking how much could be done and how little is being done. I had in mind nothing specific. I first thought of studies. Then my mind turned to free time, those letters I've been intending to write since the beginning of the year, the friends I meant to visit. Why is it that I haven't done them? I guess perhaps it's a question of will or ambition, maybe initiative.

Then today I read of the clothing drive being conducted on the campus this week. I myself had the following articles cluttering up my closet: one pair of shoes, usable but too small for me; one wool sweater, Navy issue and I wish to leave my past behind me; one sport-coat with frayed cuffs. Normally, I might have just let them stay where they were. My thoughts of last night flashed into my mind. Here was a chance for me to accomplish something. I deposited those same articles in your container a few moments ago.

The point I wish to make is this. I know, from my own experience, that a good number of us have usable articles of clothing lying about. We're willing to help but due to some innate lethargy we fail to do so. Perhaps, this is our chance to make the necessary break, to begin doing those things we've been planning for so long.

It's seldom that I become really amb ous and helpful. This was one time that I wanted to let someone know how I feel. If you agree with me, well and good. If not, perhaps I'm wrong.

Sincerely,
J. T. Boyle '50

Just think about this for a moment. If you feel that Mr. Boyle has something, swell. If not, we'll still wish you a merry and blessed Christmas.

Out of the Copy Basket

By James Tayoun

He had choked her. She was dead there could be no doubt of that. He had listened to her dying gasp. Yet in his anger he was not convinced. Furiously he kicked her. To his amazement she gasped, sputtered and then began to hum softly. Wife (from rear seat)—"Just a little patience is all it takes, dear."

• • • • •

When the Indians were running this country there were no taxes, no debts, and the women did all the work. White men settled here thinking they could improve a system as good as that.

• • • • •

"My wife tells me that almost every night she dreams she is married to a millionaire," said one husband to another.

"You're darn lucky," said the second. "Mine thinks that in the day time."

Synonym—the word you use when you can't spell the word you want.

• • • • •

During the war the following unofficial regulations governed GI activities: If it moves salute it; If it doesn't move, pick it up; If you can't pick it up, paint it. These regulations have been changed to a peacetime plane thusly: If it cries, change it; If it's on wheels, buy it; If it's hollow, rent it.

• • • • •

MOE: "Let's cut math today."
JOE: "Can't, I need the sleep."

• • • • •

At the racetrack a visitor was talking to a jockey who had just won a difficult race. "How were you able to do it?" he asked. "That was easy," replied the jockey. "As we neared the stretch I just kept whispering to the horse—'Roses are red; violets are blue; horses that lose, are made into glue.'"

Letters

Villanova, Pa.
Dec. 6, 1947

Editor, VILLANOVAN
Box No. 1
Villanova, Pa.

Dear Sir:

Having just witnessed the Villanova-Manhattan basketball game, we feel it necessary to get this off our chests. First of all, we would like to congratulate the Villanova basketball team on the splendid showing they made this evening. Their play was both outstanding and spirited, and in our opinion they deserved to win after the grand fight they put up. However, a team needs backing by the student body to win games, and though the students here at Villanova seem to feel that they are superior to the average college students, in our minds they are just the opposite. This evening four hundred students from Manhattan College put the entire Villanova student body to shame with their display of school spirit. It is time that Villanova's students realised the value of spirit and the part that school spirit plays in the making of a winning team. Though we hate to admit it, we have never seen a group of students, no matter how small, so uninterested in their school.

In regard to this evening's debacle, we would like to ask this question: "Where were our cheerleaders?" They are supposed to be the leaders in school spirit, yet they failed to put in an appearance. It seems that in a school as large as Villanova there could be found some conscientious men who would add to, rather than detract from, the spirit at Villanova.

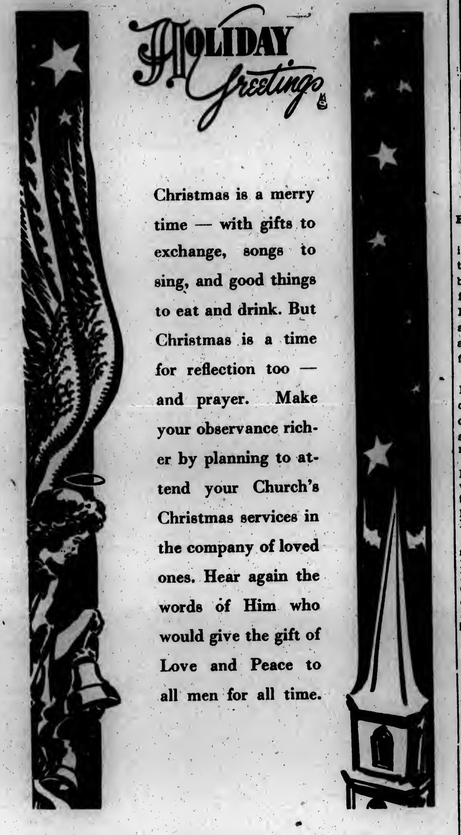
Yours for better school spirit,
Disgusted Rooters

Editor of the Villanovan
Villanova, Pennsylvania

Dear sir:

Several times last year the editors of the Villanovan made statements concerning the lack of school spirit on the part of the student body. A temporary truce was called, apparently, with the wonderful display of spirit for the Army game. Again this year, however, we are extremely disappointed to note that we again are subject to attack by the pen wielders—the men behind the pointed barb.

You know, men get sick and tired of being accused of things over which they can exercise no control, and this is one of those things.



We all admit that last year there was as much spirit in the student body as there is in a dead fish, and the faculty and writers for the Villanovan made no bones about blaming it on the student body. We say, "How, now, men, not so fast."

Last year the largest class in the College was the Freshmen class. It was not organized until May—practically the end of the year. When prior to that, these men made individual queries complaints to anybody, the result was inactivity or out-and-out rebuff. In the face of this little in the way of spirit was achieved. In addition, almost the entire class was composed of veterans—of men who had learned that they couldn't single-handedly and immediately show the army or navy how each should be run—and they were hesitant about assuming instantaneous control of student activities particularly with conditions as they were. In the meantime there was much hoopla and todo about student leaders, some chosen by the faculty, who were to guide the student body. All right, where was the guidance? Again this year the refrain rings out. One hears the term "diploma factory" and other epithets, none suggestive of a college with an interested and active student body.

But that is only part of the story. The student leade.s, yes, the members of the Student Council, have organized a Spirit Committee. We maintain that it is this Committee's duty to organize the cheering. When these men were elected to office they assumed an obligation to the student body; if they don't wish to fulfill that obligation then perhaps it would not be amiss to suggest that they resign from office instead of voting themselves keys.

If the writer of the Sportorial decries the lack of spirit let him peer around at the top, at the men whose job it is to organize the spirit, and then watch the spirit surge.

Signed,
Get Off our Backs

STUDENTS CAROLLED BY ROSEMONT GIRLS

Last night Villanovans received their first touch of Christmas spirit, when the Rosemont Glee Club performed in our chapel. The Glee Club, directed by Mr. G. Haddock and led by the President of the Glee Club, Miss Katherine Cobb, gave a memorable performance.

Carrying on a tradition of singing before the Villanovan students each Christmas, the girls 46 strong, in academic gowns, started the evening with a candle light procession from behind the main altar chanting "We Three Kings". Choir selections included "See Amid the Winter's Snow", with a solo by Miss Mary Glynn, "Lo' How a Rose E're Blooming", and "Silent Night", soloed by Miss Cobb.

After an address by the Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire, O. S. A., on the "Spirit of Christmas" the girls assisted in Solemn Benediction with a rendition of the "Ave Maria". As a recessional and concluding selection the carolers gave forth with "Angel We Have Heard on High".

Their Christmas Play is being presented tonight at the Rosemont College Gym.

"After capping his millionth bottle, he began screaming: 'Can You Top This? Can You Top This?' "

By P. F. McManus and G. P. Kaiser

The Franklin Institute presents its annual "Star of Bethlehem" in the Fels Planetarium. Against a background of special lighting effects and music by the Glee Club of Rosemont College, the Institute astromoners show the skies as they appeared over the Holy City at the first Christmas.

For years, the city of Bethlehem, Pa., has offered a fine Christmas display of lights. The visitors, who come to view this spectacle yearly, are guided by a star mounted on a nearby hill overlooking the city.

This year the Schuylkill Valley Lines, operating from Norristown, will run several excursions to see the "Christmas City's" elaborate display. Inquiries should be sent to Box 749, Norristown, Pa.

Returning for a second successive season as guest conductor of the Philadelphia Orchestra, Dmitri Mitropoulos will replace Eugene Ormandy in the Academy of Music concerts of Friday afternoon and Saturday evening. His program will include Schumann's Third or "Rhenish" Symphony, which has not been presented at these concerts for many years, and a novelty in a suite of tone poems by Max Reger which are a musical counter-part of four pictures by Arnold Boecklin. The Overture to Weber's "Freischuetz" will open the guest conductor's program. Jacques Ibert's "Escales"—"Ports of Call"—will be the final number.

Attention should be called to the newly reorganized Music Seminar. This seminar will be held on Tuesday afternoons in room 104 Mendel Hall, and starts at twelve noon. Due to the lack of appropriate meeting space, seminars are held only once a week.

The seminars feature recorded classics with program notes and anecdotes. They offer a splendid opportunity for becoming acquainted with the great masters, both old and modern.

For all future husbands, the comedy starting its two-week run at the Locust on December 27th should be a must, for "Strange Bedfellows" is guaranteed to answer the question whether a bride must accept her husband's opinion along with his wedding ring.

In keeping with the ice and snow that usually may be found in and around Philadelphia this time of the year, the Shubert theatre presents a musical comedy about Alaska and the gold rush. "Bonanza Bound" opens at the Shubert on Christmas Day.

Students should become acquainted with the Art Alliance, 18th and Rittenhouse Square, which features exhibitions of paintings by contemporary artists, and fine collections of reasonably priced hand-made gifts. At present the Art Alliance is presenting an exhibition of paintings by Joseph Hirsch.

Tamiment Essay Contest: World Peace

Tamiment Social and Economic Institute has announced its second annual essay contest. First prize for the winning essay on: An American Program for World Peace is $1000. Closing date of the contest is April 23, 1948.

All undergraduate college students are eligible to enter the contest. Entries must be typed, double spaced and written on one side of the paper only. Entry blanks may be obtained by writing to Tamiment Institute Contest, 7 East 15th Street, New York, N. Y.

Are You a Good Room Mate?

One of the most important college courses isn't listed in any catalogue—but it might be called "Living With a Roommate." Just in case your roomie is too polite to tell—better give yourself a quick checkup.

Answer "No" or "Yes" to these questions. If you answer "No" to at least 11, you're a pretty fair roommate; 13 to 17 means you're wonderful; more than 17 indicates you're too good to be true. If, on the other hand, your "No's" are below 9, that means you become a hermit.

1. Do you lose your temper easily? 2. Do you sulk? 3. Do you talk too much? 4. Do you read out loud? 5. Do you gossip? 6. Do You fail to consider his likes an dislikes? 7. Do you expect to be included in his invitations? 8. Do you brag about your work, friends, or social position? 9. Do you rely on your roommate for amusement? 10. Do you talk too much about your heart interests? 11. Do you always talk about your troubles? 12. Do you try to be boss? 13. Do you ask questions about personal matters? 14. Do you share his interests? 15. Do you lack respect for your roommate's privacy? 16. Do you play the radio continuously? 17. Do you take the best drawers and hog the closet space? 18. Do you litter the room? 19. Do you neglect cleaning up after a party? 20. Do you forget to pay half of mutual expenses?

VET NEWS

Veterans in training under Public Law 16 or Public Law 346 are reminded that the V. A. has assigned Mr. Denbaugh, a training specialist, to Villanova College. One of the duties of the training specialist is to see to it that every veteran receives his subsistence check on time. In order to accomplish this, Mr. Denbaugh visits Villanova College sometime during the first fifteen days of each month. Any veteran who has not received his subsistence check for the month previous, should contact Mr. Denbaugh on the day he visits the College and be prepared to give Mr. Denbaugh the following information: name, C number, Service Serial number, date last check received, and amount of last check.

Notices of Mr. Denbaugh's visits will be posted on the bulletin boards in Mendel Hall, Commerce and Finance Building, and in the Barrack's classroom building at least seven days in advance. On Tuesday, December 16th, Mr. Denbaugh will be in Room 114, Mendel Hall, from 9 A.M. to 12 P.M., and on Tuesday, January 6th, he will be in Room 114, Mendel Hall, from 9 A.M. to 4 P.M.

The Fifth Column

By Hugh Johnson and Frank McBride

We're back to our 5th again.

Last week, Bill Altenpohl received a dispatch from the Associated Collegiate Press of N.S.P.A.—that's the outfit that has donated all the First Class awards to the Villanovan in the years gone by—at any rate, they think our school paper is pretty terrific with but one exception, viz., the 5th Column. But, thank heaven, every now and then, the editors of this rag get stuck for space and that's where we shine. So don't worry, dear readers (all 5 of you), we'll be with you 'till logic catches up with both of us.

Who's Who, What's What

You've all heard of the National Who's Who Among College Students—well, we can top Villanova's 18 select nominees with a Who's Who What's What of our own.

Topping the list is Big Nails Fahy and his erstwhile sidekick, the poor man's Walter Winchell, John Kuchs.

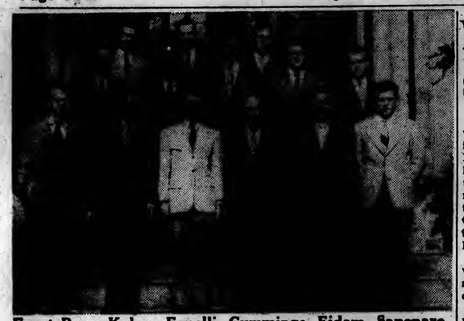
(And speaking of Kuchs, last week, one of the Villanova's halfbacks almost made himself the outstanding hero of the century. A small 2 lb. bomb was set under the seat while the venerable John was sleeping but,. . . well, in short, the attempted assasination failed. Oh well, next time.

Then there's the campus "Bing Crosby," Tom Clavin, and his potential Communistic buddy, Ed Berrang.

Dick Randolph, who is still behind the eight ball; Cris Sickler high scorer for Fedigan's Basketball team (ask 'em), Ed Sullivan, assistant chaplain at Rosemont, Jay Bolger who goes under the title as the most popular man with the female colleges in Pa; Don Collins, 'cause he missed out on the Who's Who,—then there's Vince O'Donnell, the Art Raimo of the 150's, and "Scoop" John Kennedy.

Quickly, there's Jim "Cocktails" Morgan, Tom "Mr. Marriage" Kennedy, "Ambassador" from her Majesty, John Stanley, Cartoonist Ernesto Smith, Administration's right-hand man Mike Lingenfelter, Shy "2 points" Ralken, and lastly, the next mayor of Cleveland, Nate Finkelstein.

Rosemontian Humor ??



Speaking of Ed Sullivan, it seems last week, the soph class at Rosemont put on a little satire of same said character. The scene was the famous tea house. Ed, impersonated by the tallest doll of the campus, came walking on the stage. All the girls in the cast made a mad dash for the exits.

In despair, Ed calls out, "Won't somebody marry me?" whereupon

(Continued on Page 6)

Campus Calendar

Tuesday, December 16
6:15—Annual Faculty Dinner—Field House
Wednesday, December 17
8:00—Very Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire, OSA, speaks on "The Birth of the Saviour"—Chapel.
8:30—VILLANOVA vs. Lehigh—Field House
Thursday, December 18
6:30—Very Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire, OSA, speaks on "The Birth of the Saviour"—Chapel
8:30—Sophomore Class Smoker—C & F Auditorium
Lights are lighted on the campus and Glee Club and Band present Christmas Carols
Friday, December 19
VILLANOVA vs. Eastern Kentucky—Away
Saturday, December 20
Christmas Recess begins
VILLANOVA vs. Cincinnati—Away
Thursday, December 25
CHRISTMAS
Thursday, January 1
NEW YEAR'S DAY
Sunday, January 4
Resident students return to campus
Monday, January 5
Classes resume

Front Row: Kokes, Fanelli, Cummings, Eidam, Saponare, Wieand. Second Row: Daly, O'Connor, Krzyzosiak, Horan, Foregaugh. Back Roy: McWilliams, Leary, Wylde.

(Continued from Page 1)

ship. A listing in Who's Who serves as an incentive to urge students in obtaining the most from their college education.

Students listed in Who's Who are first selected by the College, their names submitted to the editors of the publication, and finally judged by H. Fettus Randall, editor of Who's Who. The basis of selection is scholastic ability and activity in school events.

Honors, Activities Mark Leading Students

Some of the activities of those selected this year are: Raymond Cummings was co-editor of the Belle Aire, an honor man, a member of the VILLANOVAN staff, and member of DPM.

Thomas Daly was a member of Beta Gamma, an honor man, a member of the BELLE AIRE staff, a member of DPM, and before he came to Villanova, editor of the Mt. Saint Mary's school paper.

Richard Eidam was a member of Belle Masque, a member of LKD, on the Dean's list, and a member of the Pennsylvania Academy of Science.

Edward Fanelli was president of the Sophomore class, an honor man, on the Student Council, a member of Belle Masque, and a UN Student Council delegate.

Richard Kokes was an honor man, a member of the German Club, and a member of the ACS.

Joseph Krzyzosiak was a member of AIEE and PKP.

Joseph Leary was an honor man, a member of the VILLANOVAN and BELLE AIRE, a member of Belle Masque, and on the staff of WVIL.

John McCamley was an honor man and a member of DPE and Betta Gamma.

John McGrath was a member of PKP and ASME and played freshman basketball,

James McWilliams was an honor man, editor of the VILLANOVAN, member of the BELLE AIRE staff, and a member of DPM.

Robert O'Connor was a member of Beta Gamma, a member of DPE, a Student Council Member, member of the VILLANOVAN staff, and Chairman of Senior Prom.

Frank Saponare was an honor man, a member of DPN and AIEE, and a member of the BELLE AIRE staff.

Donald Wieand was a member of the VILLANOVAN staff, an honor man, a member of DPE and an NROTC student.

Daniel Wylde was a member of AIEE, an NROTC student, and an honor man.

WVIL Inaugurated Varied Program Schedule Planned

Station WVIL, the official radio voice of Villanova, was successfully inaugurated last Tuesday evening. Reception was clear, however, installation of a filter and improved control of the power are expected to make it even better. A representative of the Federal Communications Commision will be here this week to check on power output and installation of the transmitter.

After the Christmas vacation, when all minor technicalities are solved, regularly scheduled broadcasts will be given and adhered to.

Fr. Grimes is preparing religious material for broadcasting which he will deliver twice weekly. Sports news, campus news and interviews with various players in the college sports program will be scheduled.

The members of the station also anticipate the presentation of plays with the participation of the student body.

Classical, semi-classical and popular music will be heard regularly. The record library at present is small but it will be built up as rapidly as possible with the funds that are available.

WVIL's audience, it was announced by the staff of the station will be spared the questionable charms of the currently popular "singing commercials." The station, although planning to carry commercials, will present the material without the benefit of music.

For Program Schedule See Page 8

Want Cancelled Stamps

Today boxes for cancelled stamps were placed in all resident halls and the C and F Building. Stamps of all denominations are acceptable. The only requirement is that a minimum of one-half inch of the envelope be left around each stamp. Funds realized from the sale of these stamps will be used to support Augustinian Missionaries in China, the Philippine Islands, Peru, Bolivia, and Africa.

THIRTEEN AT ASEE MEETING

The Middle Atlantic Section of the American Society for Engineering Education held its fall meeting on Sat., Dec. 6, at the Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, New York.

Members of the Engineering Department of Villanova who attended the meeting are: Messrs. Auth, Clothier, Potter, Grayson, Amelotti, Gallen, Weis, Steffan, Blanchard, Davis, Drs. Haenisch and Quam, and Dean J. S. Morehouse.

Dean Morehouse attended the conference on Counseling and Testing, and also gave the resolution of thanks to the host at the closing dinner.

Mr. John Kottcamp, Vice President of Johns-Manville Co., a member of the Advisory Council and former member of the faculty of Pratt Institute, was the dinner's speaker. Mr. Kottcamp spoke on his observations of the economic situation in Europe. Stressing the importance and necessity of help to Europe by supplying them with commodities, he advocated a system of independence for Europeans by establishing an incentive for production.

The next meeting of the society will be held at Annapolis during the first week in May.

The last meeting of the society held at Villanova was in 1941.

SODA Fountain
Meet Your Friends . at the . . Greeks
Superior Soda Fountain Service
Luncheon :: Dinner
818 Lancaster Ave.
Bryn Mawr, Pa.

DPE Initiates Sixty Men

Delta Pi Epsilon, the Commerce and Finance fraternity, initiated sixty new members last Wednesday night in C. & F. auditorium. This was the largest group of Fledglings in several years. The initiation proceedings lasted more than two hours and was followed by a smoker and abundant refreshments.

The Initiation Committee was headed by Pete Pallitto who with president Joe Foley welcomed the new members. Mr. Foley outlined the fraternity's plans for the coming year, and stressed particularly the advantages of maintaining an active membership.

Sophomore Smoker Set For Thureday: : LeBlanc

Edgar Le Blanc, President of the Sophomore Class, has announced that the Class of '50 will hold a Smoker on Thursday evening, December 18th., at 8:30 P.M., in the Commerce and Finance Auditorium.

All Sophomores are invited to attend. Movies will be shown and refreshments will be supplied.

The Financial status of the class will be discussed and statements made concerning profits realised on the Sophomore Cotillion held earlier this semester.

Officers of the Class include Edgar Le Blanc, President; Mike Marshall, Vice-President; George Szymanski, Secretary; and George Egan, Treasurer. Rev. H. J. Egan, O.S.A., is Moderator of the Class.

JOHN DOUGLASS CO.
Formal Attire Rentals
69th Street Theatre Bldg.
UPPER DARBY
Open Mon., Wed.,, Fri. Till 9:30 P. M.
BLVD. 5957

This Record Rings the Bell!
...IT'S JOHNNY LONG'S LATEST SIGNATURE RELEASE—
"Jingle Bells"

"JINGLE BELLS" is in for another season of popularity owing to that southpaw of the violin, Johnny Long. Yeah, man, Johnny, you've got a great record!

There's another great record in the spotlight. It belongs to Camel cigarettes. More people are smoking Camels than ever before!

Try Camels! Discover for yourself why, with smokers who have tried and compared, Camels are the "choice of experience"!

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.
Winston-Salem, N. C.

—And here's another great record—
More people are smoking CAMELS than ever before!

Alumni Retains Crown Winning Swim Meet

Trackmen, Ed Fitzgerald and Buck Coleman Pace Victors; Barracks 2 & 3 Place 2nd; Day Hops with Only 4 Entries, Take 3rd

Before an enthusiastic crowd representing all halls on the campus, Alumni Hall paced by track stars, Ed Fitzgerald and Buck Coleman, swept to a decisive victory in the Intramural Swim Meet held last Thursday night in the Field House swimming pool. Thus Alumni retained the crown that they had captured last season.

Alumni's mermen amassed 41 points as their closet competitors, Barracks 2 and 3, were able only to garner 20. The Day Hops, with 15 points took third. Fourth and fifth places were taken by Barracks 1 and 4 and Austin Hall with 5 and 2 points respectively. The Doms, Mendel, and Fedigan failed to gain a point.

Placing first in all but one event, Frank Burke's Alumni aggregation completely outclassed the competing field. Besides the brilliant display of skill of Coleman and Fitzgerald, Joe O'Brien, Intramural Football captain and Al Veling, Varsity football athlete, aided greatly in this overwhelming triumph.

In the only event that Alumni did not place first, Jamison of the Day Hops, edged out Mullen of Barracks 2 and 3, in the diving contest by a 39-34 count. Charles McIntyre, a championship diver himself, judged this event.

Father Burke supervised the meet, while Fathers Dunne and Purcell, helped in timing individual events. Other judges were Bill Maher and Al Veling. Appreciation is extended to Bob Polidor, and Vince O'Sullivan, Varsity football men who acted as official scorers.

Results

Results:

50-yard Free Style: 1, Ed Fitzgerald, Alumni; 2, Spence, Barracks 2 and 3; 3, Connelly, Day Hops. Time: 27.5

50-yard Breast Stroke: 1, Buck Coleman, Alumni; 2, Mullen, Barracks 2 and 3; 3, Al Veling, Alumni; 4, Flynn, Fedigan. Time; 36.5

50-yard Back Stroke: 1, O'Brien, Alumni; 2, Maher, Barracks 1 and 4; 3, McIntyre, Day Hops. Time: 35.6

Diving: 1, Jamison, Day Hops; 2, Mullen, Barracks 2 and 3; 3, Kerchner, Barracks 1 and 4, 4, Neuroh, Barracks 2 and 3; 5, Coleman, Alumni. Points: 39

Medley Relay: 1, Alumni; 2, Day Hops; 3, Barracks 2 and 3; 4, Barracks 1 and 4. Time: 42.7

200-yard Freestyle: 1, Smith, Alumni; 2, Loughlin, Barracks 2 and 3; 3, Egan, Austin; 4, O'Hare Barracks 1 and 4. Time: 3.37

Four-man Relay: 1, Alumni (Elrich, Coleman, O'Brien, Fitzgerald), 2, Barracks 2 and 3 (Gallen, Loughlin, Spence, Gonsalves), 3, Day Hops (Connelly, McIntyre, Jamison, Johnson), 4, Austin (Smith, O'Niel, Thompson, Carney), Time: 50.16.

Squad Feted At Banquet Barker Named Captain

Bob Polidor Makes 1st Team Catholic All-American. Barker Receives Alumni Award

Last Tuesday evening at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, the Villanova Club of Philadelphia held its annual football banquet. Beside the loyalty award annually presented to the alumnus voted most loyal to Villanova—this year to Theodore Reimel—honors were also bestowed on various members of the football team. Al Barker and Bobby Polidor were the recipients of these awards.

Barker Gets Alumni Award

Barker, soft-spoken guard was elected by his teammates as captain for the 1947 season. He also received the Alumni award for the senior who has done the most for the football team this year both on and off the field. For this, Barker received an Elgin wrist watch as the outstanding senior on the squad.

Bobby Polidor also was heaped with honors as he was chosen by his teammates as the outstanding member and most valuable player of the team. His awards were a Shaefer pen and pencil set and a plaque, Bobby was also named halfback on the Catholic All American team chosen yearly by the coaches of Catholic colleges throughout the nation. Supplementing this honor, he was named Honorable mention AP All American, and AP All State.

Several other members of the teams were represented on the various All American teams.

End Dan Brown who was voted 2nd team All State, Honorable Mention AP All American, Honorable Mention Catholic All American.

Lilienthal Honored

Senior Tackle, Bill Lilienthal garnered the lion's share of the honor and glory as he was named to The AP All East, All State and Honorable Mention All American, and Honorable Mention Catholic All American. Together with the other tackle, huge 260 pound John Sandusky, he was named to Boston College's All Opponent team; Guard George Palvaiko—Honorable Mention AP All American and All State. Center Milt Komarnicki—Honorable Mention AP All American and All State Q. B. Bill Doherty—Honorable Mention All State and Ralph Pasquariello Honorable Mention Catholic All American.

MOE: "Let's cut math today."
JOE: "Can't, I need the sleep."

ALL-OPPONENT TEAM CHOSEN BY VARSITY

Army Dominates; Detroit and Boston College Place Two

Bill Canino

After ending a successful season in which they won 6 lost 3, and tied 1, the Villanova College football team made a careful study of the teams that offered them competition over the season and selected an All Opponents team. Because of the fine caliber of the opposition, this year's mythical eleven was harder to choose than any previous year's. However there is probably no finer array of stars in the annals of Villanova All teams.

For the third consecutive season, the U. S. Military Academy dominated the selections. The Cadets, 13-0 victor at West point, placed four men on the first team, one less than they placed last year. The University of Detroit and Boston College followed with two places each. Miami, Georgetown and San Francisco were also represented.

Steffy, Bryant and Baranowski!

The only unanimous selections were guard Joe Steffy, tackle Gobel Bryant, and Babe Baranowski, Georgetown's sterling quarterback. It was the superb passing and fleet-footedness of this miniature back that extended the Wildcats as they won the game of the year 14-12.

If one were asked to make a choice between the first and second team they couldn't lose, no matter whom they picked. Rawers of Army and Holliday of Holy Cross were the choices for the end spots on the second squad while another Crusader Parker and Oberto of Georgetown were selected as tackles. Bus Werder Catholic All American and Kaminski of San Francisco were named as guards. Two Kentucky men, Jay Rhodemyre, third string all American, and Blanda who personally sunk the Cat in the Great Lakes Bowl Game last week were chosen for center and halfback slots respectively.

No Second Team Quarterback

Forrest Hall, the speed merchant from San Francisco, and Detroit's burly fullback, Ed Kasserjian rounded out the backfield. As you might have noticed there was no quarterback mentioned on the second team as Baranowski cornered all the votes.

Honorable mentions were Art Spinney, All Catholic All American end from Boston College, Sam Sauceda of San Francisco, Kelly of Georgetown, Foley of Marquette, Boller of Kentucky and Kucer of San Francisco.

Villanova All Opponent Football Team

First Team

Pos	Name	Team
LE	Yoviston	Miami
LT	Bryant	Army
LG	Steffy	Army
C	Yeomans	Army
RG	Simmons	Detroit
RT	Kissell	Boston College
RE	Bolsture	Detroit
QB	Baranowski	Georgetown
HB	Scott	San Francisco
HB	Diminick	Boston College
FB	Rowan	Army

FOOTBALL PLAY-OFF SCHEDULED TODAY

A meeting of the Intramural Football League was held last Tuesday evening at 6 P.M. in the Villanovan office. Present were Father Dunne, Moderator of Intramural sports on the campus, Jim Plunkett, Villanovan Sports Editor, George and Ray Mondschein, Sports writers in charge of Intramural publicity, and representatives from the four teams eligible for the playoffs.

A schedule for the playoffs was drawn up and approved. Officials were also appointed. The Alumni Jawbreakers, captained by Joe O'Brien, were to meet Bill Knecht's Barracks 3 "Sea Gulls," but the game was postponed until a later date because of bad weather. Today the Austin Comets tangle with Delurey. Ray McNulty and Hank Fessler captain Austin and Delurey respectively.

'Cats Squash Scranton; Princeton Edges 'Cats

Raiken Tallies 14 Points In Leading Severancemen To 70-49 Win. Tigers Victorious By One Point Margin, 40-39

Paul Pressler

The Villanova basketball team staged its best offensive display of the still early season last Wednesday night against the University of Scranton at the College Field House, winning 79 to 40 before 1500 fans who braved the snow and sleet to see the game. For the first time this season, the 'Cats played a fast "firehouse" type of ball, ditching the weave system which they previously had used.

Sparked by the stellar playing of forward Paul Arizen, a newcomer playing his first year of scholastic basketball, the Wildcats jumped to a 14-0 lead before Medvecky, a Scranton guard, split the cords with a field goal for Scrantons first score.

Hannan Brilliant

The second quarter was marked by the heads-up defensive play of John Hannan and Jack Crossin who time after time stole the ball and broke up many of Scranton's plays. Another Villanova offensive drive ran the score up to 32-14 at half time.

Play in the third quarter was almost even as the Royals began to sink their set shots. Led by the south-paw guard De Nola and forward Grey, Scranton held the 'Cats to 20 points making 15 for themselves. The score was 53-29 at the end of the quarter.

"Fire House" Ball Clicks

The last quarter was wild as Villanova's new offensive really began to click. Led by Raiken, Wolf, Ricca, and DelPurgatorio, the first team opened up to roll the score up to 72-31. With less than four minutes to go, Coach Severance sent the subs into the game.

The 'Cats had 74 shots from the field and cashed in on 28 of them for a percentage of 38%, while Scranton made 17 baskets on 54 shots for a percentage of 31%. Villanova connected for 28 of 35 from the 15 foot marker, while the visitors made 6 out of 12.

The Royals made most of their shots from the outside as they were unable to solve the Villanova defense.

By Jack Kennedy

Last Saturday, December 13th, found the Wildcats of Villanova traveling to Princeton, N. J. where they fell before a surprising Princeton five by a score of 40 to 39 in the newly constructed Herbert Lowell Dillon Gymnasium before a crowd of 2600 spectators. This victory for the Tigers evens the series at four apiece.

Villanova scored first on a foul shot by Captain Leo Wolf, but George Lawry, the Princetain Captain put the Tigers ahead 4 to 1 on two field goals. Although Villanova missed several golden opportunities to score on close up shots, they managed, with the aid of Brooks Ricca's eight points in the first half, to stay within six points of the Tigers during the first 16 minutes of play, but Princeton widened their lead to eleven points on two goals each by Kelly and Lawry and a field goal and foul by the big center, Adams. The half ended with Villanova on the short end of a 25 to 14 score.

Sparked by Coach Al Severance's half time talk the Wildcats scored seven straight points before Princeton got a lucky two pointer when Paul Arizin in attempting to take the ball off the backboard after Holman's shot, touched the rim with his hand. Four minutes of the second half had gone by when Ricca went out of the game on per. Wildcats drive. They finally tied the score at 31 and went on to take a 36 to 33 lead only to see it disappear on two field goals by Holman and fouls by Sella and Lawry. Shy Raiken cut the score to 40 to 38 on a layup with 40 seconds to go. Princeton started to freeze the ball but Joe Hannan stole it and passed to Raiken who was fouled while shooting with only 20 seconds remaining. Shy's first shot was a heartbreaker, going in and then coming out of the hoop. His second shot was good but Princeton got possession of the ball and held it until the end of the game. Final score: Princeton 40, Villanova 38.

Lawry of Princeton was high scorer for both teams with seven field goals and two fouls for 16 points. Ricca led the Wildcats with 3 and 4 for ten points, followed by Wolf and Raiken with 3 and 2 for eight points.

	F.G.	F.	P.
Del Purgatorio, f.	0	1	1
Arizin, f.	2	2	6
Cross, f.	1	0	2
Sabol, f.	1	1	3
Ricca, c.	3	4	10
Wolf, g.	3	2	8
Raikin, g.	3	2	8
Hannan, g.	0	1	1
Total	13	13	39

SEEN

Bill Grimberg, captain of the 1934 football team seen officiating at the recent Phila. Eagles - Chicago Cards game.

Latest word from St. Louis has it that Joe Brehmer, that Versatile former Main Liner is playing Basketball for the University of St. Louis Freshmen no less. Joe ripped the cords for 19 points while playing with the Freshmen squad.

Congratulations

To

WVIL

The

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

WILDCAT PICTURE FOR SALE BY VILLANOVAN

The Fifth Column

(Continued from Page 2)

10 of the prettiest (if possible) girls ran out on the stage and smothered our hero with hugs and kisses.

A good joke girls, but did you ever try looking in the mirror????? (Silly question)

Louis vs. Walcott

Seems everybody from the bulldog at the table down in Morey's to the place where Louie's Pie shop dwells has expressed his own personal feelings on the Louis Walcott fisticuff.

Well, we think "the better participant emerged triumphantly" on this basis: Any man who holds the worlds title for 10½ years will have to be beaten decisively, in short, knocked out. When the two Joes stood their ground and really punched each other, it would appear that Jersey Joe came out with the score.

But the truth of the matter is that Walcott spent half of the 15 rounds running away from the Brown Bomber; surely not the type fellow America would like to hold the title.

Further, we predict that come this summer, Joe Louis will make another Max Schmeling out of Jersey Joe and retire from active duty never having lost as the Worlds Heavyweight.

Swim Meet

Thursday night produced a relatively huge turnout at the Intramural Swim meet which the boys from Alumni walked away with. Last year the day-hops were the winners but only placed third this season. Main reason was that Charlie Jameson, Harry Jacobs, and Charlie McIntyre showed up. And speaking of McIntyre, the Boy holds all sorts of rowing titles along with his famous brothers, was the unlucky judge of the diving events. Some of his decisions were not too popular with the crowds, but the former Villanova guard, who didn't even want the job, knows a lot more about it than the the average run-of-the-mill swim fan.

The meet in general showed that Villanova has more than enough talent available and willing to form a varsity team. The times were fast and the spirit was there.

So, to those who haven't as yet, it has been strongly rumored that V. WILL have a Varsity Swimming Team, that they have already scheduled about 5 tentative meets for the early part of '48, and that a call will be issued right after Christmas for talent.

That means good clean living over the holidays so that you'all will be in shape.

U. S. Post Office

Question of the week? What would Jesse Donaldson do with the Philly Post Office without Villanova? Bill Overbeck, official statistician for Mr. Galagher, informs us that 10% of the Christmas Subs this year have "Students at Villa." listed as their occupation.

Schedule Announced for I. M. Basketball League

Six Dormitory and Two Day Hop Teams Planned; Sixteen-Game Schedule

Mondschein Inc., and Kluesarits

Rev. John R. Dunne, U.S.A., Intramural Sports Director, has announced the Intramural Basketball schedule for the first half. Eight teams will be represented in the circuit with each team playing one game a week. The first half will continue until the Mid-term Examinations. The second half will begin the week after the retreat. A playoff will be held between the first half winner and second half winner to decide the Campus Basketball Champion.

Starting Time 7:30

All games are to be played in the Field House with the first game starting at 7:30 P.M. and the second game at 8:30 P.M. Non-league games are to begin promptly at 7:00 P.M. Teams should be at the Field House by 6:30 P.M. for Non-league games.

In a non-league game prior to the Scranton tilt on Wednesday night, Fedigan eked out a 31-25 decision over Mendel. The lead changed hands frequently, the contest finally being decided with five minutes remaining when big Bill Stack sank two quick field goals for Fedigan. Fedigan held the lead till the end.

Point System to be Used

Points will be awarded to the teams according to the final standings in both halves of the league.

INTRA-MURALS
Winter 1947-1948
Basketball
First Half

Monday, Dec. 15°
Day students vs. Barracks 1
Barracks 2 vs. Doms.
Wednesday, Dec. 17
Day students vs. Barracks 1
(non-League game)
Thursday, Dec. 18
Austin vs. Fedigan
Alumni vs. Mendel
Tuesday, Jan. 6, 1948
Day students vs. Fedigan
Doms. vs. Mendel
Wednesday, Jan. 7
Barracks 2 vs. Doms.
(non-League game)
Thursday, Jan. 8
Alumni vs. Barracks 1
Austin vs. Barracks 2
Tuesday, Jan. 13
Fedigan vs. Mendel
Alumni vs. Austin
Wednesday, Jan. 14
Austin vs. Fedigan
(non-League game)
Thursday, Jan. 15
Day students vs. Doms.
Barracks 1 vs. Barracks 2
Tuesday, Jan. 20
Day students vs. Fedigan
Barracks 1 vs. Doms.
Wednesday, Jan. 21
Alumni vs. Mendel
(non-League game)
Thursday, Jan. 22
Alumni vs. Barracks 2
Austin vs. Mendel

Comment

Three deaf students were riding a train bound for London. As the train stopped at a small station:

First Student: "It's Wembly."

Second Student: "It's not, it's Thursday."

Third Student: "So am I, let's have a spot of tea."

* * *

Frosh: "Mamma, may I go out tonight?"

Soph: "Going out tonight, mother. Home at ten."

Junior: "Going out tonight, Dad."

Senior: "G'night, Dad, I'll bring in the milk."

* * *

Sonny: "Mother, Poppa wouldn't murder anyone, would he?"

Mother: "Why certainly not. Why?"

Sonny: "Well, I just heard him down in the cellar saying, 'Let's kill the other two, George'."

SEEN

Bill Grimberg, captain of the 1934 football team seen officiating at the recent Phila. Eagles - Chicago Cards game.

Latest word from St. Louis has it that Joe Brehmer, that Versatile former Main Liner is playing Basketball for the University of St. Louis Freshmen no less. Joe ripped the cords for 19 points while playing with the Freshmen squad.

WELCOME CATS
HAMBURG HEARTH
814 LANCASTER AVE. BRYN MAWR, PA.

DANCE to the music of
SAM DONAHUE
At The Belle Air Ball
and enjoy good fun and gay company here for THE date who will make HER say she's had just the GRANDEST time of the whole year.
Senior Class of 1948

St. John's University
School of Law
Approved by American Bar Association
Member of Association of American Law Schools
Three-year day and four-year evening courses leading to degree LL.D.
(Summer Sessions conducted)
Students are admitted to the School of Law in September and February
REGISTRAR —
96 Schermerhorn Street
Brooklyn 2, New York

FATHER BARTLEY

(Continued from Page 1)

Fr. Bartley first came to Villanova to join the Augustinian Order from his native Lawrence, Massachusetts in 1912. He was ordained to the Sacred Priesthood in 1918, then went on in his studies at the Catholic University of America, where he received the degree, Doctor of Philosophy in 1922. It was in that year that he came to join the faculty of the College. He holds membership in several societies in the field of economics. In addition to his scholastic duties, he is the secretary of the Athletic Board of the College.

Rev. Jos. C. Bartley, O.S.A.

January Lectures Planned by AIEE

The A.I.E.E. will inaugurate a series of lectures the first week of January. The first of the lectures, all to be given by prominent men in the field, will have as guest speaker a representative of the Switch Gear Division of the Philadelphia Electric Co. He will discuss the use of symbols in industry. Speakers for the following lectures are being contacted by Mr. Davis, Professor of Electrical Engineering at Villanova.

Entries for the contest sponsored by the Villanova's A.I.E.E. will be accepted until January 5, 1948. The topic may be on any phase of electrical engineering. A prize of ten dollars will be awarded to the writer of the best paper.

BRITAIN OPENS COLLEGES TO AMERICAN STUDENTS

Courses to Be Offered In 1948 Summer Session

Seven British universities have announced opportunities for 650 American students to attend their summer sessions in 1948, according to the British embassy in Washington.

Graduates and teachers with good academic records, who have majored in the fields offered, will be eligible for admission. Undergraduates in their junior or senior year who can show special training or aptitude in the subjects offered may also be considered. At some universities special assistance will be given to students preparing doctoral dissertations.

Courses offered by each university are:

UNIVERSITY OF BIRMINGHAM: "Shakespeare and the Elizabethan Drama"; open to 60 American graduate students, (July 3-Aug. 13).

UNIVERSITY OF LEEDS: "Britain's Economic Outlook"; 40 American students, (July 12-Aug. 20).

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON: "Contemporary English Literature"; 200 foreign students, countries unspecified, (July 10-Aug. 20).

UNIVERSITY OF NOTTINGHAM: "Education in England—Its Development, Organization, and Characteristics"; 75 foreign students, (July 10-Aug. 20).

UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD: "Britain and Europe in the Twentieth Century (Literature, Philosophy, Politics, and Economics)"; 150 American students, (July 2-Aug. 13).

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE OF SOUTHAMPTON: "The Texture and Pattern of Life in Contemporary Britain"; 50 American students, (July 17-Aug. 20).

UNIVERSITY OF ST. ANDREWS: "Tradition of European Civilization"; 100, foreign students, (July 10-Aug. 21).

Tuition, room, and board for six weeks will amount to $240-$264. Courses will be recognized by the Veterans' administration for grants under the GI Bill of Rights. Applications should be made to local advisers.

Cunard White Star Line is reserving 500 places for American students who will attend British summer schools. Eastbound sailing will be between June 15 and July 1; westbound sailings will be between Aug. 15 and Sept. 15. Round trip, tourist class, is $328. The minimum cabin class fare is $448.

Accommodations for students will be provided either in the colleges or in special hostels during the school session. If students intend to travel in England, rooms must be booked as far in advance as possible. Food ration books will be distributed to students when they reach England.

Further information and application forms may be obtained from the Institute of International Education, 2 West 45th st., New York 19, N. Y. All applications and deposits of $25 must be submitted to the institute by March 15. Successful candidates will be notified by April 15.

Mother: "Does Mamma's itsy baby want a drink?"

Infant: "Sure, wadjer got?"

* * * * *

English—the world's most illogical language. Quotation from a salt Lake City paper, "Bear can't bear cage, so bear leaves bear cage bare."

KEEP SUPPLIED WITH SCHOOL TICKETS
GOOD ON BUSES AND RAIL CARS UNTIL USED
5c a Ride, including Special Free Transfers. Obtain Identification Cards at School Office.
RED ARROW LINES
Philadelphia Suburban Transportation Co.

WHY WALK?
CLEANING PRESSING
We Pick Up and Deliver Daily at the
PIE SHOP
COLADONATO TAILOR SHOPPE

FLOWERS
THE Bouquet Shop
"Flowers That Are Pleasantly Different"
Lancaster Ave. at Roberts Ave., Bryn Mawr, Pa.
Flowers By Wire
BRYN MAWR 2422

For Expert Convenient Attention
SERVICE
THE CAMPUS BARBER SHOP
First Class Work
Popular Prices

Let's Get together
PHILIP MORRIS
is so much better to smoke!
PHILIP MORRIS offers the smoker an extra benefit found in no other cigarette. For PHILIP MORRIS is the ONE, the ONLY cigarette recognized by leading nose and throat specialists as definitely less irritating.
Remember: Less irritation means more smoking enjoyment for you.
Yes! If every smoker knew what PHILIP MORRIS smokers know, they'd ALL change to PHILIP MORRIS.

CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS
TRY A PACK... TODAY

WVIL PROGRAM SCHEDULE

TUESDAY:

7:00 Campus News
7:15 Sports News
7:30 Record Rendevouz
8:00 Gilbert & Sullivan Favorites
8:30 Radio Theater
9:00 Symphony Hall
10:00 Music to Study By
11:00 Sign Off

WEDNESDAY:

7:00 Campus news
7:15 Sports news
7:30 Record Rendevouz
8:30 Off The Air.
10:00 Music to Study By
11:00 Sign Off

THURSDAY

7:00 Campus News
7:15 Sports News
7:30 Record Rendevouz
8:00 Special Christmas Broadcast
9:00 Analysis of the News
9:15 Chaplain's Corner
9:30 Music to Study By
11:00 Sign Off

JEANNETT'S
Bryn Mawr Flower Shop
Corsage Specialists
FREE DELIVERY
823 Lancaster Ave.
BRYNMAWR , PA.
Bryn Mawr 0570 : Flowers by Wire

For That BIG DANCE
Van Huesen
Full Dress
Tux Shirts
—Plus—
A Full Line of Formal Wearing Apparel and Accessories
THE MANLY STORE
835 LANCASTER AVE.
Bryn Mawr, Pa. B. M. 0131
Nick Marziani—Campus Rep.

OPEN A SPECIAL CHECKING ACCOUNT TO-DAY — —

Save the bother of having to be your own BANK

If you are without a personal checking account, you can now have this modern convenience without a minimum balance requirement. You simply pay a small amount for your check book when opening your account. There are no other charges. Ask for Miss Abernethyand; she will explain everything.

THE BRYN MAWR TRUST CO.
BRYN MAWR

Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

How to be SURE of a FULL TIME CHRISTMAS VACATION

GO BY TRAIN! Avoid traffic jams—by-pass tricky winter weather. You'll leave on scheduled time and you'll enjoy cozy comfort, dependability and safety all the way. Ask your Railroad ticket agent about economical fares in modern sleeping cars and comfortable coaches.

-and how to

SAVE MONEY when you return

New "College Special" Round-Trip Tickets go into effect on all railroads on Christmas day. Buy one at your "home station." It will give you a longer limit for your return trip back home during Spring Vacation or at the close of the school year. The new tickets will be on sale for Students and Teachers any day between December 25 and January 16. Take advantage of money-saving round-trip tickets especially tailored for the needs of college men and women. Consult your home town ticket agent or any Railroad representative for cost of tickets, return limits and stop-over privileges.

For a Time and Money-Saving Trip
Go by train
IT'S CONVENIENT—COMFORTABLE—SAFE
AMERICAN RAILROADS

The U. S. Air Force offers you
$336 a month one year after graduation

THAT'S what you can earn after completing one year of pilot training and winning your wings in the Air Force.

It is a good deal from the start. While you're an Aviation Cadet you draw $75 per month, plus food, quarters, uniforms, medical and dental care. After successfully finishing the course, you are commissioned a Second Lieutenant, Air Force Reserve, and assigned to active duty with the Air Force at $336 a month (including flight pay), with excellent chances for further increases as promotions come through.

In addition, you get an extra $500 for each year of active duty, and will be given a chance to compete for a commission in the Regular Air Force if you are interested in a service career.

This opportunity, which cannot be duplicated anywhere else at any price, equips men for well-paid, responsible positions throughout the aviation industry, at high pay from the beginning. It is open to you if you're single, between 20 and 26½ years old, and have completed at least one-half the requirements for a degree from an accredited college or university (or pass an examination measuring the equivalent). Ask for details at your U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, or write to Headquarters, U. S. Air Force, Attention: Aviation Cadet Section, Washington 25, D. C.

U. S. ARMY AND U. S. AIR FORCE RECRUITING SERVICE

NOTE: If you were awaiting assignment or taking training when the Aviation Cadet program was cut back in 1944-45, you can re-qualify simply by passing the physical examination, provided you meet the other requirements listed above. Write for information to Headquarters, U. S. Air Force, Attention: Aviation Cadet Section, Washington 25, D. C.

CAREER WITH A FUTURE
U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 23—No. 10 VILLANOVA COLLEGE, VILLANOVA, PA. Tuesday, January 13, 1948

SENIORS STAGE BELLE AIR BALL

Penna. Division of N. S. A. Organizes

The NSA became a more potent reality to students of Pennsylvania with the recent convention of Pennsylvania student delegates at Penn State College.

The purpose of the meeting was to select methods for the achievement of the purposes of NSA in Pennsylvania. A constitution was drawn up and adopted which was very similar to the national constitution adopted at Madison last summer. The rest of the weekend was spent in trying to solve specific student problems. From the panel on Dometic Affairs there came two proposals which were lated adopted by the plenary session. The first provided for the establishment of a student government clinic which would aid the establishment of student govt. in Pennsylvania and ALSO HELP THOSE SCHOOLS WITH ONLY NOMINAL STUDENT GOVERNMENTS to secure real student government. This clinic will be established at Bryn Mawr College and will serve the whole state through information, statistics, speakers, etc., etc. The second proposal provided for the establishment of an Interracial Clinic at Swarthmore College this clinic to cooperate with SCED Student Committee on Educational Democracy an already existing organization with members in surrounding states. This clinic will try to improve the racial conditions existing on Pennsylvania's campuses.

Out of a panel on International affais came a set of instructions for the student representatives to IUS—the International Union of Students. These suggestions, if acted on will make our influence in world student affairs a more positive force. They included a suggestion for our representatives never to let any decision to go by default nor to apologize for the USA. This was probably the most exciting part of the convention because it gave the students a chance to exert a much needed force in International Affairs.

Last on the agenda was the election of officers. A surprise came in the election of Ralph Lee Smith as Pennsylvania Regional Publicity Director. Mr. Smith is well known as the author of a provocative article on the Naval Academy.

Belle Masque Thespians Act At Immaculata

The Belle Masque society of Villanova in cooperation with a request by the dramatic society of Immaculata has agreed to join them in the presentation of Little Women, a play by Louisa Mae Alcott. The play is to be presented by Immaculata, the first performance to be staged on Sunday, Febuary 8, the curtain time to be announced later.

This invitation on the part of Immaculata sets some sort of a precedent. Till now Villanova students have never appeared, representing the college, in any plays of any other school.

Last year several Villanova students worked with Immaculata on a radio play and the success of this venture probably prompted the girls to invite the collaboration of the Bell Masque society this year.

The play is adapted from the book of the same name and covers the same time elapsed in the story. The nature of the play of necessity required some abridgement of the orginal story but the theme and continuity have been maintained.

The play will be directed by Sister M. Donatus, IHM who has been responsible for many of the successful plays presented by Immaculata.

Four students of Villanova are to act in the play. Joe Hennessey plays the male lead and assisting parts are played by A. J. Mullen, Don Collins, and Frank Guzikowski. The female roles will be taken by Misses Margaret Portner, Joan Stephens, Alice McCrystal, and Mary Jane McLaughlin.

ENGINEERING AND MACHINE SHOPS NOW BEING RETOOLED

Rev. John Vrana and Mr. Wm. Gorman Direct Renovation

By the middle of next term, the improvements in the Engineering shops will be completed and the Machine shop will be fully tooled for engineering instruction.

All of the old countershafting and belt drives have been removed and replaced with direct motor drives. Each Shop has been equipped with fluorescent lighting, and color-conditioned.

Machine Shop Re-Outfitted

In the machine shop, seven new lathes have been installed for student use, together with a sixteen-inch LeBlond engine lathe, and a Morey turret lathe for demonstration of production processes. Seven new shapers, four millers and four drill presses are included in the new equipment.

For grinding, there are three bench tool grinders, one Cincinnati Universal tool grinder for making cutting tools, one Norton surface hydraulic grinder, and a Keller-flex flexible shaft grinder.

Other equipment includes: two surface plates, a Do-All metal cutting band saw, three work benches, and an air compressor.

Over-all improvement to the lab is worth over ten thousand dollars. The equipment was installed and aligned by Mr. W. Gorman, Rev. John Vrana, O.S.A. and Mr. J. Carroll, assisted by Joseph Roarty, Paul Skopie, James Boyle and Richard Boyle.

New Equipment in Pattern Shop

To improve the Pattern Shop, a combination disc and spindle sander with a thirty inch disc has been added, together with a new Delta drill press, a belt sander, Boyce crane band saw, Monarch planer, DeWalt universal circular saw, and five wood turning lathes.

Seven new flasks and two hundred assorted patterns used in industry have been added to the existing equipment in the Moulding Shop.

NOVENA BEGINS

Next Monday a perpetual Novena to Our Mother of God Counsel will begin. This Novena will continue on the Monday and Tuesday of each succeeding week.

Special Cards containing all the prayers and hymns for the service have been prepared.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT DIRECTS SEMINAR ON RELIGIOUS FREEDOM

W.P.T.Z. Televizes the Lower Merion Township's Fifth Presentation on Americanism.

Lower Merion Junior High School. January 6th, 1948. The fifth seminar on Americanism, "Freedom of Religion," was conducted here under the moderatorship of the Rev. Francis X. N. Mc Guire, O.S.A., President of Villanova College. Chairman of this session was Hon. Robert V. Bolger. The seminar, rapidly becoming a popular television feature, was telecast by William Buchanan Gold and James E. Gallagher Jr., local lawyers. Both gave discussions on religious freedom, the former elaborating on the theme of continued oppression of religious groups in the past; the latter enlarging on many aspects of constitutional liberties of Religion.

A seven member panel then interrogated in turn by Father McGuire; Father was commented upon by Judge Bolger as outstanding in his capacity as moderator. He introduced an interesting discussion on the secrecy of the confessional. The moderator was also instrumental in securing active audience participation.

The sponsor of the sessions is the Lower Merion Township Seminar on Americanism. The next topic, to be presented January 20th, is "Justice under Law."

Dramatic Club Gives Public Reading of Journey's End

The Belle Masque Dramatic Society, taking another step in its forward development, enters a new phase of theatre work in presenting a dramatic reading for the general public. The play 'Journey's End" by R. C. Sherhiff, enjoyed a good number of successful Broadway presentations in previous years.

A dramatic reading entails more work than the name might imply. Presented without the benefit of scenery, the lines call for a good amount of finesse and excellent interpretation in order to portray adequately the various characters. From preliminary reports the cast for this production achieves a good deal of success in doing just that. The fine performances in the initial productions of the group earlier in the semester warrant the anticipation with which "Journey's End" is being awaited.

The story deals with the British engagement before St. Quentin in March, 1918, which is supposed to have been the turning point of the whole war. In the officers' dugout the effects of the war on the various characters are presented.

The cast includes:

Narrator ..... C. Stockdale
Capt. Hardy ..... D. Collins
Lieut. Osborne ..... P. Appleby
Pvt. Mason ..... W. Regan
2nd. Lt. Raleigh ..... R. Zande
Capt. Stanhope ..... E. Wilbur
2nd. Lt. Hibbert ..... E. Fannelli

(Continued on Page 8)

The Villanovan extends the sympathy of the student body and faculty to Mr. John T. Dever, Controller, on the recent death of his mother and to Wallace Dietrich, '50, on the death of his brother.

Formal Features Sam Donahue Band

Friday Night Ticket Scarcity Reverts Selling Outlet to Information Desk

"Arabian Nights" will be the theme of decorations at the Belle Air Ball, it was decided at a dance committee meeting last Thursday night. Sam Donahue and his 16-piece band, featuring Shirley Lloyd and Bill Lockwood, will provide the music for the top social event of the year at Villanova. Donahue is known in music circles for his fine arranging, composing and special talent with the tenor sax. An example of Sam's composing and arranging is the

Harry James record of "Hodge Podge."

A Detroit boy, Donahue originally started with a band of his own in the Hub City, but realizing that he needed by name experience to gain fame outside of Michigan, Sam left to play with the name bands of the country. After experience with Gene Krupa, Harry James, Benny Goodman and finally the United States' Navy, where he played command performances, Donahue formed his own band. With this new group he moved right into big time with such disc releases as "Red Wing," "Dinah," "Scuffin," and "Take Five."

The number of fine records this band has produced and the terrific reception they have received at the nation's homes of big bands has earned for them the title of "The Top New Band of the Nation." All this plus the voice and glamour of Shirley Lloyd guarantee a night of dancing pleasure.

Carl Yeager, Senior Class President, and Bob O'Connor, Belle Air

(Continued on Page 3)

Senior Dinner At Adelphia's Crystal Room

In the highlight climax of Villanova's social year, the Senior Class will hold their annual dinner dance Saturday evening, the 17th, at 7:30 in the Crystal Room of the Adelphia Hotel.

Paul Judge's popular smooth-sweet orchestra will serenade dancers and diners from 9 till midnight.

Some 100 tickets, selling at $6.00 per couple, are now to be had at the Information Booth in Mendel Hall. Previously it had been decided to furnish corsages as a part of the price of the ticket by advancing the cost of the ticket. However, upon further consideration this was found to be impractical and was decided against.

Dance Chairman Nick Marziani announces that table reservations must be made when ticket is purchased and advises party groups to form before obtaining tickets. Each table will accommodate five couples. A chart of seating arrangements permits couples to choose their tables.

The Dinner Menu for the evening is as follows:

Fruit Cup Adelphia
Hearts of Celery Queen Olives
Chicken Consomme with Rice
Roast Prime Ribs of Beef au jus
Green Peas
Rissole Potatoes
Lettuce and Tomato Salad
French Dressing
Frozen Rainbow Roll
Raspberry Sauce
Roll Butter Coffee

Chairman Marziani has planned a special innovation—an evening-opening surprise gift for all the Seniors' lady guests.

The dance is only for members of the present Senior Class; no tickets will be sold to anyone else.

New Cheers To Be Selected In School Contest

During the past few months, there has been widespread feeling around the campus that the school needs some new and better cheers. With this in mind, the Cheerleaders and the Villanovan Staff are conducting a contest for new cheers. The contest is open to all students and will end Wednesday, Jan. 21; at which time the entries will be judged by a committee from the Villanovan Staff.

Five cheers will be selected, and each winner will receive a carton of Chesterfield cigarettes donated by the Chesterfield representative in the school. The names of the winners and the cheers will be printed in the school paper the following week.

The following are the rules of the contest:

(Continued on Page 7)

Township Backs Villanovan Drive for Pike Traffic Light

The Villanovan drive for a hand-operated traffic signal for the chapel-crossing on Lancaster Pike has made much progress. Bill Altenpohl, Editor of the Villanovan, announced at an informal meeting of the Student Council last Wednesday night that the Radnor Township Commission has approved of the newspaper's letter and petition.

Quoting from the township letter the Editor read: "The Township is writing a letter to the State Department of Highways informing it of this petition and requesting that the application for a traffic signal permit be processed as quickly as possible."

"Editor Altenpohl further stated: "It is hoped that the petition will pass the State Highway Department's scrutiny and a light erected at the dangerous crossing."

JOURNALISM

Raising Journalism to the plane of a profession has long been the goal of the responsible men of the press. These gentlemen argue that the tremendous power wielded by the press by virtue of its influence on public opinion and therefore on national affairs demands the adoption of the highest professional ideals and standards. It is no wonder that the criticism in the recently published Hutchins report has saddened them.

The Hutchin's report is the findings of a distinguished body of Americans who inquired into the present state of the press, radio and motion pictures. Their conclusions on the state of the press are anything but encouraging. One of the faults they find with the American press is in the ineptitude of the writers; the lack of background and intelligence needed to properly and truthfully interpret the current events.

If the responsible men of the press are still wondering about the reason for this ineptitude, they would do well to examine the proceedings of the convention of Teachers of Journalism in Philadelphia recently. Earnest K. Lindley, Chief of the Washington bureau of Newsweek, reiterated the problem on the first day of the convention by bluntly telling the professors that there weren't enough capable men in the folds of journalism. The solution offered by the teachers, however, was at most rather sad.

In the panel on Basic Journalism where curriculum was considered and the solution to the ineptitude problem of the journalist was apparently forthcoming, absolutely nothing was said about assuring the future journalist any real background. Instead, the time was spent in discussing the relative merits of courses solely devoted to training in newspaper technique. The importance of understanding public opinion was stressed and the value of the college newspaper as a laboratory of the journalism school was debated. Copy reading, headline writing and allied topics were discussed and the technique of putting a newspaper together was explored thoroughly. In short these gentlemen evaluated the merits of courses that would do everything for the aspiring journalist except the most important thing. He would be able to effectively direct his organization; nicely headline his stories; really do a super job on copyreading, but alas he would not know what to write. No curriculum was proposed to assure that the men who were present and interpret the news would really know what they were writing about.

It seems that the big mistake made by these professors was to treat the journalist (they may think of him differently) as though he were a technician. The true journalist must be able to interpret current events in the light of past history. News in itself has very little value; it is news with regard to what has gone before and to what is likely to happen in the future that is important. To write the news in this manner, especially today, requires a tremendously well-founded, well-educated man. Understanding the technique of the press should be the least of his attributes.

To say that they missed the point is putting it mildly.

J. A. M.

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

WILLIAM F. ALTENPOHL, '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
JOHN A. McDERMOTT, '48 ..... Managing Editor
JACK CASBY, '49 ..... News Editor
GEORGE SZYMANSKI, '50 ..... Feature Editor
RICHARD HUBBARD, '48 ..... Picture Editor
VINCE PEDANO, 49 ..... Circulation Manager
NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI, '48 ..... Business Manager
EDWARD OXFORD, '50 ..... Copy Editor
JAMES PLUNKETT '49 ..... Sports Editor
ROBERT M. FLAHERTY, '48 ..... Asst. Photo Editor

News Staff

Michael Marshal '49, Richard Shinners '48, Michael Joseph Nowlan '49, Charles Laferty '49, Frank Gobes '51, Frank Guzikowski '49, Thomas Mitchell '51, Joseph Miller '50, John James Connolly '51, Joseph Kenney '50, Joe Pui Calahan '51, George R. Reinhart '51, Arthur Woodrow '51, Louis Alvare '48, Tom Smith '51.

Feature Staff

R. E. Manifold '51, William Breninghouse '51, Joseph Quill '50, A. J. Mullen '49, David V. Anthony '51, John A. Rowe '51, Gunther Kaiser '49, P. McManus '48, John Mallick '49, Vince O Neil '51, Mark Morris '51, James Tayoun '51, Leo Dodd '49, Emil Mayer '49, Richard Hudak '49, Thomas Russo '51.

Sports Staff

James Lyons '48, Paul Altenpohl '49, Ned Hoffner '49, Arnold Keehan '49, William Canino '50, Neal Fahy '50, George Mondschein '50, Raymond Mondschein '50, Tyson Reilly '50, Walter Rygiel '50, Harry Jacobs '51, William Kiussarits '51, Raymond MacWilliams '51 Paul Pressede '51, Harold Range '51.

Picture Staff

Robert Graf '50, Raymond Berninger '49, Dan Haflinger '50, William Neal Carter '51, Dan Robinson '49, William Murphy '51, Harry Papaan '51, Robert Pope '50, Jack Muratori '51, "Tex" Winters '50.

Business Staff

Joe King '48, Barry Gibbons '51, Jack Gibbons '51, Donald Baralt '50.

Circulation Staff

George Weber, III, '51, Ralph Iorio '50, Ed Kent '51, Charles Klunk '51, Ralph Skowron '51, Gene Langan '51, Harry Papaan '51, Robert Pope '50, Wm. Coakley '50, Maurice Wilhere '48, Mario Piazzolla '51, Paul Schreiber '50.

Copy Staff

Frank McGeehan '50, Girard Farnan '50, Edgar Le Blanc '50 Steve Keiss '51, Robert MacRoberts '51, William Foley '50, Dick Randolph '50.

Faculty Advisor— Rev. John A. Klekotka, O.S.A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova: scholar, athlete, gentleman —
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription: $2 per year, Circulation: 5000.
Entered as second class matter at the Villanova Post Office December 27, 1928.

WHAT DO COMMUNISTS THINK OF US?

What do the American Communist students think of us? In a widely distributed pamphlet expressing the Communist estimation of the N.S.A. convention in Madison there are some sections devoted to Catholic students. The Villanovan feels that although the usual innuendo and subtle suggestions of Communist documents are present that the statements are not worthless.

They start off by referring to the Chicago student conference where the Catholic students caucased together to discuss the implications of the N.S.A. This conference was the original call to American students to form the N.S.A.

As at the Chicago Conference, delegates from Catholic institutions and Catholics elected by non-sectarian schools made up over one-third of the total attendance. Realizing that the caucuses they had conducted in Chicago had aroused distrust and antagonism, they held no such meetings in Madison. On most controversial issues, however, a previously agreed-upon position was quite evident. Unfortunately, it too often was the most conservative attitude brought forward.

This last statement is not wholly true. The Catholic students were at all times in favor of affiliation with I. U. S. which was hardly a conservative attitude and their ideas never were compromised on this subject, but finally were adopted. Further, if there was any preconceived line, your Villanova representatives were unaware that it existed.

On constitutional questions, a greater degree of proportional representation and participation was opposed; on program, special political interests rather than the general welfare, seemed primary.

This is another untruth. It is true that the Catholic students did not support the system which gave the greatest degree of representation but they did not because they believed that such a system would weaken the fundamental structure of N.S.A. which is the individual campus.

The individual Catholic student however, on those issues where no preconceived "line" was visible, often found himself in quick agreement with his fellow student. Many of them, honest, sincere, and generally liberal, will undoubtedly feel misgivings as they review the positions taken by the leaders of their group at the convention. Internal organizational democracy is certainly not a religious issue. Cooperation between the N. S. A. and other organizations would benefit other organizations would benefit Catholic students as well as others.

The election of representative officers was important to every group present. Catholic student leadership must learn, as well, that they do not win respect for themselves if they desert a position they had supported, as they did on segregation, in order to garner a few votes, and because of Red-baiting. They will have to recognize also that although students of a Leftward orientation, both Communist and non-Communist, make up only a minority in the student movement, they cannot be isolated; ignored, or purged.

The next observation made by our Communist friends is the influence of the Hierarchy on Catholic students. They state:

The desirability of cooperation between Catholic and other students has been more than proved. Its further development would create a far healthier situation on the entire campus. The problem, however, is complicated by the open intervention of the hierarchy in student affairs. In a letter published in the June 1, 1947, edition of the Newman News, the chairman of the Youth Department of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, writes on the N. S. A.

Archbishop Cushing said:

. . . I am sure that authorities of our colleges and universities will exercise a sympathetic and prudent interest in the relationship of their students to a student movement beyond the jurisdiction of the Church. Morever, it is my purpose to consult with educational leaders individually and collectively in order to obtain their best judgment in this matter. If necessary, the Administrative Board of Bishops will be asked to render an opinion as to the best course to pursue in the interests of our student groups. Therefore, I would ask you to kindly instruct the student leaders of the national club federation, together with those active in the Joint Committee of these two federations, that they adhere to the prudent guidance of the responsible authorities of their respective campuses. . . . Beyond the initial participation and exploratory activities at the Chicago meeting, any future activities or alliances of our student groups must be subject to the direction of institutional authorities and subject to final review by the hierarchy.

Martin McLaughlin of Notre Dame—perhaps the major Catholic student leader—is moved to protest in the September 13 issue of America. He writes:

The communists are correct when they state that a problem exists. Just where do we Catholic students stand.

Perhaps the educators are afraid of student initiative. Why, for example was it necessary for the N.C.W.C. Youth Department to insist that a veto power over the National Federation of Catholic College Students' activities in matters of "faith, morals and discipline" be written into the new constitution of the Federation? Is there in someone's mind the fear that the action of this organization might shake the foundations of the Church in the U.S.? That the Catholic students will be too "liberal, too radical, too prejudiced, or too secular? . . . Why are the educators reluctant to have Catholic college students participate in non-sectarian student activities?

The Communists agree with Mr. McLaughlin and go on to state:

Mr. McLaughlin objects and calls for greater freedom of action for Catholic students. Progressives will certainly agree, since it has become more than obvious that the general reactionary political program of the hierarchy decisively influences the Catholic student leaders. Such interference has no place in, and can only harm the student movement.

All of this highlights a relationship between the student and the faculty at a Catholic college. What are your poinions on this subject? We wish to use this opportunity to inaugurate a new Villanovan feature. Drop any opinions you might have on the general subject in the box outside the office.

J. A. M.

Pride and Prejudice

Over the holidays we confined ourselves to lighter reading. In one of the current issues of a widely-read popular magazine was an interesting article dealing with the problems of the Negro in the South. This article proved quite informative in portraying from a personal viewpoint the difficulties encountered by men like ourselves, living their everyday lives, trying to support themselves and their families.

The writer, a native of India associated with the United Nations staff, considers himself a "colored" man in the word's true sense. As such he passed thru and visited various Southern cities and towns, talking with many members of both races. Almost invariably, he was at first accepted as a Negro and treated as such. Until and sometimes even after he presented credentials identifying himself, he was excluded from hotels, threatened on supposedly public conveyances, evicted from eating places, and generally made to feel that his existence was being merely tolerated.

Perhaps the most interesting point made was that indicating race prejudice as resting on purely historical grounds and flimsily so. As soon as the various people discovered the writer's identity they were all apologetic and helpful. Their resentment rested on a feeling passed down from their grandfathers, a feeling that the Negro is inherently unsuited to lead a life like their own. Do these people not realize that their status rests on an accident of birth, speaking of accident as incidental to rather than comprising an essential characteristic of one's being? If a colored man were to rescue them from drowning or some such similar tragedy, we can rest assured that all prejudices would be lost immediately.

These paragraphs we might add are not meant to be a diatribe against any one group of individuals or section of the country. They are intended to point out conditions existing around us in the supposedly enlightened twentieth century in an avowedly free country. Is it too much to hope for a change in this coming year? Perhaps not if we realize that this hope necessitates changes in attitude and positive action on our part.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Today I heard a rumor that the name of the Pie-Shop is to be changed. This is one thing I cannot understand, for after all our school needs something traditional, and I think all the old grads and men who know Villanova remember the Pie-Shop.

The school has been very lacking in spirit and tradition, and in my opinion the very thought of robbing one of its time-honored names doesn't seem the order of the day. Even if we are now in a new building let's have more tradition—not less.

Keep the old name—the Pie-Shop.
An Upper Classman

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. — The deadline for former Army Enlisted Men who were discharged prior to September 1, 1946 to place a claim for settlement for unused leave under the Armed Forces Leave Act, has been extended to September 1, 1948, Second Army Headquarters here announced today.

Remaining claimants are urged to apply for the benefits under the law without further delay in order that payments under this project may be completed at the earliest practical date.

Former Enlisted Men discharged on and after September 1, 1946 do not need to submit a claim since settlement for unused leave was made at the time of discharge.

It is important that soldiers and veterans report all changes of address to the Finance Officer paying their claim, inasmuch as Finance Officers report that many terminal leave bonds have been returned.

Pre-Leap Year Sets Pace

The recent holiday spell took its toll of eligible college bachelors with marriages prevailing over engagements, occurring just under the leap-year deadline.

Adding to the married roster of the football team, Joe Rogers, varsity halfback, and one-time leading ground gainer in the nation, married the former Nora Cassidy, of North Phila., in an impressive ceremony solemnized by Rev. John Tuohy, O.S.A., of the college faculty, on Dec. 27th. Corpus Christi Church in No. Phila., scene of the exchange of vows, was attended by Rev. Joseph Kemme, O.S.A., and Rev. Michael O'Donnell, O.S.A., of the faculty, and Frank Kane, Joe's inseparable teammate, among numerous wellwishers. After a reception the couple left for a honeymoon week in West Palm Beach, Fla.

In Chelsea, Mass., Nate Finkelstein, outstanding end of the varsity football team, took as his bride the former Dorothy Spector, of Chelsea. The ceremony was held at Chelsea Manor, on Dec. 24th., Rabbi Baccar officiating. John Glowacki, a former Villanovan, was one of the ushers. Attending the ceremonies among a score of friends were teammates Ralph Pasquariella and Anthony Russo. The couple left on a nine-day honeymoon trip to Washington and New York.

Robert Koob, '50, Chem. Engineering student, married the former Mary Caporale in a ceremony at Our Lady of Victory Church, Philadelphia, on Saturday, Dec. 27th. The couple were wed by Fr. Murphy, of Niagara U., a relative of the groom, at a Nuptial Mass. Miss Betty Clasulo, secretary to Dean Morehouse, and a cousin of the bride was maid of honor. The bride was formerly the secretary to the Professor of Chemistry at Villanova

Robert Guyon, a Villanova student, married the former Betty Anne Dugan, formerly employed as a secretary in the records office, in a ceremony solemnized by Rev. Joseph Mullins, O.S.A., at the Villanova College Chapel, on Saturday, December 27th.

John McGrath, '48 Senior Mech Engineering student, was married to the former Mary Lindh at Holy Cross Church in Philadelphia, on Dec. 27th. Bill Foster, classmate of John, was best man and Miss Frances McGrath, sister of the groom, was maid of honor.

Ed Szkaradnik, Junior E. E. student, was engaged to Miss Helen Potok at a reception at the Potok home in North Phila. on Dec. 24th. No date was set for the wedding. Miss Potok is a graduate of Frankford H. S. in Phila.

RE-NAMING OF PIE SHOP PUT TO STUDENTS

Question to Be Answered in Campus-Wide Poll

In answer to suggestion submitted to the Villanovan office concerning the renaming of the "Pie Shop," the Villanovan is now conducting a contest to decide a new name. A ballot will be found at the bottom of this page which all students are requested to fill out. If 50% of the ballots cast favor a change, a name will be picked from those submitted. If a name is picked, the man sending in the name will receive an award. The winning name will then be affixed to the rendezous hitherto called the pie shop.

A committee of five will judge the contest: Joseph Leary, George Szymanski, Jim McGovern, Neal Fahy, and John McDermott. This contest will close on Friday, January 16th at 6:00 P.M. The contest is open to all students except members of the Villanovan staff. When the ballot is filled out drop it in the little green box standing outside of the office at Rm. 119 Mendel Hall. The winner will be announced in the next issue of The Villanovan.

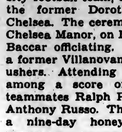
Ballot

Do you think the name of the pie shop should be changed?

CHECK ONE YES.... NO....

If your answer was yes, what should the new name be?

.....



NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

BULL PEN

By John L. Kucha

We dropped into the Villanovan Office just two minutes ago and a bespectacled individual calling himself the Feature Editor frantically grasped our Lord & Lord 'apels and tearfully entreated us to give him twenty lines as a filler. Okay, that's four already.

The new Pie Shop's resemblance to an army building is causing quite a bit of trouble lately. Some fellows are afraid to go in for fear of getting an olive drab outfit. We know one fellow that went in and had to be rushed to the Bryn Mawr Hospital. The medical report read: "Patient, a dayhop at Villanova, glanced at new price list at new Pie Shop and gasped for air. Blood type A needed badly." So they want blood, eh?

Looks like the "I Do" spirit is really rampant what with some lassies having tamed some bruisers into middle-aisling it. Joe Rogers said, "I Do, and here's my wallet, dear." Ed Berrang has finally decided to take the plunge. Rumor has it that Al Zimba has decided to share bankbooks sometime in June. Good luck, boys! (And may the best man win . . . the groom is always the loser.)

We recently celebrated our sixth wedding anniversary and with the exception of an anemic wallet replete with moths, we can truthfully say it was worth it. (You see, my wife is a millionnaire.)

SENIORS STAGE BALL

(Continued from Page 1)

Ball Chairman, made a joint announcement that tickets for the Ball will no longer be reserved but will be placed on general sale today. It was also announced that because of the limited capacity of the Field house only 550 tickets will be placed on sale. The tickets may be obtained at the information booth at a cost of $6.00 per couple.

The Belle Air Ball, which is one of the few formal affairs of the year, will be held in the field house which promises to be decorated in a most becoming fashion. The dance will be held on Friday, January 16, starting promptly at nine and lasting until one.

CAMPUS ROLL CALL

By J. P. Mallick

For the next month or so, activities at the local colleges will be few and far between. This is due to those things which come every four months, exams, naturally.

But for a brief resume of things to come: CHESTNUT HILL leads the list this week with an announcement that the Glee Club of Seton Hall will serenade the Hilltoppers on Jan. 16. Any and all Villanovans are invited to attend and protect their interests.

News has it that the girls are anxiously awaiting the exams which start on Jan. 26. Why girls, it is the same down here!

Ah yes, another dance is in the wind. The annual Valentine Dance will be held on Feb. 7 in the college gym. This is an informal affair. Watch your step fellows, L-Year, you know.

Their basketball team is ready and raring to beat every team scheduled. The line-up is; Captain, Nina De Deradino, Dodie Everling, Anna Gene Hurst, Anne Mc Guckin, Margie Way and Fran Mc Carron.

The season opens with Ursinus, a home game on Feb. 9 at 4 P.M. Then the game that half of Villanova attends, yes, Rosemont on Mar. 2 at 7:30 P.M. at Rosemont. The biggest game of the year is on Mar. 17 with Immaculata. It seems that the Hilltoppers are out after the Macs, lock, stock, and barrel. Good luck, girls.

Now we'll jump up to IMMACULATA to see what is going on. On Feb. 8 the Senior members of their Dramatic Club assisted by the Belle Masque of Villanova will present the Senior Class play, "Little Women" by Louisa May Alcott.

I just skipped an important announcement, another formal dance is on its way. On Jan. 31 the Sophomore class will present its annual Sophomore Cotillion at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel. Moe Jaffe and his orchestra will provide the music.

A morbid silence will prevail over the campus between Jan. 20 and 28, exams. The new term will begin Feb. 2.

Very little news from ROSEMONT this week. It seems that the girls are recovering from the holidays. Latest news states that the Rosies are preparing to avenge the defeat by Chestnut Hill last year on the court. They expect to take the Hilltoppers by an overwhelming score.

And now a few words from ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE, how did they get in here? On January 23, in the Crystal Ballroom of the Broadwood Hotel, the Class of '51 will present the "Snow Ball," an informal dance, highlighted by the music of George Sommers and his orchestra.

The tradition of Hawk Hill has been to keep this dance on the campus, but due to lack of accommodations, the 51-ers have been forced to schedule it elsewhere.

TOWN TALK

Four attractions arrive at the various Rialtos this week. The Shubert theater will play host to "Song of Norway" for the second time since its opening some three years ago in New York. This delightful musical based on the life and music of Edvard Grieg is a distinct pleasure in this day of tuneless musicals. The offering comes from its run in New York with its cast virtually the same as the one of its first visit to Philadelphia.

That delightful comedienne, Nancy Walker, appears in a new musical comedy titled "Look, Ma, I'm Dancing." The new show, produced by George Abbott, treats of a Russian Ballet troupe on tour in the United States and will afford Miss Walker a marvelous opportunity.

Oscar Homolka and Jessis Royce Landis are appearing at the Walnut in "The Last Dance," newly adapted from Strindberg's "Dodsdancen."

Hedgerow Presents

On January 16th and 17th, the students of the Hedgerow will present G. B. Shaw's "Candida." A standard price of $.80 has been adopted for this production.

The eminent world traveler Burton Holmes brings to the Academy of Music another series of his travel lectures presented in conjunction with his color films of the world.

Pension Fund Benefits

The first of the Philadelphia Orchestra Pension Fund Concerts was presented the 12th of January with Ifor Jones and the Bach Choir of Bethlehem as the chief attraction. The entire second half of the concert was given over to a splendid performance of the Kyrie and the Gloria from the Bach Mass in B Minor. No tickets are sold for the three concerts, admittance is gained by a contribution of ten dollars or over. The remaining two concerts have as soloists Arthur Rubinstein and Benny Goodman with Eugene Ormandy as conductor.

The Philadelphia Orchestra has a very popular conductor in the person of George Szell for its weekend concerts in the Academy of Music. The director of the Cleveland Orchestra will present one novelty and two standard works in his first concert. The novelty is a work written in 1943 by Bartok, the "Concerto for Orchestra," in five movements. A well-known standard work will open the concert, the "Roman Carnival Overture," by Berlioz. The second half will be given over to a performance of "The Symphony No. 7," in C major by Shubert. Ormandy will not be on the podium of the Philadelphia Orchestra for the next four weeks. After Mr. Szell conducts the concerts of January 16, 17 and 18, in Philadelphia, and the 20th in New York, Alexander Hilsberg will return to conduct the remaining two programs.

Professor: "A fool can ask more questions than a wise man can answer."

Student: "No wonder I flunked."
The Tatler

The 5th Column

By Hugh Johnson and Frank McBride

By this time, all hands should have recuperated from ye old Holiday Spirits, ERGO, no more sleeping in classes.

New Year's Resolutions

In keeping with the custom, most of the troop have made their New Year's resolutions. Skip Keenley swore off robbing the cradle for '48—Ed Helm the campus Gaylad Mitty, belatedly laid off the cards Zip Zehler resolved never to push Hobie on Arch St. Frank Bader decided not to call "Glorified stamp lickers"—Glorified Stamp Lickers—No more games like "Salt Lake City" for Harry Jacobs—Jim Lyons has already broken his; he swore off wearing zooty hats—even Fr. May is not excluded from this elite group. Nobody can sit in the back of the room any more.

Student Council

Ah, yes—our Villanova Student Council. Last Wednesday a meeting had been called for, but only a handful even showed up. Those who were not on hand, all with various excuses, were fellows who had made all sorts of promises of "better student government" in their pre-election campaign platforms.

How these people could be so lackadaisical and insincere in their promises to you, the students, is beyond us, but the fact remains that they did. And you were the ones that voted for them into office.

Keep that in mind the next time student election roll around.

EUPHUISMS . . .

The following Spenserian euphuisms were slipped under the Villanovan office door during the night and should provide a ten-second mental exercise for any but Frosh. For the latter are allowed fifteen seconds. Accompanying the copy was a note describing what follows as well-known proverbs.

1. All that eludes a scintillating sparkle is not a certain extremely valuable aureate substance.
2. An overabundance of culinary practicioners impairs the quality of liquid food.
3. The unenlightened accelerate into those regions where celestial inhabitants decline to peregrinate.
4. A container of hydrogen hydroxide under continued surveillance will never vaporize.
5. Celerity produces prodigality.
6. An imbecilic individual and his pecuniary attainments are disserved at an early date.
7. Amorous affection is responsible for the revolution of the planet which we inhabit.
8. Take full cognizance of the situation before attempting a jump.
9. Members of the younger generation should be visible and by no means audible.
10. Do not exchange equiné means of transportation halfway between the banks of a swiftly running body of water.

"If all the women were taken out of circulation," said the orator, "what kind of a nation would this be?"

"Stag-nation!" came the reply from a gallant young man in the back row.

* * *

A young girl failed to hear from her boy friend. She wired: "Dead, delayed, or disinterested?"

He replied: "Hunting, fishing, or trapping?"

CAMPUS CALENDAR

Wednesday, January 14

12:00
1:00—PKP Meeting — Dynamo
7:15—Villanova Freshmen vs Rutgers Freshmen — Field House
8:00—Rev. R. Handran speaks on "Our Mother of Good Counsel"
8:30—VILLANOVA vs. Rutgers —Field House

Thursday, January 15

5:00—Physics Club — Physics Laboratory
6:30—Rev. R. Handran speaks on "Our Mother of Good Counsel"

Friday, January 16

VILLANOVA vs Forhdam—There
6:00—Deadline for Pie Shop Contest.
9:00—Belle Aire Ball — Field House.

Saturday, January 17

7:30—Senior dinner Dance — Adelphia Hotel.

Monday, January 19

WVIL Forum on "A Free Student Press'

Tuesday, January 20

Next issue of the VILLANOVAN

APATHY PREVAILS AS COUNCIL LACKS QUORUM

Student Representatives Fail to Attend Important Meeting

Ten members of the Student Council weren't enough for a quorum and the regular bi-weekly council meeting last Wednesday had to be cancelled. Fourteen members failed to appear, although those present waited for half an hour before the secretary called roll.

Don Collins, the President of the Council was indignant over the lack of interest on the part of the absent members. He stated that only two Council members were granted permission to be absent.

Many Resident Members Absentees

Mr. Collins pointed out that although no official action could be taken against a member unless he were absent for three successive meetings that students themselves should take notice of their representatives to the Council. Many of these same men were elected on the platform of action and honest service. Yet some of those members present were day-hops who had to travel a good distance to school.

Bill Altenpohl read a letter from the Radnor Township which had approved the plan for a traffic light in front of the school. A formal request was sent to the State Highway Commission.

Members absent were: Matthew J. Kearney, Joseph Foley, Edwin Keller, John Brennan, Thomas Nary, David Ryan, Thomas Sullivan, Robert Dogherty, Richard McMonigle, Robert Manske, and Gene Ruane. John Kucha was reported in the hospital at the time of the meeting.

OXFORD DEBATE

To-night at 8:30 in Town Hall in Philadelphia Oxford University will debate St. Joseph's College for the benefit of the N.F.C.C.S. Relief Drive. The topic will be: A modern democracy requires a liberal rather than a vocational education. Student tickets are on sale for $.80 and regular tickets for $1.50. These can be obtained from the information booth or from Bill Cuisick, Herman Diesel, and John Stanley.

New York Vets Receive Bonus

Veterans of New York State who now maintain residence in that State and maintained residence there six months prior to entry into the service, are eligible for the New York State World War II Veterans Bonus.

Separation papers noting length and place of service or supplementary documents noting length and place of service are all that is required. Further information may be obtained in the Veterans Office. The period covered by the bonus extends from December 7, 1941, to September 2, 1945.

Mortican's message: "Even though we're the last people you may turn to, we're the last to let you down."

Female driver: "I want a glass of water for the radiator, a thimble of of oil for the motor, and a demitasse of gasoline. I think that will be all."

Attendant: "Couldn't I cough in your tires?"

• • •

Radical: Anyone with an opinion different than ours.

JOHN DOUGLASS CO.
Formal Attire Rentals
69th Street Theatre Bldg.
UPPER DARBY
Open Mon., Wed.,, Fri.
BLVD. 5657 Till 9:30 P. M.

ENGINEERS WANTED
Bachelors Degree. Large College offers $3,000 approximate half-time teaching-studying. Masters to $6,500.
South Western College needs Engineers Teaching — research — opportunity to do grad work. Associate Professor $4,500 — Assistant Professor $4,000.
Vacancies Other Fields
Give phone, photo, qualifications.
CLINE TEACHERS AGENCY
East Lansing, Michigan

Don't Miss the Ball
and
Don't Miss Getting HER Corsage from
THE BOUQUET SHOP
Roberts & Lancaster Ave.
Bryn Mawr, Pa.
Orders Will Be Taken by Manske and Pallito in Simpson Hall
No Delivery Charge

SPRITZLERS
Formal Wear Accessories
47 W. LANCASTER AVE.
Ardmore, Pa. Ard. 0176

JEANNETT'S
Bryn Mawr Flower Shop
Corsage Specialists
FREE DELIVERY
823 Lancaster Ave.
BRYNMAWR , PA.
Bryn Mawr 0570 : Flowers by Wire

TUXEDOS FOR RENT

FOX CHASE COLLEGE SHOP

SODA Fountain
Meet Your Friends .. at the .. Greeks
Superior Soda Fountain Service
Luncheon :: Dinner
818 Lancaster Ave.
Bryn Mawr, Pa.

WHY WALK?
CLEANING PRESSING
We Pick Up and Deliver Daily at the
PIE SHOP
COLADONATO TAILOR SHOPPE

Miss Your Dinner (if you have to) – Miss Your Date (if you must)
– but don't miss ...
THE NEWEST, MOST THRILLING TALENT HUNT IN AMERICA
INCLUDING TOP STARS FROM THE COLLEGES...
"PHILIP MORRIS NIGHT WITH HORACE HEIDT"

• Every Sunday Night Over NBC, PHILIP MORRIS PICKS A STAR in a search for the great stars of tomorrow. Performers from all over the country ... including the top talent picked from the colleges! Music, drama, thrilling entertainment... weekly prizes of $250 ... and to the winner of the year — movie and radio contracts, plus a grand prize of $5000 in cash!

Yes! For perfect listening, make a date for Sunday night and hear the stars of tomorrow with PHILIP MORRIS! And for perfect smoking...today, tomorrow, always...light up a PHILIP MORRIS, America's FINEST Cigarette!

BE WITH US EVERY SUNDAY NIGHT OVER NBC...UNTIL THEN
CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS

Ross Scores Upset Win In D.C. Meet

Fitzgerald Places 3rd in 600; Ross Places 3rd in 300 Meter Sugar Bowl Run. Runs Mile in 4:13.7 in Upsetting Bill Hulse, NYAC

By Barry Bange

Browning Ross, Villanova's diminutive distance star, was kept busy during the Christmas vacation, placing third in the 300 meter run in the Sugar Bowl Meet and capturing the featured mile event in the Washington Evening Star games.

First place was taken in the Sugar Bowl run by last year's champion, Forrest Efaw. Ross trailed him all the way and just when his kick threatened Efaw's lead, the sepian star put on a final burst of speed to win going away.

George Thompson was also invited to the meet but because of the record breaking snowstorm in New York he was unable to get a flight out of New York.

Wins Feature Mile

In the Washington Evening Star's best mile time so far in the early track season. The meet was run without spikes, on an unbanked slippery board track.

Two steps behind Ross was Jack Milne of North Carolina, Southern cross country champion, and in third place the pre-race favorite, Bill Hulse of the New York Athletic Club, holder of the outdoor record Hulse was ruled favorite by virtue of his record-setting win in the Sugar Bowl 1500 meter event.

Fitzgerald Takes Third

In the crowd-pleasing 600 yard run Villanova's Ed Fitzgerald placed third. This event was won by favored Herb McKenley, the Jamaican speedster who broke the tape in 1:13.5. Royce Crimmin of Brown placed second.

Ross is next scheduled to compete in the mile in the fourth annual Inquirer Invitation meet on January 23. Along with Ross who will be entrants in the fourth annual feature mile will be Leslie McMitchell, former New York University ace who won the event in 1946-47 and Tommy Quinn, New York AC star.

games on January 3, Ross, a Main Line sophomore ran away from some more highly touted track stars to win the featured mile event. Usually operating as a two miler, Ross dropped down to the mile, jogged along in third place most of the way, then put on a finishing drive to win in 4:13.7, the Browning Ross, Villanova Distance star and upset victor in the recent Washing Evening Star mile in the fine time of 4:13.7 training to face Bill Hulse, Leslie McMitchell and Johnny Quinn in the fourth annual Inquirer Meet.

Cats Continue Bowling Lead

Arnie Keehn

Going into the final three weeks of semester match play, battle for first place in the intramural bowling league roars on. The "Cats" held on to a one point league lead by narrowly taking three points from the Rebels in contests marked by one and three pin victories. Winning the first match by a score of 774-773, Jim Duffy and Bill Mc Cluskey set the pace for the Cats as they rolled scores of 172 and 191 respectively, while Dorsaraye led the way for the losers with three game scores of 170, 171 and 195 for a 181 average.

(Continued on Page 6)

WILDCATS MEET FORDHAM FIVE IN NEW YORK TILT

Rams Sport the Best Gotham Record

By Tyson Reilly

The Wildcats take to the road this Friday for a one night court stand against the high flying University of Fordham squad. The Rams, fresh from a 75-73 win over Yale will be eager to duplicate last year's win over the Cats.

Coach Frank "Bo" Adams, Ram court star of the late 20's, is looking forward to another banner season. Last year his squad had an enviable record of 17 victories in 21 starts.

Returning from last year's team are four lettermen including two starters, Gerry Smith and Dan Graham. Smith was high scorer for the Rams last season with 308 points. This year he has continued his scoring ways with a 33 points total against Yale Captain Dan Graham is a polished ball handler and an excellent team man.

In addition, Adams has Johnny Bach, fresh from the Army. Bach, rated by Adams as one of the best in the East, played for Fordham's outstanding 1942-43 five. It is Bach who is expected to replace much of the punch lost by the graduating of three of last year's starters. Ed Abele and Al Shiels will most likely complete the starting quintet.

Bob Mulvihill the defensive sensation of last year's squad by holding the high scoring Joe Lord to 8 points, will again be facing the Wildcats at the guard position.

Although Villanova has the experience edge, the game should be close as the Cats try to shorten the 3-1 lead in this series.

I M Basketball In Full Swing

Austin, Alumni, Dons Tie for League Lead

Mondschein Inc., and Klucsarits

The Intramural Basketball League was inaugurated on December 15 with a doubleheader that pitted Barracks 1 & 4 against the Day Hops in the opener and the Doms against Barracks 2 & 3 in the nightcap.

Led by Jamison and Bill Knecht, who shared scoring honors with five points apiece, Barracks 1 & 4 opened their season with a 23-17 triumph. Barracks 2 & 3 behind 19-8 at the half, made a terrific comeback, only to be edged out in the final minutes by the Doms, 26-24. Effectively bottling up Harry Knecht, who scored eight points in the first half for the Doms, the Barracks outscored the victors 16-7 in the second canto. Hank Fessler's field goal with a minute remaining, proved to be the winning margin.

On Dec. 18 Austin and Alumni defeated Fedigan and Mendel respectively. In the initial contest, Austin had beat Fedigan to the tune of 33-23. Rosegen took scoring honors for the game by garnering twelve markers in his team's triumph. Flynn kept Father Purcell's Fedigan five in the game by accounting for seven points in the second half for a night's total of nine points.

(Continued on Page 6)

Cats Bury Fort Dix Navy Beaten 61-39

Quintet Sets New Field House Record, Beating Fort Dix 99-39; Cats Finally Beat Navy as Ricca Paces Club With 15 Points

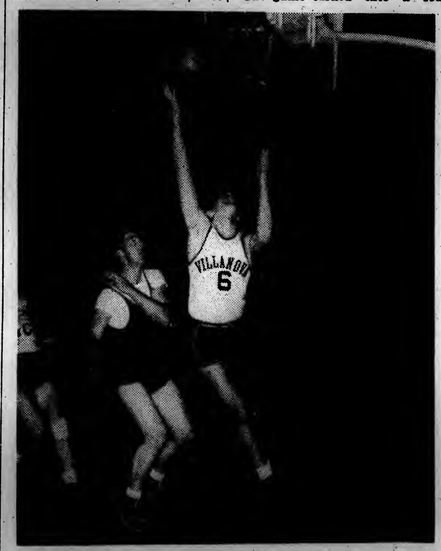
The Villanova Wildcats shattered their previous high scoring mark of 89 points by burying Fort Dix 99-39 last Wednesday night at the field house. Replacing another service team on the schedule—King's Point who were also swamped by Brooklyn College 108-41—the Soldiers were never in the contest.

Before the visitors could score the Cats had run up a 14-point lead. Villanova continued their scoring ways as the starting five ran up a 26-7 lead at the 10 minute mark. Wholesale substitutions were made as Al Severance sent in five new men. For a few short minutes the Soldiers matched the Cats basket for basket, but as the half ended, Villanova led 45-21.

The starting five of Joe Hannan, Jack Crosson, Paul Arizen, Leo Led by center Brooks Ricca, the Wildcats finally ended the dominance exercised over them by the United States Naval Academy as they handed the Middies their worst defeat in years 61-39 before 2000 in Dahlgren Hall.

It was the third win in a row for the Cats and their sixth in the last nine games while for Navy it was their first loss of the season after winning their first three games.

Ricca Breaks Tie



Navy started the scoring on a layup by Bob Searle and led until Ricca sank his first field goal and a foul to break a 15-15 tie. From then on the Severancemen had little trouble, gradually increasing their lead until half time when they had a 10 point, 31-21 bulge.

The game turned into a foul shooting contest as Barrow of Navy and Toad Hannan were both ejected early from the fray in the third period on five personl fouls. In all a total of 58 penalties were called in the course of the game. Villanova had the better of it on the foul line sinking 19 out of 31 tries while Navy could only connect on 15 of 27.

Defense Brilliant

The brightest spot of the contest was the vast improvement shown in the defensive work of the Wildcats. All afternoon the men from along the Severn lost the ball as they were unable to break away from the leech-like guarding of the Main Liners. So closely were they guarded that only once did Navy make a layup and that was on the

(Continued on Page 6)

Joe Hannan leaping through the air to score on a layup shot early in the second half of the Fort Dix game which the Wildcats won 99-39 thereby establishing a new field house record.

Wolf and Tom Sabol, kept the score soaring until a set shot 3½ minutes before the end breaking the precious all-time Villanova high. The Soldiers actually tried to freeze the ball to stop the Cats from breaking the 100 mark. It was undoubtedly one of the few times in the history of modern basketball that the losing team ever tried this maneuver. The rampaging Cats sank basket after basket but just didn't have enough time to break the century mark.

The game was interesting to watch only in that it gave the fans their first opportunity to witness the fast break system which has changed a mediocre club into a definite scoring threat.

Paul Arizen, who started in place

FUNDAMENTALS — PASS AND CUT

Perry Del Purgatorio (23), Cutting for the Basket Prior to Receiving a Bounce Pass from Shy Raiken (25)

HALL OF FAME PROPOSED BY RUTGER'S PRES.

Rutgers University will be glad to cooperate with other colleges and universities in the establishment of an intercollegiate football Hall of Fame, President Robert C. Clothier said today.

"Friends of the university have called to the attention of the sponsors of the Football Hall of Fame the fact that the first intercollegiate football game between Princeton and Rutgers in 1869 was played on College Field in New Brunswick," Dr. Clothier said.

"Rutgers will be glad to cooperate with other universities and colleges and interested groups with respect to the proposed Hall of Fame if it should be well planned and so developed as to safeguard and advance the integrity of intercollegiate football as a purely amateur sport, one which has done much for the youth of our land.

"If our sister institutions should feel that College Field is the logical and traditional place for the shrine, I feel sure that the Trustees of the University would be glad to make the site available," Dr. Clothier's statement concluded.

Dr. Clothier's statement followed an announcement by the Touchdown Club of New Brunswick that a committee of club members had been named to explore the possibilities of having a football shrine located in New Brunswick. The Touchdown Club committee was named after a group of New York sportsmen had incorporated with the purpose of promoting a football shrine and Hall of Fame.

I M BASKETBALL

(Continued from Page 5)

Bill Buckley took scoring honors for the week, as he netted 16 points, to lead the Alumni five in its 36-25 triumph over an outclassed Mendel squad. After the halftime break, Alumni turned on the heat to win handily. McDonough, with eight counters, paced the Mendel attack.

After an extended holiday layoff the teams went back into action as the Doms downed Mendel 31-27, in a closely-contested game. The Doms trailed 13-12 at half-time, but caught fire after the rest period to keep their slate clean. Manske led Father Dunne's five with ten points closely followed by Fessler with eight. Dick Altman, with three successive hook shots gave Mendel a short-lived lead midway through the last period.

In the other scheduled tilt, the Day Hops failed to put a full team on the floor, thus forfeiting to Fedigan 2-0.

Thursday, Jan. 8, produced the two highest-scoring games thus far in league competition. In the opener, Barracks 1 & 4 jumped off to a quick 6-0 lead only to be overtaken by a strong Alumni five. Coletta, with 15, paced Alumni to its second victory in as many starts, as the final score reads Alumni 44-Barracks 1 & 4-27.

In the second game, the high-scoring Austin quintet overcame the scrappy Barracks 2 & 3 netmen by a 56-44 score. The sensational accuracy of Hal Diot, who caged 21 points, was the spark in the Austin attack. Captain Joe Doris proved his ability under the basket by tapping in 7 goals for a 14 point total. Up to that point, Deyak's fine shooting, kept the Barrack in the ball game as the rangy center chalked up 15 points.

Father Dunne, Intramural Moderator, has announced new starting time for future games. The first game tap-off will be at 7 sharp instead of the previously announced 7:30. The second game will start at approximately 8 o'clock immediately following the first tilt.

NAVY GAME

(Continued from Page 2)

first goal of the game. Unable to get the ball into pivotman Harry Woods with any regularity, the Middies were forced to resort to long set shots.

Coach Severance started his tall team consisting of Paul Arizen, Brooks Ricca, Tommy Sabol, Leo Wolf and Shy Raiken. The Arizen and Sabol combination really controlled the backboards, not only Villanova's but also Navy's.

NAVY	G.	F.	Pts.
Robbins, f	3	2	8
Searle, f	3	3	9
Stinson, f	1	3	5
Jenike, f	0	0	0
Barrow, c	0	5	5
Claitor, c	0	1	1
Woods, g	4	1	9
Sheehan, g	1	0	2
Rensberger, g	1	0	2
Moberly, g	0	0	0
Totals	12	15	39

VILLANOVA	G.	F.	Pts.
Crossin, f	1	0	2
Sabol, f	4	1	9
Ricca, f	6	3	15
Delpurg'rio f	0	1	1
Arizon, c	2	5	9
Weglicki, c	0	0	0
Hannon, g	1	3	5
Wolf, g	3	4	10
Raiken, g	4	1	9
Pettit, g	0	1	1
Totals	21	19	61

RUTGERS FIVE ENGAGE WILDCATS TOMORROW NIGHT

Parsons Leads Scarlet—Frosh Squads Meet

Rutgers University will invade the Main line Campus tomorrow night to engage the point-minded Villanova Wildcats. The game will start at 8:30. A preliminary contest, starting at 7:30 will match the Freshman quintets of the two schools.

Don Parsons, one of the Rutgers scoring stars as a freshmen last year, is returning to the form he showed as a yearling averaging 12 pts. a game.

Coach Don White's varsity cagers will be attempting to end the domination which Villanova has exercised over Rutgers. Last season, with Leo Wolf leading the scoring parade the Cats beat the men from New Brunswick.

White will stick with his usual lineup for tomorrow's game. George Mackaronis, of New Brunswick, and Walt Wyeth of East Orange at the forward, Clifton's Don Parson's, 6'4" giant, center. The backcourt assignments going to Andy Sivess South River, and Paul Lynner of Floral Park, New York.

CATS CONTINUE

(Continued from Page 5)

The Rebels' lone point came on a 797-796 score, Hohenleitner and Jaskula leading the way for the winners. The Cats' other points were gained on a 762-759 victory with Pete Pallitto and Toth averaging 157 and 156 respectively.

Ringlestein paces Cards

Joe Ringlestein and Jim Gavin paced the Cardinals to a three point win over the Woodchoppers. Rolling high score of 162 and 172, they contributed heavily to their team's total of 571, 606 and 571 as compared to the Woodchoppers' scores of 606, 564 and 543. Becotte had a big 192 score for the losers.

This coming Wednesday may decide the final league averages as the two pace setters will engage in three game matches at the Main Line Bowling Center. All interested are invited to attend the matches starting at 3:30. All interested in joining the league are asked to be present at this time as new teams are being organized for the second semester.

Halftime—Villanova, 31-21. Free throws missed—Navy 12 (Robbins, Searle, 4; Rensberger, Barron, 2; Claitor, Woods, Stinson, 2); Villanova, 12 (Crossin, 2; Pettit, 2); Villanova, 12 (Crossin, 2; Pettit, Arizon, Wolf, Ricca, 2; Sabol 2; Raiken, 3).

Villanova Yearlings Debut Spoiled By LaSalle Frosh

Gillespie and Byrne Lead Explorers to 53-47 Victory. White and Gavin Scorers for the Frosh

By Bill Canino

The Villanova Freshmen basketball team made its debut last Wednesday evening against a strong La Salle College quintet in the preliminary contest, bowing to the Explorers 53-47.

Usual first game nervousness, contributed highly to the final outcome of the fray which saw the visitors soar to an early 8 point lead before the Wildcat yearlings could hit the hoop for their first two pointer. La Salle, paced by high-scoring Byrne, and Gillespie, held this advantage throughout the entire first half and the early moments of the third period. At this point, however, some of the slipshod ball handling and shooting left the 'Cats and with Sherman White, gaint center, leading the way, the existing 12 point gap was closed until La Salle led by a slim two point margin.

Cats Rally

With a fine display of passing and great accuracy from far out the visitors boosted this lead back to 10 points only to have it cut down again largly through the efforts of White and Don Zalinsky former Trenton Catholic luminary. During the next few minutes a nip and tuck battle ensued with the victors maintaining a 6 point lead at the final gun.

In losing, the Severancemen were spotty both on offense and defense. Their greatest fault however was in their inability to work as a team which was capitalized on by the Central city five. White was bottled up the better part of the night by fine defensive work but managed to gather 15 points.

Gavin Scoring Threat

Jim Gavin displayed fine potential scoring power in tallying 8 markers. Although forced to leave mid way in the fourth quarter, Sam Lackaye handled the ball well and led the way on defense capturing the ball off both backboards on many occasions. Jack Kane showed great potentiality on his set shots for which he was so widely known at North Catholic High School.

VILLANOVA	FG	F	Pts.
Oelz	1	0	2
Gavin	3	2	8
Lackey	2	1	5
White	5	5	15
Kane	2	3	7
Salinsky	5	0	10
Totals	18	11	47

LA SALLE	FG	F	Pts.
Byrne	2	6	10
Murray	1	0	2
Gillespie	7	4	18
Janis	0	1	1
Haggarty	2	0	4
Fanning	5	2	12
Phelan	2	2	6
Totals	19	15	53

FORT DIX GAME

(Continued from Page 5)

of Brooks Ricca to provide the added height needed to combat Soldier's stratospheric center Kellogg, did a commendable job on defense, besides scoring 10 points.

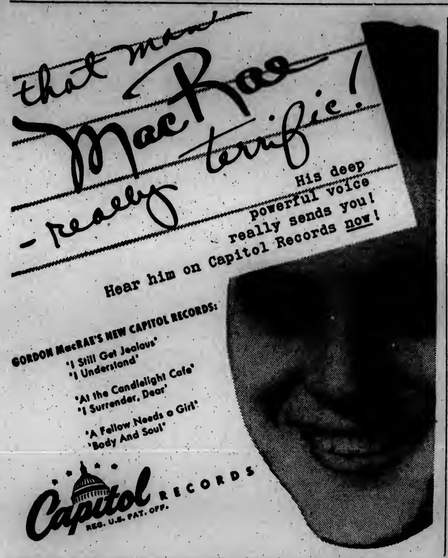
Outstanding throughout were Crossin and Hannan. Although you can't say that they controlled the boards, the diminutive duo, certainly did control the ball. Time after time Crossin, after waiting for Kellogg to gather in the rebound, promptly stole the ball away from him.

By virtue of their record breaking performance, the Wildcats established themselves as the scoringest team in the Philadelphia district.

Villanova	G.	F.	P.
Crossin, f	2	1	5
Hannan, f	3	2	8
Sabol, f	5	4	14
DelPur'rio, f	3	0	6
Petit, f	4	1	9
Arizen, c	5	0	10
Weglicki, c	7	1	15
Welf, g	6	0	12
Raiken, g	5	1	11
Ricca, g	4	1	9
Totals	44	11	99

Fort Dix	G.	F.	P.
Rooker, f	1	0	2
Haugk, f	8	0	16
Boyd, f	1	0	2
Steiptman, f	0	0	0
Kellogg, c	4	4	12
Snee, g	1	1	3
Beacham, g	0	1	1
Boles, g	0	0	0
Pafunda, g	1	1	3
Brader, g	0	0	0
Totals	16	7	39

Halftime—Villanova, 45-21



Officials—George Erb, Ben Stackowski.

"Dentyne Chewing Gum!"

"Well, rub my eyes—if I'm dreaming of delicious Dentyne Chewing Gum, don't wake me up! I'm all set for that keen, clean taste—and do I like the way Dentyne helps keep my teeth white, too!"

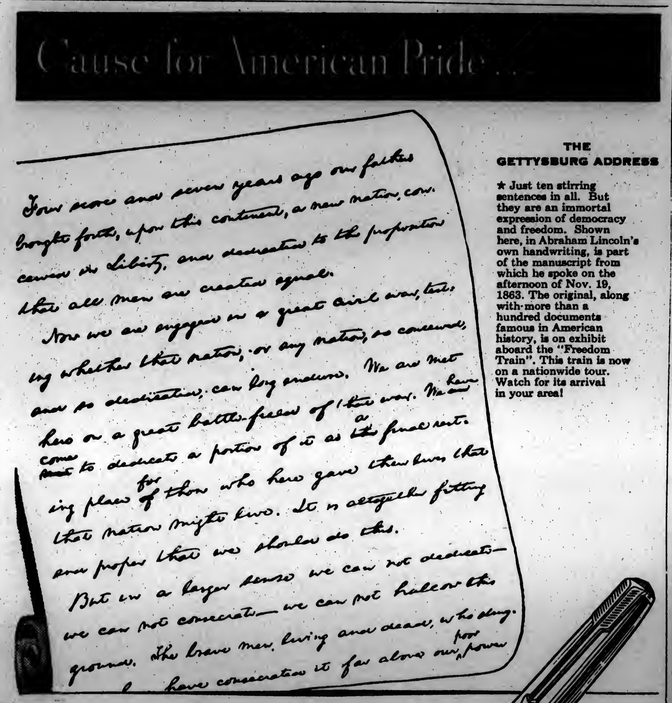
Dentyne Gum—Made Only By Adams

NEW CHEERS

(Continued from Page 1)

1. Each entry must be made by a Villanova student.
2. If more than one cheer is entered by an individual, each must be on a separate sheet of paper.
3. Cheers must be printed on standard note book paper.
4. Cheers must not exceed 20 seconds duration.
5. Entries are to be placed in the Villanovan office in the box provided for them.

There is no limit to the number of entries for each person.

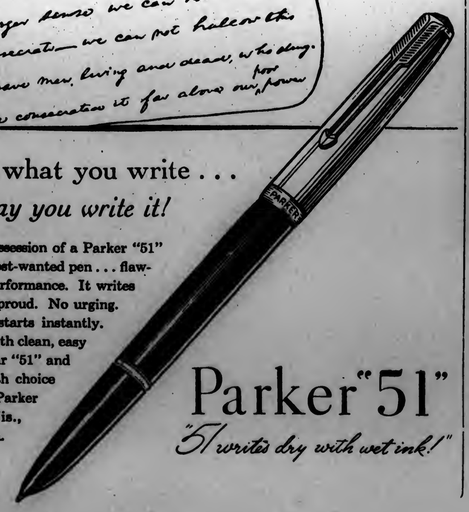


Many students have told the cherleaders they do not cheer because they don't like the cheers. Here is their chance to put out the cheers they want.

Cause for American Pride...

THE GETTYSBURG ADDRESS

★ Just ten stirring sentences in all. But they are an immortal expression of democracy and freedom. Shown here, in Abraham Lincoln's own handwriting, is part of the manuscript from which he spoke on the afternoon of Nov. 19, 1863. The original, along with more than a hundred documents famous in American history, is on exhibit aboard the "Freedom Train". This train is now on a nationwide tour. Watch for its arrival in your area!



Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth, upon this continent, a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation, so conceived, and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battle-field of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of it as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But in a larger sense we can not dedicate—we can not consecrate—we can not hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here have consecrated it far above our poor and the way you write it!

Be proud of what you write . . .

Pride comes with the possession of a Parker "51" For this is the world's most-wanted pen . . . flawless in its beauty and performance. It writes in a way that does you proud. No urging. No coaxing. The "51" starts instantly. Coasts across the page with clean, easy strokes. Two sizes: regular "51" and new demi-size. Both with choice of custom points. The Parker Pen Co., Janesville, Wis., U.S.A., and Toronto, Can.

Parker "51"
"It writes dry with wet ink!"

Copr. 1948 by The Parker Pen Company

New Year Brings New Nook

Hungry Day-Students Queue Up at the Food Counter of Their New Cafeteria During the Busy Lunch Hour

After eighteen years underground, after eighteen years of stuffiness, Louie, of Pie Shop fame, is "tickled pink" with the new above ground, spacious, airy, and clean Campus Shop.

The Pie Shop was originally located in the rear of the cafeteria, in 1929 moving to the lower floor. With this semester's beginning, however, work has steadily been progressing on the former wing of an army mess Hall. Now 1948 has brought the new look to Louie's Bun Bazaar: all the facilities except one of the old Pie Shop are incorporated in the new Campus Shop. This includes: Meals, gifts, toilet articles, cigarettes, laundry and shoe service, etc.

New features include a faculty lunch room and a lavatory. The barber shop remains in the basement of Mendel Hall, tentatively to be moved behind the cafeteria. Seating facilities consist of eight booths and thirty benches and table arrangements.

Capacity of the new Campus Shop is 272 in the main room and

(Continued on Page 8)

For Expert Convenient Attention

THE CAMPUS BARBER SHOP

First Class Work

Popular Prices

WELCOME 'CATS

HAMBURG HEARTH

814 LANCASTER AVE. BRYN MAWR, PA.

J. Paul Sheedy Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked the Finger Nail Test

START using Wildroot Cream-Oil today! It takes only a little bit to groom your hair neatly and naturally without that plastered down look. And Wildroot Cream-Oil relieves annoying dryness. Removes loose, ugly dandruff . . . helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test. Always ask for a tube or bottle of Wildroot Cream-Oil at your drug or toilet goods counter. Find out for yourself why it's "again and again the choice of men who put good grooming first." Remember, Wildroot Cream-Oil is non-alcoholic and contains soothing Lanolin! For generous trial supply free, send this ad with your name and address to Wildroot Co., Inc., Dept. C-3, Buffalo 8, New York.

DRAMATIC CLUB

(Continued from Page 1)

Company Sgt. Major ... E.Doyle
The Colonel ..... R. Resnick
2nd Lt. Trotter ..... F. Gobes
German Soldier ..... J. Ronca
Directed by E. R. Harris

The program will begin at seven-thirty o'clock on Thursday evening, January 15th, in the auditorium of the Commerce and Finance building. Students from the neighboring girl's colleges have been invited to attend. No admission will be charged.

Rev. Wm. Krupa, O.S.A., moderator of the group announces that the feature play of the school year has been selected for presentation late in April. The dramatic reading on Thursday evening and other programs of the Belle Masque will serve to further train and instruct members, at the same time providing a high grade of entertainment for the students at large.

NEW YEAR BRINGS

(Continued from Page 6)

about thirty in the faculty lunch room.

In the old location, electronics laboratory equipment is being moved, consequent with the future destiny of the old Pie Shop.

Physics Club Story

The next meeting of the Physics Club of Villanova will be held this Thursday at five o'clock in the Physics Lab., fourth floor, Mendel Hall. Chief topics at this first meeting of the new year, will be: construction of the club's telescope; transportation arrangements to a lecture on the high fidelity reproduction of sound to be given later. Thursday evening at the Franklin Institute. The lecture and meeting is open to all.

A drunk got into a taxi and asked to be driven around the park five times. After the third time around he shouted to the driver, "Faster I'm in a hurry." The Plainsman

* * *

Overheard in ye olde chowe line: "Joe, is sherry very sweet?" (Meaning wine of course).

"Ya got me, bud, last time I called her up she sounded like sour grapes."

WVIL PROGRAM SCHEDULE

13—18 Jan. 1948

TUESDAY
7:00 Campus Newsreel
7:15 Sports News
7:30 Record Rendezvous
8:00 Radio Theater (Descent of the Gods)
8:30 Campus Choice
9:00 Symphony Hall (Opera Selections)
10:00 Music To Study By
11:00 Sign Off

WEDNESDAY
7:00 Campus Newsreel
7:15 Sports News
7:30 Record Rendezvous
8:00 Some Like it Hot
8:30 Off The Air
10:00 Music To Study By
11:00 Sign Off

THURSDAY
7:00 Campus Newsreel
7:15 Sports News
7:30 Record Rendezvous
8:00 Symphony Hall (Strauss, Debussey, Stravinsky)
9:00 Chaplin's Corner (Church & Medicine)
9:30 Browsing Thru the Record Library
10:00 Music To Study By
11:00 Sign Off

FRIDAY
7:00 Campus Newsreel
7:15 Things To Do
7:30 Record Rendezvous
8:00 Doing the Town
8:30 Off the Shelf
9:00 Let's Dance
9:30 Vocally Yours
10:00 Music To Study By
11:00 Sign Off

MONDAY
7:00 Campus Newsreel
7:15 Sports News
7:30 Record Rendezvous
8:00 Villanova Forum of the Air
8:30 Records with Reagan
9:00 Star of the Week
9:15 Chaplin's Corner (News & Views)
9:30 Show Time
10:00 Music To Study By
11:00 Sign Off

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 23—No. 11 VILLANOVA COLLEGE, VILLANOVA, PA. Tuesday, January, 20, 1948

VILLANOVA COLLEGE LIBRARY VILLANOVA, PA.

STATE DEPARTMENT SETS ASIDE SHIPS FOR STUDENT TRIPS

Planning Started for Students Going Abroad

The United States Maritime commission in conjunction with the State department, set aside two ships for transporting 7,500 students and non-students abroad last summer and is being tentatively considered as the best method through which this year's ship program to carry students abroad can be accomplished.

Some 40 representatives of such groups as the American Youth hostels, the Experiment in International Living and the American Friends Service committee, at a New York meeting Oct. 14, sponsored by the Woodrow Wilson foundation, drew up the Maritime plan and other tentative ideas for the ship program.

Each ship, the Tiger and the Jumper, made four round trips last year. The act authorizing this program will expire June 30, 1948, and a committee of four has been organized to investigate its removal.

The same committee will also explore other possibilities, such as chartering ship lines. This plan is considered unlikely, however, as the Moore-McCormick lines have already refused.

Other ideas include reserving blocks of space on ships, which would be difficult because of the expense and the shortage of space and the private chartering by groups. Another possibility is that some European governments will follow the example of the British, who have set aside 500 places on the Cunard.

Under last year's program, 35 groups sent more than 4,000 students abroad, including about 750 foreign students, besides about 3,500 non-students. The representatives, however, stressed the fact that the figures in no way indicate the extent of space required for this year.

Orientation, which was improvised in all cases, afforded valuable discussion on various countries and major issues, and found a remarkable group of educators united.

CLUB IN LABOR-MAN AGEMENT PROPOSED

An informal meeting of students interested in forming an Industrial Relations club was held on Thursday, Jan. 15.

John Stanley, senior representative of the National Federation of Catholic College students on the campus told the group that the NFCCS is cooperating with a request by the National Catholic Welfare Council that such clubs be organized in Catholic colleges throughout the country.

Mr. Stanley introduced Rev. Wm. J. Gordon, O.S.A. who will act as moderator of the club. Father Gordon has much and varied experience in the field of labor relations. He spoke to the group on the need for educating the student of today in the problems of labor and industry. He said in part: "the students must develop an interest in social and industrial problems. They will be the leaders of tomorrow in industry. Millions of dollars are spent on the training of an engineer and the businessman, but the human factor is all too often ignored.

The Catholic student of today has an opportunity to do something about it."

The formal organizing of the club will begin with the new semester. Students of all the schools are invited to participate.

Rev. Lawrence W. Schott To Be Annual Retreat Master

The Rev. Lawrence F. Schott will give the one hundred and fifth annual Villanova Retreat from Monday, February 2, to Thursday, February 5.

This retreat is intended to inspire discursive examination into one's self and to aid in self-betterment. Retreat exercises will take place in the College Chapel and the —Field House.

Varied Career

Since his ordination in June, 1935, Fr. Schott has given many retreats, particularly for college men. He has done much work with and about college and service men: publishing the weekly Students' Religious Bulletin (Servicemen's Religious Bulletin during the war) for the past ten years; writing "Tips for Servicemen" in Our Sunday Visitor; and compiling "Mail Call," a brochure of Servicemen's Religious Bulletins.

Father Schott was also Diocesan Moderator of Catholic Student Centers in secular colleges of Harrisburg, and publisher of "Religion Goes to College," a survey of the religious status of Catholic students in secular colleges. (Published in 1938 and again in 1947.)

SCHEDULE ON PAGE 8

As a speaker, Father has attended the National Convention of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine (College Section) at both Los Angeles and Philadelphia.

Speaks on Radio

On the radio, Fr. Schott has been a regular speaker on the Harrisburg Catholic Hour. He has also spoken on the National Catholic Hour (NBC) and the Church of the Air (CBS), as well and served as narrator on many other broadcasts.

When not occupied with the former activities, Fr. Schott has been assistant pastor of Holy Trinity Church, Columbia, Pa.; assistant director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith for the Diocese of Harrisburg. He is now the principal of the Catholic High School in Harrisburg, and a charter member of the Executive Committee of the Catholic Forum of Harrisburg.

RETREAT MASTER

Rev. L. F. Schott

Fr. Schott took his philosophical and theological studies at St. Vincent's College, Latrobe, Pa.

Students Receive Schedules

The Retreat will center around the Blessed Sacrament. Each afternoon there will be Exposition and on the last night of the Retreat there will be all night Exposition. Volunteers will be asked to go adoration for an hour at a time. Resident students will be asked to take hours after mid-night to enable day students to get home.

Following a Mass for the entire student body at nine o'clock Thursday, and a Solemn Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament and the Papal Blessing, Retreat will end.

Schedules of the Rétreat and special attendance cards (to be handed in at the beginning of each conference) have been sent to all students.

Leaflets with the prayers and hymns used during the service and supplementary matter for reflection will be distributed at the end of the first conference of each day.

Spiritual Reading Urged

During the Retreat, the Library will have a special shelf devoted to spiritual reading.

Masses during the Retreat will be offered as follows: Monday, Students Intentions; Tuesday, for Deceased Students of the College; Wednesday, for Deceased Faculty Members; and Thursday, for Deceased Alumni.

The following Retreat intentions have been suggested: 1) To pray every day, particularly morning and night; 2) To receive the Sacraments of Penance and Holy Eucharist at least once a month; 3) To be pure in thought, word, and deed; 4) To live constantly in the state of grace and to fight temptation, and 5) With God's help to save my soul.

Silence is urged at all times. All things that distract one from the Retreat itself are to be strictly avoided.

RADIO STATION WVIL SUCESS ON CAMPUS

Radio Voice of Campus Goes Into Sixth Week

This week marks the sixth successive week of operation of the Campus Radio Station, WVIL. The first program began at 7 P.M., December 2nd, with the announcement, "This is the Radio Voice of Villanova College," and a dedication to the "Higher Things" that can be accomplished by this medium, given by Rev. E. Grimes, O.S.A., chaplain Now the station is at the point where it has become an accepted medium of communication and looks forward to the future of attainable excellence. Preliminary polls preceeding a major one to be undertaken in the future, indicate that the station is widely enjoyed about the Campus. This fact is appreciated by those responsible for the entertainment being broadcast.

The present staff consists of three major divisions with a total membership of about thirty members. In charge of all operations and responsible to Rev. Ralph Handran, O.S.A. moderator, is Tom Sullivan, the station manager. The three divisions of the station are the Engineering staff, under John Karle, who have built and who maintain the equipment; the Announcing staff, under Brian McLarnon; and the Program staff, who are in charge of the literary content of the broadcasts.

Varied Program Schedule

Up until the present, the station has been broadcasting consecutively scheduled programs, four hours a night from 7 P.M. to 11 P.M., consisting of news, drama, historical and social topics and classical and popular recordings. The first program of each evening's broadcasting is a 15-minute summary of school, local and world news by Dick McKinley. This is followed by a 15-minute program of sports news by Neal Fahy and John Siano, during which one member of either the football or the basketball team is customarily introduced as a feature

(Continued on Page 8)

IMMACULATA HOST TO POETRY GROUPS

The Catholic Poetry Societies of the local Catholic Colleges held a regional meeting at Immaculata last Sunday afternoon. Poetry enthusiasts from St. Josephs, La Salle, Chestnut Hill, Rosemont, and Villanova joined the host college to thrash out problems attendant upon their respective efforts at versification. Of the Villanova representatives, Joseph R. O'Donnell, Tom Daly, and Leo Crnkovich read original contributions which were then discussed by the group. Tea was served after the meeting. Rev. Robert M. Sullivan, O.S.A., is moderator of the local poetry group.

Preceeding Sunday's meeting Bob Sullivan presided at a meeting of the Villanova College Poetry Club Tuesday and read poems that were submitted by the club's members. The poems read consisted mainly of those submitted by Bob O'Donnell and Tom Daley.

ATTENTION FEBRUARY GRADUATING CLASS

In order to obtain your copies of the Belle Air year book you will be required to pay a fee of $3.00. This can be done any time at the library or from 11 A.M. to 2 P.M. any day this week at the Belle Air office. Your receipt will entitle you to a copy upon presentation in June.

CHESS ENTHUSIASTS ORGANIZE SOCIETY

Plans have been formed to start a Chess Club here at Villanova for all students interested in chess. There will be meetings on Wednesday and Thursday, January 21 and 22, at 1:30 P.M., outside the Villanovan office for all those interested in joining.

Included in the plans is a tournament between the students themselves and a prize to be awarded to the winners. Rules and regulations will be drawn up for the tournament and schedules prepared soon after the meeting. Financial data and dues will be discussed at the meetings.

Students interested in joining should give their names to Joseph Kenny, Jack Applegate or Michael J. Nowlan, or leave it in the Villanovan office and then attend either one of the two meetings.

DINNER DANCE TOPS SENIOR SOCIAL YEAR

On Saturday evening, Jan. 17, the Senior Class held their annual Dinner-Dance in the Crystal Room of Adelphia Hotel. This is the second consecutive year that the hotel has played host to a Villanova group.

Present among the group were many members of the original class of 1945-46 who had their collegiate careers interrupted in the very early stages.

Chairman Nick Marsiani thanked his classmates for their cooperation in making the evening a success, and introduced Carl Yeager, Class President, who acted as toastmaster. Speakers introduced were the Very Rev., F.X. McGuire, O.S.A. President of Villanova College, Rev. E. Grimes, O.S.A., College Chaplain, and Rev. M. O'Donnell, O.S.A. Moderator of the Class of 1945 .

The evening's surprise was the presentation of Villanova class keys to all guests of the Seniors.

COUNCIL REQUESTS ENUMERATION OF DUTIES AND POWERS

Fr. McGuire Invited to Clarify Position of Student Gov't.

In an unprecedented move the Student Council, meeting for the first time in 1948, unanimously decided to abstain from action until such a time as it can receive an authoritative and detailed enumeration of its powers, rights and duties from the school authorities. On the motion of Carl Yeager, President of the Senior Class, as amended, the council requested that Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire, O.S.A., President of the College, meet with that governing body to discuss its position and authority according to the administration's policies.

This action was undertaken in a meeting at which recent criticism of the council by two Villanovan columnists was discussed. The council felt that the charge of apathy leveled at it was unjust.

Council Lacks Authority

Rather than disinterest, it claimed the issue was one of lack of authority to carry out the many programs advocated by the group. In an attempt to clarify the position of the council, Yeager introduced the original motion.

The proposal was quickly amended in various aspects. After almost half an hour of discussion and debate took place, Chairman Donald Collins warned the council of the gravity of the situation. He then called for an individual vote which was recorded without one dissent.

Meeting Closed

Another motion was made and carried which stated, in effect, that at any rate the council will hold a final meeting tomorrow night. If Fr. McGuire is at this meeting, it will be conducted as a closed meeting. If, however, he has already met with the council, the meeting will be open as usual.

(The Student Council meets every other Wednesday night at 6 P.M. in 215 Mendel Hall.)

ROSEM'T SPONSORS PRESS CONFERENCE

Panel Discussions, Guest Speaker, Dancing, Refreshments Featured

The annual press conference of the Phila. area colleges will be held at Rosemont College on Sunday afternoon Feb. 15. Representatives of all the literary publications of 18 colleges will participate. The purpose of the conference is to stimulate intercollegiate interest in newswork by exchanging ideas and problems with others. Mr. Michael Sloman, Account Exerutive for Geare-Marston Co., will be the guest speaker.

The conference, the fourth to be held at Rosemont since 1941, will begin at 1 P. M. in Good Counsel Hall. A series of eight panels of 1 hour duration will be held, some of them simultaneously. Student representatives of the colleges will be invited to conduct the panels, which include the subjects: Makeup, Sports, yearbook editing, problems of the editor, news writing, literary magazines, business problems and features. The panel will be concluded at 4 P.M. at which time Mr. Sloman will address the group. Refreshments and dancing will follow

(Continued on Page 4)

Negative Democracy

Last summer the United States was represented in a World Youth Festival in Prague, Czechoslovakia. It was well known that the Russians were seriously interested in this event and by reason of this, many Americans pooh-poohed the idea. The story told by the American representatives is a far better editorial than we could write.

Eleanor Roberts, senior class president of Connecticut College, and Harris L. Wofford, Jr., University of Chicago, delegates to the festival, discussed their experiences over Station WJR in Detroit recently.

Below are excerpts from the broadcast:

MODERATOR: What was the situation in general, as you found it at the meeting in Prague?

WOFFORD: The Youth festival became a battle of ideas between Russia and America, between Communism and Democracy. It turned into a miniature stage for the very conflicts going on in the United Nations.

MODERATOR: Tell us about the American exhibit at the festival.

MISS ROBERTS: When we arrived at the American section, we found absolutely bare beaver-board walls on which we had to put up something comparable in perfection to the very professional exhibits of the other countries. We had nothing, absolutely nothing—no nails, no little pieces of wood, no paint, no things to work with. Here we were from the richest nation of the earth borrowing nails and trying to put up little tiny snapshots of little tiny things. We finally ended up by putting up an exhibit which was quite amateurish.

MODERATOR: What was the theme of the Russian exhibit?

WOFFORD: Magnificent photographs were blown up. Not only that, but there was a very outstanding group of Russians selected; their best ballet dancers, their best athletes, their best students. One Czechoslovakian official told me, "If America had just sent Rita Hayworth, a jazz band and the spirit of Abraham Lincoln, it would have taken this festival by storm."

MODERATOR: What was the attitude of the students who came from countries behind the iron curtain? Had they been screened by Russia?

MISS ROBERTS: I think many of them came with open minds.

MODERATOR: You spoke earlier in this program that you had no support from this country or from the State Department.

MISS ROBERTS: We were not recognized by the State Department there until almost the end of the festival. In fact, we couldn't even borrow things like American flags from them. We ended up by borrowing a small bust of Franklin Roosevelt from the Prague public library. We couldn't borrow a flag from our own embassy.

WOFFORD: All of this coming at the time when the people of Czechoslovakia, who are still free, were trying to decide which way to go and were looking to see what America had to offer.

MODERATOR: What were our objections?

MISS ROBERTS: It appeared to us and to the other delegates as indication that democracy has become a little feeble, and we are unable to enter the battle of ideas with those from Eastern Europe and from the Soviet Union and come out on top. Of course, we are not going to impress anyone with the advantages of political democracy if we continue to back away from all the discussion with Communists in our own country and in Europe.

MODERATOR: How did you attempt to impress these other countries with the kind of country we are?

WOFFORD: I think it was the most notable thing that the supporters of democracy were on the defensive. They had little background of all the problems coming up in the world, they had little conviction in what they stood for and the Communist supporters were fanatic, enthusiastic and confident.

MISS ROBERTS: I think it is very unfortunate that so many organizations are scared out of international youth politics by the label of Communist which the American press and the American public opinion produce. If we stop throwing the label Communist around indiscriminately and as a result scare off non-Communist organizations from international fields where they might enter and be effective, the situation would be entirely different.

We have to bring them some positive thinking. We cannot go to Europe and be negative. We cannot go to Europe and be against the Communist. We cannot go to Europe and be against the Socialist. We cannot go and be against the various political parties in Europe. We must go and present them with ideas of democracy and one world which are positive.

J. A. M.

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

WILLIAM F. ALTENPOHL, '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
JOHN A. McDERMOTT, '48 ..... Managing Editor
JACK CASEY, '49 ..... News Editor
GEORGE SZYMANSKI, '50 ..... Feature Editor
RICHARD HUBBARD, '48 ..... Picture Editor
VINCE PEDANO, '49 ..... Circulation Manager
NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI, '48 ..... Business Manager
EDWARD OXFORD, '50 ..... Copy Editor
JAMES PLUNKETT '49 ..... Sports Editor
ROBERT M. FLAHERTY, '48 ..... Asst. Photo Editor

News Staff

Michael Marshal '49, Richard Shinners '48, Michael Joseph Nowlan '49, Charles Laferty '49, Frank Gobes '51, Frank Guzikowski '49, Thomas Mitchell '51, Joseph Miller '50, John James Connoly '51, Joseph Konicev '50, Jos.pn Callahan '51, George R. Reinhart '51, Arthur Woodrow '51, Louis Alvare '48, Tom Smith '51.

Feature Staff

R. E. Manifold '51, William Breninghouse '51, Joseph Quill '50, A. J. Mullen '49, David V. Anthony '51, John A. Rowe '51, Gunther Kaiser '49, P. McManus '48, John Mallick '49, Vince O Neil '51, Mark Morris '51, James Tayoun '51, Leo Dodd '49, Emil Mayer '49, Richard Hudak '49, Thomas Russo '51.

Sports Staff

James Lyons '48, Paul Altenpuhl '49, Ned Hoffner '49, Arnold Keehan '49, William Canino '50, Neal Fahy '50, George Mondachein '50, Raymond Mondachein '50, Tyson Reilly '50, Walter Rygiel '50, Harry Jacobs '51, William Kuesaris '51, Raymond MacWilliams '51, Paul Presede '51, Harold Lange '51.

Picture Staff

Robert Graf '50, Raymond Berninger '49, Dan Haflinger '50, William Neal Carter '51, Dan Robinson '49, William Murphy '51, Harry Pappan '51, Robert Pope '50, Jack Muratori '51, "Tex" Winters '50.

Business Staff

Joe King '48, Barry Gibbons '51, Jack Gibbons '51, Donald Baralt '50.

Circulation Staff

George Weber, III, '51, Ralph Iorio '50, Ed Kent '51, Charles Klunk '51, Ralph Skowron '51, Gene Langan '51, Harry Pappan '51, Robert Pope '50, Wm. Coakley '50, Maurice Wilhere '48, Mario Piazzolla '51, Paul Schreiber '50.

Copy Staff

Frank McGeehan '50, Girard Farnan '50, Edgar Le Blanc '50 Steve Keiss '51, Robert MacRoberts '51, William Foley '50, Dick Randolph '50.

Faculty Advisor— Rev. John A. Klekotka, O.S.A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman —
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription: $2 per year. Circulation: 5000.
Entered as second class matter at the Villanova Post Office December 27, 1928.

Member of Associate Collegiate Press, Distributor of Collegiate Digest.
Member of Catholic School Press Association, Catholic College Press Association.

Introducing

Repartee

"The Catholic Student's Position In Cath. Coll."

Students Imposed "Discipline" Veto On Themselves

Fedigan Hall
January 15, 1948

Editor of the Villanovan,

Dear Sir:

To be just, it must be stated that although the veto power in matters of "Faith, Morals and Discipline" was written into the Constitution when it was presented to us last spring at the N.F.C.C.S. Constitutional convention in Toledo, we did have opportunity of debating this constitution, article by article and phrase by phrase. We had the opportunity, too, of amending the constitution as presented and fully availed ourselves of this opportunity. An amendment was presented from the floor to delete the word "discipline" from the veto power phrase. A long and, I must say, bitter debate ensued between those who favored complete clerical domination of student life, (this was brought out in the hour long debate), and those of us who believe —and still believe—that a stronger more self-reliant layman will develop from an educational system in which the clergy are less paternal in supervising the minutiae of student life—especially in regard to student government. In this debate only the word "discipline" was objected to, mind you, not the principle of the veto itself. The amendment was defeated and the word "discipline" remains in the constitution. It should be mentioned that shortly before the voting took place the chaplain spoke against it—(the amendment).

We feel that the clerical veto in "student government" is not the best possible way of training Catholic college students for the rough and tumble of the American democratic system. We feel that too close clerical supervision tends to chaff and the horrible spectre of anticlericalism will arise. We feel that the clergy are hyper sensitive to mistakes their charges will make. Mistakes are part of the training for leadership in this country. We feel that the hobble skirt should be eliminated from the "New Look."

Respectfully,
JOHN STANLEY,
Senior Delegate, N.F.C.C.S.

Belief In Objective Truth Demands Subservience

Dear Editor,

Do I deny or affirm objective truth? When examining the guidance which is exercised by the Catholic church upon the students of its schools, this is the question which must be asked. If the answer to it be an affirmation, as is that of the Catholic student, the advisability, the inherent necessity of seeking the direction of an enlightened agency is apparent. That the Church IS such an agency can be appreciated from a consideration of these data: (a) its founder, Christ, is held to be Divine; (b) it utilizes the resources of Revelation; (c) its long past has given it the authority of experience.

Admitting objective truth, then, and the validity of the Catholic church as a guide to the knowing of it, a foolish course is seen to be one in which the individual overestimates self-reliance, and a wise one, that in which the counsels of the Church are harkened to. Further, this objective truth, being apprehended, by whatever means, is not subject to compromise.

Organizational democracy is a concept wherein unit beliefs and strivings are subordinated to those of the association. New aims and ethics arise for the association, which are a composite of all the single aims and ethics of the cooperating units, and which differ from those of each of the units. This means that each of the units has its fundamental concepts somewhat altered. And that unit, which, by its very nature, is incapable of fundamental compromise is rendered incapable of participation in organizational democracy of a type wherein fundamentals ARE compromised.

The alternative: withdrawal.

Respectfully,
J. Robert O'Donnell '50

Catholic Church Can't Compromise Principles

Dear Editor:

The Catholic Church is an absolute society. It maintains it has the truth and that the truth is unchangeable and incompromisable. It maintains also that the truth is one and that it extends into every human action. If a man is a member of the Catholic Church he must either subscribe to its doctrines or get out.

The Communist Party is an absolute society. It maintains it has the truth and that the truth is unchangeable and incompromisable. It maintains also that the truth is one and that it extends into every human action. If a man is a member of the Communist Party he must either subscribe to its doctrines or get out.

The Catholic Church wishes to make sure that the Catholic students are well-versed on the ramifications of their principles. That is the reason for the open caucuses and the open instructions from the hierarchy.

The Communist Party wishes to make sure that the Communist students are well-versed on the ramifications of their principles. That is the reason for the closed meetings and secret instructions from the Politburo.

There is a basic conflict, two absolute ideologies are in opposition. Neither is willing to compromise its principles. The Communist party can seem to, it is one of their ethical provisions. The Catholics cannot, it is not one of ours.

DON COLLINS,
President, Student Council

WVIL PROGRAM SCHEDULE

13—18 Jan. 1948

TUESDAY
7:00 Campus Newsreel
7:15 Sports News
7:30 Record Rendezvous
8:00 Radio Theater (Descent of the Gods)
8:30 Campus Choice
9:00 Symphony Hall (Opera Selections)
10:00 Music To Study By
11:00 Sign Off

WEDNESDAY
7:00 Campus Newsreel
7:15 Sports News
7:30 Record Rendezvous
8:00 Some Like it Hot
8:30 Off The Air
10:00 Music To Study By
11:00 Sign Off

THURSDAY
7:00 Campus Newsreel
7:15 Sports News
7:30 Record Rendezvous
8:00 Symphony Hall (Strauss, Debussey, Stravinsky)
9:00 Chaplain's Corner (Church & Medicine)
9:30 Browsing Thru the Record Library
10:00 Music To Study By
11:00 Sign Off

FRIDAY
7:00 Campus Newsreel
7:15 Things To Do
7:30 Record Rendezvous
8:00 Doing the Town
8:30 Off the Shelf
9:00 Let's Dance
9:30 Vocally Yours
10:00 Music To Study By
11:00 Sign Off

MONDAY
7:00 Campus Newsreel
7:15 Sports News
7:30 Record Rendezvous
8:00 Villanova Forum of the Air
8:30 Records with Reagan
9:00 Star of the Week
9:15 Chaplain's Corner (News & Views)
9:30 Show Time
10:00 Music To Study By
11:00 Sign Off

Pride and Prejudice

So many of us are all too ready to generalize; we let rumors and incidents build up strong foundation stones for racial bias and prejudice. We admit the equality of men, but in the practice of this precept (which, to be sure, is of more importance) we are flagrant offenders.

We are tolerant, or at least profess to be, but in reality and practice we know better.

Help us understand the Negro situation. A good many of us are not even concerned about the injustices done the Negro. A young Negro doctor is refused a position in a city hospital; a Negro couple is hanged in Georgia; white Catholic students refuse to attend the same school with Negro children. These and the myriad other injustices, social and economic, that the Negro must bear are viewed with apathy.

We just don't care! We don't seem to understand or appreciate him and his problem. Perhaps this prayer which may serve the cause of tolerance, will help our understanding. It is the prayer of a humble colored man. Read it, please.

"O God of all races, will you please, Sir, come in and take charge of the minds of all these white people and fix them so that they will know and understand that all of us colored folks are not lazy, dirty, dishonest and of no account.

"Help them, Lord, to see that most of us are praying, working, and striving to get some land, some houses, and some education for ourselves and our children, and get true religion, and that most every Negro is doing his level best to make friends and to get along with the white folks. Help these white folks, O Lord, to understand this very thing.

"Lord, while you are taking charge of the minds of the white people, don't pass by the colored folks, for they need you as much. Open the Negro's eyes that he might see that all white folks are not prejudiced; that there are hard-working, just, and God-fearing white folks who are trying the very best they know how, with circumstances oftentimes against them, to be fair in their dealings with the colored folks.

"Help us, O Lord, both black and white, to understand each other better every day. Amen."

OUT OF THE COPY BASKET

By James Tayoun

At the last game this was overheard:
1st Frosh—"I don't see how that referee can keep cool."
2nd Frosh—"That's easy, look at the fans around him."

• • •

The family was riding in a subway. Mother and John found seats, but father was left holding a strap.

"Doesn't it pain you to see your father holding a strap?" inquired the mother.

"Only when we are at home," answered John.

• • •

"I can't tell you how long I have labored on this manuscript," the aspiring writer told the producer, "polishing a scene here, adding a line there, eliminating scenes, and adding new characters."

"What a pity", said the producer, handing it back to him, "All work and no play!"

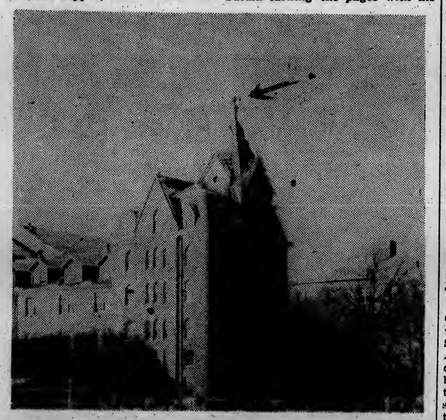
• • •

The witness was a fat man with the red nose of the habitual drinker.

"So you are the superintendent of the water works, eh?" said the attorney.

"Yes sir, and I've given perfect satisfaction for the last ten years."

"No doubt," said the lawyer. "You look like a man anyone could trust around water."



• • •

Sophomore: I see by the papers that nine professors and one student were killed in a wreck."
Junior: "Poor chap"

BALL MISSING FROM MENDEL TOWER

STUDENT EXPELLED FOR PRANK

Did you ever dream of stealing the heavy ball adorning the tower of Mendel Hall, and carrying that heavy object down the stairs right past the Vice-President's office. But, as the seven of you carried that 200-pound ball down the stairs, one of you slipped, and forced the weight of the ball onto the other fellows, who just couldn't hold it and let it go. There she goes, rolling down the stairs with a roar like thunder. She takes the curves, bouncing on the stairs, whizzes around another curve and clatters like a bowling ball right into the Vice-President's office.

Arrow points to ball atop the tower of Mendel Hall Dormitory wing, from which "The Mantilla" takes its cue.

Desire for Trophy

Well, that is just what happened to a couple of Villanova students. It was after a game with St. John's, another victory for Villanova, that the boys decided to increase their already imposing trophy collection. It has been, you know, the tradition at Villanova that whenever the team won an impressive victory they would add some memento to a secret trophy room. They had amassed a sizeable fortune in this daring avocation.

There was the President's cap and gown, the left shoes of several profs, and the griddle from the kitchen stove, picked up while it was being used to prepare dinner, and literally "hot". Where these trophies were no one but the captain of the team and a select bunch knew.

Ring Leader Leaves

Now, this was a serious offense, this lifting, in the stealth of night, the heavy ball from the tower which has graced the Villanova campus for nigh a half century, and is a distinct feature of the landscape. After all, the supposedly inanimate object had wrecked the Vice-President's office. The President, what's his name, ah..h..h, gosh, we forget. Well, anyway, we can now report that the President, under firm pressure from the Vice-President has dismissed the ringleader of the plot from the college. Too bad, a Senior at that, a good Engineering student, and captain of the football team.

Not Al Barker

Well, no, it wasn't Al Barker, but a fellow named Michael Weldon. You say, Barker is the captain of the football team. Yeah, but it seems Weldon was the captain.

Only Fiction

In case you're wondering by this time, let's clear up the confusion. The Mendelian ball is still on the tower as of 7:00 P. M., January 15th, 1948. But, the ball was actually lifted and did everything previously ascribed to it. That was in 1913, in a neat volume of fiction which was published by one of our old Villanova grads. He was Richard A. Maher, writing under the pseudonym of Richard Aumerle. We have lost track of the author of 1913. Miss Henrich, Assistant Librarian, has warned us that the only volume in the library is treasured and is not available for circulation. A distinct loss to campus tradition!

"The Mantilla"

We were led into the library archives and with Jack Stanley holding our hands from the rear, and Ed Sutula turning the pages with his white-gloved hands we scanned the 270-page book. It was published in St. Louis, Missouri, in 1913, by B. Herder Co., of New York, Freiburg, and London, world-wide publishers. The title is "The Mantilla".

It is a story of a Senior student, who was expelled for the above prank. An orphan, supported by a rich uncle, who was a contractor, he leaves on the 12:43 P. M. Paoli Local, on the day when the prank was but 3 hours old. Changing, at Broad St., he takes the train for New York, and adventure. His self-respect leads him to use his own intuitive resources, bypassing a sure job with his uncle's firm.

Sails to Adventure

Lack of finance leads him to accept a vague strike-breaking job in Cuba. Setting sail from New York on a boat (and here we differ from the author. Our background distinctly reminds us of ships.) he first meets adventure aboard the ship in the shining cloak of knight errant in protecting a beautiful young lady from blackmail.

The story leads charmingly to further adventure in South America, his college ethics always guiding his mind as he develops into a successful engineer, and the inevitable happiness in love. In the first fifty pages we are on the Villanova campus reliving the life of Michael Weldon, the leading character of this fictional epic.

Fly-Leaf Dedication

On the fly-leaf we found a dedication to the then Provincial, Very Rev. M. T. Geraghty, D. D., O. S. A., in the personal handwriting of our illustrious alumnus, excusing in all humility his first effort with promise for the future. It was through the mention of Fr. O'Donnell in one of his English Lit classes that this book was brought to our attention, and to him we are grateful.

Incident Impossible

Such an incident as the lifting of the ball would be out of the question even for Georgetown men, for it would be impossible to escape detection by Fr. Klekotka as he sits in his office beneath that tower correcting test papers in Engineering, the science which Michael Weldon used to advantage in lifting his Mendel eight-ball.

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the Junior Class Thursday evening at 7:00 in order to discuss Junior week.

By McManus and Kaiser

The theatre openings in Philadelphia this week will offer "First Nighters" the choice of a review, play and musical.

The Frenchman who entertained so many last year with his collection of song interpretations will appear for six days only, at the Forrest Theatre, starting Monday. Maurice Chevalier and his straw hat promises to prove a very interesting evening for those versed in the language of the French; otherwise it all may prove rather dull.

Henry Fonda in Phila.

Henry Fonda, of stage and screen fame, will star in the play "Mister Roberts". This nautical play, adapted from the best-seller, opens next Tuesday at the Walnut Street Theatre.

After a two-year run in New York City, the original cast of "Carousel" will hold forth on the stage of the Shubert for a limited engagement. A look at the prices for this production may prove discouraging, but the layout of the theatre allows those who purchase the lower price seats to enjoy the show as well as those who purchase the gilt edged variety.

Local Group Present Plays

A popular comedy of last year has found its way into the fold of the small stock theatres that dot Philadelphia and vicinity. "Apple of his Eye" has been chosen as the January production by the Colonial Players of Aldan, Delaware County. "Apple of his Eye" enjoyed a long and successful run on Broadway last season after opening in Philadelphia. In the original production, Walter Houston played the leading role of the aging farmer who fell in love with his much too youthful hired girl. For those who missed this comedy last year, it will prove a grand opportunity to see it this year on January 22nd., 23rd., and 24th.

Berwyn offers Special Rates

The Berwyn Playhouse of Berwyn, Pa., offers a series of Friday night performances for the next five weeks, commencing with "Male Animal", followed by the "Petrified Forest", "My Sister Eileen", "Outward Bound", and "A Bent Halo". The management has allowed special student rates for all performances.

(Continued on Page 7)

'Neath The Spires

Joseph Quill, '50

Incidents that had a direct bearing on why a Catholic goes to a Catholic school became so prominent in the news of a few months ago that they were taken as far as the United States Supreme Court. There was quite a bit of conversation on the topic at the time by laymen. Some of those conversations ran something like this:

"I'd like to have you explain to me, a non-Catholic, just why you have Catholic schools and why you go to them."

"I'd be glad to."

"I can see why a Catholic would go to a Catholic school if the school already exists, but why go to all the trouble to build the school and establish it if there is a public school available in the community?"

"Well, a Catholic puts God and religion first—everything else is secondary. His first purpose is to serve God. To do this he must have religious instruction and this he gets in a Catholic school."

"Certainly, that's right. But consider this. Why couldn't he get his religious instruction on Sunday at Sunday school? That's the way other religions do it. He could still go to the public school during the week."

"To understand the answer to that question you've got to understand that a religious or a Catholic atmosphere is just as important to a young person—possibly more important—than the theoretical knowledge of his religion. He can't get this atmosphere in public schools. What's more, not enough could be covered with one period a week—in most Catholic high schools there are at least four."

"Seems like a lot of trouble and expense just to get atmosphere."

"Maybe it does seem that way. But you've got to appreciate just how important that atmosphere is. Even if a system were devised to allow a representative of each religion to teach his religion through a given number of periods each week, the pupils wouldn't get enough religious atmosphere to make them appreciate fully their religion."

"I suppose you're right."

"I can see where it would be a little hard for you to appreciate that point about atmosphere. But that's it—that's the key to the whole thing." It's a full time job, a life time job.

"Oh I love nature," gushed the old maid with an unusual amount of enthusiasm.

"That's loyalty!" mused a passerby, "And after what nature did to her!"

Due to a lack of response on the contest to change the name of the Pie Shop, said contest is called off.

THE 5TH COLUMN

By
Hugh Johnson and Frank McBride

At last week's meeting of the student council, we had the rather dubious pleasure of hearing our beloved 5th column read aloud. It seems that we were on the pan for putting certain members of the council for their "Apathy." (Well, if nothing else, it stirred them to action.)

Sometime before tomorrow night the council is holding a very, very critical meeting. However, not only is the press excluded from this meeting but even the students are also barred. Another action of the Student Council!!!

Pie-Shop Still Pie-Shop

The possible re-naming of the Pie Shop is a thing of the past already. We were dead set against it from the start mainly because that name has been with the college for over 28 years.

But just for the record, here are three of the suggestions for the change: Canteen, Tea House, and the almost winner The Greasy Spoon. (Thanks to Joe LaFama of Mendel.)

A final word of warning to Louie. Beware man. Those hijackers that made away with $50,000 from the Harvard Co-Op were last seen driving through the campus a la Georgetown!!!

Hawks Go Wild

The fad at Madison Square Garden today is to shout "Throw 'im a fish" when the ref in a basketball game makes an unpopular decision. In a recent St. Joseph's game played there, one enthusiastic Hawk took it upon himself to oblige the fans, sneaked off the lower East Side, bought himself a 3 ft. Herring, and promptly plopped it on the middle of the court in the heat of play.

Marymount Comes Thro'

We thought that all the original ideas for raising $$$ for the NFCCS had been used here at Villanova but we hadn't counted on the ingenuity of the girls from Marymount college. At their recent 100th anniversary dance, they chanced off 6 "Bottles of joy", made twice as much money in that one night as they had all year. Real school "spirits", hey what?

Odds and Ends

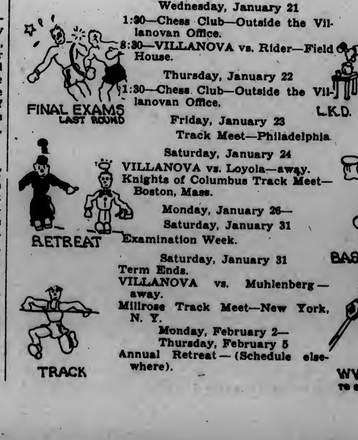
Ralph Pasquariello has been having horrible nightmares lately . . . come to think of it, who wouldn't with 10 of your buddies taking great pleasure in putting firecrackers under your sack.

Chick Weide has been sporting 3 stitches in his chin for the past few days. His roommates tell the tale that he pulled the time-worn act of dressing for a swim in the pool, ran out on the diving board, executed a beautiful swan, then woke up 10 minutes later to find out that there was only 2 feet of water in the pool.

Notice to Soph Arts students: if you ever get stuck for reading material, see Jim Morgan. He can take up all the dull hours.

Rosemont

Fr. McGuire, our President, is to conduct the Annual retreat at Rosemont.



And speaking of our sister school, the story was told the other day about the cordial feelings between the girls on the campus. It seems a certain Villanova student was talking to his sister, a student, when an attractive blond (for the sake of the story) passed by. "Wow, what's that girl's name?" he asked. "Oh, that girl," his sister replied, I really don't know her name. She's only been my roommate for 4 months."

Radio station WFIL thought that they were "first on your dial in Philadelphia." Obviously they hadn't counted on Villanova's station WVIL. Yes sir, our own hams, whoops ham, has already been heard by KGO in San Francisco.

But that WFIL-TV—ah—there's a persistent lot. They had their cameras out to the Field House for both the Fort Dix and Rutgers games but both times they failed to

(Continued on Page 7)

CAMPUS CALENDAR

Wednesday, January 21
1:20—Chess Club—Outside the Villanovan Office.
8:30—VILLANOVA vs. Rider—Field House.

Thursday, January 22
1:30—Chess Club—Outside the Villanovan Office.

Friday, January 23
Track Meet—Philadelphia

Saturday, January 24
VILLANOVA vs. Loyola—away.
Knights of Columbus Track Meet—Boston, Mass.

Monday, January 26—
Saturday, January 31
Examination Week.

Saturday, January 31
Term Ends.
VILLANOVA vs. Muhlenberg—away.
Millrose Track Meet—New York, N. Y.

Monday, February 2—
Thursday, February 5
Annual Retreat—(Schedule elsewhere).

BELLE AIR BELLE A HUGE SUCCESS

Carl Yeager, Senior Class President, announced today that the Belle Air Ball, which was held last Friday evening in the Field House, was a greater success than previously expected. There were approximately 500 couples present, and the dance was acclaimed as one of the finest ever held at Villanova.

The novel decorations and the fine orchestra were the highlights of the evening, and there has been much praise for both. Sam Donahue and his sixteen-piece band, featuring the talented vocalists, Shirley Lloyd and Bill Lockwood, provided the music against the background of the "Arabian Nights" decoration theme. Donahue, who plays the tenor sax, offered the dancers some special selections of his own and some very fine arrangements of popular numbers, both old and new.

Featured by the Donahue band and received with great enthusiasm by the dancers were some of Donahue's own special arrangements—a jazzed-up version of that ever popular western ballad "Red Wing", the calypso styled "Tacos, Enchiliados and Beans", "Suicide Leap", a fast number featuring Donahue at his best displaying the talent which has earned him the rating of one of the top saxophonists in the country and "The Whistler" a song which has swept the nation in the past few weeks. Although the arrangements were very well received, the most appreciated numbers of the evening were the slow numbers

SENIOR SOCIAL FINALE

An "Arabian Nights" motif greeted more than 500 couples who attended the Belle Air Ball, last Friday night at the College Field House.

This dance was the first formal affair of the year and the decorations provided an excellent background to set off the many and varied gowns worn by the girls. The "Arabian Nights" theme was selected by the dance committee because its splendor would provide the proper tone for the dance, which was the highlight of the year.

Bob O'Connor, Belle Air Ball Chairman, wishes to thank everyone connected with the dance, for their cooperation, particularly the members of the committee.

The Villanovan extends congratulations for a job well done and a fine evening of entertainment.

Rosemont Sponsors

(Continued from Page 1)

in the tea house.

Mr. Sloman, a graduate of the Teachers College of Columbia University, has had wide experience in press work. He has worked for New York Newspapers and has been associated with syndicate columnist Arthur Brisbane.

Photographer: "Do you want a large or small picture?"
Leroy: "A small one."
Photographer: "Then close your mouth."

THE Bouquet Shop

"Flowers That Are Pleasantly Different"

Lancaster Ave. at Roberts Ave., Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Flowers By Wire BRYN MAWR 2422

CAN YOUR SCALP PASS THE FINGER-NAIL TEST?

1. TRY IT! Scratch your head. If you find signs of dryness or loose ugly dandruff, you need Wildroot Cream-Oil hair tonic. Grooms hair... relieves dryness...removes loose dandruff. Contains soothing Lanolin, an oil resembling the natural oil of your skin.

YOUR HAIR CAN LOOK LIKE THIS WITH

WILDROOT CREAM-OIL

2. A LITTLE WILDROOT CREAM-OIL does a lot for your hair. Keeps it well groomed all day long. Leaves no trace of that greasy, plastered down look. Makes your hair look and feel good.

NON-ALCOHOLIC

CONTAINS LANOLIN!

3. AGAIN AND AGAIN the choice of men who put good grooming first — that's Wildroot Cream-Oil. No wonder when new users from coast to coast were questioned, 4 out of 5 who replied said they preferred it to any other hair tonic they had used before. For generous trial supply free, send this ad with your name and address to Wildroot Co., Inc. Dept. C-1, Buffalo 8, New York.

KEEP SUPPLIED WITH SCHOOL TICKETS

GOOD ON BUSES AND RAIL CARS UNTIL USED

5c a Ride, including Special Free Transfers. Obtain Identification Cards at School Office.

RED ARROW LINES

Philadelphia Suburban Transportation Co.

Attention Juniors!

ORDERS FOR CLASS

BLAZERS

WILL BE TAKEN IN THE PIE SHOP THIS THURSDAY, JAN. 22

11 A. M. to 3 P. M.

ANY ORDERS NOT PLACED AT THIS TIME MUST BE PLACED NOT LATER THAN FEBRUARY 7, AT

Lord & Lord, 1211 Chestnut St., Phila. Pa.

(2nd Floor)

It's Another Headline Record!

Louis Prima's "With a Hey and a Hi and a Ho Ho Ho" (RCA Victor)

THE MAN who plays pretty for the people, Louis Prima, has a groovy new record!

A trumpet player of long experience, Louis knows when he's hit the right note in smoking pleasure too. He's a dyed-in-the-wool Camel fan. "Camels are the 'choice of experience' with me," says Prima.

Try Camels! Let your own experience tell you why, with smokers who have tried and compared, Camels are the "choice of experience."

And here's another great record—

More people are smoking CAMELS than ever before!

R. J. Reynolds Tob. Co.

CATS BEAT RUTGERS; BOW TO RAMS

Rutgers Humbled 64-52; Frosh Register 1st Win

WHITE + SABOL = 54 POINTS

Four Game Victory Skein Broken As Cats Lose 59-57

White's 37 Points Sets Frosh Mark

By Bill Canino

The Villanova Wildcats staged one of the greatest comeback performances ever to be seen in the Villanova Field House last Wednesday evening to gain their seventh victory in ten starts, defeating a strong Rutgers five 64-52 before a hysteria stricken crowd of 2500.

Trailing 38-22 at halftime and 38-25 shortly afterward, the Severencemen caught fire and went on the greatest scoring spree of the current season and after 7 minutes and 40 seconds of the third period had elapsed Leo Wolf sank a foul to knot the count at 42-all. Immediately following, Center Paul Arizen hooked a field goal and Tom Sabol connected from the floor giving the Cats the lead which they never relinquished.

Rutgers Leads

Prior to this, however, the homesters were outshone continually by the point-making ability of the Jerseyites. The men from New Brunswick, led by Center Don Parsons with 12 points, showed great marksmanship throughout the first half, hitting the hoop consistently from far out. Walt Wyeth displayed fine ability midway in the first session when he broke a 12-12 deadlock on a long set shot and aided teammates Andy Sivers and Paul Lynner to score by his accurate passing.

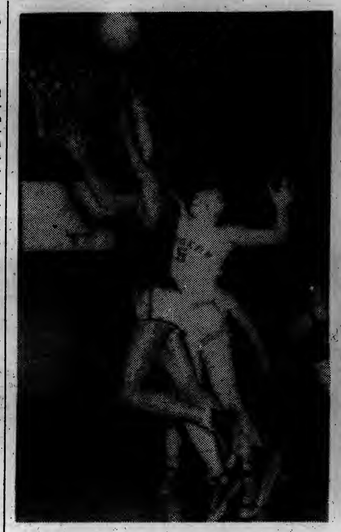
Stage Comeback

However, the tables turned completely in the second half. The play of the team was superb. After Wyeth boosted his team's lead to 35-28 on a long field goal Arizen, Wolf, Sabol, and Ricca hit for twin pointers sandwiching in fouls by Arizen and Hannan. Following a goal by Lynner, Ricca, Sabol, and Hannan all scored, which sliced the visitors margin to one point. Then Wolf's conversion tied the count and the Villanovans were on their way to victory. The scarlet threatened when Lynner scored and Wyeth converted twice but the threat was short-lived, being quelled by another scoring burst.

Sabol Leads Scoring

For the victorious 'Cats Sabol was the leading scorer with 16 points, Arizen placed second, gathering 15 markers. Ricca showed great ability in recovering the ball off the boards which was one of the deciding factors in the contest.

Rutgers, in losing their fourth game in eleven starts, was led by Parsons with 12 points while Lynner garnered 10.



The Rutgers University freshman basketball team was handed its first defeat of the season by Villanova's yearlings to the score of 73 to 44 in a game preceding the Varsity contest. Sherman White, 6 foot 7 inch center, tabulated 37 points to set a new Freshman team record. It was the second highest individual total ever made in the Field House, just eight points short of the total made last year by Joe Lord against Kings Point.

The "Englewood Tower" just couldn't be stopped as Rutgers tried every way thinkable to bottle him up. Three different men, each just as tall or a little shorter, were sent in against him, but Lanky Sherman simply ignored them all.

Show Improvement

The Frosh demonstrated for the

(Continued on Page 6)

Here's the reason for that smile you see on Al Severance's face of late. Sherman White scoring 2 of his 37 points.

Tom Sabol scoring 2 of those 16 points which were such a big factor in last week's thriller against Rutgers.

Arizen Scores 16 Pts. As Late Bid Fails

By JIM LYONS

Showing the same kind of fight that they had displayed against Rutgers, the Wildcats fell short in a last ditch rally against Fordham University. The Blue and White bowed to the Rams 59-57 in a see-saw battle before 3500 partisan fans in Fordham Gynasium.

The New Yorkers hopped off to a 4-0 lead and soon increased their spread to nine points. Sparked by Jackie Crossin and Paul Arizen, Villanova fought uphill to a half time lead 29-25. Joe Hannan dunked a spectacular one hander at the gun.

Rams Accuracy Uncanny

At the outset of the second half the Rams got hot and after tying the count at 34-34, they later ran off 11 consecutive points. These were results of some long shots by Bach, Mulvihill and Shields. Ram shots were dropping at a uncanny rate.

Fordham rooters, who felt quite secure in their 50-39 lead with seven minutes remaining, reluctantly roared their appreciation of the Wildcat surge. Again it was Tommy Sabol and Paul Arizen who were leading the Mainliners.

Wolf Shoots Hanger

With 20 seconds left Leo Wolf got off a long shot that hung on the lip of the hoop, then finally fell out. Villanova lost its last chance when the aggressive Paul Arizen, whose 16 points lead the scoring, missed after being awarded two foul shots with three seconds left.

The game was a rough and tumble affair as Johnny Bach who matched Arizen's efforts with 16 points was forced to retire to the sidelines momentarily as he received a severe cut over one eye.

This coming Wednesday the Cats will entertain Rider University from Trenton, N. J. Although in previous years, Villanova has had little trouble in disposing of the "Teachers", this coming game still looms as a top basketball attraction. Earlier in the season Rutgers University were extended to the utmost before they finally managed to emerge victorious. And just a week ago, Rider pulled one of the major upsets of the basketball campaign in defeating Lafayette by a four point margin. There will be a preliminary game to this contest as the Freshmen will meet the N. F. S. This preliminary will start at 7:15.

Fordham

	G.	F.	P.
Smith, f	3	1	7
Doherty, f	0	0	0
Abele, f	3	1	7
Bach, c	7	2	16
O'Rourke	0	0	0
Shiels, g	4	1	9
Mulvihill, g	5	1	11
Totals	25	9	59

Villanova

	G.	F.	P.
Ricca, f	3	4	10
Crossin	2	3	7
Hannan, f	1	0	2
Weglicki	0	0	0
Arizen, c	7	2	16
Wolf, g	3	0	6
Del'gator lo	0	0	0
Sabol, g	4	1	9
Raiken	3	1	7
Totals	23	11	57

Officials: Adam Rappius and Vincent Farrell.

Trackmen Busy Prepping For Coming Inquirer Meet

Polidor In Dash Ross Runs Mile

By Harry Range

The Philadelphia Inquirer Meet, which takes place this Friday evening at Convention Hall, will mark the official opening of the indoor season for the Villanova trackmen. According to Coach Elliot, this meet will be the test and will determine the entries in the meets to come.

Number one Wildcat entry is George Guida, who will probably anchor the mile relay and then run on his own in the 300. George, who is National indoor 600 and outdoor quarter-mile champ, will be competing against some of the nation's best.

Ross to Run Mile

In the Invitation Mile, Browning Ross, winner of the same event in the Washington Evening Star Meet, will also be meeting some very stiff competition.

The Novice 50 yard dash will bring to the line some new wearers of the Blue and White. These include Tom Irish, Ed Bosenwein, Jim McKenna and halfback Bob Polidor.

George Thompson, cross-country champion, and distance men Dave Williams and Jim Kennedy comprise the entries in the 2 mile run.

Along with Guida, the mile relay will consist of Fitzgerald and McCreary and either Mungall or Kelly, practically the same team that hit 3:21 in the Penn Relays last year.

Entries in the 1000 yard handicap are McKee, McGuerin and Conboy, while Bill Shelly, Larry O'Brien, Gene Osbah, and Ed Kelly compete in the Novice 1000.

Coleman Enters Vault

In the field events four able jumpers comprise the Villanova entry; Buckey Coleman and Bill Allen in the pole vault and John Sheehan Martin Panzner in the high jump.

After the Inquirer Meet Coach Elliot and nine of the boys will depart for Boston to participate in the Knights of Columbus Meet on the following night.

SPORTORIAL

By James A. Plunkett, Sports Editor

Recently we were asked why it was that in this day of "big time" basketball, Villanova doesn't follow the lead of so many other colleges and play their games in some big city arena such as Convention Hall. The matter itself has been receiving much notoriety of late. At the recent NCAA meeting in New York, the subject received lengthy discussion. Only last week the fires were kindled anew as the editor of the CCNY school paper let loose a blast of protest against doubleheader basketball, even going so far as to tell coach Nat Holman to take his team out of Madison Square Garden and, until such time as a new gym could be built to play in some uptown armory.

Naturally, playing in a big arena has its advantages. The biggest benefit derived from it is the money. Most colleges today haven't the physical equipment to meet the ticket demands placed upon them. The rise of basketball to its present peak of popularity has been so swift that as yet, schools just haven't been able to catch up with the demand. And so instead of being able to afford everyone a chance to see their games students are the only ones given this opportunity.

In some cases, e. g. North Carolina State, the demand for tickets is so great and the capacity is so small that the student body is forced to go to the games in shifts.

For Publicity Only

From this shortcoming, we can derive another advantage of double header basketball. Because the attendance in college gyms is reserved almost entirely for the student body, the opportunity to create an outside interest and following is difficult to attain. A newspaper editor must bend to the wishes of his readers. For this reason he must give top billing to those teams, no matter how poorly they might perform which have the most reader appeal.

The advantages listed above have been general. They hold true for most schools. But when we get down to cases—namely Villanova—we find that they are not so steadfast. We would find that Villanova would lose money on doubleheader basketball. After the promoter takes out his percentage, the remains are split up among the four participating schools. If we were to play in ourown gym, the promoter's take would be eliminated as would the amounts given to the two other teams on the bill. Granting that the gate wouldn't be as large, the field house which holds up to 3000, could be filled presupposing that similar schedules were used. If half of the stands were filled with students, that would still leave 1500 paying customers. Compare these figures to a night at Convention Hall when only 3700 fans showed up and you can easily see how Villanova would lose money by playing there.

Another Brooklyn College Case?

To offset the only other advantage of publicity we have a long list of disadvantages. Topping the list is the possibility of player contact with gamblers. Sure, a player can be contacted even here in our own gym, but the chances are less pronounced than they are at a double header. There the interest is centered and there the big money lies. No one remembers the last time a college was bought off on its own court, but the memory of the Brooklyn College case is fresh in everyone's mind. Why expose our team to these chances when we don't have to?

There are other disadvantages which are to be encountered in big time basketball, although the last mentioned should be sufficient to turn anvone against it. When a school signs to play in an arena, they, in practice, turn the management of their team over to the promoter. He books the games. You have no say in the matter.

The final argument against it is that the student gets no breaks. In most cases if het gets a seat he is lucky. Instead of getting in on his matric card, he pays. In our case, it involves transportation back and forth from Philadelphia. In the face of all these arguments there are still those who would like to see Villanova play in Convention Hall. The only reason we can see for it is that maybe they think thats the only way a school can have a big time team.

In our books they're all wrong. The day when a team in order to be something must play in some centralized arena for a big time promotor is slowly coming to a end. The NCAA is strongly in favor of moving their tournament back to the campus field house. Sooner or later something will be done to bring this about.

When that day comes, then you can say that the game belongs to the students. And for us, that day can't come too soon.

ALUMNI DROPS AUSTIN FROM LEAGUE LEAD

By Mondschein Inc., and Klucsarits

Because of the preparation for the Belle Aire Ball, last week's schedule was limited to the Tuesday night twin bill. In the nightcap, the unbeaten fives of Alumni and Austin clashed in the most exciting game in this first half of the season. The lead changed hands on numerous occasions throughout the contest, and the regulation game ended in a 32-32 deadlock. John Farley dropped in the tieing field goal for Alumni with less than thirty seconds remaining. Almost two minutes elapsed in the extra period before Rice broke the tie on a beautifully executed Alumni play. Austin made a frantic attempt to knot the count but time ran out as Dougherty's desperation shot rolled around the hoop and dropped out. This 34-32 victory put Alumni in sole possession of first place in the league standings as the week's competition ended. Leading the Alumni attack were Buckley and Rice, who garnered ten markers apiece, while Farley registered 7 counters, including his tying field goal. For Austin, Diot and Dougherty shared scoring honors with 7 points each. The half-time score was 16-15 in favor of Alumni. The officials were Breslin and Higgins.

Fedigan Victor

Mendel dropped to the bottom of the league standings when they suffered their third consecutive loss, dropping a 35-29 decision to Fedigan. The height of the Fedigan five proved to be the winning factor in the bitterly contested tilt. McGrath and McDonnell led the night's scoring parade for the losers as they netted eight points apiece. Fedigan's scoring was well distributed with Savage taking individual honors with ten points, followed by Stack and Flynn with six points apiece. The score at the intermission read 19-14 in favor of Fedigan, and the teams played on even terms throughout the second canto. Officials were Ray Artz and DeStefano.

STANDINGS

Alumni	3	0	1.000
Dcms	2	0	1.000
Austin	2	1	.667
Fedigan	2	1	.667
Barracks 1 & 4	1	1	.500
Barracks 2 & 3	0	2	.000
Day Hops	0	2	.000
Mendel	0	3	.000

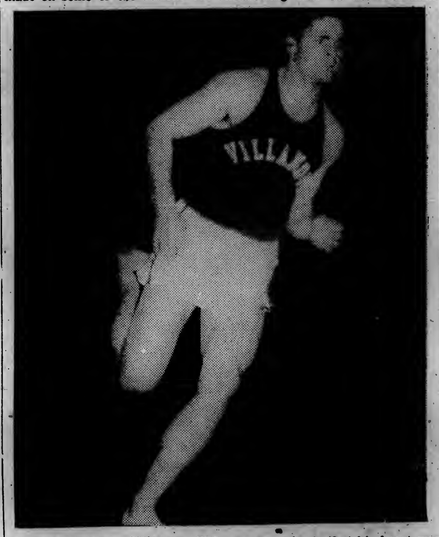
A small boy astride a donkey was taking some supplies to an army camp in Texas. He reached camp as a detachment of soldiers, preceded by a band, was on parade. The lad dismounted and held the bridle of the donkey tight in his hand. "Why are you holding onto your brother so hard for?" asked one of the soldiers teasingly. "I'm afraid he'll enlist", answered the boy without batting an eyelash.

BASKETBALL PREVIEWS

Before the next issue of the Villanovan, the Wildcats of Villanova will have seven more games on the record. This portion of the schedule which the Cats must face will prove to be their sternest test. If they get these games they can almost coast in on their record.

First on the list is Rider. They forced Rutgers to the utmost before they were edged by a four point margin. Following the Trenitonites will be Loyola with big Jim Lacy, the nation's second highest scorer last year. Army stands a shadow of their former selves, but still a threat.

The Mules from Muhlenberg smarked by Harry Donavan and Dan Mackin will be the first of a series of four tough games. Then the game which should break all existing field house records as Frank Kearny's Rhode Island State squad clash with the newest advocates of the firehouse system made famous by the same Frank Kearny. Hannan, when he last played against Rhode Island three years ago, was red hot scoring 25 counters.



Waynesburg Teachers will give the Cats a short respite before the Seton Hall game. The men from East Orange will play on their home court on Feb. 13. On the 18th of February, the Cats will be the hosts to the Hall boys.

Track Stars Participate In Olympic Physical Tests

McKenna Breaks the World Endurance Record

By Harry Jacobs

Recently, The United States Olympic Commission announced the results of extensive physical tests made on some of the nations outstanding athletes. Villanova was represented by nationally known George Guida and Jim McKenna. The latter broke all the previous endurance on an inclined treadmill.

Guida and McKenna spent 2 days at the University of Illinois, where the national tests were held. They each underwent some 100 tests which were designed to bring out their endurance, strength, flexibility, balance, agility, coordination and reaction time of each individual.

Tests Prove Prefection

The tests, which were held to ascertain just what makes a prospective olympic athlete, and to learn just how the physiology of the athlete differs from that of the ordinary man.

Jim McKenna established the new endurance record by running on an inclined treadmill, which had an upward incline of 8° and running at a speed of about 10 mph for a full 4 minutes and 55 secs. The previous best time was 3 mins, 30 secs. set by Herb McKenley, who holds the worlds 440 mark. Another interesting fact on the freshman quarter-miler is that his heart was found to be 13% larger than that of the average person. Guida described the treadmill "event." So: they attached two wires from an electrocardiograph to my stomach, told me to climb onto the 'mill and just run, run, and run until I felt I couldn't go any farther. Then they sat me down and applied all sorts of grotesque instruments to my body for about a half hour. Then back to grind the mill again."

Other track luminaries that participated in the tests, aside from McKenley, were Dick Ganslen, the pole vaulter who once reached 14'6", Lloyd Duff decathalon champ, and Jake Reyburg.

CATS BEAT RUTGERS

(Continued from Page 5)

first time a coordinated offense and proved to all that their loss to LaSalle in the first game of the campaign was due entirely to "first-night-jitters." Salinsky and Gecker showed a lot of promise, each adding 6 points to the cause. "Fancy" Sam Lackey was his usual self and dropped five field goals and one foul through the nets for an eleven point total.

For the visitors, Roger Van Cleef, a set shot artist, was outstanding. He showed himself a high calibre player and good varsity material.

Villanova	G.	F.	P.
Crossin, f	0	1	1
Ricca, f	2	3	7
Raiwen, f	1	0	2
Del Purgat'o, f	1	0	2
Arizen, c	6	3	15
Weglicki, c	1	1	3
Wolf, g	3	2	8
Hannan, g	3	2	8
Sabol, g	6	4	16
Petit, g	1	0	2
Totals	24	16	64

Rutgers	G.	F.	P.
Mackaronis, f	3	2	8
Wyeth, f	3	2	8
Senka, f	0	0	0
Parsons, c	6	0	12
Konrad, c	2	1	5
Suba, c	0	1	1
Sivess, g	4	0	8
Lynner, g	4	2	10
Best, g	0	0	0
Nelson, g	0	0	0
Totals	22	8	52

Halftime—Rutgers, 33-22.

Villanova Fresh	G.	F.	P.
Laghay, f	5	1	11
Kane, f	2	2	6
Gecker, f	3	0	6
White, c	16	5	37
Gavin, c	1	0	2
Oeis, g	2	0	4
Solinsky, g	3	0	6
Barr, g	0	1	1
Totals	32	9	73

Rutgers Fresh	G.	F.	P.
Scheesinger, f	3	3	9
Johnson, f	2	2	6
Roesch, f	2	0	4
Steward, f	1	1	3
Lichenstein, f	0	0	0
Bierman, c	0	1	1
Goldberg, c	2	0	4
Van Cleef, g	7	2	16
Mohr, g	0	0	0
Scheidig, g	0	0	0
Berns'cell, g	0	1	1
Hauck, g	0	0	0
Delahanty, g	0	0	0
Totals	17	10	44

Halftime—Villanova, 30-19.

WILDCATS TRAVEL TO MEET LOYOLA FIVE

By Tyson Reilly

On January 28th the Villanova cagers travel to Baltimore to play Loyola College's quintet at the Evergreen gym. The Greyhounds, coached by former Villanova star Emil "Lefty" Reitz, have an experienced team. Both Villanova and Loyola have about the same amount of power back from last year's teams, and the Evergreen squad is not to be undarrated. The Greyhounds recently gave all powerful LaSalle its biggest scare so far this year, losing by only four points.

Four Vets Return

Coach Reitz has four starters back from last year's team besides seven other lettermen. Leading last year's veterans is 6'2" Jim Lacy, the squad's top scorer. Last year Lacy poured an amazing 667 points through the hoop and ranked second in the nation. Another dangerous man to be watched is Andy O'Donnell. Andy, a winner of the "Purple Heart," is extremely fast and an uncanny passer. The remaining three men on the starting five will probably be Tom Gisriel, "Wish" Galvin and Paul Feeley. All three of these men are also sharp shots and saw plenty of action for the Greyhounds last year.

After their shaky start the Villanova five seems to have found themselves and will be out to continue their mastery over the Evergreen teams. The two teams have met fourteen times and the Wildcats have won twelve games. Coach Reitz in ten years at Loyola has yet to beat his Alma Mater, and will be sure to have his cagers hoop-deadly.

Probable lineups:

Villanova		Loyola
Wolf	g	Galvin
Crossin	g	Feeley
Arizen	c	Gisriel
Sabol	f	Lacy
Ricca	f	O'Donnell

POSTUS NAMED ST. T. M. COACH

By Bill Canino

Last week Al Postus, former Villanova star halfback was appointed head football coach at St. Thomas More High School where he was graduated in 1940.

During his high school career he was selected on the All-Catholic basketball team in his Sophomore year and in his Senior year he was elected by his teammates as Captain of the football-team which won the City Championship. He was also outstanding in tennis and track.

Upon entering Villanova he joined the Freshman football team but sustained a leg injury and was forced out of action in his first year. This injury, however, did not retard his play as a Sophomore for in that year he gained a Varsity position and held down the left halfback slot for the entire season. Some of his feats of that year include a 79 yard jaunt against Manhattan, and in the same game he tossed a 20 yard touchdown pass. Perhaps the greatest game he played, however, was against Iowa State which the Wildcats won 32-7. After 10 minutes of play had passed Postus faded back to throw an aerial from the Iowa 22 but was forced to run with the ball. He squirmed his way through the whole team and crossed the goal line untouched. He also scored on an off-tackle slant in the second period. He added to the offensive movement of the 'Cats by throwing two touchdown passes.

Postus became a member of the Villanova baseball team and played exceptionally well considering he had never played in high school. He will be remembered for his play against Penn in 1943 when he drove in five runs leading his team to a 6-5 win.

He was the recipient of the Maxwell Award, All-State selection and Honorable Mention All-American for two years.

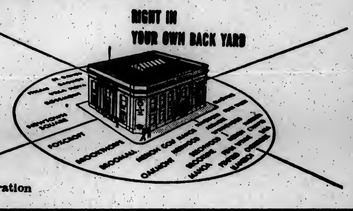
A Marine Trainee, Postus left Villanova in 1944 and was sent to Parris Island, South Carolina, and was later commissioned a Lieutenant in the Marine Corps.

WELCOME CATS
HAMBURG HEARTH
814 LANCASTER AVE. BRYN MAWR, PA.

TOWN TALK

(Continued on Page 8)

Arm-chair travelers and adventurers may journey to Panama by attending the lecture of the world famous traveler and lecturer, Burton Holmes, on Friday and Saturday evenings by traveling to the Academy of Music. Mr. Holmes' lecture will be supplemented with color movies taken "On the Road to Panama". On the following two weekends Mr. Holmes will take his listeners to "Amazing Arizona" and "The Canadian Rockies".



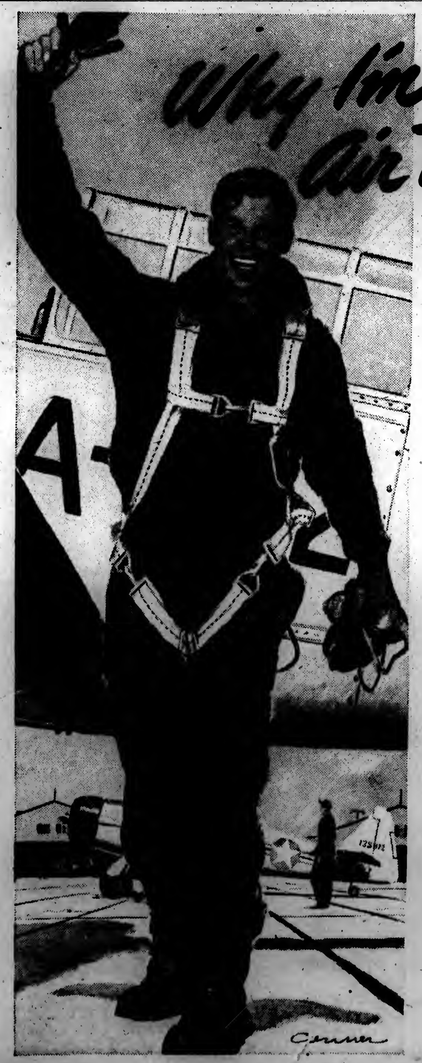
For those who are interested in opera, and those who would like to develop an interest, the American Opera Company performances present a worthwhile experience. On Monday, January the 26th, this company will present two small operas that are becoming more and more popular; Puccini's "The Cloak" and Menotti's "The Old Maid and the Thief". The operas will be presented in English

OPEN A SPECIAL CHECKING ACCOUNT TO-DAY — —

Save the bother of having to be your own BANK

If you are without a personal checking account, you can now have this modern convenience without a minimum balance requirement. You simply pay a small amount for your check book when opening your account. There are no other charges. Ask for Miss Abernethyand; she will explain everything.

THE BRYN MAWR TRUST CO.
BRYN MAWR



Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation

WHY WALK?
CLEANING PRESSING
We Pick Up and Deliver Daily at the
PIE SHOP
COLADONATO TAILOR SHOPPE

JEANNETT'S
Bryn Mawr Flower Shop
Corsage Specialists
FREE DELIVERY
823 Lancaster Ave.
BRYN MAWR PA.
Bryn Mawr 0570 : Flowers by Wire

Why I'm an Air Force Pilot

"I guess it began when I was just a kid, making non-stop flights around the dining-room table. Later on, the town got an airport. I got to know every plane, right down to the smallest bolts and screws.

"During the war I took off with the Aviation Cadets. The folks were all for it. They figured—correctly—that it was the best way to get me into the air where I belonged.

"I made it all right. Trained in the best planes the Air Force has, and now I'm heading for transition work in jets. The pay? Now that I'm a pilot, $336 a month, plus $500 for each year of active duty. And there's plenty of room for promotions.

"But that's not the real point. Some men belong in the air. They were born wanting wings—with the action, the pride, the freedom that go with them. There's no better way to have all that, along with the world's finest flying training, than to join the Aviation Cadets. And the future—in civilian aviation or in the Air Force—is as wide open as the horizon. If you want the fast-moving life, why not drop around to the Recruiting Station in your community or the nearest Air Force installation."

U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Service

WIN YOUR WINGS

with the Aviation Cadets

ELEVEN HUNDRED COLLECTED BY NFCCS

Clothing Drive to Open Next Month

A total of $1,185.45 has been collected by the Villanova College Chapter of the National Federation of Catholic College Students in their recent drive for funds to aid needy students in Europe.

John Stanley, senior delegate to the N. F. C. C. S., has announced that the money has been sent to the student relief campaign headquarters of the N. F. C. C. S. in New York.

Mr. Stanley said the drive was hampered by many difficulties and that one class had never had a collection. He said that the largest amount received was collected the day of the Student Convocation, when Villanova students contributed $203.05.

Mr. Stanley added that the largest amount made on an affair sponsored by the federation was $288.93, which was made on the "Harvest Hoedown" dance.

A general breakdown of the figures showed that the average amount contributed by each student was $.47, but Mr. Stanley said that it was not fair to condemn the students for this because the figures include those who gave nothing as well as those who contributed more than their share.

The freshmen, considering the number of their class, contributed the largest amount in the drive. The class' 775 students gave 35.6 per cent of the total.

In announcing the totals for the fund drive, Mr. Stanley added that the second half of American aid for needy European students would begin shortly after the start of the second semester.

This drive will concentrate on collecting clothing, books and writing materials from Villanova students. By writing material Mr. Stanley said he meant paper, pencils and pens. Plans for the method of collection have not been completed.

Mr. Stanley further poinfed out that in concentrating on collecting for the foreign students material needs we must not forget to aid them spiritually through our prayers and Mass offerings.

(Continued from Page 1)

go on the air due to technical difficulties.

However, we got it straight from the cameraman himself that both nights he had made the mistake of pointing the camera at Bill Carlin who obliges with a big Pepsodent smile. That's what really did the trick. The brilliance of his smile burnt out the photoelectric cells, hence, no TV.

If you ever just happen to run out of cigarettes during the course of the day, just stop in the Villanovan Office and see Mr. Phillip Morris (Nick Marziani) or Mr. Chesterfield (Joe King). Don't tell them we sent you, though.

Kay Fury of Immaculata (also sister of Bob Fury of the 150's) informed us that her next door neighbors liked Tonny Cocco so much that they have now named their dog "Coke."

To the 30 some odd fellows who are leaving these hallowed halls of Villanova, having completed their courses, that is, we say Good Luck. May you all be physicists like Rose, leaders like Myers and speculators like Graham. . . .

The Fifth Column

The weekend saw Joe Topper escorting "Floss" McCrystal, Bill McDonald two-stepping with Jane Burns, Tony Russo and Al Celing amusing their dates with stories from Alumni Hall; Dick Hostak with Barbara Keever, Ann Sullivan jitterbugging with Jack Casby. Pat Casey showing Jim Plunkett how to rhumba, Frank Guzikowski helping Mary Loftus celebrate her coming of age, Al Petraillis with Babette; Ray Cummings and Ed Lobkowicz helping Bob Keller sing "Manana", Whitzer White kept some of the Mass. boys happy after the dance, while a few others managed to get lost going to the "Barn". In all everyone chalked the weekend up as being slightly "real". Now everyone is getting ready for a long wait long until springtime rolls around . . .

THE BULLETIN BOARD

DELTA PI MU

Last Tuesday, Jan. 13, in room 213 Mendel Hall, the Delta Mu Fraternity held its third meeting of the year. The Fraternity's newly written constitution was distributed to the members for their personal reference, and various topics were brought up for discussion.

Decisions were made to foster tours to cultural and historical points of interest in and around Philadelphia, and to make a monthly practice of purchasing five tickets to a play being presented in town, which tickets are to be raffled off at 25 cents a chance at each meeting. Last Tuesday, five members won tickets to "The Song of Norway" now being presented at the Shubert Theatre.

A committee of four headed by James Morgan was formed to select these plays and to investigate the various points of interest to be visited.

It was decided that the dues of all active members are to be paid by the next meeting, which will be held at 8:30 P.M. on Wednesday, February 18. At this meeting the guest speaker will be Dr. Bauer, who will entertain the group by relating some of his interesting travels.

ASME MEETS

Robert Beals, Student Chairman of the ASME addressed the student branch at a meeting of the society on Thursday, Jan. 16. Speaking to the group he named the activities for the coming semester and requested that members of the society prepare technical papers for the student convention, at Lehigh University in April.

The meeting was concluded by a movie and a talk by the faculty advisor, Mr. George Auth.

Retreat Schedule

MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY

7:00—Mass in Chapel for Freshmen and Sophomores (A-K) Residents.

7:45—Mass in Chapel for Upperclassmen. Sophomores (L-Z), Residents.

8:00—Mass in Field House for Sophomores and Freshmen, non-residents.

8:30—Mass in Chapel for Juniors and Seniors. Non-residents.

9:30—Conference.

11:00—Conference.

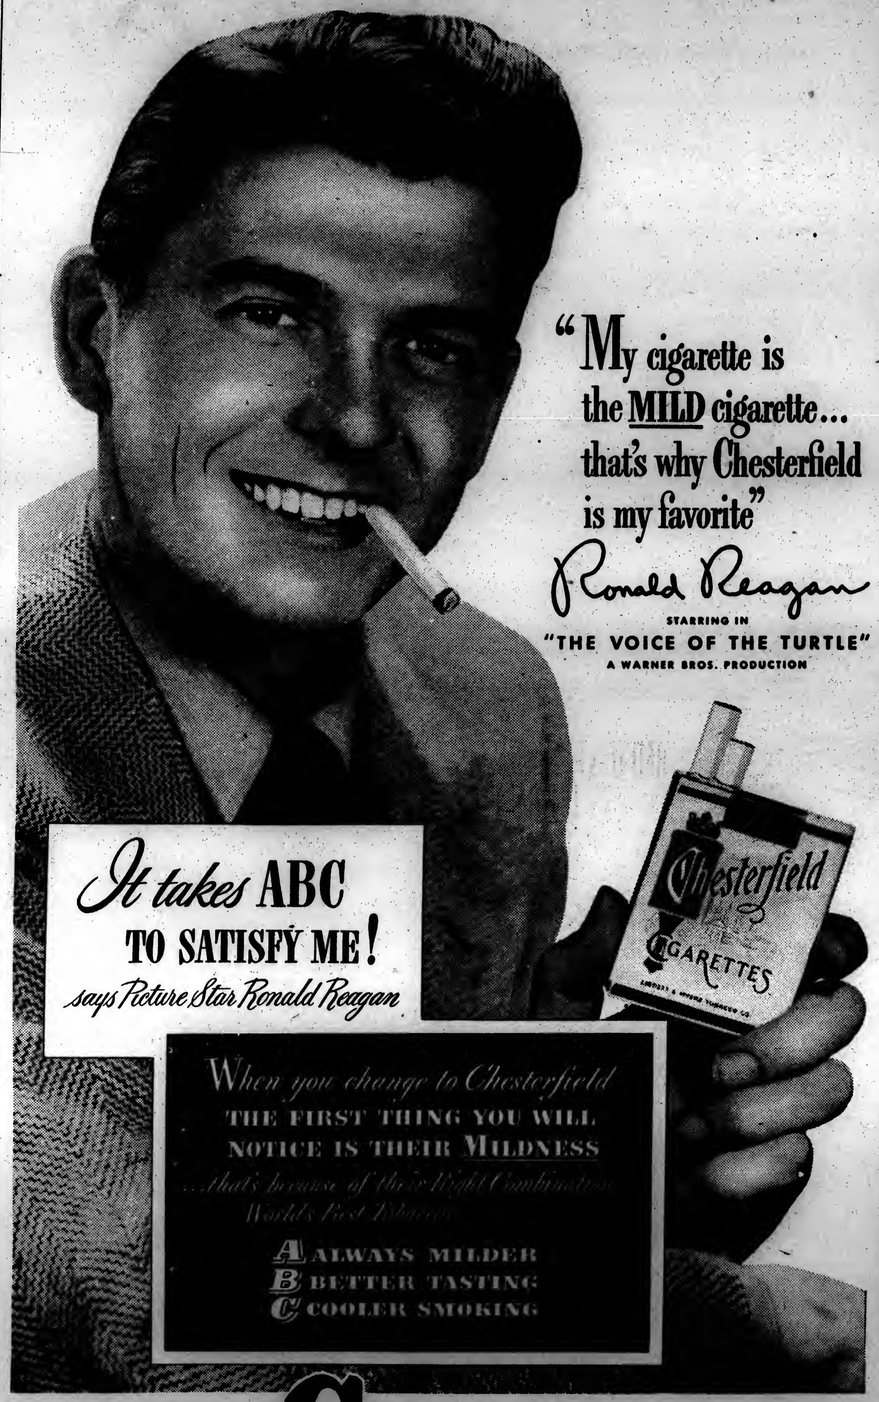
2:00—Conference.

3:30—Holy Hour.

8:00—Night Prayers (residents).

Confessions: 11:30, 4:30, 8:20 P.M., Field House.

THURSDAY



9:00—Mass for entire student body—Field House.

Radio Station WVIL

(Continued from Page 1)

interview. The schedule which follows, this is usually more flexible to allow for the varied programs which are usually offered. The most popular programs at present seem to be the "Radio Theatre," which this week gives its fourth in a series, an original adaptation by Bob Resnick of "Dead as in Blonde" tonight at 8 P.M.; Carl Yeager's Jazz Review, tomorrow at 8 P.M., and the standard evening program of "Music to Study By." A morning program is being planned, which is due to run from 7:30 to 9:00 P.M.

In general, the radio station finds that its efforts are being successful despite its recent initiation. Plans for the future include many features of increased quality and interest and an increase in equipment to permit the flexibility of remote broadcasts from any part of the campus, and in addition some recording equipment to permit the storage either for rebroadcast or for reference of events or productions pertaining to student life and interests.

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 23 — No. 12 VILLANOVA COLLEGE, VILLANOVA, PA, Tuesday, February 17, 1948

VILLANOVA COLLEGE LIBRARY VILLANOVA PA

"LITTLE WOMEN" AND MEN

From left: Donald Collins, Frank Guzikowski, Peggy Portner, Mary Jane McLaughlin, Anthony Mullen, Doris Sailer.

Belle Masque Dramatists Star In "Little Women"

Villanova Players Cooperate with Immaculata Girls in Presenting Broadway Success

In a venture which bids well to be one of the most popular and efficient instruments for the exchange of good will between Villanova and sister colleges, the Cue and Curtain Dramatic Society of Immaculata College with the co-operation of Villanova's Belle Masque Dramatic Group successfully produced its feature presentation of the year, "Little Women".

"Little Women", an adaptation from the book of the same name by Louisa Mae Alcott, was an all-Senior undertaking, a picture of family life in America, its humor and sadness, petty squabbles and lasting love, tribulations and blessings. It also succeeded in providing an evening of pleasing and highly enjoyable entertainment.

Successful Broadway Play

A revival of the same play enjoyed a successful Broadway run several years ago. The scenes of the several different performances were the Little Flower Theatre at Immaculata and St. Aloysius Academy at Westchester. It is estimated that the group played before and aggregate audience of over a thousand people. Included in the cast were the following: Peggy Portner, Mary Jane McLaughlin, Mary Alice Bonner, Alice McCrystal, Doris Sailer, Joan Stevens; Don Collins, Joe Henneay, Tony Mullen and Frank Guzikowski.

Sister M. Donatus, I. H. M., is moderator of the Cue and Curtain unit while Rev. William Krupa, O. S. A., directs the activities of the local troupe.

First Combined Play

Revolutionary and experimental in that it marked the first male participation in dramatic productions at the girls' college, the program was praised both for its dramatic content and portrayal of the American family scene.

In the past, one of the main obstacles to co-production by the groups, has been the inability to arrange rehearsal schedules, rising from transportational difficulties. With the co-operation of the Sisters of the Immaculate Heart and the Immaculata Administration headed by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Vincent L. Burns, a feasible plan was worked out providing for transportation and dining facilities for the Villanovans in the cast. It is hoped that this past activity will set a pattern for future theatrical work under the joint auspices of the two societies.

Band Opens Concert Tour at Immaculata

Last evening the Villanova Band and Glee Club gave the first concert of its pre-Easter schedule at Immaculata College. The affair, which was adjudged a success by those who heard it, was held in the Immaculata College auditorium before a capacity crowd. The fifty piece band and the twenty-five voice glee club, under the leadership of Rev. R. E. Handran, OSA, the moderator of all student musical activities, played everything from Brockenshire to Gershwin and from Pacilla to Irving Berlin. Among the favorites played were "El Relicario," the "Rhapsody in Blue," and "Papa—Won't You Dance with Me?" from the Broadway hit, "High Button Shoes."

The next concert to be held will be on February 23 at Vineland High School, and thereafter, at St. Joseph's Hospital on March 1, Rosemont College on March 8, and Chestnut Hill College on March 12.

Buses for the band members and those interested in attending will leave the Field House at 6:30 P. M. on the evenings of the concerts and in most cases there will be dancing directly following each concert.

College Enrollment Shows Small Decrease

The latest available figures on the registration for the Spring semester show that 2012 students are presently enrolled in the college. This number, released by Rev. Joseph I. Boyle, O. S. A., Registrar, includes 1160 day students or 57.6% and 852 residents or 42.4% of the total enrollment.

While the new figure represents a drop from the total of last semester when 2250 students were listed, Fr. Boyle does not look upon decrease as indicating a trend. He pointed out that no new class of freshmen is admitted at the midterm while thirty-five seniors completed their courses and will graduate in June. Some twenty admitted this term are returning after completing their service with the armed forces.

As yet no further breakdown of the enrollment in the various departments is available.

DEBATING TEAM URGES LARGER ENROLLMENT

Plan Weekly Debates Pending Increase in Membership

Villanova's debating teams have always enjoyed a favorable reputation, more recently evidenced last year by their placing among the top three schools in the country at the national debate tournament held at Princeton. Invitations to participate in several national debate tournaments have been received in recent weeks by Father Krupa, the faculty moderator of this activity. Participation in tournament debating affords the men with an excellent opportunity to further the reputation of Villanova in national intercollegiate circles.

The resolution being debated by colleges and universities all over the country this year is. Resolved: That a Federal World Government Should Be Established. Some campuses have taken such an active interest in this question from an affirmative view that they have started student World Federalist groups. They now have a national student organization with their own newspaper devoted to the furthering of interest in a Federal World Union. Opposition to the movement has been demonstrated by many noted statesmen, leading educators, reputable columnists and well-known commentators.

New members of Beta Gamma will be supplied with debate outlines for both sides of the question and bibliographies for use in securing research material. If you are interested in debate, regardless of former experience, by all means come to the meeting to be held in the C&F auditorium Tuesday evening, February 17, at 7:30 P. M.

The debating situation at Villanova promises to take on a new color after the society's meeting next Tuesday evening, (Feb. 17). As members of the Ben Franklin Debate Conference and the Regional Forensic Commission of the NPCCS our debaters will be kept quite active throughout their season which opened this month (mentioned organizations promote inter-collegiate debating among the schools in the Philadelphia area.) Debates with colleges in New York, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Annapolis and Washington will provide the society's members with interesting and educational trips. In an attempt to encourage new membership Beta Gamma is working out a plan in conjunction with St. Joseph's College to provide weekly debates on a reciprocal basis. Under this plan they will have at least four Villanova men debating every week. If membership permits they will try to work out a similar program with Temple and Penn.

Lenten Devotion Schedule Released

Masses during Lent will be offered at: 6:, 7:, 7:30, 8:, 8:30, 9:, and 12:15. This schedule will prevail on all days except Sunday, thereby affording all students an opportunity to attend Mass.

Noonday Mass During Lent

New this year is the 12:15 Mass. This Mass will be said on all class days as an aid to those desiring to attend daily Mass. As at all other Masses, Holy Communion will be distributed at the 12:15 Mass.

Confessions during Lent will be heard daily during the 7., 7:30, and 12:15 Masses.

Stations of the Cross will be celebrated at the regular Wednesday and Thursday evening Chapel period.

NROTC Rifle Club Fires In Hearst Match

Five - Man Squad to Represent Villanova

Last Thursday evening, five members of the newly formed NROTC rifle club fired their records for the Randolph Hearst Memorial Trophy match. Earlier last week a group of NROTC students, who had previous experience, began practicing on the rifle range in the nearly finished Naval Science building. With the results of the firing, the field of about twelve was narrowed down to the five best men, who fired the match. The Hearst is a nation-wide postal match sponsored by the Hearst papers, and is one of the foremost matches of the year. Because of the grouping system in the contest, the club will compete only with the fifty-two other NROTC colleges in the country and not with the entire country.

The range is located in the basement of the new Naval Science building, and although the facilities are not finished, the club was able to use them last week. Captain Fairfield USMC, coach of the team, stated that practice would be discontinued until the range is completed.

The club consisted of twelve men last week but practice was limited to those with experience. This was done to afford as much practice as possible to those who would fire in the match. When the range is completed, the club will be open to all NROTC students who possess the required skill and interest.

Those who qualified to fire the Hearst Trophy Match were: J. Stillwagon, F. Hittinger, F. Gobes, J. Inglesby, and D. Cameron.

Since many of the competing members are Freshman, Capt. Fairfield holds high hopes for his team in future years. The team plans matches for this spring, and with more practice under its belt intends to bring more victories back to Villanova.

EMPLOYMENT . . .

The following student groups are requested to report to the office of Mr. Friel between Wednesday and Saturday of this week.

1.—Students who filed an application for part time employment last semester; this group will amend their schedule of free time.
2.—Students desiring part-time employment who have not filed applications.
3.—Students desiring summer employment.

ANNOUNCE ROLES FOR SPRING PRODUCTION

Rosemont Group Will Aid in the Staging of Chesterton Play

Thursday night Feb. 12 The Belle Masque met to cast for the spring play. The play, to be presented in April, will be Magic by G. K. Chesterton, a dramatic comedy in three acts. The Jest and Gesture society of Rosemont will take the female roles.

The play will be directed by Reverend William J. Krupa, OSA.

The cast as chosen presents Ted Wilbur, and Mary Rose Brown as the Conjurer and Patrica, opposing leads, Ed L. Doyle as the Duke, Dick Harris as Morris the Duke's nephew from America, Joe Leary as Doctor Grimthorpe, Ed Fanelli as Reverend Smith, and Loretta Moore as the Duke's secretary.

Magic is the first three-act play given by the Belle Masque since its reorganization last February. Since that time the society has spent its efforts to the organization of a group which would be capable of doing full justice to just such a play as Magic. The previous plays showed definite promise and have groomed the society for this attempt.

On the 22nd of February the Belle Masque will cooperate with the Catholic Theater hour Radio program on channel WPWA of Chester, Pa., to present the Life of Joyce Kilmer. The program is sponsored by Rev. O'Reiley of St. James High School, Chester, Pa. The Belle Masque will be represented by Don Collins and Bob Resnick. In keeping with the theme Joyce Kilmer's son will be present for the broadcast.

Feb. 24 casting will begin on She Stoops to Conquer, a radio play to be presented by the Jest and Gesture society and the Belle Masque. The tryouts will be held at seven-thirty in the evening in Good Council Hall at Rosemont. There will be five male roles to be filled.

The Belle Masque is forming a subsidiary group which will be known as the Belle Aire Players of the Chaplin's Corner, which will present radio plays over the channel WVIL.

These activities are to cap the season for the Belle Masque. There is a strong possibility, however, that there will be other less pretentious ventures in the line of public radings. These will be announced if and when they are organized.

Engineers Hear Vocational Talks Thursday and Friday

Mr. Dwyer, a representative of the Pennsylvania Highway Department, will be present on campus Thursday, 19th February, 1948 to address sophomore, junior and senior engineering students. The conference will be held in 215 Mendel at 2:00 P. M. and will center on the departments' summer program of maintainance and operation from the viewpoint of employment. Mr. Dwyer will solicit permanent employees from among the senior engineering students.

The U. S. Navy, represented by Commander F. E. Swanson, will visit the Villanova Campus on February 20, at 9:00 A. M. to discuss with all engineers the advantages of the U. S. Navy such as the Navy's security benefits, opportunities for post graduate engineering training, and the fact that in peacetime, officers in the Civil Engineer Corps serve ashore.

Commander Swanson will emphasize the peacetime activities of the Civil Engineer Corps.

Commander Swanson stated that his intentions are to acquaint the engineers with the great professional opportunitys which the corps offer. More than 100 different, major types of facilities are designed, constructed and maintained by the Corps, ranging from airfields, hospitals, and roads to drydocks, housing and power plants — every type, in fact, that would be required in building a city.

An assembly of the Civil Engineering group will be attempted; however, if this is not effected, those interested can arrange for a personal interview with the Commander by contacting the Placement Director, Wm. F. Friel, at 221 Mendel Hall.

A POTENT FORCE

A number of years past, some of our country's greatest figures were born during the month of February. It seems significant then that this same month of February should have been chosen and dedicated especially to the Catholic press in its work in our everyday world.

The former exerted an ennobling influence in the shaping of our country's destiny, a country that was afflicted at the one time with pangs of birth and at the other time ridden with the civil strife of adolescence. The latter, our Catholic Press, should be an instrument ministering to a full-grown country, flushed with the new-found pride of achievement, eager for ideas which would mark it as progressive and great.

It is most of all at this time in our national development, a time likened to young manhood, that we need a steadying influence and sage advice. We must turn to that agent which has the most to offer us lest evils befall us in our middle age, and old age find us decrepit and worn.

The Catholic Press is indeed a potent force in propounding Christian ideals and principles. It is the voice of one dispensing that sage wisdom and sound advice so sorely needed today.

We are duly impressed when we look at a few facts and figures, illustrating the position of the Catholic Press in journalistic circles of today

We find that of 2000 magazines more widely circulated today, some 130 have a total circulation of no less than 210,000,000 copies each month, in a country with two-thirds as many people. This would be well and good if all the stories in these issues were on a high moral plane. Sadly enough, that is nowhere near the situation in actual existence. Not infrequently, even in some of the better magazines, do we find inserted stories and articles indicating gradual moral depreciation of standards in journalistic circles of today.

It is not that all people enjoy these appeals to the baser instincts. It is a case of appealing to that element of the populace, far in the minority, which does not have the resentment for such things held by most healthy-minded Americans.

A comparatively small number of people in the writing field control these choices. Should there be any adequate reason why these people should not rise from the majority, the people with sound minds and interests? We, as Catholics, have much to say . . . we have the instrument for saying it . . . it is for us to improve this instrument and see that its effect is as far reaching as the noble ideas which prompt it. We must evince an interest in proclaiming the moral norms of our lives and the lives of those about us.

As Father James Keller says in the publication of "The Christophers", "We must again realize our relationship to God, the part the Divine plays in our lives, our capacity to achieve greatness as well as to sin. Our literary characters and plots must possess 'magnitude' ". Perhaps when we attain this stage of journalistic perfection, we shall feel more secure about our future, "middle age."

F. J. G.

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

WILLIAM F. ALTENPOHL, '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
FRANK GUZIKOWSKI ..... Managing Editor
PAT LAFERTY ..... News Editor
GEORGE SZYMANSKI, '50 ..... Feature Editor
RICHARD HUBBARD, '48 ..... Picture Editor
VINCE PEDANO, 49 ..... Circulation Manager
NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI, '48 ..... Business Manager
EDWARD OXFORD, '50 ..... Copy Editor
JAMES PLUNKETT '49 ..... Sports Editor
DAN ROBINSON, '50 ..... Asst. Photo Editor

News Staff

Michael Marshal '49, Richard Shinners '48, Michael Joseph Nowlan '49, Charles Laferty '49, Frank Gobes '51, Frank Guzikowski '49, Thomas Mitchell '51, Joseph Miller '50, John James Connaly '51, Joseph Kenney '50, Joseph Callahan '51, George R. Reinhart '51, Arthur Woodrow '51, Louis Alvare '48, Tom Smith '51.

Feature Staff

R. E. Manifold '51, William Breninghouse '51, Joseph Quill '50, A. J. Mullen '49, David V. Anthony '51, John A. Rowe '51, Gunther Kaiser '49, P. McManus '48, John Mallick '49, Vince O'Neil '51, Mark Morris '51, James Tayoun '51, Leo Dodd '49, Emil Mayer '49, Richard Hudak '49, Thomas Russo '51.

Sports Staff

James Lyons '48, Paul Altenpohl '49, Ned Hoffner '49, Arnold Keehan '49, William Canino '50, Neal Fahy '50, George Mondschein '50, Raymond Mondschein '50, Tyson Reilly '50, Walter Rygiel '50, Harry Jacobs '51, William Kussarits '51, Raymond MacWilliams '51, Paul Pressede '51, Harold Range '51.

Picture Staff

Robert Graf '50, Raymond Berninger '49, Dan Haflinger '50, William Neal Carter '51, Dan Robinson '49, William Murphy '51, Harry Papaan '51, Robert Pope '50, Jack Muratori '51, "Tex" Winters '50.

Business Staff

Joe King '48, Barry Gibbons '51, Jack Gibbons '51, Donald Baralt '50.

Circulation Staff

George Weber, III, '51, Ralph Iorio '50, Ed Kent '51, Charles Klunk '51, Ralph Skowron '51, Gene Langan '51, Harry Papaan '51, Robert Pope '50 Wm. Coakley '50, Maurice Wilhere '48, Mario Piazzolla '51, Paul Schreiber '50.

Copy Staff

Frank McGeehan '50, Girard Farnan '50, Edgar Le Blanc '50, Steve Keiss '51, Robert MacRoberts '51, William Foley '50, Dick Randolph '50.

Faculty Advisor— Rev. John A. Klekotka, O.S.A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman —
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription: $2 per year. Circulation: 5000.
Entered as second class matter at the Villanova Post Office December 27, 1925.

Member of Associate Collegiate Press, Distributor of Collegiate Digest.
Member of Catholic School Press Association, Catholic College Press Association.

THE ACCEPTABLE TIME

Many a time have I sinned in the past.
I will, for these, atone by fast . . .
For earthly pleasures soon pass away,
But Heaven obtained, will always stay.

For a week now we have been trading worldly pleasures for the most lasting happiness of knowing that we are at least making an attempt to atone for our sins against the great Christ Who suffered and died on Calvary. Still, with the holy ashes barely gone from our foreheads and our fasting status just recently determined, we are liable to start taking it easy, to feel that we are real martyrs. True, we have sacrificed our cigarettes, given up ice cream or candy, cut out our shows and dances. Yes, the fasting regulations have troubled us; the morning coffee hardly replaces the scrapple or bacon and eggs, and the noon lunch has been just that—a lunch. We have ben sacrificing, but shouldn't we go the other way, too?

It is not hard to see the comparable insignificance of a sacrificed cigarette or steak with the crucifixon of Christ. To make our penances more acceptable to God we have the wonderful opportunity to sacrifice a little morning sleep to attend Mass, the unbloody sacrifice of the cross. We can go a step further and receive Christ in Holy Communion. Daily Mass and Communion are in keeping with the spirit of Lent, and have become a habit with many students.

Another great devotion is the saying of the Stations of the Cross, and this is especially appropriate during the Lenten season. By meditating on the sorrowful Passion of Christ, and by constantly bearing in mind His great sacrifice, our own fastings and penances will be more frequent and more easily performed.

Then on Easter Morn we can rejoice in the glorious Resurrection, knowing that in our small way we have tried by our mortification and prayers to prepare for the greatness of the event.

D. V. A.

PRIDE AND PREJUDICE

Anyone who has thought about and talked very much about the idea of racial prejudice or bias often becomes stymied in attempts to present the subject afresh because there are always the same old arguments which usually end by someone asking, "How would you like it if your sister were to marry a negro?" That question or the more personal one of, "Would YOU marry a colored girl?", is supposed to be the proposition to end the discussion. It might be interesting to pause to consider these questions to see what might be a reasonable answer to them.

The question seems to be in almost everyone's mind because almost everyone—so it seems—has visions of the world peopled by racially pure populations—preferably of the Caucasian race. It seems to offend aesthetically. They all seem to have the animal breeders' mentality. They care only for developing white skins and are not at all concerned with the color or state of the souls within. Many have forgotten that men have souls.

No, I would not marry a Negro girl—at least not until I had obtained a visa and passage to France or Brazil or some other place over which the Stars and Stripes did not fly. This America is not the place to marry the one, one love—unless she conforms to the color scheme. Any Negro girl one would marry, one would love too dearly to subject her to the cruel treatment—the silent treatment at best—which both would receive from the majority of the inhabitants of the " . . . land of the free and the home of the brave . . . ". We heard the Freedoms in this country, alright, but there are restrictive clauses attached to them in black and white which indicate that one is free to love anyone at all as long as the color of her skin is "right", the bone formations in her face conform, and the texture of her hair normal. It doesn't matter about the condition of the soul; it's just the skin which is important. As a matter of fact if you want to "keep" her no one would mind too much, really, as long as you play "safe", and made sure that the purpose of cohabitation was frustrated. We fought the Germans during the War to save ourselves from the rule of monsters who believed—amongst other things—in the pseudo-philosophy of racism. We laughed at the myths of Nordic superiority which the Germans believed and may still believe, but, in laughing we proved ourselves hypocrites, because down deep we believed, and still believe, in the superiority of the white man. Let us put an end to this; let's become living Christians and not reasonable facsimiles in white skin.

CAMPUS CALENDAR

Tuesday, February 17
6:30—Chapel

Wednesday, February 18
5:00—Industrial Relations Club—215 Mendel
8:00—Way of the Cross—Chapel
8:30—VILLANOVA vs. Seton Hall—Field House

Thursday, February 19
6:30—Way of the Cross—Chapel

Friday, February 20
N. Y. A. C. vs. VILLANOVA—Away

Saturday, February 21
Track Meet—VILLANOVA vs. St. Francis

Monday, February 23
8:00—Chapel

Tuesday, February 24
Next issue of the VILLANOVAN

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor of the Villanovan
Villanova College
Villanova, Pa.

Dear Sir:

It was the writer's good fortune to have a letter to the editor printed in a previous issue of the Villanovan. The letter caused some comment, indicating two things: the students do read the college paper, and they are aware of campus events. These observations prompted another letter. It is hoped that there is some additional reaction and response to this. The writer would like to have it understood that this letter is in the interest of a bigger and better Villanova, a neater and happier Villanova.

The resident students are faced with the daily problem of standing in line for chow. This is, at best, an odious prerequisite for each meal. If each man took his proper place at the end of the line everybody would then have to wait no more than ten minutes to eat. Is that too much to ask? There are, however, numerous rogues, the arrogant privileged few, who feel it unnecessary to observe the formality of taking their proper place in line. They cut in at the beginning, leaving the conscientious simpletons to wait as long as a half hour at the other end. This is, to put it mildly,—annoying. Arise, ye waiters in line! Unite against the interlopers!

When better weather returns many day hops will resume their practice of eating out of doors. Will they also resume their disgusting habit of littering the campus with trash? It is suggested that, to prevent this, waste baskets be placed strategically to receive refuse. The obligation to use them then will rest with the students. If this is not done, the campus, a beautiful one when you stop to think of it, will again resemble an empty lot in the heart of a slum district.

If those to whom this applies will cooperate, their efforts will in no small way improve campus life.

(Signed) Hopeful

ALUMNUS WANTS NAME RETAINED

Dear Sir:

In a recent issue of THE VILLANOVAN I noticed with extreme regret and alarm that you were sponsoring a motion to change the name of "The Pie Shop". I regret this exceedingly and want to put myself on record as being opposed to it. I am sure that hundreds of alumni will agree with my feelings in this matter, and, incidentally, their opinion should be considered if any change is contemplated.

"The Pie Shop" is an institution at Villanova. Louie and his emporium are just as much a part of the college as the library, the various educational departments or the football team. Louie and his "Pie Shop" are a tradition at the college. I do not know how long he has been there. He was there in 1927 when I was a Freshman,and I hope he will be there in 1959 when my son will enter the college. I hope he is like "The Brook" and will go on forever.

Good times spent over a soda or hot dog in "The Pie Shop" are as much a part of memories of college days for the alumni as hours spent in classrooms or laboratories. Any attempt to change "The Pie Shop's" name, therefore, would be, in effect, an attempt on the part of the present student body to erase those treasured memories of college days which we alumni call to mind in pleasant recollection.

Change the name of "The Pie Shop". You might as well rename Mendel Hall—or even the college itself. For that matter, why not change the name of THE VILLANOVAN It could be called THE CATS' HOWL or GROWL or some such title. No, it will always be "The Pie Shop" to us, regardless of what you call it. Why not leave the old names alone? If you want to modernize it, make it "The Pie Shoppe" and everybody will be happy.

Very truly yours,
B. W. Jenkins, M. D. '31

105th RETREAT SCENES

105th Annual Retreat Fr. Schott, of Harrisburg, Retreat Master, brings together over 2,000 men . . . P. & W. 69th St. station jammed each morning . . . extra trains quickly filled . . . Bob Whalen at the keys of electric organ set up in Field House balcony . . . spiritual reading matter available at all times . . . St. Blase's Day observed with blessing of throats . . . ten confessionals busy after each conference . . . Sanctuary Society busy as servers, ushers, checkers, etc. . . . snow falls heavily on third day . . . Bob Stellar in charge of Student Committee . . . wives and girl friends present at Nocturnal Adoration . . . O'Dwyer Hall turns out en masse for 3:30 A. M. Adoration . . . Field House cat present amusing sight gently resting before the altar . . . Caesar turned away twice . . . Volunteer Adoration lists will be bound for library . . . George Winters on call all night as Sacristan . . . Schola Cantorum of St. Mary's Hall sings High Mass . . . Twelve priests assist at General Communion . . . Fr. McGuire, President, addresses closing remarks . . . the new semester begins in the spirit of Christ.

ZOUNDS! — — — — NO CAVIAR?

By BILL BRENINGHOUSE

What, pray tell, has happened to the Pie Shop? No longer do the students of Villanova descend into the darker recesses of Mendel Hall to procure the necessities of life. No more do they delight in the dark, dank atmosphere of the damp cellar where humanity swarmed to consume lunches, gone now the opaque haze of cigarette smoke and the pleasing aroma of burnt grease in the popcorn machine.

Visibility Improved

Removed from the protection of Mendel Hall, the Pie Shop is now located on an obscure section of the campus in the guise of an army mess hall. After a long search the unitiated will be able to locate this place divine. As he enters, the student notices the same seething mass of male humanity smoking the same amount of cigarettes, the smoke of which is diffused throughout a larger volume of space thus increasing visibility over former days.

The sounds coming from the new Pie Shop make the poor student's head reel. He looks over towards a group of men huddled over some sort of contraption. All of a sudden he hears dingety-ding-click-click and clickety-click-ding-ding and a sigh of relief goes up from those around the contraption. Closer inspection reveals a Villanovan perspiring freely while maneuvering a metal ping-pong ball over a recorated board. Every time the ball hits something lights flash on and off, and there is a loud clickety-click-click-ding-ding or sometimes a dingety-ding-ding-click-click. The operator of this 'pinball" machine pushes, pulls, sighs, moans, groans, gasps, chuckles and curses as the route of the ball sometimes favors him and sometimes does him dirt. He is not satisfied unless he wins at least twenty games for each nickel he invests. An experienced artist seldom is seen to invest more than two nickles for an evening's play.

I Can't Give You . . .

Yes, the good old Pie Shop is changing, and as the amazed visitor leaves the pinballer to his pushing, pulling, sighing, etc., a strange thing happens. Music, strange exotic music, comes waft ing through the smoke-infused air. One stands aghast as he hears the strains of a marvelous melody, something like "I can't give you anything but chi-chi." It's just like the movies, music from nowhere. But no, a beautiful illusion is shattered as one sees the juke-box selectors and the loudspeakers along the wall. Another step in the modernization of the Pie Shop.

One thing is still the same. That line is still there, and as one goes past the multi-flavored ice cream, cookies, cakes and candy he notices a larger variety. When he reaches the cash register he learns that ice cream now costs twelve cents. Faith is once again restored as one notes a container of tobacco from which anyone may draw a few free pipefuls. Ah, such thoughtfulness, such good will, such a generous advertising agency!

Joe Juggles Jugs

Adventure after adventure awaits everyone in the Pie Srop. Any and every game that can be played with a deck of cards can be found in progress. A Juggler in the making is seen coming down the line with three or four cups of coffee, nine doughnuts and a box of crackers in one hand; two cups of coffee in his teeth, and five dollars and one cent in his other hand, which sum he hands over in payment as he grabs three or four candy bars with his left foot (all this time he has been balancing ten text books on his head). Of course, this type is rare, only about seventy-eight percent of the patrons are able to accomplish feats like this.

Dream Den

From the people who should know it has been learned that the Pie Shop is not through expanding. Many newer developments are planned. Soon there will be murals on the wall depicting the life cycle of some sort of phaeophyceae and the the true story of Hammurabi. These are designed to aid students in their studies. A moving picture projector will soon be installed with which the latest western will be shown on Saturdays. Genuine Oriental rugs are on their way from Hoboken. A second story is being contemplated with seventy-five pinball machines.

As we close the door we hear the rumble of manly voices accentuated by an occasional Clickety-click-click-ding-ding and the haunting strains of the immortal "Chi-chi." Our thoughts fly back to the old Pie Shop for a fleeting second, but only for a second. Those days, as they so often do have disappeared into the past. Science has taken over. The old Pie Shop is a victim of Progress. Oh well, "Caveat emptor."

SODA Fountain — Meet Your Friends . . at the . . Greeks
Superior Soda Fountain Service
Luncheon :: Dinner
818 Lancaster Ave.
Bryn Mawr, Pa.

SPRITZLERS
Formal Wear Accessories
47 W. LANCASTER AVE.
Ardmore, Pa. Ard. 0176

WHY WALK?
CLEANING PRESSING
We Pick Up and Deliver Daily at the PIE SHOP
COLADONATO TAILOR SHOPPE

FLOWERS
THE Bouquet Shop
"Flowers That Are Pleasantly Different"
Lancaster Ave. at Roberts Ave., Bryn Mawr, Pa.
Flowers By Wire — BRYN MAWR 2422

For Expert Convenient Attention
SERVICE
THE CAMPUS BARBER SHOP
First Class Work
Popular Prices

Miss Your Dinner (if you have to)
Miss Your Date (if you must)
—but don't miss . . .
THE NEWEST, MOST THRILLING TALENT HUNT IN AMERICA INCLUDING TOP STARS FROM THE COLLEGES . . .
"PHILIP MORRIS NIGHT WITH HORACE HEIDT"

• Every Sunday Night Over NBC, PHILIP MORRIS PICKS A STAR in a search for the great stars of tomorrow. Performers from all over the country . . . including the top talent picked from the colleges! Music, drama, thrilling entertainment . . . weekly prizes of $250 . . . and to the winner of the year — movie and radio contracts, plus a grand prize of $5000 in cash!

Yes! For perfect listening, make a date for Sunday night and hear the stars of tomorrow with PHILIP MORRIS! And for perfect smoking . . . today, tomorrow, always . . . light up a PHILIP MORRIS, America's FINEST Cigarette!

BE WITH US EVERY SUNDAY NIGHT OVER NBC . . . UNTIL THEN

CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS

AVENGING CATS TO MEET PIRATES

Guida Captures Three Indoor Wins; Parson Dodds Proves Too Much for Ross

Miler Fails to Win After Washington Post Victory

Philadelphia Inquirer Meet

In the Philadelphia Inquirer Meet Villanova's two famous trackmen, George Guida in the 300, and Browning Ross in the mile, both placed second in their respective divisions.

The mile, which was won by Gerald Karver of Penn State, was a thriller all the way. Never in front until he charged out of the pack on the last turn of the twelve-lap race, Karver hit th tap two yards in front of three straining pursuers, in 4 minutes 16.3 seconds. Ross, in second place edged out Leslie MacMitchell of the N. Y. A. C., the two-year winner of the Inquirer mile by a foot, with Tommy Quinn also of the N. Y. A. C., a yard back in fourth place in the seven man field.

The Charles Paddock Memorial 300-yard dash was taken by Barney Ewell in a record-breaking 32.2, three yards ahead of George Guida. Ewell and Guida both had a leg on the trophy and it was this race which clinched it for Ewell.

Villanova's first of two victories came in the 1000-yard run novice when Bill Shelly crossed the finish line in 2:24.8, just eight-tenths of a second short of the record. For five laps Gene Osbahr, also of Villanova, led with Shelly holding down eighth position. Shelly then started kicking and took the event by 25 yards.

In the 1000-yard handicap, Charlie McKee with a handicap of 40 yards was first in 2:15.4 while Jim McGehrin finished fifth.

The Wildcats' winner in the field events was Buckey Coleman, who placed fourth in the pole vault with a leap of twelve feet.

Boston K. of C. Meet

George Guida scored his first of three indoor wins in the 600 on the following evening at the Boston K. of C. games. Guida, national champion at the distance, scored his second straight triumph in the Proud 600, gaining permanent possession of that cup, in 1:13. Manhattan's Johnny Quigley, a post-entrant, finished two yards behind him while Charles Slade of Seton Hall Prep finished third.

In the Bishop Cheverus 1000-yard run Browning Ross placed third behind runner-up Phil Thigpen of Seton Hall and winner Herbert Barton of Michigan whose time was 2:13.1.

Millrose Meet

George Guida's 1:12.4 in the Mal Sheppard 600-yard run was his best time in that event for the indoor season. He easily beat Roscoe Browne, John Hammack and the veteran Johnny Quigley.

In the Wannamaker Mile, which was won by Gil Dodds in the record-breaking time of 4:05.3, Browning Ross finished in fourth place, 100 yards behind the winner.

Boston A. A. Meet

Running in Boston for the second time of the current season, George Guida took the 600 yard dash and his third consecutive meet as he defeated Herb McKinley, who has yet to win since returning from Australia, in the Hollis 600. McKinley was trapped at the very beginning and never threatened.

In the Hunter Mile Browning Ross again trailed the incomparable Gil Dodds who ran the distance in 4:08.1. Ross's time was 4:22.5.

Severancemen Out To Even 52-40 Seton Hall Victory

Poor Foul Shooting Enables Pirates to Sink Wildcats

By Jim Lyons

Last Friday night, Seton Hall gained its 17th victory of the current season by defeating Villanova 52-40. The game was played before a turn away crowd at South Orange.

The Jerseyites had been beaten previously by Xavier and Duquesne. The Wildcats, suffering their seventh set-back in 18 starts were stymied offensively throughout the contest the Severencement ranked 10th in the country in scoring with an average of over 66 points per game.

The Cats jumped to an early 12-11 advantage however this lead was short-lived and once Seton Hall gained the lead they never relinquished it. At halftime the home team lead by a 27-17 count, the low score due to the poor shooting of both teams.

Thus far this season the Wildcats have failed to notch a victory when using glass backboards. Princeton, Muhlenberg and Loyola and Fordham have glass backboards on their home courts.

After the intermission, the Pirates ran off six consecutive points before Tommy Sabol notched a field goal. Frank Saul and John Macknowski then ran off 6 more points to make the count 39-19. Saul, a great Seton Hall favorite is an aggressive, driving player on the Bob Davies style. In addition Renner, the Pirates giant center played the best game of his collegiate career, although he scored only eight points. He dominated both backboards and handed off numerous assists.

Villanova rallied belatedly against the Seton Hall substitutes who entered the fray at 41-31. This never say die effort led by Sabol, Joe Hannon and Paul Arizen was inaugurated too late and the closest Villanoval could come was 40-50 in the final minute.

It wasn't the same Villanova Club that could sink 30 out of 40 fouls against Rhode Island, that missed 11 in 21 tries on Friday nite. Seton Hall converted 13 in 24 attempts.

In the scoring department the victors were lead by Macknowski with 14 points and Saul who garnered 12 markers.

Tom Sabol was the high scorer for Villanova with 2 field goals and six fouls to his credit. Hannan, Arisen and Petit accounted for six points each.

Tomorrow night the Seton Hall quintet will be here for a return engagement with the Wildcats and from all expectations a fine battle should be in store for the local

(Continued on Page 7)

Early in the second half some fine shooting by Dick Hole and Sal Scalafani put Rhode Island ahead, but the unerring accuracy of John Weglicki, Tommy Sabol and Leo Wolf could not be headed for long. The Wildcats overtook the Rams and won going away 98-85.

Tommy Sabol displayed an extraordinary knack of getting free under the Rhode Island basket and compiled 24 points. John Weglicki, racked up 17 points on 5 field goals and 7 out of 8 fouls. In addition he greatly aided Ricca, Wolf, Arisen, and Sabol to control the boards. Wildcat control of the backboards was the deciding factor although the usual accuracy of the Villanova marksmen deserves men-

(Continued on Page 6)

Tom Sabol, high scoring ace of the Villanova Wildcats, being checked by Coach Al Severance immediately he was floored by a flying elbow in the Rhode Island State Game.

Rhode Is. State Thriller Tops Mid-Semester Schedule

Cats Win Four Lose Two During Vacation

By JIM LYONS

The following is a resume of the recent activities of the Villanova courtmen.

The Rider College five and several hundred followers invaded the Villanova Field House on January 21. Their center, Harry Krautblatt was then the 4th leading scorer in the country and they had recently defeated a strong Lafayette quintet. Leo Wolf, performing before many of his neighbors from Trenton, started the scoring with a field goal and a foul and Villanova went into a lead which they never relinquished. At half-time the Wildcats lead 34-24. They augmented their spread to 12 points and it was 66-54 at the final gun. However Mr. Krautblatt's fine play won the plaudits of all the fans. Despite the fact that Coach Al Severance used Tom Sabol, Brooks Ricca and Leo. Wolf to guard him throughout the contest his left handed stabs ripped the cords with uncanny accuracy. It was his 18 points in the second half that kept the visitors in the ball game. His evening's total was 27 points. Sabol lead the "Cats" with 19 markers.

Next the Wildcats traveled to Baltimore to engage Loyola University Greyhounds. For the first time in 12 long years a quintet coached by Emil "Lefty" Reitz defeated a team representing his Alma Mater. The Baltimore boys did a good job of it too. The final count was 61-49. This was the first time this season that the Wildcats were beaten by more than four points. Tom Sabol was the only Villanovan who could hit the basket with any regularity as he tallied 21 points. As usual, Jim Lacy led the homesters with 16 points. Last year he was one of the top scorers in the nation chalking up over 600 points.

In their next contest however, the Wildcats rocketed back to whip Army by an 84-50 count. It will go down as the first defeat ever suffered by a West Point five on their home court. The Cadets are a scrappy outfit and rely on the aggressiveness and ability to outlast ther foes. They tried this but to no avail. Villanova outran, outfought and outclassed the Army five. Previous to this contest Army had won its only 2 games and shortly after the "Black Knights" showed strength in defeating Pennsylvania 50-39. Brooks Ricca paced the "Cats" with 19 while Joe Hannon chalked up 14 points.

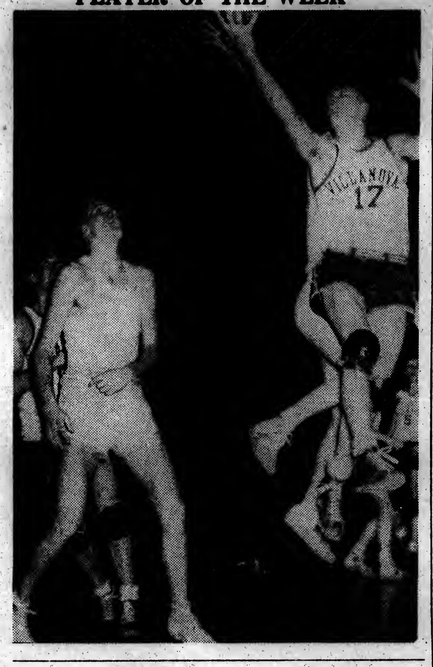
Then followed a heart-breaking defeat at the hands of a strong Muhlenberg College team at Allentown. At the outset of the contest the Blue and White combined good passing with accurate shooting to a 12-4 lead. The Mules fought back to lead 38-29 at the half. The driving play of Danny Mackin, formerly of Upper Darby gave impetus to this "Berg" onrush. He tallied 17 in this first half. The "Wildcats" fought uphill to tie the count at 54 all and they were playing comparable to the second half performances against Rutgers. With less than 2 minutes remaining the Wildcats were ahead 60-59 but they ran out of gas. Little Harry Donavan's All-American play broke their backs and the 67-60 final score belies the tightness of the contest. Paul Arizen sparked the Wildcats in this second half with 13 points. His total for the evening was 21. Harry Donovan, who is undoubtedly one of the nation's best had 25 points for the Mules. Leo Wolf did a great defense job on Dan Mackin in the second half and "Fancy Dan" tallied only 4 points but his 21 markers for the evening is a good night's work.

In the opening game before 3500 fans at Rockne Hall the Villanova freshmen five rallied to come within 4 points of the classy Muhlenberg yearlings. At one time in the second half they were 16 points down. Jack Kane, Don Solinsky, and Thomas "Red" Dolan played good ball for a losing cause. The final score was 58-54.

The proteges of loquacious Frank Keaney, renowned coach of Rhode Island State, were guests of the Villanova courtment in their next tussle. The Fire House Five was sporting an 11-1 record which looked rather overwhelming in comparison with the Mainliner's 9-6 season mark.

But the Wildcats delighted the 3000 partisan fans by matching the Rhode Islanders point for point. Passes were traveling most of the length of the court and shots were failing through the hoop when the shooters were 3 and 4 steps behind the basket.

Coach Al Severence effectively attempted to slow the Rhode Island attack by substituting after every field goal. The referee's whistle caused a momentary delay—just sufficient for all five Villanova players to reach the back court.



In the first 20 minutes of play Villanova scored 42 points while Rhode Island hooped 45 markers.

Baseball Candidates

All prospective candidates for the baseball team are asked to report to Coach Weinert at the Field House beginning Friday of this week. Mr. Weinert wishes to announce that all positions for the squad are wide open especially around the keystone spot.

Candidates are asked to fill out cards which may be obtained at the sports desk in the Villanovan office.

PLAYER OF THE WEEK

WEGLICKI HONORED BY SPORTSWRITERS

Last Friday afternoon at a luncheon given by the Philadelphia Sportswriter's association at the Moravian Resturant, John Weglicki was honored with the weekly award presented by that group to the player who in the estimation of the Selecting Committee turned in the most outstanding performance of the week.

This was the third award given by the Association. The previous winners were Al Guokas of St. Joseph's for his play against Westminister and Ed Lerner of Temple whose set shots in the final moments ended LaSalle's winning streak.

Scored 17 Points

John earned the award by virtue of his spectacular and inspiring play against Rhode Island State. Although he was second to Tom Sabol in scoring with 17 points, it was his cool, deliberate manner, all the more surprising since he has only seen limited service this year, which impressed the scribes.

Although this is the first award John has earned since he came to Villanova, they are not strangers to him. In his high school days with La Salle, he was voted most valuable player in the Eastern States Catholic Invitation Tourney at Newport, Rhode Island. Here, the award was given for his outstanding defensive work as he held Jerry Mullaney, who now stars for Holy Cross, to 5 points.

QUINTET MEETS FAST BREAKING TERRIERS

By Bill Canino

Overshadowed by the preeminence of the Seton Hall contest, little St. Francis College of Brooklyn will play host to the Wildcats this Saturday night in the 14th Regiment Armory. The Terriers gave local fans a glimpse of their ability last Saturday night when they forced La Salle all the way only to be edged in the last 15 seconds 53-52.

The Brooklynites will depend on the speed and deception of little Emil Mele, 5' 7" forward and Captain of the club. Last year Mele chalked up 251 points in 22 games to lead his team in scoring. At the other forward position will be Tom Gallagher who has been causing his team's opponents plenty of trouble with his sensational jump shot. This 6' 2" holdover from last years combination which won 15 and lost 7 games is also effective from outside. At center will be Joe Dolan an aggressive player with a good eye. Standing 6' 3" Dolan will be under the backboards trying to retrieve those rebounds. Starting in the guard slots are Hal Grady and Jack Morgan. Brady, tall and fast, will aid Dolan under the boards. Last year he was named the best hoopster on the squad and his record so far this season is even more impressive than that of a year ago. Morgan will be remembered by those who saw the La Salle contest last week for his ability to handle the ball. He is fast and deceptive and is the type player who has the ability to cause trouble to the opposition once he gets started.

Probable starting lineups:

Villanova		St. Francis
Wolf	g	Grady
Hannan	g	Morgan
Arizen	c	Dolan
Sabol	f	Gallagher
Ricca	f	Mele

DOMS CAPTURE I. M. BASKETBALL TITLE

Fedigan Sets Scoring Record in Trouncing Day Hops, 71-18

The first half of the Intramural Basketball League came to a close during the week before the examinations with six games being played.

On Monday, January 19, the Day Hops dropped their third straight bowing to the Doms by a 34-22 score. Held to a 14-11 halftime lead, the Doms out scored their opponents 20-11 in the second to cinch their victory. Kempf and Manske connected for 9 and 8 points respectively to top the scoring for the victors. Wright's six points was the best showing for the Day Hops.

Lemner High

Barracks 2 and 3 managed to eke out a 41-38 triumph over Barracks 1 and 4 in the second game to notch their first victory and cop the interbarracks championship. The game was hotly contested throughout with the victors enjoying a 22-22 lead at halftime. Barracks 1 and 4 managed to knot the count late in the game only to have the winners pull ahead and successfully freeze the ball in the final minute. Bill Lemner with 12 points paced the victors while Doyle with 10 was high for the losers. Artz and DeStephano officiated.

The following night Barracks 1 and 4 came within one point of knocking the Doms from their league-leading perch only to lose out in an extra period 26-25. A tight defensive battle was played by both teams and the half-time score was 12-11, with the Doms on the long end. In the final seconds of the regulation game Bill Knech of the Barracks dropped in a field goal to knot the count. In the overtime period Harry Knech, brother of Bill, scored on a long set shot and was followed by a goal by Manske which gave the Doms a four-point lead. Three foul conversions by the Barracks failed to close the gap as the Doms won their fourth in a row. O'Brien of the Barracks led the scoring as he netted 8 points followed by Bill Knech with six. Harry Knech led the Doms with seven counters. Mondschein and Wiener handled the whistles.

Flynn Scores 25

A strong Fedigan Hall team which was hitting on all cylinders routed the hapless Day-Hops 71-18 in the nightcap. Led by Flynn who dropped in 12 field goals and a foul for 25 points, and Stack with 17, the Fedigan five rolled a 41-10 halftime lead and the final issue was never in doubt. Wright led the Day-Hops with six points. The officials were Artz and Klucsartis.

On the final day of competition Barracks 2 & 3 continued their winning ways by dumping previously unbeaten Alumni by a 40-35 count. This upset victory assured the undefeated Doms of the first half crown. The Barracks played a steady, pressing game to overcome a 23-20 half-time deficit. Dyack with 9 and Dolan and Loughlin with 8 points each led the winners. Buckley and Farley, netting 10 and 9 points respectively, paced the losers.

Austin Downs Mendel

In the final game Austin handed Mendel their fourth straight defeat by coasting to a 39-29 triumph after leading 27-10 at the intermission. Agan with 11 markers and Diot with 10 lead the Austin scoring while Altman paced the losers with 7 counters.

Leading the individual scoring for the first half was Buckly of Alumni with 47 points. He is followed by Austin's Diot who tallied 46 and Flynn of Fedigan with 40 points.

First Half Standings

	Won	Lost	Avg.
Doms	4	0	1.000
Austin	3	1	.775
Alumni	3	1	.775
Fedigan	3	1	.775
Barracks 2-3	2	2	.500
Barracks 1-4	1	3	.225
Mendel	0	4	.000
Day-Hops	0	4	.000

Rhode Island Thriller

(Continued from Page 5)

tion. From the floor the Severancemen hit on 34 of 73 shots for an average of better than 46 percent. At the 15-ft. mark the Wildcats sank 30 of their 40 foul tries. Scalafani and Hole scored 18 and 17 respectively for Rhode Island. Previously Holy Cross, the N. C. A. A. champions, were the only conquerors of Rhode Island.

The 11 and 2 record of the Waynesburg College five was next to be sullied by the Wildcats. In a game that was dull in comparison with the Rhode Island fracas, the Blue and White easily dropped Frankie Gustine's Waynesburg quintet, 65-41.

Paul Arizen lead the scoring with 16 points and controlled many of the rebounds. Frequently, he smashed shots back into the faces of Waynesburg players. Leo Wolf again demonstrated his great defensive ability by limiting Karmakovich to 1 point while he was playing him. Karmakovich was a contender for state and national scoring honors.

The Wildcats will enter the Seton Hall game with a record of 11 wins and 7 defeats. Last year's club had won only 6 games when it had lost 6 yet it finished with a 17-7 record. This is practically the same club with more experience. They'll be formidable opposition for Seton Hall, St. Francis, Georgetown.

BASKETBALL STATISTICS

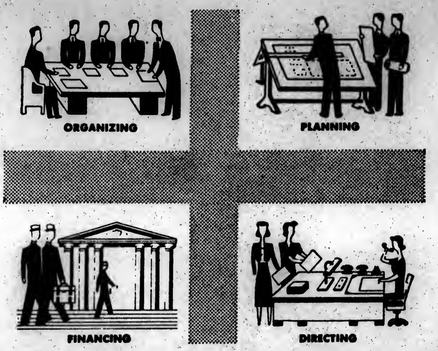
Cumulative Totals for 13 Games Played to Date

	Field Goals	F. T. Attempts	Free Throws	Pers. Fouls	Points
Sabol	87	105	49	29	223
Ricca	66	71	45	47	177
Arizen	69	64	38	45	176
Wolf	55	42	32	42	142
Raiken	54	40	23	31	131
Hannan	42	55	30	37	114
Crossin	20	38	22	20	62
Weglicki	20	27	19	16	59
Del Purgotorio	22	16	10	18	54
Petit	12	13	7	10	31
Yeager	1	0	0	2	2
Barry	0	0	0	1	0
Own Team Totals	448	451	275	304	1171
Opponents' Totals	378	346	185	356	941

SEASON'S SINGLE-GAME RECORDS TO DATE

Individual Highs (Own Players)

Total Points Scored, Sabol vs. Rhode Island	24
Field Goals Scored, Sabol vs. Rhode Island	11
Free Throws Scored, Sabol & Wolf vs. Mt. St. Mary's & Rhode Island	7
Free Throws Attempted Ricca vs. Rhode Island	10



Team Offense Highs (Own Totals)

Total Points Scored vs. Fort Dix	99
Field Goals Scored vs. Fort Dix	44
Free Throws Scored vs. Rhode Island	30
Personal Fouls Against vs. Cincinnatti	25

Team Defense Lows (Opponents' Totals)

Total Points Scored by Ft. Dix-Navy	39
Field Goals Scored by Navy	12
Free Throws Scored by Scranton	6
Personal Fouls Against Ft. Dix	9

WHAT IS MANAGEMENT?

MANAGEMENT, in the telephone business, is essentially a word. It defines the duties and responsibilities of telephone men and telephone women who have shown by their abilities that they can undertake them.

Those who supervise the organizing, planning, financing, and directing of this business, in other words, are simply telephone employees at various stages in their careers.

That's the way things are done in the telephone business. Any employee who shows the qualities of leadership will find that those qualities are bound to be recognized.

This opportunity for advancement is a natural incentive to good work, but it is also your assurance of good telephone service at low cost. For the telephone business is complex, and the special skills and arts that are required to run it are learned only on the firing line of experience.

Tomorrow's leaders in this business are today working with and under the direction of yesterday's employees.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Engineers Addressed by Westinghouse Official

Mr. Harry S. Kahan, representative of Westinghouse Electric Co., addressed the Villanova College Chapter of the A. I. E. E. on various phases of work for a large company on the last Thursday before the end of the semester.

Mr. Kahan spoke on such topics as the basic organization of a large company, the qualifications needed to enter a branch of the work, the advantages to be gained by working for a large corporation, and the importance of symbols as used in industry. His frequent use of slides and graphs served to vivify the presentation of the subjects.

The speaker has been connected with Westinghouse for over twenty-two years and is presently head of the Safety Switch and Switch Gear Division.

Among those present at the lecture delivered in the C. and F. auditorium were Mr. Davis, Assistant Professor of E. E. at Villanova and member of the Institute and Mr. Auth of the A. S. M. E. This was the best attended meeting of the year, over forty student members being present.

This lecture was the first of a series designed to enable the members to come into contact with industrial representatives and to benefit from their experience.

The next in the series is scheduled for Wednesday, February 25th at 7:30 P. M. in the C. and F. auditorium. Mr. Whitmayer of Dupont Company will talk on "Three Dimensional Coloring" and show movies on the development of the color industry.

Avenging Cats To Meet

(Continued from Page 5)

fans. The contest is scheduled to start at 8:30 in the Field House.

Seton Hall

	G.	F.	P.
Saul, f	6	0	12
M'knowski, f	5	4	14
Janotta, f	1	4	6
Gibbons, f	0	0	0
Renner, c	3	2	8
Leverte, c	0	1	1
Sisti, c	0	0	0
Hartmann, g	2	0	4
Hammock, g	3	1	7
Kostyshyn, g	0	0	0
Reilly, g	0	0	0
Honecker, g	0	0	0
Totals	20	12	52

Villanova

	G.	F.	P.
Ricco, f	2	0	4
Sabol, f	2	6	10
DelP'gat'rio, f	1	0	2
Hannan, f	3	0	6
Arizen, c	3	0	6
Weglicki, c	0	0	0
Raiken, g	1	2	4
Wolf, g	0	0	0
Petit, g	2	2	6
Cossin, g	1	0	2
Totals	15	10	40

Halftime—Seton Hall, 27-17. Officials: Hagan Anderson and Leo Zatta.

"I'll be up there soon!"

UP WHERE the ceiling's unlimited and the horizon's as wide as the world! Up where there's freedom and adventure—and a man can dare to do what no man's done before!

You're on your way up there when you join the Aviation Cadets. After a year's pilot training, it's silver wings for you—and a commission as Second Lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force Reserve.

You are eligible if you're single, between 20 and 26½, and have completed at least half the requirements for a degree from an accredited college or university (or can pass an equivalent qualifying examination).

You'll fly the very best planes during your 12 months of pilot training. Then, after graduation, you'll pilot jet fighters and bombers. And you'll get a starting salary of $336 a month. During your three years on active duty you'll be given a chance to win a commission in the Regular Air Force.

This is a priceless opportunity for alert young men with the urge to carve their future in American aviation. Ask for details at your U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station. Or, write to Headquarters, U. S. Air Force, Attention: Aviation Cadet Section, Washington 25, D. C.

U. S. ARMY AND U. S. AIR FORCE RECRUITING SERVICE

THE 5TH COLUMN

By HUGH JOHNSON and FRANK McBRIDE

Notice . . . Notice . . . Notice. Unofficially, the marks for last semester will be mailed out sometime before next Monday. Better get hot on the mailman's ear.

That semester holiday seemed to be just what the doctor ordered to recharge the physical and spiritual battery . . . a tip of the chapeau to Frs. Schott, Grimes and Purcell for a much-needed and well-handled retreat.

Good Luck—Sherman & Sam

The saddest news of the semester changeover, aside from the flunk list, was the loss of two celebrated freshman basketball starlets — Sherman White, and Sam Lachaya.

We feel the boys will make a good name for themselves where-ever they play. So, Good Luck!

Irish Eyes Were Smiling

The "Irish and the not so Irish" had themselves a semi-orgy at a very recent Donegal Ball. Among those spotted doing the Irish Jig with the fast high-school set were Tom Kiley, Jack Corr, Leo McKnoll, Bud O'Bloom, Don Collins, Tom Smith, Paul Mac Attaspail, Tim Brennen, John Donahaen, Tom Flynn, Bill Savage, and adinfintum. Our recommendation, along with that of the aforementioned—catch the Kerry Ball coming up soon at the Broadwood.

Chestnut Hill had a little affair a while back—The Snow Ball. Just a few of the Villanova old guard were on hand—Dick Devine, Jack Donnelly, Dick Sigg, Bill Meehan, Ed Helm, Ed Hattrick, etc. Don't worry girls, sour grapes wouldn't go anyway.

Let's Outlaw Corsages

The mutterings are in the ranks. The revolt is really underway. You too can join the "No Corsages during Junior Week" movement. Junior Week, the first in May, will be a mighty costly fiasco for those that would like to make all of the activities. So, we are going on record against spending anywhere from $1 to $10 for a corsage.

Odds and Ends

George Thompson, who runs a mean 2 mile almost every Saturday night, lost out in a fast foot race against a blind date from Marymount College Tea Dance not too long ago.

Bey Keim was spotted juggling his scholastic schedule to conform with his coming Golf Schedule. And speaking of golf, Fr. McKee informs us that there is a tentative varsity golf schedule. The big problem seems to be that our old course, the Main Line Golf Club, has been sold and some enterprising constructor has it in the back of his mind to build apartments there.

Look for Villanova's Football team to play the preliminary game tomorrow night against Temple's Football team (in basketball, that is). Representing the Wildcats are Bill Doherty, Bud Kane, Dan Brown, Joe Rogers, Bob Pelleer, John Sheehan, Les Ferry, Ed Berrang among others.

Last Friday, John Weglicki received the Basketball Writers' "Player of the Week" award for his outstanding play in the Rhode Island State game. With a tilt of the hat to John, we would like to extend our congrats, not only to the whole team for their all-around fine play, but also to Coach Al Severance for a clever bit of strategy that paid off in the final score.

It looks like the Alumni Gym will really be ready for Intramural basketball come next fall. We were informed by one of the Chiefs that the Navy plans to move all of their gear into the new Naval Science Bldg. this summer.

On a look-see into the track team, we find a closely-knit, well integrated little clique from Bishop Loughlin High of Brooklyn. Bill Shelly does the running, Jack Chambers is the manager, and Harry Range covers the sport for the Villanovan.

A. I. E. E. HONORS VILLANOVA SOPH.

Robert P. Muldoon, Villanova student in the school of Electrical Engineering, has been awarded honorable mention in a "Student Prize Paper Night" contest held by the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, Monday evening, February 9th, 1948.

First prize was won by Addison C. Scheckler, Drexel Institute. His subject was "Transmission Problems on Long Ocean Cables". Second prize on "The Nier Mass Spectrometer" was given George C. Sponsler, Princeton University.

"Lightning" Subject

"Lightning" was the topic chosen by Mr. Muldoon. It consisted of the history of lightning, its development and the discoveries of its action. Completion of the project demanded extensive research, and the award was made on the evidence of this research and the originality indicated by the paper.

Assistant Professor Clothier, Villanova, Electrical Engineering Department, was chosen to the committee of the AIEE board for judgement of the papers, together with six others.

Six schools were represented in the contest, including Villanova, Pennsylvania, Drexel Institute, Princeton, Delaware and Swarthmore.

KEEP SUPPLIED WITH SCHOOL TICKETS
GOOD ON BUSES AND RAIL CARS UNTIL USED
5c a Ride, including Special Free Transfers. Obtain Identification Cards at School Office.
RED ARROW LINES
Philadelphia Suburban Transportation Co.

RELIEF DRIVE TO CONTINUE

During the next couple of weeks the Student Relief Committee of the N. F. C. C. S. will ask students and faculty to contribute school supplies as well as clothing and soap for foreign students. The students in Europe are so anxious to learn and have so few text books that they are willing to translate the English texts into their own languages before using them. Their needs is most urgent and the students in this country are reminded of their duty in Christian charity to aid the depressed.

ASME PLANS TRIP

Prof. George H. Auth, Honorary Chairman of the A. S. M. E. has announced that the Lehigh Student Branch will be host to Group 3 Regional Meeting of the Student Branches on April 16 and 17, at Lehigh.

Technical sessions, composed of competitive papers from the students of various Colleges will be conducted on both days, with distribution of prizes on the last day. Also included in the program are inspection of laboratories as well as plant visits to Bethlehem Steel and other companies.

Final details will be discussed at the next A. S. M. E. meeting this week. All members are to be present.

JEANNETT'S
Bryn Mawr Flower Shop
Corsage Specialists
FREE DELIVERY
823 Lancaster Ave.
BRYNMAWR, PA.
Bryn Mawr 0570 : Flowers by Wire

$500 to $1000 Earnings
For capable freshman or sophomore in spare-time sales work; training provided. Good references required; no investment. One man will be chosen. Write, stating qualifications, to Service Crystal Company, 82 Lafayette Parkway, Rochester 10, New York.

YOURS — almost as a GIFT!
8 Genuine PHOTOS (WALLET SIZE) of FAMOUS CAPITOL RECORDING STARS autographed!
JO STAFFORD • STAN KENTON
JOHNNY MERCER • MARGARET WHITING
PEGGY LEE • ANDY RUSSELL
JACK SMITH • GORDON MacRAE
MAIL COUPON with Ten Cents (10c) for postage and handling to:
CAPITOL RECORDS
Box No. 2391, Dept. Y, Hollywood 28, Calif.
NAME
SEX AGE
ADDRESS
CITY STATE
My favorite recording artist is

AT THE FACTORY
We Have a Big Following from Penn, Temple, St. Joseph's, La Salle and Drexel Students
Come in to see for yourself why our styles and prices are so satisfactory to students — especially those attending under the GI Bill — Our prices are unbelievable — HERE ARE A FEW EXAMPLES . . .
All Wool Covert Topcoats $26.75
Other Topcoats 19.75
All Wool Worsted Suits 32.75
Other All Wool Suits 21.75
All Wool Sportcoats 14.75
All Wool Slacks 5.00
Come Direct To The Manufacturer
Becker Clothing Co.
FIFTH FLOOR
210 NORTH BROAD STREET
PHILA 2. PA. :: OPEN 9-5 DAILY

VILLANOVAN
Vol. 23 — No. 13 VILLANOVA COLLEGE, VILLANOVA, PA, Tuesday, February 24, 1948

VILLANOVA COLLEGE LIBRARY VILLANOVA, PA.

Advisory Group Aids Accountants

Prominent Business Men Accept Invitation to Address C. & F. Society

The appointment of an advisory committee for accounting students was announced last week. This committee of prominent accountants will provide liaison between Villanova students and those in the accounting profession. Particularly, activities and courses of study will be suggested for undergraduate accounting students by experts in the field.

It was through the efforts of Rev. J. C. Bartley, O. S. A., Dean of the Commerce and Finance School, and J. J. Linsalata, C. P. A., moderator of the college accounting society, that such a group has been appointed and organized under the Villanova College Accounting Society.

The committee will furnish speakers to address student accounting clubs concerning this profession. In this way able young men will be encouraged to select public accounting as a career, and others will become better informed about the role of the Certified Public Accountant.

The following accountants have accepted invitations to serve on the advisory committee: Mr. Frank Gray, partner of Haskins & Sells; Mr. Carl H. Zipf, partner of Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery; Mr. Rudolph S. Bozzelli, with Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery; Mr. T. H. Carroll, partner of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co.; and Mrs. Alois B. Heilig, Treasurer of Campbell Soup Co., Camden, N. J.

There was a meeting of the college accounting society yesterday, February 23rd, in the Commerce and Finance Auditorium. The large number of students present shows that there is a great deal of interest in the club's activities on the part of students enrolled in the C. & F. School.

The accounting society, here at Villanova, is somewhat unusual as it is one of two such organizations in the state. The Committee on Education of the Institution of Certified Public Accountants of Pennsylvania, of which Mr. Linsalata is a member, is encouraging the organization of these groups. Membership to the society is open to all Junior and Senior Accounting majors with an average of better than 85 per cent in Accounting subjects.

Club Organizes For Labor Study

Wednesday afternoon, February 18, at five, The Industrial Relations Club held their inaugural meeting in Room 215, of Mendel Hall. An organization committee was elected and Phil Barrett was chosen as president pro-tem.

The attendance was far above expectations for a new club, unique in its aims among the college organizations. Those interested in the club were greatly encouraged by the enthusiasm with which the novel idea was received.

The organization committee is in the process of drafting a constitution which will determine policy and express the aims and form of the club as well as formulating the days for election of officers.

Reverend William J. Gordon, OSA, moderator of the organization, spoke at the meeting and outlined plans for future activities. Father Gordon went on to outline a schedule wherein prominent men in the field of labor relations will be called upon to address the members of the club and those students interested in this topic who are not members.

The organization will no doubt be of rather personal interest to many of the students of Villanova. Not only those studying business, but all those who intend to have any connection with the business world will find the topics of vital importance.

In these times when employee-employer relations are of such importance to the very economic system in which we live the nearness of these ideas is brought home in a very striking fashion. There is little doubt that the Industrial Relations Club will meet with great success in the future on the campus.

EXTENDS SYMPATHY

The Villanovan extends the sympathy of the student body and faculty to Michael Maffei on the recent death of his father.

VILLANOVA GROUPS ENTERTAIN IMMACULATANS

(Story on Page Four)

Belle Air Players Produce Western

The Belle Air Players are to present over station WVIL, "The Winning of the West," eight o'clock Thursday, February 26. The play was originally one of a series called The Land of the Free, presented by The National Council of Catholic Men.

The cast will include Joe Hennessey, John Callahan, Dick Lauman, George Smith, Jack Mallick, Joe Duban, and Alan Zelon. The play will be produced by Rev. William J. Krupa, OSA, and directed by A. J. Mullen.

The original production, under the direction of the Commission on American Citizenship of The Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C., was intended to present the picture of the Catholic participation in the development of the west.

The story is based on actual events in the colorful life of Father Gabriel Richard, rector of St. Anne's in Detroit, early in the nineteenth century.

VILLANOVA MEETS SWARTHMORE TEAM IN DUAL DEBATE

Beta Gamma Opens Spring Season

Villanova's newly organized debating team broke out in a splurge of activity last Thursday evening. Two teams debated Swarthmore on a home to home basis; the team debating at Swarthmore consisted of the new elected president of the society Bill Regan and his partner, Manny Rubin. Upholding the affirmative side of the World Government resolution at Villanova were Paul Altenpohl and Bill Carroll. The result of the debate at Villanova was a very close decision for Villanova. Rev. William J. Gordon, OSA, judged the debate. Those who attended the debate reported that it was spirited and interesting. It is hoped the debates in the future will be patronized as well as the one last Thursday.

Plan Future Matches

On February 28th over station WBAB in Atlantic City, two men from the debating team will argue the resolution: "Should Rationing and Price Controls be Reestablished." Opposing Villanova on this question will be representatives from the Debate Council of Rutgers College of New Brunswick.

The debating society is still much interested in securing as many new members as possible. Another meeting will be held with this in mind on Wednesday, the 25th, and will be followed by a debate with representatives from the Villiger Debating Society of St. Joseph's College.

To give the new members who have had no previous debating experience an introduction to the activity, the Debating Society has arranged for them to debate the freshman teams of both Rosemont and St. Joseph's. The teams they will debate for the first time, will be like themselves, novices in debate.

The Beta Gamma Group has been among the most active of such organizations in this vicinity. Those sudents who have witnessed the different contests have acclaimed the participants for their masterful handling of techniques and excellent preparation of material.

Turf & Tinsel Plans Spring Production

Athletes Resume Campus Group Activities After Long Absence With New Musical Operatic Themes, College Songs to Highlight Evening

Turf and Tinsel club has been revived. The good news was announced by Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A. The third production of this group will feature a musical, as yet unnamed, sometime after Easter.

The purpose of the Turf and Tinsel Club is to encourage all athletes and any other interested students to engage in dramatic activities. The time and date of tryouts for this year's feature are given elsewhere in this issue. All those interested—Varsity athletes and non-varsity students—are urged to try out for the various acting and non-acting positions offered this year.

Script and musical scores for this year's production are nearly completed. As in previous presentations, this year's play will be a musical comedy featuring dialogue by Villanova students and currently popular musical hits.

Under the direction of Edward A. Keough, the first Turf and Tinsel Club presented as its 1933 premier production, "Look Who's Here"—The only musical comedy production since 1920 in which the depression is never referred to—wasn't it awful? Note the absence of telephone, doorbell, butler, "moon" song, revolving stage, living curtain, original New York cast, beauty contest winners and spears. Assembled and produced by Edward A. Keough, who has engaged an attorney.

The second annual production of Turf and Tinsel in May, 1934, was "Let's Go Places". Again under the direction of Mr. Keough this presentation was described as "A peppery, tropical concoction in three helpings." Both of these plays contained about fifteen of the then current song hits.

Among the actors in the early productions were: Martin Geazer, "33", former football star; William H. Grimberg, "35", football captain and now an official in the National Professional Football League; Metro Weston, "33", basketball captain; George "Whitey" Randour; "34", one of the best of all Villanova football players; James F. Elliott, "35" present track coach of Villanova; Michael Clavin, "35" brother of Tom Clavin Villanova football player; and Edwin Riley, "35", former VILLANOVAN editor.

Dr. Bauer Speaks At Arts Fraternity

At the bi-monthly smoker of the Delta Pi Mu Arts Fraternity held last Thursday evening in the Blue Room of the College Field House, an illustrated lecture was presented by Doctor Hubert A. Bauer entitled "Around the Horn". Fifty members of the fraternity attended.

Doctor Bauer, one of the most traveled men on campus, talked for the most part on the adventures of his early life during which he spent twelve years on ships. He graduated from high school in Germany at the age of 17 and immediately joined the Merchant Marine. Altogether he made four journeys around Cape Horn, the first in 1903. He showed lantern slides of photographs he took himself about forty years ago. They were principally of ships and places he visited.

World Adventurer

In 1906, Doctor Bauer crossed the Andes on mule-back after his ship had been wrecked by a tempest near the Horn. This, he explained, was only oneof many hardships which a sailor had to endure in those days. Among some of the places he visited in his trips were Australia, Honolulu, Alaska and China.

After he left the Merchant Marine, Dr. Bauer completed his requirements for a PhD. at the University of Washington and then bought a 40-foot sloop the Linda, built by Jack London.

In a short business meeting, which preceded the lecture, five tickets to "Joy of the World", a play currently showing in Philadelphia, were raffled off to those present. James Morgan, chairman of the entertainment committee, then gave a short talk about the play and about culture in Philadelphia in general. He mentioned museums, academies, and places of art in the neighborhood.

Edward Kreig, general chairman of the meeting, then announced that the moderator, Fr. Bresnahan, would conduct a group of those interested to the Museum of Fine Arts in Philadelphia on the next day.

A total of thirteen new members, mostly freshmen, were inducted into the fraternity.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, Hugh Boyle was appointed by President Dick Randolph to take charge of the next meeting to be held on March 16th.

Turf & Tinsel Tryouts

Tryouts and applications for the forthcoming Turf and Tinsel, musical-comedy production may be made in person, at the Field House, Thursday, 26th February, 1948, at the following times:

3:30 to 5:30 P. M. (for day-hops).

7:30 P. M. onwards (for residents).

All talent - dancing, singing, acting, etc. and maintenance — stage and costume hands, electricians, etc. are invited.

WVIL Conducting Poll on Campus

The Staff of the Campus Radio Station, WVIL, is at present conducting a campus poll to coordinate the entertainment being offered with the tastes of the resident student body and faculty. The survey, which began yesterday and is due to be completed late today is being accomplished by direct query contact. Its purpose is to determine audience likes, the programs most and least enjoyed and to get listener suggestions.

Since the poll results will determine WVIL's programs, it is requested that all students assist by having their opinions and possible suggestions accurately recorded by those conducting it.

NO OFFICIAL DETAILS

The Veterans Office has no official details on the proposed subsistence increase, but will post any information as soon as possible.

TEN MORE FOR THE G.I.

It is with no little pleasure that we note the recent approval of a Bill which has more than casual interest for us as college students. The Bill concerned is one raising the subsistence allowance of veterans attending schools under the "G. I. Bill". The veterans here at Villanova are appreciative of this measure.

Beginning on April 1st of this year, those of us who are single will receive an additional ten dollars subsistence per month. Others with dependents will receive proportionate increases. (Some of the skeptics among us point out the fact that the date coincides with the traditional April Fool's Day but we feel assured that this is no attempt to foist something on the public.)

Last year the VILLANOVAN ran a survey of expenses incurred by college students. In all cases necessary expenditures ran far above income. Especially difficult was the lot of those with dependents. The present measure should serve to alleviate matters somewhat.

Those who fought consistently for its passage are to be congratulated. Those who honestly felt that it was a hindrance rather than a boon to the common good, we cannot condemn. But we certainly are justified in looking with uplifted brows at the ones who wavered back and forth waiting for an opportune time to side with the vote-giving veterans.

Not infrequently do individuals voice their opinions regarding educational advantages being given former members of the military services. We feel that their disparaging remarks are for the most part unjustified and unfounded, rising from prejudice and lack of due consideration. It is true that there are instances of abuses in the present system. If one considers them against a background of the millions of students involved, they quickly lose all significance.

Many of us would not be here at all or would be here under much different economic circumstance if it were not for the government allowances. An opportunity is being afforded us. Whether or not we use it to the fullest advantage is our own concern. We as individuals stand to profit and we as individuals suffer the first loss.

The impetus thus added to education in America is immeasurable. In previous years only "the few" were assured of a college training. Now a college training is the rule rather than the exception.

More and more we feel that the student is recognizing his individual obligations. With every privilege there is a concomitant duty, a duty to ourselves and others. We owe it to ourselves to satisfy these demands. This does not neccessitate our becoming "drones". It requires a little introspection on our parts. We must determine in some fashion just what we hope to obain from our four years at Villanova.

The full extent of our present efforts will be seen in years to come. That they will serve to further our country morally and culturally in its progressive development is certain. The resources expended now pay huge future dividends.

It is with these thoughtful considerations in mind that we take the increase alloted us and apply it to our present needs. We are not considering it a "dole" but rather a gesture of encouragement on the part of our fellow citizens.

F. J. G.

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

WILLIAM F. ALTENDOHL, '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
FRANK GUZIKOWSKI ..... Managing Editor
PAT LAFERTY ..... News Editor
GEORGE SZYMANSKI, '50 ..... Feature Editor
RICHARD HUBBARD, '48 ..... Picture Editor
VINCE PEDANO, '49 ..... Circulation Manager
NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI, '48 ..... Business Manager
EDWARD OXFORD, '50 ..... Copy Editor
JAMES PLUNKETT '49 ..... Sports Editor
ROBERT M. FLAHERTY, '48 ..... Asst. Photo Editor

News Staff

Michael Marshal '49, Richard Shinners '48, Michael Joseph Nowlan '49, Charles Laferty '49, Frank Gobes '51, Frank Guzikowski '49, Thomas Mitchell '51, Joseph Miller '50, John James Connely '51, Joseph Kenney '50, Joseph Callahan '51, George R. Reinhart '51, Arthur Woodrow '51, Louis Alvare '48, Tom Smith '51.

Feature Staff

R. E. Manifold '51, William Breninghouse '51, Joseph Quill '50, A. J. Mullen '49, David V. Anthony '51, John A. Rowe '51, Gunther Kaiser '49, P. McManus '48, John Mullick '49, Vince O'Neil '51, Mark Morris '51, James Tayoun '51, Leo Dodd '49, Emil Mayer '49, Richard Hudak '49, Thomas Russo '51.

Sports Staff

James Lyons '48, Paul Altenpohl '49, Ned Hoffner '49, Arnold Keehan '49, William Canino '50, Neal Fahy '50, George Mondschein '50, Raymond Mondschein '50, Tyson Reilly '50, Walter Rygiel '50, Harry Jacobs '51, William Kuessaitis '51, Raymond MacWilliams '51, Paul Prescede '51, Harold Range '51.

Picture Staff

Robert Graf '50, Raymond Bernlnger '49, Dan Haflinger '50, William Neal Carter '51, Dan Robinson '49, William Murphy '51, Harry Papaan '51, Robert Pope '50, Jack Muratori '51, "Tex" Winters '50.

Business Staff

Joe King '48, Barry Gibbons '51, Jack Gibbons '51, Donald Barult '50.

Circulation Staff

George Weber, III, '51, Ralph Iorio '50, Ed Kent '51, Charles Klunk '51, Ralph Skowron '51, Gene Lanaan '51, Harry Papaan '51, Robert Pope '50, Wm. Coakley '50, Maurice Wilhere '48, Mario Piazzolla '51, Paul Schreiber '50.

Copy Staff

Frank McGeehan '50, Girard Farnan '50, Edgar Le Blanc '50 Steve Keiss '51, Robert MacRoberts '51, William Foley '50, Dick Randolph '50.

Faculty Advisor— Rev. John A. Klekotka, O.S.A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova: scholar, athlete, gentleman — LEO GOODREAU

Subscription: $2 per year. Circulation: 5000.
Entered as second class matter at the Villanova Post Office December 27, 1928.

Member of Associate Collegiate Press, Distributor of Collegiate Digest.
Member of Catholic School Press Association. Catholic College Press Association.

DECORUM AND DINING

A letter to the Editor in last weeks' issue brought attention to one of the inconveniences to which the resident students are subjected, namely waiting in line for meals. The writer pointed out that the inconsiderate attitude of the man who cuts the line forces others to wait much longer than is necessary to reach the food counter.

Several other conditions which exist in the dining hall could be corrected to provide a more pleasant atmosphere, one more conducive to the enjoyment of our meals. All will agree that when the dining hall is opened for each meal it presents a polished appearance. It, unfortunately, loses its glow after the first few groups have eaten, as they leave all sorts of uneaten food and unused or dirty utensils behind. The later arrivals, in their search for an empty table, are hard put to find a clean one. Too often it is necessary to push aside a litter of paper napkins, bottle tops, straws and their wrappers, assorted pieces of silverware, soup plates, bread, ice cream wrappers, and paper plates. The sight of this disarray dismays the would-be diner and certainly does not improve his appetite.

There are some others whose loud and boisterous demeanor is disturbing to those who eat with them. The normal clatter of trays and dishes need not be supplemented by the clowning antics of the fellows whose yells ring from one end of the room to the other.

The purpose of this resume should be obvious. There is frequently no one present in the cafeteria to supervise the picking up of unused trash, to insist on proper attire, or to quiet the noisier element. There should not have to be. The day of eating in fox holes and field kitchens is past, and meals are not catch-as-catch-can propositions. We owe it to each other to observe the simple rules of etiquette. It would do well to extend a few courtesies to our fellow diners.

R. M. M.

Pride and Prejudice

George M. Cohan once wired a Miami Hotel for room reservations. The telegrapher erroneously spelled his name "Cohen", bringing the response, "We are sorry, but it's not the policy of this hotel to accept those of your faith as guests." Cohan quickly replied, "You thought I was Jewish, and I thought you were American. We were both wrong. Cancel reservations."

It must be disconcerting and disheartening to Europeans who regard America as their lone salvation and the one "Land of Liberty" to try to understand this "Cohan Story."

What can be said in defense? Can there be any justifiable excuse? What to say for these discriminatory pratices in view of the equal guarantees supposedly given to all people of our nation.

Surely the "colored" peoples of the world who comprise three-fourths of the earth's population would be justified in "cancelling their reservations" for passage to this land of would-be democracy—AMERICA.

Letters To The Editor

The Villanovan
Villanova, Pa.

Dear Sir,

This letter is written with regard to a picture that appeared on the first sports page of your publication in the issue February 17th.

In my wanderings about the campus, I had occasion to hear remarks made concerning the above mentioned "shot" taken by one of your campus photographers.

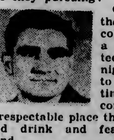
Some claimed that an action picture should have been run. They contend that a galaxy of legs, especially those of basketball players, is not the most interesting thing to look at. Others were in favor of a picture of this type being printed occasionally.

I side with the latter group. I am in favor of the conventional sports pictures but . . . change is always refreshing. In printing the picture of the injured basketball player, a touch of human interest was added. Let's not be too conventional!

An avid "CAT"

Teacher: "What is wrong with this sentence? 'Girl's is naturally better looking than boys.'"

Boy Pupil: "Girl's is artificially better looking than boys."



• • •

Two guys named Wood and Stone were standing on a corner. A pretty girl walked by. Wood turned to Stone; Stone turned to Wood, and the pretty girl turned into a restaurant.

FROM TIME TO TIME —by W. Carrol

Where Oh Where Has My Dollar Gone

The inspiration for these lines is that famed constitutional phrase guaranteeing — "pursuit of happiness". Some people devote their entire lives to this chase. But what are they pursuing?

Consider for the moment a college lad with a date and fifteen dollars. Tonight he is going to have a good time. He escorts the lady to a respectable place that serves food and drink and features a small band.

Perhaps it is early in the evening and it isn't too crowded. They dance a little and in the course of the first hour meet a few friends. The lad invites a couple of intimate friends to his table and the group becomes convivial as the evening grows older. Before anyone of the party notices, the place grows crowded, the air characteristically smokey, and the atmosphere heavy. The noise isn't too offensive. It consists mostly of periodic male guffaws and the high pitched screeching of young ladies who have achieved a state of mind where anything of a humorous nature will provide a profusion of laughter.

Standing at the bar are the usual groups of ex-high school and collegiate students quietly quaffing beer and acknowledging most condescendingly the smiling nods of their admirers. Seated at a corner table is that esoteric gathering of collegians who like to consider themselves intellectual. This group (mostly sophomores) relegate to themselves the power of infallible judgement in the social, economic and political fields. They are, in all probability, discussing some weighty problem such as a rumored broken engagement.

The band persists in playing too many afro-saxon contributions, designed to excite that questionable group of dancers referred to in the vernacular as "jitterbugs." If our lad is any kind of a gentleman at all, ninety percent of his time on the dance floor will be spent in apologizing for the inadvertently crushed feet he was responsible for.

The girl friend's chatter is characteristically a series of remarks totalling an intellectual sum of zero.

The evening drag drags on. Most of our friends are quite talkative now, some a bit too talkative. A few are easily offended at this point, others trying very hard to be funny.

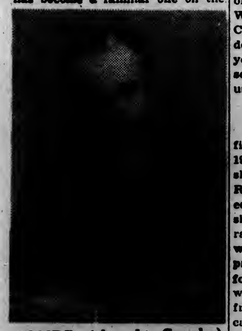
Nevertheless our boy is undeniably enjoying himself and for all his fun and frivolity it only costs about twenty dollars (got stuck for the check and borrowed five). Too, he has rendered an invaluable service to the young lady whose social "Securedness" depends upon being seen at the Colonel Montgomery Saturday nigtly.

Ah me! Yes, this pursuit is admittedly trying, physically and financially. Our lad, however, will rationalize with himself even while he's working off his debts pounding rocks in a striped suit. And the young lady . . . what was her name???

Angry Widow (after hearing that her husband had cancelled his insurance): "I want you to take 'Rest in Peace' off that tombstone I ordered yesterday."

Sculpture: "I can't do that, but I can put something underneath it."

Widow: "All right. Put 'Til We Meet Again'".



• • •

There was the guy who was so dumb he thought assets were little donkeys.

NEPTUNE SENDS SAILOR TO MAIN LINE

NOTED PROFESSOR RECOUNTS CAREER

In the few short months since September, 1947, the figure of Commander, now Mr., Donald W. Davis has become a familiar one on the campus, especially to all resident students and engineers.

COMDR. (then Lt. Comdr.) DONALD W. DAVIS, USNR, (Ret.), B.S. in E.E., Asst. Prof. E.E. at Villanova.

After 27 years in the Navy, the last eight teaching at the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Comdr. Davis has retired and is now Assistant Professor of Electrical Engineering at Villanova. While at the Naval Academy he taught Electrical Engineering and Communications.

Explored Indian Sites

Born in Denver, Colorado on the 29th of May, 1896, he began a business career as a newsboy at the age of 10. Graduated from high school in Montrose, Colo., he attended Colorado College. During high school days he explored western Colorado and located many cliff dwellings and old Indian burial sites. These he found in areas 30 miles away from any settlements, in those days shingle-towns full of cowboys. High school and college found him a professional trick bicycle rider, and a professional skater.

Cited in Sea Drama

World War I interrupted his collegiate career in 1917, when he first joined the Navy. As a junior officer of the watch (engineering) on the USS Troy, a 38,000-ton transport, Mr. Davis was cited for aid in saving the ship from sinking with 6,000 troops aboard. He worked for 9 hours in water waist-high in the engine room after the ship was damaged in a severe storm in the Atlantic.

Later, he served aboard the USS Sixaola, which caught fire just after leaving New York and sank with the loss of two lives. The fire was caused by sparks from a commutator igniting the greasy windings of an electric motor. After the first World War he returned to Colorado College, and was graduated with the degree of B. S. in E.E. in 1919. Two years later he joined the Naval Reserve and remained on active duty until 1947.

First Equatorial Crossing

Comdr. Davis remembers well his first trip across the Equator in 1921, aboard the venerable battleship USS Idaho. The Neptunus Rex party was truly rough. Lathered with fuel oil and tar he was shaved with a tremendous wooden razor, followed by a complete salt water shower at 20 lbs. fire hose pressure. Since he kissed the bare foot of Neptune Rex improperly, he was condemned to the fish, dropped from the gun deck into an electrically charged canvas tank. After getting out of the tank, he had to run the gauntlet of 210 bruising "bolo men" with newspaper clubs. At the end of the line and 30 minutes of torture, he received a certificate as a full-fledged "shellback" which in Comdr. Davis' words, "goes wherever I go—you can believe me."

Made Headlines

He served in all types of naval vessels except submarines and PT boats, and visited almost every navigable port in the world. During the second World War, he taught thousands of Annapolis midshipmen from the fruits of his experiences. He figured as President of the Court in a famous General Court-martial several years ago, which afforded him many discomforting moments, but an assignment in which he distinguished himself admirably.

A daughter, 21, graduated from the University of Southern California in June, 1947. She and Mrs. Davis are at present in Pasadena, California. The Assistant Professor is a member of such national organizations as the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, American Society of Electrical Engineers, and the Institute of Radio Engineers.

Sailor and Teacher

Vigorous though his life has been, he retains a freshness of a man widely travelled, rich in experiences and friendships, a scholar, a sailor, and educator. His imposing bearing speaks well for the Navy; a smiling sincerity speaks for itself.

When his duties are fulfilled at Villanova College, he expects to finally retire to Colorado Springs, Colo. (vicinity of Pike's Peak) where in his own words, "I shall buy a home with a big porch where I may sit and just dream of the past, and of the many fine Navy and civilian friends I have made in many parts of the world."

TOWN TALK

By McMANUS and KAISER

Theatre-goers of the Main Line and vicinity have the opportunity of enjoying first-rate Broadway performances in the local setting of Berwyn, Pa. All performances are worthy of notice, and the current attraction beginning the week of February 23rd, will be "Bent Halo". In proportion to the quality of the performances, the patronage has been very disappointing.

Carousel Succeeds Oklahoma

Rodgers and Hammerstein have brought their production "Carousel" to Philadelphia. This adaption of Molnar's "Liliom" is being shown at the Shubert Theatre for two more weeks. The elaborate musical is not as rewarding as its previous successor "Oklahoma". But, it still has enough pleasant qualities to provide an entertaining evening.

Alfred Drake, the original "Curley" of "Oklahoma" fame, and Marsha Hunt, of the screen, will co-star in a new comedy "Joy to the World" by Allen Scott. This offering at the Forrest Theatre is a play of Hollywood life and manners.

Theatre Guild Offering

George Bernard Shaw will again be represented in Philadelphia this season. A revival of his comedy "You Never Can Tell" is to be presented at the Walnut Theatre for two weeks beginning March 1st. This comedy presented by the Theatre Guild is the fifth play in the current Theatre Subscription Season.

A perennial favorite, "Blossom Time" starring Everett Marshall, will again return to the Shubert for a limited engagement. This popular musical romance based on Franz Schubert's life, his loves, and his music is ineffective when compared with the more pretentious works of today. For those who like a lightsome comedy with little ostentation, musical is highly recommended.

Colonial Does "The Visitor"

The Colonial Players choice for the month of February is a psychological drama entitled "The Visitor" This New York drama promises to provide ample entertainment for those whose interests are turned to the psychological side of the entertainment world.

The new tenor sensation Miklos Gafni will have his concert debut in Philadelphia on Tuesday, February 24th. "The Hungarian Caruso" will be presented under the auspices of the Philadelphia Forum. Tickets are now available at Haly's (1505 Walnut Street). Prices are from $1.30 to $3.90. His work in this country is relatively unknown except to New Yorkers who have heard him in one or two recitals. All advance reports are extremely favorable.

Bruno Walter Conducts

The weekend concerts of the Philadelphia Orchestra will find Bruno Walter as guest conductor. His splendid work has made him much in demand on this continent as well as in Europe. On Friday afternoon and Saturday evening Dr. Walter will lead the orchestra in a diversified program. The opening work will be the "Haffner Symphony" by Mozart. Then the work "Variations on a Theme of Haydn" by Brahms and the Symphony No. 9 in D minor by Bruckner will close the concert.

'Neath The Spires

By JOSEPH R. QUILL '50

Miracles are not so rare as we might think. They take place often—not miracles like passing a test or winning some big game—but real miracles.

On a recent radio program the master of ceremonies noticed in his audience a woman who had been there before with a seeing eye dog. But now she wore glasses and had no dog with her. She was asked if she could come to the microphone and explain this to the audience. She said she could and did.

She had been blind and had had her seeing eye dog lead her through every step that she had taken. Her reason for being in the audience was that she wanted to see the master of ceremonies—she had long pictured him in her mind and wanted to compare the picture with the true image of the man. During the course of time, she had made three trips to the shrine of St. Anne in Canada. She told the audience that she was a Roman Catholic. On her third trip, as she and her husband were coming from a restaurant, a miraculous thing occurred. She stopped her husband, saying unbelievably, "Wait a minute. Wait a minute. I can see something." What she saw was a neon sign, the letters RESTAURANT shining brightly in her eyes. She could see —SEE!

She said that her husband, in the emotion of the instant, had walked to the curb, sat down, and almost "lost his supper."

That, very briefly, is her story. Her doctor made no attempt to explain it—he was admittedly unable. It was beyond him, beyond the realm of all human reason. A miracle.

Shall we agree that it was a miracle? Or shall we "reserve our opinion" as so many people do when they stumble their "I don't know's."

The facts are there. Doctors gave her no hope of seeing at any time in her life; mankind knew no way of giving sight to the eyes of the blind woman. But sight came.

How did it come No man knows and no man can explain it. It could have been but one thing—a miracle worked through the power of some Superior Intellect. There can be no other answer: it must have been the work of God. The Church would not call it this until there was sufficient investigation, however. But as it stands, if all these facts are true—and there is no reason to believe that they are not—it must have ben the work of God.

One of the greatest and strongest proofs of the existence of God is the miracles that he works; this short incident is but one of many, many miracles.

Campus Roll Call

By J. P. Mallick

Until Easter most activities at the various colleges have been limited.

• • •

Up at IMMACULATA the girls who are majoring in Education are having a hard time of it. It seems that these charming lassies have to rise at 5:15 A. M. in order to get to their respective schools for practice teaching.

The other day while teaching in a nearby school, a group of girls came across a 15-year-old high school boy. They all were impressed by his handsome appearance and angelic behavior. The shock of their lives came the other day when they read in the paper that the chap was expelled from school for carrying a gun.

The Macs are in full swing of what they hope will be their third consecutive undefeated basketball season. Lately, they have beaten Ursinus and East Stroudsburg State Teachers.

• • •

Over at ROSEMONT the girls' basketball team is getting ready for the Chestnut Hill game which is to be played on March 2nd at Rosemont and also for the Immaculata game which will be played on March 9th, away.

Their dramatic club will travel to St. Joe's to participate in three one-act plays on Feb. 26, 27 and 28.

The Villanovans who were over at Rosemont last Thursday evening had quite a gay time. It was the night of the annual inter-class plays, complete with chorus girls of the Roaring twenties. The freshmen put on a drama entitled "The Curtain." The sophomores staged Oscar Wilde's comedy, "The Happy Journey" which is a story about a family motoring from Newark to Camden. The Juniors staged a scene from the life of Joan of Arc, while the Seniors put on the night's prize-winning play "Riders to the Sea." At the end, the audience was entertained by two "actors" from "The Chocolate Soldier".

The best performance was rendered by Peggy Jacobsen, and honorable mention was awarded to Mimi Dransfield, both well known to Villanova audiences.

• • •

At CHESTNUT HILL the girls will start their retreat on Feb. 25th. It seems that the Seniors will be given a special one.

The girls will broadcast over WFIL on Feb. 28th in cooperation with La Salle.

On March 15th, the Juniors will hold their Ring Luncheon in the afternoon, and that evening will stage the Ring Dance at the Ben. Franklin hotel.

(Continued on Page 4)

THE 5TH COLUMN

By HUGH JOHNSON and FRANK McBRIDE

Pat tells us Lee didn't like the Ave Verum at the recent Immaculata Concert. (Don't ask us. We got $2.00 from a staff member for plugging the above line).

It's Spring Again . . . ? ? ?

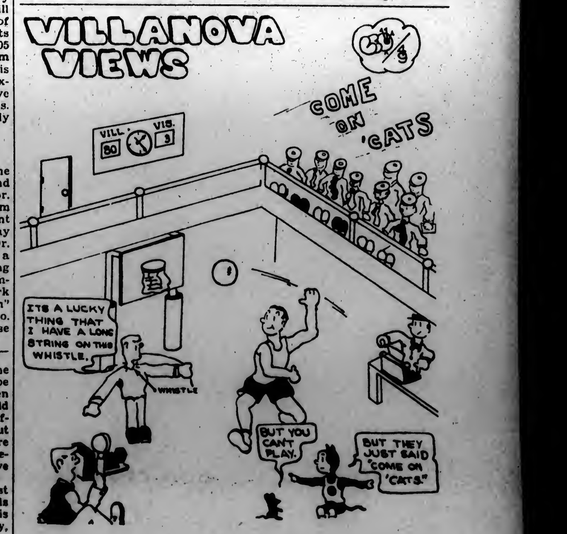
Maybe it's a false alarm but it sure looks like crocus and rosenlund time from where we sit . . . Baseballs in the air . . . traffic on the increase to Chestnut Hill . . . "In Spring a young man turns fancy" . . . not a mutilation of an axiom . . . reference to Bucky Coleman . . . He's now wearing a necktie (his First) . . . Also spotted buying razor blades.

Lest we all hock our overcoats—a word to the wise. The General may still be seen zooming around the campus resplendent in greatcoat and galoshes. Does that epitomize pessimism or no?

What's In a Name

The class plays last Thursday night at Rosemont drew quite a few of the Villanova Campus Romeos. The plays were O.K. but the outstanding snigger came on scanning the program. There was Posey, Pischke, Nanci, Pete, Blondie, Jackie, Muffy, Mack, Dum-Dum, Goo-Goo, Rhett, Ryson, Doody on and on and on. Cute though, aren't they. Incidentally, the Senior Class won—Fr. Krupa said so.

Two C&F profs are brooding over lost students. Seems when they were calling the roll, the names of Gil Dodds and Herb McKenley popped up. "What happend to Dodds and McKenley," they both asked? A none too bright soap-carving major from the back of the room had the answer: "They transferred to Seton Hall . . . "



The football-basketball frolic before the Seton Hall game provided plenty of entertainment for the full house . . . Zip Zehler with his broken field running, Andy Gordon with his all-out blocks, and Ed Berrange with his heads-up ball . . .

But, seriously, lots of credit to Joe Rogers and his brother John, Dick Altman, who kept the score book, confused John with the name of Smith, (a universal ringer name) for arranging the game.

Speaking of Temple, Sid Nemiroff, sports editor of the Temple News makes no bones about it. He informed us that he will personally pound the drum for Nelson (Nitay) Bobb, their star basketball forward, for All-American.

We are inclined to agree with you,

(Continued on Page 8)

Immaculata Welcomes Glee Club And Band At Recital

By PAT LAFERTY

Monday evening, February 16, the Symphonic Band and the Glee Club of Villanova, under the direction of Rev. Ralph J. Handran, O. S. A., presented a program of musical variety before the students of Immaculata College.

The program, dominated by informality, was performed before an appreciative, student-faculty audience. The student audience, mainly consisting of pupils of the music school, clearly indicated their favorites and enthusiastically participated in several parts of the program.

Indicative of the informality of the musical was the extent of audience participation. One selection, a blues medley, featured the talent of impromptu conductors, viz. Rev. Edward Welsh and Miss Marguerite McFarland. Both baton-wielders encountered considerable difficulty in holding down volume.

A group of college songs were popularly received. Included in this medley were "Whiffenpoof Song", "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi", "On the Avenue", "Poppa, Won't You Dance With Me", "Alice Blue Gown", and "My Wild Irish Rose".

The following three orchestral works opened the concert: Collegian (Yoder), Wagner Selection (arranged by Frangkieser) and El Relicario (Padilla). The band, although loud at the beginning, satisfactorialy adjusted itself to the rather small hall. The last mentioned number was very favorably received.

The spotlight then shifted to the Glee Club and the following four presentations: The Ramparts We Watch (Beecher), Duna (McGill), Ave Verum (Mozart), and Tramp, Tramp, Tramp, (Herbert). In all, good direction and excellent coordination betwen the two groups were maintained.

Following a brief intermission, the band rendered Glory of the Trumpets (Brockenshire). The selection was made for the Villanova group and was credibly handled on all scores.

Expressed from a musical viewpoint the highlight of the evening's entertainment was a performance of themes from Mozart's "Magic Flute." The classical master's works made heavy demands on the talent of the orchestra, particularly the melody - carrying sections. The piece was very well done, lacking heaviness, with good intonation and precise rhythm. There was no catering to sentiment, and the group deserves much praise in this effort.

Other major orchestra works presented were Rhapsody in Blue (Gershwin) and the third movement of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony. The latter was also excellently played although not as well received as some lighter works.

There followed the vocal works with audience participation which were mentioned before. The concert closed with the Immaculata Alma Mater and the Star Spangled Banner.

A social, with refreshments and dancing, followed the musical. The musicians and their associates were served and entertained by students of the School of Music. The concert, to this correspondent, provided another stepping stone towards establishment of friendly and beneficial relations between the two Main Line colleges.

CAMPUS ROLL CALL

(Continued from Page 3)

Unofficially, the NFCCS will conduct three tea dances on March 7th to aid in sending the relief articles abroad.

Chestnut Hill will play host to Lr Salle, St. Joe's host to Immaculata, and Villanova will be host to Rosemont. The admission price has not yet been announced.

It is hoped that our Field House will be used for the dance and that an orchestra will provide the music.

Some German civilians overthrew a tiny weather station in northern Germany and fled the unfortunate American on the railroad tracks to be killed when the troop train, then only fifty miles away, passed. But the poor fellow starved to death first.

JEANNETT'S
Bryn Mawr Flower Shop
Corsage Specialists
FREE DELIVERY
823 Lancaster Ave.
BRYNMAWR, PA.
Bryn Mawr 0570 : Flowers by Wire

WHY WALK?
CLEANING PRESSING
We Pick Up and Deliver Daily at the
PIE SHOP
COLADONATO TAILOR SHOPPE

KEEP SUPPLIED WITH SCHOOL TICKETS
GOOD ON BUSES AND RAIL CARS UNTIL USED
5c a Ride, including Special Free Transfers. Obtain Identification Cards at School Office.
RED ARROW LINES
Philadelphia Suburban Transportation Co.

ATTENTION JUNIORS!

The Loren Murchison Co. Representative Will Take the Final Orders for Class Rings from Wednesday, February 25, 11 A. M. to 1:30 P. M., in the VILLANOVAN Office .....

Miss Your Dinner (if you have to)
Miss Your Date (if you must)
—but don't miss...
THE NEWEST, MOST THRILLING TALENT HUNT IN AMERICA
INCLUDING TOP STARS FROM THE COLLEGES...
"PHILIP MORRIS NIGHT WITH HORACE HEIDT"

• Every Sunday Night Over NBC, PHILIP MORRIS PICKS A STAR in a search for the great stars of tomorrow. Performers from all over the country ... including the top talent picked from the colleges! Music, drama, thrilling entertainment... weekly prizes of $250 ... and to the winner of the year — movie and radio contracts, plus a grand prize of $5000 in cash!

Yes! For perfect listening, make a date for Sunday night and hear the stars of tomorrow with PHILIP MORRIS! And for perfect smoking...today, tomorrow, always...light up a PHILIP MORRIS, America's FINEST Cigarette!

BE WITH US EVERY SUNDAY NIGHT OVER NBC...UNTIL THEN
CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS

Cats Beat Seton Hall 68-60; St. Francis Humbled 52-47

Arizen with 27 Points Leads Quintet as Villanova Evens Season Series

By HARRY JACOBS

Paced by the all-round brilliant play of Paul Arizen, who scored 27 points, Villanova, by a score of 68-60 upset twice-beaten Seton Hall College last Thursday night before a capacity crowd at the field house. The Wildcats had previously lost to the New Jersey five, 52-40, South Orange.

Brooks Ricca put Villanova into the lead soon after the opening tap off with a free toss. That lead was never relinquished, although the Pirates from Seton Hall were never really out of the game.

Team Play Excellent

The backboard play of Arizen and Ricca, coupled with the defensive play of "Toad" Hannon, Tom Sabol, and Leo Wolf that consistently broke up the defensive plays, were the determining factors.

In the first half, Villanova managed to keep comfortably ahead, much to the dismay of some 300 banner-carrying rooters of the away team. But soon after the second half tapoff, Seton Hall began closing in on the score. Set shots by Dick Hammock and John Macknowski, Seton Hall high scorer with 28 points, pushed the score up to 43-44.

But Ricca, who racked up 20 points over the course of the game, came to the rescue with two of his one-handers and managed to take some of the pressure off.

Pirates Rally

But with the score at 62-55, the Pirates rallied. Frank Saul dropped a set shot from the outside for 2 of his total of 21 points. Howie Janotta followed with a quick tap-in before Hartman fouled Villanova's Shy Raiken who made his charity toss good.

Seton Hall came sweeping down the floor determined to break into the lead but Leo Wolf was there to intercept a pass. Reverting to their wide open style, Wolf flung the ball the length of the court to Arizen for the lay-up. This broke the back of the men from South Orange and the 'Cats had little trouble freezing the ball for the remaining two minutes.

Rogers vs. Rogers

In a preliminary game, Joe Roger's basketball team, composed of members of the Wildcat football team, outscored (and outroughed) his brother John's team, composed of members of the Temple football team. Joe, who was an all-Catholic basketball player at Roman Catholic under Villanova's present football coach, Jordan Olivar, was high scorer of the game with 12 points. Jim Smith, of the Temple squad, led his team with 11 counters.

Villanova	G.	F.	P.	Seton Hall	G.	F.	P.
Ricca,f	8	4	20	Saul,f	8	5	21
Sabol,f	4	1	9	Mack'ski,f	9	5	23
Arizen,c	9	9	27	Renner,c	4	0	8
Weglicki,c	1	0	2	Hamm'ck,g	2	0	4
Wolf,g	1	3	5	Janotta,g	1	2	4
Hanna,g	2	0	4
Raiken,g	0	1	1
Totals	25	18	68	Totals	24	12	60

Halftime—Villanova, 33-23.

Foul shots missed — Villanova 8 (Ricca 4, Sabol 3, Hnanan 1); Seton Hall, 5. (Renner 2, Reilly, Macknowski, Janotta). Personal fouls—Villanova 16, (Hannan 5, Sabol 3, Weglicki 3, Wolf 2, Ricca, Arizen, Raiken). Seton Hall 19 (Macknowski 1, Lavertee 4, Hartman 4, Hammock 3, Reilly, Saul, Renner, Janotta.

HOYAS READY FOR INVADING WILDCATS

Villanova Out to Extend Victory Streak

Tomorrow night the Wildcat basketball team will travel to Washington to meet a strong but unsteady Georgetown quintet. On March 4th the 'Cats will entertain the Hoyas at the Field House.

This year the proteges of Elmer "Rip" Ripley, who has been tutoring hoopsters for 39 seasons—seven at Georgetown, have had an up and down battle all the way. Still suffering from the loss of 47 star, Andy Kostecka, the Hilltoppers are finally getting started and of late are looking like the Hoya five which won the two bitterly contested games against Villanova last year.

Pacing the Hoyas are a pair of high stepping forwards: Ed Brembs and Tom "Flash" O'Keefe. Brembs, a 6'-01" Junior, will be remembered for his play last year. With the ability to score from under the basket, he is a constant threat.

In O'Keefe, Coach Ripley has one of the finest set shot artists in college ranks. Tom played a year under Ripley at Notre Dame and followed his mentor to Georgetown two years ago.

Starting at Center will be Ken Brown, at 6'4" and is the tallest man on the Hoya squad. Brown is unusually adept in capturing rebounds and on his shoulders will rest the task of trying to outleap Paul Arizen, sensational Wildcat pivotman.

In the guard slots will be Danny Kraus and Ray Corley. Kraus, an All-American selection in 1942, is the best ball handler on the club and has the job of setting up the plays. He plays aggressively and also has the ability to score from far out. Corley, who also came to Georgetown via Notre Dame gathers his points on set shots and can prove devastating once he gets started. Only 19 years old, this 5'10" Junior is a demon on defense and is known for his fine backboard work.

The Lineup:

VILLANOVA		GEORGETOWN
Ricca	f	Brembs
Sabol	f	O'Keefe
Arizen	c	Brown
Wolf	g	Corley
Hannon	g	Kraus

Oddities from basketball's history—as culled from a recent issue of Varsity, the young man's magazine . . . .

Barefoot leagues were once the style in Calcutta . . . .

In 1906, all of the players in a game at Madison Square Garden wore roller skates. No fouls were called . . . .

In 1904 the Buffalo Germans swamped Hobart College, 134-0.

In 1903 the lowest-scoring game was played: Georgetown, Illinois, made a foul goal in the first period, then stalled, and defeated the Homer team, 1-0. . . .

The most outstanding team, Varsity Magazine found, was the Passaic (N. J.) High School five. It began a winning streak in 1921 that lasted four years, winning 159 games straight . . . .

By Neal Fahy

Continuing their policy of "never losing two-in-a-row", which was inaugurated 35 games ago, the Villanova basketeers again bounced back after a loss, this time to edge out a strong St. Francis quintet 52 to 47 on Saturday night before 1500 partisan fans in the 14th Regiment Armory, Brooklyn.

Leading the Wildcat offensive was tall Brooks Ricca who in addition to scoring 13 points, combined with Paul Arizen to give Villanova complete mastery of the backboards. It was Ricca's stellar play and Hannan's aggressiveness which enabled the Cats to pull this one out of the fire.

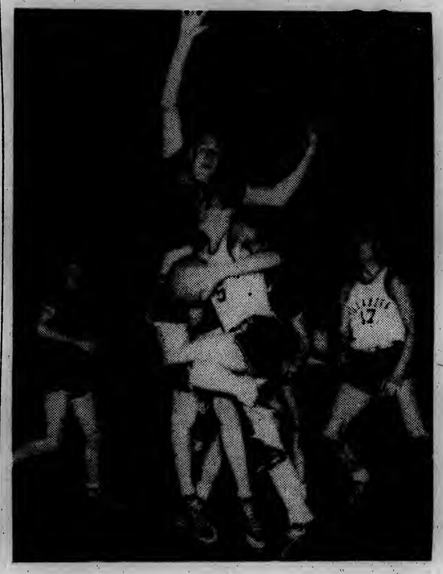
Freezing Almost Fails

While the Wildcats, who led practically all the way, concentrated on freezing tactics to protect their ten point lead with four minutes remaining, the Terriers' Tom Gallagher almost upset the apple-cart when he twice stole the ball and made two quick field goals and a foul to cut the lead down to 49-45. But Scrappy little Joe Hannan split the meshes with a set shot and Leo Wolf added a foul with 57 seconds remaining to put the game on ice.

Terriers Rally

Trailing by ten points in the first half, St. Francis, paced by the sharpshooting Gallagher, high scorer of the game with 15 points, charged back to grab the lead in the early minutes of the second half after trailing at the intermission 29 to 27. Forging in front, by 31 to 29, the Terriers lead disappeared as the Wildcats took advantage of their greater height and speed. With the aid of two beautiful one handers by Paul Arizen, Villanova shot into a 39 to 32 lead after ten minutes and maintained their edge despite the St. Francis drive in the closing minutes.

The fine all-around floor playing of Leo Wolf was a steadying influence on the Cats and prevented them from blowing-up as they did the previous night. Shy Raiken gave another dazzling ball handling performance in freezing the ball in the final minute.



It was the 13th win in 21 games for the Cats who now have only Bucknell and Georgetown to face.

The line-ups:

Villanova	G.	F.	P.	St. Francis	G.	F.	P.
Ricca,f	5	3	13	Grady,f	2	1	5
Sabol,f	2	0	4	McNiff,f	1	0	2
Arizen,c	5	1	11	Agosta,f	0	3	3
Weglicki,c	1	0	2	Gallagher,f	6	3	15
Raiken,g	2	0	4	O'Connor,f	6	0	12
Hannan,g	5	1	11	Dolance	2	2	6
Wolf,g	2	3	7	Melee,g	2	0	4
Totals	22	8	52	Totals	19	9	47

Halftime score—Villanova, 29; St. Francis, 27.

WHOOPS!

Guida Second In NAAU; Trackmen Enter IC4A Meet

BOLEN EDGES GUIDA WITH BEST TIME OF THE SEASON

By Harry Range

During the past two weeks, Villanova trackmen continued in their winning ways by placing in the two meets at Madison Square Garden in New York. Competing against the best in the East and Mid-West in the invitation N. Y. A. C. Meet on February 14 and the open National A. A. U. on the following Saturday, the Wildcats again proved to be among the top performers of the country.

N. Y. A. C.

The New York Athletic Club Meet found George Guida facing Herb McKenley, this time in the Buermeyer 500. On their previous meeting of the current indoor season, Guida bettered the Jamaican speedster in the Hollis 600 at Boston the week before.

However, this time it was McKinley's turn. At the gun, Guida was shoved and thrown off pace and since he ran into further trouble at the turns, was forced to retire.

In the meantime McKinley had piled up five yards at the start and maintaining a burning pace had beaten runner-up John Hammack of Army by ten paces. Following Hammack were Jeff Kirk of Penn, and Ensign Arthur Bigley of the Navy Olympics.

The mile-relay team, running against Seton Hall and Georgetown, placed second to the Pirates of South Orange who broke the tape in 3:21.2. The time for the mile-relay was the fastest since before the war and the race was a gruelling contest all the way.

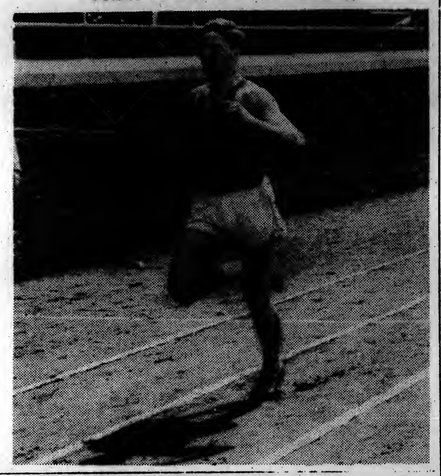
In the Gil Dodds-less running of the Baxter Mile Browning Ross placed third behind Guy Karver of Penn State and Tom Quinn of the N. Y. A. C. Karver led at the quarter in 0:62.7 while Quinn was setting the pace at the half and three-quarter marks in the relatively slow time of 3:09.3. However at the tape it was Karver in 4:15 with Quinn and Ross close behind.

The pole-vault found Buckey Coleman in a tie for fourth place with John Schmidt at 13 feet event. The event was taken by Richmond "Boo" Morcorn of the University of New Hampshire who set a new meet record at 14 feet 5¼ inches.

National A. A. U.

The 600 yard run at the Nationals was to have been the rubber match between George Guida and Herb McKenley. However, although Guida ran a beautiful race and might possibly have won if there was another twenty yards, Dave Bolen, a dark horse, captured the event with McKinley fourth.

Guida took an early lead and held the pace-setting position for one lap. On the second circling of the boards, Bolen and McKenley both came up on Guida on the turn and forced him into third place. The race remained this way for two laps with the two leaders for first place. On the final lap McKenley made his final but was passed by Guida who was a yard and a half behind Bolen at the finish. Guida made his last lap dash just a little too late and had he started sooner he probably would have taken Bolen. The time for the 600 was 1:11.8, only 1 fifth of a second behind the record.



Ed Fitzgerald was also entered in the field of 29 aspirants to the 6'0 crown. He qualified in the heats and quarter finals, but since he was third in the semis, he failed to qualify for the finals.

The two-mile relay found the Wildcats in third place behind Manhattan, whose time was 7:49.9, and Fordham University.

Lead-off man for the blue and white was Jim McKenna, who was running the half for the first time in competition. McKenna jumped

(Continued on Page 6)

GUIDA TO DEFEND IC4A CROWN

Athletic Office Releases Schedule for Weinertmen

VILLANOVA UPSET BY RALLYING NYAC FIVE

Game Lost in Final Minute as Cats Are Edged, 51-49

The Villanova College basketball team traveled to New York last Friday to vie with the men of the New York Athletic Club. The result was that the Wildcats lost their fifth game of the season by two points or less, dropping this one in the last 52 seconds, 51 to 49 in the main gym of the NYAC building before an estimated 1000 fans.

Trailing, 49-44, with two minutes of play left, the New Yorkers came to life suddenly. Bill Jenson, who made a field goal and a foul in the last few seconds, accounted for five of the seven points in the sudden spurt. The other field goal was provided by Steve Ferraro who ended up high man of the night with 16 points.

Small Floor Hampers Cats

The Wildcats found themselves seriously hampered by the small floor of the gym and were unable to take full advantage of the speed which has been such a main factor in their victories this season. The old glass backboard jinx was also back with the Cats bringing all its reflections.

Reliable Brooks Ricca was high man for Villanova with a total of ten points. Leo Wolf had nine.

While the record of the New York Athletic Club Basketball team has been none too good this season, they do boast a victory over Mt. St. Marys. The team is composed of former Metropolitan college stars.

The box scores:

Villanova	G.	F.	P.	N. Y. A. C.	G.	F.	P.
Sabol	3	2	8	Kuhn,f	2	0	4
Petit,f	0	0	0	Long,f	0	0	0
Ricca,f	4	2	10	Baines,f	0	0	0
Arizen,c	1	1	3	McLaughlin,f	0	0	0
Weglicki,c	1	1	3	Jenson,c	4	4	12
Wolf,g	3	3	9	Soldier,c	0	0	0
Crossin,g	0	1	1	Goehling,g	1	0	2
DelPurg'o,g	0	0	0	McGuire,g	1	3	11
Benson,g	2	0	4	Cohane,c	1	1	6
Raiken,g	3	1	7	Ferraro,g	8	0	16
Totals	19	11	19	Totals	29	11	51

Halftime—Villanova, 21-20.

Guida Second in NAAU — Trackmen Enter IC4A Meet

(Continued from Page 5)

into second place behind John Moran of Manhattan and held it for the first half mile of the race. Ed Fitzgerald took the baton on the second leg but on the first lap was overtaken by Fordham. However, on the last turn, Fitzgerald again brought Villanova into second. The third leg was run by George Thompson who held down second but was unable to catch Tommy Comerford of Manhattan.

The anchor leg was run by Browning Ross, who had just previously run in the mile run. As a result, Ross was not in his best condition and was unable to hold on to second. Fordham's anchor man took it on the second turn and just edged out Ross at the finish.

Bucky Coleman was again in a tie for fourth place in the pole vault. The height was again 13 feet and the tie was again with John Schmidt. Bucky was also tied for fourth with Arthur Sherman of Rhode Island State. The pole vault title was taken by Bob Richards of Illinois A. C. with a jump of 14 feet, 6 inches. Second place went to Boo Morcom while the third position was won by Earl Meadows, olympic champion of 1936.

IC4A This Saturday

Although there seems to be little possibility of capturing the team trophy in the I.C.A.A.A.A. Meet, Villanova's trackmen are a cinch to gain recognition in several events.

The ever-reliable George Guida will be defending his crown in the 600 and should be able to top the more than thirty starters which include Army's John Hammack, N. Y. U.'s Gilhooley, Jeff Kirk of Penn, Georgetown's Ed Sause and Frank Fox and Jack Tulp of Seton Hall.

In the mile Browning Ross will again battle against Gerry Karver and Bill Berger of Columbia among a field of thirty.

Bucky Coleman is again entered in the pole vault and teams are expected to be placed in the mile and 2 mile relays.

New England Trip, Service Games Featured 24-Game Roster

The release of an ambitious and gruelling 24 game baseball schedule for the 1948 season by the Athletic office marked the beginning of Villanova's 54th year in intercollegiate baseball.

Replacing last year's disastrous Southern trip which saw Coach Phil Weinert's men lose three out of four, is an invasion of New England's baseball diamonds. On this northern journey, Villanova will meet Boston College, Holy Cross, one of the top baseball powers in the country, Siena and Williams.

The Cats will also play host to the Philadelphia Phillies in a pre-opening day game on April 19th. Last meeting of the two clubs was a slug-fest which saw the National Leaguers emerge victorious 8-7.

April 1	Dartmouth	Home
2	Harvard	Home
3	Princeton	Home
6	Georgetown	Away
7	Navy	Away
9	Maryland	Away
10	Williams	Home
14	Open
17	Bucknell	Away
19	Phillies	Home
21	Army	Away
24	Muhlenberg	Away
28	Penn	Home
30	Seton Hall	Away
May 5	Penn	Away
8	Fordham	Away
12	Lehigh	Home
14	Penn State	Home
19	Rutgers	Away
21	Boston C.	Away
22	Holy Cross	Away
24	Siena	Away
25	Williams	Away
29	Loyola	Away

INTRAMURALS BEGIN 2ND HALF SCHEDULE

The second half of the Intramural Basketball League opened on Thursday, Feb. 19, with Austin playing Alumni in the initial contest. The teams matched each other point for point until a late rally, sparked by Bill Barry, gave Austin a 31-23 halftime lead. In the second half Hal Diot took over the scoring chores as Austin never relinquished their lead, winning 47-33. Austin's Diot tied Buckley of Alumni for individual honors, each dumping in 13 points. Bill Barry was close on their heels with twelve markers. Frank Breslin and Bob Wiener officiated.

In the second tilt, Barracks 2&3 repeated their early season victory over their arch rival, Barracks 1&4, as they completely outclassed the latter to the tune of 53-22. Barracks 2&3 held their opponents scoreless in the first ten minutes of both halfs and took a commanding 16-0 lead in the first quarter. The score at intermission was 28-11 and Father McDonnel's second five, playing almost the entire second half, continued the scoring pace. Deyak with 19 points paced the winners while Loughlin and Bennet each tallied eight. Keenan with 8 points, led the Barracks 1&4 scoring. Frank Breslin also umpired the second game, ably assisted by Lefty Mondschein.

INTRA-MURALS
Spring 1948
Basketball

Second Half

Thursday, Feb. 19
Alumni	vs.	Austin
Barracks 1	vs.	Barracks 2
Tuesday, Feb. 24
Day Hops	vs.	Doms.
Mendel	vs.	Fedigan
Thursday, Feb. 26
Alumni	vs.	Mendel
Austin	vs.	Fedigan
Monday, March 1
Barracks 2	vs.	Day Hops
Barracks 1	vs.	Doms.
Tuesday, March2
Alumni	vs.	Day Hops
Austin	vs.	Mendel
Thursday, March 4
Barracks 1	vs.	Fedigan
Barracks 2	vs.	Doms
Monday, March 8
Austin	vs.	Day Hops
Doms	vs.	Fedigan
Tuesday, March 9
Alumni	vs.	Barracks 1
Mendel	vs.	Barracks 2
Thursday, March 11
Day Hops	vs.	Mendel
Austin	vs.	Doms
Monday, March 15
Barracks 1	vs.	Day Hops
Fedigan	vs.	Alumni
Tuesday, March 16
Doms	vs.	Mendel
Austin	vs.	Barracks 2
Thursday, March 18
Day Hops	vs.	Fedigan
Alumni	vs.	Barracks 2
Monday, March 22
Barracks 2	vs.	Fedigan
Austin	vs.	Barracks 1
Tuesday, March 23
Barracks 1	vs.	Mendel
Alumni	vs.	Doms

BASKETBALL STATISTICS

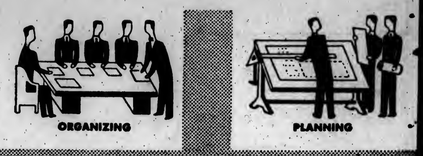
Cumulative Totals for 21 Games Played to Date

	Field Goals	F. T. Attempts	Free Throws	Pers. Fouls	Points
Sabol	96	114	52	96	244
Ricca	83	91	54	54	220
Arizen	86	77	49	53	221
Wolf	61	52	41	44	163
Raiken	59	44	26	33	143
Hannan	51	58	31	43	133
Crossin	20	40	23	20	63
Weglicki	23	29	20	22	66
Del Purgotorio	22	16	10	21	54
Petit	12	13	7	10	31
Yeager	1	0	0	2	2
Barry	0	0	0	1	0
Own Team Totals	514	451	310	304	1340
Opponents' Totals	441	394	217	388	1099

SEASON'S SINGLE-GAME RECORDS TO DATE

Individual Highs (Own Players)

Total Points Scored, Arizen vs. Seton Hall	27
Field Goals Scored, Sabol vs. Rhode Island	11
Free Throws Scored, Arizen vs. Seton Hall	9
Free Throws Attempted Ricca vs. Rhode Island	10



Team Offense Highs (Own Totals)

Total Points Scored vs. Fort Dix	99
Field Goals Scored vs. Fort Dix	44
Free Throws Scored vs. Rhode Island	30
Personal Fouls Against vs. Cincinnatti	25

Team Defense Lows (Opponents' Totals)

Total Points Scored by Ft. Dix-Navy	39
Field Goals Scored by Navy	12
Free Throws Scored by Scranton	6
Personal Fouls Against Ft. Dix	9

WHAT IS MANAGEMENT?

MANAGEMENT, in the telephone business, is essentially a word. It defines the duties and responsibilities of telephone men and telephone women who have shown by their abilities that they can undertake them.

Those who supervise the organizing, planning, financing, and directing of this business, in other words, are simply telephone employees at various stages in their careers.

That's the way things are done in the telephone business. Any employee who shows the qualities of leadership will find that those qualities are bound to be recognized.

This opportunity for advancement is a natural incentive to good work, but it is also your assurance of good telephone service at low cost. For the telephone business is complex, and the special skills and arts that are required to run it are learned only on the firing line of experience.

Tomorrow's leaders in this business are today working with and under the direction of yesterday's employees.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

BUS. LAW CLASSES VISIT CITY HALL COURTS

The several classes of Business Law 101 and 102 went to the Philadelphia City Hall last week to witness actual court proceedings. Mr. Henry of the Law Department arranged the trip to familiarize the students with the courts in action. The cases witnessed proved to be of great value as they were similar to those which are reviewed in class.

The excursion proved to be entertaining as well as educational, and many students who had never witnessed trials before were surprised at the informal atmosphere.

One group of students was invited to a conference with Judge Crumlish, an alumnus of Georgetown University. The Judge served as an additional source of information by discussing cases, points of law involved, and obligingly answering questions asked by the group.

Villanovan Dinner-Dance Set for May 15th

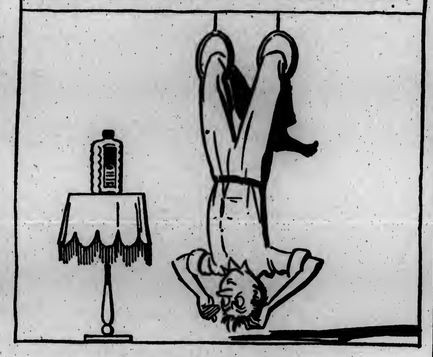
The Rev. John A. Klekotka, O. S. A., Moderator of the Villanovan, recently announced the appointment of Nicholas Marziani as chairman for the annual Villanovan dinner dance. The Dance will be held on Saturday evening, May 15th. Mr. Marziani is contacting local catering groups before determining just where the affair will be held.

Last year the Dance was held at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel in the Central Philadelphia District. It has always been among the outstanding social events of the season for staff members and their dates. The Dance was first sponsored a number of years ago to further the spirit of unity existing among the students on the newspaper staff.

This occasion is used for the presentation of keys to those members of the Villanovan group who have qualified for the awards. Members on the committee are Wm. Altenpohl, Jim Plunkett, Ed. Oxford and Frank Guzikowski.

A recent revamping of the News, Feature and Copy departments of the Villanovan was made with the purpose of obtaining a cooperative, smooth - functioning staff.

Out in California, they boast of having a referee's paradise. WHY? Because they can't hear the crowd. The acoustics are so arranged in the Cow Palace that it is impossible to hear what the crowd or the two benches are yelling. So the jeers and yells at the umps are of no avail . . . This season for the first time, the Cow Palace was opened for intercollegiate basketball. During other parts of the year the huge pavilion which is located on the outskirts of San Francisco, becomes the home of the State's annual Grand National Livestock Exposition, from whence it gets its name.



THE Bouquet Shop

"Flowers That Are Pleasantly Different"

Lancaster Ave. at Roberts Ave., Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Flowers By Wire BRYN MAWR 2422

NEW WAYS TO MAKE THE FAMOUS FINGERNAIL TEST!

IF you're not the athletic type, get yourself a Siamese twin to doodle your noodle. Then, at the first sign of dryness or loose dandruff, head (get it?) for the drug store for a tube or bottle of Wildroot Cream-Oil hair tonic. Just a little bit will help you get ahead (get it again?) with women, if you have nothing better to do. Wildroot Cream-Oil grooms your hair neatly, naturally—without that gooey look. Relieves dryness and removes embarrassing loose dandruff. Wildroot Cream-Oil is non-alcoholic. Remember, however, it contains soothing Lanolin. Try Wildroot Cream-Oil hair tonic today. See for yourself why it's "again and again the choice of men who put good grooming first!" For generous trial supply free, send this ad with your name and address to Wildroot Co., Inc., Dept. C-B, Buffalo 11, New York.

WELCOME CATS

HAMBURG HEARTH

814 LANCASTER AVE. BRYN MAWR, PA.

AT THE FACTORY

We Have a Big Following from Penn, Temple, St. Joseph's, La Salle and Drexel Students

Come in to see for yourself why our styles and prices are so satisfactory to students — especially those attending under the GI Bill — Our prices are unbelievable — HERE ARE A FEW EXAMPLES . . .

All Wool Covert Topcoats	$26.75
Other Topcoats	19.75
All Wool Worsted Suits	32.75
Other All Wool Suits	21.75
All Wool Sportcoats	14.75
All Wool Slacks	5.00

Come Direct To The Manufacturer

Becker Clothing Co.

FIFTH FLOOR

210 NORTH BROAD STREET

PHILA 2. PA. :: OPEN 9-5 DAILY

This Record Goes Hum-hum-humming Along!

It's JEAN SABLON'S...

"A TUNE for HUMMING"

(RCA Victor)

IN ENGLISH or French, his singing is terrific! His fans range from bobby-soxers to the lavender-and-old-lace set.

Why, he even lights his Camels with a Continental charm. Takes a leisurely puff and says: "Great!"

Yes, Jean, and millions of smokers agree with you about Camels. More people are smoking Camels than ever before!

Try Camels! Discover for yourself why, with smokers who have tried and compared, Camels are the "choice of experience"!

And here's another great record—

More people are smoking CAMELS than ever before!

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. Winston-Salem, N. C.

THE FIFTH COLUMN

(Continued from Page 3)

Sid.

Odds & Ends

"A golden era for Villanova has passed", Matt Kearney, informed us the other day. "Young John Kucha has entered Law School at George Washington University."

Paul Arizen is still sporting a black eye from the Seton Hall game. If he can score 27 points every time he gets a blackie, you can bet he'd be blind before the season was over.

Understand there are mutterings in the dark cellars of Mendel Hall against the 5th. Seems John McGrath, sunglasses et all, and Bill Foster think we mention the names of the same people every week. So, John, Bill—take a look.

And speaking of mutterings in the cellars, we hear our plan of no corsages for Junior Week doesn't meet with universal approval. The plan, as we get it, will deprive a few students on campus who represent local florists of many, many $$$$. Huh . . . your loss, every body's gain.

WVIL PROGRAM SCHEDULE

Tuesday

7:00 P.M.	Campus Newsreel
7:15	Sports News
7:30	Record Rendezvous
	The Radio Theater presents "The Bishop's Wife"
8:30	Request Box
9:00	Symphony Hall
10:00	Music to Study By
11:00	Sign Off

Wednesday

7:00	Campus Newsreel
7:15	Sports News
7:30	Record Rendezvous
8:30	Some Like It Hot
8:30	The Belle Masque Players present "Journey's End"
10:00	Music to Study By
11:00	Sign Off

Thursday

7:00	Campus Newsreel
7:15	Sports News
7:30	Record Rendezvous
8:00	Symphony Hall
9:00	Chaplain's Corner (playlet)
10:00	Music to Study By
11:00	Sign Off

Friday

7:00	Campus Newsreel
7:15	Things To Do
7:30	Record Rendezvous
8:00	Doing the Town
8:30	On Records
9:00	Let's Dance
9:30	Vocally Yours
10:00	Music to Study By
11:00	Sign Off

Monday

7:00	Campus Newsreel
7:15	Sports News
7:30	Record Rendezvous
8:00	Villanova Forum
8:30	Records with Regan
9:00	Star of the Week
9:15	Chaplain's Corner: "News and Views"
9:30	Show Time
10:00	Music to Study By
11:00	Sign Off

OUT OF THE COPY BASKET

By JAMES TAYOUN

A little boy stumbled and sprawled on the sidewalk on his face. An old lady ran over to him and said, "Now, now, little man—everything will be all right—you mustn't cry."

"Cry, my foot," the boy declared. "I'm going to sue the devil outa the guy."

• • •

The new long skirts
Are heavenly bliss
For girls with legs like this ( ) or this) (.

• • •

"Shine your boots, sir?"

"No", snapped the man.

"Shine 'em so's yer can see your face in 'em?".

"No. I tell you."

"Coward," hissed the bootblack.

Little fly upon the wall. Him ain't got no fun at all. Him ain't got no Mommy for to comb his hair – Him don't care HIM AIN'T GOT NO HAIR.

• • •

The reason the average girl would rather have beauty than brains is because the average man can see better than he can think.

A CIGARETTE CAN BE MILD

"The more I smoke Chesterfields the more I appreciate how good they are"

Jack Oakie

STARRING IN "NORTHWEST STAMPEDE" AN EAGLE-LION PRODUCTION

WHY I smoke Chesterfield

(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)

"When I bring my tobacco to market I'm always looking for the Liggett & Myers buyers because I know when I've got real good mild, ripe sweet tobacco they'll pay the top dollar for it.

"I've been smoking Chesterfields for about 25 years. I like their taste and I know the kind of tobacco that's in them."

Arthur Williams

TOBACCO FARMER
GREENVILLE, N. C.

YES - CHESTERFIELDS SMOKE SO MILD - SO MILD THEY SATISFY MILLIONS - SO MILD THEY'LL SATISFY YOU.

ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD

ALWAYS MILDER BETTER TASTING COOLER SMOKING

Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 23 — No. 14 VILLANOVA COLLEGE, VILLANOVA, PA, Tuesday, March 2, 1948

NFCCS GROUP OPENS FOREIGN RELIEF DRIVE

Students Promote Second Phase of Campaign

Tomorrow, Villanova men will have their second opportunity to help fellow students in war-crippled countries; another opportunity to show their belief in One World; a further chance to manifest their faith in the Brotherhood of Man. The N. F. C. C. S. Committee of Villanova will appeal to the students' generosity in the next few weeks by asking for clothes, books, writing materials, and other necessaries of which We have an abundance and They have a dearth.

During the week of March Third, students will be asked to give clothes; the week starting March Tenth, books and writing materials; and the week of March Seventeenth, toilet articles—especially soap. The need for clothing, soap, paper and pencils is quite understandable. However, the call for text-books written in English does require an explanation.

Learning to be a student, a real student—not the golfing, bridge-playing, pub-crawling facsimile—is a strenuous, although satisfying pursuit under the best conditions. Today, in Europe, the pursuit of learning has become unspeakably difficult. Besides the almost complete absence of the ordinary needs of living and learning there are practically no text-books. Students "over-there" ask us to send them ours. Translation will be necessary but they don't mind, their end is knowledge and they will undergo

(Continued on Page 4)

DR. BAUER ATTENDS GER. CLUB SMOKER AS GUEST SPEAKER

Eminent Linguist Discourses Upon Early Career

The eminent and versatile Dr. Bauer of linguistic fame at Villanova addressed the members of the German club at their annual smoker last Tuesday evening. Dr. Bauer spoke of his life in the German navy.

Recordings of German music added to the flavor of the smoker. Club President, Vincent Pica, conducted the meeting that preceded Dr. Bauer's lecture. Pica and Fr. Lunney, the Moderator, discussed the results of their excursion to Chestnut Hill, and the plans for the club entertainment and dance that will be given some time following Easter. The letters received from students in Germany were read to the members.

Then Fr. Lunney introduced Dr. Bauer to the members, though he needed little introduction to most of those present. After a few well chosen phrases in German, Dr. Bauer spoke of his days in school, of his accomplishments in the Navy and how he finally arrived here at Villanova, teaching languages. His slides pictured many of the ships upon which he sailed and which were common to the seas at the turn of the century.

Vincent Pica announced that the next meeting of the German Club will be held shortly to organize the program for the spring entertainment. He asked that all members who felt that they could help in this entertainment offer their services for the evening.

RADIO STATION OFFICIALS

Left to Right: (front) Jos. O'Brien, Matt Kearney, Jack Kane; (rear) Bob Resnick, Bryan McLarnon, Tom Sullivan.

WVIL Inagurates Early Morning Music Program

The campus radio station, WVIL, inaugurated its first morning program known as the "Morning Mixup" yesterday. This will be a daily broadcast from 7:30 to 9:00 A.M. featuring Matt Kearney, Bill Diana, Joe O'Brien, and Bill Coakley.

The program consists of music, campus news, time checks, world news, and a report on the breakfast menu in the cafeteria.

The "Morning Mixup" is the first direct result of the WVIL poll mentioned in the Villanovan last week. The items on the poll were chosen from those most desired by the students interviewed. The poll was the first business undertaken by a recently organized program board which consists of the following men:

Tom Sullivan General Station Mgr.
Matt. Kearney . . Ass't. Station Mgr.
Brian McLarnon Chief Announcer
John Kane . . . . . Chief Engineer
Bob Resnick . . . . Program Director
Joe O'Brien . . . . . Record Librarian

The station has been successful, despite the initial handicaps that had to be overcome. At present the transmission is being worked on to insure clear reception throughout the campus. Plans for expansion have been formulated, but mechanical difficulties have forced them to be shelved. At present the prime essential is the location of a studio that will assure clear listening.

Committees Organize Program For Successful Junior Week

Catholic Girls' Musicale Returns To The Campus

The Catholic Girls' High Schools will present their annual concert at the Field House, Monday evening March 8th, at 8:15. The combined groups are composed of students from Little Flower Catholic High School for Girls, John W. Hallahan Catholic Girls' High School, and West Catholic High School for Girls.

The company of over three hundred girls is divided into a Concert Band, under the direction of Benjamin D' Amelio; an Orchestra and Glee Club, under the direction of Dr. Jeno Donath; and a Verse Speaking Choir directed by Miss Margaret M. Kearney. The selections for the concert include classical, semi-classical and popular compositions. The entire program will last about two hours and the arrangements for the concert are being handled by Rev. Ralph E. Handran, O. S. A., M.Mus. The price of admission will be $1.20, including tax.

The girls from the nearby Colleges, Immaculata, Rosemont and Chestnut Hill will be given late permission that night so that they may attend the concert.

Sometime in May, the combined Catholic Girls' High Schools will present concerts at Norristown, and also at the Academy of Music in Philadelphia. They are also arranging a summer program for Robin Hood Dell.

PROGRAM

Concert Band
Die Fledermaus Overture
Johann Strauss
Arr. Lucien Cailliet
The Three Solitaires
Victor Herbert
Cole Porter Melodies
Arr. Russell Bennett
A Tribute to John Philip Sousa
Arr. Jeno Donath
Verse Speaking Choir
Forty Years After . . . . H. H. Porter
The Altar Boy . . . . Leonard Feeney
Roofs . . . . . Joyce Kilmer
The Kitchen Clock
John Vance Cheney
INTERMISSION
Glee Club
Carissima . . . . . Arthur Penn
Berceuse from "Jocelyn"
Benjamin Godard
Empty Saddles . . . . . Billy Hill
Romance from "The Desert Song"
Sigmund Romberg
Inflammatus et Accenaus from "Stabat Mater"
Gioacchino Rossini
Orchestra
Phedre Overture
Girolamo Frescobaldi
Schubertiana . . . Arr. Jeno Donath
The Legend of the Arkansas Traveler . . . . . Harl McDonald
Street Scene . . . . . Alfred Newman
Through the Opera Glass
Arr. Jeno Donath
FINALE

Guida Assumes Class Presidency — Juniors Select Dates for Ball and Dinner - Dance.

The Junior class has made two announcements: the first concerned the presidency of the class of '49, the second concerned Junior week. Vice president of the Junior class, George Guida, has assumed presidency of the class, and Junior week Chairman, Ray Kelm, announced the activities planned for Junior week.

Definite dates have been assigned to four of the major activities of Junior week. The Mother's Day events will take place on Monday, May 3. The Blazer Ball will be Wednesday night May 5. Friday, May 7, will feature the formal Junior prom. Junior Week will end

CHAIRMAN

RAY KELM

Saturday, May 8, with the Junior Dinner-Dance. Added to these activities will be some special events to be announced in the near future.

Eight men have been appointed chairmen of various committees. These men and the committees they head are: Mother's Day committee, Dick Rice; Blazer Ball committee, Frank McBride and Joe Hennessy; Junior Prom Committee, Jim Plunkett; Dinner Dance committee, Charles Whitaker; Publicity committee, Jack Cashy; Special activities committee, Kevin McChesney; and Junior Week Souvenir Book, Frank Guzikowski.

As yet the orchestras which will play for both the Junior Prom and the Dinner Dance are unscheduled. The Villanovans will provide the music at the Blazer Ball. The Junior Prom and the Blazer Ball will be open to the entire student body. The Junior Dinner Dance will be restricted to Juniors alone.

The officers of the Junior class, George Guida, President, Tony Scarpa, Treasurer, and John Gattuso, Secretary, together with Rev. Thomas A. Burke, O. S. A., Class Moderator, and Ray Kelm, Junior week chairman, have all expressed their hope that this year's Junior week might be most successful. They place particular emphasis upon the fact that much assistance

(Continued on Page 4)

Placement Office Urges Cooperation

The position of the placement office here at Villanova is not generally fully understood. Recently each member of the senior class was requested to fill out a qualification record. The response was encouraging, but not complete. The questionnaire given to the students contains several questions which are standard with all employers.

When the questionnaire is returned to Mr. Friel, an interview is arranged so that the student may discuss his preferences and particular problems in seeking employment.

The Placement office is in contact with seventy-two alumni clubs from Maine to California. It also has direct contacts with innumerable industrial and business firms. The company cannot always send a representative to the college, nor can the student make direct contact in some cases. This office, however, can easily consult the records and determine those who are qualified, the information can be sent out and contacts made. At any time after graduation you may use the service and at any place.

In the future it is hoped that the placement office will be in contact with every firm in the country that is interested in employing college graduates. The contacts will be maintained so that the graduates may take advantage of the service at any time.

Every senior is urged to see Mr. Friel in Room 219, Mendel Hall, at his convenience. The office is open from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M., Monday through Friday.

SYMPATHY

The VILLANOVAN wishes to extend its sympathy to: Tom Kiely, Senior C. and F. student, whose mother, Mrs. Agnes Kiely, died last week; and to Charles Moench, Arts Student, on the death of his father, Mr. Frederick C. Moench.

Beta Gamma Sponsors Contests

Villanova's newly organized debating team announced an extensive intra-society program designed to stimulate interest in debating. Beginning March 10th the society will sponsor contests in Poetry Reading, Dramatic Reading and Extempore. The program will close with an Oratory contest and an intra-society debate tournament. Prizes will be awarded to the winners of each of the special events. Members of the faculty will act as judges. The winning debating teams in the society's contest will represent Villanova at the coming national tournament at Swarthmore. This tournament, to be held on the 16th and 17th of April, will bring together some of the country's best debating teams. The winner of the oratory contest will be sent to New York to participate in the Journal American's National Oratory Contest, where he will have an opportunity to compete for a $1,000 prize.

"Three Dimensional Coloring" Topic of AIEE Meeting

Wednesday evening, February 25th, the members of the Villanova Branch of the A. I. E. E., were addressed by Mr. Whitmayer of the DuPont Company of Wilmington, Delaware.

The topic of the address was, "Three Dimensional Coloring."

(Continued on Page 7)

IN THIS ISSUE

They want the shirt off your back . . . . . See editorial on page two.

Where to go on a date . . . . . See Town Talk on page three for what's playing in town.

Boxing Bouts — Entertainment . . . At the Father & Son Banquet . . . . . On the first sports page.

PRIDE AND PREJUDICE—
A Political Football?

An issue recently arose on our national scene which has come into some prominence. The issue concerns prejudice, the prominence given comes from its association with politics.

President Truman recently delivered a message to Congress in which were contained proposals of an anti-lynching and anti-poll tax nature. Immediately a group of nationally known figures protested. They demanded that the statement be retracted under threat of party dissension and possible "splitting." Opposition in some cases was based on the question of state's rights. Others bothered with no excuses. They were just against it.

Lifting an item such as this from its place in political finagling requires care on our part. There is so much intrigue involved in our system that were we to support one or another group, we would be labelled accordingly. We wish no classification but we would like to go on record as deploring the bases upon which some of the factions place their objections.

It appears to us that those members who are threatening to break away from the party are prompted by no noble considerations of constitutional sanctity but by very evident prejudices. With one voice, loud and blatant, they speak of state's rights and constitutional guarantees. Perhaps they are failing to see the forest for the trees. They would argue one point and deny every premise on which our constitution is based, "the inalienable rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

To us, the cause of all this is the discrimination existing in our nation today. It is one of our foremost national ills. Only when something crops up do we see just how far it has spread and how deep-rooted it is.

Do these gentlemen presume that we are so short-sighted as to fail to see through their guise? One needs no crystal ball to draw his own conclusions. An inroad has been made. To back down now for political considerations would be destroying gains in the struggle for equality.

Leaving all party politics aside, we see little choice in the matter. We certainly hope that no moral concessions will be made for present advantages. In the meantime, we are anxiously watching developments.

BEWARE THE WOLF

The story of the shepherd boy who mischievously yelled "Wolf, wolf," to arouse the elder guardians of the flock ends sadly indeed. When the wolves finally did attack, the victims of the previous hoaxes lagged too long. The results were disastrous.

It seems that it takes complacent Americans too long to react to any kind of warning. True, when the Nazis under Hitler made threatening gestures prior to their expansion, there was some concern, some scoffing — but when the war machine started to move it couldn't be stopped by mere words. It took the combined efforts of the mightiest military powers on earth to stop it.

Again there is an alarm; Czechoslovakia has been lost because the shepherds have lagged. We Catholics, fortunately, have recognized the threat of Communism because it was our misfortune to be exposed to it so early. We realized long ago, as the result of bloody experience, that the Communists eliminate opposition. There is in their code no toleration of criticism, of resistance, of contradiction.

Some of our compatriots who are not so well informed have seen the term Communism and its allied descriptive terms do all sorts of tricks in newspaper headlines and stories. They have become so accustomed to the repetition of the word that it has lost its significance. They must not forget for an instant that a Communist is an enemy — an enemy who still uses the vilest, most deceitful means at his disposal to supplant our government with dictatorial chaos.

When accusations of Communistic tendencies are made, they must be substantiated by fact. The bandying about of charges with successful denials by the accused, lulls the uninformed into a pleasant reverie of false security. The well informed governmental agencies who realize what a deadly foe we face, one who works from within as well as without, know that the showdown is approaching. If the test shall be won without arms, we must all know the danger. Know the wolf. Beware the wolf.

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

WILLIAM F. ALTENPOHL, '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
FRANK GUZIKOWSKI ..... Managing Editor
PAT LAFERTY ..... News Editor
GEORGE SZYMANSKI, '50 ..... Feature Editor
RICHARD HUBBARD, '48 ..... Picture Editor
VINCE PEDANO, '49 ..... Circulation Manager
NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI, '48 ..... Business Manager
EDWARD OXFORD, '50 ..... Copy Editor
JAMES PLUNKETT '49 ..... Sports Editor
ROBERT M. FLAHERTY, '48 ..... Asst. Photo Editor

News Staff

Michael Marshal '49, Richard Shinnairs '48, Michael Joseph Nowlan '49, Charles Laferty '49, Frank Golies '51, Frank Guzikowski '49, Thomas Mitchell '51, Joseph Miller '50, John James Connoly '51, Joseph Kenney '50, Joseph Callahan '51, George R. Reinhart '51, Arthur Woodrow '51, Louis Alvare '48, Tom Smith '51.

Feature Staff

R. E. Manifold '51, William Brenlinghouse '51, Joseph Quill '50, A. J. Mullen '49, David V. Anthony '51, John A. Rowe '51, Gunther Kaiser '49, P. McManus '48, John Mallick '49, Vince O Neil '51, Mark Morris '51, James Tayoun '51, Leo Dodd '49, Emil Mayer '49, Richard Hudak '49, Thomas Russo '51.

Sports Staff

James Lyons '48, Paul Altenpohl '49, Ned Hoffner '49, Arnold Keehan '49, William Canino '50, Neal Fahy '50, George Mondschein '50, Raymond Mondschein '50, Tyson Reilly '50, Walter Rygiel '50, Harry Jacobs '51, William Klussarits '51, Raymond MacWilliams '51, Paul Pressede '51, Harold Range '51.

Picture Staff

Robert Graf '50, Raymond Berninger '49, Dan Haflinger '50, William Neal Carter '51, Dan Robinson '49, William Murphy '51, Harry Papsan '51, Robert Pope '50, Jack Muratori '51, "Tex" Winters '50.

Business Staff

Joe King '48, Barry Gibbons '51, Jack Gibbons '51, Donald Baralt '50.

Circulation Staff

George Weber, III, '51, Ralph Iorio '50, Ed Kent '51, Charles Klunk '51, Ralph Skowron '51, Gene Langan '51, Harry Papsan '51, Robert Pope '50, Wm. Coakley '50, Maurice Wilhere '48, Mario Piazzolla '51, Paul Schreiber '50.

Copy Staff

Frank McGeehan '50, Girard Farrian '50, Edgar Le Blanc '50, Steve Kelss '51, Robert MacRoberts '51, William Foley '50, Dick Randolph '50.

Faculty Advisor— Rev. John A. Kirkotka, O.S.A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova: scholar, athlete, gentleman —

LEO GOODREAU

Subscription: $2 per year. Circulation: 5000.
Entered as second class matter at the Villanova Post Office December 27, 1928.

Member of Associate Collegiate Press, Distributor of Collegiate Digest. Member of Catholic School Press Association, Catholic College Press Association.

HOW MUCH TO GIVE

How rigid is our duty towards those less fortunate? And does government relief on local, national, and international levels relieve us of our obligations of charity? These and related questions demand answers in this world of empty stomachs, broken hearts, crippled minds, and lost souls. And the answers must be right. The answers must be right because they will partially determine the kind of world we and our children will inhabit and whether or not we will achieve our Destiny — a rendezvous with the Father.

One wonders sometimes just how much we have in common with students in Continental universities, and one sometimes suspects that we are more than an ocean apart. But then one considers that they have most of the same basic needs of body, mind, and soul that we have, and the gap closes. They must nourish their bodies. They must clothe their bodies. They must wash their bodies. But many times they cannot for, they do not have the food, clothes, and soap. They must read and they must write. But many times they cannot for they lack books and writing materials. They must pray. But many times they cannot for it seems that God and their brothers have forgotten them.

Give what you can to the N. F. C. C. S. Relief Drive. Give — and pray for them.

From Time to Time— By W. CARROLL

How Strong Are Our Activities

One of the most persistent moans from Fedigan to the Field-House is the "Song and Dance" about the obvious lack of school spirit.

What do you understand by that expression? What does school spirit mean? Is it the inability to speak after a ball game except in a voice that sounds like the end product of a process performed by sandblasted vocal cords? Some think that the spirit is most manifest in a head that has suffered a scalping, at the hands of hostile rivals. Other students feel that an arrested case of influenza, induced from over exposure during a mid-November rally, is a good indicator of the proper spirit. Don't mistake these things for the genuine article. They are in themselves nothing more than the results of rather enjoyable experiences or a shot at playing, "Joe College".

The real spirit is demonstrated in giving, not getting. It's not a question of sitting through a ball game or attending a play or a rally. Absolutely not! The people showing the spirit in this case are not the ones watching but rather the ones being watched. The objection raised to this contention is that old "soft-shoe" delivery of, "well we all can't play ball or act." True. But are they the only activities in the school?

What about the various clubs such as the International Relations Club, Interracial Club, Debating Society, Industrial Relations Club, Turf and Tinsel, the language clubs and others. These activities are all but extinct because of lack of interest. It's giving as I mentioned before, whether it be several hours a week or only a half hour. It doesn't matter, the important thing is that you put out some effort to help Villanova regain a little favorable notoriety we once enjoyed for having an active student body.

There is plenty to be done. We need men for the student relief drive. All extra-curricular group need your support badly, and if you can't possibly participate yourself then do the next best thing and at least attend some of the affairs these activities sponsor for your benefit. Go to the debates, patronize the plays and hear some of the lectures which are given for your edification and entertainment. When we all begin to do this to a man, it is then, and only then, that we can regain that favorable regard that was once ours. Remember the school is whatever we make it.

LETTERS

From a Drowsy Day-Hop

Commerce and Finance Bldg.
February 26, 1948

Editor of the Villanovan

Dear Sir,

Just today, while sitting in the pie shop during one of my free periods, I had a chance to pick up an issue of one of the local papers. Let me go on record as saying that I always procure my reading matter in that manner. I am not the type of fellow that would spend three cents foolishly.

In that paper, I noticed an article about some tests that a psychology professor was conducting in one of our southern schools. No doubt, others of your readers noticed the same thing. This gentleman proved conclusively, or so the article read, that a person is more susceptible to the acquisition of knowledge when asleep than when awake. The tests were conducted by allowing the subject to listen to the test matter in a drowsy or sleeping condition.

I have a proposal. Why not investigate this . . . If it has basis in fact, all our classes could be conducted in that manner. Perhaps we could use recording machines and the professors could also benefit. How many of you are with me?

A Drowsy Day-hop

TOWN TALK

By Kaiser and McManus

On Tuesday evening, March 2nd the Metropolitan will offer its only "Ring" opera of the season. Lauritz Melchior and Helen Traubel will sing "Die Walkure." Of interest will be the new scenery by Simonson, who has completely departed from the usual operatic conventions. His new sets will replace those worn out through years of service.

Sayao in Recital

The diminutive Brazilian soprano Bidu Sayao will give a joint recital with Lorenzo Alvary Baas under the auspices of Emma Feldman. Tickets are at Heppe's or the Academy box office.

In keeping with the trend of reviving plays and musicals of years gone by, the floodlights will again light the stage for "The Glass Menagerie" at the Locust Street Theater. This play was an early success of the new playwright Tennessee Williams. Mr. Williams has already been represented earlier this season with his dubious success of New Orleans "A Streetcar named Desire." Helen MacKellar has the role of the sensitive girl who so resembles Williams' sister.

Pre-Broadway Premiere

A prior-to-Broadway premiere will be staged at the Forrest when the musical adaptation of the play "Romance" opens there on Monday evening. "My Romance," as the musical has been renamed will star Ann Jeffries, late of "Street Scene."

It is regrettable that this column cannot report on the many presentations of noteworthy plays and musicals by the little theater groups that flourish in and around Philadelphia. This fault lies mainly in the fact that the column has to be prepared the week before these many groups send out their publicity.

Play Ribs Hollywood

"Joy to the World," mentioned in last week's column, had a most successful opening at the Forrest. The comedy written by Allan Scott and starring Marsha Hunt and Alfred Drake spoofs the Hollywood moviemakers in a tone sometimes familiar and sometimes original. Mix together a generous helping of Hollywood yes-men, pink telephones and raving "Cecil B. deMille" and you will have a fairly accurate picture of "Joy to the World."

Imported Opera Movie

A fine Italian motion picture of Rossini's comic opera "The Barber of Seville" is now appearing at the Locust Theater, 52nd and Locust Street. The best of Italy's fine voices make the most of this joyous score. Ferruclo Tagliavini heads the splendid cast. The staging approaches the best of our Hollywood settings, and the opera has been filmed with all the buffoonery that makes the work so delightful. Deems Taylor explains the action of each scene beforehand and his lucid description makes knowledge of the language unnecessary.

To whom it may concern, Glassman's Ticket Agency will supply baby-sitters for their customers, while the parents enjoy an evening at the theater.

Concerts of Viennese music are being offered by the orchestra and conducted by Ormandy. Schubert's Unfinished Symphony, Mozart's Sinfonia in E flat, and a group of Johann Strauss Jr. waltzes.

The Turf and Tinsel Club announces a practice will be held today, March 2nd, at 7:30 P. M. on the Field House stage. Still needed are singers, dancers and specialties.

There will be a meeting of the Junior Class at 7:30 P. M. tonight in the C. & F. Auditorium.

THE KEEPER OF THE KEYS

At the entrance to the catacombs of Alumni Hall, there is a sign which reads "Maintenance Office." Here, Mr. Edward A. Loughrey and his secretary, Mrs. Mullery turn the wheels that make Villanova tick. Here, also, is the clearing house for problems and headaches which go with the maintenance of an institution the size of Villanova.

On the Campus Move

Mr. Loughrey is not an easy man to find. His job requires that he be all over the campus at all times. After several days of playing hide-and-seek, I finally cornered him behind his desk, which was covered with mountains of reports, schedules, and the like. It was well past his quitting time when I began my queries, but the white-haired, slightly bald superintendent seemed content to tolerate my questioning, as it gave him a chance to relax and smoke tranquilly for the first time that day.

Here for 17 Years

Now 51 years of age, Mr. Loughrey was born in Haverford, went to school in Radnor, and came to Villanova as an electrician 17 years ago. Seven years later he became superintendent of all maintenance. That is a big title, and it is a big job. He is charged with the lighting, heating, general maintenance and repair of all buildings, equipment, and grounds of the campus. The department employs about 65 men and women, and he must be able to fill in for any one of these workers at any time of the day or night. The winter months prove particularly hectic, especially this past winter.

Mr. EDWARD A. LOUGHERY, the superintendent of Maintenance Dept., Villanova College

Christmas Lighting

Aside from routine, there are always unusual jobs to be done. The Christmas decorating and lighting this past Christmas was a terrific task. All who have seen them can appreciate the effort involved. Local residents and transients from all over the country slow down when passing Villanova, during the Christmas season, to admire the beautiful spectacle.

The Superintendent has always enjoyed a close relationship with the students. He is proud of the spirit of co-operation which has existed through the years. The students have always found him ready and willing to help, when materials and equipment were needed for decorations, rallies, etc. Many students find part time employment in the maintenance shop.

Resident of St. David's

Mr. Loughrey hopes to spend many more years at Villanova "as long as I can still get up each morning with a smile." He now resides in St. David's. A son, Edward A., Jr., is a Sophomore Physics major here at Villanova.

PEA AND DOUBLE-YOU

By Bill Breninghouse

Modern Transportation is a wonderful thing. Today we have airplanes that reach their destinations long before they start; we have railroad trains that are equipped with bars and movies; there are automobiles that can be transformed into bedrooms at the push of a button; and there is that apex of modern transportation, the P. & W. To those interested, P. & W. means the Philadelphia and Western Railroad, but to the students of Villanova, it means the dear old "Pig and whistler." Thus some are led to believe that those little trains across the pike will whistle. Early in the year, three freshmen were found at the station with large tears in their eyes, waiting for a train to whistle.

P. & W. TRAIN, Saturday Night Life Line to Villanova

Steep Curves

Students of Villanova must admit, however, that the P. & W. gets there and back in good time. A debate concerns itself with the list on some of the curves. This must remain a secret, for were we to deprive anyone of his right to opinion on this item, we would just hate ourselves. Concerning the question of "list" on curves, two engineers from Villanova were seen drawing their slide rules on the field of honor because of a difference of opinion on this point.

Swiss Chalet

To satisfy our curiosity we decided to take a trip on this twentieth century flying carpet. Gathering together a group of interested pioneers we set out for the station. Five of our number were unable to get across Lancaster Pike in time (those trucks really do a smash-up job). We climbed steps, went across a high bridge, and descended on the other side. The station reminded us of a charming, little Swiss chalet, high in the romantic Alps.

Doors Open In

It was not long before one of the electric vehicles was at the platform waiting for us to board. We were prepared to go on. As we handed the driver the required tariff, he pressed a button and we were terrified by a sharp baRINGcha. Staunch Villanovans that we were we did not let this horrifying experience affect us. This was a good thing for we had more horrible experiences to come, for at the first stop one of our number was crushed to a pulp by the door as it opened. Of course there was a sign that said "Stand Back—Door Opens Inward" but there was also a sign that said "Wear MacGregor's Girdles" and who were we to know which to follow.

Scenic Ride

The scenery outside became more interesting. Within two minutes we passed estates, homes, houses, huts and shacks not to mention woods, streams, factories and junk yards. There was scenery on the inside, too. We were extremely surprised to find that such bits of feminine pulchritude existed so close to the college. Then again there was the other extreme of femininity. We didn't even think that existed. At first it looked like Einstein. Ah, but there were many more beautiful girls than "the other kind."

Watch Those Curves

On we went on our merry way. At every stop was heard the ba-

(Continued on Page 7)

AN OPEN LETTER TO FATHER GRIMES

Fedigan Hall
Villanova College
Villanova,
Pennsylvania
26 February 1948

Rev. Edwin Grimes, O. S. A.
Chaplain
Villanova College
Villanova
Pennsylvania

Dear Father Grimes:

As you know, terrifying news has come this day from the proud and ancient city of Prague. Men from the Kremlin have "constitutionally" seized this outpost of Western civilization and even now are setting about forcing the Czech people into the soullessSoviet pattern. They are stopping at nothing including murder. The N. Y. TIMES reported this morning that at least one student is already dead. Students — presumably of Charles University — were marching to the Presidential Palace to petition M. Benes to save Czechoslovakia from the Russians when they were fired on by the Communist-dominated police.

We American students, we Catholic Citizens of the World, may not in conscience permit this tragedy to come to our notice and remain silent and inactive. We must raise our voices in protest; we must raise our hearts in prayer.

We ask that a Mass be said for this intention: That the students of Czechoslovakia may have Hope and Faith and Courage in the terrible days that are to come, and that they may be delivered from their oppressors.

This letter was written after consultation with a number of students on campus including NFCCS and NSA representatives.

Thanking you for your cooperation in this vital matter,

I remain, Father,
Respectfully,
JOHN STANLEY
Senior Delegate,
NFCCS.

THE 5TH COLUMN

By McBride and Johnson

Now that Winthrop Rockefeller has made the big step, Hugh Johnson and Frank McBride are the nation's most eligible bachelors according to the latest blue-book reports.

Consistency . . . Consistency . . . That's the real key word. We may never be right, but at least we're consistent. We predicted nice warm balmy days and what happens . . . it snows.

Not to be ornery, however, we still stand by our original prediction. "Fair and Warmer."

A sign of the times ? ? ? Mr. Stafford C. Walker has really been bitten by the spring love-bug. He dashes down to the train station every morning to wave at his one & only. She sits in the front car of the 8 a.m. Paoli.

Wildcat Athletes

A prominent athlete claims that he never had it so bad. Ralph Pasquariello tells the story of a blind date he had a week ago for a minstrel show at Collingdale High School. "I wouldn't want to say that she was old," Ralph informs us, "but when she told me that Tom Brenenman pinned an orchid on her 2 years ago, I had to throw in the towel."

Brownie Ross, in an exclusive interview, gave us the formula for being an outstanding miler.

1. "No dates with women—from San Francisco."
2. "No Drinking—Water."
3. "No night life—after 5 a.m."
4. "No Smoking — Cigars."
5. "Stay out of Ocean City, N. J."

Odds and Ends

Word has reached us that Tony (Finisdore), . . . Superintendent of the Field House is now back on his feet and will return to his "tedious" job within the next 2 weeks. Tony has spent the last 3 months in Bryn Mawr Hospital with mild form of leukemia.

If you think that classes are crowded here at Villanova, consider the plight of the poor underclassmen at the University of Michigan. They have 1500 students in one Psych recitation class.

Thanks to Father McNally, we hear Rosemont has established a new Frat. Its name sounds Greek. Greek enough: Gotta Coppa Poppa.

Bud Hunter, an all-out Electrical Engineer, was roundly booed the other day in Advertising class. Bud, who was high scorer as a halfback for Columbia in '44, tried to answer a question in class; soon learned that the C & P boys are just barely tolerant to Mendel Hall invaders.

Don Canada, a Marketing Major of high standing, explained this odd situation. "We don't take E. E. 999 (A course that treats of microfaradal relation with relation to the atomic theory's (voltage rheostat), so, we tolerate them."

The Catholic Girls' Band will be back on campus again next Monday. During the war days that was quite an event. The V-12ers were the only guys around; the girls were about the only females to be found on campus. Man, did we have fun.

Have you heard the "groovy platter chatter of WVIL's new disc jocky, "Mush" Crane? Sounds like the grandaddy of all Hipsters.

Hank Rohling's mother was the lucky recipient of a lovely $10 radio from the Acme Boys Club. Leo Wolf will sweat by it . . .

Nick Marziani, Mr. Phillip Morris on the campus, reminds us all to listen to Horace Heidt. . . .

"I am grieved, sir," said the clerk, "to hear of the death of the junior partner. Would you like me to take his place?"

"Very much," replied the senior partner, "if you can get the undertaker to arrange it."

JOURNEY'S END GETS FINAL READING AT ROSEMONT COLLEGE

Drama Adapted by Group for Radio Performance

Thursday night, February 26th, the Belle Masque Society presented to the students of Rosemont College a public reading of the play Journey's End. The performance was done at the request of the Rosemont students, many of whom had seen the play when it was presented here on the campus.

The performance was the first command performance of any of the recent plays produced by the Belle Masque and is a step toward the recognition of the Belle Masque as one of the foremost dramatic clubs in this area.

An interesting feature of the performance was the unusual nature of the presentation. For effect, the public reading depends entirely upon the vocal powers of the performers. Inasmuch as no motions are used, the audience interest must be held solely by the emotion and ideas transmitted by the voice. In this respect, the public reading is very similar to the style used in radio acting.

On Wednesday evening, February 25th, the same cast presented the radio version of the play over WVIL, the campus radio station Since it had been prepared for such a medium, the play was easily adaptable to broadcasting. It was well received and gave those who had been unable to see the original play an opportunity to hear it.

The play was directed by Dick Harris, who also assisted in the direction of the One Act excerpt from Our Town produced here this fall.

The cast of characters included: Clark Stockdale, Ted Wilbur, Joe Leary, Ed Fanelli, Ted Doyle, Dick Zandi, Frank Gobes, Don Collins, Bob Resnick and Bill Regan.

NFCCS GROUP

(Continued from Page 1)

toil to achieve their goal.

Resident students will be contacted in the Halls by members of the N. F. C. C. S. Committee. Dayhops are asked to bring their contributions to school and place them in the barrels designated for that purpose in Mendel Hall, C. and F. Building, and the Pie Shop.

Veterans' Office

Mr. William Denvaugh of Veterans Training Program will be in the veterans office every Thursday between 10:00 and 3:00 to confer with students under Public Law 16. This announcement was made last week by Mr. George A. Harris, Villanova's veterans' advisor.

The purpose of Mr. Denvaugh's weekly visits will be to help any Public Law 16 Veterans who have subsistence problems or other problems concerning any phase of their education.

Since all these veterans must have at least two conferences, a list of about 25 names will be posted on the veterans' bulletin board. The men whose names appear on this list will be requested to see Mr. Denvaugh on the following Thursday in Room 114, Mendel.

$10.00 REWARD $10.00
Talented 4-Piece College "Combo" Desires Summer Position at Mountain Resort
Anyone possessing such information please contact The Villanovan Office, Villanova, Pa. Recordings available if requested.

Committees Organize

(Continued from Page 1)

is needed to make this year's program a success and all Juniors are urged to see the various chairmen that they may aid in the planning and preparation for the festive occasion.

The two men responsible in great part for this year's Junior week are both familiar to Villanova. George Guida entered Villanova in 1941 but his education was interupted by three years in the Navy. He returned to Villanova in 1946 and has starred in track since. Ray Kelm was in the Army before he entered Villanova in 1945. He has been very active in the accounting society, being president of the Villanova Honorary Accounting Society this year.

JEANNETT'S
Bryn Mawr Flower Shop
Corsage Specialists
FREE DELIVERY
823 Lancaster Ave.
BRYNMAWR, PA.
Bryn Mawr 0570 : Flowers by Wire

SODA Fountain
Meet Your Friends . . at the . . Greeks
Superior Soda Fountain Service
Luncheon :: Dinner
818 Lancaster Ave.
Bryn Mawr, Pa.

WHY WALK?
CLEANING PRESSING
We Pick Up and Deliver Daily at the
PIE SHOP
COLADONATO TAILOR SHOPPE

For Expert Convenient Attention
THE CAMPUS BARBER SHOP
First Class Work
Popular Prices

ALL OUT 5th FLOOR!
AT THE FACTORY
Special Sale!
ALL WOOL
NEW SPRING
TOPCOATS
$17.75
COVERT & GABARDINE
TOPCOATS
$26.75
100% Worsted
SPRING SUITS
$32.75
Come Direct to The MANUFACTURER
Open Daily 9 to 5
BECKER CLOTHING CO.
Manufacturers of Men's Clothing
210 N. BROAD

Let's Get together
PHILIP MORRIS is so much better to smoke!
PHILIP MORRIS offers the smoker an extra benefit found in no other cigarette. For PHILIP MORRIS is the ONE, the ONLY cigarette recognized by leading nose and throat specialists as definitely less irritating.
Remember: Less irritation means more smoking enjoyment for you.
Yes! If every smoker knew what PHILIP MORRIS smokers know, they'd all change to PHILIP MORRIS.

CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS
TRY A PACK . . . TODAY

Wildcats Trounced By Georgetown, 64-46

Arizen Tallies 15 In Losing Cause

This Thursday night at the Field House, the Villanova basketball team will be out to avenge their worst defeat of the season, suffered at the hand of Georgetown at Washington last Wednesday evening the score of 64 to 46. The coming fray will finish the season for each team and should be interesting from the standpoint of two hot-and-cold ball clubs trying to make a final stab as salvaging their season's record.

Arizen Stars

Wednesday night's game was just a question of Georgetown being "hot" and Villanova being "cold", that is, all except Paul Arizen, who in addition to scoring 15 points, was the only Wildcat able to do anything with rebounds off the backboards.

For the first five minutes the game was a see-saw battle, with the two teams deadlocked at 3-all, but from that point on, the Hoyas never again let the Wildcats move within striking distance. Tommy Sabol made good a foul toss, drawn on the first play of the game to give the Wildcats their only lead. After Georgetown's Danny Kraus had accounted for a floor goal and a free toss, Brooks Ricca tied the game at 3-all, but that was the beginning of the end for Villanova.

Villanova Rally Futile

The Hoyas bounded to a 35-14 halftime lead and Coach Elmer Ripley sprinkled the second half freely with substitutions. Only once in the second half, when a brief Wildcat surge sliced Georgetown's lead to nine points, did Villanova make a try to come back. But the rally only served to set fire to the Hilltoppers and before two minutes had elapsed, they were again enjoying a 15-point advantage.

Might Be Different Thursday

The game coming up on Thursday night could turn out to be just the opposite of the other one, with Villanova winding up on the long end of the score. The Wildcats have yet to lose to any team twice this season.

Court Splinters

Arizen's 15 points brought his season's total to 249.

Georgetown	G.	F.	P.		Villanova	G.	F.	P.
O'Keefe,f	4	1	9		Wolf,f	3	0	6
Angla,f	0	0	0		Crossin,f	2	1	5
Leddy,f	1	0	2		Hansen,f	2	0	4
Corley,f	8	2	18		Wedlick,f	0	0	0
Dalvey,f	0	0	0		Arizen,c	5	5	15
Abbadi,f	0	0	0		Sabol,g	3	2	8
K. Brown,c	3	1	7		Balken,g	0	1	1
Culhane,c	3	1	7		Ricca,g	3	1	7
J. Brown,c	1	0	2
Kraus,g	5	2	12
Bremler,g	3	1	7
Totals	28	8	64		Totals	18	10	46

Halftime: Georgetown, 35-14.

KEEP SUPPLIED WITH SCHOOL TICKETS
GOOD ON BUSES AND RAIL CARS UNTIL USED
5c a Ride, including Special Free Transfers. Obtain Identification Cards at School Office.
RED ARROW LINES
Philadelphia Suburban Transportation Co.

The bulk of the Villanova track stars rounding the turn on the recently constructed outdoor oval. Left to right: Jom McKenna, Browning Ross, Ed. Fitzgerald, Charlie McGehrin, George Guida and George Thompson.

Villanovan to Sponsor St. Patrick's Day Bouts

Revival of Father - Son Smoker Tops Winter's Intramural Doings

". . . And there'll be bitin' and fightin' and Irish dynamitin' . . ." and so goes the Gaelic ditty. Well, the song just about relates what will be happening on Villanova's campus this coming St. Patrick's day. For, after a wartime lapse of six years, one of the most popular features of the Intramural setup—the annual Father and Son Smoker—will resume here on the Main Line.

Leather will be flying as everyone from the 110 pound flyweights to the 175 pound heavies will fnix it up in the year's outstanding purely amateur show.

Sponsored for the first time by the Villanovan, the smoker will be under the directorship of Rev. John Dunne, OSA, moderator of all intramural activities. Everyone, notwithstanding the fact that they may be here on scholarships for some other sport, is eligible to participate. A 12 bout card for the night, with one or two special exhibitions as added attractions are planned.

Both heavy and speed bags are set up and are available for general use. The front of the big locker room on the main floor has been set aside for workouts with mats laid and equipment installed.

Although it will be impossible to have instructors on hand at all times, arrangements are being made so that there will be at least someone available for coaching for a part of every day. The requirements for the smoker include passing a physical examination at the infirmary and registering with either Father Dunne or Jim Plunkett.

Points will be awarded to each of the halls and to the day Hops on the basis of one point for every entry and three points for a winner. The hall with the most points at the end of the night will get the customary 10 points which will count toward the winning of the Intramural Cup.

The Father-Son smoker is one of the oldest of all intramural activities, starting with the advent of intramural basketball. Varsity boxing was an outgrowth of the smoker and until the time of the war's intervention, Villanova always had a classy aggregation of sluggers who vied with the best in Intercollegiate circles.

Under the tutelage of Ray Gadsby, they reached their peak in 1938 when Tony Sala, won the heavyweight intercollegiate title.

The smoker itself has always produced its share of skill and comedy. The latter usually provided for by a wrestling match between two of the more Gargantuan-built football players.

In the past, members of the various athletic clubs around Philadelphia have come out to put on special exhibitions. Probably the most well-remembered is that of the Old Timer's AC. They staged faked bouts which included everything from horseshoes hidden in gloves to hitting the referee.

Negotiations are being completed to secure two of the more popular of the prominent referees in the state as arbiters for the night. Tommy Loughran, former light heavyweight champion, will also be invited to attend as guest referee.

In addition to gaining points for the Intramural trophy, plans are being formulated with hopes of getting individual pins for each of the winners plus a special boxing trophy for the hall which compiles the most points at the conclusion

(Continued on Page 6)

Harriers Face Ten Meet Spring Slate

Olympic Tryouts Feature Outdoor Track Schedule

Track coach Jim Elliot will look forward to the coming outdoor season with a comfortable assurance that the Wildcat track team, headed by George Guida, will be the strongest ever to represent Villanova.

The first outdoor meet will be the Seton Hall Relay Carnival which will be held April 16th and 17th. The following week the Blue and White quartets will compete in the Penn Relays. The Wildcats captured the college mile relay last year in 3:22.7. This year, aside from entering a formidable mile relay, Villanova will be a strong contender in the distance medley and four mile relays. With such oustanding distance runners as Browning Ross, a 4:13 miler, Dave Williams and George Thompson available, Coach Elliot should have good reason to be optimistic.

On May 1st the squad will travel to Annapolis, Maryland to meet Earl Thompson's powerful Navy track team. The University of Maryland aggregation will be met May 8th at College Park, Maryland. The very next Saturday, Johnny Gibson will entertain the Wildcats at Seton Hall with his national championship mile relay team plus such stars as Phil Thigpen, national 1,000 yard titleholder, and Phil Palese. The freshman squad, headed by Jim McKenna, a 48 second quarter miler will also meet the outstanding Pirate frosh team the same afternoon.

Fordham, with Jerry Connolly and Hal McDonnell, will be met at Villanova on May 22.

The climax of the collegiate season comes with the IC4A championships, which are to be held at Randall's Island, New York on May 28th and 29th.

Wildcat Trackmen Place 8th In IC4A

'MAJOR' RETURNS TO COACH FROSH 'FIVE'

With the closing of the 47-'48 court season in sight, the announcement of Robert "Major" McDonnell as Freshman basketball coach both surprised and pleased Villanova partisans. A member of the class of '47, McDonnell served as batting practice pitcher for the Philadelphia Phillies last year.

Before coming to Villanova the "Major" starred in both basketball and baseball at Northeast High School for four years. In his Senior year he was chosen on the All-Public High School baseball team for his fine performance on the mound. Upon graduation he entered Brown Prep where he compiled a record of eight straight victories.

(Continued on Page 6)

Bob "MAJOR" McDOWELL

Ross Second in Mile; Coleman Clears 12 Ft.

With Browning Ross taking second in the mile run, Villanova's trackmen took eighth place in the I. C. A. A. A. A. Meet at Madison Square Garden in New York. This was the second consecutive year that Coach Jumbo Elliott's charges had ranked eighth among the leading colleges of the country.

Running in a field of twenty-three, Ross was in twenty-first place for the first two laps of the eleven lap course. He then proceeded to gradually move up on pace-setter Gerry Karver of Penn State. By the time the seventh lap was reached Ross was in sixth place with a little more than a quarter of a mile to go. Finally on the last lap, Browning moved into second place ahead of Dick Church of Syracuse. However, by this time Karver was a full 20 yards ahead of the rest of the field. Browning tried hard to catch him on the last turn and straightaway, but was only able to pick up 5 yards and finished 15 yards behind Karver who broke the tape in 4:22.7.

George Thompson came through with two more points for the Blue and White by placing fourth in the two-mile run. First place in the long distance event went to Horace Ashenfelter of Penn State who broke the meet record of 9:45.5. In cracking the IC4A mark of 9:16.2, set by Joe McCluskey of Fordham back in 1933, Ashenfelter led runner-up Osterberg by nearly eighty yards, with Ted Vogel of Tufts a close third.

Thirty yards behind Vogel came Thompson who had maintained that position for the final mile. George had ben in third place for five laps but was passed by Vogel.

For the fourth time this season Buckey Coleman hit 13 feet in the pole vault. He added three points

(Continued on Page 6)

Hapless Bisons Defeated By Rampaging 'Cats, 80-41

By BILL CANINO

Displaying great defensive work and scoring almost at will, the Villanova basketball team ran rough-shod over Bucknell University's quintet last Friday night before 1,000 fans at Davis Gymnasium, Lewisburg, winning 80-41. After the first ten minutes of play the Wildcats were assured of their 14th victory against 9 defeats. It was the 13th loss in 18 starts for the Bisons.

After two and a half minutes of the first period the homesters led by a 2-1 count but the 'Cats exploded and sent a barrage of shots through the hoop and scored 14 points in seven minutes and took a commanding 15-2 lead which they never relinquished.

36-10 At Halftime

The minions of Coach Al Severance, paced by Jack Crossin, Brooks Ricca and Paul Arizen, continued their fine shooting and at half-time they held a 36-10 advantage over the hapless Bisons. The 'Cats continued their scoring ways and piled up a 51-24 lead at the beginning of the final stanza. Never slackening the pace, Villanova widened the gap and coasted through the final minutes.

In the scoring department, all but two members of the nine-man squad which made the trip aided in the victory. Crossin, who has been used sparingly throughout the campaign, was high for the evening with a total of 16 points. Ricca tallied 8 field goals and 2 fouls for 14 markers, while Arizen, who has been improving with every contest, sank 5 twin-pointers and 3 free tosses for 13 points. John Weglicki and Sherwin "Shy" Raiken were also in "double figures" garnered 11 points each. Joe "Toad" Hannon and Tommy Sabol rounded out the team-scoring with 8 and 7 points, respectively.

For the men from Lewisburg, Woodcock led the way with ten points while Lose garnered 7.

The Wildcats kept up their policy of "never lose two in a row" which has now gone 38 games. They will be out to revenge their defeat at the hands of Georgetown of last week when they meet the Hoyas Thursday night at the Field House.

Villanova	G.	F.	P.	Bucknell	G.	F.	P.
Sabol,f	3	1	7	Lose,f	3	1	7
Ricca,f	6	2	14	Woodcock,f	3	4	10
Crossin,f	6	0	16	Hoying,f	0	2	2
Arizen,c	5	3	13	Chi winski,f	2	1	5
Petit,c	0	0	0	Comerford,c	2	0	4
Weglicki,c	5	1	11	Stumbaugh,g	0	0	0
Wolf,g	0	0	0	Mosny,g	1	0	2
Hannan,g	4	0	8	Hamre,g	1	1	3
Raiken,g	4	3	11	Swarner,g	0	0	0
				Fawcett,g	0	0	0
				Day,g	1	0	2
Totals	35	10	80	Totals	16	9	41

Halftime—Villanova, 36-10.

WILDCAT TRACKMEN

(Continued from Page 5)

by being in a three-way tie for second place with John Eustis of Yale and Andrew Lockett of Harvard. First place went to Roy Potochnik of Marquette who topped the bar at 13'4".

In the freshman medley relay, which did not count in the point score, the Wildcats crossed the finish line in fourth place. The freshmen had first place by a wide margin, but due to a stroke of bad luck were not first to hit the tape.

Bill Shelly led off with the half and for the first quarter was in fifth place. Then he steadily poured it on until he was in second, five yards behind Princeton. Jim McKenna took the stick on the 440 leg and within one lap was ten yards ahead of the second place man. Jim continued to pull ahead until he was leading by a margin of 40 yards. With this lead Tom Irish took the baton on the 220 leg. He maintained the lead for one lap but on the third turn lost his footing and fell. He managed to recover the stick but when he got back into the race he was in second place behind Princeton. Gene Osbahn, who was running the mile leg, took the stick in second place but was unable to hold it. He fell to fourth and was beaten by Princeton, Boston University and Northwestern.

Potential points were lost in the 600 since George Guida was unable to compete. George was scheduled to defend his IC4A title in the 600 but due to a severe cold could not.

The next appearance of the team for this season will be this Saturday at the Knights of Columbus Meet in New York.

Villanova To Sponsor

(Continued from Page 5)

of the events. Besides this, Joe King, representative of the Chesterfield company here on campus, has said that a carton of cigarettes will also be distributed to each of the winners.

Named on the 1947 All-Catholic All America football team, Robert Polidor, Villanova College halfback, receives his certificate from Head Coach Jordan Oliver as Captain Albert Barber looks on. The team was picked by the National Catholic Welfare Conference News Service under the direction of Coach Frank Murray of Marquette University.

AUSTIN SUBDUES FEDIGAN; DOMS ALUMNI TRIUMPH

Buckley, Rice Pace 34 - 25 Victory; Fedigan Ekes Out Mendel

Mondschein Inc., and Kiucsaritis

The Doms continued their undefeated pace by romping over the Day Hops to the tune of 65-22. The Day Hops, by virtue of three successive baskets by Shane Creamer, took a short-lived 6-0 lead in the opening minutes. At this point, the Doms, led by Harry Knecht, started their offensive to take a commanding 31-12 lead by intermission. At the start of the second half, the Day Hops again put on a brief rally led by Bob Manske, ex-Dom ace, and closed the margin to 31-20. Here, the Doms, while putting their offensive into high gear, also put on a great defensive display and held the Day Hops to one field goal for the remainder of the game. Pallia sparked the defense as he held the high scoring Bob Manske to six points. Harry and Bill Knecht, the Doms' brother combination, led the scoring parade with 17 and 10 points respectively. Shane Creamer garnered 8 points and played an outstanding floor game for the losers. Bob Wiener and Jim Plunkett, officiated the game.

In the other league tilt played Tuesday night, Fedigan eked out a 29-24 decision over a lowly Mendel quintet, who were unable to break into the win column during first half competition. It was a bitterly contested game with the lead changing hands three times in the first half, before Fedigan went ahead to lead at the intermission 13-9. Mendel fought an up-hill battle in the second canto and rallied to go ahead 19-18 with eleven minutes of play remaining. Here Fedigan again spurted to take the lead 24-21 with three minutes to go. Again Mendel came to life and knotted the count at 24 all, with a minute and a half remaining. Mendel lost a golden opportunity to go ahead when they failed to capitalize on two free tosses. A foul by Frinke put Fedigan in the lead. Then, Savage sank two beautiful set shots to put the game on ice for Fedigan. Mendel had possession of the ball as the game ended.

Savage, with 9 points and Frinke, with 8, spearheaded the Fedigan attack. Big John Morris played a beautiful floor-game and accounted for 8 markers to take scoring honors for Mendel. Bob Wiener again handled the game, ably assisted by Ray Artz.

On Thursday, Mendel dropped their second game within a week, losing to Alumni 34-25. Alumni featured a smooth working attack combined with a good defensive game to lead 17-6 at half time. The Mendel quintet consistently broke men into the clear under the basket only to have the ball roll in and out. In the second half, Mendel was able to outscore their opponents, but the lead was too great to overcome.

After Alumni's lead had been whittled down to 4 point with seven minutes to go, John Buckley, with two rapid fire goals gave his team a comfortable lead. Rice of Alumni used his height to good advantage as he controlled both boards almost the entire game. Buckley rang up nine counters and Rice dumped in eight to lead the victor's scoring. Tony Constantino's 6 points was high for Mendel. Frank Bresian did his usually fine job of officiating, and was ably assisted by Joe Barrack.

Football Squad Begins Spring Practice Schedules

Ray MacWilliams

For the last week and a half, the freshmen candidates for backfield and center positions on the varsity Wildcat eleven have been holding informal practices in the Field House. Spring practice for the entire squad will begin out doors as soon after March 1. as possible.

About 32 members of last year's varsity squad, which won 6 lost 3 and tied 1, will be returning. Although numerically only three men are graduating the problem of filling the spots vacated by Bill Lilienthal, Al Barker, and Bill Carlin, faces Coach Jordan Oliver. Lilienthal, who has just signed a contract with the Los Angeles Dons, Barker and Carlin will graduate in June.

However, there are many prospects among the Freshmen who, with more polish and experience should prove invaluable to Oliver and his staff. The showing made by the freshmen last year even though it was confined to running through the plays of future opposition caught the fancy of the coaching staff. Chief among those who warrant attention are Pete D'Alonzo, hard running, savage tackling fullback, Mickey Frinsi, fast moving scatback built along the lines of Bobby Polidor, and Neil O'Boyle frosh quarterback rated as the most promising prospect of the squad.

In the line which has been the most hard-hit by graduation, there are quite a few talented prospects. Bobby Wills, who was selected for the All-National Prep School team when he was a senior at Mount Saint Joseph's in Baltimore. Rudy Yeager, who has the ability to play either end or tackle; Ray Mantone; and another Lilienthal, Ed, to take over where his brother left off. That's quite a big order considering what Bill has done since he has been here.

Spring Training will be confined mainly to fundamental and the rudiments of the game. Highlighting the period of spring season practice, will be the installation of a revised passing offense. This was the weak spot in the Wildcats offense last season and at least one game—the Army contest—might have had a different outcome if the 'Cats had shown an effective aerial game.

It is the general consensus of opinion of the coaching staff, the players, and the student body that the 1948 Villanova football team faces one of the toughest seasons in the long history of football here on the Main Line. All ten games are against major opponents with Army and Texas A & M expected to furnish strong opposition.

In the nightcap, a strong Austin aggregation won with ease from Fedigan 41-20. Austin's airtight defense kept Fedigan scoreless for the first 13 minutes of the contest before Frink tapped in a field goal. At that point Austin held a 15-0 lead and the reserves had taken over. At intermission, Austin held a 17-7 lead. With the first five on the bench throughout most of the second half, Austin still managed to increase their lead. Bill Barry led the scoring parade with 13 points followed by Hal Diot who cashed in with 10 points. Flynn garnered 12 points of the losers 20 points and was a thorn in the side of Austin all through the contest. Jack Dennel and Lefty Mondschein did a commendable job with the whistle.

Tonite Alumni meets a vastly improved Day Hop quintet in the second game of the doubleheader with Austin and Mendel meeting in the opener. Mendel who have not shown anything as yet are not expected to offer much opposition for the red hot Austin men but the Day Hops could pull a "Donnybrook" against the men of Alumni.

GOLF TEAM REVIVED; LISTS FIVE MATCHES

This week marked the return of another sport, discontinued because of the war, as the schedule for Villanova's golf team was released by the Athletic Office. The slate will include single game matches with Georgetown, Seton Hall, Rider, Loyola, and LaSalle. The Rider game will be the only home game on the schedule.

There had been much concern as to whether or not the Cats would have a home course. Their old stamping grounds, the Main Line Golf course, had been sold and the new owner planned to erect apartment houses on the property. However, because the proposed construction will not commence until the fall, the management of the course plans to keep the links open for this final season. Therefore, for the coming season, the course will serve as Villanova's home grounds.

The first opponent will be Georgetown, at Washington, on April 17, followed by an away game with Seton Hall on April 14.

The Linkmen will play host to Rider College on May 1; and Loyola College will be met at Maryland on May 8. The season will wind up with a match with LaSalle on their home course.

A schedule was proposed last year, but it was decided that before entering intercollegiate circles, an intramural tournament be held to determine the quality of the golfers. The result of the nourniment were so successful that plans were immediately made for the regular golf schedule this season.

As there are no remaining members of the 1942 squad, Villanova's last golf team, this year's team will have to start from scratch. Much hope is based on Don Wieland, who along with Bob Casey was the outstanding performer in last spring's intramural contest. Phil Koon and Jackie Crossin should prove big assets if they ever get their erratic putters under control. Practice will begin as soon as the turf is in condition.

"Have a pack of Dentyne. It's fine after meals!"

"Just as I reached my boiling point I gave the chef a pack of Dentyne. That got me out of the royal stew fast! Naturally—because Dentyne's keen, delicious flavor always makes friends fast! Dentyne also helps keep teeth white!"

Dentyne Gum—Made Only By Adams

"Three Dimensional Coloring" Topic of AIEE Meeting

(Continued from Page 1)

Mr. Whitmayer spoke of the advantages of properly combining color schemes. He explained that coloring reduces glare, improves morale, and greatly increases production in industry. The lecture was supplimented by a movie entitled, "Color Conditioning." The movie traced the development of the color industry from its humble beginning to the highly scientific field that it now represents. The results of correctly coloring a machine shop were amazing, a dull, dirty shop was transformed into a bright, cheerful place just by painting it according to color schemes. Color conditioning plays an important part in our way of living. The latter part of the program was reserved for questions, which was very interesting and informative.

Among those present were Mr. Davis and Mr. Clothier, Assistant Professors of E. E. at Villanova. There were fifty-five student members present, the best attendance of the year.

The next lecture in this present series will be given during the latter part of March by Dr. White of the research department of the General Electric Co., Schenectady, New York.

THE RADIO VOICE OF VILLANOVA COLLEGE

GROWING ...

GROWING ...

GROWING ...

... By LEAPS and BOUNDS!

Now Presents

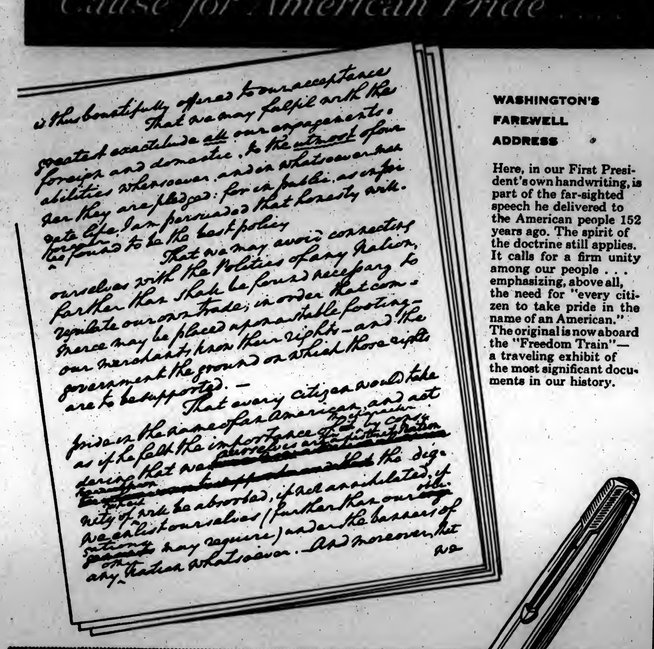
"MORNING" — NEWS —
"MIX-UP" — WEATHER —
— MUSIC —

7:30 to 9:00 P. M.

TUNE IN TOMORROW!

528 ON YOUR DIAL

THE Bouquet Shop



"Flowers That Are Pleasantly Different"

Lancaster Ave. at Roberts Ave., Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Flowers By Wire

BRYN MAWR 2422

Cause for American Pride ...

WASHINGTON'S FAREWELL ADDRESS

Here, in our First President's own handwriting, is part of the far-sighted speech he delivered to the American people 152 years ago. The spirit of the doctrine still applies. It calls for a firm unity among our people . . . emphasizing, above all, the need for "every citizen to take pride in the name of an American." The original is now aboard the "Freedom Train"—a traveling exhibit of the most significant documents in our history.

Group to Direct Chaplain's Corner

An organizational meeting of the Chaplain's Corner Staff of WVIL, was held last Wednesday night in Fr. Grimes' office.

In a plan to establish an integral group on the campus for presenting and popularizing the various features presented on the Chaplain's Corner over the Campus Radio Station, the following students were appointed to various positions: Ted Doyle, Director; Joe Leary, Monday Night News Analysis; John Stanley, Book Reviewer; Pete McManus, Stage and Screen Reviewer; A. J. Mullen, director of the Belle Air Players, a subsidiary group of the Belle Masque Dramatic Society who will participate in monthly skits on the program; Frank McDonald, in charge of Forums and Debates by members of the Beta Gamma Debating Club, and Ed. Fanelli, Publicity Director.

With such a varied program it is anticipated that the Chaplain's Corner will become a favorite with every Villanova student.

Pea and Double You

(Continued from Page 3)

RING-cha of the fare machine. At Ardmore Avenue one of our boys was looking out a window as the car turned into the curve. The list at that point is almost forty-seven degrees. We could tell by the way he became sea-sick.

Soon, all too soon, our pleasant journey was drawing to an end. In the distance we could see the towers of Upper Darby, commercial center of the regions west of Philadelphia. Everyone in the car got up and headed for the doors. Unfortunately, we were in the middle of the car and we had to trample a couple of five-year old brats; they were kind of sickly looking, anyway.

Well there's the P. & W. for you, fast, safe and efficient. We put our stamp of approval on it with no regrets. Remember, if you want to get somewhere fast just run across the pike (May the Lord be with you) and grab the old "Pea and Double-you."

MAJOR RETURNS

(Continued from Page 5)

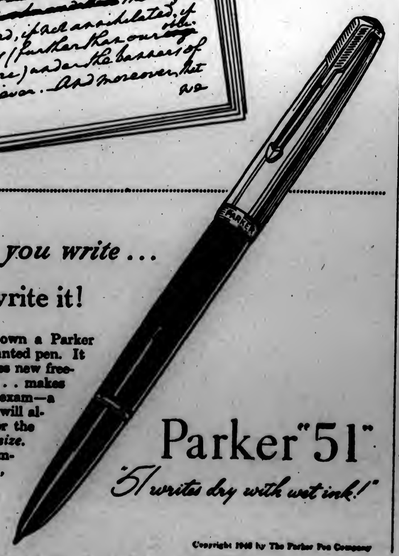
In his first year at Villanova he was a starter on the Freshman quintet which had the enviable record of 29 triumphs against no defeats. He also took his turn on the mound for the varsity nine. As a Sophomore, McDonnell gained a starting forward berth on the Wildcat five which won 19 contests in 21 starts. That was the team, Captained by Billy Woods which included Bob Kelly, Chuck Drizen, who was killed during the war, and Joe Lord. The only losses that season were to Manhatten Beach Coast Guard and Seton Hall. Victories over Princeton, Muhlenberg highlighted the 1942-'43 campaign Just before the close of the season McDonnell went into the Army.

Last year he aided Coach Al Severance with the basketball squad and his experience will hold him in good stead when he begins his duties next fall.

Always a popular figure on the campus, the "Maje" endeared himself to basketball fans by his antics on the court, where his shrill cry of "Move it" kept the 'Cats on their toes as his adept ball handling threw the opposition into confusion.

Donald J. Atkinson* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked the Finger Nail Test

WHY ACT like a donkey just because your ears are pointed? Don't "burro" your roommate's bottle . . . of Wildroot Cream-Oil, that is! Get some for yourself. See how it grooms your hair neatly and naturally without that goocy look! See how quickly it goes to work relieving annoying dryness and removing ugly, loose dandruff! Wildroot Cream-Oil hair tonic is non-alcoholic — it contains soothing Lanolin. Helps you pass the Fingernail Test. No wonder Wildroot Cream-Oil is "again and again the choice of men who put good grooming first!" Get a tube or bottle today at any drug or toilet goods counter. And ask your barber for a professional application.



* of 38 Denmant Terrace, Kenmore, N.Y.

Be proud of what you write ...

and the way you write it!

Naturally you're proud when you own a Parker "51". For this is the world's most-wanted pen. It glides with satin-smoothness . . . gives new freedom to your thoughts and fingers . . . makes writing more fun! Whether it's an exam—a theme—a letter, this is the pen that will always show you at your best. Ask for the "51" in either the regular or new demi-size. Choice of points. The Parker Pen Company, Janesville, Wisconsin, U. S. A., and Toronto, Canada.

Parker "51"

"51 writes dry with wet ink!"

Copyright 1948 by The Parker Pen Company

CAMPUS CALENDAR

Tuesday, March 2

5:00 Poetry Club—215 Mendel
6:30 Chapel
7:00 Industrial Relations Club—215 Mendel

Wednesday, March 3

12:00 & 4:00 Meeting of the Villanovan Staff—Villanovan Office
8:00 Way of the Cross—Chapel

Thursday, March 4

6:30 Way of the Cross—Chapel
8:30 Villanova vs. Georgetown—Field House

Friday, March 5

6:00-7:00-8:00-8:30-9:00-12:10 Mass—Chapel

Monday, March 8

8:00 Chapel

Tuesday, March 9

Next Issue of the Villanovan

CHESS ENTHUSIASTS ORGANIZE CAMPUS CHAPTER

Villanova's Chess Club is now under way, and has planned an inter-student chess tournament to start in March.

There will be a meeting this Friday noon in room 215 Mendel Hall for all members and those interested in joining. Tournament rules have been drawn up by Joseph Kenney and will be issued to the tournament competitors at the meeting.

Topics to be discussed at the meeting will be elections, dues, further organization, equipment (such as chess men and boards), and a chess room.

The schedule for the tournament will be formed at the meeting or soon afterwards. All members are requested to attend the meeting. It is also essential that all men wishing to enter the club and tournament be present.

The Chess Club was organized at the closing of last semester. During the war years it was disbanded but now with the increased student body and the demand of many chess enthusiasts the club has been reorganized.

LIFE $4.25
(Instead of $5.50)
TIME $4.50
(Instead of $6.50)
SAVE — Order Today Through
ED LOBKOWICZ
330 Mendel

WVIL

TUESDAY

7:30 A.M. Morning Mix-Up
7:00 P.M. Music for Tuesday
7:15 Campus Newsreel
7:20 Sports News
7:30 Record Rendezvous
8:00 Symphony Hall
9:00 Browsing through the Record Library
9:30 Record Requests
10:00 Music to Study By
11:00 Sign Off

WEDNESDAY

7:30 A.M. Morning Mix-Ups
7:00 P.M. Music for Wednesday
7:15 Campus Newsreel
7:20 Sports News
7:30 Record Rendezvous
8:00 Villanova Forum
8:30 To be announced
9:00 South of the Border
9:30 Record Requests
10:00 Music to Study By
11:00 Sign Off

THURSDAY

7:30 A.M. Morning Mix-Up
7:00 P.M. Music for Thursday
7:15 Campus Newsreel
7:20 Sports News
7:30 Record Rendezvous
10:00 Music to Study By
11:00 Sign Off

FRIDAY

7:30 A.M. Morning Mix-Up
7:00 P.M. Music for Friday
7:15 Things to do
7:30 Record Rendezvous
8:00 Doing the town
8:30 Friday night Juke Box
9:00 Let's Dance
9:30 Vocally yours
10:00 Music to Study By
11:00 Sign Off

MONDAY

7:30 A.M. Morning Mix-Up
7:00 P.M. Music for Monday
7:15 Campus Newsreel
7:20 Sports News
7:30 Record Rendezvous
8:00 Some Like it Hot
9:00 Band of the Week
9:15 Chaplain's Corner
9:30 Record Requests
10:00 Music to Study By
11:00 Sign Off

Prof: "Give me a definition of space."

Soph: "Space is where there is nothing. I-I can't explain it exactly, but I've got it in my head all right."

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 23 — No. 15 VILLANOVA COLLEGE, VILLANOVA, PA, Tuesday, March 9, 1948

VILLANOVA COLLEGE LIBRARY VILLANOVA, PA.

PROM PRINCESS TO BE CROWNED AT JUNIOR DANCE

Baby Contest Will Also Select "Junior of Junior Week"

The Chairman of the Special Events Committee for Junior Week, Kevin McChesney, announced that the Junior Class is conducting a search for the "Junior of Junior Week", and is also seeking a Prom Princess who will reign at both the Junior Prom and the Junior Dinner Dance.

All married Juniors are requested to submit pictures of their sons to either Room 113 Fedigan or to the cashier at the Pie Shop. Pictures will be accepted until April 15, and no age limit will be set on the ages of the contestants. The pictures will be judged by a committee, to be appointed. During the Mother's Day entertainment, which is scheduled for Monday, May 3, the winner of this contest will be presented to the Juniors and their Mothers. The Junior Class will defray expenses of bringing the child to Villanova.

Each member of the Junior Class is asked to contribute a picture of his date. These photographs may also be submitted to Room 113

(Continued on Page 3)

DINNER-DANCE PLANNED AS CERVANTES TRIBUTE

Officers of the Spanish Club, at a meeting held last week, announced plans for a gala celebration in honor of Cervantes. The festivity will be in the form of a dinner dance to be held April 24th, but as yet a place has not been designated.

Since this is the 400th anniversary of the renowned Spanish writer; Rev. Lorenzo Lozano, O. S. A., moderator of the club, said the affair will be the most spectacular ever held. The club boasts the largest membership of any club on the campus, and it is expected that at least 250 couples will attend the dinner dance. In addition to the orchestra, to provide the dance music, a group of students will offer a rendition of selected Spanish songs.

Connected with the nationwide celebration, Columbia University is conducting a contest in order to cultivate interest in Cervantes and his works. Any student of Spanish in an American college may enter the contest by submitting an essay written in Spanish, on the life of Cervantes, or a poem written in English. A gold medal and certificate is to be awarded each of the winners.

Model Convention

Pennsylvania college students are once more preparing for their annual experiment in applied political science; the meeting of the Intercollegiate Conference on Government, which will be held in Philadelphia from April 8th to 11th.

The group will gather as a model national political convention with students of over fifty campuses drafting platform planks and studying national issues.

Another organization, the Fourth International Pattern Institute sponsored by the National Commission on International Relations of the N. F. C. C. S., will meet in New York the week of June 6th to 12th. Students will be able to attend sessions of the United Nations, to sit in on open sessions of the Commissions and Committees. Specialists will discuss phases of the United Nations' important problems. There will be opportunities for discussion, asking of questions, and presenting difficulties that have been encountered.

THESE ARE THE SHAPES

Fordham President Pans National Education Group

Attacking the "present campaign for educational inflation" and demanding the "clearing out of the useless lumber that we have already on our campuses", the Rev. Robert I. Gannon, S. J., President of Fordham University, denounced as a "fraud" the recent report of the President's Committee on Higher Education.

He stated that, "one-third of the so-called (college) students are in the way, cluttering up the place, and interfering with other people's intellectual progress." Father attacked the above-mentioned report which calls for an increase of over four million students in higher education by 1960, because "small effort has been made to enumerate or analyze our present startling failures at the high school and college level, and also that college training will become inferior if flooded with students."

A similar tongue-lashing was directed against City Council approval of the proceedings of the Hart Committee, a fact-finding group, in the New York Council as being the result of "a small but powerful political group." Towards a solution of the boom problem Father suggests: "raise the whole tone of our higher education to the point where we can someday produce a few much-needed national leaders."

The address was delivered at an annual Alumni dinner of Fordham University in New York. His Eminence Francis Cardinal Spellman, '11, presided.

Engineering Frat Plots Initiations

Pledging for the Phi Kappa Pi, Engineering Fraternity on the campus, will start this week. All Engineers are eligible for the fraternity but the pledging is primarily directed toward the Freshman. Because of the split in the Freshmen schedule, it will be necessary to obtain the application blanks at the Information Booth in Mendel Hall. These applications will be collected later at a meeting to be announced.

Dick Shinners, President of the Fraternity, announced last week that Wednesday, April 7, 1948, has been set as the date of the initiation. At the dinner following the initiation the Senior members of the Fraternity will receive their keys.

The Carl T. Humphrey Award to the outstanding Freshman Engineering student will be resumed this year and presented at the dinner. The award is in memory of the former Dean of the Engineering School, and the recipient has his name inscribed on a plaque in the Dean's Office. The Award was first presented in 1942 but the change in entries during the war forced the Fraternity to temporarily abandon it.

The names of the top Freshmen of this year will be announced as contenders for the award that is presented in their Sophomore year.

There will be a meeting of the Fraternity on Thursday, March 11, 1948 at 12 Noon in the Dynamo Lab. and all members are requested to be present to complete arrangements for the various committees connected with the initiation and to obtain an estimate of the men who will be at the dinner following the initiation.

FOREIGN RELIEF DRIVE APPEAL CONTINUES

The N. F. C. C. S. campaign for clothes, books and toilet articles was started last Wednesday. Villanovans have been called upon to join with the entire body of American Catholic College students in donating these necessities to the students of Europe who are in need of them.

The urgent need for clothes and toilet articles is apparent from the condition of European people, pictured in today's papers and newsreels. A fact not to be overlooked is the recent destroying of all truthful books, both text and literary, by the forces of Nazism. If the students in Europe are to learn the truth, they must have books and we can help supply them.

Students of Villanova are reminded that tomorrow, March 10, marks the opening of the drive for

(Continued on Page 3)

A.C.S. Elects

Clarence Heininger will fill the vacant office of Treasurer of the combined Chemical organizations on the campus. Members of the group are affiliated with the American Chemical Society and the American Institute of Chemical Engineers. The treasurer-elect is a sophomore, and a Chemistry major.

The science group attended a lecture at the Franklin Institute last Friday and was addressed by Doctor William A. Mosher, whose topic was "The Profession of Chemistry." The speaker is head of the Chemistry Department of the University of Delaware, and Chairman of the American Chemical Society's committee on Professional Relations and Status. His talk disclosed the opportunities of the profession and the requirements and preparation necessary for it. A discussion period followed the address.

Rehearsals Shape Musical Comedy

"John Smith, Esquire," Third Production by College Talent Group; Rev. O'Donnell Named Moderator of Club

The newly revived Turf and Tinsel society of Villanova has begun to struggle through the tedious first weeks of rehearsal for an original musical, "John Smith Esquire," which will be presented this spring. Dancing choruses have already begun the serious work of practice and more practice under the able tutelage of Mr. George Noake, who is known at Villanova for his participation in several entertainment programs presented here during the V-12 Program.

Moderator of this Year's Turf and Tinsel group is the Rev. Michael J. O'Donnell, OSA, assistant professor of English at Villanova. Fr. O'Donnell is also Moderator of this year's senior class. During the war Fr. O'Donnell served as a chaplain with the seabees from 1943 to 1946. Prior to joining the college faculty, in 1938 Fr. O'Donnell taught at St. Mary's and directed the Augustinian Seminary Guild until his entrance into the navy.

The play was written by the cooperate efforts of George Noake, Bob Whelan, and Vince O'Donnell. The original music for the show was composed by Bob Whelan.

The response to the call for tryouts was overwhelming. More than a hundred fellows were present for first casting. The chorus has been chosen but the separate roles have not been cast as yet. There is still a need of men to sing in several leading roles. The dancing chorus as cast will include forty men.

No regular program of rehearsal has been established as yet, but Bob Whelan working in cooperation with Reverend William J. Krupa OSA, moderator of the Belle Masque, intends to set up a schedule which will not conflict with the spring play which is already in production.

The dates of presentation have been tentatively set as Thursday, Friday and Saturday of either the second or fourth week in May. After consultation with the college authorities to eliminate any conflicting arrangements, the date will be set officially.

Marine Corps Sponsors New Program

Reserve Unit Seeks Undergraduates for Officer Training

A chance to become commissioned officers in the United States Marine Corps Reserve is being offered to college men who can qualify, it was announced today by Captain Robert Fairfield of the Naval Science Staff.

Under a new program, men of freshman, sophomore and junior standing may obtain the rank of Second Lieutenant by enrolling in the Marine Corps Reserve and applying for officer training in the Platoon Leaders Class. This training consists of two summer periods of six weeks each at the Marine school at Quantico, Va. During the first summer, candidates are appointed corporals and are paid $90 per month. During the second summer, they hold the rank of sergeant and are paid $100 per month in addition to subsistence, clothing, quarters, medical care, and travel expenses. Juniors are required to attend only the advance training period, provided they have had twelve months previous military experience. Freshmen and sophomores need have no previous military experience.

Upon graduation from college and successful completion of the courses, candidates are eligible for commissions in the Marine Corps Reserve or if they so desire, in the regular Marine Corps.

To be eligible for entrance into the Platoon Leaders Class, applicants must be male citizens of the United States and of freshman, sophomore or junior standing in an accredited college. They must be unmarried and agree to remain so until after the completion of the advanced courses. They must not be a member of any other military organization, including the Army and Navy R.O.T.C. and, if a veteran, he must have obtained an honorable discharge. Applicants must not have a claim pending or be drawing a pension, disability compensation, allowance, or retirement pay from the U. S. government; moreover, they must be over seventeen years of age and be under twenty-five on June 30 of the year of their college graduation.

Further information about this program may be obtained from Captain Fairfield in Room 104 Mendel Hall.

Dramatic Society Aids Theatre Guild

The Belle Masque Society of Villanova, in cooperation with The Service Hospital Theater Guild, has joined in an effort to provide college talent for the direction and production of plays to be given by the patients of various service hospitals throughout the country.

Mrs. Witherspoon, of Los Angeles, California, who is traveling about the country organizing this effort, has invited the Belle Masque to participate in the venture to the extent of taking charge of one play every six weeks at the Coatesville Memorial Hospital. The students who participate will be in full charge of the direction and production of the play.

No definite plans have been made to date but the Belle Masque has full intention of cooperating and final arrangements will be made in the near future.

IN THIS ISSUE.....

Page Two ..... The Palestine Problem
Page Three ..... The Inquiring Reporter
Page Five .. VILANOVAN welcomes Bill Connelly

CRUSADE 1948

At any instant the Palestine powder-keg may explode in its long-feared crack of doom.

Every ninety minutes a Jew or Moslem is killed in the Holy Land.

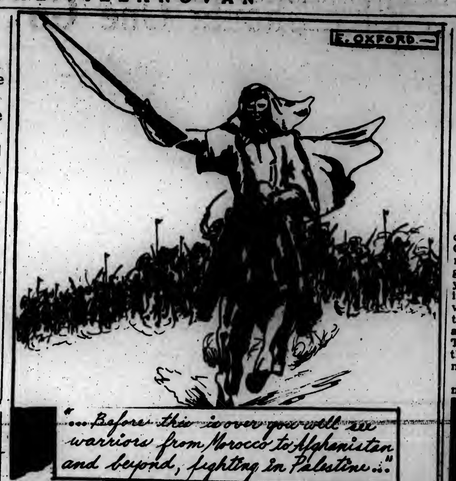
Already legions of Arabian desert fighters have pushed across the borders and are driving in from all sides on the fast-arming Jew.

In Arabia a rabble army of 70,000 awaits the command of their embittered leaders. And beyond, a Moslem world of 250,000,000 swears a Holy War for their desert brothers, a war the likes of which the world has never seen:

". . . Before this fight ends you will see warriors from Morocco to Afghanistan and beyond, fighting in Palestine. . ."

The Arab peoples have denied the right of the UN to partition the Holy Land, and now defy the UN to implement its ruling:

". . this realization (that the Big 5 have a crushing superiority in armed might) will not deter us from drenching the soil of our country with the last drop of our blood in the lawful defense of all and every inch of it. . ."



This is the crisis. This is the test, the showdown.

If the UN can't put international force behind international law, the spring Holy War will shadow forever any human hope for peace and usher in the world's third, and last, Great War.

A legacy of World War I, the Palestine Question has become the problem of the century. For thirty years Great Britain held Palestine under a League of Nations mandate, and every minute of those thirty years the conflict grew more intense.

Arabia's was the universal claim of nations; Palestine was the land given them by Providence and history, and any Jewish attempt to enter was actual invasion. Besides, Jewish claims rested on a Jewish kingdom of 250 years endurance over 1900 years ago. Arabia felt the League of Nations had stolen their land from them, and resented the favoritism shown the 'invader' by the mandate: A Jewish minority of one-third received one half of the alotted budget, 77 per cent of all loans, 89 per cent of all housing funds, 62 per cent of all grants-in-aid. Too, Palestine is a barren land of only 10,000 square miles. Even without new Jewish immigration, the Holy Land's population will double in twenty years, with a density five times greater than America's.

Just as doggedly did the Jews hold to their case for a national home land. They traced their Palestine history back 2000 years before Arabia took over in 684 A.D. The world, they declared, had acclaimed them as the rightful children of Israel 25 years ago in the League mandate, and that any Arab territory was carved from Jewish land. Particularly embittered were they against the 'noble'

Arabs in their riots of 1929: ". . . atrocious acts committed by bodies of ruthless and bloodthirsty evil-doers, of savage murder . . . burning . . . reckless ferocity. . .". Climaxing their claims was the pitiful Exodus of 1947 when a handful of Jews couldn't enter Palestine, while 250,000 more wandered in Europe.

In desperation Jewish zealots battered on the gates of Palestine that they might be opened to their fellow-refugees. They battled the British in open warfare and continued so fiercely that bewildered Britain finally handed the UN their hottest problem: And the 33-13 decision of the UN was partitioned, whereby on October 1st, 1948, all Palestine will be divided into these three parts:

1. The Arab State; area 4,500 square miles; 804,000 Arabs; 10,000 Jews.

2. The Jewish State; area 5,500 square miles; 397,000 Arabs; 531,000 Jews.

3. The Free City of Jerusalem; 289 square miles; 105,000 Arabs; 100,000 Jews.

Within two weeks after the UN voted through partition, 215 Jews and Arabs had died in Holy Land street fighting, a foretaste of what actual partition will bring.

Britain is gradually easing out her 80,000 men and by May 15 only a skeleton force will remain. God only knows what will happen then.

The optimistic Jews, rejoicing over their dream come true, are registering all 17 to 25 year-olds for their national militia. Their Haganah organization of 70,000 is a well-oiled military machine, heart of the new army of 100,000 already drilling, and well-armed.

The bitter Arabs, once lords of the desert, have five independent monarchies, two independent republics, an Asian population of 17,000,000 over an area of 1,290,000 square miles, and a will to resist partition to the end.

And right in the middle of this inferno is America. For partition was our idea; we and no one else led the way. We are not free agents any more, not a country set apart, but rather a state in the union of the world.

America must take the lead in the Palestine question, or someone else will. America, realizing that no international police force exists, must lead in forming one. A Big Five force is out. America, or any other Big Five nation, would be prevented by veto from forming a unilateral force. Any mixed army of Big Five troops would soon be caught up in dissension and nationalistic power-play. Russian soldiers, for example, would no sooner serve under an American officer, than American soldiers under a Russian officer.

The sole remaining answer is an International Legion of volunteers chosen from the small member nations. It must be powerful enough to back the UN Palestine decision; it must be ready by May 15, when the British leave Palestine to the Holy War.

A majority of the nations of the world have decided against the Arabian claims, have voted for partition. This majority is the world's last court of appeal. If UN can't enforce her ruling in Palestine, UN will soon go the way of the League of Nations.

To lead UN in building this global force is the greatest moral responsibility ever to fall on one nation's shoulders. This responsibility is America's, since partition was primarily her plan. As that leader in building UN power America fights now for the very life of man.

E. Oxford

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE Villanova, Pa.

JOHN A. McDERMOTT ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
FRANK GUZIKOWSKI ..... Managing Editor
PAT LAFFERTY ..... News Editor
GEORGE SZYMANSKI, '50 ..... Feature Editor
RICHARD HUBBARD, '48 ..... Feature Editor
VINCE PEDANO, '49 ..... Picture Editor
NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI, '48 ..... Circulation Manager
EDWARD OXFORD, '50 ..... Business Manager
JAMES PLUNKETT '49 ..... Copy Editor
ROBERT M. FLAHERTY, '48 ..... Sports Editor
..... Asst. Photo Editor

News Staff

Michael Marshal '49, Richard Shinners '48, Michael Joseph Nowlan '49, Charles Laferty '49, Frank Gobes '51, Frank Guzikowski '49, Thomas Mitchell '51, Joseph Miller '50, John James Connoly '51, Joseph Kenney '50, Joseph Callahan '51, George R. Reinhart '51, Arthur Woodrow '51, Louis Alvare '48, Tom Smith '51.

Feature Staff

R. E. Manifold '51, William Breninghouse '51, Joseph Quill '50, A. J. Mullen '49, David V. Anthony '51, John A. Rowe '51, Gunther Kaiser '49, P. McManus '48, John Mallick '49, Vince O Neil '51, Mark Morris '51, James Tayoun '51, Leo Dodd '49, Emil Meyer '49, Richard Rudak '49, Thomas Russo '51.

Sports Staff

James Lyons '48, Paul Altenpuhl '49, Ned Hoffner '49, Arnold Keehan '49, William Canino '50, Neal Fahy '50, George Mondschein '50, Raymond Mondschein '50, Tyson Reilly '50, Walter Rydel '50, Harry Jacobs '51, William Kussarits '51, Raymond MacWilliams '51, Paul Presede '51, Harold Range '51.

Picture Staff

Robert Graf '50, Raymond Berninger '49, Dan Haflinger '50, William Neal Carter '51, Dan Robinson '49, William Murphy '51, Harry Papaan '51, Robert Pope '50, Jack Muratori '51, "Tex" Winters '50.

Business Staff

Joe King '48, Barry Gibbons '51, Jack Gibbons '51, Donald Baralt '50.

Circulation Staff

George Weber, III, '51, Ralph Iorio '50, Ed Kent '51, Charles Klunk '51, Ralph Skowron '51, Gene Langan '51, Harry Papaan '51, Robert Pope '50, Wm. Coakley '50, Maurice Wilhere '48, Mario Piazzolla '51, Paul Schreiber '50.

Copy Staff

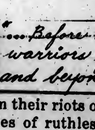
Frank McGeehan '50, Girard Farnan '50, Edgar Le Blanc '50, Steve Keiss '51, Robert MacRoberts '51, William Foley '50, Dick Randolph '50.

Faculty Advisor— Rev. John A. Kiekotka, O.S.A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman — LEO GOODREAU

Subscription: $2 per year. Circulation: 5000.
Entered as second class matter at the Villanova Post Office December 27, 1928.

Member of Associate Collegiate Press. Distributor of Collegiate Digest. Member of Catholic School Press Association, Catholic College Press Association.



First of Two Articles

POLITICS AND YOU

by T. R. Sullivan

This being leap year, there are certain phenomena to be observed. One is the open pursuit by the female of the species, which we know goes on undercover the other three years. The second is a renewed interest in politics. For this November, the electorate of the country will dutifully tramp to the polls and exercise their prerogative. They will select a candidate for the nation's highest office, and minor ones right down the line.

This condition has not passed unnoticed in the press. We are all but surfeited with stories of candidates, prospective candidates, reluctant candidates, and intricate maneuvers. This, coupled with the rash of books on the workings of the political era just ended, has brought the subject and science of politics forcibly before the mass of the people.

But what effect is it having upon the people? Too many are content to let the experts and analysts inform or misinform them as they will. Is it having any effect in arousing the intelligent populace to take an interest in politics? Or are the "better," college-trained people still sitting back with their smug "thank God that I am not as the rest of men" attitude toward politics? If this is the case, and there is good reason to suspect that it is, there is a mighty waste of newsprint.

First of all, the college trained citizen has a greater obligation toward the community. He should be more interested in politics through his very being a college graduate. Of course that is supposing that college training does increase a person's intellectual abilities. If it doesn't, a lot of people are wasting their time. The obligation of the college graduate in these matters is more or less in the line of "noblesse oblige." He is supposed to be trained to use his intellect and the community looks up to him for it.

Just how can this obligation be fulfilled to the community? First of all, it should be almost self-evident that government, be it national, state, or local, affects us all and very vitally. Therefore, the college graduate should be among the first to consistently exercise the right of franchise. In plain language, get out and vote.

This is an important step in getting the citizenry interested in the political picture. After all, voting is both a right and a privilege. There are many places where the freedom of choice in such matters is not permitted. If a thing is as vital to the nation as the selection of men who will determine its policy, it is worth the slight bit of inconvenience on the part of the individual citizen to make his feelings known on the subject. As college students we know what to do.

Objections to voting are being raised continually. Next week some of these objections will be answered in a concluding article.

LETTERS....

ALUMNUS ASKS A QUESTION

March 1, 1948

Editor of the Villanovan
Villanova, Penna.
Sir:

Due to illness I was forced to give up my practice a year ago. I fully realize that you are very busy. I also enjoy the Villanovan very much. But why not a column of Alumni News? Though you probably have your reasons, if such a column were added, to we old-timers it would be an interesting feature and the key to the lock holding stored-up memories.

Sincerely,
Wm. E. Donahoe, M.D., '27

The VILLANOVAN appreciates Mr. Donahue's suggestion, but it also realizes that the VILLANOVAN is primarily and essentially a student newspaper and must be written to the students. ED.

The famous French violinist, Jacques Thibaud, will present a recital at the Academy on Friday evening, March 12th. The proceeds of this concert will go to the Philadelphia Chapter for Infantile Paralysis.

On Tuesday evening, March 9th, Lowell Thomas and his son will present a dialogue under the sponsorship of the Forum. The audience will also enjoy a showing of some of the travel films of this eminent world traveler and commentator.

On Tuesday, March 16th, Morton Gould and his orchestra will play an evening of American music at the Academy. The program, "American Serenade," will also feature Wilbur Evans, baritone; and Mimi Benzell, Met coloratura.

The so-called Italian prodigy, Ferrucio Burco, will lead a symphony orchestra at the Met, Broad and Poplar sts. This eight-year-old child received much applause from the New York audience on his recent appearance, but was received cooly by the critics. But who of us can claim leadership of symphony orchestras at the age of eight or eighty?

The Boyd theater is showing an interesting new movie built around the death scene in Shakespeare's "Othello." It stars Ronald Coleman and continues the run of psychological dramas so popular on today's screen.

The American Youth Hostel, commonly called the A.Y.H., has opened a drive for membership in this area. The requirements are a stout pair of shoes and a love for the outdoors. This organization sponsors short walks, week-end jaunts, or complete vacation trips to many points on the globe.

As an example: Members of the A.Y.H. will brave the March winds this week-end, March 6 and 7, at the Cape May Hostel. The train leaves early Saturday morning and will return by Sunday evening.

It is requested that advance reservations be made early at the local A.Y.H. office, 1800 Arch st. Any additional information will be gladly furnished by this office.

Why Should One Go To College?

Rev. Henry J. Eagan, O. S. A. Instructor, Mathematics: "In order to obtain a good job some yeârs from now? Possibly!! So that I can make a lot of money? Perhaps!! Because it is easy for an ex-GI to go now? Maybe! In order to get a good job to pay back the sacrifices my parents have made for me? To better start married life? Good! Fine ideas!! You might be going to college for one or all of these reasons. But the most fundamental reason for going to college is this—because I firmly believe I can more easily save my soul with a college education. which, since it is available to me, seems to be part of the working-out of God's Plan for my soul's salvation. That, Catholic gentlemen, is why you are going to College!"

• • •

Mr. Jerome J. Fischer, Instructor, English: "It is one of the obligations exacted for the privilege of being alive that a man must ask these three questions about himself: 1) What am I? 2) Why am I? 3) Where am I going? One goes to college to help him find the answers to these questions. A broad answer to a very broad question."

• • •

Rev. William Lunney, O. S. A. Associate Prof., Modern Languages: "A space-consuming topic, however. one should go to college in order that one may the better develop the talents he possesses, the better to serve his God, his country, and his fellow-man."

• • •

Miss Alina Elizabeth Surmacka, Senior, Chemistry, Bryn Mawr College; Warsaw, Poland: "Because one should endeavor to enlarge and develop one's personality and because by bettering one's knowledge and becoming a fuller and wiser individual one can serve better the mankind and his society".

• • •

John Montone, Sophomore, Science, Day-hop, Philadelphia: "I think that one goes to college to increase his knowledge in those things that are fundamental to life, and thereby to help one to better meet the needs of his fellow man in human understanding, kindness, service, and love of neighbors; to recognize one's inner self".

• • •

James J. Lynch, Senior, Mech. Engineering, Resident Student, Mahanoy City: "In all honesty, my first purpose is greater earning power, but since I can learn the finer points of my faith at the same time, all the better; and by this getter training to wield my influence, all I can, on the outside as a militant Catholic.".

• • •

Philip L. Appleby, Arts, Resident Student, Rochester, N. Y.: "A degree without Him is a piece of paper. A degree with Him is a burning taper of Love, lighting the way Home".

• • •

Phil Piro, Electrical Engineering, Resident Student, White Haven: "I do not think that I am either intellectually or spiritually capable to cope with the outside world without a college education. Here in college I am given the opportunity to place myself in a higher earning capacity after four years, and along with this I can learn how to defend my faith. 'For a veteran it is the easy and right way to get a good new start in life".

• • •

Louis W. Slater, Senior, Chemistry, Resident Student, Rochester, N. Y.: "A college education is a practical necessity for one who would assume a responsible position in present-day society. The problems of the age demand a scope of mind that few men are able to develop without the benefit of college training. Furthermore, a college education, if satisfactorily completed, is a matter of personal satisfaction, and an achievement of which one may be justly proud".

• • •

Bill Turner, Junior, Physics, Resident Student, Victor, N. Y.: "A college education is as a telescope to a man's eyes. It gives him a clearer, broader view of the panorama of life. Moreover, no matter what economic remuneration one receives from these years in college, a man derives a more thorough enjoyment of life".

• • •

Roland M. Marshall, Soph., Commerce and Finance, Resident Student, Purdy Station, N. Y.: "We should attend college with a definite purpose in mind. Higher education should train the individual, and give him a fuller appreciation of life, a broader and more intelligent outlook. It should provide more than advanced specialized training, or the wherewithal to increase one's earning power. I personally think that the emphasis should be placed on the molding of better characters rather than on the making of embryo millionaires".

Sheed Brilliant at Rosemont

Jack Casby

Speaking before a large group of Rosemont College students and faculty last Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Frank Sheed, noted English publisher and lecturer, delivered a brilliant discourse entitled "The Writers of the Catholic Intellectual Revival, 1918-1942." In this talk, he outlined the English writers of this period.

During this period there were more Catholic writers than ever before but, Mr. Sheed pointed out, that the end of the period may be at hand. He then advanced three points: first, with the exception of Caryll Houselander there are no new authors rising to take the place of the elders; second, with the exception of Belloc, most of the writers are either converts or reverts; third, the revival is truly intellectual. For this he holds Pope Leo XIII partially accreditable, since it was he who told Catholics to resume the reading of Aquinas.

The fact that there was a revival meant that there must have been an "Intellectual Swoon," Mr. Sheed stated. Because of the belief that Catholics were intellectually inept men with dynamic personalities were just what was needed to thrust themselves on the public scene. Such men were Belloc and Chesterton. These two, said Mr. Sheed, couldn't be ignored, such was their personality. It wasn't what they said, he continued (for it had been said before) but the way in which they said it.

Frequently, Mr. Sheed pinpointed his lecture with enlightening episodes from the personal lives of these two men which he gained from his personal relationships.

Mr. Sheed discussed the other writers of the period, among them Christopher Dawson and Monsignor Knox. He went on at length eulogizing Dawson saying that he is the ranking Catholic thinker of England having "the greatest mass of sheer brute knowledge" at his disposal. He paused on Evelyn Waugh claiming that the best seller "Brideshead Revisited" has nothing new to offer. " It merely rehashes how 'Grace' gets its man like the Mounted Police." He dwelt briefly on J. B. Morton, Graham Greene and Bruce Marshall before bringing the lecture to a close.

FOREIGN RELIEF

(Continued from Page 1)

books and that March 13 opens the week for donation of toilet articles. For your convenience, barrels have been placed in Mendel Hall, C & F Building and the Pie Shop to receive these articles.

Baby Contest Will Also Select "Jr. of Jr. Week"

(Continued from Page 1)

Fedigan or to the cashier at the Pie Shop. From this collection of photos, the judges will choose the Princess and her Court. At the Junior Prom, Friday, May 7, the names of the successful girls will be announced, and the lucky girl will receive a token of the occasion.

We thought spring was here but the above is evidence of winter's last stand on the campus with a snowfall last week.

Spring Drive For Beautiful Campus Hinted

We hear from a very good source that the College is planning to resurface the parking lot at the tennis courts and to fix up the lot across from the Field House. This is part of the spring improvement program and will make things easier for the students who drive to school.

The college plan for parking may be briefly stated: There is to be no parking on the front drives of the campus.

In order to follow out this idea, students are to avail themselves of the tennis court and Field House parking lots. The triangular space behind Mendel Hall is intended for the Faculty and various agents who conduct business at the College. When the new buildings are completed, this space will be properly resurfaced. Space behind the Commerce and Finance building is also set aside for Faculty use. As soon as practicable, that will be improved and enlarged. Faculty parking space may also be used by disabled students who have obtained from the business office a sticker for their car.

During the past and present terms, efforts were made to keep vehicles off the campus. Through the appreciated cooperation of most of the students, the road conditions at the College have been improved.

Due to continued infractions, however, the Administration finds it necessary to impose penalties. The assessment period will begin on March 10 at 12 noon.

The matter of lawn protection is almost exclusively in the students' hands.

Counsel (to the policeman): "But if a man is on his hands and knees in the middle of the road, does that prove he is drunk?"

Policeman: "No, sir, it does not. But this one was trying to roll up the white line!"

By McBride and Johnson

A New Old Look for Alumni Hall?

Let's face the facts—it's really grim. But must it remain that way??? We say "no." . . . If other colleges can hide antiquated buildings with Ivy, why can't we?

In short, we are initiating a 5th column movement for "Ivy on the walls" of our hallowed halls. All in favor says "aye" . . . all right, who is the funny boy that dropped that pin???

Our proposal for no corsages for the whole Junior Week died with a resounding thud last Tuesday night at the Junior Class meeting. As an alternate plan, we proposed the system that Rosemont has already used, i.e., get the NFOCS to buy 550 Gardenias at about $1 a piece. Then at the door of the dance, Joe Villanova pays $2 per. That way the NFOCS get 1 dollar . . . Joe saves 2 (based on the assumption that the average fellow would spend at least $4 for a dirty old orchid).

This proposal, sorry to say, also met with the axe. . . . So, just to satisfy our curosity, we asked about 20 girls from both Rosemont and Chestnut Hill how they would feel towards the idea of no corsages. To a tee, they all favored the idea. One pretty one from the "Hill" expressed it very nicely. "No corsages would save the fellow a few dollars and the girl lots of problems. What with strapless evening gowns, there's really no place to wear them, except in the hair. Put them in the hair, they invariably fall out, ruining the hair make-up."

So now we have to swing into the highly competitive field of $5 orchids. . .

Welcome Bill Connely

Our most hearty welcome to Bill Connelly upon his return to the Villanova fold. A capable, well-liked Villanovan, Mr. Connelly, we feel will do his utmost to push the name of Villanova to the fore.

Congratulations Team

Professing to be experts in every field . . . from Anthropology to Zykology, we now proceed to stick our respective necks out on an "All" basketball team. So—here 'tis.

All-Philadelphia

First Team	Second Team
f. Lyons, Penn	Saboi, Villa.
c. Faust, LaSalle	Guokas, St. Joe
f. Arizen, Villa.	Ricca, Villa.
g. Bobb, Temple	McCann, LaSalle
g. Senesky, St. Joe	Lerner, Temple

Thanks—Russ

One of the most fabulous and well-known characters in Philadelphia sporting circles is a small bespectacled man in his early 40's. His name is Russell (Russ) Baum.

His occupation. . . no one really seems to know. But the fact remains that he is one of the wealthy members of the Main Line Social set. His fame is attributed to his ever willingness to throw a party . . . and on a huge scale. It is true that he caters to the so-called "recognized" blue book society, but the affairs that he loves best are those he throws for some of the biggest names in collegiate sports.

"The one I'll never forget," Russ tells us is the one we had here (at his $50,000 home) after the Army-Navy game in 1947. Arnold Tucker, who had just announced his engagement, was guest of honor. We had the whole Army team here, including Doc and Glenn (Blanchard and Davis)."

A must at all of Russ' parties is the group picture. This enables him to keep a record of all his circular movements—letters from the White House, Mrs. Roosevelt, Gen. Maxwell Taylor—pictures of his entertaining big names of collegiate circles at the Stork Club, some of the nation's biggest war heroes, Sullivan Award Winner Jack Kelly, and just recently, all the athletes from Penn.

So, to Russ Baum goes our intangible "violets of the week" for some swell weekends. . . .and more to come in the future. . .

With a well bowed head
And a face quite red . . .

We are forced, for the first time, to make a retraction. That business about Ralph Pasquariello was a bit of a bum steer . . . thanks

(Continued on Page 7)

CATHOLIC GIRLS' CONCERT GROUP

EFFORTS OF ALTAR GROUP PRAISED

Gathered in the Mendel Amphitheater, the members of the Sanctuary Society met, for the first time since the new semester began, to prepare plans for the activities of the Society. President Emeric Michalik called the meeting to order on March 2nd, at 8:00 p.m.

Rev. Edwin T. Grimes, O.S.A., College Chaplain, delivered a lecture in which he thanked them for their cooperation during the past semester and especially for their help in the various phases of the Retreat. He reminded the members of the high standards set for the Society and their place in the College student body as good examples. Fr. Grimes then presented a large size holy picture of Our Lady of Good Counsel and a letter to each member for his cooperation during Retreat.

Edgar Le Blanc, member of the Society and of the NFCCS Committee, addressed the membership relative to the coming clothing drive. He asked the help of the members in packing relief clothing.

Class schedules were recorded to aid in making up a Master serving schedule, and a volunteer list was distributed for Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament on the first Friday Exposition, March 5th. Three new members were accepted to the Society.

Rev. Thomas P. Purcell, O.S.A., spoke briefly to the Society and upon adjournment of the meeting, delivered the closing prayer.

All Varsity football players are requested to report for practice on Tuesday afternoon, March 9 at 3:00 P. M. at the Villanova Field House.

JEANNETT'S
Bryn Mawr Flower Shop
Corsage Specialists
FREE DELIVERY
823 Lancaster Ave.
BRYNMAWR, PA.
Bryn Mawr 0570 : Flowers by Wire

HOLIDAY
The Most Talked About Pipe Mixture in America
☆
Aromatic in the pack... Aromatic in the pipe!

Holiday also comes in a 16 oz. Humi-Seal Glass Jar
Larus & Brother Company, Richmond, Virginia

CAMPUS CALENDAR

Tuesday, March 9
6:30 Chapel
Wednesday, March 10
7:30 Dramatic Reading Contest ..... 215 Mendel
8:00 Way of the Cross ..... Chapel
8:30 Concert, Villanovan Symphonic Band and Glee Club ..... Rosemont College
THURSDAY, March 11
12:00 Noon Meeting, Phi Kappa Pi ..... Dynamo Lab
6:30 Way of the Cross ..... Chapel
8:00 Lecture—"Atomic Energy" Captain B. Hill, U.S.N. ..... Navy Yard
Friday, March 12
6:00-7:00-8:00-8:30-9:00-12:10 Mass ..... Chapel
8:30 Concert, Villanovan Symphonic Band and Glee Club ..... Chestnut Hill
Monday, March 15
8:00 Chapel
Tuesday, March 16
Next Issue of the Villanovan

"Would you wrap the Dentyne Chewing Gum as a gift, please?"

"That dame drives me nuts! 'Wrap it as a gift,' she says! As if anybody wanted to bother with fancy gift wrappings to get at that delicious, clean tasting Dentyne Chewing Gum with the rich, long lasting flavor. Dentyne is a gift at any price because it helps keep teeth white."
Dentyne Gum—Made Only By Adams

Record Success Story!

RCA Victor's rising star of the keyboard —Larry Green—scores another hit . . . "GONNA GET A GIRL"

WITHIN the past few months, Larry Green has climbed right up with the top bands of the land! If you ask Larry how he did it, he'll light up a Camel and say: "Experience is the best teacher in the band business—and in cigarettes. I know from experience that sweet music suits my band, just as I learned from experience that Camels suit my 'T-Zone' to a 'T'!"

Try Camels! Discover for yourself why, with smokers who have tried and compared, Camels are the "choice of experience"!

And here's another great record—

More people are smoking CAMELS than ever before!

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company
Winston-Salem, North Carolina

All eyes on the ball as Brooks Ricca collects two of his 23 points during the Georgetown game. Villanova won her 15th and final game of the season, 71-56.

'Cats Close Season Beating Hoyas, 71-56

Ricca with 23 Points Paces 'Cats to 15th Win

The Villanova basketball team endedits season on a highly successful note on Thursday night against a hot-and-cold Georgetown club. The Wildcats were victorious in the fray, 71 to 56, before a crowd of 2500 in the College Field House.

The 'Cats played one of their best games of the season and had the phenomonal shotmaking average of 42.3% as opposed to 28.3% for the Hoyas.

Final Game

The game, roughly played at times, was the season's finale for both squads and the loss was the 15th for the visitors against 12 victories. Villanova, revenging an earlier 64-46 setback at Washington, brought its 1947-48 ledged to 15 won and 9 lost.

The Wildcat's two big siege guns —Paul Arizen and Brooks Ricca— piled up 41 of Villanova's total between them. Ricca pushed the Wildcats to a fast 6-0 lead, bagging two field goals and two fouls in the early minutes but with Danny Kraus, Eddie Brembs and Ray Corley leading the way, Elmer Ripley's men tied it at 10 and then 12 before Villanova pulled away to a 38-28 half-time margin.

Second Half Rally

Georgetown's Ken Brown opened the second half scoring with a field goal from close in and teammate Corley followed shortly after. That accounted for all scoring in the first three minutes. Arizen countered off the pivot for Villanova and bracked a field goal and a foul following Brown's foul conversion for the Hoyas, making Villanova's edge 45-33.

Ricca's field goal at 58-43 gave Villanova the 15-point edge it maintained until the end.

The game almost on ice, 59-46, with about six minutes remaining, Villanova never let up. The Wildcats concentrated on setting up plays in the remaining time. Close guarding by Georgetown held the Wildcats' field goals down but resulted in a progression of foul shots.

Brooks Ricca let loose with a field goal from under the basket to make it 66-53 and Frank Alagia sank a long one for Georgetown with two minutes remaining. Shy Raiken stole the ball and soloed down court for a Villanova field goal with 35 seconds left. O'Keefe then made a shot from far out making the score 69-56. Foul goals by Perry DelPurgatorio and Arizen wound up the scoring.

Good Strategy

The Hoyas had beaten Penn State the night before and were weary from their journey from State College. Smart strategy on the part of Coach Al Severance, who figured Georgetown would be tired, won the game. The team played the same type of ball that was so successful against Rhode Island State earlier in the season, and the fast game wore out the opposing cagers.

The appearance of a dead fish thrown from the balcony mid-way in the second half after a dubious decision of Referee Cliff Anderson, drew cheers from the spectators.

In the prelim, the Villanova football players defeated the University of Pennsylvania gridders 49 to 31 in an extremely hard fought contest. Joe Rogers was high man of the game with 16 points.

Season Briefs

Comparing the first game with the last one, the style of play completely changed. Only two set shots from the outside were made by the 'Cats during the whole contest, the remaining points coming from one-handers taken from close up. Georgetown made almost half of its

(Continued on Page 7)

Guida Wins Casey 600; Thompson 2nd In Handicap

Ross Finishes 4th as Twomey Wins Mile in 4:13.1

Villanova's speedy George Guida captured the featured Casey 600 yard run Saturday night at the Knights of Columbus games, before 13,000 Madison Square Garden fans in the second fastest time of the season. The fastest time of the season was recorded two weeks ago when Dave Bolen, former Colorado star turned in a 1:11.8 effort as he beat Guida to the wire by a scant three yards.

McKenley Drops Out

In order to win, Guida was forced to come from behind on the gun lap and overhaul Herb McKinley, world's quarter record holder. McKenley, a tall Jamaican raced to the front of the pack after half a lap and set a blistering pace until Guida, unleasing a sensational kick caught him. Once Guida passed him, McKenley, thoroughly exhausted, called it an evening and stepped off the track. Frank Fox, anchor man on Seton Hall's crack mile relay quartet came up fast to grab second place five yards behind the strong finishing Villanovan. Third place went to Hugh Short of the New York Pioneer Club. Short is the present co-holder of the world's indoor 600 yard record of 1:10.2. Royce Crimmins of Brown University placed fourth in the six man field.

Guida has now beaten McKenley in two of their three meetings to date. McKenley's only victory came in the 500 yard special at the New York A. C. Games. However, the much traveled West Indian (Boston College, Illinois, and now Seton Hall) is almost invincible on cinders at the shorter distances.

Ross 4th in Mile

John Twomey, ex-Illinois star paced himself beautifully to win the Columbian mile in 4:13.1. He upset both Tommy Quinn, National A.A.U. indoor champion and Gerry Karver N.C.A.A. and IC4A mile titleholder. Villanova's Browning Ross finished up strong and garnered fourth place behind Karver.

George Thompson starting from scratch was in the runner-up spot in the 1000 yard run handicap. The tall, lithe, long striding sophomore, gave away handicaps ranging up to 40 yards to the crowded field of twenty-five. Pacing himself evenly Thompson managed to cut down all but one of the runners. The victor was Daniel McDonald of Fordham University who had a handicap of 30 yards.

One of the biggest thrills of the evening came when Phil Thigpen of Seton Hall won the 1000 yard Invitation. Thigpen, proving that his previous victory over Reggie Pearman was no fluke, romped home in the excellent time of 2:13.6. Pearman, America's top Olympic 800 meter hope could do no better than fourth.

Camden Meet Next

On March 20, Jim Elliot's Villanova Wildcats will attempt to dethrone the Shanahan Catholic Club in the Middle Atlantic AAU championships held in Camden. Shanahan will be headed by Curt Stone, National Indoor three mile champion. However the Blue and White shouldn't have too much trouble in annexing the team title. Coach Elliot will have men entered in every event. Joe Semple from Palmyra New Jersey will lead the team in the field events.

Guida, Ross and Coleman are slated to appear in the Knights of Columbus games in Cleveland, March 26. Guida will meet McKenly and Fox once again in the 600, while Ross will face Twomey, Quinn, Karver and Company in the mile run. Buck Coleman has the unenviable task of tackling Earl Meadows, Boo Morcom, and Rev. Bob Richards in the pole vault. Earl Meadows is the 1936 Olympic champion and record holder who has been making a phenomenal comeback these past two years in an effort to gain a place on the 1948 Olympic team.

INDOOR BASEBALL WORKOUTS BEGIN

'Cats Prep for Season's Opener with Dartmouth

Paralleling the inauguration of major league spring training, the Villanova intercollegiate nine began training on March 1. But the parallel isn't perfect, as often is the case with parallels. The professionals loosened up in the sweltering Florida and California heat; the collegians were warmed by the best efforts of Anthracite as they worked out in the field house.

This might seem afield, but last year the Blue and White suffered 60 per cent of their losses, or exactly 3, on the southern trip which marked their second, third and fourth games. Later Coach Phil Weinert's prodigies found themselves and went on to record a 13-5 season. However, their southern conquerors, Duke, Wake Forrest and North Carolina, had exceptional ball teams, and the added advantage of a longer and more favorable spring training period might or might not have had any decisive bearing on the outcome of these games.

This same Villanova nine sent four of its seniors into professional baseball. Pitcher Bill Smith who won three and lost three, second baseman Joe Lord, and outfielder Dan Casey were signed to Phillies contracts and catcher Frank O'Neill endorsed a Brooklyn contract.

Yet the heart of last year's successful aggregation is in the process of reporting to Phil Weinert —to date only pitchers and catchers have been called. It's an unusual college team that has four players of professional potential and a rare one that can lose them

(Continued on Page 7)

Connelly Named Sports Director

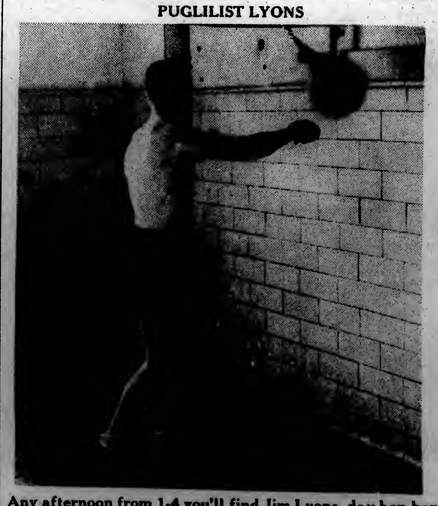
His Appointment Fills Spot Left Vacant in 1943

The appointment of William M. Connelly as director of athletics at Villanova College was announced today by Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A., vice president and moderator of athletics.

Succeeds "Clipper" Smith

Connelly will fill the post which has been vacant since 1943, when the former athletic director Maurice "Clipper" Smith left his post for the marine service. Since then Fr. McKee has been serving in the dual capacity of moderator and director of athletics. In addition to these duties, he was also appointed vice president in July, 1944 filling the position which had been vacant because of the appointment of Rev. F. X. McGuire as president.

Father McKee in a statement made in conjunction with the release said, "It is a step towards providing Villanova with a broader athletic program.'



Two Letter Athlete

Connelly a member of the class of 1927, has long been associated with Villanova especially with Main Line sports. A two letter athlete in his college days, he played both varsity baseball and basketball.

In 1937 he donated the highly coveted and prized Connelly award to the hall having the best decorations prior to the annual Temple-Villanova football game. When relations with Temple were not resumed after the war, he donated another plaque to the best decorated hall prior to the Georgetown-Villanova football game. As you all know this year's award was won by both Delurey and Fedigan halls

Besides the... ...iliations, Connelly has been servin... the college athletic board in an advisory role for the past six months. He will assume his duties on March 15.

PUGLILIST LYONS

Any afternoon from 1-4 you'll find Jim Lyons, day hop boxing hopeful, getting his workout on the speed bag. Lyons boxed in the last boxing tournament held in 1945.

FEATURING: ED FITZGERALD ACE WILDCAT RELAYMAN

After a track meet we glance through the sports pages of any newspaper and we are sure to see big write-ups about the individual stars and their accomplishments. But how about the relay men—the guys who give all they've got for their three team mates? They are great runners who, through no fault of their own, rarely receive any recognition.

Quarter Mile Specialty

In Ed Fitzgerald, ace Villanova quarter-miler, is a first class example of a superb relay man whose fame has been partially overshadowed. Acclaimed by Coach Jim Elliott as well as his team mates, as one of the nations best stick men, Ed has been in all of Villanova's major relay wins of the past two seasons.

Local Product

Philadelphia's gift to Wildcat spiked-shoe endeavors was born on June 22, 1924 and received his schooling at St. Thomas More. Fitz began his track career at an early age by running away with the dashes at the grammar school picnics. Later he ran the anchor leg for the St. Thomas More mile relay team which won the Catholic League championship in 1942.

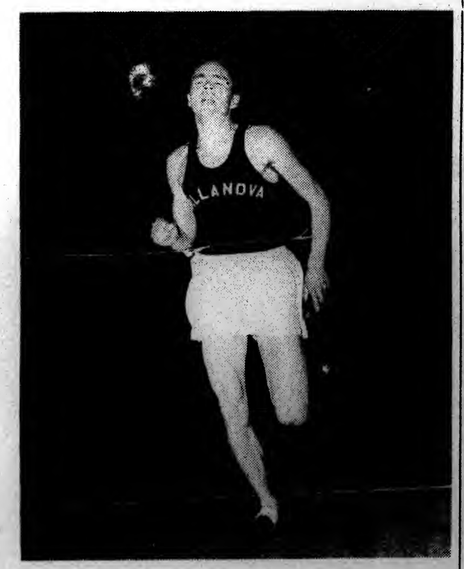
Ed entered Villanova in the Fall Semester of 1942, but had enlisted in the V-5 and was transferred. He was at a number of colleges while in the program and was able to do some cross-country work at Oklahoma. After a little more than three years in the Navy, Fitz received his discharge in March 1946.

Anchored Mile Relay

Upon reentering Villanova after being discharged, he again joined the track team and started competing in the 1947 indoor season. Throughout the season the mile relay team of George Guida, Bob Kelly, Dick Muscelli and Ed Fitzgerald on the anchor leg, placed in the Philadelphia Inquirer Meet, the Millrose, and the Boston Knights of Columbus Games. Beside the mile relay, Fitz also ran in the two mile relay in the N.Y.A.C. Meet.

The outdoor season on 1947 found the same men on the mile relay, however, Fitz had switched positions with George Guida. With this they ran away with the mile relay at the Penn Relays in 3:21.7. However, in the outdoor IC4A Meet Ed and the boys hit their best time as well as their biggest disappointment. Their 3:16.5 would normally have placed in any meet but due to the winners' time of 3:15 and the close second and third teams, they failed to qualify.

Ed's best accomplishment this season was running of the third leg of the two mile relay in the Nationals at Madison Square Garden. He has also competed in the mile relay or individually in the 600 in all the other major meets of the season.



K. of C. Toughest Race

A few of Fitz's personal "mosts" are as follows:

Most difficult race—running the anchor leg in the mile relay at the Boston K. of C. Meet in 1947. It was the night after the Philadelphia Inquirer Meet and the boys were all pretty tired. However, the first three men fought yard for yard with Seton Hall for first place and when Ed received the baton Villanova led by a yard. He was running against Seton Hall's star quarter miler Phil Palese and had to fight all the way. No more than a yard separated them at any time and at the finish Ed won by just the hair on his chest.

Most entries: last year's Penn Relays where Ed ran in the 400 meter hurdles, half-mile relay, mile-relay, two mile relay, sprint medley, and the distance medley relay.

Most enjoyable race — after his girl Sally whom he will marry on June 26.

Ed Fitzgerald as he crosses the finish line to give Villanova a victory in her heat of the mile relay in the recent Phila. Inquirer Meet. Fitzgerald, who has been running relays for the past eight years, is the most experienced of all the Wildcat relay men.

'CAT COURTMEN PICK ALL-OPPONENT FIVE

After closing a successful season with a victory over Georgetown, the ten men on the varsity squad put their heads together, looked back and considered the ability of the players they traded shots with in the past campaign, then came up with an All-Opponent team which would rival that of any other in the country.

Of the 177 players they faced this season, only 16 were deemed worthy enough to cast votes for. Only unanimous opponent chosen, was Harry Donovan, an all-American from Mulenberg. Jim Lacey of Loyola, who was a unanimous choice last year, did not receive enough votes to place on the first team this year, even though he is third in the Nation's scoring leaders.

Seton Hall Gets Two

Frank Saul and John Mackinowski, both of Seton Hall, joined Herbie Krautblatt of Rider and Johnny Bach of Fordham in comprising the remainder of the team. Three of the five players were seen by the home fans in the College Field House.

Donovan, who is undoubtedly one of the finest players in the country, scored 25 points in his only appearance against the 'Cats this season and sparked his team to a 67-60 victory over Villanova. He surely deserves the title of "Opponent of the Year".

Saul and Mackinowski, two set shot artists from Seton Hall, between them scored 70 points in two games against the Wildcats. They were two of the classiest players to appear in the Field House.

Krautblatt of Rider is relatively unknown in collegiate basketball circles because Rider faces very few major college teams. However, he possesses probably the most deadly left hand in the country. Making 27 points against Villanova, his left handed stabs were impossible to stop.

Johnny Bach of Fordham who averaged 20 points a contest is, of course, one of the best players in the country and is making everyone's "all" team this year.

Donovan was the only repeater from last year's all-opponent squad. Other members of the team were Wanzer of Seton Hall, now playing with the Rochester Royals, Allen of Rhode Island State, Kosteka of Georgetown, and Lacey who made the second team this year.

The Teams:

First Team

Donovan	Mulenberg
Krautblatt	Rider
Bach	Fordham
Saul	Seton Hall
Makinowski	Seton Hall

Second Team

Mackin	Mulenberg
Kraus	Georgetown
Lawrey	Princeton
Lacey	Loyola
Rickter	Cincinatti

Honorable mention: Scalfani — Rhode Island, Hole—Rhode Island.

DOMS; AUSTIN LEAD TIGHT I.M. LEAGUE

Mondschein Inc., and Klucsarits

The Doms continued to dominate the Intramural Basketball League, as they triumphed over Barracks 1 & 4 on Monday, March 1. Fr. Gallagher's Barracks team gave the Doms some anxious moments in the first half which ended 13-10 in favor of the latter. O'Brien scored five points within two minutes of the start of the second half to give his team a comfortable margin. Ed Doyle came through with the only two field goals that the Barracks could garner against the tight Dom defense in the final canto. The Doms, however, were not to be denied and rolled up a 33-20 victory. Al O'Brien, with 12 points and Frank Kempf with 7, took scoring honors for the Doms. For the Barracks, Jamison and Doyle were high with six points apiece. Frank Breslin and Lefty Mondschein officiated.

In the second game, an inspired Day Hop team put on their best showing thus far this season before being edged out 50-43 by a superior Barracks 2&3 aggregation. Through the efforts of Bill Creamer, Bob Manske, and Stuart, who sc ored for 9, 8, and 8 points respect. aly, the Day Hops were able to remain

(Continued on Page 7)

Combatants Prepare for Father-Son Smoker Mar. 17

Fr. Dunne Urges Contestants to Train for Coming Exhibition

With the big night only nine days away, pugilistic-minded Villanovans are hard at work ducking and dodging blows, flinging fists at both heavy and speed bags, and, in general, preparing for the coming Father-Son smoker which is being sponsored by the Villanovan on St. Patrick's Day, March 17.

Previous work has been centered upon getting into condition, which is of utmost importance to anyone who intends to participate. All contestants will be required to undergo a physical examination at the infirmary. This is a precautionary measure which will insure as much safety as possible. A secondary motive for these tests is to guarantee a good exhibition, inasmuch as anyone who is not in the pink of condition will be unable to endure the hard punching which is expected in all twelve three-round bouts.

The preparations are now in the sparring stage and the matchmakers are keeping a keen eye on the men competing. There has been considerable discussion on this point among the students. Father John Dunne, O.S.A., moderator of the Intra-Mural activities and director of the program, gave his assurance that the participants will be matched as equally as possible, which means that no man with previous experience will be pitted against another who is relatively new at the sport.

The Intramural Cup will be awarded to the team with the highest number of points at the termination of the contest. The resident halls and day-hops will receive one point for each entry; the winner of each bout will receive three points; and the team with the highest number of points will receive ten points which go toward winning the cup.

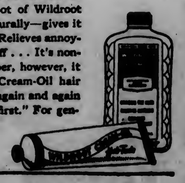
A disappointing factor connected with this event is that not enough men have reported for conditioning. It is hoped that more fellows will register before the time limit expires. Despite these difficulties, a good evening of boxing should be in store for all.

GOLF TEAM RECEIVES HEAVY RESPONSE

Forty-five Candidates Signed During Past Week

If the success of the golf team can be measured by the response which greeted the call for linksmen last week, Villanova should have a world beater. Forty-five men stopped in at the Villanovan office to affix their names to the ever-growing list. As yet the trend has shown no signs of slackening.

The success of the team will depend upon the meritsof the individual players and not upon the response. Glancing over the list, it still looks like Villanova will return to her high pre-war standards in one big jump. One can't help noticing such names as Don Wieland, A. J. Murray, Russ Hittinger, Harry Helms — all fine golfers judging from their performance in last spring's highly successful golf tournament.



In addition to these addicts of the fairways, we have Bob Powers who staged last year's show. It was Bob who practically single - handedly brought the sport back to the Main Line campus. Without his personal initiative and management, the golf team might still be a potentiality instead of a reality. Last year it was he who organized the campus golfers and made the countless arrangements attached to the staging of the Intramural tournament. Realising from the response to that effort, the possibilities of a quick return for the sport, he continued his work until we now have a golf team at Villanova.

As yet a coach has not been named. All speculation centers around affable Jim "Jumbo" Elliot, present track coach. Elliot, a fine golfer in his own right, has teamed up with some of the nation's best. He has played with Jug McSpaden in Pro-amateur tourneys a number of times.

WINS POPULARITY CONTEST

NO, the man in this picture is not upside down! You must be reading this standing on your head. Little wonder you can't pass the Finger-Nail Test. Better straighten up and streak down to the corner drug store for a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil Hair Tonic. Just a spot of Wildroot Cream-Oil grooms your hair neatly and naturally—gives it that neat, well-groomed "college" man look. Relieves annoying dryness and removes loose, ugly dandruff . . . It's non-alcoholic, so don't try drinking it. Remember, however, it contains soothing Lanolin. Get Wildroot Cream-Oil hair tonic today and see for yourself why it's "again and again the choice of men who put good grooming first." For generous trial supply free, send this ad with your name and address to Wildroot Co., Inc., Dept. C-D, Buffalo 11, N. Y.

Intramural Basketball

(Continued from Page 6)

within a few points of the Barracks team throughout the contest. The halftime score was 24-21 with the Day Hops on the short end. Big Red Dolan led the evening's scoring for the Barracks with 16 points, while Deyak copped 13 and Bill Lemmer had 12. The referee was Lefty Mondschein and the umpire Hank Fessler.

Tuesday night's contests produced a complete reversal of form in both games. A winless Mendel quintet played the red-hot Austin five in the first tilt which was figured as a "breather" for Austin. But a rejuvenated Mendel squad under its new Captain, Dick Altman, made Austin hustle all the way before succumbing 25-17. Inaccuracy from the foul line hurt Mendel's chances as Chris Sickler was the only Mendeleer able to convert a free throw. Austin held the lead throughout but had to play "heads-up" ball before assuring themselves of the win. Hal Diot dropped in 10 points to lead Austin's attack. Doc Dougherty and Bob Wiener led the well-distributed Mendel scoring with 4 points each. John Farley and Mark Weber handled the game.

In the nightcap, Fr. McLaughlin's Alumni's basketeers completely outclassed the Day Hops, who were being tooted as the team to watch. The final score read 75-30, to better the old League record by five points. John Buckley, flashy forward and league-leading scorer, contributed 24 markers to the rout. Close on his heels was Big John Farley who cashed in with 22. Shane Creamer and Bob Manske netted 5 apiece to pace the losers. Altman and Grouse were on the whistles.

VILLANOVA WINS

(Continued from Page 5)

points on set shots outside the foul line . . . The season total of 1537 points gave the Wildcats a 64.04 average for a new Villanova record. Last years' team set the previous high of 58.8 . . . The season's home record was 10 wins and 1 loss . . . The 'Cats neither lost two in a row this season, nor twice to the same team . . . The only team Villanova failed to beat at least once in the last two years are Mulenberg and Fordham . . . Opposing clubs find the only way to prevent Arizen from racking up is not to let him get the ball. This is why he is fouled so often . . . The 'Cats played most of the last game without the services of Captain Leo Wolf who had a bad cut over his eye and Tom Sabol who was suffering from a cold . . . Sabol gave Arizen an assist on the field goal which beat him out for individual scoring honors. For the season, it was Arizen with 267, Sabol with 265 and Ricca who had 263 points . . . Toad Hannan made four assists in Thursday's game that were beautiful to watch . . . With Arizen and Ricca showing so much improvement this season, the squad should really go places next year.

The box scores:

Villanova	ST	G	FT	F	PF	TP
Ricca f	17-8	10-7	3	23
Crossin f	3-1	0-0	1	2
Sabol f	6-3	2-0	3	6
Arizen c	12-5	11-8	4	18
Raiken g	11-5	0-0	3	10
Hannan g	8-3	3-2	1	8
Wolf g	3-1	2-1	2	1
Del Purgatorio g	3-1	2-1	2	3
Totals	63-26	19-19	19	71

Georgetown	ST	G	FT	F	PF	TP
Brembs f	15-3	2-0	1	6
J. Brown f	9-3	1-1	3	7
O'Keefe f	5-2	6-2	2	6
Culhane f	8-2	1-1	5	4
K. Brown, c	5-1	4-3	5	5
Corley g	15-2	2-2	3	6
Alagia g	4-2	1-0	3	4
Kraus g	14-6	1-1	3	13
Leddy g	0-7	0-0	0	0
Totals	75-22	18-12	27	56

Halftime: Villanova, 37-28.

Officials: Cliff Anderson and George Myers.

Key: ST—shots taken, G—goals, FT—foul tries, PF—personal fouls, TP—total points.

'Cats Prep for Season's Opener with Dartmouth

(Continued from Page 5)

and retain the heart of the club. However, each of these men was pressed for his berth, and two of them alternated games with their understudies early in the season.

Charley O'Malley, a bustling catcher who spelled O'Neill, hit .585 in 12 trips to the plate mostly as a pinch hitter. Charlie's average was the best on the team, and he fielded well in his two starting roles.

Johnny Biong, Bob Polidor, Al Litwa and Dan Casey were all good outfielders. In fairness it must be said that Casey had a definite edge in fielding ability but the others were very capable and are back this year.

Freddie Price and Charlie Comerford will again vie for the job at first base. Freddie was really hitting a long ball at the end of last season. Norm Klein gives the Villanovans an experienced hand for the hot corner, and on the mound things look just as bright. Stan Chojanicki, last year 5-3, will be after his third successful campaign. Stan is very dependable both on the mound and at the plate. Bobby Green, 3-0, is expected to repeat or better his last year's performance. Hen "Jigger" Donahue, 2-1, is another talented returning hurler.

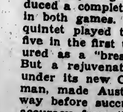
Even at this early date before any of the new men have had a chance to prove themselves, the baseball picture is definitely rosy at Villanova.

FIFTH COLUMN

(Continued from Page 3)

to one of the nation's outstanding pole vaulters. . .

Odds and Ends



Have you heard??? Villanova has high hopes of getting an airplane hanger. Relax, you engineers, it won't be for you.

It seems that Ross, Guida, Thompson, McCreary, McKenna and some of the other trackstars have been suffering from acute frostbite of the nose. Ergo, a hanger, comparable to the indoor field house at Swarthmore College is being planned.

Louie Alvarez announced his engagement last week to Rosemary Cosgrove of Rosemont Fame; Bill Price informs us that his wife will present him with a 6 lb. baby boy in November. Also, Louie Ciamaficchella is in Pie Shoppe became a Grandpoppa to Christina Bernadette Francesco, born to his daughter, Elvira, a Villanova alumna.

We thought we had seen everything. We've seen Navy pea coats . . . converted Army D's . . . jackets from the Coast Guard . . . Greens from the Marine Corps . . . but last week we had it . . . a converted Navy Officers grey Tropical Worsted. . . .

Pat tells us Lee enjoyed the "Romance" from The Student Prince by Sigmund Romberg at the Concert last night (upon hearing this we refunded his $2.00; the guy must really like her, eh?)

THE Bouquet Shop

"Flowers That Are Pleasantly Different"

Lancaster Ave. at Roberts Ave., Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Flowers By Wire BRYN MAWR 2422

WELCOME CATS

HAMBURG HEARTH

814 LANCASTER AVE. BRYN MAWR, PA.

Get together

PHILIP MORRIS is so much better to smoke!

PHILIP MORRIS offers the smoker an extra benefit found in no other cigarette. For PHILIP MORRIS is the ONE, the ONLY cigarette recognized by leading nose and throat specialists as definitely less irritating.

Remember: Less irritation means more smoking enjoyment for you.

Yes! If every smoker knew what PHILIP MORRIS smokers know, they'd all change to PHILIP MORRIS.

CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS

KEEP SUPPLIED WITH SCHOOL TICKETS

GOOD ON BUSES AND GAS CARS UNTIL USED

5c a Ride, including Special Free Transfers. Obtain Identification Cards at School Office.

RED ARROW LINES

Philadelphia Suburban Transportation Co.

ALL OUT 5th FLOOR!

AT THE FACTORY

Special Sale!

ALL WOOL NEW SPRING TOPCOATS

$17.75

COVERT & GABARDINE TOPCOATS

$26.75

100% Worsted SPRING SUITS

$32.75

Come Direct to The MANUFACTURER

Open Daily 9 to 5

BECKER CLOTHING CO

210 N. BROAD

RADIO POLL

During the past week the Villanovan conducted a campus survey on radio programs in an effort to find out "who and what" personalities and programs are the most popular with Villanova students.

1. Who is your favorite news commentator?
   - Lowell Thomas 26.7%
   - Walter Winchell 20%
   - Gabriel Heatter 17%
   - Drew Pearson 6%
2. Name your favorite radio comedian (male, female or team)
   - Bob Hope 26%
   - Henry Morgan 21%
   - Jack Benny 14%
   - Jimmy Durante 12%
3. Who is your favorite radio vocalist (male)
   - Bing Crosby 45%
   - Frank Sinatra 10%
   - Perry Como 9%
   - Frankie Lain 4%
4. Name your favorite radio vocalist (female)
   - Jo Stafford 26%
   - Margaret Whiting 24%
   - Peggy Lee 14%
   - Dinah Shore 11%
5. Name your favorite band or orchestra.
   - Vaughn Monroe 18%
   - Fred Waring 11%
   - Guy Lombardo 6%
   - Stan Kenton 6%
   - Sammy Kaye 6%
6. Name your favorite radio program.
   - Jack Benny show 31%
   - Henry Morgan Show 28%
   - Bob Hope Show 23%
   - Jimmy Durante Show 18%
   - Lux Radio Theater 15%
   - Fred Allen Show 15%
   - Fred Waring Show 12%
   - Red Skelton Show 12%
   - Manhattan Merry-go-round 11%
   - Bing Crosby Show 10%
   - Disc Recording Shows (in general) 39%

WHY WALK?
CLEANING PRESSING
We Pick Up and Deliver Daily at the PIE SHOP
COLADONATO TAILOR SHOPPE

WVIL SCHEDULE

Tuesday
- 7:30 A.M. Morning Mix-Up
- 7:00 P.M. Music for Tuesday
- 7:15 Campus Newsreel
- 7:20 Sports News
- 7:30 Record Rendezvous
- 8:00 Symphony Hall
- 9:00 Browsing thru the Record Library
- 9:30 Record Requests
- 10:00 Music to Study By
- 11:00 Sign Off

Wednesday
- 7:30 A.M. Morning Mix-Up
- 7:00 P.M. Music for Wednesday
- 7:15 Campus Newsreel
- 7:20 Sports News
- 7:30 Record Rendezvous
- 8:00 Radio Theater
- 8:30 To be announced
- 9:00 South of the Border
- 9:30 Record Rendezvous
- 10:00 Music to Study By
- 11:00 Sign Off

Thursday
- 7:30 A.M. Morning Mix-Up
- 7:00 P.M. Music for Thursday
- 7:15 Campus Newsreel
- 7:20 Sports News
- 7:30 Record Rendezvous
- 8:00 Symphony Hall
- 9:00 To be announced
- 9:15 Chaplain's Corner
- 9:30 Record Requests
- 10:00 Music to Study By
- 11:00 Sign Off

Friday
- 7:30 A.M. Morning Mix-Up
- 7:00 P.M. Music for Friday
- 7:15 Things to do
- 7:30 Record Rendezvous
- 8:00 Going to Town
- 8:30 Friday Night Juke Box
- 9:00 Let's Dance
- 9:30 Vocally Yours
- 10:00 Music to Study By
- 11:00 Sign Off

Monday
- 7:30 A.M. Morning Mix-Up
- 7:00 P.M. Music for Monday
- 7:15 Campus Newsreel
- 7:20 Sports News
- 7:30 Record Rendezvous
- 8:00 Some Like It Hot
- 8:30 Show Time
- 9:00 Band of the Week
- 9:15 Chaplain's Corner
- 9:30 Record Requests
- 10:00 Music to Study By
- 11:00 Sign Off

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 23 — No. 16 VILLANOVA COLLEGE, VILLANOVA, PA, Tuesday, March 16, 1948

VILLANOVA COLLEGE LIBRARY VILLANOVA, PA.

Villanova Takes Part In International Quiz

Goldsmith College of London Will Be on Station WPEN

Palm Sunday evening will find a team of representatives of Villanova College competing in an International Quiz, sponsored by Radio Station WPEN. Opponents, via the air waves, will be a team representing Goldsmith College, the largest teacher's college in England.

The quiz, which has been established for the purpose of promoting a closer relation between the educational institutions of our country and England, has been conducted by WPEN with Bill Sears acting as Moderator for the past two months. The interest in this quiz has heightened considerably since its inception because of the keen competition between the teams, teams being chosen from schools in the Philadelphia area in this country, and from schools in the London area in England.

Representing Villanova College will be Dick Harris, Tom Sullivan, and Francis Cronin. Raymond Cummings will act as non-participating captain. These men have been chosen for their combined range of knowledge, and they are expected to give and take with the best England can offer.

Goldsmith College will undoubtedly be represented by very able men. As for Goldsmith College,

(Continued on Page 8)

RESEARCH CENTERS DRAW PHYSICS CLUB

Science Group Plans Trips in Spring Reactivation

The Physics Club of Villanova College decided that arrangements be made for several trips to various local research and developmental centers in and around the Philadelphia area at its scheduled meeting last Wednesday.

Among the trips contemplated are a visit to the little known Naval Air Modifications Unit at Johnsville where pioneer work in guided missiles is being undertaken by the Navy, and also a trip to the RCA laboratories in Princeton, one of the foremost centers of electronic research in the United States. Other trips to the Westinghouse jet development plant in Lester, and Reaction Motors, Inc., in New Jersey are also planned. These trips are being undertaken with the purpose of serving the members of the club through the organization afforded by the club.

The group is also undertaking a campaign for those who are interested in Physics or physical principles to become members. To date, the club has about 18 members, a 100% increase over last year, and plans are being made to accomodate even more in the future. All members are requested to attend the next meeting on Wednesday the 24th of this month when full details of the trips will be available.

Extends Sympathy

The VILLANOVAN extends the sincere sympathy of the Villanova faculty and student body to Henry DeFoe, Freshman Arts student, whose father passed away last week, and to Joseph McNulty, upon the death of his sister, Mrs. Mary Gallager.

U.S.A. PULLS OUT OF IUS AFTER CZECH COUP D'ETAT

Attitude to Communists Forces American Students to Resign

The National Office of the U. S. National Student Association in Madison, Wisconsin has confirmed the resignation of two of its interim representatives to the IUS. These men resigned because of the failure of the International Union of Students, whose headquarters is in Prague, Czechoslovakia, to condemn the action of the present Czech government for its treatment of students in Prague. The position taken by these two representatives has been upheld by the acceptance of their resignations; termination of relations with the IUS; and the announcement that the four-man negotiating team of the NSA will not journey to Prague this summer to discuss affiliation with the IUS as was planned.

The two representatives, James Smith of the University of Texas, and William Ellis of Harvard, telegraphed their resignations to the National Office, stating that the IUS secretariat had refused to condemn the outrages committed against Czech students during the recent Communist "coup d'etat". They added that, on February 25th, at least one student was killed and several were wounded when police fired on a procession of 1,500 students marching to ask President Benes not to install the new government. They further reported that the Communist "action committees" had dissolved the Czech National Union of Students and all other student groups. All alleged "reactionary" professors and students were banned from the University at Prague and "every democratic principle was violated."

Prior to the receipt of this news, the National Student Association had considered affiliation with the

(Continued on Page 7)

Great Books Program For Phila.

Organization Seeks to Stimulate Interest in Western Culture

Convinced that Plato, Aristotle, and many another classicists wrote for the common man, the Great Books Foundation has inaugurated its program in Philadelphia. The aim of the Foundation is to foster the organization of groups of lay people who are interested in reading and discussing the works of the western philosophers. By way of introducing John Doe to Saint Thomas, as well as Nietzsche and Freud, the Foundation secures the publication of the necessary volumes and sells them at cost to members of the discussion groups.

People from all walks of life are partaking in this "intellectual adventure". The Foundation points with considerable pride to the heterogenous quality of the discussion groups all over the country. Gratifying, indeed, is the sight of such a diversity of Americans in pursuit of culture, for never in the history of this country have stevedores and stenographers reviewed Rabelais with such esthetic detachment.

The groups meet twice a month at any convenient place and, under the prompting of "leaders" trained in stimulating discussion by asking questions, proceed to review informally the ideas of the author under examination. It is by this sort of symposium that President Hutchins of the University of Chicago and other members of the Foundation hope to familiarize the public with the more lasting literature which we possess.

The Free Public Library of Philadelphia, present center for the training of leaders of groups, is interested in the program as a civic improvement. Many local educators

(Continued on Page 8)

Chapel of Universidad Catholica Santo Thomas de Villanova — seen through the main building patio.

JUNIORS SIGN TOP BAND FOR MAY PROM

Lanin's Society Group Features String Section; Band Will Provide Continuous Music

Harold Lanin and his orchestra have been selected to provide music for the Junior Prom. This dance, the prime social function of the third-year men, will take place on Friday night, May 7th, 1948.

Originally a New York outfit, the band has twenty pieces and is one of the largest to ever perform for a Villanova dance. It includes a male and a female vocalist and features an eight-piece string section.

MAESTRO!

HOWARD LANIN

Music will be furnished continuously throughout the evening from 9 to 1. Because there will be no intermissions, those attending may dance when they please.

Lanin's orchestra is well known in social circles, having performed at various coming-out parties in the local area. His orchestra played for an exclusive dance at the Radnor Hunt Club, and at a recent Du Pont party.

(Continued on Page 6)

POETRY SOCIETY'S SPRING PROGRAM OPENS WITH ELIOT

R. Cummings Presides; Discussion Will Follow Readings

Activities for the spring season in Villanova College poetic circles open with a reading tomorrow afternoon, Wednesday March 17th, at five o'clock, in Mendel Hall Amphitheater. The works of the prominent poet, T. S. Eliot, will be presented by a member of the Poetry Society, Raymond L. Cummings, who has been active in the organization since pre-war days.

Dividing the program into two parts, Mr. Cummings will first read selections from the most popular of this modern poet's works. The second portion of this presentation will consist of a public discussion and interpretation of the lines under consideration. In discussing these writings, the place that Mr. Eliot's works hold in contemporary poetic circles will be pointed out. Of as much interest will be the analyses of the subject with regard to present—day trends toward composition in the same style.

Audience participation in the forthcoming presentation is expected to attain a new high. This is due to the comparatively great degree of favor with which college students have received Eliot's poetic sketches.

Among the foremost of his poems is a series called "The Wasteland". Seeming to rest on a "stream of consciousness" principle Eliot's works have the reputation of being involved. "Not too exaggerated", is

(Continued on Page 8)

Second Year Sees Cuba's Villanova Making Progress

By Maryrose Johnson

In a tropical suburb just 20 minutes from Havana, the Cuban sister of Pennsylvania's Villanova College, the Universided Catholica de Santo Tomas de Villanueva, is entering the last semester of its second year of existence. Officially opened in 1946, the University in many ways parallels its American counterpart. It is staffed with American Augustinians, uses approximately the same textbooks for its English courses, and retains the Villanova Alma Mater as the official school song. In addition to the Augustinians, Santo Tomas draws its faculty from the staff of the nearby University of Havana.

Courses in Philosophy and Letters, Education, Law and Social Sciences, Commercial Sciences and Arts lead to a Bachelor's degree. Engineering and science courses will be offered later when facilities are made available. All classes are conducted in Spanish except those in the Arts Department which are held in English.

It is hoped that a library building can be added in the near future, bringing the total number of buildings to three. At present, a chapel and main building, with a capacity for 800 pupils, have been completed. Their architecture is of a Byzantine style tempered with modern,

(Continued on Page 7)

IN THIS ISSUE.....

Is War Inevitable? ..... Page Three
The Pro and Con of U.M.T. ..... Page Two Modern Art on the Student Level .... Page Three Alumnus Award to Fitzmeyer ..... Page Five

Villanovan Forum — II

Should We Adopt Military Training?

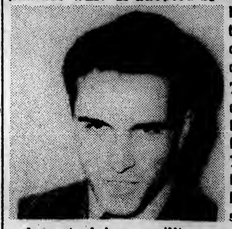
YES!

Says John Stanley

One of two things is happening to us in this country at the present time: either we are the victims of a gigantic hoax: or we are being victimized by a government criminally lacking in its duty to its people. The possible hoax consists in this: that for obscure reasons of their own, the press and radio of the country are creating an impression that a foreign power with an ideology and aims inimical to our own is pursuing a course of action that is speedily developing into a situation that will lead to a cataclysmic explosion. According to the information services of the land, Russia is active on a front from Finland to Greece. She has just taken Czechoslovakia; she has strong forces inside France and Italy, and may soon bring these countries into her orbit (and out of ours) with a tour de force. If this happens the rest of the Continent will fall into the Soviet system and we shall be quite alone. (Britain is not the Britain of 1939). This may be a hoax.

If it is true, however, we are faced with the other alternative: the American Government is being woefully neglectful of our safety. Our government is not preparing us materially or psychologically for the terrible situation with which we are faced. We are still reconverting from war to peace industrially and mentally; we have a ridiculously small army, almost no air force, and a diminishing fighting and merchant navy; and worst of all we have, representing us in Washington, several hundred politicians who have little on their minds but next Fall's elections. It's not a pretty situation at all: it must be remedied. If the Russians are menacing us as we are led to believe, then we must immediately institute the following minimum program: Warn the Russians that they must go no farther; step up industrial production for war-time needs; reinstitute rationing and price control; and adopt Universal Military Training.

UMT is an essential part of preparedness for war. Despite atomic bombs, supersonic aeroplanes, guided missles, and other innovations military authorities insist that mass manpower is required for effective war-making. We have no alternative but to follow the advice of specialists in this complex civilization.



There are two main arguments against UMT: moral and practical. Moralists say that Conscription is an evil. We agree. We trust that they will agree that conquest by a totalitarian, atheistic enemy is also an evil, a greater evil, and that we can quite properly choose the lesser of the two evils. We have already proposed that in matters of a practical consideration of the best ways of waging war we must follow the advice of soldiers.

Many opponents of UMT argue against it on the assumption that war must necessarily be fought abroad. How do they know that we will not have to defend ourselves on American soil "in the fields and on the beaches". Obviously they do not know.

Let us proceed with haste to prepare our defenses — if they are needed; if they are not needed let us stop immediately this word war against the Russians. We must make a choice: be friendly or be stern. But let us not be foolish and go about bellowing hollow threats with naught but wind to back them up.

NO!

Says Frank Mirante

In July of 1947, Representative Harry L. Towe (R., N. J.) introduced into the American Congress H. R. 4278, otherwise known as the National Security Training Act of 1947. There is contained in this legislation a proposal for universal military training of the nation's youth in order that this country may be better prepared in the event of another war. If adopted by the Congress, this bill would be a complete break with traditional American system of recruiting reserve forces on a purely volunteer basis. The proponents of this act contend that universal military training is vital to the future security of our nation. They further contend that the unsettled and potentially dangerous international state of affairs makes compulsory training a military necessity.

These contentions are being made despite the fact that the leading military experts of our country have predicted that future wars will be fought with atomic weapons that could reduce America to defeat within a comparatively short time. The rapid strides that are being made in the field of atomic research are tolling the death knell of mass armies in just the same way that military strategy was revolutionized by the advent of air power during World War I. However, just as many military leaders held back the progress of aviation during and after the first World War, so today we have with us those die-hard militarists who refuse to recognize contemporary scientific advances.

But what if the situation were different and atomic energy did not exist? Could we then embrace compulsory military training as the key to future security? Let us for a moment take a look at the world scene in the period from 1930-1939. Which nations supported peacetime conscription? One need not look very far to see that chief among these nations were Germany, Italy, Japan, France, and Poland. Which nations did not embrace compulsory military training at this time? Among others we find our own country as the foremost power operating under a purely volunteer army. Yet when the crucial test came and the German armies ran rough-shod over Poland and France, what was it that finally brought the Nazi war machine to a halt? It was the combined efforts of American production and an American military force that had never known peacetime military training. The famine and destruction in Europe today is a grim reminder to all nations that militarism breeds false security. Our hope for future security does not lie with universal military training — the events of history bear witness to this fact.

The only logical power that could engulf us in war today is Russia and our battle with Russia is more ideological than military. We must combat Communism, not by resorting to the false god of militarism, but by holding forth our democracy as a better way of life than Communism. If we adopt universal military training we will in effect be saying to the world that we do not believe in diplomacy, nor do we have faith in the United Nations, nor even in our own democratic system.

Still another objection to peacetime conscription is the very real moral threat that it would present to the young men who would be called up for service. This moral issue cannot be dismissed as being irrelevant. No man who is acquainted with the facts can say that there is no moral peril involved in military life. General moral ruin has been the lot of the soldier ever since armies first took the field. There is no proof to be had that peacetime conscription is synonymous with security. The pages of history bear witness to this fact — from the legions of Caesar to the chaos that is now Europe.

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

JOHN A. McDERMOTT '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
FRANK J. GUZIKOWSKI '49 ..... Managing Editor
PAT LAFERTY '49 ..... News Editor
JAMES PLUNKETT '49 ..... Sports Editor
GEORGE SZYMANSKI '50 ..... Copy Editor
NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI, '48 ..... Business Manager
DANIEL ROBINSON '49 ..... Picture Editor
VINCE PEDANO '49 ..... Circulation Manager

WRITERS

William Chester, John Murphy, Edward Oxford, Paul O'Brien, Eamon Walsh, Roland Marshall, William Carroll, Joseph Kenney, John Bauman, Jack Applegate.

REPORTERS

Peter Gutwald, Joseph Rath, Anthony Mullen, Al Abreu, Michael Nowlan, Jack Connolly, John D'Grazia, Thomas Mitchell, George Schroll, John Kane.

SPORTS

Harry Range, William Canino, Neal Fahy, James Lyons, Ray Mondschein, George Mondschein, William Kluesaritis, Ray Mac Williams.

COPY

William Foley, Edgar LeBlanc, Walter Rygiel.

PICTURE

George Winters, Robert Graf, Robert Pope, W. Neal Carter, William Murphy, Jack Muvatovi, Al DeIago, Leo Dodds, Emil Meyer, Dick Hudak Dick Hudak.

BUSINESS

Barry Gibbons, Jack Gibbons.

CIRCULATION

Ralph Iorio, Paul Schweller Jr., Maurice J. Wilhere, George Weber, Gene Langan, Ralph Skowron, Mario Piazzolla, Charles Clunk, William Coakley.

POLITICS AND YOU

By T. R. SULLIVAN

Numerous objections are raised with regard to our voting privileges. Among these is the one that when the voter goes to the polls he is not permitted to use his full freedom in choosing a suitable man. He may be faced with a choice of candidates who range from actual criminal to mediocre. What then is our "better citizen" to do? His choice is limited to the "bosses" and "machines." If this condition does exist, and we do not deny it, there is a very concrete course of action which may be taken.

Unfortunately, it is often overlooked by the civic-minded reformers, those well-meaning people who occasionally attempt to rouse the public from their lethargy and attack corruption and incompetence thru an independent organization. That avenue of approach is within the existing structure of political parties. The system of machines and bosses is not necessarily evil. However, the system can be used by unscrupulous persons for their own ends, if the public lets them.

One of the country's foremost "bosses", a man who has risen to national recognition in politics, stated in his autobiography that no "bad boss" ever came into power, unless the people let him. In fact, this political ladder claims that ultimately, you the voter, are the boss. You are, when you exercise not only your right to vote in a general election, but also your right to a voice in party affairs and primaries. That is where you can use your influence to see that a capable candidate is chosen for presentation in the general election. That is where good public officials are made!

No one likes to live in a community, state, or nation that is over-ridden with graft and corruption. It creates an unhealthy feeling within the community and is usually expensive and inefficient. It is not necessary to live in such a community . . . it is not necessary for such a situation to exist. If our clear thinking Catholic college men, carrying with them their Catholic principles and ethics become active in the political sphere, they can do much to overcome the evil and filth that can be found there now.

The way is clear. It requires but a few basic steps. Get out and vote, even while a student and get others out to vote too. Become interested in the political structure of your locality. Find out how it is set up, become active in it. Use your common sense and ethical principles in seeing that your party, no matter what it is, selects men who measure up to the standards of a good public official. Do not relax your vigilance after certain victories have been achieved. A sense of false security can be fatal to the cause of good government.

LETTERS.....

Student Pushes Boxing Bouts

Editor of the Villanovan
Villanova, Pennsylvania

Dear Sir:

The fellows in my hall have been discussing a few things lately which I thought might be interesting to you and your readers.

First among these, were some of the articles that have appeared in the VILLANOVAN. Last semester, I remember reading some that were real "barbs." Among the columns, however, I feel that the one on the political situation, "Politics and You", was quite informative. How much the columnist knows, I'm not aware of, but I know even less so I did enjoy it.

Second on the agenda was that sad picture on last week's front page. Judging from that in conjunction with one that appeared on the sports page recently, someone of your photographers has an affinity for masculine "props."

Thirdly, we talked about the coming boxing tournament—I notice that the Camels cigarette company recently distributed plastic cigarette cases with the school initials in blue. All the fellows seemed to like them quite a bit. Why not get something on that order for our fathers when they come out to the boxing tourney? I think they'd like to boast that they have sons at Villanova. Let's get out and support these boys that box . . .

Austin Hall Boys

TOWN TALK

By Kaiser and McManus

A highlight of this season's Philadelphia Orchestra concerts will be the Rachmaninoff Memorial Program. The concerts on March 19th and 20th mark the 5th anniversary of the death of the famous composer-pianist. The Orchestra, under Ormandy's direction, will play the Symphonic poem, "The Island of the Dead," Opus 29, and the Concerto No. 1, for piano and orchestra. After intermission his Symphony No. 1 in D minor, Opus 13, will have its first performance outside of Russia.

Symphony Succeeds in Revival

The Symphony was written in 1895 when Rachmaninoff was twenty-two. St. Petersburg witnessed its first performance in 1897. The affair was a dismal failure; even the composer was completely disappointed and discouraged. A faulty performance seems to have accounted for the general distaste felt by all. Publishing was forgotten, and the original manuscript was destroyed. Workers in the Leningrad Conservatory unearthed the individual instrumental parts and the work was reconstructed.

Fifty years had passed when the work had its second performance in Moscow in 1945.

The soloist in the Concerto will be Jeanne Thérrien, the winner of the contest sponsored by the Rachmaninoff Fund in the Boston region. The winner of the National contest will be chosen in April, with all the regional winners competing. Miss Therrien is 26, and comes from Port Chester, New York. She teaches at Juilliard Graduate School.

Benny Goodman Cancels Appearance

The Manager of the Pension Foundation is forced to announce that Benny Goodman, the jazz and concert clarinetist, will be unable to appear at the April 19th Pension Fund Concert with the Philadelphia Orchestra. Goodman's health is not good, and, also, he is highly concerned over the illness of his daughter. He can not be away from his California home for the length of time necessary to appear with the Orchestra. He hopes to have the opportunity of performing with the Orchestra in some other future concert.

(Continued on Page 6)

Hunting for Modern Art in Philadelphia

William Chester

One should not be surprised with Philadelphia. A city of many contradictions, observable at once to the stranger, it becomes apparent to the resident collegeman only after an interminable length of time.

We decided last Saturday to run into town, and go over to the Academy of Fine Art to observe the recent trends in the artist's world. Ascending the marble steps into the interior of the Academy we felt the almost tomblike stillness, and sense of vacancy, which hung like a shroud on all sides.

Passing the usual statuary, modeled on the Greek ideal, we stopped to ask an attendant the direction to the "Modern Art" section. This query produced a hurt expression on the eyes of the wispy little man. "Modern Art?" he asked. "There ain't any Modern Art, as you call it, here any more. No, last week we moved all that impressionist stuff out." A very black mood passed over us, perhaps a sense of frustration. So we asked if he knew just when a new collection would be hung. This time only the bored answer, "Don't know rightly—maybe next Fall sometime."

We decided that since the trip had been made we might as well look around and see if there were any possible remnants in the modern vein left behind. Peering from all sides was the usual attic-art: heroic frigates sailing upon seas of tossing waves, Revolutionary Colonial Dames done by Sully, and of course pastoral scenes in deep browns and subdued bronzes. A subjective estimation would judge almost all to be the product of a no longer vibrant artistic age, an age which died years ago with only the corpses remaining.

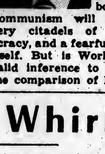
Since we had been baffled by the turn of events at the Academy we decided to go over to the Newman Galleries on Walnut to see if the same trend and attitude persisted there. We left the mausoleum, and stepped out into the fresh air, charged with the activity of the large city. Walking briskly we left the City Hall section and crossed over and began walking along Walnut. This section definitely was more to our taste. The shops, which before had struck us as being very hucksterish, now took on the tone of smart urbanity. Small millinery shops, Chinese curio studios and artist's supply shops appeared in abundance.

For a moment we stood in front of the sparkling window of the Newman Galleries before going in. As the door opened soft melodies from Brahms, mixed with the subdued splashing of a small fountain bathed our auditory senses, while the whole interior stood at a distance and seemed to offer ocular response. That response was soon apparent. Grey, thick woven carpets, and carefully draped walls provided a most satisfactory background for several hundred well chosen paintings. The paintings themselves were quite varied both as to subject and mode and method of presentation. Two works particularly caught our attention and subsequent approval. One was a quiet oil done by J. J. Enwright. This canvas was dominated by a somewhat sea-worn fishing ship, leaning tiredly against a salt encrusted pier of ancient vintage, while in the background a warehouse drowsed contentedly. The unintensified coloring of the background was an excellent stage for the dramatic prominence of his ship. The other work that particularly impressed us was a surrealistic canvas which achieved a unique effect of three dimensions by a dark shadow on the right peering through a window on the left.

On the third floor of the Gallery a most unhappy collection of war art was exhibited. Done originally for the Navy, these canvases displayed only a draftsman's skill.

Two hours later when we decided it was time to leave, the cycle of that day's experiences was completed. But, leaving forced upon us a comparison between the antiquated and disinterested Academy of Fine Art and the youthful and progressive Newman Galleries. A work of art besides its intrinsic worth needs a complimentary environment if its stimulus is to have any measurable effect at all. This environment was totally lacking a the Academy but was found to be present in a large degree at the Newman Galleries.

A RESTAURANT IN ARLES, FRANCE



It is an example of the work of Van Gogh, one of the earliest exponents of modern art.

Is World War III Inevitable?

John Murphy

To the majority of gullible John Q. Public, this is a stupid question. Mesmerized by the haranguing of the Press and radio and almost every hopeful candidate of 1948, America is convinced that in this clash of Eastern and Western ideologies there can be only an inevitable Armageddon. With the events of the past few weeks, the Communist coup in Czechoslavakia, and the ultimatum to Finland, even the most optimistic have joined the bandwagon of fear; fear that Russia has the atomic bomb, fear that Communism will push into the very citadels of Western democracy, and a fearful hate of Russia, itself. But is World War III the valid inference to be drawn from the comparison of East, West, and atomic power? Yes, say America's politicos and the people resound a solemn Amen. The militarists say, "The Russians are coming. We must prepare. We must have enough atom bombs to lay desolate every city of Russia. We must have a million men under arms at all times. For after all, it is only common sense." All this adds up to one huge despair; a despair that man was never destined for peace; a despair that civilization is doomed. Scientists state that a third World War will certainly be the last. Militarists admit the impossibility of defence against the latest weapons. Economists predict an insurmountable depression in the advent of another war. And yet, Americans are content to relax in their own sense of insecurity and with a sigh of resignation try to forget about the whole situation. When such a dangerous psychological trend is rampant among a people who, in the exhilaration of war, swore to the Atlantic Charter and then, in the first complications of peace, threw in the towel, War is indeed inevitable.

In the past two hundred years, we have seen the pendulum swing from an extreme of individualism to the other extreme of materialism. In neither instance has satisfaction been found. Russia, the embodiment of materialism, has frustrated the efforts of the Western powers to redraw the map of Europe along lines of nationality and self-determination. This is regrettable. But, is it an excuse to jeopardize the peace? Would a third World War accomplish what two have already failed to achieve? Who knows? The basic issue involved is that, regardless of the outcome, millions more would pay with their lives for a will-o-the-wisp of so-called freedom. To say that this statement neglects the economic divergence of Capitalism and Communism would be quite true. This constitutes another tragic note in the panoply of war. For, what love can a man have who lays down his life for the dollar?

Saint Augustine stated that it is better to be, and be badly than not to be at all. This basic principle of being is hardly in keeping with the wholesale slaughter of the past thirty years. Man has above all else a right to live. To deprive him of this right under the guise of "making the world safe for Democracy" (or Communism) is murder. Man may live in slavery, in poverty, in terror. This is wrong — and unnatural, but can't peace cure these ills? Is war the only solution? This is not for the idealists or those chauvinists who gloat on glory and find satisfaction only in the annihilation of opposition. For, since they would not tolerate a difference of opinion, they would certainly not tolerate peace. Any peace is a compromise, a compromise of ambi-

(Continued on Page 6)

— College Whirl —

Cum GUS

We happened to be glancing through some of the college newspapers that come into the office. Some of our gleanings follow. It's up to you to separate the wheat from the chaff, but you should find some items that will interest you:

In the Auburn, Alabama, "Plainsman," we note that a poll was conducted on the question: "Should an educationally qualified negro apply for training at Auburn which he could not obtain at a comparable negro institution in the state, what would your attitude be?" The students were 58.91% for admittance, 30.46% against it with 10.63% remaining neutral. Draw your own conclusions. Wonder what the score would have been ten years ago. . . Wonder what it would be if the school were bankrupt and the only wealthy men were colored. . .

• • •

See that the DE PAULIANS of Chicago are running a boxing tournament, too—sports editor, maybe you can go there for your participants, as long as yours fell through.

• • •

From the DAKOTA SCIENTIST shades o' the Scots, scholars take note:

• • •

If a body meet a body, flunkin' in a quiz,
If a body help a body, is it anybody's biz?

• • •

See that the Loyola collegians of Chicago are conducting a search for the "Ideal Prof." . . . We put our vote in for a graduate of Immaculata or some like, non-male, school.

• • •

The St. Louis University News has an interesting editorial in which Wallace and Co. are soundly rapped for their seemingly pink tactics. We must say that we think the paper does have a point. Copyboy, chalk one up for the News!

• • •

The Miami Hurricane remains unopened for on the front page is a picture of what they call a "Hurricane Honey" and she's only No. 27 in a series. Man, who cares about news . . . Put us down for a dozen subscriptions or hurricanes. We're preparing for a blow. Whew . . .

• • •

Notice that the Santa Clara paper gives news of their recent NSA affiliation. That's another one on the wagon. C'mon, chillun, let's beat them drums . . .

• • •

From the Daily Pennsylvanian in the city, we see that they have Frankie Carle as the feature band for their coming Inter-Frat dance. As they say in the old country, it's goomkay by us. We'll gladly settle for the outfit the Junior Class picked . . . Sloooooow . . . Smoooooth baby!

(Continued on Page 6)

Louie—A Villanova Tradition

Jack Connolly

Louie and his "Pie Shop" have earned a hallowed niche in Villanova's tradition. Louie is as much a part of Villanova as Mendel Hall or the Monastery. Above all, Louie continues to hold a place in the memories of every student who has ever known him—and he has been here a long, long time.

C-i-a-m, oh, Louie!!

Louis Ciamaichela was born in Chieti, Italy, Febraury 24, 1894. Poverty interrupted his formal education after only three months of high school. In 1911 he came to the United States to follow his trade as a barber. He arrived at Villanova on August 28, 1921 or 1922— he isn't sure of the year, but he remembers the day. From then until 1929 he was the College Barber, and he still likes to take a turn at the shears and clippers now and then.

Nickel—Pies give Name

About a year after his arrival, the original "Pie Shop" was opened and Louie was asked to assume its management along with his barbering duties. The "Pie Shop" of that day was a small room in the rear of the present dining hall, and was open only a couple of hours a day. Soft drinks and nickel pies were the extent of its merchandise. Looking back, Louie laughs: "We started with a small counter, one show case, and a lot of dead rats".

The second and most renowned

"LOUIE"

"Pie Shop" was inaugurated in 1929. Louie gave up his barbering to take the full-time job of running the "Emporium." He worked and watched with pride as it grew from the original "pop and pie" to everything from "soup to signet-rings." And as it grew, so also did Villanova. He watched the administration, under six presidents, build the college from three buildings to its present majesty. He saw fire, in 1929 and again in 1932, tear down the labor and hopes of the priests, and he watched as they began again. He grew up with Villanova—Villanova is in his blood—that is why he will not tolerate anyone "knocking" the college—especially the "Pie Shop."

". . . poor little lambs . . ."

Time was when the college was small enough that he knew each student by name. He had time to live with them and know their problems. The Alumni will never forget the hours spent with Louie and the gang—"shooting the breeze" over a coke. More than one doctor, engineer, or businessman can look back and thank Louie for a few words of encouragement that attributed to his success.

Louie is a little saddened by the passing of these days. The college has expanded—added responsibilities leave him little time to talk with "the boys". But he realizes that progress cannot be stopped, and is glad that more and more boys are getting an opportunity to come to Villanova.

Louie's of the Future

The new "Pie Shop" is but a partial fulfillment of an old, old dream of Louie's. No one can imagine what the new building really means to him, but he has a still greater goal—a permanent building, with adequate recreation facilities, study rooms, and a real dining hall and cafeteria. "It's coming," says Louie, "and, God-willing, I'll be running it." When it does come, to the "boys" it will always be "Louie's Pie Shop."

Bryn Mawr Hears Famed Toynbee Talk On England

Last Sunday evening—quietly, tenderly almost—Professor Arnold Toynbee, author of the monumental Study of History, spoke on the Social Change in England and its Religious basis. The fifty-eight year old Oxford don seemed quite out of his milieu, really, speaking before hundreds of men and women in the massive, bastion-like Goodhart Hall of Bryn Mawr College. The English historian's slight, grey figure would have looked more at home, and his gentle voice tones would have fitted better, in a seminar room before a scant dozen listeners.

However, as it was hundreds were privileged to see the pattern he drew in the change of relationships between classes in the English social structure. This was his thesis:

The old order ended in 1914. Some thought that it could be resurrected in the inter-war period but such a reversion was not possible. The good-or-bad-old England, where the upper and middle classes had privileges and opportunities almost unlimited, and the working classes almost none, has vanished. This is regretted by none of the latter class and acquiesced in by most of the former. It was an unjust state of affairs and many of the privileged ones had uneasy consciences about it. That is why they have given over without a serious struggle. That is partially why the revolution has not had blood-gulled barricades.

There have been external forces working to bring about the curtailment of opportunities for the upper classes, too. The Empire has been going—the Empire that one sees portrayed in pink in all the atlases and the Real Empire, the Financial Empire—going the way of Greece and Rome. A big chunk of the Real Empire went just recently with the sale of the Argentine railways. Thousands of men have been pouring back into England from their Civil Service posts in India and Burma and thousands more have been released from positions of financial security the Real Empire once gave them. These men must now compete in the homeland with young members of their own class and with increasing numbers of the working class for a diminishing number of jobs—the type of job that has 'til now been the exclusive presence of the privileged few. The working classes can compete now because they have been attending the old universities in increasing numbers under a tremendous system of scholarships so that they now compose one-half the population of Oxford.

And how have the working classes been able to gain their position of increasing advantage? The answer lies largely in the trade unions. They are responsible for a great extent for the England of to-day. This change has had a strong religious basis, as did the trade union movement. Baptist and Methodist ministers were among the first in England to come to the aid of the workers and begin to form them into protective associations. Men of the calibre of Wesley helped tremendously to lift the workers from their pitiful condition and start them on the road to becoming the rulers of England. It is mainly because of the tradition of these religious leaders that the English Social Revolution has been a non-violent one.

HOLY WEEK PROGRAM

The Schola Cantorum of St. Mary's Hall, consisting of 55 voices, under the direction of Mr. William H. Sullivan, O.S.A., will present a concert of Holy Music on March 22, in the College Chapel at 8:00 p.m. Rev. Ralph E. Handran, O.S.A., M.Mus., will preside at this annual concert.

The Liturgical music of the Church has a wealth of beauty and religious meaning which common music cannot rival. It treasures the masterpieces of most of the world's great musicians and has a background of history and tradition that stretches back to the earliest days of Christianity.

The program will consist of the following:

Christus Factus Est.....Fiorentini
Sicut Ovis .....Ravanello
Jerusalem .....Ravanello
Prayer of Jeremiah the Prophet, Cornell
Adstiterunt Reges .....Ravanello
Psalm 50: Miserere .....Ravanello
Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament

PRESIDENT SPEAKS TO N. Y. ALUMNI

Last Wednesday evening, the New York Alumni Club held a dinner meeting at the Hotel St. George in Brooklyn, N. Y. Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire, O.S.A., President of the college, and Mr. Jordan Olivar, Head Football Coach were entertained at the dinner by the officers of the club.

Fr. McGuire gave reports on the growth of Villanova during the past three years, and on the status of the current Building Program.

The president made a special point of the difficulties involved in meeting the heavy expenses of current operation in present economic circumstances. "While the increase in costs in certain areas has risen as high as 67%, the maximum increase the college has placed on tuition and fees has amounted to only 23%. The Administrators at the present time hope that they can meet this increase in costs without placing a further burden on the student body. The college must, therefore, look for financial aid from other sources. No small portion of this burden must be shared by the Alumni."

He further outlined in general the plan devised by the Alumni Fund-Raising Committee, and ratified by the National Board of Governors. This plan calls for a permanent fund-raising campaign. It will be opened formally at a dinner, the first week of May. At that time there will be inaugurated a monthly "Villanova Day." "Finally," the president said: "the burden of educating American citizens in the ideals of American democracy on the college level has been borne for more than a century by the privately controlled colleges and universities of America. The record stands in testimony of the successful achievement of these institutions. We have every reason to believe that their influence must be felt even more strongly if the America we have known is to survive. The privately controlled colleges and universities admit that their future survival depends in large measure on the backing of loyal and generous Alumni."

Four 'A' Conducts Vocational Examinations for Advertising

On April 17th, of this year an examination will be conducted by the American Association of Advertising Agencies in order to offer college seniors an opportunity to appraise their potentialities for work in advertising.

The examination has been established to attract high calibre young people to advertising; it also provides vocational guidance to those seeking a career in advertising. A good rating on the exam may also serve as evidence of the individual's aptitude and ability when seeking a postion.

This year's examination will be given in two parts; the first part to be given in New York and consisting of 20 aptitude tests. The second part which may be taken through the mails over the following weekend, will be composed of tests covering practical knowledge.

After the tests have been processed by personnel specialists, each candidate will receive a score for each knowledge test he took and an appraisal, based on his aptitude tests, of his potentialities for each of the seven types of advertising work covered. After the individual has received his test results, he may authorize the A.A.A.A. to make these known to agencies and other employers in the advertising industry in the New York area. He may also use the test records in any way he wishes to support future job applications.

To cover part of the cost of preparing and processing the tests, a fee of $15 will be charged to each person who takes the exam. Application blanks, 1947 test questions, and a description of the exam may be secured by writing M. H. Goode, American Association of Advertising Agencies, 420 Lexington Ave., New York 17, N. Y.

Attention! Seniors

Mr. Friel, Director of the Placement Office, has asked that all students who will graduate in June and have not filled out qualification forms should do so this week at the Placement Office, room 221 Mendel Hall.

These records are required of all men graduating in June whether or not they have jobs waiting them upon graduation. This information is necessary for the Alumni Record. In April, the June graduates will be called to the Placement Office to receive their contacts for positions.

UP FROM THE RANKS

TO ORGANIZE, PLAN, AND DIRECT the telephone business—a business with its roots in so many communities throughout the state—hundreds of men and women, skilled in the complexities of telephone work, are required.

It is these men and women—telephone employees at various stages of their careers—who, side by side with all employees, accept the responsibility of providing you with good telephone service at low cost.

"Up from the ranks" is a familiar phrase to telephone people, for each of them knows that the opportunity to assume more and more responsibilities is open to all and that those who come up from the ranks earn, by their own abilities, the rewards of promotion for good work well done.

Opportunity of this sort means much to you, for the skill and experience of telephone people, working together in a common cause, are major factors in providing good telephone service at low cost.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

JEANNETT'S
Bryn Mawr Flower Shop
Corsage Specialists
FREE DELIVERY
823 Lancaster Ave.
BRYNMAWR, PA.
Bryn Mawr 0570 : Flowers by Wire

HOLIDAY
The Most Talked About Pipe Mixture in America
☆
Aromatic in the pack...
Aromatic in the pipe!

Holiday also comes in a 16 oz. Humi-Seal Glass Jar
Larus & Brother Company, Richmond, Virginia

For Expert Convenient Attention
SERVICE BY CHRISTY
THE CAMPUS BARBER SHOP
First Class Work
Popular Prices

Look! Look!
TO VILLANOVANS ONLY, A TEN PER CENT DISCOUNT
EFFECTIVE TODAY ON ALL PURCHASES AND SERVICES
Just arrived new shipment of McGregor Corduroy Sport Jackets in Grey and Willow Green.
College Hall Sport Jackets
Hand Tailored Slacks
British Byford Socks
Adler SC Athletic Socks
McGregor Sportwear
Nelson Paige Shirts
McCurrach Neckwear
Hardwood Shorts
WILSON SPORTING GOODS
FOX CHASE COLLEGE SHOP
Lancaster.. Ave. Villanova, Penna.
Mon., Tues., Thurs., until 9 : : BM 2617

SPORTORIAL

By JIM PLUNKETT, Sports Editor

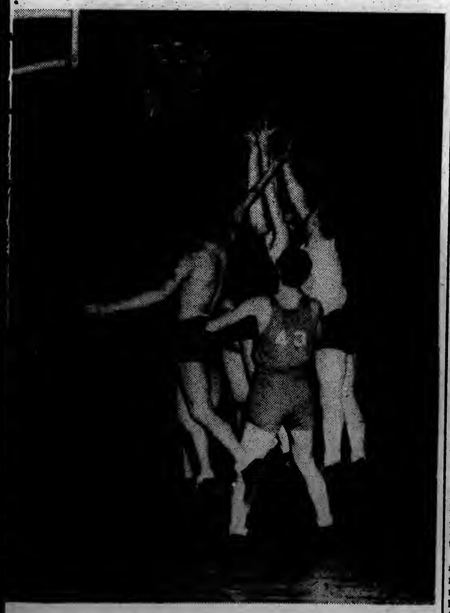
BOXING

With a resounding thud, the widely heralded Intramural Boxing show collapsed. It was a worthwhile effort—this attempt to revive the former highlite of the Lenten sports season. The reasons for its failure were many but they all boiled down the fact that there were too many interested spectators and not enough performers interested.

Before the war, the fighters had two months in which to lose that accumulated avoirdupois and to sharpen their timing to that fighting edge necessary for a good performance. This year because of a delay in the shipment of speed bags, gloves and other equipment, a suitable gym wasn't set up until just three weeks before the scheduled event. Even with this handicap the twelve men who signed up to participate were nearly down to fighting trim. But you can't put on a decent show with only 12 men and so the idea was dropped.

Add to this the unavailability of supervisors and instructors with a comprehensive knowledge of the sport and you can see why the show was doomed to failure.

TRACK



Coach Elliot's trackmen are in for a busy weekend as the established stars, George Guida, Browning Ross, Thompson, Bucky Coleman and Ed Fitzgerald and the other members of the two mile relay team head for the Windy city and the Chicago Daily News games, while the potential greats cross over into Jersey to compete in the Sixth Annual Indoor meet held at Camden. Sponsored by the Board of Education, the meet will be held at Camden's Convention Hall on March 19-20. It will probably be the last time the harriers will compete on a local front before the Penn Relays.

Even without Guida and Co., the meet with such performers as Villanova's Jim McKenna, who had done the 440 in 47.8, Gene Shelly who on the featured 660 at the Philadelphia Spiked Shoe meet last Saturday, and Curt Stone of the Shanahan A. C. formerly of Penn State, is sure to produce its share of thrills. Elliot plans on enterinr a 16 man squad with Joe Semple leading the field entries. Semple, the first bright prospect Villanova has had in the field events since before the war, will be entered in both the shot put and javelin events. Joe has been hurling the javelin around 200 feet in practice. Compare this to the 189 feet that won the Penn Relays last year and you can easily see that the Blue and White finally have a capable field events representative.

BASKETBALL

The journey to Lewisburg to play Bucknell was undoubtedly the oddest and most humorous trip Al Severance's Cats made all year. On the afternoon following the Bucknell game, the Wildcats were asked by the Augustinian chaplain of the Lewisburg Federal Penitentiary to play the newly organized prison team. The game itself was uneventful with

(Continued on Page 6)

Typical of the Type of Ball Played in the Intramural League Is This Shot of Fiv eMen Going Up for a Rebound. Aggressiveness Has Long Been a Characteristic of the League and This Years Crop of Players Have Carried on the Tradition.

I. M. Boxing Bouts Cancelled; Austin Downs Doms for Lead

Fights Called Off Due To Lack Of Candidates

by Mondschein Inc., and Khucsarits

The proposed Intramural Boxing Tournament, scheduled for St. Patrick's Day, March 17th, has been cancelled. Limited time for the participants to prepare for the event and lack of training facilities were the reasons given for the general disinterest shown by the students. A suitable card of bouts could not be drawn up from the list of candidates available and Fr. Dunne, Intramural Sports Director, was forced to postpone the Tournament until a more favorable time.

In the Intramural Basketball League, the games on Tuesday and Wednesday turned out as predicted. On Tuesday, The Doms continued their domination of league opponents by downing Fedigan 49-35. Sparked by the Knecht brothers, Bill and Harry, the Doms held a 20-16 halftime edge. The Doms began to pull away from their rivals at the start of the second half and finished with their usual final kick to win going away. Largely through the efforts of Tom Flynn and "Big Ed" Sullivan, who canned 13 and 12 points respectively, Fr. Purcell's five managed to make the game interesting throughout. The Knecht brothers led the winners' attack with Bill garnering 11 points and Harry 10. Buckley and Farley officiated the game.

Austin remained in a first place tie with the Doms and set the stage for their climatic Thursday evening clash by downing the Day Hops 52-32. The ease with which Austin disposed of the Day Hops made Austin a slight favorite over the Doms at game time. Bill Barry and Hal Diot again led the Austin assault as they scored 12 and 11 points respectively. Manase led the Day Hops with 7. Plunkett and Barrack handled the whistles.

On Wednesday, Alumni was hardpressed to dispose of a fighting Barracks 1-4 squad 37-31. Despite attempts by Fr. Gallagher's team to halt John Buckley, the league's leading scorer still managed to cage 14 points, 10 of these in the first half, which ended 14-9 with Alumni on the long end. In the second canto, John Farley took over the scoring chores for Alumni as he bucketed 11 points for an evening's total of 13. Jack Jamison, Barrack's ace forward, dropped in 8 points with his deadly set shots. The Mondschein twins, George and Ray, refereed the tilt.

In the nightcap Barracks 2-3 stayed in the running for the second-half title by defeating a stubborn Mendel team 37-22. The issue was in doubt until the last quarter when the Barracks scored freely from all over the court to insure victory. After the Barracks built up a 15-2 early lead, Mendel finished with a rush to make the score at intermission read 17-14. Bill Lemmer cashed in with 14 points while Deyak was close on his heels with 12 to lead the Barracks' offensive. Dan McGrath had 7 points to pace Mendel. Farley and Gallen tooted the whistles.

Thursday evening games produced a battle for first place and a battle for the cellar, as undefeated Austin met undefeated Doms and the winless Mendel combine clashed with the winless Day Hops.

The Doms, after eight successive victories, tasted defeat for the first time this season, as they lost to a far superior Austin aggregation by a 41-27 score. Austin got off to a

(Continued on Page 6)

FITZMEYER RECEIVES ALUMNUS AWARD

Another pre-war feature was brought back this week as Robert J. Fitzmeyer, sophomore engineering student, was named the new recipient of the Alumnus award presented to the most valuable player on the 150 lb. football team. Chosen by vote of his teammates, Fitzmeyer succeeds Logan Phillips, who last won the award when given in 1942.

For the first time, it was disclosed that Paul F. Kerrigan, '38, a former Commerce and Finance student was the donator.

Kerrigan is one of the strongest advocates Villanova has for lightweight football. Besides being an all-league fullback when he played here, he was also a member of the boxing team.

For this honor, which is the fourth to be given, Fitzmeyer will be presented with an engraved watch. Beside Phillips, Victor Domenik and Frank Lombardo were the previous winners of the award which is given annually to that member of the team "who shows the greatest sportmanship both on and off the field, gives the greatest support to his team and has the greatest interest of the team's advancement."

Fitzmeyer who by dint of his out-

(Continued on Page 6)

OLIVAR BEGINS OUTDOOR PRACTICE

After two weeks of hard work by the freshman backs and centers, Coach Jordan Olivar issued his call for all candidates last week, and outdoor practice will get under way immediately. The Spring session will last six weeks or more depending on the condition of the players and the favorability of the weather.

Although it is too early to start making predictions for the coming season, there are some potentially-good men who are coming up from the freshman squad to fill the gaps left by the graduated and the ineligible members of last year's eleven.

A tentative schedule has been set by the coaching staff. At the present time the men are getting back into condition and running elementary plays. After about two weeks of practice in covering punts and passing the charges will don their pads and begin dummy workouts and body contact.

The line, which has been strong for the past two years, will need some filling in to compare with that of last year. The three centers from last year's club are back, but the guard and tackle slots will be weaker than a year ago. The end position will be a lot deeper since all the starters and reserves

(Continued on Page 6)

In An Aamazing Series of Movie-Like Pictures Taken Five Minutes Apart by a Single Shot Camera We See Four of the Outstanding Freshmen Backfield Hopefuls Running Through a Play.

SPORTORIAL

(Continued from Page 5)

the Cats beating the prison team by 10 points. The events and remarks leading up to and following the game are worthy of comment.

Jackie Crossin turned practical joker as he wrapped a towel around a metal fork and plate and stuck them in manager Kennedy's bag. As the unexpecting Kennedy walked through the special metal detecting machine, bells started clanging and sirens whining. John had an embarassing five minutes as he tried explaining the why's and wherefor's to two burly prison guards . . . While the team was being taken on a tour of the cell blocks, one of the prisoners yelled out to Joe Hannan, "Hey Hannan, did you see the rest of the boys in the other cell block." Everyone looked skeptically in Toad's direction until he hastily explained that while serving with the M. P.'s in Germany, he used to guard these same prisoners . . . After the game was over Al Severance was heard commenting "This coach of the prison team is the envy of the profession. He is the only one of us who doesn't have to worry about losing players through graduation" . . . and just as the team was leaving a prisoner asked Brooks Ricca, "Say Ric, you don't have any relatives in stir, do you " are back plus three or four freshmen who showed great promise last fall. Among the new comers are Rudy Yeager, who can also play tackle, and Jack McConnville. The later is a former Alabama gridder and if he recovers from a cartilage operation which was performed recently he should prove a great asset to the team.

OLIVAR BEGINS OUTDOOR PRACTICE

The backfield will be strengthened greatly by Pete D'Alonza, a sterling fullback, and Mickie Frinzi a speedy fullback. Neil O'Boyle, who is rated as one of the finest prospects of the Freshman club, will assist his roommate Andy Gordon, Bill Doherty and Steve Romanik at the quarterback chores.

INTRAMURAL BOWLING —

Another attempt will be made this week to revive the Intramural Bowling league. Last semester four teams consisting of five men each fought it out for the cash prizes which were offered to the winners. A similar league is now being planned and all interested bowlers are asked to contact Arnie Keehan who has managed the league for the past two years.

Games are rolled every Thursday afternoon at the Bowling alleys in Rosemont. Certainly there are more than 20 bowlers in a school with an enrollment of 2000. Why not get four of your buddies together and enter a team? Intramurals are a part of every students college life. Why ot make bowling a part of your Intramural activities, now?

FITZMEYER RECEIVES ALUMNUS AWARD

standing linebacking up and all around defensive work has achieved the enviable position of Captain in his sophomore year. A former student at St. Joe's Prep, Fitz was an All Catholic center in 1943. Upon graduation he entered the Army and served in the 283rd Field Artillery.

- College Whirl -

(Continued from Page 3)

. . . and lots of dreamdust. We must admit that there is a certain someone who can blow it in our eyes, too. . . . Who, among us, is averse to it. . . .

• • •

Way out in Washington, the Seattle College Spectator tells us that someone will type up term papers cheap. . . . Maybe when they offer to study our Chemistry and Logic for us we'll take 'em up on that. . . . thru the proper channels, of course.

Enough of this trivia . . . we'll knock off with something we picked up via the Notre Dame Scholastic from the Edinburgh U. (Scotland) STUDENT. . . .

"Verily, there is a certain type of graduate whom thy servant is constrained to ask: 'Does thy Alma Mater know thou art out?'"

Maybe we should ask ourselves that question before someone else does. . . .

BATTERY FOR TODAY . . . Bobby Green and Charley O'Malley — Green's Pitching Arm and O'Malley's Big Bat Figure to Play Mighty Important Parts in This Year's Baseball Campaign.

Intramural Sports

commanding lead and held a 14-8 edge at intermission. Despite the Doms' valient attempts to rally, they were never able to close the gap to less than 9 points and the outcome was never really in doubt. Austin's Hal Diot's uncanny marksmanship paced the attack as he contributed 17 points to the big victoly. Capt. Joe Doris dropped in 8 and played a lashy floor game. Harry Knecht and Capt. "Obie" O'Brien with 8 markers apiece led the Doms in the losing cause. Frank Breslin and Mickey Frinzi, football ace, did a very capable job of officiating the game.

At the reverse end of the standings, Mendel conquered the Day Hops, 30-21, for their first win of the season. Both teams had previously suffered eight staight setbacks. McDonald led the scoring for the winners as he tossed in 8 points, while Chris Sickler, Mendel's hookshot artist, dropped in 7 counters. Individual scoring honors for the game went to Shane Cream of the Day Hops, who copped 11 points, while Manske assisted him with 8. Mickey Frinzi again refereed aided by John Farley.

The Standings:

Team	Won	Lost	Ptc.
Austin	5	0	1,000
Doms	4	1	.800
Alumni	3	1	.750
Barracks 2 & 3	3	1	.750
Barracks 1 & 4	1	3	.250
Fedigan	1	3	.250
Mendel	1	4	.200
Day Hops	0	5	.000

Is World War III Inevitable?

(Continued from Page 3)

tions of principles, of pride. In the present circumstances, this has proven to be hard for us. But, faced with the consequences of war, can we afford to do otherwise? Metternich, confronted with similar problems in 1815, chose the way of peace. And it must be added that the Congress of Vienna, despite its indifference to nationalism and liberalism, was able to lay the foundation of a general peace that lasted for nearly a century. Metternich dealt with the problem directly, and although not always motivated by the best principles did not dream of Utopias but sought out reality. The world in which we live is not a happy one. Misfortune seems to be part of it. To desire that from this present chaos there arise a Garden of Eden is fantastic and dangerous. To pursue this course is to doom the peace. For, perhaps, what always has made this world a hell is that man has always tried to make it his heaven.

But to return to the original point. The answer is No. World War III need never be realized. If peace is to be maintained, World leaders will have to cease warning their constituents of the menace of another conflict. The frequency of such warnings, because of recent imminent threats to the peace, has built up a psychology of the inevitability of war. This inevitability of a third global conflict grows out of the failure of many to think in terms of peace. If the diplomats of the world would put international peace as their goal, war would not be conceived in the minds of men as inevitable.

Poetry Society

(Continued from Page 1)

the comment with which many receive the anecdote told of this popular American—born contemporary. On being asked to explain a certain passage which he wrote, Eliot replied, "When I composed this, the Lord and I knew what it was about. Now, only the Lord knows."

In the past the club has featured the works of another contemporary, A. E. Houseman, as analyzed by Bob O'Donnell and graduate-member and past president, Tom Daly.

The society's membership is small but active. Rev. Robert M. Sullivan, O.S.A., moderator of the group, extends an invitation to all students who feel they have something to gain from membership in the Poetry Society, to attend tomorrow's meeting.

Bill Carrol Wins Reading Contest

Proceeding with plans formed for a series of contests in elocutionary skill, the Debating Society held its second contest last Wednesday, March 10th. Each contestant gave a dramatic reading of a soliloquy from a play of his own choosing. The winner of the contest was Bill Carroll with Bill Regan a close second. Revs. William J. Krupa, OSA; Henry Weeks, OSA; and Robert A. Bresnahan, OSA judged the readings. About fifteen men competed.

The first of these contests was held a week previous to these dramatic readings and consisted of a poetry reading contest.

The Debating Club of Villanova has joined with the societies of several neighboring colleges to begin a series of inter-collegiate debates upon subjects which will be chosen by the competing societies. This new series was brought about to create a greater variety in the subjects chosen for debate. Subjects such as World Government and American Foreign Policy are good debate material, but have become common and just a bit tedious to those who have debated them several times. Newer and more interesting subjects have been discovered and many hotly contested debates are in store.

Philadelphia Judge: "Have you earned a dollar in your life?"
Prisoner: "Yes, your Honor. I voted for you in the last election."

Town Talk

(Continued from Page 3)

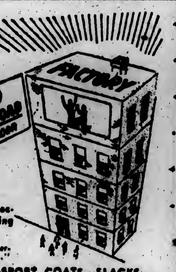
Templeton Fills Spots

Alec Templeton will appear in Mr. Goodman's place. He will perform a piano concerto and a series of his original musical caricatures and improvisations.

Artur Rubinstein, the soloist for the March 31st Pension Concert, will play Chopin's Concerto No. 1, and Rachmaninoff's "Rhapsody on a Theme of Paganini."

Young Conductors Contest

Eugene Ormandy has announced that on September 29th, 1948, there will be a contest for young conductors of under thirty years of age. All participants must be residents of the United States. The participants will conduct the Philadelphia Orchesra in selected works. Three finalists will be chosen, and further trials will result in a winner. The winner will have the privilege of appearing at all rehearsals, and in assisting the conductor, and will be presented to the public during the regular concert season. Applicants must write to Harl McDonald of the Philadelphia Orchestra Association. The need for young American conductors is great, and this contest should do much to increase enthusiasm along those lines.



Fussy man: "Do you sell dog biscuits in this rotten little shop?"
Calm Clerk: "Yes, we sell. Will you eat them here or shall I send them around to your kennel?"

MEN!

OUR NEW SPRING SUITS ARE READY

100% Wool Worsteds

$29.75—$32.75—$34.75

We suggest a prompt visit for the best selection, as we will soon start shipping our spring wholesale orders to the retail stores.

"Our national distribution pays for our overhead—that's why it will pay YOU to visit us."

TOPCOATS—OVERCOATS—SUITS—SPORT COATS—SLACKS

BECKER CLOTHING CO.

MANUFACTURERS OF MEN'S CLOTHING 210 N. BROAD

OPEN DAILY 9 TO 5 • TAKE ELEVATOR TO FIFTH FLOOR

Carleton H. Davis* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked the Finger Nail Test

ACID INDIGESTION, Brother Hippo? Feeling mentally mildewed? Wallowing in grief? What you need is a tonic. And your best bet is Wildroot Cream-Oil hair tonic. It's "again and again the choice of men who put good grooming first!" Just a touch of Wildroot Cream-Oil grooms your hair neatly and naturally without that plastered-down look. Relieves annoying dryness and removes embarrassing loose dandruff! And Wildroot Cream-Oil is the non-alcoholic hair tonic containing soothing Lanolin. Get a tube or bottle of Wildroot Cream-Oil at any drug or toilet goods counter today. And ask your barber for a professional application. See for yourself how it helps you pass the Fingernail Test!

* of 120 Forest Drive, Orchard Park, N. Y.

"Dentyne Chewing Gum!"

"Too good to miss—that's the way I react to Dentyne Chewing Gum's grand flavor! And let me point out another fine thing about Dentyne—it helps keep your teeth white."

Dentyne Gum—Made Only By Adams

International Students

(Continued from Page 1)

International Union of Students. Despite acknowledged Communist elements in the IUS, the NSA, at their organizational convention in Madison, Wisconsin, last September, drafted a resolution favoring American participation in that group in the interest of international amity and cooperation. However, upon the receipt of the telegram, William Welsh, National Chairman of the NSA, stated that he believed the incident had ended any possibility of a friendly relationship between the NSA and the IUS. Still, he emphasized, the fact that the NSA will continue its international program and will make every possible effort to cooperate with individual foreign students' unions in non-political programs.

HEADQUARTERS for SPRING FORMALS

John Douglass Co.
Formal Attire Rentals
Garrett Rd. Theater Bldg.
ENTRANCE: Garrett Road or Terminal Sq. OPEN: Mon. Tues. & Fri. Eves.

APARTMENT WANTED!

Married student desires 2 rm., kitchen and bath near campus. F. X. Lang, 218 Fedigan or call Wi. 7-5095.

Cuban College

(Continued from Page 1)

tropical-type windows. Marble porticoes and patios are situated on a site overlooking the Atlantic.

Baseball, swimming, tennis and squash are offered in the sports field, while other recreational activities included trips to various points of interest near the capital city.

Active in the foundation of Cuba's Villanova were Rev. Edward J. McCarthy, O.S.A., former Professor of History here and Rev. James M. Hurley, O.S.A., Rector of the new university.

Santo Tomas is approved for veterans' training under the G.I. Bill of Rights. Before applying for a letter of eligibility at the Veterans' Administration office, ex-G.I.'s must submit a letter of acceptance from the school. It is also advised that living quarters be secured beforehand as dormitories have not yet been erected.

THE 5TH COLUMN

By McBride and Johnson

It makes us very sick to look upon the complete apathy with which the student body is greeting the current NFCCS clothing drive. . . . Europeans are probably staring at our new "bold look" with "cold looks." . . . Your baggy old flannels might away one prospect away from Uncle Joe. . . . Your worn out suit might give democracy a new recruit. Isn't it worth a try?

The boys on the campus are sporting new cigarette cases loaded with Camels. . . . We get them from all sides. . . .

Dick Randolph, president of the Arts Frat, was seen at the La Salle game in the Garden last Thursday night with Mary Potts, one of the girls from La Salle. . . .

From the first floor Alumni: It seems that Gallagher and Ellrich aren't on speaking terms. One tossed water on the other's shirts. . . .

Overheard on the P & W: "Brooks Ricca, he's a real flash in the pan." So, just to prove a point, we checked on his service record before coming to Villanova. Facts are: while he was playing for Bainbridge NTS, Hank Beenders, who today is a center for the Phila. Warriors, sat on the bench and watched Brooks do all the jumping from center.

Coach Severance predicts that next year's all-Junior Wildcat five will do 100% better. That means with a 25-game schedule, we will win 19, lose 4, instead of this year's 15-9. That, m'friends ,is almost "invitation" ball. .

Ed Makes Good

A goodly number of the Villanova troops made the Senior dance of Harcum Junior College, last Saturday night, and, in no small part, thanks to Ed "Rosemont" Sullivan. Here's how it happened.

About 2 weeks ago, Ed, per usual, was entertaining all the females at the Hearth in Bryn Mawr. One of the audience happened to be from Harcum. So, between the two of them, they thought it would be a terrific idea if a little "tea" dance could be arranged between the two schools. Together they saw the charming dean (of Harcum); plans were worked out, and last Sunday a week ago, the some 200 belles of Harcum and Villanova fellows never had it so good. Answering at roll call were: Ray Petit, Phil Barrett, Al Petralia, Herman Diesel, Shane Creamer, Frank Guzikowski, Paul Altenpohl, Lou Blasic, Bud Bloom, Mike Marshall, Dave Frink, Ed Doyle, Ralph De Flavis, Ed Fanelli, Bill Breninghouse, Bill Nichols, Larry Gallen, Frank Gobco, Bill Miller, Ed O'Leary and Joe Barrack, among others. They stayed for supper, too. . . .

SODA FOUNTAIN

Meet Your Friends .. at the .. Greeks

Superior Soda Fountain Service

Luncheon :: Dinner

818 Lancaster Ave. Bryn Mawr, Pa.

NOW SUPPLIED WITH SCHOOL TICKETS

GOOD ON BUSES AND CARS UNTIL 6:00

5¢ a Ride, including Special Free Transfers. Obtain identification Cards at School Office.

RED ARROW LINES

Philadelphia Suburban Transportation Co.

Miss Your Dinner (if you have to)

Miss Your Date (if you must)

—but don't miss . . .

THE NEWEST, MOST THRILLING TALENT HUNT IN AMERICA INCLUDING TOP STARS FROM THE COLLEGES . . .

"PHILIP MORRIS NIGHT WITH HORACE HEIDT"

• Every Sunday Night Over NBC, PHILIP MORRIS PICKS A STAR in a search for the great stars of tomorrow. Performers from all over the country . . . including the top talent picked from the colleges! Music, drama, thrilling entertainment . . . weekly prizes of $250 . . . and to the winner of the year—movie and radio contracts, plus a grand prize of $5000 in cash!

Yes! For perfect listening, make a date for Sunday night and hear the stars of tomorrow with PHILIP MORRIS! And for perfect smoking . . . today, tomorrow, always . . . light up a PHILIP MORRIS, America's FINEST Cigarette!

BE WITH US EVERY SUNDAY NIGHT OVER NBC . . . UNTIL THEN

CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS

Juniors Sign Top

(Continued from Page 1)

Many colleges are familiar with the music provided by the group. They have been a source of entertainment at city functions of the Notre Dame Alumni and have appeared at Georgetown, Princeton and Yale proms.

Chairman of the Junior Prom Committee, Jim Plunkett, announced that the price of tickets will be six dollars per couple, tax included. He urges everyone to act promptly, since there will be only 550 tickets placed on sale.

Villanova Takes

(Continued from Page 1)

itself; it was founded several centuries ago by the Ancient and Honorable Order of The Goldsmith's Guild.

It is hoped that everyone who possibly can will tune to WPEN, March 21, 8:05 P.M. as Villanova's participation in the quiz will be in the way of a history making event for the college.

WHY WALK?
CLEANING PRESSING
We Pick Up and Deliver Daily at the
PIE SHOP
GOLADONATO TAILOR SHOPPE

WVIL LOG

Monday thru Friday
Morning Mixup	7:30-9:00 a.m.
Music for Today	7:00-7:15 p.m.
Record Rendesvous	7:30-9:00
Music to Study by	10:00-11:00
Monday thru Thursday
Campus Newsreel	7:15-7:20
Sports'News	7:20-7:30
Record Requests	9:30-10:00
Monday
Some Like It Hot	8:00-8:30
Show Time	8:30-9:00
Band of the Week	9:00-9:15
Chaplain's Corner	9:15-9:30
Tuesday
Symphony Hall	8:00-9:00
Browsing through the Record Library	9:00-9:30
Wednesday
Musical Varieties	8:00-8:30
Villanova Forum	8:30-9:00
South of the Border	9:00-9:30
Thursday
Symphony Hall	8:00-9:00
Chaplain's Corner	9:15-9:30
Friday
Things to Do	7:15-7:30
Doing the Town	8:00-8:30
Friday Nite Juke Box	8:30-9:00
Let's Dance	9:00-9:30
Vocally Yours	9:30-10:00

Great Books

(Continued from Page 1)

are enthusiastic about the plan as a cultural movement. Those who are joining the groups are not quite sure what the result of their efforts will be. The four-year course, covering seventy-two assorted works demands much more than a passing interest.

It is the sincere hope of the Foundation that those who persevere in his undertaking will eventually reap rich spiritual rewards. The rewards to be reaped by Catholics who read and discuss the Indexed works of Pascal and Darwin (to mention only two) are of a somewhat lesser value. The distinction is seldom made in the Foundation between what is great thought and what is great truth.

THE Bouquet Shop
"Flowers That Are Pleasantly Different"
Lancaster Ave. at Roberts Ave., Bryn Mawr, Pa.
Flowers By Wire
BRYN MAWR 3452

WHY I smoke Chesterfield
(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)
"I smoke Chesterfield. I think it's a good cigarette. It has a real good tobacco flavor.
"Liggett & Myers buy a good percentage of my best tobaccos...mild, ripe, sweet tobaccos. When they see a basket of tobacco they want they pay the top price to get it."
J. G. Harrelson
TOBACCO FARMER, YANCEYVILLE, N. C.

ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD
ALWAYS MILDER BETTER TASTING COOLER SMOKING
Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

VILLANOVAN
Vol. 23 — No. 17 VILLANOVA COLLEGE, VILLANOVA, PA, Tuesday, March 23, 1948

CHEMISTRY PROFESSOR ADDRESSES ARTS FRAT.

Symphonic Orchestra Topic of Program by Versatile Pianist

Tonight the Arts Fraternity will hold its meeting in Simpson Hall at 7:30 p. m., with Dr. Haenisch as guest speaker. Following his talk on the Composition of Symphonic Works, there will be a raffle held with five theatre tickets as prizes.

Dr. Haenisch, Professor of Chemistry, as guest speaker, has chosen the Composition of a Symphonic Orchestra as the topic for his talk. With the aid of recordings and the use of the piano at Simpson Hall, Dr. Haenisch will attempt to give a clear picture of symphonic works. He will, for the most part, center his talk about the composition of symphonic pieces and their adaption to orchestras. With blackboard diagrams the positions of each instrument will be pointed out in its contribution to the entire musical composition. Dr. Haenisch will take for his example the second movement of Haydn's Surprise Symphony. Not only with the idea of informing the Fraternity members of many of the important details involved in Symphonic music, but also with the hope that the talk and music will be entertaining, Dr. Haenisch looks forward to a very enjoyable evening.

Delta Pi Mu, the Arts Fraternity on campus, will be the first to use the living room of Simpson Hall since pre-war days. The room itself has undergone many changes since the residents moved out after the fall term. The facilities and appearance of the redecorated room will definitely add to the enjoyment of meetings that will be held there.

Although the play for which tickets are to be raffled has not yet been chosen, Jim Morgan, who is in charge of selecting the show in Philadelphia, promises that there will be a raffle this evening. The five tickets to be raffled will of course be to the same show.

Father Purcell Appointed Freshman Class Moderator

Head of Sanctuary Society to Direct Frosh Group; Officers to Be Announced in April; 1951 Class to Have First Combined Action.

Rev. Thomas Purcell, O.S.A., will act as moderator of the Class of 1951, the present freshmen, it has been announced by the Vice-President of the College, Rev. Edward B. McKee, O.S.A.

The calling of a convocation of the first-year men in the latter part of April will be one of Father's first acts in this new capacity. The purpose will be the election of Freshman class officers and Student Council representatives. This occasion will mark the first official responsibility invested in the first year men.

FATHER PURCELL

After entering the Augustinian Order in 1931 at Staten Island, Father Purcell went to Our Mother of Good Counsel Novitiate at New Hamburg, New York. In 1940 he received his B.A. at St. Mary's, Villanova. He then tackled further studies at the Augustinian College, Washington, D.C., and was there ordained in 1943. Following a year of study at Catholic University, the new moderator received his M.A. in History.

From 1944 to 1947, he was assistant Master of Novices at Our Mother of Good Counsel Novitiate. Last fall he came to Villanova where he has instructed a majority of freshmen in Religion, performed the duties of Assistant Chaplain, moderator of the second floor, Fedigan Hall, and, lastly, to his best liking, moderator of the Sanctuary Society.

JUNIORS

Members of the Class of '49 are asked to procure pictures for the Sweetheart contest and submit them to Room 113 Fedigan before ... 15th.

College Sponsors Spring Social

Villanovans to Play at "Wildcat Whirl" on April 9th; Dance to Open Social Season

Villanova College will sponsor an informal dance Friday, April 9th, in the Field House. The dance, to be called the "Wildcat Whirl," is planned as a fitting inception of the spring social season.

TOM SULLIVAN

Music for the occasion is to be provided by the Villanovans, the college band. The dance will start at 9 p.m. and end at 1 a.m.; admission price is $1.50 per couple, tax included.

Planning and operation of the social is invested in a thirteenman committee, chosen by the Vice-President, Rev. Edward B. McKee, O.S.A. Commitee Chairman is Tom Sullivan, Juinor C. & F.

((Continued on Page 2))

FATHER McGUIRE'S EASTER MESSAGE

Easter marks the initial triumph of Christendom. In our modern day it is hard to discern its true meaning. It is obfuscated in the depths of twentieth century materialism. None the less, a few hard but hopeful facts central to even the heart of Christianity, are worth re-emphasis. Christ lived, walked, worked among men. He made it a point to assert forcefully and fearlessly that He was the Son of God. The lofty ideals that He offered mankind, the sanctity of His own life, and the miraculous manifestations of His power furnish incontestable and conclusive proof of His Divine Sonship. The most potent of His miracles is His glorious resurrection from the dead. It is the most clinching argument in behalf of His Divinity. St. Paul in his first letter to the Corinthians made bold to assert: "If Christ be not risen then . . . your faith is in vain." These are the bare facts of Easter.

The words "East" and "West" today are assuming vast proportions, deep meaning, and a symbolism of powerful but opposite forces. In the East clouds, dark ones at that, are rising over the horizon. They are moving fast toward the West and seem destined to cover the world with the darkness of error and evil. We seem to be afraid of peoples and nations. We cannot be blamed for that. We really don't fear them as humans. We fear the ideas that will drive them, us, mankind to ultimate destruction. Communism is a name which designates a philosophy. It blasphemously attempts to refute God and the eternal relationship between Him and men. In its system there is no Divine Christ, no eternal standards, no basis for the dignity and the freedom of man. His personal character is lost in an abstraction called "the Masses"

In the West, for centuries we have believed that our civilization has been illumined by the radiant sun of Christianity. Our strength has emanated from the potent source of Christian principles. Here in America, despite frequent theological combat, we have agreed at least on basic principles. Our democracy has grown among men who had a firm sense of the existence, and power and Mercy of God and their own dependence on Him in the direction of human affairs. We have nurtured through our History our faith in the Divinity of Christ and our belief in the government of ourselves through adherence to basic Christian law.

The West may well become the place where the sun of Christianity will sink below the horizon and leave the world to its own death in the darkness of Communism's black night.

In the spirit of the risen Christ, I exhort the Men of Villanova on this Easter Day to rise up and do their part in saving themselves and the world. While we are disputing Universal Military Training, let us be decisive in our efforts for Universal Christian Training in our endeavor to bring the world back to Christ.

Francis X. N. McGuire

ASME PREPARES FOR LEHIGH UNIVERSITY TECHNICAL FORUM

Prof. George H. Auth, Honorary Chairman of the A. S. M. E., has formally announced that Lehigh University will hold its Group 3, Regional Meeting of the A.S.M.E. Student Branches, on Friday and Saturday, April 16 and 17, at Lehigh, for the presentation of technical papers by the students of various Colleges and Universities. All student members of the A.S.M.E. interested, therefore, are asked to prepare their technical speech as soon as possible, so as to be able to present it no later than April 5th, at any one of the A.S.M.E. meetings at Villanova. Prizes for the best papers range from one hundred and twenty-five to twenty-five dollars.

The program at Lehigh will be conducted as follows:

April 16

8:30 A.M.—Registration in Lobby of Packard Laboratory.
9:30 A.M.—Technical Session—Auditorium of Packard Laboratory.
12:30 P.M.—inrormal Luncheon — Lamberton Hall, University Campus.
2:00 P.M. — Inspection Trip to Bethlehem Steel Company. Assemble promptly at Main Gate, East Third Street, Bethlehem, Pa.
6:00 P.M. — Banquet — Main Ball Room, Hotel Bethlehem. Entertainment by musical clubs.

(Continued on Page 7)

GERMAN CLUB PROPOSES ACTIVE SOCIAL SEASON

Kindler at Chestnut Hill Planned for Latter Part of April

Plans were arranged last week for the German Club to hold a meeting and a social sometime after Easter. At the meeting of the officers of the organization last Wednesday, a tentative date was set for the social meeting with the German Club from Chestnut Hill College. Vincent Pica, the President of the club, announced that the next meeting will be held on April 13, at which time he plans to have Father Brown of Roman Catholic High School address the members of the organization.

John Goldschmidt, who heads the committee arranging the entertainment for the social with Chestnut Hill, announced that many members have already offered their tal-

(Continued on Page 7)

LKD Elects Officers; Campus Activity Urged

At the monthly meeting of the Lambda Kappa Delta Fraternity held last Tuesday evening in 215 Mendel Hall, the organization held its first officer election since the reactivation last Fall. John Goldschmidt was elected President; Bryan MacLarnon, Vice-President; Dom Longo, Treasurer; Steve Eisler, Secretary, and Bill Ludin, Student Council delegate. These capacities of office will terminate in June.

The success of the election is attributed to the efforts of a Selecting Committee, headed by Steve Eisler, assisted by Charles Hopke, Al Di Girolamo, Frank Falbey, Charles Reich, Byran MacLarmon, and John Schmidt. Several weeks prior to the meeting, the Selecting Committee compiled a list of L.K.D. members eligible for nomination and election to office. Nominations from the list of eligible members narrowed down the list to a few candidates for each office. Election by secret ballot decided the pre-med for the particular office.

The Rev. Francis W. Ludwig, O.S.A., moderator pro-tem of the Medical Fraternity, supervised the general election of officers. Through their moderator, who is acting in place of Father Donnellon, vacationing in Cuba, the Fraternity plans to accelerate its campus activity.

Plans are being initiated for a fraternity dinner-dance. The details of this affair are being considered by the newly-elected officers and are to be presented to the members at the next monthly meeting. The Fraternity plans to develop L.K.D. participation in all college activities. The Lambda Kappa Delta has as its expressed goal the development of campus prestige. This it plans to effect by the organized and individual effort of each L.K.D. member.

Holy Week Program

Wednesday
8 p.m. (Villanova) Tenebrae: Solemn Chanting of the Divine Office

Holy Thursday
Holy Communion will be given at Rosemont and Villanova at 7 and 7:30.
8:30 a.m. (Villanova) Solemn High Mass followed by Procession to the Repository.
8 p.m. (Villanova) Tenebrae

Good Friday (Villanova)
8:30 a.m. Mass of the Pre-Sanctified
12 Noon to 3 P.M. "The Three Hours." The sermons on the Last Words of Our Lord on the Cross will be given by the Rev. Joseph M. Dougherty, O.S.A., Prior of the Villanova Monastery.
3 p.m. Stations of the Cross.

Easter Saturday (Villanova)
7:30 a.m. Blessing of the New Fire, Easter Water, and the Pascal Candle.
8:30 a.m. Solemn High Mass. Holy Communion will be distributed during the Mass.

Easter Sunday (Villanova)
11 a.m. Solemn High Mass followed by the Papal Blessing and Benediction.

IN THIS ISSUE.....

Vitality and Faith ..... Page Two
What's Happening in Italy? An on the Spot Account Page Three Your Subsistence Questions Answered, Page Four
Our Track Team Went West ..... Sports Page

VITALITY AND THE FAITH

Who is the vital man?

You know him. He is the person whom you most admire. He seems to be enjoying a rich life; to be living with a capital L. He is the fellow who always seems to be doing the things that you wish you were doing. When he does something, it seems to be important, interesting, and good, even though it may have been pretty dull when you tried it last. He is the fellow who knows what it is all about where he is going. Furthermore he seems to be getting to where he is going without wasting time and what really hurts is that he enjoys himself immensely in the whole process.

He is intelligent, and scholarly, yes, but he also has an extra something—an effervescence—a bubbling over—a brimfulness. He always seems about to burst. Furthermore, his knowledge is not a group of categorized principles and facts, but a thing intensely alive. Historical and economic trends are not text book phrases to him. They are sweat, and blood, and people, and money in the bank, and food. If he knows John Doe, U. S. A. 1948, his knowledge is more than John Doe of Broad St., Phila., Pa.; married, father of two children; earns $4,000 per year; own a 1942 Studebaker; etc., etc. He sees beyond. He sees John Doe, as fairly alive intellectually, and rather weak in will. He sees the influence of 20th Century materialism on John, in John's business ideas, and in his lackadaisical attitude toward the Church. He sees John not as a lone entity, but rather as a certain calibre of man affected by an intertwining mass of influences. He gets through to the real John Doe and to the why of John Doe. The John Doe in context.

Well there he is—the vital man. The thinking student will see that this vitality is a by-product by nature. It is produced or rather it flows from something else. That something is a deep grasp on reality—a profound understanding of life. Furthermore this grasp must see man in an unfrustrated or even a happy life for one can not be overflowing with vitality if he despairs of man's destiny and the world. There is no such thing as a dynamic pessimist!

The Catholic student will be able to see that the Catholic system gives the largest reason or opportunity for vitality. Catholic faith and Catholic philosophy give the closest approach to the unchaotic, unconfused reality of God. The closer man is able to approach the divine the more is he vital for God is THE reality.

For this reason it is inconceivable for Catholics to continue in the error of the world which calls Catholicism restrictive and suppressing. Catholics indeed more than other men have the key to a happy life—the full complete possession of existence on the human level.

A. M.

CAMPUS CALENDAR

Wednesday, March 24—Easter Vacation begins
Wednesday, March 31—Classes resume
Thursday, April 1—VILLANOVA vs. Dartmouth—Here
Friday—VILLANOVA vs. Harvard—Here
Saturday—VILLANOVA vs. Princeton—Here
Tuesday, April 6—VILLANOVA vs. Georgetown—There
Wednesday—VILLANOVA vs. Navy—There
Friday, April 9—VILLANOVA vs. Maryland—There
Wildcat Whirl—9:00 P.M.—Field House
Saturday—VILLANOVA vs. Williams—Here
Tuesday, April 13—Next Issue of VILLANOVAN

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

JOHN A. McDERMOTT '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
FRANK J. GUZIKOWSKI '49 ..... Managing Editor
PAT LAFERTY '49 ..... News Editor
JAMES PLUNKETT '49 ..... Sports Editor
GEORGE SZYMANSKI '50 ..... Copy Editor
NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI, '48 ..... Business Manager
DANIEL ROBINSON '49 ..... Picture Editor
VINCE FEDANO '49 ..... Circulation Manager

WRITERS

William Chester, John Murphy, Edward Oxford, Paul O'Brien, Eamon Walsh, Roland Marshall, William Carroll, Joseph Kenney, John Bauman, Jack Applegate.

REPORTERS

Peter Gutwald, Joseph Rath, Anthony Mullen, Al Abreu, Michael Nowlan, Jack Connelly, John D'Grazia, Thomas Mitchell, George Schroll, John Kane.

SPORTS

Harry Range, William Canino, Neal Fahy, James Lyons, Ray Mondschein, George Mondschein, William Klusewitz, Ray MacWilliams.

COPY

William Foley, Edgar LeBlanc, Walter Rygiel.

PICTURE

George Winters, Robert Graf, Robert Pope, W. Neal Carter, William Murphy, Jack Muvatovi, Al Delago, Leo Dodds, Emil Meyer, Dick Hudak.

BUSINESS

Barry Gibbons, Jack Gibbons.

CIRCULATION

Ralph Iorio, Paul Schweiber Jr., Maurice J. Wilhere, George Weber, Gene Langan, Ralph Skowron, Mario Piazzolla, Charles Clunk, William Coakley.

PARENTAL DELINQUENCY

We talk about juvenile delinquency incessantly. We pick up the morning paper and invariably we see a story of some youth, barely out of his teens, committing a robbery or similar crime. Forums are continually arranged. Our judges address members of clubs concerning the delinquency of today's children. Police forces are being augmented. Statistics are thrown in our faces. Allright, we have a problem. NOW LET'S DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT.

Where is the basic cause of all this difficulty? No one can deny that it lies right in our homes. That same home—whether it be brownstone tenement, middle-class frame, or suburban mansion—houses our children.

How those children act in later years is determined in their initial home environment. The determining factors are the parents and home influence. Where are our parents falling down? What pitfalls must we, as future heads of households, watch?

We want to know just what our children are doing, not so much at home as when they are away from home. . . . . One family in New England prides itself on the fact that its eight-year old child sees eight movies each week. Are we justified in wondering just how morally beneficial those movies are proving to that child. . . . . Would we want children to see a majority or even some of the movies advertised in today's papers?

On the same level are our so-called "Funny" or "Comic" books. Of the hundreds we see, very few are humorous. They don't even hint at anything funny. We can go so far as to call them "sordid" and then we're being charitable. Yet, those same books are publicly and eagerly bought by our teen-agers. They are not the ones at fault. It is very possibly the parents whose consciences should hurt. It takes no prejudiced or scrupulous person to understand why we make these statements. Stop at your newscounter this evening to see just what point we are making. In tomorrow morning's headlines you'll plainly see the results of what you witnessed the night before.

We can't shunt this problem aside. Measures have been taken with regard to good movies and wholesome, truly comic, "Comic" books. Those measures are too ineffectual. The true solution rests on the home level. Yes, our brothers and sisters are the ones being harmed. Let's find out what America's children are doing. . . . . Then we can wonder why there is the amount of juvenile (or shall we say parental) delinquency in existence today and why we, as a nation, have fallen to a new low morally.

College Sponsors

(Continued from Page 1)

student. The group will supervise ticket sales, decorations and various other related activities.

Although this is the initial year of the affair, it is proposed to make it an annual dance. It is being sponsored to supply funds for extra-curricular activities and for various relief affiliations with which the college is associated, including the N.F.C.C.S., the Red Cross, the Foreign Relations' group trips to Lake Success, and the Olympic Fund.

Members of the dance committee are: Carl Yeager, Matt Kearney, Tom Nary, Bob Dougherty, Ed Fanelli, Joe King, Herman Diesel, Bill Altenpohl, Gene Ruane, Emil Mica, Jim Plunkett and Tony Scarpa.

It is expected that late permission will be granted to residents of the girls' colleges in the Philadelphia area.

College Whirl

The Haverford News has notice of Sunday concerts featured in conjunction with Swarthmore. Some of the compositions are those of students. . . . We heard our own Glee Club and Band this year and are tipping our hats to them. But . . . we sometimes wonder whether Villanovans are willing to give their own school programs the credit and support they need.

The Loyola College (Baltimore) Greyhound tells us of some trouble that smells to high heaven. It seems that brother polecat, filled with Lenten spirit, took up lodging under the chapel for ten days so they had to close the edifice while they smoked him out. We've invited the varmint to take up legal residence in our C. and F. building for a while.

The Notre Dame Scholastic gives us a count on exactly how many of the "Fighting Irish" are heirs to the green. . . . Of their close to 5000 total, some 1120 are Paddy's boys. Of these, 200 are faculty members. They'd better move to relax the immigration laws because they're losing ground fast.

In an editorial from the Fordham Ram we become acquainted with their view of the NSA. If we may quote: "Putting our names to the constitution constitutes a signed statement that we are in agreement with everything contained therein. If measures are passed by the NSA, even though the Catholic delegates may be opposed, the measures will be published as having been favored by the NSA as a whole—and will therefore include all delegates from all schools." That's a good statement of policy.

The Catholic University "Tower" speaks of the gate between heaven and hell that was broken.

St. Peter yelled down, "Hey, Satan, it's your turn to fix the gate." "I'm too busy to worry about a gate," came the reply. So St. Peter said, "I'll have to sue you for breaking our agreement." "Yeah? Where you gonna find a lawyer?"

The Holy Cross "Tomahawk" lists the charge for their Junior Prom at seven-twenty. Compared to that, our six-semolian tab isn't bad at all.

Immaculate College annually adopts an orphan for their domestic science courses so we'll drop a little thought. With spring here, we'll be having some nice Sunday afternoons. Why not get together with the girl friend or some of the fellows and stop at one of the local orphanages. You'll see a lot of cute kids. Pick one at random and take him out for a walk or to the Zoo. They get so little affection that they'll love you for it. What more could you ask? A nice date . . . little money involved . . . a lot of satisaction on your part . . . and some kids that'll make you feel like a king. If you'd like a little more dope, check with us.

So we finish with something else:

Reporter: I wouldn't trade my wife for any ten girls.

Editor: I wouldn't trade my ten girls for any wife.

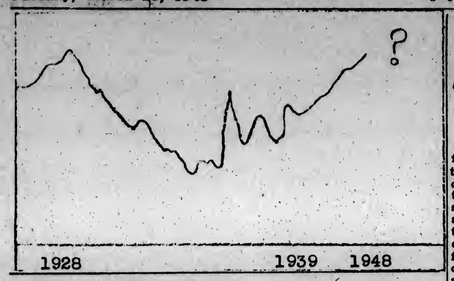
Again we're indebted to the Catholic U. Tower.

Letters . . . .

Miami Beacher Getting Jitters

Simpson Hall,
March 17, 1948

Editor of the Villanovan,
Villanova, Penna.



Dear Sir:

This afternoon I happened to be reclining on the sand (sitting on a hard chair) at Miami Beach (nickname for my room). I heard the president's message to the nation.

I'm not a Democrat or Republican. . . . In fact, I don't even vote yet. That's why I'm just a little concerned. Can you find out just how this Selective Service will affect us as College students? Will U.M.T. force us to leave school?

Pessimistically,
Resorter.

P. S.—My roommate told me to get a card punched. What are they?

Is A Depression Coming?

By William Carroll

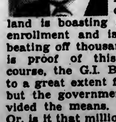
Most of the articles that have appeared in economic bulletins, journals, magazines and newspapers on this depression question have been colored with, what I consider, an over amount of false optimism, and an underestimation of the possible economic consequences of the policies we are pursuing in our attempts to get back to "normalcy" (whatever that is).

Writers of these extensive tracts fill their readers with a confusing dose of questionable statistics and then draw more questionable conclusions from them. They finish with such phrases as "by trust in our economic system that has given us the greatest nation in the world, prudence is handling our readjustment, etc., we can "embark" on an era of prosperity never before realized in our history."

Rather than follow their precedent of offering the statistics and drawing from them questionable conclusions, I would like to answer the question, of whether we will have a depression, with an unconditional "YES."

I realize that was bold, in the face of all the optimism, and frankly I dislike a pessimistic note, but, as I see it, there is no way out. We will have a depression. Why? Simply because of these obvious reasons:

Right now we are experiencing an era of economic prosperity that is as unstable as the inflation that attends it. This "Boom" we are suffering (not enjoying) will collapse as soon as these two things happen: First, when consumers are no longer able to buy, and secondly, when they no longer need to buy. The latter factor depends on the operation of the law of supply and demand. Right now the need still exists. People cannot get as many cars as they want, or adequate housing. Industries, by the same token, desire more steel and other vital materials. An indicator of the demand is the unreasonable prices consumers are paying for their commodities. When this demand falls off, we will then begin to have a trend not to normal supply, but rather to oversupply.



That condition brings me to my second and unfortunately final consideration. Right now, we are producing not only for our own markets, but for a tremendous world market. In 1938, we were the world's largest exporter, and accounted for 14 per cent of the total value of international trade. By the

(Continued on Page 8)

The Ivory Tower—1948

By John Murphy

Living, as we are in the foremost bastion of western Capitalism and enjoying the fruits thereof, the great American public has just about decided that there is nothing like education. And being convinced that material success follows in direct proportion to the extent of education, public opinion has formulated a novel system of higher learning.

In fact, it is no longer a question of the quality of education but rather its quantity. It has ceased to be a privilege and is now a must. That every college in the land is boasting a supernatural enrollment and is sympathetically beating off thousands of applicants is proof of this statement. Of course, the G.I. Bill is responsible to a great extent for this situation, but the government has only provided the means. Is it the cause? Or, is it that millions of young men and women have awakened to the fact that they have an unrequited thirst for knowledge? Or, can it be that the public has placed such an emphasis on education that a degree is necessary for everyone from a bricklayer to a cabbie?

The situation, summarized, is this. Colleges and universities are supported by, and therefore, dependent, on the people. People love money and think that a college degree is a good way to get it.

There is also that confused notion of democracy that demands that everyone should be allowed to acquire that degree (whose alphabetical arrangement is most attractive) that will be most helpful in making money. This is all the more disturbing since the position of the nation depends on the state of education. We are caught in a vicious circle. Can we escape from it?

First, we must demonstrate that utility is no criterion of education, and secondly, we must prove that the pursuit of truth is good in itself, and as such, is the real aim of higher learning.

Aristotle has said: "To be always seeking after the useful does not become free and exalted souls." And it is in this that the popular idea of practicality fails. It is certainly not wrong to strive for material prosperity. But it should not be viewed as a final end. Success in this field is only good insofar as it aids us to those goods that lie beyond them, and these lie in the cultivation of the intellect. Here we have something that is good in itself, and is good as a means to happiness. To quote from Cardinal Newman:

"If then the intellect is so excellent a portion of us, and its cultivation so excellent, it is not only beautiful, perfect, admirable, and noble in itself, but in a true and high sense it must be useful to the possessor and to all around him: Not useful in any low, mechanical, mercantile sense, but as diffusing good, or as a blessing, or a gift, or power, or a treasure, first to the owner, then through him to the world." This is the purpose of a university. As such, it is nearly nonexistent today. Our false impression of materialistic progress has all but eliminated from college curricula those courses that make higher learning what it is. This impression has made education the plaything of any temporary whim of society.

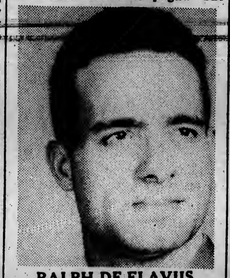
Now is the crisis. Never before in history has such a test been put on education. The world is crying for truth, for light. Man looks to education for survival. But if colleges and universities continue to adapt education to the individual and not the individual to education we will be lost in a mire of ignorant humanity. The path to safety is this: If higher learning in the United States once more adopts for its objectives the pursuit of truth for its own sake, and secondly the preparation of men and women for their lifework, and adhere to them, the time will come when the people will realize that they must adjust themselves also. A university cannot be if it is founded to teach its students how to make money. Its very being depends on its presenting to the eyes of mankind a constant faith in man's highest power as man—the securing of truth.

The Crisis: Will Italy Go Red? Student Tells Of Italian Sojourn

By Ralph De Flaviis

ED. NOTE: The VILLANOVAN feels especially fortunate to be able to publish Mr. de Flavils' personal observations at this time. Now, more than ever in past years, an understanding of the Italian mentality and conditions is useful. We feel that Mr. de Flavis is especially qualified to aid us in view of his former Italian citizenship, his recent prolonged visit and his personal ability of comprehension.

I've been asked by my good friend, John McDermott, to write a short report on the Italian situation based on my personal observations.



In 1938 I left Italy, for New Jersey. I was raised in the golden Abruzzi, where the tall peaks of the Appenines are only outmatched by the chain of beaches streaming along the coast. I was 16 at the time.

My first return to my native country occurred late in 1943, when the 1040th CBD, a pontoon outfit of the Navy Seabees, in which I served, received orders to replace the famous 1006th CBD that had been beachcombing the Mediterranean. It was during my stay in Naples, in June, 1944, that for the first time I began to observe the beginning of Italian political confusion, upon which the "Commies" were to capitalize, but fast. Under the guise of fighting partisans, and directed by well-trained, Russian-paid agents, the spread of Communism was begun. They marched, threatened, and promised the "now-famous" Marxist Utopianism.

I returned to Italy last summer and saw how the Communist organization had grown. A couple of months ago you could have seen the headlines of "Pravda" rejoicing over a job well done. From a few thousand, the Italian Communist Party had grown into a colossus of circa four million, second only to the Russian itself. How many Italians are there in the Communist party? . . . At least two million five hundred thousand. When one stops to think that each member will probably drag in someone else, then . . .

From my familiarity with the people, I would say that come April 18, if the northern districts do not stuff the ballot boxes again; if there be no repetition of the dubious count when the monarchy was the issue, I feel totally confident that Signor Gasperi's Christian Democrats will win. If the cities of northern Italy "misbehave," then I am afraid I will have to agree with that Senior, who expressed it this way . . . "I only hope that the school authorities will hand over the sheepskin a couple of months ahead of time, for this time I want a commission."

Who are the Italian Communists? Starting from the top down, one can safely state that among the Communist leaders there are very few men who would honestly advocate the Communistic cure for the Italian economic plight. The majority of the people who belong to the Communist party are simply there as a matter of convenience These men see their bread and butter trademarked with the Russian "bear." For them, it is the best way to get decent clothes for the family, and at the same time send their children to school. Can anyone blame such individuals who think of no one else but the welfare of their flesh and blood? Certainly not! You can't blame them more than those Americans who are daily making exorbitant profits selling tractors, pipelines, and specialized instruments that help to perpetuate Communist oppression of the good Russian peasant. You can't blame him more than you would the English Foreign Office which has locked the doors of Africa, the only outlet for Italians after every other door they had tried has been slammed in their faces.

RALPH DE FLAVIIS

In our next division, we may place those workers and peasants who have listened to the blandishments of the Communist leaders. They, in turn, may be classified into the poor, the very poor, and the ones who go around saying . . . "You ate today, and I didn't." For these people there are no words to express our deep sympathy and sorrow. It's really pathetic how they are led to believe that the fault rests solely with the capitalists, that Russia will help Italy if she only refuses the Marshall plan. And, friends, the hungry masses are in no position to foresee the catastrophic results of taking away their incentive, not to mention his rights. The only right those people understand is that they too be given the right to eat.

I should like to repeat what I tried to put across last summer wherever I met them. At the end of the discussion, there was always a Communist in the crowd who would ask me if Harry Truman had paid for my trip. Smiling, I would get back to the concrete facts saying . . . "In earnest sincerity, you and I know where Italy's trouble truly lies. You and I know the two causes of the Italian economic slump. They are, namely, inflation and under-production. You also know that underproduction is solely due to lack of raw materials. If the Marshall plan goes into effect, raw materials will flow into Italian industries. You needn't be afraid of America taking over Italian economy. . . . Did you ever stop to think for a moment that if this were the true purpose for the Marshall plan . . . would America have withdrawn her legions? Do you honestly believe that any combination of powers in the whole wide world could have actually forced America out of Italy? Who could have prevented us from burdening the Italian economy? Certainly not the Russians, who incidentally asked for the astronomical sum of 1,500,000,000 lire for repara-

(Continued on Page 8)

Education In England

Paul O'Brien

FIRST OF A SERIES ON EUROPEAN EDUCATION

The question is often asked, "What is the difference between American and European education?" Within the next few weeks we hope to supply at least a partial answer to that query.

The formal education of the English university man may be divided into four successive stages.

The first part, which begins when the student is ten or eleven years old, consists of a wide standard curriculum. This curriculum, which is somewhat arbitrarily separated into six "forms" of advancement, may include the arts and sciences in general, as well as some manual training. During this period of time, about five years, the student prepares for the examination which ends his secondary education at sixteen. If he passes the oral and written test, he may then enter the "upper and lower sixth," the second stage of his training.

In the "sixth" the pupil's special fitness is consulted by permitting him to choose from certain broad divisions of curriculum, such as the classics, or science and mathematics, or history and economics, each with supplementary work in outlying subjects. This two-year period of semi-specialization is brought to a close when the boy is about eighteen by a second and more comprehensive examination. Upon the successful completion of this examination, the young man may, or may not, enter the university immediately. Unless he is an exceptionally talented individual, he prepares himself privately for a few months preceding the more intense and serious study ahead.

When he begins his university career, the student is usually nineteen years old. For the first two years he devotes himself to some single subject, or to a more comprehensive field leading to "moderations" at Oxford, or to the examination in Part I of a Tripos at Cambridge. Whatever field he chooses, he is required to study several other associated topics. The "moderations," at which time the student is twenty-two or twenty-three, mark the end of the third and final step in his liberal education. The remaining two or three years of his scholastic career are spent in the highly-specialized work of the "honors course."

The candidate for honors, whether he be a student of history, English literature, or philosophy, spends an intense two years preparing for the staggering final examination. In the process of this preparation he brings all his resources of the earlier training into use, while writing and reading vast amounts of material assigned to him by his tutor, or "Don." All his efforts are directed to the specialty he has chosen. If, and when he performs satisfactorily in the honors examination, he is awarded his degree, and his formal education is ended.

What distinguishes the English system of education from others is the remarkable unity and continuity of the program. There is no repetition, no duplication in proceeding from one period to the next. Each term begins where the other left off, and constant integration of data is the final result of this kind of progression. The overall effect of the curriculum is a gradual narrowing of interest by selection, culminating in the intensely concentrated study of the honors course. A striking contrast can be made here between the English and American undergraduates. One will report that he is "carrying sixteen credits," while the other is "reading six hours a day." From the beginning, the intellectual responsibility of learning is placed upon the student. It is the duty of the teacher to advise and direct, and by this the student soon learns that education is a lonely affair between man and his mind.

The academic year in the university is divided into three terms of eight or nine weeks each. Although lectures are given during this time, attendance is usually at the student's discretion. The important thing is that the mind be active; if the mind is apparently dormant, it follows that its owner does not belong in a university.

It is clear that examinations play a great part in the plan of study. Only four examinations are held in the entire course of ten to twelve years. That these tests be tremendously indicative of student proficiency is also obvious. It is a tribute to the excellence of English educators that the four tests are sufficiently comprehensive to spur the student to remarkable activity for periods of two years and longer.

The product of this sort of training is in most cases, a thinking man who is capable of assuming leadership in a modern, complex society. The development of such men is precisely the end to which the English school system works.

It is true that such a system can train only a small number of men. Indeed, it is a very small group of men who can bear the intellectual and financial burden exacted by the English university. The student body is not snobbishly restricted to the wealthy, for the majority of students are financed by government-sponsored scholarships. Underlying the entire program is the principle of education for the few, rather than a little learning for the masses. This preference to depth instead of acreage is probably a chief factor in the development of English ideas.

Men who have been trained to think constantly in terms of action are at a premium today. The English university seems to have succeeded admirably in supplying a stream of well-trained leaders to

(Continued on Page 8)

Tax Authority Addresses Accounting Society

J. J. Mahon, CPA Gives Members Idea of Tax Work

On Wednesday afternoon, March 17th, Mr. James J. Mahon, Jr., C.P.A., addressed over 200 students in the Commerce and Finance auditorium. Mr. Mahon was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Honorary Accounting Society of Villanova College.

Mr. Mahon, who was introduced by Ray Kelm, president of the society, lectured on the importance of the taxation phase of modern accounting. In a live and factual style, the speaker brought "down to earth" the intricate high-points to taxation—handling by state departments, corporations, and public accounting firms. Proving himself an excellent speaker as well as accountant, he went to show that Taxmen must be familiar with commercial law and tax laws as well as accounting to do their job correctly. They must have the knowledge for research and the market-wise minds to estimate the future. Tax-men

(Continued on Page 7)

THE Bouquet Shop
Send Your
EASTER CORSAGE OR FLOWERS
By Wire
Call in Your Order Today
Lancaster Ave. at Roberts Road
BRYN MAWR, PA.
Bryn Mawr 2422

VILLANOVA GLEE CLUB SINGS OVER STA. WFIL

Last week, over radio station WFIL, in Philadelphia, the Villanova Glee Club gave its sixth and most polished performance of the current season. The program was the third in a series of concerts entitled "Varsity Voices," and was on the air from 8:30 to 9:00. Participating in this weekly program are the music groups of all the local colleges.

The program consisted of eight selections rendered by the Choral Society and was announced by Bob Resnick, program director of the campus radio station WVIL.

The group members first presented a group of Sea Chanties with Duna, Eight Bells and Away to Rio. They followed with the Whiffenpoof Song, Ave Verum by Mozart, Little Wheel A'Turnin, The Rosary, all Through the Night and then finished with the College Alma Mater. The program was reported a great success and was well received by those who listened.

The VILLANOVAN extends the sincere sympathy of the Villanova faculty and student body to John M. Matteasick, senior C&F student and to John L. McNamara, senior C&F student, upon the death of their fathers; and to Rev. Ralph A. Handran, OSA, whose grandmother passed away last week.

HEADQUARTERS for SPRING FORMALS
John Douglass Co.
Formal Attire Rentals
Garrett Rd. Theater Bldg.
ENTRANCE: Garrett Road or Terminal Sq. : OPEN: Mon. - Wed. & Fri. Eves.

$500 to $1000 Earnings
For capable freshman or sophomore in spare-time sales work; training provided. Good references required; no investment. One man will be chosen. Write, stating qualifications, to Service Crystal Company, 82 Lafayette Parkway, Rochester 10, New York.

VETS IN TRAINING TO RECEIVE RAISE IN SUBSISTENCE RATES

New Law Grants Allotment Increase; Effective April 1

ED. NOTE—The following information is released by the Villanova College Veteran's Office, and is not an official release of the Veteran's Administration.

Recently a law was passed by the 80th Congress providing for a change in the subsistence rates payable to veterans in full time training. This law will be known as Public Law 411. The law provides that veterans in full time institutional training shall be entitled to $75.00 per month without a dependent, $105.00 per month with one dependent, or $120.00 per. month for more than one dependent. The law provides that Public Law 346 trainees attending a course on a part time basis or any person receiving compensation for production labor, shall be entitled to receive lesser sums, if any, as subsistence or dependency allowances as may be determined by the administrator.

Q. I am currently in training without any dependents, must I apply for the subsistence raise from $65.00 to $75.00?

A. No, you need not apply for it as long as you are going to remain in the same status, that of having no dependents. The raise from $65.00 to $75.00 will be automatic.

Q. I am now in training with one dependent and I am being paid $90.00. I will continue in training with one dependent, must I make application in order to have my subsistence raised to $105.00?

A. No, you are now receiving $90.00 and since you are remaining in the same status (one dependent) the raise to $105.00 will be automatic.

Q. I am now in training and receiving $90.00, but I have two dependents and under the new law I am entitled to $120.00. What action must I take?

A. Since you state that you are already receiving $90.00, you must have submitted proof of one of your dependents. The new law automatically qualifies you to receive an increased subsistence to $105.00. In order to receive an increase up to $120.00, it will be necessary for you to submit proof of a second dependent.

Q. What will be accepted by the Veterans Administration as proof of dependency?

A. If the dependent is a wife, a duplicate copy of the marriage certificate must be submitted. If a child, a duplicate copy of the child's birth certificate or baptismal certificate containing the church seal must be submitted. If the dependent is a parent, the V. A. Form 8-509, Affidavit of Dependency, must be completed by the parent and submitted with a copy of the trainee's birth certificate.

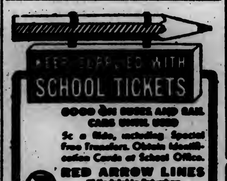
Q. If a person acquires dependents, does he receive extra subsistence for these dependents retroactive to the date he acquired them?

A. No, he does not. Any in-

(Continued on Page 8)

Villanovas Featured At Blazer Ball, May Fifth

Mother's Day Activities Open Jr. Week; Mothers Feted



Wednesday, May 5th, is the date set for the Blazer Ball, so named because at this time the Juniors wear their blazers, (this year, blue with silver emblems). This, the only informal dance of Junior Week, will be held in the Villanova Field House from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. The music will be supplied by the Villanovans.

Co-chairmen, Frank McBride and Joseph Hennessy have stressed the fact that this dance is open to the entire school. The various committees are under the direction of Ed Sullivan (tickets), Bill Savage (decorations) and Art Reber (refreshments). Tickets sell at $2.50 per couple.

The committee is making arrangements with the local girls' colleges so that late permission may be secured for those attending the Ball. The following day is Ascension Thursday, a holiday.

Another activity of the festive week will be Mothers' Day, Mon-

(Continued on Page 7)

HOLIDAY
The Most Talked About Pipe Mixture in America
☆
Aromatic in the pack...
Aromatic in the pipe!

Holiday also comes in a 16 oz. Humi-Seal Glass Jar
Larus & Brother Company, Richmond, Virginia

Wildcats Win Middle Atlantic AAU Title...

Guida Runs Season's Top 600. In Chicago Meet

Relay Team Sets Meet Mark; McKenna Takes Featured 600

Led by the brilliant running of Jim McKenna, a contingent of 16 Villanova trackmen traveled to Camden last Saturday to participate in the Middle Atlantic A. A. U. indoor championships and came home with the team trophy, nipping Shanahan Catholic Club 25-22. McKenna, a speedy Freshman who promises to be one of the finest runners ever to don the Blue and White, won the 600 yard run, took second in the 50 yard dash, and ran the anchor position on the winning Wildcat mile relay team.

In the 600 McKenna ran his best race. Off to a good start, he set an even pace until Lou Nicastro, Shanahan C. C., passed him on the second turn. At this point Jim called on his added strength and overtook Nicastro; the latter tried to keep up the heart-quickening pace but faltered as McKenna put on a surprisingly strong kick at the last turn of the unbanked, slippery track. Bill Shelley, diminutive Freshman sprinter, followed close behind his teammate and captured second place. McKenna ran the distance in the fine time of 1:17:6 and succeeded Villanova's Browning Ross as winner of the event.

McGehrin Takes Mile

In the mile run Jim McGehrin, Wildcat Sophomore won his section covering the twelve laps in the mediocre time of 4:40:6. Pacing himself well, McGehrin ran third for the first four laps and then took the lead which he never relinquished. At the end of five laps it was just a matter of how many opponents he would pass. Never pressed, he lapped the whole field before the final turn. Trying to outmanuevr the 14 man field on the small oval lost valuable time and McGehrin failed to place in the first three winning times. The event was won by Herman Goffberg, Shanahan C. C. with a time of 4:27:6. He was followed by Dave Williams, Villanova miler, and Henry Uhle also of Shanahan.

In the 50 yard dash McKenna followed George O'Dowd to the tape in the first heat and thus qualified for the final as did Tom Irish who placed in the secon dheat. In the final the judges had to make a tough decision. McKenna, Irish, and O'Dowd all finished together but the decision was given to O'Dowd with McKenna second and Irish third. The time for the final was 0:05:6.

Freshman Relay Sets Record

The All-Freshman combination of Irish, Gene Osbahr, Shelley and McKenna, running in that order, set a new meet and track record for the mile relay witha time of 3:40:2 in the first section of the event. Each man lengthened the lead and McKenna broke the tape a half a lap ahead of Malcomb Ford, St. Paul's A. C.

In the second section Larry O'Brien picked up a lead but was overtaken by a La Salle College harrier at the second turn. However, Gene Kelly, who ran the second leg regained the advantage and Dick Muscelli and Jack Holmes finished in fine style to capture first place in the heat.

Joe Semple took second place in the shot put Saturday afternoon. It was the first time the Wildcat yearling was abe to display his ability this year. The event was taken by Barclay Moyer with a heave of 46' 11¾".

Bill Casino

WILDCATS PRIME OR IVY LEAGUE INVADERS

Cats Meet Dartmouth in Opener; Princeton, Harvard Follow

Phil Weinert's varsity baseball squad, pared down from the original turnout of 80 men, to a more workable 35, is priming itself for the season's opener here on April 1st, against Darthmouth College in the first of three consecutive Ivy League invasion of the Main Line campus. Princeton's Tigers and Harvard University follow on successive days.

The Cats have been engaging in lengthy batting drills for the past ten days, and returning members have given ample evidence of having suffered no ill effects from the winter lay-off. Outfielder John Blong and Infielder Larry Aigeldinger have, in particular, shown fine pre-season batting form.

Veteran Hurlers Return

Weinert, former major league southpaw, is highly optimistic regarding his mound corps. Veterans, Jigger Donohue, Stan Chojnacki and Bobby Green, form the nucleus for a fine hurling staff, with newcomers, Jim Marilley and "Tiger" Dair, battling for remaining starting berths.

Hustling Charlie O'Malley has virtually clinched the number one catching spot, with Ken O'Brien and burly John Siano competing for the understudy job.

On the infield, versatile Charlie Comerford may be shifted to the

(Continued on Page 6)

GOLF CANDIDATES

Because of the great response to the call for candidates for the golf team, Bob Powers, manager has requested that all candidates turn in as many cards as possible o frounds played over the Easter vacation. The scorecards are to be turned in at Rm. No. 12 Austin Hall before April 3.

Jim Elliot ,track coach, has been named temporary golf instructor until next year when a permanent coach will be appointed. Because of the limited time, Mr. Elliot will be unable to give individual lessons. A six man team with possibly two to four alternates will be chosen to represent the school.

KLUCSARITS NAMED STUDENT MODERAT'R

Mondschein Twins Named as Assistants

In a surprise announcement, William Klucsarits was named student moderator of Intramural Athletics last week by the Intramural board.

Klucsarits has been active in extracurricular sports since early fall when he helped Fr. Dunne initiate the touch football league. Since then he has been of great service in handling the basketball league.

Along with Klucsarits, the Mondschein twins, George and Raymond were named as assistants, they have been working in close association with the moderator in alleviating the burden of supervising activities.

The appointment fills the spot which had been vacant since 1942 when Tom Sullivan held the position. Since then Intramurals had been run on a partial basis.

Indoor Track Season Closes; Team Leaves Today For Florida

With the 1948 Indoor Season having been brought to a very successful conclusion last Friday and Saturday nights, part of the Villanova track team departs today for the Florida Relays, which mark the opening of the outdoor season. Among others invited to this meet are ace distance men Browning Ross and George Thompson and top-flight pole vaulter Buckey Coleman. Also accompanying the squad will be Browning Ross' brother, Forrest, who is running for Tennessee and has been working out on the cinders here at Villanova.

In the Cleveland K. of C. games, a meet which featured broken boards in the track as well as four broken records, four of the Wildcat runners placed among the top five in their events.

Guida Retires Cannon Trophy

George Guida, performing in his usual outstanding manner, took the 600 yard dash in 1 minute 13.4 seconds. Winning this event for the second time at Cleveland gave George permanent possession of the Bill Cannon 600 yard run trophy. Guida was in front from start to finish and crossed the line three yards ahead of Art Bigler, of Navy.

Bill Leonard of Notre Dame was prize winner of the Rickey C. Fanno 1000 yard run which saw George Thompson put on a last lap kick and just be edged out at the finish. Farver Perkins of Illinois, picked by the press as the favorite, faded on the last lap and was passed by Thompson. The race, however, was marred by a spill that knocked out Joe Nowicki, of Fordham, the defending champion, who went down heavily through a broken board."

Coleman Hits 13"

In the pole vault which saw Boo Morcom hit 14 feet 7⅞ inches. Buckey Coleman finished in a tie for fourth place with Duff of Ohio State and Naveaux of Michigan Normal. Again Buckey finished behind Richards of Illinois and olympic champ, Earl Meadows.

Browning Ross set the pace in the mile run for the first half, but had the lead taken by John Twomey of Illinois. However Twomey was overtaken in the last 100 yards by Bill Mack of Michigan State who was in 7 minutes 13.9 seconds. Also passing Ross, who faded in the last quarter were Breesford of Ohio Wesleyan.

OLIVAR LOSES SMITH VIA INELIGIBILITY

Hard-Hit Tackle Slot Bolstered by Zimba's Return

The guard positions on the football eleven were thrown wide open in practice last week as Tom Smith, a starter for the last three years, was declared ineligible for further college competition. There had been some doubt as to Smith's eligibility since he only played in the last few games of the 1945 season after returning from the Aarmy. This was a severe blow to the aspirations of everyone concerned with the success of the 1948 squad. The exclusion of Smith, who played at Holy Cross before the war, leaves only one guard of proven ability namely George Pavalko, since Al Barker, Captain of last year's team, will graduate in June. Unless at least one more suitable guard is groomed by the time next September rolls around, there might be a serious weakness in the line. Some of the more promising candidates for this position are Ed Lannigan, Joe Scarcelli and Tony Malanka.

However, hopes were bolstered somewhat with the return of Al Zimba, a 28 year old tackle, to the squad. Zimba starred during the 1946 season and in the first half of last year's campaign when he left the team. This brought the number of seasoned tackles up to four, and Stan Pandza, a freshman hopeful who has displayed plenty of poten-

(Continued on Page 6)

The following night the team concluded the season at Chicago in the meet sponsored by the Chicago Daily News. Here George Guida won the Frank Hill 600 in1:10.8, six-tenths of a second of the American record. Frank Fors of Seton Hall, early pacemaker, finished second and Herb McKinley, third. National A. A. U. champion Dave Bolen faltered in the stretch after running second, most of the way and then having a brush with McKenley on the next to last turn.

Harry Range

Sentry (deep in no man's land): "Halt! Who goes there?"

Challenged Party: "The General Staff."

Sentry: "Glory be! The war is over!"

In the closest race of the evening, Jim McKenna, brightest of the many Villanova freshmen track prospects, and Tom Irish, are edged by George McDowd, representing the Shanahan C. C., in the 50-yard dash at the Sixth Annual Camden Meet. McKenna, on the left, later went on to win the 600-yard run in 1:17.6.

Barracks 2 & 3 Upsets Austin; Four Teams Tied For Lead

Mondschein Inc., and Kluesarits

The homestretch of the Intramural basketball league produced some thrilling contests in the next to last week of competition. Fedigan started the week's festivities by throwing a scare into the highly favored Alumni squad before bowing, 35-33. Tom Flynn and Dave Frink, of Fedigan, scored 26 of their team's total points between them, with Flynn garnering 16. The halftime score was 18-14 in favor of Alumni, and although the lead changed hands frequently, Alumni emerged victorious. Glavin also contributed 10 markers to the victory. The officials were Mickey Frinzi and Bob Grouse.

The second battle was an extra-period affair between Barracks 1 and 4 and the Day Hops, with the Barracks ton the long end of the final 31-29 score. The Day Hops led at intermission, 14-12. At the end of the regulation game, the score was knotted at 27-27. The Day Hops took a point lead in the overtime, only to have Lou Maiero drop in a hook shot from side-court with 25 seconds remaining. A foul conversion by Jack Jamison, completed the scoring. G. Stuart, of the Day Hops, took game scoring honors by netting 10 points. Ed Doyle, with 8 and Jack Jamison with 7, led the victor's scoring parade. Ray Petit and Ed Sullivan officiated the thriller.

Wednesday evening, a fighting Mendel team forced the powerful Doms into an extra period before succumbing, 43-40. Mainly through the fine play of Bob Wiener and Hank Burke, Mendel remained on even terms throughout the regulation game. A 25-25 deadlock existed at halftime and going into the overtime period, the score read 38-38. Bob Wiener tossed in a quick field goal for Mendel which was matched by Mike Cheppa, of the Doms. Fouled in the act of shooting, Cheppa converted and F. Kempf's basket in the last second, completed the scoring. Diminutive Bob Wiener paced the the losers with 10 points while Cr[illegible] Altman netted 8. Harry Knecht and Mike Cheppa cashed in with 9 points each, to lead the scoring for the Doms. Frank Breslin and Jack Denuel refereed.

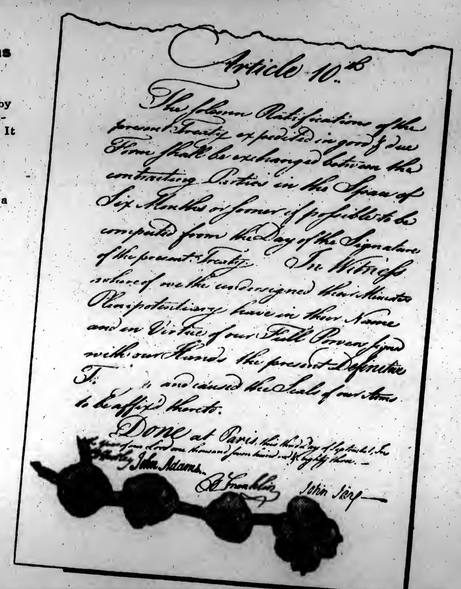
An upset occurred in the night-cap, when the league leading team fell before a fighting Barracks 2 and 3 outfit, 40-31. Red Dolan, lanky Barracks forward, scored half of his team's points with 9 field goals and 2 fouls for 20 points. At the end of the first half, Austin led, 17-15, but the Barracks five, led by Dolan, Lemmer and Loughlin, completely outclassed the league leaders to win. Hal Diot and Bill Barry, Austin's scoring twins, were held to 7 points each by the fine defensive play of Mr. McDonnell's quintet. The loss, coupled with the Dom's triumph, created a tie for first place between these two aggregations. Mickey Frinzi was the referee of the contest assisted by Frank Breslin, the umpire.

Yesterday, the Rider College All-Opponent team was announced with Tom Sabol being selected on the first team along with such notables as Mickey McGuire, of St. John's, and Mat Zipple, of Lafayette. Brooks Ricca and Leo Wolf were named to the second team, giving Villanova a predominance in the voting. This was the first All-Opponent team selected as yet by any of the Wildcat court foes, many of whom have yet to complete their seasons. Villanova beat Rider, 64 to 56, handing them their second worst loss of a 16 and 5 campaign.

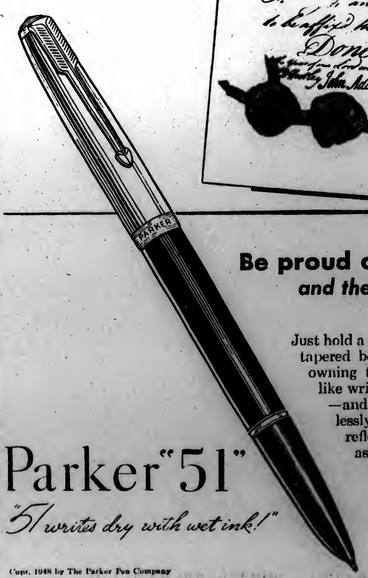
Thursday night's preliminary saw Alumni subdued by a strong Barracks 2 & 3 aggregation 29-25. By virtue of their victory, Barracks 2&3 threw the league into a three way tie. Alumni, playing minus the league leading scorer, Frank Buckley, could not keep up with the hard-driving Bks. five. At halftime, the score stood 17-11 in favor of Fr. McDonnell's team. Brennan dropped in all his 7 points in the second half to pace the Night's scoring. Dolan was runner up with 6 points. John Farley led the evening's scoring with 8 points as a valient Alumni rally fell short in the last minute. Frank Breslin and Al O'Brien officiated.

Putting on a brilliant offensive display, the Day Hops registered their first win of the season by overwhelming Fedigan 52-28. Paced by big Paul Schreiber, who tossed them in with uncanny accuracy from the pivot and scored 18 points and Bob Manska, who tapped in five lay-ups for 10 markers, the Day Hops completely outclassed their opponents after a 13-13 halftime tie. The two Creamer brothers, Bill and Shane, Rafferty, Scanlon, Pilot, and Orazi, all played sparkling ball to bring about this unforseen victory. Tom Flynn, ace Fedigan forward, played his usual fine game and took scoring honors for the loser with ten points. Close on his heels was Dave Frink with 8. Bob Wiener and Bill Shelley, track star, did a very capable job in refereeing.

Tonight's games are the last regularly scheduled League contests. The playoffs for the season's championship will commence as soon as possible after the holidays.



The Standings



Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Austin	5	1	.833
Barracks 2&3	5	1	.833
Doms	5	1	.833
Alumni	4	2	.667
Barracks 1&4	2	3	.400
Mendel	1	5	.167
Fedigan	1	5	.167
Day Hops	1	6	.143

cause for American Pride...

THE TREATY OF PARIS

★ First formal recognition by any power of the independence of the United States. It provided, among other things, for the removal of all British troops from America. Article 10 of the original treaty, along with a hundred other famous documents in American history, is now touring the country aboard the "Freedom Train". Watch for this train's arrival in your area!

Be proud of what you write... and the way you write it!

Just hold a new Parker "51" in your hand! Note its tapered beauty. Already you know the pride of owning the world's most-wanted pen. You feel like writing! See how instantly the "51" starts—and the way it writes . . . smoothly, effortlessly, without a skip. Truly, here's a pen that reflects credit on everything you write! So, ask for the Parker "51". Two sizes: regular and new demi-size. Both with wide range of custom points to choose from. The Parker Pen Company, Janesville, Wisconsin, U.S.A., and Toronto, Canada.

Parker "51"
"51" writes dry with wet ink!"

Copr. 1948 by The Parker Pen Company

FOOTBALL

(Continued from Page 5)

tialities.

The outlook is good on every other position on the team. Four fullbacks, each as good as the other will fight it out for starting positions. This is the deepest and most well-manned spot on the squad. The half-backs are four deep and there are four quarterbacks with lots of ability. Dom Pendino and Neil O'Boyle freshmen quarters, should give Andy Gorden and the other old-timers a run for their money when the starting berths are announced next season. There are at least eight good ends and it will be difficult for Coach Oliver to cut any of them. The center slot will probably be divided by Karmonicki and Yanelli again as no freshman has shown the ability to take over yet.

Body contact was started last week and blocking was stressed as the 'Cats prepared fo rtheir toughest season in the school's history. Scrimmaging will start soon and two sessions with other schools, so far unnamed, will take place in about three weeks. The weather was favorable, for the most part, last week and allowed the huskies to go through their paces out on the field. Rain on Friday kept them indoors, but Coach Oliver held a skull practice in one of the classrooms.

Micky Frinzi and Bob Pollidor, two of the fastest men ever to wear the blue and white, worked on the reverse punt return last week, and will gain plenty of yardage on this play next year. Frinzi will probably take the place of the slower Doherty on this play which was so successful last year. Pete D'Alonzo, a fullback coming up from the Freshman team, was able to match Al Schmidt, one of the best punters in the nation, almost yard for yard in their practice booting. D'Alonzo also shows promise as a hard hitting fullback.

Neal Fahy

BASEBALL

(Continued from Page 1)

outer gardens, leaving left-handed Fred Price to handle the initial hassock. Around second base, Algeldinger and Chuck Hartnett will vie for the position vacated by Joe Lord.

Two returning regulars from last year, Pete D'Ambrosio and Norm Kline, appear to be certainties at shortstop and the hot corner. However, gridiron star Jim Caulfield is an infield aspirant, and in view of his speed afoot and power at the plate, must be considered as a possibility in the inner cordon.

Litwa Leads Fielders

Keenest rivalry is expected among the fly-chasers. Al Litwa, stocky Camdenite, and John Blong, who hit a cool .319 last campaign, were starters last year, but Comerford and courtsters John Weglicki and Shy Raiken can't be counted out.

Three freshmen, catcher Jim "Red" Wright and pitchers Jack Barr and Bill Barone, may be kept with the varsity so that they may absorb needed experience.

Coach Weinert has intimated that all positions will be settled and a starting lineup selected during the intensive practices carded for the Easter vacation.

FRED PRICE

Mrs. Williams was jubilant: "I've finally cured my husband of biting his nails."

"Land sakes, how?" asked her neighbor.

"How? I hide his teeth.."

• • •

"So you met your wife at a dance. Wasn't it romantic?"

"No, embarrassing. I thought she was home, taking care of the kids."

THE 5TH COLUMN

By McBride and Johnson

It makes us very sick to look upon the complete apathy with which the student body is greeting the current NFCCS clothing drive. . . . Europeans are probably staring at our new "bold look" with "cold looks." . . . Your baggy old flannels might sway one prospect away from Uncle Joe. . . . Your worn out suit might give democracy a new recruit. Isn't it worth a try?

The boys on the campus are sporting new cigarette cases loaded with Camels. . . . We get them from all sides. . . .

Dick Randolph, president of the Arts Frat, was seen at the La Salle game in the Garden last Thursday night with Mary Potts, one of the girls from La Salle. . . .

From the first floor Alumni: It seems that Gallagher and Ellrich aren't on speaking terms. One tossed water on the other's shirts. . . . .

Overheard on the P & W: "Brooks Ricca, he's a real flash in the pan." So, just to prove a point, we checked on his service record before coming to Villanova. Facts are: while he was playing for Bainbridge NTS, Hank Beenders, who today is a center for the Philla. Warriors, sat on the bench and watched Brooks do all the jumping from center.

Coach Severance predicts that next year's all-Junior Wildcat five will do 100% better. That means with a 25-game schedule, we will win 19, lose 4, instead of this year's 15-9. That, m'friends, is almost "invitation" ball.

Ed Makes Good

A goodly number of the Villanova troops made the Senior dance of Harcum Junior College, last Saturday night, and, in no small part thanks to Ed "Rosemont" Sullivan. Here's how it happened.

About 2 weeks ago, Ed. per usual was entertaining all the females at the Hearth in Bryn Mawr. One of the audience happened to be from Harcum. So, between the two of them, they thought it would be a terrific idea if a little "tea" dance could be arranged between the two schools. Together they saw the charming dean (of Harcum); plans were worked out, and last Sunday a week ago, the some 200 belles of Harcum and Villanova fellows never had it so good. Answering at roll call were: Ray Petit, Phil Barrett, Al Petralia, Herman Diesel, Shane Creamer, Frank Guzikowski, Paul Altenpohl, Lou Biasic, Bud Bloom, Mike Marshall, Dave Frinzi, Ed Doyle, Ralph De Flavis, Ed Fanelli, Bill Breninghouse, Bill Nichols, Larry Galles, Frank Gobel, Bill Miller, Ed O'Leary and Joe Barrack, among others. They stayed for supper, too. . . .

WELCOME CATS
HAMBURG HEARTH
814 LANCASTER AVE. BRYN MAWR, PA.

A. S. M. E. PREPARES

(Continued from Page 1)

April 17

8:30 A.M. — Inspection of Laboratories of Lehigh University, Exhibition of Models, etc.—Packard Lab.

1:00 P.M.—Luncheon—Lamberton Hall, Lehigh Campus. Awarding of prizes by Vice-President Paul Eaton. Adjourn.

Villanovans Feature

(Continued on Page 4)

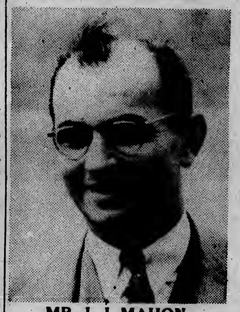
day, May 3rd. Dick Rice heads the general Mothers' Day Committee. Mass will be celebrated by Rev. Thomas A. Burke, O.S.A., moderator of the class, and Very Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire, O.S.A., President of Villanova, will give the sermon. The Seminarians' choir, under the direction of Rev. Ralph Handran, O.S.A., will sing.

The mothers will be presented with corsages before the Mass at which they will be honored. Father Burke has asked all Juniors to receive Holy Communion for their intentions. Following the Mass, breakfast will be served in the college dining room for the Third Year Men and their mothers.

After the meal, the group will view the campus grounds and witness the annual tree planting. In the afternoon, entertainment will be provided in the Field House, the program features a song fest and the presentation of "The Junior of Junior Week."

Prices Set For Musical Comedy

On May 20, 21 and 22, the recently revived Turf and Tinsel Club will present their original musical comedy in the Field House. An admission price of $1.20, tax included, has been set for the show which will run approximately two and a half hours. The original score of fourteen numbers was written by Mr. Bob Whelan and the script by the combined efforts of Mr. George Noake, Mr. Whelan and Mr. Vince O'Donnell.



Rev. Michael O'Donnell, O.S.A., moderator of the club, is pleased with the progress of the show up to this time as the chorus has been showing marked improvement under the direction of Mr. Noake. The speaking parts have been practicing and the cast has been tentatively picked except for the leading man. Students who have any singing ability are asked to try out for the lead.

The positions of Publicity Manager and Business Manager have been given to Bernie Cleary and Joe Doody respectively. Joe Doody has asked for patrons and sponsors in order to defray expenses which are expected to be quite heavy. Patrons' donations are $2.00 and those for a sponsor $5.00. Two tickets will be given to each sponsor, reducing the actual donation to $2.60.

Accounting Society

(Continued on Page 4)

must develop the personality to present their obtained facts and figures persuasively to Internal Revenue men in order to save their company that extra dollar. Mr. Mahon presented a tempting invitation to those students seeking a definite path in the field of accounting.

MR. J. J. MAHON

Mr. Mahon has done extensive lecturing and writing on both state and federal Corporation tax matters, being engaged in this field for twelve years. He is a graduate from Wharton Evening School and the University of Scranton, where he became a certified public accountant. He is a past Chairman of the Committee on the Taxation of the Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants and is serving as Vice-Chairman of its Philadelphia tax department.

FIFTH COLUMN

Humanity can be broken down into 2 groups—The Irish and those that wish they were. At least that is the way it appeared.—Marsland with his green shirt, Wisniewski wore his green tie, Fr. McNally sported his sprig of the shamrock, and O'Donnell just wore his face. One clever soph was in keeping with the times. He wore his Marine Corps greens.

While President Truman was entertaining the Loyal Sons of St. Patrick, Tim Brennan, Tom Nary, Bill Hyland, Bill Savage, etc., wore their grins and greens at a small brawl in Merion. Bebe Keegan, the master interlocutor, said the affair was a bubbling success.

bling success even though Plunkett tried to paint Carl Annas' car green.

Some bright amateur chemist with an aesthetic taste left this little gem for us the other day. To wit—

Symbol: Wo

Accepted Atomic Weight: 120

Physical Properties: boils at nothing and freezes at any minute. Melts when properly treated, very bitter if not well used.

Ocurrence: Found wherever man exists.

Chemical Properties: Possesses great affinity for gold, silver, platinum and precious stones. Violent reaction when left alone, able to absorb great amounts of liquids. Turns green when placed along side of better looking specimen.

Uses: Highly ornamental, useful as a tonic in acceleration of low spirits and an equalizer to the distribution of wealth. Is probably the most effective income reducer known.

Caution: Highly explosive in inexperienced hands.

Odds and Ends

Bill Mundy was spotted back on the campus again. 8 to 5 he doesn't get that exam he's been crying about.

Congrats! Bob Roach is soon to be married.

Question of the week? Who were the easy going sports that let the goodly Immaculata girls take them out on dates.—Even we could see that the girls paid for all.

Rumors have it that Jack Reyner is all set to take off to the West Virginia hills if and when UMT goes through. Don't sneak off too fast though Jack, we know 2 reservists that are right with you.

A message to you from the Chief of Staff

"April 6 is Army Day. It is a day which will have a special meaning for college men. More than half of you are veterans of the last war. Many of you are members of the Organized Reserve. Many others belong to the R.O.T.C. or National Guard.

"All of you are making a vital contribution toward World Peace and the security of this nation.

"The U. S. Army is the finest army in the world and the only one of its kind among the major powers. It is 100% volunteer. It is composed entirely of civilian soldiers . . . men like yourselves who realize that a strong America is a peaceful America, and that the responsibility of making America strong rests in the hands of every American citizen.

"The U. S. Army is not a large army, as armies go. It is shouldering tasks far greater than any other army of like size has ever attempted. Our occupation force in Japan is the smallest per capita of any modern occupation army. Our force in Europe is the smallest of the three major powers.

"But behind this Army stand you men of the Organized Reserve and the R.O.T.C. I have known many of you personally. I have been with many of you in action. I know the fine type of men you are and the realism that leads you to equip yourselves with military training.

"Further, I know the valuable service you can render the nation in time of emergency. A great deal of the success of fast mobilization and the actual winning of the war was due to the 106,000 trained Reserve Officers and the top-notch National Guard units which were available for quick action.

"To you, on Army Day, I believe I speak for millions of Americans in offering commendation for the fine job you are doing."

Omar N. Bradley
CHIEF OF STAFF, U. S. ARMY

You can get full details about the opportunities open to you in the Army's complete military training program at any U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station.

JEANNETT'S
Bryn Mawr Flower Shop
Corsage Specialists
FREE DELIVERY
823 Lancaster Ave.
BRYNMAWR, PA.
Bryn Mawr 0570 : Flowers by Wire

German Club

(Continued from Page 1)

ents for the evening. It is planned to have a sketch in German with the idea of furthering the cultural side of German studies. Dancing and refreshments will follow the scheduled program. The date has not been officially announced pending the acceptance by Chestnut Hill.

Also tentative at this time was the meeting on April 13, when Vincent Pica hopes to have Fr. Brown speak to the members. Fr. Brown had originally agreed to address the group last week, but due to other activities, the officers thought it would be better if the meeting was postponed, until after Easter. Confirmation of these dates will probably be made before the Easter recess, Pica said.

Vets In Training

(Continued from Page 4)

crease due to the acquiring of dependents starts from the date that adequate proof of dependency is supplied to the Veterans Administration.

Q. What date does the provision of Public Law 411 go into effect?

A. The provisions of Public Law 411 go into effect as of 4-1-48. Any increase due to the acquiring of dependents will begin from the date that proof of dependency is submitted to the Veterans Administration.

The Crisis In Italy

(Continued from Page 3)

tions. It was the United States which brought this exhorbitant sum down, because she wants to see a democratic Italy back on her feet. the U. S. A. doesn't come to Italy with promises that will remain mere promises. Washington acts. The people of greater U. S. A., citizens of the most powerful republic since the days of your glorious Rome, these citizens have opened their hearts and have extended their hand . . . Will you take it?

(To be Continued).

English Education

(Continued from Page 3)

government and education. Retention of values is the task which has forever faced any educational system. The job of separating the wheat from the chaff is one which invites failure. It appears that the English system has escaped failure.

Is a Depression Coming?

(Continued from Page 3)

first half of 1947, our exports had risen 2.5 times in volume, and 5 times in dollar value, constituting one-third of the world trade. Indicative of the effort to supply our own needs and those of Europe is the fact that now our industries' output is 90 per cent above pre-war years. Last summer we had over 60 million employed.

Business failures have been the lowest in our financial history. With the passage of ERP, it is conceivable that we may even increase our already over-expended industry to meet its demands. Direct loans plus shipments of desperately needed industrial equipment are speeding the day when Europe will once again, not only produce for herself, but begin to export in competition with us. When this day comes, our over-expanded industry will then have to produce for an American market. At this point, allow me to introduce the "joker" into the economic picture. It is this. Our government supports farmer's parity prices through subsidies based on what farmers pay for manufactured goods. When our over-expanded farm machinery producers (now exporting) begin to compete for the relatively small U. S. farmers' market, the price the farmer will have to pay for manufactured goods falls. The tragic note is that the artificial support will proportionately drop and we will have a condition similar to 1920 when the collapse of agricultural prices and purchasing power (vitally important in our economy) turned out to be one of the most damaging aspects of that depression.

Unfortunately space does not permit a fuller pursuit of this argument and others, which, at least to me, demonstrate that the present high peak of "prosperity" may well suffer an equally proportionate fall. Are we going to have a depression? That's the best we can hope for!

(To be Continued)

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 23 — No. 18 VILLANOVA COLLEGE, VILLANOVA, PA, Tuesday, April 13, 1948

VILLANOVA, PA. LIBRARY

WM. REGAN WINS ORATORICAL CONTEST OF THE BETA GAMMA

Victor to Represent Villanova in Journal-American Contest.

William Regan took first place in a recent oratorical contest sponsored by Beta Gamma, Villanova's Debating Society. The runner-up was Emanuel Rubin.

"Benjamin Franklin" was the topic of the orations; this will be the topic of the forthcoming New York Journal-American Oratorical contest. Regan, by virtue of his winning Monday evening, will represent Villanova at the Journal-American contest and compete with many of the prominent colleges and universities.

WILLIAM REGAN

WINS CONTEST

The Journal-American contest is an annual affair held in New York and sponsored by Hearst's Journal-American. It has built the reputation of being one of the foremost public speaking inducements to schools and colleges.

This oratorical contest was the third in the recent series of similar contests held in connection with the Debating Society of which Regan is the President. Rev. John J. Coffey, O.S.A., and Rev. Henry F. Weeks, O.S.A., judged the contest.

Bill Regan, a product of Xavier High School, in New York, has participated in many debates with other colleges as a representative of Beta Gamma. From the experience he has had speaking in various activities of Beta Gamma, it is

(Continued on Page 4)

UMT Chances Languishing In House

Rep. Arends Sees Selective Service as the Answer to Problem

On Monday an influential member of the House Armed Services Committee, Leslie Arends, of Illinois, predicted that Universal Military Training will not be approved by the House, and that very serious consideration would be given to a revival of selective service.

Representative Arends believes that UMT would not provide national security and that it would not fill the armed service's need for trained manpower. This personal opinion is important when one considers Arend's influence in the Armed Services Committee. His disapproval made it even doubtful that the UMT bill, approved some months ago, would even reach the floor. This bill is not the same as the one recently proposed by Truman in his nation-wide speech.

The Administration's bill proposed a combination of UMT and Modified Selective Service. All males between the ages of 18 and 44 would be registered, but only those in the 19-25 age bracket would be liable for service. The 18-year-olds would receive six months of the UMT training and thence be eligible for several types of specialized training, but they would not be eligible for the draft except in case of war.

UMT seems destined for defeat in the Senate also. The Senate committee has previously considered the problem without reaching any conclusion. It has become obvious in the recent hearings that most of the members consider UMT valueless as a defense measure.

Approval is expected, however, for the Modified Draft part of the Administration's bill. There may be a provision which would delay the actual drafting a few months to allow the services to fill their ranks with enlistments.

CHAPEL

Mid-day Masses will continue until the end of the term.

Daily Masses

the 7...7:30...12:10 Masses.

Confessions at 7:30.

* * *

The Nine-Day Novena for the success of Italian elections began on Friday, April 9th. The novena was counseled by His Eminence Denis Cardinal Dougherty, Archbishop of Philadelphia.

* * *

Chapel evening exercises for the Freshmen have been re-scheduled from 8:00 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Cervantes Fiesta Highlights Spanish Club Activities

Cervantes Day will be celebrated by the Spanish Club of Villanova at the Elks Club in Norristown this Saturday night. The festivity, in the form of a dinner-dance, is expected to be the most spectacular in the history of the club.

Rev. Lorenzo Lozano, O. S. A., moderator, has announced that the purpose of the affair is to commemorate the 400th anniversary of the birth of Cervantes. Among his writings, the Shakespeare of Spanish literature, is best known for his famous novel, "Don Quixote de la Mancha."

The affair also represents the climax of the annual literary contest sponsored by the Spanish Institute of Columbia University, for the most original Spanish composition and English poem on Cervantes. Following the dinner, the winners will be announced and will be awarded a medal and diploma for their efforts.

The contest, which terminated April 9th, enabled all students of Spanish, in South America and the United States, to apply their talents in honoring the renowned literary figure.

Don Enrique A. Albela, Spanish Consul in Philadelphia, is expected to be present, together with other distinguished guests, including the president of the College, Very Rev. Francis X. McGuire, O. S. A.

Entertainment will be provided by the Spanish Glee Club, rendering several Spanish songs, under the direction of Father Lozano. The Villanovans, the college orchestra, will supply music for dancing from 9 to 1.

Owing to the unfortunate illness of Father Lozano, the Spanish Club did not participate in the world-wide celebration honoring Cervantes last year.

Congressman Kersten Addresses Students

Communist Advance Considered by Wisconsin Representative; Convocation Culminates Day Program; Father McGuire Will Speak

Charles J. Kersten, Congressman from Wisconsin, will be the principal speaker at a Convocation of the student body on Thursday, April 15th, at two p.m., in the Field House. It will be sponsored by the

FATHER McGUIRE

Will Address the Students

National Federation of Catholic College Students. The speech will mark the end of a day-long program concerning the seriousness of the infiltration of Communism in Europe and America.

Rev. George McLaughlin, O.S.A., Moderator of the N.F.C.C.S., will begin the ceremony with prayers for the success of the Convocation.

The President of the College, Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire, O.S.A., will present a short talk to the students, after which the honorable guest will deliver his address.

Congressman Kersten, a graduate from the University of Marquette School of Law, is well equipped with information concerning this problem confronting this country today. He was the chief sponsor of labor and management participation in the Marshall Plan. The Congressman was leading majority member of the House Labor Committee. He was chairman of the sub-committee in the investigation of the Communist activities of the Allis-Chalmers Union in Wisconsin. While touring Europe studying labor conditions, he was refused admittance into Russia. Mr. Kersten proposed a bill in Congress which would allow only the same number of Communists into America as Americans were allowed into Russia.

The day's program, completed by Mr. Kersten's speech, will begin with the 7:30 Mass that morning. This Mass will be celebrated by Rev. Edwin T. Grimes, O.S.A., in the College Chapel, for the general intention of the Convocation. Prayers will be offered for the success of the coming Italian elections, for peace throughout the world, and for Catholic college students everywhere.

A special lecture will be delivered by Congressman Kersten to the Industrial Relations Club concerning world-wide labor conditions. This meeting, which will be moderated by Rev. William Gordon, O.S.A., will take place at five o'clock that same day.

SENATE PASSES BILL GIVING 300 MILLION TO NATION'S SCHOOLS

During the holidays, the Senate took a definite step toward closing a controversy that has been brewing for over ten years. They passed a bill that would authorize $300,000,000 of federal aid to the nation's grade and high schools.

The purpose of the bill is to equalize the amounts spent on education by the various states. The arguments that probably carried the bill through were produced by the Army and Navy. They reported that in World War II some 650,000 men were rejected for educational deficiency—enough for 40 divisions. Some 300,000 men were drafted but classified as illiterate.

The provisions will help to alleviate the poor conditions in the South, but the rest of the nation will be helped as well, e.g., New York, which spends most, will receive about $5.00 per student, while Mississippi which spends the least, will receive about $28.00 per student.

The vote was not unanimous at all with calls for economy from Virginia's Senator Byrd, and nays even coming from five Southern Democrats.

It is significant that before the final vote, an amendment was rejected that would authorize $5,000,000 aid for private schools. This aid would meet costs of student transportation, health services and non-religious textbooks. See Editorial on page 2.

DRAMATISTS PLAN ANOTHER READING

The Belle Masque society is now casting for another experimental venture along the lines of dramatic reading.

Under the direction of Richard Harris, senior arts major, the subject of the experiment will be Sophocles' dramatic reading, Philoctetes. After the success which accompanied the production of Journey's End this Winter, Harris feels that he and the actors are capable of more ambitious ventures. Even the most critical of those who witnessed this former effort are inclined to agree with this presumption.

It is seldom that any group presents, for the entertainment of the public, any of the plays known as the Greek unity dramas. There is a good reason for this which has nothing to do with the intrinsic merit of the plays. Because these plays are set in an alien country some centuries ago, professional producers have some trepidations about backing these plays.

The play was translated by Thomas Francklin in the 16th century. Particular adaptations for this forthcoming performance were made by Dick Harris, who is directing the show.

(Continued on Page 4)

PKP Triples Membership; Dinner-Dance Planned

The Phi Kappa Pi tripled its membership by the initiations that were held last Tuesday evening. The fraternity initiated 84 new members into its ranks, bringing the total number to 117. The initiations began at 7:00 and concluded about 10:00 with a banquet in the college cafeteria.

The Moderator of the fraternity, Rev. John O'Leary, O.S.A., addressed the group at the banquet and remarked that he was pleased with the enthusiasm and response of the new members. He pointed out to the members the advantages and the obligations in the fraternity. Among the other guests were Mr. John Gallen, who gave a short talk; Mr. Rudolph Weis, Dr. Daniel Frost and Rev. Edward McKee, O.S.A., Vice-President of the College.

Fr. McKee congratulated all and gave permission for an off-the-campus dinner-dance both this year and next.

Richard Shinners, president of the fraternity, introduced the guests and presented the senior members with keys. The members receiving keys included Bill Foster, Jim Feeney, Bob Brown, John McGrath, Larry Lyons, Ed Mancuso, George Goodwin, Hank Tobelman and Tom Santry.

The Carl T. Humphrey Award was also presented for the first time since the war. This is an award presented to the outstanding freshman engineering student. An award was made for both 1945 and 1946. John Brown, Senior I Chemical Engineer, was given the 1945 award and John Link, the 1946 award.

PKP members frolic in Mendel basement during initiations to adopt new brothers.

IN THIS ISSUE

A Doubleheader on Education, Editorial Page
Villanovan Beauties....Page Three Parking Lot No Longer Mud, Page Four Baseball's Here.....Sports Page

DILEMNA

Way down at the bottom of the page of last Thursday's INQUIRER there was a little squib of a story that probably very few people read. It was, however, one of the best examples of a common American misconception that we have seen. Here's the story:

CHILD CRIME LAID TO HAD SCHOOLING

The outstanding failure of our education and cause of juvenile delinquency has been that our children are not trained for marriage and parenthood. Judge Nochem S. Winnet, of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia, asserted last night at the annual meeting of the Community Cheat in Easton.

Speaking on "What Is Wrong With Our Adolescents," Judge Winnet said: "We have reaped the harvest of that failure in broken homes, divorce, as well as delinquency. Education for family life ought to be as compulsory as reading, writing and arithmetic" He praised the Philadelphia plan which seeks to curb juvenile delinquency and described the effort being made in the city through boys' clubs, neighborhood centers and churches.

The key sentence in the Judge's remarks is, "Education for family life ought to be as compulsory as reading, writing and arithmetic." It shows that the Judge participates in the common American error that sees the function of the schools as the transmission of knowledge and facts rather than the building of character. It cannot be denied of course that teaching the facts of marriage and parenthood is beneficial, but to think that juvenile delinquency, divorce and broken homes will lessen because of this teaching alone is quite all wet.

True education must take into account man's will as well as man's intellect. It is not enough to develop man's mind and leave his will neglected for the intellect is not the only part of a man's soul. Man's mind acts as a guide for the acts of the will, and thus if a man is to be well educated and well balanced he must develop both of the sides of his spiritual nature.

Good citizens are, to be sure, right-thinking, right-acting men. They are men whose minds grasp the code of God's morals and whose wills are sufficiently well developed to enable them to live what they know. When certain evils are noticed in a society, it is quite understandable to look to the educational institutions for help in correction, but this assumes that the educational institutions are able to deliver a remedy.

Can our public schools improve the moral character of our youth? Yes, of course! But they must fulfill the requirements of character education. Do they fulfill these requirements? Hardly, when God cannot be taught. He is the source of all morals, and morals mean nothing without HIM.

To put it mildly, the Judge missed the point.

J.A.M.

CAMPUS CALENDAR

April 13—German Club Meeting .....215 Mendel

April 15—Student Convocation ....Field House, 2:00 P. M.

April 16—German Club Social .....Field House, 7:30 P. M.

April 17—Baseball—Villanova vs. Bucknell..Lewisburg, Pa.

April 17—Cervantes Fiesta, Spanish Club, Norristown, 7:30 P. M.

April 17—L K D Dinner Dance .....Palumbo's, 7:30 P. M.

April 19—Baseball—Villanova vs. Phillies, Villanova, 3:00 P. M.

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

JOHN A. McDERMOTT '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
FRANK J. GUZIKOWSKI '49 ..... Managing Editor
PAT LAFERTY '49 ..... News Editor
JAMES PLUNKETT '49 ..... Sports Editor
GEORGE SZYMANSKI '50 ..... Copy Editor
NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI, '48 ..... Business Manager
DANIEL ROBINSON '49 ..... Picture Editor
VINCE PEDANO '49 ..... Circulation Manager

WRITERS

William Chester, John Murphy, Edward Oxford, Paul O'Brien, Eamon Walsh, Roland Marshall, William Carroll, Joseph Kenney, John Bauman, Jack Applegate.

REPORTERS

George Gutwald, Joseph Rath, Anthony Mullen, Al Abreu, Michael Nowlan, Jack Connelly, John D'Orazio, Thomas Mitchell, George Schroll, John Kane, Frank Gohes, George Reinhart.

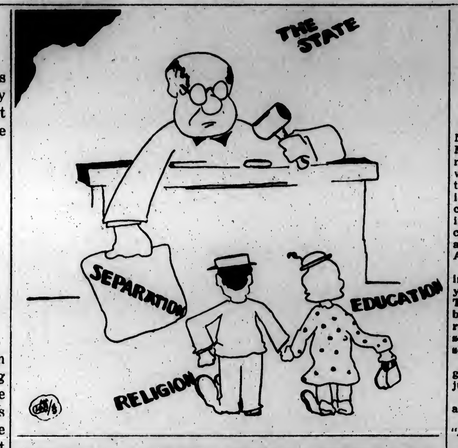
SPORTS

Harry Range, William Canino, Neal Fahy, James Lyons, Ray Mondschein, George Mondacein, William Klucsaritis, Ray Mac Williams.

COPY

William Foley, Edgar LeBlanc, Walter Rygiel.

PICTURE



George Winters, Robert Graf, Robert Pope, W. Neal Carter, William Murphy, Jack Muvatovi, Al Delago, Leo Dodds, Emil Meyer, Dick Hudak.

BUSINESS

Barry Gibbons, Jack Gibbons.

CIRCULATION

Ralph Iorio, Paul Schwelher Jr., Maurice J. Wilhere, George Weber, Gene Langan, Ralph Skowron, Mario Piazzolla, Charles Clunk, William Coakley.

STATE AND THE SCHOOL

It is the custom to have present at various college gatherings and reunions a prominent member of the school's faculty or administrational organization. Such was the case at a recent Philadelphia gathering of Notre Dame alumni and friends. Present was the Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, C.S.C., president of that university. The name "Notre Dame" has become almost synonymous with Catholic education over the country. What so prominent a national figure as Father Cavanaugh said has reference for all of us as participants in a religious educational system.

He stated his belief that the United States, our own nation, in the person of constitutional interpreters, has read something into the phrase insuring separation of Church and State. A separation of "God and the State" has become the outcome. This is at wide variance with the intentions of those who first formulated our Constitution.

Our schools in America which are not supported by public grants from local and national governments are beset by many obstacles not otherwise encountered by subsidized institutions. We quote Fr. Cavanaugh:

"If the government-Federal or State or both—continues increasingly to pour into the tax-supported public schools the money which will enable them to build the classrooms, laboratories, the residence facilities conducive to the progress of modern education; if its largess permits them to outbid all other schools for the best faculties in the fields of learning; and if, on top of that, they can offer these advantages to young men and women free of charge, the fate of the private school becomes largely a matter of time rather than speculation."

That there is a great evil involved in the resulting condition is quite evident. More and more our public school students are left devoid of all religious training. The very m. rrow of all moral training is a knowledge of God and some religious belief and organized worship to elaborate and develop that knowledge. With our private schools struggling ever harder for ways and means to meet increasing costs, this last bulwark is under an unusual strain.

Father Cavanaugh is not foretelling the doom of our nation. He is pointing out conditions which exist, and more and more so, in our primary, secondary and higher systems of learning.

A good portion of our people participate in an organized belief in God. We are not beating drums for the Catholic system alone for no one group suffers so much as Christianity on the whole. As that loses ground, our nation retrogresses.

What are the controlling factors in this situation? We are! We the people is not merely the name of a radio program. It means something much more important, much greater. By our very adamance we support opposing forces, forces opposing God. Maybe we don't need another Crusade but a few Crusaders would help.

F.J.G.

COLLEGE WHIRL

With Gus

Recently, Rutgers U., in nearby New Jersey, had Dr. Benjamin E. Mays at a student gathering. The name wasn't too familiar to us, so we checked up on it. Among other things we found out that Dr. Mays is one of the nation's foremost educators, and is president of a thriving Atlanta College. We also discovered that Dr. Mays is a Negro, a credit to his race and to the American people.

The Florida papers still persist in placing pictures of attractive young ladies on their front pages. They come in ones, two and even bevies. Hopes are high that they run out soon so we can tear ourselves away from the first page and see what's inside.

The little boy was walking his girl home after school. Both were just eight years old.

"Margie," he said fervently, "You are the first girl I ever loved."

"Bah, just my luck," she snapped. "Again, I've drawn an amateur."

The Marquette Journal, one fine literary magazine, came into the office occasionally. We're all anxiously waiting for Villanova's contribution in this field. Shall we be cryptic and say, "H.N.D." Solve that one, send a letter to the editor and you'll get three packs of Cheserfields, courtesy of Joe King. You Know, "A.B.C."—and be content.

You should see some of the papers we get on our exchange list. One co-ed Midwestern college left the front page blank. We aren't taking suggestions either.

Montclair College in New Jersey has decided to give the NSA a big push by making the week of April 12 to 16 an NSA Emphasis week. . .

St. Joseph's College in the City is playing host to a caucus group on April 17th, to prepare for the coming NFCCS regional convention. Since Villanova needs ten delegates, fellows that are interested should make haste to see Herman Diesel in Fedigan Hall.

Rumor has it that the Immaculata Collegians are planning some publicity work for their Junior Week, which starts on the 25th of this month. The work is supposed to reach a new literal high, too. our boys aren't slacking on Villanova's Junior Week, seven days later. It sounds like a merry round of activities. . . Those high-flying Immaculatans should put up a nice program.

Add to the above, the Rosemont Prom on Apr. 24, and you'll find the Wildcats pretty busy. Socially, we've never had it so good.

From "What Ho" in the Catholic U. Tower come these Washington versions of life:

1900: Wife darns husband's socks.
1948: Wife socks darn husband. . .

which reminds us of argyles . . . now a lot of girls can knit them so I hope none of you fellows aren't reaping the rewards.

The Muhlenberg Weekly makes much note of the fact that some sophomores can avoid certain final exams if they take a General Education Test. You let me pick the subjects and I'll get you a lot of takers.

Out in Nebraska, the Creighton U. Boys held a huge military ball. We doubt if it could beat that Saturday's Navy affair at the Barclay. We hear that the boys with the shiny gold stripes had a suave, smooth, quiet affair. Ninety girls in flowing gowns, ninety boys in officer's blue. . . Sounds good. . . We'll knock off and dream about such things for a while.

Before we do start our dreaming we'll reprint a letter recently received:

Editor, The Villanovan,
Villanova, Penna.
Dear Sir:

The Chestnut Hill College Glee club is going to present its annual spring concert on April 14, 1948, at 8:15 p.m. It will be held in our auditorium with admission for students at only sixty-five cents.

We would appreciate it very much if you would advertise our concert in your paper. We promise a very enjoyable evening for all and hope to see Villanova well represented.

Sincerely yours,
Helene Popper,
Publicity Manager

That's it and it sounds like a good deal. Besides, Chestnut Hill isn't a man's college. That might make a difference.

By GUNTHER KAISER and PETER McMANUS

The Metropolitan Opera has concluded its season in Philadelphia, and their ten evenings here were definitely more successful than last year. True, the season got off to a limping start with Mozart's "Don Giovanni". The cast, though competent in many respects had many weak spots. Pinza has sounded much more resonant and his acting with the single exception of the last act was not very believable.

The performance of "Manon" was a generally listless affair. The new soprano, Elen Dosia was a complete disappointment and Charles Kullman's voice was not powerful enough to project the drama of the San Sulpice scene. The opera had the advantage of impressive staging and costumes, and the sonorous voice of Martial Singher. Mme. Dosia looked the part, but her voice was strained, harsh and unpleasant.

The lighter highlight of the season was the delightful performance of "The Barber of Seville". All the principals worked together and contributed towards an evening of high comedy. Pinza was outstanding in his one moment "La Calumnia". Salvatore Baccalonia made his familiar appearance as Dr. Bartolo seem more fresh than ever.

The Italian wing of the Company also presented a rewarding performance of Puccini's "Tosca". The chief reason for the success of this addition was Ferrucio Tagliavini and Alexander Sved. The tenor has a voice of honeyed quality, that is best when used softly. Sved, after a slow start came through in the second act with acting and singing of high quality.

The three Wagnerian evenings were also well presented, with "Meistersinger" the highlight. The opera, as presented this year had more force and action than the later "Ring" opera, "Die Walkure". The cast was of tremendous proportions and the principals sang well. Polyna Stoska created a splendid impression, and proved to be the most worthy addition to the cast of Met singers. She appeared in both "Meistersinger" and "Die Walkure", the dramatic effect of her voice was particularly apparent in the latter oper. "Die Walkure" was notable for the new scenery, which was most effective but proved too large for the Philadelphia stage. The sets would have seemed more spacious on a larger stage.

The Crisis: WILL ITALY GO RED? De Flaviis Calls Political Indifference Key To Answer

By Ralph De Flaviis

I trust that most of you have been reading the reports of our foreign correspondents on the coming Italian elections. I dare not set myself up as any judge of these well-meaning men, but my conscience will not allow me to overlook Mr. Peterman's comments currently appearing in the INQUIRER. Mr. Peterman's account is as sensational as the journalistic profession will allow and we need sensationalism and excitation about as much as we need another war! When he says, "The Italians are naturally voluble", we are dismayed that he has fallen ill to this popular unscientific belief and his error is pernicious because so many depend on his ability to interpret the true situation. I am bowled over by his "Rome Is a Noisy City" when I did not know what noise was till I stood on Market Street. Could it be that the echo of Philly's trolleys and el trains has carried that fear? When he says that, "they fill themselves with wine and spaghetti," we cannot but conclude that the wine of nearby Frascatini has made him eligible to join Umbriaga* in a duet.

I spent the better part of my summer in Abruzzi. Centrally located, this region vaunts an ideal climate which yearly attracts vacationers from the various hot corners of the peninsula. For the whole month of July the pale green waters of the Adriatic Sea behave as an enormous lake of olive oil. Swimming is as easy and pleasant as if one were bathing in our own college pool. The beaches were not crowded and I must confess I missed the artificial form of fun I had found at Atlantic City and Wildwood. The little beaches there offer an ideal hiding place for the tired businessman who will need a vacation to recuperate from a vacation.

Besides the pottery works in the town of Castelli and a few other minor shops the region has no industry worth mentioning; the principal occupation here is agriculture. The soil is very fertile and every inch of land is put into cultivation. This is one of the three Italian regions which are self sufficient. The principal products are wheat, wine, and beautiful women. You all have heard of the good Italian bread and Italian wine is wordly known, but I am sure that except for those who have read some work by Gabriel d'Annunzio, you are unaware of the pulchritudinous woman of Abruzzi. The girls pictured are coeds from Rome University.

At least once a week the populace attends the cinema and for the past twenty years, eighty-five percent of the films shown have been produced in Hollywood. Bing Crosby, Spencer Tracey, Robert Taylor * and Clark Gable are among the favorite actors. Incidentally, I was swamped with questions about these idols, questions which only cousin Louella could have answered. There were a number who wondered why I had no autographs of the stars. Someone asked if I had attended a certain meeting in Philadelphia where Gary Cooper had addressed 100,000 Communists. I explained that my home in Camden was only two miles from City Hall in Philly. I told him I was sure that Gary Cooper had not spoken to such a mob for I would have surely heard about it or read it in our Free press. Besides I told him Gary Cooper had denied the story. Nevertheless, this comrade insisted by saying that it did not matter what I had heard or not heard because the report must have been true since he had read it in the 'peoples' paper 'UNITA' . . . But he did not represent the typical Italian frame of mind.

I stopped to chat with the town cobbler whom I had known before I left Abruzzi. I want to tell you about him because he represents

The Author enjoying himself Off the Coast of Abruzzi

Italy today more than anyone I know. His story is the story of the bulk of Italy's little people—the people who are going to the polls in only five days. I asked him how he was getting along. He said that times were really tough, but "With me it's like this. In 1945, I went to see a fortune teller to whom I confessed all my troubles. I told him that I had four kids to support, that I worked continuously, but that I could never make enough to make both ends meet; so I begged him to tell me if there was any good news stored up on my account. He assured me that he could forsee the end of my troubled life, even gave me the date. He said, 'My good man, by 1947 you shall have no more worries, you shall no longer be discontent with your lot, for by the time you will have gotten used to it'. So you see," he said. "Yes", I thought 'I see'. Here, indeed, is the important Italian an individual who has had hardly any political ideas, who has never professed political affiliation, and in his poverty he has fallen into a state of quasi-complacency. Here we have a man who has witnessed the come and go of Fascism, who is characterized by political indifference, whose only aim in life is to supply his family wants. This indifference is the key to the election. Can the Christian Democrats aided by the church create enough noise and excitement to wake the Italian up? It is upon this type of individual, it is upon—his manifested political indifference that the communists have concentrated their "We'll take care of you" campaign . . . so promises follow promises. With their unsound economic principles Communism declares itself the champion of labor, the friend of the workingman and to "prove" their point they have tried everything in their power to hinder Italy's acceptance of Marshall plan aid. Yet we known that without this plan, the Northern districts could not begin or hope to continue production. The Communists say that help will come! But can it really come from a country who is still a bit behind itself. Let's hope and pray for the world's sake that this indifferent majority will not fall prey to these great lies. We earnestly hope that these people prevent the advent of a future regime whose tactics are almost as brutish as the ones employed by the Nazis — a recent Italian nightmare. We would like to see the Italian reject the Moscovite clique, who will murder his

(Continued on Page 8)

* Refers to an old Italian drunkard.

EDUCATION IN FRANCE

Paul O'Brien

(Second of a Series)

France, like England, has in her education for intellectual workers but two divisions above the early elementary classes: the "lycee" (or college) and the "universite".

The "lycee" takes a boy at the age of ten or eleven, whether from its own preparatory classes, or from the elementary school, or from private instruction, and keeps him for seven years, after which the university examines him, and awards him, if successful, the "baccaulaureat", at the age of about eighteen. If he continues his education, the university receives him at that point, and if he expects to become a teacher, it provides for his instruction while he earns successively (a) his "license" (two or three years), (b) his "diplome" (one year), and (c) admission to the "agregation" (usually two to three years). The "doctorat" is acquired later by those preparing for research.

Both "lycee" and university are supported and operated by the state. They are managed from one ministerial office and work together as a single organism.

The "lycee" prepares each student as if he were going to continue (although many do not) through to the university. Since both schools are under single direction, the student gains the great advantage of an integrated curriculum from matriculation until acceptance by the "agregation". To a certain extent, the two schools overlap; the larger "lycees" have advanced classes training selected candidates for the great technical and military schools, and for the "Ecole Normale Superieure" in Paris. Here much university work is anticipated, and in some instances, "lycee" classes have attended the university, reducing by one or two years the ordinary span of time required to complete the university curriculum.

Work in the first stage of instruction (the "lycee") is of a broad and intensive nature, unbroken by repitition or haphazard selection of interests. Subjects included are French, Latin, English, History (from Greece to Modern Europe), Geography, Science, Mathematics and Art.

Fulvia Grue — the first candidate for Junior Week's Prom Princess.

The French university introduces the student to a special field of comprehensive character. The treatment is more mature than that of the secondary school, but the spirit is the same. This conformity of purpose is the singular benefit of the cooperation and mutual dependence between the "lycee" and the university.

The task of the instructor in the university is to provide direction in the incisive manner of thinking, which the system strives to develop. He is constantly investigating the field with which he is concerned. There is a unique relationship between the student and the professor in France. Although the student bears the responsibility or learning, the teacher, by directing him in his work, is activated by every recitation he hears. A typical exercise in preparation for an examination is as follows: A topic of some importance is assigned to the student perhaps a month in advance. On this topic he makes preparation and when the time comes, "gives the lesson" in a thirty or forty-five minute oral report, preferably without notes. On this performance he is criticized first, perhaps, by himself, in order to disarm the rest, then by members of the class, and, finally by the professor. Thereupon, with the material warm from discussion, the professor takes the floor and treats the same subject as he himself would have handled it. This sort of thing is done again and again until, at last, a feeling for effective form with adequate content is established.

The pivot, upon which French education hinges, is the fact, that periodically, at moments chosen by himself, the student must submit to being thoroughly searched and studied as to what he knows and can do. Each oral and written examination is designed to show what effect his studies have produced. The twelve-year-old boy in the elementary school takes an examination to earn the "certificat d'etudes primaires elementaires". The "lycee", similarly, closes with a group of written and oral examinations taken in two successive years for the "baccalaureat". Four groups of written and oral examinations, taken, usually, within a year of one another, combine to give the "licence"; a thesis, with a group of oral interrogations, brings a "diplome d'etudes superieures"; after written preliminaries a week of competitive oral tests determines his final selection in the agregation"; and if taken, the "doctorat" later provides a thorough test of his powers of research.

Coming, as they do, at the end of a relatively long period of preparation, all French examinations are conceived as tests which measure the intelligence operating over a broad perspective of coordinated knowledge, rather than an attempt to check on a small body of new ideas without roots and without relationship. Instead of compartment courses in histology, animal physiology, embryology and so forth, each examined and done with, when its day in the curriculum is finished, the French system removes the partitions and presents a field of zoology with fundamental laws uniting the whole science of animal lief. This, with its correlated botany, becomes the science of life in general, or biology. It is the capacity to disentangle the larger elements in an intricate sequence that the French system seeks to test.

Throughout his education, the French student can reflect upon a mass of ideas built up through an effort to understand, not remember; memory, as we use it, is clearly useless; the new idea must mingle with those of other years, whose source he has forgotten, but, which have become part of himself; his attention, insofar as it will serve his purpose, must be on the object and not on the visual picture, that will last for only the semester. The terms of his problem, growing clearer and more definite with every year, give him every encouragement and inducement to learn to think.

By way of this strenuous personal experience, each student becomes aware, that the process of education must bring forth fruit in a final product, of which the public may take account, whatever its contribution might have been. Irresponsible enjoyment of public endowment, on the part of even a minority, is not a part of the scene. The obligation to justify one's right to a high intellectual calling by demonstrating superior ability in a rigorous test is precisely what makes French intellectual democracy so genuine.

Federal Aid In a Nutshell

Last month, the Presidential Commission on Education issued its long-awaited report on the condition of American higher learning. Composed of twenty-eight leading educators, the Commission for the last year and a half has been engaged in formulating a comprehensive survey of the problems confroting both the student and the teacher. The Report emphasizes five essential improvements to the current set-up:

1. Immediate steps to increase, improve, and better adjust the lot of the college faculty. This includes salary increases, better preparation for teaching, and vigorous recruiting of students of high potentialities to enter the field of education.

2. A Federal scholarship plan to extend higher education to all financial classes. This would require an intial outlay of at least $135,000,000 in scholarships and fellowships. There have been extensive debates on whether private schools should receive federal funds under this program.

3. The Commission then attacked the continuance of discrimination exercised by college admissions against "students on grounds of race, religion, color, sex, or national origin."

4. The sad state of adult education requires immediate improvement and extension. This problem falls directly upon the colleges and universities, and, as such, would require further federal aid to educational institutions.

5. Over-specialization and lack of well-rounded curricula has distored the average student's understanding of the whole of education and has ill-prepared him to play an intelligent part in the world of work and society.

There were various other situations that engaged the Commission's interest, but all were subordinate to the above five. Taken as a whole, the report would seem a high critical indictment of American education.

Beginning
NEXT WEEK
A Survey of Presidential Candidates
IN
The VILLANOVAN

Successful Accountant Addresses Fraternity

Training of College Graduates Is Topic of Talk by Expert

Last Wednesday afternoon, Mr. George L. McCalla, managing senior of the Philadelphia staff of Messrs. Price, Waterhouse and Co., addressed over 200 students in the C. & F. auditorium on the subject of "Training of College Graduates in Public Accounting." The guest speaker was the second in the series of lecturers being furnished by the College Advisory Committee on Accounting.

Mr. McCalla introduced the audience to the current office procedures utilized by public-accounting firms to indoctrinate new men into the field of public accounting and individual firm procedures.

The speaker illustrated how the application of accounting theory to practice was accomplished. Through the medium of the case-method of study, each student has the opportunity to follow the process of an audit from the initial step, including examination of original books, supporting documents, verification of cash, accounts receivable, accounts payable, and inventories, to the finished product in the form of a final report to the client.

MR. G. L. McCALLA

Stress upon correct usage of English and clarity in expression and writing was in keeping with contemporary scholarly opinion. Mr. McCalla suggested some outside reading sources to help improve the prevailing tendency.

In his closing remarks, Mr. McCalla impressed on the student

(Continued on Page 8)

For Expert Convenient Attention

THE CAMPUS BARBER SHOP

First Class Work

Popular Prices

THE Bouquet Shop

"Flowers That Are Pleasantly Different"

Lancaster Ave. at Roberts Ave., Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Flowers By Wire

BRYN MAWR 2422

ST. JOSEPH'S SCENE OF NFCCS CAUCUS

St. Joseph's College will be host at a Regional Caucus of the NFCCS (National Federation of Catholic College Students) on Saturday, the 17th of April. The all-day meeting of NFCCS delegates and interested Catholic College students will start about 9:30 a.m. and will last until the late afternoon.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss plans for the NFCCS National Convention which will take place in Philadelphia starting on April 22nd. There will be a discussion of such important subjects as Student Government, International Relations, Interracial Affairs, etc., which will loom largely in the work of the National Convention. All students are invited to attend and to take part. It is hoped that a great number of Villanova men will be present.

WM. REGAN WINS

(Continued from Page 1)

hoped that Regan will be successful in his ventures at the Journal-American contest.

Beta Gamma itself has been very active this year and is proud of a successful record of debates with other schools in the Philadelphia vicinity. Regan and Bill Carroll, the officers of the organization, have many debates planned for members with other schools in the next two months, besides several debating conferences.

SECOND READING

(Continued from Page 1)

The cast of characters will include Ulysses, King of Ithaca, Ted Wilbur; Neoptolemus, son of Archilles, Ed Krieg; Pholictetes, Joe Leary; a Spy, Bill Wiswell; Alcides, Bill Brenninghaus; Reader of the Chorus, Joe Rowe; and Sailor 1, Jack Ronca.

$500 to $1000 Earnings

For capable freshman or sophomore in spare-time sales work; training provided. Good references required; no investment. One man will be chosen. Write, stating qualifications, to Service Crystal Company, 92 Lafayette Parkway, Rochester 10, New York.

Groups Climax Year's Work

This week will mark the climax of activities of the German Club. Tonight Rev. Andrew Brown, Professor of Modern Languages at Roman Catholic High School, will address the group at their regular meeting. Friday evening, the organization will hold its annual social with Chestnut Hill College in the Field House.

A musical skit in German is planned as the main entertainment next Friday at the Social with Chestnut Hill. The program has been titled "Deutropen Fantasia" (Dew-Drop Fantasy). Dancing and refreshments are scheduled following the entertainment.

On Saturday evening, April 17th, the LKD fraternity is giving its first annual dinner-dance since the recent re-activation of the pre-medical group.

The party will be held at Frank Palumbo's downtown banquet hall at 854 Catherine Street, Philadelphia. After dinner, soft lights and smooth, mellow music will set the pace for an informal social evening.

An honor guest will be Rev. Ludwig, O. S. A., moderator of the fraternity.

Harris Cotton, is in charge of arrangements for the dinner-dance.

Tickets may be purchased from John Goldschmidt, Dom Longo, Vincent Pica, or Ted Garcia.

Parking Lot No Longer Mud

The improvement of the parking lot adjacent to the tennis courts is nearing completion. A center-line of posts dividing the length of the lot, plus a line along the western boundary will also be added. The center-line of posts will be the dividing line for the cars that are parked in the middle of the lot. With this arrangement, the lot will accommodate approximately 95 cars.

Work on the Field House parking lot will begin in the near future. As a safety measure, the entrance will be moved from its present location on Lancaster Pike to a spot further down Ithan Avenue. Because of fire and traffic hazards, parking will no longer be allowed on Ithan Avenue by the Barracks. The police will subsequently post "No Parking" notices there, and all cars must be parked in the lot on the opposite side of Lancaster Pike.

Construction work is being done by the Doyle Company, and is expected to be finished in the near future. In the process, the ground will be leveled, and six inches of crushed rock will then be put down and pressed to about four inches. Screening will be placed over this and a binder put on top to prevent heavy wear and tear.

All students who drive to school should register their 1948 license numbers before the end of the week, by April 17th. Forms may be obtained in the Business Office.

Meet Your Friends .. at the .. Greeks

Superior Soda Fountain Service

Luncheon :: Dinner

818 Lancaster Ave. Bryn Mawr, Pa.

JUNIORS

Mr. Hampson of Loren Murchison Co. will take final orders for class rings on Friday, April 16, from 11 to 1 in the Villanovan Office.

Here's Connie Haines' new rave RECORD!

"Silly No-Silly Yes"

A SIGNATURE RECORD RELEASE

Little Connie Haines, the smooth-singing phono-fan favorite, does some tricky purring on her new click disk.

And another favorite with a great record among cigarette smokers is cool, mild, flavorful Camels.

Why? The answer is in your "T-Zone"—T for Taste, T for Throat.

Try Camel! Discover for yourself why, with Connie Haines and countless other smokers who have tried and compared, Camels are the "choice of experience."

Here's another great record—

More people are smoking CAMELS than ever before!

CAMEL is the cigarette for me!

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

CATS DOWN WILLIAMS ON HOMERS

VILLANOVAN SPORTS

SPORTORIAL

By JAMES A. PLUNKETT, Sports Editor

After having to postpone opening date twice because of rainy weather, the athletic office is pretty set against opening at home next season. Instead, another southern trip is being proposed similar to the journey taken last year by the squad when they crossed the Mason-Dixon line for a four game series with Duke, North Carolina, Wake Forrest and Norfolk Naval Base.

As most of you remember, the game against Jake Coombs' Blue Devils was a nip and tuck battle all the way up until the eighth inning when Duke broke a 4-4 tie with seven quick runs for the ball game. The game with the Tarheels followed the same pattern with the Cats taking the field in the seventh with an imposing 4 run lead only to have pitcher Bill Smith lose control. After the dust had settled, North Carolina had scored 6 runs on 4 walks and 4 errors to win the ball game 7-6.

Even though two of the games resulted in losses and the other two were rained out, it was felt that the effect of the warm Southern sun on the pitching staff more than compensated for the disadvantages met when playing the highly conditioned Southern schools so early in the season.

— V —

Two other tilts are to be added to the baseball schedule to fill in for the cancelled games with Dartsmouth and Harvard. Over and above these additions, another game has been scheduled with the University of Pennsylvania. The two squads will meet first at River Field, Phila., on April 28, followed by a return game on the Main Line on May 5. The date for the third game has not yet been announced, but the site for the game is to be Franklin field. This will be the only game to be played there this season.

— V —

Good News Dept.: Impatient Wildcat fans won't have to wait for the morning Inquirer any longer to see how the baseball team has fared on away games. The sports department of WVIL has arranged to receive all away game scores by telephone immediately after the game. If you're the kind who can't wait, just tune in Siano and Fahy's program any night at 7:20 for a complete recapitulation of the game.

— V —

A change in date has advanced the opening of the golf season to this Thursday when the links squad meet Georgetown at the Main Line golf course. The match, originally scheduled for April 17 at Washington, was changed to accomodate the Hoyas since they are slated to meet Temple on Friday in Philadelphia. Two more additions have been made to the schedule. A match with Haverford on April 19 and another with Drexel on May 29. Both contests will be played on the home course.

At this writing the squad has not definitely been picked but the logical contenders seem to be Don Wieland, Bill Huber, Joe Hohenlightner, Jack Frayer and Gus Murray. With these men as a nucleus, Coach Elliot and manager Bob Powers should have a good team unless the IC4A board rules that freshmen are not allowed to compete. That would put a crimp into their plans as both men are relying heavily on the use of Freshmen.

— V —

Big League Stuff: Everyone knew what a fine hitter Al Litwa was but until the Williams game last Saturday, when he robbed Bob Schoefield of a sure double with a circus catch of a line drive out by the left field fence, very few people realized that the stock centerfielder was a fine fielder also.

'RUN-HAPPY' 'CATS TROUNCE PRINCETON

Victory for Chojnacki; 375-ft. Homer for Raiken in 8th

By Bill Canino

Following two days of inclement weather in which contests with Dartmouth and Harvard were cancelled, the Villanova baseball team opened its 79th season successfully against Princeton, trouncing the Tigers 15-6. Battling both wind and cold, the Wildcats showered a barrage of hits upon the visiting Ivy League nine, giving excellent support to the fine hurling of Stan Chojnacki, who is credited with the win, "Jigger" Donaghue, and Bob Green.

Take Early Lead

The Wienermen wasted little time in securing their initial victory. In the first inning the scoring parade started when Al Litwa singled, Norm Kline belted a three-two pitch over the right field wall for an automatic double and Fred Price cleaned the bases with another two-bagger. Following a walk to Charlie Comerford, who has been shifted to left field, John Siano singled and Pete D'Ambrosio doubled and scored on two passed balls.

The 'Cats added two more counters in the second frame when Ernie Savage, second of four Princeton pitchers, had a streak of wildness and issued 3 free passes after Armstrong had muffed Price's grounder.

The Jerseyites came to life in the third stanza and scored three runs off Chojnacki. With the bases loaded Larry Algiedinger misjudged a high fly and two runs crossed after Gruber had scored on Fullerton's single.

Raiken Homers

With the aid of seven walks and a pair of singles the Villanova combination scored 2 runs in the fifth and three in the sixth to increase their margin. About the biggest thrill of the day came when Sherwin "Shy" Raiken connected for a 375-foot home-run with none aboard in the eighth inning.

In the hitting department Algeldinger led with three base-knocks, while Kline garnered a duo of base blows, and Litwa, a pair of singles.

IM All Star Team Picked; Buckley Unanimous Choice

Austin Places Doris, Barry; Dolan, O'Brien Complete Five

Mondschein Inc., and Kluesarits

With the conclusion of the basketball season, the Intramural Committee, headed by Fr. Dunne, selected the League All-Star team. The basis of selection for nomination to the squad was made on all-around consistent play, on both offense and defense, throughout the season. Because of the fine quality of play in the league, keen competition for an All-Star berth was encountered at every position. There was little to choose between the ability of the first and second team, and even the players who received honorable mention could very easily fill in on the first team.

The only unanimous choice to the first team was Frank Buckley, Alumni's flashy forward, and league-leading scorer for both halves of the season. Buckley was also voted the most valuable player in the League in an informal poll conducted among all players. "Buckets" scored 81 points in the second half, 47 in the first half, for a total of 128 points for the season. Besides being Alumni's ace on offense, Frank was also a demon on defense and kept Alumni in the thick of the title battle.

Doris Captains All Stars

Joe Doris, runner-up for most valuable player honors was picked as guard and Captain of the All-Star team. Believed by many to be the best ball-handler in the league, Joe led his Austin team to possession of the Intramural Basketball trophy. Although not among the top individual scorers, Doris led the league in assists, and was the spark-plug of the Austin aggregation.

Teammate Bill Barry was selected for the other forward position, as running mate to Buckley. His ability to control both back-boards against bigger opponents, coupled with his accurate passing and uncanny left-handed hook shots, played an important part in Austin's triumph.

Dolan Only Frosh

The center selection was "Big Red" Dolan, of Bks. 2&3, who was the only freshman to make the team. His height made him a valuable asset, along with his outstanding ability from the pivot. In many games, Dolan acted as decoy and set up scoring plays by handing the ball off to unguarded teammates.

Rounding out the first team selection was Al O'Brien, captain of the runner-up Doms, and smallest player on the entire squad. His ability to counter field goals on sensational leaping hook-shots from midcourt, and his fine play under pressure earned him the guard position on the first team.

Second Team Choices

The second team boasts of the two runner-up men for scoring honors, Hal Diot, of Austin, and Tom Flynn, of Fedigan, at the forward slots. Diot scored 75 points in the second half regular schedule, and 46 in the first half. In the playoffs, Hal amassed 13 points against Bks. 2&3, and 25 against the Doms in the final. This gave the capable forward 159 points for the season and for the playoffs. Tom Flynn, Fedigan's tireless ace, playing with a mediocre squad, still managed to take third place in the scoring department with 105 points.

The second team center selection was Shane Creamer, of the Day Hops, a consistently-fine performer. Bill Lammer, of the Barracks 2&3,

(Continued on Page 8)

Maryland Beaten; Team Loses 2 On Road Trip

Villanova's diamond squad went on their first away trip of the season last week and managed to win one fray after dropping two close affairs to Georgetown and Navy. On Tuesday the Cats were in Washington and the Hoyas' Bobby Carrol held the Villanovans to seven hits and two runs as Georgetown triumphed, 5-2. Stan Chojnacki started on the mound but had to retire after one frame because of an arm injury. Jigger Donohue hurled the remaining eight innings and kept the Hoya batsmen completely at bay.

Moving over to Annapolis on Wednesday, the Wildcats lost a heartbreaker to the Middies, 5-4. The sailors pushed across two markers in the bottom half of the ninth as Roger Buck blooped one to center off Bob Green to bring home the winning tally.

On Thursday the Main Liners broke loose on Maryland University's Old Liners as they smashed out a 13-6 victory. Burly Al Litwa led the hit parade as he belted Terrapin twirling for a homer and two singles, driving in five runs. He also pounded out a second homer in the ninth inning which was nullified when a five-thirty curfew caused the score to revert back to the eighth. The fleet centerfielder pulled down eight fly balls during the game, several of them being of the sensational variety. Righthander Jim Marilley started on the hill, but was relieved in the first by Jigger Donohue, who turned in a creditable performance after one day's rest.

Williams College invaded the Wildcat's lair on Saturday and a fine turnout witnessed the Cats' second straight home victory. Once again it was Hen Donohue on the mound, this time as a starter. The Slender workman threw five innings and gave up but two runs before he gave way to Bobby Green, who proceeded to blind the Williamsites for the remaining four innings. Norm Kline collaborated with Litwa in the hitting department as they each lashed out long circuit clouts. Camden Al also added a double and single to his laurels and Kline picked up a line single. The victory gave the Villanova club a season's record of 3-2. Bucknell will be the next opponent, meeting the Cats at Lewisburg next Saturday.

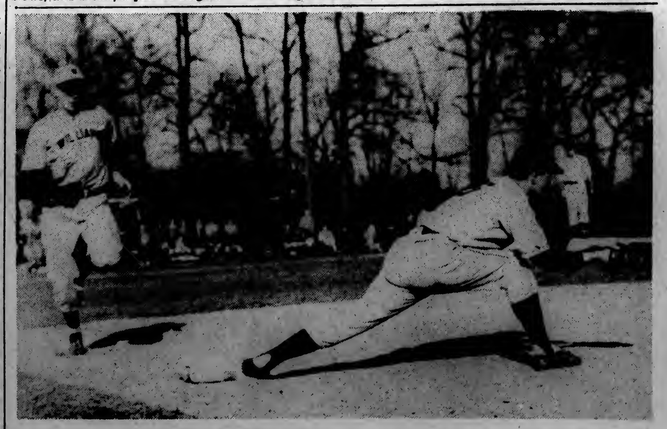
TENNIS ELIMINATION TOURNEY PLANNED

With the return of the birds and the bees, the advent of tennis rears its welcome head.

Yesterday, Fr. Dunne, Director of Intramural Athletics, announced that a Round-Robin elimination tourney will take place for the Fred Kochs trophy as soon as the condition of the courts permit.

First Year Since War

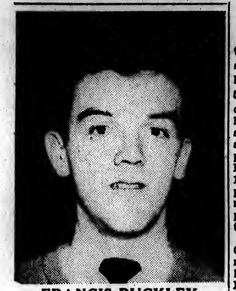
Last year, the tournament never got underway due to the rain and the weather-beaten condition of the courts. But the last two days the maintenance department have been working in an effort to whip the nine courts in playing condition.



The trophy to be awarded annually, was donated in 1946 by Fred Koch, a fine tennis player and an enthusiastic supporter of Intramural tennis. The cup will be on display all during the tournament in the show cases at the field house.

The Rules

1. Every student, except those on athletic scholarships, are elegible.
2. Each Hall and the day Hops will conduct a round robin elimination of their own. The final winner of the round robin will represent his hall in the Intramural playoffs. The winner of this tourney will receive the trophy.
3. Tennis shoes must be worn. Because basketball shoes ruin the outer surface of the courts, this rule is of the utmost importance.
4. T shirts must be worn at all time on the court.

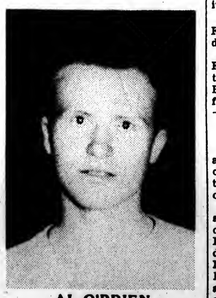


Day Hops Sign

Day Hops may sign up at the Villanovan office before this coming Friday, April 16. The pairings for the matches will also be listed here for the Dap Hops. Pairings for the other matches will be listed in their respective halls.

FRED PRICE, Classy Fielding First-Baseman, stretching for the second out of a double play against Williams. Villanoa won handily, 5-2.

Austin Trounces Doms In Championship Tilt, 64-39



FRANCIS BUCKLEY

BILL BARRY

TOM DOLAN

AL O'BRIEN

JOE DORIS

Mendschein Inc., and Kiucsaris

Austin, second-half champions of the Intramural Basketball League, steamrollered over the Doms, first-half champs, in the playoff on April 5th, to the tune of 64-39. The new champions left little doubt of their league superiority as they dominated play throughout the contest and completely outclassed their opponents in every department. Fr. Kemme's five jumped to a quick 10-0 lead in the early minutes of play before the Doms found their mark and pulled to within four points, 10-6. That was the last that the Doms were in the ball game.

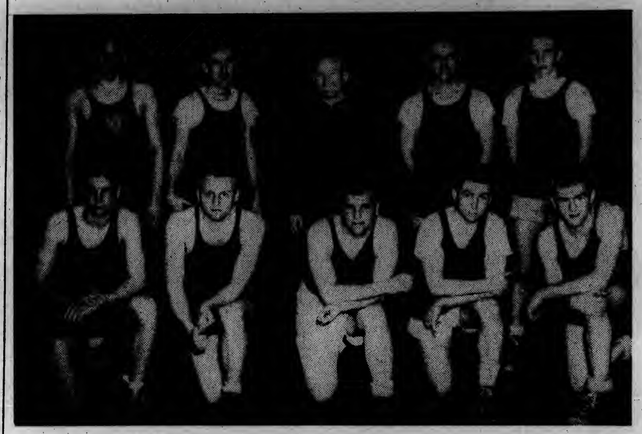
Led by the aggressive play of Capt. Joe Doris and the uncanny marksmanship of Hal Diot, Austin held a 31-17 edge at intermission. It was definitely a team victory, but it was the brilliant offensive play of Hal Diot, in particular, that turned the championship playoff into a rout. The flashy center, Austin's leading scorer for the season, dropped in 12 field goals and a foul for 25 points. This tied him for one-game point-total with Tom Flynn, of Fedigan, who also scored 25 points in one evening earlier in the season.

Behind Diot in point production came George Egan, the most improved player on the squad, who contributed 14 points, and Joe Doris, who cashed in with 12. Bill Barry played his usual stellar game and performed an excellent job of controlling both backboards. For the Doms, Capt. Al O'Brien's play was the one bright spot in an otherwise listless attack. The diminutive guard led his team's scoring with 15 points, most of them difficult jump shots, when apparently well-guarded. Bill Knecht was runner-up with 9 points.

Austin qualified for the playoffs on Thursday, April 1st, when they eliminated Bks. 2 & 3 in a playoff for the second title, 48-38. The Bks. team held the only previous decision over Austin in the second half, but fell this time before an onslaught of the seasoned Austin outfit. After holding a 25-18 half-time edge, Austin saw its lead gradually diminish in the second canto until, with three minutes remaining, the score read 40-36. At this point, Austin turned on the fireworks and racked up a safe ten-point lead in a minute and a half. George Egan led the victors' attack as he contributed 14 points and Hal Diot had 13 to show for the evening. Red Dolan, outstanding Bks. center, and Bill Lemmer, flashy forward, carried the offensive burden with 15 and 14 points, respectively.

The officials for both games were Frank Breslin and Bill Shelley who did a very commendable job.

In games played before the Easter vacation, Alumni conquered the Doms 40-39; Austin trounced Bks. 1&4, 52-28; and Bks. 2&3 defeated Fedigan 35-31.



IM All Star Team

(Continued from Page 5)

and Harry Knecht of the Doms, cinched the guard positions with their all-around fine play throughout the season.

The players selected for Honorable Mention were: Egan and Kelly of Austin; Fessler and Kempf of Doms; Kilroy and Altman of Mendel; Weber and Farley of Alumni; Loughlin and Deyak of Bks. 2&3; Frink of Fedigan; Bill Creamer and Manske, of Day Hops; Malero and Jamison, of Bks. 1&4.

AUSTIN HALL — INTRAMURAL CHAMPS

NAVY SCRIMMAGE IMPRESSES OLIVAR

Passing Attack Outstanding as 'Cats Roll Over Middies

After a sluggish opening scrimmage with Delaware which left many observers doubtful as to the capabilities of the 1948 Villanova Football team, the Cats finally justified the scheduling of ten major opponents as they rolled over Navy at Annapolis, Md., last Saturday.

Villanova really proved that they "had It" in their scrimmage with Navy which left the Middies sharing their heads and wondering if teams came any tougher.

Played on Shortened Field

In order to eliminate touchdowns, the field was shortened by a some 20 yards at each end. As soon as the offensive team reached the defenders 20 yard line, the defending team took over possession of the ball. Navy was able to reach the Villanova 20 only three times in the whole scrimmage while the Wildcats smashed their way to Navy's 20 on ten different occasions.

The Villanova passing attack clicked as it never did before with Andy Gordon tossing most of them. Bud Kane had a field day gathering in 5 out of the 6 passes thrown his way while rangy John Sheehan caught two that were good for touchdowns.

Only One Play Works

Hank Sauer's men had only one play that was consistently able to net them yardage. This was a fake pass that ended up in a line buck. Villanova was able to make yardage in every department—through the air, outside the ends and straight down the middle.

The Navy first string, quarter-backed by Bob Horne was the only squad able to match the Cats at all, showing a very serious lack of reserves.

Navy had previously trounced Temple in a scrimmage game.

'Cats Meet Phils In Pre-Opening Day Tilt

Wildcats Journey to Lewisburg to Play

With a record of 2 losses and 3 wins behind them, the Wildcat baseball squad will journey to Lewisburg this Sat., April 17th, in an attempt to garner another win at the expense of Bucknell University. This will be a traditional encounter, as our rivalry on the diamond with that school dates quite a way back, as do all our athletic relations with the Bisons. Looking back, we find that last year the Cats trounced Coach Bill Loves' charges with a resounding 7-2 decision. Naturally, Blue and White supporters are looking for a repeat performance again this year.

On Monday, April 19th, the Villanova nine will play what probably will be their "game-of-the-season." On that day, at Villanova Stadium, the squad meets the Philadelphia Phillies of the National League.

Among First to Play Major Leaguers

Although the trend among colleges in scheduling games with major-league teams is comparatively recent, Villanova has been meeting big-league teams as far back as the "90's" when the Main Liners used to play the Philadelphia A's.

(All reports seem to indicate that the Phils should have a typical Philadelphia team. Even so, a win by our squad would earn the charges of Coach Weinert a high place in the baseball world. Ed. Note.)

This week, the Phils break spring training camp and start their northward trek to begin the 1948 season. Over the week-end they meet their "Brother" team, the A's, in an intra-city series. Monday, of course, is Villanova's "Day" and finally, on Tuesday, the Phils open the big-league season against the Boston Braves in Philadelphia.

Getting back to the Villanova-Phillies game, we see a good contest with plenty of action in store. At the last meeting of the two clubs in 1946, the Phils edged out the Cats, 8-7, in what amounted to a field day for sluggers. Last year's meeting between the two squads was called because of rain.

A sidelight shows us that a little personal rivalry will be in evidence as both Ben Chapman, the Phils' manager, and our own coach, Phil Weinert, played together on the 1931 New York Yankees squad. Weinert pitched for the Yankees while Chapman patrolled the outfield. Not only that, but they both were roommates.

Besides giving the two managers a chance to talk over old times, the meeting will also provide Chapman with an opportunity to look over the possible major-league talent being developed here on the Main Line by his former teammate.

SETON HALL RELAYS OPEN OUTDR. SEASON

Penn Relays, IC4A, NYAC, Nat. AAU and Dual Meet Follow

By Harry Range

With an eye on the not-too-distant Olympic tryouts, Coach Jumbo Elliott, and the track team, open the current, outdoor season in Newark, this Saturday, with the Seton Hall relays.

Since the time of each event has not been announced, Coach Elliott is unable to say who will run in each race. However he has entered a sufficient number of men to enable the "Wildcats" to have a quartet in the following relay events spring medley, half mile, mile, two mile, four mile, distance medley, and quarter mile relay.

April 23rd and 24th will find the squad at the Penn Relays at Franklin field. It was here last year that the mile relay team of George Guida, Ed Fitzgerald, Bob Kelly and Dick Muscelli had the second fastest time of the meet in 3:21.8. The team will participate in the same events as at Seton Hall.

The following week, May 1st, will find the squad swinging South for a Triangular meet with Manhattan College, and the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. Mr. George Eastmen's boys in Kelly Green from Manhattan, who were third in the 1C44 meet, should prove to be first rate competition.

From Annapolis, the team moves to College Park, Md., for a dual meet with the University of Maryland. And then the Cats play host to Fordham University at a meet here at home on May 15.

On May 22, the Cat's journey to Orange, New Jersey, for a dual meet with Seton Hall College. The Pirates fast moving quartet of George Stafurick, Jonh Tulp, Frank Fox and Phil Paicse clocked the fastest mile relay time of the indoor season.

The track team moves to New York for two meets. On May 28 and 29, it's the 1C4A championships at Randall's Island and on June 5 for the New York A. C. games. Good competition should be provided by the nation's best.

JUNIORS!

Mr. Hampson, of Loren Murchison Co., will take final orders for class rings on Friday, April 16, from 11 to 1 in the VILLANOVAN Office

"It contained my car keys, $20 and a whole package of Dentyne Chewing Gum!"

"This dame must think I'm Dick Tracy! Nobody can resist delicious, clean tasting Dentyne Chewing Gum. Nobody can pass up that rich, long lasting flavor. She knows Dentyne helps keep teeth white and smiles bright. Yet I should find the guy who stole her Dentyne. If I could do that I'd be the D.A.!"

Dentyne Gum—Made Only By Adams

Scene at recent "Wildcat Whirl" — Funds of dance are for relief purposes.

JEANNETT'S
Bryn Mawr Flower Shop
Corsage Specialists
FREE DELIVERY
823 Lancaster Ave.
BRYN MAWR, PA.
Bryn Mawr 0570 : Flowers by Wire

Today and Wednesday
LAURENCE OLIVIER
HENRY V
Performances at 2:30-7:00-9:15 P.M.
Anthony Wayne, Wayne, Pa.

THE 5TH COLUMN

By McBride and Johnson

After three weeks of vacation, war, spring and exams, the 5th is again exposed for all to drink. Not by popular choice, mind you—our editor-in-chief was all for heaving the whole idea out the window. Rumor has it that he was going to run features on 1, the unheard of Louis de la Pie Shoppe; 2 Communism in Do-A-Ditty, La.; and 3, a pro and con series on the intrinsic merits of a .45 vs. a 3"50.

But blackmailers always win, contrary to the philosophy of Kerry Drake. Hence, here we are.

Howard Lanin—Pro or Con

After listening to all the speculation as to the "who" and "how" of Bandleader Lanin, whose orchestra will play at the Junior Prom, we decided to investigate. Here is the report:

The band is O.K.—True, they don't shed their coats and hold a volume contest halfway through the night. But rather the 24 Petrillomen make with smooth, steady and above all, danceable music straight through from 9 'til one.

(Note: After looking over the field of available orchestras which included Sammy Kaye at $2500, Carmen Cavallero, $2400; Larry Clinton, at $1250; Shep Fields, at $1250; and last but far from least, H. Lanin was the boy—a giveaway at $1200.

The band for the junior dinner dance has been passed upon. By name, Paul Judge. We wouldn't want to say he has a relative hidden away at Villanova, but that's the same band that played at the Senior dinner dance, the Rotcy Ball last Saturday night—the same eightsome that'll be heard at the VILLANOVAN D.D. Paul's a steal at $175.

Congratulations to Tom Sullivan for a swell dance, the Wildcat Whirl. Let's hope there're more of "Sign right here ....." them.

You can expect to hear a great deal of last year's football stars come this fall. Already Bill Lillenthal has signed with the Los Angeles Dons. Over in the All-America League, another "Wildcat" are set to sign at the end of the semester: Zip Zehler with the Baltimore Colts (for a rumored 6 G's),

Over in the baseball field, Jack Corr signed with the Chi White Sox 3 weeks ago. Jack pounded out a terrific .500 at a training camp in Little Rock. He starts April 18th with Oil City.

Then there's Don Collins, the president of soon-to-be activated Student Council. He hasn't signed yet, but his record of coming out 7th out of 2400 potential Law Students in a legal apptitude test should permit him to write his own ticket.

MARINE RECRUITING

Bringing his Recruiting Campaign at Villanova College to a close, Marine Captain Fairfield has announced that Wednesday, April 14th is the last day he will be available to talk with students interested in he Platoon Leaders Class, a Marine Corps officer candidate program.

Captain Fairfield urged all students who wish to take advantage of the benefits of this training to contact him at Mendel Hall, room 105 from 9:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m., daily.

PHILIP MORRIS is so much better to smoke!

The grandest smoke you've ever enjoyed!

It's true, if every smoker knew what PHILIP MORRIS smokers know . . . they'd ALL change to PHILIP MORRIS.

Yes, the PHILIP MORRIS smoker really gets what other smokers only hope to get . . . PERFECT SMOKING PLEASURE.

So for perfect smoking pleasure . . . try a pack today!

CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS

ALWAYS BETTER—BETTER ALL WAYS

HOLIDAY
The Most Talked About Pipe Mixture in America

☆ Aromatic in the pack... Aromatic in the pipe!

Holiday also comes in a 16 oz. Humi-Seal Glass Jar
Larus & Brother Company, Richmond, Virginia

HEADQUARTERS for SPRING FORMALS

John Douglass Co.
Formal Attire Rentals
Garrett Rd. Theater Bldg.
ENTRANCE: Garrett Road or Terminal Sq. : OPEN: Mon. - Wed. & Fri. Eves.
Blvd. 5957

Monday Thru Friday:
7:30 a.m. Morning Mix-Up
7:00 p.m. Music for Today
7:30 Record Rendezvous
10:00 Music To study by
11:00 Sign Off
Tuesday:
7:15 Campus Newsreel
7:20 Sports Roundup
8:00 Symphony Hall
9:00 Browsing thru the Record Library
9:30 Record Requests
Wednesday:
7:15 Campus Newsreel
7:20 Sports Roundup
8:00 Musical Comedy
8:30 Villanova Forum
9:00 South of the Border
9:30 Record Requests
Thursday:
7:15 Campus Newsreel
7:20 Sports Roundup
8:00 Symphony Hall
9:00 Record Music
9:15 Stage and Screen Review
9:30 Record Requests
Friday:
7:15 Current Gauge of Screen and Stage
8:00 Doing the Town
8:30 Friday Nite Juke Box
9:00 Let's Dance
9:30 Vocally Yours
Monday:
7:15 Campus Newsreel
7:20 Sports Roundup
8:00 Some Like it Hot
8:30 Show Time
9:00 Band of the Week
9:30 Record Requests

WHY WALK?
CLEANING PRESSING
We Pick Up and Deliver Daily at the
PIE SHOP
COLADONATO TAILOR SHOPPE

ACCOUNTING

(Continued from Page 4)

In his closing remarks, Mr. McCalla impressed on the student body the fact that there were no limits on progress in this field. Everything depended upon personal initiative, leadership, study, and application of theory to actual conditions.

The speaker has done extensive writing for various contemporary accounting journals. He is a graduate of the Wharton School, member of the Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants and is very active in Institute affairs.

ITALY . . .

(Continued from Page 3)

liberty; who have been trying to divest him of Trieste's great shipyards, who have stolen sixty billion lire of manufactured goods from his shipwrecked economy; who have asked for ⅓ his fleet.

We Twentieth Century Americans have an important page in our heritage entitled "Rome". We who have benefitted from Roman law and most especially from Christian principles are watching and hoping for ours and the world's sake that today's Rome will withstand this newest crisis, but we must stand ready and willing to help.

YOUNG MEN

Unusual opportunity. Learn to sell Home improvement. In great demand. Part time or full time this summer. We train you. Contact Mr. McDonald.

BETTER HOME IMPROVEMENT CO.
ARDMORE, PENNA.
Phone: Ardmore 6975

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 23 — No 19 VILLANOVA COLLEGE, VILLANOVA, PA, Tuesday April 20, 1948

FATHER KLEKOTKA TO PRESIDE OVER SCIENCE FORUM

Villanovan Moderator to Guide Seminar at LaSalle College

Rev. John A. Klekotka, O.S.A., moderator of the Villanovan, has been selected to preside as chairman of the physics branch of the Catholic Round Table of Science, that will be held May 6th, at La Salle College.

This will be the first meeting of the organization since before the war; when it held its last meeting, at Mount Mercy, Pittsburgh.

The six local Catholic colleges

HONORED

REV. JOHN A. KLEKOTKA

and the Catholic high schools will send science professors to represent them at this meeting.

Father Klekotka was invited to fill the position of chairman by Brother John, F.S.C., of LaSalle College, who, along with the help of Mother Mary Chrysostom, S.H.C.J., of Rosemont College, was instrumental in the re-establishing of this science seminar.

The conference will be divided into three sections to discuss the different aspects and problems of Biology, Chemistry and Physics. A report will be given by the research units of Chestnut Hill and Immaculata Colleges.

Father Klekotka has been moderator of the college publication for the past fours years, and is an instructor in the Department of Electrical Engineering. He is also a member of the Institute of Radio

(Continued on Page 8)

D. COLLINS SEVENTH IN NATIONAL TEST

In a nation-wide, legal-aptitude test conducted by The Educational Testing Service, College Entrance Examination Board, Don Collins, ex-editor of the Villanovan and one-time President of the Student Council, graced himself and Villanova College by placing seventh in the nation. The test was open to 2771 law school applicants of all ages and degrees and was administered at sixty-eight examination centers in forty-eight states. First honors went to Harlon Fiske, III, a senior at the University of Michigan.

Don Collins, who graduates in June with an A.B. in English, hopes to continue his studies at Penn Law School. In addition to his activities in the Student Council and the Villanovan, he has been associated with the Dramatic and Debating Societies, was the chairman of the Senior Prom committee of 1946, and was a member of the Varsity Football Squad in 1943. During the war Don served in the Marine Corps.

Summer Session Begins June 28

The Villanova College Bulletin, of May, announces that the Summer Session for this year will begin on Monday, June 28th, at 8:30 a.m., on a five-days-a-week basis until August 6th. Registration will be held at the College on Friday and Saturday, June 25th and 26th, from 9 a.m. till 4 p.m.

There will be courses given at Hallahan Catholic Girls High School, 19th and Wood Streets in Philadelphia. These will begin on Monday, June 21st, at 9 a.m. Unlike those mentioned above, these courses will be conducted on a six-days-a-week basis. They will run until July 23. Registration will be held in the Hallahan High School on June 19th from 9 a.m. till noon.

Any students who wish to get a room on the Campus for the summer are urged to make early reservations.

All courses taught in the Summer Session will be on a college or graduate level, and will carry the credits accordingly. Candidates for degrees may not earn more than six semester hours of credit during any Summer Session. These credits may be applied to Bachelor degrees in Arts, Science in Education, Nursing, Nursing Education, and Library Science, and to Masters degrees in Arts and Sciences.

JOURNALISTS WILL DINE AND DANCE AT ANNUAL FEAST

Nick Marziani Named Chairman; Paul Judge Provides Music

The Adelphia Roof Garden has been selected by the Committee as the site for the Annual Villanovan Dinner Dance, to be held on Saturday evening, April 24th, at 7:30 p.m.

The Committee headed by Nicholas Marziani has engaged the music of Paul Judge, who turned in a creditable performance at the Navy Ball, last Saturday evening at the Barclay Hotel.

CHAIRMAN

NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI

Rev. John A. Klekotka, O.S.A., moderator of the newspaper, will award keys at that time to deserving members of the staff who have proved their interest in the newspaper. The members slated to re-

(Continued on Page 8)

Marx vs. Christ, Kersten's Theme

Schools Are Great Battlefield of Conflict Against Communism Says Congressman; College President Speaker at Convocation.

VILLANOVA TO JOIN NFCCS CONVENTION

The National Convention of the N.F.C.C.S. will hold its most important meeting of the year at the Penn-Sheraton Hotel in Philadelphia, from Thursday, April 22nd to Sunday, April 25th. Almost all of the nation's Catholic colleges will be represented.

The agenda includes a review of the past year's accomplishments and formulation of plans for the coming year. A committee will be formed to express the views of the N.F.C.C.S. and to make recommendations to the proper channels. Finally, election of new officers and a few changes in the policy of the organization will take place.

Villanova will be represented by John Stanley, Kevin McChesney, and Herman Diesel. However, all students are cordially invited to attend every phase of the convention. Various subjects of interest to the students will be discussed at all of the meetings.

Rev. George McLaughlin, O.S.A., is the moderator of the campus unit of the national council. Future delegates to the N.F.C.C.S. will be elected at the time of other student elections.

CORRECTION!

Noon day Mass will continue throughout the remainder of the Spring semester. Daily Masses will be said at 6, 7, 7:30, 8 and 12:10

Confessions will be heard during the 7, 7:30 and 12:10 Masses

"The battlefield of the conflict between Marxism and civilization is being fought in the educational institutions of our land and abroad," said Charles J. Kersten, Congressman from Wisconsin, who was the principal speaker at the Student Convocation, last Thursday afternoon. The assembly of students was sponsored by the National Federation of Catholic College Students whose program was concerned with presenting the seriousness of

DENOUNCES

REP. CHAS. J. KERSTEN

Communist infiltration on two continents, Europe and America.

Congressman Kersten, because of his experience in the political-labor field, was well able to discuss the problem posed by Communistic activity. The Congressman is leading majority member of the House Labor Committee, chief sponsor of labor and management participation in the Marshall Plan, and was also chairman of the sub-committee in the investigation of the Communist activities of the Allis-Chalmers Union in Wisconsin. Representative Kersten garnered a wealth of information concerning European labor conditions while touring Europe as a representative of the House Labor Committee.

After a bit of humor, the Congressman immediately entered into the serious side of his talk. A few of the important points of his speech are given below.

The talk began with an outline of Communistic strategy in Europe and some of the Communistic theo-

(Continued on Page 7)

Early Life of St. Ignatius Loyola Portrayed on Radio

The Belle Air Players of the Chaplain's Corner will present a new play, The Service of the King, a dramatic presentation of the early manhood of Saint Ignatius Loyola, Thursday night, at nine o'clock over campus station WVIL.

The play is part of the regularly scheduled series of broadcasts presented for the benefit of the students of the Chaplain's Corner. The object of these broadcasts is to present real historical and religious entertainment of the highest calibre.

The Service of the King was written exclusively for this presentation. The attempt was made to present accurately and with interest that time of Saint Ignatius' life during which he reached the decision to forsake the secular life and follow the path of Christ.

The choice of Saint Ignatius' life for dramatization was made for two reasons, first, because of the intrinsic dramatic quality of that saint's life, and second, because of the greatness of his works.

The projected plan is to present a series of these skits, each one depicting an incident in the life of a saint, an incident of moment in the Catholic Church. This object, if not exactly daring, is certainly ambitious.

The play was written and directed by A. J. Mullen, and the information was collected from the sources in the Villanova College library. Ted Doyle acted as program director, and Peter McManus as technical advisor on Spanish pronunciations.

The cast of characters includes Peter McManus as leading character, supported by Don Collins, Louis Mecariello, Joe Hennessey, John Bauman, Joe Kenney, and Jack Applegate.

The play is produced, as are all the programs sponsored by the Chaplain's Corner, by Rev. Edwin T. Grimes, O.S.A., Chaplain of the college.

Principal figures of Convocation conclude a brief tour of campus. From left: Rev. X. N. McGuire, Mrs. Kersten, Congressman Kersten.

In This Issue . . . .

MISS ANNE KEELER
(Junior Prom Candidate)
See Page Three

Page Two CITY HALL
Page Three EXCLUSIVE
Page Four CLUB NEWS
Page Five SETON HALL RELAYS

THIS COLLEGIATE LIFE

There's something about home life for which college-living can never make up. It's an old human failing that the grass always looks greener on the other side of the fence. We'll sit in our rooms on a particularly dull day and feel lower than low. Then the gripes will start to pour out. Give them full sway for an hour or so, and when you're done, things don't look bad at all. In fact you might hear us give out with a snatch of song once in a while. It's not like home but then it's not too bad either.

Did you ever stop to think that most of us have made our formal break from home? Don't take this wrong. I'm not advocating patricide but when we reflect, we see that things will never be the same for us. We're becoming used to it now.

We'll graduate from school and be off on our own. We won't ask for much help. We'll be independent. Comparatively speaking the standards of life at a college are quite high. If we feel like going to a movie we can always find company just down the hall. Maybe we've got our work done and want to step out for a while to see the fights. There are always plenty of takers just next door.

So, leaving all educational consideration aside, and coming down to it, we're not really as bad off as we may claim to be. It's not like home but then it's not too bad either.

AND EARLY BIRDS

Old sages have so rightly put it, "The early bird catches the worm." Maybe the worm is not as important to human beings, but rising early has many treasures for an ambitious human.

There is something inspiring and uplifting about seeing the early morning sun come triumphantly from out of the East and banish night into the West.

There is something refreshing about a cool morning breeze whispering in one's face, as it hurries on its way across green grasses.

There is something solemn and deep about the quiet of morning when all is at rest and yet the solemnity is not mournful.

There is the unusual and rich blue of the sky as yet untarnished with clouds and smoke.

There are the tall pines on the hillside reaching majestically to heaven, maintaining their eternal vigilance.

There is the trickling and gurgling of the country brook which has toiled unceasingly through the long night.

There is beauty in the morning that no earthly artist could capture.

There is majesty.

There is the feeling of glorious victory over the long night.

There is the closeness to God which the high noon and midnight never see or feel.

And yes, there are the early birds.

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

JOHN A. McDERMOTT '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
FRANK J. GUZIKOWSKI '49 ..... Managing Editor
PAT LAFERTY '49 ..... News Editor
JAMES PLUNKETT '49 ..... Sports Editor
GEORGE SZYMANSKI '50 ..... Copy Editor
NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI, '48 ..... Business Manager
DANIEL ROBINSON '49 ..... Picture Editor
VINCE PEDANO '49 ..... Circulation Manager

WRITERS

William Chester, John Murphy, Edward Oxford, Paul O'Brien, Eamon Walsh, Roland Marshall, William Carroll, Joseph Kenney, John Bauman, Jack Applegate.

REPORTERS

Peter Gutwald, Joseph Rath, Anthony Mullen, Al Abreu, Michael Nowlan, Jack Connelly, John D'Orazio, Thomas Mitchell, George Schroll, John Kane, Frank Gohea, George Reinhart.

SPORTS

Harry Range, William Canino, Neal Fahy, James Lyons, Ray Mondschein, George Mondscein, William Klucsaritis, Ray Mac Williams.

COPY

William Foley, Edgar LeBlanc, Walter Rygiel.

PICTURE

George Winters, Robert Graf, Robert Pope, W. Neal Carter, William Murphy, Jack Muvatovl, Al Delago, Leo Dodds, Emil Meyer, Dick Hudak.

BUSINESS

Barry Gibbons, Jack Gibbons.

CIRCULATION

Ralph Iorio, Paul Schweither Jr., Maurice J. Wilhere, George Weber, Gene Langan, Ralph Skowron, Mario Piazzolla, Charles Clunk, William Coakley.

CLEANING HOUSE

Judging from the outcome, the City administration really put its foot in it when it appointed the Committee of Fifteen. The purpose of the committee was to investigate possible sources of additional revenue, and to come up with suggestions. The usual thing, of course, would be to suggest a new tax, and the administration would be able to point to an impartial committee when the constituents began to complain. The Committee of Fifteen, however, turned out to be a group of men who actually investigated.

The findings of these gentlemen are becoming more and more embarrassing to City Hall, and you can rest assured that it will think twice before it appoints another "investigating" committee. There is the case of the port. The city has not dredged the river from the main channel to the piers, with the result that there are only two piers along the entire waterfront capable of handling heavily laden ocean-going cargo ships. The advantages of our fresh water location have been neglected so much that now some shipbuilders are moving to other locations because of the harmful effect of the polluted Delaware. A yacht company complains that new yachts need a re-painting after completing the trip from the Port to the Bay. Some companies tell of their crews getting sick from the foul odors off the Delaware. The Navy has talked of moving because of the harmful effect of our "fresh" water on steel hulls. There is the story of the police department that has suddenly seen fit to find some sixty men hidden away in "sunshine" jobs after the committee published its report.

The whole gist of the report is that the city could find more revenue if it cleaned its own house a little, than it would be able to get from a new tax. This is the kind of thing that Philadelphians must be made aware of. This is the kind of investigating that the people deserve.

College men by reason of their role as future intelligent citizens should be expected to keep abreast of the local political situation in their communities and to use their prestige and talents to lead the community to a greater interest and concern over their government.

The college man realizes that the common belief of "What can I, a single person, do?" is fatal. He realizes that corrupt politics is actually the fault of an apathetic citizenry, and only to a lesser degree of unscrupulous individuals. No political dynasty has stood on its own. It stands either on the people's will or on its lack of interest. Keeping it close to the people's will is a job that we must accept, and of which we can be justly proud.

JAM

Campus Calendar

Wednesday, April 21—VILLANOVA vs. Army—There.
Thursday, April 22—Chess Club—215 Mendel—7:30 p.m.
Friday and Saturday, April 23 and 24—Penn Relays—Franklin Field.
Saturday, April 24—VILLANOVA vs. Muhlenberg—Allentown.
—VILLANOVAN Dinner Dance—Adelphia Hotel—8:00 p.m.
—Rosemont Junior Prom—Rosemont.
Tuesday, April 27—Next Issue of the Villanovan.

German Education

Third in a Series

By PAUL O'BRIEN

Because the war changed many things, we must examine the German educational system as it existed in pre-Hitler Germany. Whatever has been wrought in the years succeeding the accession of Hitler to power is necessarily important to us. What we must know is that the German system of the second decade had a profound effect on our own system, and that the same system has some significance in the question of political shiftings in the Reich.

The general foundation of intellectual education in Germany is laid in a group of institutions which are identical in type; their names "Gymnasium" (that's right), "Realgymnasium," "Oberrealschule," "Studienanstalt," represent variations in the emphasis of the curriculum or the sex of the pupils. These secondary schools receive boys or girls at the age of ten and deliver them nine years later to the university and higher technical schools prepared for the special training there that is to make them doctors, lawyers, teachers, engineers or other public servants. All secondary education in Germany is integrated to a degree that is met with in no other country we have reviewed so far. All institutions of the secondary type look toward the university, which is their guiding influence, and with which they have always been closely associated.

The progress in nine years is considerably great. Once a subject is started, it is never dropped. Necessarily, therefore, the formal curriculum is one of great apparent simplicity: religion, German, three foreign languages, history, geography, mathematics, natural science and drawing constitute the nine-year diet which is fed the German student. The simplicity of these lines of curriculum is supplemented by an intensification of the subject under study. Although the system is not disorganized, there is ample allowance of concentration and even over-emphasis upon one particular branch of work. One may devote ninety year-hours to Latin and Greek, while another spends eighty on science and mathematics and takes no classics, yet the first will have fifty hours of science and math in a nine-year course that knits in the important features of these fields into one significant whole. The pupil of the classical "Gymnasium" spends more time solely on Latin and Greek than the American high school pupil would if he were to study nothing else throughout his entire high school course.

Usually, each school is concerned with one specific field. The "Oberrealschule" is devoted to the study of modern languages, science and mathematics, while the "Gymnasium" is generally a classical school. This division of schools tends to make the institute smaller in student enrollment and much more exclusive than our own. A school with seven hundred pupils distributed over nine years is considered unwieldly. The average size in 1922 was less than four hundred with a maximum of eight hundred. In Berlin, the average is somewhat greater, 473.

Between the higher secondary schools and the continuation schools lies a parallel group of "middle schools," inaugurated in 1872. They usually have a six-year course above the "Grundschule," and carry a pupil to the age of sixteen. Many of them are private, and prepare for the higher schools; the majority of the pupils are girls. The teachers come from both the normal schools and the university.

Next week we shall attempt to examine to a greater extent the system by way of reviewing the procedure following the secondary stage, which is the university, and its comparable institutes of technology. (To be Continued)

EXCLUSIVE!

By FRANK GUZIKOWSKI

Ed. Note.—Just before Congressman Charles J. Kersten left the Villanova campus, while waiting for the rest of his party to assemble, he gave this writer a few moments of his time in which his impressions of his visit to Villanova are recorded.

Query: Just what is your impression of Villanova, Mr. Kersten?"

Reply: "I think Villanova was a very pleasant surprise to my wife and myself. Having never been here before, I didn't know just what to expect. I am very much pleased."

Query: "What do you think of our campus, especially now that Spring's touches are becoming apparent?"

Reply: "I am of the opinion and will go on record as saying that Villanova has one of the finest college campuses that I have ever seen. I note that new buildings are under construction and it is evident that they, too, will enhance the beauty of the campus."

Query: "Will you tell me, Sir, just what you thought of the non-physical aspects of the campus?"

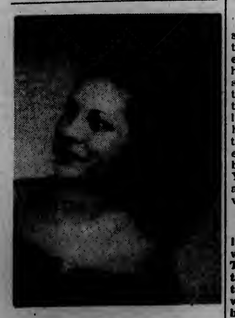
Reply: "I am very much impressed with the intelligent attitude evinced by all of you. I am especially mindful of the excellent Navy program here for the training of officers. I think other schools would do well to obtain like units as factors in our country's long-range preparedness program."

Query: "What do you think a college paper can do with regard to combatting Communism?"

Reply: "Take papers like the Daily Worker and follow their lines, showing how many of the things they say are untrue. Truth means nothing to them. Analyze their statements. Show where they're wrong."

Query: "What do you think of our proposed series in the Villanovan concerning the presidential candidates?"

Reply: "Something like that should prove extremely valuable. I feel that all college students should take an intelligent interest in politics. Your paper can help foster this. It has been a pleasure speaking to you, Mr. Guzikowski. I see that the rest of my party is waiting so I had better leave. I hope I have been of some help to you and your readers. Thank you!"



Reply: "Thank you, Mr. Kersten. I am sure our readers will appreciate your words."

I might add that Mr. Kersten looked a bit tired from his full round of activities. In meeting the representative, I had the pleasure of being introduced to his wife. She proved to be very pleasant and charming. My impression was that they both enjoyed their visit. I hope they shall visit us again.

Father Klekotka

(Continued from Page 1)

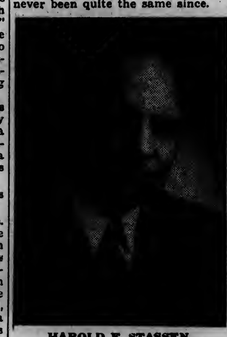
Engineers and the A.S.M.E. He is one of the few members of the faculty that graduated from Villanova as a lay student. After graduation he joined the Augustinian Order. He received his Masters degree from Catholic University, in Washington, D. C., and pursued further special studies at the University of Pennsylvania.

MISS EILEEN BELGER, another contestant in the Junior Week Prom Princess contest.

Profile Of A Candidate
Harold E. Stassen

by Ed Oxford

(First in a series on the leading presidential contenders).



Less than two years ago Harold E. Stassen returned from Pacific fleet duty and decided to run for President of the United States. Political patriarchs wrote off the ambitious ex-governor as a brash dreamer; a political "youngster" with no backing. This month he stunned the experts, crashed to brilliant primary victories in Wisconsin and Nebraska, and threatened with a sudden popular backing to sweep the entire country.

Today the busy big man is busier than ever; he gets fifty speaking invitations a week, a hundred letters a day, works sixteen hours a day, seven days a week, earns forty thousand dollars a year.

This man of the political hour is as American as the free vote.

Harold E. Stassen is 6'3", 220 lbs. of mobile brawn sprung from the deep heart of the Minnesota grain fields. He was born just 41 years ago in the rickety St. Paul farmhouse his Norwegian-Czech-German ancestors built room-by-room. The boy ran a vegetable road-stand, raised pigeons, rabbits, and guinea pigs to help the farm, won prizes for his vegetables at state fairs—all before he was 13. A rural prodigy, he finished high school at 14, and was an honor student at the University of Minnesota. To earn his way through law school Stassen worked at every odd job—grocery clerk, bakery pan-greaser, conductor on the Chicago-Milwaukee, farmer at home to aid his ailing father.

Six months after winning his LL.B. in 1930 he was elected County Attorney of the Dakota Governor in recognition of his work as precinct worker, delegate, and founder of the Young Republicans in Minnesota. He cracked several deadly strikes so effectively he was re-elected, and in 1931 the newcomer ran for Governor of Minnesota. Stassen faced the Old Guard Republicans and the powerful Farmer-Laborites and as 2 years ago on announcing his presidential plans was given little chance. He romped to win by 291,000 votes and at 31 became one of the youngest governors in American history Minnesota has never been quite the same since.

HAROLD E. STASSEN

. . . "I tell you I have a great hope in the people, I am optimistic about the future . . ."

His achievements as Governor of the State were unexampled: He ended the dangerous Farmer-Labor regime; he fought communists to a standstill and personally broke up one of their mobs; he abolished the Spoils System and cut State employees by a third; he turned a 3½ million dollar deficit into a 3 million dollar surplus; he wrote a Labor Peace Act which is still widely copied and brought labor order to Minnesota. The number of strikes dropped 70%, while the nation's rose 100%. In 1939 the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce named him "Outstanding young man of the year." "Stassen upped milk prices for his depression-hit farmers and so completely won over the people that he was able to carry the G. O. P. to victory three times in his state while the Democratic party dominated the nation.

The youthful ex-lawyer established warn-born "A" awards for Minnesota farmers who increased food production and in one year one hundred thousand farmers had won a Stassen "A". Sail the Philadelphia Bulletin of the Minnesota leader:

"A Governor he proved himself an able administrator and a successful sponsor of public reforms. He is progressive and courageous."

He warned the people during his second term he would resign for war service, but they elected him anyway. He resigned during his third term to enter the Navy, and served two years as Assistant Chief of Staff under Admiral Halsey in the Pacific, participating in five major naval battles, winning the Legion of Merit and the Bronze Star. Said Halsey:

"I found Captain Stassen a man of unusual administrative ability, quick to learn naval procedure, and effective in getting things done. He displayed cool courage in emergency and was well liked by his associates."

"It was those final weeks in Japan," he recalls, "the sight of men who had been imprisoned and brutally treated for two or three years . . . it was then I reached the conclusion that put me where I am today."

Since then he has travelled two hundred thousand miles in meeting the people of thirty-seven states, has given seventy-five full-dress speeches, 450 informals, zoomed through sixteen foreign countries, and even spoke personally to Josef Stalin, to see at first hand Communism in action.

(Continued on Page 6)

COLLEGE WHIRL
with Gus

This week, we're fortunate in being right next to one of those beautiful girls whose pictures have been entered in the contest. We won't move over, so don't crowd in. Everyone's comfortable the way things are.

• • •

The Miami Hurricane finally gave us a break by adding an other than a female picture to their list of front page highlights. The personage shoving the ladies aside was Andy Gustafson, the new football man down in the azalea country. (We guess they have them there. They had 'em in Mississippi.) He comes from Army's backfield spot. On the back pages we noticed something interesting—the fact that Hank Foldberg and Arnold Tucker are going to give their exboss a hand in spring practice. They figure on using the "T" quite a bit but I know a couple of Main Line lads who are pretty adept at it, too. We'll prove how right I am when we tame those 'Canes down to gentle Southern breezes next fall.

• • •

At the University of Virginia, some 2000 students signed a petition asking that a University Tavern Club be allowed to exist. It so happens that we hold a membership in a similar organization. The thing about ours is the fact that there are no dues, anyone can belong, no papers to sign, and we have a swell time. So, when you're tired of spending those few GI shekels on women, drop in to see the boys. Yeh, down the road a bit. Your buddies'll be there, and you'll at least hear a jingle in your jeans when you leave.

• • •

At St. Louis University, the Billikens held a mock election in which Vandenberg-Stassen and Truman-Arnold were chosen to head their respective tickets. Looks like those boys don't have a thing to do with anything that even hints of being military.

• • •

We'll steal something from the Rider News (Trenton, N. J.) since it might soon be applying in many cases among the Wildcats.

1st Student: "Will you take my sister to the dance?"

2nd Student: "Is she good looking?"

1st Student: "I'll pay all expenses."

2nd Student: "Sorry, I've got a date."

• • •

Over at Muhlenberg, the Marines are boosting enlistments in their Platoon Leaders class by pointing out how candidates might be exempt from the draft. Well, I might inherit a thousand dollars tomorrow!

• • •

The Jerseyites at Montclair State Teachers' College also petitioned for a traffic light. Deciding that time was when lights were a big issue in the Villanovan, we investigated and discovered:

The township contacted the state. The state contacted the township. The state made a survey. The state contacted the township. The township contacted the police. The police contacted the township giving an accident report. The township contacted the state. And there we lost track.

• • •

Here's a definition of quietness for you who are boarders: "Butterfly doing pushups on a lemon meringue pie."

And St. Paul's College in Winnipeg, Canada, speaks of romance: "Theirs was a beef stew romance. (Pardon if this sounds crude.) She was always the one to beef And he was eternally stewed."

• • •

The boys from Notre Dame aren't content with only one queen for their Junior Prom. They have two. The chairman tells us that here at Villanova, since the pictures have been coming in, he's not getting much work done. All of his buddies are perpetually visiting him. Why not toss your girl's picture in the ring. . . Fedigan, Room 115. You might even give Kev a little sales talk.

• • •

The school year does something to a fellow. . . Just about this time things begin to drag. The other night we were making our nightly patrol, a friend and I, from the Pie Shop up towards Alumni's penthouse. . . The weather must have bothered him because he said: "This place has no class! Let's go into Bryn Mawr where there's some life." See what I mean. . . Huh. . .

• • •

The St. John's College "Torch" has an article concerning the difficulties encountered in the New York subway system. They pay a scant five pennies. They've never been in Philly.

• • •

The students at Marquette U. seem to be having a multiplicity of Dinner Dances. I'll daresay that none will compare with the VILLANOVAN offering this Saturday night. There'll be some fifty lucky femmes cavorting with the would-be copy boys. For the latter it's quite an achievement, culminating a year of hard work. It's not meant as recompense, being more a token of appreciation. We know a fellow and a girl who are looking forward to a swell evening. We'll see you there. . . . . .

MISS BARBARA WATTS will vie with others for top spot in the Junior Week doings.

THE 5TH COLUMN

By McBride and Johnson

After the little talk by Congressman Kersten at the Convocation last Thursday, we burnt all our red ties and even our "Wallace for President" badges. In fact, we heard that one engineering soph, who took it all to heart, has cancelled his subscription to the Philadelphia Inquirer because it was read.

WEEK-END REVIEW

Cervantes never had it quite so bad. Last Saturday night, at the Norristown Elks Club, close to 100 Pseudo senors and senoritas tanked and tangoed in memory of the Spanish Shakespeare. . . Personally, we never thought the affair would come off. Last Wednesday, Dick Altman was running around with the Spanish Club's funds looking for a good tip at Havre De Grace.

Johnny Goldschmidt and his Mendel Medico Frat, the LMD, had their annual clam-bake at Palumbo's the same night. Palumbo's—that's the spot that's all-out to break the high cost of living, only 60c per coke.

WEEK-END PREVIEW

How smooth can you get TONY MULLEN is attempting the impossible this coming Saturday p.m. He's catching both the VILLANOVAN Dinner Dance and the Rosemont Prom the same night. Incidentally, rumor has it that Tony is replacing Ed Sullivan as mohof No. 1 at our sister (?) school.

Wildcat! Says Who?

The other day we journeyed over to the other side of the Pike to take a looksee at Count Villian III. From all reports he's ready to pace up and down his cage again this fall, much to the amusement of all the television fans.

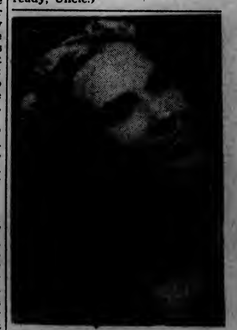
However, if you think the Wildcat, representing the rough and tough football team, was mild and tame last year, you should see him now. While we were there, "Clyde Beatty" Kaiser offered the Count a steak but he would have no part of it. He cried and pouted until we brought him his luke-warm Mother's Oats.

Odds & Ends

Bill Doherty doesn't need an alarm clock any more. It seems Jiggers Donahue has been performing the chores notably. He gives Bill a slight charlie-horse every a.m.—just to prove who is the tougher. • • •

This is what I call an operator. . . . A certain fellow from Mendel's 3rd floor had the following engagements this week-end:

He was invited to two separate weddings and receptions, both taking place at the same time.



He was to attend the Spanish Dinner Dance.

Two different girls had asked him to the Bryn Mawr College Junior Prom.

He was asked to attend a party.

All of these things took place at the same time. The last time we saw him he was turning somersaults and frothing at the mouth. His dying words: "Why does this have to happen to me all at once!

Joe Kenney finally got Marge Welsh to cough up the money for a ticket to the Spanish fiasco. . . A peasant time was had. . . So we'll say Saludos amigos, benissime, or whatever they say down south of the Rio. . . (And I was going to Colombia to avoid the draft. . . I'm ready, Uncle.)

MRS. LILLIAN SELFRIDGE, a lovely in the Prom Princess Parade, competing for honors.

Alumni Office Processes Part-time Job Applicants

NOTE: The phrase, "Part-Time Employment," as used by the Villanova Placement Office, refers to both short-hour after school jobs and full-time temporary positions of a summer nature.

At present, the part-time needs of most companies are slow. The intensive training programs and the labor unions are making it difficult to secure part-time jobs. The Placement Office is, however, attempting to secure the contacts that will place both students in part-time employment and Alumni in full-time positions.

There have been some summer prospects received recently. Applications are being checked for qualified men for these positions. Students who wish to file an application for a part-time job can call at room 221 Mendel Hall, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The main purpose of the Placement Office is to place a student in the position that is commensurate with his studies and for the best interests of his future. Jobs must not interfere with studies. The latter would not apply to those who seek a part-time summer job.

About the middle of April, Mr. Friel, the Placement Director, will begin to interview all seniors who graduate this June with reference to prospective employment. This applies to all seniors, even though they may have already secured a position on their own. Those seniors who have not already done so are requested to fill out a Qualification Record form, so that the records of the Placement Bureau and the Alumni records may be complete.

SOCIETY ADVISORS SELECT CHAIRMAN

Last Tuesday the Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants held a luncheon meeting at the Midday Club in Philadelphia. Rev. J. Bartley, OSA, Dean of the C&F School; Prof. L. Schaefer, Mr. Henry McCaffrey, Mr. J. Linsalata, and the College Advisory Committee were entertained at the luncheon by Harry C. Zug, Chairman of the Educational Committee.

Mr. Carl Zipf, partner of Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery, was chosen chairman of the College advisory committee.

Mr. Zug outlined the various activities which could be carried on as a basis for developing liaison between educational groups and the accounting profession. The Chairman stressed the importance of speeches before undergraduate students to enlist interest and acquaint them with technical subjects that would supplement the theoretical curricula.

The next meeting of the College Accounting Society will be held on Wednesday, April 21st, at 2 p.m. in the C&F Auditorium. Mr. Zug will address the meeting at that time.

NOTICE

Monday, April 26th, is the feast of our Mother of Good Counsel, the patroness of schools. Solemn High Mass will be celebrated in the college chapel at 7:00 a.m. Wednesday morning, with Rev. Michael Donnel, O.S.A., as celebrant.

LKD TURNS SOCIAL AT DINNER DANCE

Frank Palumbo's Banquet Room was the scene of the dinner dance of the LKD Fraternity, Saturday evening, April 17th. This was the first dance sponsored by the fraternity since the end of the war, and it is intended that it will become an annual affair.

The dinner was served cabaret style with three couples at each table. Several novelty acts were provided, as well as a continuous dance music after the dinner. Fr. Ludwig, moderator of the fraternity, offered the invocation.

One of the highlights of the affair was the presentation of favors to the girls attending. Keys of the fraternity were chosen as suitable mementos.

Among the guests were: Rev. Francis Ludwig, O.S.A.; Dr. and Mrs. McClain, and Dr. and Mrs. Gero.

Arrangements were in charge of Chairman Harris Cotten, assisted by Ted Garcia, Vince Pica, John Goldschmidt, and Dom Longo.

JUNIORS!

Corsages for Mothers' Day are to be ordered at the Information Desk in Mendel Hall. Orders should be placed no later than Thursday, April 22rd. Orders will be taken between 11:30 and 1:00 Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Band Concert Is Added Feature In Junior Week

Something new, a band concert, has been added to Junior Week. Announcement of this and other plans and arrangements, was made last week. The Villanova Band and Glee Club will present a program of light music, Tuesday, May 4th, in the Field House.

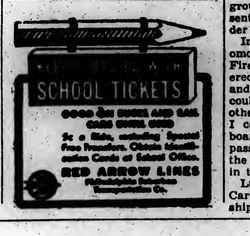
The concert, which will be the second one that the musical organization has given here, will begin at 8:00 p.m., Tuesday, May 4th. The concert is sponsored by the Junior Class for the enjoyment of class members, their relatives and friends. There will be no admission charged.

Tickets for all the events of Junior Week will be available at the Information Booth in Mendel Hall from 10-3 each week-day until Junior Week. Arrangements for the Mother's Day corsages may also be made at the Mendel Information Booth. A seating plan for the Junior Dinner Dance will also be available.

Before the formal dances at the end of Junior Week, there will also be an informal Blazer Ball. The Villanovans will provide the music in the Field House from 9-1, Wednesday night, May 9th. Since the day following the Blazer Ball is Ascension Thursday, the local girls' colleges will grant late permission.

OFFICER CANDIDATES ON NAVY YARD TRIP

Last week several groups of students made a trip to the Navy Yard to view ships and activities covered in classroom work. Both NROTC students and naval engineers journeyed to the Yard during the regular drill period on Tuesday. Four destroyers from the twelfth Destroyer Division were were among those visited.



The naval engineers inspected the engineering department of the USS Gaynard. The senior ROTC students, one of three ROTC groups that made the trip from Villanova, covered a damage control drill and toured a converted submarine, the USS Dogfish. The sophomores inspected the Gunnery and Fire Control department of the USS Dickson, while the Freshmen were taken on a complete tour of the USS Hugh Purvis and the USS Compton to indoctrinate them for their first cruise this summer.

The senior midshipmen observed a damage control drill held for their benefit. Problems such as flooding, fire and broken electric lines were presented to a training group who met the situation presented them and made repairs under simulated battle conditions.

In two separate groups, the sophomores inspected the Gunnery and Fire control department. One covered radar control, gun mounts, and all of that department that could be seen on the top side. The other group discussed the Mark I computer, the telephone circuit board, and the master gyro compass in the plotting room. Later, the two groups exchanged places in the demonstration sections.

Lt. Commanders Little, John and Carlson were in charge of the midshipmen.

HEADQUARTERS for SPRING FORMALS
John Douglass Co.
Formal Attire Rentals
Garrett Rd. Theater Bldg.
ENTRANCE: Garrett Road or Terminal Sq. OPEN: Mon. - Wed. & Fri. Eves. Blvd. 5957

THE Bouquet Shop
"Flowers That Are Pleasantly Different"
Lancaster Ave. at Roberts Ave., Bryn Mawr, Pa.
Flowers By Wire
BRYN MAWR 2422

"Beg Your Pardon"
It's RUSS MORGAN'S top Decca Record!
B. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.
It's Morgan at his best... sweet swing at its best... in this new Decca platter.
When it comes to cigarettes, Russ says in his typical Morgan Manner, "Camels suit my 'T-Zone' to a 'T.'"
Millions of smokers agree with Russ about Camels. More people are smoking Camels than ever before.
Try Camels on your "T-Zone"—Find out for yourself why, with smokers who have tried and compared, Camels are the "choice of experience."
CAMELS are my favorite cigarette!
And here's another great record—
More people are smoking CAMELS than ever before!

Donohue Gains 3rd As Bucknell Is Downed, 3-1

Kline, Raiken and Aigeldinger Lead

By FRED PRICE

Villanova's diamond forces beleaguered Bucknell University this past Saturday and stung them with a 3-1 defeat on wind-swept Christy Mathewson Field as Jigger Donohue and Bob Green turned in superlative mound performances, shackling the Bison batsmen with only two bingles.

The ever - dependable Donohue started on the hill and sizzled through six scoreless frames, giving up the two hits while fanning four. Green took over in the seventh, and it was in this inning that the losers notched their only counter as third sacker Harry Danforth gained a pass with the sacks jammed, forcing across the lone tally.

O'Malley Steals Second

With two down in the third inning, the Cats drew first blood when Norm Kline doubled to right center. Al Litwa followed suit with a hard shot to left(giving the Main Liners a 1-0 lead. In the fourth frame catcher Charlie O'Malley blased a single to left, pilfered second and scored when hurler Hen Honohue lashed a savage liner to left. Donohue moved to second on the play at home and countered with a third and final run a moment later when Larry Aigeldinger stroked a basehit to left.

Shy Raiken, Kline and Aigeldinger garnered two hits apiece to pace the nine hit Villanova attack, but it was the Cats' fine defensive play that sealed the verdict. John Blong's perfect throw from right field after a nice running catch that cut down Bison Ed Freed at the plate and retired the side in the fourth, while in the seventh a fast twin killing from Aigeldinger to D'Ambrosio to Price, plus O'Malley's sensational running catch of a foul fly, snuffed out a dangerous enemy rally. Donohue was credited with the victory, his third of the campaign.

'CATS UNIMPRESSIVE IN SCRIMMAGE

In their third and final interscholastic scrimmage of the spring season, the Villanova 1948 football team was unimpressive against Lafayette in Goodreau Stdium, Saturday afternoon. While they maintained a definite edge throughout the three hour scrimmage, the Wildcats were several times put to shame by the smaller Leopards. This seemed to be due mostly to defense lapses.

However, there were several bright spots during the afternoon, the first being provided by big Ralph Pasquarello who romped 85 yards to a touchdown the second time he got his hands on the ball. The sophomore fullback from Everett, Mass., again proved that once he is through the line, a touchdown is almost inevitable.

Passing Improves

The 'Cats displayed a much improved passing attack with Andy Gordon and Steve Romanick on the tossing end. Romanick connected with one to Ed Berrang and another to John Bogan, both good for six pointers.

The defense for the most part was sloppy with a few exceptions. One of these, Milt Karmonicki, was all over the field bringing men down with bone crushing tackles. The rangy center appeared to be in on most of the tackles. Another outstanding man on the defense was Orsaki, a guard who played on the 1945 eleven. Orsaki has already proved himself capable of taking over the starting guard slot left vacant by Tom Smith and Al Barker.

Bringing the small crowd witnessing the scrimmage to their feet several times was speedy Bob Pollidor who made one 30-yard sprint that was good for a touchdown. Little Jack Moran did very nicely on the offensive, making long runs and showing plenty of drive.

The Villanova first team did not remain in the game too long giving Coach Olivar a chance to see the newer men in action.

Browning Ross hands the baton to Dave Williams in the Distance Medley at Seton Hall. Villanova won this event in 10:44.2 time.

SPORTORIAL

By JIM PLUNKETT, Sports Editor.

We received the following letter from Barracks 3, in last week's mail.

Dear Sports Editor:

In the course of one of the long and habitual bull sessions down here, a point was brought up which we think is worth a word or two. We have intramural football, basketball, swimming and pudging from the number of participants, even pinball here at Villanova. Why then can't we have a bug intramural track meet for us, the amatuers.

Track is one sport which gives everybody a chance. A guy doesn't have to be one of the best five or nine or eleven here. For the fleet of foot, there are the sprints, for those with endurance, the longer runs, the pole vault, high jump and hurdles for the skilled while for those with muscles, there are the weight events. Even the non-athletic can get enjoyment from the sidelines in a well managed, smoothly run track meet.

Another thing, why not have an exhibition race and give the Blue and White fans a chance to see a few stars of the cinder paths, like Guida, Ross, Thompson, etc.

Yours for more sport,

We think the Barracks have a fine idea there, although we strongly suspect an ulterior motive. If our memory doesn't fail us, the barracks are just a few points out of first place in the race for the Intramural trophy. Could it be that the Barracks, crammed with freshmen just out of high school, aren't thinking of the fact that they stand a better than average chance of winning. Even so we think the idea is a good one.

What we liked most about the letter was the closing, "Yours for more sports". If there's one policy the sports staff of this paper stands for, it's for more sports here at Villanova, whether they be intercollegiate or intramural. We don't know what will happen after we forward the letter to the intramural board, but believe us, we'll push it to the utmost.

Ferriss' Choice

George Guida, Villanova's outstanding quarter miler has been chosen by A. A. U. President Dan Ferriss to compete in an invitation 440 in the Los Angeles Coliseum on May 21. Guida was the only quarter miler in the east and mid-west considered good enough to compete against the west coast speedsters. Facing the Philly Flyer will be the world's record holder Herb McKenley plus such stars as Hubie Kerns and John Machtler of U. S. C., Dave Bolen only other runner besides McKenley to beat Guida this year and Cliff Bourland former National Champion.

Proceeds from the meet which is under the sponsorship of the University of Southern California will be used to finance the U. S. Olympic squad's trip to London this summer.

Look for Guida's life story in one of the top national weekly mags due to hit the stands within the next few weeks.

A Word on Basketball

The basketball schedule for next season should be a final answer to the critics who say you can't play top teams without playing in Convention Hall. Look for DuQuennse, the Wolfpack from North Carolina State, Bowling Green and Loyola of Chicago on next year's schedule. All four teams had top quintets this year and are expected to be among the nation's leaders again next season.

'CATS BREAK MEET RECORD IN DISTANCE MEDLEY RELAY

Wildcats Capture One of Four Meet Records Clipped at Seton Hall Match; Fitzgerald, Ross, Williams, Thompson Run Event

By HARRY RANGE

Villanova's prospects for the current outdoor track season was made very encouraging last Saturday at the Seton Hall Relays, by the impressive showing of Coach Elliott's charges. The Wildcats took the Eastern Championship of the Distance Medley Relay, third in the four-mile relay, third in the one-mile relay, and second in the freshman mile relay.

In taking the Distance Medley, Ed Fitzgerald, Browning Ross, Dave Williams and George Thompson hit 10:44.2, compared with the old meet record of 10:53.4, set by Army last year. This was one of the four meet records by N. Y. U. in the Medley, Quarter Mile and Mile. In addition to and Quarter Mile. In addition to gold medals, the quartet was awarded a 12" by 10" gold plaque in recogntion of the Eastern Championship.

Ed Fitzgerald led off on the quarter mile leg and on the first turn took the lead. At the first rounding of the track, Fitz had established a ten-yard lead ahead of N. Y. U. and Manhattan. Browning Ross then took the baton on the half-mile leg but at the end of the quarter he had fallen to second place behind Klingler of Manhattan. But Browning still had plenty of kick remaining and passed Klingler on the far straightaway. Dave Williams took the stick with a slight lead over N. Y. U. and started on the first quarter of the three-quarter leg. Dave held a good pace and at the end of a half-mile was 10 yards ahead of Cunningham of N. Y. U. But Cunningham had saved a last second kick and passed Williams on the final turn. Armand Osterberg, running the mile leg for N. Y. U., received the stick with a five-yard lead over George Thompson, Villanova's anchor man, Thompson closely hailed Osterberg for the first quarter and on the second moved into first place. Stepping his mile in 4:31, Thompson left Osterberg on the last lap to win by twenty yards with Ignatius Rienzo, of Manhattan, forty yards farther back in third place.

The four-mile relay found the defending champion and favorite, Manhattan College, winning with Army second and Vilanova third. Jim Mc Gehrin led off for the Blue and White and held first place for the first half. On the third quarter he was overtaken by Tilson of Army and on the fourth quarter by Garibaldeof Manhattan. Garibaldi then took first and the first three, Manhattan, Army, and Villanova stayed the same for the remainder of the race. On the second and third legs, Jim Kennedy and Char-

(Continued on Page 8)

GEORGETOWN TOPS 'CAT GOLFERS 7-2

Don Wieland Stars In Main Line Match

Golf returned to Villanova on an intercollegiate scale last week after being shelved for six long years as the Blue and White linksmen were defeated by a talented group from Georgetown University. The score of the match was 7-2.

Lopsided and dismal as the score may indicate, the match was not without its bright spots. The sensational shotmaking of Don Wieland stood out among al lthe performance turned in as the slim wiry sophomore gave Villanova its only singles victory. Shooting 70, two under par for the Main Line golf course, Wieland beat the Hoya's best, Ray Larrow, 2 up with 3 to go. The score, phenomenal for college golf, is all the more fantastic when you consider the condition of the fairways and greens after the two days of rain prior to the match.

On the long front nine, Wieland carded 7 pairs and two birds to cut 2 strokes off par for a scintillating 34. Coming in on the back nine, he parred 7 more holes only to go one over as he boggied the 14. A bird on the 17th brought his score for that nine back to even par.

Teaming with Jack Trayer who lost his match to Georgetown's Jack King, 5 and 4, Wieland collected Villanova's only other point as they beat the team of Larrow and King in a best-ball match, 4 and 3.

Trayer, although he lost his match to King looks like Villanova's second best. Considering that it was the first time he ever played in a match, his score of 80 was impressive. Obviously bothered by a bad case of the jitters on the front nine, his game improved tremendously as he shot a 37 on the back nine.

In the other matches, which were all won by Georgetown, Maurer defeated George Becker, 4 and 2. Rita defeated Joe Hohenlightner 4 and 2. Jobe of Georgetown edged out Gus Murray, 3 and 2, while in the final match McCarthy defeated Bob Powers, 4 and 3.

Dan Wieland shows his form that brought Villanova's golf team 2 points against Georgetown, Friday.

IM SOFTBALL LEAGUE TO BEGIN NEXT MONDAY

Mondschein, Inc., and Klucsarits

With the advent of Daylight Saving Time, softball takes over the spotlight in Intramural activities on the campus. The league will be organized along the same lines as the basketball league with eight teams entered.

Equipment was distributed to the Moderators of all halls by the Intramural Committee last week. This equipment will be available at all times for practice sessions of hall members. The fields will be put into playing condition as soon as the weather permits and in time for opening day. Two fields will be used for league competitions—Mendel field and Austin field. Because of the construction being completed on Mendel field, tentative ground rules have been drawn up subject to the approval of team captains before each game. All members of the respective halls will be eligible to compete for team positions, with the exception of scholarship students. The league will comply with the old softball rule allowing ten men to each team. This rule will enable more students to participate in the Intramural Pragrom.

Anyone who is capable of umpiring is requested to contact Father Dunne or leave his name in the Villanovan office. Because the league schedule conflicts with chapel exercises, a meeting will be held this week, to iron out the differences, with the Chaplain's Office. Pending the outcome of this meeting, a starting time for the games will be established and posted.

The league will open the regular season on Monday, April 26th, with the inaugural contests putting Austin against Alumni and Bks. I & 4 meeting Bks. 2 and 3. Team captains are asked to consult the official schedule before game time, as the first team listed will be the home team.

Austin, with the Intramural basketball championship under their belt is also the defending softball titlist. Ft. Kenme's aggregation will again boast a strong combine and has high hopes of making a clean sweep of Intramural laurels. However, observations gleaned from practice sessions indicate a wealth of softball talent on all teams, and Austin will be forced to hustle to accomplish their goal.

All students are invited to participate in the softball program, either as players or as spectators. Let the motto be: "Come to play or pray." The first week's schedule follows:

Monday, April 26
Austin vs. Alumni
Bks. I & 4 vs. Bks. 2 & 3.
Tuesday, April 27
Day Hops vs. Doms.
Fedigan vs. Mendel.
Wednesday, April 28
Austin vs. Mendel.
Alumni vs. Fedigan.
Thursday, April 29
Bks. I & 4 vs. Day Hops.
Bks. 2 and 3 vs. Doms.

BASEBALL TEAM TO MEET CADETS, MULES AWAY

'Cats Out to Avenge Last Year's Defeat by Army

The sportlight on baseball will move away from Villanova this week when the Wildcat nine travels to West Point on Wednesday to meet Army. The cry of "Beat Army" will carry conviction for the Blue and White forces will be seeking revenge for the 9-0 defeat they suffered at the hands of the Cadets in last year's battle on the cold and wind-swept plains on the Hudson.

Army's success was due in no small part to the efforts of Glenn Davis, who was considered by sports authorities to be a better baseball player than football player. Davis had things pretty much his own way in the batting department. Also starring for the Cadets was Barney Poole of football fame, who, like Davis, will not be with Army this year. They were the powerhouses of last year's squad, and without them Army is but a shadow of their former selves.

A win over Army would also increase our average for this year's athletic series with the Academy. As we know only too well, the 'Cats lost to the Cadets in football, but did a turnabout in basketball and cross-country, whipping the Cadets badly in both sports. A win in baseball would give us a .750 average—good in any league.

On the trip back the 'Cats will stop off at Allentown on Saturday, April 24th, to meet Muhlenberg. Coach Weinert doesn't expect much trouble here, but since the schools didn't meet last year, the Mules are definitely a question mark. But, so far as anyone can see, the Wildcats will return from the road Saturday night with two more victories in the bag.

Track

lie McKee ran good races but the margin of the leader was increased to 120 yards. George Thompson ran the anchor leg and breezed in 100 yards ahead of fourth place Seton Hall.

In the mile relay, the Violets of N. Y. U. were clocked in 3:19.3 as against Manhattan's 3:20.5 of last year. On the anchor leg Reggie Pearman took off in first place, a step ahead of Frank Fox, of Seton Hall, and seven yards in front of George Guida, but still had to come from behind to win. George put on a tremendous burst of speed, shot ahead of Pearman at the 220-yard mark and will still in front at the final turn. There Pearman swept by him and also had enough to hold off a swift closing rush by Fox who passed George at the turn. Joe McCreary ran the lead-off, led and was about ten yards behind as he passed the batan to Browning Ross who closed up the distance to 5 yards. Ed Fitzgerald then ran a blazing first 220 and moved into second but was overtaken on the final turn of his quarter. From this point George Guida took over for the anchor leg.

The freshman mile relay team again proved themselves to be top-flight competitors. On the first quarter Tom Irish brought the stick in third place behind Georgetown and St. Francis' Ed Bausenwein was passed by St. John's on the second leg and gave the stick to Bill Shelley about 30 yards behind the fast moving Georgetown. Shelley brought the Wildcats up to third with a beautiful kick at the last turn, but was still behind St. Francis and Georgetown. Jim McKenna went to town on the anchor leg and picked up about every form. He advocates:

(Continued from Page 3)

1. Outlawing the Communist Party as un-American, as representing the policy of a foreign country.
2. Forbidding Communists to be on any public payroll.
3. Prosecuting all Communistic agitators.
4. Exposing all known Communists and Fellow Travelers.
5. Fighting it with fair labor practices.

Harold Stassen's meteor-climb to national prominence is seizing international interest: London editors hail his victories as the end forever of American isolationalism; UN nations remember him as the man who urged UN in 1942, the man who fought the inclusion of the veto; the Kremlin remembers him as the man who warned Stalin that in any showndown America's economic power would whip Communism.

All America is weighing Stassen's chances, and try hard not to underestimate a man who surprises even himself: the completeness of his primary victories amazed him as much as anyone else. His position today in the Presidentttial race, as sown by Gallup and Roper polls is this:

1. 35% of an ostimated 60,000,000 voters do not know Stassen.
2. Yet he is already 600,000 votes ahead of Dewey, and 10,000,000 votes ahead of Taft in popular Votes in relation to Truman.
3. Stassen is ahead in areas having 164 electoral votes, while Truman leads in areas having 167.

RIFLE TEAM PLACES THIRD IN MATCH

Penn Wins, with 1213; Penn State Has 1199; Hittinger High Man

Last Saturday the N. R. O. T. C. sponsored rifle team lost to Pennsylvania University's squad by twenty-three points in a three-way match at State College, Pennsylvania. Since Villanova's team had to leave early Penn State's score was not determined at that time but the final totals will be published later this week. In an individual match fired for possible national honors Calhoun of Penn State was first and Gobes of Villanova second.

This was the first shoulder to shoulder match that Villanova's recently developed rifle team has fired this season. They travelled up to State College, Friday afternoon, remained at the college that evening, and returned following the match in the morning.

Pennsylvania U. turned in a score of 1215 out of a possible 1500 while Villanova fired a 1192. A three position match, (kneeling, prone and offhand), it was fired shoulder to shoulder in the Penn State armory. Hittinger was high man for Villanova while Hazard and Gobes tied for second. Rowe and Stillwagon were fourth and fifth respectively. Capt. Fairfield USMC, the teams coach, felt that now the team should do better next week when they fire against Princeton because they needed a match to loosen up. It was the first time three of the members had fired in a shoulder to shoulder match.

Before the match each coach picked one man from his team to fire the individual match, the results of which are forwarded to NRA headquarters. Prizes are offered at the end of the season to the men who turned in the best scores during these matches. The scores determined by the NRA referee were:

	Prn.	Knl.	Ofhd.	Tt.
Calhoun, Penn State	98	91	84	273
Gobes, Villanova	93	83	77	253
Hammer, Penn U.	95	82	63	240

This coming week the team will fire several postal matches with colleges throughout the Eastern area. Then Saturday they will travel again. This time they will meet the Army's R. O. T. C. team at Princeton University, Princeton, New Jersey. The same members will make this trip as made the one to Penn State, and it is hoped that they will be a little more seasoned.

Chojnacki and O'Malley —Battery For Today

Now that the baseball season is in fullswing, a brief sketch of the background of the fellows that provide the thrills for Villanova diamond fans is in order. We are inaugurating the series this week by presenting a stellar battery combination . . . Stan Chojnacki, ace hurler of the Wildcat nine, and Charley O'Malley, starting catcher of the '48 edition of the Wildcat baseball team.

Let's look at this fellow Chojnacki first. A shy, unassuming fellow who puts his all into every game he pitches, Stan came to Villanova in the Spring of '46 and was immediately placed on the mound staff. Prior to this he served in the Army for three years, both in the states and the E. T. O. During his lengthy time in the service, this 24 year old Junior had little time for keeping his arm in pitching form. However, in his first season as a Villanova twirler he amassed a record of 6 wins against only 1 defeat. His best games that year were three four hit victories, defeating Princeton, Yale and Lafayette. That year the men from Cambridge, Mass., were Eastern Intercollegiate champions, but they were unable to cope with the fine control of Camden born Chojnacki. Looking into his seasonal totals we see that "Stosh" as he is called by his friends, pitched in ten games, allowed 52 hite, 22 earned runs and struck out 50 opposing batters for a 1.93 earned run average.

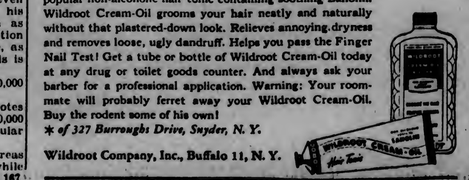
Last season he returned to his chores and finished the year with a record of 5 wins against 1 setback. His wide sweeping curve and his control baffled opponents throughout the season. This year Stan won his first time out against Princeton, and should go on and have another sensational campaign.

Now let's take a walk over to Fedigan Hall and look in on one of the best receivers ever to don a blue-White uniform — Charley "Chuck" O'Malley. Coming from New England, O'Malley enrolled at Villanova in the Fall of 1946 and last year was used in 11 games and showed enough ability and promise that this Spring he was awarded a starting berth. He has been hampered by an infection in his catching hand but has been able to play in all of the games so far this year. The outlook for the future is good however, since his hand is healing and he should be ready to bear the brunt of the catching duties from now on.

Although we haven't seen too much of "Chuck" we know he is a potential strong hitter and by the time the season is completed we feel sure that he will be right up at the top of the batting average list.



When he was attending Boston English High School in West Roxbury, Mass., he was, an all around athlete and through his fine work in baseball, football and hockey he was awarded a total of 10 varsity letters. In his senior year O'Malley was chosen on the Boston All-Scholastic teams in all three sports. Also in his last year "Chuck" captained the baseball and hockey squads the latter team winning the Boston scholastic title.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger Nail Test

IF YOUR friends have been slipping you hunks of cheese, maybe your hair looks mousey. So better take the bait, brother rat, and scurry out for some Wildroot Cream-Oil. It's the popular non-alcoholic hair tonic containing soothing Lanolin. Wildroot Cream-Oil grooms your hair neatly and naturally without that plastered-down look. Relieves annoying dryness and removes loose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger Nail Test! Get a tube or bottle of Wildroot Cream-Oil today at any drug or toilet goods counter. And always ask your barber for a professional application. Warning: Your roommate will probably ferret away your Wildroot Cream-Oil. Buy the rodent some of his own!

* of 327 Burroughs Drive, Snyder, N. Y.

Wildroot Company, Inc., Buffalo 11, N. Y.

"Well, I can keep the Dentyne Chewing Gum, can't I?"

"What's a little rap like twenty years if I can have all I want of delicious, clean tasting Dentyne Chewing Gum. Just think—twenty years to enjoy that rich, long lasting flavor and all that time Dentyne will help keep my teeth white."

Dentyne Gum—Made Only By Adams

Two kinds of dollars

The Dollars that RUN the Business

These are the dollars you send to us every time you pay your telephone bill. They're the dollars that grow out of the nickels that you deposit when you use pay telephones. They're the dollars that we take in for providing the best possible telephone service at the lowest possible cost.

These dollars run the telephone business. They pay our taxes and our rent and our light and our heat. They pay wages and the benefits and pensions telephone employees enjoy. They pay interest to bondholders and dividends to stockholders for the use of their money.

Any of these dollars that have nothing to do after paying all that they have to pay — and there are never many — are put away for a rainy day.

The Dollars that BUILD the Business

These are the dollars — saved by school teachers, widows, farmers, business men, telephone men and women and other everyday people in all walks of life — with which telephone securities are bought.

With these dollars, new central offices are built and equipped, other central offices are enlarged, and all telephone equipment — switchboards, dial mechanisms, wire and cable, telephone instruments — are bought.

These are the dollars that build the business — that enable us to meet increasing demands for telephone service by expanding our facilities to provide it . . . that enable us to make the continual improvements that bring you the best possible telephone service at the lowest possible cost.

We must pay for the use of these dollars. Those who supply them expect us to keep them safe and to keep them productive.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Fiesta de Cervantes

By JOE KENNEY

More than 350 persons attended the Cervantes Day Fiesta, premier social event of the Spanish Club, held at the Elks Club in Norristown last Saturday night. The affair, a dinner-dance, was the most spectacular in the history of the club.

Mr. Robert Suarez, president of the organization, acted as master of ceremonies at the banquet. He introduced Mr. Eamon Walsh and commended him for his artistic work in reproducing a portrait of Cervantes in oil which was painted especially for the occasion.

Rev. Lorenzo Lozano, O.S.A., moderator of the Spanish Club, gave a short talk about Cervantes' high esteem of women and of their excellent virtues as symbolized by the legendary "Dulcinia del Tobosco," the heroine of "Quiote." Explaining why the story became so universally popular, Father said, that the novel is a comic epic of humanity and a breviary of eternal laughter and sorrow.

Mrs. T. Moore, the former Juanita Ripoli, played a few Spanish selections on the piano and later sang "Estrellita" for which she received a generous ovation.

Two members of the club received a gold medal and diplomas from the Spanish Institute of Columbia University for their literary efforts. Mr. Michael Santacrose read his winning composition in Spanish prose praising the life of Cervantes. Because of the death of his father, Mr. Robert Godman was unable to receive his award, however, his poem in English lauding the writings of Cervantes was read by Edward Zerbe. The contest was open to all students of Spanish in Central and South America.

Very Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire, O.S.A., President of the College, gave a short address. He emphasized the importance of social activities in the life of the college student and praised Father Lozano on the fine work he had done in organizing the Spanish Club.

The concluding speaker was the Most Rev. Francis X. Ochoa, Bishop of Kweitch, China, who, like Father Lozano, is a native of Spain. The bishop spoke about the universal acclaim which is given to Miguel de Cervantes for his renowned literary works, especially this year which was the 400th anniversary of his birth.

Music provided by the Villanovans, the college orchestra, enabled the members and their guests to continue the fiesta throughout the evening.

Marx vs. Christ

(Continued from Page 1)

ries; this was followed by illustrations of the Communist party's methods in gaining control of various parts of Europe. The Congressman, who witnessed a Four-Power Control Council meeting in Berlin, told of the attitude taken by the Russian forces toward the future of European control, which they apparently believe will be theirs.

The most pertinent point to the students was the observation that Communism could be combatted by a five-point program demanding the concerted effort of the government, management, labor, education and, of course, the Church.

The first point of the program is legislation. Our representatives by intelligent legislation, will be able to strike at the heart of the Party. Secondly, education is necessary if the people are to know what they are opposing and how they are to fight it. Thirdly, Counter-propaganda must be broadcast to the people who have been exposed to Communistic ideology. Fourthly, there is an immediate need of a return from nationalism to Christianity. A return to Christianity would contrast the Communistic ideology in the minds of the people. Fifthly, and the weakest point, an economic and military preparedness.

Emphasis was put on the responsibility of the American student in the battle to stem the Red tide as Representative Kersten brought his speech to a close.

John Stanley, student chairman of the convocation, introduced the speakers, also addressing a few observations of his own. Rev. George McLaughlin, OSA, moderator of the NFCCS, delivered the invocation. The Very Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire, OSA, College President, preceded the Congressman with a short talk on student aims. Father McGuire made clear our position as students in the world today with its atheistic tendencies.

The Villanova band, under the direction of Rev. Ralph Handran, OSA, provided the music.

AMAZING NEW

IT'S IN YOUR HAIR, NOT ONLY ON IT. RESULT:
YOUR HAIR IS with-grained NOT WELL-GREASED

A new experience awaits you with the New STACOMB. Now your hair can always have a rich, well-groomed, healthy look because STACOMB employs a completely new scientific approach...works with Nature. It's IN your hair, not only ON your hair. Result: No "greasy" or "sticky" effect. You get a stimulating, clean feeling. And STACOMB gives greater protection against staining hat bands, sofa-backs, etc. It's really different. Get a tip-less, spill-less tube of New STACOMB today at any drug, 10-cent or department store. 50c.

Try this HANDKERCHIEF TEST
After your next shampoo, apply STACOMB to your hair with a massaging action. Then draw your handkerchief over it and...look! No stain. No grease. Only New STACOMB will do this—it's really different!
STANDARD LABORATORIES, INC., DISTRIBUTOR

JEANNETT'S
Bryn Mawr Flower Shop
Corsage Specialists
FREE DELIVERY
823 Lancaster Ave.
BRYNMAWR, PA.
Bryn Mawr 0870 : Flowers by Wire

twenty yards, passing St. Francis and finishing close behind Georgetown.

During the summer he worked out with several major league teams including both Boston nines. He also played in the Northern league where was the mainstay of the catching staff.

As for the future Chuck hopes to go into organized ball and after his playing days are over he would like to get a coaching job and by the way he has been playing he should have great success.

The father of Robert J. Coyle, Freshman C. & F. student, died on Sunday. The Villanovan extends sincere sympathy to the family.

WHY WALK?
CLEANING PRESSING
We Pick Up and Deliver Daily at the PIE SHOP
COLADONATO TAILOR SHOPPE

WVIL Log

April 20th to 26th, 1948

DAILY:
7:30 a.m.—Morning Mix-Up.
7:00 p.m.—Music for the Day
9:30 p.m.—Record Requests.
10:00 p.m.—Music to Study By
11:00 p.m.—Sign Off

MONDAY:
7:15 Campus Newsreel.
7:20 Sports Roundup.
7:30 Record Rendezvous.
8:00 Do You Know?
8:30 Show Time
9:00 Band of the Week
9:15 News and Views.

TUESDAY:
7:15 Campus Newsreel.
7:20 Sports Roundup.
7:30 Record Rendezvous
8:00 Symphony Hall.
9:00 Browsing Through the Record Library.

WEDNESDAY:
7:15 Campus Newsreel.
7:20 Sports Roundup.
7:30 Record Requests.
8:00 Musical Comedy.
8:30 Radio Theatre.
9:00 South of the Border.

THURSDAY:
7:15 Campus Newsreel.
7:20 Sports Roundup.
7:30 Record Rendezvous.
8:00 Symphony Hall.
9:00 Chaplain's Corner.

FRIDAY:
7:15 Current Gauge of Screen and Stage.
7:30 Record Rendezvous.
8:00 Doing the Town.
8:30 Friday Nite Juke Box.
9:00 Let's Dance.

HOLIDAY
The Most Talked About Pipe Mixture in America
☆
Aromatic in the pack...
Aromatic in the pipe!
Holiday also comes in a 16 oz. Hum-Seal Glass Jar
Lorus & Brother Company, Richmond, Virginia

Journalists

(Continued from Page 1)

ceive keys are A. J. Mullen, G. P. Kaiser, John A. McDermott, Maurice J. Wilhere, John P. Mallick, Nick Marziani, Richard A. Hubbard, Richard P. Shinners, Louis J. Alvare, Donald M. Collins, James A. Plunkett, Joseph A. King, James Lyons, Arnold Keehn, Philip A. Richard, Wm. J. Altenpohl, Francis J. McBride, and Hugh W. Johnson.

An impromptu floor show will be presented by members of the staff. The evening will also feature a selection of Specialty Numbers which will bear connotative reference to the individual newspaper departments. The Dinner Menu for the evening will be:

Adelphia Fruit Cup
Chicken Consomme with Rice
Virginia Baked Ham
Raisin Sauce
Rissole Potatoes Golden Corn
Frozen Rainbow Cake
Coffee Butter Rolls

The affair is intended to further the cooperative spirit behind the newspaper, and participation is restricted solely to staff members. Dress for the occasion has been declared informal. Master of Ceremonies will be Frank Guzikowski.

Bill Altenpohl Presents Paper

Joseph Beals, College Chairman of the A.S.M.E., announced at the meeting held on April 12th, that Bill Altenpohl had been selected from four contestants, who had formally presented technical papers, to represent Villanova College at the Regional meeting of the Group 3 A.S.M.E. Student Branch. The meeting will be held on Friday and Saturday, April 16th and 17th at Lehigh University.

The winning paper was titled "Poultry Sizing Machine," and it deals with the construction, operation and maintenance of the latest in inventions and improvements in poultry machines.

Approximately twenty-six students from the Villanova A.S.M.E. Student branch attended the technical forum.

WELCOME CATS
HAMBURG HEARTH
814 LANCASTER AVE. BRYN MAWR, PA.

FLY FLY FLY
A GI APPROVED FLIGHT SCHOOL
Paoli Malvern Airpark
MALVERN, PA.
PRIVATE, COMMERCIAL, INSTRUCTOR RATINGS
RENTALS SALES CHARTER
Call MALvern 2608

VILLANOVAN
Vol. 23 — No. 20 VILLANOVA COLLEGE, VILLANOVA, PA, Tuesday, April 27, 1948

Trips Slated To Navy Yard For Engineers

Four inspection trips to various vessels in the Philadelphia Navy Yard have been scheduled by Prof. Joseph C. Greyson and Captain T. C. Thomas, U. S. N., in connection with the Naval Machinery course offered to the Senior Mechanical Engineers.

The main function ofthese field trips is to give the student a thorough understanding of the purpose and operation of the various units in a power plant, more from the actual viewpoint than from the theoretical class-room work. It also offers an excellent opportunity for the student to follow more closely the cycle of operation without losiny the trend of what had previously occurred, as is the case in large power plants. In most naval vessels these units are so compact that each line can be individually traced through two or more units over a short distance. Since the majority of the ships to be inspected are either in "mothballs" or undergoing repairs, a better cross-section of the machinery is had, as well as a closer examination of each part, allowed.

The trips have been scheduled as follows:

April 13—Four Destroyers of Des. Sqd. No. 12.
April 27—One Cruiser, (now in mothballs).
May 11—One Submarine. (Probably RS27).
May 25—Large attack cargo vessel, (an AKA).

WVIL Sponsors New Program Do You Know

In an effort to join the general trend of radio stations in presenting quiz programs, Villanova's own campus station, WVIL, has recently inaugurated a new program, "Do You Know?" "Do You Know?" is based on the old parlor game of twenty questions. The contestants are given a general lead classification and are then allowed to ask twenty direct questions in an effort to specifically identify a particular object. Each week four contestants are chosen from different student departments.

This new program offers prizes for selected subject, and is heard on Monday evening at 8 p.m.

Late May Date Set For Turf And Tinsel Production

The Turf and Tinsel production, revived tradition on the Villanova Campus, is scheduled for performance in the Field House on Friday and Saturday evenings, May 21st and 22nd. The name of this year's production is Ryan Smith, Esq.

From left: Bill Chauvenet, Robert Whelan, Geo. Noake.

Featuring an all-male cast, this musical comedy will have Bill Chauvenet and Bob Suarez playing the leading roles of John Smith and Pocahontas, respectively. George Nooke, who was formerly associated with the Yankee Doodle Service Club, which entertained students in the V-12 program, is the director. Joseph Hennessey, a member of the cast, is the student director.

In essence the production is a satirical comedy on the lives of John Smith and Pocahontas. Original music has been composed by Robert Whelan, Secretary of Athletics. A sixty-member chorus, many of whom are varsity athletes, will provide the musical overtone for the performance.

A unique feature will be presented as part of the evening's program. It will feature a fashion show similar to the type of Tom Brannemen's Hat Contest will be sponsored by the producers with participation restricted to students of local girl colleges.

Fred Waring, popular band leader, heard the score and expressed his approval of the production. Plans have been formulated for a possible charity performance at the Valley Forge General Hospital.

"MAGIC" CURTAIN RISES AT 8:30, APRIL 30th

MARY ROSE BROWN

TED WILBUR

REV. WM. J. KRUPA

DICK HARRIS

By TONY MULLEN

Magic, a fantastic comedy in three acts by G. K. Chesterton, will be presented by the Belle Masque society this coming week-end, the evenings of April 30th and May 1st and 2nd. The performances will begin at eight thirty. A special performance is to be given Sunday at 2:30 p.m. for the seminarians and sisters of the Parochial Schools.

The play will be the climax of the season for the players and has been the cynosure of their attention since it went into production early in the semester.

Rev. William J. Krupa, OSA, moderator of the Masque Society is directing the play. Father Krupa is well known here at the college as the Moderator of bith the Belle Masque and the Debating Societies and as an active participant in other collegiate activities. He has been assisted in his task by A. J. Mullen, who has also shown interest in things dramatic at the college.

The play itself has an interesting origin. It was written by Chesterton at the instigation of George Bernard Shaw, and in the context the suggestion is acknowledged by several glib references to that playwright. The play was greeted with enthusiasm when it was presented in Washington, D. C., by the Catholic University and later had short run on Broadway.

Action is set in England against a slightly mystic background, and proceeds to study the various reactions of a number of characters when they encounter a phenomenon which they can neither understand nor explain. The play is comedy done in Chesterton's own sympathetic tradition.

The two female roles in the play are taken by members of the Jest and Gesture Society of Rosemont College; Mary Rose Brown in the part of Patricia Carlson and Laretta Moore in the role of Hastings, the Duke's secretary. The male lead is Ted Wilbur in the part of the Conquerer, supporting roles are filled by Dick Harris as Morris Carlson, brother to Patricia; Ted Doyle, as the scatter-brained, but pleasant Duke; Joe Leary, the agnostic and practical Doctor Grimthorpe, and Ed Fanelli, the prarmatist Angelican minister. Both Mary Rose Brown and Loretta Moore have taken parts in former Belle Masque productions and have been active in their own society in Rosemont. All the male characters have appeared in one or more of the performances of the Belle Masque.

Nothing speaks better for the probable success of this venture than the record of the activities of the society and its various members throughout the year. The activities began with three one-act plays presented last fall, and proceeded through the dramatic reading of Journey's End, the cooperative presentation of Little Women by members of the Cue and Curtain Society of Immaculatta and the Belle Masque, and the venture into radio work by the cast of Journey's End, and the subsidiary group to the Belle Masque, the Belle Air Players.

Attention! Graduates

All June graduates are to place their orders for Commencement Announcements, at the Bookstore, on or before April 30th.

Chapel Notice

This week, at evening chapel, all students will be enrolled in the Scapular of Our Mother of Good Counsel.

DEBATERS TAKE SEVENTH PLACE

Beta Gamma, varsity debating society, participated in the Benjamin Franklin tournament held at Swarthmore College, April 16th and 17th.

Swarthmore won the contest with Villanova taking seventh in a field of twelve.

Representing Villanova's debating society were William Regan and Emmanuel Rubin, affirmative, and William Carroll and Donald Collins, negative; the latter was high for the Villanova group.

The Resolution was: Should World Federate Government Be Established? The results are tabulated as follows: The victor is listed first.

AFFIRMATIVE

Haverford vs. Villanova
Villanova vs. Rider
Swarthmore vs. Villanova
Lehigh vs. Villanova
Temple vs. Villanova

NEGATIVE

Rutgers vs. Villanova
St. Joseph vs. Villanova
Villanova vs. Ursinus
Villanova vs. Bryn Mawr
Villanova vs. Pennsylvania

JUNIORS OPEN WEEK; FETE MOTHERS WITH DAY OF ACTIVITIES

Mass Tree Planting, Lunch and Concert Highlight Program

Junior Week 1948 will begin next Monday, May 3rd. Mother's Day will be the Theme of the first day.

Besides introducing the Mothers to the Villanova campus and some of the activities of the campus, the day will provide the Mothers a chance to become acquainted with their sons' teachers and classmates.

Four main events are planned for this year's Mother Day. These activities are: Mass and Holy Communion, the Tree Planting, Luncheon, and an afternoon entertainment.

Dick Rice, chairman of the Mother's Day committee, has announced the following schedule for the day:

11:00 a.m.—Mass in the College chapel.

12:15 p.m.—Tree Planting and dedication. (Site to be announced.)

1:00 p.m.—Luncheon in the College cafeteria.

2:15 p.m.—Entertainment in the Field House.

Rev. Thomas A. Burke, OSA, moderator of the Junion Class, will celebrate the Mass, and the Very Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire, OSA, president of the College, will speak at this Mass. Before Mass, corsages will be presented at the Chapel entrance. Fr. Burke has asked that all members of the class receive Holy Communion in honor of their Mothers of this Mass.

President of the class, George Guida, will preside at the traditional tree planting ceremony. At present the exact site of the ceremony is undecided, however, the class hopes to obtain a site in the proximate vicinity of the new buildings on the campus. Following the tree planting, the time before lunch will be spent in touring the campus.

Luncheon will be served to Juniors and their Mothers in the cafeteria in Mendel Hall. Arrangements will be made to serve the regular students before one o'clock.

Villanova's Band and Glee Club will be the main attraction of the afternoon's entertainment. President George Guida will preside at this program also. During the program Moderator Fr. Burke will speak. "The Junior of Junior Week" will be presented to the audience, and an excerpt from the forthcoming Turf and Tinsel show will be given. The musical program will include:

National Emblem .....Bagley
Belle of the Ball.....Hummel
Whiffenpoof Song .....Pomeroy
The Rosary .....Nevin
Viva La Campagnie.....Moore

(Continued on Page 7)

In This Issue . . . . . .

MISS DORIS KAMP
(A Potential Queen?)
See Page Three

Page Two
What Makes the World Go Around
Page Three
Alumni Hall Is 100 Years Old
The Honor Roll
Page Five
The Penn Relays

THE CATHOLIC IN MODERN SOCIETY

If you are like the rest of us, you viewed the recent Italian crisis in much the same manner as you watch a ball game. The Home team was rallying in the ninth inning after it had seemed almost certain that they would go down to defeat. You could watch and hope and cheer the team on, but you could not get out of the stands—you could not go to Italy and vot. You were the helpless but hopeful spectator.

It's rather disturbing then when someone like Mr. Kersten comes along and tells us that the real battle between Communism and Democracy is not being fought in Italy, but in the Colleges.

The line of thought uncovered by Mr. Kersten is uncomfortable but compelling. Communism having been spawned by the evils of Capitalism can be defeated finally and only by a real reform and correction of these evils. If men are to be exploited, if wealth is to be distributed unjustly, then it is most probable that Communism will continue to flourish. If, however, Communism is to be defeated, some code of Christian theics will have to be adopted by Capitalism. Practically speaking, this means the adoption of an entire Christian philosophy on which our Society can be based for a code of Christian ethics presupposes a entire Christian conception of life. The schools are important in the light of ther position as possible transmitters of this philosophy.

The Marshall plan then is at best a last minute emergency measure. Its only advantage is the gaining of time. It cannot insure the defeat of Communism any more than a pitcher's time out can insure the winning of the game.

Furthermore all this talk about "positive democracy"; about selling the advantages of capitalism; about imitating the zeal of the Communists in carrying our system to the world is at best rather pointless because we have no complete system to give. We have the four freedoms and the right to govern ourselves as means to achieving some end, the nature of which is not clear to us. We have no philosophy of life to offer as do the Communists. We have no foundation for zeal. Our national philosophy has yet to be adopted. The four freedoms and our right to govern ourselves should not be extolled as the ends of democracy, but rather the means. What needs to be defined, is the final goal of our society. We need some positive reason for our democratic way of life—we need a Christian philosophy for our whole society.

Catholicism and Catholicism alone has the philosophy needed here. It can give a sould to capitalism and Democracy. In a world where our system is endangered by its own mistakes carrying this philosophy to the world is a tremendous but probably THE challenge to the educated Catholic.

J. A. M.

BIG WHEELS

Here at Villanova, many things go unnoticed and are taken for granted. Among these are the time and effort given by many students in extra-curricular work. Without these students who "push" various affairs, our campus would be lacking a great deal.

Some term the most active of them "big-wheels" The term may be right but we should clarify our understanding of it. A "big-wheel" who manages to get a lot done for his organizations and Villanova is not a "big-deal". So, our collective caps off to the fellows that make Villanova tick.

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

JOHN A. McDERMOTT '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
FRANK J. GUZIKOWSKI '49 ..... Managing Editor
PAT LAFERTY '49 ..... News Editor
JAMES PLUNKETT '49 ..... Sports Editor
GEORGE SZYMINSKI '50 ..... Copy Editor
NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI, '48 ..... Business Manager
DANIEL ROBINSON '49 ..... Picture Editor
VINCE PEDANO '48 ..... Circulation Manager

WRITERS

William Chester, John Murphy, Edward Oxford, Paul O'Brien, Eamon Walsh, Roland Marshall, William Carroll, Joseph Kenney, John Bauman, Jack Applegate.

REPORTERS

Peter Gutwald, Joseph Rath, Anthony Mullen, Al Abreu, Michael Nowlan, Jack Connelly, John D'Grazia, Thomas Mitchell, George Schroll, John Kane, Frank Gohes, George Reinhart.

SPORTS

Harry Range, William Canino, Neal Fahy, James Lyons, Ray Mondschein, George Mondacsin, William Kluczaritis, Ray Mac Williams.

COPY

William Foley, Edgar LeBlanc, Walter Rygiel.

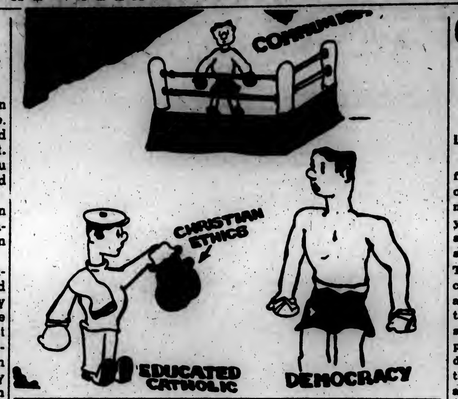
PICTURE

George Winters, Robert Graf, Robert Pope, W. Neal Carter, William Murphy, Jack Muvatovi, Al Delago, Leo Dodds, Emil Meyer, Dick Hudak.

BUSINESS

Barry Gibbons, Jack Gibbons.

CIRCULATION



Ralph Iorio, Paul Schweiber Jr., Maurice J. Wilhere, George Weber, Gene Langan, Ralph Skowron, Mario Piassolte, Charles Clunk, William Conkley.

Faculty Adviser— Rev. John A. Kiekotka, O.S.A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman —
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription: $2 per year. Circulation: 5000.
Entered as second class matter at the Villanova Post Office December 27, 1926.

Member of Associate Collegiate Press, Distributor of Collegiate Digest.
Member of Catholic School Press Association, Catholic College Press Association.

The Cause Of It All

By Joe Leary

One unbearable day last summer Hodges said to me, "Joe, let's go south.' At the time we were a few hundred leagues north of the Equator, so I maneuvered my brows and informed Hodges that one goes north in warm times and south etc. As Hodges was adamanant, we went south.

From geography we know of the earth and the lower portion of the earth are solid together. On the 18th, latitude, with its entrance on the Equator, a round, steel tunnel with built-in ladder pierces the core of the earth. As Hodges unlocked the rusty door of the tube, I realized that his "going south" and my "going south" had been two different things.

The earth's core utterly amased me. Instead of sawdust or some other kind of ballast, I found myself following Hodges into a spacious, steel chamber. Hodges fumbled for the light switch and, behold, a labyrinth of huge gears, drive shafts, important switches, unimportant switches, and guages appeared on all sides, in all sizes. The light was a falsetto red that gave the grily mechanisms a ghastly coat and it all suddenly seemed a nightmare, or the illegitimate child of a wild scientist. Men in submarines must feel much the same as I did.

Hodges noticed my discomfiture and spread a slow smile, "Joe, let me tell you the story behind this place." With this he flipped back a heavy, gray canvas tarpaulin whitch until now had been as apparent to me as a notice on a college bulletin board. At once a startling, black leather-covered, steering wheel leered at me in the half light, resting with princely remeanor upon a bull-necked shaft. It reigned as master among all the other cranks and knobs.

"Joe, this is what caused all the trouble," and Hodges motioned to the wheel. "Some years ago, the earth used to be driven by a regular hired man. Used to call him, "Old Hamp." Level-eaded, sober and quiet, about fifty when he took over, wife and family. Well, he got to know the road and got onto the ropes pretty easily and soon Hamp was sitting behind this wheel driving the old "crate". People on top said they never had such smooth riding.

Well sir, going around the sun you used to be able to take any route you wanted; north, south, east or west, xecept when you came to Jupiter you had to veer inside and take the south route. It was in the "Regulations" this way because its always foggy over the north cut.

Now one day Hamp decided to go north around Jupiter. With the wheel in his hands he had all the freedom any man could want, except for Jupiter, but he wanted everything free, wanted to be all original. Well, the long and short of it is, he smashed into the craggy side of Jupiter on the northeast, the "crate" split open at the middle and had to be soldered back, and Hamp was fired. What is worse, the whole freewheeling mechanism of the earth has been chained down ever since, this shop's been shut down, as you can tell by the dust, and the crate runs automatically now over the west route, day in, day out.

You'd be surprised how this has affected things. Going over the same old route so much has made the world old and moody, it seldom sees any bright side to things, and it hasn't had any real original thoughts since. Son, the world's in a rut. Even the people on top have been affected. Day after day, people punch clocks, catch the five-fifteen home in the evening, eat supper, read the paper, listen to Lowell Thomas and sleep. And many are out and out pessimists.

All this time I had done nothing but sit, wrapped up in Hodges and his story. It was growing late and I could tell that he was about to finish his story. "Joe, that's why I brought you down here today. Up top you were tired of the heat, you were in a kind of a rut and I wanted to show you why you and all people get into ruts. It's not the fault of people. The world keeps going over the west route but don't let it get the best of you no matter what your job in life is.

German Education

By Paul O'Brien

Last of a Series on European Education

We can say that there is a threefold differentiation in German secondary education: 1) good, fundamental schooling up to fourteen years of age in the "Volkschule" for all those not withdrawn for the special schools mentioned below. Thereafter a four-year vocational, civic and mother-tongue training along with a wage-earning occupation. 2) A special school, the "Mittelschule", from ages ten to sixteen for pupils of good ability with a product fairly comparable to that of the American high school. Thereafter follow the business, trade, and technical schools. 3) The "Hohere-Schule", (including "Gymnasium, etc.") from ages ten to nineteen for pupils of superior ability. This last institution has no counterpart in the United States. It prepares for the university, and for the teacher-training institutes which it is proposed to establish.

In the university, general education becomes, in a way, more profitable than if required officially. Few German university students fail to take some university courses in Fine Arts, for example, both because the secondary schools have opened their mind in this direction and because without these extra interests, the examiners would probably disapprove of the student's record.

Of all the professional curricula, those of the philosophical faculty may best serve to illustrate the procedure in a university. The chief business of this faculty is to prepare teachers for the higher secondary schools. At the outset, each candidate defines for himself, from an official list, a field of study, the required minimum being two major subjects and a minor subject, besides philosophy, which is required of all teachers. At any time after four years have passed, he may submit himself for examination, but this minimum is rarely ventured. Six to eight years constitute the common duration of university studies.

Having chosen his fields, for example, German, English, and history, or, chemistry, biology, and mathematics, the prospective teacher discovers that besides libraries, laboratories, and such tools, two means of education are provided: lectures and seminars. The first, more popular in Germany than in France, present the various bodies of knowledge in comprehensive, systematic form, and are taken in large numbers by beginners to establish a secure foundation of information; the second, consisting of relatively small groups, give opportunity for personal research, criticism and discussion with the professor on selected topics. Seminars aim in no case to cover a subject completely, but rather to show the student how to work scientifically within it. They are favored especially by the more advanced students, who are primarily engraged in organising their ideas. The candidate must give indication of adequate attendance at both types of egercises before he will be admitted for examination.

Progress depends wholly upon the individual. Attendance is voluntary and uncontrolled. The institution is a vast wharehouse of mateials from which the student may draw at will. Problems of selection and organisation are what dominate his mind throughout the six or eight-year period.

The examinations are oral and written, and follow the same pattern as those of France.

Here is an excerpt from some of the official directions for examination: "The exercises (set for the test) should reveal, not knowledge of detail, but intellectual maturity".

This sums up the aim of German education almost perfectly. Whether or not it is a "better system" than our own is a discreet argument, and one which requires a much more detailed investigation of the soulces and effects of both systems.

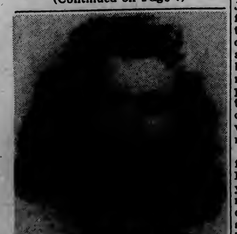
Campus Calendar

Wednesday	Villanova vs. Penn. in Philadelphia ICAAAA championships in New York Freshman Class Primary (Ballots at Information Booth)
Thursday	Sophomore Class meeting 8:00 P.M. C & F AUD.
Friday	Villanova vs. Seton Hall at Seton Hall
Saturday	Villanova vs. Rider College (Golf) At Main Line Country Club Belle Masque presents Magic Field House 8:30 P.M. Immaculata Junior Prom
Monday	Junior Week Opens—Mother's Day Activities

The Hedgrow Theatre of Rose Valley, near Media, inaugurates its second quarter century of repertory with an American premiere by Ignazio Silone. "And He Did Hide Himself" as the drama is called contains the same principle characters as in the author's novel "Bread and Wine". It is not a dramatization of this novel. "And He Did Hide Himself" is the story of Pietro Spina who has returned from exile to lead the fight for freedom; of Luigi Murica who betrayed and later died ofr the cause of freedom; of Brother Giochhinao who gnew that the sacred history of man or earth is still Good Friday; and of Annina whose love survived death itself. What with the present struggle of Italy to form a workable government, this play proves to be a timely one. The date of this performance is April 30, 1948.

The theatre was founded in 1923 with three resident members—Jasper Deeter, Sydnay Matchet, and Greta Mylecraine — some blue cheesecloth, 16 lightbulbs, wood panelling, nine dollars, and the idea of an independent repertory theatre. "Candida", by George Bernard Shaw, was the first production to appear under the sponsorship of this hardworging group.

Philadelphia's Sesquicentennial was host to this newly-formed group for an engagement at the old Broad Street Theatre; and like the Exposition, the actors of the hedgerow group incurred a dept that was to hang over them for many years. It was at this time that Ann Harding gave the theatre group its name. A sheriff's sale threatened to put an end to their experiment and she replied, "If they throw us out, we will play in the hedgerows". To meet the payments on this debt, and to avoid disbanding, the group moved to New Yorg in order to take any job at acting, stage directing, etc. that was available.



By 1930 the Hedgerow theatre group was reestablished in Rose Valley, had reduced its debts by a handsome amount, and played successful season at the Lyric Theatre in Philadelphia. Shakespears's "Othello" was added to the repertory in that year.

An old snuff mill dating back to the times of the Declaration of Independence was acquired in 1932. All hands pitched in and helped with the difficult task of converting this old mill and the surronding acres into the smug little theater that one finds today.

The Hedgrow staff underwent its last crisis in 1942-43, when it was decided to establish a Board of Governors for the twelve-man partnership that now owns the theatre.

In the way of experiment and restaging the best of the old masters, Hedgrow can truly claim to be among the foremost groups of this kind in the country. Demand has brought back the works of Shakespeare, O'Neill, Chekov, and Shaw, time and time again along with the many premieres, as Silone's

(Continued on Page 7)

Miss PAT McKENNA, a prospect in the Junior Week Dance Contest.

ALUMNI HALL; 1848-1948

By Jack Connelly

In the shadows of the college chapel, in the midst of the main college buildings, Alumni Hall stands, proud, silent, and a little sad, reminiscing through its century of existence. Some of its neighbors are stronger, larger, but not greater, for Alumni reigns—father of them all—Villanova's link with 100 years of glorious past.

One-Building Villanova

The original building, the east wing of the present structure, was begun in April 1848, and was completed in February, 1849. The 80' by 55', three-story building was Villanova in its entirety, including classrooms, dormitories, wash rooms, and later, the college library and study hall.

Villanova in Civil War

Little history of "The Wing", as it was called, is recorded between 1850 and 1873. The college was forced to close after the financial panic of 1857, and did not reopen until termination of the Civil War in 1865. During the war the college served as a military hospital, and doubtlessly many a story is locked within Alumni's silent walls.

Early Regulations Were Strict

An interesting sidelight to Alumni's history is the record of regulations of early-day Villanova. The student of that day followed a rigid life of discipline. Some of the regulations follow:

"College Regulations."
A. M.
Boys to rise at 5:30;
Prayer at 6;
Mass at 6:30;
Breakfast at 7:30;
Recreation to 8:30;
Studies to 12;
Examin. at 12;
Angelus and Dinner 1;
Recreation to 2;
P. M.
Studies to 4:30;
Recreation to 5;
Studies from 5 to 6;
Spiritual Reading 6 to 6:30;
Angelus and Supper at 6:30;
Recreation to 7;
Studies to 8;
Prayer to 8:30;
Bed by 9;

"Silence In"
Refectory; Study Hall;
Dormitory; Wash Room;

"Privations:"
No liquor; No absence;
No tobacco; No idleness;
No snuff; No negligence;
No bad conduct; No injustice;

Records tell of many penalties inflicted upon students who were found smoking behind the barn.

Enlarged in 1873

In 1873 "The College Wing" was enlarged by the addition of the west wing. The old study hall was remodeled and opened as Villanova's first assembly hall. Original plans called for another wing to be added to the one on the west, but the funds were diverted to the building of a monastery and Mendel Hall.

Converted to Academy

In 1901, with the completion of more modern buildings, the "wing" was converted into St. Nichols Academy for boys in the higher grammar school grades. During the years between 1901 and 1918 the Academy became renowned for its football, baseball, and track teams. The youngsters were feared throughout the area and hung up an enviable record.

Renamed Alumni Hall

After the Armistice ending World War I the old hall underwent a face-lifting. It was completely remodeled, and, in 1920, renamed AlumniHall, to honor the Alumni Associaton, which had made the remodeling possible. Alumni of today is substantially the same as that of 1920. Upon the completion of Mendel Hall in 1924, Alumni was made exclusively a dormitory.

Century of Service

Alumni Hall can look back through a century of service, a century of growth and a century of a changing world. It has seen the ravages of war, fire, plague, and panic. If it could speak, it would probably utter a prayer that peace and security might come to the world, that the troubles of the past century might never again occur, and that the men of Villanova who leave its hallowed walls might work toward a better world.

TAFT—PROFILE OF A CANDIATE

By EDWARD OXFORD

"When Bob Taft says something, he knows". That's the Senate's classic consensus on their scholar-brother, and it's Robert Alphonso Taft in a sentence.

Quiet, behind-the-scenes wizard of the incredibly dry and complicated inner workings of the legislative machine, Senator Taft is already being acclaimed as a second Wilson in sheer governmental knowledge. He has the largest research staff of any Congressman, and for weeks on end will burry himself in piles of charts, data, figures, books, and clippings, and finally crawl out with an answer on some point on housing, federal aid, or the Marshall Plan.

Cold reason domineers this powerhouse intelligence, and to the masses he emerges a "bookish' non-personality. Yet even his bitterest enemies are bewildered by the unintentional colorfulness of the man's overwhelming honesty; when he doesn't know, he says so; he admits his own doubts, and more amazingly, his own mistakes; several times he has corrected himself openly before the entire nation; Jiminy Cricket must be his guide, for few others would be conscientious enough to force their name onto such a controversial hotcake as the Taft-Hartley Act was bound to be. His bluntless stuns many, but Robert Taft doesn't particularly care. His 1947 Western tour, for instance, became a seige of verbal straight-shooting, no wild promises, no sleight-of-hand, no histrionics.

And just as plain and straightforward has been his entire life. He was born in Cincinnati, 59 years ago and knew little excitement in his solemn boyhood outside of once being stung by a jelly-fish swimming in the Phillipines, when his father was Governor General. At 21 he graduated from Yale at the head of his class, and at 24 graduated from Harvard Law School, there editing the Law Review, again at the head of his class.

When his father was President, he observed the governmental machine hard and long, played charades, danced the Boston. Then he apprentice-slaved in bone-dry technical cases in Cincinnati, and in 1917 was twice rejected for Army service for farsightedness. Finally, he went abroad with Herbert Hoover's American Relief Administration, being decorated for his labors by the Belgian, French, and Polish Governments—medals which the shy Taft never even displayed. In 1920 he entered the House of Representatives in Ohio, was made Speaker, and didn't leave til 1926. Five years later he was elected to the State Senate and by the time of 1938's re-election, had become Ohio's favorite son.

And today he is the Old Republicans' big gun for the Presidential Candidacy.

His political credo champions the little man, the individual, that there is noe more important. This belief marks all his achievements:

He wrote Ohio laws prohibiting Yellow Dog contracts;

M. is POLLY McNELIS who seeks top Prom Princess honors.

He penned bills to stretch federal aid on housing and education;

He pushed the Full Employment Bill.

His entire platform today, in fact, rests on Taft's determination to help the little man help himself. Here are his views on the big questions of the day:

Government Spending. He would hold hard and fast to every groat of government coin; he would:

Scrutinize every expenditure, particularly the Marshall Plan, so it will include only what is absolutely necessary;

Cut government spending to the bone:

". . . every cent the government spends put more money into the buyer's side of the market."

Foreign Trade. He would close the lid on Fort Knox and sit on it to keep American money safe in the Kentucky hills. He would:

Cut exports to cut high prices;

Give foreign loans only to pay for goods exported from America;

Build up Germany, without any war-potentialities;

Make Japan support herself;

Send heavy aid to China, "Fighting against Communism without ammunition and with their backs to the wall."

Internal Affairs. The little-man-conscious Taft would:

Proceed with a program of social welfare in health, education, and housing based more on local than federal aid;

Oppose every such move as socialized medicine:

"Certainly nothing could more intrude into the freedom of the American family than government medicine of this kind."

Armed Forces. He would carry the proverbial Big Stick and keep the Atomic Bomb exclusively American, backing it up with a strong Army and Navy. As for UMT:

"If war with Russia is our present concern, then certainly the Air Force is going to play a much more

(Continued on Page 7)

College Whirl

with Gus

TOP OF THE WEEK: To Bob Whelan and his boys who have been working so hard on the Turf and Tinsel revival. Many's the late night hour that I've had occasion to glance over toward the Field House . . . Through the skylights, one could see that plenty of midnight oil was being burned . . . Lots of time, then, that could have been spent selfishly, is being expended. Ask the boys if they mind it and they say they'll be sorry when it's over. That's something—hard work for the fun of it . . . a tribute to Bob and his crew. For us that effort, fancily manipulated, spells success.

• • •

At Long Island University, some things are a rarity. We quote: "Found: L. I. U. History Teacher Who Is a 'Good Joe', Also Able at 'Putting Across' Subject." Beneath, appeared an article extolling his merits. This wasn't an April Fool issue either . . . No, we didn't say anything.

• • •

The Macs over Paoli way are really an ambitious lot . . . Last week they hired a plane and dropped five-thousand pamphlets over the Immaculata campus, five thousand reasons for going to their Junior Prom at the Bellevue this Saturday.

• • •

The University of Detroit Varsity News comes out with some pithy comments which are quote apropos:
First Co-ed: "Is anybody looking?"
Second Co-ed: "No."
First Co-ed: "Then we don't have to smoke."

• • •

At Temple U., the prospective excavators are dedicating a new dental school. It can accomodate some one-thousand students of dentistry and allied subjects. We want to know when they are going to open a barber's college on the Main Line . . . At eighty-five cents, with Junior Week pennies going into our coffers, we're begining to look like Lassie. One fellow calculated that his expenses-to-be would singe the "bottom of a fifty-dollar bill . . . Ole Seventy-five-bills you is goin' to look mighty sad.

• • •

Here's something of interest. The University of Pennsylvania puts out a daily paper. Some five days a week find them rolling out four pages. Let's see, 18,000 (their enrollment) is to five (issues) as 2300 is to one . . . We're still ahead of them.

• • •

Out at L. I. U., they've published a little about our former hopeful, Sherman White . . . They're putting great store in his abilities but . . . to be eligible, he has to attend summer school.

• • •

The St. Joseph "Hawks" are planning a Juniorweek to begin on the Monday following the completion of ours. Then there's that parable; you know, in which the best wine was brought out first.

• • •

Rhode Island State (the-team-that-had-it-until-Villanova-took-it) tells us to don our togas and laurel wreaths and listen to this gem: A Greecian tailor was sitting in front of his establishment when a friend came up.
Tailor: "Euripedes?"
Customer: "Eumenides."
Or shall we stick to basketball.

Bottom of the Week: From the Dakota Scientist going to a dance, . . "Be a good fellow and have a good time, Edgar."
"Aw heck, Ma, make up your mind will you."
Which reminds us, we'd better go out looking for a tux for this week end.

Miss MERCEDES ARCA who bids for a win in the Prom Princess contest.

SANCTUARY SOCIETY LISTS NOMINEES

On Monday, April 19th., the regular monthly meeting of the Sanctuary Society was held in room 215 Mendel Hall. The meeting was called to order by the president of the society, Emeric J. Michalig, followed by a prayer led by Father Purcell.

Business activities at the meeting were confined to a few remarks by the president of the organization who reminded the members of their duties and obligations in the Society. He stressed the fact that delinquency in the society could not and would not be tolerated. Also, he reminded the members of their monthly Mass and Communion day, April 22nd., on which they were requested to attend Mass and recieve Communion in a body. Finally, he enlisted volunteers for adoration of the Blessed Sacrament on May 7th., the first Friday of te month.

Nominations of officers for the coming year followed. Nominated for o..ce were: Joseph Bren, George Winters, and Emeric Michalik for President; Paul Hennessy, Bob McRoberts, George Szymanski, Al Ward, David Anthony, and Ray Raclawski for Vice-president; James Dugan, Ed Le Blanc, and Bob Fitzpatricg for Secretary. Elections of these o..cers mill take place at the next regular meeting of the Society.

Polish Club Entertains at Ben Franklin

Presenting its annual "Polish Night" Ball, the Polish Intercollegiate club of Philadelphia will entertain many guests at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel on Friday evening, April 30th., at 9:00 P.M. Ed Sakarnik, of Villanova, Vice-President of the Club, is active on the committee with Norman Kordwitz, Villanova '48, and Joseph Miklasiewicz, Villanova '30.

The recent drive for sponsors for the program book for the traditional annual formal affair netted over a thousand dollars. Tickets have been placed on sale at three dollars per person. A representative group of members from Villanova is pledged to attend.

Walter Ossowski and his RCA Recording Orchestra will play both popular American dance music as well as a variety of Polish dances. The orchestra makes a repeat performance after last year's successful appearance.

After adjournment, the members were treated to the Villanova's football victories over Holy Cross and the University of an Francisco during the 1947-48 campaign, and refreshments were served.

Honor Roll For Fall Term 1947

Due to the extent of the honor roll only a limited portion of it will be published this week; the remainder will be printed next week.

The following men merited a 4.00 average by virtue of a straight "A" average for the past semester: Raymond L. Cummings and Donald E. Wieand, Arts School; Edward A. Fanelli and Richard J. Sullivan, Commerce and Finance School.

ARTS

NAME	AV.
Wieand, Donald E.	4.00	HR
Daly, Thomas A.	3.55	HR
Hanssens, Francis J.	3.18	HR
Cummings, Raymond L.	4.00	HR
Reichert, Herbert E.	3.88	HR
Leary, Joseph P.	3.05	HR
Walsh, Eamon J.	3.68	HR
Collins, Donald M.	3.88	HR
Dennis, William B.	3.17	HR
Chester, William F.	3.18	HR
Collins, Francis P.	3.16	HR
Duffey, James	3.37	HR
Gabriel, Robert E.	3.21	HR
Gurikowski, Francis J.	3.21	HR
O'Brien, Paul A.	3.11	HR
Masta, Eugene J.	3.00	HR
Mirante, Francis J.	3.79	HR
Kucha, John J.	3.66	HR
Franco, Philip R.	3.83	HR
McGrath, John F.	3.00	HR
Gabriel, Joseph F.	3.83	HR

NAME	AV.
Oxford, Edward J.	3.79	HR
Murphy, John F.	3.73	HR
Crane, Maurice A.	3.63	HR
ConCannon, James J.	3.89	HR
Cronin, Francis J.	3.40	HR
Simmons, Michael	3.40	HR
Werner, Paul F.	3.40	HR
Zamaitis, Stanley M.	3.26	HR
Krieg, Edward F.	3.83	HR
Nugent, Charles H.	3.30	HR
Burke, Henry R.	3.18	HR
Lambing, Clarence L.	3.18	HR
Heslin, James C.	3.05	HR
Doyle, Edward J.	3.00	HR
Mitchell, John C., Jr.	3.00	HR
Mooney, William M.	3.00	HR
Zaiser, Warren E.	3.00	HR
O'Donnell, James	3.00	HR
Pileggi, Francis G.	3.00	HR
McRoberts, Robert F.	3.44	HR
DiGiosaffatte, Carmine T.	3.33	HR
Breninghouse, William W.	3.25	HR
Gobes, Francis E.	3.31	HR
Januzzo, Paul F.	3.19	HR
Niccolo, Anthony A.	3.19	HR

EDUCATION

NAME	AV.
Saponare, Frank C.	3.70	HR
Eldam, C. Richard	3.00	HR
Haggerty, Daniel L.	3.47	HR
Bogan, James J.	3.40	HR
Mitchell, James J.	3.86	HR
Cottone, Sebastian C.	3.70	HR
Riley, Robert T.	3.67	HR
McCann, Arthur C.	3.12	HR
Grzywoulie, Joseph J.	3.00	HR
Doyle, Mark A.	3.84	HR
Stanley, John J.	3.30	HR
Barbone, Michael A.	3.10	HR
Mika, Emil A.	3.00	HR
Quinn, Edward J.	3.00	HR
Fleo, George A.	3.47	HR
Crnkovich, Leo R.	3.27	HR
Somers, Edward F.	3.37	HR
Moore, Daniel E.	3.82	HR
Raclawski, Raymond J.	3.67	HR
Nardi, Romolo V.	3.00	HR
Pearce, Joseph W.	3.00	HR
Reilly, John J.	3.00	HR
Blaszczyk, Henry J.	3.44	HR
Wilk, Robert V.	3.85	HR
Russo, Thomas M.	3.20	HR

COMMERCE AND FINANCE

NAME	AV.
Bundick, Francis A.	3.44	HR
Fee, James C.	3.95	HR
Kelly, Edward W.	3.75	HR
Legomarsini, Thomas P.	3.53	HR
Eheman, Milton A.	3.38	HR
Gounla, Alan	3.88	HR
Ward, Daniel J.	3.83	HR
Ziegler, Edward Allan	3.82	HR
Ervin, John J.	3.81	HR
Holland, John J.	3.81	HR
Guth, Richard J.	3.26	HR
Clay, Alvin Abraham	3.25	HR
Craig, Dennis J.	3.25	HR
Pilocchelli, Frank J.	3.25	HR
Hires, Stephen L.	3.17	HR
Becotte, Paul N.	3.17	HR
Bison, Francis J.	3.16	HR
Fitzgerald, Garret J.	3.12	HR
Gelsinis, Joseph A.	3.11	HR
Paul, Frederick J.	3.11	HR
Koerwer, John R.	3.06	HR
Tracy, Frank W.	3.06	HR
Murphy, John A.	3.00	HR
McCreary, Joseph I.	3.00	HR
Vasquez, Antonio Jose	3.00	HR
LaBanca, Anthony	3.00	HR
O'Connor, Robert D.	3.83	HR

NAME	AV.
McCamley, John Joe.	3.71	HR
McGowan, John Joseph	3.40	HR
Crotty, Edward C.	3.40	HR
Corr, John J.	3.20	HR
Foreman, William J.	3.17	HR
Fanelli, Edward A.	4.00	HR
McManus, Peter F.	3.60	HR
Yeager, Carl K.	3.55	HR
Compas, Edward J.	3.15	HR
Elinsky, John	3.00	HR
Kelly, Charles F.	3.53	HR
Reed, Walter H.	3.50	HR
Mahoney, William H.	3.12	HR
Tomasco, Lewis A.	3.06	HR
Hittinger, Francis R.	3.05	HR
Berenato, Anthony F.	3.00	HR
Kalm, Raymond H.	3.00	HR
Delahanty, Francis T.	3.85	HR
Duffy, Joseph V.	3.58	HR
Suarez, Roberto Jose	3.53	HR
Sullivan, Thomas Roy	3.58	HR
Sutula, Edward G.	3.58	HR
Whitaker, Charles M.	3.53	HR
Filippelli, Robert P.	3.37	HR
Kochert, James F.	3.33	HR
Naughton, James J.	3.33	HR
Manifold, Robert E.	3.33	HR
Anderson, Harold P.	3.30	HR
Lyons, James A.	3.29	HR
McGonigle, Lawrence J.	3.25	HR
Beach, Joseph H.	3.18	HR
Breen, Walter A.	3.13	HR
Burns, Joseph T.	3.00	HR
Lanciano, Anthony S.	3.00	HR
De Muro, Carmen V.	3.58	HR
Constantino, Anthony E.	3.68	HR
Duggins, Joseph W.	3.53	HR
Jessel, Anthony J.	3.37	HR
Menghini, Peter D.	3.53	HR
Cooper, James F.	3.00	HR
Dellisote, Philip B.	3.44	HR
Sheehan, William E.	3.20	HR
Sheehan, Joseph F.	3.25	HR
Ermilio, Lawrence A.	3.35	HR
McQuillan, Philip J.	3.35	HR
Trifletti, Anthony J.	3.16	HR
Lisak, Leonard Joseph	3.15	HR
Cahill, James A.	3.06	HR
DeLaCour, John Joseph	3.06	HR
DiRe, Eugene F.	3.06	HR
Fitzpatrick, Edward J.	3.06	HR
Rigotti, William J.	3.06	HR
Sheiler, Charles W.	3.06	HR
Reilly, Joseph H.	3.05	HR
Sullivan, Richard J.	4.00	HR
Gulotta, Anthony F.	3.81	HR
Shuchart, Eugene J.	3.75	HR
Slayton, Ralph E.	3.59	HR
Malloy, Thomas J.	3.56	HR
McCann, William V.	3.44	HR
Watson, Frederick V.	3.44	HR
Ballester, Alfonso F.	3.38	HR
Marshall, Roland M.	3.25	HR
McDermott, John A.	3.25	HR
Murray, Augustine J.	3.25	HR
Roesgen, John F.	3.25	HR
Shannon, Joseph P.	3.25	HR
Begley, James J.	3.21	HR
Dietrich, Wallace A.	3.21	HR
Regan, William J.	3.21	HR
McNulty, Raymond J.	3.19	HR
Postopack, Harry G.	3.19	HR
Bielfeldt, Carl F.	3.19	HR
Walker, William J.	3.19	HR
Burke, William J.	3.06	HR
Fernandez, Manuel Martinez	3.06	HR
Schoos, Herman Joseph	3.06	HR
Weehr, James M.	3.06	HR
Connolly, John	3.05	HR
Grause, Joseph T.	3.05	HR
Abreu, Manual Albert	3.00	HR
Godman, Robert C.	3.00	HR
James, Charles T.	3.00	HR
Quinlan, Walter T.	3.00	HR
Wallace, John A.	3.00	HR

Nominations Listed For Class Elections

Plans for the annual class elections are being formulated by the various moderators and their respective classes.

The Freshman Class will take the initiative by holding its "primary" election on April 28th. Balloting will take place at the Information Booth in Mendel Hall, between the hours of 10 and 2.

Each freshman will be given a ballot for the purpose of nominating three members to the Student Council and one to each of the administrative offices of the class, president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer.

Sophomores plan to hold their and the elections, on May 12th.

Rev. Thomas A. Burke, O. S. A., moderator of the Junior Class, announced that elections would not even be considered for the Junior Class until after the activities of Junior Week.

RESIDENTS ... DAY-HOPS

ORDER YOUR FLOWERS FOR JUNIOR WEEK FROM THE BOUQUET SHOP

Free Delivery Main Line Near North, South, Central and West Philadelphia

BRYN MAWR 2422

The Bouqet Shop

BRYN MAWR, PA.

"Catering to the Villanova Student with Corsages that are bound to please her"

On Lancaster Avenue Across from the Bell Telephone Company

"Beg Your Pardon"

It's RUSS MORGAN'S top Decca Record!

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.

It's Morgan at his best... sweet swing at its best... in this new Decca platter.

When it comes to cigarettes, Russ says in his typical Morgan Manner, "Camels suit my 'T-Zone' to a T.'"

Millions of smokers agree with Russ about Camels. More people are smoking Camels than ever before.

Try Camels on your "T-Zone"— Find out for yourself why, with smokers who have tried and compared, Camels are the "choice of experience."

And here's another great record—

More people are smoking CAMELS than ever before!

CATS MEET JASPERS, NAVY SATURDAY

VILLANOVAN SPORTS

Frosh speedster, Jim McKenna, has been invited to compete in an invitation track meet in Manchester, Conecticut, on May 16th. McKenna captured the 440 last year in 49.9. The meet is being promoted through the efforts of Joe McCluskey, popular N. Y. A .C. distance ace.

13 MEN STRANDED AS WILDCATS LOSE TO ARMY BY A 6-4 COUNT

Cadets Get 5 Extra Base Blows to Score Upset Victory

By FRED PRICE

The Army gained a 6-4 upset victory over a fighting Villanova team last Wednesday on the plains of West Point in a game that was marred by the constant strong winds that whip up from the Hudson and drive across the Cadets' exposed baseball diamond. Army garnered eight hits off two Villanova pitchers, five of them going for extra bases. Three of these extra base blows were carried away from the Wildcat outfielders by vigorous gusts of wind.

Army jumped off to a quick lead in the first inning when their clean-up hitter, right fielder Henry Robinson, walloped a long homer to deep right after shortstop Bill Wagner had been walked. This put the future generals in the lead, 2-0. Villanova had to be content to wait until the fourth inning before they could even the count. Dangerous Al Litwa led off with a sharp single, John Blong was passed and then Sherwin (Shy) Raiken rapped a base clearing double to left center, giving the Cats a 2-2 tie. The Cadets altered this situation in the bottom half of the fourth frame, when strong breezes aided them no little in pushing four runs over the plate. A combination of three triples, two of them being of the wind-blown variety, a walk and a fielder's choice enabled them to forge ahead, 6-4.

Going into the eighth, the Weinertmen staged a desperate attempt to knot the count, but fell two runs short. Mike Donoghue, a left hand hitter, batted for Raiken and walked, as did the veteran Pete D'Ambrosio. Larry Aigsdinger then followed with a two-bagger to left which scored both Donoghue and D'Ambrosio and wound up Wildcat scoring for the day. Roger Conover, the Cadets' star pitcher, came in to hurl the last two innings and managed to hold the threatening Villanovans at bay. Army used four twirlers during the course of the game to stem off several Wildcat rallies. Jigger Donohue started on the hill for the Main Liners, and was charged with the loss, his first

(Continued on Page 6)

Penn, Seton Hall Play Wienert Men This Week

Green Opposes Penn Tomorrow on Main Line

By BILL COONEY

A rivalry of long-standing will be continued tomorrow when Villanova meets Penn here on the Main Line. The switch from the published schedule was announced just before press time.

Naturally, with the proximity of the two schools, there will be a great deal of local interest in the contest and a large gathering is expected to be on hand. Last year, not one, but both games in the series were rained out, and neither team could show its stuff. A good break in the weather will break the my school-can-beat-your-school argument which has been on the fire since the last meeting.

Penn has been doing very well in the baseball line so far. The Red and Blue had great success on their southern tour and is also managing quite handily in the ivy league. They have defeated Princeton, as did Villanova, the only common opponent the schools have played so far. Of course this sort of gauging is, at best far fro maccurate, but it does show which way the wind is blowing.

Next Friday the Wildcats will pack up and head for South Orange and their game with Seton Hall. Last year, the Blue and White of Villanova took a 7-5 decision over the Blue and White of Seton Hall.

This year finds the pirates with a new coach, Owen Carrol. Carrol, a star in his own right in the majors, is expected to produce a strong club. The Pirates were one of the four clubs mentioned by Rutgers coach, as the leading powerhouses in the East.

Seton Hall has virtually the same club as last year and they are only too eager to avenge that 7-5 decision. Coupled with the rather intense feeling between the two schools in regards to things athletic, a good ball game is in the offing.

Golf Team Loses Two More To Haverford, Seton Hall

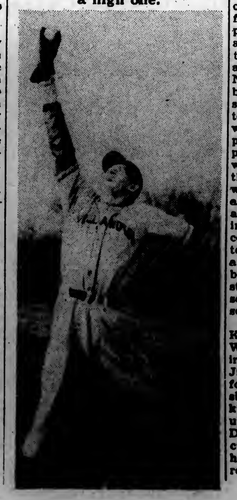
Team to Meet Rider This Week at Main Line

This Friday afternoon will find the Villanova golf team still seeking its first win when the sextet meets the Rider College linksmen out at the Main Line Course in St. David's, Pa. The first match is scheduled to start at 2 P. M..

Lose Two

After being edged out 5 to 4 by Haverford on Monday at the Merion Country Club West Course, the Wildcat golfers traveled to South Orange, N. J., on Saturday, only to be soundly thumped 9 to 0 by Seton Hall's long drivers. Saturday seemed to be an off day for everybody including usually reliable Don Wieland who carded a disappointing 83 while being drubbed 6 up and 5 to play.

The Villanovans found the hard and fast greens of the Essex County West Course too much for them. Many times approach shots, which would have been perfect on local courses, hit the greens and rolled right over them. The fast greens also hampered the 'Cat's putting.



Teaming up with Weiland was George Becker who was beaten 7 and 6. This pair lost the best ball 8 and 7. John Trayer came closest to winning Villanova a point but was downed 2 and 1 after being ahead for most of the match. His partner Bill Huber had his worst day o fthe season in losing 9 up and 7 to play. However, these men only lost their best ball 3 and 2.

In the last foursome, Gus Murray who scored an 83 lost 2 and 1, and Bob Powers found himself 2 down at the end of 18 holes.

The Setonians had a hot day, four of the six breaking 80. It was their first match of this season. Last year the Pirates had one of the best squads in the East.

The linksmen will be slight favorites to beat Rider on Friday only because they will be playing on their home course. Spectators are permitted to watch these matches free of charge.

"FRED PRICE reaches for a high one.

Navy Host To Triangular Meet

A select field will be met on Saturday, when the Villanova Wildcats meet the powerful Navy and Manhattan track squads in a triangular meet at Annapolis, Maryland.

Coach Jim Elliot's charges led by speedy George Guida, will make a strong bid to capture the team score. Last year Guida annoxed two firsts. In 440 he ran away from Manhattan's highly touted Al Rogers, and then proceeded to trounce cocky Joe Ciancisbella in the 220-yard dash. He is slated to turn in a repeat performance again this Saturday.

The Blue and White runners figure to dominate the distance events once again. Browning Ross, last year's mile victor in 4:19, will move up to the two miles with Dave Williams, while lanky George Thompson will handle the mile chores. Facing Thompson in the mile will be Paul Cavanaugh of Manhattan and the Middies' star Nick Smusyn. Joe McCreary, who was nipped by Ciancisbella in a photo finish last spring in the 100, will attempt to even the score with the stocky Jasper McCreary and Dick Muscelli will team up with the Philly Flyer, Guida in the 220, while smooth-striding Ed Fitzgerald, will toe the mark in the quarter.

Buck Coleman, the Florida Relays pole valt winner should easily outjump the Jasper's Phil Einsman. Gene Kelly, will face Manhattan's Metropolitan Intercollegiate low hurdle champion Dan Sullivan, along with Tom Byrnes, also a wearer of the Green, in the timbertopping event.

Coach Earl Thompson's midshipmen, led by football star Newbold Smith, figure to make a clean sweep of the field events. Both the Wildcats and Jaspers are extremely weak in this department. Villanova's only bright spots will be Jim Wanta, in the high jump as Dan Robinson in the weights.

Frosh Mile Team, Coleman Take 2nd At Penn Relays

Injuries Sideline Guida, Fitzgerald

By HARRY RANGE

With Buck Coleman tying for second in the Pole Vault, the Wildcat trackmen placed in the Distance Medley, Four-Mile and Freshman Mile Relays at the Penn Relays at Franklin Field last Friday and Saturday.

In all events, however, the team was without the speedy George Guida. A week ago today George was practicing at Haverford College and pulled a muscle in his right leg. Although he was under doctor's care oall week, he was still unable to run.

Besides the loss of Guida, the team also was forced to run without Ed Fitzgerald on Saturday. Running the lead-off leg on the sprint medley on Friday, Fitz was spiked at the start. Although the injury was serious enough to warrant stitches, he still ran his quarter mile in 49.9.

Buck Coleman, in tying for second place, did one better than last year's third place at the Relay Carnival. Tied with Buck at 12 feet, 6 inches was Arthu rSharman of Rhode Island State. The event was won by Edward Ulvestad of Michigan, with 13 feet.

The Cats placed third in the Distance Relay behind Penn State, whose time was 10:18.1, and Columbia. Joe McCreary led-off with the quarter-mile leg and at the end of one rounding of the cinders was in fourth place behind Navy, the early pace-setter. In the half-mile leg, Ed Fitzgerald was passed by Manhattan, but on the final straightway brought the stick up to within 15 yards of the leader. Browning Ross also dropped and at the end of the three-quarter leg the team was in eighth place. George Thompson then took the stick and started to make up the space that had been lost. At the end of a quarter he had brought the team to sixth and at the completion of a half, was in fifth. Gerry Karver of Penn State was the pace-setter and Bill Berger was close on his heels. Both were setting a bruising pace but Thompson still moved up. The three-quarter mark found George in fourth with still plenty left. With a beautiful last lap gick he brought the baton in in third place, having made up 40 yards on Karver, who was clocked in 4:19.

The freshman mile relay team of Tom Irish, Bill Shelley, Ed Bausenwein, and Jim McKenna took third place with a clocking of 3:25.1. In this race, which was run in two sections on a time basis, the team placed second in their sector but were dropped to third in the final standings by four-tenths of a second. Tom Irish led off and for the first 220 held first, but was then passed by New York University and Georgetown. The stick was taken by Bill Shelley who took off and picked up enough to pass N. Y. U., who had also been passed by Georgetown. Bill brought the stick to within 10 yards of Georgetown as he passed it to Ed Bausenwein. However, Bausenwein was passed by two teams and as he passed the baton to Jim McKenna was 30 yards out of first. This was the same situation Jim faced a week ago at the Seton Hall Relays and his race was a repeat performance. On the first 220, he moved into second place with ease and continued after Cino of Georgetown. He picked up twenty yards and finished two and a half seconds behind the winners. In the final standing Cornell, the winner of the second section was moved up to second place.

The four-mile relay found Jim Kennedy, George Thompson, Dave Williams and Browning Ross bringing the stick home in fourth place. Jim kennedy ran the first leg and for the first three quarters was in sixth place. He had saved a good kick, though, and brought the team up to fifth, about 40 yards behind Dick Church, pace-setter from Syracuse, George Thompson, running his second beautiful mile of the relays, brought the team to fourth

(Continued on Page 6)

Bobby Green – A Real Life "Bill Stern" Story

By BILL CANINO

After inaugurating this column last week with a sketch of the lives of Stan Chojnacki and Charlie O'Malley we looked over the playing rooster of the Wienertmen and decided that Bob Green, ace Villanova moundsman, was one of the most interesting and popular men on the squad.

When we dropped in on Bob, Boston's contribution to the Blue-White pitching staff was catching a little "horizontal duty" before practise but after some persuasion we got him to talk on his favorite subject—baseball. We learned that Bob is a product of Boston English Hgh School where, along with receiver O'Malley, he starred in baseball and hockey. This may sound like a story "a la Bill Stern" but the 21-year-old hurler was a victim of Infantile Paralysis while still in grade school and was bed ridden for almost two years. However, with a little encouragement from the doctors Bob began to play baseball as soon as he was able. He started his career as a third baseman but in his Junior year in high school Green's strong arm impressed the coach and Bob became a pitcher. Also a great influence in the change was his dad who hurled for the Boston Braves back in 1916.

Upon graduation in 1943 Bob joined the Marines and during his stay he spent most of his time pitching for service teams. His tour of duty took him to Honolulu where he was in competition with some of the greatest ballplayers of the day. Among his teammates were such standouts as Willard Marshall, now one of the N. Y. Giants' home run specialists, Dee Moore, erstwhile Philly and Dodger, Gene Desceutels, who caught in the major leagues for some 12 years and Nippy Jones, the Cardinal rookie first baseman. It was Desceautels who taught Bob the ways of big time pitching for which he is extremely grateful.

The opposition had its share of talent, too. He claims as his best game a 4-3 defeat at the hands of a strong Navy combination which boasted such greats as Stan Musial, Dick Wakefield, "Cookie" Lavagetto and Johnny Pesky. It was Musial who gave Bob the most trouble that day. The great Cardinal batsman smashed out 3 home runs and almost made it 4 for 4, in his last trip to the plate but a sensational catch by Marshall saved the day.

After leaving the service in 1946 Bob came to Villanova and last Spring he joined the Varsity squad. This first campaign was successful in as much as he toiled in 8 contests and ended the season with a perfect record of 3 victories against no defeats.

During the Summer Bob played in the Blackstone Valley League and led his team which is coached by Jack Barry, Holy Cross baseball mentor, into second place. His seasonal total was 13 triumphs and only 3 setbacks.

So far this season Bob has record of 1 win and 1 loss in 2 outings and if he continues at his present pace there is no doubt that he will finish with an exceptional record.

In the hitting department Bob can stand up with the best of batters. He will be remembered for his sizzling smash against the Phillies last week which drove in the first Wildcat tally.

As for the future Bob intends to go on to Law School and then into the Federal Bureau of Investigation but if a good offer from the baseball world would present itself he would find it hard to refuse.

Baseball Players Standings

Player	AB	R	H	2B	3B	HR	W	RBI	BVA
Litwa	30	7	14	1	1	3	3	13	.467
Algeldinger	29	4	12	2	1	0	5	5	.414
Kline	27	7	9	1	0	1	6	3	.333
Raiken	22	5	7	3	0	1	2	3	.318
Price	20	3	5	1	0	0	13	1	.250
Comerford	6	4	1	0	0	0	8	1	.167
Siano	4	2	2	0	0	0	1	3	.500
D'Ambrosio	22	4	5	3	0	0	3	5	.227
Donahue	9	3	2	0	0	0	2	1	.222
O'Malley	21	2	3	0	0	0	4	0	.143
Blong	11	1	1	1	0	0	2	0	.091
Hellmann	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Weglicki	8	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	.000
Green	5	2	0	0	0	0	2	0	.000
Caufield	1	1	0	0	0	0	1	0	.000
Donohue	2	1	0	0	0	0	1	0	.000
Baldassano	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000

REV. JOHN A KLEKOTKA, Villanovan moderator, awards a key to DON COLLINS, ex-editor Standing at the microphone is FRANK GUZILKOWSKI, Master of Ceremonies for the evening.

Wildcats Improve Against Princeton

Navy Unit Drops Away Match by 833-821 Score

By FRANK GOBES

The Army R. O. T. C. sharpshooters of Princeton University downed Villanova's N. R. O. T. C. team last Saturday when the two teams met at Princeton in a four position match. The victors, with an impressive record this season, edged out the Midshipmen by only twelve points. Villanova's team looked better at the match than they had the previous Saturday at Pennsylvania State, although neither team felt that the totals, or the individual scores, were impressive. The official score, out of a possible one thousand, for Princeton was 833, and for Villanova, 821.

The trip to Princeton was made early Saturday morning. The team returned following the match. This was for the Villanova sharpshooters, the last shoulder-to-shoulder match in this year's limited season. They will, however, compete with several colleges by way of the mail, during the next three weeks.

Hittinger, the only upper-classman on the team retained his position as high man for Villanova, but he missed being high man for the match by one point. Schwartz of Princeton turned in the best score of the match, a 177.

Although Villanova's recently developed team has yet to win a match, their scores have been improving steadily in the four weeks since their first postal match and the Coach, Captain Fairfield USMC, feels that next year's team should prove to be a group of steadier and higher scoring marksmen.

The team scores were:

Princeton

	prn. sit. knl. std. ttl.
Schwartz	49	49	43	36	177
Brumbach	50	43	41	37	176
Windy	46	44	42	39	171
Semonite	50	44	42	21	157
Parry	49	44	41	18	152
					833

Villanova

	prn. sit. knl. std. ttl.
Hittinger	4	46	42	44	176
Cameron	49	43	42	31	165
Gobes	46	44	40	35	165
Stillwagon	49	39	45	26	159
Hazard	48	44	39	25	156
					821

TRACK

(Continued from Page 1)

and held it for three-quarters. Then, with a well-timed kick picked up twenty yards on the leaders, Columbia and Penn State and passed the stick to Williams in third place, having passed Syracuse. Dave ran a good first-half and moved into second behind Ashenfelter, of Penn State, but tired on the second-half and dropped to fourth. Browning Ross again brought it up to 3rd but on the third quarter was passed by Baker of Syracuse. The final standings were Penn State in 14.30.7; Columbia, Syracuse and Villanova.

ARMY GAME

(Continued from Page 1)

of the campaign. Stan Chojnacki relieved in the eighth, and though he blanked the soldiers, was obviously under a strain due to an ailing flipper. The scheduled game with Muhlenberg on Saturday was rained out, but will possibly be replayed later if an alternate date can be agreed upon.

Villanova will play host to the Red and Blue of Pennsylvania tomorrow, with Bob Green scheduled to throw for the Cats. Last season both scheduled tilts between the two clubs were rained out.

Green, Litwa Star But Cats Bow To Blue Jays, 5-3

Before a crowd of 2000, at Villanova stadium, the Phila. Phils won a 5-3 victory fro m astubborn and hard-fighting Villanova nine.

The Phils drew first blood in the scoring column in the very first inning. Richie Ashburn, sensational rookies outfielder, beat out a bunt. "Bama" Rowell forced Ashburn at second, but Rowell went to second on shortstop Algeldinger's overthrow at first on a double play attempt. Caballero then walked and Lakeman doubled to score both Rowell and Caballero. Blatnick struck out and Harry, the Hat, Walker grounded out to retire the side.

Next scoring was in the fourth, when Harry Walker beat out a hit and went to third on Hamner's double. Don Padgett then struck out, Bicknell flied out to Kline and Ashburn walked, loading the sacks. Charlie O'Malley tried to pick off Ashburn at first with Walker scoring on the error.

In the Home half of the fifth, O'Malley single with one out, stole second and scored on Bob Green's triple. Although Green was slightly hurt sliding into third, he remained in the game and crossed the plate on a wild pitch.

Both teams scored a run in the sixth, the Phils on doubles by Padgett and Ashburn over the short right field wall. The Wildcats registered their run on Al Litwa's single, a walk to Price, and Jim Blong's single scoring Litwa.

The game's final score came in the seventh inning, the Phils garnering a tally, when Caballero singled, went to second on Blatnik's ground out and scored on Price's error of Walker's infield grounder.

On His Way Home

SNEAK PREVUE

A "Sneak" prevue of a not yet released movie will be given at the Bryn Mawr Theatre on Thursday, April 29. This is in addition to the regularly scheduled movie. Both features may be seen as late as 9:30 P. M. the starting time of th elast complete show.

Warren K. Vieth* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger Nail Test

DON'T be a pig. You'll only end up a ham. Don't selfishly spend all your money on your girl. Spend some on yourself. Start grooming your hair with Wildroot Cream Oil and look doggy! Just a little bit of Wildroot Cream-Oil grooms your hair neatly and naturally without that greasy, slicked-down look. Relieves annoying dryness and removes loose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-nail Test! And Wildroot Cream-Oil hair tonic is non-alcoholic — contains soothing Lanolin. Get a tube or bottle of Wildroot Cream-Oil at any drug or toilet goods counter today. And ask your barber for a professional application. Don't be piggish — get the large economy size so your roommate can share it—(he will anyway).

* of 23 Hamilton Drive, Snyder, N. Y.

Wildroot Company, Inc., Buffalo 11, N. Y.

COMMENCEMENT DATE ADVANCED TO JUNE 12TH

Commencement Exercises will be held Saturday June 12th instead of Monday June 14th. The advancement date is for the convenience of Governor Duff who will be a principal speaker at the ceremony.

The Commencement schedule is as follows:

8 A.M. Baccalaureate services in College Chapel; Solemn High Mass of thanksgiving.

10:30 A.M. Academic Procession (forms at Commerce and Finance Building).

11:00 A.M. Commencement exercises in Field House.

12:45 P.M. Luncheon. (place to be announced).

For Expert Convenient Attention

THE CAMPUS BARBER SHOP

First Class Work

Popular Prices

The Villanovan, on behalf of the student body and faculty, express sincere sympathy to Joseph Triolo whose father died last Tuesday. The student is off campus to attend the funeral.

Polish Club . . .

(Continued from Page 5)

ful engagement at the Ball.

The Polish Folk Dance Circle of New Yorg will be a feature of the floor show, presenting a pagent of Polish folk dances in colorful costume. Miss Rita Kolasa of the Cosmopolitan Opera Co. of Philadelphia will render several vocal selections during the entertainment program.

An honorary committee for "Polish Night" composed of prominent citizens is headed by the Hon. Stefan Potok, Assistant District Attorney, of Philadelphia. The list includes the Hon. Casimir Stankiewicz, President of the Penn-Central Bank, Hon. Felix Piekarski, Judge of the Municiple Court, Philadelphia, Hon. Blair Gunther, Judge of the County Commission of Pittsburgh, Hon. Leon Knoll, Commissioner of the Workmen's Compensation Board, and Hon. Cornelius Deegan, Councilman, Philadelphia. The "Polish Night" general committee is headed by Dr. Edna Hoffman.

Al Zimba, John Wlinsgy, and Ed Lobkowicz, of Villanova, were accepted as members of the club at a recent meeting. A Graduate Ball in June will honor 1948 membergraduates, including Anthony Gawienowski and Norman Kordwitz, both of Villanova.

At the March meeting, nominations were held for o..cers for the year '48-'49. Ed Szkaradnik was nominated for the Presidency of the club. The final vusiness meeting of the school year will be held Sunday evening, May 16th., at the International Institute, 645 N. 15th. St., Philadelphia.

Town Talk . . .

"And He Did Hide Himself". Relying on elaborate stage settings and much on the dramatic effect of splendid lighting, this group, gives a great deal of original savor to the classics of stage literature.

ZUG LECTURES ON COST ACCOUNTING

Pursuing the activities suggested by the College Advisory Committee, and endeavoring to enlist interest in technical subjects, that supplement hte theoretical curricula, Mr. Harry C. Zug, CAP, Chairman of the Committee on Education, Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants, addressed the College Accounting Society on the subject of Cost Accounting.

In his opening remarks Mr. Zug, who was introduced by Ray Kelm, president of the society, outlined the basic elements of a current and typical cost system.

The speaker then proceeded to fill in the details of the operation of a job order system. Particular attention was invited to the treatment and accounting for material requisitions and their integration in the cost records proper.

Methods of identifying and recording direct labor hours were illustrated. The distribution of burden based on various methods of allocation was expertly and concisely treated. In his closing remarks Mr. Zug made reference to a recent release of the Securities Exchange Commission which placed emphasis on the proper application of accounting principles to reflect correct and accurate statements.

The next business meeting of the College Accounting Society is scheduled for April 29th. at three o'clock, in the C and F Auditorium. The attendance of members is urged. Students wishing to enroll are asked to be present at this meeting.

JEANNETT'S
Bryn Mawr Flower Shop
Corsage Specialists
FREE DELIVERY
823 Lancaster Ave.
BRYNMAWR, PA.
Bryn Mawr 0570 : Flowers by Wire

Taft . . .

important part both in defending this country and attacking Russia than UMT. And its surveillance certainly has a prior claim."

The International Scene. His guiding principle here would be "maintenance of the peace"; secondly, the building of the UN.

Communism he dislikes as much as Communists dislike him. Pro-Communists picketed him in Seattle and futilely tried to wreck his campaign talks. Unimpressed by their wild tactics Taft advises simply:

"Meet Communism first here in the U. S., bring it out into the open, and eliminate its influence.

Now that Taft has taken time out from his Senate and book work to campaign, the question is: "What about Taft?" Latest Gallop polls put Taft in fifth place in the Republican Running:

Stassen	31%
Dewey	29%
MacArthur	16%
Vandenburg	10%
Taft	9%
Warren	2%
Martin	1%
No Choice	2%

A World-Telegram rundown predicts these results in a match with Truman:

Truman	51%
Taft	31%
3rd P.	8%
No Pick	10%

On the basis of 60,000,000 expected voters, Taft is now 12,000,000 votes behind Truman.

And should he not win, Taft will probably be the first to say, "Well, the people just wanted someone else more than they did Bob Taft."

Junior Week

(Continued from Page 1)

Stars and Stripes Forever . . . Sousa
Sing Ye All . . . . . Selected

The day will officially end about 3:30 p.m., with the singing of the Alma Mater.

HOLIDAY
The Most Talked About Pipe Mixture in America

Aromatic in the pack... Aromatic in the pipe!

HOLIDAY ALSO COMES IN 16 OZ. VACUUM TINS

Larus & Brother Company, Richmond, Virginia

Meet Your Friends . . at the . . Greeks

Superior Soda Fountain Service

Luncheon :: Dinner

818 Lancaster Ave.
Bryn Mawr, Pa.

THE 5TH COLUMN

By HUGH JOHNSON and FRANK McBRIDE

Next week we intend to have the results of the Villanova College Presidential Preference Poll. It is being run in cooperation with about 10 other colleges throughout the nation. We might add, with colleges reporting, Harold Stassen has a comfortable lead; Hank Wallace runs a poor tenth.

Campus Starts to Move

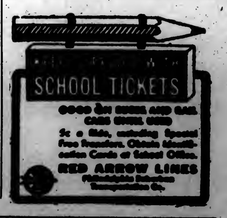
Last week, extra-curricular activities really started to hop. Wednesday night, some Main Line residents thought gold was being given away at Villanova what with the place humming like a bee hive. Down at the Field House, Jordan Oliver and Art Raimo were busy showing the some 20 high-school coaches how fellows like Bob Feller can run 100 yards at one clip. Tom Clavin, Andy Gordon, Al Schmidt, and John Witsch all helped out.

Turf and Tinsel

In the Blue Room, songwriter Bob Whelan and director George Noake (of the Turf and Tinsel Club) were hanging over the piano whipping the original music into shape for their coming (21, 22 May) show, "John Smith, Esq.

Belle Masque..

While on the stage, Tony Mullen was showing two lovely Rosemont Girls, Peede Brown and Ann Moore how to act. (A real misnomer—that) At any rate, you can see these beauties and more at the Belle Masque's presentation of "Magic" this weekend.



Devon "Horse" Show

And all the while, on that same night, close to 50 Wildcats were whooping it up at the Devon "you name it—we got it". Some enjoyed their eve, others were disgusted, and a minority, thank the stars, came home broke—minus sum of $65, 44, 2, 50¢ and 25¢ and on and on you go. . (Note to those who missed it: The show hit the road Saturday night).

Thursday

Norristown beckoned, so Fred Watson, Goffie Trayer, Bill Barry, Ed McClancy, Ray McNulty and Ce swung their partners (among other

(Continued on Page 8)

AMAZING NEW

IT'S IN YOUR HAIR, NOT ONLY ON IT. RESULT:
YOUR HAIR IS well-groomed NOT WELL-GREASED

A new experience awaits you with the New STACOMB. Now your hair can always have a rich, well-groomed, healthy look because STACOMB employs a completely new scientific approach . . . works with Nature. It's IN your hair, not only ON your hair. Result: No "greasy" or "sticky" effect. You get a stimulating, clean feeling. And STACOMB gives greater protection against staining hat bands, sofa-backs, etc. It's really different. Get a tip-less, spill-less tube of New STACOMB today at any drug, 10-cent or department store. 50c.

Try this HANDKERCHIEF TEST
After your next shampoo, apply STACOMB to your hair with a massaging action. Then draw your handkerchief over it and . . . look! No stain. No grease. Only New STACOMB will do this—it's really different!
STANDARD LABORATORIES, INC., DISTRIBUTOR

FLY FLY FLY
A GI APPROVED FLIGHT SCHOOL
Paoli Malvern Airpark
MALVERN, PA.
PRIVATE, COMMERCIAL, INSTRUCTOR RATINGS
RENTALS SALES CHARTER
Call MALvern 2608

Fifth Column

(Continued from Page 1)

things) at a little Barn Dance.

Friday. . . . . .

after Tony Constantino took off for Scardale, .NY, (that's .why) the troops mustered for the Franklin & Marshall Glee Club Sing at Haverum Scads, what guys won't sit through for a date.

"And what do you think happened on Saturday Night, hhhmmmmm."

Rosemont had their Junior Prom. If it hadn't been for fellows like Jack Applegate, Bill Hahn, Whitey LaBlanc, Joe McInney, Paul Begley, Bill McDonald, Pete McManus, Maurice Wilhere, Joe Healy, Bob Dougherty, Cari Annas, and . . Joe Hennessey with the Barrett Co.

Same PM, the VILLANOVAN staff members dined but not wined themselves. All the speeches were congratulatory, which intexpreted means, "We think the paper is swell— any objections???" Nobody answered up.

Sunday should have been a day of study but the Rosemont girls never give up. They had another dance on Sunday. MY, MY.

Odds and Ends

We hear Richie Ashburn of the Phillies, received a little bill from the school for the damage he did to the grass in left field with his head.

Bill Overbeik pulled a fast one last week. Here we were waiting for a big wedding party and he ups and sneaks off to Our Lady of Lordes and gets married. Congrats anyway, Mr. and Mrs. Joe King make the big mistake this week. Incidentally, Joe has, via Chesterfields, tally cards for Bridge Fans in the Villanovan office.

John Lopategui working overtime for a certain senorita. To quote John, "Manana ain't good enough for me."

WHY WALK?
We Pick Up and Deliver Daily at the PIE SHOP
COLAPIETRO TAILOR SHOPPE

WVIL LOG

Daily

7:30 A.M.—Morning Mixup
9:00 —Sign Off
7:00 P.M.—Music for the Day
7:30 —Record Rendezvous
9:30 —Record Requests
10:00 —Music to Study By
11:00 —Sign-Off

Tuesday

7:15 P.M.—Campus Newsreel
7:20 —Sports Roundup
8:00 —Symphony Hall
9:00 —Browsing thru the Record Library

Wednesday

7:15 P.M.—Campus Newsreel
7:20 —Sports Roundup
8:00 —Musical Comedy
8:30 —Villanova Forum
9:00 —South of the Border

Thursday

7:15 P.M.—Campus Newsreel
7:20 Sports Roundup
8:00 —Symphony Hall
9:00 —To be announced
9:15 —Chaplin's Corner

Friday

7:15 —Current Doings on —Screen and Stage
8:00 —Doing the Town
8:30 —Friday Night Juke Box
9:00 —Let's Dance

Monday

7:16 P.M.—Campus Newsreel
7:20 Sports Roundup
8:00 Do You Knok
8:30 —Show Time
9:00 P.M.—Band of the Week
9:15 News and Views

"CHESTERFIELD AND I ARE OLD FRIENDS. IT'S MY SMOKE." Marguerite Chapman
IN "CORONER CREEK"
COLUMBIA'S FORTHCOMING CINECOLOR PRODUCTION

WHY... I smoke Chesterfield
(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)

"Chesterfield is my brand. I've been smoking them for about 16 years. I like them because they're mild and really satisfy. I know the kind of tobacco that's in them . . . it's the best.

"Chesterfield buys the best grades of tobacco. It's mild, light, ripe, sweet-smoking tobacco. They pay the highest prices for their tobacco. It's top quality leaf."

A. J. Criswell
TOBACCO FARMER, PARIS, KY.

ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD
A BLEND OF MILDER, BETTER-TASTING CHOICE AMERICAN TOBACCOS

SILVER ANNIVERSARY OF JUNIOR WEEK UNDER WAY (See Page 4)

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 23—No. 21 VILLANOVA COLLEGE, VILLANOVA, PA, Tuesday, May 4, 1948

Guild's Annual Card Party And Dance Next Tuesday

Seminary Guild Will Aid Augustinian Educational Fund

The Augustinian Seminary Guild will hold a card party and dance Tuesday Night, May 11, at 8:30 in the Field House. This is an annual affair to raise funds for the support and education of the Augustinian Seminarians.

The card party will run until approximately 10:30 p.m., and will include bridge, pinochle, and other games. Immediately following, the prizes will be given out. There will be a prize for each card table and five door prizes. The drawing for the awards on the chances will be held after the presentation of the prizes. These awards include: an RCA Victor Television Set, a Bendix Automatic Washer, a Kelvinator Home Freezer, a Kelvinator Refrigerator, and an RCA Victor Radio-Phonograph. Chances can be obtained at any time at the Guild Office in the basement of St. Rita's Hall.

Following the drawing, there will be a dance that will continue until one o'clock. The music for the dancing will be furnished by the Villanovans.

The price of general admission is one dollar for both the card party and the dance. Tickets can be obtained from the Guild Office or purchased at the Field House, Tuesday Night.

VOLUNTEERS!

Rev. John J. Coffey, OSA, who is in charge of the Augustinian Seminary Guild Card Party and Dance, has requested the services of about fifty college men for ushering tasks, etc., the evening of the affair. Those who wish to volunteer their services should contact Father Coffey in St. Rita's Hall as soon as possible. The Card Party is Tuesday night, May 11th.

NFCCS NOMINATIONS

Nominations for Junior Delegate and Freshman Alternate from Villanova to the National Federation of Catholic College Students will be held on Tuesday, May 11th at 7:10 p.m., in the C. and F. Auditorium.

FROSH ELECTION NOMINEES LISTED

Freshmen elections will be held Tuesday, May 11th, at the information booth, Mendel Hall, between the hours of 11:30 a.m., and 3:30 p.m., it has been announced by Rev. Thomas Purcell, OSA moderator of the class. The elections will be under the supervision of Sophomore class officers.

Preceding the election will be a freshmen class meeting, Tuesday, May 4th, at 8 p.m., in the Commerce and Finance building. It is urged that all first-year men attend.

Nominations were held last Wednesday. Blank primary election ballots were handed out and the five receiving the most votes for each office were nominated.

Father Purcell expressed his gratitude to the Sophomore class officers for their fine work in conducting the nominations. Following is a list of the nominees:

THESE ARE THE FINAL AND OFFICIAL RETURNS OF THE FRESHMAN NOMINATIONS

PRESIDENT:

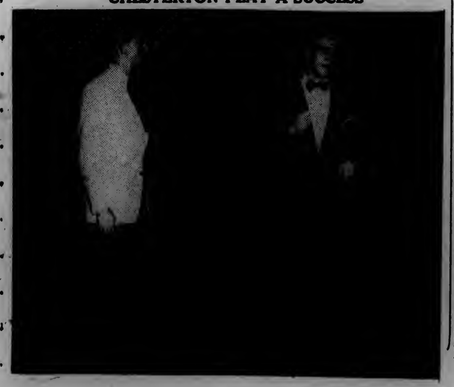
Schuster, George	91
Spence, John	53
Greape, John	20
Calzada, Juan	14
Haggerty, Joseph	9

VICE PRESIDENT:

Moran, John	97
Craemer, Shane	69
Carter, W. Neil	23
Carey, Edward	4
Greene, John	4

SECRETARY.

Kelly, Ed	84
Murstori, Jack	62
Conner, John	19
Koval, Eugene	8
Grady, Thomas	4



TREASURER:

Gallen, L. C.	90
Gibbons, D. B.	63
Murphy, A. F.	14
Rowers, George	4
Graziano, Ralph	4

STUDENT COUNCIL:

Davis, Paul	91
Smith, Thomas	69
Keenley, George	67
Holland, John	56
O'Flynn, Robert	51
Gutwald, Peter	49
McKnight, Edward	39
Perry, Richard	37
Range, Harold	35
Cassidy, John	18
Ware, Harry	16
Roth, Joe	15
Coyle, Edward	11
Phillip, James	8
Curria, John	8

CHESTERTON PLAY A SUCCESS

CAMPUS POLL PREDICTS STASSEN FOR PRESIDENCY

Former Navy Captain Leads Candidates in Campus Poll

Ed. Note: The following article is the result of a comprehensive survey of campus opinion by two Villanovan columnists, Hugh Johnson and Frank McBride. Comments concerning this article and the current series on Presential candidates will be welcome.

Harold E. Stassen, by an overwhelming plurality swept Villanova College in a comprehensive poll taken during the past two weeks to determine the school's Presidential preference. The former Minnesota Governor took 29.7% of the total vote to continue his prominence in the early returns of the nation.

He was followed by General Ike Eisenhower, new President of Columbia University (15.5), Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, Republican from Michigan (12.7), President Harry S. Truman (12.4) and Thomas E. Dewey, (8.0).

Villanova Followed Trend

Hence, Villanova followed the trend of most other colleges in the United States but for a few exceptions. At Dartmouth, Yale, and the University of Wisconsin, Stassen

(Continued on Page 3)

CHAPLAIN'S CORNER

Friday of this week is the FIRST FRIDAY.

Public Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament from 8.30 to 5 o'clock.

Divine Office—4.30 P. M.
Benediction—5.00 P. M.
Be on hand for your half-hour of ADORATION.

• • •

DAILY MASSES—6, 7, 7.30, 8 and 12.10.

CONFESSIONS — During the 7, 7.30 and 12.10 Masses.

May Devotions

Daily during the month of May there will be midday Mass at 12:10, together with rosary and benediction of the blessed sacrament.

Professor Schaefer to Preside Over Phila. Accounting Forum

Professor Leo H. Schaefer has been selected to preside over one of the meetings of the 1948 Accounting Forum. It is being sponsored by the Philadelphia Chapter of the Pennsylvania Institute of Certified Public Accountants, in cooperation with colleges and universities of the Philadelphia area and the Controllers Institute of America, The National Association of Cost Accountants, and the Institute of Internal Auditors. The forum will meet at Drexel Institute of Technology, on Friday, May 7, 1948.

Professor Schaefer was invited to fill the position of moderator by Edward M. Blanchard, CPA, Chairman, Committee on Forum. Professor Schaefer will preside over the meeting on "Auditing by the Internal Auditor." Earle H. Cunningham, CPA, General Auditor of the General Motors Corporation, Detroit, and National President of the Institute of Internal Auditors will be guest speaker.

Ambitious Program Outlined By NFCCS

Fr. McGuire Assists at Mass, Seminary Choir Sings

160,000 Catholic College Students were represented by 500 Student Delegates at the 5th National Congress of the NFCCS held a week ago in Philadelphia. From Thursday through Sunday the Hotel Penn-Sheraton vibrated to continuous conferences, plenary sessions, and regional caucuses of student leaders. They met to review last year's failures and accomplishments and to plan more ambitious schedules for the coming year.

Villanova was officially represented by John Stanley, Kevin McChesney, and Herman Diesel, who is also Vice-chairman of the Philadelphia Region.

On Friday, the Congress was officially opened with a Solemn High Mass presided over by His Eminence Dennis Cardinal Dougherty. The Rev. F. X. McGuire, O.S.A., President of Villanova College, was Chaplain to His Eminence and the Seminary Choir sang. At a Communion Breakfast afterwards, Judge Gerald Flood spoke on the Congress Theme "The Student's Place in the Community."

Equally important were the various panel discussion meetings held on particular phases of student activity such as Catholic Action, Inter-racial Justice, Student Government, and the Liturgical Movement. One resolution passed stressed the need of determining—by the Administration and the Student Council—the exact area of student control and responsibility, this to be put in writing.

The two public resolutions causing the longest and most bitter debate were the ones concerning UMT and Selective Service. The NFCCS when on record as opposed to UMT, but favoring Selective Service in the present emergency.

Charles Hogan of Xavier University, Cincinnati, was elected President of the NFCCS for the coming year, succeeding James Dougherty of St. Joseph's College, Philadelphia.

ENGINEERS TAKE SECOND PLANT TRIP

On April 27th, thirty-two Engineering students under the guidance of Mr. Joseph Greyson, journeyed to the Philadelphia Navy Yard. This was the second scheduled trip which has been outlined in conjunction with the Naval Machinery course offered to the Senior Students in Mechanical Engineering.

Ships visited in the mothball fleet included the USS Savannah, USS Honolulu, and the USS Brooklyn. The latter, a ten-thousand ton light cruiser, commissioned in 1937, was thoroughly inspected by the four groups of engineering students. The power plant of the ship consisted of eight B and W, A type, boilers. Six of these generate saturated steam, while the other two convert this to superheated steam.

Four fire rooms are utilized together with two engine rooms. The latter contain two low-pressure and two high-pressure turbines, giving the ship a top speed of 35.5 knots.

Another point of interest was the de-humidifying unit throughout the ship, which closely controls the relative humidity so as to prevent any rust formation on the metal while in the mothball stage. These ships are so prepared that they can be put in full operation within seventy-two hours.

The Brooklyn has a notable war record accounting for a submarine, a cruiser and two destroyers, while suffering repeated torpedo attacks. This vessel served in both the Atlantic and Pacific Fleets, and was one of the many ships that so ably contributed to the supremacy of the U. S. Navy on the seas.

FATHER CUNNINGHAM DIES

Rev. Matthew Cunningham, O.S.A., assistant rector of St. Thomas of Villanova parish, passed away suddenly on Sunday, April 25th, at the Villanova Monastery. Father Cunningham was born in Boston in 1902.

Funeral services were held at the Villanova Chapel on Wednesday morning. Mass was offered by the Provincial very Rev. Mortimer A. Sullivan, O.S.A. Interment followed in the Augustinian Cemetery on the campus.

Rain Fails To Dampen Junior Week Opening

It was Mother's Day at Villanova yesterday as the 1948 Junior Week got under way. Ceremony and entertainment marked the day's activities dedicated to the mothers of the Junior Class.

Despite the heavy rain which began falling early in the morning, the mothers were able to obtain a fair appreciation of the beautiful Villanova campus before 11:00 A. M. when the day was officially dedicated with the opening Mass. At this time, corsages were distributed to the mothers in the College Chapel. Mass was celebrated by Rev. Thomas A. Burke, O. S. A., moderator of the Junior Class, and the Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A., addressed the gathering. Holy Communion was received by members of the Junior Class in honor of their mothers.

Twelve-fifteen P. M. found George Guida, Junior Class president, supervising a program in the Mendel Hall amphitheatre. This suppianted the traditional tree planting ceremony which was prevented by rain.

After the program luncheon was served to the mothers and the Juniors in the school cafeteria.

The climax of the day, an entertainment at the Field House, proved to be a great success. The main attraction on the afternoon's program was the Villanova Band and Glee Club.

After a few words by Moderator Fr. Burke, Ed Daly, Jr., son of Ed and Mary Daly, was presented to the audience as the Junior of Junior Week. Little Ed, Jr. was chosen for the title from a select field of entries.

(Continued on Page 7)

STILL NO STOPLIGHT!

Last November twenty-fifth the VILLANOVAN inaugurated a drive for the installation of a stoplight at the Lancaster Pike crossing. About a thousand signatures were affixed to a petition sent to the township. Since that time we have faithfully followed the progress of our petition. The VILLANOVAN did not wish to come out and criticize the delay for we felt that the petition would naturally have to pass through all the legal channels before anything tangible would come about.

At present, however, we find that "there is still no word" and that our petition is still being considered. After five months we believe that it is time for a direct answer. We do not intend to let the issue die a quiet death. We do not want a death to be the necessary instigation for this badly needed safety measure.

We need not tell you of the bad habit of such petitions being delayed so long that in the end they are meaningless. The fact is that this is really a matter of lives and hardly any excuse exists for great delay.

The College has always been one of the better aspects of Radnor township. It has contributed in no small measure to the fine reputation the Main Line holds as a place to live. It is certainly the least the Township can do to use all its power in the attaining of this commonly recognized improvement.

JAM

"YOUR MOTHER"

The subject of this editorial is "Mother's Day". In searching for ideas we wondered just what could be said that's never been said before. Truthfully, we came to the conclusion that there isn't much. To most of us the history of "Mother's Day" isn't too important. It's the occasion that counts.

As far as each of us is concerned we feel that we have the most wonderful mother in the world, a mother who has made every sacrifice for us. She doesn't have to prove her love. She's proved it by the very fact that we call her "Mother".

No, not many of us think it necessary to begin listing instances showing what our mothers have done for us. If there are any of us who are so blind, and I dare say that the most hardened sinner would be soft on this point, as not to know what bond exists between mother and son, he would have stopped using the term long ago.

Some call her "Mom". Others say "Ma". Your little three-year old nephew will say "Mommy" or "Mama". Spell it or say it as you will, your final result reaches an earthly conception of perfection, of everything that's good and pure and beautiful.

Yours may speak broken English and live about six blocks on the other side of the tracks. She may have two servants and a large home to care for. She may be a dim memory brought to mind by a faded print of a fair-haired young woman. Yes, she may be German, Irish, Italian or any one of a hundred nationalities. She may be white or she may ride in the rear of a "Jim Crow" bus. The equalizing factor is that she's your mother.

Yes, fellows. These are our mothers. Love them, respect them, be proud of them. Above all, don't forget them. Maybe next year it'll be too late.

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

JOHN A. McDERMOTT '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
FRANK J. GUZIKOWSKI '49 ..... Managing Editor
PAT LAFERTY '49 ..... News Editor
JAMES PLUNKETT '49 ..... Sports Editor
GEORGE SZYMANSKI '50 ..... Copy Editor
NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI, '48 ..... Business Manager
DANIEL ROBINSON '49 ..... Picture Editor
VINCE PEDANO '49 ..... Circulation Manager

WRITERS

William Chester, John Murphy, Edward Oxford, Paul O'Brien, Eamon Walsh, Roland Marshall, William Carroll, Joseph Kenney, John Bauman, Jack Applegate.

REPORTERS

Peter Gutwald, Joseph Rath, Anthony Mullen, Al Abreu, Michael Nowlan, Jack Connelly, John D'Orazio, Thomas Mitchell, George Schroll, John Kane, Frank Gohes, George Reinhart.

SPORTS

Harry Range, William Canino, Neal Pahy, James Lyons, Ray Mondschein, George Mondscein, William Klucsaritis, Ray Mac Williams.

COPY

William Foley, Edgar LeBlanc, Walter Rygiel.

PICTURE

George Winters, Robert Graf, Robert Pope, W. Neal Carter, William Murphy, Jack Muvatovi, Al Delago, Leo Dodds, Emil Meyer, Dick Hudak.

BUSINESS

Barry Gibbons, Jack Gibbons.

CIRCULATION

Ralph Iorio, Paul Schweiber Jr., Maurice J. Wilhere, George Weber, Gene Langan, Ralph Skowron, Mario Pissaella, Charles Clunk, William Coakley.

ON MOTHERS DAY
SAY IT WITH PRAYERS

Guest Editorial

The Message of NFCCS

After attending four days of discussion and speech-making among student leaders at the NFCCS Congress one has a difficult time evaluating the whole vista of activity. Certainly, there was much talk and much thought at the Penn-Sheraton last week. Around what did all this thought and talk revolve, and in what general direction did it lead?

Christ was at the center of most of the discussions—that is sure. Great advances have been made in the Liturgical Movement as part of the program of returning all things to Christ. Students, addressing Catholic College administrations, asked that they reorient their courses of study so that a unity could be seen in all the arts and sciences—so that it could be demonstrated that learning is merely " . . . . knowledge passing from God to God through the mind of man." Everything belongs to Him, comes from Him, and MUST be dedicated to Him. Proximate ends of education leading to material comfort do not suffice for Catholics.

Some went to Philadelphia just for a lark. But, they were not in sufficient numbers to dilute the true spirit of those who were dedicated to the creation of a new order—a Christo-centric order. The students were urged to learn their Faith and learn it well. Introverted, centrepetal Catholicism is now out of the question. Catholic college students were urged to cease supporting our materialistic, pagan, culture; to cease their over-individualistic self-development and spend at least some of their time and talent helping and leading the poor and ignorant and depressed from the qaugmire into which unscrupulous finance capital has forced them. Christ died for the wretched ones and if we are to call ourselves Christians we must imitate Him and sacrifice for those least of our bretheren.

One of the means we must use for preparation before "going into the city" is training in leadership. Training in leadership can best be achieved, it was felt by most, through democratic student governments in the colleges.

There has long been a mighty swell of desire to wrest the reign of rule from the few and give it to the many. Too often this has been prostituted to bring about the rule of anti-Christ. Let the Catholic College pioneer to bring this, the spirit of the people, to glorify the Lord.

Yes, much was achieved at the Penn-Sheraton. The NFCCS is proving its worth. The Students and the Administrations must give generous support if it is to go on.

John Stanley

Campus Calendar

Tuesday May, 4—Freshman Class Meeting—8:00 P.M.—C and F Auditorium.
Concert sponsored by Junior Class—8:00 P.M.—Field House.

Wednesday, May 5—VILLANOVA vs. Penn—Baseball—Home.
Blazer Ball—9:00 P.M. Field House.

Thursday, May 6—Ascension Thursday—No Classes.

Friday, May 7—Junior Prom—9:00 P.M. Field House.

Saturday, May 8—Baseball: VILLANOVA vs. Fordham—Away.
Track: VILLANOVA vs. Maryland—College Park, Md.
Golf: VILLANOVA vs. Loyola—Villanova.
Junior Dinner-Dance—8:00 P.M.—Adelphia Hotel.

College Whirl
with Gus

TOP OF THE WEEK: Around this time of the year, bouquets seem to be in order so put us down for a couple of dozen and we'll begin limbering up that pitching arm of ours. They go to the Juniors, whose plans are in readiness for days that will be remembered. We include all those fellows, from chairmen down to seventeenth assistants, who gave with a capital G-A-Y-E to make this week what it will be. That giving stretches back not for days or weeks but for months. . . . For the girls it'll be a real treat, for the fellows it should occasion misty eyes twenty years from now. . . . . .

• • •

The Brooklyn College Vanguard gives us a little information from the locker rooms. They tell us that the "Purity Code" for college athletics is worthless without "teeth." According to them the NCAA committee decided to leave the question of subsidization up to the individual school. The Brooklynites advocate giving the athlete his room and board plus tuition . . . . . and that's all. They might have something there.

• • •

Coach "Ox" Da Grosa's Temple boys gave the New Yorkers of NYU quite a beating in a secret practice game recently. According to the Owl's mentor, the Templeites looked good on the ground, in the air, offensively and defensively. Gee, there's nothing left! (or should we take the ex-holy Cross boss' words with a pinch of Morton's Iodized.)

• • •

From the Catholic U. Tower:

The grass is up
In yonder lot;
The grass is up
But I am not.

Ah Spring, I'll meet you in the spring if I can get through the mattress. I had a girl. I called her Webster because words couldn't describe her. . . . . .

• • •

At Duquesne U. in Pittsburgh, the Dukes have realized an ambition in obtaining a new student lounge. It includes as standard equipment; drapes, coke machines, sofas, armchairs, card tables and a hostess. Let us not minimize that last item. Might we suggest someone like Ingrid, or Lana or even Miss Garble . . . . (No, it's not misspelled. Ads cost money.) It would be our luck to end up with someone like "Trigger."

• • •

The Swarthmore Phoenix has once more fallen into line and so we're able to look behind the former Iron Curtain. As guest speaker, they had Drew Pearson who discussed our political stalemate with Russia. Among other things, he predicts that Eisenhower and Vandenberg will choose the weapons in the coming elections. Of note is the fact that the commentator is an alumnus of Swarthmore (1919).

We quote the Niagara, N. Y., Index:

Hans: "Will you please explain to me the difference between shillings and pence?"

Fritz: "You can valk down de streed vidout shillings."

• • •

Then there's the one about the banker who visited heaven, trying to get in. St. Peter asked him what he had done and received the following report:

Banker: "I've done many things for the poor."

Peter: "What, for instance?"

Banker: "I gave a poor lady a penny."

Peter: "What else?"

Banker: "I gave a poor beggar a penny."

Peter: "What else?"

Banker: "That's all."

So Peter asked higher up what to do and received the following reply: "Give the banker his two cents and tell him to go to hell."

• • •

BOTTOM OF THE WEEK: Our wallets after Saturday.

JUNIOR WEEK OPENING

Several excerpts from the Turf and Tinsel musical, John Smith, Esq., were well received by the assembly. Laughs were plentiful during this particular feature.

The day's program, over which George Guida presided, ended with the singing of the Alma Mater.

Dick Rice and his able committee, Jerry Connors, Roberto Suarez, Frank Haley, were responsible for organizing the Mother's Day activities and are to be congratulated for their success.

By McManus and Kaiser

The haunted valley of the Catskills is the romantic setting for the new musical "Sleepy Hollow." Irving's legend has been retained in essence. The only changes made were those necessary to conform with the stage conventions. Portraying the romance of "plump" Katrina Van Tassel and "gauky" Ichabod Crane are Betty Jane Watson and Gil Lamb. The spooks of "Sleepy Hollow" can be found at the Schubert Theater for two weeks beginning May 4th.

Terrence Rattigan's play, "The Winslow Boy," comes direct from one solid year on Broadway. The play, which won the New York Drama Critics' award, is provocative theater. It is based on actual King's Bench records. The boy is falsely accused of forging and collecting on someone else's money order. In resolvement, the play is the attempt of the boy to prove his innocence.

At the Locust Theater Frank Fay and his "Harvey" are still having drunken bouts to keep a step ahead of the pursuing psychiatrists. The amusing merry chase will remain three more weeks, the final performance being given Saturday evening, May 15th.

With Springtime here, can "The Student Prince" be far behind? This ageless Romberg favorite is again at the Forrest Theater.

Three cheers for the Belle Masque!!! This group deserves all the success that "Magic" enjoyed.

Stassen Wins Campus Test

(Continued from Page 1)

scored high over all other opponents. At a recent Mock Convention at the University of Pennsylvania, the former Navy Captain lead the field with 31% of the total vote with Vandenberg, Eisenhower, Truman, Henry Wallace, and Justice Owen Douglas, of the Supreme Court following.

The question that was asked of each of those polled is as follows: "As things stand now, who would you like to see as president of the United States come this November?"

However, here Wallace and Douglas ran much closer to the end of the list rather than to the top. Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, (3.5), General Douglas MacArthur, currently the Military Governor of Japan (3.2), Socialist Norman Thomas (1.9), and Senator Brian McMahon of Conn. (1.6) all ran ahead of Wallace (1.3) and Douglas (1.2).

Notes of Interest

A few interesting facts were noted by the poll itself and by the pollsters:

1. The naming of Norman Thomas, the perrenial presidential aspirant; Senator Brian McMahon, a seldom considered legislator, and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, widow of the late President.

2. The popularity of Senator Taft, considering that he received not one single vote at the U. of Penn's Mock Convention.

3. The war veteran's preference was for Stassen, Eisenhower, and Vandenberg.

4. The open-mindedness of most of those polled, i.e., most of those polled had no pre-conceived notion as to whom they preferred.

The Results:
Harold E. Stassen (R. Minn.)	29.2
General Eisenhower (? Kan.)	15.5
Arthur H. Vandenberg (R. Mich.)	12.7
Harry S. Truman (D. Mo.)	12.4
Thomas E. Dewey (R. N.Y.)	9.0
Robert A. Taft (R. Ohio)	3.5
General MacArthur (R. Wisc.)	3.2
Norman Thomas (S.	1.9
Brian H. McMahon (D, Conn.)	1.6
Henry A. Wallace (P. Iowa)	1.3
Justice Douglas (D. N.Y.)	1.2
*Others (less than 1%)	2.8
No Comment	5.4
Don't Care	1.3

*(Some of the others were Mrs. Roosevelt, Martin, (Pa), and Martin (N.H.), Marshall, O'Mahoney (D. Colo), etc.)

WHAT IS MODERN ART?

By Will Chester

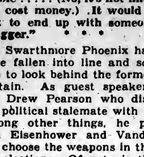
What is Modern Art? This glib and often-asked question is much too broad and indefinite to admit of a simple direct answer. So, instead of defining Modern Art, we shall describe three of the schools, which taken together with many more, go to make it up. These schools taken in the order of their origination are: Impressionism, Cubism, and Expressionism. However distinct these divisions may seem, one must remember that they merge and blend with one another.

To clarify the topic a definition is in order. Impressionism is the method whereby the artist views a scene and then paints his idea of that scene under certain moods extrinsic to himself. Cezanne, the leading exponent of this group tried to realize in color the emotion he felt in a landscape. Color seems to have been an obsession with these painters. They held that color when mixed in the usual way and laid flat on the canvas never looks as brilliant and alive as spots or dashes of the original colors that made up the mixture. This method forces the observer ot stand at a proper distance and try to mix these colors mentally (if this is possible). This theory was one of the first in the gradual process of breaking down the traditionally held sacred views in regard to form, line and silhouette.

The artists who embraced Impressionism are known to many, but often in a somewhat hazy way. To clarify any doubts a list is included as follows: Claude Monet, originated color theory; Cezanne, started revolt from pure imitativeness of reality; Renoir, used new color theory but retained semi-realistic form; Vincent Van Gogh, intensely sincere, is recognized by his heavy, long brush-strokes of intense color.

TYPICAL EXAMPLE OF MODERN ART

Following the Impressionists, but going much further in their radical departure from conventional standards, are the Cubists. Pablo Picasso is commonly thought of as the inventor of this new technique; Matisse as the one who coined the term; and Cezanne as the main stem from which the movement received impetus. The rabid Cubist holds that it is possible to dislocate the planes of an object, and to rearrange them in a picture, so organized that they will give a truer emotional or structural sense than the original "appearance." Cubism is the resultant of the artist's process after his impression has been made, translated into geometric forms. An interesting fact is that the Cubists reverted to the color doctrines of the Realists, while rejecting those of Cezanne and Monet.



Whatever one may think of the relative value of the Cubists it is our opinion: that if any artistic harmony or comprehension is to remain a painter must do more than disect figures and then rotate their planes of juncture.

The last division and the most universally adopted form today is the Expressionistic. It is the projection of the author's innerself upon the subject to be interpreted. In this manner the artist abstains from a purely pictorial representation of the object. At last art has regained its universal character which seemed to have been lost in the early phases of modernism. We remember that both Impressionism and Cubism laid down very particularized technical credos. In Expressionism on the other hand, it is differentiated only in approach to art. It is opposed only to imitational art.

SUMMER TRAVEL OPPORTUNITIES

By John Murphy

Summer 1948 presents unprecedented opportunities to the American student for study abroad. In fact, getting into a foreign university is as easy as enrolling in P.S. 74. All that is required is a plentiful supply of luchre and an excellent college transcript. However, for those who may be interested, the National Student Association has recently released a booklet wherein are enumerated the many necessary details, such as tuition, board, and transportation. In particular, universities of Great Britain have arranged some very important summer courses. St. Andrews University, for instance, is giving a course entitled, "The Tradition of European Civilization" which consists in a study of literature, history, and philosophy.

Besides St. Andrews, there are seven other British schools, including Oxford, that are conducting summer sessions. Universities in the Netherlands, Norway, Belgium, France, Switzerland, and Austria are also doing this. However, it should be added that schools in Ireland, while taking summer students are not conducting regular summer courses. Their fall term begins in August, and so foreign students may sit in on classes but not receive credits. All these institutions are fully accredited for education under the G-I Bill.

The American Youth Hostels are again operating and making available bicycle tours throughout Europe, South America, and Alaska. These tours are inexpensive and have become increasingly popular. A tour has even been arranged that will cover Yugoslavia and Bulgaria in case some fearless schoolboy cares to pedal through the Iron Curtain. The AYH regrets, however, that Moscow is not included in the itinerary. For those not inclined to cycling over hill and dale, the Bureau of University Travel is sponsoring a number of cultural trips via more standard mediums of transportation.

There will be a two-month English literature, and two Art and Music appreciation tours.

For those who like to labor without remuneration in specie, some associations are sending voluntary groups of healthy young Americans to Europe and Mexico on construction projects. This allows the volunteers to enjoy foreign travel at a cost slightly under that of the bicycle tours. There is a special need for bricklayers and those experienced in laying road beds.

New Spray Pond Is Unique

By Peter Gutwald II

Early May should bring a new delight to Villanova. Then will the campus be adorned by an artistic fountain spraying silver streams of water ten feet into the air. But why is the fountain hidden from the view of autoists on much-travelled Lancaster Pike? Therein lies a story.

Among other equipment, there was purchased for the Steam Power Laboratory two 25 K. W. steam turbines with condensers. These turbines require large quantities of water for the condensation of steam. A problem immediately presented itself. If Springfield water were used the very low water pressure in the buildings would be reduced yet more. Once used, the water would have to be discharged somewhere other than the sewage system, for sewage could not possibly dispose of the large volume of water expended. A method for cooling the water heated by the condensation of steam in the turbines had to be found.

Varied types of cooling systems were investigated. The spray pond system was chosen because it presented a method for cooling water without having unsightly atmospheric cooling towers or forced draft cooling towers mar the beauty of the campus. In the spray pond system was seen the possibility not only for utility, but also for the artistic.

Consequently, Villanovans view a unique design in spray pond systems. Our pond is circular and shallow; other ponds of the same type are rectangular and deep. The actual purpose of our pond may be disguised readily by encircling the pond with privet hedge and flowers. The water spraying from the eighteen spray nozzles should produce a mushroom effect and should enhance the appearance of the Chemical Engineering and Naval Science Buildings.

The pond is 66 feet in diameter with a volume of approximately 70,000 cubic feet. One 15 H.P. motor operates a pump with a capacity of 450 gallons per minute designed to re-circulate the water at least three times before using it again in order to reduce the temperature of the water approximately to that of the wet bulb temperature of the air. The water will circulate in a counter-clock wise direction and then be pumped to the Chemical Engineering building by a 300 gallon per minute pump.

Profile: Guns, Governor and a Second Round

By Edward Oxford

Since the start of his career Thomas E. Dewey has consistently been a second-round winner: in 1938 "The Honest Blacksmith" Jimmie Hines was acquitted; in 1940 New York crime-buster Dewey sent him to Sing Sing. In 1940 Dewey lost the Republican nomination on the sixth ballot to dark horse Wilkie; in 1944 Dewey won on the first ballot. In 1938 Lehman edged him out for the Governorship of New York; in 1942 Dewey stormed to victory and the Governor's post by a record 647,629 votes. In 1944 Roosevelt beat Dewey by a scant 3,000,000 votes and became President of the United States for a fourth time. Now it is 1948 and Dewey is hard on the comeback trail once more. Today public opinion polls place him slightly behind Harold E. Stassen in the Republican nomination race—but political veterans still consider him the greatest GOP votegetter of the century, and the big seige gun at the coming Philadelphia convention.

Their convictions rest on the man's impressive record as Manhattan's blood and thunder Sinkiller and as New York State's governor par excellence. More deeply, they probably admire his early days, days Americana-bright.

Thomas Edmund Dewey was born at 7 o'clock in the morning of March 24, 1902 over a red-brick general store on the edge of the Sheawassee River, Owosso, Michigan. He set type in a newspaper plant, sold Saturday Evening Posts, daily waited for the 4:15 train and his stack of Detroit Daily News's, drilled beans, hauled barley, and slept on straw as sole hand on a 160-acre farm. High school saw him a fast, too-light halfback, end man minstreleer, editor of the school yearbook, in which prophetically appeared beneath his portrait: "First in the Council Hall to steer the state . . . "

At 17 he went wandering in California's San Bernardino range and wound up working his way through a first year at Michigan University. The Ann Arbor campus recognized his exceptionally fine baritone voice, made him leader of the glee club, and the big decision between law and music headed for a show-down. Young Dewey sang in churches, and synagogues (by phonetic English) at $7.50 per Sunday and Saturday, won first prize in the Michigan State Singing Contest, took third in a national, and returned in time to sing solo as commencement and receive his B. A.

While studying on scholarship at Chicago Musical College the 22-year-old singer met an attractive mezzo-soprano who was going to New York. Dewey followed, enrolled in Coumbia, and later led her to the altar. On receiving his Law degree he decided not to face the hunger-haunted grind of the average neophyte in lawyer-littered Big Town, sailed third class to England, bicycled throughout France, grew his now-eternal mustache on a bet, and returned, starving.

But by 1931 Tom Dewey was eating regularly, had given up music as a career, and was winning acclaim for his work as assistant to the U. S. Attorney of the Southern District of Manhattan. His was a tremendous task. 1930's New York underworld was a fantastic arena of Big Business in crime. The old gangs, the Hudson Dusters, the Gophers, the Whyoos, and the Dead Rabbits had long since bowed out to mechanized crime: gigantic gunmachines engineering on city-wide scales stock swindling, dope peddling, tax fraud, grand larceny, and concocting bath-tubs-full of beverages like "Madden's Number One"—a successor to the prohibition slop. These were the days when a marriage-license clerk in City Hall netted $200,000 a year, when a gang lawyer like "Kid Mouthpiece" had an office rent of $13,000 a year, 2 homes, a penthouse, 16, $165 suits. So well did the young prosecutor shatter the ranks of pickpockets and thugs that in 1937 Dewey was drafted to run and was elected as District Attorney, then turned loose on the czars.

The roll down such underworld greats as Dutch Schultz, Abadaba—The Numbers Wizard, Ciro Terranova—The Artichoke King. He sent Bundist Fritz Kuhn to jail, and put Lucky Luciano to hard labor in a prison laundry. Bettors were 2-1 against his ever even trying Jimmie Hines, "The Honest Blacksmith". Dewey sent him to Sing Sing. After the trial a reporter asked Hines how he felt. "How would you feel". asked Hines, "if you had been kicked in the belly?"

In 1938 he ran for Governor of New York State, Herbert Lehman, strongly aided by President Roosevelt, edged him out by 64,000 votes out of 5 million. The next time up Dewey won with an astounding record.

PROM AND DINNER DANCE TO CAP WEEK FOR '49ers AND THEIR DATES

ADELPHIA IS SITE OF DINNER DANCE; CLOSING EVENT

Paul Judge to Play for Dancing After Candlelight Dinner

On Saturday, at the Crystal Room of the Adelphia Hotel, Junior Week will come to a close for the Class of '49. This second formal affair of the week will mark the climax of the Junior's social season. Dinner is scheduled to start at 7:45.

Honored guests of the class at the Dinner-Dance will be the Revs. Edward B. McKee, OSA, Edward M. Dwyer, OSA, Edwin T. Grimes, OSA, Thomas A. Burke, OSA, and Henry J. Eagan, OSA. Also seated at the speaker's table will be the following and their dates: George Guida, Class president; John Gattusso, class secretary; Anthony Scarpa, class treasurer; Ray Kelm, Junior Week chairman; Charles Whitaker, Dinner Dance chairman; Jim Plunkett, Kevin McChesney, John Casby, Bob Stoelker, Frank McBride, Joseph Hennessy, Frank Guzikowski and Dick Rice. There will be thirty-eight additional tables.

The complete menu for the dinner follows:

Fresh Fruit Cup Adelphia
Hearts of Celery—Queen Olives
Cream of tomatoes aux Croutons
Roast Prime Ribs of Beef
Green Peas
Rissole Potatoes
Lettuce and Tomato Salad,
(Russian Dressing)
Frozen Rainbow Roll
Roll Butter Coffee

The committee for this dance was under the chairmanship of Charles Whitaker and was composed of: Ed Sutula, ticket chairman, and Frank Coles, Band chairman.

Tickets for the dance will be on sale at the Information booth in Mendel Hall until Wednesday, one o'clock.

In the center is Miss Doris Kamp, Reigning Queen for the Class of '49 Junior Prom. The remaining pictures are those not heretofore printed of contest entrants, concluding the Villanovan's three-week series. The Queen will have no court. Upper Left—Julia Zhuraw; Lower Left—Terry Morris; Lower Right—Claire McGeady.

PARISIAN STREET SCENE TO BE MOST NOVEL PROM THEME TO DATE

By Al Abreu

The Junior Prom, featuring one of the most novel themes ever used at a Villanova dance, will be held Friday evening with the Queen of the Prom, lovely Doris Kamp, reigning. The expected throng of 550 couples will dance in a distinctly French setting to the music of Howard Lanin and his orchestra.

Miss Kamp, an English major at Chestnut Hill, is 21, brunette and beautiful. The charming Queen of the Prom was chosen from a large field of contestants by June McAdams, director of the Philadelphia Studio.

Doris, whose picture was entered by George Coleman, has been seen often on the fashion pages of Philadelphia papers.

It was announced by John Scopetta, who is in charge of the Prom decorations, that the decoration theme will be a Parisian street scene; the dance floor to be the street, Pigalle, with sidewalk cafes on one side and a park on the other. The formally attired promenaders will dance in this romantic setting created with the assistance of the owners of Bryn Mawr's Bouquet Shop.

The maestro presents a twenty piece orchestra including a male and female vocalist and featuring an eight-piece string section. Lanin's orchestra is well known in social circles, having performed at various coming-out parties in the local area. The Lanin policy of providing continuous music has proved very popular and will make it possible for those attending to dance at any time they please during the evening.

The formal highlight of the evening will be the presentation of Miss Kamp as Queen of the Prom and the Grand March to be led by the Queen and her escort, George Coleman over the Field House floor.

Refreshments will be served during the course of the evening.

The success of the Prom will be the culmination of many weeks of work by Jim, Plunkett, chairman of the Junior Prom Committee, and the committee members.

JUNIORS OF '24 HAD CAPS, CANES AND "TUG-O-WAR"

By Jack Connelly

Junior Week, 1948, marks the 25th year of one of Villanova's most cherished traditions. Beginning back in 1924, the Junior class of that year decided to stimulate class spirit and to inaugrate what they boped would become a tradition. From that start has evolved this week of fun and festivity, ever held in the memories of Villanova graduates.

The first Junior Week, began, as it still does, with High Mass. "This opening Mass symbolizes a twofold purpose"; we read in the April 1926 issue of the Villanovan, "first as a memorial to all who hold Villanova dear and, second, as a pledge of good faith." Regulation attire for the Juniors during the week was "white caps with class numerals and white flannels with canes." The cane was to signify "the arrival of the Juniors to the estate of man—the donning of the knight's armor." The cap denoted fraternalism.

Events and regulations varied from year to year. The first Junior week began on Tuesday. After Mass, the sophomores met the juniors in a "tug-o-war" across the old college swimming hole. In the afternoon the two classes met at baseball. On Wednesday evening the Juniors were hosts to the Senior class and the Varsity teams at an informal dance. Thursday was Prom Day—the biggest day of the week. In 1924, the old Majestic Hotel in Philadelphia was the scene of the event. On Friday the Juniors were feted by the Seniors at a smoker. On Saturday, the class met in Philadelphia again, this time for a dinner.

By 1926 Junior Week was well established as THE event of the year. About the later added tree-planting, the April 1926 Villanovan says, "The evergreen symbolizes undying affection—as the tree grows stronger and beautiful, so also does our love for Villanova." That statement still applies.

Juniors Host To Mothers Monday; Concert Tonight

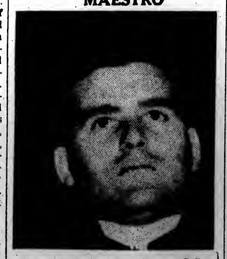
Junior Week gains more momentum this evening with a Band Concert in the Villanova Field House. The initial impressive event opening the program was the Mother's Day celebration held on the Campus yesterday. Four major affairs remain to round out the week's happenings.

Tomorrow night the only informal dance of the week will begin at nine o'clock. Music for this, the Blazer Ball, will be provided by the college dance band, The Villanovans. A feature of note is the announcement that prizes will be awarded to top dancers. Expecting almost a sell-out crowd, the sponsors are capitalizing on the coincidental free-day occuring on Thursday, occasioned by commemoration of the Ascension.

Rev. Thomas A. Burke, OSA

Society bandleader, Howard Lanin, will supply the music at the formal Junior Prom on Friday night. Playing from nine to one, Lanin has stressed the fact that he will be open for student requests throughout the evening.

The Adelphia Hotel's Crystal Room will play host to the Junior's at their Dinner-Dance. Music, provided by Paul Judge's orchestra, will last from eight until twelve.



Varied Presentations Mark Musical Fare

Music might be said to be the prevailing theme of Junior Week 1948. With five different events either featuring music or incorporating music, students of Villanova, more particularly those of the Junior Class, should have had their fill of everything musical by next Sunday.

Perhaps the musical highlight of the week will be Howard Lanin and his band at the Junior Prom on Friday. At the Prom, Lanin's society orchestra will be built around a string section of violins, two baby-grand pianos, and two vocalists. Prior to its engagement at Villanova, Lanin's orchestra has played for numerous other college affairs at places such as: Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Cornell, Columbia, etc., and at social functions such as the Baltimore Bachelor's Cotillion, New York Junior Assembly, and the Philadelphia Assembly Hall. Lanin will accept requests all evening at the Prom.

Paul Judge is a familiar figure to most Villanovans, having played at the Senior Dinner-Dance, NROTC Ball, VILLANOVAN Dinner-Dance, and will play at the Phi Kappa Pi Dinner Dance. Juniors will have further opportunity to become acquainted with Paul Judge and his orchestra when they play at the Junior Dinner-Dance Saturday.

MAESTRO

Rev. Ralph Handran, OSA

VOCALIST

Lee Morgan

On Wednesday, the Villanovans will start off the series of Junior Week dances with the Blazer Ball. After a half dozen or so "home" dances and numerous other "outside" engagements, the college dance band will be at its peak for the initial Junior Week dance.

For the first two days of Junior Week an entirely different type of musical entertainment was offered. The Villanova Band and Glee Club gave a concert of light classical music for the Juniors and their Mothers yesterday afternoon in the Field House.

To The Juniors—A Toast

Villanovans have always been proud of their school. Its rating is unchallenged and its campus is unquestionably among the most beautiful in the East.

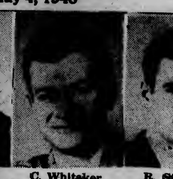
In every Villanovan's career a certain high point comes. As a freshman, he is just breaking into his new life. In the second year, he becomes settled, widening his circle of friends and activities. His senior year is filled with post-college preparations. The Junior year, then, is his year. What better way to give three lusty shouts tfor his college days than with a Junior Week. With Spring as a setting, the third-year man's flow of enthusiasm closely parallels the change in seasonal activity.

There was this thought; action resulted and Junior Week; became a Villanova tradition; it is looked forward to for months; it's lived fully for its lifetime, relived continuously in the memories of graduates.

This week takes all prominence and every lead in the Villanova social year. Not wholly an affair for pre-seniors, it finds the whole school stepping out, from first-termers to graduating seniors. Along the Main Line, Junior Week is a synonym for Villanova.

The class of '49, with the top Junior enrollment in history, has taken all former achievements and rolled them into one for 1948.

Taking the lead in school activities as sophomores, the '49'ers have won the admiration and respect of the whole school. Primarily veterans, they resumed their college life after several years' lapse, a little more sober and thoughful perhaps, but lacking no spirit and enthusiasm.



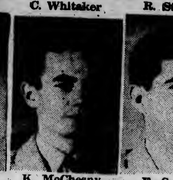
While footballs wkere still being tossed, and the first snow came charging in from northern skies, plans were laid. That the preparations have formed a strong foundation for seven days of varied memorabilia, will be evinced to all participants.

Junior Week is for the families, dates and schoolfellows of the members of the Class of '49. Join them in this, their toast to college days.

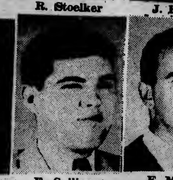
F G.

Ray Kelm

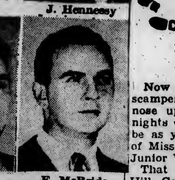
C. Whitaker



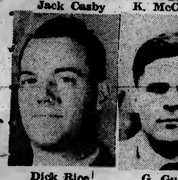
R. Stoelker



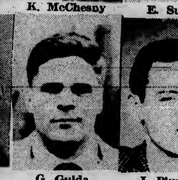
J. Hennessy



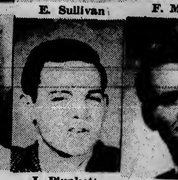
Jack Casby



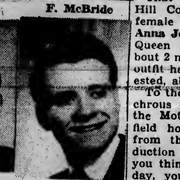
K. McChesny



E. Sullivan



F. McBride



Dick Rice

G. Guida

J. Plunkett

F. Guzikowski

Dinner-Dance, Elections Arranged at PKP Meeting

Last Wednesday Phi Kappa Pi nominated candidates for next year's officers and discussed plans for its Dinner-Dance. A representative group met in 215 Mendel under the direction of PKP president, Dick Shinners.

The dance will be held at the Adelphia Hotel, May 15th. Paul Judge will provide the music. A committee of five was selected to handle the arrangements: George Schillinger, Charles Rodden, Mike Nonlan, Roland Mayer, and Martin Mulkeen.

Elections will take place on Wednesday, May 12th. Those nominated are: President; Jack Brett, Jack Hielmann, Neal McGee; Vice-President; Jim Dugan, John Link, and Mike Nonlan; Treasurer, Roland Mayer, Al Scarcelli, and Leo Wolf; Secretary; George Schillinger, Dan Haflinger, and Brooks Rices; Student Council Representative; Iver Peterson, Carl Andreone, and Larry Probst; Sergeant at Arms; John Riker, Dominic Lebanca, and Charles Rodden.

DAILY:

7:30 a. m. Morning Mix-Up
7:00 p. m. Music for today
7:30 p. m. Record Rendezvous
9:30 p. m. Record Requests
10:00 p. m. Music to Study By
11:00 p. m. Sign Off

TUESDAY: May 4th

7:15 p. m. Campus Newsreel
7:20 p. m. Sports Roundup
8:00 p. m. Do You Know?
8:30 p. m. Show Time
9:00 p. m. Browsing thru the Record Library

DUE TO THE ACTIVITIES OF JUNIOR WEEK AND THE HOLIDAY WFIL WILL BE OFF THE AIR THE REST OF THE WEEK.

MONDAY: May 10th

7:15 p. m. Campus Newsreel
7:20 p. m. Sports Roundup
8:00 p. m. Symphony Hall
9:00 p. m. Band of the week
9:15 p. m. News & Views

JEANNETT'S
Bryn Mawr Flower Shop
Corsage Specialists
FREE DELIVERY
823 Lancaster Ave.
BRYNMAWR , PA.
Bryn Mawr 0570 : Flowers by Wire

HEADQUARTERS for SPRING
FORMALS
John Douglass Co.
Formal Attire Rentals
Garrett Bd. Theater Bldg.
ENTRANCE: Garrett Road or Terminal Sq.
OPEN: Mon. - Wed. & Fri. Eves.
Blvd. 5957

"Come on, Johnny, mother promised us Dentyne Chewing Gum if we only sat through it once!"

"Not even Frankie Swoonatra could make me miss Dentyne Chewing Gum! That nifty flavor really sends me—I mean it really does. And the way Dentyne helps keep my teeth white, I wants turn on the old smile all the time."

Dentyne Gum—Made Only By Adams

THE 5TH COLUMN

By HUGH JOHNSON and FRANK McBRIDE

Now Buck Coleman can justly scamper about the campus with his nose up in the air—like the tail nights on a new Cadillac. He will be as you know, the proud escort of Miss Doris Kamp, the Queen of Junior Week.

That just about makes Chestnut Hill College's Senior Class THE female class of the Philly area. Anna Jean Hurst, same class, was Queen of Penn's Inetr-Frat Ball bout 2 months ago—Incidently, that outfit has, for those that are interested, about 25 more like Doris.

To the Juniors who saw that hot chrous on the stage yesterday at the Mother's Day shindig in the field house—Remember, they are from the Turf and Tinsle's production of "John Smith, Esq". If you thing it was a comedy yesterday, you should see the show—2 weeks from now.

THANKS POLSTERS

Our thanks to those who cooperated to make the Presidential Poll a success.—Might add that the results will most probably be published over the country—and three'll get you one that the "Stassen For Pres" boys will be the ones to do it.

Memo no. 1 from the chow hall: With each bottle of milk given out, 2 straws are handed to the chow-hound. Take note some time—the straw covers carry the message, "Thank You....Please call again."

Sorry we're 4 days late with this but last Thursday, 2 very attractive females from- Immaculatta (Cass Mear and Gini Brdley, by name) were combing the campus for dates for their dance—which was Saturday night.

Kane Goes Beserk

Yes, that was John "Killer" Kane who was paying "Mr. Okinawa" with the fire crackers in the Pie Shop last week. Credit goes to "Ace" Louie for tracking 'em down.

Squeals and Squawks As Baby Wins Contest

Squeals and squawks were heard a-plenty last week. Some wondered if Villanova had begun a day-school for babies. Others thought it might have something to do with a nursery in the neighborhood. But it was nothing of the sort. The Villanova Juniors were holding a baby contest. About twelve youngsters were in the competition to find the handsomest "Junior" of Junior week.

Well, the little winner is Ed Daly, Jr., whose father is a student in the Commerce and Finance School. He is one year, three months old, a blonde, blue eyed young 'un, the pride of Ed Sr. and his lovely wife Mary. But as cute as he is the decision was no easy matter as Miss June McAdams of the Philadelphia Studio, who judged the contest, will attest.

Left to Right: descending order
A. Santacroce T. Lighthall
J. Hildebrand L. Capellaro
J. Cody W. Carroll

What young Ed thinks of all this business is not clearly known, for he didn't have much to say to the press concerning his success at such a young age. But then we don't suppose that he would want to brag about himself. That would probably come under his father's department.

Members of The Alumni. On the weekend of 18-19-20, once more returns the Annual Alumni Week-end on the beautiful Villanova Campus.

But back to Junior Week. Reminder AAAA. The Blazer ball is tomorrow night—it's open to all who can muster up the 250. The theme for the evening is some—cigarettes—and more smoke. You see, the campus cigarette men are donating all their butts. We recommend that you keep your eyes on the overhead ballons. 'Nuff said.

AMAZING NEW

IT'S IN YOUR HAIR, NOT ONLY ON IT. RESULT:
YOUR HAIR IS well-groomed NOT WELL-GREASED

A new experience awaits you with the New STACOMB. Now your hair can always have a rich, well-groomed, healthy look because STACOMB employs a completely new scientific approach...works with Nature. It's IN your hair, not only ON your hair. Result: No "greasy" or "slicky" effect. You get a stimulating, clean feeling. And STACOMB gives greater protection against staining hat bands, sofa-backs, etc. It's really different. Get a tip-less, spill-less tube of New STACOMB today at any drug, 10-cent or department store. 50c.

Try this HANDKERCHIEF TEST
After your next shampoo, apply STACOMB to your hair with a massaging action. Then draw your handkerchief over it and...look! No stain. No grease. Only New STACOMB will do this—it's really different!
STANDARD LABORATORIES, INC., DISTRIBUTOR

CATS TRAVEL FOR MARYLA'D DUAL MEET

Track Squad Favored in Distance Events — Matthews Big Threat

by Harry Range

This Saturday Coach Jim Elliott and his trckmen will travel to College Park, Maryland for a dual meet with the University of Maryland. Having competed in the Seton Hall Relays, the Penn Relays and a triangular meet with Navy and Manhattan, this will be the Cats first dual meet.

In the past, Maryland has not had a first-rate team in cinder circles, but recently the Black and Gold has launched a large-scale program in track and field. Maryland's big threat is Ed Matthews, Southeast Conference quarter-mile champion.

GUIDA DOUBTFUL STARTER

It is still doubtful whether IC4A quarter-mile champion George Guida will be able to participate in this meet. He has been on the inactive list now for two weeks, as a result of pulling a muscle in his right leg. Another doubtful participant is Ed Fitzgerald who was spiked in the foot at the Penn Relays a week ago.

Buck Coleman should be an easy winner in the pole vault. His victory in the Florida Relays, and runner-up status in the Penn Relays definitely establish him as one of the leading pole-vaulters in the East.

In the distance events the Wildcats will have capable men in Jim McGehrin, George Thompson, Browning Ross, Dave Williams, Chorlie McKee, and Jim Kennedy.

The sprints and middle-distance will find Jack Holmes, Dick Muscelli, Joe McCreary, and Gene Kelly.

NO FROSH EVENTS

The one bad feature of the meet is that there are no Freshmen events. There was only one meet, that against Seton Hall, in which the entire Freshmen squad was able to compete. The only other events open for Freshmen are mile-relays in the Seton Hall Relays, Penn Relays, and the IC4A Championships.

This is hardly enough competition for a Frosh squad of Villanova calibre. If possible, more dual meets should be arranged this season, and if this can be done, it should be a must for next year.

Thompson Runs 4:18.4 Mile In Navy Triangular Meet

LINKSMEN LOSE; WEILAND CARSO 76

Villanova's linksmen, who have not won a match since 1942, dropped another one on Friday at the Main Line Golf Course. This one, a 6 to 3 lacing suffered at the hands of the Rider College golf team, was kind of hard to take since little Rider, of Trenton, never beat Villanova in any sport before.

Weiland, Powers Win

However, the team match was not without its bright spots for the locals as Don Weiland, who carded a good 76, and Boot Powers, manager-coach of the squad, both gained victories in their single contests. Weiland was forced to go all the way to the last hole to win his match while Powers won handily 5 up and 4 to play. Powers shot an 83 and helped get Villanova's other point by teaming up with Gus Murray to win the third match best ball. Incidentally, they took that one up.

Joe Hohenlightner, Wieland's partner in the first match, lost 4 and 3 as their pair dropped the best ball 2 and 1. John Trayer, the Wildcats' second lowest medalist, scored an 81 but lost to his tough Rider opponent 3 down and 2 to go. Trayer's partner George Becker found himself two down with one hole to play. This duet lost their best ball (a Kro Flite) 4 and 3.

Face Loyola, LaSalle Next Week

On next Monday, the golf team of Loyola will journey up from Baltimore to vie with the 'Cat "hackers" at the Main Line golf course. The locals are determined to make this match their first win of the season. Since most of the Villanova golfers are novices at match play, they feel they have gained the necessary experience in the first four matches and will go all-out to take the Loyolans who should be quite a tough club to beat. A week from today, an old city rivalry will be resumed when the Wildcat linksmen face LaSalle College at the White Marsh Country Club. LaSalle also has not fared too well in their early season games, but some very good matches should be in store since both teams will be "up" for this one.

Ross Wins as 'Cats Take Third Place

Navy's powerful track team under coach Earl Thompson proved to have too much all around power for the Jaspers of Manhattan and Wildcats to overcome in a triangular affair at Annapolis, Saturday. Navy garnered 73 points to the 61½ for the New Yorkers. Jim Elliott's men, extremely weak in the field events, totaled 27¼ points.

The outstanding performance of the day, was the 4:18.4 mile turned in by long striding George Thompson, who overhauled Navy's Jim Oberholtzer on the gun lap to win going away by twenty yards. The lanky sophomore broke the meet record of 4:19, set by Browning Ross last year. In the 100-yard dash, I. C. 4-A champ Joe Cianciabella of Manhattan sped home first in 10 flat as Joe McCreary, of Villanova took fourth. The 440 was won by Jasper Dean Noll, in 49.2. Jack Holmes grabbed third ten yards behind the victor.

The most exciting race of the day was the half mile. Phil O'Connell, carrying the Green of Manhattan, nosed out George Thompson by six inches in 1:57.5. Thompson, however, had just finished winning the mile a short while before. Two-miler Browning Ross, romped home 45 yards ahead of Manhattan's Pinter in 9:45. Jim Kennedy garnered fourth behind Hall of Navy.

Stocky Joe Cianciabella turned in a double win when he edged Ambrogi of Navy in the 220 in 22:2. Speedster Joe McCreary, of the Wildcats, was in the third spot. Dan Sullivan, Metropolitan Intercollegiate champion, captured the 220-yard low hurdles in 25.4. Villanova's Gene Kelly placed fourth. Buck Coleman, Florida Relays pole vault title holder, was tied by Barrow of the Middies at 12 ft. 6 in. Manhattan's mile relay quartet, defeated the Villanova foursome by 40 yards as Navy, anchored by Jim Garibaldi, could do no better than third. Manhattan's time was 3.22.5.

TENNIS PRACTICE STARTS THIS WEEK

This week, definately, the Intramuri Round Robin Tennis Tournament will get underway. Unexpected difficulties were encountered in getting the courts into shape after the spring rains, but Rev. John McMenamin, O. S. A., Procurator, said yesterday that the work is almost completed. The nets will go up tomorrow.

ELIMINATES EACH HALL

As previously announced, each hall will conduct its own elimination playoff to determine the single representatives of that hall. The same practice will hold with the Day-Hops. The Day-Hop schedule will be posted on the bulletin board outside of the VILLANOVAN office.

The pairings for the hall playoffs will be determined by the prefect of each hall or by a student appointed by a perfect. Therefore, all men interested in participating in the tournament are urged to sign up in their own hall with their own prefects.

Winner Receives Koch Trophy

The final playoffs between the winners of all the halls and Day-Hops will be run off late this month. The winner will receive the Fred Koch Trophy, donated last year by the man whose name the trophy bears.

(Continued on Page 7)

RIFLEMEN EDGED IN 2 POSTAL MATCHES

By Frank Gobes

Before they left for Princeton last week, the N. R. O. T. C. Rifle team turned in targets for postal matches with Marquette University of Rochester. The results as received last Tuesday were a little disappointing to the team as they lost by the slim margin of one point to Rochester, and seventeen points to Marquette.

Both matches were fired from four positions, with a possible 50 points for each position in the contest with Marquette, and a possible 100 points for each position in the contest with Rochester. Both matches were fired against N. R. O. T. C. teams from the respective colleges.

The scores were:
Villanova....858, Rochester....859
Villanova..1641, Milwaukee..1658

Rosen Tops Singles

Rosen, of the University of Rochester, was high scorer in the Rochester match with a score of 181. Hittinger, of Villanova, was second with 179. In the contest with Marquette, Gobes of Villanova was high scorer with a 350, as Bon Duront, the tetm captain for Marquette, came in second with a 346. The results of these matches were an improvement in the scores that have been turned in by Villanova midshipmen, but it is thought that firing on the home range has a great deal to do with the difference between these scores and those turned in at the Princeton match.

Results should reach the Navy office today or tomorrow with the score of a postal match with Penn State, and another with Oklahoma. Villanova dropped a match to Penn State two weeks ago when they met at Penn State. The midshipmen are anxious, therefore to avenge the defeat.

Pistol team formed

In the past two weeks, the midshipmen have begun organizing a pistol team to augment the rifle team. A little more difficult, this undertaking involves training men in the use of the hand gun since only three men, Clark, Hittinger and Hazard, have had any experience with this weapon. The pistol team fired in a postal match last weekend but the results have not yet been received.

'Cats Trounce Penn, 8-3

Green Takes Victory; Litwa Stars With Base-Stealing

Before 500 hardy fans who braved one of the coldest days of the Spring, the Wildcat's baseball squad batted and ran their way to an 8-3 triumph over Pennsylvania at the Main Line stadium on Thursday.

Although Penn hit two home runs —in the eight, Ray Dooney hammered one way out into left-center field, while in the ninth Bob Mangon followed with a blast over the left field fence—it was the timely hitting and base running of Al Litwa which stole the show.

In the sixth inning, Litwa committed what amounted to grand larceny. Working Penn's pitcher John Guthrie for a walk to start the inning, he stole second (his second steal of the day). There, he taunted Guthrie into committing a balk and was waved to third. The rest of the time he spent in keeping the fans wondering if he was going to add home plate to his collection also. Al finally scored on Kline's single for the Cat's final run.

Score 4 In Third

The baiance of Villanova's scoring came in the third and fifth innings. Bobby Green led off with a walk and advanced to second on Larry Aigledinger's single, Frinzi asked out but Litwa banged out a double scoring Green. Price was next up, and he also sent the ball far into left field for a double. Kline hit a nice single but Blong and O'Malley both went down to wind up the inning. The sum for this inning, four hits and three runs.

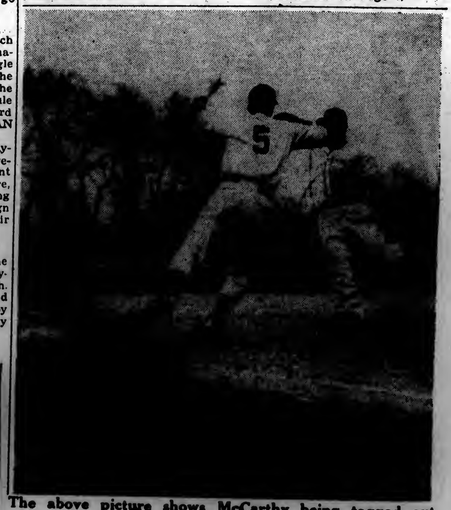
The next best inning for the Cats was the fifth. Litwa (that man again) led off with a single. Price grounded out, but Kline again singled, this time to center field. Blong also singled, and O'Malley walked sending Litwa home.

Add 3 In 5th

Then D'Ambrosio got on when Penn's third sacker, Mangon, made an error. He was faliowed by Green who flied out to the same Mangon. Aigledinger hit a beautiful double which brought in two more. He was succeeded at the plate by Frinzi who flied out to end the inning. The total this time was four hits, four runs. At this point we were out in front 7-1.

Penn certainly gave great promise, though, when in the first inning McCarthy hit a triple, with no one on the bases. Dooney proceeded to get on by virtue of D'Ambrosio's error. Boney singled, but Green began to bear down and struck out Gnup to end the frame.

There were no other bright spots, except Mangon's double in the fourth, until Messers Dooney and Mangon hit their home runs in the



(Continued on Page 7)

Tennis Courts open for use

Two Villanovans are pictured taking advatage of the fine tennis courts open to the students.

The above picture shows McCarthy being tagged out from shortstop at first on a double play.

Upsets Feature Opening Week of Twilite Softball

Mondschein Inc., and Kluesarita

The inaugural games of the Intramural Softball season were played on Monday, May 26, with Austin pitted gainst Alumni and Bks 1 and 4 playing host to Bks. 2 and 3. Both Austin and Bks. 1 and 4 won slugfests from their opponents.

On Mendel Field, Austin registered a14-7 victory as Hittinger and DeLago held Alumni to seven hits. Meanwhile Austin pounded the offerings of Griffin for 12 safeties including round-trippers by Egan, Doris, and Malloy. Mundey contributed a triple and a single while Ray McNulty had a double and two singles in the rout. Griffin had a triple and Simonelli and "Swish" Annas had doubles for the losing cause.

In the other opener, Ray Artz twirled a seven hitter as his Bks. 1 and 4 team trounced their arch rival, Bks. 2 and 3, 14-5. Ed Doyle led the attack with a triple and single driving in four runs. Madonia with three for three accounted for four of the winners' tallies. The offensive efforts of Tom Irish, who had 3 for 4 and Bill Lemmer's fine defensive play stood out for the losers. Nauroh in his first mound effort failed to silence the big bats of Bks. 1 and 4; and blasted for 14 hits.

Knecht Homers

On Tuesday evening, the games were played under unfavorable weather conditions as the Doms triumphed over the Day Hops, 8-3, in an abbreviated five-inning contest. Harry Knecht limited the Day Hops to 4 hits and the issue was never in doubt. Harry also hit a home run on the second pitch of the tilt to help his cause along. Healey and Pallito also chipped in extra base blows. Diehl was charged with the defeat.

Mendel's ace southpaw, Capt. George Mondschein, was hit hard but managed to survive a last-inning rally on rain-soaked Austin Field as the Mendeleers came through with an 11-8 conquest of Fedigan. Big Bill Gerold led the hitting attack with two triples, one with the sacks full, and a single. Mamzic and Cusick hit home runs for the losers, each with one on in the first inning. Tress was touched for 11 hits and also received ragged support from his teammates.

AUSTIN, UPSET, 5-3

The hitting and pitching of Lefty Mondschein featured for the second straight day as Mendel upset Austin 5-3. Lefty limited Austin to seven singles and got 4 hits in as many trips to the plate. His hits drove in three runs including the winning tallies. Ray Mondschein at short and chris Sickler in left field were outstanding defensive stars. Russ Hittinger was on the mound for Austin and was tagged for 13 hits as he went down to his first defeat.

Fedigan bounced back on Wednesday as they eked out a 10-9 decision over the Alumni. The victors hit Norton for 16 hits including homers by Kirchner and a triple by Mamzic. Annas hit a homer for Alumni, but Kirchner, Fedigan's twirler, was effective in the pinches to gain his first victory. Norton was charged with the defeat. The fielding gem of the day was Filippilli's sensational "Gionfriddo" catch of Annas's drive labeled for extra bases in the fifth inning to cut short an Alumni rally.

On Thursday, the Doms' pitching ace Harry Knecht, hurled a masterful game as he limited Bks. 2 & 3 to 2 hits as the Doms won handily, 6-1. Doyle singled in the 4th and Phillips singled in the 5th for the losing hurler.

Tomorrow Villanova hopes to duplicate this same feat, when they again meet the Red and Blue at River Field.

Rams Here, May 8

On Saturday, May 8, the Cats meet the Rams of Fordham at New

In Thursday's other game, Bks. 2 & 3 edged out the Day Hops, 13-12. The Day Hops scored three runs in the first to take an early lead, but Bks. 1 & 4 kept pounding away on Jameson and led 11-6 at the end of the sixth. In the last inning, the Day Hops dented the plate 6 times to take the lead but Bks. 1 & 4 rallied for two runs in their half of the inning to clinch the victory. Ray Artz was credited with his second win while Jameson was charged with the defeat. Jack Jameson and Juliana led the Barracks' attack with three hits. Don Collins, with a homer and double starred for the losers.

Because of the various Junior Week activities that will take place next week, no league games have been scheduled until May 10, when the league will resume the regular schedule.

The schedule:

Monday, May 10
Doms vs. Austin
Alumni vs. Day Hops

Tuesday, May 11
Austin vs. Day Hops
Alumni vs. Doms

Wednesday, May 12
Bks. 2 & 3 vs. Fedigan
Bks. 1 & 4 vs. Mendel

Thursday, May 13
Mendel vs. Bks. 2 & 3
Fedigan vs. Bks. 1 & 4.

Penn Game . .

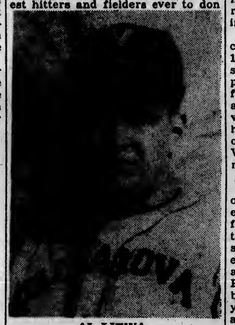
(Continued from Page 6)

eighth and ninth respectively.

In allowing only 9 hit Green won his second game in three starts while Dean Starter Jiorle was the losing hurler.

Tomorrow Villanova hopes to duplicate this same feat, when they again meet the Red and Blue at River Field.

Rams Here, May 8



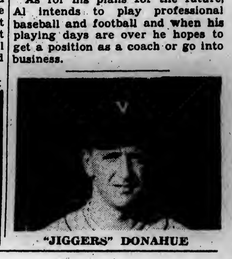
On Saturday, May 8, the Cats meet the Rams of Fordham at New York. Last year, which was a bad one for Fordham with 10 wins, 12 losses, and a tie, Villanova won 5-3.

This year, however, Coach John Coffey has thirteen letterman back with at least one year's experience and should have a greatly improved combination. Coffey took his place at Rose Hill in 1924 and since that time has compiled an excellent record which includes several Eastern States Inter-Collegiate and metropolitan championships.

Litwa, Cats' Leading Hitter, Plans Pro Baseball Career

By BILL CANINO

Continuing our series of highlitting the lives of the ballplayers on the Villanova varsity nine we are proud to present one of the finest hitters and fielders ever to don a Blue-White uniform—Al Litwa. At this writing Litwa is leading the squad in batting with a .471 average. Among his other accomplishments for the current season are his 13 runs batted in and 3 home runs which places him in the lead in both of these departments.



AL LITWA

Hailing from Camden, N. J., Al came to Villanova in the Spring of 1946 after a two and a half year stay in the Army. In his first campaign Al pounded the ball well and finished with a fine .332 average and led the team in the R. B. I.s with 13. Last season he continued his display of power by smashing out a .395 average and paced the Wienertmen in home runs and number of hits.

Fine High School Record

At Camden High School Al left one of the most enviable records ever compiled. He was the star fullback on the team which won the New Jersey Group 4 championship in his senior year. This great eleven featured such personalities as All-American George Savitsky of Penn and Joe Martin, stellar halfback and captain at Cornell two years ago. In high school Litwa also held a starting berth on the varsity basketball squad for two seasons. In his Senior year Al closed his spectacular record by being the leading hitter on the baseball team. Upon graduation he spent a year at Fordham University where he starred in baseball and football.

As for his plans for the future, Al intends to play professional baseball and football and when his playing days are over he hopes to get a position as a coach or go into business.

"JIGGERS" DONAHUE

Save Money! Take advantage of the Bouquet Shop's special offer to the Class of '49. Order your corsages for the Prom and Dinner Dance and receive a dollar discount. Save almost 20%. . .

The BOUQUET Shop
Across From Bell Telephone
BRYN MAWR, PA.

Call B.B. 2422
or See
Mike Marshall or Tony Constantino
Mendel Hall, Room 251, 348
Special on Orchids . . .

FREE DELIVERY ALMOST ANYWHERE CORSAGES OF ALL KINDS
"Distinctive Corsages at Prices to Please Your G.I. Dollar"

You'll be Talking about this RECORD!

"Funny What a Dime Can Do"
The Mary Osborne Trio's latest Decca disc

It's a strummin', hummin' disc by the Mary Osborne Trio—and it's headed for "top billing" with the platter set.

Mary knows the songs that suit her best . . . knows her cigarettes too. As Mary says it, "I've tried them all—Camels suit me best!"

Try Camels on your "T-Zone"—T for Taste, T for Throat. Find out for yourself why, with millions of smokers who have tried and compared, Camels are the "choice of experience."

And here's another great record:

More people are smoking CAMELS than ever before!

R. J. Reynolds Tob. Co. Winston-Salem, N. C.

HONOR ROLL

Ed. Note: Below is the continuation of the Honor Roll. The following student merited a 4.00 average by virtue of all A's for the last semester: Richard E. Dalrymple.

BIOLOGY

NAME	AV.
Matwiejczyk, Joseph P.	3.65	HR
Fleisher, Daniel S.	3.40	HR
Bonnin, Pedro J.	3.16	HR
Costas, Raul	3.83	HR
Gatto, Michael R.	3.06	HR
Dalrymple, Richard E.	4.00	HR
Day, H. James	3.61	HR
Steller, Robert E.	3.50	HR
Doriety, James D.	3.33	HR
Michalik, Emeric J.	3.00	HR
Pica, Vincent B.	3.30	HR
Garcia, Theodore A.	3.26	HR
Fischer, Robert	3.12	HR
Binder, Martin G.	3.10	HR
Santagada, Vincent A.	3.00	HR
Hemler, Paul M.	3.94	HR
Rubin, Emanuel	3.81	HR
Loeper, Donald J.	3.79	HR
McCarty, Danial J.	3.37	HR
Goldstein, Jerome	3.17	HR
McGovern, James R.	3.16	HR
Dzwonczyk, John	3.06	HR
Raffetto, Charles	3.00	HR
Barry, William E.	3.56	HR
Lynett, Joseph A.	3.22	HR
Stoker, Martin L.	3.17	HR
Blank, Robert M.	3.82	HR
Fernandez, Jose	3.78	HR
Gallen, Lawrence C.	3.67	HR
Brunner, Edward A.	3.61	HR
Riker, Robert	3.28	HR
DiGrazia, John M.	3.17	HR
Manz, Donald J.	3.13	HR
Petrillo, Armand P.	3.13	HR
Pusak, Edward S.	3.12	HR
Turns, Calvin N.	3.07	HR
Klucsarits, William J.	3.00	HR
Koval, Eugene M.	3.00	HR
Kruse, John F.	3.00	HR
sKowron, Ralph A.	3.00	HR
Zavodny, Paul W.	3.00	HR

CHEMICAL ENGINEERING

NAME	AV.
DeMartino, Carl	3.75	HR
Donahue, Joseph F.	3.61	HR
Brown, John K.	3.37	HR
Murray, Edward V.	3.21	HR
Donohue, Walter A.	3.95	HR
Gorman, John J.	3.68	HR
Spera, Vito J.	3.58	HR
O'Brien, William J.	3.90	HR
Farnan, Gerard W.	3.47	HR
Holahan, John C.	3.38	HR
Ambrogi, William P.	3.33	HR
Butler, Robert F.	3.33	HR
Haselmaier, Carli G.	3.33	HR
Hunafin, Paul Michael	3.19	HR
Restrepo, Robert P.	3.10	HR
Tirrell, Richard W.	3.05	HR
Hennessey, Paul M.	3.00	HR
Janes, Thomas K.	3.00	HR

CIVIL ENGINEERING

NAME	AV.
Marano, David	3.35	HR
Redmond, Daniel L.	3.21	HR
Barton, George F.	3.21	HR
Barton, Donald J.	3.18	HR
Maner, Gerard Majella	3.00	HR
Santry, Thomas P.	3.00	HR
Archibald, James P.	3.06	HR
Colgan, Richard A.	3.06	HR
Moyer, William J.	3.20	HR
Shook, George W.	3.13	HR
Hovell, Joseph F.	3.05	HR

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING

NAME	AV.
Mazanek, Alfonso J.	3.63	HR
Livingston, Richard G.	3.39	HR
Wylde, Daniel Vincent	3.94	HR
Krzyzosiak, Joseph T.	3.78	HR
Nary, Thomas J.	3.63	HR
O'Donnell, John J.	3.24	HR
Gallagher, Joseph W.	3.78	HR
Bonnes, Frank X.	3.67	HR
Mullen, Anthony J.	3.61	HR
Pentony, Alfred B.	3.47	HR
Fitti, Nicholas S.	3.33	HR
Wynne, James J.	3.17	HR
Lyons, Lawrence Henry	3.14	HR
O'Mara, John F.	3.09	HR
Martin, Pierre Francis	3.05	HR
Owens, William Joseph	3.00	HR
Spengel, William Joseph	3.00	HR
Fitzpatrick, Robert James	3.89	HR
Selfridge, James J.	3.39	HR
Molnar, William R.	3.28	HR
Semelsberger, Robert E.	3.14	HR
Mustacciuolo, John Peter	3.13	HR
Knapp, Peter Michael	3.06	HR
Maio, Carlo S.	3.06	HR
Andreas, James F.	3.00	HR
Flannelly, Lawrence M.	3.00	HR
Gorman, Sylvester J.	3.00	HR
Koscianski, Leo C	3.68	HR
Jansen, Marcel A	3.64	HR
Bordlemay, Donald A.	3.56	HR
Kilroy, Francis Michael	3.11	HR
Iorio, Ralph A.	3.07	HR
Tomko, Alvin Thomas	3.06	HR
Pigeon, obert L.	3.80	HR
Link, John Michael	3.65	HR
Foley, William D.	3.42	HR
Petersen, Iver Joseph	3.41	HR
Haflinger, Daniel Joseph	3.40	HR
Haney, Francis Joseph	3.35	HR
Dougherty, John J.	3.30	HR
Glancey, Joseph R.	3.20	HR
Best, Donald Thomas	3.10	HR
Jarvis, Robert J.	3.10	HR
Doyle, Joseph E.	3.09	HR
Roth, Charles J.	3.05	HR
Bell, John J.	3.00	HR

MECHANICAL ENGINEERING

NAME	AV.
Mahon, Joseph A.	3.30	HR
Harris, Justin B.	3.19	HR
King, Joseph	3.10	HR
Lagno, Edward F.	3.10	HR
Coppa, Anthony	3.00	HR
Fankhanel, Ralph E.	3.33	HR
Diotisalvi, Anthony G.	3.16	HR
Shields, John J.	3.00	HR
Saboe, Michael S.	3.67	HR
Joyce, Martin H.	3.45	HR
Caporaso, Alessio D.	3.40	HR
Barnes, Joseph	3.30	HR
Benner, Roland L.	3.29	HR
Boyle, James J.	3.25	HR
DeCerchio, Vincent N.	3.15	HR
McFadden, Harold E.	3.67	HR
Roarty, Joseph D.	3.42	HR
Rainsford, Victor E.	3.35	HR
Wenstrup, Leo J.	3.33	HR
Glaudel, Alfred L.	3.29	HR
Ryah, Joseph Leo	3.22	HR
Crawford, John V.	3.45	HR
Valerio, Eugene L.	3.05	HR
Coley, John A.	3.00	HR
Intintolo, John J.	3.00	HR
O'Sullivan, Walter R.	3.00	HR
Convery, John Joseph	3.86	HR
Tyszkiewicz, Joseph	3.16	HR
Marron, James V.	3.95	HR
Engelmann, Edward A.	3.83	HR
Link, Thomas W.	3.68	HR
O'Flynn, Robert M.	3.68	HR
Grady, Thomas J.	3.68	HR
Gutwald, Peter	3.63	HR
Dolan, Thomas W.	3.63	HR
Hatzell, John J.	3.53	HR
Stollsteimer, Edward J.	3.37	HR
Lopategui, John J.	3.37	HR
Dybalski, Leon Edmund	3.32	HR
Devenny, Charles F.	3.32	HR
Denny, Donald Francis	3.32	HR
James, Richard Neil	3.32	HR
Brennan, Thomas F.	3.32	HR
Finn, Charles R.	3.26	HR
Miller, William C.	3.26	HR
Pauloski, Stanley J.	3.26	HR
Connell, Gerald F.	3.26	HR
Davis, Paul J.	3.21	HR
Clayton, Leon E.	3.17	HR
Reismeier, Thomas J.	3.16	HR
Schillyfi, Ralph C.	3.16	HR
Sweeney, David	3.16	HR
Hemler, Charles E.	3.16	HR
Cameron, Donald A.	3.11	HR
Dwyer, John James	3.11	HR
Madonia, Thomas S.	3.10	HR
Tevis, Joseph A.	3.00	HR
Kosuch, Joseph A.	3.00	HR
Kirchner, John C.	3.00	HR

CHEMISTRY

NAME	AV.
Kokes, Richard J.	3.70	HR
Slater, Louis M.	3.95	HR
Cahill, Joseph J.	3.84	HR
Ciesla, Edw'n Thomas	3.74	HR
Fallon, Hugh C.	3.52	HR
Coates, William M.	3.41	HR
Hettel, Henry J.	3.33	HR
Heininger, Clarence G.	3.30	HR
Markham, James Joseph	3.00	HR
O'Keefe, Christopher J.	3.32	HR
Dean, Thomas A.	3.18	HR

PHYSICS

NAME	AV.
O'Donnell, Joseph R.	3.85	HR
Dailey, Charles	3.58	HR

Attention! Class of FORTY-NINE,
Make YOUR week a gala time.
For coats deluxe, access'ries fine,
Stop at MANLY'S down the line.

"A Complete Line of Formal Wear"

THE MANLY STORE

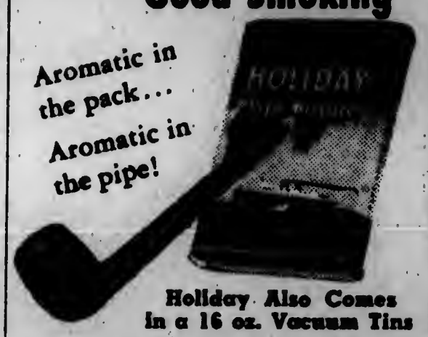
835 LANCASTER AVENUE

BRYN MAWR, PA. B. M. 0131



Campus Representative —
NICK MARZIANI

HOLIDAY

An Adventure in Good Smoking

Aromatic in the pack...
Aromatic in the pipe!

Holiday Also Comes in a 16 oz. Vacuum Tins

LARUS & BROTHER COMPANY
Richmond, Virginia

Buy Your Prom Corsages at the Bouquet Shop

See Tony or Mike, 348-251 Mendel for

SPECIAL OFFERS TO VILLANOVA STUDENTS

The most for your money in beautiful corsages.

Free Delivery
Main Line,
Near North,
South, Central,
West Phila.

The Bouquet Shop
Call Bryn Mawr 2422
BRYN MAWR, PA.
Reasonable Prices — Quality Flowers — "Call Us Today"

WELCOME CATS

HAMBURG HEARTH

814 LANCASTER AVE. BRYN MAWR, PA.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT!

By BECKER CLOTHES

We are underselling the entire market on this item to acquaint new friends with our sensational

"AT-THE-FACTORY" VALUES

MEN'S WOOL GABARDINE SLACKS

ALREADY CUFFED!

Only 4.90

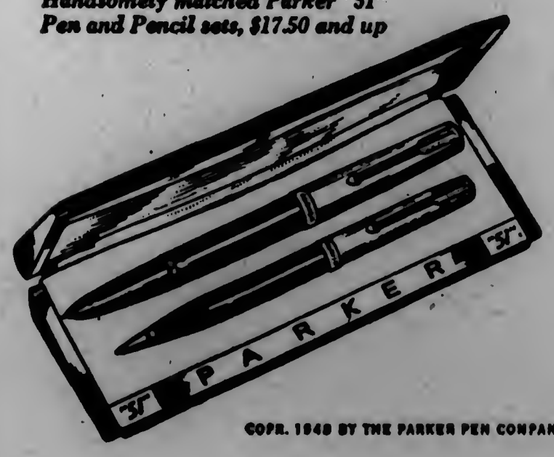
(RETAIL VALUE, 7.50
WHOLESALE VALUE, 5.25)

SIZES 28 to 40 waist. Tan, cocoa, blue, grey, aqua. For Parcel Post, add 10c per pair and state waist, length and colors.



BECKER CLOTHING CO.
MANUFACTURERS SINCE 1915
210 N. BROAD
OPEN DAILY 9 TO 5 • TAKE ELEVATOR TO FIFTH FLOOR

Look to your future!

For graduation choose Parker "51"
...the world's most wanted pen

Handsomely matched Parker "51" Pen and Pencil sets, $17.50 and up

COPR. 1948 BY THE PARKER PEN COMPANY

● Success and Parker "51" just naturally go together. Leaders in every field — the world over — prefer this pen. No wonder seniors at top universities have again and again voted "51" the pen most wanted for graduation.

The way the "51" will speak of your good taste — the way it will spark your thoughts and always show you at your best — these can mean so much in the years ahead.

So plan now to graduate to a Parker "51" — the pen that "writes dry with wet ink!" Try it at your Parker dealer's. Get acquainted with its instant starting... its swift sure glide.

Choice of colors and custom points. Two sizes: regular and the new demi-size. The Parker Pen Company, Janesville, Wis., U.S.A., and Toronto, Canada.

PARKER "51"—PERFECT FOR EVERY GIFT OCCASION:

GRADUATION • FATHER'S DAY • BIRTHDAYS • WEDDINGS • ANNIVERSARIES

MISSING ISSUE(S)

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 23—No. 20 | VILLANOVA COLLEGE, VILLANOVA, PA. | Tuesday, May 18, 1948

NEW DEAN OF ACTIVITIES CREATED; WILL INVESTIGATE COUNCIL ISSUE

Redskins and Dancing Girls Featured In John Smith, Esq.

Turf & Tinsel Men Take Spotlight With Peppy Musical Score

John Smith trips across the Villanova Field House stage on Friday and Saturday nights of this week at eight-thirty. These days, May 21 and 22, will culminate sixteen weeks of active and enthusiastic work on the part of members of the

From left: Bill Chauvenet, Bob Whelan, George Noake, lead and producers of the variety production. The group has been in rehearsal over three months. Two performances this weekend are planned.

Turf and Tinsel Musical comedy group. John Smith, Esq. is a light comedy which has arisen about the character of this early Virginia settler.

The play was written with the cooperation of Bob Whelan, George Noake, Bob Resnick, Joe Hennessey, Vince O'Donnell, and Maurice Crane. The score and lyrics for the play were written by Bob Whelan. The Choreography is in the charge of George Noake.

The plot follows, at a distance, the legend of John Smith and Pocahontas. It is done in two acts and six scenes. The score will provide the high spots in the presentation. Two of the best scenes are built around the musical numbers "Lady of the Forest" and "Tea Time," sung by Martin Binder.

(Continued on Page 7)

ENGINEERS INSPECT SUBMARINE 'PERMIT'

On May 11th, thirty-five Mechanical Engineering students went on their third trip to the Philadelphia Navy Yard in conjunction with their Naval Machinery course.

First inspection was held aboard the USS Permit, a heavy-type submarine, displacing 1800 tons at the surface, 2300 tons submerged. To supply its underwater speed of 9 knots, the boat contains a fore and aft battery room, each carrying 126 series-connected lead-cell batteries, supplying 2.61 volts per battery for a capacity of 8600 ampere-hours. For surface operation, four main Diesels of 1630 KW each, and two auxiliaries of 200 KW are used to give it a top speed of 18.5 knots.

For its firing power, two torpedo rooms, one forward, of four tubes, and one aft, of two tubes, are utilized. The boat carries a total of seventeen torpedoes, each weighing 2200 lbs. For surface protection, the sub contains one four-inch underwater-mount gun forward of the conning tower, and a 40 mm. aircraft gun aft of the "con."

Following this a complete inspection was made of a mock-up unit of a submarine at the Submarine Naval Building, where all "green" sub crews are first trained. To complete the trip a half-hour film entitled "The Silent Service" was projected showing submarine warfare in the Pacific.

JUNIORS!

Nominations for election of Junior Class officers will be held at a class meeting on Tuesday, May 18, in the C & F Auditorium.

STUDENT RATES!

Student tickets for "John Smith, Esq.," may be purchased every noon until Friday at the information booth in Mendel Hall. Only advance purchases can be made at the student rate of .75 per person. Students are allowed special price on one extra ticket for their dates.

MICRO-CHEMISTRY LECTURE HEARD

On Tuesday evening, May 11th, the Villanova Chemical Society played host to guests from Rosemont, Haverford, and Swarthmore at a smoker and lecture held in Room 215 Mendel Hall. The lecture was given by Dr. Herbert K. Alber, Research Technologist from the Arthur H. Thomas Co.

Dr. Alber showed colored slides and films on Micro-chemistry and micro-chemical analysis. In his lecture he emphasized the fact that the chemistry involved in micro-chemistry and micro-analysis is identical with that ordinarily encountered in the usual courses. The main difference is a reduction in the size of apparatus employed. Special techniques and equipment must be designed to successfully handle the extremely small quantities (down to .001 mg.) employed in micro-chemistry.

Dr. Albert brought out the fact that the recent advances made in atomic research, the atomic bomb, etc., were made possible largely due to the science of Micro-chemistry because all the new elements that have been isolated were isolated in minute quantities such that without micro-chemistry it would have been impossible to work with them.

Following the lecture, the assemblage adjourned to the fourth floor, where the guests were shown the various labs. Dr. Haenisch demonstrated the use of the new mass-spectrograph machine, and explained its use to the members and guests.

The society is planning to have a representative of the Corning Glass Co. speak on May 25. Later this month a trip is planned to the Scott Paper Co. plant in Chester.

DR. GURIN LECTURES TO LKD AND GUESTS

Last Wednesday, the Lambda Kappa Delta Fraternity was addressed by Samuel Gurin, B.A., M.S., Ph.D. The subject of his address was "Radioactive Tracer Techniques in Biochemical Research." In addition to the fraternity members, students from St. Joseph's, Haverford, Swarthmore, Bryn Mawr, Chestnut Hill, and Rosemont Colleges were also in attendance.

Doctor Gurin is presently Professor of Physiological Chemistry at the University of Pennsylvania. He is a graduate of Columbia University, where in collaboration with Dr. H. D. Clark he did early work on the isolation of thiamine chloride. From 1935 to 1937 he was a Fellow of the National Research Council working at the University of Illinois where he made significant contributions to present knowledge of chemistry of proteins and polypeptides. Called to the University of Pennsylvania in 1937, Dr. Gurin worked with Dr. D. W. Wilson on the isolation of chorionic gonadotropin. During the war years while engaged in extensive research studies for the Armed Forces, he

(Continued on Page 4)

SOPHOMORES AND FRESHMEN ELECT CLASS OFFICERS

Last week was Election Week at Villanova for the Sophomore and Freshman classes. Both elections were preceded by more or less extensive campaigning by the various parties as interest ran high among the students.

A largenumber of the Sophomore class went to the polls to vote into office the entire Conservative-Liberal Party with Ed Krieg as President, Bill Barry, Vice-President, Joe Troy, Secretary, and Dick McMonigle, Treasurer.

Election of nominees in student council have been temporarily suspended. Voting for those vacancies will take place on a date to be announced later.

Newly-elected President, Ed Krieg, 25-year-old Liberal Arts student, is a product of Lancaster, Pa. where he attended Lancaster Catholic High School. Ed spent 37 months in the Navy, attaining the rate of AOM 1/c.

Bill Barry, the personable Vice-President from Staten Island, has been an outstanding player in the Intramural Basketball league, being elected to the All-Star five. Bill is a student in the Pre-Med Department.

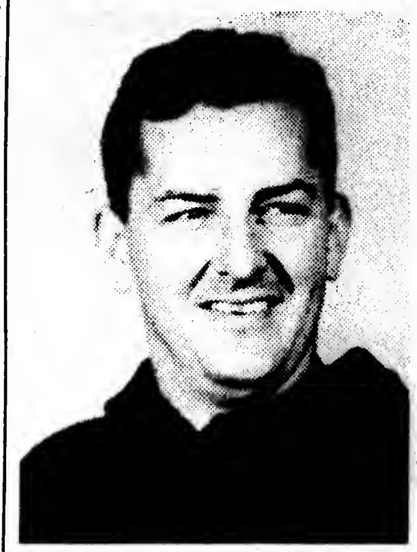
Secretary Joe Troy, 20, a Paterson, New Jersey man, is majoring in Mechanical Engineering while Treasurer Dick McMonigle, 23, an Accounting major, hails from Newtown, Pennsylvana.

More than 350 Freshmen went to the polls last Tuesday to elect George Schuster, Presdent, John Moran, Vice-President, Ed Kelly, Secretary, and Larry Gallen, Treasurer. Student Council representatives elected were Tom Smith, Arts, Paul Davis, Engineering, and John Holland, Commerce and Finance.

The popular President, George Schuster of Jenkintown, Penna., at 21 plans to major in Mechaniccal Engineering. Before coming to Villanova George spent 18 months in the occupatonal Army in Germany.

Vice-President Jack Moran, 19 year old C and F student from New Rochelle, New York, has already won a berth on the varsity football team.

Ed Kelly, 27, Secretary, a native of New Haven, Connecticut, is also a student in the C and F school. Treasurer Larry Gallen, a Pre-Med student, while not at Villanova, resides in Arlington, Virginia. At 18 Larry is the youngest of class officers.



Balloting scene from Frosh class elections; voting followed spirited campaign by the first year men.

Will Centralize All Societies Under One Head

Student Council Will Meet After Elections Are Completed

Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire, OSA, President, announced the creation of a new administrative office, a Dean of Student Activities, last week. He also disclosed that Rev. George J. McLaughlin, OSA, will be the first holder of this office. As one of his first tasks, Father McLaughlin will investigate the causes of the previous Student Council disbandment. Stating that "Something was wrong," he will attempt to bring about a correction of what was "wrong" in the previous Student Council structure.

REV G. J. McLAUGHLIN, OSA

The over all principal purpose of this new office will be to centralize all student activities under one responsibility. With the exception of Athletic activities the Moderators of all activities will be responsible to this office. This post will in turn be responsible to the Vice President.

When the Junior Class has completed its election of officers, Father McLaughlin intends to call an organizational meeting of all Student Council members and begin his investigation.

After graduating from Villanova, Father McLaughlin entered the Order and was ordained in 1939 at Washington, D. C. He then taught at Saint Augustine's High in California till entering the Army Chaplain Corps at the outbreak of the war. He returned to Villanova in September of 1947 and is now teaching Economics.

Clever makeup and professional modeling poses identity problem for the viewer; second from left and right are Villanovans, in cognito.

Council Corrections

Father McLaughlin goes forward in his new position as Dean of Student Activities with the very best wishes of the VILLANOVAN. We are especially glad to hear that a serious investigation of the Student Council structure will be made. To us this is an indication that the lesson of the previous disbandment has been read, for it is the structure of the council that is being looked into and not the former members. The blame for the disbandment could have fallen on their shoulders so easily, and the real significance of their action completely lost. We learn, however, that the Council is to be modernized; that it is the structure which shall be investigated. The administration is facing the issue squarely.

This investigation is but one trace of a trend which is evident all over America's student world. There is a definite march towards more and greater student responsibility, a march which more and more faculties and other thinking Americans are viewing with greater appreciation and hope. They realize the significance of such student leanings in a democratic society. They are happy to note this growing maturity on the part of the American student. They understand that politics or interest in government on the campus is a good sign because politics off the campus should be our society's greatest social art.

Father McLaughlin has announced that the investigation will begin with a meeting following the last of the elections. The VILLANOVAN hopes that the old council will be consulted for the purpose of discovering the basic weaknesses in the structure. The new council for the most part will be green and thus unequipped to contribute to serious discussion of the needed corrections.

JAM.

Lessons From Numbers

They say there is safety in numbers.

The morning mail brought us a collection of numbers which, paradoxically, teach safety by describing danger. The numbers are the statistical story of U.S. street and highway accidents in 1947 contained in the book of crash data produced each year by The Travelers Insurance Companies.

Here are some of the numbers:

32,500 (traffic deaths)
1,365,000 (traffic injuries)
10,940 (pedestrians killed))
9,410 (deaths resulting from excessive speed)
4,000 (children killed in auto accidents)

There is certainly safety for all of us in numbers like these — numbers to which this county made its tragic contribution.

The numbers are lessons for life itself. We've been shouting for a traffic light for a long time now. Something like seven accidents in seven days happened out on the Pike in front of Villanova just recently. Several people were injured, at least one was killed. You figure it out.

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

JOHN A. McDERMOTT '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
FRANK J. GUZIKOWSKI '49 ..... Managing Editor
PAT LAFERTY '49 ..... News Editor
JAMES PLUNKETT '49 ..... Sports Editor
GEORGE SZYMANSKI '50 ..... Copy Editor
NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI, '48 ..... Business Manager
DANIEL ROBINSON '49 ..... Picture Editor
VINCE PEDANO '49 ..... Circulation Manager

WRITERS

William Chester, John Murphy, Edward Oxford, Paul O'Brien, Eamon Walsh, Roland Marshall, William Carroll, Joseph Kenney, John Bauman, Jack Applegate.

REPORTERS

Peter Gutwald, Joseph Rath, Anthony Mullen, Al Abreu, Michael Nowlan, Jack Connolly, John D'Grazia, Thomas Mitchell, George Schroll, John Kane, Frank Gohes, George Reinhart.

SPORTS

Harry Range, William Canino, Neal Fahy, James Lyons, Ray Mondschein, George Mondscein, William Klucsarits, Ray Mac Williams.

COPY

William Foley, Edgar LeBlanc, Walter Rygiel.

PICTURE

George Winters, Robert Graf, Robert Pope, W. Neal Carter, William Murphy, Jack Muvatovi, Al Delago, Leo Dodds, Emil Meyer, Dick Hudak.

BUSINESS

Barry Gibbons, Jack Gibbons.

CIRCULATION

Ralph Iorio, Paul Schweller Jr., Maurice J. Wilhere, George Weber, Gene Langan, Ralph Skowron, Mario Piazzolla, Charles Clunk, William Coakley.

THE FUTURE OF HATS

By Joe Leary

Dogma-haters usually prefer to have a man without an ostrich in an ostrich race and Benjamin Franklin on a horse. That is, objecting to any such schemes as the "scheme of things" as a "scheme" demands order, an orderer, and therefore orders which they dislike, they ultimately force a man to hold his own against ostriches and allows Ben Franklin to totter precariously on a horse. Contrary to man's individualistic tendencies are the rather recent findings of science through the person of a Dr. Harold Fenner in the field of phychic research.

You've seen those pictures of small, insipid humans with the tremendous heads whom prognostics declare will some day people the world. You and I laugh at the matter but Dr. Fenner does not. Stating that the influence of mind over matter is gradually widening, he feels it not at all inconceivable that caputal erpansion might result but not from an organic cause. The cause, oddly enough, will be a psychic or spiritual one.

Today, he points out, poets no longer concern themselves with hexmeters, rhyme, or five feet to a line, and artists babble while they paint. Left and right people are boarding up the old formulas and dispersing objectivity to the winds. Technicians and practical people interested in having a cellar to the building, a basis for the structure, are confused and often give up in disgust as they don't know where to look. Soon even the practical people will join the individualists and begin to look inside themselves completely for the rules and basis upon which to base their actions.

How will it all end? The individual mind will take the place of the world's poor vegetables, and it, the mind, will become a world in itself. For the mind to be such, the head should properly resemble a world and consequently it will grow, it will expand.

The resulting headaches will be "out of this world." Group pictures will be impossible, all present hats will be scuttled, and hair-cuts will take a full day.

Groaning under the weight of their own heads, people will die off quickly while (as Doctor Fenner points out), individualism destroys society.

College Whirl

with Gus

Geneva College in Beaver Falls, Pa., has beaten Villanova to the draw. Gov. James H. Duff spoke there on Founder's Day recently. Geneva, located near Pittsburgh, appears to be a star in the ranks of smaller colleges.

A revenue officer called at the shack of a Kentucky mountaineer and found only a small boy at home.

"I'd like to see your pappy," he said to the boy.

"He's up at the still," came the reply.

"And your mammy?"

"Mammy's up there, too," the boy said.

"I'll give you a dollar if you take me there," the revenuer craftily proposed.

"All right," said the boy, "give me my dollar."

"I'll give it to you when we get back," said the officer.

"No you won't, mister, you ain't coming back."

That was from St. Anselm's in Manchester, N. H.

• • •

Over La Salle way, the Christian brothers celebrated ten decades of education with a big to-do at the Bellevue and a LaSalle Day at the College. Yes, they have an up-and-coming school out in North Philly. All joking aside, they deserve warm congratulations.

• • •

"Do you like short skirts, Joe?"

"Nah; they get lipstick on me shoit fronts when I dance wid em."

The West Pointer

• • •

Down in Alabama, the students at Auburn are going in for their share of culture. A student-faculty cast is producing a full-length version of Gounod's opera "Faust." For the following week, they have a series of skits comparable to our "Turf and Tinsel" workings billed. A week after, "Oedipus," which is reputed to be the greatest of the Grecian tragedies, is to be presented for student consumption. Those Southerners really put forth with an ambitious schedule. Ah yes, magnolia blossoms and moonlit nights, and the theatre.

• • •

Mercy College in Detroit forced these two on us:

"This pen leaks," said the prisoner as the rain came through the roof.

"Eves-dropping," said Adam as his wife fell out of a tree.

Warm weather and approaching summer do that to a person.

• • •

The Williams College Record came out with the following headline in their Carnival issue: "Carni Pulls 960 Gams; Wes-Williams B'Ball Game, AMT Legit SRO, Castle Ork, Tugwar Hillie HP." From that we figure that 480 girls will be present. We quit there. We're catching the next train for Williams.

• • •

The Catholic U. and its "What Ho" newspaper column give us this:

Flossie: "Were you peeking through the keyhole at my boy friend and me last night?"

Little Tommy: "No, I couldn't; Mama was there praying."

• • •

Recently the Supreme Court handed down an opinion opposite to the teaching of religion in public school buildings. St. John's University students have launched a drive to combat impetus given to this anti-Christian movement. They say, "A knowledge of God is an absolute necessity under the American form of government . . ." Besides the Dodgers, Brooklyn has some wide-awake Catholic students. Power to them . . .

• • •

The boys down at Penn had a big week-end slated. Included in it was their Ivy Ball at the Broadwood. Duplicating the feat of our class of '49, they selected a queen for that event. From those Villanovans who attended the affair, we hear that it couldn't quite compare with the recent Junior Prom here. Temple likewise had a fancy shindig.

• • •

Pat O'Shea walked into a store and asked for a dozen boxes of mothballs. "What!" exclaimed the owner, "another dozen? You sure are using a lot of them."

"Faith and you're tellin' me!" said Pat. "We've been pitching the blasted things all day and haven't hit a stinkin' moth yet."

We borrowed that from the Catholic U. Tower again.

Campus Calendar

May 18 — Junior Class Meeting, Nominations....C & F Auditorium, 7:30.
May 19—Villanova vs. Rutgers, Baseball....New Brunswick, N. J.
May 20—ASCE Elections, 11 a.m. to 2 p.m...Information Booth, Mendel Hall.
May 21—Villanova vs. Boston College, Baseball.....Boston, Mass.
May 21-22—Turf and Tinsel Production.....Field House, 8:30
May 22—Villanova vs. Holy Cross, Baseball .....Worcester, Mass.
May 22—Villanova vs. Seton Hall, Track.....South Orange
May 23—Villanova vs. Siena, Baseball.....Loudonville, N. Y.
May 24—Villanova vs. Rensselaer, Baseball.....Troy, N. Y.

Dear Sir:

Our pedagogue detains us unreasonably after class. That entails a delay in arrival at our next session. Hence, we are given cuts. Otherwise, I've had a perfect record since my first day in grammar school. What action can I take?

Reginald

Nothing, Reggie, old boy . . . That's been going on for years. You might take up track and try for the four-minute mile.

• • •

Friend:

All the boys say that I am very cute. They also say that I am stuck-up and flirty. The boys call once and then get disgusted. Like I say, I'm very cute.

Sal

Sister, change your ways. There are too many cute girls in these parts, already . . .

• • •

Got Rocks Plaza

Dear Sir:

I am a student at one of the nearby colleges for young ladies. I have the use of my father's Cadillac for our Alumni Dance next week. But I have no date since I am not considered very good looking. What should I do?

Dateless,
Laurabelle

Call Mendel Hall 9170! With that Cadillac, Baby, you are good looking.

• • •

Dear Mister:

Me big brudder useta be a good Joe. He played football and everything with me. Now he even useta break street lights togedder.

Since he went to Villanova he's changed. He even goes out wid goils. I am very sad, indeed.

Rusty

Get yourself a new buddy, chum. Some day you'll understand.

• • •

Dear Sir:

My son, Willie, doesn't write home as often as he should. Could you advise a remedy?

Mother

Willie: Write home . . . If you've got time to go into the village for a few with the boys, you've got time for letters.

Mother: Stop sending Willie checks. He'll come around soon enough.

• • •

Sir:

I spend all my money on one girl and when I'm broke she goes out with other fellows. What do you suggest?

Villanovan

Look, brother, there are Immaculate, Rosemont, Chestnut Hill, Harcum, Bryn Mawr and plenty of nice working girls. Lots of sweet kids are waiting for a fellow like you to call. Before you ask more foolish questions, spend some nickels on phone calls.

• • •

Dear Sir:

I don't like dormitory life. I don't like cafeteria food. Please tell me what to do.

Robert

You poor boy . . . Look Bobbie, try getting a room off campus. There are fifty fellows waiting to move into yours.

• • •

Friend:

I've been taking two girls out at the same time. Both think I am madly in love with them. I asked them both out next Saturday night and they accepted. Solve my problems.

Casanova

Casanova: It's guys like you that spoil it for the rest of us. Try taking off for Tahiti and we'll all be happy.

Girls: Get in circulation again and chalk it up to experience. You're better off without it, and I do mean Casanova.

PROFILE: HATS, SENATOR AND A BIG SURPRISE

By Edward Oxford

In the Cabinet Room of the White House a man stood with a Bible in his hands surrounded by grim faces. The hands of the mahogany clock on the white mantel under the portrait of Woodrow Wilson pointed to 7:09 of April 17, 1945.

As the spectacled man blinked in the silence, the nation was coming to the end of a $400-billion dollar war; young America was emerging as the world's mightiest country. 140,000,000 Americans and a whole world watched that man in the Cabinet Room.

He swore before Chief Justice Stone to uphold the Constitution, and Harry Truman, who had never aspired beyond the obscurity of the Senate chambers, became President of our land.

Bue he was better prepared than many dared hope: he knew French, English, Roman, Spanish, and American history, and as a Senator had studied long and hard the problems of all past Presidents.

War he learned as an artillery-man in 1918. He knew by heart every move in the campaigns of Rameses, Alexander, Napoleon, Marlborough, and Robert E. Lee. But he had never been invited to meetings of the Chief of Staff. He didn't know his country had the atom bomb, for one confided that secret24 hours after he became President he went back to the Senate to lunch with his cronies; he needed the old feeling, the old reassurance.

Harry Truman then was a very lonely man.

A month before 1944's convention, Truman had told reporters: "I wouldn't be President of the U. S. for a million dollars!" The Senator went to The Chicago Convention with a speech nominating James F. Byrnes for the vice-presidency in his pocket. Before he knew what had happened, he was muttering his own speech of acceptance. Not until his nomination did he see the Roosevelt letter suggesting him for the post.

Roosevelt's announced reason for choosing Truman was that he wished a Senate power to push through a peace treaty and a new world organization for peace. Senator Truman's first step in projecting America's 1787 Constitutional Convention on an international scale was the B2 H2 resolution in 1943, pledging the Senate to international cooperation. His later work further spread his fame.

In his first months as President, Harry Truman was the man who could do no wrong. Right, Center, and even Left applauded him. But by April, 1946, a year after he took office, the Truman popularity curve was plummeting: prices rose; railroads striked; the American-Russian friction burnt its way into official conversation. With November 5, 1946 came the Truman nadir: the nation elected a Republican Congress.

Since then, his star has risen considerably. With a Cabinet "team" of Marshall, Steelman, Clifford, Ross, Vnson, Harriman, and Clayton, he fought up from the depths. He broke the "Iron Man" Lewis, settled a steel deadlock by upping steel $5 a ton; extended vet benefits; cut income tax; pushed the Marshall Plan. Employment hit an all time peak in 1947—58,000,000, up 3 million from 1946. Production rose 7% over 1946, 765 over the 1935-39 averages. American troops stood toe-to-toe with Russians in Europe.

This man who heads our nation certainly is the surprise figure of the century. Harry Truman was born on a Missouri farm in 1884, descended from Scotch, Irish, French pioneers. He met his wife, Bess Wallace, in Sunday school when she was 5, and says he has been in love with her ever since.

His family was poor, and he had to earn a living. For ten years after high school, Harry worked on a 600-acre farm. After that came jobs in a drug store and a small bank, and command of a field artillery battery in Francce in World War I. In 1919 he became co-owner of a Kansas City haberdashery, was forced to close after three years by the depression, and spent his next 15 years making up his losses.

He never did have much money. The first time he came to Washington he was in debt. Even today he is no rich man. President Truman has a smaller family than any other president this century but Harding. He tries to feed his "large boarding house" and pay his other personal expenses in connection with the White House for $15,000 a year, well under the usual President's $25,000.

Today's President spends his money this way:

Salary	$75,000
Federal Taxes	46,000
White House Expenses	25,000
State Taxes	1,000
Total expenses	$72,000
Left for H. Truman	$ 3,000

Truman didn't engage in sports when he was young for his eyesight was weak, "so they made me umpire" he grins. One eyeball is flat. But, with glasses, the President sees perfectly. His general health is excellent.

Before Pearl Harbor the Senator went to George Marshall to try to get back in uniform. Marshall answered that this was a young man's war, so the 55-year old Missourian helped in another way. In 1940 he drove about the country at his own expense, touring the Army camps. As ccounty commissioner he had spent some $600 million on construction, and he didn't like the buildings he saw. On returning, he formed the Truman Committee, and saved the U. S. 2 million in barracks construction, and a good many lives.

As Senator he was probably the most popular of all 96. In his first day as Vice-President some 40 of his colleagues dropped in to congratulate him. A poll of correspondents named the Senator one of Washington's most valuable men: the only member of Congress to make the first ten. Said Pepper of Florida of the man: "His humanity is his great asset." Thomas of Utah: "He knows the kind of men to pick. And he has the proper conccept of morality in government." Another cracked, "If you bounced him in the nose, hard, he might blink, but you'd never see him weave!"

Few men are busier than our President. At 5:30 he's up, by 6:30 he's dressed, shaved, read the New York Times, New York Herald Tribune, Baltimore Sun, maybe the Washington Post. He walks two miles with a secret-service man, showers, breakfasts with family, and is at his desk by 8.20. From 9 to 10 he confers with Staff, from 10 to 1 meets visitors (250 per week). From 2-5:30 more conferences; phone calls. 5:30-7:00 swim, reading. 7.00 dinner. Bed—late.

More than anything else, Truman wants to do right, and in so doing, go down in history as the man who helped bring peace into the world.

Once asked what he believed in most, he replied at once:

"The Sermon on the Mount—and that isn't just a religious answer." No one, he feels, ever got anywhere opposing the Golden Rule. "Look at Hitler. His word wasn't good, so he got nowhere, finally."

Asked what he liked most the President replied "People—and to do things for people."

After the first Atomic bomb was dropped, an eminent scientist came to Truman in deep despair: "Look at the blood on our hands. Look what we have unleashed on the world." Truman's answer was: "Your job is to invent; my job is to decide what use shall be made of the invention. I did what I believed needed to be done . . ."

On his desk is a framed fragment of a letter written by Mark Twain. It reads: "Always do right:: This will gratify some people and astonish the rest."

Columnists Visit Covered Wagon

By R. Ham and R. Canfield

A few weeks ago, the editor of the Villanovan decided that we enter the journalistic field. Our first enterprise is one that we feel will eventually push Earl Wilson out of the newspaper business. Although Earl has never done anything to us, we can't let sentiment interfere with duty. So we've assumed the position of night club editor (two dead beats on the bar beat, so to speak).

Feeling like Jason in search of the golden fleece, we made preparations for our departure into lands and territory that are completely unfamiliar to us. After receiving several injections of printers ink to steel us to the hazards of the task, we gathered pads and pencils, and left for the Covered Wagon in the wilds of Strafford. Upon emerging from the local bus at the last stop along the pike, we were shocked to find that the remote district showed some signs of civilization.

Gröping through the Straffordian fog and mist, we were suddenly confronted with a blaze of neon lights. We grabbed our pencils and began work. Duhh, now, let's see, "C-o-v—That's Cov-e-r. This is it! As soon as we showed our press cards, the bouncers deposited us on the floor (standing, naturally), which was considerably better than their original intention. Adjusting our blinders so as not to see the hat check and cigarette girls, we began to take notes. The Covered Wagon definitely conforms with our idea of one of the finer things of life. In addition to the fact that they serve bee—alright ginger ale, the Covered Wagon has several other advantages. These include a romantic dining room and terrace room, two fairly large dance floors, bee—ginger ale, and good food. The Terrace Room is definitely the place to be on a beautiful night. The music of Gene Csirscu and his band is featured there—according to report a very smooth orchestra. The Terrace itself is a romantic spot with indirect lighting and a view of the stars and moon. Of course one can enjoy the sky from much cheaper surroundings. From the information we can gather Friday seems to be the best night for a visit to the Covered Wagon. On Fridays, the crowd is large enough to be lively and not too large to be jammed inside.

Dinner prices at the Covered Wagon range from $2.25 to about $3.50. Maybe some of you luckier people around the campus can afford one small hamburger. Incidentally, darned big incident, there is a $1.50 minimum charge during the week, increasing to $2.00 on Saturdays—however, the minimum applies to beverages only so it isn't too bad.

Before we left the Wagon we fortified ourselves for our return trip. We made our plans for the journey while sipping beer and ale (root and ginger, respectively) in the Covered Wagon. As a result of these the remainder of the feature may be even more disconnected than the preceding part. Hic. However, we eventually dragged ourselves away and started at a staggering clip up the pike.

About thish time, one of ush decided that it wash almost time to return to school, so we wandered back to the P. and W. stop; thash the Lancaster Avenue stop for both places. Hic. 'scuse me. So ash our houseboat sailed down the Amazon, we (hic) waved good bye to the wilds of the Bongo-Bongo.

The Villanovan extends sincere sympathy on behalf of the faculty and student body to George Egan whose father died and to John Schneider whose mother passed away. Both boys have left campus to attend the funerals.

By HUGH JOHNSON and FRANK McBRIDE

From a freshman Arts Student to all hands:

"A look at the calendar and you can see,
There's 14 school days
'tween exams and Me."
Junior Week

About all that's left of Junior Week is a few lingering hangovers. The Bellevue-Stratford is back on a normal peacetime schedule and Ray Kelm's ulcers have cleared up . . . and Bill Savage's empties have been returned, too.

But seriously, the whole week was a huge success. That Band & Glee Club of ours sure did a swell job, thanks to Bill Cusick and Fr. Handran.

Queen Gets an Offer

The night of the Blazer Ball sure started a round of laughter. It all happened this way. Doris Kamp, queen of Junior Week, had her picture taken by a Daily News photographer. It appeared in Thursday's edition and before the week-end, Doris had received no less than 10 letters. Four were proposals of marriage, 5 more were offers of modeling jobs and the last was from a pseudo "Hollywood" agent who wanted to get her into pictures. He claims to have handled, in his day, Red Skelton, Abbott & Costello . . . Plus the Three Stooges.

(Note: She accepted none).

Dick Devine and Emil Meyer were among the handful that forsook the Junior Prom for Chestnut Hill's—the very same night. The boys claimed that they had 6 ($$) good reasons for the switch. However, the concensus of opinion has it that our J. P. was the best yet at Villanova.

Almost everybody enjoyed the Dinner Dance. One possible exception, Ed Daly. It seems that Ed, Jr., who was the Junior Class's Junior of Junior Week (whew . . .) was whooping it up all night with ye old baby sitter. Daddy Ed hurried home about 10:30 p.m., and . . . you guessed it, Junior was, by this time, sound asleep.

Nick Marziani, campus Philip Morris man, provided cigarettes for the Juniors, chalking up another event to his credit.

Turf & Tinsel

This week-end is Turf & Tinsel's big week-end. On the 21st and 22nd (Friday and Saturday nights), they present their original satire on the life of John Smith and his Indian buddy. The play, "John Smith, Esq.," is a musical comedy with many campus characters playing the leads. We'll stake what little reputation we have left that you'll enjoy it.

Georgetown Prepares

Latest releases from Washington state that Georgetown is in the early stages of mobilization against any possible—get this—Villanova aggression come this fall. They have guns, barbed wire, and all sorts of obstacles already set up.

But fear not. Certain men on the Villanova Campus have all the strategic data already, thanks to a nice inside spy job . . . The spy, you ask? Well, those of you in the grand march at the Junior Prom who noticed, she was the little blonde in the yellow dress that was handing out the "V" for Victory song sheets.

Odds and Ends

Bucky Coleman isn't the only Villanova lad that dates a Queen. Eileen Anderson, who wears the ring of Frank Bader, is Temple's May Queen this year.

And speaking of Coleman, people are expecting big things of him. Many claim that he can jump 15 stories . . . err, rather feet.

Venerable John Kucha, who ran everything but the Dean's Office during his Wildcat days, paid a return visit to the campus last week. Seems there was a little balance from The Army Trip last year that had to be turned over.

George Fredricks (alias Don Collins) is to be Valedictorian for the graduating class come June 12th.

We hear that Mike Rush is out to prove he's a student . . . plays the same part in the "Student Prince" showing downtown.

(Continued on Page 7)

Success Favors Guild Card Party and Dance

The Augustinian Seminary Guild held its annual card party and dance Tuesday night, May 11th, in the Field House, to raise funds for the support and education of the Augustinian Seminarians.

There were approximately one thousand people present at the affair, and 110 prizes were awarded with an additional five prizes given as door prizes.

The Turf and Tinsel Club put on a short skit from their forthcoming production, and were well received by the audience.

Following the variety presentation, the drawing for the awards on the chances was held. The awards included an RCA-Victor Television Set, a Bendix Automatic Washer, a Kelvinator Home Freezer Unit, a Kelvinator Refrigerator, and an RCA-Victor Radio-Phonograph Combination.

Dancing commenced at 11 p.m. continuing to 1 a.m. Music for dancing was furnished by the Villanovans, the college dance orchestra.

Rev. John J. Coffey, OSA, acknowledged the success of the card party and dance in helping to raise money for education of the Seminarians.

(Continued from Page 1)

perfected techniques and equipment for the utilization of isotopes as tracers in biochemical research. Recognizing Dr. Gurin's accomplishments in the field, the Atomic Energy Commission at Oak Ridge assigned one of the first supplies of C-14 for medical research to the University of Pennsylvania. For the past four years he has utilized radioactive isotopes in the study of Intermediary metabolism.

His talk was concerned with the interesting and significant findings

Rev. John J. Coffey, OSA, wishes to thank the college men who donated their services for ushering, etc., the Villanovans orchestra, and the Turf and Tinsel Club, for contributing to the success of the Seminary Guild Annual Card Party and Dance.

PHYSICS CLUB GUEST OF RCA AT PRINCETON

Last Thursday the Physics Club of Villanova was the guest of the Radio Corporation of America at the general research laboratories in Princeton, New Jersey. There they were shown, in the development stage, things which are from 5 to 10 years ahead of today's standards. In addition, the members were given a brief outline of the history and aims of the corporation. Arrangements were made to secure employment with RCA for several of those who made the trip.

The twenty-five students, representing the schools of Science and Engineering, were shown rapid counting devices, capable of counting 100,000 impulses a second, electronic computing machines which can do in a few seconds the work that would take one man years, electronic image devices like the snooperscope capable of seeing in the dark by infra-red light and other new and startling developments. The trip was highlighted by lunch in the company cafeteria.

NEW PKP OFFICERS FETED AT DINNER

Last week, the Engineering Fraternity, Phi Kappa Pi, held elections for its officers for next year. John Link was elected president.

Other offices were filled by Michael Nowlan, Vice-president; George Schillinger, Secretary; Albert Scarcelli, Treasurer; Iver Peterson, Student Council; and Dominic LaBanca, Sergeant-at-Arms.

The new officers were introduced to the members of the fraternity at a dinner-dance held at the Adelphia Hotel, by the master of ceremonies, and retiring president, Dick Shinners. Rev. John S. O'Leary, OCA, moderator of the fraternity, commended the members for their accomplishments during the scholastic year. Music for the occasion was supplied by Paul Judge and his orchestra.

Michael Nowlan was chairman of the dinner-dance committee, aided by George Schillinger, Martin Mulkeen, Charles Rodder, and Roland Mayer. Joe King distributed Chesterfields at the affair.

John Link, the newly-elected president, is a Navy veteran, and an Electrical Engineering student. He won the Carl T. Humphrey Award this year for having the highest average in the 1946-47 Freshman engineering class.

Michael Nowlan, the vice-president elect, is a veteran of the U. S. Coast Guard and is also majoring in Electrical Engineering. He matriculated at Villanova in 1945, coming from St. Thomas More High School, Philadelphia, Penna.

Tabulation of Election Returns

	President	V.-pres.
John Link	32	15
Michael Nowlan	14	40
John Heilmann	20	4
James Dugan	15	17
Treasurer
Albert Scarcelli	45
Roland Mayer	35
Secretary
George Schillinger	41
Daniel Haflinger	38
Student Council
Iver Peterson	51
Carl Anderson	29
Sergeant-at-Arms
Dominic LaBlanca	44
Charles Rodder	35

T & T spells Turf and Tinsel. Don't miss seeing the lovely dancing girls this weekend. Student prices . . . 75c admittance.

Villanova Senior Will Act As Radio Program Chairman

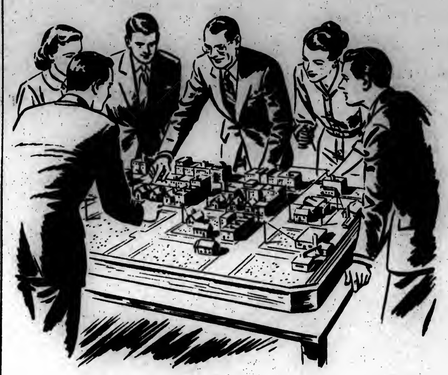
Louis Mecariello, '48, will appear on Station WPEN as guest questioner, Sunday May 23rd, on "PHILADELPHIA AT WORK." The program is sponsored jointly by the Clerical and Professional Department of the Pennsylvania State Employment service, and the Philadelphia Chapter of the National Office Management Association.

Each week two experts from the membership of N. O. M. A. appear to answer questions asked by two applicants from the files of the Pennsylvania State Employment Service about job possibilities in various fields.

For the 23rd of May, N. O. M. A. has selected Louis Mecariello. He will ask questions on the field of Accounting and its possibilities. Mecariello is a Senior Commerce and Finance student who will graduate this June; he was Business Manager of the VILLANOVAN in 1946-1947.

The Program is presented each Sunday 12:05 to 12:30 on Station WPEN—950 on your dial.

PHILA. HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS WIN SCHOLARSHIPS



Three Philadelphia high school seniors led 161 candidates in competitive examination for scholarships at Villanova College, Rev. Joseph I. Boyle, O.S.A., registrar, has announced

James J. Griffin, of 5109 N. Fairhill St., a student at St. Joseph's High School, won first place. Thomas J. Kelly, 6744 N. Broad St., of La Salle College High School, and Thomas A. Thomer, 2221 W. Oakdale St., of Roman Catholic High School, finished second and third, respectively.

Scholarships valued at $1200 each will be awarded the winners. All three have accepted the scholarships and will enter Villanova in September.

The examination in English, mathematics, general science and social studies attracted representatives from 30 Catholic and public high and preparatory schools in the Middle Atlantic and New England States.

Getting Down to Fundamentals

THESE PEOPLE ARE TELEPHONE EMPLOYEES, building a telephone system.

Not a real one, it's true, but a table-top replica that illustrates the fundamental problems which management meets every day in planning, financing, developing, and expanding a telephone system such as the one that serves your home town.

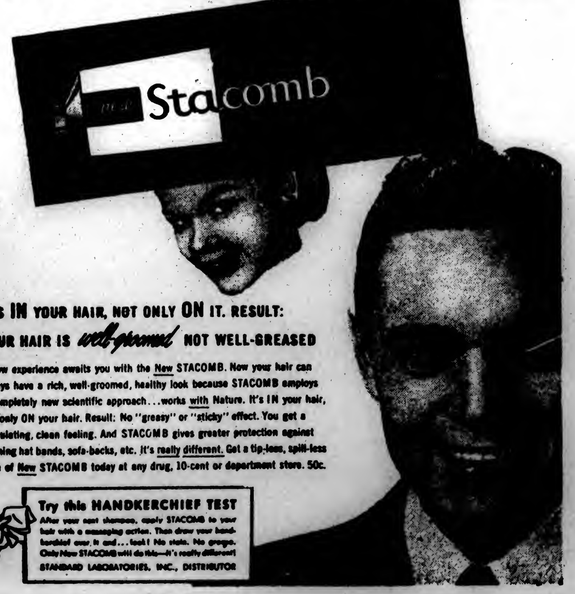
They raise miniature telephone poles. They string miniature telephone lines between homes and stores and the central office. They plot the changes required when a new telephone is installed . . . when a subscriber moves . . . when additional lines are needed in outlying sections of town. And they keep representative records of the money involved: where it comes from, how it is used, and how repaid.

Such training in the fundamentals of the business, as well as in technical matters, is part and parcel of a telephone career. It is background for good management . . . and good management, by trained and experienced employees, helps provide you with the best possible telephone service at the lowest possible cost.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

HOLIDAY

An Adventure in Good Smoking



Aromatic in the pack... Aromatic in the pipe!

Holiday Also Comes in a 16 oz. Vacuum Tins

LARUS & BROTHER COMPANY
Richmond, Virginia

AMAZING NEW

Stacomb

IT'S IN YOUR HAIR, NOT ONLY ON IT. RESULT: YOUR HAIR IS well-groomed NOT WELL-GREASED

A new experience awaits you with the New STACOMB. Now your hair can always have a rich, well-groomed, healthy look because STACOMB employs a completely new scientific approach...works with Nature. It's IN your hair, not only ON your hair. Result: No "greasy" or "sticky" effect. You get a stimulating, clean feeling. And STACOMB gives greater protection against staining hat bands, sofa-backs, etc. It's really different. Get a tip-less, spill-less tube of New STACOMB today at any drug, 10-cent or department store. 50c.

Try this HANDKERCHIEF TEST

After your next shampoo, apply STACOMB to your hair with a massaging action. Then draw your hand-kerchief over it and...look! No stain. No greese. Only New STACOMB will do this—it's really different!

STANDARD LABORATORIES, INC., DISTRIBUTOR

RAMS BEATEN FOR 1st DUAL WIN

RECORD BREAKER . . .

George "Bucky" Coleman just after he cleared the crossbar to set a new school record of 13 feet 3 inches, three inches higher than the stadium record which he set last year

NATURE BOY . . .

Rudy Yeager hurling the javelin for the first time copped 1st place in last Saturday's meet with the Rams.

Coleman, Ross Set Mark; Triple Victory For O'Donnell

By HARRY RANGE

Resuming their winning ways, the Wildcat trackmen topped Fordham University last Saturday by a decisive 78-53 score. In defeating the Maroon and White, Coach Jim Elliott's charges took eight out of fifteen events as well as eleven second places.

Intramural Softball Schedule

Monday, May 17
Austin vs. Fedigan
Mendel vs. Alumni
Tuesday, May 18
Mendel vs. Day Tops
Fedigan vs. Doms
Wednesday, May 19
Bks 1&4 vs. Austin
Bks. 2 & 3 vs. Day Hops
Thursday, May 20
Bks. 2 & 3 vs. Alumni
Bks. 1 & 4 vs. Doms
Monday, May 24
Alumni vs. Bks. 1 & 4
Austin vs. Bks. 2 & 3
Tuesday, May 25
Fedigan vs. Day Hops
Mendel vs. Doms
Wednesday, May 26
Bks. 2 & 3 vs. Mendel
Bks. 1 & 4 vs. Fedigan

The big factor in the win was the field events which, in previous meets, had been the Cats downfall. In other meets the opposing teams had piled up so many points in the weight events that the runners, as good as they are, were unable to make up the deficit. However, against Fordham it was different.

Yeager Wins Javelin

In the javelin throw, Rudy Yeager's toss of 169'3" easily won, with Andy Gordon close behind for second place. Third place was taken by Creary of Fordham.

Sullivan of Fordham took first in the shot put with 38'5" and first in the discus with 121'11", but second and third in both events were captured by Villanova men. In the shot, John Sheehan was nosed out by inches while Bob Riley's heave of 37'7" was good for third place. Vince O'Sullivan was topped by two feet in the discus while Bob Riley took another third in this event.

Cats Sweep Pole Vault

The pole vault was a clean sweep for Villanova with Buck Coleman turning in another stellar performance. Buck broke his own Villanova Stadium record of 13 feet as he topped the bar at 13'3" Second and third places went to Allen and McNulty.

Wanta of Villanova took the high jump at 5'11" with the remaining places going to McDonald and Mennis of Fordham.

Creary of Fordham took the broad jump with a leap of 20'11¾" with Ed Fitzgerald second and McDonald third.

Both hurdle events, 120 high and 160 low, were taken by the Cats. In

(Continued on Page 6)

Green, Chojnacki Down Penn State, Lehigh; 'Cats Face Busy Weekend

Green Gives 3 Hits, Strikes Out Ten

By BILL CANINO

The Villanova baseball team went all out last week and behind some excellent pitching by Stan Chojnacki and Bobby Green trounced Lehigh by an 8-1 count on Wednesday and a strong Penn State nine on Friday, 3-1. Both contests were staged on the home diamond.

Chojnacki, after over a month layoff, allowed the men from Easton only six safeties while his mates were touching 2 opposing hurlers for a total of eight bingles.

Price Clears Bases

The Weinertmen got started in the very first frame when first baseman Fred Price pounded a double into right field with the bases crammed. Larry Aigledinger opened the inning with a single and after "Mickey" Frinzi was safe on a Lehigh miscue, Norm Kline stroiled. Then came Price's base-clearing blow.

The 'Cats picked up a singleton in the second and came back in the third to tally three more runs. In the latter stanza Johnny Blong walked but was out on a fielder's choice. Charlie O'Malley sacraficed "Shy" Raiken to second and diminutive Pete D'Ambrosio slammed a double to left-center to score Raiken. Chojnacki aided his own cause by hammering a long triple and scored on a poor throw to third.

Poor fielding by the visitors gave the Blue-White their final marker in the fifth inning when O'Malley and D'Ambrosio were safe on errors, Chojnacki sacrificed and O'Malley scored as Aigeldinger rolled to third.

Lehigh staged only one threat throughout the encounter. With two away in the third, Aigledinger muffed a grounder and Chojnacki issued a pair of free passes to load the sacks. Malone smashed a single to center to score Collins but the rally came to an abrupt halt when Frinzi threw a perfect strike to the plate to catch Kress.

Beat State, 3-1

On Friday, Wildcat baseball fans who went home for the weekend or shied away from the game because of the cold, damp weather missed one of the finest pitching duels of the season as the homesters captured an upset win from Penn State College, 3-1. The visitors, who had won 11 out of 13 previous engagements, were able to get only 5 scattered hits of Bobby Green who went the route for the minions of Coach Phil Weinert.

(Continued on Page 6)

Stan Chojnacki scoring on a poor throw after banging out a long triple. Returning to the mound after more than a month's lay-off, Stan pitched six-hit ball against Lehigh.

Rejuvenated Linksmen Beat Loyola and LaSalle

The Villanova golf team came into its own for the first time this season when the members bested both Loyola of Baltimore and La Salle in matches last Monday and Tuesday. Ending their season on this high note, the Wildcat fairwaymen gave indications that great things may be expected of them next year.

Trayer Cards 74

A strong Loyola team, which had previously won five matches, was nearly blanked on Monday of last week losing by the score of 8½ to ½. John Trayer led the Cat linksmen shooting an excellent 74 and winning 5 up and three to play. His partner, Don Weiland, turned in a 76 medal but still was held even at 18 holes, thus giving Loyola their only half point. In everything else, the Villanovans made a clean sweep.

On the next day, the local golfers met LaSalle on the Whitemarsh C. C. and came back on the long end of a 5½ to 3½ score. John Trayer again won his match along with Gus Murray and George Becker.

The Results

Villanova 8½
Loyola ½
Weiland (76)—even.
Trayer (74)—won 5 & 3.
Best ball—(V) 4 & 3.
Huber (82)—won 3 & 2.
Murray (80)—won 3 & 1
Best ball—(V)—1 up.
Best ball—(V) one up
Becker (88)—one up.
Powers (84)—won 3 & 2.
Best ball—(V) 2 & 1.

* * *

Villanova 5½
LaSalle 3½
Weiland (71)—lost 2 & 1.
Trayer (82)—won 2 & 1.
Best ball—(V) 3 & 2.
Huber (87)—lost 5 & 4.
Murray (80)—won 3 & 2.
Best ball—even.
Becker (85)—won 3 & 2.
Powers (89)—lost 5 & 4.
Best ball—(V) 2 & 1.

Five Away Games On Week's Docket

The Wildcats of Villanova have a busy week in store for them after they start their northward trek to New England this Friday to carry their baseball warfare to the very heart of the land of the "Bean and Cod". This swing will bring them face to face with Boston College and Holy Cross followed by a trip to Loudonville the next day to meet Siena College. In between this game and the return tilt with Williams, the Cats engage the R. P. I. nine.

Prior to the road trip, the Villanova nine plays another single away game with Rutgers University tomorrow. Rutgers has been running wild in Eastern baseball circles having a record second only to N. Y. U. Up to this writing, they have won 14 while losing only two—Seton Hall beat them to stop an 11 game winning streak while just last week they were beaten by the Temple Owls. The game will be a worthy preliminary to a rough five game road trip.

The first game in New England will find the Cats pitted against the Eagles of Boston College. The last time Villanova played in that territory was in 1946 when they were shaded by the Beantowners, 4-3, in an extra inning battle. In the event that Green pitches, a likely possibility, the Wildcats will have another motive besides revenge. Both Bob and Charlie O'Malley come from the Hub city.

Then on Saturday, the Blue and White wend their way to Worcester for their game with the Holy Cross Crusaders. Both teams met in 1946 also although the outcome of the game was never decided. Pitching one of the finest games of his career, Stan Chojnacki had a no-hitter going into the sixth inning only to have the game called because of rain. It might be interesting to mention that the Holy Cross chucker also had a no-hitter for the first six innings.

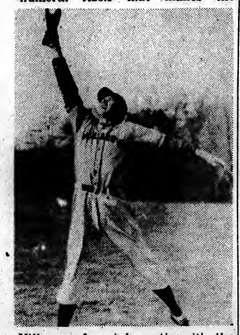
Jack Barry's boys are on their way to another NCAA invitation—they turned down the invite last year with Yale going in their place. Another home town pitcher will come into his own if Jigger Donahue goes to the mound against the Crusaders. Jigger lives within a stone throw of the Purple's citadel.

On Sunday the Cats tangle with the Indians from Sienna College. Comparatively new to college baseball circles, the Indians have come up with a first rate squad and

RAMS' WIEDERECHT CAGES WILDCATS

Villanova College's diamond forces sustained an 8-3 setback last Saturday in New York as they went down before the wild, but effective southpaw slants of Fordham's Don Wiederecht. In the course of his egregious mound performance, the stocky sophomore walked fourteen, fanned fourteen and still limited the Cats to three scattered hits.

For seven and a half innings it was a close 4-3 contest, but in their half of the eighth the Rams broke loose with four runs that just about broke up the ball game. Bunching two singles, a double, two walks and a passed ball was the method by which the four tallies crossed the plate. Fordham's previous markers had come in the third, when they picked up two runs by virtue of second baseman Morreale's triple, followed by cleanup hitter Art Camera's fourmaster, and in the fifth and sixth when they pushed across single sccores.



For the hapless Cats, whose lack of clutch hitting can be traced to the fact that inclement weather had stymied them with but one workout in the past eight days, Mickey Frinzi, John Blong and Charley O'Malley were the only members of the squad to solve Wiederecht's pitching. Held hitless for the first five innings, they did manage to score twice in third by getting three successive walks before Hartnett scored on Norm Kline's long fly to right center. Al Litwa countered a moment later when catcher Johnny Bach let a pitch get through him. The Wildcat's only other run came in the sixth when catcher Charley O'Malley got on through an error, and was moved across by three consecutive walks.

Center fielder Al Litwa gave coach Phil Weinert a scare in the fourth when he pulled up with what was thought to be a severe knee injury, but later proved to be a charley horse.

FRED PRICE . . . ACE 'CAT BATSMAN AND FIELDER

By BILL CANINO

The number "5" is as familiar and as much in place on the baseball field this season as the well known "mystery balls" are in the college dining hall. It's not the numeral itself that makes the Villanova fans take notice; it's the tall, first baseman who has been playing whirlwind ball such that puts him in a class all by himself.

A protege of Trenton Catholic high school, Fred Price came to the Main Line campus in the Fall of 1946 after a 34-month stay in the U. S. Navy. Last Spring he joined the Weinertmen and his smooth fielding and consistent hitting earned him a position on the starting nine. Included among his feats of a year ago was a tremendous home run which he slammed against Penn State. The drive cleared an eighty foot barrier in right-center field and was the first ball to be hit in that vicinity in nearly 25 years.

This spring the 21-year-old Sophmore was one of the first to answer the call for candidates and in short order he clinched a starting berth on the squad. To date he has missed only one contest and has been excceptionally good at the plate when his teammates are on the bases. Last week again Lehigh he pounded out a double with the bases loaded which accounted for three runs.

While in high scchool he starred in both baseball and basketball, winning three varsity letters in each sport. In his Junior year he led the basketball team through such a successful season that the quintet was invited to the Eastern States tournament at Newport, Rhode Island.

After graduaton in 1943 he joined the Navy and served in the South Pacific. After many months of combat Fred was returned to the states and was stationed at Fleet City. His adept ball handling and scoring ability earned him a position on the basketball team which won the mythical National Service team championship in 1945. This group featured such standouts as Johnny McGuire, sensational St. John's basketteer and "Scotty" Hamilton, former All - American center from West Virginia.

Following the close of the collegiate season Fred went to New England and played for St. Albans in the Northern League where he played with Charlie O'Malley and Johnny Blong, both Villanova basebailers. His .301 batting average earned him another offer from the club and he will probably resume his chores with the team when school finishes.

An Education student majoring in English, he intends to try playing professional ball but only after he finishes his studies. However, Fred isn't looking too far ahead because most of his attentions at the present are being spent on playing some fine baseball for the Blue and White.

Thinclads Thumped By Strong Maryland Team

The powerful University of Maryland track squad, Southern Conference rulers soundly thumped the Villanova Wildcats, May 7th, at College Park, Maryland. The Terps amassed a total of 99 points to the 33 garnered by Jim Elliott's men. The Main Liners, for the second week in a row, proved to be extremely weak in the field events.

Tall, lithe George Thompson was the outstanding performer of the afternoon. The lanky sophomore from New Rochelle, New York, captured the mile in easy style, turning in a 4:25.7 clocking. He then came back a short while later and romped off with the half-mile. Dick Umbarger, of Maryland, followed Thompson by fifteen yards, while Kelly of Villanova took third. The winning time was 1:59.5.

Browning Ross coasted to an easy victory in the two mile run. Jim Kennedy finished a step behind Ross. Both boys clearly out-distanced Maryland's entries, so they just jogged home the last hundred yards.

The victor's time was 9:53 flat. Big Ed Matthews, Maryland's Southern Conference 440-champ, overhauled Ed Fitzgerald on the final turn and went on to win by five yards in 49.3. Jack Holmes grabbed a third for the Blue and White. Matthews, then proceeded to walk off with 220 in 22.6. Mc Creary, placed third as did Muscelli in the 100-yard dash. The Terp's Mario Sylvanelli cracked the meet record in the high and low hurdles. He won the highs in 14.9 and the lows in 24.6. Larry O'Brien garnered a third in the lows.

Maryland, being a member of the Southern Conference, was permitted to use freshmen, whereas Villanova, adhereing to I.C.4-A rules, was not. If the 'Cats had been able to use Fresh weight-man Joe Semple, they could have captured three field events. Buck Coleman represented Villanova's only victory in the field vault titlist cleared the bar at 12 ft. 8 in. Bill Allen tied for third with an eleven-foot leap.

One bright spot was the 49.3 quarter turned in by the Woodside Express, Jim McKenna. He walked away with the frosh quarter by some twenty odd yards. Off with the bark of the starter's gun, McKenna was never headed as he finished up strongly. George "Go Get 'em Geeda" Guida, out with a pulled muscle, was sorely missed by the squad. He would have been good for wins in both the 220 and quarter.

Fordham Track

(Continued from Page 5)

the highs, Gene Kelly won in 16.6, followed by Wanta and Mennis while Larry O'Brien took the lows in 19.4 with Lynch second and Kelly third.

The only triple victory of the day was scored by Fordham's great sprinter Hal McDonnell. He took the 100 in 9.9, the 220 in 21.7, and the quarter in 50.3. Second and third places in these events were as follows: 100—Jack Holmes and Dick Muscelli; 220—Holmes and Lane of Fordman; quarter-Fitzgerald and Muscelli.

Thompson Takes Mile

George Thompson easily won the mile in 4:31.8 with Lynch of Fordham 50 yards behind in second place and Jim McGehrin third. George was never pressed and jogged in to save himfor the half.

In the half, it was Jerry Connolly of Fordham first in 1:57.9 with Thompson second and O'Hare of Fordham third.

Browning Ross and Jim Kennedy placed one, two in the two-mile run while Curran of Fordham was third. Ross' time was 9:57.

Undoubtedly the most exciting race of the day was the mile relay which the Wildcats won in 3:26.7. Joe McCreary led off and paced Lane of Fordham for his quater. Gene Kelly, who had fallen in the hurdles, took the stick on the second leg but was passed by Carney and gave the baton to Browning Ross ten yards behind McLoughlin of Fordham. Browning ran a beautiful quarter passing McLoughlin and picking up 20 yards on him. Ed Fitzgerald ran the anchor leg and was never touch by McDonald, the Maroon anchor man.

Barracks 1 and 4 Take First Place In Softball League

Doms Upset by Austin; Fedigan Defeated, 6-4

Mondschein Inc., and Klucsarits

An upset started the second week of the Intramural Softball League, as the Doms dropped a 7-6 decision to a once-beaten Austin team on Monday evening.

With two out in the last inning, Austin pushed across two runs to hand Harry Knecht, Doms hurler, his first defeat. Don Sweda and Fred Watson led the assault on Knecht with 3 hits apiece. One of Sweda's blows was a triple and Bud Bloom also drove a 3-bagger into left center in the second inning. Mike Cheppa hit a triple for the Doms and Jim Doriety a double off the offerings of Russ Hittinger, Austin twirler.

On the same evening, the Day Hops went down to their third straight defeat, losing to Alumni 11-3. Bill Scharle limited the losers to four hits. Including doubles by Bader and Godman, while his mates were pounding Bader for 9 hits. Lynch hit a triple, and Weber and Lynch contributed two baggers to Alumni's victory.

The following evening, the Doms bounced back as Harry Knecht shut out Alumni with two singles, and the Doms pounded Bill Scharle for fifteen hits and 11 runs to win handily. Knecht helped his own cause along with four for four, including his third home run and a triple. Stouch also drove one of Scharle's offerings for a round tripper. Weber and Suarez were the only Alumni men able to nick the slants of Knecht for hits.

Austin took its turn at beating the Day Hops in the other game, coming through with a 12-2 triumph. The hapless Day Hops could not cope with the deliveries of Al Dallago and were set down with six hits. Meanwhile Austin was rapping Diehl for 12 hits, including extra-base blows by Doris, Eagan, Bloom, Diot, and a home run by pitcher Dallago. The Day Hops are the only team who have not registered a victory thus far.

First place was at stake Wednesday evening as the undefeated aggregations of Mendel Hall and Bks. 1 and 4 collided. Both pitchers, Ray Artz of the Barracks and Lefty Mondschein of Mendel, were hit hard and often, and both were wild, walking 9 and 8 respectively. The Barracks, however, hit in the pinches, and Artz registered his third consecutive victory, 12-10. His mates won in the bottomof the sixth with a 3-run rally, high-lighted by McCabe's second double, and Madonia's two-bagger with the sacks full. Bks. 1 and 4 thus took sole possession of first place as a result of the triumph.

Bks. 2 and 3 came through its first win of the campaign, as they downed Fedigan 6-4. The Bks. got all their runs and hits in the first two innings, and then staved off a last inning uprising by Fedigan, as Frank Nerouh accounted for his first win. Trees of Fedigan, pitched masterful no-hit ball after a shaky start, but the damage was done. Mamzic of the losers hit a 3-bagger for the only extra base blow of the tilt.

Larry O'Brien winning the 120 low hurdles for the Blue and White. O'Brien's win was one of the eight that Jim Elliott's squad took last Saturday.

Thursday evening's games were postponed because of rain and will be played on Wednesday, May 26th.

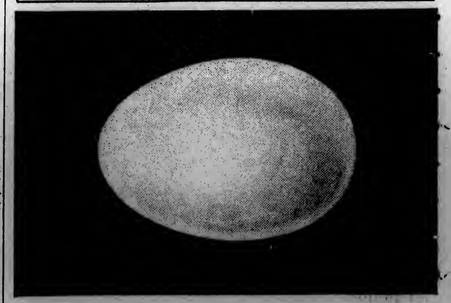
BATTING AVERAGES TO DATE

PLAYER	AB	R	H	2B	3B	HR	RBI	AVER
Harnet	5	1	1	0	0	0	0	.200
Aigledinger	41	6	16	3	1	0	9	.390
Frinzi	14	1	2	1	0	0	1	.143
Litwa	39	11	18	2	1	3	14	.462
Price	31	3	9	4	0	0	6	.290
Kline	45	9	12	1	0	1	6	.267
Blong	25	2	4	1	0	0	1	.160
O'Malley	34	5	7	0	0	0	0	.206
D'Ambrosio	36	6	9	4	0	0	6	.250
Green	11	3	2	0	0	0	0	.181
Raiken	31	6	10	3	0	1	3	.323
Comerford	9	4	1	0	0	0	1	.111
Donahue	11	3	2	0	0	0	1	.181
Chojnacki	3	1	2	0	1	0	2	.667
Siano	4	2	2	0	0	0	3	.500
Weglicki	9	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Heilmann	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Caufield	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Donohue	2	1	0	0	0	0	0	.000
Baldassano	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	.000

N. B.—Figures include all games up to and including May 12 with the exception of the Phillies exhibition game.

LEHIGH—PENN STATE

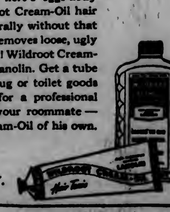
The 'Cats too were only allowed 5 safeties by State twirler Cy Miller but the Main Liners ccapitalized on 4 misplays by the visiting nine.



Score on Errors

In the last half of the third, Blong walked and was sent to second on O'Malley's sacrafice. Both runners advanced when one of Miller's pitches soared over Holler's head. Third baseman Hogan let Aigledinger's grounder go through his legs to score O'Malley. Litwa and Price pushed over the winning tallies with a due of single which ended the 'Cat scoring for the day.

The travellers from State College, Pa., got their only marker in the fourth on singles by Hackman and Stark and a long fly to right by Potsklan.



Highlighting the fraw was the neatly executed play by the victors in the very first inning. Stark blasted a Green offering into left-center which Frinzi had to crawl part way under the fence to retrieve. The left fielders tossed the ball to Litwa who in turn made the long throw to the plate. The heave was wide but Green was there to catch it.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger Nail Test

THIS IS no "yoke", son. If people have been calling you egghead because your hair looks soft-boiled, here's eggs-actly what to do. Get busy with popular Wildroot Cream-Oil hair tonic. It grooms your hair neatly and naturally without that gooey look. Relieves annoying dryness and removes loose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Fingernail Test! Wildroot Cream-Oil is non-alcoholic . . . contains soothing Lanolin. Get a tube or bottle of Wildroot Cream-Oil at any drug or toilet goods counter today. Always ask your barber for a professional application. (Better be hard-boiled with your roommate — keep egging him to get some Wildroot Cream-Oil of his own. It's tops for keeping your sunny side up!)

* of 327 Burroughs Drive, Snyder, N. Y.

Wildroot Company, Inc., Buffalo 11, N. Y.

Villanovan Begins Series In Nationwide Publication

Survey of Professions, by Edward Oxford, an article series reviewing employment and opportunity trends in the professions, is now appearing as a monthly feature in FUTURE magazine. FUTURE is the official publication of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce and has a nation-wide circulation.

These survey articles, illustrated with drawings by Oxford, will run for the next year. April's issue of FUTURE featured his Survey of Accounting. This year's schedule of articles includes reviews of Art, Chemical Engineering, Civil Engineering, Education, Law, Mechanical Engineering, and Physics. Scheduled for 1949 are Advertising, Aviation, Banking, Chemistry, Electrical Engineering, Journalism, Music, Motion Pictures and Theater, Photography, Radio, and Television.

Each survey is prepared from material of the U. S. Department of Labor, the several professional societies, and from signed statements and personal interviews with leaders in each field. Independent professional offices check each article for accuracy.

Plans are now being made by FUTURE and Ed. Oxford to present the completed article series in booklet form for nation-wide distribution to colleges, universities, libraries, and professional groups. This collection will appear in late 1949 or early 1950.

His early researches for the series appeared in similar form, weekly, in the last year's Villanovan, and served as an outline for the finished work.

Oxford's poem "Age" appeared in the 1947 Collegiate Anthology. He is an Associate Editor of the new Villanova Literary Quarterly, and writer for the Villanovan. His series on the Presidential Candidates is now appearing in the Villanovan. Oxford is a Sophomore English major.

ABC Mystery Man To Donate Weeds

Sometime during the next two weeks cigarettes will be given away free on the campus.

A Mr. "A. B. C." will float around the campus giving away packages of cigarettes. The only requirement is that the person asked be able to exhibit an open pack of Chesterfields. If the askee actually happens to be smoking a Chesterfield, he'll receive two free packs instead of one. Joseph King, campus representative, announced that the identity of Mr. "A. B. C." will remain secret.

THE 5TH COLUMN

(Continued from Page 3)

Some of the local mob followed through the prom season with one of those pleasant little parties last Friday night. A log cabin, sandwiches, dancing, fireplace and refreshments proved that a superb time can be had with little financial stress. Nothing like group singing to round off an evening.

Jim Flunkett has just completed the arrangements. In the middle of next month, he's heading the 10 VILLANOVAN sports reporters who will board the Queen Elizabeth to cover the Olympics in London. (This comes under "Believe It or Not Dept.")

We wouldn't say American Government was the roughest course in the school but back exams in that course are bringing $10 per page at the bee-hive, C&F.

Redskins . .

(Continued from Page 1)

Other stimulating numbers are "Outing in the Offing!" and "Sweet Sioux." The very clever satire, "The Bryn Mawr Girl," introduces a note of local humor.

The dancing numbers, several of which were previewed at the Mother's Day celebration, will introduce original entertainment. The male chorus presents both humor and burlesque as they "trip the light fantastic" on the stage of the Field House. George Noake has uncovered new fonts of talent among the students of the college.

The principals of the play are Robert Resnick, William McEntee, Joseph Hennessey, William Chauvenet, Earnesto Smith, Roberto Suarez, Peter Pallitto, and Al Schmidt. The minor roles, both male and female, as well as all chorus parts, will be taken by Villanova students.

JEANNETT'S
Bryn Mawr Flower Shop
Corsage Specialists
FREE DELIVERY
823 Lancaster Ave.
BRYNMAWR , PA.
Bryn Mawr 0570 : Flowers by Wire

KEEP SUPPLIED WITH SCHOOL TICKETS
GOOD ON BUSES AND RAIL CARS UNTIL USED
5c a Ride, including Special Free Transfers. Obtain Identification Cards at School Office.
RED ARROW LINES
Philadelphia Suburban Transportation Co.

"Come back, Carrie, I'll give you all my Dentyne Chewing Gum!"

"I don't hold with hoardin', Mam, but you mighta known I'd stay—I reckon nobody can resist that delicious flavor of Dentyne Chewing Gum! And Dentyne sure helps keep my teeth white, too."

Dentyne Gum — Made Only By Adams

All over America... Smokers Report

NO CIGARETTE HANGOVER

when you smoke PHILIP MORRIS!

—because PHILIP MORRIS is DEFINITELY LESS IRRITATING

than any other leading brand!

All over America, smokers who have changed to PHILIP MORRIS tell us . . . they now enjoy a milder smoke, a fresher, cleaner smoke than they've ever known before.

Yes, there's a difference in PHILIP MORRIS that distinguishes it from all other leading brands!

If you're tired of "cigarette hangover"—that stale, musty taste in your mouth—that dry smoked-out feeling in your throat . . . join the millions who CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS, and remember:

Of all leading cigarettes, PHILIP MORRIS—and only PHILIP MORRIS—is recognized by eminent nose and throat specialists as definitely less irritating!

NO OTHER CIGARETTE CAN MAKE THAT STATEMENT!

Read What One of America's Top-Ranking Doctors Says About PHILIP MORRIS

"I have often suggested to patients who smoke that they change to PHILIP MORRIS. I have seen the results of such a change—and the results have convinced me that PHILIP MORRIS Cigarettes are less irritating than the other brands."

From one of a series of PROFESSIONAL STATEMENTS by EMINENT NOSE and THROAT SPECIALISTS.

CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS

You'll be glad TOMORROW you smoked PHILIP MORRIS TODAY!

WHY WALK?
CLEANING PRESSING
We Pick Up and Deliver Daily at the PIE SHOP
COLAPONTO TAILOR SHOPPE

WVIL Schedule

May 18-24, 1948

Tuesday:
7:30 A.M. Morning Mix-Up
7:00 P.M. Music for Tuesday
7:15 Campus Newsreel
7:20 Sports Roundup
7:30 Record Rendezvous
8:00 Do You Know?
8:30 Show Time
9:00 Browsing thru Record Library
9:30 Record Requests
10:00 Music to Study By
11:00 Sign Off

Wednesday:
7:30 A.M. Morning Mix-Up
7:00 P.M. Music for Wednesday
7:15 Campus Newsreel
7:20 Sports Roundup
7:30 Record Rendezvous
8:00 Symphony Hall
9:00 South of the Border
9:30 Record Requests
10:00 Music to Study By
11:00 Sign Off

Thursday:
7:30 A.M. Morning Mix-Up
7:00 P.M. Music for Thursday
7:15 Campus Newsreel
7:20 Sports Roundup
7:30 Record Rendezvous
8:00 Some Like It Hot
8:30 Radio Theater
9:00 Chaplain's Corner
9:30 Contest Time
10:00 Music to Study By
11:00 Sign Off

Friday:
7:30 A.M. Morning Mix-Up
7:00 P.M. Music for Friday
7:15 Current Gauge of Screen and Stage
7:20 Record Rendezvous
8:00 Doing the Town
8:30 Let's Dance
9:00 Friday Nite Juke Box
9:30 Vocally Yours
10:00 Music to Study By
11:00 Sign Off

Monday:
7:30 A.M. Morning Mix-Up
7:00 P.M. Music for Monday
7:15 Campus Newsreel
7:20 Sports Roundup
7:30 Record Rendezvous
8:00 Symphony Hall
9:00 Band of the Week
9:15 News and Views
9:30 Record Requests
10:00 Music to Study By

THE Bouquet Shop
"Flowers That Are Pleasantly Different"
Lancaster Ave. at Roberts Ave., Bryn Mawr, Pa.
Flowers By Wire BRYN MAWR 2422

For Expert Convenient Attention
THE CAMPUS BARBER SHOP
First Class Work
Popular Prices

WHY... I smoke Chesterfield
(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)

I have done business with Liggett & Myers for over 40 years. They buy the best crops in the house at the auctions.
I am exclusively a Chesterfield smoker.
I think they are the best cigarette made.
Allin McDowell
TOBACCO FARMER, NICHOLASVILLE, KY.

ABC ALWAYS BUY CHESTERFIELD
ALWAYS MILDER BETTER TASTING COOLER SMOKING

Copyright 1948, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 23—No. 21 VILLANOVA COLLEGE, VILLANOVA, PA. Tuesday, May 25, 1948

VILLANOVA COLLEGE LIBRARY VILLANOVA, PA.

SENIORS TO GRADUATE ON JUNE 12th

Governor Duff, Admiral Holloway, Attorney Garey to receive honorary degrees; Garey will speak; Collins named Valedictorian.

Commencement Day, with all its tradition and pageantry, will be held Saturday, June 12th, when degrees will be awarded to more than 150 Seniors. Honorary degrees are to be awarded to Governor James H. Duff, of Pennsylvania; Hon. Eugene L. Garey, attorney, of New York, and Rear Admiral James L. Holloway, Jr., Superintendent of the Naval Academy at Annapolis. Valedictorian of the Class of 1948, Don Collins, will give the valedictory address. The Hon. Eugene Garey will address the graduating class.

AWARDED DEGREE

GOV. DUFF

VALEDICTORIAN

DONALD COLLINS

The eyes of the state of Pennsylvania will be upon Villanova when its popular Governor, His Excellency James H. Duff, receives the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. Originally, the Commencement Day date was set for June 14th, but to make it possible for Governor Duff to attend, the date was changed to June 12th. The State Executive served as Senator

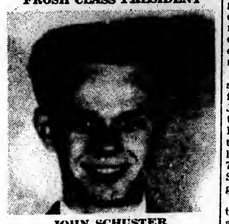
(Continued on Page 8)

GUIDA UNOPPOSED AS 3RD-YEAR MEN GO TO POLLS

Soph & Frosh Classes Will Be Guided by Krieg, Schuster

With the end of the semester approaching, and elections almost complete, the Villanova campus settles down to a comparable quiet with the news that George Guida,

SOPH CLASS PRESIDENT



ED KRIEG

Edward Krieg and George Schuster were chosen as presidents for the classes of '49, '50, and '51, respectively.

George Guida, the former Vice-

FROSH CLASS PRESIDENT

JOHN SCHUSTER

President of the Junior Class, who served out the term as President, is unopposed for the Presidency of the '49ers.

The Sophomore Class elected William Barry, Joseph Tray, and Dick McMonigle to serve as Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer, in that order.

Freshmen had a wide choice from three different tickets. John Moran was elected Vice-President; Ed Kelly, Secretary; and Larry Gallen, Treasurer; while Tom Smith, Arts; Paul Davis, Engineering, and John Holland, C. & F., were chosen to represent the class of 51 in the Student Council.

Elections for officers of the Class of '49 will be conducted today. The nominees are as follows:

President—George Guida, Ed.
Vice-President—Ed Quinn, Ed.
Bob Stoelker, Eng.
Secretary John Scognetta, Eng.
Joe Healy, Eng.
Joe Peschina, C&F
Treasurer Tony Scarpa, C&F
Hugh Johnson, C&F
Charles Whitaker, C&F
Student Council
C&F Ed Sutula
Bob Killipelli
Frank McBride
Eng. Herman Diesel
Bernard Cassidy
Arts Ed
Ed Quinn
John Stanley
Science
Emerick Michalik
Bill Delaney
Bob Stellar
Alumni Representatives
Bill Cusick
Phil Barrett
Joe Grause
Dick Rice

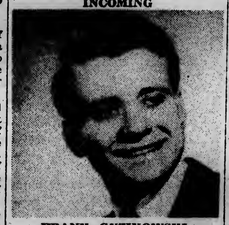
Senior Named To Fill Top Villanovan Post

MIDSHIPMEN WILL CRUISE PACIFIC IN SUMMER TRAINING

This June three groups of NROTC students from Villanova will travel across the country to San Francisco and sail into the Pacific on their annual summer cruises.

Four of next year's Seniors will embark in the USS Duluth, a light cruiser, on June 23rd. Fifteen of next year's Juniors will board the USS Princeton on the 26th of June. The third group, composed of sophomores-to-be, will sail in the USS Iowa, also on the 26th of June.

The four men on the Senior cruise are contract students who take only one summer cruise during their four years at college. They will be out of San Francisco for 22 days, arriving at Victoria, British Columbia, on the 30th, at Long Beach on the 10 of July, returning to San Francisco on the 16th of July.



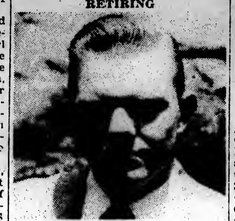
The regular NROTC cruise aboard the carrier USS Princeton will depart from San Francisco for Pearl Harbor on June 26, returning to the coast at San Diego, then to operate in the Southern California area, rendezvous with the USS Iowa for gunnery, and arrive in San Francisco on the 21st of August. En-route to and from Hawaii, gun drills, air operations and ship exercises will afford training for the midshipmen.

The Sophomores of next year, some fifty in number, will depart from San Francisco on the 26th of June, bound for Seattle, Washington, aboard the battleship USS Iowa. From Seattle they will sail to Long Beach, Calif., then to Honolulu, thence to San Diego for the 7th of August, finally returning to San Francisco on the 21st of August for disembarkation.

These cruises will be a practical training afloat, supplementing the academic instruction received at college. All midshipmen will be transported across the country by train. Along with Villanova's NROTC students will go four members of the Naval faculty. Lieut. Commanders John and Carlson, Q.M.C. Simmons, and Y.N.C. Stretch, Rev. Robert Sullivan, O. S. A., will accompany one group on the cruise as Chaplain.

Rev. John A. Klekotka, O. S. A. moderator of the Villanovan, weekly college newspaper, today named Frank J. Guzikowski as editor-in-chief for the coming school year. The present editor is John A. McDermott, graduating senior, who directed activities of the organization during the past semester.

INCOMING



FRANK GUZIKOWSKI

A prospective senior in the Liberal Arts school, Mr. Guzikowski comes to his new post from the position of managing editor. Since transferring to Villanova from the University of Mississippi, he has been very active in various campus club and class activities. In addition, his name has consistently appeared as honor student on the Dean's scholastic honor roll. Prior to entering Naval service, he pursued studies at St. Joseph's in Grand Rapids, Michigan. His home is in Manistee, Michigan.

RETIRING

JOHN A. McDERMOTT

Mr. McDermott leaves Villanova with a Bachelor of Arts Degree and a naval commission. A native of

(Continued on Page 4)

LITERARY QUARTERLY TO PUBLISH FIRST EDITION IN JUNE

The new school Literary quarterly will appear before the end of the semester. Rev. John J. McShea, OSA, moderator of the publication, announced last week. The first issue should be out sometime about examination week. This literary magazine will have as its sole aim the publishing of articles and stories of a high artistic calibre.

The first edition will have 36 pages of stories, articles and poetry. Authors George Guida, Paul O'Brien and Edward J. Doyle are notable among the contributors of this edition.

The Editor is Paul O'Brien, with Edward Krieg as Business Manager, Donald Collins and James Mitchell, Associate Editors; Eamon Walsh, Art Editor; J. Robert O'Donnell, Poetry Editor, and Bernard Reilly, Circulation Director.

(Continued on Page 4)

MASS TO CELEBRATE CHARTER CENTENARY

The hundredth anniversary of the granting of the charter to Villanova College by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will be celebrated by a Solemn Mass of Thanksgiving in the College Chapel on Monday, May 31. Very Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire, O.S.A., President of the College, will celebrate the Mass, while Rev. Robert M. Sullivan, O.S.A., of the College Faculty, will preach the sermon.

While no elaborate celebration is planned for this occasion, the Priors and members of the Augustinian Communities have been invited to assist at the Mass. Following the Mass, luncheon will be served in the Monastery Dining Hall for the guests. In honor of the occasion no classes will be held next Monday.

CLASS OF '49

All portraits for the '49 yearbook must be taken this week at the Belle Air Office in the basement of C&F.

Above appears a picture of the cast of the last weekend's Turf and Tinsel production, "John Smith Esq." The musical comedy reached unprecedented heights in student participation and support. Seventy-five students took part in the various phases of the program. Over thirteen-hundred student tickets were sold before noon last Friday. These are in addition to those tickets sold at the door to persons other than students. Joseph Doody, Business Manager, announced that no other student activity has ever reached so high a degree of success.

IN THIS ISSUE

Page Two —
A Last Editorial

Page Three —
Swan Song in Pictures

Page Four —
5th Column & Town Talk
May 31st — No Classes
Juniors
Junior will elect class officers today (May 25). Elections will be held in the Mendel Hall corridor from 11:30 to 1:30 and the Belle Air Office (C & F) from 2:00 until 4:00. Nominees are listed elsewhere.

The Long Way Home

There are in Western Civilization four attitudes toward life that may be called "the errors of our time." One of these is the excessive emphasis of the importance of the individual, of which a most striking example is the super-nationalism which has led to such serious world conflict. A second, the understressing of the individual in favor of the society, is found in most forms of socialism. The third is the ignoring of the spiritual—and the fourth, amazingly, is the ignoring of the material aspects of life, seen in various ideas on the relation of the soul with God.

The fourth of Puritanical outlook, the stress on faith, the rejection of the efficacy of material objects in the sacramental system are rejections of the fact that man's body must come into play in his worship of God; they are over-stressing the spiritual. The breakdown of the guild system was the first symptom, the first error or individualism. The doctrine of private interpretation extended it to religion as the French Revolution extended it to politics.

We see that the abuses of the industrial system have led to a search for a new solution of political and economic questions, as seen both in the Taft-Hartley Law and in socialistic dictatorships. Today there are movements in Protestantism away from these errors. The expression of a need for a liturgy, a body of dogma, an organization for "Church Unity", shows a tendency away from individualism. The use of pictures is a beginning toward the appreciaton of the part that man's body plays in his spiritual activities. There is objection to this neo-orthodoxy, as it is called. Probably the basic reason for objection to anything "Romish" is moral; the Church's views on divorce and birth-control present a block over which many persons hesitate to step.

These extreme attitudes are, as has been said, losing their force. The struggles with materialism and understressing of the individual, both reactions against the long-dominant opposite extremes, are at present far more formidable. These new extremes are epitomized in Russian Communism, but the real struggle with them will not be war, but social, political, and economic change at home, and ultimately in the minds of men themselves, and should lead to a broader acceptance of the the perspective of the Church. It is to be hoped that as the struggle with materialism and understressing of the individual continuously approaches a climax, the current tendencies of Protestantism, as seen in the meeting of the World Council of Churches to be held in Amsterdam in August, will continue to a new Oxford Movement—"a new Pentecost"—, giving to Protestants the spiritual strength of the sacraments and to the Church the aid of the many great Protestant minds and holy souls.

HUGH FALLON.

VILLANOVAN

Published twenty-four times a year by the Students of VILLANOVA COLLEGE, Villanova, Pa.

JOHN A. McDERMOTT '48 ..... EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
FRANK J. GUZIKOWSKI '49 ..... Managing Editor
PAT LAFERTY '49 ..... News Editor
JAMES PLUNKETT '49 ..... Sports Editor
GEORGE SZYMANSKI '50 ..... Copy Editor
NICHOLAS A. MARZIANI, '48 ..... Business Manager
DANIEL ROBINSON '49 ..... Picture Editor
VINCE PEDANO '49 ..... Circulation Manager

WRITERS

William Chester, John Murphy, Edward Oxford, Paul O'Brien, Eamon Walsh, Roland Marshall, William Carroll, Joseph Kenney, John Bauman, Jack Applegate.

REPORTERS

Peter Gutwald, Joseph Rath, Anthony Mullen, Al Abreu, Michael Nowlan, Jack Connelly, John D'Grazia, Thomas Mitchell, George Schroll, John Kane, Frank Gohes, George Reinhart.

SPORTS

Harry Range, William Canino, Neal Fahy, James Lyons, Ray Mondschein, George Mondscein, William Kluesaritis, Ray Mac Williams.

COPY

William Foley, Edgar LeBlanc, Walter Rygiel.

PICTURE

George Winters, Robert Graf, Robert Pope, W. Neal Carter, William Murphy, Jack Muvatovi, Al Deliagi, Leo Dodds, Emil Meyer, Dick Hudak.

BUSINESS

Barry Gibbons, Jack Gibbons.

CIRCULATION

Ralph Iorio, Paul Schweiber Jr., Maurice J. Wilhere, George Weber, Gene Langan, Ralph Skowron, Mario Piazzolla, Charles Clunk, William Coakley.

PROFILE: THE OWL

BY EDWARD OXFORD

No man better symbolizes the totally new America emerging from the 1940's than does Arthur Hendrick Vandenberg. In the 20's and 30's he was as proud and cocksure as America. He was considered an isolationist, called himself an "insulationist", as an editor had opposed the League of Nations, had written 3 one-pound historical volumes defending the no-entangling-foreign-alliances view.

Then, in a half-hour speech on Jan. 10, 1945, all this was changed. "Our oceans have ceased to be moats", he suddenly exclaimed, denouncing the Russian juggernaut, urging a new aggresive policy on foreign affairs.

The speech was dynamite. Commented one article: "In an old-fashioned revival meeting, the conversion of an ordinary citizen stirs only perfunctory hosannas. But when a notorious grizzled old sinner hits the sawdust trail, the hallelujahs shake the tabernacle."

Roosevelt took 50 copies of the speech to Yalta and appointed Vandenberg delegate to the UN San Francisco Conference. Vandenberg fathered the doctrine of "patient firmness", and urged it especially for Russian relations.

Communists screeched "imperialism" when Vandenberg blocked their Germany treaty and ever since the Senator has been Moscow's favorite whipping boy. Once the Soviet radio devoted 15 minutes to denouncing him. "I believe", Vandenberg said, "that only the Pope has been similarly distinguished."

He worked to win old isolationists to the new world cause, and proudly coined a phrase for the U. N.: "The Town Meeting of the World."

His real contribution has been on Capitol Hill, as ranking minority member of the Foreign Relations Committee, and after 1946, as its chairman.

Years ago Secretary of State Hay voiced a common doubt when he predicted that under our system of divided authority and 2/3 rule in the Senate, no important international treaty would ever get through our upper House. Under Senator Vandenberg in the last three years there have been thirteen consecutive committee approvals for measures like the UN, the ERP, with no dissensions. In assuming chairmanship of the Foreign Relations Committee, Vandenberg inherited the power held by Lodge after the first War. Lodge opposed his opposition; Vandenberg didn't.

His is the time-honored rags-to-riches life. He was born on March 22, 1884 in Grand Rapids. After the Panic of 1893 bankrupted his parents he worked carting shoes, peddling vegetables, selling newspapers, lemonade and ushering. With $50 he tried to work through Michigan, but left as his health cracked under studies and part-time jobs.

He became a reporter for the Grand Rapids Herald, in his spare time furiously writing short stories: the first 107 were rejected; the 108th was printed. Every single one was strictly formula: young man makes good. This mirrored his own ambition to become rich and a senator. He did both in 30 years.

In 1907 Editor William Aldan Smith became Senator, and made the 22-year-old boy, in one sweep, editor and publisher of the Grand Rapids Herald. Right until 1928 did he remain editor, in 1920 writing punch lines for Harding's speeches.

In 1928 Vandenberg exploded on the Senate floor; he barged into debates, battled for new apportionment laws. Enraged elder Senators shelled him with nicknames like Buster Brown, Pouter Pigeon, Kemal Pasha.

But the Senator held his middle of the road ever since and today stands as a world figure of enormous, behind-the-scene influence. The President and Secretary of State hardly move without his OK; he holds a practical veto on all foreign-policy matters.

Ever since he adopted his new lackadaisical party outlook, his popularity has zoomed. His stormy America-bound rumblings have subsided into a world calm.

At 64 Vandenberg, a 3-children family man, usually shuns social engagements. He simplifies every movement because of a 1932 heart scare. In rest, a wicked black cigar guns out under spectacled black-owl's eyes.

When asked whether it was he who actually wrote the slogan "back to normalcy" for Harding's famous speech, Vandenberg answered, "I don't remember. It might have been me. Normalcy sounds like one of my words."

The old owl just doesn't give a hoot.

World Government

THE ULTIMATE ANSWER

By Emanuel Rubin and William Regan

Today the world is searching for an answer. The chaos existing in Palestine, Greece, China, and the like, have brought home the fact that peace is not an accident, not something which will appear as if by magic merely because the people of the world desire it. On the contrary, the wars of this century have magnified the fact that prolonged peace will only be the result of ingenious planning, and until this takes place, we may as well continue our armament races. Where in the past this lack of planning brought chaos and heartbreak, in 1948, it must bring atomic annihilation.

It does not take an especially astute thinker to realize that an equilibrium must exist between the technological and political structures of any civilization. This equilibrium was present, in part at least, during the eras of feudalism and primitive nationalism, when the crude implements of production and armament could not precipitate a world conflict. Since the industrial revolution we have witnessed the most tremendous developments in technology ever seen by man. When we search for the corresponding improvements in the political structure, we find only feeble and superficial efforts to ameliorate the situation. Political science has not kept pace with physical science. One part of our culture has lagged sadly behind. The delicate equilibrium existing between the component parts of our modern civilization has been disturbed, and the result has been near catastrophe. The last pence was built upon the fallacious axioms of the balance of power, self determination, sovereign equality of nations, and outmoded and usually disregarded concepts of international law which had perhaps served their purpose in the 18th or 19th centuries, but which had already become obsolete before the first World War. Yet it is these same archaic principles which form the basis of our present political structure, a structure in which men are trying to build a lasting peace today.

If we have learned anything from the study of history, it is that the Same forces, acting within the framework of the Same political structure, and under the Same general conditions will inevitably produce the Same result. In the past, the forces of international, economic and political rivalry, acting under the conditions of prejudice and antipathy and under the present political structure have produced only wars. When we examine the present situation we find all the factors unchanged and the result must inevitably be the Same!

However, these arguments have not been presented with the object of convincing the reader of the inevitability of war, but rather of the dire need for intelligent planning, which we believe must consist of changing at least one of the factors previously mentioned. Which one? International rivalry? Hardly! And prejudice and antipathy can scarcely be done away with in our time. What remains? Only the political structure, which is a venerable parasite, unintelligently expoiting the products of contemporary technology. This change, we believe, must be a Federal world government.

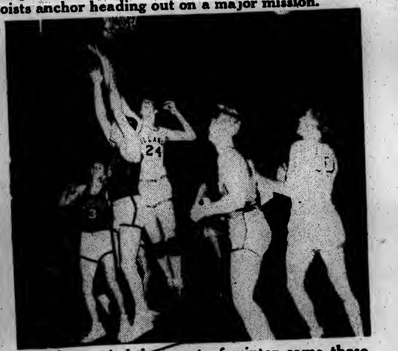
The basic weakness of the U.N. and the reason for its inevitable failure lies in its inability to enforce its decisions. The sovereign member states, bolstered by their independent armed forces, can afford to ignore any U.N. decision directed against them. A Federal World Government would succeed where the U.N. has failed because it would not contain the basic weaknesses inherent in any confederation. The Federal World Government may consist of an executive, judicial, and bicameral legislative branch, patterned in a general way after those of the U.S. In the beginning, for the most part, its powers would be directed toward the prevention of war. This could be accomplished by the complete dissolution of the sovereign military structure, by a monopoly of atomic energy by the Federal World Government, and by the establishment of a federal police force strong enough to enforce the decisions of the World Government.

Readers of tabloid newspapers and other non-thinkers will remonstrate hysterically about the enigma that is Russia. But we say to them, "How can there be any enigma when the choice facing the world is simply between world federation and atomic annihilation?" The problem today is not one of converting Russia to our point of view, nor of destroying her, but rather sitting down and intelligently planning with her.

How long must the holy altars of national sovereignty continue to claim the sacrificial blood of mankind? We hope that the question is merely one of time. We must realize that the state does not exist above and beyond the citizens who compose it as some divinely appointed and spiritually collective entity. Citizens of the world, UNITE! You have nothing to lose but your WARS!

FOR THE GRADS: the Year in Retrospect

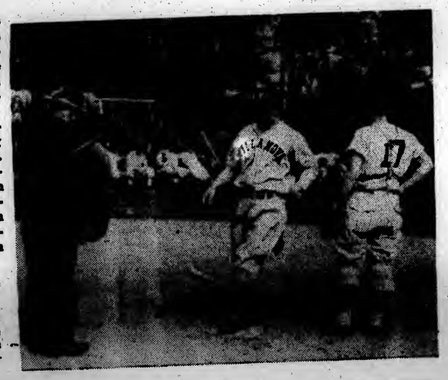
The year opened with a full scale invasion by new Freshmen. Wearing Freshmen "Regs" (dinks and lapel buttons), The Frosh toed the line for a while. Coming through in fine form for assemblies like the one pictured above, the first-year men became an integral part of campus life



Georgetown was another item on the Villanova bil of fare. The cats were out to get the Hoya football team and they did. The Connelly award made headlines as the different dormitories, respendent in student improvised decorations, were judged. Above, the "S. S. Wildcat" hoists anchor heading out on a major mission.

Top on the football schedule was the Army game. Villanova en masse headed to West Point to cheer the Cats' contingent of football men to a moral and morale victory.

Following shortly after Christmas vacation and exams, the retreat set a new mark in student interest and religious benefit.



Along wit hthe onset of winter came those many thrilling basketball games in the Villanova Field House. Few Villanovans and their dates missed seeing the boys come through for a highly successful season.

Pictured here are top events previously depicted in this year's Villanovan. Ever moving onward, Villanova made long strides ahead as school spirit sored with every student function. Religious, social and academic are adjectives describing the scope of our activities. As the graduates named below, and the rest of us in years to come, leave Villanova we shall look back on these years and these functions. They are all a part in the making of a man.

Capping the social year was the Junior Prom. Begun in the fall with the Soph Hop and Interfrat dances, the season introduced a Harvest Hoedown.

Batter up! The diamond rang to the familiar cry as students began to feel the first real press of pre-exam review.

PROSPECTIVE GRADUATES, JUNE, 1948

Name	DEGREE
Altempoli, William F.	B. of M. E.
Alvare, Louis J.	B. of M. E.
Baccino, Aurelio F.	B. S. in Chem
Barkoukaite, Alfred J.	B. S. in Eco.
Barton, George F.	B. of C. E.
Beals, Joseph	B. of C. E.
Bertram, Wilfredo A.	B. S. in Eco.
Betz, Joseph C.	B. S. in Eco.
Blazic, Louis B.	B. S. in Ed.
Bloom, Frank B.	B. S. in Ed.
Bogan, James J.	B. S. in Bio.
Bonnin, Pedro J.	B. S. in Eco.
Borzendek, Alfred J.	B. of C. E.
